Garza County gets $60,000 funding for criminal youth rehab program

by Wes Burnett

Garza County Judge Giles Dalby informed the Commissioners' Court at its regular meeting Monday morning that a $60,000 grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Department would provide funding to offer alternatives to sending youth offenders to prison.

The resolution requesting the funding was approved by the court unanimously. The program will use both local efforts and funding for space in treatment facilities in Lubbock, where Dalby said there has been success with youth getting help at a time when they need it most. He said that sending young people to prison often creates a hardened criminal later.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR HONORS went to A.C. Cash for his efforts in a wide variety of community projects. He was awarded the honor at last Saturday's annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet. He is joined by his wife, Jo.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR HONORS were bestowed to Lino DeLeon during last Saturday's annual Post Chamber of Commerce banquet. Lino was recognized for his "can-do" volunteering in support of community efforts. Lino is joined by his wife, Olga.

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR AWARD went to Bo Jackson for all the business operations he manages, including Jackson Bros. Meat Packers. He was honored for his continuing efforts to seek ways to provide services in a broad spectrum. Joining him is his wife Marita.

GARZA COUNTY COWBOY HALL OF FAME honors this year were awarded to the Henry Key family in recognition of the late cowboy's life-long pursuit of helping others and living the life of a cowboy here. Accepting the honors at the Post Chamber of Commerce banquet was Henry's widow Willie, joined by her daughter Eva Lou Page (second from right), grandson Ronnie Page (left), great granddaughter Jenni May Page and family friend Terry Durrett.

Commissioners approved an amendment to the budget to pay for 106th Judicial District expenses that had not been included in the budget years of 1989, 1990 and 1991. The total was $17,721.60, with two of the years being paid this year and the remainder in next year's budget.

There are two budget items for the 106th court, "and for some reason that expense item was overlooked," Dalby explained.

Dalby told commissioners that the Jail Standards Commission will inspect the jail here on March 5. He also informed the court that an interlocal agreement is being prepared with Dickens County to hold prisoners when the jail here becomes overcrowded. "They have offered to pick up and return our prisoners and house them at a rate of $25 to $35 per day," Dalby said, "that's almost less than what we can do it for."

No decision was made on a request by Texas Department of Public Safety officers for procurement of tone only pagers. A representative of Lubbock Radio Paging made a proposal but commissioners put off the decision until the next regular meeting.

The court authorized Donald Windham to visit Bailey County to research the details on Garza County's land there which is scheduled to be sold.

No decision was made on a suggestion to open bidding for the county audit. County attorney Preston Poole, at the request of Dalby, explained to the court that the county auditor is appointed by the district judge.

The regularly scheduled meeting for March 23 was moved to March 30 to accommodate Dalby's requirement to be in Austin to attend the Judicial Reform Committee and Lottery Commission meetings. He was appointed to the Judicial Reform Committee by Gov. Ann Richards and was recently named to the Lottery Commission by State Comptroller John Sharp.

County agent John Senter informed the court that a total of 14 youth from Garza County are participating in the stockshow at San Antonio. Competing at the show are Russ Bird, Talina Bird, Aaron Cooper, Amber Cooper, Jenny Martensen, Shawn Pennell, Natalie Pollard, Nikki Pollard, Christy Reiter, Kim Reiter, Chelisa Williams and Melissa Williams.

Attending the meeting were Dalby, commissioners Sam Ellis, Albert Stone, John Valdez and Herb Walls, clerk Sonny Gossett and treasurer Ruth Ann Young.

Cotton crop called disappointing and disastrous

by Janell L. Jones
Texas Tech University
For The Post Dispatch

Rough, disappointing and disastrous are how Garza County farmers are describing the 1991-92 cotton crop.

The combination of poor quality and low grades in cotton returns have caused prices to fall dramatically. This season's prices have ranged from 17 cents to 57 cents per pound, as compared to the '90-91 season average of 58 cents.

Garza County is projected to show a 40 percent loss on the 39,000 acres planted in 1991, according to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office here.

"If farmers were able to harvest before the October 30 freeze, they had a good yield of a half to one bale to the acre, unlike those who are still trying to finish," ASCS executive director Victor Ashley said. "Many farmers who still have cotton in the field may not gather because the quality and price will be too low."

The weather has been the biggest factor in reducing the quality of the cotton in this year's crop. This has been the longest season on record since the '72-'73 crop, and, just as it did 20 years ago, the weather has taken the upperhand and forced farmers to play by its rules.

Drought, hailstorms, rain, snow and more continuous rains have all combined in an untimely manner to hamper and destroy the growing and harvesting attempts. A farmer in the Grassland area said he has been trying to harvest since November 15, but has only been in the field three full weeks since then.

Because of the time the cotton has remained on the stalk or in the modules and had to withstand the harsh weather and continuous rain, the quality of the fiber has decreased. Cotton in the modules that have remained wet during the rains have produced a lower quality than that left on the stalk, resulting in Below Grade (BG) results.

Because of low prices and low quality, many of the farmers will not be able to break even. To assist the farmers, the United States Department of Agriculture, through the ASCS, has established a Disaster Program.

According to Ashley, signups have begun for the program and will continue until March 13. After that time, the total benefits of all crops nationwide will be determined, and farmers will receive payments according to the national factor.

Crops from the 1990 and 1991 seasons are eligible for assistance through this program, but they must meet requirements established by the USDA.

Crops must suffer at least a 40 percent loss without crop insurance or a 35 percent loss on crops with insurance.

Participating program crops will be paid at 65 percent of the target price, and non-participating program crops will be paid at 65 percent of the load rate.

More information about this program may be obtained through the Garza County ASCS office.

Playground conditions deplorable

Do you have children in this school system? If you have, have you noticed the deplorable playground at the elementary school?

Not just lately, but for the last 20 years?

If you haven't been to see it, please drive or walk by on the primary side, it at times has had raw sewage spilling out of pipes being cleaned.

The children are told to avoid the water, till it dries, "just play around it."

Most of the time the ground is so dry that many children are hurt by even very low falls.

Many broken bones, bruises, cuts, etc. result from the equipment that has been around... I know since I went through school it was there.

I am so sick and tired of reading about the monthly renewables on the certificates of deposits worth thousands or millions of dollars that are kept for years for their interest!

Please, please let your voice be heard... other schools have decent playgrounds for younger children and large obstacle courses for their third, fourth and fifth grade students.

Cut up tires or loads of pea sized gravel cannot be that expensive.

All children need a place to play and all children should know that if they fall, it will be cushioned and they will not be injured.

Thanks.

Name withheld by request.

School funding a mess

The Post Independent School District is probably emphatic about last week's State Supreme Court decision to overturn the Legislature's school finance plan.

They have every right to be. The plan was obviously unconstitutional.

It robbed property taxes from the wealthier school districts and distributed the revenue among the less fortunate districts.

The 'Robin Hood' plan turned out to be a failure and as a result the State Legislature must return to square one for a solution.

Now it's time for the people to help the lawmakers out.

Compromises will have to be made. The school-children are being denied superior education, the teachers are without decent pay, and eventually everyone will pay because a solution has not been negotiated.

What's the answer?

The 'Robin Hood' plan was ineffective. Not necessarily because the rich had to give a little to the poor, but because it created an overall pursuit of educational mediocrity throughout the state. Wrong answer. The court was on the money by overturning the plan.

Next step is for the Legislature to propose one of two things. Either a statewide property tax or a personal/corporate income tax but there are no more options. Our children must be educated so our country and global community can strive ahead towards a more perfect place.

Education is always the beginning of enlightenment and a state income tax or property tax is a small investment in the children of tomorrow.

Greg Windham

Editor's Note: We'd like to see the power and influence of local decision making returned to the original concept of "Independent School District" by removing the centralized and socialized "equality" being mandated from Austin. Equality cannot be legislated, and independence must be fought for, it cannot be bought.

A long way to go

We have worked long and hard to overcome... but when we read that our mayor still says "colored boy"... we know we have a long longer road to go!

Name withheld by request.

Editor's Note: We hope the mayor's reference to a city employee as a "colored boy" is not a widespread reflection of attitude in our city government or our elected leaders. At the very least we believe a public apology is due. An expression such as this is bad enough from private citizens, but when an elected official, sworn to uphold the constitution and the laws of the nation and state, uses slurs which are known to be offensive to many of our citizens, it is a serious matter deserving much reflection.

Dear Editor:

There are probably no closer friends in life than those you grew up with and completed high school. Those were the ones who competed with you in class, community projects, love and sports. They were the ones who teamed with all of your peers to compete in any and all activities outside of your territory.

In my case, I have kept in contact with some six or seven all through the years by mail mostly and telephone regularly. We have had two class reunions since our graduation in 1933.

We all shared life in the depression, World War II and living afterward.

One of the favorites of those early years was our class president, Darrell Jones. Like the rest of us, he lived in Post and worked to help support the family, attended school regularly and made honest grades.

Although I heard from him through others who acted as a go between to keep us informed, I didn't get to visit with his wife and daughter until our 50th class reunion in Post. Since that time, we have written occasionally and then had another three day visit in October of 1991 at our 58th reunion. Darrell said of all the conventions, reunions and other such meetings, the one he enjoyed the most was our class reunion.

Darrell died Sunday, January 26, 1992 in Washington, D.C. after a long illness. He was a severe diabetic and had a heart condition. Although he was confined to a wheel chair for quite sometime, he was mentally active and with the help of his wife and daughter, travelled to many places across the U.S. to attend reunions and other meetings.

His wife, Ruth, and daughter, Darrie Spalding and two grandchildren, Robert Lloyd and Carrie Ann Spalding, will be a part of our reunion group as long as we are alive and pass ours on to our children and grandchildren.

There is a fellowship within the class of '33 that was formed out of a group of pioneers who settled Post that makes us a family. No matter where his broken body is buried, his spirit is alive and well in our hearts and we'll share in Ruth's and Darrie's grief at our separation from his presence.

Lee Norman announces candidacy

Lee Norman, who has been a farmer in the Close City Community since 1974, has announced his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner, Precinct One in the March 10 Democratic Party primary election.

Norman, a 1968 graduate of Post High School and a native of Garza County, attended Wayland University and earned his degree in finance from Baylor University in 1973.

He is married to the former Marsha Tipton, daughter of Marshall and Jean Tipton of Post.

Lee and Marsha are the parents of 16 year old Laura, 15 year old Janie, 13 year old David and nine year old Steve.

Lee is the son of Glenn and Mary Margaret Norman.

"I am interested in serving every corner of the precinct and county," Norman says.

Among his recognitions is the 1979 American Farmer Degree, a national Future Farmers of America award.

Norman is the former manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. store in Post from 1974-78 and was president of the Post Chamber of Commerce in 1976.

He is a life-long member of the First Baptist Church of Post.

"My public service interest includes a strong emphasis on wise and prudent expenditures by county government, maintaining county roads and highways and being easily accessible to the people of Garza County and particularly those in Precinct One, where I may be reached by a local telephone call," Norman says.

He is a director and vice president of the Close City Coop Gin and a director of the Garza County Jr Livestock Association, an organization Norman has supported for several years.

Jr. - Sr. Valentine Party

Y.E.S. youth volunteers hosted a Junior-Senior Valentine Party Thursday, February 6, at Post High School Home Economics department. Seniors attending are clients of the youth volunteers in the Youth Exchanging with Seniors project.

Lady Seniors were presented a Valentine corsage as they arrived at the party. Later guests played games of Bingo winning prizes donated by the youth volunteers. Refreshments provided by the youth were served to the 53 youth and seniors who attended the fete.

Those attending were Dianne Ammons, Lorena Voss, Labeth Jones, Anissa Tomlinson, Hiram Gutierrez, Sonja Benham, Wendy Clay, Michael Robertson, Michael Voss, Mary Gunn, Willie Scarbrough, Pansy Smith, Irene Ammons, Vada McCampbell, Ida Mae Wilks, Hooter Terry, Inez Ritchie, Raeline Bagby, Ruby Carpenter, Evelyn Gurley, Alma Williams, Joe Williams, and Pee Wee Pierce.

Post Extension Homemakers hold meeting

by Inez Ritchie

With all the rainy weather the members of Post Extension Homemakers club attended our meeting on February 3 in the Reddy Room at 7 p.m.

Ida Jones presided over our meeting.

Exchange of quilt blocks and other crafts were given.

Program was given by our agent Ann Nobles on "Heart Smart Nutrition" and "How to Eat Right." We shared recipes and made plans for our district meeting to be held April 1 at Snyder.

Members attending were Sara Ault, Lillie Cendalski, Oneita Gunn, Inez Ritchie, Ida Jones, Nona Lusk, Faye Payton and guest Evelyn Jones.

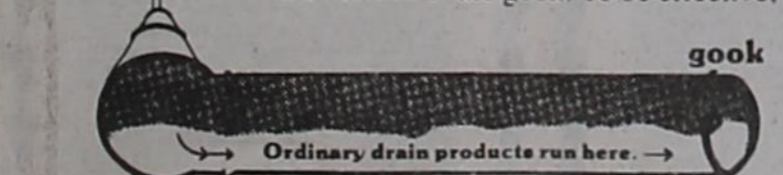

Deadline for all news and advertising... Mondays, 5 p.m.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

When in Lubbock, do as the Lubbockites do.

Eat at Gardski's.

Choosing a restaurant in an unfamiliar town doesn't have to be a scary decision.

All you have to do is eat where the locals eat. In Lubbock, that means Gardski's. And it has for over 15 years. So next time you're in Lubbock, eat where the locals eat.

Without a doubt... it's gotta be Gardski's!

This ANN That

by Ann Nobles

In recent weeks the news media has reported that fish markets in Chicago and New York had severe food handling and sanitation problems. Because the seafood industry in Texas is relatively small and new, it has not become as complacent as the markets mentioned.

To ensure safety and quality, many Texas distributor participate in the voluntary seafood inspection program provided by the U.S. Department of Commerce, contract with independent labs for product analysis and conduct their own quality control and sanitation program. The industry also supports the call for an improved inspection system for seafood products.

Seafood is highly perishable and it is true that by the time most seafood reaches retail, its, near the end of its brief shelf life. The following guideline are suggested for seafood shoppers:

- * Know your seafood retailer. Buy all seafood from licensed stores and markets.
- * Observe the retail area for cleanliness and sanitary food handling practices of the employees.
- * Look for well-iced products.
- * Avoid products piled high in the display case and place under bright lights, situations that increase chances of spoilage.
- * Select cut fish that has a sheen or bloom to the flesh a translucent look and a mild fresh clean odor.
- * Make sure that raw products are not touching cooked ones.
- * Choose fresh shrimp that's firm, unbroken and free of discoloration on the flesh. The odor should be clean and mild or non-existent.
- * Make sure oysters are in marked containers nestled down in ice. The container should have a certification number. Look for plump oysters in clean, thin liquid. An ammonia-like odor indicates spoilage.
- * Select fresh-picked crab meat that has a sweet odor and is in a container displayed in ice. Purchase within five days of the date marked on the container's bottom.

If you're not going to freeze your seafood once you get home, use it within two days of purchase. Keep it in the coldest part of the refrigerator -- the meat drawer or on the bottom shelf in the back -- and never thaw it at room temperature, but rather in the refrigerator, a sink in cold water or in the microwave oven.

Spoiled seafood usually smells and tastes bad, so consumers should use good judgement to help determine quality. In addition, all seafood should be cooked thoroughly before it is eaten to help destroy bacteria and parasites. It is best to never eat raw or undercooked seafood. The bottom line is to buy a good quality product, handle it with care and enjoy it cooked.

Two Opportunities For Area Producers

There have been two events announced that will be a boost to all folks with an interest in cattle production or forage management. The first meeting that might be of interest is the Forage Management Symposium to be held Tuesday, February 18 in Amarillo at the Texas Agricultural Research and Extension Center. The Symposium is scheduled to begin at 8:30 with registration and the actual program will begin at 9 a.m. The agenda is quite impressive and some of the topics on the agenda are: Old World Bluestem Management, Native Grass Management, Forage Sorghum Management, Supplements for Native and Improved Pastures, Profitable Grazing Systems, Brush Control and Managing Pyrethroid Resistant Hornflies.

The second meeting of importance of beef cattlemen is the Feeder Feedback meeting, sponsored by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association. The Feedback meeting will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, February 26 at the Holiday Inn Civic Center, in Lubbock. Not only will the meeting allow participants to gain some new insight from the TCFA, an important part of the meeting will be the portion of the program that will allow attendees to give their own feedback into the program.

The TCFA will mail reservation cards to area feeders. If you plan to attend this meeting and do not receive a card, feel free to come by our office, in the courthouse, we have a good supply on hand.

Ann Nobles earns certification

Ann Nobles, Garza County Extension Agent - Home Economics, has earned the Certified Home Economist credential according to The Council for Certification at the American Home Economics Association. As one of 8,500 CHEs across the United States she has chosen to demonstrate her commitment to maintaining a current level of knowledge in the field of home economics.

By becoming a Certified Home Economist, a practitioner validates that she has attained a measurable level of knowledge in home economics and is committed to expanding that knowledge-base within her field of expertise. Certification requires a minimum of a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university and a passing score on the national home economics examination. Nobles must complete 74 Professional Development Units every three years to remain certified.

As a Certified Home Economist, Nobles applies the principles of the Code of Professional Responsibility including: exercising sensitive professional and moral judgements; accepting the obligation to serve the public interest; demonstrating the highest standards for personal integrity, truthfulness and honesty in all professional standards; and striving to continually improve competence and quality of services.

The American Home Economics Association, which serves as an advocate for home economics and represents the field to external constituencies, was founded in 1909. As one of the oldest professional organizations in the United States, the association has spearheaded the certification effort to:

- affirm the knowledge-base of individual practicing in the field of home economics;
- provide assistance to consumers that Certified Home Economists are well prepared for professional practice;
- foster more uniform standards of good practice in home economics;

- assist employers in recruitment and selection of home economists;
- and
- enhance professionalism within the field of home economics through increasing accountability to other professionals and the public.

Public Notice
Southwestern Bell Telephone Company recently filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to redefine the location of the demarcation point, or demarc. The demarc is where Southwestern Bell Telephone wiring connects with customer-maintained wiring.
This request will not increase customers' service rates. This request simply changes the point within the wiring where Southwestern Bell's maintenance responsibility ends and the customer's maintenance responsibility begins. As before, customers will be able to connect their own wiring directly to Southwestern Bell's network at points up to the new demarc.
Southwestern Bell is seeking approval of this new demarc location to bring its tariff into compliance with a Federal Communications Commission Order in CC Docket 88-57.
More information will be included in customers' bills beginning February 1, 1992. Persons who wish to comment on the application should notify the PUC by March 20, 1992. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, TX 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

'Never say die' attitude propels 'Lopes

by Allen Dolberry
The Post Antelopes continued to show their "never say die" attitude as they fought hard but fell short against Crosbyton in the February 4 loss here of 54-40.
Things started out tough for the Lopes as the Chiefs didn't seem to miss anything they shot. Good defense by Shane Horton in the form of two blocked shots kept the game from getting out of hand early. Crosbyton led at the end of the first period 16-7.
Post came out strong in the second period with three straight steals, but were not able to convert them into points. However, the Lopes were able to fashion a 7-0 run to pull within 28-22 by halftime.

Horton pulled off a three point play at the four minute mark in the third period that brought Post to within 32-25. Tray Payne ended the quarter with a three point bomb to make it 40-32.

It only took the Lopes two minutes to blow any chances of a serious comeback as they allowed the Chiefs to run off six unanswered points to bring their advantage to 14 points, where it stayed throughout the remainder of the contest.

Lopes vs New Deal
The January 28 contest at New Deal will be remembered as "the one that got away," as the Lopes dropped a heartbreaker 60-58.

The Lopes came into the first period looking like true district contender as Michael Harper scored seven points and led the Lopes to a 17-16 advantage.

Josh Bush and Tommy Ammons were nearly a team by themselves as they accounted for all but four of the Antelopes' 24 second period points. Bush also sank a long range three pointer in the scoring spree.

Post led at the half 36-30.
The Lopes opened up a 10 point lead midway through the third period with good inside play by Horton.

Things started to fall apart for the Lopes at that point in the game. Nine straight points by the Lions tied the contest at 56-56 with two minutes left to play. New Deal sank an easy lay up to go ahead by two. Ammons then used two free throws to knot things up again at 58-58 with 1:30 showing on the game clock.

The Lions ran the clock down to 30 seconds before they went ahead on a two point jumper. Post then brought the ball down court to attempt to tie the game when they found themselves on the wrong end of a very questionable walking call that led to an Antelope technical foul with 10 seconds left.

The Lions missed both free throws but were able to keep the ball away from Post and scurried away with a 60-58 win.

Harper paced the Lopes with 14 points and Ammons and Horton contributed 13 each.

and hope for a better tomorrow, according to Garza Chapter's Janie Ammons.

The reception will include light snacks and refreshments.

ACS field representative Christy Reeves will offer valuable information and answer questions.

Senator Gramm announces loans to aid farmers

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm has announced that farmers in seven Texas counties are eligible to apply for low-interest emergency loans to help recover from damages and losses to crops due to drought, hail and excessive rainfall which plagued much of Texas during 1991.

Due to drought and hailstorms between January 1 and July 19 of last year, farmers in Crosby County are eligible for the loan assistance.

Due to drought between January 1 and July 19 of last year, farmers in Andrews, Dawson, Dickens and Duval Counties are eligible for the loan assistance.

In addition to the above counties, 43 other Texas counties have been named as contiguous counties and therefore eligible for assistance. The counties affected by drought and hailstorms are Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Kent, Lynn, Lubbock and Motley. The counties affected by the drought are Borden, Brooks, Cottle, Crosby, Ector, Floyd, Gains, Garza, Howard, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kent, King, La Salle, Live Oak, Lynn, Martin, McMullen, Midland, Motley, Stonewall, Terry, Webb, Wheeler and Winkler. The counties affected by excessive rainfall are Cass, Chambers, Hardin, Harris, Montgomery, Morris, Polk, Red River and San Jacinto.

The FmHA, which will supervise the loan program, is charged with providing aid to the farmers and ranchers in order to assist their economic recovery from natural disasters.

'Will Rogers' show

The event will open with a catered meal at 7:30 p.m. followed by the "CCA Good Times Auction" and McFall's special portrayal of America's "cowboy philosopher" Will Rogers.

Tickets for the event are $10 per person and may be purchased at the First National Bank, CCA office, Garza Theatre and Chaparral Restaurant.

McFall has performed as Will Rogers in 43 states since 1982. He toured with James Whitmore as his understudy in "Will Rogers' U.S.A." and was the first person other than Whitmore to tour that show.

In 1989 McFall spent hundreds of hours in research, drew upon his seven years' experience as Will, and compiled his own show.

McFall is a native Kentuckian and a professional actor since 1966, appearing in motion pictures and on television in "All In The Family," "Benson" and "Archie Bunker's Place".

Lady Lopes struggle in district contests

Varsity Girls at New Deal
The January 28 loss at New Deal was much the same, with a 66-37 win by the Lady Lions.

The Lady Lopes had a tough time hanging onto the ball as they turned the ball over four times in the first two minutes of the period.

LouAnn Ammons tried to spark the Lady Lopes as she scored six of the team's 11 points in the second stanza.

However, turnovers continued to plague the Post girls and the Lady Lions ran up a 33-19 halftime advantage.

In the final quarter the Lady Lopes came up with a tough press of their own that produced two New Deal 10 second violations. The Lady Lions didn't seem to mind, though, as they continued to pour it on throughout the last minutes of the game.

Post students reap benefits of Texas Bluebonnet Award

Now in its second decade, the Texas Bluebonnet Award annually attracts more than 190,000 children in grades three to six, with 127 Post ISD students participating this year.

Post Elementary School librarian Maury Shiver said that in 1991 80 students voted and 28 read 10 or more books, compared to 51 reading 10 or more this year.

"In 1991 six students read all 20 books," Mrs Shiver said, "and this year 32 read all 20 books."

The purpose of the Texas Bluebonnet Award is to encourage Texas children to read more books, to explore a variety of current books, to develop powers of discrimination and to identify their favorite books through the voting process.

Mrs Shiver expressed appreciation to all the students who participated and their families who helped and to Post Public Librarian Jeanette Bell, who purchased Bluebonnet books and allowed students to report to her during the summer.

"Also thanks to Suzanne Hudman who used calligraphy to put the students' names on their certificates and to the third, fourth and fifth grade teachers who encouraged students, tracked down books, listened to reports and celebrated when goals were met.

Teachers supporting the program included:
Third grade - D' Anne Bishop, Peggy Ashley, Brenda Thomason, Crystal Greer and Tyra Raspberry.

Fourth grade - Shari Poole, Carlene Kyle, Marylynn Bell and Patricia Hammonds.

Fifth grade - LuNell Gribble, Cathy Courtney, Alexia Collier and Pam McCarty.

"Thanks to Joyce Tatum who kept track of books and students who needed books and got them together," Mrs Shiver added. She also expressed appreciation to The Post Dispatch for photographic and news coverage.

NOTICE
Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc., hereby gives notice that on January 17, 1992, it filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas an APPLICATION FOR A CERTIFICATE OF CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY FOR PROPOSED GENERATING FACILITIES for two 104 MW simple cycle gas-fired combustion turbines. Brazos Electric's site of choice, and the only site involved in the Application, is Brazos Electric's existing R. W. Miller Plant site on Lake Palo Pinto in Palo Pinto County, Texas, as shown on the map published herewith. The Rural Electrification Administration, which must approve the project, is reviewing two alternate locations: Brazos Electric's existing plant sites in Bell and Parker Counties. The estimated expense associated with the project is $65,332,000. A copy of the filing is available for inspection at Brazos Electric's offices at 2404 La Salle Avenue, Waco, Texas or at the Commission in Austin.

Persons with questions about the project should contact William B. Townsend, Jr., at Brazos Electric at (817)750-6377. Persons who wish to intervene in the proceeding or comment upon the action sought, should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas 78757, or call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512)458-0256, or (512)458-0221 for the telecommunications device for the deaf. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding will be 60 days after the final publication of this notice.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - "Our ox is in the ditch," Gov. Ann Richards is fond of saying, as she did last week while blasting President George Bush's proposals to improve the national economy.

In Texas, public education's ox is in the ditch:

■ Texas property taxpayers are paying millions in new reform taxes which the Texas Supreme Court ruled is illegal, but must be paid anyway.

■ More than half of Texas high school seniors have failed the basic skills performance exam.

■ Japanese leaders accuse us of having a 30 percent illiteracy rate.

Undeniably, Texas education is in a ditch, despite billions in tax dollars jacked up by the Legislature since former Gov. Mark White began the reforms in 1984.

Last week, state leaders signaled they are well aware that voters have taxes and education on their minds.

Retreats from Threat

Gov. Richards and other legislative leaders backed down on their threat to let the justices write a new school finance law.

Richards, Senate education chairman Carl Parker and others tried to pressure the High Court into accepting their latest try at straightening out the mess.

The court didn't fall for it; it ruled the Legislature's plan to pay for education was unconstitutional. Try again.

Last week, Richards and Lt.

Gov. Bob Bullock echoed the need for Texans to stamp their approval on any legislative plan. It's the only way to get the controversy out of the courts, their aides say.

Richards said it is very likely she will call the Legislature into special session instead of waiting until the next regular session in January 1993.

Another Committee?

"We're going to take our time, so that when we do it, we try to get it right," Richards said, explaining why no date has been set.

"I'm saying you've got to come up with a proposal that not only passes the Legislature but will pass the voters of Texas," she said. "And that's not easy."

Richards said she will probably appoint another blue-ribbon task force, such as one recommended by the NAACP and LULAC.

Governor Boosts Pact

National and state issues are harder to separate these days: The governor was in Washington, D.C. last week boosting her pet issue, the free trade pact with Mexico.

Richards said she was looking for a Congressman with enough bravery to author a "social pact with Mexico" as well, which was badly needed, in her opinion.

She cited job training as one social issue for the pact.

The President proposed to spend $210 million to address environmental problems, with Mexico committed to spending $500 million.

Later, following a meeting between governors and Bush, she criticized the Bush administration for not laying "down any plan whatsoever" for an economy that "was in terrible straits."

The governor admitted, however, that his proposed national budget was "very good for Texas."

AG Wants Drug Money

Attorney General Dan Morales is attempting to secure drug assets, possibly totaling more than $750,000, that were seized by Midland County's sheriff outside of the county lines.

The attorney general's office said the state could demand the assets seized by Midland County Sheriff Gary Painter.

Morales intervened in a lawsuit that Midland County Judge Charles Seltzer filed against Painter claiming that 90 percent of the money seized in stings since 1988 came from outside Midland County.

Justice Quits One Post

Texas Supreme Court Justice John Cornyn, elected as a Republican last year, settled the controversy over his holding two judicial posts by quitting one.

Cornyn caught repeated flack from Democrats for also presiding over the 4th Administrative Region, which includes courts in 22 South Texas counties.

Appointed to that post in 1989 by then-Gov. Bill Clements, he vacated it last week, opening it for a minority appointment by Gov.

Richards.

Regulation Cost Cut

The Public Utility Commission voted to lower the assessment paid by consumers on their utility bills that goes toward covering the cost of utility regulation.

"The actual decrease for utility rate payers will be approximately $40 million," Commissioner Marta Greytok said.

The assessment is levied on telephone and electric customers.

Other Highlights

■ State Rep. Paul Hilbert, R-Spring, was charged with public intoxication after officers found him unconscious in his car along a Harris County tollway. His attorney, Floyd Freed, said Hilbert had been suffering the effects of flu and medication when he was arrested.

■ The federal probe into the plane crash which killed former U.S. Sen. John Tower apparently was caused by the failure of hydraulic gear in the propeller control system.

■ The State Board of Insurance agreed to a four percent increase in rates for drivers forced to obtain liability coverage from the insurer of last resort, the Texas Automobile Insurance Plan.

Sharp brothers honored recently

Jeff Sharp was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration in Management Information Systems from Abilene Christian University in Abilene, Texas on December 13, 1991.

His wife, Cathy, escorted him and hooded him during the ceremony.

Jeff's family that was in attendance was Betty Jo Sharp of Austin, Brad Sharp of Austin, Warren and Billie Lou Thomas of Post, O.R. and Ruby Sharp of Midland, and Cathy's parents James and Melva Copeland of Abilene.

Jeff is the son of Betty Jo Sharp of Austin and the late Jimmy Sharp and the grandson of the late Mr and Mrs D.C. Hill.

Jeff is working for West Texas

Utilities in Abilene as a Systems Analyst in the computer department.

Brad Sharp has been invited to join The Gamma Beta Phi Society and the Golden Key National Honor Society.

Both of these organizations consider students based on service, scholarship and character. To be considered they must be in the top fifteen percent of their class and can join by invitation only.

Brad will be recognized by the Gamma Beta Phi Society at a reception on February 13, 1992. He will be recognized by the Golden Key National Honor Society at a reception on March 5, 1992. Both will be attended by his mother, Betty Jo Sharp of Austin.

Brad is the son of Betty Jo Sharp of Austin and the late Jimmy Sharp and the grandson of the late Mr and Mrs D.C. Hill.

Brad is a junior student at The University of Texas in Austin. Brad received a letter stating that he was on the honor roll of the College of Engineering at UT for the fall semester with a grade point average of 3.42.

Brad works for MacProducts USA, a mail order company that deals in Macintosh computers.
