

Wind storm Tuesday destroys hangar, mobile home at airport

by Wes Burnett

A surprise wind storm Tuesday afternoon left Post/Garza County airport manager Willard Yarbro shaking his head and saying a prayer of thanks following the destruction of the mobile home he and wife Wilma lived in at the airport.

The cloud that dumped approximately one-half inch of rain in the area struck the airport between 3:45 and 4 p.m., as Yarbro was taking a break from his tractor mowing chores.

"I was sitting on the back porch," Yarbro explained, "and I heard the sound of tin rattling and the wind got up fast, I jumped off the porch and got underneath the tractor just as the walls of the trailer came crashing down."

He was the only one at the airport during the storm. Also destroyed was a metal airplane hangar owned by Giles Dalby, "the second time this has happened," Dalby said as he surveyed the damage, "the last time was in 1981."

The pile of rubble, what was left of the west end of the mobile home, lay crumpled over the tractor that possibly saved Yarbro's life.

"Another second or two and it would have been too late for me," he said.

Was it a tornado?
"I'm not sure, it might have been just a real strong straight wind," Yarbro commented.

The wind ripped the one and one-half story hangar building off the ground and shoved it straight to the south, over the mobile home and eventually landing approximately 500 yards in the field.

The hangar was a total loss, with twisted steel framing and metal wrapped around as if it had been a huge tumbleweed rolling across the plains.

"It must've been one heck of a wind," Dalby observed.

Dalby's aircraft, normally in the hangar, was in Lubbock for painting and was spared the damage.

"Thank God he's okay," Wilma Yarbro muttered as she arrived at the airport. The couple plan to stay with her mother until insurance arrangements can be made for replacing the mobile home.

Council discusses budget, settles on small tax increase

by Wes Burnett

A spirited and sometime's emotional debate punctured an otherwise routine City Council budget working session Tuesday night at City Hall.

After approximately three hours, the council voiced a three to two consent for the budget, which includes a four percent cost of living increase for all employees.

The budget shows a surplus of $48,000 for the fiscal year 1991-92 with a proposed tax rate of $.3335, or a three percent increase. The current tax rate is $.3323.

"One of the reasons we are able to hold down taxes," city manager Bob Turner commented, "is that we are operating with two less employees and our overall operations are in real good shape."

Not replacing the two employees who have resigned during the year has also improved productivity, Turner added, "we are doing more with less people."

The total estimated revenue in the budget will be $1,115,910 with estimated expenses of $1,067,808.

The budget discussions included a $1 per residential customer increase in sanitation rates.

The review of the budget, which took approximately 45 minutes, brought the council into a lengthy debate about employee pay structures.

Council member Dan Lamb said that he could not go along with the four percent cost of living increase, "until we get something settled on the pay situation."

Lamb expressed his displeasure with what he called the inequity of the pay structure, "where you have some people making more than they should because they don't do as much as other employees who make less." Mayor Jim Jackson agreed, "I've seen where there are some of the boys getting more than those producing more."

He argued for a standardized job description for all employees and supervisory review and evaluations to determine merit raises. Lamb also insisted that job categories should be established so that pay is based on the position.

Council member Larry Waldrip countered that a specific job description would be detrimental to the operation of the city because "our employees each do such a wide variety of duties, it would be impossible to write a description to cover every single thing they are doing."

Council member Larry Mills pointed out that the city council should not be in the business of evaluating employees and deciding who should get paid how much, "that is the responsibility of our city manager and his supervisors," Mills emphasized.

Lamb and council members Irene Fry and Jim Schooler pointed to examples of seeing employees "riding around," not apparently involved in duties.

Mills added that the problem with that kind of complaint is that "not one of us knows what these employees are doing all the time on their job, and what you don't see is when these people are out all hours of the night repairing water lines or other emergency jobs. And if you see something you don't think is right, or a citizen reports to you on an employee, you should contact the city manager, it's his job to find out and correct these problems, anyway, you might discover that the complaint is in error."

Schooler apologized to Turner, saying, "I should have called you, and I really didn't mean to sound like I don't appreciate our employees, from now on I'll let you know."

Turner invited each city council to individually meet with him privately in the next few days "and you tell me your complaints, let's get it out in the open."

"We should expect our supervisors to decide who is working well and not," Schooler added.

"The city manager has the authority to hire and fire and take corrective action," Waldrip said, "that's what we have a city manager for."

"We can not get personally involved in deciding who get what, Irene has a brother who works for the city, how do we handle that?" Mills added.

After a brief discussion concerning the scheduling of an executive session for all 15 city employees, the council agreed to proceed with Turner's suggestion of private meetings between individual council members and the city manager to air complaints.

"I am proposing a four percent across the board cost of living increase, because I am an advocate for our employees and I believe they deserve to be protected from a pay cut, which without the cost of living increase is exactly what would happen, the federal government has announced the cost of living has risen four percent, all we're doing is keeping our employees with the same level of pay as last year," Turner said.

Special page features exciting 1991 Post Bold Gold Antelopes

The popular Post Antelope Football Page kicks off another season with September 5 edition of The Post Dispatch, just in time for the 1991 opening game here with Abernathy.

Each week throughout the Post Antelope football season, sponsors on the promotional page get the best exposure possible, as their ads literally surround the weekly photos of coaches and players.

Sponsorships continue to be priced at only $7.50 per week, which allows for anyone interested in showing their support for the Post Antelopes to be included on the page. While costs of almost everything else have risen dramatically in the past few years, advertising on this community-spirited page remains the same.

Those businesses and individuals interested in participating on this popular special page should call Becky Warren at The Post Dispatch, 495-2816.

There's still plenty of time to add show your interest in the team!

Tucker family holds reunion August 16-17

Descendants of the late Henry Mack and Virgie Geneva (Lawrence) Tucker held their 13th annual reunion on August 16 & 17 at Mountain View Reunion Hall on Lake Brownwood.

Activities included card games, 42, Pokeno and a lot of visiting. Also the annual auction sale was held on Saturday which helps to defray the cost of the reunion.

A business session followed the sale with Debbie Ford being elected to serve as Vice-President and Vicki and Mike Bernhardt were chosen as food chairpersons for 1992.

Before the evening meal, the song of "Old Dan Tucker" led by Mike Bernhardt was sung by the group. The song seemed very appropriate since our Great-Grandfather was Daniel Tucker.

Those attending were: Juanita (Tucker) McBee, Brownwood; Cloves and Ada Mae Tucker, Lubbock; Max and Doris Tucker, Clifton; Jerry and Maxine (Tucker) Conoly, Post; Sharon Lee and Robert Shedd and Andy, Garland; Vicki and Mike Bernhardt, Amy, Max and Shane, Clifton; Deborah and Walter Ford, Heather and Cody, Abilene; and J.O. and Cheryl Cummings, Trey, Richie and Briney, Denver City.

The reunion will be held at the same site the third weekend of August 1992.

Proof of liability insurance required for Texans in license renewal, registration, inspection

Beginning September 1, Texans will be required to show proof of financial responsibility before they can get a driver license, renew a license or have their motor vehicle inspected, according to DPS Director Col. Joe E. Milner.

"This may seem like an inconvenience to law-abiding Texans, but in the long run, this new law should help protect all motorists by increasing the number of persons who have the legally-required auto liability insurance, but only about 75 per cent of the state's drivers have valid policies in force. Also effective September 1, the fine for not having liability insurance will be increased from $75 to $175 - $350. Repeat offenders will have to pay $350 to $1,000 and face the possibility of having their vehicle impounded for 180 days.

"Starting September 1, anyone wishing to renew his driver license, get a license for the first time or needing to get a motor vehicle inspected will be required to show proof of financial responsibility at our Driver License offices or Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations," Milner said. "For most Texans, it will be a simple matter of showing a wallet card issued by their insurance company."

The new law also requires a person to have proof of financial responsibility before obtaining vehicle license plates, which are made available through the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Public Notice

On June 28, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to add a new optional service offering for business Private Branch Exchange (PBX) Trunk customers called Digital Loop Service. The application has been assigned Docket No. 10461.

Digital Loop Service provides digital transmission of circuit switched voice and data communications between the customer's premises and the central office. This service allows the customer to use a 1.544 Mbps facility capable of delivering up to 24 line terminations. Southwestern Bell will provide Digital Loop Service within the customer's serving central office where facilities are available.

If approved by the Commission, the rates for the Digital Loop Service facilities will be $45 per month for each digital transmission loop arrangement which provides a capacity of up to 24 line terminations, plus $5 per month for each line termination and $9 per month for each channel termination. The proposed rate for the unlimited use of the central office varies from $12.25 up to $18.90 per month for each line termination depending on the rate group classification, determined by the customer's location. Southwestern Bell estimates revenue of $2.1 million from this offering during the first year.

As proposed by Southwestern Bell, customers who currently receive digital loop compatibility through facilities installed under a special construction agreement will have the option to receive their current digital loop arrangements pursuant to the Digital Loop Service Tariff or continue to pay their current charges until they make a change of location or account. Any increase in the number of line terminations to a customer's current digital transmission loop arrangement will be provided pursuant to the proposed Digital Loop Service Tariff; however, the customer will continue to have the option of paying current charges for the existing digital transmission loop capacity. Southwestern Bell's proposal to "grandfather" existing digital loop facility arrangements is subject to review and approval by the Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but not later than October 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.

Barry McBee, Deputy Agriculture Commissioner, State of Texas, was luncheon speaker for Garza County Ag Day August 22. McBee spoke about changes being made in order for that office to better serve the public and further enhance Texas agriculture. They wanted to become more accessible to the public and welcomed input and sharing from farmers and ranchers. One area in particular they were working on was a better understanding between the ag community and urban dwellers.

Morning programs for Agricultural producers and their spouses featured Dr. James Supak, Extension Agronomist-Cotton, and Theresa Keese, Ivomec. Dr. Supak spoke on Managing Harvest Aids; Ms. Keese presented information on Ivomec and livestock medications. Joe Pate, Cotton Unlimited, updated producers on potential market of cotton to that company.

Jennifer Finch, Texas Beef Industry Council, presented "Eating Beef in a Heart-Healthy Diet". Peggy Eckdahl of American Grown & Made, a volunteer organization which promotes American Cotton, explained the importance of purchasing products made from American Cotton.

Post Independent School District teachers were special guest for the luncheon program which included a natural fibers fashion show. The show, narrated by Wanda Mitchell, featured fashions from local merchants including LaPosta, Twins, Kidstuf, The Spotted Pony, and 4-H members and homemakers. Forty-six outfits were shown to a crowd of 166.

Models for Natural Fibers Fashion Show were Lorrye Ledbetter, LaRinda Ledbetter, Carly Rudd, Shayla Wallace, Olga Torres, Susan Strawn, Peggy Lott, Oneita Gunn, and Diane Graves.

Also Carol Williams, Kelli Collier, Jerica Tyler, Luke

Williams, Trent McDonald, Tamera Gerner, Melinda Mason, Amy Easterling, Angel Hammond, Penny Redman, Gina Lott, Traci Stevens, Lee Ann Hodges, Talina Bird, Mollie Somerville, and Halley Fluitt.

Sponsors for the day were Cal-Maine, Merck, Cotton Unlimited, Graham Co-op Gin, Close City Co-op Gin, Hackberry Co-op, Bostick's Pump & Supply, and Main Street. Post Chamber of Commerce provided $200 in Post City Bucks as door prizes which were won by Mack Ledbetter, Shug Thomas, and Halley Fluitt.

Food safety for tailgate parties
Tailgating becomes a favorite activity with fall weather and football games. These events can be lots of fun with good food and good friends. But don't let the later onset of foodborne illness sour the remembrance of a good time.

Foodborne illness, with its stomach cramps, diarrhea, nausea, headaches and maybe even vomiting, can be caused by improper handling of foods. The bacteria that cause foodborne illness grow at temperatures between 40 degrees Fahrenheit and 140 degrees F. This is called the "danger zone." So even though the weather may be cooler in the fall, this won't totally eliminate the problem.

So what foods present a problem? Almost any food can be a vehicle for foodborne illness, but the most perishable foods are moist, protein-containing foods such as meats, poultry, fish, seafood, eggs and dairy products. This list even includes items such as cream pies, custards and pastries that include cream fillings. These foods should not stay in "danger zone" temperatures for more than two hours. Dishes containing these perishable foods should be kept either hot (above 140 degrees F.) or cold (below 40 degrees F.).

Popular hot menu items such as chili, soups, stews and even hot dips can be safely transported in a thermos, if the thermos is working properly and proper precautions are taken. Check the seal of the thermos to be sure it fits tightly. Be sure the thermos is clean; and rinse it with boiling water right before using it. Bring the food to as high a temperature as you can before pouring it into the thermos.

Try to prepare just enough food to serve your guests without leftovers. Any leftovers probably should be discarded.

Hot casseroles should probably be served immediately upon ar-iving. Wrap them in several layers of aluminum foil, followed by newspapers and a towel. Observe the two hour limit with these.

Cold foods can be transported in an ice chest with ice, dry ice or cold packs to keep the foods below 40 degrees F. Pack the foods in shallow containers and be sure the foods are cold when they are put in the ice chest.

If sandwiches are on the menu, they should be kept cold or else eaten within the two-hour limit. Foods such as deviled eggs and dips with dairy products in them also fall into the two-hour category.

If fast foods such as fried chicken or deli foods are on the menu, either pick them up immediately before the event and eat within two hours, or purchase them ahead of time. Keep these foods refrigerated and reheat them if they are to be eaten hot.

In short, to enjoy a tailgating adventure without later distress:

* Plan the menu to fit the situation.

* For perishable foods, keep "hot foods hot" and "cold foods cold."

* Don't let perishable foods stay in the "danger zone" for more than two hours.

* Keep everything clean to avoid contamination.

* Either take proper care of leftovers, or throw them away.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Garza Memorial Hospital will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1990 by .097 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on September 17, 1991 at 7:00 a.m. in the Garza Memorial Hospital dining room, 608 West 6th St., Post, Texas.

FOR the proposal: Jack Alexander, David Tyler, David Nichols, Zoe Kirkpatrick and Becky Warren.

AGAINST the proposal:

PRESENT and not voting:

ABSENT:

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the Effective tax rate that the unit published on August 28, 1991. The following table compares the taxes on the average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$20,000.00	$20,000.00
General exemptions available (amount on the average home, not including senior citizens's or disabled person's exemptions)	-0-	-0-
Average taxable value	20,000.00	20,000.00
Tax rate	.102	.105 (Proposed)
Tax	$20.40	$21.00 (Proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $.60 or .097 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.003 per $100 of taxable value or .097 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Agnes Surman gave Post a special measure of love...

Editor's Note: Last week the death of Agnes Surman, one of Garza County's pioneers and a woman whose life touched hundreds or even thousands of people since she arrived to teach school at Justiceburg in 1914, marked the end of an era here. We believe the story of her life here with her husband, Dr. A.C. Surman, as told by her daughter, Rosemary Justice in the Garza County history book, "Wagon Wheels," adequately explains why our generation owes so much to the pioneers who set the foundation for our community.

Dr and Mrs A.C. Surman by Rosemary Surman Justice

If the Episcopalian minister who read the marriage ceremony in Rockport, Texas for Agnes Harmon and Arnold Surman on July 4, 1916 had questioned them in this way:

"Do you take one another for better or for worse; for at least 55 years of marriage; for 51 years to serve your community as The Doctor and Mrs Doctor; for two children, four wars, drought, depression, inflation, Man-on-the-Moon and Historical Survey Committee?" Would the answers have been "I do."?

Those of us who have loved them through many years of their formidable assignment like to feel that they would have accepted their task with the same courage and optimism that have characterized their life's work together. For this was no plain vanilla bride and groom; they were my beloved parents in whom rests my unabashed pride. I am privileged to tell their story.

They found each other because they were extraordinary people responding to unusual opportunity in their characteristic ways. Each came along his separate path to an untried land, where they met in Post in 1915. He, a fledgling physician; she, a newly certified school teacher.

"How did you happen to come to West Texas?", I asked him.

"Well, I heard that they needed another doctor out here to help operate the newly built Post Sanitarium. It was arranged by letter that I become associated with Dr A.R. Ponton in his practice here. I arrived in Post on June 11, 1913 on the Santa Fe with diploma from the Medical Branch of the University in my suitcase. Feeling physically fit and full of enthusiasm, I was eager to go to work. For the first six months my salary was $100 and keep. After that I became a partner with Dr Ponton."

My mother came to West Texas in January of 1915 at the invitation of a relative, Julia Pickett, for the purpose of finding a husband -- according to my father. Her story doesn't deny the allegation, but adds that she arrived prepared to teach school, armed with her teacher certificate from South Texas State Normal School at San Marcos. Filled with purpose, she continued her studies at West Texas State Normal School in Canyon, commuting to Post for visits and special occasions.

It is hardly surprising that Agnes Harmon accepted the teaching job at Leforest school near Justiceburg in the fall of 1915. Miss Agnes at 18 was charged with enthusiasm for teaching. She was undaunted by the challenge of the one-room country school with its outdoor privy and rattlesnake terrain. Besides, she was already quite interested in the handsome young doctor her cousin had introduced to her.

That he was beguiled by the new school teacher was soon apparent to the doctor's friends as the couple found more and more time for one another.

He took her on country calls "because she was good at opening gates", the doctor said, and because she never complained about the long waits while he attended his patients.

During the year and a half of their courtship the doctor discovered that this only daughter of Irene Robertson Harman and John Edward Harman, born to them at Brenham, Washington County, Texas, April 6, 1896, had many desirable qualities he could cherish in a wife. Growing up as she in the gracious home of a venturesome lawyer-land developer-rice farmer, she had womanly graces that became a wife. But because she held her own as the tom-boy sister between two brothers she excelled in adaptive behavior such as sitting the saddle of her horse even when the cinch slipped, driving her rubber tired, cut-under buggy at full speed while standing, jumping a rattlesnake without screaming. Other less spectacular, but highly useful talents she developed at Kidd Key College at Sherman, Texas, where she majored in speech and studied music.

After honeymooning in Corpus Christi the newlyweds returned to Post to make their first home in one room of the Post Sanitarium. The bride felt pampered and privileged to "live the life of Riley" as she put it, taking meals in the hospital dining room, avoiding the unusual bride's bane of housework.

The staff of Post Sanitarium in the summer of 1916 included, besides Ponton and Surman, Dr D.C. Williams, a medical school friend of Surman's, who joined them in 1914.

By 1917 the rumble of World War I had become a clamor. All of the doctors volunteered for military duty, and Dr Williams who was unmarried, was already overseas. Dr Castleberry, who had no children, was the next to go. Dr Surman, detained by his little unborn deferment, remained on volunteer status but was not summoned to duty until after I was born. Inevitably, with all the doctors in military service, the Post Sanitarium was closed in 1918.

After World War I, Dr Surman, Dr Williams, and Dr Castleberry formed a partnership and began the general practice of medicine in Post. Castleberry soon moved to Lubbock, but Surman and Williams continued to serve Garza County and its surrounding area until Dr Williams' death in 1960. Dr Surman worked on until his retirement, January 1, 1964, his 77th birthday.

Into this home was born their only son, A.C. Jr., October 1, 1924. He was killed there in a tragic airplane crash, August 20, 1946. Out of the numbness of shock I asked my parents, "What are we going to do without him?" ... "We are going to rejoice that we had him for twenty-one years." And we do.

We all pitted our inventiveness against the black dusters of the 30s. In our weatherstripped houses the dust blew through in miniature dunes and ripples, to be literally scooped out on the worst days. Often we slept with damp gauze masks over our noses to filter out the dust.

So the wars, droughts, depression, and dust storms blow on by, but in the meanwhile there was work to be done. Both the Doctor and his wife shared in serving the community needs.

They were members of the First Presbyterian Church in Post since 1918. He, an elder for more than 50 years; she, active in the women's work all through the years, held various offices in the Presbyterian Women's Group.

Long active in the Masonic orders, both held posts of responsibility and were recognized for distinguished service.

Dr Surman served 12 years on the local school board, twice as its president. Mrs Surman's extensive service in Parent-Teacher work included terms as local and district president and 16 years on the State Board.

Since Dr Surman retired from active practice they have only just begun, having been mutually caught up in the activities of the Historical Survey Committee. For 10 years she was its chairman and he the valued advisor and supervisor, the Garza County Historical Survey Committee has enjoyed signal success and my parents enjoyed the experience of recording and preserving the history they have lived.

Mrs Surman was preceded in death by her husband, Dr A.C. Surman on May 3, 1985.

She is survived by her daughter and son-in-law, Rosemary and Doyle Justice of Lubbock; and grandchildren, Jan Westwater of Seattle, Paul Justice of Lubbock, Jill Justice of Oklahoma City, Delton Justice of Albuquerque and Robert Justice of Seattle.

She was a great lady who will be missed by so many.

Labeth Jones and Dewayne Warren manned the telephones at the Art Center last Sunday and Monday for the MDA Telethon event.

Antelopes face challenge of 7th ranked Abernathy here in season opener Friday

by Wes Burnett
 The Post Bold Gold Antelopes play host Friday night to the number seven ranked Class AA football team in a game that is sure to keep the fans on the edge of their seats. The Abernathy Antelopes, out to avenge last year's loss to the Bold Gold, are returning a host of experienced players, anchored with an offensive line with size and savvy.
 Senior quarterback Cody Forbes saw a little action last year, but is known to be a good athlete. He made the all-district team last year on defense.
 The horse for the Antelopes is 200 pound senior tailback Larry Norris, an All South Plains player "who must be stopped if we are going to have a chance," Post head coach Dewayne Osborne comments.
 "One thing we can't emphasize enough," the coach added, "is fan support, we really need to have our stadium packed with our fans, that can make the difference in a game like this."
 Abernathy's offensive line averages 190 pounds and is led by 220 pound senior quick guard Damon Loper. Senior Ken Dunn is the favorite receiver.
 The offense uses a "Stack I" formation, utilizing the power and running abilities of Norris and fullback Alex Salazar.
 On defense the Abernathy Antelopes are led by Norris and Salazar, both all-district last year and quick, good hitters.
 Seniors Rod Lambert and Robert Navarro hold the line on defense with good size and aggressiveness.
 "We're going to have play our best and keep the ball away from their offense," Osborne observes.
 Kickoff is at 8 p.m. here.

BOLD GOLD DEFENSE stops Greenwood's quarterback for a loss during the scrimmage there last Friday. Mark Espitia (61) gets the tackle with support from Terry Curtis (73), Adrian Castillo (31) and Pete Torres (82).

'Lopes get in licks at Midland Greenwood scrimmage

by Wes Burnett
 "We felt like it was a really good scrimmage," Post Antelope football coach Dewayne Osborne comments about last Friday's outing at Midland Greenwood.
 "We had really good effort again, and if we can play as well and get better, we could really surprise a few folks this year," the coach adds.
 He was particularly pleased with the performance of the offensive line, "they are getting better every day, and the overall conditioning is looking good."
 "I thought we just did better, and that's what we have to do every week, get better," Osborne added. "With so many of our youngsters playing with little varsity experience, it's important that we improve as we go along."
 One of the offensive highlights of the scrimmage was a 60 yard plus touchdown run by tailback Brandon Bird behind right side blocking on the sweep.

Dear Editor:
The reason I am writing is to get off my chest the way I feel about certain things going on in this community.

I moved our family to Post to be closer to family and friends.

In doing so I think I have done the best for our children; so they can grow up in a small town.

This town of Post is a great place to live; even though I am from a big city, I have never found things around here to be boring.

I love the friendliness of the people; the social gatherings; Our Church, and just so many things here that makes it special living in Post.

Football contest

There will also be a $100 "Post City Bucks" bonus for anyone correctly picking all games, for a total prize offering of $175.

The football contest entry form will be printed in The Post Dispatch on Wednesdays through November 20, 1991. Deadline for submitting entry forms will be no later than 5 p.m. on Friday prior to the games of that week. There will be a limit of one entry per person and only the person completing the entry form may sign the form. The contest is open to anyone 12 years old or older.

Completed entry forms, using only the official entry form published in The Post Dispatch, must be submitted to any of the six designated participating sponsors for that week. Individual games will be listed in each sponsor's ad on the contest page. The names of winners will be announced in the next edition, where winners will be informed as to which sponsor to visit to claim their "Post City Bucks."

The "Post City Bucks" certificates, issued in $5 denominations, are redeemable at any of the 18 football contest sponsors.

Boxes for entry forms will be moved to six different sponsors every week.

Sponsors this year include Hudman Furniture, Collier Drugs, Garza Auto, First National Bank, Rosie's Restaurant, Video Depot, Lucas Motors, S. Rafe Foreman, La Posta, Jan's, Ammons Printing, The Frame Shoppe, Quick Lay Pipeline, P.D.Q., Handy Hardware and Gifts and United Supermarket.

Get in on the fun... starting September 5 in The Post Dispatch!

quarter at the end of the scrimmage, the Antelope offense controlled the ball for eight minutes, getting inside the 15 yard line before running out of steam.

The only injury in the scrimmage was defensive end Tommy Ammons, who suffered a slightly separated shoulder. "He'll probably be ready for action Friday, but we're still not sure," Osborne added.

The coach announced the starting lineup for Friday night in the opening game of the 1991 season with Abernathy.

OFFERED EACH WEEK IN PRIZES

GIVEN IN POST CITY BUCKS*
 Sponsored by Post Merchants
 All you do is PICK THE WINNERS
 One game will be found in each sponsor's ad

FIRST PLACE $40
 SECOND PLACE $25
 THIRD PLACE $10

Just circle your choices and guess the score on the "tie-breaker" game

WATCH THIS SPACE EACH WEEK
 For instructions on where to submit your completed entry form. Boxes for entry forms will be moved every week to six different participating sponsors.
THIS WEEK...submit your entry form before 5 p.m., Friday at one of the following sponsors:

- Hudman Furniture Co.
- S. Rafe Foreman
- United Supermarket
- The Frame Shoppe
- Garza Auto Parts

RULES & INSTRUCTIONS:
 1. The contest will continue through November 20, 1991. Each week is a separate contest with $175 in prizes offered each and every week.
 2. There are 19 games to pick each week. One game will be found in each participating sponsor's ad appearing on this page. Circle the names of the teams you believe will win. On the game designated as the "tie-breaker", guess the actual score of the game.
 3. Anyone at least 12 years old or older may enter the contest. Only one entry per person. More than one entry will disqualify all entries for that person. Only the official entry form printed by The Post Dispatch on this page will be eligible for consideration. No facsimile, photo copy or other reproduction of the entry form will be accepted.
 4. Entry forms must be submitted to designated sponsors no later than 5 p.m. each Friday prior to the games listed for that week.
 5. Entry forms must be correctly completed and signed by the person submitting the form with the correct address. Incorrect entries will be disqualified. In all instances, the decision of the judges will be final.
 6. Entry forms must be signed by the person submitting the form, entries known to be signed by a person other than the one who completed the form will disqualify that entry.
 7. In the case of a tie, contestants guessing nearest to the actual "tie-breaker" game score will be declared the winner. The tie-breaker will be determined by the point spread method, picking the winner correctly. In case of identical scores, prize money will be divided equally.
 8. Employees of The Post Dispatch and their families are ineligible to participate in the contest. Owners and employees of participating sponsors may enter the contest.
