Letters to the Editor...

Dear Mr. Welborn:
May I respectfully mention that in the article "Yesteryears" in your edition dated June 29, 1989, that it was Kay and not Jack Kirkpatrick that was initiated into the Order of the Arrow at the Camp Post Scouting ceremony. Jack is four years younger than we are, and is very sensitive about his age.

Best wishes,

Thank You

And as an extra added note to the Fluit get-together - Juanella Hays has a very special thank you from "The Fluit Gang" to Hudman's Funeral Home for the tent and the guys responsible for putting it up and taking it down. Also to Bill Gordon for the parachute.

"They really saved a lot of blistered heads. You both helped us have a better and more comfortable reunion. Thanks again."

Chris Wyatt was among the Doctor of Jurisprudence Degree recipients when the Texas Tech University School of Law held a hooding ceremony for 145 graduates.

Chris is the son of Syd and Emmilie Wyatt of Midland, and his wife Nancy is the daughter of Marshall and Ruth Reno of Post.

Chris has taken his bar exam and he, Nancy and their four children are living in Midland.

Post City, Texas

If case you missed it, Post has received some great publicity lately, thanks to the Chamber of Commerce's Ramses exhibit, the Main Street Project and the Garza Theatre.

Channels 11, 13 and 28 all made the trip to Post to film news segments on Ramses. I missed 11 and 28, but I did see Bob Benson on Channel 13's news and I was really impressed. We couldn't have found a better spokesman than Bob to tell the South Plains what a great place is and I appreciated it when he called Post "everybody's favorite town."

I was also impressed with Christy Morris and Kathy Floyd and their interviews with Benson.

The Garza Theatre came in for its share of publicity in an article in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal by AJ Entertainment Editor Bill Kerns - a very good article indeed.

And Post made the front page of The Dallas Times Herald travel section, Sunday, July 23 in an article about C.W. Post, the town, Founder's Day, etc. Alongside is an article on Marjorie Merriweather Post's Washington home, Hillwood, now a museum.

You can find copies of the Times Herald article on Post, by Diane Lisman Camp, at the Post Public Library.

They all seemed like good ideas at the time.

Sure, there's a lot of nostalgia in some of these items. But the solid basics always work.

It's true in home appliances, too. Your natural gas furnace may not be the latest fad, but it has steadily and dependably kept your family warm and comfortable all these years.

Fads and gadgets may come and go. But some ideas, like natural gas heating, just can't be improved on.

Exchange Wedding Vows at Ranch

Mistie Layne Cook and Jeffrey Lee Greene were united in marriage by Dr. Danny Curry, pastor of Tahoka's First Baptist Church, at 6 p.m., July 8, 1989 at A Ranch.

The ceremony began with a musical number "Thanks Mom and Dad," written and sung by Aaron Miller of Tahoka. During the song, the mothers of the bride and groom were escorted down the aisle and lit the family candle.

The bridal couple arrived in a survey owned and driven by Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards of New Home.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride selected an elegant ivory gown, designed by Mary's, made with angel satin and edged in lace, pearls and iridescent sequins. The tight fitting bodice featured a sweetheart neckline accented with lace and adorned with pearls and iridescent sequins. The sleeves were bouffant ruffles with satin petal flowers and pearl sprays.

A dropped waistline allowed the full skirt to fall gracefully into a train decorated with exquisite satin bows with satin petal flowers and pearl sprays lined with lace insets. The bride wore camel lace up Justin ropers with her gown.

She also wore her grandmother Cook's brooch for "something old," a tennis bracelet from her mother was "something borrowed" and her garter was "something blue."

The bride's freeform bouquet, designed by her sister, consisted of Alstroemeria lilies, bridal and pink roses, yellow and purple status, daisies, pixies, nerine lilies, leatrice, Killian daisies and curly willow. Her attendants carried smaller similar bouquets.

Attending the bride were her sister, Dustie Cook, and Cloey Smith of Tahoka. They wore teal-length dresses, made by the bride's mother, of a blue, mauve and cream floral cotton print. The dresses were fashioned after the bride's, with bouffant ruffled sleeves, sweetheart necklines and dropped waists.

Flower girl Raelye Taylor of Southland, niece of the groom, wore a dress of the same floral print with dropped waist and ruffled sleeves, made by her grandmother.

The groom's attendants were Benny Greene of Las Vegas and Ronnie Mathis of Post. The wedding party was also joined by Trevor Cook, son of the bride, and Jarrod Greene, son of the groom.

Rusty Cook of Tahoka, brother of the bride, and Ron Mathis of Post ushered guests through a white lattice archway decorated with flat fern, plumosa, English ivy and blue bows.

The wedding party stood before an arch built of landscape timbers decorated with English ivy and Boston ferns. Fresh flower bouquets on wooded spools decorated either side of the arch, which was centered with the unity candle and a giant grapevine heart trimmed with blue bows.

Registering guests was Tina Taylor of Southland, sister of the groom. The registration table was covered with an ivory cloth and decorated with a floral arrangement.

The reception at the A Ranch was held under an awning decorated with barbed wire hearts, cream paper angels, horseshoes, cream paper bows and Boston ferns. The picnic tables were decorated with rope and mixed bouquets.

The bride's table was covered with a blue cloth and lace overlay. The bride's three-tiered cake was decorated with fresh flowers.

Punch was served with the cake.

The groom's table had a cream cloth with a lace overlay. His cake was chocolate with a double horseshoe decoration. Champagne was served at the groom's table.

Servers were Monica Stephens, JoAnn Thomas, Bridgette Miller, Kathy Long, Wilma Long, Wilma Gerner, all of Tahoka, and Delcy

Mathis of Post and Angel Sheets of Iowa Park, cousin of the groom.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted at the A Ranch by Billy and Louise Greene.

A plaque with a miniature A Ranch branding iron, made by Bill Craig, was given to the couple in honor of the first wedding held at the ranch.

The couple will live in Post.

Shelton, Crowell...

Exchange Wedding Vows July 15

Marla Shelton and Kent Crowell, both of Morton, exchanged wedding vows in a 7 p.m. ceremony Saturday, July 15 with the Reverend Jim Hitt officiating at Slaton's First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Shelton of Post and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Odis Crowell of Amarillo.

Greenery and bows of white, peach and cornflower blue decorated the aisles of the church, and a fifteen candle fan-shaped candelabra decorated the center of the altar. Seven-piece candle trees, accented with peach silk bows, stood on each side of the candelabra and peach silk bows also decorated the unity candle.

Given in marriage by her uncle, N.R. "Jiggs" King of Post, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a cathedral length train.

The gown's scalloped bodice was hand beaded with sequins and pearls and featured a scooped lace neckline. The satin leg-of-mutton sleeves were accented with lace, sequins and teardrop pearls.

For her headdress, the bride chose a pearl and crystal bead tiara with a pearl-accented finger tip veil.

The bridal bouquet of white roses, small peach flowers and greenery was accented with peach and country blue lace and ribbons. The bride's mother's wedding band was tied into the front of the bouquet.

Donna Shelton of Dallas served as her sister's maid of honor and Paula Shields of Morton was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Belinda Dewbre of Lubbock.

The attendants wore dresses of peach satin and their headdresses were halos of white braided ribbons with blue lace accents. They each carried a peach silk rose.

Jim Crowell of Houston attended his brother as best man and Max Crowell Tucson, Arizona and Steve Crowell of Roundrock served as groomsmen.

Sonja Gossett of Post and Russell Mock of Slaton were candlelighters.

Wedding music included "To Me" and "Color My World" by Cynthia Jones and Brenda Gardner of Morton, "The Lord's Prayer," by Todd Cason of Lubbock and "The Wedding Song" by Jackie Cason of Odessa. Pianist was Christene Polvado of Morton.

A reception following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church of Slaton, where Jennifer Smith registered guests.

White lace over a peach cloth covered the bride's table with the bride's bouquet used as an arrangement. The four-tier wedding cake, with four small side cakes accented in blue, was topped with a bride and groom under an archway. Blue and peach colored mints were served.

The groom's table, covered with white lace with a blue cloth underneath, held a chocolate sheet cake iced with roses. Blue and peach colored napkins were used.

Members of the houseparty included Renée Jung, Tammy Johnson, Ann Chaffin, Sharon

Mock, Margaret Smart, Sue St. Clair, Wanza Mock, Nelda Rudd, Diane Howell, Barbara Gossett, JoAnn Mock, Wilma Smith, Dee Ann Bishop and Florene King.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will reside in Morton where they are employed by the Morton Independent School District.

The bride is a graduate of Southland High School and Texas Tech University. The groom graduated from Brazoswood High School in Clute and received his degree from Texas Tech University.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Odis Crowell at the Western Sizzlin' Restaurant in Lubbock.

The housing situation in Post is acute again, the result of increased oil activities in Garza County and neighboring towns. Post is housing families of a number of workers in the Scurry County oil field, because of a housing shortage in Snyder.

The Southwestern Public Service Company, which serves the Panhandle-Plains-Pecos Valley area of Texas is observing its Silver Anniversary (25th) this month.

The Santa Fe Railroad has a tempting offer for travelers in this week's Dispatch - two people can travel round-trip on the scenic route to Los Angeles in a Santa Fe chair car for $119.80. And after arriving in Los Angeles, you can travel to San Diego via Santa Fe Railroad on your round-trip ticket at no extra cost.

With the recent acquisition of 500 feet of new hose, The Post Volunteer Fire Department now has 2,100 feet of good two and one-half inch hose. New members testing the hose, and bringing the membership to its full quota of 20 men, were Dee Hodges, Marvin Williams, Red Mathis and Luther Bilberry.

For the first time in history, school authorities - at the request of fans who have to work late or for other reasons do not wish to go to football games an hour ahead of time - are considering the advisability of selling reserved seats in advance of the season's opening.

Among the Southland farmers who were hailed out last Thursday night were Earl Lancaster, Ray Dick, Mr. Bloxom and Roy Williams.

Five from County in 4-H District Fashion Show

Five Garza County 4-H'ers, who have already won local contests, recently participated in the South Plains District 4-H Fashion Show at Lubbock Christian University, July 25, competing against 4-H members from 19 counties in the District.

4-H'ers from three different age groups participated in the show. Junior 4-H'ers entered and modeled garments in casual, dressy, sports and specialty in the Construction Division or Buying Division. Senior 4-H members competed in Construction or Buying in active sports, specialty wear, evening wear, non-tailored daywear and tailored daywear. Members either constructed their outfit or bought their outfit with a certain amount of money and comparison shopping skills.

Those from Garza County participating in the District fashion show were: Mandy Little, Junior I Casual; Arimy Gradine, Junior I Dressy; Shyla Johnson, Junior I Specialty; Lorry Ledbetter, Junior II Casual; and Marci Hill, Junior II Specialty.

Those winning special placing at District were Arimy Gradine, second place, Junior I Dressy and Marci Hill, third place, Junior II Specialty.

Seaman Jones Completes Training

Navy Seaman Recruit James B. Jones, son of Connie and Walter J. Jones, Jr. of Post, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Illinois.

During Jones' eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1988 graduate of Post High School, he joined the Navy in April 1989.

Our gratitude and heartfelt thanks to those who expressed their kindness and compassion to our family in the loss of our mother. May God bless you. James Gary family Bill and Betty Gary Joe Duren family Arleta Gary and children Billy M., Linda and Darby Gordon

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair... perhaps you sent beautiful flowers, if so, we saw them there. Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words as any friend could say; perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console the heart, we thank you so much, whatever the part. The family of Beulah Mae Brewer Elsie Mae Jackson Ruthell Stanley Donna Sue Gary Trena Woods

I realize that Post is a fantastic place to live but each passing day makes me more sure of it. I would like to say "Thank You" for the concern shown while I was in the hospital. Your prayers, cards, telephone calls and visits were appreciated very much. Thanks again. I love you, Billie Windham.
