He also informed the council that the landscaping plan will be submitted to the Texas Highway Commission for approval at the September meeting in Austin.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Reference is made to your recent publication of Property Tax Rates for the Post and Southland Independent School Districts.

In 1987 the Post School Tax Rate was $.70 per $100 of value. The Southland School Rate was $1.02 per $100 of value.

With the declining value of the oil producing properties in both districts, the tax base has shown a substantial reduction in both districts, more so in the Southland District.

According to a Texas Research League publication, in 1985 the average Texas School District had a tax rate of $.763 per $100 of value.

The 1985 cost per student ADA in the Southland School District was $5,139. In the Post School District it was $4,113. State wide it was $3,299. Higher cost does not necessarily mean a better education.

As a substantial taxpayer in both districts, we would like to see the two School Districts combined.

As for the students, attending a larger school district that can offer a more diverse selection of courses, they have an opportunity to get a better education.

Both the students and taxpayers would be better off with a consolidated school district, in our opinion.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Ray J. Diekemper, Jr.

Another Reason Why
YOU SHOULD BE A CHRISTIAN

EVERYBODY ENJOYS LIVING IN A CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

★ Psa. 1:1 "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

A community which is predominately Christian is a stable society both politically and economically. People who are concerned for the welfare of others, and are honest and industrious, produce a social climate which is advantageous for both business and family life. We are fortunate in living in a Christian nation and enjoying God's many blessings. However, apathy toward God, self-interest and greed for material possessions, can undermine this wonderful world about us. Our society needs our continuous spiritual support.

Post Notes
by Wesley W. Burnett
National and state media frequently air concerns by professional educators asking the question, "what's wrong with education in America?"

The latest is the survey showing the tremendous lack of knowledge by recent high school graduates and college freshmen of basic geography and fundamental historical facts.

Some of these graduates could not even identify the United States on a map, let alone the "lesser" provinces of Africa and Russia.

The whole point of this information is to focus our attention on some of the problems our educators face.

What we are seeing is the culmination of years of neglect in the home and a pig-headed idea that education is the sole responsibility of the schools.

Where and how this idea got started is a mystery, but it's about time that we face up to the responsibilities we as parents have to our children.

We can not continue to expect our public education system to do what we will not do at home.

Specifically, we should not expect teachers to motivate children to

Double U Cowboys Head for Texas Ranch Roundup

by Lonnie Weiborn

Joe Marts and Gale Shobe representing the Double U Ranch are both entered in the Texas Ranch Roundup and will meet with cowboys from other ranches August 19-20 to put their skills to the test, competing for bragging rights as "Best Ranch in Texas."

Marts is a contestant in the Roundup's team branding, wild cow milking, team penning, and is also entered in the ranch cookoff.

Shobe is entered in the team roping, team branding, team penning and wild horse racing.

Also taking part in the Roundup are Double U cowboy Mike Diggs and his wife Vicki of Tahoka.

Mike is entered in all the Roundup events - saddle bronc riding, team roping, team branding, wild cow milking, team penning, wild horse racing and the cooking contest.

Vicki is participating as a Double U representative in the talent contest with her painting and is also a candidate in the First Lady contest.

If you're hankerin' for a taste of real cowboy life, head on out to Wichita Falls for the Texas Ranch Roundup.

The Roundup is a true cowboy showdown, a "rodeo, in the original sense of the word. It recreates the charm and comradery of Texas' first frontier rodeos by showcasing the time-honored skills and talents used every day on Texas ranches.

Nowhere else will you get a better feel for the cowboy way of life - unless, of course, it's down home on the range.

Teams of working cowboys, wagon bosses, ranch owners and family members from 12 of Texas' best known ranches challenge each other for bragging rights as the "Best Ranch in Texas."

Rodeo competition starts at 7:30 p.m. both days. The rule is "do it as you would on the ranch," whether the job is bringing down 400-pound calves for branding; coaxing headstrong cattle into pens; riding spooked broncs; or milking wild cows.

Saturday, August 20, brings jackpot roping, barrel racing and down home fun as the ranches gear up for the talent competition.

There's fiddleplaying, singing, old fashioned melodramas, campfire skits and displays of crafts, paintings and photographs made by the ranchers and their families.

A "First Lady" competition, which can be as tough as the arena events, tests ranch women on their knowledge of ranching and honors them for their contributions to their respective outfits.

Around high noon, tempting Hobby Club

by Syble Workman

The Hobby Club met on August 2, 1988 in the Grassland Community Center. This was the first meeting of the club since May.

In June the members go somewhere of interest and then eat out. There is no meetings held in July due to the summer activities.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Lucille Stewart.

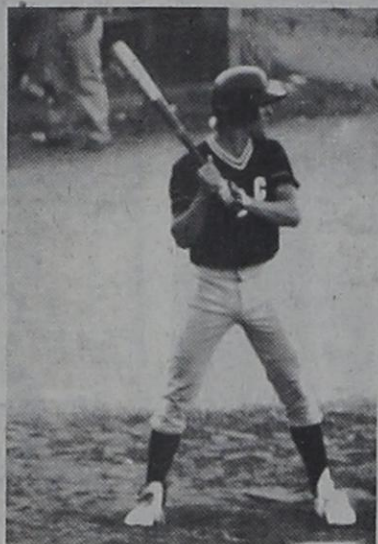

The program was presented by Nancy Beck of Beck's Wrap 'n Weave and Needlecraft Shop, located on 34th Street in Lubbock. She showed us how to weave baskets and gave lots of hints on the things they teach. It was a very interesting program.

Starting in September our meeting days will change to Friday instead of Tuesday.

Our club is growing with a new member, Trudy Schuknecht of Tahoka.

We had nine members present and was thankful for our two visitors.

Hostesses for the meeting were Laverne McCleskey and Fay Melton.

ON BASEBALL ROSTER-Blair Didway, 1988 graduate of PHS, who was recently selected to the 28 member baseball roster at Oklahoma Junior College in Oklahoma City, is up to bat at Chandler Baseball Camp in Chandler, Oklahoma, where he spent the summer as a camp counselor and player. After tryouts in June, Blair was selected for the Oklahoma college team and will play in the outfield for the team during its fall and spring 80 game schedule.

aromas signal the chuckwagon cookoff as ranch "cookies," working over white-hot mesquite coals, rustle up their favorite dishes. A five dollar contribution to Roundup charities, entitles spectators to sample golden brown, angel biscuits, baked in a pot in the ground; cowboy stew and chili, cooked in iron skillets; and other specialties.

The climax comes Saturday night, with the naming of 1988's "Best Ranch in Texas," top hand, top horse and First Lady followed by a dance to country and western music under the north Texas sky.

Cowboys and ranch hands are all proud of "what the Roundup stands for -- helping the charities," as one cowhand points out. Since it began in 1981, the Roundup has raised more than one-half million dollars for the North Texas Rehabilitation Institute, the West Texas Boys Ranch and the West Texas Rehabilitation Institute.

The 1988 Texas Ranch Roundup is scheduled Friday, August 19 through Saturday, August 20 in the Wichita County Mounted Patrol Arena, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Arena competition begins each evening at 7:30 p.m. The grounds open at 8 a.m. Saturday for jackpot roping and barrel racing. Ranch talent competition begins at 10:30 a.m. Saturday and the ranch cooking contest is open for public sampling from noon to 2 p.m. Saturday. Post Notes...

(Continued from Page 2) learn. We should expect teachers to teach, to provide an atmosphere where learning can take place. It is a puzzle to me how we got to the point of expecting educators to spend a bulk of their time motivating students to learn.

Motivation should start at home, children should be expected to arrive at school with at least a happy face toward learning. That attitude begins at home. And what happens in school when the unhappy student sits down in class and snarls his or her face at the teacher?

Anyone who has had a child in school knows that almost every class has at least one unhappy child continually disrupting the class.

There was a time when disruptive students who refused to change their behavior were ushered out the door through expulsion.

The threat of expulsion is not an effective tool any longer, due to the heavy burdens placed on administrators.

Expelling a student today for misbehavior is a major undertaking, filled with complications.

People my age remember when unruly students were first warned by the teacher, then when that didn't work, the assistant principal, usually a former pro football player who looked like a giant, would come to the door and motion the student to the hallway.

If that punishment didn't work, then a trip to the principal's office sent the student packing out the door.

Due to changes in social attitudes and legislation, those days are gone. Today's school administrators have to bend over backwards to ensure that the unruly student has all his or her rights protected, at the expense of the students in school who want to be there and want to be educated.

In the meantime, to satisfy the federal and state rules for monetary compensation based on average daily attendance, school administrators work extra hard to "keep them in school at all costs."

It should be no surprise, then, that teachers spend an inordinate amount of their class room time trying to keep disruptive, uncooperative and unhappy students in line.

Who loses in this arrangement? Obviously the students who would like to learn and want to be in school are the losers.

They may be a minority, but I believe those who want an education should be given a better break than those who are just there because they have to be.

It's high time we as parents and as taxpayers insist that students who do not want to be in school be allowed the freedom of choice to not be in school.

It is just plain silly and wasteful for our education system to be bullied into mediocrity because of a handful of students who neither care nor want to be in school.

And shame on their parents for failing to instill the value of education and the reason for attending school.

It should not be a baby-sitting service for those who will not take advantage of what is offered.

It is up to us as parents to insist that our children either accept the value of what is offered, or get out of the way and make room for those who want to improve themselves.

We can not afford to continue the system as it is now functioning.

Football Practice Began Monday City Council...

A total of 53 Post High School athletes reported for the first day of football practice Monday morning, according to head coach Dewayne Osborne.

"Overall I think the players reported in pretty good shape," the coach explains, "and we had a real good work-out Monday," he adds.

There were 20 sophomores, 17 juniors and 16 seniors participating this week in the two-a-day practices.

"We will spend the first four days in basic conditioning work," Osborne says, "then Friday we'll go into pads for a little more aggressive work-outs."

"We told the players that every position is open and decisions will be made as practices develop, we'll know a little more later in the week," Osborne adds.

The team hosts Floydada August 19 in the first of two contact scrimmages.

Jimmy Holleman grabs a pass during practice Monday.

19 88 Property Tax Rates in GARZA County

This notice concerns 19 88 property tax rates for GARZA County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the county used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. Compare it to the tax rate the county proposes for this year. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the county can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.
