

'A Celebration of Will McCrary's Garza Theatre' gives fans chance to express appreciation Sunday

A lively celebration in memory of Garza Theatre director Will McCrary will be offered Sunday, October 7 at 2 p.m. in the theatre for all his fans.

McCrary, the inspiration, creator and guiding force of the theatre since its beginning in 1986, died Saturday night in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital following a brief illness.

"The whole idea of this event," Celebration chairman Dr. James Bell emphasizes, "is to give all of us who were touched by Will, either as members of the audience, back stage or on stage, an opportunity to share the brilliance of his genius and enjoy the fruits of his labor as we turn a new page in our theatre's history."

"A Celebration of Will McCrary's Garza Theatre" begins promptly at 2 p.m., with musical entertainment provided by the "Garza Theatre Band," which was so popular at last summer's "A Harley Sadler Show."

Theatre doors open at 12:30 p.m., and the first 250 people will be allowed inside on a first-come, first-served basis. A public address system will be operating outside for those who are too late to be admitted.

The production will include special appearances by "Sputters" and other popular characters from many of the 44 plays directed by McCrary over the past five years.

"There is no charge for admission," Dr. Bell adds, "and since we have limited seating, we urge patrons to be early so as not to miss the fun."

"People have been calling to ask about a memorial fund," Garza Theatre board of directors member Jack Alexander added, "and we are encouraging people who wish to contribute, to mail donations to the theatre." The address is 223 E. Main, Post, Texas 79356.

People may also make donations at the theatre Sunday by dropping the contributions in the ticket box located in the lobby.

by Wes Burnett

Many visitors as well as home folks will be in Post for our Founder's Day Celebration next week, and woefully, the weeds have really multiplied with all the rain we've had recently.

If every business and property owner on Hwy 380 and Hwy 84, as well as both East and West Main Street will mow, trim and groom their grounds, then my won't Post City truly sparkle?

Let's be "Post Proud" and take a little time this week to tidy up our surroundings!

All-you-eat buffet, dance highlights fun during Founder's Day Oct. 9-13

Reservations deadline Friday for the big event open to everyone in Garza County

by Wes Burnett

One of the social highlights of the year in Post will be held Friday, October 11 at the U Lazy S Ranch, where people from all over West Texas will enjoy an all-you-can-eat buffet and dancing to music by the popular Jody Nix in celebration of the founding of our town.

This year the event is hosted by the descendants of Belle and John B. Slaughter... Ryla and John F. Lott, Mary Belle Macy, the Ronnie Bouchier family, the K.W. Kirkpatrick family, the Jack Lott family and the Bob Macy family.

The annual get-together in a western setting gives people here a chance to either dress in a festive western outfit or more formal. It's quite a sight to see our local cowboys riding their horses with black ties and spurs as they direct parking and help visitors.

To assist people getting to the ranch, a shuttle bus will be leaving on the west side of the courthouse beginning at 6 p.m. Returning busses will bring people back to the courthouse beginning at 9:30 p.m.

The evening includes all you can eat dinner buffet, live auction and country and western dancing to the music by Jody Nix and the Texas Cowboys. Tickets for the event are $20 per person. Reservations must be made and tickets purchased no later than Friday, October 4. Reservations may be obtained by calling the Main Street office or the Post Chamber of Commerce office at 495-4157 or 495-3461.

Rules of thumb for buying. Do they work?

Consumers are busy people. One strategy they use to get the "best buy" is to rely on shopping "rules of thumb", confident that they are making the best choices. But, they may be mistaken because the "rules of thumb" they have learned or used about product quality and/or price may no longer hold.

Research evidence suggests that the old "rules of thumb" may not work:

* Buy a known brand. Once consumers have found a brand name they believe works for them, they often continue to buy that brand without further comparisons. Research evidence suggests, however, that past performance of a brand is a poor predictor of future quality. Analysis of ratings from Consumer Reports suggests that brands rated as "tops" vary widely from year to year.

* Look for seals of approval. Some consumers may equate certain product seals of approval with quality, but in actuality they represent a limited refund or replacement policy.

* Buy the top of the line. Consumers may erroneously assume that the top of the line product may be the "best" choice. Research has shown that even with large jumps along a product line, quality may not change dramatically. Consumers who buy "top of the line" may be buying features they do not want or need.

* Price indicates quality. Research findings show that consumers believe there is a positive relationship between price and quality. But several studies have demonstrated a poor relationship and some a negative correlation so that higher prices are sometimes associated with lower quality. Therefore, consumers should comparison shop for price once a product decision has been reached.

* Larger sizes are better buys. Consumers often think there is an economy of scale by buying the largest size. However, research shows that this may not always be the case. Consumers should use unit pricing to determine if the largest size is, in fact, the lowest cost per unit.

Making a purchase decision using "rules of thumb" is not a bad strategy, but when the rules change and shopping behavior does not, consumers may be paying more than they need to and may not be receiving the quality of product they expected. It pays to do a "reality check" occasionally to determine if the "old rules" still apply.

Amity Study Club

by Joyce Strubhart

The Amity Study Club opened its 1991-92 club year Saturday, September 28 at 10 a.m. with a brunch in the Garden Room of the Chaparral Steak House. Hostesses were Helen Miller, Carolyn Sawyers and Louella Bilberry.

Ginger Carlisle, president, welcomed everyone and conducted a brief business meeting.

Louella Bilberry, yearbook chairman, presented members with yearbooks for the new year and explained our programs. The most interesting ones will be when each of us explains "How I Came to be in Post, Texas." That means we will trace our ancestors back as far as possible. Louella was able to tell us a very interesting story about her ancestors and how they ended up in Post.

Members present were Ida Wilks, Marion Wheatley, Joyce Strubhart, Sue Shyles, Maury Shiver, Carolyn Sawyers, Kathie Rankin, Joy Pool, Edna Owen, Boo Olson, Helen Miller, Janey Middleton, Iva Hudman, Joy Dickson, Ginger Carlisle, Margaret Bull, Louella Bilberry, Barbara Babb, Thelma Clark and Sandra Alexander.

Energized 'Lopes cruise to 25-6 win

by Wes Burnett

The Post Antelopes gave PHS homecoming fans a lot to cheer about last Friday night at Antelope Stadium in a convincing 25-6 win over the visiting Sundown Roughnecks in the District 4AA opener for both teams.

Coming off three consecutive losses to Abernathy, Slaton and Reagan County, the young 'Lopes showed a new spark of energy and enthusiasm that has been a hallmark of football here.

From the very beginning of the game it was obvious that the Antelope defense and offense were out to prove that a new season had begun for them.

"We finally got rid of that goose egg," a happy head coach Dewayne Osborne commented in the final seconds of the contest.

Defensively the Antelopes demonstrated they had learned a few lessons from the first three games as the defensive ends were able to avoid being taken out of the plays, linemen hit hard and quick, linebackers filled the gaps and the backs kept the receivers hemmed in all night.

First Half Action

The defense got its first test following the opening kickoff when the Roughnecks took over at their own 20. Linebacker Anthony Cruse and defensive end Shane Horton combined on three plays to force a fourth down punt. The key play was on third down when Horton shook off the blocker and slammed quarterback Chad Love to the ground at the 28, two yards shy of a first down.

The Antelope offense took the ball at their own 30 following the punt and drove to the 13 yard line in 10 plays, featuring quick blasts by wingback Michael Self and power running by tailback Brandon Bird. On second down from the 13 speedster Ricky Jefferson ripped to the seven and when two defenders collided with him the ball popped into the air as Sundown recovered the loose ball, stopping the touchdown effort.

The Roughnecks got a first down before the 'Lope defense dug in, with key tackles by Horton, Junior Nava, Cruse and Bird to force a punt on fourth down to the Sundown 40 yard line.

First Score

It took nine plays for the offense to settle the question of which offensive line was going to get the job done. An impressive drive behind a quick and energetic offensive line gave Bird and Self plenty of running room over left tackle, left guard, right tackle and right guard spots. Bird and Self alternated carrying the ball with Bird going in the final one yard for the score with 11:38 left in the second quarter. Horton's extra point kick put the 'Lopes out front for the first time this year... they liked the idea well enough to never look back.

The defense held again following the kickoff, with great plays by Bird and Horton to force another fourth down punt.

Second Touchdown

As if to respond to the defensive effort, the offense ripped off a 49 yard scoring drive on 13 plays to go in front 13-0 with 4:54 left in the first half.

Led by quarterback Damon Curtis, the offensive punch included strong running by Bird, clutch pass receptions by Ricky Jefferson, especially the third down screen pass play at the 40 yard line. Jefferson took the ball zipped behind the blocking of Michael Harper to the nine yard line.

The play was called back to the 35 on a penalty and from their on third down Bird blasted through defenders to the 30, setting a fourth down crisis.

Curtis rolled to his right and threw the pass to Jefferson at the 29 and the nifty running back twisted and turned and churned through tacklers, finally being hauled down at the 26 for a first down.

Self got the call on first down to the 19 and a surprised Roughneck defense called time out with 6:38 left on the first half clock.

Bird came over his right guard spot, breaking through tacklers to the 12 and then Self ripped through left guard to the eight. A pass to Horton was incomplete and on third down Self went over right tackle, cut inside and was finally taken down at the one.

After a loss of one yard, Bird ran full speed behind blocking by Josh Bush, Horton and Self to the end zone. Horton's extra point attempt sailed wide to the right.

Following the kickoff the Roughnecks could not muster a drive against the Antelope defense, led by Cruse, Castillo, Bush and a quarterback sack by Horton.

Three pass plays following the punt gave the ball back to Sundown with time running out in the first half. The Roughnecks managed to put together a sustained drive, penetrating to the Antelope 21 yard line before Horton, Castillo and Nava sacked the quarterback on second down with 12 seconds left on the clock. A time out game the visitors one more try, but the pass sailed too far over the head of the receiver and the 'Lopes took a 13-0 lead to the locker room.

Second Half Action

The Post offense sputtered early in third quarter when Self coughed up the ball on a second down blast over right guard. The Roughnecks took advantage of the opportunity and scored in four plays from the 20. Love took the ball from the seven around his left end to the end zone. A bad snap and illegal motion penalty set the ball back and the extra point kick was wide to the left. With 9:46 left in the third quarter the 'Lopes knew they had to score again, leading only 13-6.

A 10 play drive from the Post 24 to the Sundown five was snuffed out when on third down a pass from Curtis to Horton in the end zone popped off Horton's chest into the air and the Roughnecks intercepted the ball in the end zone.

The fired up defense, led by Castillo, Gutierrez and Horton took control, sacking the quarterback twice and forcing a fourth down punt.

This time the 'Lope offense would not be denied as they pounded from their own 34 yard line to the end zone in seven plays. Self and Bird, along with Gutierrez and Jefferson, did the damage. After Jefferson's run over left guard set up a first down at the nine, Bird got the call over right tackle, and literally carried a defender five yards into the end zone. The determined run gave the 'Lopes a 19-6 lead. The two point conversion pass attempt failed as the third quarter clock showed 56 seconds.

Nava, Castillo and Pete Torres took control for the defense and early in the fourth quarter the Roughnecks punted one more time.

Four plays later the visitors took the ball following a Horton punt and put together a sustained nine play drive before the 'Lope defense, led by Torres and McClellan on quarterback sacks, set up another punting situation.

Defense Scores

Again the 'Lope offense sputtered and the defense trotted back to the field. With 2:18 left on the game clock, the Roughnecks tried one more time to score.

On first down from their own 49, Love dropped back to pass and Cruse stepped in front of the would-be receiver at the Post 30 yard line and raced untouched to the end zone. He got a key block near the 20 yard line from Bird.

A bad snap muffed the extra point attempt, but the 'Lopes took a commanding 25-6 lead into the final 1:28 of the game.

This Friday evening the young Antelopes get their second big test in district competition at Idalou.

Trip to Idalou Friday sets tone for district standings

by Wes Burnett

Coming off a 25-6 win over Sundown, the Post Antelopes are preparing for a drive at the District 4AA championship by taking on the Idalou Wildcats there Friday at 7:30 p.m.

"We are of course very pleased about our win last Friday," coach Dewayne Osborne emphasizes, "all of our players did well and really improved a lot."

They will have to continue playing at full speed going into the next few weeks of district competition.

Wildcats...

At Idalou the Antelopes will clash with a team sporting a similar season record. The Wildcats lost to Olton 20-7, beat Muleshoe 14-3, lost to Abernathy 28-6 and last Friday lost to Crosbyton 13-12.

Idalou is led on offense by 170 pound senior quarterback Ty Harmon, a three year starter who has 380 yards passing to his credit this season.

All-State tailback 152 pound senior Freddy Martinez is the principal running threat. He is rated as very quick and fast.

Fullback, 145 pound junior Ramon Martinez, is considered a good lead blocker and runs hard. Rounding out the backfield is 145 pound senior Toby Lynn, a good blocker who carries good speed and catches the ball well.

Split end David Carrillo, a 150 pound senior, is the best receiver and has good speed. Sophomore 175 pound tight end Chris Taylor is mostly used as a blocker but does run the quick pass well.

All five linemen started last year. They get toe-to-toe and come right after the defense. Leading the pack is 180 pound junior center Rod Rodriguez, along with 251 pound senior tackle Jessie Collins, 190 pound senior guard Jim Hughes, 248 pound senior tackle Robert Arredondo and 170 pound senior Brent Respondek. Rodriguez, Collins and Arredondo were All-District selections last year.

Defensively the Wildcats line up with Collins, Rodriguez, 185 pound sophomore tackle Sol Lee DeLeon and 200 pound junior Stuart Davidson on the line. They have good size and are strong.

Harmon anchors the linebacking along with Hughes and 151 pound junior DeVaughn Bell.

The secondary includes Carrillo, Ramon Martinez, Freddy Martinez and 130 pound junior Derek Bozeman.

The secondary plays cover two man, the corners bump and force out.

Game time at Idalou is 7:30 p.m.

8th graders outscore Sundown

"We didn't play very well in the first half," coach Darrell Radle comments about last Thursday's 8th grade football game at Sundown, "but we made up for it in the second half."

The coach praised the offensive line play by Rodney Meeks, Marty Dissinger, Kenneth Minyard, Tory Harper, Paul Lopez and Blythe Wilson.

On defense the coach pointed out the efforts of Chris Perez, Robby Palmer, Alvin Reed, B.J. Hart, Saul Martinez, Jason Wyatt, Pablo Soto and Mark Owen.

The young 'Lopes collected 176 yards on offense and a 73 yard kickoff. They limited Sundown to 167 yards offense.

Sundown scored first on a long opening drive and led 8-0.

Raymond Garza ran the following kickoff back 73 yards for a touchdown. The extra point conversion failed and the 'Lopes trailed 8-6.

Late in the second quarter Sundown scored again and led 14-6 at halftime.

Early in the third quarter Bodie Simpson ran 27 yards for a touchdown, the conversion attempt failed and the score stood at 14-12.

Two plays later a 37 yard drive was capped by Garza when he broke open on a 34 yard touchdown run. The young Lopes took an 18-12 lead when the two point conversion attempt failed again.

In the fourth quarter the team scored on a 13 play, 51 yard drive as Simpson ran in from two yards out for the six points. The two point conversion was successful with Simpson finding Jeff Redman in the end zone for the pass.

The team hosts Idalou tomorrow afternoon.

7th graders win first game 20-8

"We had a good ballgame offensively against Sundown," Post 7th grade football coach Chili Black commented about last Thursday's 20-8 win there.

"Our offensive line of Ole Gomez, Jeremy Josey, Manuel Criado, Brandon McDonald, Will Osborn, Jerry Crawford and Ray Harper did a great job of blocking," the coach added. He also praised the defensive efforts of Josh Grisham.

The team scored in the first quarter as fullback Armando Ayala went in from six yards out to cap a 56 yard drive.

In the second quarter tailback Israel Perez scored from eight yards out after a 35 yard drive.

Perez scored again in the fourth quarter on a one yard following a 49 yard drive. Quarterback Patrick Soto ran the ball in for the two point conversion.

The team gained 148 yards offense and limited Sundown to 70.

They play Idalou here tomorrow afternoon.

J.V. shuts out Sundown 26-0

The Post Junior Varsity football team took control early and never let go in a 26-0 win here last Thursday over Sundown.

"We had great effort on offense," coach Bart McMeans commented, "our line looked a lot better than our last game, our backs ran hard. In all it was a great offensive game, we had three long drives which is great."

"On defense," the coach adds, "we are still making too many mental mistakes, we are going to have to start taking care of business."

He praised the offensive players Willie Mesa, Heath Eagle, Casey Hart, Javiar Saldivar, Rynn Sappington, Michael Gomez, Lance Clay, Stewart Childers, Mark Espitia, Lucas Walls, Monty Dissinger, Manuel Zubia, Russ Bird and Matt Gomez.

On defense the coach pointed out the efforts of Bird, Noe Gomez, Brad Lawson, Roman Perez, Cody Collier, Walls, Ray Perez, Justin Terry, Brant Windham, Shad Blair, Lance Clay, Cody Clay and Ray Perez.

The first scoring drive featured an 11 play, 76 yard effort, set up by a 44 yard reception from Hart to Sappington and a 15 yard reception from Hart to Saldivar. Bird scored from 10 yards out and Lance Clay got the two point conversion.

The second touchdown came at the end of an eight play, 62 yard drive with Mesa going in for the final eight yards.

Lance Clay scored from seven yards out on the third touchdown at the end of a six play, 70 yard drive.

The final touchdown came on a Mesa four yard blast into the end zone on an 11 play, 48 yard drive.

The team travels to Idalou Thursday for the second district matchup.

Bil Hedrick

Rodeo Queen, Bull Rider, Barrel Racer

Editor's Note: The following article is reprinted by permission of The Arena Sports Roundup, Trent, Tx. It was originally published in the September 1991 edition.

Bil Hedrick is a Rodeo Legend. From Depression days to present time, rodeo has changed drastically and she has been there to witness the change, but her character and personality still reflect the spirit of the True West. Bil Hedrick has carved her name in the West Texas Rodeo heritage.

She was born in 1928 at Post in Garza County, the oldest of three daughters of Mr and Mrs L.P. Kennedy, Jr. Christened Billy June Kennedy, her father was very disappointed that a son was not the first born. He quickly began calling her Bil, a name she has used for 63 years. At three months of age, Bil was placed on a pillow in front of her dad in the saddle and spent her days on the rough West Texas ranch. "I followed Dad around every where he went. I would get up at 5:00 in the morning to make sure he wouldn't leave me at home."

L.P. Kennedy was a Depression day bronc rider. There were no rodeos back in those early days, but up at the Wagon Yard in Post, ranchers would bring their toughest broncs to town and challenge anyone to ride them. The riders were often paid $1.00 to mount the broncs. Recalls Bil: "Daddy tried everything that was ever brought down to the Wagon Yard and he rode almost every one of them. This was a way he helped feed the family during those bad Depression days. I remember one time when I was three years old. Mother had gone into the grocery store and Daddy was carrying me in his arms down by the Wagon Yard. Some one had just brought in a really bad bronc and everyone began hollering at Daddy to mount him. Dad handed me over to some other gentleman, mounted the bronc and rode 'the hell out of him.' He immediately got off and said, 'Now give my baby girl back to me.' Mother bought plenty of groceries that week."

In the 40's, Post had already begun to have their annual rodeo. Bil entered the steer riding right along with the boys and gave them a run for their money. This began her long rodeo career which continued throughout the 40's, 50's and 60's.

After graduating from high school in Post, Bil enrolled at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. A charter member of the Tech Rodeo Club, Bil helped organize the club and served as the first Texas Tech Rodeo Queen in 1946. In 1947, she was issued the first NIRA card at Tech and competed on the first rodeo team that the school ever had. "We didn't have a lot of college rodeos back then, but I remember going to Hardin Simmons University at Abilene and Sul Ross at Alpine. I competed in bull riding and barrel racing. I was riding bulls with the boys in 1947 until Daddy sat me down and said, 'Bil this is enough of this bull riding with the boys,' and I never climbed on a bull again." Bil earned the Championship Barrel Title at Tech in 1947.

The late 40's, 50's, and 60's saw Bil's name dominating the Barrel Racing circuits in West, Central, and North Texas. "I had a big gray gelding that came from a local ranch at Post. Danny was a big tall horse with no mouth whatsoever. He could run and turn on a dime, rated himself on the barrels, but watch out when he turned the last barrel and headed for home. There was no way I could stop him in the alley; I just had to keep riding him until he slowed down and came to his own stop." Danny and Bil won Ralls, Lamesa, Tahoka, Spur and a host of other High Plains rodeos in Texas.

Back in the early days, the barrel racers really "dressed up" to compete at rodeos. They all wore matching hats and boots. "I remember being at the Spur Rodeo in 1953 and have five matching outfits in the back of the car. I had left my hat in the car and went back to get it before I ran. I rode up to the car and there were two men breaking into the car stealing my outfits! They ran off with my hats and Danny and I began to chase them across the parking lot. I bull-dogged both of them off the horse and they sure didn't get away with my powder blue hat. My dad and others couldn't understand where I was when the announcer kept calling my name."

Bil married J.L. Hedrick. J.L. was foreman of the Macy Cattle Company, once part of the huge Slaughter Ranch empire. Bil and J.L. lived and worked full time on the ranch and rodeoed on the weekends.

During the mid-40's, Bil recalls going to one of the first All-Girl Rodeos ever held. The event took place in Amarillo, Texas. "After the rodeo, we all met downtown in a big hotel for a little party, dinner, and relaxation." The conversation focused on organizing a professional womens rodeo association. From this initial meeting, the thoughts and input were put together to form the GRA - Girls Rodeo Association, later changed to WPRA - Womens Professional Rodeo Association. "I didn't get my card the first year it was organized, but held a card for a number of years."

Judy Hayes, Tinna Kennedy, Theda May Farr, Fern Sawyer, and Dude Barton were all competing and winning in the All-Girl Rodeos at this time. "Prize money wasn't all that much at the time, but we all enjoyed rodeoing together. The Rodeo Committee very seldom gave saddles to the winners of the barrel race. I remember winning the barrels one year at Spur and received a leather fringed jacket. I never liked 'fancy stuff' so I cut off all the fringe on the way home. Boy was my mother mad when I got there!"

During the early 50's, daughter Jo cracked out on the amateur barrel circuit. "I never felt right competing against my daughter, just didn't feel good about trying to outrun her." In 1965, Bil and Jo both made the short go at Stamford Cowboy Reunion riding the same horse - Banjo. Husband, J.L., made the calf roping finals riding Banjo also. "I knew it was time for me to quit and turn the barrel racing over to Jo." Bil competed in her last barrel race at the Ft Worth Stock Show in 1967.

In 1975, Bil and J.L. left West Texas and moved to Uvalde in South Texas. J.L. died ten months later of cancer and Bil began working with Ed Sims Spur Company. She held this job for a number of years before moving back to her native West Texas.

"I broke my back in 1980 and now I'm just wired together." Unable to ride or compete, Bil now enjoys going with daughter Jo Hart to area jackpots and rodeos. Son, John Bill, a graduate of Texas Tech, was also an accomplished member of the Tech Rodeo Team, competing in saddle bronc riding and steer wrestling. Bil and John Bill held the honor for a number of years of being the only two-generation family members ever of the Tech Rodeo Team.

Bil Hedrick is a Rodeo Legend. From Depression days to present time, rodeo has changed drastically. Bil has witnessed the change, but her character and personality still reflect the spirit of the True West. Bil Hedrick has carved her name in the West Texas Rodeo heritage.

Ten Free Trees

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during October 1991.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's efforts to encourage tree planting throughout America.

The ten shade trees are Red Oak, Weeping Willow, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tuliptree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

"These trees were selected to provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and fall colors," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped post-paid at the right time for planting between November 1 and December 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by October 31, 1991.

Bullock states that Texas is losing the war on poverty

Lt Gov Bob Bullock warned that Texas is losing the war on poverty and the federal government is threatening to make matters worse.

"Our poverty population is increasing despite improvements in the overall economy," Bullock said. "We are gaining new poverty population by birth and by unemployment and underemployment in the workforce."

Bullock said "it is one thing to argue as to why this happens and how to cure it, but it is another thing to confront the more immediate question as to how these people -- particularly the children -- are going to eat and get even minimal medical care."

"We increased human services spending by $3.7 billion in the budget for the next two years, but even that vast amount of money will do no more than hold our own in some areas and fall backwards in other areas of service -- because of the increasing poverty population, the increasing costs of medical services and the federal government's expansion of benefits," Bullock said.

And the situation will worsen quickly, Bullock said, if the Bush Administration goes through with its threat to cut $800 million in charity medical money expected by 109 local hospitals and hospital districts and state teaching hospitals which serve a disproportionate share of low income Texans.

"They are changing the rules in the middle of the game. We adopted a budget in good faith and now they want to jerk the rug out from under these hospitals and these Medicaid recipients who are in dire straits," Bullock said.

Bullock called on the state's congressional delegation -- "Republican and Democrat alike," he said -- to try to talk the White House out of changing the rules.

Bullock pointed out that federally-mandated expansions in most welfare programs bring more federal money, but at the same time drive up state costs since most program require the state to put up $1 for every $2 of federal money.

"Medicaid and nursing homes are, of course, the most expensive programs and they are the ones on the fastest increase," Bullock said.

"If Texas can't keep up with its end of the deal, then do we face putting some elderly parent out of a nursing home and onto the streets?"

So, in trying to keep up with those programs, Bullock said, Texas has not been able to keep up in other equally critical programs such as aid to families with dependent children (AFDC).

AFDC payments go to poverty-stricken single-parent families with young children. A maximum monthly allotment of $187 for a family of three has not been increased in Texas since 1986.

Bullock said that last year Texas AFDC went to families whose income was no more than 22 percent of the poverty-level income standard established by the federal government. But this year because of the budget crunch, aid will be limited to families with less than 19 percent of the poverty income figure.

"That becomes important when you know that one of every four Texas kids is growing up in poverty," Bullock said.

Recommendations for cottonseed in cattle diets

Beef producers should be aware of the proper amount of cottonseed products that can be fed safely depending on the type of animal.

Cottonseed products have been used for more than 100 years as nutritional supplements to improve cattle production. Millions of tons of cottonseed products are fed annually to U.S. livestock.

Concern about cottonseed stems from its level of gossypol, a naturally occurring substance that can be toxic to some animals.

"Ruminant animals can tolerate much greater quantities of free gossypol than can monogastric animals. Pre-ruminant calves, under eight weeks of age, should not be fed gossypol-containing products," says a report just released at Texas A&M University.

The source of gossypol and type of diet also affect the levels of gossypol tolerated by cattle.

Gossypol has been widely studied for its toxicity to some animals. Buty gossypol may also affect reproductive capabilities in cattle. These are the recommendations for feeding cattle:

* Beef cows and range bulls: 2 pounds per day of direct solvent extracted; 4 pounds/head/day of expander processed; 4 pounds/head/day of screw-press processed meal; or 4-6 pounds/head/day of whole cottonseed.

* Young bulls being grown or developed for breeding: Whole cottonseed should be limited to 15 percent to 20 percent of the total diet for most cattle and to 10 percent or less for young developing bulls. High free gossypol meal (0.3 percent or 3,000 parts per million) should be limited to five percent of the total diet. Screw press and expander process meal containing less than 0.1 percent or 1,000 parts per million can be used at up to 15 percent of the total diet.

If using a mixture of cotton products, the combined concentration of gossypol will need to be considered.

* Embryo transfer: Producers with embryo transfer programs in which large sums of money are involved per animal may wish to use a conservative approach since other protein sources are available.

* Pre-ruminant calves (under 8 weeks to be safe): These animals, especially dairy calves, should not be fed gossypol containing products until ongoing research establishes safe feeding levels.

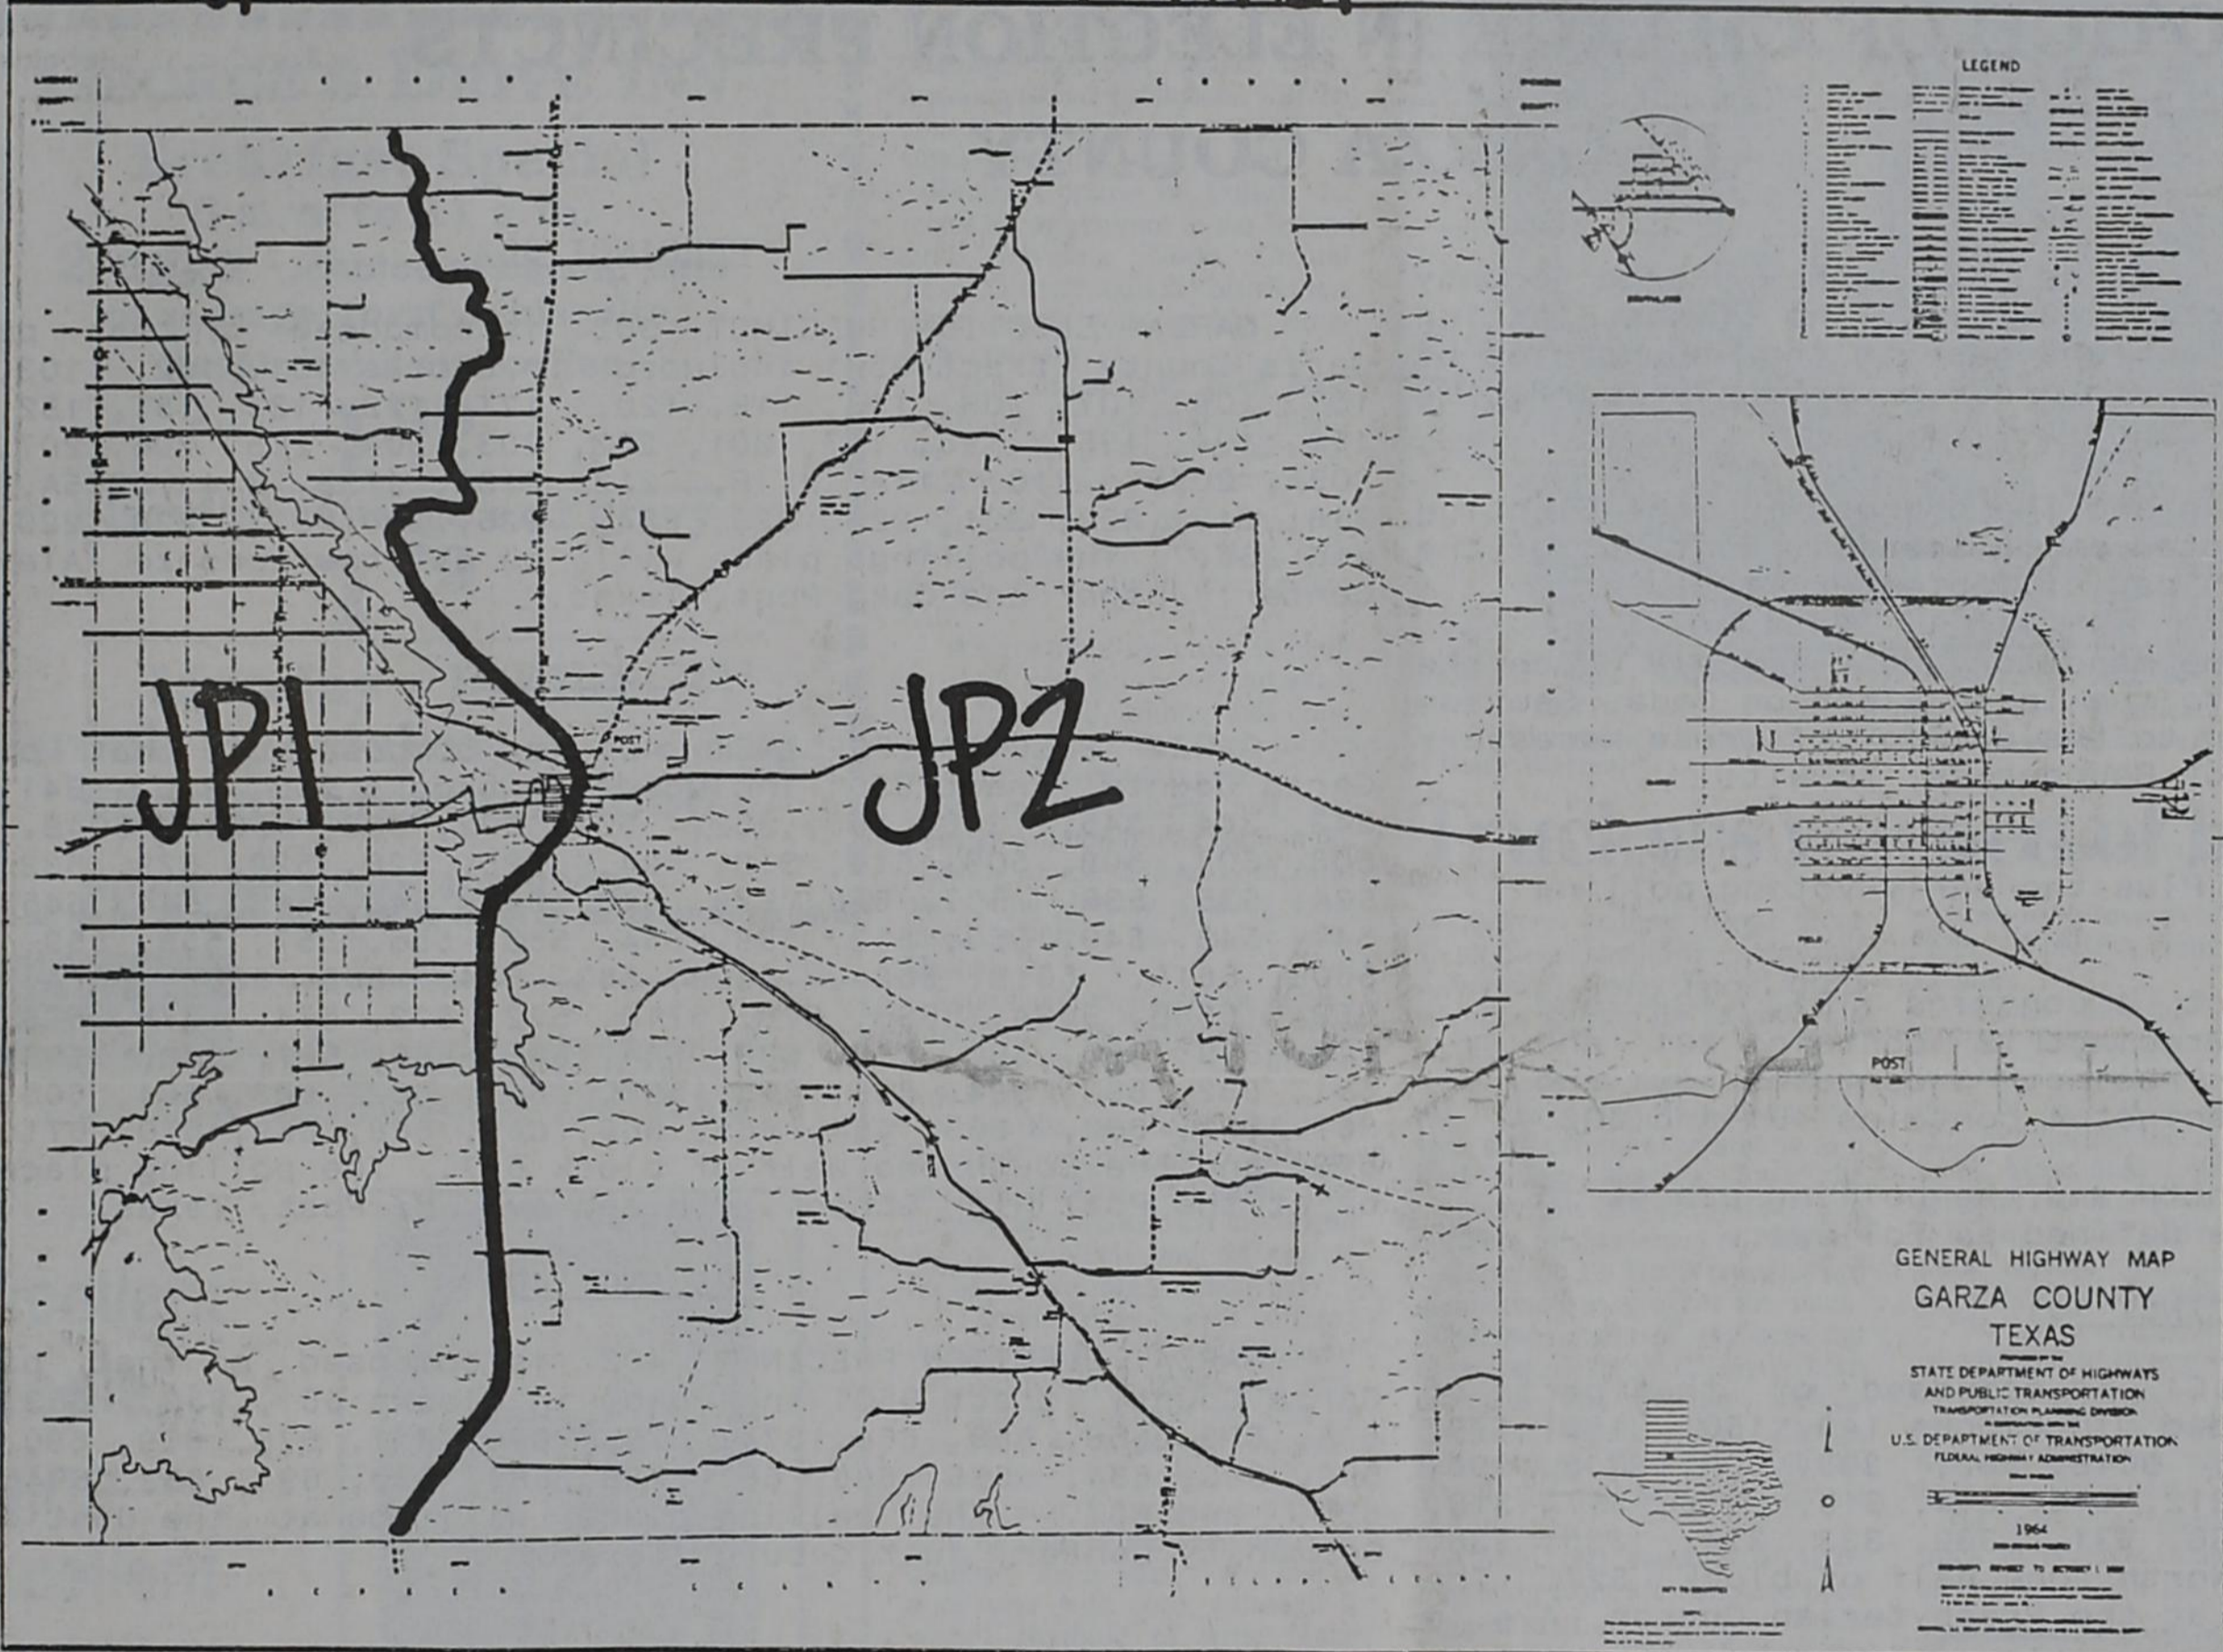

Cattle raisers also should know that the method of oil extraction used on the cottonseed impacts the gossypol levels in the product. The expander process exposes the cotton seed to greater heat which in turn reduces the amount of free gossypol content to about one-third of the level in the old direct solvent method. More than 95 percent of the cottonseed processed in Texas and Oklahoma today are from expander or screw-press operations.

Also, with high roughage or forage diets where slower passage takes place, cattle may be able to tolerate higher levels of gossypol. Cottonseed hull-based diets may be an exception, however, because of their rapid rate of passage.

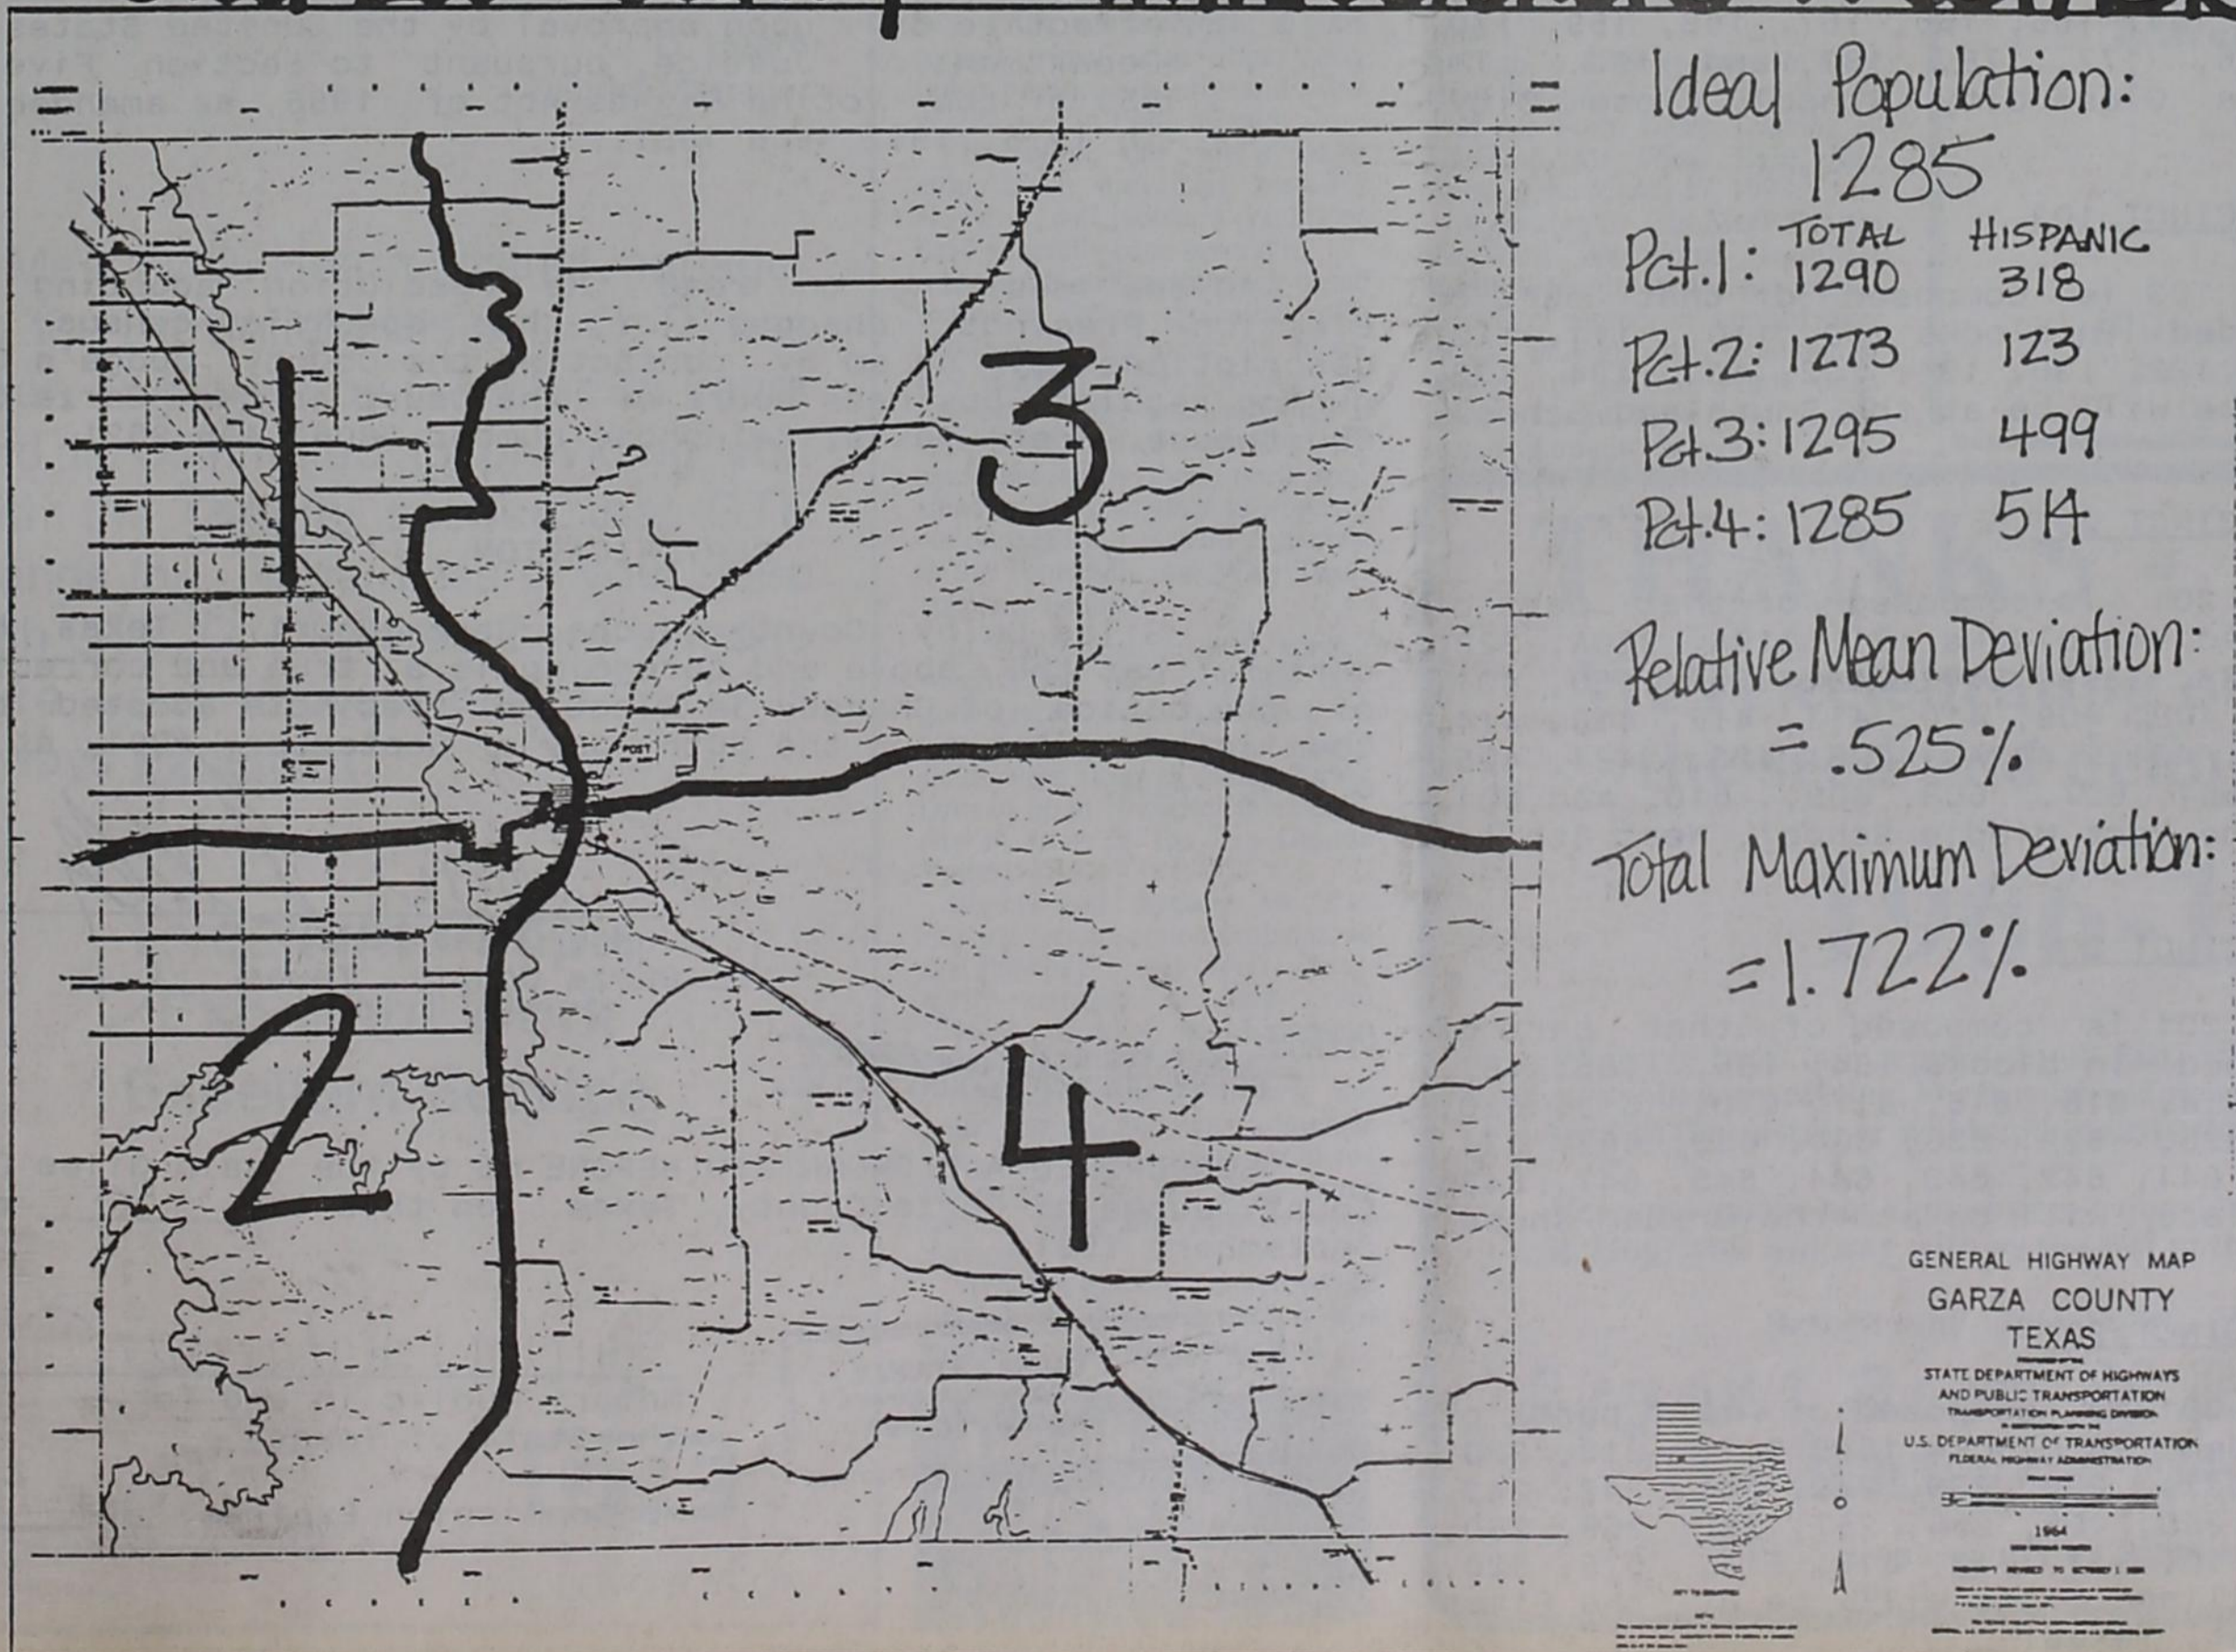

Drive safely. Don't wreck your life.

Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District is taking orders for windbreak trees.....

The Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District is now taking orders through March 1, 1992 for windbreak trees.

Several types of evergreen trees, various types of hardwood trees and shrubs and four different wildlife packets are available for purchase.

Prices will vary, depending on the type of tree and size, and are sold in lots of 20, 25, 40 and 100.

Windbreaks properly located and containing the right tree type will provide wind and snow protection for farm homesteads as well as livestock.

One source has shown reduced heating costs as great as 15 percent with homestead windbreaks in the High Plains and Rolling Plains.

Living windbreaks, or green-belts, also provide nesting places for small insect-eating birds as well as food and cover for numerous High Plains game birds.

Windbreaks for shelter or wildlife habitat are permitted on Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) fields.

The Garza County SWCD is also selling drip irrigation systems at a considerable savings. Drip irrigation is the slow, frequent application of small amounts of water to the soil directly surrounding plant roots.

Evaporation is greatly reduced and runoff is eliminated. Since water is applied directly to the plant roots, less water is needed.

For assistance in designing your windbreak and drip irrigation system, contact the SWCD at the Soil Conservation Service office at 210 W. Main in Post or by calling 495-2056.

1991 headed toward one of wettest years in four decades

At its current pace, 1991 will be one of the five wettest years in four decades for most of the state - but that doesn't mean it has been strictly good news for agriculture. "Of course, we've still got four months to go, but this year has provided about one-and-a-half times the percentage of normal rainfall," said George Bomar, a meteorologist with the Texas Water Commission in Austin. "The late spring and summer have been inordinately wet in virtually every region of the state. Consequently, as we begin autumn, there is a marked absence of severe drought in the state." Bomar said that while rainfall across the state varies widely from year to year, 1991 appears to rank with 1958, 1975, 1981 and 1987 as the wettest since 1951.

He noted that National Weather Service statistics show many Texas weather stations had rainfall of 125 to 175 percent of normal year-to-date amounts through August 28.

In fact, of 31 Texas stations included on a weekly NWS report, only six had below-average percentages for the year.

Those stations were Wichita Falls, which had received 15.76 inches of rain, or 86 percent of normal; Del Rio (10.32 inches, or 97 percent); Zapata (8.75 inches, or 77 percent); Uvalde (9.49 inches, or 60 percent); Amarillo (9.93 inches, or 68 percent); and Pecos (5.46 inches, or 94 percent).

And even near dry areas, some places are receiving more substantial rainfall. Fort Stockton -- just 54 miles southeast of Pecos -- had received 13.91 inches, or 183 percent of its normal rainfall through August 28.

Twenty of the NWS stations had received 125 percent or better of their year-to-date averages, including Victoria (43.36 inches, or 193 percent), Midland (16.18 inches, 180 percent), Lufkin (45.8 inches, 170 percent) and Beaumont (54.78 inches, 163 percent).

However, while rain is usually seen as a boon for agriculture, those above-normal numbers have not meant only good times.

"As usual, the distribution has not been ideal, although we're ahead in total rainfall," said Richard Wynne, an agricultural meteorologist for the National Weather Service.

That's because the timing of moisture is critical in agriculture, and poorly timed rain has caused serious problems in some areas, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

For the state's major crops, rainfall has had varying impacts, said Dr. Mark Waller, an Extension agricultural economist in College Station who specializes in grain marketing.

The Panhandle -- the state's primary wheat region -- suffered severe problems from short moisture through the late spring and early summer. There were good crops in Texas, but early yield indicators show a drop from 130 million bushels in 1990 to 84 million bushels this year, Waller said.

On the other hand, he said, "Corn and grain sorghum do look pretty good, especially in comparison to what's coming out of the Midwest, where there is a significant drought problem."

Later rains have apparently helped those crops. Initial figures show statewide corn yields up to 179 million bushels this year, and sorghum up from 76 million hundredweight in 1990 to 99 million hundredweight this year, Waller said.

Rice figures are not yet available, but Waller said he expects harvests to be down this year. Heavy spring rains caused some plantings to be pushed back, meaning some producers will be able to have only one harvest instead of two this year, he said.

Randy Upshaw of Dallas, director for agriculture in the Extension Service's North Central Texas District, said the district is a good case in point on how situations can vary.

"What might have been good conditions for one producer might not occur for another producer just a few miles away," Upshaw said.

Upshaw said his district has had adequate moisture for most crop growth, especially in the western half.

"We got all of the crops in place on time and got beneficial rains there," he said, adding that corn, grain sorghum, hay and forage were all abundant this year.

But in the eastern half, extremely wet conditions early in the planting season delayed corn, milo and cotton planting, causing some insect problems late in the year, Upshaw said.

Scott Durham, Extension district director for East Texas, said, "You can sum up East Texas in one word: wet."

While the rain helped produce abundant, high-quality peaches and watermelons, and ample pastures, it also has caused insect and disease problems and difficulties for hay harvesting, Durham said.

In South Texas, which suffered droughts from 1988 to 1990, rainfall also has been spotty this year. Still, things aren't too bad, said Dr. Jose Pena, an Extension economist in Uvalde.

"The year is turning out fairly well in spite of the very dry conditions," Pena said. "We had a good year with corn, although it wasn't anything to write home about. We had three cuts of hay, and although it's too early to tell, it looks like a good cotton crop."

Cantaloupes, melons and onions all had good irrigated crops, although rain would have saved producers money, Pena said. Fall and spring rains brought a good overall wheat crop after many fields produced poorly and were grazed over in 1990, he said.

For cotton, the state's major crop, much harvesting remains. However, soil moisture conditions have generally been favorable.

Dr. Joe Supak, a Lubbock-based Extension cotton specialist, said, "Particularly out here, our moisture situation is above average for this time of the year, although it came with a bit of a penalty." He also said crops there need sunshine and dry weather to improve cotton quality, but yield potentials in the Panhandle and West Texas appear to be good.

In South Texas, where harvest weather has been hot and dry, good cotton yields have been reported. However, some early fields were flooded out by spring rains of up to 19 inches in a single day in parts of the Rio Grande Valley.

Insects and diseases are also causing serious cotton problems in the Panhandle and West Texas, partly because of rain, said Charles Stuchler, an Extension agronomist in Fort Stockton.

Although ranchers love the green pastures and ranges, Stuchler said, rains have caused problems for most, if not all, West Texas crops -- especially fruits and vegetables.

"When it rains in an area where it's supposed to be dry, it just messes up everything," he said.

Truckers warned of hitchhiking bees

Truckers hauling cargo from South Texas should be aware that Africanized Honey Bees (AHBs) might be looking for an easy ride north.

Paul Jackson, chief inspector for the Texas Apiary Inspection Service, said careful examination of a load before heading down the highway can help delay the more northern establishment of AHBs.

Currently 12 Texas counties are quarantined to prevent the intentional movement of any bees out of the area where AHBs have been detected. The counties include Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kenedy, Webb, Dimmit, Maverick, Zavala and Willacy.

Almost 140 swarms of AHBs migrating from Mexico have been trapped and destroyed in Texas since October 1990. Most of the swarms have been in Starr and Hidalgo counties along the Rio Grande.

Officials from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and two agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture are trapping and monitoring the AHB movement. More than 1,400 traps are set up across South Texas.

But inspectors said unsuspecting truck drivers may pick up unwanted freight in South Texas.

"We have verified that a swarm of Africanized Honey Bees arrived in a large spool on a truck in Nueces County," Jackson said. "We did find the queen, and all of the bees were destroyed."

He said quick response to the truck in Nueces County enabled authorities to kill the bees before they had time to spread. Jackson noted that honey bee swarming will increase in the fall. Some swarms may land on trucks being loaded in South Texas but bound destinations north.

The inspection service, an agency of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, also should be called to obtain a sample of the bees. Jackson can be reached at (409) 845-9714.

The funding for Post will be $539,055.
CIAP is a program of the U.S.

Department of Housing and Urban Development.
The grant obligates the local Housing Authority to operate each project receiving funding as lower income housing for a period of 20 years.
The funds will be used to modernize low-income housing units.
"I am pleased that, once again, we have been able to return some of the money Texans have paid in federal taxes to directly benefit Texans," Gramm said.
