Your Social Security

Disability freezes record

Copley News Service

— R.C.M.

A. Neither of you is eligible for Medicare until you are 65. Since you will not be entitled to Social Security benefits, if you want Medicare coverage you will have to purchase it.

The cost for Hospital Insurance (Part A of Medicare) is $113 per month and for Medical Insurance (Part B) the cost is $12.20 per month.

If you purchase Part A you must also purchase Part B.

You may, however, elect to buy only Part B.

The cost of both parts will very likely be higher when you both are 65.

649 per physician

The latest statistics show there were 649 people for every physician in Canada in 1980 compared with 837 in 1970. In 1980 there were 37,287 active physicians in Canada, excluding interns and residents; in 1970 there were 25,656.

Q. In 1981 I was able to work only three months. I had four surgeries in 1982. Can I go back and freeze those years until I am able to return to work so they won't count against me when I retire? — E.P.

A. You should probably file for disability benefits. If you are found to be disabled your record will be "frozen" until such time as you are able to resume working.

You cannot freeze your record unless you meet Social Security's definition of disability, which means that you must have a severe physical or mental disability that prevents you from working for a 12-month period.

Q. I am 62 and my wife is 63. Neither of us has worked long enough to be eligible for Social Security benefits.

But what about Medicare? Are we not eligible?

Girl Scout Leader Day

April 22 is Girl Scout Leader's Day, when thousands of leaders nationwide will be recognized for their voluntary contributions to Girl Scouting.

These women and men play an important role in our society by encouraging girls to develop their talents, pursue their interests, and serve their local communities.

More than 46 million American girls, women, and men have been members of Girl Scouting since its founding in 1912, and have benefited from the caring guidance of Girl Scout leaders.

Being a Girl Scout leader means being committed to girls, and to the idea that every girl can be made aware of her potential and can be helped to develop that potential in productive, satisfying ways.

Being a Girl Scout leader also means having opportunities to make friends, develop civic and professional contacts, and try different kinds of volunteer work.

Girl Scouting is good for everyone: the adult volunteers, the community, and, of course, the girls themselves. Girl Scout Leader's Day provides a welcome opportunity to honor these important leaders.

Leaders of Girl Scout troops in Post include: Diana Poe, troop leader and Service Unit Chairman, Susan Potts, leader, Becky Warren, assistant leader, Nell Morris, assistant leader, Kay Wallace, assistant leader, Jean Morris, assistant leader, Karen Palmer, leader;

Also Tammye Holly, leader, Sandra K. Little, leader, Caroline Basquez, assistant leader, Carol Tobias, leader, Julie Hudman, assistant leader and Karen Jones, assistant leader.

Joe Reed to be at First Baptist Church

Joe Reed, former quarterback for the Detroit Lions and nationally known gospel recording artist, will be ministering in song and testimony on Tuesday, April 19th as part of a "Week of Preaching and Praise" at the First Baptist Church April 17 through 22.

The speaker for the week will be Clark Whitten, the pastor of one of America's fastest growing churches.

For nine years Joe Reed was involved with the violence of the National Football League; however, his desire will always be to serve the Lord Jesus Christ in all things.

Farm investment soars
Capital investment per farm in America has risen from about $7,000 in 1940 to about $380,000 today. Records show that investment per farm has more than doubled each decade in recent times.

What's Happening in Home Economics

By Cheryl Walker
Consumer education begins at home. As with many other things, children learn how to be consumers by watching their parents.

In fact, some studies show that consumption patterns are developed by about the sixth grade and follow a person into adulthood.

Children soon learn that candy costs, and coins will start the Pac man machine.

As children discover the uses of money, parents can play an important role in helping them develop attitudes and values about being consumers through the use of an allowance. An allowance gives the child an opportunity to manage money and introduces the youngster to living within a regular income.

The amount of an allowance can depend on several factors including the child's stage of development, the family income, and the number and kinds of expenses the allowance is expected to cover. More money to spend does not lead to greater learning.

The amount finally decided upon should be large enough to cover expenses for which the youngster is responsible, and include some money to spend as he wishes. The amount also should be small enough to require that the child makes choices.

As the child makes choices about how to spend his allowance, parents have a chance to serve as consumer educators. For example, television advertisers continually try to attract a child's attention and promote brand consciousness. But parents can talk with a child about his specific needs and wants, product quality, and the trade-offs involved in buying one product over another.

Giving a child an allowance will not necessarily teach him or her to be an effective consumer, however. As parents, we must set a good example and then supervise and communicate with our children concerning money management.

Sara Probasco to be regional representative

The Texas Assembly of Arts Councils is pleased to announce the selection of Sara Probasco of Floydada as regional representative for the South Plains Region of Texas.

Library Column New Books

Every person who ever writes wonders if the words will ever be read.

That question seems especially appropriate because you, as a community, checked out 980 books from the Post Public Library last month.

Quite possibly, you are so busy reading books, that you do not have time to read about new books.

But just in case . . .

The first time Matthew Hope spotted her, she was spectacular, one of many bathers on the "free" beach, but the most striking.

That was on Saturday.

came to Hope as a client, the victim of a devastating beating.

She wanted her husband arrested and put away.

On Tuesday, they found Michelle on the beach, her hands and legs bound with wire hangers, burned to death.

By 4 p. m. her husband has been arrested for her murder, and convinced Matthew that he is innocent.

The case draws Matthew Hope into a hall of mirrors filled with lies, perversity, and thrill-seeking corruption.

The novel is Beauty and the Beast by Ed McBain.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle wrote the classic stories of mystery and deduction which featured Sherlock Holmes.

He wrote many other fine tales which have been far more obscure.

"Masterworks of Crime and Mystery" collects the tales Doyle wrote between 1879 and 1898.

"Sometimes They Bite" is a warning to the reader who picks up the new book by Lawrence Block.

He writes about a fisherman who never misses a meal, a lawyer who never loses a case, a writer who earns $1,000 per word, and a hit man with a keen sense of ethics.

A word of warning: Sometimes they bite. Young Danny Ashton accepts an invitation to vacation at her stepfather's house in Zanzibar, but even before her plane takes off, a passport is stolen, a murder is committed, and an intruder strikes at midnight.

Arriving in Zanzibar, she learns that one of the house-guests is a desperate and ruthless murderer, and the gay atmosphere fades into growing terror.

M. M. Kaye offers her tale of "Death in Zanzibar." Benjamin Disraeli served as prime minister for Queen Victoria. "Disraeli," by Sara Bradford chooses to see him instead as a young man, a reckless dandy, ambitious, frivolous, finding himself by running away.

Ground meat made glorious

The Russians have a name for them. So do the French and the Italians. But somehow such words as bitokes, crepinettes, and polpette alla pizzaiaola don't quite convey the simplicity, good taste and down-to-earth gusto of - hamburgers.

In addition to its versatility and easy affinity for other foods, ground meat is a blessing for budget-conscious families who shudder at the thought of $4-per-pound steaks and chops.

Most ground meat creations are also two-meal material, providing a hot dinner entree and savory cold sandwich fixings for the next day's lunch.

One secret of successful experimentation with ground meat is to remember that its flavor is greatly enhanced and "stretched" by flavorings such as onion and garlic. Green and red peppers, paprika, caraway seeds, dill, and curry and chili powders are other complementary additions.

Remove to a serving platter. Serves 6.
Note: Veal Pojarski may be served with or without sauce.

The following light tomato sauce is a nice accompaniment.

TOMATO SAUCE
1/4 cup oil
1 carrot
1 onion
4 oz. rind of fat salt pork, coarsely chopped
Bouquet Garni: celery, parsley, bay leaf, and thyme
4 cups pureed tomatoes
1/4 cup flour
2 quarts chicken stock
2 tps. salt
2 tps. sugar
1 1/2 tps. white pepper

Put oil, carrot, onion, pork, bouquet garni, and pureed tomatoes in a saucepan and cook 5 minutes. Add flour, mix in well. Add chicken stock, salt, sugar and white pepper. Cook 1 1/2 hours. Strain. Makes about 2 quarts.

MEAT LOAF WITH GINGER AND GARLIC

1 lb. ground, lean pork
1 lb. ground, lean beef
2 tps. peanut, vegetable or corn oil
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 tps. finely minced garlic
1/2 cup finely chopped, drained water chestnuts
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
2 tps. finely chopped fresh ginger
3/4 cup finely chopped green onions
1 cup fine, fresh bread crumbs
2 tps. soy sauce
1/2 cup dry sherry wine
1 egg, lightly beaten
Salt if desired
Freshly ground pepper

1. Preheat oven to 400 degrees.
2. Combine the pork and beef in a mixing bowl.
3. Heat the oil in a saucepan and add the onion and garlic. Cook, stirring, until wilted. Let cool briefly.
4. To the combined meats add the onion and garlic mixture, water chestnuts, parsley, ginger, green onions, bread crumbs, soy sauce, wine, egg, salt and pepper to taste. Blend well with the hands.
5. Pack the mixture into a loaf pan measuring about 9x5x3 inches. Set the pan in a metal basin of water. Bring to the boil on top of the stove. Place both pan and basin in the oven and bake 1 hour (internal temperature should be 160 degrees). Let stand about 15 minutes before slicing.

Yield: 8 or more servings.

SPAGHETTI WITH VEAL DUMPLINGS

1/2 lb. ground veal
1/2 lb. prosciutto, or cooked ham, finely chopped
2 tps. grated Parmesan cheese
1 1/2 tps. salt
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
3 tps. butter
2 tps. dry vermouth
1 lb. tomatoes, chopped
1/4 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
1 lb. spaghetti, cooked and drained

Mix together the veal, ham, cheese, 1/2 teaspoon salt and the egg. Shape the teaspoons of the mixture into little balls. Roll in the bread crumbs.
Melt the butter in a saucepan; brown the balls in it. Add the wine; cook until absorbed, add the tomatoes, pepper and remaining salt; cook over low heat 30 minutes. Taste for seasoning. Pour over the hot spaghetti and serve with grated cheese. This dish is served as a main course.

Dutch to shorten coast

Holland is engaged in a gigantic flood-prevention project to close the treacherous arms of the sea. It involves a complex of 11 major dikes and sluices that would close off four major inlets and shorten The Netherlands' coastline by 434 miles.

State, local taxes up

Americans paid an average of $1,079 in taxes to state and local governments in fiscal 1981, a jump of $92 per person from fiscal 1980. Per capita state and local tax burdens rose in every state and the District of Columbia, whereas in seven states they decreased in fiscal 1980.

$1 per cotton bale

Producers may request and receive refunds of their assessments. Net collections under this program came to about $20 million for the 1981-82 crop year.

Wheat processing adds

The Presbyterians of Post keep discovering that "the world is full of dark shadows, both the world without and the world within, and the road we have set off on is long and hard and often hard to find, but the word is trust. Trust God. Praise Him too for all we leave behind, for stillness in the wake of pain. But praise and trust Him too for the knowledge that what's lost is nothing compared to what's found, and that all the dark there ever was, set next to the light, would scarcely fill a cup."

We will gather Sunday morning to renew our faith and love for God.

If faith is a problem, or if the way seems hard, we invite you to come and share your journey with us.

Lawn mower for sale

Between recent showers I went down to the village nursery and bought a small box of dichondra seed. It comes in a round, salt-shaker bottle.

I came home and sprinkled some in both the front and back yards. It took maybe 10 minutes. Then I went back in the house and tackled the evening crossword puzzle.

"What have you been up to today?" asked my wife when she returned from her office.

I said, "I've been doing yardwork. I re-seeded both lawns."

All my life I have wanted a dichondra lawn. The lawn that never needs mowing.

However, there is another thing a dichondra lawn does not need. It does not need children playing games on it. It does not hold up well under baseball or soccer.

Dichondra does have its tough side, though. It is strong enough to eventually spread and crowd out all other grasses.

I figure if just a half dozen of my seeds sprout, I should have dichondra lawns in less than 10 years.

Mowing a lawn is a lot like shaving. It's done mostly by males and if you don't do it fairly regularly, it's soon going to look pretty unsightly.

Nursing Program at WTC

A new associate degree in nursing program for Western Texas College, Cogdell Memorial Hospital and Howard College of Big Spring received final approval from the Texas Board of Nursing Examiners following a hearing Wednesday in Austin.

The program had previously been approved by the Texas Education Agency and the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System.

The program will accept its first students in August. They can take 31 hours of college credit work at WTC and begin clinical training at Cogdell Hospital. The remainder of their classroom studies and clinical training will be through Howard College in Big Spring. The course is designed to be completed in two years.

Persons interested in additional information about the associate degree in nursing are invited to contact the office of Bettie McQueen, Director of Occupational-Technical Education at WTC in Snyder, AC 915 573-8511, extension 320.

inate the task of mowing the lawn.

I once put plant killer on a yard I had, spread out plastic sheets, then filled the yard with white rocks. It was an effect I had seen in some home magazine.

The following spring, I had crabgrass growing up through the white rocks.

It was the crummiest looking yard in the entire neighborhood.

Some years ago, I read an item in Reader's Digest about how one man solved his problem with the lawn.

He had green concrete poured throughout his entire yard.

Then he painted his lawn mower gold and mounted it on a base in the middle of the yard. Retired forever.

Life in these United States.

"The yard doesn't look any different than it did when I left this morning," said my wife.

I said, "Dichondra seeds are very small and hard to see. What's a six-letter word in French for 'rascal'?"

She said, "Coquin. Aren't you supposed to cut the other grass first, or spread something on it all?"

I said, "No. Dichondra has to sneak up on the other grasses. I don't want them to even know the seeds are there."

Once I complained about the bare spots worn in the back yard by a couple of boys playing catch in the same positions day after day.

My wife straightened me out with one short sentence. She said, "We're raising children, not grass."

But now the moppets are no longer moppets and most of them live in different parts of the country. So I can work my crossword while my dichondra seeds work for me.

Of course, if in a few years any of my grandsons want to get up a game of catch in our backyard, the dichondra will just have to take its chances.
