County holds down taxes

Even though the tax appraisal district told the county commissioners that they would lose $12,000,000 in evaluation for the coming fiscal year, commissioners held the line on a tax increase and will have a total budget of $972,666.11 with a three percent salary increase for county employees.

The tax rate has been set at .14 which is up from .12832 a year ago. The figure was set so that the county can collect the same amount of dollars as the previous year.

Most of the loss in the evaluation comes from minerals.

In other action Monday, commissioners heard Mike Harper ask to be appointed as constable of precinct 4 and presented commissioners with a petition signed by 200 voters, not only in precinct 4 but other precincts as well, and told the commissioners that these people would like to see him appointed constable.

After reviewing the petition and discussing with Harper that no provisions were made for salary, car and other necessities that he would strictly be on his own with the salary set at $1 a year, Harper said he was willing to do that, stating "all he wanted to do was

City files development application

City council members, meeting in regular session Tuesday night at the Post Public Library held a public hearing with several people in attendance concerning the filing of a community development application. Following the discussion of several problem areas in the city where the grant money could be used if received, council members voted to approve the filing of such application.

Council members also approved Parkhill, Smith and Cooper engineering firm to help with the filing of applications up to $3,000 with council voting to give Mayor McCrary authority to sign such agreements.

Nancy and Jim Taylor of 119 N. Ave. L met with council to obtain permission to put in a small business in a residential area. The area would be their garage at their home. Members were told that letters had been sent to neighbors advising them of this and no replies had been received. Council approved the request.

Jimmie and Connie Jones also met with council members to ask for a variance to attach a mobile home to their permanent residence at 609 West Third. After consulting with attorney Harvey Morton, council was advised that there was no problem, since after being attached to the residence, the trailer would no longer be considered a mobile home. The Jones' agreed to meet all other safety and service standards required by the city in order to be in compliance.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Bridgeman also met with council to ask their permission of a mobile home variance in order to place a trailer at their residence on 15th Street. After it was determined that safety measures could be met, the variance was approved.

O. D. Hearn, district supervisor for General Telephone met with council members to ask for their consideration of renewing the telephone franchise which had

Hallelujah! He saw the light!

by Wesley W. Burnett

Quietly, almost with no fanfare, President Reagan signed into law the repealing of the silly automatic withholding of interest on savings.

Although he had vowed repeatedly last spring and throughout the summer to veto any measure containing repeal of the unpopular measure, the President did in the end bow to public pressure and to the wisdom of congress.

We saw Senator Bob Dole on t.v. this weekend, and wondered why one of the astute newsmen didn't put him on the spot about the turn-around of events.

He was the one, you might remember, who called our banking institution all kinds of nasty names in an effort to help the federal government steal more of our money.

We tip our hats to the congressmen and senators who wisely repealed the automatic

WHEN the Rotary Club of Post, Texas, recently sponsored an Old-Timers' Reunion, the Greenfield Hardware Company, of Post, put in this window display, which attracted the attention of more than five thousand people during the eight days that it was in.

In the background of the window was a collection of old guns and a number of old cow-brands familiar to every cow-man in the West.

The window trim was the work of Homer McCrary, an employee of the Greenfield Hardware Company.

BARBECUE ON A BUDGET

Keep barbecuing costs down by watching for sales on your favorite meats. Pork, beef, poultry and lamb all cook marvelously over the coals and the slow roasting adds a smoky flavor that makes inexpensive cuts ideal for entertaining.

Not only do they serve large groups of people, but roasts in a covered cooker or on a rotisserie require minimal attention and preparation.

A new book called Barbecue! details the steps for all sorts of barbecue entertaining. Easy-to-follow photographs take you through all the steps of preparation for dozens of different occasions.

For instance, try a marinated beef chuck pot roast for your next cookout. The recipes for a number of marinades are given and instructions for cooking over low, indirect heat in a covered grill.

This book is far more than a recipe collection. It opens the fascinating world of outdoor cookery that extends beyond hamburgers, hot dogs and other traditional backyard specials.

Barbecue! was developed in the Reynolds test kitchens and is published by Random House. The $9.95 volume can be found in book and department stores.

Round out your pot roast menu with tomatoes stuffed with green peas, boil-baked potatoes and a dessert of all-American baked apples. Look for in-season produce to cut costs even further and add a touch of freshness to your meal.

Twin Cedar News

By Tina Rodriguez
We had one terrific week this past week. I would like to thank the Pleasant Home Baptist church for their service last week. Everyone enjoyed the service. For this weeks church service we thank the Trinity Baptist church. Everyone also enjoyed this week-ends service.

On Monday evening we had a game of bingo and dominoes. Our bingo winner was Lucy Clary and her prize was some fruit. Then our domino winners were Evelyn and Pauline. They came out even in the games.

On Wednesday night all the residents talked about how well Mr. Lee Pitman and Mrs. Beulah Ramsey sang along with the Seniorettes. They all said they had a great time.

We had a good treat while Lisa Claborn came and showed us films. We had popcorn and cokes.

Our regular activities have been: ball, exercises, grooming, sewing and having our spanish class. Everyone is still doing great in exercises and remember that you are always welcome to join us if you would like. Its at 10:30 every morning.

To start this week off we had a great surprise. We had Mildred and her daughter from Oklahoma came to sing for us. The name she use as a preformer is cousin Sunshine, and since Mr. Pitman favorite song is you are My Sunshine he sang it for her. They did a great job all the residents asked her to come back. That was quite a surprise. We had refreshment as well to go with the entertainment. We all just had a great time.

We thank all our visitors: Darrell Roberts, Nick Flores, Faye Maddox, and Lola and Mack Ledbetter all of Post. C.W. and Lois Ramsey, A.R. and Gerlie Mills, and Glenn and Mary Roberts all of Lubbock.

We thank Mrs. Gramhams visitors with were Velma and Charles Murry.

Our birthdays of this month are: residents - Lucy Clary on the 30th and employees - Teresa Mason on the 6th, Billie Caylor of the 10th, Chynthia Martinez on the 15th and we wish you all a happy birthday from everyone at Twin Cedars.

We are very pleased to hear that Jet Puckett is doing well at this time. We hope she gets out well of the hospital and our prayers are still with her.

Slow down in school zones

The summer vacation will soon be over and thousands of youngsters will be starting back to school, many of those for the first time. Last year in Texas the pedestrian fatalities accounted for 732 traffic deaths according to Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He said, "Motorists need to slow down as they drive through school zones and in and around school areas."

He added, Those big yellow buses will also be back on our streets and highways, and Texas law requires the driver of a vehicle meeting or overtaking a school bus displaying red flashing warning lights that is in the process of loading or unloading passengers to stop until the school bus starts moving, the red lights are no longer flashing, or the bus driver directs motorist to proceed."

Cawthon said, "It is most important that drivers observe speed limits in school zones and the school bus loading laws for the protection of our children, because no one wants to be responsible for the death or injury of a young child."

Jack Lott enters cooking contest at Texas Ranch Roundup

For someone who cooks but once a year at the Texas Ranch Roundup, Jack Lott of the U Lazy S Ranch at Post does quite well. He placed first in the cookin' contest last year, adding points to his team's total in the competition styled after day-to-day ranch activities.

"I don't cook at home; my wife Jeri does," says Lott, owner of the U Lazy S. "I was named the cook by default. No one else would volunteer so I had to, since the pecking order starts with me."

The ranch's winning entry, a simple plate of beef tenderloin, peach cobbler and biscuits, would have made Lott's ancestor, John B. Slaughter, founder of the U Lazy S, proud. It was Lott's own beef dish which whetted the judges' appetite.

"I don't think you could get better food at a fancy restaurant in Dallas," Lott claims.

Tested once by his family before the roundup, Lott says his recipe is quite easy. He uses whole ribeye out of the beef loin and seasons it with Lawry's Seasoned Salt and pepper. Then the meat is placed in a dutch oven with no liquid. The rancher thinks the secret lies in the cooking method.

"My wife has cooked beef tenders or ribs at a high temperature for years," Lott explains. "So I just follow her example. I place the oven about one to two inches above the mesquite coals on a rack and cook the beef for 45 minutes. That's it."

"You know, every once and a while, a blind hog finds an acre," Lott muses. "With the tenderloin, I guess I found mine."

More than 30 cooks from 13 other Texas ranches will try-in good fun-to take Lott's number one spot away from him at the roundup competition August 19-20. Cooking teams will set up their chuck wagons and tents at the Wichita County Mounted Patrol Arena in Wichita Falls, site of the roundup.

Hungry fans will be able to taste the ranch fare from noon to 2 p.m., Saturday, August 20. A donation for each sample is encouraged, since the money collected adds points to the ranches' final tally. All donations will then be contributed to roundup charities.

Lott won't reveal this year's entry. "The mystery kind of adds to the competition," he explains. "I will say though, it will be beef. We eat beef at home five days out of the week, so I have plenty of ideas."

In addition to the cookin' contest, ranches will accumulate points in the Saturday talent and queen contests and the roundup events Friday and Saturday evenings.

Participating ranches include the following: R.A. Brown Ranch (Throckmorton), Coldwater Cattle Co., Inc. (Amarillo), Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch (Seymour), Double U Hereford Ranch (Levelland), Four Sixes Ranch (Guthrie), Lewis Ranches (Clarendon), Moorhouse Ranch (Benjamin), Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co. (Guthrie), Scharbauer Ranches (Midland), Renderbrook-Spade Ranch (Colorado City), Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co. (Stamford), Tongue River Ranch Corp. (Dumont), U Lazy S Ranch (Post), and the W.T. Waggoner Estate (Vernon).

The 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup is co-sponsored by Budweiser and the North Texas Rehabilitation Center. Proceeds benefit the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls; the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene; and the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo.

Suspension of PIK averts cotton losses

Suspension of USDA's "plant-for-PIK" program averted at least a $50-per-bale loss for cotton farmers, the National Cotton Council president said here today.

The suspension, announced today by USDA, resulted from Council-supported legislation passed late last week by Congress and signed into law by President Reagan shortly before midnight Saturday. It requires the Department to reopen bids to acquire 1982 and earlier crop cotton to meet PIK obligations without the 7 percent cap that hobbled the previous bid program.

Council President Gerald Brewer explained that the new measure in effect prohibits USDA from forcing cotton growers who did not have sufficient loan cotton for their own PIK to sell their 1983 crop to the government at below-market prices.

"This also would have forced many of them to default on forward contracts which they had made with the expectation of receiving PIK cotton," he added.

Agriculture Secretary Block, is announcing reopening of the bid program in Washington, said offers to sell cotton to CCC may be submitted without regard to any maximum bid percentage.

Brewer said USDA's announcement concerning reopening of the bid program includes an option that could be especially helpful to producers who had already entered their 1982 cotton under the earlier bid program. "As I understand it, these producers can now submit new bids at a higher rate and their earlier bids of up to 7 percent will be totally invalidated," the Council president said.

About 417,000 bales were acquired by CCC under the 7 percent bid program.

Brewer cautioned, however, that if the higher bid is not accepted, a producer would be expected to reimburse CCC at the loan rate for those bales received as payment under the earlier bid program.

The bid program is due to be reopened on August 8 and continue through August 24.

"Hopefully, this will mean that county ASCS offices should receive notification by September 1 as to whether an individual producer's bid is accepted," the Council president said.

USDA offers to acquire cotton

Beginning August 8, the U. S. Department of Agriculture will offer to acquire 1980, 1981 and 1982 - Crop Upland Cotton from farmers who have cotton pledged as collateral for outstanding commodity credit corporation price support loans, secretary of agriculture John R. Block said today.

The new purchase program, which is authorized by recent legislation, will allow CCC to acquire cotton to fulfill obligations under the payment in kind program, he said.

Farmers with cotton pledged as collateral for a CCC loan may submit offers to sell their cotton to CCC August 8 through 24 at the county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service where the loan was obtained. The offer must specify the quantity of cotton the farmer offers to sell to CCC and the number of bales of cotton CCC must pay the farmer as in-kind compensation.

Offers to sell cotton to CCC may be submitted without regard to any maximum bid percentage of the total quantity of cotton offered for sale to CCC. CCC will accept all zero bids.

The factors in determining bid acceptance include the date the bid was offered, the percentage, the crop year of cotton offered (1980, 1981 and 1982 crop cotton will be reviewed and evaluated separately) and the quantities needed to satisfy PIK obligations.

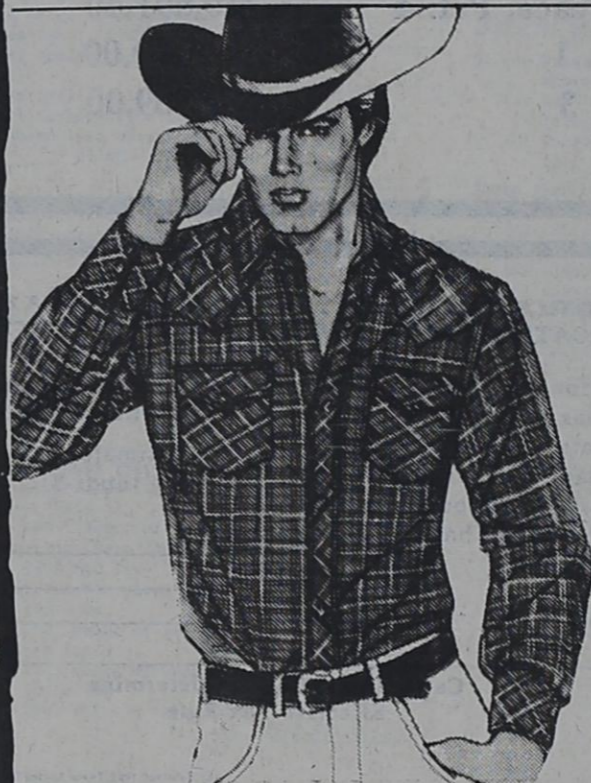

Producers who have previously submitted bids to sell 1982 crop cotton to CCC which were accepted under the previous cotton purchase program may submit a new bid, Block said. The new bid will nullify the previous bid.

"Alcoholism and the Family" will be the subject of a public address by Father Joseph C. Martin in Lubbock at eh University Center Theatre, Texas Tech University, August 16, 1983 at 8:00 p. m.

Tickets are available by calling (806) 762-8721 or are available at the door. Tickets are $6, tax deductible.

Father Martin's presentation will focus on how the alcoholic is not the only one devastated by his disease. Every other member of the family is deeply and seriously affected by the drinking. There are also problems that arise in the family even after he becomes sober. Father Martin discusses these problems and suggests some helpful hints to help solve these family problems. He believes that just as families get sick together, the entire family needs therapy to recover.

Martin is internationally known for his famous "Chalk Talk on Alcoholism", which has been seen by millions worldwide since its original filming for the United States Navy in 1972. A nationally renowned speaker and educator in the field of alcoholism, Father Martin has recently received the first annual Marty Mann Award for Outstanding Achievement in Alcoholism Communication by the National Council on Alcoholism.

Understanding Yourself

The Splits

By Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, Lutheran Hour Speaker. Family fractures, broken friendships, bankruptcies and professional rivalries produce all kinds of personal and public dislocation and disruption. These can be traced to the splits between people caused by the slights they have received and the hurts they have sustained.

God said be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving.

There isn't anything in the whole world that any one of us needs to live by more than this little word that comes straight from God: "Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you."

If you find it difficult to believe all of this, be convinced by the cross of Christ. Under the cross of Christ, humble yourself under the mighty hand of God that He may lift you up by His Own grace and power through forgiveness given to you freely out of the goodness of His heart. That is not weakness, it is strength.

For a free reprint of the Lutheran Hour sermon, "The Splits," send your name and address to the International Lutheran Laymen's League, 2185 Hampton Ave., St. Louis, MO 63139.

Martin, himself a recovering alcoholic, was born, raised and ordained a Catholic priest in Baltimore, MD. He is the founder of Ashley, Inc., a non-profit center in Havre de Grace, MD., dedicated to the treatment of the sick and suffering alcoholic.

Father Martin's visit is being sponsored by the South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock, MHR, Lubbock Employee Assistance Network, Lubbock Council on Alcoholism, Lubbock, Texas and LaHacienda Treatment Center, Hunt, Texas.

Pleasant Home

By Annie Gilbert. Sunday morning, August 7, General Worship Services at Pleasant Home was at its usual hour with all auxiliaries at their post of duty.

Devotional service led by Sisters Delores Harper, Mozella Mitchell and Sister Harper who read St. Luke Chapter 4 verses 4 through 7. Altar call spiritually prayed by our pastor as he poured out his heart to the loving Master. The choir sung praises from their souls to the glory of the Master.

During the 11 a. m. service, our pastor delivered a wonderful message from II Kings, chapter 5 verses 9 and 10. His text was "Try God." God was moving in the midst and Rev. Kelly poured out his all and all to the Master.

Our sympathy, prayers and love goes out to the bereaved Jackson's, Harpers and Prices families.

Sister Clarice Jackson succumbed Wednesday, August 3. She was a resident of United Convalescent Nursing Home and was a very faithful member of Pleasant Home Baptist Church.

The Senior Usher Board will sponsor a bake sale Saturday, August 13 from 9:30 a. m. til ?.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Speculation that Texas' embattled Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox should resign increased last week as state prosecutors questioned a lawyer who has said Mattox threatened to put his firm out of the bond business.

Sources reported the Houston lawyer gave grand jurors a tape recording of telephone conversations containing the Mattox threats. Thomas McDade, a partner of the firm Fulbright and Jaworski, is alleged Mattox was angered when McDade refused to pull down a subpoena for Mattox's sister.

His sister was subpoenaed to testify about a $125,000 energy loan she and another brother obtained in 1982, which may have been diverted to the Mattox campaign.

On the heels of the alleged tape revelation, came reports that Mattox, who has been closely linked to one of his major campaign financiers, multimillionaire Clinton Manges, drives a luxury Cadillac which his sister purchased at a discount from a close friend of Manges.

Records show the car is registered under the sister's name and was bought at less than half of its book value. Mattox drives the car, and told police it was his when vandals broke into it in March.

Mattox Subpoenaed

Mattox has denied wrongdoing in the loan, the alleged threat and the automobile transaction, but his many troubles have raised questions about his effectiveness, innocent or not.

He claims he is being hunted down by "the big oil companies" that he has angered, but his own temper has compounded his recent problems, particularly with the Capitol press.

Late last week, grand jurors subpoenaed Mattox and all records dealing with his airplane, phone calls and meetings since taking office seven months ago.

The records were delivered but kept sealed until a district judge could rule on the legality of the subpoena.

Mobil Boycott

Latest development in the continuing Maddox saga occurred last week when the attorney general urged a crowd of labor union members to boycott Mobil Oil Co. products because the company has refused to settle a royalty suit with the state.

"There's something you can do to help," Maddox told approximately 600 union members attending the Texas AFL-CIO convention in Austin. "I tried to talk to these folks and bring them to the bargaining table and tell them to pay up . . . but they weren't willing to do that. I think you ought to think about boycotting Mobil Oil's products."

John Flint, a spokesman for Mobil's corporate headquarters, characterized the attorney general's request as an "outrageously improper form of retaliation."

Budget Deficit?

While the attorney general worries about his courtroom problems, other lawmakers are worried that state government may be facing a budget deficit soon.

A deficit would bring a special session to raise taxes high enough to put state government into the black, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said last week.

But Hobby said it is still too soon to tell if the state will meet Comptroller Bob Bullock's estimates which has the state barely making ends meet for the next two years.

Hobby's comments came after officials learned sales tax revenues are dropping, perhaps as much as $114 million this fiscal year.

The budget board worried that Bullock's estimates could be off the mark by as much as $500 million, but the Comptroller stuck to his estimate last week. His office says they took into account factors which the Legislative Budget Board did not.

Bullock Warns Congress

Bullock was busy last week trying to persuade Congress not to decontrol natural gas, a move that would cost Texas $98 million on top of other budget woes.

Decontrol would lower natural gas prices by 2 cents to 11 cents, and lower the state income from the natural gas production tax. Although revenues would increase in '87 and '88, Bullock warned that the initial negative impact would come at a time when Texas' economy is hurt by the oil industry slump.

Post For Sale

The news that the Hobby family was selling the Houston Post started political watchers looking for hidden political motives.

Since Hobby is the leading Texan backing John Glenn for president, some thought he might be getting ready to take the vice presidential slot, or a cabinet post, or make a run for the U.S. Senate.

Taking it in stride, Hobby noted that his daughter, a recent law school graduate, was getting married July 31, but quipped, "It is not true that we have to sell the Houston Post to pay for Laura's wedding."

Forfeited Land Sale

The state will sell 120 tracts of land whose owners have defaulted on Veterans Land Board loans. The owners have until August 15 to vacate the property.

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said his office notified 250 veterans of pending delinquency, and most have complied to bring the loans up to date.

Last week, Mauro indicated he may favor selling natural gas to farmers for irrigation purposes. The state might sell gas produced on state lands to regional farm co-ops, which in turn would sell to farmers.

Facts From The Medical Society Of The State Of New York

Facts On Fever

Fever is one of the body's major ways of reacting when something goes wrong. Besides fighting infection, it alerts us to take action to help the body relieve the problem.

If fever strikes, doctors say, go to bed and stay there.

If someone comes down with a fever, the best thing for him or her to do is to go to bed and stay there. Drink lots of liquid, but no alcohol. Light food is allowed, but don't force yourself to eat.

Often the symptoms that accompany a fever are important in finding out what's wrong. If the fever came on following a fall, if a rash develops, if the fever is over 101 degrees or lasts longer than a couple of days, contact your doctor.

For ordinary fever, bed rest, aspirin and lots of liquids should help. If the fever is accompanied by stomach cramps or nausea, aspirin might be harmful. Check with your doctor first.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

Many Americans are getting rid of their tensions in an extremely positive and healthful way—they've taken best ways to relax. Then, after you've finished exercising, you can refresh yourself with a tall glass of iced tea, with a wedge of lemon on the side. It can put you in a good mood that could very well last throughout your day.
