On behalf of Hobby's campaign—

Lt. Governor's son in stopover at Post

Paul Hobby, son of Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Bill Hobby, was in Post Friday on behalf of his father's re-election bid for the state office.

Paul said he plans to travel across the state "listening to the people of Texas, and to relay their concerns about the future to the person who can do something about it, his father."

In his first term in office, Hobby instigated the "zero-based budgeting" approach to financing state government. This budget method has enabled the Texas Legislature to better define the state's needs, fund programs directed to those needs and to evaluate the effectiveness of those programs. By employing the "zero-based budgeting" method, state government has functioned for the last 10 years without new or increased taxes.

Through Hobby's leadership, the state has assumed a larger role in financing public education while leaving control of the schools in the hands of locally elected officials. More than one-half of the state's appropriations are now devoted to education. And state aid for public education now amounts to 56 percent of the total revenues received by public school districts. Hobby took a leading role during the 1982 special legislative session that saved Texas homeowners from a possible $1 billion property tax liability. Both Democrats and Republicans praised Hobby's role in quickly passing the tax cut proposal in the Senate, thereby paving the way for voters to eliminate the tax by approving a constitutional amendment on Nov. 2.

A longtime advocate of an expanded Texas court system, Hobby supported legislation increasing the number of primary trial courts and expanding the role of the state's civil appeals courts to include intermediate criminal appellate jurisdiction. Appropriations to support these courts were practically doubled this year and the number of

TWC official axes owners' participation

Sandra Fitzpatrick, Texas Water Commission hearings examiner, said last Friday she was sending notice to about a dozen landowners in the Justiceburg area that they would not be allowed to become parties to an application from the White River Municipal Water District to build the Post Reservoir.

The Post-Justiceburg Reservoir System is projected to handle the city of Lubbock's water needs through the year 2020.

The landowners near Justiceburg, whose property would be inundated by the reservoir had sought to be admitted to the Post Reservoir hearings because they maintained the project that affects them is dependent on the Post project.

But the WRMWD noted in its arguments that the Post Reservoir would be separate and that Lubbock was intending to buy only a portion of the water out of the proposed project, supplementing the Justiceburg supply.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick said some property owners downstream of the Post project who use the river water for domestic purposes and livestock will be admitted to the hearing.

According to Mayor Bill McAlister, Lubbock is not the only city interested in the Post-Justiceburg Reservoir system but ten other cities have sent letters asking to be a part of the project.

He said the entire system would have been inordinately delayed had the decision gone the other way.

Delay has been the prime strategy of the property owners near Justiceburg, McAlister said and delay has been the enemy of the project.

Mrs. King to assume new duties Aug. 15

New city manager, Rebecca King will begin her duties here August 15 at a salary of $20,000 which was already budgeted according to the city council which met in regular session Thursday night with Bill Pool acting as mayor pro-tem.

John Q. Ward president of the Trailblazers, along with Cleo Sappington and Mary Jo Tanner appeared before the council to ask for $29,000 over the next two years to help renovate the front part of the Algerita Center. The renovation is being sought because of the tremendous growth of the Senior Citizens Center which caters to approximately 100 members daily. It was reported that attendance has more than doubled in the last three years.

The trio said they would like for the project to be completed by 1984.

They also asked to be placed on the new budget for help with the utilities which have gone up over half as much as they presently are. The club still has three months on the present fiscal year but with private donations, the Trailblazers feels they will be able to complete the year without outside help barring any unforeseen breakdowns. It was reported that our local senior citizens center is one of the best in a 15 county district. One of the largest and nicest around as well as one of the cheapest to have been built.

The council advised the group they would take their proposals under advisement and see if they could be placed within the new budget.

Maxine Earl also told the group that since the building was registered on the Historical Register that they might want to check into renovation grants available for such projects.

Mrs. Carolyn Black also appeared before the council to ask their help in enforcing the ordinance pertaining to livestock. She advised the council that there were two different sets of horses within 300 feet of her residence and this was in violation of the ordinance. Mike Sanchez, superintendent of city works said that the owners had been contacted regarding the situation but no action had been taken on the part of the owners. The council asked the city attorney, Harvey Morton to take the matter under advisement and notify the owners of the infraction of the ordinance.

Hal Schauer, of Norman Igo and Schauer Architectural Firm of Lubbock met with the council regarding plans for renovating city hall. The council has been looking at plans for several weeks now regarding the remodeling and again gave the architect their input into the revisions with Mr. Schauer to meet with the

CONGRESSMAN KENT HANCE

19th District, Texas

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

AGRICULTURE

Major hail storms, floods, wind damage, poor economic conditions and high interest rates have proven disastrous for the farmer, agribusinessman and farm laborer in the 19th Congressional District. The economic effect of this damage is more devastating than that of the 1970 Lubbock tornado.

I have asked President Reagan and Secretary of Agriculture John Block to reinstate farm disaster programs, which the Secretary has the authority to do under the 1981 Farm Act. After the series of storms in June, I personally examined the damage district wide and reported back to the White House, the USDA, and other Members of Congress the extent of the devastation and the impact not only on our local economy, but on that of the entire nation. I will continue to work to help those affected by this natural disaster.

FIRST BUDGET RESOLUTION

Both the Senate and the House passed Administration-approved budgets. The Senate version called for a deficit of $115.9 billion; the House $99.2 billion; and the Conference Committee, made up of selected members of the House and Senate, hammered out a compromise budget calling for a deficit of $103.9 billion. Both the Senate and the House then voted for and approved the conference committee compromise.

The Administration-backed compromise budget passed the House by a 210-208 margin on June 22 and the Senate on June 23 by a vote of 54-45. I stated from the start of the budget debate, almost five months ago, that the federal government should cut the inflation-causing federal deficit by reducing spending rather than by raising taxes. In my opinion, the budget targets adopted by Congress failed to cut spending enough.

The Conference Committee report set budget targets that all Congressional committees must meet by August 1, 1982. At that time, Congress will consider budget reconciliation legislation that actually sets the level of spending for the federal government during fiscal year 1983, which begins on October 1, 1982.

Now that targets have been set, the next step in the budget process is for the committees of the House and Senate to come forward with recommended spending levels. At the same time, the tax-writing committees of Congress will begin compiling a revenue-raising tax bill for fiscal year 1983. The Senate Finance Committee passed a 1982 tax bill on July 2 calling for $21 billion in additional taxes for fiscal year 1983.

You can rest assured that as one of the primary authors of the largest tax-cutting bill in our nation's history, I will continue to fight for federal budgets that decrease government spending. Congress is not moving toward a balanced budget at the pace

I would like, but we have changed the conversation in Washington from one of looking for additional spending programs to one of looking for areas to cut federal spending.

INTEREST RATES

The policies of Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker, whose actions have been endorsed by President Reagan, are destroying any chance of economic recovery. No economic program can work when interest rates are in the 15-20 percent range over a long period of time. President Reagan should ask Chairman Volcker to change these policies and if Mr. Volcker fails to do so, the President should ask for Mr. Volcker's resignation.

HINKLEY DECISION

I was personally shocked and outraged at the recent decision. This decision has led to the introduction of legislation in Congress that would abolish "insanity" as a defense or change the burden of proof so that the defendant is presumed sane unless his defense counsel proves otherwise.

Former official to have weekly series

Former Texas Secretary of State George Strake announced today he is beginning a series of weekly columns in newspapers all over Texas, including this one, in which he will discuss issues of interest to Texans.

Strake, who is running for Lt. Governor, said he will discuss a variety of subjects in the weeks to come, including the New Federalism, the drunk driving problem, undocumented workers and education.

Said Strake in his first column, "I believe these columns will provide a unique opportunity to stimulate public discussion on these important issues."

The 47-year-old Houstonian said he hopes these

Keeping In Touch

This is the first of what I intend to be a number of weekly columns from me, discussing various topics of importance to Texans. During the coming weeks, we will discuss such things as President Reagan's "New Federalism" proposal, the need for better laws dealing with drunk drivers, illegal aliens, the education of our children, and a host of other issues that will be on our political agenda.

I believe these columns will provide a unique opportunity to stimulate public discussion on these important issues. Indeed, this may be the only way. I have challenged my opponent, Mr. Hobby, to a series of free-wheeling debates on political issues, so both our views could be put before the people of Texas. We met in debate one time in Houston. In the view of all observers, Mr. Hobby lost and he has announced that he will not debate again. So I have chosen this route to try to let you know my position on the issues. I feel you are entitled to know that before you make your decision in the November election. Additionally, I hope you will let me know your views. They are important to me.

The office of Lieutenant Governor is exceedingly powerful in Texas. It affects all our lives. In addition to presiding over the State Senate, the Lt. Governor appoints all Senate committees, their chairmen, and assigns all legislation to the committee of his choice. He presides over the Legislative Budget Board, which significantly shapes state spending. It is an office all Texans ought to be concerned about.

I hope you will watch for this column. Tell your friends and neighbors about it. Discuss the issues. Together, we can make a contribution to the political processes, and hopefully improve all our lives. Let me know your views on the issues I discuss in the weeks ahead. Just write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, Texas, 78705.

GTE customers to pay for directory assistance

Beginning Aug. 1, General Telephone customers in Texas will be charged for calls to directory assistance that exceed a 10-call per month limit.

"The increasing volume of calls to directory assistance is one factor that has made local basic monthly rates paid by all customers go up in the past," O.D. Hearn, operations manager - Western Division Operations for General Telephone, said. "With the directory assistance charging plan, the local rate increases recently placed in effect were less than what they would have been without directory assistance charging."

Hearn pointed out that charging for calls to directory assistance exceeding a 10-call per month limit will have little effect on the majority of the company's customers, except to help keep basic rates lower than they would be without the charge.

"Our studies have shown that approximately 9 percent of the total directory assistance users make nearly half of all calls to directory assistance," Hearn said.

"Under the previous method, the cost of providing directory assistance was spread among all customers, regardless of whether they use the service or not," the telephone company manager said. "Customers formerly could make an unlimited number of calls to directory assistance without paying a separate charge."

"As a result, customers who never use the service or who used it very little were paying just as much through their local rates as the heavy users for this service."

"Charging for excessive use will transfer the costs to those who use the service extensively, resulting in keeping basic local rates lower than they would be otherwise."

Each General customer will have a 10-call per month per line allowance without charge. The caller can also obtain a maximum of two telephone numbers during each call under the plan approved July 14 by the Public Utility Commission.

"We feel this will take care of new listings and number changes most customers will need during the course of a month," the manager said.

After the 10-call limit, a 25-cent charge per request will be assessed.

Calls for which no charge would be assessed will be those made from coin telephones, from hospitals,

GLAUCOMA WITH 20/20 VISION?

Glaucoma is the leading cause of blindness in the U. S. Most often it strikes people after the age of 35 or 40, and with the aging of the population, the prevalence of the disease is going up rapidly. It is estimated that between 1 and 2 million Americans have some degree of glaucoma. This disorder accounts for approximately 11 pct. of all blindness in the U. S.

Glaucoma is often called the "sneak thief of sight" because in its early stages, there are few noticeable symptoms. Many people have early glaucoma without knowing it. By the time they seek medical help, irreversible damage to the eye may have already occurred. So deceptive are the early symptoms that a person with glaucoma may be able to "pass" an eye chart screening with 20-20 vision.

An oversimplified explanation of glaucoma is an increase pressure of the fluid within the eyeball. If the pressure is not reduced, it destroys delicate structures within the eye.

A complete eye examination by your optometrist will include a simple test of the fluid pressure. If the disease is detected early, in most cases the glaucoma can be controlled and blindness prevented.

PUC approves $46 million for General Telephone Electronics

SAN ANGELO — The Public Utility Commission of Texas approved $46.8 million in new revenues for General Telephone Company of the Southwest during final hearings July 14 on the company's $110 million rate filing.

The final order, officially signed July 19, issued by the commission will result in most customers receiving refunds ranging from 10 to 40 cents per month. The refunds are the result of the company placing new rates for most services in effect June 4 under state law, subject to refund of the difference between the June 4 rates and the final rates approved by the commission July 14.

The only changes from the June 4 rates are reductions ranging from 10 to 35 cents in all local basic service rates, and a five-cent reduction per month in some business rates for extended area service (EAS) or toll-free calling to neighboring exchanges.

Customers who did not have increased rates under bond will not receive refunds. This includes customers in Denton, Kilgore and Del Rio, and one-party business customers in San Angelo, Bryan, College Station and Texarkana.

The rates placed in effect June 4 for services other than local basic service and extended area service did not change under the commission's final order and are not subject to refund. These include optional extended metro service in the Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston areas; mobile telephone service; miscellaneous services and equipment including monthly telephone instrument charges; and airport telephone service, as well as other services used mostly by business customers.

"Some customers have misunderstood the change. It is a charge customers have paid in the past, however, it was not formerly shown as a separate charge on their monthly bills," he explained.

"If their statement shows, for example, a charge of $7.90 for local service and $5.50 for EAS, they would still be paying the same total of $13.40 if the rates were not shown separately."

He said EAS was established prior to the commission assuming jurisdiction over telephone rates. It was made available when the community of interest was determined to include one or more neighboring exchanges. The service was established in response to this public interest and local rates were increased to reflect the company's additional investment. The service is not an optional type of service; therefore, all customers in an exchange have the service, if it is provided.

Hospital association fights rate increase

In an effort to keep hospital cost increases to a minimum, the Texas Hospital Association has joined with some 30 groups in intervening in Southwestern Bell's request for a major rate increase.

Bell is requesting approval from the Public Utility Commission for an increase of $471.5 million. It is anticipated that the majority of those increases will fall on the shoulders of businesses within the state, and particularly on hospitals which make up one of the largest industries and are some of the largest users of telephone service in the state.

own operating expenses.

"We feel that, through expressing our concerns over Southwestern Bell's proposed rate increases, Texas hospitals are demonstrating their dedication to reducing health care costs to Texans while continuing to provide the quality care Texans have come to expect," he said. Hearings on the proposed increases will begin September 1, and THA is expected to present its case before the Public Utility Commission in the latter part of September or early October.

THA is the Austin-based trade association for hospitals in Texas with over 800 institutional and 4,500 personal members.

"Hospitals have an obligation to take whatever measures necessary to reduce expenses, in an overall effort to reduce health care costs to all Texans," THA President O.Ray Hurst, CAE, said.

"Hospitals in the state and across the nation are being closely scrutinized to cut health care costs," Hurst said, "and they cannot be expected to cut costs without reducing their

In addition to these changes, new charges became effective July 14 for some services which were not placed in effect under bond June 4. These services include directory assistance charging, late pay charge for business accounts and returned check charges.

The charge for directory assistance will begin Aug. 1. Customers will have a monthly 10-call per line allowance with a 25-cent charge applying for each call that exceeds the allowance.

The late charge will begin for business customers Aug. 1. The charge will be a 5 percent fee for the unpaid balance if not paid by the date due as shown on the bill.

E. L. "Buddy" Langley, president of General Telephone, said "we are glad the commission has recognized the need for additional revenues which are critical to our service improvement and modernization programs in Texas.

"But we are naturally disappointed they did not award more. We thought we had done a good job of explaining our needs and presenting a strong plea for our total need. While we did not receive what we asked for, we will take what we received and make it go as far as possible."

Langley said the commission concurred with the company's proposal to bill only customers who have EAS or toll-free calling between exchanges for the additional investments required to provide the service, and to show those charges separately on customer bills.

"When the state commission was established, investments and expenses were recovered statewide. Customers in an exchange without EAS paid the same rate as customers in a city of similar size who did have EAS. This resulted in customers without EAS paying rates that helped recover the costs of providing EAS to those who had the service," he continued.

General Telephone sought to have rates established wherein customers with EAS would pay the costs associated with this type of service rather than all customers statewide paying for those costs.

"The revenues required for local and EAS services were known, as were the minutes of use by customers for each type of calling — local and EAS. By basing rates on the corresponding minutes of use, we were able to determine what the local and EAS rates should be."

"Since this was known, the company felt it was in the public interest for customers to know what they are paying for the service."

Refunds with interest will be shown as credits on bills in the next few months.

Double U, U Lazy S to compete for "best ranch"

WICHITA FALLS — Ranch hands from Coldwater Cattle Co., Inc., once a part of the largest ranch in the world, have thrown their collective hats into the ring, joining working cowboys from 12 other Texas ranches already scheduled to compete in the 1982 Texas Ranch Roundup to be held here August 19-21. The roundup will give ranch hands a chance to compete peaceably for bragging rights as the best ranch in Texas.

The Coldwater ranch, headquartered in Amarillo, will be represented by a team that has one goal to accomplish in the roundup, according to ranch manager Rusty Tinnin.

"We're coming to win," the ranch manager said.

The ranch is part of what was once the largest cattle operation in the world in the early 1900's and also had the United States' largest proven gas acreage within one fence. But after several divisions among the family heirs, the ranch's present holdings include more than 85,000 acres in Potter and Sherman counties.

The Lewis Ranches, based in Clarendon, will return to defend the title their ranch hands won last year, but the cowboys will face stiff competition from the other participating ranches which also competed in 1981, including the R. A. Brown Ranch, the Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Moorhouse Ranch, Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company, Scharbauer Ranches, Randerbrook-Spade Ranch, Swenson Ranches, Tongue River

Ranch Corp., U Lazy S Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch and W. T. Waggoner Estate.

In combination, these ranches sprawl over two million acres of cattle country, nearly half the size of New Jersey.

Tom Moorhouse of the Moorhouse Ranch is expected to try to hold his Best All-Around Hand title for a second year.

Rodeo tickets are $5 reserved seats and $3 general admission for each rodeo performance; $5 per person for each evening's dance; and $1 general admission for the afternoon contests. Tickets are on sale starting July 26 at Wichita

The 1982 Texas Ranch Roundup is co-sponsored by Budweiser and the North Texas Rehabilitation Center. Proceeds from the roundup will benefit the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls; the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene; and the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo.

Cotton producer gains against synthetic industry

MEMPHIS—Score one for David. But Goliath is not out by a long shot.

In the Biblical story, David delivered a knockout punch to Goliath, a formidable foe.

In cotton country, David is the cotton producer and Goliath, the synthetic fiber industry, a much larger, better financed competitor who wants cotton's business.

However, the cotton producer is finally making gains against the synthetic industry, helped by his Cotton Incorporated Research and Promotion program.

It's coming at a time though when some producers who fund America's largest "self-help" program are struggling to survive financially.

"We recognize that the primary concern to cotton producers is restoring profitability," said Edwin Gerik of Whitney, Texas. "I know because I'm a producer myself," Gerik added, who is a member of the Cotton Board which administers the Cotton Incorporated Research and Promotion Program.

"But the fact is that producers need to know they are getting a return on investment from this program through larger markets for cotton," he added. "That's why I personally feel that support of this program is essential to the long-term profitability of cotton." Cotton's making gains in the form of cotton-rich blends that are increasingly appearing on retail shelves at the expense of mostly synthetic apparel items.

For example, cotton use at retail since the Mid-1970's has had a 56-percent gain for cotton in men's dress shirts; a doubling of cotton's share in men's slacks and a 35 percent increase for cotton in men's sports shirts.

Cotton Incorporated has helped change consumer attitudes about cotton by researching, developing and promoting higher cotton blends which have helped increase consumer purchases and improving markets for cotton.

When the economic recovery begins in earnest, resulting in increased demand for textiles, cotton producers hopefully should benefit with even greater gains for cotton and to their "bottom line".

Indications suggest, however, that the synthetic fiber industry which spent about $370 million compared to the producers $22.5 million in research and promotion last year, is fighting back.

"They're fighting back because the increases in cotton usage in blends means less business for the synthetic fiber industry," he added. "That's good news for cotton growers."

He said some synthetic fiber companies have launched a drive to reverse the move toward higher cotton blends. "A recent Celanese trade ad suggests that the use of more cotton leads to inferior products, warning against the move toward higher cotton blends," he added.

Score one for the producer. But the synthetic fiber industry is not out by a long shot.

The battle continues.

Herb Miller, the Hi-Plains Disciples of Christ area minister, attended the morning worship service at the First Christian Church in Post this past Sunday. Mr. Miller oversees and co-ordinates the combined programs of the 43 churches from Lamesa and Seminole to the South and northward to Liberal, Kansas. His leadership has aided this Hi-Plains area the past eight years. Herb's books, work, and organization of the recent NEW 82 evangelical program of this past summer have earned national attention, particularly among Disciples' circles.

Following the morning service, Herb visited with the new First Christian pastor, Steve Traw and his wife, before returning to his home in Lubbock.

Those spending the past week at the Hi-Plains Area Camp at Ceta Glen near Happy, Texas, were Glenda Shobe as counselor, and Krisy Haire, Chi Rho camper.

Locally, plans are rolling for the August 2-6 Vacation Bible School to be held from 9 to 11 each morning at the church facilities on West 13th.

Researcher says natural fats healthier than unnatural fats

COLLEGE STATION — Already concerned by warnings about the health danger of eating fatty foods such as meat and butter, a biochemist says Americans face greater risk from the unnatural fats contained in such "safe" foods as margarine, vegetable oil and shortening.

Dr. Randall Wood, a Texas A&M University biochemist and researcher in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's Lipid Research Laboratory, has analyzed the fat content in processed meats such as bologna and hot dogs and lean meats which are popularly thought to contribute to health problems.

The research found that one would have to eat 100 pounds of lean beef to get the same unnatural fat, or trans-fatty acids, found in one pound of most margarines.

"The public is so confused by the numerous recommendations of the types of fats they should have in their diet that they don't know what to believe," Wood said. "If I have to make a personal choice, I'll choose the natural fat. Our research indicates that instead of fearing the natural fat found in processed meat and leaf beef we might be better off seeking ways to cut down on the use of processed vegetable oils."

Although most of us think of garnets as a deep red, they come in a variety of colors. A brilliant, bright green garnet, of gem quality, is found in Siberia.

Dickens Coop has 37th meet

Approximately 800 Dickens Electric Cooperative members and guests were in attendance at the cooperative's 37th annual meeting held in Spur on Thursday, July 15.

A barbecue meal, catered by Jackson Brothers of Post, was served prior to the business meeting.

The business meeting was called to order at 7:30 p. m. by Board President, Ned Ward. Bob Brandon, pastor of the Spur Church of Christ, gave the invocation.

Master of Ceremonies, Bob Conner, the cooperative's attorney then called on board member, Earl Robertson, who offered a prayer in memory of board members, Carl Dickerson, and Leon Havens, Maude Ward, wife of board president, Ned Ward, and employee, Jerry Don McAlpin, who had passed away since the annual meeting in 1981.

Following reports from board president, Ned Ward, and general manager, Bailey Reece, the membership elected three directors to three year terms and one director to fulfill the unexpired term of deceased director, Carl Dickerson. Those elected for three year terms were Ned Ward, Aspermont area; Glenn E. Jones, Kalgary area and Doug Hinson, Red Mud area. Elected for the unexpired term was Steve Cochran, Peacock area.

Also on the program were Trudi Osborn of Dumont and Doug McArthur of Spur, winners of the cooperative's 1982 Government-In-Action Youth Tour contest. They expressed their appreciation to the cooperative membership for providing them with the opportunity to tour our nation's capitol.

Names of 32 cooperative members were also drawn during the meeting for prizes given away by the cooperative. The grand prize, a Norelco microwave oven, was won by Mrs. Van Dickerson of Peacock. Following the adjournment of the annual meeting at 8:45 p. m., the board of directors held an organizational meeting and the following officers were elected: Ned Ward, president; Doug Hinson, vice president and Garth Gregory, secretary-treasurer.

Prevent hypertension

Are you on speaking terms with your blood pressure? If you are overweight, use a lot of salt or tend to be "up tight," you could be headed for a close encounter of the worst kind.

High blood pressure, or hypertension, is a major killer in the United States. And more than 90% of hypertension cases are caused by one or more factors which only you can control.

To help prevent hypertension, say the folks at Colonial Penn Insurance Group:

- Stay away from salt.
- Stay slim and keep moving.
- Learn to relax.

Texas oil production rate for August set at 100%

AUSTIN — The Railroad Commission today set the Texas oil production rate for August 1982 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 66th month in a row and the 122nd time since the commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

Chairman Jim Nugent and Commissioner Buddy Temple directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in August totaling 2,474,041 barrels per day, a decrease of 7,305 barrels daily when compared with July 1982 buyer requests. August 1981 nominations totaled 2,524 barrels daily.

Next month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 2,949,588 b-d with actual production estimated at 2.41 million b-d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in August 1981 was 2,429,107 barrels daily.

Nugent reported that August 1982 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 22,022,381 Mcf-d (thousand cubic feet per day.) Gas nominations for July amounted to 23,515,757 Mcf-d. August 1981 gas nominations totaled 25,028,151 Mcf-d.

The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Thursday, Sept. 16 at 9 a. m. in Houston at the Allen Park Inn.

Major purchasers filed these floor nominations for Texas oil in August:

Amoco Production, 191,745 barrels daily, down 2,000 from the previous month; Cities Service, 74,000, unchanged; Conoco, 56,000, unchanged; Exxon, 287,800, down 5,900; Gulf Oil, 105,000, unchanged; Shell Oil, 166,500, up 100; Sun
