Petroleum Drilling Keeps Local Economy Alive

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Garza County wells made an important contribution to the county's economy in 1982 and accounted for $246.2 million of the $41.1 billion wellhead value of Texas petroleum production last year.

In its annual survey of the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association reported that the county ranked 46th among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. Such production includes condensate and casinghead gas.

The county's wells produced 7.7 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $243.7 million and 1.2 billion cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $2.5 million. Owners of royalty in the county received $30.8 million as their share of the output, the Association noted.

"The figures cited in this survey offer graphic evidence of the continuing importance of petroleum production to nearly every county in Texas, a situation which should continue indefinitely," said the Association's chairman, Joe C. Walter Jr., Houston independent producer.

"There are a number of encouraging signs indicating that the oil and gas industry's protracted slowdown in activity is coming to an end. A general economic recovery in the United States and other industrialized countries will increase the demand for petroleum products, thereby stimulating geophysical and drilling activity here and abroad. The domestic petroleum industry stands ready to drill more wells as drilling projects become economically feasible," Walter said.

In addition to paying property taxes to cities, counties and school districts, producers in the county supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $11.4 million, according to the Association survey. Crude oil taxes amounted to $11.2 million, while natural gas levies totalled $191,113.

Based on the Texas Employment Commission figures, some 604 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $10.5 million in 1982.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county, oil and gas producers spent a reported $101.8 million in the drilling of 272 wells, including 25 wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the completion of 208 oil wells, although some $29.5 million was lost in the drilling of 64 dry holes. As of April 1, 1983, there were 2,042 producing oil wells in the county.

Oil well servicing and drilling activity in Garza County is one of the main highlights of the Post economy, as agriculture and manufacturing have been on the down swing this year.

Architect Firm on 'Shaky' Ground

By Wes Burnett

Post Independent School Board trustees directed superintendent Bill Shiver to begin a search for architect firms to work with the school district in future building plans.

School board member Royce Hart brought up the issue on a motion, which he later withdrew, to terminate the use of Whitaker, McQueen and Jones of Lubbock as architects for the school.

Complaints about the architect firm were aired by board members, with Don Payne and Hart pointing out that quality control and supervision of contractors were a consistent problem.

Hart reminded the board about the junior high and field house improvements which resulted in much higher costs than estimated, resulting in a finished product with much less than what the board had wanted.

"We still have heating problems in one of the rest rooms on that project," Hart said.

"We're paying top dollar but we're not getting top quality work," Hart continued.

Hart also reminded board members that the "new" gymnasium is an embarrassment to the community, "when people from Slaton or Denver City or wherever come here to watch their boys and girls play basketball, it's inexcusable to turn them away at the door," Hart emphasized.

"Do you know that your architect can not even tell you how many can be seated in the gym?" Hart added.

"We went from a 900 seat gymnasium to 400," he continued, "and that's just not acceptable."

Dr. Charles McCook responded, "yes, but you know we only fill that gym maybe once or twice a year."

"And now we're paying this same firm $75 an hour to propose plans for a new athletic facility," Hart continued, "and I think we ought to look for another architect firm to work with us on future projects."

School board president Jack Kirkpatrick and member John Boren suggested another opinion would be a good idea and the board instructed Shiver to seek interested architect firms to meet with the board at a later meeting.

In other action school board members approved the amended 1982-83 budget, accepted a one-year contract with the regional education center for in-service teacher workshops and renewed the employee hospitalization insurance.

The insurance premiums increased 32 percent, based on the experience level, with the school's portion now at $76,000 per year and employee dependent portion at $24,000.

After an executive session, the board approved the substitute teacher list.

O. S. Charities Plans '84 Event

Directors of the O. S. Charities have announced tentative plans are being formulated for the 1984 event.

Exact dates, events and other activities have not been determined, but details for next year's charity weekend will be completed within 60 days.

"We're working now to get a head start on next year," O. S. Charities chairman Jack King comments.

King also expressed appreciation to the volunteers who helped at this year's O. S. event, "there are so many people who put in so much effort, we just can't begin to thank them enough," he added.

Although this year's O. S. event fell short of the financial goals, "the inspiration we got from working together and demonstrating such a 'can-do' spirit gives us the faith to keep the O. S. Charities alive," King continued.

"The talents, skills, abilities and energy of so many Garza County folks dedicated to a cause is something this community can be proud of," he commented.

O. S. directors also discussed at the meeting Wednesday afternoon the possibility of conducting a variety of fund raising events during the next few months to help offset expenses.

Born January 6, 1916 in Clarendon, Texas, Cole died October 18 in Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene following a lengthy illness. He married Sarah Adams Dec. 1, 1947 in Post. He came to Post in 1945 to work in the oilfield with the Charlie Hipp Drilling Co., and since had worked as a contract pumper until his retirement. He was a member of the Baptist Church and a World War II veteran.

Some gauges in Post measured 10-11 inches from Tuesday night until Friday morning, but the official measurement at the airport was 6.2 inches.

New Counseling Service Opens in Post

The opening of a new counseling service in Post has been announced for Nov. 1, 1983, by Travis Ellis, the director. The facility, to be known as The Listening Center, will be located in room 201 of the McCrary Building at 130 East Main. At the present time, sessions will be conducted only after 4 p. m. on weekdays and on weekends.

The primary emphasis of the center, according to Ellis, will be the application of principles for personal growth and adjustment as developed in Bi-Polar psychology.

The three basic goals of Bi-Polar are to help clients better understand and accept themselves, better understand and accept others, and improve relationships between themselves and other significant persons in their lives.

As client needs require, additional application will be made of the principles of creative listening, transactional analysis, and personal enrichment through imagery.

In addition to certification as a Bi-Polar counselor, Ellis received training in Pastoral Psychology and Pastoral Counseling at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and in education psychology at Texas Tech University.

Ellis was certified in September as an instructor in advanced level of his speciality, known as Bi-Polar II.

Anyone wanting further information about the work of the center may make an appointment by calling 495-2480 evenings and weekends.

No charge will be made for a client's initial visit to the center.

What Faith!

Pastor Steve Traw, First Christian Church

A child was named "He laughed." That's right. The father had fallen on his face in laughter when God promised a child. Also joining in this unbelief was the mother. These two showed open cynicism towards God. Their names are Abraham and Sarah. Isaac was the fulfillment of God's promise. His name expresses the response of unbelief of the parents.

Now Abraham was 100 years old, and his wife 90. That nearly raises a chuckle in our thoughts of impossibilities. But God gave assurance of blessing in a son. God is pleased to do the impossible, and through the least likely subjects. Ones like these of Genesis 17 and 18 with whom we identify are favorite choices.

Sarah appears again in the New Testament commentary. The writer the Hebrews includes her among those great ones of faith in chapter 11. It was by faith Sarah was able to do an about face before God. She had judged God faithful who had promised.

God had given his word. Sarah had complete confidence of the truthfulness in God's promise. She believed and was blessed.

Now Sarah's first reaction was one of unbelief. We see in her example that deliverance from guilt and troubled conscience can be found. Each of us without exception, needs the forgiveness and cleansing that God gives so graciously.

It is the same God that promised to Sarah that has said, if we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

From Sarah's example we need to recognize God can be completely reliable to keep His word. May there not be laughter of unbelief, but rather, belief that God is faithful.

Halloween Safety
Halloween for children should be a fun-filled memorable occasion, but too often the memories are of pain and tragedy. Costumes contribute in a large measure to accidents by catching fire or causing falls. Many costumes cannot be seen easily by motorists — and masks, if worn, often impair the trick-or-treater's vision. To make Halloween safer:

Set up boundaries for trick-or-treating. Improve nighttime visibility by choosing a light-colored costume or by attaching reflective tape. Make sure the costume is flameproof. Check that the costume is neither too long or baggy, yet allows freedom of movement. Choose shoes that fit well enough for safe walking and running.

Taste Fall in Pumpkin Sweets
There's more to a pumpkin than a potential Halloween Jack-O-Lantern. When selecting pumpkins for cooking, remember that the biggest may not necessarily be the best. Small pumpkins flesh is more tender and also contain less water and result in less waste.

To prepare a fresh pumpkin for cooking, start by slicing it in half crosswise. Place the halves, cut side down, on a jellyroll pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 45 minutes or until fork tender. When it's cool the pumpkin can be peeled and the pulp mashed. You'll find that a five pound pumpkin will yield about 4½ - 5 cups of cooked, mashed pulp.

While pumpkins are harvested during the fall months, they can be stored so that you can enjoy them in the winter. A pumpkin will keep about one month at room temperature or for two or three months refrigerated.

Nitrites Extend Use of Cured Meats, Poultry

Consumers today are assured of safe cured meat and poultry products because of a food additive called nitrite. Nitrites prevent food spoilage by inhibiting the growth of bacteria, some of which causes botulism, a potentially lethal condition for humans.

Nitrites have an especially important role in protecting today's cured deli meats which are marketed in vacuum packages as well as canned. Meat packaged in this manner would provide a good medium for botulism-causing bacteria were it not for the protective nitrites.

Actually, nitrites go back a long way — even to Biblical times when salting and curing was a popular method for preserving meats. Salt (sodium chloride) used in the curing process back then likely contained low levels of nitrites, such as sodium nitrite.

Before the advent of refrigeration, the curing process was the most reliable method for preserving meats. The most common method was the "dry cure" in which a salt, sugar and nitrite mixture was applied directly to the meat as a dry mixture. This mixture "dried" or reduced the meat's water content and also reduced water activity in the moisture remaining in the meat. Both of these effects significantly reduced the potential for bacterial growth, thus preventing meat spoilage.

Even after refrigeration came into being, people had become accustomed to the flavor of cured meats, so use of a brine method became popular.

Pipelines... make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton/miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry . . . and we want you to help us keep it that way.

liquids on or a mist above the ground in the area of a pipeline.

- Flames originating from an opening in the ground. If you become aware of a pipeline leak . . .
- LEAVE THE LEAK AREA IMMEDIATELY.
- Avoid driving into vapor clouds.
- Avoid direct contact with the escaping liquids.

GROUND MARKER

CASING VENT

AERIAL MARKER

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record, once in a while a leak can occur. Indications of a leak might include:

- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by petroleum or product escaping from a pipeline).
- A dense white cloud or fog.
- A spot of dead or discolored vegetation.
- An accumulation of petroleum

Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match, start an engine or even switch on an electric light.

Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police. Advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

If you see someone digging near a pipeline or doing other construction work . . . or if you plan to do such work near a pipeline yourself . . . please call the telephone number shown on the sign and let the pipeline company know so damage can be avoided. It's in your interest . . . and the nation's.

A worker honeybee collects enough nectar in his lifetime to make about 1/10 of a pound of honey.

The average silkworm spins a thread twelve thousand times as long as its body.

Jesus said, "You must be perfect, even as your heavenly Father is perfect," (Matthew 5:48). Or is that what He really said?

Can any of us even remotely resemble perfection? Of course not.

Jesus used the Greek word "teleios." It means "mature," or "accomplishing that for which it was designed and made."

I once bought a suit on sale, a fine suit. Because it was on sale, I thought it did not matter that it did not fit. Of course, the suit never got worn, it never suited the purpose for which it was made.

God created us in His image and likeness, for fellowship with Him. Only when we are in relationship to our Creator - God do we begin to realize the purposes for which we were given life.

The Presbyterians of Post gather every Lord's Day to remind themselves to whom they belong, and for what they were created.

We do not expect "perfection", and in fact, we insist that our only hope is the goodness of Christ, and His loving mercy, but by God's grace we will be "maturing", and "living to do that for which we were created." If you would like that kind of encouragement, we invite you to join us.

Antelopes Leave No Doubts About District Title Chase

SHAKE A LEG - Antelope opponents have found out the hard way you can't stop Milton Williams (33) by grabbing a leg or foot...he shook loose from a would-be Floydada tackler with Jay Valdez (71) helping out, taking the ball 42 yards for an early 'Lope touchdown.

by Wes Burnett
They tried to stop him...and at times they did...but Milton Williams sucked the wind right out of the visiting Floydada Whirlwinds as he rushed for 238 yards and scored all the touchdowns in a Post Antelope 35-8 win Friday night.

Williams wasn't the only 'Lope carrying the football, as Tracy Price, Daniel Gonzales, Felix Bustos and Giles Dalby got their licks in also.

Picking up their third district win in another convincing show of offense and stiff defense, the reigning champions take on the Lockney Longhorns there next Friday.

Now sporting a 7-1 season record, the Antelopes recovered from a sluggish first quarter to stop a Floydada opening drive as Dalby intercepted a Mark Hatley pass on the Post 11 yard line and returned it the 19.

The 12 play drive saw the 'Winds pick up three first downs before turning the ball over on fourth down.

First Antelope Score

Eight plays later Williams broke two tackles on a sweep around right end, scoring from the Floydada 19.

HOW'S THIS COACH? - This is how you sack a quarterback and get the football...by following defensive end David Shults' example as he lowered Floydada's Mark Hatley. James Brown recovered the loose ball for the Antelopes.

Then on third and

The Eagles overall record is 4-2 and their District record is 1-2. Southland will be hosting the Three Way Eagles, with a record of 1-2 also, at 7 p. m. Friday night.

The high school Eagle team came one point short for a victory over the Wellman Wildcats last Friday night at Wellman with a score of 56-57.

DEAR GOD

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restlessness, distraction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and restoration of life. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone.

Dear God... that's how this boy begins his prayers. How do you begin yours? Is God dear to you and near to you, or are you a wayward son who has strayed so long from home that you have forgotten your Father's address. No mind. He has not forgotten you, nor ceased to care for you.
"Fear not, for I have redeemed you. I have called you by name, you are mine." We may forget this, but He never does.

He invites every straying son to come home today and learn again to say, "Dear God."

Go while it is day to His house and claim your sonship for the night cometh in which no man can find the way.

LOSING GROUND THE HARD WAY
Giles Dalby (32) and Gilbert Perez (70) make sure Whirlwind quarterback Mark Hatley is on the ground as Dalby sacked the Floydada field general late in the game Friday. (Photo by Norma Baumann)

Chuck Morris was on target on all extra points during the contest, making it 7-0 with 3:28 left in the first quarter.

The drive opened with a Joel Kirkpatrick pass to Charles Johnson, setting up a first down at the 40.

The 'Lopes lost a yard on first down, then Price got the call and went over left guard to the 48.

Williams bounced over right guard to the 50 and a first down and then went around right end to the Floydada 45.

Bustos was stopped at the 45, and then Kirkpatrick rolled left and threw the ball to Price in the left flat, who bulled his way to the 19.

The 'Lopes were unable to uncork the offense until later in the second quarter, when they opened a six play, 26 yard drive, following a recovered fumble.

Sporting a hard-hitting defense, the 'Lopes took the ball away from the 'Winds as David Shults hit Hatley from the backside, knocking the ball loose and James Brown jumped on it at the Floydada 26.

Second Score

Williams carried the ball five of the six times, with Price picking up nine big yards to the three and on third down Williams ripped into the end zone behind good blocking over right guard.

The 'Lopes led 14-0.

Second Half

A coaches conference at the half must have had an affect on the offensive line, as the Antelopes came out of the lockers and marched from the kickoff on an 81 yard, eight play touchdown drive, featuring Williams on all but two plays, with Price again mixing up the Floydada defense.

Williams went into the end zone over right tackle on a 42 yard scamper, and with 8:27 left in the third quarter, the 'Lopes put the game away 21-0.

The Whirlwinds put on an offensive drive to the Antelope 18 before Rodney Hays intercepted a pass at the 10 yard line, as Brown pressured the quarterback.

Another 'Lope TD

Kirkpatrick guided the 'Lopes on a 90 yard, 10 play drive, starting at 5:13 remaining in the third quarter and ending with Williams going over right tackle from the three for the touchdown.

With 34 seconds on the clock, the 'Winds trailed 28-0.

Fourth Quarter

The Antelope defense stopped the 'Winds on every drive and with 6:25 left in the game, the 'Lopes struck again.

Taking a punt at their own eight yard line, the home team marched six plays to pay dirt.

Williams went over left tackle to the nine, then to the 14 over right tackles and to the 15, where he drew a face mask penalty, moving the ball to the 21 and a first down.

Bustos took the ball over right guard to the 25 and Williams hit the same hole to the 26.

Then the Whirlwinds found out why they wanted to stop Williams, as he displayed his patented style, taking a pitchout at right end, the speedster broke what looked like a sure tackle and simply outran the secondary 74 yards down the right sideline for the touchdown.

The 'Lopes capped their scoring and led 35-0.

The 'Winds weren't ready to give up and moved from their own 22 to the 'Lope 35 before Hatley threw a deep pass to the end zone and Derrick Jenkins for a touchdown.

John Wayne Foley took a fake extra point try around right end for the two-point conversion.

The 'Winds then recovered an on-sides kickoff at the 'Lope 48, with the officials marking the ball at the 46.

Five plays later they gave up the ball on a punt to the Post 29 and with 36 seconds left in the game, the 'Lopes marched in two plays to the Floydada 41 before running out of time.

ASCS Newsletter

VICTOR L. ASHLEY
County Executive Director

Garza County ASCS

Petitions to nominate persons to be placed on community committee election ballots have been mailed to all known eligible voters in the county. If you know of someone in your community who is qualified and willing to serve on a community committee, fill out a petition and return it to this office no later than October 31.

Cotton PIK
The availability date for receiving PIK cotton has arrived. Producers who are eligible to receive PIK cotton entitlements from CCC loans may pick up their cotton at any time. CCC will pay storage on the cotton until you take title to it, but no later than March 14, 1984.

PIK cotton coming from CCC inventory has been delayed because of the reopening of the cotton bid purchase program. If you are eligible to receive PIK cotton from CCC, we will notify you when we receive the cotton.

Harvest for PIK
Even after the reopening of the cotton bid purchase program, CCC is still short on the amount of cotton available to use for PIK. Therefore, operators and owners who are to receive PIK cotton from CCC inventory and have cotton planted on the farm will be required to use enough harvested 1983 cotton to satisfy 40 percent of their PIK requirement. The other 60 percent will come from CCC.

If you fit this category, please contact this office after harvest but before you sell any cotton.

Production Cards
Production cards for reporting 1983 cotton production have been mailed. If you did not harvest any production please put a "0" in the net lint block and sign and date, and return the card to this office.

If you do harvest cotton, return the card as soon as you harvest all the cotton on the farm. Please do not turn in the card until you are through picking up bolls and ginning remnants.

Interest Rate
The October interest rate for CCC price support loans is 10.375 percent.

Cotton Gins
All gins in Garza County that are open for business this year have signed agreements with CCC to use approved bagging and ties.

Failed Acres
After the recent rain storms, you may have some acres you do not intend to harvest. If so, you will need to complete harvest, measure the acreage not harvested, then come into the county office and amend your certification to show harvested acres. This change will not affect your deficiency payment. We do use harvested acres to figure your actual production per acre.

1984 Feed Grain Program

1. Signup will be from January 16 through February 24, 1984.

2. 1984 acreage bases will be the average of the planted and considered planted acreage for corn and grain sorghum in 1982 and 1983.

3. Producers who sign into the acreage reduction program will have entered into a binding contract and will be subject to liquidated damages if they do not comply. This is different than in the past.

4. There will not be a paid diversion or PIK program for corn or sorghum.

5. No cross or offsetting compliance is in effect.

6. Corn and sorghum bases are a combined base.

Emergency

Loans

USDA has announced emergency loan interest rate 5 percent for all farmers and ranchers operating in counties designated eligible in the natural disaster emergency loan program for the 1983 crop season. This new rate is 3 percent below the previous 8 percent rate.

The 5 percent rate will apply to the first $100,000 borrowed.

Droopy cotton stalks, soaked in rains, spell a poor crop in Garza County this year...the rains, measured officially at the airport at 6.2 inches from Tuesday night until Friday morning, came at the wrong time for farmers whose cotton hadn't been stripped. What cotton is harvested will be spotted and bring much lower prices.

Pleasant Home

By Annie V. Bates
Church services were attended well Sunday here at Pleasant Home. It all began with Sunday School where the teachers presided. Lesson subject "The Means: God's Son" Romans 3:21-26, Romans 5: 6-11 and Colossians 1: 13-14.

Morning worship service devotion was conducted by Deacons Willie Bursleson, Jim Osby and Sister Fisher Wynn. Sister Wynn read the entire Number 24 Psalms.

Altar prayer was by Rev. Kelly from his heart and soul. Rev. James read St. Matthew, chapter 7 verses 1 through 12. Then the choir really sang to our loving Master Jesus Christ.

During the 11 a. m. service, our pastor delivered a wonderful message from the book of Psalms, number 78 verses 19 through 21. The theme was "Is anything to hard for God?" He preached from his soul and heart. God truly was in the midst. There was one who let Christ be a light in her life and the angels in heaven rejoiced.

If you were to come to our home, the first thing you may see as you walk into the front door are two rows of chairs with Ruby Woodard, Dovie Williams, Maudie Pettigrew, Winnie Henderson, Henrietta Nichols, Eunice Porter, Irene Fluitt, Ollie Sappington or Grace Jobe waiting to greet you and welcome you to our home.

If you turn down hall A, you may meet Willie B. Sullivan. coming down the hall to get the mail to deliver. Or if you turn down B hall you may run into Mrs. Eula Evans singing a song. Down C hall it may be Irene McCommis asking everyone down the hall how they are and down D hall it may be Mrs. Edna Truell with her cute little smile.

Out in the lobby you may see everyone doing something, reading, looking out the window, watching TV or playing 42 or just plain dominoes or visiting with each other. You can see all our Halloween decorations. We are planning a big Halloween party from 4 p. m. until 8 p. m. We will have booths and games and everyone is asked to come by and see what we are going to do.

We already had fun with Bingo Monday and Tuesday we had singing with the Gospel Trail Blazers. Wednesday, it was 42 and dominoes, Thursday we had popcorn and movies and exercise. We do have a lot of fun, so come by and see us any time.

Remember we have our family night October 31 and you are invited. If you would like to donate something like old jewelry that some of our residents can wear, we need things that we may use as prizes at the Halloween party.
