Council changes position on budget, sends Turner back to drawing board

All capital improvements shelved

by Wes Burnett and Mike Stearns

Although the Post city council held three work sessions over the past two months and voted to approve its proposed budget last month, a vote of three to two Monday night at the regular monthly meeting threw the budget back into city manager Bob Turner's lap.

Previously approved with no voiced opposition, the decision Monday night came as a shock to citizens at the meeting. City council member Jimmy Holleman introduced a motion to rescind the $3 sanitation rate increase and Dan Lamb joined him in the vote to disapprove the budget. City council members Maxine Conoly and Larry Mills opposed the change. Council member Jim Schooler was not present.

Mayor Jim Jackson paused for a few seconds, then cast the deciding vote to reject the budget, which he had previously supported.

The move eliminates continuation of the reserves being maintained to provide for future landfill development as well as a long list of capital improvements that had been earlier approved.

Because of the revision of the budget, the council also voted to table the tax rate.

Following a lengthy discussion, which included opinions expressed by Pat Walker, the council approved Plan A-1, which was recommended earlier by the city's redistricting committee.

Walker raised the issue that any plan which did not include two representatives from each district would have to be approved by the federal courts. In order to get the plan approved, a citizen would have to file a law suit against the city in federal court.

After hearing the discussion, the council voted to proceed with the Plan A-1, which establishes five voting wards with one council member to be chosen from each ward. The state law concerning cities the size of Post requires that two council members be elected from each ward.

A recent decision by the federal court established a similar voting system in Seagraves, which Post's redistricting committee had used as a basis for its plan.

Walker repeated his often stated view that the current plan is "packing" of minority voters into a single ward. Walker also said that a higher percentage of minorities register and vote as opposed to non minorities. City attorney Harvey Morton replied that research with the county voting records indicate that there are actually less percentages of minority voters participating in registration and voting here.

The minority representatives on the redistricting committee were pleased with the Plan A-1 because it allows for a higher percentage of minorities in the northeast ward than the U.S. Justice Department's unstated standard of 65 percent minority population in a "safe" voting ward.

Custodial bids from three people were opened and the award for the job went to Mrs George Bird at the rate of $6.50 per hour. Conoly abstained from the vote.

A public hearing before the council meeting studied a proposed application for a Community Development Block Grant for improving housing for eligible residents. The meeting was attended by approximately 25 interested citizens.

During the citizens' audience portion of the meeting a citizen requested that "something be done about my fence" that was torn down when tree limbs were dumped onto the fence near the alley. She filed a complaint with the city manager about the event. She charged a neighbor with the offense. The city sent a warning letter to the suspected offender.

Upon the second complaint the city manager referred the citizen to the sheriff's department to file a civil complaint.

Morton explained that the city by law is forbidden to expend funds or provide labor from city employees to enter private property for the purpose of assisting

Post High School hosts parents Tuesday at annual 'Parents' Night'

All parents and friends of Post High School students are urged to attend the Parents' Night, to be held this year Tuesday, September 22 at 7 p.m. The event is designed to help both parents and teachers better serve the students.

Parents are requested to arrive at the high school gym for refreshments and a copy of their child's class schedule.

When the bell signals the start of the program, parents will be able to progress through a "day at school" in the footsteps of their children.

The high school teachers are prepared to provide interesting and informative segments during these brief meetings. There will be helpers on hand to aid anyone needing directions to rooms.

Post merchants have donated a full range of "door prizes" to be drawn throughout the evening. The prizes vary from free car washes and anti-freeze to brass coat racks and decorative pictures. All parents who register will be eligible for the drawings.

The high school class which has the most parents registered for the "Parents' Night" will be treated to a meal in town.

with repairs or improvements. Morton emphasized that the issue is a civil matter between two individuals and that the city is not responsible in this case.

After the meeting, the complainant said to the mayor "I want you to treat me just as you would your mother," to which the mayor replied "Just call me and I will take personal action."

Attending the meeting were Mayor Jim Jackson, council members Holleman, Conoly, Lamb and Mills, city manager Turner, city secretary Wanda Wilkerson and attorney Morton.

Commissioners approve budget, set tax rate at $.21

Tax to raise same amount as last year, increases to come from precinct reserves

by Wes Burnett

The estimated $110,000 deficit for Garza County's 1992-93 budget was solved by the commissioners court Monday morning by setting a tax rate of $.21 to raise the same total revenues as last year and to use reserves from each precinct.

"We feel we have put together a responsible budget," Judge Giles Dalby said, "it's going to be the tightest year we've had in years."

He also emphasized that by taking money from reserves, the county will still face difficult decisions during the year for emergencies and in future budgeting.

"We hope the taxpayers recognize the problems we are facing and the fact that we have resisted any big increases," Dalby added.

The court also set new county fees and took no action on a request from the South Plains Food Bank for financial assistance.

"It's a good cause and they do a lot of good things," Dalby said, "but we just can't stretch this budget any wider."

In other action, commissioners approved a petition by voters within the boundaries of the old justice of the peace precinct four for an election for the sale of alcohol. The precinct is in the southeast section of the county and voters south of a line from "Green Tank" (near the Snyder Highway roadside park) across to the OS Ranch headquarters and south will be affected.

The election date was set for Monday, October 5, 1992 in Voting Box Four at Justiceburg.

Commissioners heard proposals from Mason Warner and Co. and Steven Sawyers for serving the county with its auditing. After hearing the proposals commissioner Herb Walls introduced a motion to retain Sawyers as the auditor. His estimate of fees was $7,500. Mason Warner and Co.'s estimate, presented by Larry Anderson, was $8,000. The court approved Walls' motion.

Judge Dalby requested the court to redefine a public road from Justiceburg to the Kent County line as a county road, designating the roadway to comply with its more than 35 years of county maintenance. Public access to the proposed 3,000 acres of a Lubbock owned wildlife mitigation area near Lake Alan Henry is required by state and federal regulations.

The court also approved a request by Mobil Corp. for rights of way for a CO₂ pipeline, which is to be installed from Denver City to Kent County, passing through Garza County near Close City and to the Huntley Field.

Commissioners authorized a request by Dalby to send Donald Windham and Irene Ammons to a seminar in Austin concerning grant applications by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

The court also approved a $5,000 participation with JobSource+, along with Lubbock County and the City of Lubbock for the youth job program.

Treasurer Ruth Ann Young outlined potential problems with the current self insured health program and explained the Texas Association of Counties health insurance program with Prudential. Walls reminded the court that the high cost of the TAC program was what caused the change to the self insured and he proposed continuing with the current system. Facing an $8,000 current deficit in the program, Young and Dalby pointed out that perhaps the self insured program was not the best thing for counties the size of Garza. The court approved Walls motion and authorized Young to transfer funds into the self insured program as necessary.

Dalby requested Young to keep the court advised on a monthly basis of the budget and specific potential problems.

The Judge also reported to the court that during the summer meals program a total of 1,989 breakfasts were served and 5,455 lunches. "It was a tremendous success," he said, "and I think we owe everyone involved in the program a great deal of praise." He requested clerk Sonny Gossett to prepare a resolution from the court to those who assisted with the program.

Sheriff Kenny Ratke was authorized by the court to proceed with confiscation of a 1985 Jeep Wagoneer, which had been impounded following an arrest recently of the owner who was found in possession of 10 pounds of marijuana in the vehicle. The Jeep will be used to replace the 1978 Suburban, "which is just about run its course," Ratke said.

Post ISD trustees consider tax rate at $.43158

An effective tax rate of $.43158 per $100 evaluation was considered by the Post Independent School District board of trustees at the regular meeting Tuesday, September 8.

In other action, board members approved the withholding of payment to a sub contractor until problems with electrical coil systems are corrected.

Architect and engineer Bill Stracener reported to the board on various maintenance projects, including the installation of air conditioning and heating units. Jim Voss expressed concern for the coils over the athletic areas. Stracener pointed out that the bids did not include removal of the existing boiler.

Stracener also estimated the cost of repairing roofs and installing pitch roofing would be approximately $350,000.

A lengthy discussion about repairs to the track resulted in tabling the item. Stracener had suggested repairing the facility and high school principal Joe Giddens pointed out that repair would only provide a short term solution, that the best thing to do would be to completely remove the surface and build up a new track.

Superintendent Dr Bobby Bain recommended to the board that a new procedure for payment of bills be implemented to include once a month payments to vendors.

The board approved the payment of bills, budget change requests and the renewal of certificates of deposit in the amounts of $184,155 at three percent for 30 days and $1,858,877 at three percent for 31 days.

Former school board trustees Dan Hodges and Ronnie Gradine were presented certificates of appreciation in a special ceremony as well as plaques commemorating their service.

Following an executive session which included a discussion on evaluation of school principals, the board approved the employment of Micki Miller for third grade and Loretta Allaway for kindergarten to accommodate the increased enrollment at the elementary school.

Attending the meeting were board members Barbara Hardin, Mark Kirkpatrick, S. Rafe Foreman, Rex Cash, Gary Workman and Royce Hart.

Early flu vaccinations encouraged

Both influenza A and influenza B could circulate during the 1992-93 flu season, and people in high-risk groups should get vaccinated early.

The influenza strains expected to dominate this season are A/Texas (H1N1), B/Panama and B/Qingdao, said Dr. W. Paul Glezen, epidemiologist at the Influenza Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

A/Texas and B/Panama are covered by the 1992-93 vaccine.

B/Qingdao is not included in the vaccine, Glezen said, but is closely related to B/Panama. The similarity will provide vaccine protection during what is expected to be a mild to moderate season.

Influenza variants are named according to where they were first identified. The A/Texas strain was originally isolated in October 1991 by Baylor's Flu Center.

"People in high-risk groups should get vaccinated soon," Glezen said, "in case this season's outbreak occurs early."

Flu usually appears in early or mid-December and peaks in January or February, but the 1991-92 epidemic began earlier.

In most areas, the vaccine should already be available at physicians' offices and community health centers. It takes two weeks for a flu shot to provide full protection.

The people most at risk of flu complications are the elderly as well as people with heart disease; lung disease, including asthma and chronic bronchitis; diabetes; chronic kidney disease; chronic anemia, including sickle cell disease; and immune-system disorders.

Also recommended for vaccination are care-givers likely to come into contact with those in the other high-risk groups.

Influenza produces fever, generalized muscle pain, weakness and a dry, hacking cough. Victims should rest and drink liquids.

In treating symptoms, people younger than 21 should use only aspirin-free pain relievers. Aspirin has been associated with Reye's syndrome, a flu and chicken pox complication that can cause vomiting, convulsions, brain damage and death in children.

Amantadine, an antiviral drug, will provide specific treatment for influenza A infections; however, it is not effective for influenza B. Treatment should be started within 48 hours after symptoms begin.

NOTICE OF COMPARABLE TAX RATES AND REVENUES

The legislature has enacted a statute on school funding to comply with a court mandate enforcing the state constitution. Under prior statutes (SB 1) the tax rate for last year provides $ 5707 per student in state and local revenues. Under this statute (SB 351) that same rate now provides $ 6094 per student in state and local revenues.

State law only requires a minimum tax rate of $.9263 for county education districts. State law does not require a school district to adopt additional taxes. Neither does state law require a school district to adopt a tax rate that maximizes the receipt of state funds.

The board of trustees of the POST INDEPENDENT School District hereby gives notice that it is considering the adoption of a tax rate of $.431580 that will provide $ 6065 per student in state and local revenues.

The day we met the President

by Labeth Jones

When Mrs. Sharla Wells first said to me, "You are going to do something that is above everything you have ever done before," I could not imagine what it could be.

She then told me we were going to meet President Bush and be recognized for the Y.E.S. 775th Point of Light.

I was mentally stunned and then we both started screaming quietly in the school hallway and physically shaking.

I was in a daze for the rest of the afternoon. As I shared the honor with my parents that evening all the great "side effects" started again.

September 2, 1992 will be one of the greatest days of my life. Waiting for Mrs. Wells to arrive that morning gave me time to become nervous but no butterflies at that point.

Thinking about visiting a secured area at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock and being checked for identification to verify who I really am is "mind boggling".

We made it passed all security check points but one and I had to go through it again because of my silver bracelet.

It really made you feel special that everyone was trying to protect our President with not only the secret service, military police, electronic gadgets, but lists with your name on it before you could pass through each area before finally arriving at a secured air conditioned building to begin a two hour wait with other Point of Light recipients.

During this time we became acquainted and promoted each others programs. Commander Negley introduced himself and stated the press plane would arrive in five minutes and that it always arrives 10-15 minutes ahead of the President's plane.

The time had finally arrived, they lead us outside, past the President's limousine where Mrs. Wells and I traded taking pictures of each other by his limousine. We both had smiles from ear to ear.

The "butterflies" had finally arrived as we looked ahead and saw Air Force One landing causing my eyes and brain to have doubt of what was about to happen.

We waited under the wing of the plane for eight minutes before President Bush descended the stairs. First his head, then his chest then his whole body!

He shook everyone's hand in the welcoming line, then he came to us. The great MOMENT of waiting was over, he shook Mrs. Wells' hand first and started to ask what we represented then he read her shirt and said "Youth something with Seniors." Mrs. Wells replied, "Exchanging". She made eye contact and shook hands.

Then it was my turn. He asked, "If we were from Lubbock?" and I replied, "No we were from Post". "Post, Texas", President Bush stated.

He had the nicest smile and his hands were freckled, but a very firm handshake. President Bush continued down the receiving line and turned to all of us and asked, "if we would like to tour Air Force One?" The answer was YES.

He gave permission to the military attendant at the foot of the plane ramp for our group to go aboard his plane. We learned that very few are asked to tour Air Force One.

President Bush is very proud of Air Force One and wants everyone to know what a great service it is to us. I was overwhelmed with the plane and its function.

The President can continue business as usual with a small Oval office, a great many telephones, T.V. monitors, VCRs, fax machine, copying machine and computers.

Even though it was a plane it looked like a permanent office. Also to realize Air Force One is a home away from home with a living area, bedroom and food galleries not to mention accommodations for the news media, medical and other staff personnel.

After touring the plane and leaving the base to return to Post, we had an unexpected surprise. Police officers stopped us near Texas Tech to allow President's motorcade to leave the University grounds which gave us the pleasure to see President Bush again and wave good-bye.

This once in a lifetime experience for me was out of this world. I still get excited when I start talking about it. I will treasure this day for the rest of my life and I would like to give a heart felt thank you to everyone that made this honor possible.

Girl Scouts attend Kaleidoscope event

Last Saturday, eleven Girl Scouts represented Post at the annual Kaleidoscope event, sponsored by Caprock Council for Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts as well as sixth grade Junior Girl Scouts who will be bridging into Cadettes shortly.

Girls from all over the 18 County area enjoyed presentations on crafts and cake decorating.

Several girls from the area spoke about and showed photos and souvenirs from their "Wider Opportunities" trips this past year.

Just from this area, girls travelled to California, New York, and Wyoming events sponsored by Girl Scouts. The World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts sponsors many international events every year for Cadette and Senior girls.

Later, all girls attending held election for offices on their Cadette and Senior Councils.

The officers will help plan and implement activities for the next year. From Post, Jodie Hawkins was elected secretary and Tabitha Blevins was elected treasurer of the Cadette Council.

The day ended with the annual Gold and Silver Award Banquet at which time all those girls in the area who have earned either the Gold Award (highest Girl Scout award) or the Silver Award within the past year are honored.

Attending from Post were: Troops 131 and 257 Cadettes: Sharla Cruse, Jennifer Hubble, Tamara Mason, Jody Foreman, Jodie Hawkins, and Tabitha Blevins.

Troop 69 Juniors: Angel Blevins, Amber Callahan, Nicole Reed, Jana Zachery, and LaTonya Collazo.

Leaders are Pat Cruse and Jaquita Blevins.

Home Economics

In today's economy when we are all trying to save money where we can, one place to cut costs with good results is in substituting low cost meat alternates for meat occasionally. Cost of meat alternates is often less than half the cost of meats and eating the alternates does not reduce the quality of nutrition.

There is another benefit, possibly more important than the money saved. It is likely that substituting meat alternates for meat in the diet, at least occasionally, improves nutrition. Eating a diet high in fiber as provided by meat alternates is a factor in the reduction of risk of cancer and cardio-vascular disease. Research findings indicate that reducing the amount of meat eaten often also reduces the amount of fat in the diet and reduces the risk of cancer and heart and artery diseases.

With these research findings in mind the new USDA food pyramid and dietary guidelines encourage us to substitute beans, grains, and other meat alternates for meats in our diet. Many of us think that we can't eat a meal without meat, but according to these recommendations, we should try. And when we do eat meat we should have it as 3-ounce servings not 8-ounce servings as many of us have been accustomed to.

Meat alternates, dried beans, grains, nuts, eggs and dairy products provide the same complete protein as meat does when these foods are eaten in combination with each other. Eating macaroni and cheese, peanut butter and graham crackers, beans and cornbread or tortillas provides the same quality of protein as eating meat but also provides the benefits of more fiber and less fat.

If you are interested in adding more meat alternates to your diet and would like more information and ideas about why or how to do it, call my office (405-2050) and I will send it to you.

Clyde Heron
Clyde Heron, of Ardmore, Okla., has received numerous awards for his paintings, including the Plainsman Award, the Arrowhead Award, the Golden Spur and the Jefferson Davis Medal.

The Jefferson Davis Medal is of particular significance. The medal was presented to the artist by the United Daughters of the Confederacy for "his devotion, dedication and integrity in promoting and preserving the history of the South during the War Between the States through his paintings. His meticulous research is shown by the authenticity and realism of his paintings of the military scenes of the period."

History students find his works gracing the covers of historical books published by the University of Oklahoma Press, the University of Nebraska Press and the University of North Texas Press.

Scott Rogers
High intensity action is the name of the game for the McKinney artist, Scott Rogers. The desire to make motionless bronze appear to be moving has become his obsession.

His flare for action may stem from his years as a bullrider throughout Texas and Oklahoma. Coming from a ranching heritage, Scott's love of the Old West comes naturally.

Gary Ward
Gary Ward is a second generation artist from Canyon, Texas. He works primarily in pastels and concentrates on western art and portraits.

Gary is a graduate of West Texas State University with a degree in art education and is currently teaching school at Canyon Junior High School. He maintains his studio on acreage south of Canyon where he resides with his wife, Lisa and he is also part owner of Gallery West in Canyon.

Betty Blevins
Betty Blevins of Lubbock, describes watercolor as the medium that best expresses and communicates her interpretation of beauty. She loves to capture the nostalgia of various scenes of the Southwest as well as old homeplaces and treasured collectibles.

Betty has a degree in art education from Hardin-Simmons University and teaches workshops and gives many demonstrations and programs for art leagues and church groups. Her gallery affiliations include Taylor Art Gallery in Santa Fe, N.M. and Fort Point Gallery in Lubbock.

K.W. Whitley
Born in Austin, K.W. Whitley has always sought a combined appreciation of horses, nature and art. Continuously exposed to artistic creativeness perhaps, as her father, a fine artist and professor of fine art at the University of Texas for 36 years, stressed and encouraged his children to express themselves through the arts. She attended art school at the University of Texas and then spent six years with various ad agencies doing illustration, ad design and art direction.

Bob Chennault
Bob Chennault's approach to painting is very gentle, which allows him to capture the moods of motion and peacefulness as with a sunset at the right moment or a fresh snowfall at the peak moment of its beauty.

Bob was born and raised in West Texas and developed his own style as a natural, self trained artist to capture subtle detail with a masterful touch, be it cowboys working cattle, a delicate still life or a beautiful southwestern landscape.

Ralph Wall
Ralph Wall of New Braunfels is easy and intimate with the culture of the American Indian. Because of his intimacy, he demands respect for his emotional message. A Kiowa woman with her husband and child hangs traders' ribbons high in a tree for the elements to disperse as a tribute to the Great Spirit. The gesture in itself may seem foreign to us, yet the feeling behind it is common to all people, of all times: thankfulness and reverence for God. Wall has shown in the Western Heritage Sale and the Auction in Houston, Stamford Art Foundation and the O.S. Ranch.

Robert Campbell
Robert Campbell of Amarillo has worked on ranches and doing a lot of arena roping, bringing him to understand the need for quality items that will last a lifetime.

"The bits and spurs that I make are made from start to finish in my shop," he says. "No store bought rowles, pins or hangers. All silver, bronze, copper are hand cut."

Jammy Huggins
Jammy Huggins of Seminole is acquiring an admirable reputation for her creative works in the media of pastels, watercolors and bronze sculpture. She had her first bronze cast in 1982 and began seriously to devote herself to portraying the culture of the Southwest.

A graduate of Texas Tech University, Jammy has found in the West the beauty of color and design and the lore of history which are so ably combined in her works.

The court also approved Ratke's plan for using unpaid reserve deputies, who will pay for their own uniforms, training and bonding. They will be considered certified deputies but receive no benefits.

Attending the meeting were Judge Dalby, commissioners Walls, John Valdez, Albert Stone and Sammy Ellis, clerk Gossett and treasurer Young.

Veterans given first chance to bid on October State land sale

A catalogue listing 550 tracts of forfeited state land reserved exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is now available from the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB) by calling 1-800-252-VETS. Bids will be opened on October 27, 1992 at 1 p.m.

Located in 128 Texas counties (with the majority in North, Central and East Texas) the tracts, known as Type I properties, range in size from five to 66 acres.

The VLB will finance the full amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one land purchase in the sale.

"Texas veterans should take advantage of this sale if they are in the market for land to use for recreation or an investment," said Garry Mauro, chairman of the VLB. "Since these tracts have never been offered for sale by the board, this sale gives Texas veterans an excellent opportunity to buy good land with 100 percent financing."

Mauro noted that setting aside new forfeitures exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is a long-time VLB policy.

"The land program is a Texas way of saying thanks to our veterans," Mauro said. "It's only fair that they should get first shot at these tracts."

Tracts not sold in the October sale will be offered to both veterans and non-veterans through local real estate agents.

Eligible Texas veterans will receive a 7.99 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable fee for each bid submitted is required.

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with a minimum bid set on each tract. All bids must be received by October 27, 1992 at 1 p.m. Bidders need not be present at the bid opening in Austin.

Details of the sale and a description of each tract can be obtained by calling the VLB toll-free 1-800-252-VETS.

LHS class of '42 seeks classmates

The Lubbock High School Class of 1942 is holding its 50th reunion, October 23-24, 1992 at the Lubbock Plaza Hotel.

We are trying to locate all members of the class so that they might make arrangements to attend. Our class was the first graduating class to finish and move directly into the maelstrom of World War II. Many of our class became members of the military prior to graduation, so we are unsure of the exact number that should be counted as the class of 1942.

At the present time we have made contact with about 200 members of the class. We know of 55 members who have passed on, so this leaves a sizeable number still needed to be contacted.

Hopefully the citizens of your area might help us in making contact with every member of the class of 1942.

We are also encouraging all members of the classes of 1940 through 1944 to join us for a wonderful reunion.

For further information please call or write to: June (Honey) Rayburn, 4419 87th Street, Lubbock, TX 79424, 806-794-3130.

Tigers rough up on 'Lopes during home opener

By Mike Stearns

The Post Antelopes were in this game. The final score wouldn't indicate that, but they were in the game. The Bold Gold had played the Slaton Tigers close throughout the first half and went into the locker room at halftime only trailing 14-6.

"I really thought that we were in the game", commented Coach DeWayne Osborne. "We came in at half time having been able to move the football and stop the attack of Slaton. We felt good about our chances in the second half."

The home opener for the Post Antelopes also showed how a game can change dramatically in just a few seconds and how much difference a quarter can make in a football game.

Before those few moments that opened the second half, though, we had a football game at Antelope Stadium.

It looked like Post would have their opportunity to panic early in the contest. But the young squad responded with true confidence in the first quarter.

After the 'Lopes were unable to move the football in the opening possession, Slaton took the ball and drove 53 yards in 9 plays to tally the first score of the game. The big play of the drive came on a third down and eight from the Slaton 49 yard line when it looked as though Post had stopped the Tigers diversified attack. Then Andrew Jones (remember that name, it would come back in Antelope nightmares) broke outside on a sweep and took the ball 33 yards to put Slaton deep in Bold Gold territory.

The Antelope defense toughened as Slaton got close to the goal line. On fourth down from the Antelope 6 yard line, quarterback Chris Hammons rolled left and spotted Mark Gonzales just over the goal line, the pass was on the money and Slaton led 7-0 after the successful extra point kick.

Post wasn't phased by the Slaton touchdown, however. They came back with a drive of their own that took over five minutes and covered 63 yards.

After Tim Bell hit the line for 11 yards in three plays and drew an offside penalty against Slaton, Post was operating in Tiger territory at the 47 yard line. Oscar Acevedo, starting for the first time at fullback, ran for two up the middle setting up the pitch to the strong side on the next play to Bell. Bell gained eight on the play giving the 'Lopes a first down at the Tiger 36.

After two running plays gained 3 yards, Jim Riley Simpson rolled out for his first pass of the night. He found Acevedo out of the backfield and hit the shifty fullback in the breadbasket for six yards.

Two plays later, Simpson again went to the airways and found Brad Lawson at the ten yard line for a first down. Post had found a passing attack!

Russ bird scored two plays later on a sweep, led into the end zone by a crumpling block by Oscar Acevedo. But, as in the Abernathy game, the snap was mishandled and Post trailed by one, 7-6.

The touchdown rallied the defense as they held Slaton on their next possession and actually pinned an eleven yard loss on Tigers. Post could not move the football on their next set of downs and they had to give the football back to Slaton. The Tigers then drove the ball 70 yards in 9 plays to take a 14-6 lead with 4:14 left in the first half.

Neither team was able to move the football through the rest of the half as the teams traded interceptions to close out the half.

Post only trailed 14-6 at the half and it looked like the game would be a real fight the rest of the way. But the first 16 seconds of the second half changed all that.

Bodie Simpson kicked the ball on a squib play down to the twenty and tailback Andrew Jones had trouble finding the handle on the football. It looked like Post might have a chance at the fumbled football, but Jones found the handle just in time. Anxious to pin Jones deep in his own end of the field and going for the football, Post over ran the coverage. Jones found a seam at the twenty five and raced eighty yards untouched into the end zone. The extra point made the score 21-6 favor of Slaton. The air had been let out of the confidence balloon for the Bold Gold.

Post spent the rest of the quarter trying to find the combination again to move the football. And to the credit of the young men and the coaching staff, they did finally get it back. But it took them until the start of the fourth quarter to recover. By then Slaton had built a comfortable 35-6 lead.

Post's final scoring drive started at the beginning of the fourth quarter at mid-field. And it started with a renewed effort in the passing attack. Jim Riley Simpson hit Tim Bell at the 44 of Slaton on the first play of the drive. After Bell ran for the first down at the 40, the two hooked up again for a four yard gain. Simpson then faded back into the pocket and found Ricky Jefferson at the 22 yard line. The two pass plays did what Post had hoped to accomplish early in the contest. It opened up the middle for the running game.

Tim Bell ran for 11 on a draw play that was well executed. Bell ran the ball two more times and then came the key play in the drive, a pass play.

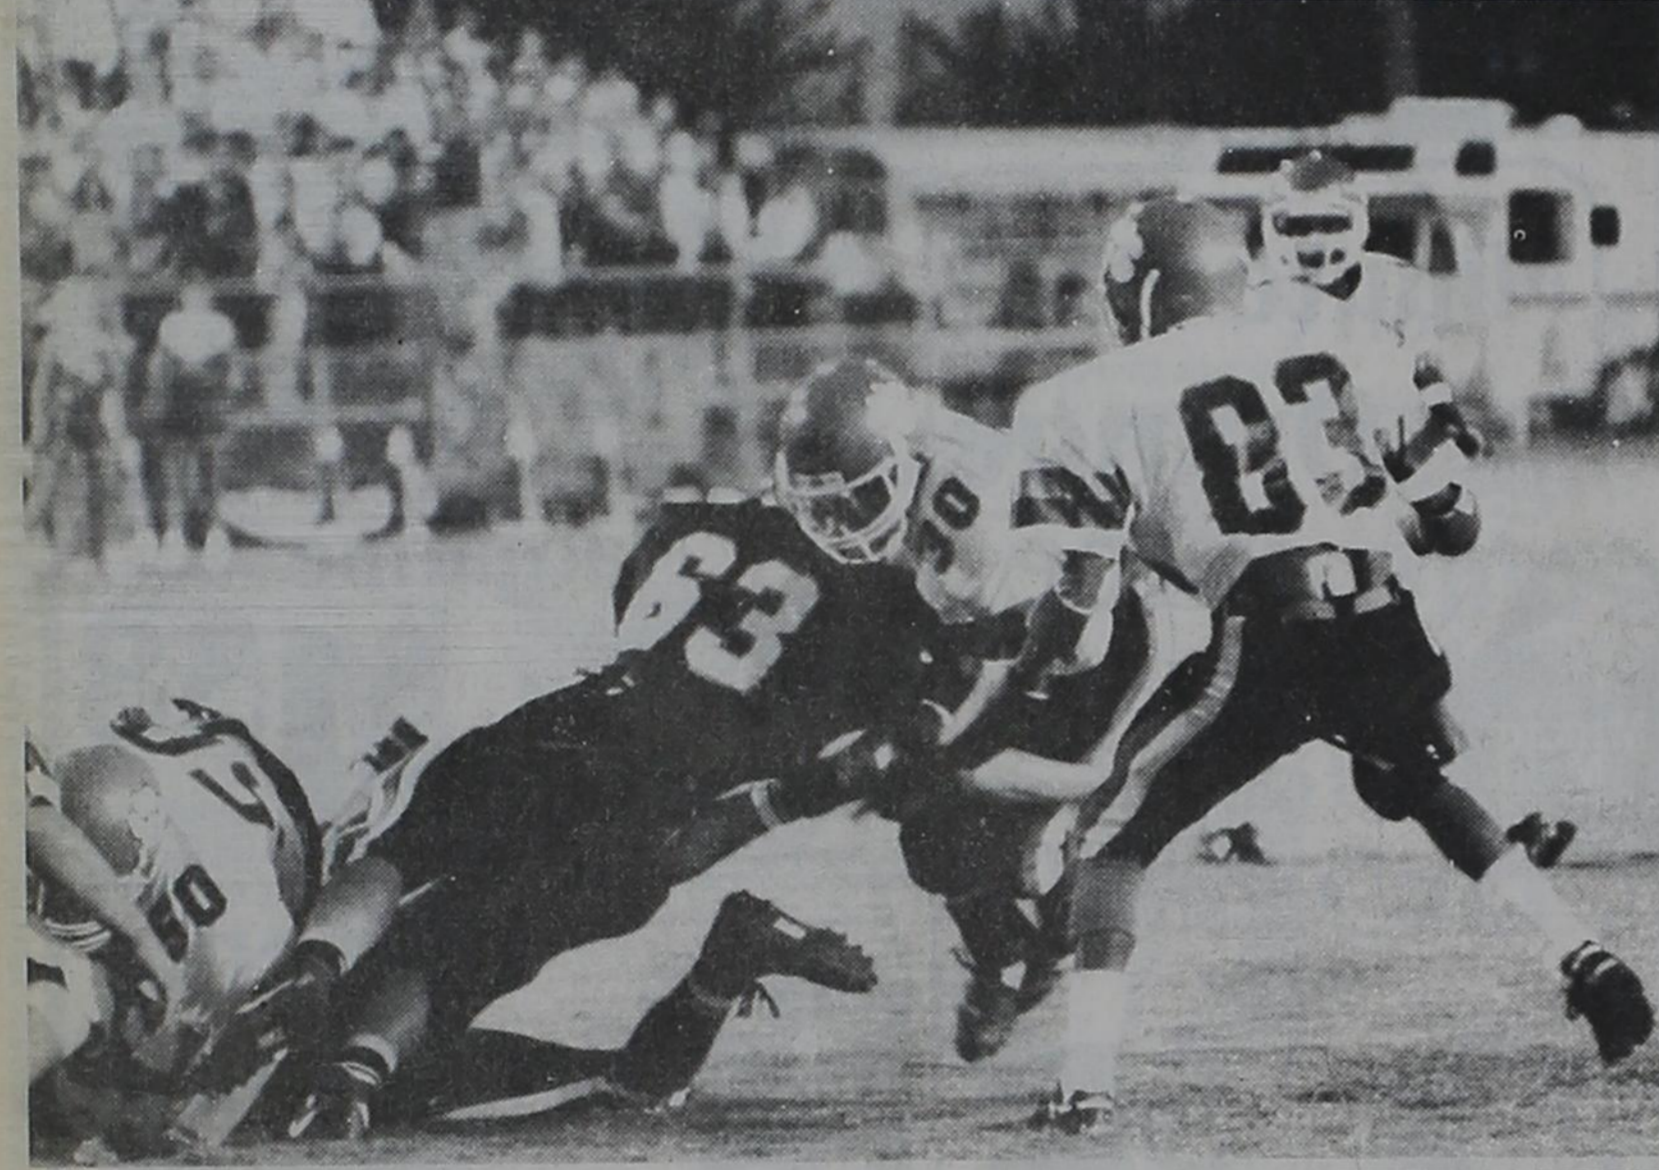

Jim Riley Simpson hit Ricky Jefferson on a 13 yard pass that Jefferson almost turned into the end zone. Tim Bell finished the drive off by powering over tackle for the touchdown. Post's attempt at the two points failed and the lead had been cut to 35-12. But it was too late. The score came with 2:40 left in the game.

Post had the ball one more time but couldn't score. Slaton then ran out the clock to improve their record to 1-1. Post dropped to 0-2.

The third quarter was the key. Slaton outscored the 'Lopes 21-0 in the fifteen minutes after intermission. It took that long for this young ball club to recover from the kickoff return by Jones for the touchdown. It may not have even happened as many of the fans, and this reporter, detected an illegal block that was not called. But all of that is part of Friday night football. The teams that win are the teams that recover from that type of adversity. The Bold Gold did recover, it just took a little bit of time.

The 21 points in the third loom much larger when you consider that the final margin of victory for Slaton was only 23 points. Look for the effects of this game later in the season when Post bounces back quicker from that type of adversity. The 35-12 loss may be hard to take, but it could make this team better. District opponents shouldn't expect to roll up that kind of score against the Bold Gold. Post plays next at Stanton this Friday night at 8 p.m.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for optional Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone service, effective March 15, 1993, unless otherwise determined by the PUC.

These proposed rates will not increase or decrease the Company's overall revenues; the net effect will be neutral to the Company's annual revenues.

The Company proposes to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service for residential customers from $1.00 to 68 cents, and also to reduce the Touch-tone rates for business customers from $1.75 to $1.70. In addition, the Touch-tone rates for business PBX trunks will be reduced from $3.15 to $2.18.

This proposal to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service does not change the commitment that the Company made in the Docket No. 8585 Stipulation to reduce the rates for Touch-tone service in 1993.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 and Speed Calling-30. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

| | Residence | | Business | |
|---|--------------|---------------|--------------|---------------|
| | Current Rate | Proposed Rate | Current Rate | Proposed Rate |
| One Feature per line | | | | |
| Call Waiting | $2.10 | $2.85 | $2.65 | $3.25 |
| Call Forwarding | 2.10 | 2.10 | 2.65 | 3.50 |
| 3-Way Calling | 2.10 | 2.10 | 2.65 | 2.50 |
| Speed Call-8 | 2.10 | 2.10 | 2.65 | 2.50 |
| Two Features per line | | | | |
| Call Waiting, Call Forwarding | 3.75 | 4.25 | 4.75 | 6.00 |
| Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling | 3.70 | 4.25 | 4.75 | 4.75 |
| Call Waiting, Speed Calling-8 | 3.70 | 4.25 | 4.75 | 4.75 |
| Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling | 3.70 | 3.50 | 4.80 | 5.00 |
| Call Forwarding, Speed Calling-8 | 3.70 | 3.50 | 4.75 | 5.00 |
| 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 | 3.70 | 3.50 | 4.75 | 4.00 |
| Three Features per line | | | | |
| Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and 3-Way Calling | 5.30 | 5.65 | 6.90 | 7.50 |
| Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and Speed Calling-8 | 5.30 | 5.65 | 6.90 | 7.50 |
| Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8 | 5.30 | 5.65 | 6.90 | 6.25 |
| Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8 | 5.30 | 4.90 | 6.90 | 6.50 |
| Four Features per line | | | | |
| Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 | 6.90 | 7.05 | 9.00 | 9.00 |
| Speed Calling - 30 code capacity | 3.20 | 3.20 | 4.25 | 3.20 |

Most of the Company's residence and business customers who subscribe to Custom Calling Features and Touch-tone service will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring.

It is expected that the restructuring of Custom Calling Features will result in a rate increase for approximately 2.9 million residence customers and 280,000 business customers. The reduction in rates for certain Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone Service will affect approximately 4.3 million residence customers and 1.7 million business customers.

This rate restructuring is expected to have a "revenue-neutral" effect on the Company's annual revenues. The proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million; while the reduction in Touch-tone rates will decrease the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11382. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 30, 1992. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

JV stomp Slaton 24-16

by Mike Stearns
The Post Junior Varsity visited Slaton and dominated the Tigers both offensively and defensively in posting their second win in a row. The Post offense rolled to 336 yards of total offense while the stop troops held Slaton to just 155 yards.

Post scored first in the contest on a run by Alvin Reed. Reed picked up two more touchdown runs over the course of the afternoon to finish with 22 of Post's 24 points. Heath Eagle completed two passes to Cody Bain for 63 yards out of eight attempts.

"The offensive line play was outstanding", remarked Coach Fred Postel of the effort by all the boys. "The defense played well to shut Slaton down." Brant Windam recovered a fumble and Heath Eagle recorded an interception to stop Slaton drives.

The JV are next in action against Stanton at Antelope Stadium Thursday night.

8th grade play well in loss

by Mike Stearns
The Middle School football year began at home against Slaton this past Thursday night. The 8th grade team outplayed Slaton in every statistic and ended up on the short end of a 28-14 score.

Post responded to Slaton's first score by marching 68 yards in 7 plays. Patrick Soto found an opening in the Slaton line and rambled for a 45 yard touchdown. Post took the lead as Jerry Crawford burst into the end zone with the two point conversion. The 8-6 lead would be the last Post would see as Slaton turned three big plays into points to lead 28-6.

Post scored again in the third quarter on a Josh Grisham pass to Jerry Crawford that covered 53 yards. The 'Lopes were unable to convert the extra point bringing the final point total to 28-14 in favor of Slaton.

"We had about the same total yardage as Slaton but couldn't get into the end zone when we need to," said Coach Darrell Radle.

The 7th grade participated in a scrimmage with the Slaton Tigers and the teams were fairly matched. Both squads found the end zone once, Post on Sam Woods' one yard run.

"Our boys got a good idea of what football is all about", commented Coach Chili Black. "They did a good job for their first competition."

Both teams are in action this Thursday in Slaton.

Card of Thanks

Yes, we had an Estate Sale. After many years of illness, surgeries, and broken bones I knew I could never live at 1015 Sunset Drive again. My decision to sell my earthly possessions was best for my two daughters, Lorrye Lou Moore and Linda Lane Runkles. I have great memories of all the years living and working in Post. To loved ones, family and many friends for prayers, phone calls, cards or just remembering me, I say Thank you. God loves you and so do I. Helen Livingston

We would like to thank each one of you for the support and thoughtfulness which you have shown during the recent loss of our mother.

The cards, flowers, food, visits, but most of all your prayers for her and our family will not be forgotten.

For those who donated in her memory to the Scottish Rite Children's hospital in Dallas and to Gristown - we appreciate what you did.

We are blessed to have so many friends who care.

Oil filter disposal enforcement begins

The Texas Water Commission (TWC) will begin enforcement September 1 of a new state law that prohibits the disposal of used oil filters in Texas landfills.

The law is aimed at eventually halting the disposal of an estimated 50 million used oil filters buried annually in landfills across the state.

The measure will be implemented in the larger counties first, but in all counties within two years. Implementation is being staggered to ensure that there are sufficient used oil filter collection centers, transporters and processors in each area of the state to support the program.

The September 1 enforcement date will apply to the state's four largest populated counties: Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant.

"We estimate Texas landfills are being soaked with about three million gallons of oil each year from the used oil filters that are buried," said TWC Chairman John Hall. "This poses a significant threat to our water supplies, increases landfill construction costs and is a waste of scrap metal that is readily recyclable."

All businesses in Texas that handle used oil filters such as service stations, quick-change oil operations and car repair shops, have been required since June 1, 1992, to remove excess oil from used filters - before putting the filters in the trash.

Now, businesses in the four affected counties must not only remove the oil from the filters, but must have the filters picked up for delivery to a registered processor or end user (manufacturer) for recycling.

"The Commission approved rules on August 26 setting standards for the program," said Susan Kaderka, manager of the TWC's recycling and waste minimization program. "The rules provide details such as the manner in which used filters must be packaged for transporting."

THE WARMTH OF THE EARTH

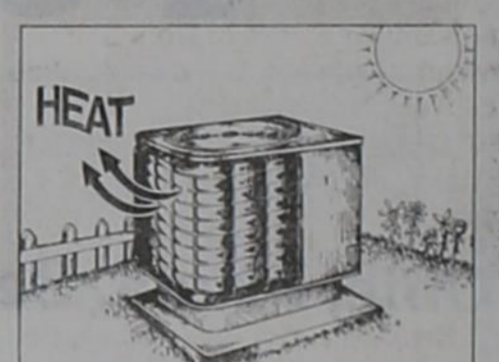

The heat pump captures it to heat and cool your home naturally.

The Dual Fuel Heat Pump uses existing heat to keep your home comfortable...naturally. Because it doesn't have to create heat, it's very efficient. For each unit of energy it uses, the Dual Fuel Heat Pump creates two or three units of heat.

Dual Fuel Heat Pump owners say it costs them less to operate than other systems. And, because it's electric, the Dual Fuel Heat Pump is cleaner.

There is heat in the air on the coldest days. The heat pump captures it to warm your home.

In summer, it becomes a high efficiency air conditioner. During hot weather, the heat pump captures the heat inside the home and takes it outside.

Contact your heat pump dealer or Southwestern Public Service Company for more information.

Look out, drunk drivers! Higher education will get you!

by Jack Maguire

Colleges and universities are helping get drunk drivers off the streets and highways and otherwise working with law enforcement agencies to reduce traffic accidents.

The programs--cooperative efforts with the Texas Department of Transportation--already are paying for their costs many times over in lives saved and reduced injuries and property damage.

The effort to reduce drunk driving is especially effective. It accomplishes this by providing 65 state law enforcement officers with instant computer information as to where intoxicated drivers are likely to be cruising. It is attracting attention across the nation.

The device is known as TRASER--short for Traffic Services Microcomputer System. It was developed by Martin Crouse, principal programmer for the Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A & M University.

Since San Antonio began using the system in 1989, traffic fatalities there have been reduced almost 50 percent a year, and arrests for DWI have soared.

Before the Aggies developed TRASER, statewide traffic deaths averaged 3,840 annually. In the last two years, the average has dropped to 3,161--a decline of 17.1 percent--and is still falling.

Since the National Safety Council estimates that each traffic death represents an economic loss of $410,000, TRASER is credited with saving Texas $278,390,000 each year. The software works by having law enforcement agencies feed into the central computer statistics on all DWI arrests. The system then details days, times and streets where officers are likely to find drunk drivers.

Special mobile units are assigned to patrol at specific times and places. If they spot a car being driven erratically, they stop it and test the driver for intoxication. They have found that almost one-third of all DWI arrests occur in the areas and during the times that TRASER has indicated.

The effort has been so successful that it won a national biennial award from the Federal Highway Department for outstanding highway safety improvement. Because of its results in saving lives in Texas, TRASER has been adopted in 40 other states.

Devising such computer programs, however, is only one example of the cooperation between the Texas Department of Transportation and the state's colleges and universities.

U.T. Health Science Center - San Antonio, recognized for its efforts to educate parents on the proper use of infant and child car seats, now will devise materials to teach children under age nine to be aware of dangers to pedestrians. The Texas Department of Transportation is providing a $12,500 grant for first-year funding.

The "Kid Safe" staff at the San Antonio medical complex already is preparing printed lessons that will identify and discuss many dangers to children pedestrians such as darting into traffic from parked cars or school busses. These will be distributed throughout the state.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has asked the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to offer new optional call management services called Caller Identification Service (Caller ID) and Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR).

Caller ID is a new optional phone service which allows subscribers to see the phone number and/or name of most local calls before they answer the phone. Caller ID also allows the recording of the date, time, name and/or phone number of calls. Currently, Caller ID would work only on most local calls, not long distance calls. It would also require that a separate display unit be connected to the telephone. These units that attach to the telephone will be available from various retail vendors, including Southwestern Bell, at a cost starting at approximately $50.

Southwestern Bell is also proposing that all customers be able to "block," or stop their name/number from being transmitted and displayed on a Caller ID device, free of charge. You would have this option of "blocking" your name/number on each call free of charge. There would be no need to subscribe to this service. All customers would have this capability when Caller ID is introduced in their area.

If you want to block your name or number, you need only press *67 on your touch-tone pad (or dial 1:67 from a rotary phone) before dialing the telephone number. The person you're calling would see displayed a message such as "private" or "anonymous" on their Caller ID display unit.

Southwestern Bell also proposes that qualified domestic violence and law enforcement groups have the option of free per-line blocking, or free per-call blocking.

Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR or "block the blocker") allows subscribers to automatically reject all calls that have been marked anonymous, or "blocked" by the person calling. It is not necessary to subscribe to Caller ID Name/Number to subscribe to ACR. With ACR, your telephone will not ring if the person calling you has "blocked" his/her name or number. The person calling whose identification is blocked will receive a message to hang up and call back with caller identification unblocked. Following are the proposed monthly rates for Caller ID and ACR.

| Proposed Rates (monthly)* | Residence | Business |
|---------------------------|-----------|-----------|
| Calling Number only | $6.50 | $ 8.50 |
| Calling Name only | $6.50 | $ 8.50 |
| Calling Name & Number | $8.00 | $12.00 |
| Anonymous Call Rejection | $3/$1 | $3/$1 |

* These rates are in addition to the initial installation charges and monthly basic service rate. For residence customers, installation charges are $2.70 per feature, with a maximum charge of $5.40. For business customers, the charges are $5.40 per feature, with a maximum charge of $10.75.

 Anonymous Call Rejection is $3 per month if purchased without Caller ID and is $1 per month when purchased with Caller ID Name or Number.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11362, and a hearing on the merits has been scheduled for November 16, 1992. The PUC has jurisdiction to consider this matter pursuant to Sections 16, 18, 37 and 38 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act (PURA). This application was filed pursuant to the provisions of the PUC's Substantive Rule 23.24. Among the issues that will be addressed in this proceeding is the legality of the Caller ID device and service under Texas wiretap laws.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 26, 1992. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Researchers find silver lining in disastrous cotton season

Researchers find silver lining in disastrous cotton season

Excessive rain, hail and cool weather this spring delayed planting, nurtured seedling diseases, destroyed young plants and wiped out almost two million acres of cotton on the Texas South Plains. Nevertheless, those conditions may have done growers a favor for crops of the future, scientists told more than 400 visitors to the 83rd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here, Tuesday, September 8.

At one stop on the tour, Dr. John Gannaway, Experiment Station cotton breeder, pointed to a plot where 250 lines of cotton had been planted last April 15. "Seventeen of those survived and look extremely good," Gannaway said. "If there is a silver lining this year, that's it."

The genetic qualities which caused those 17 lines to excel under the most adverse conditions of this growing season are among the things breeders are working toward, Gannaway explained. He said those lines will be planted this winter in Mexico and seed produced for planting here next spring. "We want to get those into the hands of commercial seedsmen, and the growers, as soon as possible," he said.

At other stops, visitors heard a report on the arrival in High Plains sorghum fields of the new Biotype I greenbug, learned how Experiment Station sorghum breeders are working to develop plant resistance to that pest, heard of management practices to combat the cotton aphid, saw results of longterm minimum tillage practices, and viewed a state-of-the-art building for storing and handling agricultural chemicals.

The new type of greenbug, for which most sorghum plants have no resistance, has been identified in 13 counties from Terry County to the top of the Texas Panhandle, Dr. W. Pat Morrison told tour guests. Morrison, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service here, said the insects were found in a survey this summer of 60 fields in 30 counties from Gaines County northward.

Counties in which the Biotype I greenbug were found are Yoakum, Cochran, Bailey, Hale, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Donley, Armstrong, Hutchinson, Hartley, Hansford and Ochiltree.

Dr. Gary Peterson, Experiment Station sorghum breeder, displayed sorghum plants with greenbug damage and explained work being done to develop insect resistance in the plants. He said it is a process of selecting resistant lines, identifying genotypes and incorporating desirable resistance characteristics into improved types of plants.

The benefits of conservation tillage and such practices as crop rotation were discussed at a third stop. "The tougher the year (for growing conditions), the better the rotated crop comes through," said Dr. Wayne Keeling, Experiment Station systems agronomist who reported on several years of studies conducted at Lubbock, Halfway and Lamesa. Keeling and Dr. Brent Bean, Extension Service agronomist and weed specialist at Amarillo, discussed chemical weed control.

At a fourth stop, Dr. Don Rummel and Dr. James Leser, entomologists with the Experiment Station and the Extension Service, reported on research projects and recommendations to improve management of the cotton aphid, a major pest last year. This year's late crop and poor stands made the aphid less of a factor, but the entomologists cautioned growers to carefully watch the remaining cotton crop. When aphid populations reach 50 per leaf, it is time to treat with an insecticide, Leser said.

Home economists with the Extension Service and Texas Tech University presented exhibits on food safety and uses of cotton. Other displays explained a new program to help producers determine irrigation demands based on potential evapotranspiration (PET), and showcased the latest agricultural equipment and products.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of the Experiment Station, Extension Service, USDA-Agricultural Research Service, Texas Forest Service and Texas Tech.
