

Big Rivalry Repeats at Slaton Friday

by Wes Burnett

The Slaton Tigers, downed by Idalou 28-0 in last Friday's district opener, are expected to unleash their fury as the Post Antelopes invade Tiger Stadium this Friday.

Always a tough contest between these age-old rivals, this week's match-up figures to set the stage for the Antelopes in their bid to retain the District 3AAA championship title.

Booster Signs

When the Post Antelopes leave town Friday afternoon for Slaton, they will get a special "send-off" by Antelope boosters at Ave. S and the Lubbock Hwy.

Booster club president Jimmy Redman invites all Antelope boosters to meet at the intersection and along North Avenue S with signs urging the team on its way to Slaton.

"The bus carrying the team is leaving about 5:30," Redman emphasized, "and we want to have a big crowd showing our support."

The Tigers, who stand at 3-3, have outscored Tahoka, Frenship and Seminole, losing to Littlefield, Colorado City and Idalou.

"The won-loss record doesn't mean a whole lot when our two teams meet," Antelope coach David Thompson observes, "and we sure want to encourage all our fans to get their early and support us."

Game time is 7:30 p.m., and if past history is any indication, visitors to Tiger Stadium should plan on getting there by 6 p.m.

The Antelopes are practicing this week to stop Gerald Lacy (33), the 171 pound senior Tiger tailback who is billed by the media as a

"blue-chipper."

Quarterbacking chores may go to David Hensler (11), senior, replacing injured Garrett Gamble (22), a 166 pound junior.

The Tigers use a 5-2 defensive alignment, anchored by 237 pound senior tackle Tony Bentancourt (75) and linebacker Lonnie Heinrich (62), 163 pound senior.

Bentancourt is also a mainstay of the offensive line.

"They are big," Thompson comments, "and we'll be working this week on improving our offensive blocking."

All Antelope players are ready for the contest, according to Thompson.

Fire Prevention Week Offers Timely Tips

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, Fire Marshall Ray Bagby has some timely tips for fire prevention.

Bagby says, "to learn not to burn wherever you are. This title is aimed at you — to remind you to be aware of your surroundings at all times, whether at home, at work, at school or at play. Be mindful of your safety from fire wherever you are."

He continues with "for example, how observant are you of fire hazards? Every room and every person is a potential hazard. In the kitchen, a dangling coffee pot wire could be a cause of a serious scald to an adventuresome toddler."

"Take a walk through your home, from the basement through to the attic and out to the garage. Make a list of the things that may threaten your life and safety and correct any fire hazards."

"Are you prepared if a fire does occur in your home?", Bagby asks.

"Sit down with your family today and make step by step plans for emergency fire escape," he said. "Pick two routes to the outside from all rooms and especially from the bedroom. Choose a place outdoors for everyone to meet for roll call and buy a smoke detector for your home. Smoke detection is an essential part of your escape plan."

In an unfamiliar place, such as a hotel or motel, ask the clerk about the fire safety features of the building. As with any building you are in, locate the exits, check where they lead to and see that they are not blocked.

Bagby concludes with "remember that firesafety is serious business and lets keep our community fire safe."

Mark Stark (left, standing) and Todd Wilson (right, standing) were chosen for the All-Region Honor Choir during competition last Saturday in Seminole. Also participating in the event were Belinda Reece (center, standing), Renea Melton and Barbara Sturdivant (seated, left to right). Mark and Todd will perform with the All-Region high school honor choir December 3 at Monterey High School in Lubbock. They will also participate in the All-State choir auditions in November.

Mrs Teresa Romero

Funeral services were held October 10 for Teresa DeLeon Romero, who died October 7 at the Luther General Hospital in San Antonio. Mrs. Romero had resided in San Antonio for the past two years.

She was a member of the Catholic church and was the daughter of the late Thomas DeLeon and Refugio Sanchez.

She was born Feb. 18, 1896 in La Paria, Attacos Co., Texas. Father. Glenn Rosendale officiated the services and interment was at Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

She is survived by her daughter Anita Lopez of San Antonio and sons Felipe Romero, Pete Castillo and Oligario Romero Jr of Post.

She is also survived by her sister Thomasa Garza of San Antonio, 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

by Pastor Steve Traw Youngsters and adults in growing numbers are donning colorful costumes coupled with painted faces. They bring their personal ministry to persons of all ages, the hale and hearty, as well as the ill and shut-in.

Hospitals, rest homes and the church itself are effective stages. In all his vulnerability and outlandishness, the clown finds an instant audience that overcomes all barriers and invites a lively participation by all present. The clown as an effective children and people "magnet" is well adaptable as a resource for ministry in the local church setting.

Promotion of special events, summer camp Bible school programs, mission projects, day camping, adult nursing homes, children's hospital wards, parties, fellowships, talent shows, representation of the church in local parades or fairs are well suited for the clown and his art.

Proper procedures of makeup, costume and simple ethics of this art form can be learned.

With a growing repertoire of skits, stunts and gags for the Christian scene, clowning is now frequently used to enhance the overall program of the local church.

Clowning can well be used as a means of expanding a total church ministry. New audiences can be readily available with the effective use of this age old art form.

It echoes the wisdom of Ecclesiastes, that truly there is a time to laugh.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Grassland Reunion will be held October 23, 1983.

A large album and scrapbook with pictures of friends who have passed on, old school pictures, History of Grassland and the Old Grassland News was brought to the Reunion in 1981 for everyone to enjoy.

Someone borrowed the album to add some pictures or just look at it and forgot to bring it or did not get to come last year.

If anyone has this book or knows who might have it, I am asking that you bring it to the reunion again this year, or have it sent by someone, so that we might be able to enjoy it again.

Thanks you so much Stella Yeary Moyer

Cotton Talks

Weevils Found in New Mexico

Boll weevils were found in cotton in southwest New Mexico this month, according to the National Cotton Council.

Dr. Jim Brown of the Council Staff said additional catches have been made in traps in areas around Animas, Rodeo and Deming. The pattern indicates the weevil, which is believed to be a Sonoran strain, is reproducing at these locations.

Dr. Jim Brazzel of the USDA believes this is the highest elevation (above 4,000 feet) at which weevils have been found in this country. Unless it has adapted to the higher altitude, the weevil may have a hard time surviving the cold winter in the area, Brown said.

Export Sales Increase
Sales of U. S. cotton for 1983-84 delivery increased a net of 187,800 running bales during the week ended Sept. 22, according to the National Cotton Council.

South Korea was the major buyer with a net increase of 56,000 bales. Other top buyers were Japan, 40,400 bales; Yugoslavia, 38,300; and Indonesia 31,700.

PIK Producers Will Need Class Cards

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will require cotton producers participating in the payment-in-kind program who have contracted their 1983 crop cotton to present class cards in order to receive payments, the National Cotton Council points out.

Cards will enable usda to make quality conversions based on the area in which the cotton was produced.

Kimberly Kay Hutto, Joe Harold Blacklock Exchange Vows

A beautiful garden ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bo Jackson was the setting for the exchanging of wedding vows between Kimberly Kay Hutto and Joe Harold Blacklock Saturday, October 1.

Rev. Bobby Chaney of Colorado City, Tex., read the 8 p. m. double ring vows in a romantic setting on the redwood deck of the garden. Pots of fresh greenery were scattered about and the opening of the alter of the deck was adorned by an archway covered in boxwood vines, yellow carnations, yellow roses and bows. Enhancing the beauty of the setting was a lighted pool in which were floating a dozen floral rings of carnations, roses and mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hutto and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Blacklock.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, entered through a garden path and wore a romantic southern style formal gown featuring a sweetheart neckline and off the shoulder puffed sleeves. The fitted bodice was adorned with schiffli lace with a dropped waistline. The hooped skirt of the gown was row after row of schiffli lace. The delicacy of the brides gown was repeated in her matching silk headpiece and bouquet of white rosebuds, seed pearl hearts and baby's breath.

On the way to the altar, the bride paused at her mothers' seat to give her a kiss and a long stemmed white rose.

Guests arriving at the wedding were registered at a round table covered with a white linen cloth holding the bridal book and white plume pen and an arrangement of yellow iris. Lisa Hutto, sister of the bride, presided at the registry.

Wedding music was provided by Peggy Lott accompanying Maritta Jackson vocalist as she sang "We Are One", "Endless Love" and "Flesh of My Flesh."

Mothers entered the garden with usher John Hutto, brother of the bride.

Serving as maid of honor was Toni Hutto, sister of the bride. Bridesmaid was Cindee Jackson. They wore identical formal gowns of yellow chiffon over satin with fitted bodice featuring short chiffon split sleeves. Each carried brass candleholders with cut glass globes holding burning yellow tapers. Each holder was adorned with yellow rosebuds, seed pearls and ribbon.

Flower girls, Tonya and Sonya Harp wore full length gowns of white chiffon over satin. The gowns featured scooped ruffled necklines and unlined long sleeves with ruffled cuffs and skirt. A yellow ribbon accented the waist. They carried white lace baskets throwing white rose petals. Robbie Palmer served as ringbearer and wore a gray tuxedo and carried a white round eyelet pillow with white rosebud arrangement and satin ties holding the couples rings.

Jackie Ray Blacklock served his brother as best man with Danny Windham acting as groomsman. They were dressed in white tuxedos and white shirts with yellow baby carnations boutonnières.

The groom was attired in a white cutaway tuxedo, white shirt and wore a boutonniere of three rosebuds.

Following the exchanging of vows the couple were introduced to those attending as Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blacklock and upon leaving the garden, the couple paused at the seat of Mrs. Blacklock to give her a kiss and a long stemmed white rose.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the patio of home. The brides' table was laid with a white gathered floor length cloth with draped yellow net. Each drape was fastened with white rose clusters. A centerpiece of white gladiolas and yellow spider mums centered the table. A crystal punch bowl and yellow punch were used. Yellow mints shaped into mini-floral baskets were offered in a silver dish. A beautiful two tiered heart shaped cake accented with table. It was trimmed in yellow with yellow roses. Atop the cake was a white gazebo holding a ceramic kissing bride and groom. Presiding at the bridal table were Lisa Hutto, sister of the bride and Janet Blacklock, sister of the groom.

The grooms' table was covered with a yellow linen cloth. A silver coffee service was used at this table. The chocolate cake made by the grooms mother was served. The table was accented by a wicker basket with yellow and brown flowers. Brown mints shaped like cowboy boots were offered in a silver dish. Jerri Lynn Reed, sister and Melanie Holly, cousin of the groom presided at the table.

Handing out rice bags to each guest were Amber Harp and Stephanie Palmer. The couple are residing in Post following a short wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Post High School, has attended Jessie Lee's Beauty College in Lubbock and plans to return in the near future. The bridegroom is a graduate of Post High School and is employed by Starkey Oilfield Service.

Arbor Foundation Gives Free Shade

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving ten free shade trees to people who become Foundation members during October, 1983.

The free trees are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America.

A Sugar Maple, White Birch, Red Oak, Black Walnut, Thornless Honeylocust, Butternut, Silver Maple, Washington Hawthorn, European Mountain Ash, and Red Maple tree will be given to members joining during October. The six-to-twelve inch trees will be shipped this fall postage paid with enclosed planting instructions. These trees were selected because they provide a wide range of benefits: flowers, fruits and nuts, in addition to shade and beauty, according to the Foundation.

Gonzalo Raymundo, Delia Rosas Marry

Gonzalo Raymundo and the former Delia V. Rosas wish to announce their matrimony which took place on Sunday, Oct. 9, 1983 at 1 p.m. at the Holy Cross Catholic Church. Officiating the vows was Father Glen Rosendale. A reception followed afterwards. Attending were family members and friends of the couple.

Livestock Prices Improve

Cattle, hog and lamb prices should improve slightly for the rest of the year and could make some strong gains in 1984, says an economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

106,000 accidents, 93,000 non-fatal injuries and $347 million in property damage yearly in the United States, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Benefits total $48 billion. Benefit payments by U.S. life insurance companies totaled $48 billion in 1982, up 158 percent from the 1972 figure of $18.5 billion.

Farmer's output triples. The average American farmer is producing nearly three times as much per hour as 20 years ago and over 12 times as much as in 1930.

Trying to look thin. More than 75 percent of America's high school girls are trying to lose weight. Some of them weigh what is normal but want to look thin.

Sixty percent of the total Third World debt is owed by only eight nations.

The inventory should note the date or year of purchase and purchase price for each item. If you don't know when you bought an item or what the purchase price was, says Granovsky, you can estimate the replacement cost. This information can help you specify exactly what was lost and its worth, she explains.

No matter what type of inventory you make, it's critical to stoe it in a safe deposit box or some other secure place away from your home, notes the specialist.

Photographing each wall of every room in your house with all cabinets and drawers open is the easiest way to make an inventory. Also save the negatives from these pictures to make enlargements which could provide important details for an insurance claim, she says.

The price of looking good and feeling good is going up every day. So isn't it nice to find a few freebies that can help you in the quest for fitness and beauty? Try these: a medicated ointment sample, a personal health record and a guide for surviving in the great outdoors.

Medical History
Everyone can make medical history. In fact, everyone should make medical history!

It's just good sense. Of course, we don't mean making history by having some bizarre disease or undergoing a new operation. Rather, you should make such history by filling out The Personal Health Record from Metropolitan Life. Then your medical history will be down in black and white, available for immediate reference should you suddenly take ill or be hurt.

If accurately maintained, a health record can prove itself mighty useful. It can prevent irritation when looking up information prior to routine doctor or hospital visits, or when faced with stacks of application forms for insurance, school admission or passports.

More important, perhaps, is that such a record — accessible to your family and doctor — can mean more speedy diagnosis of emergency conditions and prevention of needless medical tests, excessive X-rays and other procedures.

One hopes never to need the use of a medical history like this — but, should the need arise, having one available could save your life. It's certainly worth a couple of postage stamps. This offer is good through Oct. 31, 1983.

CRAFTY IDEAS

Candles you make yourself can add a special sparkle to your home. Whether you use a kit, a mold or hand dip them, there's a special way to treat your wicks. It helps reduce ash and eliminates smoke problems.

Dissolve one tablespoon of table salt and three tablespoons of a product such as 20 Mule Team Borax in one cup of warm water. Soak heavy twine, such as butcher's twine for large candles, in the solution for at least 24 hours. Allow twine to thoroughly dry before using in candles.
You can also do your own flower drying. Sprinkle a mixture of one part borax to two parts corn meal into an empty shoe box and place the flower on the mixture. Then, gently cover the entire flower with more mixture. Seal the box with tape and store at room temperature in a dry place for seven to ten days. Pour the mixture from the box, lift out the flower and clean off any clinging material with a soft artist's brush. You also can use this method to preserve bridal bouquets.
For more information about the many uses of borax write to: "Magic Crystal Booklet", Dept. B, P.O. Box 75128, Sanford Stations, Los Angeles, CA 90075.

4-H THEME REFLECTS RICH HISTORY

"4-H: Building on Experience," the yearlong theme of the 4-H program across Texas and the nation, reflects on the rich past of this youth program. The theme will receive special emphasis during the National 4-H Week, says the state 4-H program leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

4-H is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year. It had its beginning in Jack County, Texas, back in 1908 and now reaches some five million youth across the U. S. Some 187,000 Texas youth belong to 4-H, which is built around a "learning-by-doing" philosophy.

HOLLYWOOD — When Ann Jillian is asked whether her husband, Andy Murcia, is still her manager, she just chuckles and says, "No, I fired him."

Then she tells how they were sitting in their Jacuzzi a few months ago, and Andy said he didn't want to be her manager anymore.

He said, "I walked into this out of necessity, and I miss being a husband."

Ann says, "Things had become so hectic that it was very hard for us to be a working team in the entertainment business all day, and then at 5:01 p.m. become husband and wife. "Andy was right about our relationship, so I fired him — I wanted my husband back."

Andy was a sergeant on the Chicago police force when he met Ann, but she doesn't think he'll return to police work.

At least she certainly hopes he won't.

She says, "It's a dangerous job — a policeman's ideals break down when the people he's trying to protect hate him."

When Workers Help Make Decisions—Productivity Rises

A study released by the New York Stock Exchange indicates that worker participation in the decisions of a company stimulates employee productivity and morale.

Highlights of that report include:

- "Gain sharing" can also stimulate productivity. Worker attitudes can change dramatically when workers are offered a piece of the action.

William M. Batten, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, said: "Productivity isn't everything, it's the only thing. The simple fact is that without a rise in output per worker-hour, there can be no sustained growth in income per person."

- There are important lessons American business can learn from the Japanese, but there are Japanese practices that should not be adopted by U.S. firms such as attitudes toward women in management.

- Intensive on-the-job training and intern programs contribute to a better understanding among managers of how to work effectively within the organization.

Cotton Growers Rally for PIK

Government expenditures for cotton programs, as now constituted, averaged only about $266 million annually over the past ten years, says the president of the National Cotton Council, Gerald Brewer of Fresno, California.

He made that statement in Lubbock Thursday in rallying to the defense of the much-maligned payment-in-kind (PIK) and other farm programs.

"Without question, farm program costs have increased, but in all fairness, those outlays should be measured over a period of years and not just on the special conditions of the past two seasons," Brewer commented in a report opening the afternoon session of the council's fall board meeting.

"But the important points are that supply and demand are being brought into better balance. We are beginning to see some price recovery and the cost of deficiency payments is going down.

"Despite its shortcomings, PIK can still be defended on the grounds it alleviated a crisis among farmers facing potential bankruptcy," the industry leader quoted from an editorial in the Lubbock-Avalanche Journal. The newspaper circulates throughout the world's heaviest cotton producing area.

Brewer reviewed the history of cotton programs since passage of the 1973 farm act, noting there were no deficiency payments for cotton for the first seven years. They were triggered for the first time in 1981 by a record yield coming onto the market in the deepest worldwide recession since the 1930's, he said.

"When people talk about $22-$23 billion in farm program outlays, they generally include all price support loans in the bottom line," Brewer said. "What they fail to mention is that most of these loans are repaid with both interest and storage charges."

He noted that some $7 billion of the so-called cost is repaid.

Reiterating that current farm programs are designed to help farmers only when they need help, the council president said, "It seems to be the government farm program working as it was intended to work — providing help to the farmer when he needs it."

M. Dean Ethridge, the council's director of economic services, said the market's nervousness about cotton supplies this season is probably due to concern about the adequacy of medium staple, higher grade cottons.

"Users of the middle-range staple categories naturally don't want to have to substitute either shorter or long staple cotton in order to get the quality needed to manufacture their textile products.

"To the extent that such substitution becomes necessary, the price differentials among grades and staples will be more volatile and unpredictable than usual."

The economist said cotton stocks for the season ending July 31 totaled 8 million bales — the largest carry-over level in 15 years and twice as large as desired. He said stocks of 4.7 million bales are projected by USDA for the season ending July 31, 1984.

"Depending on whether production is somewhat less or exports are somewhat more than projected — or perhaps a combination of these things — it appears that ending stocks could fall somewhat below 4.7 million bales."

Producers, ginners and representatives of other cotton interests throughout the Plains area heard other reports on legislative developments, cotton dust regulations, boll weevil and pink bollworm programs, foreign market development, farm credit and activities of the Producer Steering Committee and the committee for the advancement of cotton.

TIME-SAVING SHORTCUTS

DRYERS
In recent years dryer designs have changed in order to provide the care necessary for modern fabrics. According to home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, here are some tips on using your dryer properly to help eliminate any need for time-consuming touch-up ironing:

• Allow room for clothes to tumble freely.

Disasters' toll: 7,243
In the past 40 years, 7,243 Americans have perished in 40 disasters that took 100 or more lives each. Twenty were natural catastrophes.

Death steps aside
Divorce now exceeds death as the factor that ends marriages because of a declining death rate and a divorce rate that doubled between 1965 and 1978.

Clothes will dry faster and be less wrinkled when they have room to fluff out.

• Remove clothes from dryer as soon as it stops tumbling and immediately hang up or fold items. Wrinkles may be set in clothing that has been left in the warm dryer after it turns off.

• Some items such as corduroy, quilted fabrics and all knits keep their shape better if removed from the dryer before they are completely dry and have just a trace of moisture.

• Dry small loads of synthetic fabrics (knits, permanent press) to minimize wrinkling.

• Articles you wish to iron may be removed from the dryer while still damp. Store them in a plastic bag for ironing later.

$200 million collected
The Justice Department collects debts owed to the United States as a result of judgments and other court-imposed obligations. In fiscal 1982 the department's collection of civil debts and criminal fines exceeded $200 million.
