Thirtieth Year

Pre-Registration Is Set By High School

Advance registration for Post High School students will begin Monday morning and continue through Thursday, Principal Glenn Whittenberg announced Tuesday.

Meanwhile, other details were being worked out for opening of the 1956-57 term on Tuesday, Sept. 4, with recent developments including confirmation by the board of trustees of the employment of the Rev. Raul Solis as teacher of Spanish.

The Negro school opened Monday with a first-day enrollment of 34 and a second day enrollment of 38, Supt. R. K. Green announced.

In announcing the advance registration schedule for Post High School, Whittenberg said: "So that we may have time to counsel with students and help them select courses that they need, we are dividing the day into two parts."

"Students whose family name starts with letters of the alphabet from A through H will be registered in the mornings and those from I through Z in the afternoon. Morning registration will begin at 9 o'clock and afternoon registration at 2 o'clock."

The principal said seniors will register on Monday, juniors on Tuesday, sophomores on Wednesday and freshmen on Thursday.

There will be no advance registration in the junior high and elementary schools. Students will be registered the morning of the first day of school.

Employment of Solis as teacher of Spanish, which is a new high school course, leaves only two faculty vacancies, Green said Tuesday. Still needed are a high school English teacher and a language arts teacher in the junior high school.

Solis, who is pastor of the Mexican Baptist Church, has been a resident of Post for three years. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Howard Payne College in 1948, majoring in Bible and minoring in church music. His home town is San Antonio. He was pastor of a Baptist church at O'Brien before moving to Post.

Another new high school course being offered this year is speech, which will be taught by Mrs. Betty Scott.

Supt. Green said Tuesday that enrollment at the Negro school is down considerably from what it will be at its peak. Many families with school-age children are out of town working as transient farm laborers, he explained.

The 12th grade is being taught for the first time this year at the Negro school. Three senior students were enrolled the first day and two more are expected. Two students are enrolled in the 11th grade, four in the 10th grade and one in the 9th.

Southland Schools Open On Sept. 3

Southland Public Schools will open Monday, Sept. 3, with registration and a brief assembly program, Supt. F. W. Callaway announced. Classwork will begin Tuesday morning.

This year's faculty includes two new teachers, Mrs. Peggy Wheeler, second and third grades, and Mrs. Buddy Hall, sixth and seventh grades. Others are: Mrs. Lemmie Swindle, first grade; Mrs. Dixie Roberts, fourth and fifth grades; Jesse Swindle, commercial subjects; Mrs. Irene Kuyken. See SOUTHLAND, Page 5

$100,500 Damages Action Is Filed

A suit for more than $100,000 in damages was filed in Lubbock last Thursday in Judge Robert H. Bean's 140th District Court as an outgrowth of a fatal automobile collision March 16 in which a former Post resident was killed. Dennis Ross Herman, for himself and in behalf of his minor daughter, Linda Gall, and Mrs. Bertha Hill of Post are seeking judgment totaling $100,500.25 against William O. Geste Jr. of Lubbock.

The suit arises from the death of Dolores Dean Herman, wife of Herman and daughter of Mrs. Hill, who suffered fatal injuries in a collision of her car and a pickup truck driven by Geste.

Garza Gold Star Girl For '56 Selected

Linda Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Livingston, was selected Friday as Garza County's 1956 Gold Star Girl by a committee of judges.

Miss Livingston, a member of the Post Senior 4-H Club, won the Gold Star Girl honors over four other candidates, who were: Ruth Ann Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long; Patricia Wheatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheatley; Jessie Carolyn Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ward, and Karen McGehee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGehee.

Miss Livingston, a junior student in Post High School, was first place winner in this year's county 4-H Club Dress Revue and is to compete in the District 2 Dress Revue in Lubbock.

Miss Jessie Pearce, county home demonstration agent, said Miss Livingston has been outstanding in clothing and food preparation projects in her club work.

Judges selecting the Gold Star Girl were Mrs. Avery Moore Jr., Mrs. Bernie Jones and Miss Sue Stephens.

Plans Progress For 'Hospitality Days'

Final plans for the Sept. 6 opener of a series of "Hospitality Days" being sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce will be made at a directors' meeting Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 4, Mrs. Fritz Greenfield, secretary, announced.

Seventy-nine business firms are cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in holding the weekly Hospitality Days program here as a trade stimulant.

There will be a total of 16 Hospitality Days from Sept. 6 until Jan. 1, 1957, with each program held on Thursday afternoon, with the exception of Thanksgiving Day.

The program will consist of drawings for merchandise coupons from among the 79 business firms, with the time of each drawing set for 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

District Caucus Of Delegates Is Held

N. C. Outlaw, Garza County delegate to the State Democratic Convention, accompanied by Mrs. Outlaw, attended a senatorial district caucus of delegates in Sweetwater Monday night.

The caucus laid plans for the state convention and elected a steering committee composed of Outlaw, Ed Connolly of Abilene, Bob Faver and Ocie Hunt of Sweetwater, Johnny Ammons and Justin Morrow of Rotan, Bob Patterson of Snyder and Bernard Buie of Stamford.

This steering committee, Outlaw said, will be the advance guard in Fort Worth and they are due to arrive there on Thursday before the convention on Sept. 11 and become a part of the state-wide committee.

The caucus adopted a resolution calling on whoever may be elected governor to accept the nominations of the senatorial districts for state executive committees and committeewomen.

"The caucus was unanimous in its endorsement of the candidacy of Ralph Yarborough for governor," Outlaw said.

First Brakes Bale Ginned Wednesday

Planter's Gin turned out its first 1956 bale of brakes cotton early Wednesday afternoon, and efforts were being made to determine if it is the first brakes bale ginned in the county. If it is, owner Walter Boren will receive a $50 premium from the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Last week, the Chamber of Commerce paid $50 to Joe Moore, grower of the first 1956 bale of plains cotton.

The finished bale from Boren's cotton, which was gathered from his dryland farm near Justiceburg, weighed 645 pounds. The load of seed cotton weighed 2,630 pounds, with 900 pounds of seed being left after the bale was ginned.

"I've seen lots of 'Siamese twin' cantaloupes, joined at the stem and at the bottom, were brought to The Dispatch office last week by J. M. Bush, who farms eight miles west of Post.

Bush, who said he has been growing cantaloupes for "more years than he can remember," said it was the first time he had seen cantaloupes joined in such a manner.

"I've seen lots of 'Siamese twin' cucumbers, but not cantaloupes," he said.

The joined melons were of average size and normal in color and texture.

Heavy Vote Is Expected Here In Saturday Runoff Election

Garza County voters will go to the polls Saturday to choose between candidates for governor, attorney general, county sheriff, county tax assessor-collector and Precinct 1 county commissioner in the Democratic runoff primary.

Interest in all five races on the county ballot has increased here within the past few days, with

ELECTION RETURNS

The election board will go up again Saturday in front of Greenfield Hardware, 112 East Main Street, and returns will be posted on it as they come in. The polls are to close at 7 p. m. and the first returns are expected to be on the board shortly afterward. The section in front of the store will be roped off for the election night crowd.

the result that one of the largest runoff election votes in the county's history is anticipated by many observers.

Absentee voting through the Tuesday deadline totaled 80, with some mail ballots yet to be received, whereas only 82 votes were cast in the July 25 primary.

Mrs. Faye Cokrell, deputy in the county clerk's office, said that 55 had voted in person, 14 ballots cast by physically disabled voters had been returned, and 11 mail ballots received. Since 27 ballots were mailed, others are expected and will be counted if they bear a postmark prior to Tuesday midnight.

Members of the Amity Study Club took absentee ballots to the physically disabled voters, as they did during absentee voting for the first primary.

Much of the interest here centers on the race for governor between Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough. In the first primary, Daniel carried Garza County with 536 votes. Yarborough, who carried the county in the 1954 first primary, ran third this year with 287 votes.

The other state race, that for attorney general, is between Tom Moore and Will Wilson. Wilson polled 693 votes here in the first primary to 357 for Moore.

All three county races are generating interest. In the race for sheriff, Carl Rains, seeking re-election, is opposed by Odean Cummings. In the first primary, Rains received 750 votes to 461 for his opponent.

Percy Printz and T. H. (Talmage) Tipton are opponents in the race for the newly-created office of tax assessor-collector, which was sought by seven candidates in the first primary. Tipton led with 407 votes and Printz was second with 266.

B. F. (Boone) Evans, seeking re-election as Precinct 1 county commissioner, is opposed by Racy Robinson. They were the two top men in a field of five in the first primary. Evans received 304 of the votes cast, and Robinson getting 192.

A total of 1,532 votes were cast in the first primary in the following voting boxes: North Post, South Post, Close City, Pleasant Valley, Southland, Graham Chapel, Two Draw, Verbena, Justiceburg and absentee.

Strawn Strike Has Flowing Potential Of 326 Barrels

Flowing potential of 326 barrels of oil and no water has been established by Neville G. Penrose and R. S. Anderson, Fort Worth, for their new Garza County discovery, the No. 1-X Miller, two and one-half miles southwest of Justiceburg.

Potential flow was through three-eighths-inch choke and casing perforations opposite the Middle Strawn from 7,616 to 7,824 feet. Flowing tubing pressure was 175 pounds, packer on casing, with gas-oil ratio of 600-1 and oil gravity of 37 degrees. Completion was natural.

Hole was plugged back to 7,970 feet for completion after unsuccessful tests of the Ellenburger to total depth of 8,076 feet. Hole was cased to 8,020 feet with seven-inch.

Discovery site is 660 feet from north and west lines of Section 29, Block 6, H&GN Survey. On an 80-acre lease, it is three miles west of the Tope-Wolfcamp and Penn field.

Crosbyton Site Of White River Meet

The forthcoming hearing before the State Board of Water Engineers, a bonding contract, and other business were discussed last Thursday evening at a meeting of the White River Municipal Authority Committee and city councils of Post, Spur, Crosbyton and Ralls, with Crosbyton as the host city.

Those present at the meeting included Millard Parkhurst of Dallas, who has been retained as legal counsel by the committee and will represent it at the Sept. 10 hearing before the State Board of Water Engineers. At that time, the board will act on petitions asking that the White River Control and Improvement District be created.

Also present were representatives of five bonding companies. A committee of M. A. McLaughlin of Ralls, R. J. Jennings of Post, Robert Work of Crosbyton and Lynn Buzbee of Spur was appointed for the purpose of conducting further investigations before a bonding contract is signed.

Those from Post who attended the meeting were Tom W. Bouchier, chairman of the WRMA Committee. See WATER MEET, Page 8

September Vote Is Scheduled By ASC

Garza County ASC community committees will be elected by mail in September. Emmarie I. Hartzel, manager of the county ASC office, announces.

Each eligible voter in the county receiving a ballot will be asked to mark it and return it to the ASC office in Post not later than Sept. 20.

Community elections boards in each of the three communities in Garza County have selected a slate of 10 nominees from among farmers residing within the community. Five committeemen are to be elected in each community.

The community election boards were appointed by the county election board, which is comprised of a member from each of the major farm organizations, with the county agricultural agent serving as chairman.

Of the 10 nominees for community committeemen in each community, five are to be elected. The one receiving the highest number of votes will serve as chairman of his community committee and as delegate to the county convention. The nominee receiving the next highest vote will be vice chairman, and so on, through regular member and first and second alternates.

At the county convention, the delegates from each community will meet to elect the 1957 ASC county committee.

New Pay Opener Is Northeast Of Post

Completed this week as a small Glorieta discovery in north-central Garza County is Ashmun and Hilliard Ltd.'s No. 1 Ralph Welch.

Producing from perforations between 3,143 and 3,150 feet, the well pumped 35 barrels of oil per day on official potential test. Exposed pay interval was treated with 5,000 gallons of regular acid prior to completion.

The new pay opener is 11 miles northeast of Post on an 80-acre lease. It is seven and one-half miles southeast of comparable production in the Sims-Glorieta field, and a 330-foot location from north and east lines of Section 13, Block 4, K. Aycock Survey.

In other county oil activity this week, Anderson-Prichard No. 1 Parks, five miles southwest of Justiceburg, is drilling at 6,238 feet.

Alamo Corp. has cut 185 feet of core at its development in the Garza-Glorieta field two miles northwest of Post, the No. 1-G Kuykendall "A".

Cored interval was in the Glorieta from 3,680 to 3,865 feet. Pay shows were uncovered from 3,740 to 3,755 feet, from 3,808 to 3,818 feet and from 3,827 to 3,831 feet. Operator was waiting on cable tool to complete at last report. The well is reportedly running about 10 feet low to reference well.

By CHARLES DIDWAY

ALTHOUGH WE'VE NEVER met any of them personally, we feel we're pretty well acquainted with some of the Democratic bigwigs after watching most of last week's convention on television.

WE SAW SO much of Sam Rayburn that we believe we could spot him at a masquerade party. Several years ago, we shook hands with Harry S. Truman at a press conference in Lubbock, but he was only a senator then, and, as we look back on it now, it wasn't as much of a thrill as seeing him on TV—along with Bess and her colored glasses.

WE ALSO FEEL, after watching the goings-on, that we have at least an electronics acquaintanceship with Adlai, Estes, Eleanor, Bob Kerr, Frank Clement and a number of others. We're looking forward this week to getting on TV terms with Ike, Dick Nixon, Harold Stassen and some of the other Republican big shots—if our picture tube holds out.

THE NIGHT THEY had the roll call of states for the presidential nomination happened to be the night our wife picked for a few housecleaning chores, including taking down, cleaning and re-hanging the curtains in the living room, which also houses the television set.

WE WOULDN'T HAVE minded so much except for the fact that the roll call is always the most interesting part of such a convention and it was what we'd been waiting for. But the fuss going on at the convention seemed big enough without raising one in our living room, which isn't quite as large as the Chicago amphitheatre, so we just sat back and listened to the proceedings in between hammer bangs, falling curtains and related noises.

THE ONLY TIME we raised a howl was when we got up to get a drink of water and suddenly heard a vacuum sweeper start whining. "For Pete's sake," we yelled, "surely you aren't going to start that thing at this time of night!" Imagine how foolish we felt when we walked back into the living room and saw that the vacuum sweeper was one being demonstrated by Betty Furness for Westinghouse. We'll probably never hear the last of it.

WELL, LET'S NOT blame nature for all the hot air this year; there have been a lot of political speeches and there still are a lot to come.

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

'16 Tons' Best-Selling Record Because It Represents Feeling Of Millions In Debt

BABSON PARK, Mass.—My grandson, Roger Babson Webber, is much interested in the study and relationship of future consumer purchasing to the books which people now read, the phonograph records they now buy, and the movies they now attend. He feels that these may be good barometers of future business changes. Recently he has been calling to my attention that a best-selling record has been the song "SIXTEEN TONS."

The "Sixteen Ton" Story

This is a song of a man working in the mines, whose job was to dig sixteen tons of "number nine coal" every day and who bought all his supplies at the company store. Although he worked for years, he never could get out of debt. Having been taught that all debts should be paid, he prayed to St. Peter to give him more time before "calling me home." My grandson feels that one reason this record has had such a big sale is that it represents the feelings of millions of consumers who are heavily in debt to some store.

Of course, consumers have a perfect moral right to borrow in order to enjoy automobiles, refrigerators, radios, and probably television sets. There is no moral reason why a working man should not be entitled to use credit—as well as his employer—even though this is a custom which did not prevail fifty years ago. Probably modern advertising has been the force to bring about this change; now even conservative banks, which scorned such consumer borrowing a few years ago, are soliciting it.

Most Merchants Must Give Credit

The "Five and Ten-Cent" variety stores have built up a huge business on an all cash, no delivery, and now self-service basis. There will always be a field for such stores, but to operate successfully, they must get the benefit of huge buying power through large chains. A great many consumers, however, demand credit, delivery, and more personal attention. Naturally, they must pay for these privileges, and if the local merchant doesn't grant them it is very difficult for him to continue in business. Also I understand that selling on installment tends to bring the customer back to the store every month, thus stimulating further sales.

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT

The power and importance of the individual voter will be demonstrated again in Saturday's runoff election. The political future of the candidates may be determined on that day by a mere handful of votes or by a sizable majority. No one will know until the votes have been counted. Close elections, however, seem to be in season this year in the primaries.

The individual voter is the king or queen in the primary. He or she can speak or abdicate, and staying away from the polls means giving up the right even to complain about "the bosses" or "the machine" or the way things are run.

Primary election days are real "independence days" for the electorate. This is the time when the people have a real choice about who is picked—to endorse or reject the candidates recommended by the party organizations.

The broader aspect of voting is perhaps best summed up by John C. Cornelius, president of the American Heritage Foundation, when he says:

"All of us believe that intelligent voting is a basic act of citizenship.

"It performs two tasks.

"At home, it preserves the democracy whose benefits we all enjoy. Abroad, by the message of hope it carries from free men, it strengthens the cause of freedom the world over."

The act of merely marching to the polls to cast a vote, however, is not the zenith of civic achievement. What is sought is informed voting in which candidates and the issues receive thought and consideration by the ballot caster. The alert citizen who casts his one well-considered vote at the polls on Primary Day is the one who provides an everlasting echo of strength to the principle—government by the people.

So, informed voters, join your neighbors at the polls and enjoy the sacred privilege and rewarding experience of casting a secret ballot in a free election. Millions of people elsewhere in the world would love to have your privilege.

See you at the polls!

According to recent figures, in 1929 the average American paid in taxes one day's labor out of each ten days for the support of his government. Today the average American pays in taxes one day's labor out of every four for the support of his government.—Unionville, Mo., Republican.

about 30 years, came in to have the paper sent to his sister in Prichard, Ala. He said she'd never lived here, but that he knew she'd like to read The Post Dispatch every week.

A DAY OR TWO later, Jewell Parsons called to have the paper sent to R. C. Parsons in Barnett, Mo. Jewell said she'd been mailing him a copy of the paper every week for the last three years, but had come to the conclusion that it'd be more convenient for us to do it.

AND, WHILE CHECKING the card files to see if a certain subscriber's time had run out, we noticed that a copy of the paper goes every week to Zigzag, Oregon. Our Zigzag subscriber is E. C. Woodard.

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD watching television suddenly turned the set off. When asked why, she explained: "I have to go to the bathroom and I don't want to miss anything."

PARTING THOUGHT: One way to get the Russians to smoke the peace pipe would be to let them think they invented tobacco.

Consumers Make Business Conditions

Business conditions are not determined by bankers or politicians or even by the leaders in your community. Now, my grandson's important question today is whether consumers are getting tired and want to rest, or whether they are still determined to "keep up with the Joneses." Probably almost every reader of this paper is anxious to do both, and for a time this will continue to be possible, with a further increase in retail sales. If, however, the tide changes and retail sales fall off, the retailer will buy less from the manufacturer, the manufacturer will reduce the number of his employees, and the purchasing power of the country will decline. This could develop into a very serious vicious circle.

I see no sign of this at the present time. In fact, if it should come now, Congress would take immediate steps to check it. Probably the proposed tremendous new road-building campaign is partly to insure continued prosperity, in case there should be a severe slackening in installment sales, new building, and the automobile industry.

What Shall We All Do?

We should not suddenly abandon installment purchases. But we all—whether merchants or consumers—should avoid getting into the pessimistic mood of the poor fellow digging the "sixteen tons of number nine coal." Certainly our appropriation for advertising should continue, as advertising is the life blood of business. On the other hand, it may be wise for consumers to avoid further debt and for merchants to put more emphasis on cash transactions.

I have often suggested to merchants that they have a price differential between cash and installment sales, but they tell me this is practically impossible. It seems, however, that the merchants' associations could prevent the situation from becoming worse. In the meantime, I throw out the question of what would happen to retail trade, general employment, and our present prosperity if fifty per cent of the families should suddenly get discouraged like our "sixteen ton" friend, and stop buying on installments altogether. Or, what would happen if the banks and merchants started to repossess automobiles, refrigerators, television sets, and other things?

Getting Out On The Limb

By EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: A lot of people never get interested in a thing until they find out that it's none of their business.

Chicago is called the "windy city." If any of us needed positive proof, we should have found it by turning on our television sets or radios last week.

SOONER OR LATER a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul, that he should let some unimportant things go over his head.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that back-passing turns out to be a boomerang.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order, because experience has shown that if he always gives his best his average will break pretty well.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through effort we move on to better things.

He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns that folks are not any harder to get along with in one place than another, and that the "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on his own behavior.

The lady became indignant when the laundry shrunk some of her unmentionables, so she sent a large railroad spike and tied a tag to it with this inscription: "Try to shrink this."

The laundry, refusing to be outdone, returned a small carpet tack with a tag that read: "Look, we did it!"

Have you heard about the Texas tycoon who rushed into the airport and said, "Gimme a ticket."

"Where to, sir?" asked the attendant.

"Anywhere, son," boomed the Texan. "I got business all over."

The way of the transgressor may be hard—but it isn't lonely.

SINCE THE FIRST primary vote fell a little below that of the previous election year, some political observers are predicting that Garza County's vote in Saturday's runoff primary will also be light. While I lay no claim to being a political observer, I don't go along with them. In addition to the heated governor's race between Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough, there are two important county races at stake.

In one of these county races, the incumbent Carl Rains is opposed by Odean Cummings. The other race is for a new county office, that of tax assessor and collector, in which Percy Printz and T. H. (Talmage) Tipton are the opposing candidates.

In the first primary election, 1,562 voters went to the polls, which wasn't too far off in relation to the number of eligible voters in the county. Believe it or not, there may be more votes cast in Saturday's runoff election.

For the first time in six years, there are county races to be decided in the runoff election. The last time candidates for county office were voted on county-wide in a runoff election was in 1950, when H. M. Snowden defeated J. Lee Bowen in the race for county judge, and Carl Rains beat Nathan Mears in the race for sheriff and tax assessor-collector.

In 1952, there were runoff contests in the races for county commissioners of Precincts 1 and 4, but two years ago, in 1954, there weren't even any precinct races contested in the second primary. However, the heated gubernatorial race between Allan Shivers and Yarborough pulled 1,310 voters to the runoff polls that year.

Back in 1950, when there were contests for county judge and sheriff, tax assessor-collector, a near-record runoff vote of 1,696 was cast.

Two years earlier, in 1948, approximately 1,400 votes were cast in the second primary. The only county-wide race that year was for the office of sheriff and tax assessor-collector. An oddity of the 1948 runoff election was the tie—520 votes each—between Boone Evans and Ernest Henderson in the race for Precinct 1 county commissioner. Henderson won the office on the flip of a coin, with Evans coming back to beat him two years later.

One of the lightest, if not the lightest, runoff election votes ever tabulated in the county was only 988 voters trekked to the polls. The only runoff race of local interest was between Joe S. Moss of Post and Ernest Northcutt of Amarillo for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. Joe, now an assistant in the Harris County attorney's office in Houston, defeated Northcutt, 795 to 147, in Garza County, but fell behind elsewhere to lose out to the incumbent.

In other words, there probably is more interest locally in this

THE AMERICAN WAY

A Most Sensible Question

Our Contemporaries Are Saying . . .

No Place To Go

Whatever else one may say for Adlai Stevenson, he has courage. When he urged the Democrats to write an unequivocal support for the Supreme Court's segregation ruling into the party's platform, he must have known it would cost him the vote of the South in his bid for the presidential slot on the Democratic ticket. It is disturbing that one man's determination to abide by the supreme law of the land could brand him a criminal. We always thought the criminal was the person who defied the law. Personally, we don't think Stevenson lost a thing by being honest and asking the party to abide by the law. The Democrats are not going to win in November anyway, and the Republican party is also dedicated to abolishing segregation in public schools, and that leaves the South with absolutely no place to go, politically. Maybe the South will join the union some day, but certainly not in our lifetime.—"It Sez Here" in The Rails Banner.

Artificial Satellites

Many thanks to the local representative, whoever he or she may be, of the National Society for the Advancement of Space Travel year's runoff primary than there has been since 1950. It should pull a good vote.

for leaving the highly interesting information about the Society under the office door. We wonder if the local representative's interest was purely didactic or if he was hinting maybe we should take a trip to the moon? At any rate, for the edification of our readers, we will say that the article stated that the Society's chairman, a gentleman with the earthbound name of Rinehart S. Potts, says that the proposed earth satellite project "is the first in a long series of projects which will eventually take us to the planets," and that we ought to share information about the satellite with Russia. Personally, we think the Russians are having enough trouble with the satellites they have now without being pestered with any artificial ones.—"Main Street" in The Lorenzo Tribune.

Impact Of Television

Impact of television on the way of life in America is still to be gauged fully. Development of the industry up to the time of the national conventions four years ago made it plain that the parties henceforth must arrange their timing on the convention floor so as to get and hold the attention of the television audiences in the American homes.—"Views and Comment" in The Floyd County Hesperian.

PCG Working To Get 'Lost' Cotton Acreage Restored

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., organized early this year to represent cotton producers, ginners and others in the cotton industry in this area, will stage an all-out fight to regain cotton acreage lost to Central and East Texas last year, officers of the organization have announced.

In a brief to the state committee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the organization has pointed out a number of pertinent facts regarding West Texas cotton production. The number of bales produced in West Texas has increased from 83,585 in 1924 to 897,841 in 1954, and now is 26.1 per cent of the entire state yield.

In 1956 the nation received an average acreage reduction of 3.9 per cent. The Department of Agriculture, recognizing the national trend westward, gave Texas only a 2.7 per cent cut; yet the state committee did not recognize trends within the state and gave West Texas a 7.0 per cent cut, while giving East Texas a 7.0 gain.

West Texas last year lost 191,000 legally earned acres because of the state committee's refusal to observe these trends. In addition, 134,000 acres were granted to farms of 15-25 acres as hardships, most of which went to East Texas.

"We believe the most equitable method of allotting acres is by five-year history," the PCG urged. "Those who plant their acreage earn this history and should retain it. Those who do not plant for reasons within their control, lose their history as the law provides. If they do not plant for reasons beyond their control they are protected by the 'adverse conditions at planting' clause."

In a letter to the Secretary of Agriculture, the PCG makes three recommendations regarding the Texas allotments:

1. Limit the state committee to a maximum of 2.0 per cent of the total state allotment for use in all categories except that of small farms.
2. Limit the state committee to only 2.25 per cent of the total state allotment for small farm adjustments.
3. Appoint a West Texas cotton producer on the state committee, as this area does not now have representation by a cotton producer.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I hold a Korean GI term insurance policy. Do I have the right to convert to a permanent plan? I am not a disabled veteran.

A. No. Under the law, Korean GI term insurance policies may not be converted to permanent plans of insurance. Service-disabled Korea veterans, however, may obtain permanent forms of GI insurance.

Q. My father died in military service, and I am eligible for training under the new education program for children of deceased veterans. May I take my training on-the-job?

A. No. The law prohibits on-the-job training. Your training must be taken in the classroom.

Q. I am a totally disabled veteran drawing a monthly pension from VA. My GI endowment insurance policy has just matured, so I receive a small sum each month. Are these insurance proceeds considered income, for pension purposes?

A. No. Proceeds of matured GI endowment policies are not considered as income for pension purposes.

Q. I am attending graduate school under the Korean GI Bill. What is considered full-time employment?

A. VA will accept the word of a responsible official of the school as to whether you are taking full-time training, so long as you are a resident student. Courses pursued in absentia, however, will be considered as less than half-time.

AMENDMENTS SIGNED INTO LAW BY PRESIDENT

Women To Receive Social Security Benefits At Age 62 Instead Of 65

Monthly benefits for women at age 62 instead of 65, beginning with September, 1956, for disabled workers at age 50, beginning July, 1957; benefits for children age 18 or over who were disabled before they reached 18, were added to the old-age and survivors insurance program when the 1956 Social Security Amendments were signed into law by President Eisenhower, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock district office of the Social Security Administration.

Under the amended law, according to Hutton, working women, wives of men receiving old-age insurance payments, and the widows of insured workers can start getting monthly benefits at age 62.

Working women and wives who apply before age 65 will receive benefits at reduced rates, on a sliding scale. Benefits for widows, based on their husband's earnings, will not be reduced.

Payment for women who are already 62 and who qualify under the amendments can begin with the November benefit checks, due early in December. Hutton added. Applications must be made for these benefits; however, there will be no loss of benefits to women first eligible in November, 1956, who apply before December, 1957.

Hutton stated that his office would not be ready to accept applications for these new benefits for a few weeks.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be at the district courtroom in Post at 1 p. m. this Thursday to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

The outlook for the use of cotton in this country may be close to that used during 1955-56 and a substantial rise in exports is expected this year.

Exports during 1956-57 will be at least double the low of 2,100,000 bales currently estimated for 1955-56. Stocks of cotton abroad are low and the CCC already has sold about 2,900,000 bales for export under the 1956-57 export program.

Most of this cotton has been sold at prices equivalent to 25 and 26 cents per pound for middling 15-16 inch at average location. This compares with the 1956 minimum support level of 31.10 cents and a support level of 33.50 cents for 1955 crop cotton.

Some decline in mill activity is indicated by the increase during the past few months in the ratio of mill stocks of broad woven goods to unfilled orders for these fabrics. However, any decline in consumption probably will be relatively small because consumer income is likely to continue at a high level and the support prices for cotton from the 1956 crop are lower than they were for the 1955 crop.

Carryover of cotton into the 1956-57 marketing year is expected to total about 14,600,000 bales, 3,400,000 more than on Aug. 1, 1955. The CCC will probably hold less than 10,000,000 bales.

Consumption of cotton by domestic mills from Aug. 1, 1955, through June 30 totaled about 8,598,000,000 bales. This compares with about 8,276,000 during approximately the same period a year earlier. The average consumption per working day during June 1956 was about 32,500 bales, approximately 1,500 less than during June 1955.

Exports from the United States from Aug. 1, 1955, through May 1956 were about 1,842,000 running bales. This compares with approximately 3,107,000 bales in the same period last year.

The amount of cotton financed by the U. S. Government in the 1955-56 fiscal year was about 1,800,000 bales, and this compares with about 1,500,000 bales in 1954-55.

The average price for cotton at the 14 spot markets remained at about 35.50 cents per pound for middling 15-16 inch, from March through June. It began to decline in July and on July 30 the average was 34.05 cents per pound.

'SLOW DOWN AND LIVE' SHERIFF ADVISES

Share The Road If You Want To Stay Safe, Motorists Warned

"Don't be a traffic misfit—the fellow who's out of step is out of luck!"

That warning was given to motorists today by Sheriff Carl Raina as he discussed the Share the Road program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the Slow Down and Live program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"Safety on the highway depends to a great extent on the smooth, even flow of traffic," the sheriff said. "Whenever you interrupt this flow, you're in trouble—and so are the drivers around you. Here are a few examples of stunts that will foul up traffic in a hurry."

"Stopping suddenly can cause an aggravating pile-up of the cars behind you. Making a turn from the wrong lane is sure to jam things up in the lane you barge into. Hugging the bumper of the car ahead makes you a sitting duck for a serious accident if the fellow in front stops suddenly."

"Speed is another thing that must be adjusted to the traffic flow," he said.

"If you go barreling down the road faster than the drivers around you, you're likely to tangle with them," he said. "But it's not safe to drive too slow, either. You can throw a monkey wrench into the traffic pattern if you force every other car on the road to take chances getting around you."

He advised motorists to drive at a rate of speed that fits in smoothly with the speed of the cars around them. He said this is especially important when driving on superhighways, where higher speed gives the driver less time to think in an emergency situation, and increases the severity of any accident he may have.

"Remember, you're not alone on the highway," the sheriff said. "Share the road if you want to stay safe."

POLLEN COUNTS LOW IN WEST TEXAS TOWNS

Hay Fever Season Is Year-Around Affair In Texas, Says Health Man

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Hay fever season is a year-around affair in Texas.

The reason behind this sad state of affairs, says the Department of Health, is Texas' wide range of climatic and soil conditions which produce an assortment of offending flora—trees and shrubs and grasses.

Ragweed pollen is still the biggest enemy of the watery-eyed set, Department officials say, but mountain cedar, scrub elm, and a variety of other plants and shrubs also cause their share of sneezing misery.

There are some bright spots in Texas, though. Department hygienists say pollen counts in El Paso, Amarillo, and other West Texas towns have been "amazingly low."

From midwinter until early spring, susceptible people from Dallas southward will be affected by the pollen of cedar, a profusely growing tree with a bad habit of pollinating in late autumn and winter rather than in spring.

Fall hay fever sufferers probably have the scrub elm to blame for their troubles. A late summer and autumn pollinator, the elm is common over most of the state, but is particularly profuse in the bottomlands of the Guadalupe and Trinity Rivers. The mesquite, a member of the legume family, causes "minor" allergic trouble in West Texas during May, June, and July.

Grass hay fever is possible throughout spring, summer, and fall over most of Texas, and in the winter in the Rio Grande Valley. Bermuda grass is the chief offender. Rhodes grass is a "potential" hay fever grass in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Ragweed pollen is almost as abundant at Dallas and Houston as in the north central states. It is a serious problem as far west as San Antonio and all along the Gulf Coast to Brownsville.

In Brownsville, the ragweed season begins in June or July. The source of the pollen has never been positively determined. Along the rest of the coast, ragweed pollination does not begin before September, a full month later than in the north-central states. Pollination continues into November all along the Gulf.

In arid parts of Central and West Texas, Russian thistle is a leading cause of inhalant allergy. Other local causes are sugar beets and Palmer's amaranth. Sage pollen is a potential factor in West Texas, but information on distribution is not available. Sand sagebrush, a dominant native plant in the Panhandle, is suspect as a troublemaker.

How do you get relief from hay fever? A sea voyage during "your" season would do it. So would staying in an air filtered room. But since neither action is practical, check with your doctor about a series of "pollen extract" shots.

Bulletin On Gas Tax Refund Available At Texaco Distributor

H. D. Fowlkes, manager of the Dallas Division of The Texas Company's Domestic Sales Department, said today that Texaco has available for farmers of this area reprints of a Government bulletin entitled "Farmer's Gas Tax Refund, June, 1956."

Under a law enacted last April, farmers are entitled to claim refunds each year for the Federal excise tax on gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes. The first refunds will cover the first half of 1956; hereafter, claims will cover the fiscal year.

The bulletin will be of assistance to farmers in filing for refunds of the Federal tax on gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes.

Originally issued by the Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, the bulletin also explains how the new law relieves farmers from the Federal tax excise tax on Diesel fuel and special motor fuels.

Copies of the reprint may be obtained without charge from The Texas Company's distributor of Petroleum Products, S. E. Camp located at: 108 East Main St. in Post.

Garza Men Elected To Board Of NFLA

T. L. Jones of Garza County was re-elected a director and Avery Moore, also of Garza County, was chosen to complete the unexpired term of the late Julius Fumagalli at the annual stockholders meeting of the Taboka-Post National Farm Loan Association held recently in Tahoka.

Fred McGinty of Lynn County is president of the association. Ross Smith is secretary-treasurer, Cordelia Green is office assistant, and other directors are O. C. Roberts and Vernon Without, both of Lynn County.

The Taboka-Post National Farm Loan Association serves Lynn, Garza and Borden counties. At the present time it is serving 415 loans in the amount of $1,960,631.25.

Hot, Dry Weather Prevents Increase In Bug Buildups

Hot and dry weather prevailed during the past week, this week's Cotton Insect Situation release points out. Such weather conditions prevented any marked increase in the activity of most insects, but some heavily fruited cotton showed heavy shed of small bolls because of the stressed conditions of the plants.

Fleahoppers were reported in medium to heavy populations in some fields. In most instances the insects should not pose a problem since plants are well fruited.

There seems to be little change in bollworm infestations over the previous week. Medium to heavy infestations were found in some fields in Dawson, Gaines, Hale and Lubbock counties. A majority of the cotton has not developed sufficient infestations to require control. Since most recently reported infestations have been of small worms, cotton should be checked regularly for eggs and hatching.

Lygus bugs were found in medium to heavy infestations in Hale Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock counties. The insects were observed in light infestations in many other fields. Cotton should be checked for increasing infestations and control effected before squares and small bolls suffer heavy damage.

Cabbage loopers appeared in medium to heavy infestations in some fields throughout the area. While diseases continued to kill large loopers, many fields had rather heavy hatching and increased ragging of leaves. Although these insects are hard to control, infestations can be reduced to a point where serious ragging will not occur if treatments are applied while worms are small.

Leafworms were reported in light to medium infestations in most localities. In most cases infestations were not sufficient to require control.

Aphids occurred in damaging

HOW RESOURCEFUL ARE YOU?

Puppies are generally more resourceful than people! They never take fences seriously. They find a way to get over or under the obstacle.

People take fences seriously. They usually have more respect for their limitations than for their abilities. That's why so many of us live in a narrow, discouraging world without promise or hope.

And even as we speak thrilling words like freedom and opportunity and ideals, some of us wonder secretly just what these are and how they may be attained.

There are spiritual resources in life which can enable any man to achieve ideals. They are the simple, commonplace commodities of religion—things like prayer and faith—but they are the keys to all attainment.

God gave us these resources to use. And He gave us churches to teach us how to use them. Forget your fences—discover your resources in Church next Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Suffers Injuries In Car-Truck Collision

Leroy Gomez, 21, was in serious condition Wednesday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital with head and chest injuries received about 10 o'clock Tuesday night when his automobile collided with a transport truck at the intersection of FM Road 651 and U. S. Highway 390 on East Main Street.

Sheriff Carl Rains said his investigation of the accident disclosed that W. M. Patterson, 42, of Abilene, driver of the truck, swerved the vehicle in an attempt to avoid a collision with Gomez' automobile as it drove onto the highway off the farm-to-market road. The truck was traveling eastward on the highway.

Gomez, who is employed by the Lee Moor Construction Co., was thrown out of his automobile, which was heavily damaged in the collision. He was transferred to the Lubbock hospital after receiving emergency treatment at Garza Memorial Hospital.

Texas Soil Bank Payments Will Exceed $23.8 Million

Texas farmers will receive more than $23.8 million as payments for land placed in the soil bank acreage reserve program. Bob Cherry, Extension Service economist, says that a total of 637.2 agreements were signed in Texas before the July 27 deadline.

In Garza County, 210 agreements placed 6,720.7 acres in the soil bank acreage program, with payments expected to amount to $136,117.

Under the acreage reserve program, farmers are paid for each acre of land retired from the production of basic crops up to a specified percentage of their allotments. The program is designed to aid soil improvement and reduce surplus production, points out Cherry.

Farmers of the nation have signed agreements covering approximately 10.7 million acres while the 63,672 agreements signed in Texas cover 1,970,235-3-10 acres. The 3-10 of an acre represents the acreage taken out of tobacco.

Cherry says 14,708 wheat agreements covering 1,066,390 acres and with payments expected to reach $6,193,574 had been signed in Texas. Texas cotton farmers signed 49,322 agreements put

Receipts Here Keep Pace Texas Increase

Postal receipts in Texas for the first half of 1956 are 10 per cent higher than for the same period of 1955, they show. More than 9 per cent of the receipts in the state for the first six months of the year were for postage stamps, valued at $1,345,363. In Post, they were $1,230,000 as compared with $1,115,000 for the same period in 1955.

For the first six months of the year, there was a substantial increase in postal receipts over the same period of the last year, with the last six months of the year showing the heaviest increase. Last year's receipts in Post for the first six months were $1,115,000 as compared with $1,345,363 for the same period in 1956.

Figures were released by the Texas Bureau of Research.

Twelve Texas cities reported gains: 25 losses, and 2 substantial change.

Increases were registered in El Paso (29 per cent), Dallas (25 per cent), El Paso (21 per cent), Cuero (21 per cent), and Arlington (19 per cent). Largest decreases were in San Antonio (29 per cent), Gilmer (21 per cent), Cleburne and Kirksville (14 per cent each) and San Antonio (10 per cent).

Mrs. C. W. Brown and her family spent the weekend in Ardmore, visiting friends and relatives.

Fire Hazards Check Will Be Made Before School Opening

Plans are under way here for a thorough inspection of all school buildings before the opening of the fall term on Sept. 4. Fire Marshal Ralph Cockrell of the Post Volunteer Fire Department said Tuesday.

Cockrell said that Mark Wentz, state insurance commissioner and state fire marshal, has urged fire chiefs and marshals of all Texas towns and cities to make the inspections before the fall term opens.

Wentz pointed out in a letter to the fire department that only a few days remain before the opening of schools and every precaution should be taken now to protect lives of children and teachers and safeguard public property.

"One proven way that fire hazards can be uncovered and corrected is by periodic inspections, and the best time to start such inspections is before the school term opens," Wentz said.

It is more important this year than ever before to make early inspections of school buildings, he said, because many new buildings and additions have been erected during the summer months to accommodate increased enrollment, that may have created new or additional fire hazards.

Wentz said that fire chiefs and marshals have been called upon to look for the four main causes of fires: 1. misuse of electricity, 2. inferior or faulty heating systems, 3. careless disposal of matches and cigarettes, and 4.

poor housekeeping. In the inspection of electrical systems, investigators should be particularly on the lookout for faulty or inferior wiring, sloppy installation work, use of poor material, including unapproved electrical cords and appliances, use of makeshift fuses and pennies as fuses, overloading of circuits, insufficient number of circuits and the improper care of motors.

Wentz called to the attention of school officials the fact that school fire losses in Texas had for the past five years been excessively high, amounting to nearly $5,000,000 in insured losses alone during that period.

He said he felt certain that the strict observance and practice of approved safety rules in all schools would cut those losses tremendously.

The insurance commission is also asking fire chiefs and marshals to make inspection of churches at this time. Insured fire losses on church properties in Texas amounted to $2,500,000 during the past five years and with increased church attendance and activities, especially in fall, this figure will climb unless all steps are taken to correct fire hazards.

POSTEX MILLS

By A. LEE WARD

Within the next three weeks period of time we are expecting enough cloth to be shipped in to operate our Postex Sewing Room on a full week's basis. That sounds like an old song to most of you, but we sincerely hope it will come true this time. The major reason why we have had the extra long delay in receiving the cloth is that a lot of the goods that were sold as white sheets have been transferred into colored sales, and takes a considerable period of time for the cloth to be processed through the dye house at Ferrerell, Ala.

Motorists Warned To Respect Rules In School Zones

Post schools will open Sept. 4 for the first day of classes, and school officials, local law enforcement officers and national safety authorities have alerted all motorists to the responsibilities of driving in school zones.

Drivers are urged to be extra cautious when moving through streets and highways adjacent to the schools.

Andrew J. Sardon, president of the American Automobile Association, has cited two principles to which all who drive automobile vehicles on the public thoroughfares should pledge themselves, as classes are about to be resumed.

These are: 1. To obey speed limits in school zones. 2. To be extra alert for children darting into streets at unexpected places.

"It is the motorist's responsibility to watch out for children, even if the youngsters themselves are at fault," Sardon said.

Nationwide precautions taken by authorities in protecting children from increasing traffic hazards have paid off in a big way.

Over the past 34 years the death rate among school age children as the result of accidents has been cut one-half, while the rate for other ages has doubled.

Texas Farm Cash Income Is Lower

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Texas farmers' cash income was 12 per cent lower during the first half of 1956 than during the comparable period in 1955, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The mid-year comparison shows $571,925,000 was the total income for January-June 1956, against $648,920,000 for January - June, 1955.

Decreases were recorded for nine of the 17 major commodities: flaxseed, down 83 per cent; wheat, 75 per cent; oats, 48 per cent; cotton, 22 per cent; cattle, 19 per cent; eggs, 14 per cent; mohair, 12 per cent; calves, 11 per cent, and wool, 1 per cent. Combined decreases in cotton and cattle meant a loss of $66,652,000 from last year.

Gains were registered by peanuts, up 37 per cent; poultry, 19 per cent; fruits and vegetables, 18 per cent; corn, 17 per cent; grain sorghums, 15 per cent; milk and milk products, 12 per cent, and sheep and lambs, 9 per cent. There was no significant change in income from hogs.

Prices received by farmers for all products in June stayed at approximately the same index level as in May, or 4 per cent lower than June 1955.

The fact that prices are running only 4 per cent below last year, while income is averaging 12 per cent less indicates that farmers are taking less to market, the Bureau points out.

last week. Monday, they received word that Mrs. Dial's son, Sam, of Lubbock died suddenly.

Heat Stroke And Heat Exhaustion Summer Dangers

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.)—As summer temperatures climb, a disregard for the dangers of heat stroke and heat exhaustion can prove costly. Hard physical labor in the hot sun or a stuffy place might bring on heat exhaustion in a hurry, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

At this season, he adds, there are plenty of opportunities to work under such conditions. Heat exhaustion occurs when the body's heat regulating system collapses during prolonged heat or exposure to the sun.

In heatstroke, body temperature rises, the skin becomes hot and dry, the face reddens and a headache develops. Heat exhaustion, on the other hand, displays different symptoms. Instead of burning up, the patient's body is cool, perhaps with clammy sweat. Prevention, says the safety expert, is the best treatment for both.

He offers these suggestions for cutting down on the possibility of trouble from summer heat. Increase the intake of salt in order to offset the excessive losses of salt from the body through perspiration. The increase may be made by using more salt on food, by drinking salty water or by taking salt tablets.

Avoid over exertion and over exposure to direct sun rays or extreme indoor temperatures and high humidity. Wear a hat while out-of-doors. Eat nutritious food, says Ulich, but don't over-eat. Drink water often throughout the day, a glass at a time and avoid ice water.

And finally, he warns if either a heatstroke or heat exhaustion occur, get a doctor at once and apply first aid treatment. In applying the first aid to a person suffering from heat sickness, keep in mind a simple rule: if the patient is cold, make him warm; if he is hot, make him cool.

Do You Want A Republican As Your Governor of Texas?

He Asks You to Nominate Him As A Democrat But Look At His Long Republican Record

[FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY]

1953

Newly-elected Price Daniel took his seat on the Democratic side of the Senate in January 1953. Lyndon Johnson was elected Minority Leader by the Democratic Senators and furnished the leadership for his party in the Senate.

Third From Bottom on Democratic Votes

On 46 roll call votes in 1953, the majority of the Democrats disagreed with the majority of the Republicans. Daniel voted with the Democrats only 47% of the time, the third worst record of any Democratic Senator. On these same issues Johnson voted with his party majority 69% to rank third best on his side of the aisle.

Opposed Oil for Education

Daniel opposed the Democratic majority and Lyndon Johnson when he voted against using Federal oil revenue for education. He opposed the majority of Democrats and Johnson when he voted to sell the rubber plants to the major rubber companies. He voted against the Democratic motion to maintain the aid to our allies, and he voted with McCarthy and against Johnson on restricting foreign trade.

Absent on Hospital Bill

When the Democratic minority was squeaking through on a close 43-41 victory on funds for hospital construction, Daniel was absent.

Out of 47 Democratic Senators he ranked 45th

1954

Many of the issues which started in the first Session of the 83rd Congress were voted on in the second session. In 1954 Daniel voted with the majority of the Democratic Senators only 55% of the time ranking 40th out of 48 Democrats. During this same year Lyndon Johnson had an 81% party unity score.

Supported McCarthy Pal

Daniel broke with his Democratic colleagues to support the confirmation of a McCarthy protege R. E. Lee for the Federal Communications Commission. He backed Republican Capehart in his move to scuttle the Mutual Aid program.

Opposed Tax Cut

Democratic Senator Russell Long proposed a $20 cut for each taxpayer and the elimination of the dividend special credit. Daniel voted with the Republicans to beat this measure. He opposed the majority of his own party when he voted to pass the revenue code WITHOUT a tax cut for the low and middle income taxpayers.

Voted for Wetback Labor

While a majority of the Senate Democrats were supporting a good neighbor agreement with Mexico, Daniel supported the bill to recruit low-wage Mexican labor without any agreement as to wages or conditions.

Opposed Federal Standards

The Democratically sponsored amendments to the Unemployment Compensation law were designed to protect the funds against unauthorized use. Daniel voted with the Republicans on the issue.

Out of 48 Democratic Senators he ranked 40th

1955

The Democrats won the 1954 election and Lyndon Johnson became the majority leader of the Senate and responsible for steering the program through the Senate, but in 1955 Daniel voted with his Democratic colleagues even less than he had in 1954. He supported the majority of his own party only 52% of the time on issues on which the parties disagreed. He ranked 44th out of 49 Senate Democrats.

Voted Against Tax Cut

Daniel broke with the majority of Democrats by not supporting the $20 tax cut for each dependent in the House Tax bill.

When a majority of the Senate Democrats opposed the sale of the government-built rubber plants to the big rubber companies, Daniel voted with the Republican leadership.

Voted to Cut Aid to Allies

He was one of only 12 Democrats voting to cut aid to our allies. He backed a McCarthy motion against the Democratic leadership, when even a majority of the Republicans would not go with McCarthy. He was one of 11 Democrats voting against the Mutual Aid appropriation.

Against Housing

Only 9 Democrats in the Senate voted against the passage of the Housing Bill of 1955, Daniel was one of them.

Out of 49 Democratic Senators he ranked 44th

Second Phase Soil Bank Described By Secretary

of Agriculture Ezra taking some basic crops out of production in return for government payments on a year-to-year arrangement, already has begun. This is called the "acreage reserve" program.

Phase two also is designed to reduce farm commodity surpluses. But the payments, around $10 an acre plus some cost sharing for conservation practices, will be smaller and the land will be out of production from three to 15 years.

Any farmer can participate in the conservation reserve, even those contracts with the department on or before Oct. 15. For 1957 the deadline is March 15.

A department spokesman said comparatively few farmers are expected to join the conservation program for 1956. To be eligible their land must not have been used this year for crops, grazing or hay that is cut. It's the rare farmer who has land of that description.

But over the long run Benson hopes that from 20 to 25 million acres of land will go into the conservation reserve.

"Farmers interested in qualifying for this year's conservation reserve program should get in touch with their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee soon," Benson said.

"The program provides an excellent opportunity to effect a permanent adjustment in land use throughout the country. Conservation of soil and water resources now would provide us with the insurance of better productivity for future generations or times of emergency.

"Many acres of land now producing crops could better be devoted to trees, adding materially to our timber resources."

In general, the minimum amount of land that will be accepted under the conservation reserve is five acres. However, the minimum is only two acres if trees are planted, and special provisions have been made for small farms.

Total annual payments in the conservation reserve normally will be limited to $5,000 for single producer. Violations of conservation reserve contracts may result in cancellation, recovery of payments and in some cases additional fines.

Mr. and Mrs. Samie West, Joe Jan and Jay of Hereford visited the first of the week with her parents, the Bob Thomases. Joe and Jan remained for a longer visit.

Land Leveling Poses Big Problem With Irrigation Gaining

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.)—the prolonged drouth has made Texas farmers water conscious as never before. The number using irrigation to supplement declining rainfall has increased in every section of the state, reports Bob Thurmond, extension irrigation specialist.

Along with the increase, says the specialist, have come many problems and a major one has been land leveling. Now is the time to make plans for doing this job. Thurmond says that before the job is undertaken these questions should be answered. Is the farm suitable for surface irrigation? What method or methods of irrigation should be used? How dependable is the water supply? How much can be spent on the farm for land leveling?

In getting the answers, the engineer says consideration must be given to the depth of the soil, roughness of the soil surface, type of soil and crops to be grown, source of water supply, cost of water, expected yield increases and availability of markets for the produce. If the answers to the questions are favorable for land leveling, other decisions must be made.

Land leveling to be successful must be done according to a well developed plan based on the needs of the farm. The plan must be done by a competent engineer and the contract, if the job is to be done by others, should include all necessary engineering. In the humid areas, land leveling should also provide for an adequate drainage system for the farm to take care of excessive rainfall. Leveling may be done on a piece basis but the plan should be for the entire farm.

Where the land is fairly steep and uniform, bench leveling may be desirable. If the soil is shallow, little top soil can be removed. Since leveling is both expensive and time consuming, Thurmond suggests doing a part of the farm each year. He says about three methods for doing the job are available. Do it yourself but only after an engineered plan has been developed; employ a competent engineer to do the plan and a contractor to do the earth moving or employ a contractor to

DUE RESERVE COMMISSION AS SECOND LIEUTENANT

Travis R. Dabbs To Receive Bars In Tech Ceremony Friday Morning

Travis R. Dabbs of Route 2, Post, is one of 15 Texas Tech ROTC cadets who will receive reserve commissions as second lieutenants at ceremonies to be held at 10 a. m. Friday in Military Building 2, Lubbock.

Dabbs is one of seven who will be awarded their bars in the Air Force. The other eight cadets will receive commissions in the Army reserves.

Families and friends of the cadets are welcome to attend either ceremony, according to Col. H. G. Douglas, professor of military science and tactics, and Lt. Col. N. B. Wilkerson, professor of air science at Tech.

Each of the cadets will be awarded the bachelor's degree at commencement exercises later in the day.

One of the highlights of the Air Force ceremony will be an address by Lt. Col. Heston C. Daniel, one of Doolittle's raiders and a prisoner of the Germans during part of World War II. Daniel is currently operations and training officer at Reese Air Force Base.

Tech vice president G. E. Gieseke will also address the Air Force group before Capt. Arnold

Grover, adjutant for the Tech AFROTC, swears the men in. Col. Wilkerson will present the cadets their commissions.

Finally, Thurmond says, it will probably take a year or two to put the final touches on newly leveled land. There will be a tendency for the fields to settle and the cuts to swell. Low spots can be filled with a float or drag after the first crop has been removed. Although initial costs are high, Thurmond reminds that benefits derived are long lasting.

BELT-WIDE CAMPAIGN OF ELIMINATION IS ON

'Keep Tar Spots Out Of Cotton,' Producers Everywhere Are Urged

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.) — Cotton producers of Texas and the nation are being asked to take every possible step to keep tar spots out of their cotton. The problem has become serious enough, says Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist, to warrant a belt-wide campaign of elimination.

A chief source of contamination is believed to come from the use of tar coatings for pick sacks. But, according to Elliott, tar spots may also get into the unginned cotton from tar tracked into the trailer or wagon, from tar thrown into the cotton when the trailer is pulled over roads coated with tar or from tar spots left in the trailer or truck.

During the hot weather which usually is prevalent during the cotton picking season, close attention should be given to the problem of tar picked up from roads or driveways either by the vehicle or on the feet of those working with cotton. It's an easy matter to track the tar into the cotton, says Elliott, for the wheel of the trailer is often used as a step for entering the trailer and tar carried on the wheel or tire is easily transferred to the cotton or to the sides or floor of the trailer or wagon.

Cotton manufacturers are penalized for materials contaminated with tar spots. By checking on the origin of the contaminated cotton, the mills can tell exactly where the bale was produced. At least one manufacturer has already called on producers in an area where cotton has been bought for years to eliminate the tar spots or lose their market (not in Texas).

Right now few items are more important to cotton producers than markets and Elliott advises farmers to do everything possible to help hold what they have and gain more.

The specialist advises growers to check the sacks of pickers who furnish their own sacks to make sure no tar is present and to also caution the pickers on tracking tar into the truck, trailer or wagon. If sacks must be bought, don't buy those with a tar coating.

Post Diver Places Second At Midland

Although Pat Cornell was the only one who placed, Post youngsters made a good showing Saturday and Sunday in the 9th annual West Texas Invitational Swimming Meet at Midland.

Pat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cornell, placed second in his division with his diving repertoire of forward one-half somersault, back somersault and full gainer.

Other Post swimmers competing were Joe Cook, Jack Jones, Buddy Moreland, Charles Tubbs, Leslie Acker and Mike Cornell.

Since their coach, Miss Frances Craig, was unable to attend the meet, the Post swimmers formed a team with a group from Slaton for competition in the contests.

Accompanying the swimmers to Midland were Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Acker, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell and Miss Freda Kennedy.

Visitors in the Jack Dale home during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Lamesa.

CHAIRMAN OF STATE HOSPITAL BOARD

Asks Approval By Voters For Amendment 7 To Constitution

AUSTIN (Spl.) — Constitutional amendment No. 7 which goes to Texas voters in the November general election drew strong support today from Durwood Manford of Smiley, chairman of the board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

"By approving the amendment," Manford said, "Texans can correct the injustice of our present mandatory jury trial for mentally ill persons seeking treatment in our state hospitals."

"The proposed amendment in no way interferes with the constitutional right to a trial by jury, but simply permits a person asking admission to a state hospital to waive this court procedure."

Present Texas laws require a jury trial for any person receiving treatment in a state mental hospital for a period of more than 90 days.

Provision for the constitutional change was enacted by the 54th Texas Legislature in 1935 through passage of House Joint Resolution 11. The amendment would require "competent medical or psychiatric testimony" in determining the commitment of persons to mental hospitals.

Manford, a former member of the legislature and Speaker of the House, said the present commitment law is the only civil procedure in the state in which the persons involved cannot waive a jury trial.

"This has inflicted needless embarrassment and suffering on families of patients as well as individuals needing treatment," Manford said.

Passage of the amendment should relieve some of the anguishing mental illness imposes, but will by no means deny a jury trial to any person requesting it, the hospital board chairman said.

Telephoning Fish, Other Violations Penalized, Monthly Report Discloses

AUSTIN (Spl.) — Texas justices of the peace continue to belabor persons caught telephoning fish, according to the monthly report announced by the director of law enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

Six different $200 fines were levied for using the old-fashioned magneto-type electrical device to shock and subdue game fish. Costs on each of these cases averaged almost $40.

The individual fine for three Fort Worth men arrested on telephoning counts was $50, with costs added.

Justices of the peace also moved to discourage night hunting of deer, which shows a seasonal rise this time of the year when the whitetails begin reappearing after the procreation period.

Several $100 fines plus costs were assessed. Three Beeville men caught by game wardens while trying for some pre-season venison paid fines totaling more than $200, in addition to court costs.

Cases filed included a Llano man who was fined $125 for using a wire trap to take fish and having more than the limit, a Houston man fined $25 for running deer with dogs; a Pampa man and a Kingsville man each fined $50 for hunting wild turkey in closed season.

It cost a Lake Dallas man $25 for shooting fish with a rifle. The same penalty was assessed against a Longview man for killing a dove out of season and against a Jayton man for killing a quail.

The monthly bag of persons fishing without a proper license was 118. Usual fine for this charge was $10 plus costs.

VFW Post And Auxiliary Delegates Attend 57th National Encampment

John Rogers, Jack Kuykenfall and Mrs. J. M. Baylis returned Friday from Dallas where they attended the 57th National Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its ladies auxiliary as official delegates from John Miller Post 6737 of the VFW.

It was the 43rd encampment of the Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW. At closing sessions of the encampment, Cooper T. Holt of Chattanooga, Tenn., was elevated to commander-in-chief, succeeding Timothy J. Murphy.

The encampment opened Friday, Aug. 10, with a National Rehabilitation Conference, but advance registration did not begin until the following day.

Special services were held at all churches on Sunday morning, with registration continuing for both VFW and Auxiliary members. Annual memorial services were held at 7:30 p. m. at the State Fair Park Auditorium.

A joint opening session of the two groups opened Monday's activities, with greetings from John E. McKeivley, president of the 57th National Encampment Corp., Gov. Allan Shivers and Mayor R. L. Thornton. At 11:30 a. m. there was an address by Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Monday's activities closed with a western style square dance review.

Business sessions and reports took up most of the day Tuesday, with an address at 11 a. m. by Harvey Higley, administrator of Veterans Affairs. On Monday, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations had addressed the groups.

The annual military parade began at 7 p. m. Tuesday. John Rogers, one of the local post's delegates said he timed the parade as he watched it and that three hours elapsed between the time the first and last delegations in the procession passed the point where he stood.

Charles Wilson, Secretary of Defense, was principal speaker at Wednesday's session, which also included the "Million Dollar Pageant of Drums" at 7 p. m. in the Cotton Bowl.

Tuesday's principal address was by Ed Edmondson, a member of Congress, with a western style barbecue at State Fair Park and a fashion show at the Statler Hilton Hotel closing the day's activities.

The convention was adjourned at noon Friday.

The local delegates are to make a report on the encampment at tonight's meeting of the VFW Post.

Safety Record Set By Workers Of SWPS Company

ing day last Friday. However, a check of working time of all employees was necessary to verify the new accomplishment, and that check has just been completed.

"We are proud of the fact that we have set this new record, and that we are still adding to it. But records, in themselves, are merely the statistics that measure the accomplishments of individuals. The important fact about safety is that our employees are enthusiastic about it, interested in it, and have made it an integral part of their work. Everyone gains from safe working habits, our customers, our employees, and their families," Watson said, in announcing the safety accomplishment.

Southwestern Public Service Company employees have not had a disabling injury this year, the current accident-free period getting underway on Nov. 3 of last year. Presently the company boasts the top safety record in the Southwest Personnel Exchange Group, made up of 14 electric light and power companies in the southwestern states.

The new safety record, and it continues unbroken and grows with the passing of every hour, is in addition to being the company's best performance, the third longest accident-free period ever recorded by an electric light and power company.

There are eight safety groups within the company, made up of the five divisions, headquartered at Amarillo, Guymon, Plainview, Roswell, and Lubbock; the operating department, which includes all of the company's generating stations; the system construction department, which is responsible for transmission line and substation construction; and the employees of the general office in Amarillo.

Each of these safety groups is recognized for its individual safety accomplishments by the National Safety Council and the Edison Electric Institute, as well as the entire company group. However, an accident in any one of these units immediately brings a halt to the entire company record, while the other individual groups continue on with their accomplishments.

For example, two divisions, the Panhandle, headquartered in Amarillo, and the Pecos Valley, with Roswell for its headquarters, each completed a million man-hours without a disabling injury last week. It was the second time that the Panhandle group had reached the million mark.

Presently enjoying the longest individual unit standing within the company record is the Plains Division, headquartered at Plainview, which has gone accident-free since Jan. 16, 1953, and has recorded 1,568,926 hours without a lost-time accident.

Other individual records are: Southern Division, which has accumulated 512,656 hours since Aug. 9, 1953, Oklahoma Division, which has been without an accident since March 11, 1953, and has chalked up 162,628 accident-free hours; Operating Department, accident-free

Human Relations Classes Under Way In Post For GTC Traffic Employees

The Western Division of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest is conducting a series of human relations classes that will be extended to every traffic employee in the division, with a total of 339 employees attending.

Classes are being conducted this week in Post at the Gateway Motel, with employees from the Post and Tahoka exchanges attending.

Sue Bennett of Littlefield, traffic instructor, is conducting the classes here. Those registered for the first class Monday morning were Joyce Midkiff and Sue Stephens of Post, Sue Inman, Irene McKay and Reba Kohl of Tahoka, and Olga Moore of Brownfield, who is division traffic instructor.

In discussing opening of the classes here Monday, the traffic instructor stated:

"Our company feels that in an industry such as ours, where employees are in constant direct contact with customers, the necessity to understand and respect human nature and differences is becoming more and more a part of our operating requirements.

"The key to good human relations is the art of recognizing individual differences and a willingness to consider them when handling people. Our employees are constantly being versed on the
