

Cancer Society Crusade Continues

The American Cancer Society has announced that a special health survey will be conducted in Post this month as part of the Society's local educational and fund-raising Crusade.

The survey is a main feature of this year's educational Crusade pamphlet to be distributed by local ACS volunteers door-to-door.

"In addition to a personal self-test one can take to determine his or her own risks in getting certain types of cancer, along with safeguards to keep risks low, the pamphlet includes this rather innovative survey," said Kim Mills, co-chairman of the Cancer Crusade here.

According to Mills, the survey is a detachable, confidential questionnaire related to individual health awareness and action that takes about five minutes to complete.

It is then to be mailed back to the ACS.

"The results of this survey, which I really encourage the citizens of Post to complete, will be used by ACS volunteers to determine more effective education programs in this part of the state," she said.

She added that if survey results indicate, for example, that very few women in this area regularly examine themselves for breast cancer, ACS volunteers will be alerted so that programs on this particular site become a priority.

"Education is a great means of prevention," said Mills.

"At present rates, the lives of about 320,000 Americans will be saved from cancer in 1983.

"However, we already have the scientific knowledge and know-how to save nearly 145,000 more with the help of earlier diagnosis and treatment," she concluded.

Volunteers to help in this year's crusade are still needed, and interested people should call Mills at 495-2804 or Donna Stelzer at 495-3461.

Soil Stewardship Week Begins

The Garza Soil and Water Conservation District will join the nationwide celebration of Soil Stewardship Week to take place on May 8-15, according to an announcement by Sam Ellis, District Chairman.

The theme of this year's celebration is "Living Waters."

The National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week since 1955, in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts.

"If our water management practices in the past have been adequate, we may ignore the rising population, the increased industrialization and expanded irrigation, all of which require more water from our reservoirs," cites NACD in the 16-page Soil Stewardship Week booklet.

"One of our more compelling social and economic needs is for a full appreciation of the true value of our abundant supply of water. It is time to think seriously about conservation, pollution, priority usage and our dependence upon it."

Informative material on the Soil Stewardship Week theme is distributed each year through local conservation districts to clergymen, lay leaders, churches, civic and educational organizations and to individuals participating in the observance.

"If we are to make certain that supplies will be adequate for present and future needs, we are obliged to abide by the universal laws and to help, rather than hinder, the process by which the constant supply of water is recycled and repurified," according to NACD.

Information and materials for the 1983 observance of Soil Stewardship Week are available in this area from Dwaine Binford, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Post.

Salvation Army Gives 'Good News'

Too often it seems that "good news" never makes the headlines.

Of course, wars, crime, fire and floods are dramatic and compel attention.

Fortunately, however, there is much more to life — such as kindness, helpfulness, and friendship.

There is, for example, The Salvation Army...quietly working at more than 11,000 centers of operation throughout the country.

In Post, the Salvation Army representatives are Bob Collier and Don Payne.

A family rift healed through counseling.

A pre-schooler playing under responsible adult supervision at a day care center while the mother works at a job that has made her self-supporting.

An alcoholic restored to sobriety and self-respect.

A teen-ager using his energies in a basketball game instead of on the street.

A child learning values in group activities that will last throughout life.

Day in, day out, multiplied thousands of times, events like these don't make the headlines, but they do make life so much more meaningful.

National Salvation Army Week is observed May 9-14 and it is a good time to salute the men and women who bring the good news of God's love to all through their spiritual and social ministry every day of the year.

discrepancies which dated back to 1964 for the simple fact that the board had nothing to show in writing.

The discrepancies had to do with the eye protection policy which the school was following to the letter, but because of no proof in writing, it had to be put in the minutes.

In other action, the board approved the accepting of commodities and caring for them in the proper way in order to receive such for the coming year.

Supt. Shiver also explained to the board that school needed to be dismissed at 3 p. m. for the last 10 school days in order for the teachers to attend course guides required by the Texas Education Agency.

The board gave their approval for school to be dismissed with each class period being shorter the last ten days in order for school to be dismissed. Kindergarten through third grades will be dismissed at 2:15.

Billy Max Gordon was approved by the trustees as the new coach for the girls athletic program and Peggy Lott approved as a teacher in the lower grades.

Before the board adjourned, Royce Hart asked Principal Joe Giddens about the Will and Prophecy being left out at the Junior-Senior banquet this year.

Giddens told Hart and the board that Post was one of the last schools around to still maintain the tradition and that after thorough editing, things were put into the will that hurt some of the kids attending the banquet.

He said the teachers were against it and had been against it for years and had asked him to put a stop to it long ago and after much consideration, it would not be a part of the banquet this year.

He also added that The Post Dispatch didn't help by publishing a letter to the editor.

Parent Supports Cancellation of "Will"

Dear Editor

I would like to say a few words in regards to having a Will and Prophecy read at the Junior-Senior Banquet.

I also am an Ex, taxpayer, voter and also a parent. I have attended several banquets, three when I was in school, and different ones when my children were involved.

There never fails to be in one or both of these papers a cut at one or more people.

It always get a big laugh, but I've wondered several times the feelings of the person these were aimed at.

One year it was so obvious that the young persons whole evening was ruined. One persons discomfort is too high a price to pay to keep this "tradition."

Editing does no good because sometimes it is read as written anyway and

Newspaper is Voice for ALL

An Editorial

At the close of Monday night's school board meeting, high school principal Joe Giddens, who we personally are pleased to call our friend, publicly placed the blame on The Post Dispatch for student unrest about the cancellation of the annual "Wills and Prophecy."

Ordinarily, we would refrain from publishing this sort of attack, but we feel a public accusation of this nature deserves a hearing.

First of all, The Post Dispatch is a community newspaper which belongs to all of its readers, both subscribers and non-subscribers.

It is our stated policy, which we outlined in September, 1982, that this newspaper's primary function is to serve its public, all of its public.

That means that at times the pages of this newspaper will carry unpopular viewpoints of its readers...more commonly found in "Letters to the Editor."

The fact that we print these unedited letters to the editor does not necessarily imply that we agree with the letter writer.

In the recent case of the school administration's decision to cancel the reading of the "Will and Prophecy" at the Junior-Senior banquet, we neither stated our support nor our objection to the decision.

We did, however, accept and publish a letter to the editor from one of our readers who expressed objections to the cancellation.

We will continue to print letters to the editor, even if they are unfavorable to one faction or another of our community.

The rules for printing letters to the editor are fairly simple...they must not be libelous, slanderous or obscene and we require a signature of the writer.

It is also our policy to be the eyes and ears of our readers at public meetings...

We are the representatives of all those people who will not, can not or choose not to attend public meetings, where their elected officials conduct the business of the electorate.

It is our obligation as the trusted eyes and ears of our readers to present to them an accurate report of what they missed by not being at these public meetings.

And we will continue to strive to live up to the trust placed in us by our readers.

The blame we will take in the current controversy at the high school is simple...we allowed space for a reader to express objection to a decision.

For that we stand guilty and are happy to accept the blame.

Soil Stewardship Week Proclaimed May 8 - 15

Members of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts' Soil Stewardship Committee and the State Soil and Water Conservation Board witnessed and received a signed proclamation designating May 8-15 as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas from Governor Mark White. Standing from left to right are V.V. Fritze of Mason; Maurice Shepherd of Burleson; Joe Antilley of Abilene; Governor White; Sam Ellis of Southland; Allen Sheppard of Yoakum and Harvey Davis of Temple.

Governor, Judge Sign Proclamations

Governor Mark White and County Judge Giles Dalby have signed proclamations declaring this week as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas and Garza County.

The governor in his proclamation points out that "the well-being of our people depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil.

"The quality and quantity of these products depend upon the conservation, wise and proper management of the soil and water resources.

"It is the concern of every Texan that soil and water resources be conserved and managed properly to assure the welfare of all citizens.

"Soil and water conservation districts provide a practical and democratic organization through which landowners are taking the initiative to properly protect these resources.

"Soil and water conservation districts are sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week as a commitment to protecting our renewable natural resources," the governor added.

Judge Dalby declared that "the soil and water resources of Texas are God given resources and are of basic importance to the welfare of all the citizens of the state."

County Judge Giles Dalby signs the proclamation designating the week of May 8 through May 15 as Soil Stewardship Week. Shown with Judge Dalby is Garza SWCD Director, L.G. Thuett Jr.

Garza Soil and Water Conservation District Consider Living Waters

Watching a sunset in San Francisco Bay, you and I
While the evening spreads against the red sky
I have seen birth, growth, and death.
Not ready yet for my last breath.

Are we an age without belief or meaning?
Dreaming of atomic oblivion — waking up screaming?
Living water disappearing like a thief in a gang.
Are we a world that ends with a whisper, not a bang?

Cities' waste and farmlands' soil pollute our lakes.
God mourns from burdens of purifying our mistakes.
The Gulf's rivers sweating oil.
The human race gathering on stoney soil.

His gift of earth's water — we marvel at its constancy.
When gentle winds or hurricane power lifts a torrent sea.
Making clouds of ocean pores thundering like drums in a band.
Released as rain to refresh life and the thirsting land.

Gentle raindrops to mighty floods possess the field.
It slides as a giant reptile quietly concealed.
Down the creeks and mighty rivers through the plain.
Home to the womb of the sea in rapturous pain.

People before yesterday lingering in the shadows of time.
Watch today's stewards of resources in our prime.
Harness water's power, great is the reward.
Loosen restraints, it's a two edged sword.

"Consider Living Water; consider it well."

"Living Waters" is the theme of this year's Soil Stewardship Week. Texas' 201 soil and water conservation districts will participate in the annual observance to remind all Texans that soil, water and related renewable resources warrant our best in creative conservation and considerate management.

The members of the Garza Soil and Water Conservation District urge every resident of Garza County to recognize and observe the importance of Soil Stewardship.

Vicki Teaff, Rodney Gray Wed Here

Vicki Dyann Teaff and Rodney Jay Gray exchanged wedding vows in the First Baptist Church Saturday night, April 30 at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Tom Pass, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a 14 branch candleabra entwined with burgandy and white carnations and greenery and white columns of greenery on either side.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Teaff and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gray all of Post.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of polysheer. The bodice featured a standup scalloped edged lace neck with a front illusion net yoke trimmed with schiffli embroidery and sequins. Illusion, trimmed with Venice lace motifs and a lace flounce formed the yoke in the back. The skirt was trimmed with chantilly lace with a baby ruffle at the hemline with bow trim at the sides of the skirt forming a chapel length train. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white and burgandy silk flowers of gypsophelia, stephanotis and daffodils with beaded hearts entwined and tied with white silk love knots. Carrying out the tradition of something new, her dress; something old, her grandmothers wedding rings tied in her garter; something blue, her garter and something borrowed, a string of pearls belonging to a friend, Gayle Parker of Tahoka.

Justina Caylor served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Lynn Hodges and Gina Palmer. They wore burgandy gowns with fitted empire bodices and pleated skirts topped with detachable sheer chiffon capes. They carried a long stemmed burgandy rose and wore combs of burgandy flowers and baby's breath in their hair.

Wedding guests were registered by Carol Holleman.

Serving as best man was Ronald Case and groomsmen were Randy Conner and Todd Guy. They were attired in silver tuxedos with burgandy trim and the groom wore an all white tuxedo.

Acting as ushers were Rodney and Randy Teaff, brothers of the bride and Kelvin Teaff, cousin of the bride, they were also attired in the silver tuxes.

Wedding music was provided by pianist Nancy Flanigan, accompanying Randy Conner, vocalist, who sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "Always and Forever."

Upon entering the church, the bride paused to present her mother with a long stemmed red rose and presented one to her new mother-in-law following the ceremony.

A reception followed with ceremony in the community room of the First National Bank.

Guests were served from a table laid with a white cutwork lace cloth featuring a three tiered wedding cake holding a bride and groom at the top surrounded by white net with white and burgandy flowers.

White roses and burgandy trim were used on each column of the cake. A burgandy silk flower arrangement was centered on the table along with a silver punch service.

The groom's table was also laid with a white cloth and featured a silk flower arrangement and coffee and chocolate cake was served. Lana Conner, Charla Tatum and Debbie Gray served those attending and Christi Hodges and Brittany Gandy handed out the bell shaped rice bags. Members of the house party included Mmes. Kent Carlisle, James Dye, Austin Simpson and Roy White.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico and Arizona, the couple are residing in Post.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Post High School and is employed at Garza Memorial Hospital. The groom attended Post High School and is employed by Rocker A Well Service.

A rehearsal supper was held in the Roy Teaff home Friday.

Woman's Culture Club

The Womans Culture Club met April 27 in the Club House with Mrs. D. D. Pennell and Mrs. Hub Haire serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Linda Malouf, president, called the meeting to order and expressed her appreciation to the members for their support at the District Convention and through the year.

Katherine Cathcart, program leader for the day, asked Sue Chun to lead the members in the Club Collect and then presented Lillian Potts who gave a talk on "Texas Wildflowers". She illustrated with pictures and real flowers for the ones found in our part of Texas.

She said there were 5,000 different species of wild flowers in Texas, more than any other state. We have 800,000 acres of road side right-away that the highway department takes care of. She said that our state flower is the Blue Bonnet; our tree, the Pecan and our stone, Palm Tree.

Mrs. Yolanda Amado of Panama, a guest of Buena Boucher, gave the poem "Hiawatha" and gave a short history of the writer, Longfellow, also a resume of the poem, selecting the most important parts. In her unique way, she made the characters come alive and was certainly an inspiration to all.

Members attending were Mmes. Malouf, Cathcart, Potts, Boucher, Chun, Maxine Earl, Ruth Duckworth, Nita Burrell, Lois Williams, Pearl Storie, Estelle Davis, Pennell, Haire and guest Yolanda Amado.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Alexander of Lovington, N. M., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dena Renae, to Cliff Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick. The couple plan a July 16 wedding in the Jackson Avenue Baptist Church in Lovington, N. M., at 7 p. m. Dena is a 1979 graduate of Lovington High School and attended New Mexico State University and Texas Tech. Cliff is also a 1979 graduate, from Post High School and attended Howard County College and Texas Tech University.

Young People, Our Best

Pastor Steve Traw Ministerial Alliance Young people, J. Edgar Hoover once commented, are our most priceless national asset.

For our community, we can boast of nearly 500 in grades 7 through 12.

These represent 500 precious packages of energy, hope, promise yet uncertainty.

As parents, adults and community leaders they do represent to us the future of our community and far beyond the city limits of our town.

With an ample supply of hind-sight and only a bit of wisdom, we must admit that nothing serious afflicts the youth of our community that we, the older generation, didn't outgrow.

And we understand more than ever before the lines of wit which tell us, if you want to keep young, work with young people; if you to grow old, try to keep up with them.

But keep up with them, we must. There must be that keeping-up in continual ministry to spiritually feed and guide those who will inevitably assume the roles of responsibility in our community.

The words of the psalmist are too clear to do otherwise. How can a young man keep his way pure?

By living according to your Word.

Parenting and teaching, instructing from within the church confines needs wisdom to mold those yet impressionable with the Truth that lasts a lifetime.

The churches of our community are working together to develop needed Christian qualities for this and the next generations. May our goal and our concerted prayer for our youth resound the advice of a spiritual leader of another era to his underling; Don't let anyone look down on you because you are young, but set an example for the believers in speech, in life, in love, in faith and in purity.

Happy will be the one in old age who learns to trust God in the days of his youth.

God has entrusted you with the greatest of ministry and from this vantage point the fields are indeed ripe for harvest.

Pleasant Home

By Annie Gilbert Sunday School was at its usual hour last Sunday and was great throughout all services.

Sister Hattie Dorsey taught the Juniors.

Sister Priscilla Martin taught the Primary and Brother Mack Porter taught the adults. The subject was "Breakthrough in Macedonia", Acts 16: 9-18.

Devotional service was brought by Brother Mack Porter, Sister Mozella Mitchell and Sister Delores Harper. Matthew was read from chapter 18 verses 1 through 5 then the choirs sang praises to God from their hearts and souls.

During the 11 a. m. service, our pastor, Rev. Kelly delivered a wonderful sermon with his theme being "A Charge to Keep I Have and a God to Glorify."

Please let's remember to pray, visit the sick and shut-ins of the churches and community.

Rev. Arthur Kelly is the pastor with Rev. John James the associate pastor.

Twin Cedars News

By Tina Rodriguez Just a reminder that Thursday, May 5 from 11:30 to 12:30 is the day for our covered dish luncheon. Don't forget this special day and come and join us all for the fun and fellowship.

We are all looking forward to this special event. A group of our residents went to the park to feed the ducks and enjoy the nice park. The weather was so nice we just couldn't stay inside Tuesday. After riding around town to see the sights, we stopped at the Dairy Queen to have a Coke and visit.

Our special guest on our outing was Charlene Nelson. A good time was had by all. Our residents said it was the best day they had had in a long time.

On Thursday afternoon our residents enjoyed some gardening.

We potted some Geraniums for our Sunroom.

They are almost in bloom, we are going to enjoy taking care of them and watching them grow. We are wondering who is going to have the Henri Nouwen wrote to his father after his mother's death, "Real grief is not healed by time. It is false to think that the passing of time will slowly make us forget her and take away our pain. I really want to console you, but not by suggesting that time will take away your pain, and that in one, two, three, or more years you will not miss her so much anymore. I would not only be telling a lie, I would be diminishing the importance of mother's life, underestimating the depth of your grief, and mistakenly slighting the power of the love that has bound mother and you together for 47 years. If time does anything, it deepens our grief. The longer we live, the more fully we become aware of who she was for us, and the more intimately we experience what her love meant for us. Love often makes itself visible in pain. The pain we are now experiencing shows us how deep, full, intimate, and all-pervasive her love was."

The Presbyterians of Post will gather at 11:00 Sunday morning to praise the God who gave all the families of the earth their name, and their purpose. We invite you to join us, bringing with you your sorrows, your joys or your fears.

We too, have known sorrow, joy and fear, but also know that in God we "live and move and have our being."

Come, be a part of this community of faith.
