Slaton Performers Debut in Garza Theatre's "The Seven Year Itch"

by Lonnie Welborn
"The Seven Year Itch," George Axelrod's successful and popular romantic comedy, will be showcased on the Garza Theatre stage, Thursday through Sunday, September 1-4.

Also showcased in the production will be the talents of two Slaton newcomers to the Garza Theatre stage, Kaye Smith and Jerry Fogerson.

Kaye Smith is a busy Slaton homemaker, the wife of Steve Smith and the mother of two daughters, Annette and Susan.

She does make room in her life for reading and for participating in Slaton activities, including the Slaton ISD Board of Trustees.

This is Kaye's first experience with acting, although, like everyone else, she "does a little acting in day-to-day life."

She and her husband have seen most of the Garza Theatre productions, and friends, including Linda Ellis and May Belle Kern, have worked in plays and encouraged her to take part.

"Up until now things just haven't worked out for me to be in a play," she said, "but I'm glad they finally did, because it's been such fun and I've enjoyed it."

"But it is work. Sometimes I've come home from rehearsal and I was sore all over. But I love it."

"One thing that amazes me is how so many Slaton people have gotten interested in the Post theatre and have become so involved. When I was going to high school in Slaton there was such a rivalry between the two towns - Post and Slaton.

"It amuses me now to see the rivalry forgotten - people from both towns on stage, taking part in the plays, having fun together and maybe bringing a little culture to the area."

One of the rewards for Kaye was seeing the play coming together during Thursday's rehearsal.

"That was a thrill. To see what Will had in mind and how it was supposed to be. It made you think it was worth it and that it was really going to work," Kaye added.

She is enjoying her fling in the theatre and would like to do another play later on. "If this works out, I'll see how this is received and go on from there."

Jerry Fogerson's hometown is Lubbock and graduated from high school in Cooper, but he currently lives in Slaton where he is a VEH teacher (Vocational Education for the Handicapped) with Feldeo.

He and his wife, Sherry, have two children, Kyle and Holly.

Jerry first became interested in the Garza Theatre through Roger and Stephanie McCurrin - Stephanie worked for Jerry's wife before the McCurrin's moved to Waco - and has seen some of the productions. And he, too, had encouragement from Linda Ellis to take a part in one of the plays.

His debut on the Garza Stage is also his first encounter with acting, but he likes the experience.

Summing up his time thus far with the theatre, Jerry is brief and to the point, "I love it and I think it's great."

Jerry plays Tom McKenzie, friend of the play's principal character, Richard Sherman. "It's a good part and a really good play," he added.

A lot of people in the area may not recognize Jerry Fogerson on stage, but they'd certainly recognize him on a horse in a team roping.

He roped at the OS for 13 years and also helped with the OS Weekend roping activities. Still active in roping circles, he flagged recently at the Garza County roping during the Post Stampede Rodeo.

Joining these two newcomers in the cast will be Post newcomers Stacy Nolan, Jeffrey Redman and Pam Workman. Other cast members are Allison Crawford and Wes Burnett, who are no strangers to the Garza stage.

"The Seven Year Itch" is designed and directed by Will McCrary and also affords the versatile director a change to reappear on stage in one of his favorite characterizations.

Post's own glamorous actress, Cheryl Thompson, will be making her eighth appearance on the Garza stage, as "The Girl Upstairs," a role made famous in films by Marilyn Monroe.

Reservations for the performances may be obtained by calling the Garza Box Office at 495-4005 Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for children 12 years or younger.

Performances begin at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday.

GARZA THEATRE DEBUTS-Appearing for the first time on the stage of the Garza Theatre will be (left to right) Jerry Fogerson of Slaton, Jeffrey Redman of Post, and Kaye Smith of Slaton. The three newcomers will be performing in "The Seven Year Itch" which opens at the theatre on Thursday, September 1 and runs through a Sunday matinee on September 4.

"Meet the Antelopes" Tuesday, August 30!!

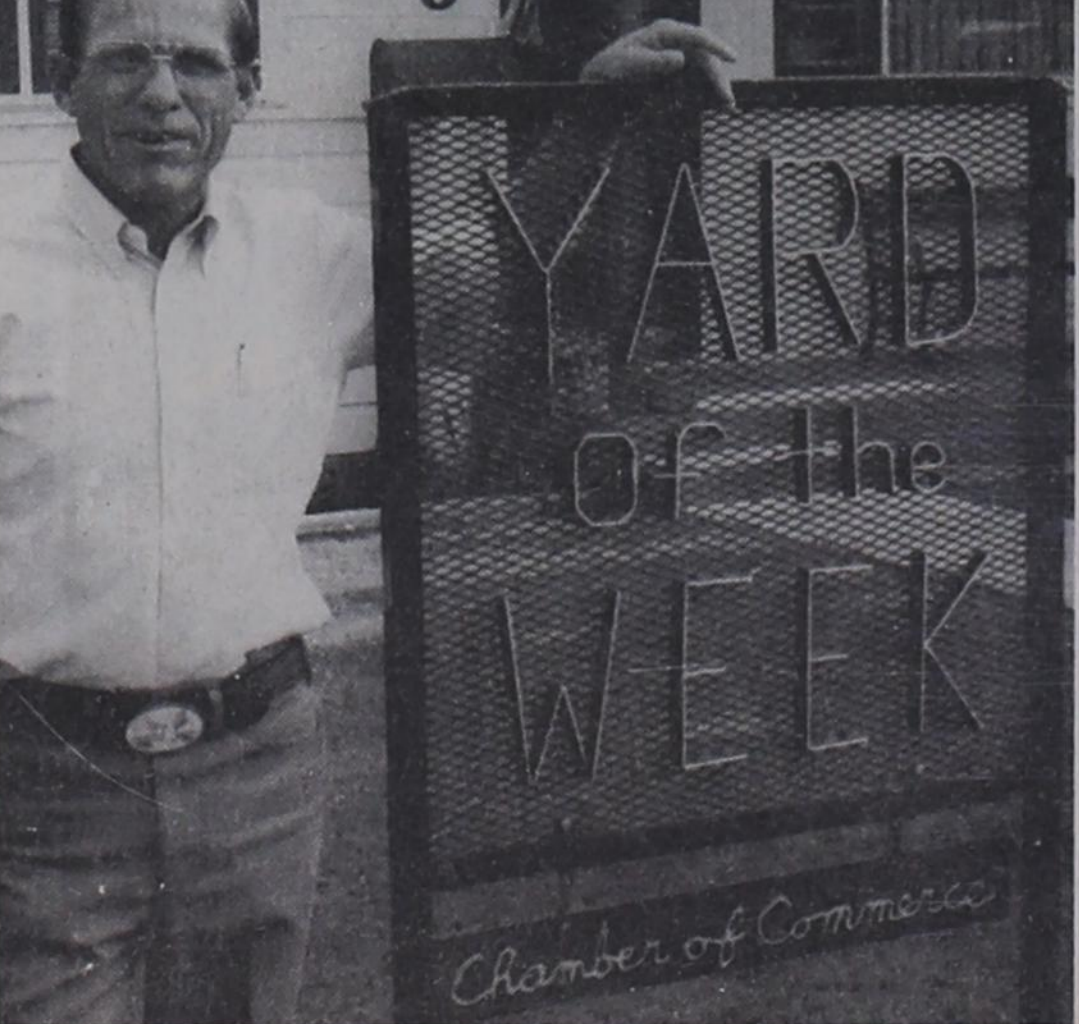

The annual "Meet the Antelopes Night" will be Tuesday, August 30 beginning at 7 p.m. at Antelope Stadium.

All Post Antelope football fans are urged to attend and join in the fun of the traditional ice cream supper - and the price of the homemade ice cream is still the same as it was last year - fifty-cents.

All the football players from seventh grade through varsity will be introduced along with the coaching staff and trainers.

Parents of players are asked to bring a freezer of ice cream and be at the stadium by 6:30 p.m.

For more information, contact Margie Pennell at 495-2804 or Jaynie Dickson at 495-3422.

YARD OF THE WEEK - All of Ted Tatum's hard work on his yard paid off recently as his home was named Yard of the Week by the Post Chamber of Commerce. Tatum's manicured lawn is at the corner of West 13th and Avenue S.

Paula Valdez Named to Coordinate Bike-A-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced that Paula Valdez of Post will coordinate a local Bike-A-Thon for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital on October 1, 1988.

St. Jude, the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America, is non-sectarian, interracial and provides for over 3,200 active patients. Currently, over $140,000, primarily from public contributions, is needed each day to keep the doors open.

The Bike-A-Thon this year is dedicated to Brian McCollister, a native of Louisiana, who was diagnosed with leukemia in 1984 and for the next two and one-half years underwent chemotherapy.

Today Brian is in remission and visits St. Jude Hospital for routine check-ups. Brian is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

"We sincerely appreciate the concern that Mrs. Valdez has for our work," a spokesperson for St. Jude Hospital said, "and we hope the citizens of Post will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset...Our Children."

Noel White competed in the Eastern New Mexico Cutting Horse Association cutting held in Seminole on Saturday, August 20.

White, riding his mare, Dandee Vandee Doc, won the $2000 Non-Pro class, over 12 other horses, with a score of 71.

He also won the $1500 Novice horse class, which had 11 entries, and marked 71 and one-half.

Area Men Chairmen for Cattlemen's Round-Up

Jay Lott and Jeff Lott of Post are among 230 volunteer area chairmen statewide who have been appointed for the 29th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, according to James Alexander of Abilene, CRCC general chairman. Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo serves as general co-chairman.

The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children is a vital fundraiser which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo.

"Sales of livestock are converted to dollars which provide out-patient treatments for the increasing number of individuals who will be treated at Rehab Center facilities," explains Shelley V. Smith, WTRC president/executive director.

Scheduled 1988 CRCC sale dates include Haskell Sale-September 24; Cattle Sale-September 26 at Abilene Auction; Horse Sale-October 1, Abilene Auction; Coleman Sale-October 5; Stephenville Sale-October 5; Junction Sheep and Goat Sale-October

10; San Saba Sale-October 13; and Brownwood Sale-October 26.

"Ranchers whose sale calendars do not correspond with Round-Up sales may take a pledge and then respond as soon as they can," adds Alexander. "Some stockmen cut out an animal or more throughout the year and ask their local auctions to send the sale proceeds to the Rehab Center."

Persons wishing to make a donation of livestock or cash, or those needing to arrange for transportation of animals should contact the local chairman or call the nearest WTRC facility.

Since its establishment 35 years ago, West Texas Rehab Center has always focused on treatment of the individual rather than just the handicap.

Trained, licensed professionals provide physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech/language therapy, audiology, orthotics, education, diagnostic clinics, social services and work evaluations.

Patients are admitted by referral, and are treated without charge except for braces and hearing aids.

VA Announces Survey of Disabled Veterans

The Veterans Administration has begun a nationwide survey of disabled veterans to gather information on their needs and to assist the VA in determining how it can better serve veterans with service-connected disabilities.

The Arawak Consulting Corporation, Rosslyn, Va., which is doing the survey for the VA under a $1.5 million contract, will conduct in-depth interviews with 10,000 men and women veterans over the next six months.

The survey's participants were selected at random and will be contacted directly. A final report of the results is expected to be available by the middle of next year.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Thomas K. Turnage is urging all veterans contacted to participate in the study. Said Turnage, "Their cooperation will ensure an accurate and unbiased report on the attitudes and experiences of disabled veterans and will be invaluable in helping VA plan for their future needs."

In a letter to each veteran selected, Turnage noted that their participation is voluntary and that the confidentiality of all responses will be maintained.

Antelopes Faced Tough Test Against Henrietta

by Rodney Marshall
The Post Antelopes found the going a little tough in the scrimmage with Henrietta last Thursday night, August 25. "Our kids played real well. We were pleased with everybody," commented Post head football coach Dewayne Osborne. "Again our offensive line did well and our backs did a better job of blocking," Osborne pointed out.

From the last scrimmage the coaches wanted to see the offense improve which they did moving the ball up and down the field well.

"My only disappointment is that we were not able to cross the end zone," Osborne stated.

Henrietta was a good test for the Antelopes not only in that they were big and fast but they had an offense that caused the Antelope defense to think and adjust to during the game.

The Antelopes will take what they learned in this scrimmage and make preparations for their first game against Abernathy Friday night, September 2, in Post.

Kick off is set for 8:00 p.m. at Antelope Stadium.

TEAM WORK IN ACTION - Lee Wayne Greathouse (74) hussles down field to block for Floyd Slay (33) on this play which gained quite a few yards.

WATCH MY MOVES - Mark Solis (20) shows his open field moves as high steps across the line of scrimmage against Henrietta Thursday evening.

In the Neighborhood

by Lonnie Welborn
Melodrama - A work (as a movie or play) characterized by extravagant theatricality and by the predominance of plot and physical action over characterization.

That's how Webster's defines "melodrama" - and now that you know the exact definition, how would you like to be in a melodrama? Be an actor? A star?

If you would, Will McCrary wants to talk to you about a melodrama the Garza Theatre is putting together for the Founder's Day Celebration on October 15.

Persons of all ages are needed for the melodrama and anyone interested should contact Will at the Garza Theatre, 495-4005.

Library

There are a lot of new books on the Post Public Library shelves - some of them by well-known authors who are great favorites with Post Library patrons.

Tom Clancy has a new book "Cardinal of the Kremlin," and Victoria Holt is represented with a new mystery-suspense novel "The India Fan."

Howard Fast also has a new book - "The Pledge," which has to do with the McCarthy era. Fast himself is now stranger to the McCarthy hearings - he went to jail when he testified during the hearings and refused to reveal names of people he believed were falsely accused.

On the non-fiction shelves, look for "Elvis and the Colonel," and Kirk Douglas' book "Ragman's Son."

Mystery fans will appreciate Charlotte Macleod's new offering "The Silver Ghost."

Other new selections include "Marilyn's Daughter" by John Rechy, "Love, Sex and Money" by Sharleen Cooper Cohen, "Doctors" by Erich Segal, "Shining Through" by Susan Isaacs, "To Be the Best" by Barbara Taylor Bradford, and "The Silence of the Lambs" by Thomas Harris - a book even Stephen King recommends.

Tower Theatre

City Manager Bob Turner asked me to pass along this little bit of information:

No, folks, the Tower Theatre is not reopening.

The activity going on around the old theatre recently was just the summer work crew giving the building a well-deserved cleaning. The funny thing is - I noticed all the work going on up the street, with all the theatre doors open, and made the remark that it would be easy for rumors to get started right now and that in no time we'd probably hear that the theatre was reopening.

Sure enough, at a meeting Wednesday night, Bob Turner told me that calls had been coming into City Hall wanting to know about the Tower Theatre and the "big reopening."

Sorry the rumor isn't true, folks, but the old Tower is much cleaner than it was.

And speaking of the Tower Theatre - what happened to our old friend the owl who used to perch on top of that building?

I refuse to believe the story told by one of the Dispatch visitors who said he saw the owl "being carried off by some pigeons."

ASCS Reports Changes In Haying, Grazing

Victor Ashley, executive director of the local ASCS office, reports that emergency haying or grazing of ACR land and paid CU continues in the county, but the program has changed a little since it was first announced.

The major change is that the hay and grazing may be sold to anyone at any price at any time. Interested producers must still sign a register and designate the number of acres that will be hayed or grazed.

The other emergency program in the county at this time is haying of CRP acres. Grazing of CRP acres is still prohibited.

Interested producers must also sign a register to request haying of CRP. CRP land, either the dead litter crop or the grass, may be hayed until August 31, another change.

The hay may be utilized by the producer's livestock or may be given or sold to anyone else. Only 90 percent of the acres in a given CRP field may be hayed and a 25 percent reduction in the annual rental payment will be assessed on the acres actually hayed.

Ashley also reports that the only way around the 25 percent reduction in the annual rental payment is to donate the CRP hay.

The County Agent will have to certify that the hay was made available to a recipient through a group or entity engaged in drought relief activities and that the producer of the hay received no reimbursement for the hay or for services rendered.

CRP Signup Extended Through August 31

Texas producers will have more time to consider effects of the drought because of extension of the current signup period for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) through August 31.

This move by the U.S. Department of Agriculture should be a "plus" for producers who need more time to analyze the drought's impact, said Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The present signup period originally was to have ended August 5.

Harris said cropland which has been hayed in counties approved for drought relief is eligible during this signup for entry into CRP for the 1988 crop year, provided the land meets other program requirements," Harris said.

He said acreage designated as Acreage Conservation Reserve (ACR) and Conservation Use (CU) for the 1988 program year is not eligible for entry into the CRP for 1988.

Under this conservation program, producers receive annual payments to keep highly erodible land out of production and planted with a protective cover which can include trees. Besides the annual rental payments, CRP participants also receive up to 50 percent of the cost of establishing vegetative cover, Harris said.

He said filter strips, or cropland areas 66 to 99 feet wide with a permanent cover and located next to streams, lakes and estuaries, will be eligible for CRP in this extended signup even if the cropland does not meet the soil erosion criteria.

"This provision was introduced in the sixth signup period last February to permit farmers to use CRP enrollment as a cost-effective option to control nonpoint source pollution," he said.

If trees are to be planted, the land needs only one-third of its total area designated as "predominantly highly erodible" to be eligible for CRP, Harris said. He encourages producers to plant additional cover to protect wildlife and serve as windbreaks.

Producers should contact their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and Soil Conservation Service (SCS) county offices for specific CRP program details.

Post Entries Among Winners in C.C.H.A. Cutting Horse Contest

Fifty-six horses worked in the six classes at the recent Caprock Cutting Horse Contest (formerly Amateur Cutters Association) during the Post Stampede Rodeo beginning at 10 a.m. on Saturday, August 13.

Winner of the 13 horse Open class was Choles Freckles, owned and shown by Curly Tully of Goldthwaite, with a score of 74.

Second was Smokin' Lena Bar owned by Bailey Reece and shown by Wayne Smith, both of Spur, with a score of 73.

Tying for third and fourth with a 72 were Mister Doc's Badger, owned and shown by Keith Slover of Paducah and Lonesome Lani owned by Tongue River Ranch and ridden by Wayne Smith.

Two horses tied for first and second place in the $2000 non-pro eight horse class with a score of 72. They were Cutter's Chickasha, owned and shown by C.C. DeHay of Midland and Sadie Squaw Chick, ridden by DeHay's grandson Steven Stewart, also of Midland.

Marking a 73, Lonesome Lani won the $1500 Novice-Novice class with Don's Quest, owned and ridden by Wade Williams of Wellington. Placing second was Doc Roan Flower, owned and shown by Roy Haberman of Midland.

A Post entry won the $250 Novice Rider, any horse class, against eight entries. Hot Coca-Cola marked a 71 to win the class for owner and rider, Bill Carlisle. Second place went to Fair Mahogany, owned and shown by Jamie and Kelly McNeil of Crosbyton, with a score of 70.

The five horse amateur class was won by Dryzit, owned by Susan Bozeman and shown by Vick Bozeman of Idalou. Bozeman was presented a belt buckle by the C.C.H.A. There was a three-way tie for second, third and fourth with a score of 66 between Black Gold Jessie, owned and shown by Johnnie Long of Slaton; Wymanella, owned by Bill Carlisle and shown by Jeff Williams; and Tar Baby, owned by Magy Ranch and shown by Ricky Ferguson, all of Post.

Judging the show was Glenn Chester of Sudan. The cattle were furnished by Bill Max West of Snyder.

Orabeth White is show secretary for the association. The next C.C.H.A. Show will be Friday at Roaring Springs at the Old Settlers Reunion Arena. Books open at 10 a.m. and the show will begin at 11 a.m.

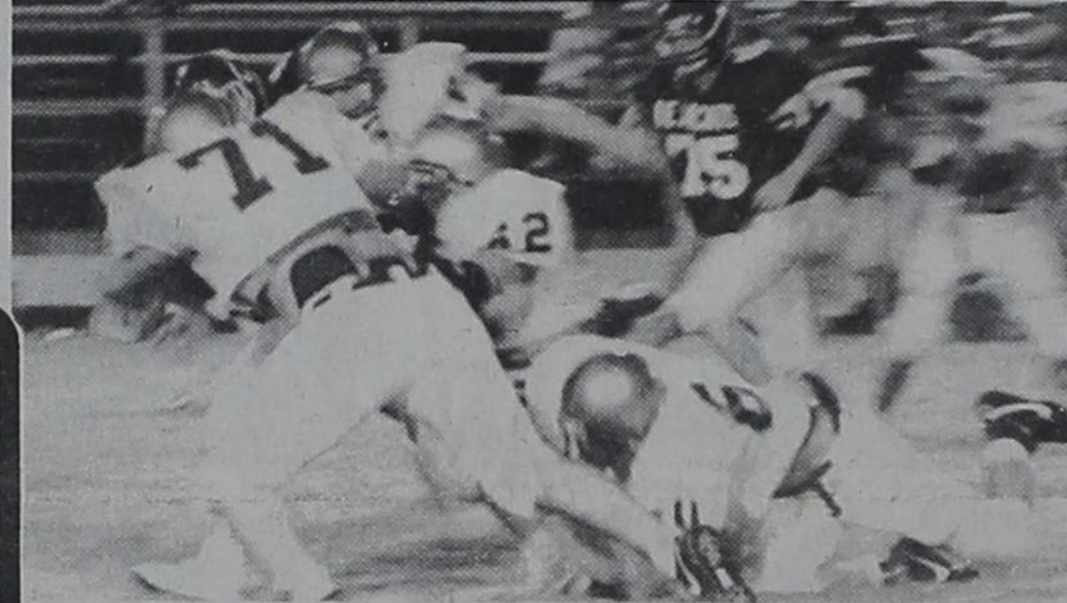

Other upcoming shows are Saturday, September 3 at Spur and then on Saturday, September 17, at the Edd Farabee Arena at Littlefield.

Immunizations Necessary For School...

Getting first graders ready for school is more than buying a new box of crayons, No. 3 pencils and a Big Chief writing tablet. State law requires your child to have a complete immunization record and current booster shots to attend school.

Regardless of whether a child attends public or private school, every student in Texas must have proof of immunization.

Upon enrolling a child in school for the first time or transferring the child to a Texas school from another state, a parent must provide proof that the child has been immunized appropriately for his age against diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, mumps and rubella.

With rare exceptions, Texas law forbids schools to accept children without proof of immunization.

The Texas Department of Health has established minimum requirements for immunization for the admission of school-age children to schools. They are as follows:

- * Four-year-olds entering pre-school:
 - * Three doses of oral polio vaccine.
 - * Three doses of diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis (DTP) vaccine.
 - * One dose measles vaccine or a physician-verified history of the illness.
 - * One dose mumps vaccine or a physician-verified history of the illness.
 - * One dose rubella vaccine.
- * Five years and older:
 - * Three doses oral polio vaccine (one dose since the child's fourth birthday). Applies to children through age 17.
 - * At least three doses of DTP and/or tetanus-diphtheria vaccine (one dose since the child's fourth birthday and within the past 10 years).
 - * One dose measles vaccine or a physician-verified history of the illness.
 - * One dose mumps vaccine or a physician-verified history of the illness (through age 16).
 - * One dose rubella vaccine (through age 11).

If a child is on an ideal immunization schedule, he or she will have received five doses of DTP vaccine and either four or five doses of oral polio vaccine by the time he or she enters school.

Children can be immunized by their family doctor or at their local health department. Any validated document of immunization will be accepted by the schools providing it shows at least the month and year when each immunization was given. The Texas Department of Health and local health departments will provide record-keeping cards free of charge for maintaining school immunization files.

For more information about immunizations, parents should contact their local schools or health departments.
