by Wes Burnett

The 1983 O.S. Saddle Bronc and Art Show, to be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 1 and 2, will include 30 of the world's best PRCA bronc riders and a wide variety of famous Western artists.

The Matched Bronc Riding performances will be held at the Garza County Rodeo Association Arena, just north of Post on Hwy 84.

The Bronc Riders will go with "head-to-head" competition on both Saturday and Sunday.

A much larger selection of Western art is expected to be displayed at the art show, which will be in the Post Community Center. A Buyers' Preview Presentation is scheduled for Friday evening, September 30.

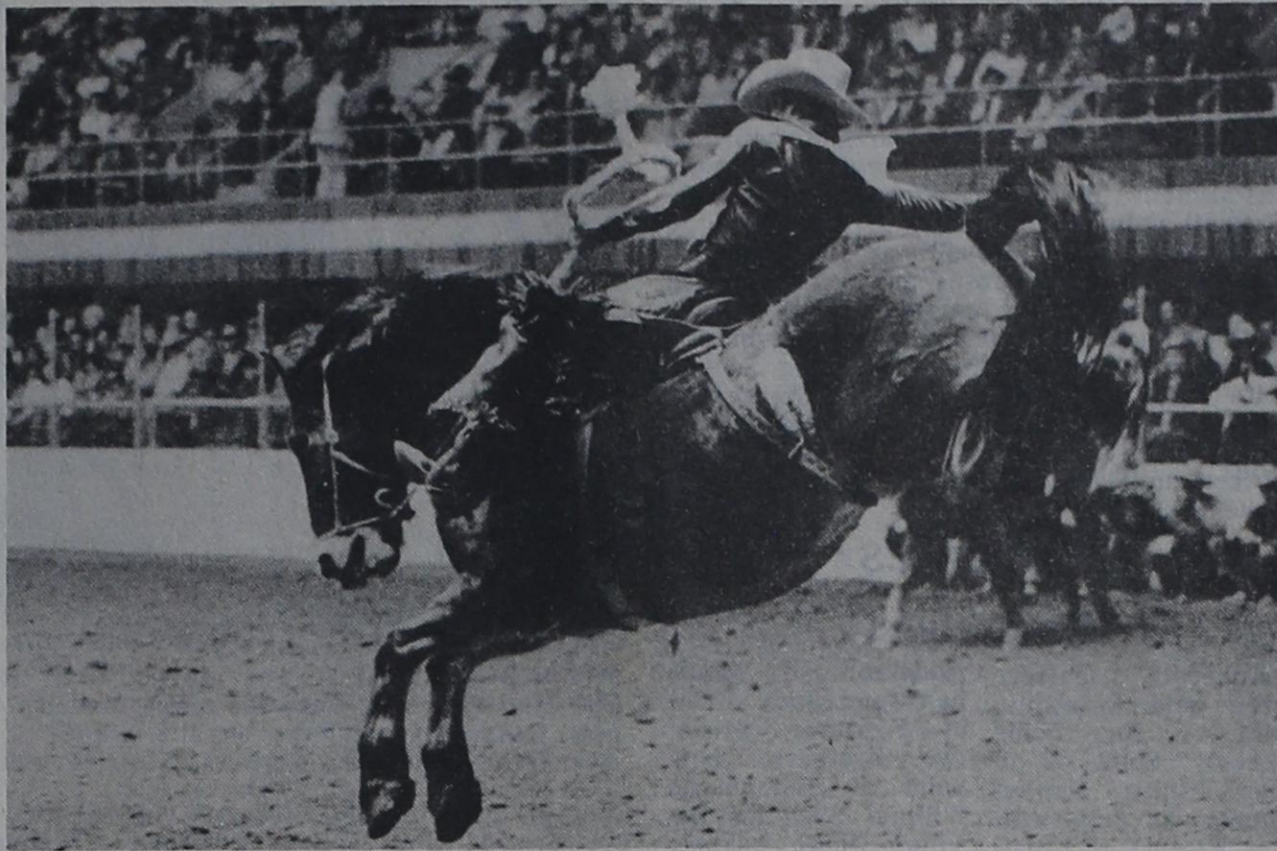

The popular West Texas Boys Ranch Bar-B-Que will be available at the Bronc Riding on both days.

The popular West Texas Boys Ranch Bar-B-Que will be available at the Bronc Riding on both days.

Bob Moline, a Fort Worth artist and saddle maker, has already started work on the First Annual Bronc Riding saddle, to be donated to the event.

The art show, under the direction of Mayor Giles McCrary, is coordinated by art show committee members David and Ruth Ann Newby and Marie Neff.

Lubbock Native Joins Dispatch

Phil L. Riddle has joined The Post Dispatch in the newly created position of advertising manager, Dispatch publisher Wesley W. Burnett announced this week.

Riddle, a 1975 Lubbock Coronado High School graduate, began his duties at The Dispatch this week.

He comes to Post from Stephenville, Texas, where he had been employed with Checkmate Investigations, Inc.

Riddle attended Texas Tech University and Tarleton State University and started his newspaper career with the Stephenville Star in 1980.

He later was promoted to general manager of the Star and then moved to Colorado City, Tex., as publisher of the Colorado City Record.

In May 1982 Riddle was transferred to Dublin, Tex., as editor and advertising manager.

"Phil came through Post a few months ago," publisher Wes Burnett comments, "and talked about his desire to return to the newspaper business."

"Knowing Phil's talents from our work together in Stephenville and Dublin," Burnett adds, "and we are really fortunate to have Phil as a member of our staff."

Riddle is 25 years old, is a native of Lubbock and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riddle of Stephenville.

Double U Building Facelift Begins

Remodeling and restoration of the building most commonly known as the "Double U Building" downtown started last week, with work centering on the upstairs in the early stages.

Owned by Mayor Giles McCrary, the building will be restored on the outside to its original appearance, including the removal of the tile front.

Architect Norman IGO Schauer Associates of Lubbock are supervising the project with Knox, Gailey and Meador Inc. also of Lubbock, acting as general contractor.

The bulk of the outside renovation focuses on restoring the limestone to its natural finish and filling in window openings to match the brick.

Currently the building is serving as temporary offices for the city of Post and the Post Chamber of Commerce, while renovation work proceeds at city hall.

Eventually Mayor McCrary plans to rent the restored building to a retail establishment.

Nuclear Alert Tested Military Obedience

By Wesley W. Burnett

The truth can finally be told, although I suppose technically what I have to say is still considered "Top Secret."

But after seeing the Pulitzer Prize winning author Seymour Hersch on NBC's Today Show Thursday morning, I feel that the story of how this nation came close to nuclear disaster can now be shared with others.

Hersch told Today Show host Bryant Gumble that, among other things, the Richard Nixon - Henry Kissinger combination of power greed delayed the implementation of a cease-fire in Vietnam and part of their planning included the use of nuclear weapons against the North Vietnamese. Hersch makes these claims in his new book, "The Price of Power."

As part of this so-called war plan, the Nixon-Kissinger team called a world-wide, full scale nuclear armed alert of the entire military force of the United States.

Every military unit in the world was put on war-stance . . . to a condition called "DEFCON I." Translated from military jargon, that means Defense Condition One, get ready for war . . . we could expect to be attacked at anytime.

At the height of the Cuban missile crisis in 1961, the military alert was DEFCON II, which is the defense condition of prepare for possible attack.

Military people around the world responded to the alert with puzzled obedience. Yet every military command obeyed to the letter.

For years I, along with others who went through this nerve-wracking experience in October 1969, wondered and questioned the reason for the world-wide nuclear alert.

I had just arrived at Oxnard AFB, Calif., graduating from Officer Training School in early September 1969.

The first week of October, as I recall on a Wednesday or Thursday morning, I went into the Information Office as usual, and was told by the sergeant in our office that the wing commander wanted me to report immediately to the command post.

I hadn't heard the alert alarm, so naturally I was a little curious as to why the command post had been activated.

As I entered the command post, which was located in the rear of the fighter squadron's briefing room and building, I knew instantly that something big was going on.

My first clue was the pistols draped around the fighter pilots . . . having been in the Air Defense Command before, I knew that the only time pilots wore their pistols was when they were on regular duty alert or . . . surely not . . . if we were to be at war.

Air Force regulations at the time called for two fighter aircraft at Air Defense Command bases to be on alert, ready to respond within two minutes, and to be armed with nuclear weapons.

Of course, this was never admitted publicly that any aircraft were loaded with nuclear weapons. That was considered "classified" information.

We had at that time approximately 20 F-106 fighter aircraft in the two squadrons at Oxnard AFB, which is a few miles north of the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Of the 20 aircraft, no more than 12 could be considered ready for immediate flight, with several in the hangars for regular maintenance and some even with engines removed for major repair.

As I entered the command post, our wing commander, a full colonel, swung his chair around, handed me a teletyped message and snapped, "Here, Lieutenant, read this!"

As soon as I saw the "Top Secret" stamp at the top of the page, I handed it back to the colonel, "sorry sir, I'm not cleared for Top Secret."

"You're what?" he asked incredulously, "how in the world do you expect to do your job, lieutenant, if you don't have the proper security clearances?"

Choir Members Compete at State

Six Post High School choir students who qualified for the state meet returned to Post Monday following competition.

Making the trip to Austin were Mark Stark, Todd Wilson, Frances Cendalski, Renae Melton, Dawn Pierce and Barbara Sturdivant.

Dianne Ladd, director, said the students gave their best performance ever at the meet. The students competed against thousands of other participants from across the state.

Results of the meet were Mark Stark II, Todd Wilson III, Frances Cendalski III, Renae Melton IV, Dawn Pierce IV and Barbara Sturdivant IV.

Rhonda Alford was accompanist for the group and played all six solos.

The contest was held on the University of Texas campus.

Steve Ladd, band director, also accompanied the group.

"Sir," I replied, "I just finished OTS, the clearances are being processed."
 "Well, okay," the colonel calmed down, and folding the paper handed it back to me, "here, read this part." The portion he showed me was the standard Pentagon "do not say anything to anybody" statement . . . cannot confirm or deny, refer all inquiries to the Secretary of the Defense.

Then I took my place in the back row of the dimly lit room, next to the civil engineering officer.

There was quietly disturbing silence in the room, as the colonel mulled over the teletype. The suspense was too much, and I leaned over to the officer next to me, "what's going on?"

"We don't know for sure, but it looks like we're going to war," he answered in a whisper.

Within a few minutes the squadron operations officer approached the command post "window" next to the wing commander.

"Sir, I'm not sure we want to do this," the young captain told the colonel as he handed over a teletype message.

"We can't do that," the colonel almost yelled, "that's not legal. Get me NORAD!"

The red phone jingled, and the colonel asked to speak to the general on duty at NORAD (North American Air Defense Command.)

"Sir, this Oxnard, Colonel . . . about this order . . . yes sir, but sir . . . yes sir . . . but sir . . . Yes Sir," and he hung up the phone.

The wing division officers in the command post were in hushed silence as the colonel turned slowly in his chair, looking ever much of his 50 odd years old, and quietly uttered a profanity, followed by the order . . . "load 'em up . . . all of 'em."

Editor's Note: This article will be continued as a series, with the next installment in the Wednesday Dispatch. Burnett enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in September 1961, served at various Air Defense Command bases as an information specialist and in the summer of 1969, after graduation from the University of Nebraska at Omaha, entered Officer Training School, with commissioning Sept. 1, 1969. He served at Oxnard AFB, Calif., Kingsley Field, Ore., and Offutt AFB, Neb. as an information officer until resigning from active duty in June 1972.

Tyler - Hays Exchange Vows Saturday June 4

Wedding vows were pledged between Marinette Hays and Jerry Bruce Tyler at 7 p. m. Saturday, June 4 in Calvary Baptist Church.

Rev. Lee R. (Tut) Jones of Burkburnett, Tex., performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of brass candelabras entwined with greenery and lilies of the valley.

Lighting the two brass heart shaped candelabras were Mark Tyler of Post, brother of the bridegroom and Jock McKamie of Houston, nephew of the bride, while Dawn Pierce, Mark Stark and Diane Ladd sang "Endless Love."

After the mothers of the bride and bridegroom were ushered in, they lit the candles adjoining the Unity Candle as Dawn and Mark sang "Surround Me With Love."

Flower girls were Sonja and Tonya Harp and wore formal of sheer delight over Promesse satin, accented at the waist with bands of ribbon in the bride's chosen colors of pink, yellow, blue and orchid. They carried white baskets with rose pedals and rainbow ribbons attached at the sides, their hair was in French braids accented with petite rosebuds and baby breath throughout the braids, their corsages were of petite rosebuds of orchid, yellow, blue and pink.

Vicki Hays of Lubbock, sister in law of the bride, Karen Conner, close friend of the bride served as bridesmatrons, Debbie Tyler, sister of the bridegroom served as bridesmaid. They wore off the shoulder formal of Promesse satin accented by rainbow sashes and bows on the shoulders to match each color of pink, blue and yellow. Their hats were derby styled with brims edged in tiny seed pearls with a flower of the same color on the side and was turned up, the crown of the hat was trimmed with a band of illusion and a pearl ring was at the front of the band, a large pouf bow of illusion and two streamers on the back completed the hats. They carried bouquet of colonial nosegays of roses and white stephenotis entwined with rainbow and white ribbons backed by white lace to compliment each of their dress colors.

They were ushered to the altar by Dennis McDonald, Tony Conner and Andy Williams who served as groomsmen. The groomsmen were attired in grey tux with shirts to match the attendants formal, as they were ushered to the altar the trio sang "Ice Castles."

Ring bearers were Natasha Newdigger of Post and Heath Hays of Lubbock, nephew of the bride. Natasha wore an identical formal to that of the flowergirls, Heath wore a white tux and they carried the bride and bridegroom rings atop Venise lace heart shaped pillows with their names and wedding date embroidered on top by Mrs. Billy Blacklock.

Dejuana McKamie of Houston, sister of the bride served as matron of honor, and wore an orchid formal and hat to match identical to that of other attendants. She carried a bouquet of orchid roses and white stephenotis entwined with orchid and white ribbon backed by white lace.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. (Pete) Hays and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Tyler.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of Sata-glos accented with Venise lace. The moulded bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline edged in Venise lace with the bodice defined in Venise lace and sprinkled with seed pearls. The Bishop sleeves were gathered to a wide cuff encircled with Venise lace and Venise lace motif with delicately placed on the upper sleeve. The empire waist line fell to a natural waist in back with self fabric bow at center and was defined in Venise lace. The circular skirt fell to a chapel length train and featured a double ruffled flounce. Venise lace flower motifs were sprinkled over the skirt. To complete her ensemble the bride wore a matching hat of Venise lace adorned with scattered seed pearls. The illusion was caught in the back with a bow and fell to a fingertip length. She carried a bouquet of cascading cressent of white regal cattleya orchids encircled by roses, ribbon and gypsophilia in her chosen colors of orchid, yellow, pink, and blue, flanked by Boston fern atop a white Bible given to her by the bridegroom's mother.

Carrying out the tradition of something borrowed was her dress, which belonged to Karen (Williams) Conner, that she wore in her own wedding, something blue, was a garter with a motif in the center form her own lace made and given to the bride by Mrs. Janet Hall, something new was her hat, something old was a gold wedding band belonging to her late grandfather, Morris McClellan, for good luck, two pennies in her shoe, one for the birthdate.

As the trio sang "You and I" the Unity candle was lit by the bride and groom following the lighting of the candle by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tyler was presented to the congregation.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Ricky Shepherd of Lubbock. He wore a gray tux identical to the groomsmen with orchid shirt to match that of the matron of honor's dress.

The bridegroom and candlelighters wore white tux.

Acting as ushers were Ronald Tyler of LaFayette, La., brother of the bridegroom and Mike Hays of Lubbock, brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall with the wedding table laid with white linen cloth, edged with Venise lace and the bride's chosen colors of tiny bows scattered over the lace, scalloped along the edge with orchid net. Crystal appointments were used. The table was accented with crystal candelabras and rainbow ribbons entwined around the base of the candelabras. Also featured was a cross stitch picture done in the rainbow colors by Mrs. Andy Williams of a bride and groom with the bride and grooms name and wedding date.

The wedding cake was a two tier round cake set on five inch filigreed pillars, flanked by two oblong tiers on each side. Atop the round cake was the traditional wedding couple under a filigree arch covered with a cascade of dainty orchid fantasy flowers. On the side-cakes, bridesmaids dressed in gowns of the brides chosen colors escorted by handsome groomsmen joined the happy couple. The cakes were all iced in white. Each base tier was edged with bead borders under a ribbon drape. Tops of the tiers were edged with a double row of ruffles topped with shell borders. The cake sides were covered with a piping of vines with pastel flowers attached.

The grooms table was laid with a blue linen cloth with brown and tan as the color theme, using a brown oil derrick candle and miniature boot mints accented the table, with the cake of chocolate atop with tan oil derrick. Coffee was served from a silver service. Assisting at the bride's table were Crystal Mason of Post and Judy Morris of Snyder, Nancy McDonald and Carol

Williams both of Post School. The bride attended at the groom's school Cisco Junior College and the Members of the groom is a graduate house party were of Texas Tech where Mmes. Frances he earned his degree Josey, Joy Fluitt, in finance. He is Janet Hall, Glenda employed by Palmer McClellan and Tommy Wall Service, Inc. of my Williams. Post.

Handing out the rice tulip sticks were ered from Austin, Stephanie Palmer and Louisiana, Hereford, Amber Harp. Buchanan Dam, Louisiana, Spur, Post registered the Denison, Houston, guests from a table Lubbock, California, laid with orchid and and San Antonio and white taffeta accented Post.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Jerry Hays and Mrs. Glenn Norman.

Upon entering the church, the bride paused to present her mother with a long stemmed rose and gave one to her new mother-in-law when leaving.

OOPS

The Dispatch incorrectly reported that 200 various complaints were received in the Justice of the Peace Pct. 4 office during the Memorial Day Weekend. It should have stated that the 200 complaints were divided in both offices Pct. 1 and Pct. 4.

The hardest questions of life always seem like they should be easy to answer. After all, they concern the most important things, and we should be able to respond to them.

"What do I really believe?"

"Am I really in love?"

"Where is home?"

...When we lay hold of these questions our hands sting at their sharp edges. In the crosscurrents of opinions and feelings and confusion, we long for some degree of certainty. That is why the person who cares about life always wants to know, "How do I know I am doing the right thing?"

Norman Mailer suggests that "the natural role of twentieth-century humanity is anxiety." Worry about what tomorrow might bring, worry about meeting the debts of today. Paul counseled, "Don't be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, make your requests known to God."

...But that was "easy" for him to say. All he ever faced were hostile mobs, ship wrecks, imprisonment and finally death, all because of his faith in God.

Maybe the Roman poet Seneca said it more realistically: "Nothing is so wretched or foolish as to anticipate misfortunes. What madness it is to be expecting evil before it comes."

The Presbyterians of Post gather each Sunday morning to give God the chance to replace their fears with faith, their worries with courage. There is room in the fellowship for you.

This morning Wes Burnett and Jack King will lead worship in the absence of the pastor. We wholeheartedly encourage you to be with us at 11:00.

HOLLYWOOD HEADLINERS

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — The party given by Rick Blackburn and Columbia Records welcoming Chet Atkins to the Columbia family was well attended by celebrities, among them Bobby Bare.

Bare says he'd like to make a guest appearance on "Love Boat" or "Fantasy Island."

He also says he wouldn't mind making another picture, although his previous one co-starring Troy Donahue and Suzanne Pleshette didn't bring on a box-office bonanza.

Bobby hosts a mostly talk show for the Nashville Network, featuring songwriters of the country persuasion.

Asked whether he worries about running out of guests, he says, "Never — there's too much talent for that."

If he could bring back one songwriter from the past to be a guest he says he'd go for Hank Williams, who's hotter now than he was during his lifetime.

Another guest at Atkins' party was Ray Stevens, who's been starring in a series of television commercials plugging dairy products.

Ray wouldn't say whether he makes more money as a pitchman or as a singer and songwriter, but he admitted that TV commercials are a great source of income.

Roy and Barbara Clark proudly announce that they now have a doctor, if not in the house at least in the family.

Roy's stepson, Mike Meyer, recently graduated from Oral Roberts University Medical School, and has been accepted as a resident in surgery at the University of Maryland Hospital.

The Gatlins will headline the concert May 24 following the Memorial Pro-Am Golf Tournament in Columbus, Ohio, to benefit a children's hospital there.

Some 50 celebrities will compete in the tourney.

Award-winning artist Bob Peak is painting an in-concert portrait of Eddie Rabbit to be used on the cover of Eddie's upcoming greatest hits album.

Peak is working in his Arizona studio collecting ideas for the portrait as he looks at still art and video clips of the singing star.

He's also designing 30 new stamps with a 1984 Olympics theme for the U.S. Postal Service, the first block of which went on sale in April.

Unknowns will get their shots at stardom through "You Can Be a Star," a 30-minute country-flavored talent contest to be aired by the Nashville Network.

The show, which is already in production, will be part of the fall lineup with Jim Ed Brown and Richard Reid hosting.

The cable network has contracted for 65 segments.

He's Asked Us... Let's Tell Him

Editor's Note: The following is one in a continuing series of "The Best of Jim Cornish", taken from the files of The Post Dispatch, June 10, 1961.

The tax fiasco down at the state capital in Austin is being prolonged into the summer. Plain facts are Texas today is broke. In fact we've been broke for quite a spell.

Now we're heading into a special session to solve what the lawmakers couldn't do in five months of a regular session - pass in a tax bill.

Governor Price Daniel in a remarkable add ringing declaration at a press conference last week called for a mandate from the people on the sales tax issue.

He indicated he was at long last ready to back down - but only if the people insisted on it.

Straight thinking legislator. Wesley Roberts, proposed giving the people their say at the spring election. That was pigeonholed. Straight thinking legislator. Wesley Roberts, proposed giving the people their say at the spring election. That was pigeonholed.

He has asked us. So let's tell him.

The state is in such a deep financial hole the sales tax is the only one with a big enough bite to put us back on a paying basis again.

Everybody knows this - even Governor Daniel.

The problem though is to find another name for the sales tax so Governor Daniel won't have to go down in Texas history as the governor who gave us the sales tax.

All right, we can solve that.

Let's run a tax naming contest for the state tax. We bet the politicians could get a whole raft of pretty names for it - and get off the big hook.

But it's time to cut out the foolishness - yea, long past time. Why not send Governor Daniel off on a vacation tour of Timbuctoo this summer when the legislature reconvenes? Our lawmakers are elected to make the laws. Let's let them.

We'd be happy to try our hand at raising funds for the governor's Timbuctoo jaunt - if that will help - or sponsor a "Name the Sales Tax Contest."

In the meantime, remember, he's asked for your opinion. Give it to him. Write him a letter. Tell him what you think. - JC

Your Horoscope Guide
June 5 to 11

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 — Also Aries Ascendant) — A change of residence is possible or some type of domestic adjustment. Have auto checked for potential problems. Affairs involving brothers and sisters or your immediate neighborhood are in focus and undergoing major change.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 — Also Taurus Ascendant) — You're magnetic now, so contact people whose support you need. Curb tendency toward extravagance — finances and your source of income may be due for major changes now. Don't fall for "get rich quick" schemes friends offer you.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 — Also Gemini Ascendant) — The spotlight is on you, and you may want to make some radical changes in your life. If involved in clubs or organizations, you could be elected to a leadership position. Research, meditation and secret meetings help new projects.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 — Also Cancer Ascendant) — Finish up projects in progress and consolidate your efforts. Look inside yourself for insight and breakthrough to self-realization. Secret or behind-the-scenes help is instrumental in giving you a new opportunity in career.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22 — Also Leo Ascendant) — Your energy is high and your creativity is peaking — make the most of it! Bosses and important people favor you now so show what you can do. Your personal appearance is important so pay attention to grooming, style and clothing.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 — Also Virgo Ascendant) — There may be changes occurring in your career environment and you gain by meeting them with tactful diplomacy. Guard against oversensitivity. An inheritance of some kind is possible — perhaps family heirlooms or possessions.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 — Also Libra Ascendant) — The desire for travel is great, but energy could be low. Make plans, learn foreign languages, get information on currency exchange and make reservations. Other people are very generous toward you with assistance of all kinds.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — An important relationship may have gotten "off course" and need some cooperative effort to rebuild. Be willing to share the decision-making process instead of wanting sole control. Attend to health, diet and personal appearance.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) — Problems in marriage or partnership relations are in high focus now. Circumstances building for the last six months can "come to a head" and decisions may be made. If unattached, you could find romance at a social event.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 — Also Capricorn Ascendant) — You're feeling romantic and loving. A relationship, whether married or single, can come into full bloom now. Enjoy family and friends at parties you give in your home. Accept help with home-beautifying and redecorating projects.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 — Also Aquarius Ascendant) — Some upsetting news may somehow not be quite accurate. Look beneath the surface for the real meaning or truth. Romantically you are susceptible to confused or irrational responses, so don't expect an attraction now to last forever after!

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 — Also Pisces Ascendant) — Accent is on your home or base of operations. Whether buying or selling, this is an important move. Investments, finances, big business or loans are all highlighted. Take the initiative and get transactions moving ahead.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The graduating class of 1933 spent three of the most glorious days in Post, May 27, 28 and 29th and it seemed that the entire county tried to make us feel like real celebrities.

The old saying of "you can't go home again" certainly doesn't apply to us.

We have been away (the majority) from Washington State to Washington D. C. but going home after 50 years was the most perfect time that any of us have experienced.

Would you be so kind to express our thanks to all of the businesses who contributed to our Golden Anniversary!

Sincerely
Mary W. Whitt

Q. Are old paperback books collectible? I have a copy of "Dead Yellow Women," by Dashiell Hammett, published by Dell in 1949. Does it have any value?

A. According to the "Paperback Price Guide," your book in good condition sells for $9; in fine condition for $27; in mint condition for $45.

Q. This love seat and chair were given to my mother-in-law about 1907 or 1908. The openwork below the back and arms is really unique.

I have had them refinished and reupholstered. What can you tell me about them?

A. This parlor set was made around the turn of the century. It was factory-made and is not old enough to be antique (100 years), but it is collectible. The chair would sell for about $125 to $175, and the love seat for about $275 to $325.

Q. My Belleek compote has a hand-painted grape and leaf design. It is 11 inches in diameter and has the enclosed mark on the bottom.

What can you tell me about its vintage and value?

A. This is not the genuine Irish Belleek; it was made by the Willets Manufacturing Co. in Trenton, N.J., during the late 19th century.

The value of your compote would be in the $125 to $175 range — less than half the value of a genuine Irish Belleek compote of the same period.

There was a man who lived in a town and sold hot dogs.
He was hard of hearing, so he couldn't listen to the radio.
He lived out of the coverage of cable t.v., so he didn't watch television.
But he did sell good hot dogs.
And he consistently ran an ad in his town newspaper, telling people about his hot dogs.
People bought his hot dogs.
He increased his meat and roll orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his increased business.
He finally got his son home from the big city to help him out.
Then something happened.
Son said to father, "Dad, haven't you been hearing all the news on t.v.? There's a big depression coming on...times are really tough and getting worse...we've got to cut our expenses if we're going to make it."
Dad listened to his son's advice.
"Well, he has been to college, and he has been to the big city, maybe he knows more than me."
So, the father cancelled his newspaper advertising.
He cut down on his meat and roll orders.
He closed earlier.
People stopped coming to buy his delicious hot dogs.
Times got really tough.
"You must be right, son. We certainly are in the middle of a great depression. There just isn't any business anymore."
Need we point out the moral of this story?

Senior Citizens Take Tour

Senior Citizens While in Nashville, a guide took them to see the homes of Minnie Pearl, Webb Pierce, Ronnie Mil-sap, Tammy Wynette, Tex Ritter and the Governor's Mansion.

Also, visited Con-way Twittie's "Twittie City" and Onyx Cave on the way to Eureka Springs.

They had a most enjoyable trip and returned home tired, but all agreed it was a wonderful trip!

Making the trip from Post were Zillah Huddleston, Willie Dye, Lela Huntley, Evelyn Gurley, Doris Jones, Beulah Eilenberger, Ruby Carpenter, Mary Goodwin and Sexton and Inez Huntley.

Ed Ahrens and Lorraine Crawson of Wil-son were also on the tour.

Drum Majors, Twirlers and Flag Corps. Selected

Tryouts were held Monday, May 23 for Jr. High and High School drum majors, twirlers and flag corps.

Judges for the event were Twila Felty, flag captain for the Texas Tech band next year; Karen Goodwin, feature twirler of the TT band and Jim Green Crosbyton band director.

Shan Bell was selected to lead the Middle School band as drum major; Trevah Bush will serve as twirler and flag girls will be Molly Prather, Lena York, Paula Roberson and Melinda Curry. Missy Morrow will be the head drum major for the marching Antelope band and will be assisted by Cindee Jackson. Penny Davidson will be the twirler and flag girls will be Belinda Reece, Irene Moreno, April Leverett, Gina Pequeno, Maria Ayala and Susan Morales.

Felty and Goodwin will work with the Antelope flag corp. on their routines throughout the coming year.

Director of bands, Steve Ladd said that he was proud of all the students who tried out and that he expected great performances of the Antelope band this coming marching season.

Dr. Johanna Bos, professor at Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, will deliver keynote addresses.

Hopefully, by the time four groups have read and reflected on the meaning of what Jesus said to women, and after those perceptions have been circulated, it will be apparent that indeed, "Christ Spoke to Women."

In the largest U.S. peacetime manpower mobilization, over 3 million young men were enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps, established 50 years ago during the Great Depression.
The first camp was Camp Roosevelt in George Washington National Forest near Edinburg, Va. Within three months over 275,000 enrollees were living in 1,300 camps and earning $30 a month, $25 of which they had to send home.

Tom Pass Serving on Faculty

Dr. Thomas E. Pass, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Post, is currently serving on the faculty of the Women's Conferences for Presbyterians of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma, meeting at Mo-Ranch, in the hill country near Hunt, Texas.

His course is entitled, "Christ Spoke to Women", subtitled, "The Scandal of Compassion." He also wrote a study guide for the course.

After four different groups of women have re-read and reflected on the meaning of many things Jesus said specifically to women, each group will write insights, perceptions and feelings in the study guide, and the resulting chains of thought and feeling will be circulated to interested persons.

One session began Friday evening and will conclude today at noon. The second session will begin Monday noon and end Wednesday at noon.

'33 Class Reunion

By Mary Whitt
Free Lance Writer

Fifty years on the road back was covered in two days and nights, May 27 and 28, when 19 graduates and the principal of the 1933 graduating class met in Post.

Saturday night's dinner for members and guests held at the community center, highlighted the program.

Black and gold balloons and streamers, high school colors, were used as decorations.

The class flower, purple larkspurs were used in table decorations. A beautiful arrangement on the speaker's table was accented by a boy and girl graduate figurine. Plate favors were hand painted tile on easels, featuring an appropriate western scene. These were hand crafted by Lucille Sims Richardson.

With Mary Whitt as Emcee a la Bombeck style, the program was as follows: Introduction of homecoming committee, Odee Kemp; welcome to guests, Juaniece Hayes; response from honored guests, presentation of awards, Darrell Jones and "Whatever happened between the ocean and the bar?" Mary Whitt.

O. C. Thomas of Ralls, Texas, who was principal at the time the class was in high school, made an informal address and paid tribute to the many achievements of the ones present and those deceased.

Winning the longest distance award was C. W. Harper and his wife from Eltopia, Washington.

Lodesca Harper Cobb of Emery, Texas received the award for having the most grandchildren.

It all began two years ago when plans were begun for the golden jubilee. A committee of four, Sybil Marable Cockrum, Odee Roberts Kemp, Juaniece Cartwright Hayes and Lucille Sims Richardson, located former classmates and compiled a book of memories with a picture of the class on the cover.

Friday was a day of visiting and meeting with friends. Open house with chips and dips was held at the First National Bank community room from 7 p. m. until midnight. Black and gold color theme was carried out.

Registering, visiting, tours through the museum, old high school, old Post home and friends in town, continued all day Saturday.

Those attending were: Juaniece (Cartwright) Hayes, Lubbock; Darrell Jones, class president, Washington, D. C.; Mary Frances (Robinson) Peddy, Galena Park, Tex.; Evelyn (Pettigrew) Rhea, Mesquite, Tex.; C. W. Harper, Eltopia, Washington; Agnes (Pickett) Mueller, Houston; Mary Annice (White) Whitt, Terrell, Tex.;

Heart Association Dance Raises $645

The American Heart Association's Dance for Heart event, held recently in Post has raised $645 toward the fight against premature death and disability from heart disease.

Participants competed for state-wide prizes such as exercise towels, tote bags, folding garment bags and carry-all luggage.

Dancers and instructors were also competing for statewide prizes which included vacation trips for two to Hawaii, Cancun, Puerto Vallarta and Cozumel.

The dancer in Post who raised the most money was Jaynie Dickson, who collected a total of $500. She is a student of Patricia Reynolds.

Proceeds from the event go to support the American Heart Associations research, education and community service programs in Texas. The event was sponsored by the Governor's Commission on Physical Fitness.

Mrs. Reynolds, coordinator for the local event, would like to thank the participants who spent their time dancing and collecting money and also to each person who donated money to this fight against heart disease.

Hospital Receives X-Ray Cassettes

Garza Memorial Hospital was the recipient of nine x-ray cassettes recently, given by the South Park Hospital of Lubbock.

Melville P. Mottet, administrator of the corporate owned 99 bed hospital presented the cassettes to Garza Memorial when he was told of a need here for them.

South Park gave four 10 x 12, two 11 x 14 and three 8 x 10 cassettes.

The cassettes are used in the x-ray lab and is the container for the film used in x-rays.

John Strubhart is the new x-ray supervisor for Garza Memorial and came to Post May 16 from El Paso.

Four Hitter.....

Bobby Blair scattered four singles in pitching the Tigers to a 22-2 win over the Giants, Friday May 27. He also doubled twice and walked twice. The tigers picked up 13 hits.

The Yankees scored three runs in their last at-bat to eke out an 11-10 thriller over the Red Sox. Jamie Perez won the game in relief. Rance Thompson started on the mound for the Yankees, moving to shortstop on the fourth inning. He scored three runs, as did Roger Adams.

Dustin Ammons, a surprise pitching find for the Red Sox, pitched six innings on Saturday night, May 28, en route to a 14-9 win over the A's. Shortstop Matt Holly got four hits and scored four runs for the Red Sox.

The Yankees continued their winning ways Tuesday night, taking a convincing win over the Giants, 25-5. Willie Rangel and Matt Pennell scored four runs each for the Yankees.

In the second game of Tuesday's doubleheader, the A's scored a single run on four walks in their last turn at bat, squeezing by the Tigers, 7-6.

In Thursday night action, three Yankee pitchers could not hold back the A's who won 21-4. Rance Sappington, the first batter for the A's, reached base on an error, scored the first run of the game, and the A's scored several runs in every other inning to put the game out of reach.

Pitcher Junior Armendariz doubled to lead off Thursday night's second game of the Little League schedule. By the end of the first, four runs had scored for the Cardinals, and they went on to beat the Tigers, 12-2.

He has 26 years experience in the x-ray library building at 107 East Main. The He and his wife, Joyce, have one son and one grandson.

Sports

Summer Recreation

Summer recreation began Monday morning and is scheduled to be held until June 23.

If a child did not register last Saturday, that does not mean that they cannot attend the summer program.

A participant may still register any morning at the field house with Coach Dewayne Osborn.

Children eligible for the summer program must be going into the second grade through children going to be in the eighth grade next school year.

The program begins at 9 a. m. each day and continues til noon.

Recreations offered are tumbling, tennis, weights, track, swimming, games, softball for girls, aerobics, gymnastics, football and archery.

OS Bronc Continued From P. 1

Plans are also being developed for an antique show and a giant flea market for the big weekend.

O.S. Saddle Bronc and Art Show president Jack King has announced that invitations are being offered to the Shriners of Lubbock for the motorized clowns.

Other special events for the weekend are also in the planning stages, with details to be provided later.
