Volume XXIII Post, Texas "The Gateway To The Plains" Thursday, Sept. 22, 1949. Number 46

Miss Bonnie McMahon, at blackboard, illustrating the message which the children should get from the "reading readiness" books on their work tables. In Miss McMahon's and Miss Lucy Callis' first grade rooms here—the children—like those in all other modern schools—sit in groups at low work tables rather than at old-fashioned, individual desks.

First Grade Is More Fun Than Work For Children

Learning to read without a textbook, learning to add numbers while "playing dominoes," learning to print words and names without knowing the alphabet, and learning to spell without a book or a spelling bee, are only small samples of what today's first grade pupils get out of school.

While learning through games the Reading, "Riting and Rithmetick" which this writer learned the hard way, today's first graders also learn art, concentration and following directions, like names and differences, story telling and recitation, singing, citizenship, good conduct, mechanics, and mental, social, emotional and physical adjustment.

All the above are related so that most of them are being taught every day in varying forms, the child having to concentrate on each form or combination of forms only a few minutes at a time.

Methods In Use Here

E. E. Pierce, Post grade school principal, says the methods in the two first grades here and in other small towns of necessity are old-fashioned as compared to those of schools in cities as large as Lubbock. Yet the visitor to the Post first grades will find the methods mentioned in the first two paragraphs above and will see nothing of the sterner methods that were in use about the time the old high school building here was converted to a grade school.

Visiting Miss Bonnie McMahon's room last week, this writer observed that seat work seemed to be the basis of the school routine. Instead of sitting at individual desks, as in days of old, the children sit in small chairs at low tables, using crayons and books in which they can color and "read" and from which they can cut paper dolls or other familiar objects. The same methods are used in the other first grade room which is taught by Mrs. Lucy Callis.

First Plains Bale Of Cotton Ginned For W. W. Johnson

W. W. Johnson of the Graham community, who was the first Garza County Plains farmer to have a bale of cotton ginned this season, will receive a $25 award from the Post Chamber of Commerce, which each year gives this award in addition to an award for the first bale from below the Caprock ginned.

Johnson's bale, from 1,790 lb. seed cotton, was ginned by the Graham Co-Op Gin yesterday afternoon. It weighed 530 lb. The seed cotton also made 760 lb. seed.

The Graham Co-Op Gin also ginned Garza County's first 1949 bale, for J. C. Turner who farms 18 miles east of Post, on Aug. 22. The bale, which won the first $25 prize, was from 1,810 lb. of seed cotton and it weighed 525 lb.

Harvey C. Howard Is First Oil Drilling Casualty Here

Harvey Cole Howard, 35, was fatally injured in an oil field accident near Post about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Garza County's first oil field casualty, Howard died at 3:15 a. m. Wednesday during surgery in the West Texas Hospital at Lubbock. The accident occurred on a Postex Drilling Company rig on the K. Stoker Ranch, southeast of town.

A connection on the rig broke and caused the rotary hose to fall and hit the victim, according to information given the Post Dispatch, crushing his skull. He was brought to the Post Clinic for an examination before being taken to Lubbock by a Mason and Company ambulance.

Howard had been employed by the Postex Drilling Company at various times in the past five years. During that period he also worked for Comanche Corp. and in oil fields of Oklahoma.

Funeral services were to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. D. W. Reed officiating, assisted by the Rev. P. D. Fullingim of Southland. Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery with Mason and Company in charge.

Howard was born June 16, 1914, in Tennessee.

Parrish Funeral Held Monday In Grassland Church

On July 23, 1913, he was married to Miss Lydia Estel Ride-nour, and eight children were born to the union. One of the children, Pauline, died in 1936 at the age of 13 years.

School Tax This Year Will Be Less Than Maximum

W. F. Presson, school tax collector, has moved to the Post Chamber of Commerce office for the convenience of the taxpayers until after the taxpaying season.

All school taxes paid in October will carry a 3 per cent discount; those paid in November will have a 2 per cent discount; those paid in December will have a 1 per cent discount. No discount will be given for taxes paid in January. Those paid after January will carry a penalty, Presson explained.

Although a $1.50 maximum tax rate on the $100 valuation was voted by the people a few months ago to take care of the bonds and interest on the new school building, the Post Independent Consolidated School board has decided that a rate of $1.25 will take care of this year's needs because of the increased valuation in the school district.

The 1949 total valuation in the school district is $6,708,155, as compared to last year's total valuation of $5,749,984.

Golf Course May Be Open Immediately

CHARTER MEMBERSHIP IS OPEN FOR CLUB

With 50 charter members already signed up and a usable site available, a golf course for Post is almost a certainty. Anyone interested in becoming a charter member is asked to contact Joe Moss immediately, he said yesterday.

It is possible that the course can be put into operation within the next two weeks, Moss said, and the exact site probably will be announced next week. He is a member of a committee of golf players who have been working on the plan for several months.

The golfers undertook the project because the golf courses at Lubbock are so crowded it is almost impossible for them to play there anymore without "waiting all day" for their turns on the links.

Post, which had the first golf course west of Mineral Wells for a number of years early in the century, has been without a course since the depression.

The first course was built soon after Post was organized, and it was located about where the Garner Appliance Company now stands and its fairways crossed the Tahoka highway. George Samson and several other Post pioneers built the course and "Chief" Marhoff was the golf club's first president.

The late C. W. Post, before

Although a report of the rally is published elsewhere in today's Post Dispatch, the article fails to mention that the program included a talk by Donald Windham, Post Chamber of Commerce secretary, and that awards presented included $150 in cash prizes, 56 merchandise awards and a cash prize to the winning girls' 4-H booth in the recent Garza County Fair.

Rummage Sale To Be Held By Girls

Advertising for the Scotchlite signs already has been sold. Commander S. E. Camp said yesterday.

World Democracies Must Work Together In Economic Union

New York City—The American-English conference now going on has tremendous possibilities for good. Surely it is a one-way street and cannot do any harm. It can affect every reader of this column.

Frankly, the Englishmen want us to give them more dollars. The financial interests here in New York look upon Bevin, Attlee and Cripps as pure Socialists. These New York bankers say "why should we Americans use good U. S. dollars to make Socialism a success?" Hence, they are trying to get the English government to promise to give us Socialism in return for U. S. dollars,—or at least not push it further. But here is the answer of Bevin, Attlee and Cripps: "At the present time the world is divided into two great and powerful groups.—The Democracies which stand for Free Enterprise, and the Russians who stand for Communism. Unless some middle ground of compromise can be developed, both groups are headed for a World War III which will destroy civilization. We believe England is trying to work out such a compromise,—a safe bridge between America and Russia. It is worth billions of dollars to the United States to help us do this." This is England's argument and I'm inclined to believe it will appeal to President Truman.

Questions Discussed Many questions are being discussed. Chief of these is the devaluation of the pound which would make it easier for the English to sell their goods without increasing the efficiency of their labor and machinery. This would be only postponing the final day of reckoning because England would not need to debase her currency if her production, management and labor would wake up and become efficient.

Among other things are: Fixing a new and guaranteed rate of money exchange for all Western nations, the powers of the World Bank, President Truman's Point 4, our American Tariff, the so-called Block Balances, the continuation of Lend-Lease, etc. All these, however, are mere temporary palliatives to relieve the patient (England) of pain. They are like giving aspirin and an electric pad to someone who needs a surgical operation.

Goal To Seek

My prayer and hope is that the conference will get down to fundamentals,—namely of getting the Democracies into an honest and workable economic union. We are already fast approaching a mutual defense union, and this is a step in the right direction. This, however, is much like repairing and painting an old house which really needs new timbers and a strong foundation. Let each nation continue to run its internal affairs as it wishes, but insist that we get together on economic matter. There cannot successfully be divided by drawing lines on maps.

Russia has no trade barriers between its different countries. In order for the Democracies to hold their own, they must reduce tariff barriers, have an international dollar and perhaps a single postage stamp for trading among themselves. In effect, this would mean extending England's present preferential trading system (which now applies only to the members of the British Commonwealth) to other Democracies such as the U. S., France, Holland, Belgium, Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and perhaps Greece and Turkey.

10 or 20 More Years Prosperity

Such a program might temporarily hurt a few U. S. manufacturers whom the government could for awhile subsidize. Labor might fight it for fear of unemployment; but its ultimate results mean a higher standard of living and better security for every reader of this column, the people of the United States as well as the people of foreign lands. The United States cannot long continue to "live the life of Riley" while the rest of the world is starving. The sooner we realize this the better for all concerned including ourselves.

I am sure that President Truman is anxious to put over such a program. If the Republicans would heartily join therein, employment and profits would again increase and the entire business situation would definitely improve. I can even envisage a great boom in the stock market and another 5 or 10 years of prosperity. Such a program, must however, "set off" on the right foot. Republicans must not cry "wolf, wolf" and scare people into believing that it is a mistake to pray: "Thy Kingdom come on earth." This would not be a case of trying to "get something for nothing" but rather of GETTING SOMETHING FOR SOMETHING.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

National Tie Week, which ended Saturday, went unnoticed around here, but it was observed in New York City where some 1,500 men and women members of the Men's Tie Foundation gathered in the main ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria for a frolicsome dinner-dance in honor of this peculiar part of a man's wardrobe.

In an article, headed Ties That Bind, the New York Times Magazine commented on the occasion, somewhat as follows:

If (the tie) is peculiar because it is the only piece of men's wearing apparel which is not functional, it doesn't, like a belt, hold anything up; nor does it, like a shoelace, hold anything on; it doesn't even hold anything down, as a collar pin does. It has no pockets, and therefore nothing can be carried in it. It doesn't keep a man warm in winter or cool in the summer and it won't keep the rain off. Yet this thing is so much a part of a man's clothing that without it he feels at most times almost naked.

The Men's Tie Foundation is an association of those who either manufacture or distribute the $191,000,000 worth of American ties sold annually in this country and abroad.

Current ties—the ones with the frantic, splashy colors—are really modern, being only some 15 years old. The tie is an infant, at least as compared to other articles of men's clothing. From the best accounts available, the tie appears to be only 300 years old and it appears—as do so many things—to be the result of a war.

About 1660 Turkey, waging a fierce war against Austria, finally was defeated. One of the victorious outfits was a crack regiment from Croatia, then an Austrian province, and soldiers from this regiment visited Paris, where they were lionized. The Croats wore brightly colored handkerchiefs around their necks and these soon became the rage among chic Parisians. In honor of the heroes, these first neckties were called "cravats", a bastardization of the word Croat. Or so one story goes.

In the 18th century the cravat rose to a kind of ridiculous glory. It is recorded that James II paid $600 for three cravats. (Students of history may find something or other in the fact that in 1944 a Miami store advertised ties at $2,500 each, and that it is possible to pay $400 for a tie in New York today.)

As in other things, austerity set in with regard to cravats during the French Revolution, and the style changed to unornamented stocks stiffened with whalebone.

About 100 years ago this stock began to sprout extensions—both out and down—and it gradually increased in size until it became what is known as the "four-in-hand" tie. The official explanation for the name four-in-hand is that the wearer describes a figure four while tying it, but this appears about as reasonable as to state a man describes a figure 11 while pulling on his trousers.

The modern tie is a completely American invention. Until about 20 years ago, ties were nonresilient and often would rip apart as they were pulled thru a collar.

A new method of cutting ties was introduced in 1920 which permitted the tie to give as it was being knotted. In every well-made tie today will be found a thread dangling loosely just inside the folds. This is an indication that it is of resilient construction, which gives it a tendency not only to tie well but also to spring back into shape after it has been untied.

But though the tie was by now resilient, it was still silent. It was made of conservative checks, or of humble, almost fatigued colors. It had stripes, but they were submissive and didn't tend to paralyze the eyesight. There were good, sound, satisfying polka dots and maybe an occasional vague palm or flower design. But along about this time there crept into the picture the person regarded by many men on their birthdays or on Christmas or on Valentine's Day as the supreme villain of the whole situation. Her name is woman.

Women today buy about 85 per cent of all men's ties. The tie manufacturers are well aware of this statistic and set their sails accordingly. Most ties these days are colored and cut not to please the man who will wear them, but the woman who will buy them.

And women bring into the men's shop the same psychology they acquire in the women's shop; clothes, besides more or less covering one, are also designed to get attention, stop conversation, or make people in restaurants drop their forks.

The tie industry is well aware of the importance of women to its future. In fact, a tie manufacturer goes white with horror at the thought of the old-fashioned conservative tie ever supplanting the modern, bold one, and for two sound reasons. One reason is that women, the principal tie purchaser, simply will not buy traditional ties. If they don't find bold ones, they don't

THE POST DISPATCH

ESTABLISHED IN JUNE, 1926

Published Every Thursday at the Dispatch Publishing Company Building in Post, Garza County, Texas.

E. A. WARREN, Publisher-Editor

Entered at the Post Office at Post, Texas, for transmission through the mails as second class matter, according to an Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character of any person or firm appearing in these columns will be gladly and promptly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the management.

Minute Editorial

One of the last official acts of the late Governor Jester was to sign into law House Bill 97, granting $5,000,000 to Texas Soil Conservation Districts during the coming biennium. This appropriation is almost as much a milestone as was the original Soil Conservation District Act of 1939. It shows that through their elected representatives and senators, Texans have awakened to the perils of erosion. They finally realize that they cannot leave the entire burden to the Federal Treasury. As a portion of this $5,000,000 will be allotted to Garza County, it is tremendously important that the farmers and ranchmen of this sub-division of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District devote some thought and influence to selecting the man who will properly supervise the spending of this money for the best interest of the county. The supervisor will be elected the first Tuesday in October for a term of five years. What benefit the Garza County soil gets from this county's share, which should amount to approximately $30,000, will largely depend upon the intelligence, ability, popularity and influence of the man who is elected supervisor. Only with a large turn-out of eligible voters will the right man be elected to this office with the feeling that he is truly representing the landholders of this sub-division. Saving the soil is the most important part of managing a ranch or farm. Thirty thousand dollars—if properly spent—could bring returns for years to come to all the inhabitants of this area. It is almost—but not quite too late to start a campaign to elect the right man to spend this gift in the most profitable manner for Garza County and its residents.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

buy any. They go to the sock counter or the cigaret lighter department.

The second reason, however, is far more subtle. A man who wears a conservative tie can wear it until it is threadbare. He can wear the same one day after day and nobody will notice it. But he cannot wear the same loud tie day after day or his office associates will start to comment. Furthermore, a man doesn't tire as readily of a conservative tie as he does of that one showing crocodiles in the River Nile.

It is for these reasons that people in the tie industry regard old-fashioned ties exactly as they would regard a rat's nest in their child's sand-box.

KITTY, KITTY, KITTY!—What happens to all the money paid into the kitty for social security benefits?

What chances do men have of cashing in on the benefits of this law, after contributing thousands of dollars over many years?

The Federal Security Agency has released figures showing that the average man covered by the benefits of social security can, at most, live only three months to enjoy the cash benefits. The fund becomes available to a man at age 65. The average life expectancy of the American male is 65.2 years. Non-white men covered by social security have no security at all to look forward to. Their life expectancy is only 57.3 years.

Unless the age limit for social security payments is lowered few will ever draw money they have saved over the years. But the Social Security fund is a nice-sized kitty to preside over.—The Ralls Banner.

CANDIDATES ARE THICK—It seems that the death of Governor Jester and subsequent elevation of Allen Shivers as his successor has caused a definite decline in the number of candidates for Governor in 1950.

The only avowed candidate is Caso March, who hit the trail long before the death of Jester, and says that he will continue to visit every county in Texas during the campaign. March marches on where, no one knows!

The situation in the second place on the ticket is vastly different.

Here we have a multitude of candidates posing for a jump in to the big political splash.

The race for Lieutenant Governor promises to be red hot in 1950. There are a dozen or so candidates who believe that Texas needs their services. All of them will make the race if two or more of their friends get together and encourage them. That is all that it takes to push a potential candidate into a political race.

If you are thinking of running for public office, better leave the lieutenant governor's race off your calendar. The woods are full of candidates. — Canyon News.

COULD BE—Our good friend, C. Applegate, editor of the Hamilton Herald-News, says: "If you really want to see how important you really are in this world, stick your finger in a bucket of water and then look at the hole it leaves when you pull it out." Might be! The Hockley County Herald.

ENGLISH NOT TO BLAME—

We have always heard that the English have very little sense of humor. We don't blame 'em. We understand that it is foggy there most of the time, often drizzling rain. That would give us the "jimmies." We surely do like to see it rain out in this country more often than it does, but we never did like to have even three or four days of it at a single sitting. We get jittery. We like for it to rain and then quit. We like both the open spaces and the open skies of the West. —The Lynn County News.

ADVANTAGES OF

—We like women. There are a lot of advantages to being one. For instance, but a woman can make take off his hat to glide up in an elevator for his job. She worries about creases in her trousers. Her evening frock comes from those of the She doesn't have to shave while shaving. If she's bow-legged, she knows it. We think it's a good thing, being a woman. —Banner.

Winter Legume Acreage Being Planted in Area

Probably the largest acreage of winter legumes ever to be planted in Garza and Kent counties, in the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, are being planted now. Hairy vetch leads in the legume acreage with approximately 3,000 pounds of seed being used by district cooperators. They are planting it at the rate of 10 lbs per acre. Practically all of the vetch seed is planted in a mixture with rye. The vetch is inoculated with nitrogen fixing bacteria and the plantings fertilized with 200 lbs. of phosphate over fertilizer per acre.

Madrid sweetclover is gaining some popularity. W. C. Quisenberry is planting it on a tight soil to open up the subsoil so moisture will penetrate faster.

Alfalfa is increasing in interest since J. C. Eubanks has shown what it will do during the past three years. Soil technicians recommend alfalfa for sandy sub-irrigated land below the caprock, in locations similar to Eubanks'. Alfalfa and sweetclover are legumes well adapted to a crop rotation with irrigation above the caprock.

In their winter cover crop program farmers received 54,000 pounds of phosphate fertilizer this week. Truett Fry handled the fertilizer orders and helped cooperators get their vetch seed. The district's fertilizer-grain drill is providing a big help in getting the legumes planted. The vetch seed is first inoculated with nitrogen fixing bacteria, then rye seed is mixed with the vetch. This mixture is planted from the grain box and at the same time, the crop is fertilized from a fertilizer attachment on the drill.

Growing legume cover crops are part of district cooperators coordinated conservation plans. Cover crops protect the land from wind and water erosion and improve the soil fertility, the soil conservation technicians say.

Post Millers And Denver City Gassers Advance To Finals In Oil Belt League

After dropping the opener of their playoff double-header, the Post Millers Sunday afternoon bounced back with an 11-run outburst in the first inning of the nightcap and went on to score a 13-8 victory to gain a berth in the Oil Belt League finals. The games were played in the Postex Park before a large crowd.

The Denver City Gassers also reached the finals Sunday by splitting a twin bill with the Seagraves Oilers at Seagraves. Post and Denver City, the preceding Sunday, had won the opening games of their respective first-round playoff series with Sundown and Seagraves.

Open At Denver City
Denver City will be the site of next Sunday's opener in the two-of-three game finals, with the two teams moving to Post the following Sabbath to wind up the playoffs.

Sundown rallied for five runs in the last three innings of Sunday's first game to gain a 10-7 verdict, then collapsed completely in the initial frame of the nightcap to bow out of the title picture.

In the opener, the visitors used four pitchers against the Millers, with Manager Baldy Joiner getting credit for the triumph. The turning point came in the seventh stanza when John Ethridge slammed a three-run homer that put Sundown ahead for keeps. Ethridge also had two other hits to become the game's outstanding batsman.

Lefty Toren opened Sundown's scoring with a bases-empty homer in the second, while Jack McKnight shared in batting honors for the winners with two safeties.

For Post, Jim Boyd and Dell Hester each hit two for three.

Big First For Post
Windle Greer went the route on the mound for Post, giving up 11 hits.

Post's big first frame told the story in the seven-inning finale. The Millers put together seven singles, three doubles, two walks and three Sundown errors for their 11 runs.

Sundown battled back gamely, scoring in each of the first five frames, but were never able to overcome the early deficit, despite two more home runs by Toren.

Altman Winning Pitcher
R. M. Thomas, with two doubles and two singles, Doug Simpson, with two singles and a double, and Walter B. Holland, with two doubles, paced the winners' 11-hit assault.

Ed Altman, the Millers' starting hurler, received credit for the win, although Greer relieved him in the fourth inning.

A crowd of 500 fans saw the twin bill.

Antelopes Fail To 'Stop Finley' Friday; Make Good Showing Despite Weather

Floydada's touchdown made in the last five minutes of the football game there last Friday night gave the Post Antelopes their first defeat of the 1949 season. Two thousand five hundred fans, including a number from Post, witnessed this exciting non-conference Class A game. The score was 13-6.

Post powered 78 yards in seven plays after the opening kickoff, with Jack Kirkpatrick plunging over from one yard out to score. Kirkpatrick's attempted placement was blocked by Reese Grubbs, outstanding tackle for the Floydada Whirlwinds.

In the second quarter, Floydada moved to the Post one. Fullback Wayne Robertson plunged over the goal line, fumbled and Post recovered for a touchback.

Floydada found the range late in the third quarter, and a drive that started at midfield ended in the fourth quarter when left half back Bob Finley scored from the one-yard line. Finley sparked the drive with his passing and running. He failed to make the extra point on a running attempt.

Forced To Kick
The final and winning touchdown came with five minutes remaining when Post was forced to kick. Finley gathered in the ball on the mid-field stripe. On the first play from scrimmage, Robertson started around right end, cut back over tackle and went all the way behind good downfield blocking. Finley kicked the point from placement.

Although the Whirlwind field was in good shape underfoot, wet grass made for a slick ball. Floydada fumbled six times and Post once. In the recovery, Post got five and Floydada two.

Finley punted three times for a sparkling 60-yard average and completed 8 of 16 passes that netted 100 yards. Post completed one of 10 passes for six yards, and each team intercepted once.

Game at a Glance

Somebody Erred
Antelope Coach V. F. Bingham pointed out to the Post Dispatch Saturday morning that the Lubbock Avalanche report of the game apparently was influenced by the football program which listed Post's heaviest boys in the starting line-up, as the Lubbock paper stated erroneously that the Antelopes held a 15-pound weight edge in the line.

The coach was at a loss to explain the reason for selecting Post's heaviest boys for the published line-up instead of the boys that he used. Here are examples of the discrepancies:

Jerry Odom, weight 130, started as left end; the football program listed Carroll Light, 160 for the position. Light did not even make the trip. Buddy Davis, 158, played the entire game, except for two downs, as left tackle. The program listed Billy Ross Sullivan, 195, as starting left tackle. Jack Schmidt, 130, started as left guard and played all but two downs. The Floydada program listed for this position Donald Jones, 170, who played only two downs during the game.

The coach said the Floydada line outweighed the Antelope line by 12 lb., and the Whirlwind backfield outweighed the Antelope backfield by 7 lb.

Bingham said he was well satisfied with the Antelopes, and they had nobody to blame but the weatherman for their defeat. The weather had prevented badly needed workouts during the earlier part of last week.

Antelopes Looked Good
The Post team, he said, really looked like a ball club when it drove 78 yards after the kickoff and made a touchdown in seven plays without losing the ball. He especially complimented the following boys:

Billy Lee Smith, center, who in two games has loomed up as the Antelope man of iron. He is the only Antelope center who has had experience, and he has played about 45 minutes in each of the two games.

Calvin Storie, guard, who was picked by the Amarillo Globe-news as the area's outstanding Class A lineman after the first week of the football season. Storie blocked three punts against Ralls and did an outstanding job against Floydada.

Gordon Carey, end, who among the Antelopes with little experience is developing into a good ball player.

Others who played well last Friday night included Jack Schmidt, guard; Buddy Davis, tackle; and Norman Cash and Billy Gwen Jones in the backfield.

Although the Antelopes have improved noticeably, the coach sees a weakness in the fact that there are no reserves. The boys who have to play the entire game get too tired.

Malouf And McGuire Spark H-SU Victory
Several local football fans went to Ranger last Thursday to see Junior Malouf and Charlie McGuire, former Post Antelope Stars, help the Hardin-Simmons freshmen defeat Ranger Junior College. They were Charles Probst, Jimmie Smith, R. E. Josey, Bobby Pennington and Marshall Gibson.

The fans reported that Malouf played all but three minutes of the game, carrying the pigskin 16 times, gaining from three to 27 yards on each try. McGuire was the sparkplug quarterback, playing every minute of the offensive game. He threw five forward passes, completing one for 40 yards and making the winning touchdown.

The next H-S-U freshman game will be Oct. 7 with the San Angelo Junior College, where another former Post Antelope Star, Roy Williams, is on the team.

Mrs. C. C. Strasser of O'Donnell is visiting in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Strasser. Mrs. Strasser is returning home after spending the summer in El Dorado, Ark.

Post Antelopes Work Hard To Correct Mistakes Before Meeting Seagraves

The Post Antelopes, after a week of correcting the mistakes made in last week's game with Floydada, are believed to be in good shape for the first conference game tomorrow night with Seagraves on the local gridiron.

Coach V. F. Bingham, who watched Seagraves defeat the Big Spring B team 24-0 Saturday night, told the Post Dispatch that Seagraves has 14 lettermen back this year. These include Bobby Dale, 165 lb. left halfback who does most of the scoring.

In the Big Spring game, Seagraves started 11 seniors, five of whom were two-year lettermen and six were one-year lettermen. The Seagraves eleven does not average more than the Antelopes in weight and the visitors will be more evenly balanced in weight than are the Antelopes.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week Coaches Bingham and Jess Wright gave the Antelopes an hour and a half daily drill in an effort to correct errors made last week and workout on defense plays, in addition to a full hour of scrimmage each day.

Yesterday the Antelopes had a regular two-hour workout, and this afternoon they were to limber up and polish plays for tomorrow night's game.

The probable starting line-up for Seagraves follows:

Southland Opens Season Tomorrow

Rest When You Feel Weary

At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. All things are delivered unto me of my Father; and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. MATTHEW 11: 25-30.

The agent will present demonstrations on tailoring to those who enroll in a class which will meet twice a week for as long as it takes to make a coat or a suit. At club meetings during the year, she will demonstrate pastry and quick breads, killing and dressing poultry, freezing meats and vegetables, meals "from the deep freeze to the table," and principles of table setting. Demonstrations already started in landscaping and bedroom improvement will be continued.

Her father, Howard Buster, and a brother, Howard Buster, Jr., preceded her in death.

Spare the Gas and Save the Child is Slogan for Safety

Texans were urged to "spare the gas and save the child!" in a statewide campaign launched this month by the Texas Safety Association against traffic accidents to school-age children.

"No matter how much safety education a child has had drilled into him, said George Clark, managing director, "the fact remains that it's largely up to the motorist whether the child lives or dies."

The association pointed out that home training and school safety lessons are extremely valuable in impressing youngsters with the dangers of playing in the street and crossing between intersections. But on the other hand, the association warns, a child in the heat of play forgets quickly and easily the lessons that he has learned, so the bulk of the responsibility falls upon the driver.

Clark told motorists they can save child lives by following these rules:

1. Reward every child on the street as a flashing "caution" sign.

2. In school zones, residential districts and near playgrounds, be especially watchful for children and expect the unexpected at all times.

3. Give bicycles a wide berth. Inexperienced, a poor sense of balance, holes in the road, or just sheer childish absent-mindedness can place the rider directly your path without warning.

4. In residential districts, particularly, be on the alert at drive ways and intersections for tricycle riders, skaters, scooter riders.

The Texas Safety Association is sponsoring the school safety campaign as part of a continuing traffic safety program in cooperation with the Texas Congress of Parent-Teachers and other groups.

It's Against The Law To Pass Cars In School Zones

Did you know that— It is against the law to pass a car in a school zone?

Deputy Sheriff V. A. Lobban said that apparently very few people know there is such a law. He asked that attention be called to the law, because the local sheriff's department intends to try to enforce it.

Aside from performing a duty of the department, Lobban said that he and Sheriff E. M. Bass believe that the performance of this duty might save the lives of some school children.

There is also some speeding in the school zones, he said. Until the highway department puts up proper markers on the highway in front of the high school building, the speed limit there is 30 miles an hour. If the highway markers are installed, the speed limit will be 15 miles an hour.

Most of the speeders, the deputy sheriff said, are people from out of town and many of them are from out of the state. "There isn't much we can do with these offenders, besides stop them and give them a warning. We feel this is worthwhile, because it might remind them to slow down in front of the next school building."

Deferred Grazing In Tall Grasses Advised

September and October is the time to defer grazing to improve tall grasses in shinnery and shallow hill range sites, local soil conservation office range technicians say. Little bluestem, sand bluestem, switch, and sand lovegrass are making seed now. By keeping livestock off these grasses now, the grass will improve in vigor and make a seed crop to thicken up the stand. A good thick growth of grass protects the soil from raindrop splash erosion. A district rancher said grass stayed green all last winter where it was protected by a large top growth.

Teachers Lounge Is Arranged At School

A teacher's lounge, the first in local grade school history, was arranged in the former lecture room of the grade school building this week.

Equipped with a blackboard, for writing announcements from the superintendent and principal, a cot, a work table and chairs, the room is now available for use as needed by the teachers. The high school has had such a room for a number of years.

Eddie and Jimmy Stallings of Lubbock spent the weekend here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stallings.

It Nearly Always
Rains a Lot Here
During September

The 42-year rain chart kept by the Double U. Co. official U. S. Weather Bureau representative, shows that September as a rule is the wettest month of the year.

The average September rainfall here for the 41-year period, 1910-1948 inclusive, is 2.31 inches and the rainfall so far this month is well above the average.

In only two of the 42 years it has failed to rain in September. No rain fell in September of 1928 and 1948, the two famous years for good football and poor crops.

The wettest September in the long history was in 1936, when 11.84 inches fell. Other years having average or better rainfall have been recorded, as follows:

1912 3.23 inches; 1915, 5.65 inches; 1917, 2.46 inches; 1919, 3.02 inches; 1920, 2.87 inches; 1921, 6.10 inches; 1923, 5.30 inches; 1924, 2.30 inches; 1925, 2.99 inches; 1926, 2.95 inches; 1927, 2.58 inches; 1929, 2.35 inches; 1932, 7.26 inches; 1935, 4.60 inches; 1941, 4.99 inches; 1942, 3.35 inches.

Although the rainfall this September is well above the September average and the total rainfall received to date in 1949 is well above the annual average of 20.43 inches, the weather

MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... It is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are no strangers and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organization in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

New Golf Course

(Continued From Front Page) his death, leased the land east of Post, which now includes the site of the local airstrip to the golf club, and this became the Post Country Club. Golfers from all over West Texas came here to enjoy the golf links.

The years that followed saw Post produce West Texas' most outstanding golfers, after whose retirement or moving away the Country Club finally suffered a depression-agitated demise.

Now a new generation of golfers has grown up and is eager to revive the golf course.

All plans were completed by press time except the selection of one of two immediately available sites for the course. More details will be announced next week.

First Grade Is Fun

(Continued From Front Page) which the objects should be colored, etc. They are drilled in the one-syllable word or words describing each picture, and then they start to work carrying out the teacher's directions in coloring the picture or using scissors and paste to make something artistic, useful or otherwise significant from the material on the page.

Small Group Taught While most of the children are following the above directions, the teacher is instructing a group of about four children at a time in the finer points of reading.

Reading, at first, is taught from a large book with only one word to the first page, two words to the second page, etc. Each page has a picture which is described. The words are those which the children have learned in other phases of the day's program.

Use is made of games in order to put into practice the knowledge that the children are getting through word and number drills. One game is "postoffice" in which the child goes to a six-year-old "postmaster" and asks for something addressed to "Jane" or "Dick". The child selects the name from a group of cards. If he makes a mistake, the children call his attention to it.

Charts Are Used Numbers are taught sometimes by use of a large chart from which the teacher can remove or add certain identical objects and the children can tell her "how many are left." The beginning charts contain groups of pictures which emphasize certain numbers.

Likenesses and differences are shown in pages of the children's first books. A whole page of pictures, for instance, will show only two identical objects which the child is required to find and identify. The children always look at the pictures in the book from left to right.

In the same book, the children will learn phonetics by picking out from the pictures "bell" and "shell", "clock" and "lock", "ring" and "king", etc. Objects, such as shells, which might not be familiar to the children, are displayed or otherwise explained. Exhibits in the first grade room range from rocks to goldfish, and are changed with the subject at hand.

In the drawing lessons, circles and squares are referred to as "balls" and "blocks" until the children have become familiar with the meaning of the words.

Child Learns Plenty By the end of the year, the average first grader has his own little reader, which he can take home to read and is able to read certain other elementary books that might be in his own library at home. He can count to 100 and he has learned to add small numbers. He can also spell and print the words that he can read.

He has done a lot of memory work and is able to tell stories, recite verses, dramatize stories and sing some songs. He knows the meaning of the flag and is aware of his responsibility as a small citizen of the school. Through the stories in his classwork, he also has learned the responsibilities of his parents and his responsibilities toward his parents, his home and his brothers and sisters.

He has learned to reproduce his drawings and writings on a hectograph, and he has seen much of his knowledge applied to real life through the help of school movies.

He has learned all of this casually, in classes that cannot be described by names remotely akin to Reading, Riting and Rithmetic.

Barton Family All Improving Nicely

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton and daughter, Helen, who have been in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital since Sept. 12 when they were injured in an automobile-butane truck collision near Southland, are improving in condition and hoping to return to their home this weekend.

Mrs. Barton's mother, Mrs. Mattie Dunlap said Tuesday that Mr. Barton is able to walk with the use of a cane, a cast was put on Mrs. Barton's broken leg that day and a brace was to be put on Helen's injured back this week.

Basinger Well Gets Pump At 3,547 Ft.

A pump was placed on the Herman R. Brown and George R. Brown of Houston No. 1 G. W. Basinger, slated 3,800-foot wildcat 11 miles northwest of Post last Friday after swabbing 40 barrels of oil and 18 barrels of sulphur water in 16 hours.

The section from 3,450 to 3,505 feet had been acidized with 1,000 gallons. Earlier, the test had been plugged back from 3,640 to 3,547 feet and four barrels of fluid hourly cut with 50 per cent oil had been swabbed.

Seaboard Oil Co. and Republic Natural Gas Co. No. 1 O. S. Ranch wildcat, 15 miles southeast of Post, by last weekend was drilling at 5,630 in lime and shale. It is projected to the Ellenburger.

TEACHERS TO MEET

The Garza County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association will meet at 8:00 o'clock next Thursday night at Post high school.

Owen Family Has Five Victims Of Polio This Year

Mrs. Bill Owen of McCamey, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Owen and daughter of Mrs. Boswell of Post, is the fifth member of the Owen family to contract polio this summer. Mrs. Owen, whose condition was not considered critical by press time, was admitted to a San Angelo hospital a week ago for treatment.

The first member of the family to take polio was the G. W. Owens' granddaughter, Shirley Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owen of Littlefield, who became ill early this summer but is now considered fully recovered.

About six weeks ago, Bill Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Owen, took polio and has been a patient in the San Angelo hospital. About a week later, his nephew, Harry Owen of McCamey took polio, then Harry's father, Elmer Owen was the next victim. These three have been released from the San Angelo treatments and are convalescing at the G. W. Owen home. Bill is confined to his bed, but Harry and Elmer were able to go to San Angelo yesterday for a check-up.

None of the five victims has paralysis.

D. W. White Barely Escapes Tragedy

D. W. White of the Garnolia community narrowly escaped being choked to death Monday at his home.

While he was working a hand electric drill, the drill got caught in his shirt tail and caused the shirt to become tightly twisted around his neck. Before he could be released from the shirt that was being twisted by the drill, it was reported that he choked "until blood ran from his mouth and eyes."

After being treated at the Post Clinic, he was taken to the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock for overnight observation. He returned home Tuesday and, by press time, was convalescing satisfactorily.

Waterworks Teacher Visits Local Plant

Johnny Wright of the Industrial Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College who is teaching a two-week waterworks course at Lubbock, spent Wednesday here inspecting the local waterworks and the new sewer plant.

The inspection was made in connection with Don Poole's participation in the course. Poole, a city waterworks employe, will take his examination for a C License at the short course Friday night.

The license, if granted, will be issued by the State Health Department.

Homer McCrary is having lots of inquiries about the Youngtown Kitchens which he is advertising in the Post Dispatch. The roomy 66" twin-bowl Kitchenaid cabinet sink with rinse spray and swinging faucet is shown in this week's ad. Only a small monthly payment makes your dream kitchen come true.

Don't forget the "Family Party" tonight at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Dowe Mayfield, Bill Basinger, Leonard Anderson, Stanley Butler, Jack Stark, Kenneth Barnard and Gordon Flowers, who keep things humming at the Post Truck and Tractor place, will be on hand to greet you. See you there!

Applications For Mexican Labor Should Be Filed

It was announced in Lubbock Tuesday that a representative of the U. S. Immigration Service will be assigned temporarily to the South Plains area to accept bonds from farmers who obtain cotton pickers from Mexico. The move, according to the Lubbock Journal yesterday is expected to save South Plains farmers many thousands of dollars as well as much time, as such farmers now have to travel to El Paso or Chihuahua City, Mexico, to sign such bonds.

Farmers wanting Mexicans to harvest their cotton should file their applications with the Texas Employment Commission without delay as it usually takes a minimum of three weeks from the time the application is filed to get labor. The closest area office, where applications may be filed, is 1114 Tenth Street, Lubbock.

These applications may be filed by a single farmer for his own needs, by a pool of farmers, or by ginners for the farmers they serve.

The action of the organic supplied by legumes when plowed under provides more water for following crops by increasing the water-holding capacity of the soil.

Courthouse Keeps Busy With Court

The September Term of District Court was opened Monday, and the following members of the Grand Jury were impaneled: Julius Fumagalli, foreman; Mike Custer, S. E. Camp, Truett Fry, R. A. Ethridge, L. G. Thuet, Jr., Henry Wheatley, C. E. Basinger, Jack Taylor, J. A. Propst, R. H. Tate and Oscar Graham.

In County Court last week, an indictment was returned against two defendants charged with burglary; two divorces were granted, and the following fines were assessed: three cases, possession of liquor for purpose of sale, two fines for $100 and costs each and one fine for $200 and costs, and one case, operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, $50 and costs and suspension of driver's license for six months.

Justiceburg Folk Win Damage Suit

A compromise agreement whereby plaintiffs receive $12,500 in damages was approved in Lubbock Tuesday afternoon by 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue in the case of Ray Melchor and others of Justiceburg against the United Geophysical Co.

The recovery was prorated between Melchor and his wife and four minor children, and to the plaintiffs' attorneys, the firm of Brummett and Brummett of Lubbock. A. W. Salyers was appointed guardian to represent the rights of the minors in the hearing.

The suit grew out of a June 19 accident 10 miles southeast of Post. A car driven by Oscar Baiderrama of Justiceburg and occupied by the plaintiffs was struck from the rear by a truck belonging to the geophysical company.

Eighteen-Year-Old Men Must Register

Attention has been called to the fact that Board No. 88 of the Selective Service, which serves Garza County, has moved its office from 1108 Fourteenth Street to Room 202 of the Federal Building in Lubbock.

Selective Service officials also issued the reminder that all men are required to register with Selective Service at the age of 18 years, within five days after the birthday.

The officials have emphasized that there apparently is a widespread belief that 18-year-olds no longer are required to register. This is erroneous.

BITS OF NEWS

The story of "Homer," the white pigeon which the Justiceburg school children "adopted" last year, was broadcast over KFDX, Wichita Falls, during the Tuesday noon news hour. The story was also carried in the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram. The Post Dispatch published the news after the pigeon showed up at the school for the new term.

Veterans Can Now Estimate Payment On War Insurance

An estimate as to how much money each veteran who applies for the special National Service Life Insurance dividend will get can be had from the following figures which were released this week by Jackie Weathers, Veterans Administration service officer for Lynn and Garza counties:

Dividend per $1,000 of insurance for each month the policy was in force prior to the anniversary date in 1948—Age at issue:

40 years and under, $55; 41 years, $52; 42, $49; 43, $56; 44, $43; 45, $40; 46, $37; 47, $34; 48, $31; 49, $28; 50, $25; 51, $24; 52, $23; 53, $22; 54, $21; 55 and over, $20.

The maximum amount that any veteran can receive will be $528. The dividend will be paid on both term and converted insurance policies and will be paid only for the period that the policy was in force prior to the policy anniversary date in 1948.

Applications must be filed before an eligible veteran can receive the payment. Also eligible are civilians who might have carried the same policy during the period covered in the dividend. Payments will not start until Jan. 1950.

A total of nearly $16,000,000 will be paid to the persons eligible for the dividend.

Supervisor To Be Elected For Soil Saving District

The present supervisor is Will Wright whose term is about to expire. The elected supervisor, who will serve five years, will supervise the spending of Garza County's share of the money appropriated by the Texas legislature this year.

The Garza County Agricultural and Home Demonstration agents are assisting in publicizing this election so that a large number of Garza County farm men and women will be present.

Candidates will be nominated from the floor at the meeting. The evening's program also will include the showing of a movie, "Men Who Grow Cotton."
