Post ISD trustees approve scaled down heating and air conditioning system

Uncertainty over state funding and building new gym put crunch on reserves Elementary school to get central air and heat

by Wes Burnett

Post Independent School District trustees, meeting in a special called session last Wednesday night, accepted the low bid of Armstrong General Contractors of Lubbock for a wide variety of renovation projects, including new air conditioning and heating systems, but stopped short of approving the entire $1,395,982 project.

Based on a set of priorities discussed at earlier meetings, trustees trimmed the initial project to include replacing the old steam heating system at the elementary school with central air conditioning and heating, as well as the six additional classrooms at the school.

Board members discussed at length the upcoming demolition of the old middle school gymnasium, including the cost of building a new high school gymnasium at an estimated $1 million.

"I am really concerned about spending all of our reserves at the same time that we are going to have to ask taxpayers for a big tax increase," trustee Mark Kirkpatrick said.

Board member Rex Cash pointed out that "30 days ago we didn't know we were going to be building a new gymnasium, I think we need to be prepared with our reserves for emergencies like this, how do we know the old middle school building won't also come up with major structural problems, after all, it's more than 50 years old too."

Trustees, faced with a mounting concern for the loss of up to $1 million from state revenues as a result of the recent legislation establishing County Education Districts (CED), struggled with the decision about cutting improvements at the high school and middle school buildings.

Board president Dan Hodges asked trustees to "walk through each item, and let's see where and how we can cut to get the top priorities done."

Using a worksheet, trustees penciled in the estimated beginning reserve funds, then began subtracting for each school project.

Superintendent Bill Shiver reminded the board that the estimates he submitted for future operating costs "are strictly my guess, I won't know for sure what our situation will be until August."

He told the board that a tax rate increase of 51 cents per $100 evaluation will be needed just to keep the system operating on current levels, due to the new CED funding.

After much consideration and discussion, board members voted to eliminate all renovation work at the high school building, with the exception of a handicapped lift at the gym, and to complete remodeling work at the middle school but not include air conditioning.

George Carpenter, representing the general contractor, told the board that the air conditioning and heating replacements for the high school and middle school could be put back in at a later date, but no later than October.

"If you have to cut, I think you made the right decision, because the elementary school is in the worst shape," Carpenter said.

Engineer Bill Stracener also told trustees that for a number of reasons, the elementary school building work needed to be done as a top priority.

Work at the middle school approved by the board includes replacing carpeting with special vinyl tile and new paint throughout the building.

Items eliminated from the high school project included renovating the science lab and installing new equipment as well as painting and air conditioning.

The total cost of the project approved by the board was $950,766.

The demolition work at the old middle school gymnasium is expected to cost between $30,000 to $50,000.

Shiver recommended a special called meeting in early July with Stracener to outline various options for building a new gymnasium.

In other action at the meeting, board members approved a new policy, establishing a 90 day reserve fund.

Attending the meeting were trustees Hodges, Kirkpatrick, Cash, Gary Workman, Ronnie Gradine and Pru Basquez.

Commissioners plan joint meetings to discuss District Court costs and Post Lake development

by Wes Burnett

The Garza County commissioners court will meet in the near future with commissioners from Lynn, Gaines and Dawson counties to discuss budgeting requests from the district court. The joint meeting, as well as a planned meeting with members of the White River Municipal Water District (WRMWD) board of directors were discussed at the regular commissioners court meeting Monday morning.

Judge Giles Dalby informed commissioners that copies of the 1989 water quality report prepared by the engineering firm of Freese and Nichols of Fort Worth has been made available by WRMWD board member Bo Jackson.

"I haven't had time to study the report," Dalby said, "but I have forwarded a copy of it to our attorneys in Austin for their review." His suggestion for a joint meeting with WRMWD directors met with approval from commissioners.

Dalby reminded commissioners that the recent water quality sampling from his ranch showed no pollutants were present and that the water "is perfectly safe."

Commissioners approved a division order with Meridian Oil, which reflected a change of purchasers in relation to payment of mineral royalties.

The court approved the status of a non-paid deputy as requested by Sheriff Freddy Cockrell.

A safety program required by new provisions of the workers' compensation law will be held July 25 from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the community center for county employees.

Commissioners set July 4 as an official holiday, announcing that the courthouse will be closed.

A joint election date of August 10 was approved by the court to coincide with Post ISD and Southland ISD constitutional amendment election date.

Commissioners approved a resolution concerning the federal and state grant of $805,000 for major improvements at the city/county airport. The grant requires the City of Post and the county to share 10 percent each of the cost. Commissioners authorized establishing $40,250 in each of the next two budget years to provide funding for the improvements.

Post plans big welcome reception Saturday for Dr Michael France

The Garza Memorial Hospital, in cooperation with Methodist Hospital, is hosting a community reception Saturday from 2 to 3 p.m. at the First National Bank Community Room for Dr Michael France, who is visiting Post as part of a recruiting effort by the hospital.

Dr France will be visiting Floydada Friday and is deciding about establishing a practice in either of the two cities.

He is board eligible and plans to open a family practice.

"We need wide spread support from the community," GMH administrator Marita Reed emphasizes, "community support will weigh heavily on the doctor's decision about where to locate."

Dr France, a 33 year old family practitioner, he has been in Beaumont since April 1990 and prior to that was in Colorado.

"Methodist Hospital is really putting forth an all out effort to find us a physician," Reed said, "and the community needs to be encouraged to support the efforts to the maximum."

HIGH ROLLERS headed for American Trampoline and Tumbling Association's National Championships in Baton Rouge, La. July 12 through 17 are (back row, left to right) Almee Martin, Shay Baldrige, Arimy Gradine, Macee Mills, (front) Barrett Scrivner, Dodie Morris, Meagan Mills and Jennifer Josey. ## Extension Service hosts predator control seminar Thursday

A predator control seminar will be held tomorrow, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Garza County Courthouse in the second floor courtroom, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

County agent Lee Howard emphasizes that the purpose of the seminar is to explain the predator problem in Garza County and to outline ideas for controlling the problem.

"We have a continuing and increasing problem with livestock losses here," he says, "including problems with coyotes and big cats."

Howard says that predators are costing as much as a five percent or more to area producers, including those with sheep, goats and cattle.

"A young calf that gets hit will cost as much as $500," he adds.

The seminar features U.S. Department of Agriculture's Rick Gilliland, who will discuss the social behavior, biology and management of coyote populations.

The program will also provide a historical approach of the turn of events that has allowed the coyote to dominate the predatory niche of the plains area.

One of the solutions to be discussed is the possibility of establishing a county trapper position, which could be funded jointly by the county and area ranchers.

"If we are going to solve this problem, we must have wide participation by area ranchers and producers," Howard says.

publicly thank the Post Volunteer Fire Department for their excellent work in extinguishing the recent tank battery blaze on our Connell lease east of the city.

These men are professionals dedicated to volunteer service in this community and the surrounding area. Thanks to their timely response, property and environmental damage was held to a minimum.

Thanks again for a job well done.

Very truly yours,
C.M. Starkey, Jr.

Dear Editor: Operation Desert Storm will probably go down in history as one of our most successful military efforts ever. That was due in large part to the participation of the U.S. Army Reserve. Beginning in August 1990, thousands of Army Reservists were called upon to perform the missions for which they had been trained. By now the whole country is aware of the tremendous contributions they made to the United States' Operation Desert Storm effort.

Their success was, in turn, made possible by the generous support of the American people. First, and perhaps most important, was the wide-ranging support by the communities of the Army Reservists who were activated. Local communities were particularly supportive of hometown units as they deployed. Without that, the activation would have been much harder to accomplish. But our Army Reservists went with the blessings and good wishes of the American people. We all realize just how important that is.

Without a doubt, one of the most significant factors in informing the public was the news media coverage of reserve activations. Overall, both the print and the electronic media presented a fair picture of the issues and activities surrounding the mobilization. As a result, the public saw how well prepared Army Reservists were and learned how important they were to the total Army effort.

The understanding that our Army Reservists have received from their employers has been most encouraging. No one likes to lose a valuable employee suddenly for an extended and indefinite period of time, especially in time of economic uncertainty, but the response of the great majority of employers has been very positive. And many companies went beyond the requirements of the law and generously extended additional benefits to their Reservists. As a result, Army Reservists were able to deploy without worrying about their job security. Now, as they are returning, we are seeing that support continue as employers are welcoming them back into the work force.

And finally, the families of our reservists deserve special recognition. They bore the emotional, financial and physical burdens of their soldiers' absence. They supported their soldiers and that made a real difference.

Once again, Army Reservists have shown themselves to be dedicated to serving their country. They sacrificed their time, they were separated from their families, and many lost income when they were activated. They needed your support and they got it.

On behalf of our fine Army Reserve soldiers, I am privileged to thank all of you whose support made it all possible.

Dear Citizens of Post:
Hoping to get more people to participate and have more interest in our center we have lowered the prices of our meals. The suggested donation price is $1.50 for seniors and $3 for those under sixty. Ev-everyone is welcome whatever your race, color or creed, all are more than welcome.

YARD OF THE WEEK honors this week were awarded to the Daniel and Melodie Yarbro, who live at 301 S. Avenue S. Joining Melodie and Daniel with the Post Chamber of Commerce sign are their children Quinton and Clinton.

We are going to have more interest shown in our center or we will have to close it because of the lack of funds. This is not only going to hurt our seniors but also our community.

Those who we feed that are homebound will really be the ones who will suffer most. There are those who benefit from coming down that will be hurt also.

We will be selling chances on a afghan and a 10-speed girls bike trying to help make money for the center at the park on the 4th of July. The bike will be given away that day at 5 p.m. The afghan will be drawn for a 1:30 p.m. on Friday, the 5th of July. This will benefit the center.

So people of Post, let's not let this happen to our center because this helps so many of our lonely senior citizens get a hot nutritious meal at least once a day.

We will have lemonade, tea, brownies and cakes at our booth at the park also for sale.

Glenda Morrow named Artist of the Month

The Post Art Guild is again sponsoring the "Artist of the Month" program, starting in June with Glenda Morrow. A collection of Glenda's work is now on exhibit at Danish Imports, and will hang through the month of June.

Glenda is a long time member of the Art Guild and has held several offices over a period of years and is presently the Post Art Guild President.

From 1978 to 1986 she operated her own Frame and Art Supply Shop and held art classes. She continues to teach in the Kids 'N' Art Program at the Algeria Art Center.

She has studied art and art related classes with several outstanding artists in West Texas and New Mexico. Her boundless appetite for learning new techniques and styles in a variety of media, has earned her many awards, ribbons, and recognition throughout the area. At present her paintings and other art works hang throughout the U.S., Canada, Havana and Germany, in private and commercial collections.

Talent abounds in Glenda's family, painting, music, creative writing, acting and other forms of creativity were a part of our family life. All are musicians from Blue Grass to Opera. Son David has a degree in music from Texas Tech University, also two years of study with the Shakespeare Conservatory of Music in New York. In 1984 he won a weeks trip to Europe in an Irish Tenor Contest. At present he is still in New York pursuing his career in Theatre and Opera. He has appeared in several privately written and produced plays in New York and has just landed a part in LaBoheme, in Mass for a six weeks performance.

Will plays a wonderful twelve string guitar and sings; Daniel also plays guitar; Melessa is very adapt on the flute and auto harp; David plays piano, oboe and flute.

Glenda is in the process of opening a shop in downtown Post along with five other local artists that will feature Wearable Art, Accessories and other handmade items of unusual quality. The shop will be located at the corner of Main and Avenue I, next to the Norman Agency. The shop will open July 1.

Program Chairman Polly Cravy is in charge of the Artist of the Month Program and will be featuring a new artist and location each month. All participants will be local artists and current members of the Post Art Guild, so be on the lookout for some fine art around our growing town. Growing in Culture and Prosperity.

Gary Puckett wins bull-fighting award

Post Rodeo Cowboy, Gary Puckett, won the Dos Amigos "1991 Free Style-Bull Fighting Championship" at Odessa, Texas, last weekend. Stock producers C-T and Bad Company presented Puckett with the 1991 Bull Fighting Champion Jacket, scoring 241 points in three go rounds. Three other top bull fighters competing for the title were John Holmes, Jackie Haney and Tom Notley.

Gary's introduction to rough stock began at the early age of five, when his Dad got tired of him spurring the furniture. He took him to his Granddaddy Basil's (the late Basil Puckett) pasture; roped a calf and put him on it. Things have never been the same around the Puckett house since.

Having won numerous Junior and Amateur Shows riding bulls, such as the C-T Winter Series Championship, Gary advanced to the open bulls and on to Western Texas College Rodeo Team for a season.

With a full-time job working derrick on the M & P Drilling Rig, week-ends you'll find Gary off to a rodeo somewhere on the South Plains or Eastern New Mexico area, Clowning-Bull Fighting for C-T Stock Producer Charlie Thompson or other stock producers as his schedule permits

Gary is the 21 year old son of Tommy and Linda Puckett. Naturally we worry a lot about Gary's safety not only while he's in the arena performing, but also the constant travel involved. I just thought it was tough watching him ride bulls all these years, then he opted for the whole herd. Gary is fairly reserved and a young man of few words but he'll tell you flat out, "I'm headed for the Gold". He is very dedicated to what he does and when he said, "Mom I'm going pro and I'll be at the finals in '92" I know we'll be at the NRF in '92!

Public Notice
 Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.
 To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.
 If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers, approximately 155,000 business customers, approximately 500 private pay telephone owners and all customers who make Directory Assistance calls from public pay telephones.
 Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 tele-typewriter for the deaf.

The 1991 Post Little League Baseball season has come to an end. Once again an army of volunteers has come forward to ensure that the local operation runs smoothly and effectively. We want to thank all of the individuals and businesses who contributed their time, money, and talent as managers, coaches, sponsors, and announcers, umpires, concession workers, and league officials. You have all done an outstanding job to promote an organization whose primary purpose is to implant firmly in the children of the community the ideals of good sportsmanship, honesty, loyalty, courage, and reverence so that they may be well-adjusted, stronger, and happier children, and grow to be good, clean, healthy, and trustworthy adults.

I want to especially thank this year's board of directors for their efforts and support: Tommy Cole, Delwin Fluitt, Obie Kelley, Linda Hernandez, Harold Sparkman, Gordon Terry, Jimmy Valdez, and David Woods. Special thanks also go to Senior League Vice-president, Lamar Jones and Minor League Vice-president, Mark Greer.

Hays reunion in Austin

Eleven children of the late Mattie and Jim Hays met June 7th and 8th for a family reunion in Austin. They invaded the homes of Buddy, Herb and Donnie. James Hays was unable to attend. Hosting the event was the four youngest Jerry, Herb, Donnie

Several of the group had a big golf game on Saturday, still don't know who won. Others spent their time sight-seeing, shopping and playing bingo. A cook-out was enjoyed by all at noon. The afternoon was spent swimming, playing croquet and visiting. The evening meal was again at Herb's and was enjoyed by all.

Those attending from Post were Liberty Anthony, Gene Hays, Roy and Sis Gilmore, Charles and Rhea Propst, Jerry, Kay and Kelsey Hays, Danny, Linda, and Amanda Richardson, Jerry, Marinette, Jerican and Jaron Tyler and Pete and Juanella Hays.

Bill Hays, Jackie Hays and Royce Anthony attended from Lubbock.

Suzanne, Garrick Pass graduate

Suzanne Pass, former Director of Nurses at Garza Memorial Hospital, received the Bachelor of Science in Nursing from University of Texas at Arlington, in the spring commencement, May 18. An honor graduate, she had an average of 3.818. A resident of Greenville, Texas, now, she works in nursing administration at Citizens General Hospital in Greenville.

Her son, Garrick Pass, graduated from Greenville High School May 31. He was recently awarded the Presidential Scholarship to the University of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Arkansas.

This scholarship is the highest academic scholarship offered at the Presbyterian Church-related school. It is based on ACT and SAT scores and leadership qualities.

He plans to major in religion/theatre and music. He has sung in the Daybreak Singers, elite singing group at GHS, which recently competed at the state UIL level, and acted in the One Act Play competition which won at

Zone and District before failing to advance at Regional level because the judge considered it "too professional, superior even to some college troupes that did the same play."

Signs of heart attack listed

A heart attack can strike anyone at anytime. The pain of a heart attack varies for each victim - it can be intense for one person yet milder for another.

Heart attack victims have a better chance of survival if they recognize early warning signals of a heart attack and seek medical attention immediately.

The warning signals of a heart attack are:

- * Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest for more than two minutes;

- * Pain may spread to the shoulders, neck or arms;
- * Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur;
- * These signals are not always present. Other times they subside and then return.

Atherosclerosis, which is the cause of heart attacks, can be slowed by decreasing risk factors.

For more information about heart disease, contact your physician or The Center at (806) 793-4386.

Public intoxication, theft, DWI lead arrests

A 34 year old man was arrested June 15 by Garza County deputies, charged with public intoxication. The man paid his fine by serving time in the county jail.

Now I'm still living for our Lord and Master with my mind made up to forever be a Christian, with my mind made up to be what God would have me be.

We thank God for such a lovely and high spiritual worship service during the 11 a.m. service. Devotion by Deacon and Sister Burleson and Sister Gilbert read St Mark 4:35-41.

The Lord visited and the spirit was high at altar prayer. The choir's presentation was at the place of duty.

Speaker of the hour was our proud Pastor Rev Arthur Kelly. His text was from a very familiar passage of scripture from the book of Acts 8:14-18. His subject was: Not for sale. A very highly spirited sermon from his heart and soul.

God is not through with us yet. Let's pray for one another always, amen and amen. God is still in his Holy Temple. Let's remember to pray for and visit the sick and shut-ins of our Lord's church and elsewhere.

Among our sick are First Lady Sister Kelly and others to numerous to mention. Please continue to pray for their speedy recovery.

We are having singing here Sunday, June 30th. The Wayside Travelers will render the program at 3 p.m. here at Pleasant Home Baptist Church. The public is cordially invited to attend this service, come one and all.

May the God of peace bless you always and always. Let's be and look alive, keep smiling and having fun in ninety-one.

We, friends and patients of Dr. G. Jeffrey Young, received this letter from him last week and we feel that the whole community should know why he is leaving Post and about some situations here in the community. Please read the letter in its entirety and maybe it will enlighten all of you.

SOUTHWEST FAMILY PRACTICE CENTER

G. JEFFREY YOUNG, M.D.

111 NORTH AVE. I

POST, TEXAS 79356

(806) 495-2853

14 June 1991

To our friends and patients,

When I chose to go back to medical school, three things were upmost on my mind. First, I wanted to be a family physician. Unlike many of my peers, I felt that I could be of the most service and fill a critical need if I chose family medicine. A residency-trained, board certified family physician can care for 90% of the problems for 90% of patients and their families, making appropriate referrals to other specialists in cases where it is necessary.

Secondly, I wanted to practice where there was a need. Rural West Texas has been medically underserved for years. This need is best filled by residency-trained, board certified family physicians, especially if they can provide a broad range of services such as obstetrics and minor surgery. The survival of rural hospitals is dependent on having a staff of physicians who can provide just such a broad range of services on a local basis.

Thirdly, I did not want to be a doctor unless I could assure myself and my patients that I was offering the highest standard and most up-to-date medical care that was possible. Either I was going to do it right, or not do it at all.

When Syan and I came to Post a year ago, it was with energy and enthusiasm to provide that kind of care to the people of this community. The practice of medicine has changed radically over the past 20 years, and the rate of change keeps increasing. Competent care requires continuous updating of knowledge and skills. It also requires the cooperation of the other physicians in the community. Long gone are the days when a lone "country doctor" could come out of medical school, without a residency of three or more years, hang out a shingle and practice medicine for the rest of his career with the same knowledge and skills with which he started.

Although I knew that I would not be welcomed with open arms by the other physicians in town, I had no idea of how much resentment would actually be present. I had no intention of damaging their livelihood or "stealing patients," but rather to provide an alternative to those people traveling to Lubbock for their medical care. I think that my highly-motivated and knowing office staff and I have been able to offer a comparable level of care as that found in Lubbock. We really appreciate the warm response of the people of Post and the surrounding area.

A year later, however, I find myself very tired, disillusioned and disappointed. The local medical community does not cooperate at all, and I found myself presented with a time and workload burden for which I was not equipped or prepared. Since coming to Post, I have been able to attend fewer of Radley's activities, than before we moved here. During Syan's illness and hospitalizations, I was able to be with her only a fraction of the time that she was in the hospital or having surgery. The night that I put her in the hospital the last time, I literally left her bedside at 2:00 a.m. to drive back to Post, through the fog, to deliver a baby because no one would cover for me. If I cannot tend to my family, if I cannot rest sometime, if I cannot attend continuing education in order to stay up-to-date on my skills and knowledge, than I am not doing the community, my family or myself any favors. Again, if I can't do it as it should be done, I won't do it at all.

This situation is not recent, it has been brewing for several months. Attempts were made to recruit a partner for the practice, however to no avail. Post will financially support only three physicians. As long as there are three physicians here, there is not a prospect of attracting a fourth. This is despite the fact that two of the physicians are not active in the operation of the local hospital. Both of the other physicians have been here for many years, and I only one. Therefore, I will be the one to make the change.

I will be closing my practice in Post as of 30 June 1991. I will be joining the practice of a colleague, with whom I trained in residency. I will be the third physician in the Levelland Clinic, joining Dr. Bill Balch and Dr. Michael Bailey. I was welcomed enthusiastically by these two physicians who are current in their skills and medical knowledge, and are willing to cooperate to provide care to their patients, sharing call and encouraging excellence in care.

I sincerely appreciate the response from the people of Post concerning this move. Syan and I appreciated the many visits, phone calls and the petition which so many of you had signed. Believe me, we have been agonizing over this decision for months. Many a sleepless night was spent discussing, praying about and crying over the decision. As many Post residents know, I am not the first Post doctor that this has happened to, I only hope that I will be the last. If there had been any other way to improve the situation, we would have tried it. It is exceedingly tough to recruit a family physician today. For every board eligible or board certified, residency-trained family physician, there are thirty to forty potential positions available. To find one willing to do obstetrics and minor surgery limits the search even further. There is just no hope on the horizon.

Your concerns and your petition ARE important, but in a different way. Garza Memorial Hospital will close if the situation that I faced is not rapidly remedied. If the other doctors won't support the hospital and cooperate, then the hospital WILL close. Even if another physician follows me to Post, he or she will not be able to do it alone, and will find themselves in the same situation as I. Yes, the hospital has had, and still does have some problems. To be fair, this is not why I have chosen to leave Post. Methodist Hospital is assuming the management of Garza Memorial and will help to bring about changes that are already in progress. Care at GMH has improved and a broader range of services is now offered. This has required a great deal of work, and there should be recognition of this fact. The community MUST support these changes and support Methodist in its effort to bring these about. If the town does not support the hospital and make sure that the doctors on the medical staff do the same, the hospital will close. If it does close, it will not be reopened. Forty hospitals have been closed in Texas over the past six months, many under the same circumstances which now face GMH. The closing of the hospital would doom Post to losing out on any chances to attract new industry or improving the local economy. This would hurt everybody in Post.

As for the continuation of your care, all records are to be transferred to my new office. We would be happy to continue to provide care for your family at the Levelland Clinic. Interestingly, it takes no more time to drive from Post to Levelland (via F.M. 1585) than it does to drive to Lubbock, fight the traffic and find a place to park. If you choose not to come to Levelland, we would be happy to refer you to another physician with similar qualifications. Copies of your medical record will be made available to you, or sent to the physician of your choice. As a convenience to our patients, Voda Gradine will maintain our business office in Post, for the time being. All account payments and questions regarding insurance should be directed to her.

Again, thank you. We are leaving many dear and supportive friends in Post. We will truly miss all the wonderful people who have placed their faith in us. We are truly grateful. Post forever has a special place in our hearts, and we wish the best for you all. You will receive an announcement concerning the opening of the relocated practice. Please do not hesitate to call if you have any questions concerning this transition.

Sincerely,

G. Jeffrey Young

Ten small ways to stop one big problem.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! Here's what to do instead:

1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult.
2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or, better yet, to 20.
4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
5. Phone a friend.
6. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
7. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
8. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
9. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.

To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.

If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers and approximately 155,000 business customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Garza County Extension Agent - Ag
Texas A&M beef short course set August 13-14

Texas A&M University's 37th Annual Beef Cattle Short Course and trade show is scheduled August 13-14.

"The program will provide producers with useful information that can be turned into dollars back at the ranch," said Dr Larry Boleman, Texas Agricultural Extension Service beef cattle specialist and short course coordinator.

Sessions will be at the Kleberg Center and Louis Pearce Pavilion on the campus, Boleman said. The program was set on Tuesday and Wednesday to allow participants to travel and visit with the Texas A&M faculty on Monday.

Boleman said beef cattle specialists have worked closely with beef industry professionals to develop the 1991 program. Special features include a trade show and live animal demonstrations.

Boleman said the agenda includes a complete discussion of lean beef production and the effect of low-fat products on lean beef hamburger sales and their effect on U.S. beef cattle production will be discussed. Other speakers will address food safety issues.

"Our producers are committed to animal welfare and food product safety, and they will receive training in the food safety assurance program at the cow/calf level of the industry," he said.

Participants will hear information on profit management, breeding, forage management, nutrition, health and marketing from actual producers with varying sizes of ranching operations.

"All Texas producers should be able to relate to some of these management discussions," Boleman said. "We will have producers representing large cattle herds of more than 1,000 head, medium-sized herds and small herds of 30 to 40 head."

Of special interest, Boleman said, should be the program on strategic management of artificial insemination to provide additional weight gain and marketing advantages. Researchers will share data from a study of more than 20 years in a Texas artificial insemination program.

"Break-out sessions" will allow producers to attend smaller, in-depth classes of interest to them, Boleman said. The sessions include discussions of nutrition, health, pasture, hay, soils and range management and demonstrations of computer software.

Live animal health care and genetic selection demonstrations will be conducted in the Louis Pearce Pavilion.

The trade show will feature about 50 beef industry booths and Texas A&M agriculture department displays. Industry representatives and researchers will be available to answer questions and visit with the participants.

"This program provides a great opportunity for in-depth beef cattle training for beef cattle producers," Boleman said.

Registration fees are $40 for participants and $20 for spouses. A Tuesday night social, lunches and refreshment breaks on Tuesday and Wednesday are covered by the fee.

To register, call 495-2050.

Rules of the road for tractor safety

Operators of farm tractors and trailers who travel on public roads need to be able to see and be seen.

"Visibility is vital because of the short closure time between fast cars and slow tractors," said Thomas D. Valco, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Valco said the National Safety Council estimates that 30,000 accidents, including about 175 deaths, annually involve tractors and other farm machinery on public roads.

"These accidents result in serious injuries and costly equipment damage," he said. "Accidents can be reduced if farm equipment operators learn some necessary precautions."

Safety rules of the road, he said, includes:

- * Allow only licensed drivers to operate farm equipment;
- * Equip the tractor with vivid SMV (slow moving vehicle) emblems that are easily seen. Replace faded emblems;
- * Turn on the tractor's flashing lights both day and night when on public roads. But, if possible, avoid driving at night;
- * Clean soil and dust from all reflectors and road lights, checking daily to make sure they are working;
- * Make certain any wide equipment extending into traffic lanes is well marked with reflectors or flashing lights;
- * Know how long it takes to get on or completely across a highway after coming to a complete stop;
- * Wait for traffic to clear from all directions before entering a public road;
- * Drive in the road's right traffic lane near the edge of the pavement. If traffic backs up behind the tractor, slow down and pull off the road to let the vehicles pass.

Tips on safeguarding picnic foods

Don't hold the mayo! Many people are uneasy about eating chicken salad, potato salad and similar dishes at summer picnics because they have heard that foods made with mayonnaise are the most likely to cause food poisoning.

Scientists have shown that adding mayonnaise to food does not make it more dangerous. Food containing mayonnaise may actually be slightly safer than similar foods without mayonnaise because the acid in the mayonnaise slows the growth of the bacteria that cause food poisoning. However, studies have shown that the acid content of "homemade" mayonnaise may be too low to create comparable protection.

Mixed foods like chicken salad and potato salad probably got their bad reputation simply because they undergo a lot of handling during preparation, and this can contaminate them with bacteria.

When the pleasures of a leisurely picnic are spoiled by a bout of food poisoning, sick picnickers are often quick to blame the food. Seldom do they realize that the cause of sickness is more often the handling of the food rather than the food itself.

To play it safe follow these tips:

- * Scrub hands before starting food preparation and between steps.
- * After using knives and other utensils on raw meats, eggs, fish and poultry, clean thoroughly, especially before using on other foods. Failure to clean is one way to spread harmful bacteria.
- * Thoroughly scrub work surfaces after raw meats are cut or where raw meat juices have dripped.
- * Use clean sponges, dish cloths and rubber gloves; over-used ones can spread germs.
- * Refrigerate cooked foods such as chicken, potatoes and ham as soon as they stop steaming. Cooling foods to room temperature before refrigerating encourages bacterial growth. Perishable foods may not be safe to eat if they have been held at room temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit or higher for more than three or four hours.
- * Refrigerator chill all perishable food before packing. Keep them in a cooler with ice or commercial reusable cold packs until you are ready to eat. If you use ice, pack the food in tight containers or plastic bags so that it doesn't get wet when the ice starts to melt. Transport to picnic in insulated containers.
- * Hamburgers or other raw meat should go into the cooler, but keep them separate from other foods. Uncooked meats contain relatively large numbers of bacteria, some of which could be harmful. The common food poisoning types of bacteria are sensitive to heat, so cooking will kill them, making the meat safe to eat. These bacteria can cause problems, however, if they contaminate other foods such as salads which don't receive further cooking before they are eaten.
- * At picnics, keep food out of direct sun. To reduce traffic in and out of picnic hamper, pack food to be eaten first at the top of container.
- * Don't be tempted to carry leftovers home. It is safer to discard perishables.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Just a few weeks ago, the Legislature, dominated by Democrats, wrote a $5 billion check it can't cover for a sumptuous banquet of state services.

Now, Capitol halls are filled with very nervous state officials and agency heads wondering if they'll be there when dinner (state spending) is served.

Why? Last week, two top private sector Democrats, advising Gov. Ann Richards on how to cover that check, rattled lawmakers statewide with a proposal to raise an additional $11.5 billion.

Former Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and premier Democratic Party financier Jess Hay want her task force to vote on a package of personal and corporate taxes and a modest tax on aviation fuel.

A Texas family earning $35,000 a year would pay an extra $1,500 in state taxes, an increase of 68 percent, analysts say.

Some lawmakers, particularly House members, believe the proposal is a political suicide plan, and that's why they are nervous.

Slashing Alternatives
Politically, a more desirable route is to reduce spending; that's intimidating to Democrats in the Legislature who, led by Hobby, celebrated the 1980s with massive expenditures.

How massive were they? Billions! Tax hikes one after another: the issue is the largest and most credible in the Texas Republican Party arsenal.

But Democrats like Richards and Comptroller John Sharp know it, and they know they can defuse that issue with some good-looking spending cuts next month.

No Sacred Cows
That's why state bureaucrats are nervous, their jobs are on the line in July when lawmakers meet in special session to write the budget.

A new law will abolish all state agencies at year's end, except those given extended life in the budget this summer.

Education Overhaul Eyed
Education experts last week confirmed that the new school finance reform law will cost $370 million more than lawmakers had estimated for the next two years, primarily because of a substantial drop in property values statewide.

Meanwhile, Sharp's plan to call for a complete overhaul of the Texas Education Agency could backfire by sparking morale problems that may cause many of the department's best people to quit, said Tom Anderson, interim commissioner.

Sources who have seen a draft of the plan said Sharp will recommend the 1,100-person agency be dismantled and rebuilt under new Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno, who takes office July 1.

Democrats' Quandary
Texas Democrats are in a quandary.

Likely, they will balance the budget with a combination of new taxes and new spending cuts.

The taxes are certain to alienate more middle class voters, while the cuts, if they do them wrong, will enrage their own lower class supporters.

Then, having done that, Democrats must seek re-election in 1992 against a Republican ticket led by a Texan in the White House.

Workers' Comp Defectors
If the budget cuts work, then Democrats will fare better than expected, but who can predict how those budget chips will fall?

After all, lawmakers thought they had licked the workers' compensation insurance problem, but a Valley judge ruled with labor and struck it down.

Last week, State Board of Insurance chairman Claire Koriath, a trial lawyer appointed by Richards, warned that some 2,600 Texas employers dropped the coverage in April and May, making a total of 8,000 defections since September.

Koriath called the situation scary, "a dangerous trend." Others say it reflects the business sector's lack of faith that the reform bill will reduce the skyrocketing cost of coverage.

Redistricting Suits
Gov. Richards let the Legislature's redistricting plan become law without her signature, prompting civil and minority rights groups and the Texas Republican Party to file law suits to strike it down.

She said if U.S. Commerce Secretary Robert Mosbacher approves new census figures, the Legislature will meet in special session to update the plan.

Other Highlights

■ State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison said that even talking about an income tax has hurt Texas. She said such a levy would slow the economic recovery, scare away prospective businesses and strip the state of a key advantage in competition for new jobs.

■ The U.S. Senate passed an amendment to its five-year transportation bill that would give Texas $1 in road money for every $1 in gasoline taxes it sends to the National Highway Trust Fund, the first time Texas has broken even since the program was launched in 1956.

■ The Texas Supreme Court decided it will hear the case of two state prison inmates suing the state because televisions in their cellblocks are too loud. Lower courts dismissed the case as frivolous.

Low-income households may be eligible for energy assistance

AUSTIN—Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help in paying cooling bills this summer through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to the Texas Department of Human Services.

The one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in May. Other low-income individuals may request an application by calling the toll-free number 1-800-252-8060 during the enrollment period of July 1 through July 31.

Eligibility is limited by gross income and resources. Aid is available for a one-person household having less than $628.49 gross income per month. The gross income limits are $842.49 for households of two persons, $1,056.49 for three, $1,270.49 for four, $1,484.49 for five, and $1,698.49 for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for cooling is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy provider.

People receiving one of these energy assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy provider business office with their regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy provider. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for residence Custom Calling Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for certain residence Custom Calling Services.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling 8 and Speed Calling 30.

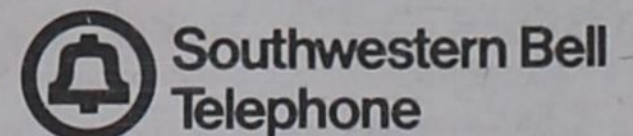

The Company's proposal would increase the monthly rate for the individual Call Waiting feature from $2.10 to $3.10 for residence customers. Also, the rates for certain combinations of Custom Calling Features (Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8) would increase or decrease depending upon the combination of features. In addition, the company proposes to obsolete the optional Custom Calling Service feature Speed Calling 30 for residence customers except for existing customers at their existing locations. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

One Feature Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting	$2.10	$3.10
Call Forwarding	2.10	2.10
Three-Way Calling	2.10	2.10
Speed Calling-8	2.10	2.10
Two Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding	3.75	4.50
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling	3.70	4.50
Call Waiting, Speed Calling-8	3.70	4.50
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling	3.70	3.50*
Call Forwarding, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
Three Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and 3-Way Calling	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	4.90*
Four Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	6.90	7.30
Speed Calling 30	3.20	3.20

*denotes rate decrease
**Southwestern Bell's application proposes to obsolete residence Speed Calling 30 except for existing customers at their existing locations.

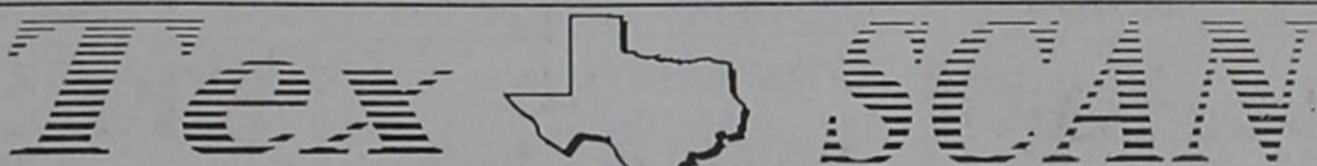

Most of the Company's residence customers in Texas who subscribe to one or more of the Custom Calling Service features will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring. It is expected that the proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.9 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. The restructuring will result in an increase in the Custom Calling Services rates for approximately 2.5 million residence customers and rate decreases for approximately 15,000 residence customers. Also, the obsolescence of the optional feature Speed Calling 30 will affect approximately 156,000 residence customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
