

We Are Thankful...

AS Thanksgiving 1945 draws we Americans have much for which to be thankful.

The fighting and carnage of war is at an end. Victory is ours and our courageous youths are returning home. Already many thousands have been mustered out, and countless tables this Thanksgiving Day will be graced by the smiling faces of newly arrived sons.

We are thankful for these heroes. They have taught us the full meaning of courage, sacrifice and loyalty.

We are thankful for the men and women in civilian life who supported our army and navy and helped to create the greatest fighting force ever assembled.

We are thankful, too, for the American way of life—a life that has weathered many storms during the past 150 years. May our purpose in life be always straight-forward and true and may we not forget to be thankful always for our many blessings.

INDIANS SCALP ANTELOPES IN FINAL GRID TILT

Walloping the Antelope, 25-7, Seminole's rampaging Indians closed out the local's grid season here Saturday afternoon before a small crowd of Antelope boosters.

The light and scrappy Antelopes fought with all they had, but could not cope with the powerhouse runs of the larger Indians. Grabbing two quick scores in the first period of play, the Indians had good scalping for the remainder of the game. Seminole's husky Fullback Blair opened the scoring by smashing over from the five-yard line. A few minutes later Hood, Indian back, swept end for the second tally. The Indians counted again in the second to hold a 19-6 edge at the half.

The final counter for the visitors came in the third when Blair again rammed over the pay-streak. The Antelopes pushed over their lone counter in the final quarter.

The Indians chalked up 11 first downs to the local's 9, and in total yardage 195 to 157. The locals netted 94 yards on aerials while the Indians amassed 61. The winners piled up 134 yards on ground plays to the Antelope's 63.

Post Is Observing Thanksgiving Day

Post citizens are observing their first peace-time Thanksgiving in four years today, with retail establishments of the town closed in observance of the national holiday.

Both schools of Post, as well as those of the rural area, recessed yesterday afternoon for a two-day holiday and will not resume classes until Monday morning. All governmental agencies' employees, and city and county officials are taking the day off.

While some cities of the state will observe the traditional last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day, most of them are closed today.

No city-wide formal observance has been planned... most business people will be thankful for a day of rest and relief from office and routine store work.

Victory Bonds Total $80,000; Short Of Goal

CITIZENS URGED TO BUY MORE E BONDS

With an over-all quota of $235,000 and an E bond figure of $75,000, Garza County was far short of its goal at the beginning of the fourth week of the Eighth Victory loan drive with only $80,000 reached last week end, reported T. R. Greenfield, county War Finance committee chairman.

Garza county citizens are falling short on E bond purchases, with only $8,400 bought to date, which only represents about one twelfth of the quota, pointed out Greenfield. "Our citizens are showing little interest in buying the smaller bonds, now that the 'shooting' war has ended... they do not seem to realize, or care, that there are thousands of boys still overseas, thousands in hospitals and that there is tremendous cost to demobilizing an Army and Navy," observed the chairman.

"Garza county simply can not fall short in this final campaign... we have too fine a record in meeting our share of the war's cost, not to finish with a one-hundred per cent record."

"Please buy bonds, citizens... buy as many as you can... we must meet this last call for funds," concluded Greenfield.

Veteran's Service Officer Has Office In Legion Home

Everett L. Martin, recently appointed Veterans Service officer to serve four counties of the district, Garza, Dickens, Kent and Stonevalley, and employed by the commissioner's courts of the counties, has returned from Waco where he attended a school sponsored by the Veterans Administration, and has established his Post office in the James C. Cole American Legion hut.

Martin, who was released from the Army Air Corps in August, after four years of service, 15 months of which time was spent in the Pacific, lives at Spur and has established a central office at that place.

He will be in Post every Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock and will be prepared to assist returning servicemen in filing claims, loans and other benefits provided by the G. I. bill of rights.

Memorial Building Campaign To Begin Next Week By Vets

The American Legion post next week will open its financial campaign here to raise $15,000 for a memorial building dedicated to Garza county's war dead. It was announced Wednesday by members of the building committee.

"Many of the Legion members have already indicated they would make liberal contributions to the fund and are just waiting for the drive to begin," declared a committee member.

Members of the post feel that the county owes a debt to those who have paid the supreme sacrifice in this war, and feel that the proposed building will be a fitting memorial to our heroes.

Persons wishing to contribute to the fund before dedication begins, may leave their contributions with Mrs. Lee Duckworth at the First National bank.

Parents and relatives of boys who died in World War II are asked to turn in the heroes' names to the Post Dispatch. The names will be placed on an appropriate plaque and displayed in the memorial building.

Location for the proposed Legion memorial home is being considered and will be secured within another week or so.

Two Vets Added To High School Teaching Staff

Upon receiving his discharge on October 23, he returned to Post where he was re-employed as science teacher in High school. Before entering the service, Skinner was principal of the grade school and had for some time before taught science in the High school.

A new mathematics instructor, S. D. Stramer, also a returning serviceman, has been employed for the High school and will assume duties next Monday. Before entering the service Mr. Stramer was employed in the Welch school system. He is a native of Dawson county, and received his degree from Texas Tech, majoring in math. While in the armed forces he served in the finance branch.

Rejoining Miss Richardson, a teacher in the grade school for the past five years and who resigned this week, is Miss Jo Panter, who is to be replaced as high school science instructor by S. D. Stramer. Miss Panter will assume Miss Richardson's duties as second grade teacher.

Miss Richardson will leave soon for Odessa to make her home.

Two representatives from the Post Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. B. J. Edwards and Mrs. Lee Davis, were among the thirty-seven women from the Fourteenth District Parents and Teachers Association who attended the state convention in San Antonio last week. A bus was chartered for the trip.

Mrs. Edwards is chairman of High School Service committee and Mrs. Davis is Finance chairman of the local unit.

The Post women report that the highlight of the first meeting was an address "Together We Build" by Mrs. William A. Hastings, national president. Mrs. Hastings also brought news of the United Nations conference in San Francisco to which she was invited.

Mrs. E. H. Becker, state president, presided throughout the convention after opening the meeting with a narration on the theme, "The Family Builds the Future."

The story was pantomimed by students of Jefferson High school, San Antonio. Reports and addresses made up the evening sessions.

Fourteen district delegates had a breakfast Thursday morning in the Plaza hotel with Mrs. H. G. Stinnett of Plainview in charge. Garza Rancher Injured While Roping Calves

Suffering a broken right leg, Martin Reynolds, foreman of the Cross H ranch owned by Gyles Connell, was taken to Dr. Clayton, bone-specialist at Fort Worth Wednesday morning after being treated in the Lubbock Memorial hospital since last Friday, where he was taken following an accident which occurred at the OS ranch during a roundup.

Mr. Reynolds was injured when he roped a calf and his leg became entangled in his rope. According to those who saw the accident, Reynolds was jerked from his horse and caught in a half-hitch between the horse and calf he had roped. The limb was badly crushed and fractured just above the knee. He also sustained a hip injury from the fall and has been placed in a cast which extends to his chest. Hospital physicians have indicated it would be months before he could walk and possibly a year before he could again ride a horse.

Mrs. Reynolds, who has been with him at Lubbock since the accident, accompanied him to Fort Worth.

NEW CAR PRICES AVERAGE ABOUT SAME AS '42 MODELS

"On the average, new car prices will be no higher than those charged in January 1942," said Price Administrator Chester Bowles Sunday night. This, he added, does not take into account some price increases based on design and engineering changes.

1946 Practices Planned For Garza County

FARM-RANCH LEADERS SELECT 12 PRACTICES SUITABLE FOR COUNTY

Garza county farmers and ranchers will find the 1946 Farm Program will give them more opportunity than has been the case in the past to apply the provisions of the program to fit their individual needs, James A. Boyd, County ACA secretary, has predicted.

With a total of 42 soil and water conservation practices approved for the State, Garza county's ACA committee was very careful in selecting thirteen of the best suited ones for this county. The county will receive an allotment which can be used to pay for these selected and approved practices.

After considerable discussion between the County Committee and Community committeemen, the following eight practices were approved for county farm land operators:

Construction of standard terraces, strip-cropping on the contour, field strip cropping not on the contour, deep plowing of sandy farm land, protecting summer fallowed acreage, contour listing of farm land, contour of farming intertilled crops, and the growing of green manure or cover crops.

Practices approved for range land include:

Construction of earthen banks, drilling of water wells, plowing fire-guards on non-crop open pasture and range land, control of destructive plants on non-crop pasture and range land, and contour furrowing non-crop land.

Texas was allotted nineteen and a half million dollars for carrying out the 1945 farm program. Congress has not yet determined the exact amount to be spent in 1946.

Special Service Being Held This Morning At Church Of Nazarene

Local people will have the opportunity this morning (Thursday) of expressing their thankfulness at a formal program to be held at 10 a. m. at the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. J. W. Norton, newly arrived in Post as pastor of this church, will deliver the message. Rev. L. A. Smith of the Methodist church and Rev. Huron Palmis of the First Baptist church will assist in this joint service.

Musical selections appropriate to the occasion will be presented by a mixed choir.

This Thanksgiving many people will have great reason to offer their appreciation for blessings received. Even in saddest people can offer their thanks for a free country and the blessings that remain.

We are reminded that the first Thanksgiving was not a time of jubilation celebration but rather a solemn avowal of thanks to God for preservation of life.

This Thanksgiving we should give thanks for the proud and mighty land brought forth by our Pilgrim Fathers and so work and pray that peace and plenty may encompass the entire world.

YOU MAKE THE TOWN

During the past few years, many people—perhaps some of your own friends and neighbors—left their home communities for other places where their services were needed in war work. Many of these people will return to their own towns with very pleasant memories of the places where they've been working and living; some may be critical of their temporarily adopted communities. Whether the appraisal is good or bad is usually determined by the individual's own mental attitude toward his fellowmen.

No matter where you live, your community will be whatever kind of place you choose to make it.—Pulsifer Magazine.

Sidelights ...

FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.
By Congressman Geo. Mahon

Shall the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard—all our fighting forces—be merged under one single unified command by an act of Congress? That question has not reached the show-down stage, but hearings on the subject are now being held by a Congressional Committee.

Last week, following the testimony of General Doolittle before the Committee in which he accused opponents of the idea of being hypocritical, Secretary of Navy Forrestal wrote a letter of protest to Secretary of War Patterson, bringing out into the open the intense jealousy which exists between certain members of the Army and Navy high command. The Army favors the merger; the Navy high command, generally speaking, opposes it. The prevailing thought in Washington is that the majority of the people favor the merger.

It is admitted that good arguments can be offered on both sides of the question. Advocates of the idea, however, contend that we will gain more by unification of the services than we stand to lose. There is no doubt but that closer cooperation among the services in the future would be in the public interest. The merger would not obliterate the identity of the various branches, and we should not obliterate the identity traditions of the fighting forces.

The Prime Minister of Great Britain, Mr. Clement Atlee, successor to Winston Churchill, addressed a joint session of Congress on November 13th. In doing so, he was following in the footsteps of Winston Churchill who just three weeks after Pearl Harbor addressed the Senate, and who in May, 1943, addressed a joint session of the House and Senate.

The procedure was typical of the procedure usually followed at joint sessions of Congress. Perhaps the details would be of interest.

The meeting was held in the House of Representatives because of the greater availability of seats. Members of the House took their seats in the rear and central sections, leaving all the front seats for the Senators and official guests. Just prior to the convening of the joint session, the Senators, led by Senator McKellar, President pro tem of the Senate, marched in and took the seats reserved for them, Senator McKellar occupying the platform with Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Then came the diplomatic group led by Lord Halifax, British Ambassador. Next to enter the chamber were members of the President's cabinet. Seven of the ten were present for the occasion. Mr. McKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, was next to enter. The Doorkeeper of the House announced Mr. King to the session and escorted him to his seat, the Doorkeeper having gone through the same ceremony for the groups which had previously entered.

The Doorkeeper then announced Prime Minister Atlee of Great Britain, and a Committee of the House and Senate escorted Mr. Atlee to the speaker's platform. Mr. Atlee shook hands with Speaker Rayburn and Senator McKellar, and having been introduced by Mr. Rayburn in one sentence, began his thirty-minute speech. Then in line with the usual custom, he shook hands again with the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate and was escorted from the chamber, not having sat down during the entire procedure. He was followed in reverse order by the official guests. The Speaker then tapped his gavel and adjourned the joint session.

Mr. Atlee lacked the showmanship and eloquence of Winston Churchill, but his frankness was well received. He made a plea for a better understanding of his Labor Party Government and for international cooperation.

HELL ALWAYS WIN

Calm, clear-eyed he stood at attention for the Admiral Nimitz ceremonies in Washington. He stepped forward and received his decoration from the President. Straight as hickory, he looked across the shoulder of his Commander in Chief, looked beyond the present, beyond circumstance.

Those calm, clear eyes were fixed on his tomorrow. His tomorrow he would mold to suit himself, just as he had shaped victory in the Pacific. He was young America, new America, and he was sure. He knew that whatever his most wanted he would get in the peacetime days to come. He never would know defeat. Nimble he took his place in ranks and snapped to salute. Both his arms were artificial.

NEWS NOTES FROM Duck Creek Soil Conservation District OFFICE AT POST

The board of supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District met in Spur on Thursday, November 15. Among other business attended to, the Board approved the conservation plan on the Will Barton farm, took action to cancel several inactive applications, and made plans for soil conservation educational work in the area east of Southland.

A good demonstration of the amount of good a rest or deferment will do for a pasture may be seen on the Percy Printz farm on the Lubbock Highway. Mr. Printz has rested one of his small pastures since April or May. Now the blue grama grass has grown and made seed and will make a lot of excellent forage. Mr. Printz intends to use it for winter pasture, turning the stock in about the first of December.

Mr. Printz plans to use this pasture, supplemented by wheat and sudan pasture, next year and to rest his other pasture. His new well is located in such a way that both pastures and part of the field can be watered from it.

Bill Long has rested a one section pasture all of this year. The grass has made good growth and he intends to use the pasture this winter.

Culture Club Meets At Regular Time Monday Night

Misses Lillie McRea and Lillie Kitchen were hostesses to the Woman's Culture club last Monday night. The meeting was held at the American Legion Hall.

After the roll call, a short business session was held with the president, Mrs. Jones, in the chair.

Mrs. Edwards was leader for a program based on Time News. Emphasis was given to Thanksgiving during the meeting. Mrs. Lee Davis spoke about the Comic Strip and Its Value. Mrs. L. E. Moore spoke on the Divorce Problem. Both subjects were very timely and well-given. Open discussion of each talk provided a lively interest.

Members enjoyed the delicious fruit cake and coffee served by the hostesses. Seventeen women were present.

The next meeting will be on December 5 with Mrs. Bouchier and Mrs. D. C. Williams on the program. Mrs. Young and Mrs. Snowden are hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Elven Gregg of Beaver, Oklahoma were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hibbs. Other guests invited for a turkey dinner on Sunday were Rev. and Mrs. I. A. Smith and daughter, Verline, and Mrs. Maggie Childress.

In Appreciation Dinner Given To Honor Fire Boys

In appreciation of the fine service rendered for the benefit of the city, members of the Volunteer Fire Department were entertained with a banquet Monday night by the city dads who were assisted in entertaining by their wives. Special guests, too, were wives and sweethearts of the honored group.

The banquet was held in Jennie's Tea room. A Thanksgiving motif was emphasized in decorations and in the program and a delicious turkey dinner and "fixings" comprised the menu.

Hosts and hostesses for the occasion were Mayor and Mrs. J. A. Stallings, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hyde and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Presson.

Presson, city secretary, served as master of ceremonies. Following the song "America" sung in unison and the invocation by T. R. Greenfield, Mayor Stallings gave the welcome address. Response was given by Dad Greenfield, fire chief. A history of Thanksgiving day was presented by Ralph Carpenter.

Of special interest to the group was the brief resume of the history of the Volunteer Fire Department by Walter Crider. It was learned that the first fire and sanitation laws for the city were set up under the administration of T. R. Greenfield who served as the city's first mayor. Post has always had a volunteer fire group but members had to fight fires in the early days by means of the bucket-brigade until the purchase of the first fire truck in 1918. Barrels of water were kept at spaced intervals throughout the city until modern equipment was purchased. The original list of members of the volunteer group is not available but Dick Woods holds membership of the longest standing.

Of interest, too, were the short talks given by City Commissioners W. W. Hyde and T. R. Greenfield.

A musical feature of the program that met with genuine approval was the group singing by the Melody Maids. Members of this group who entertained were Elwanda Davies, Larue Stevens, Mary Nell Bowen, Fay Ruth Hamilton, Anita Kennedv, Sue Bell Briester, Mary Ann Hundley and Robert Smith.

During the banquet Sharon Brooks, Sherry Custer, Marla Dean Holland, Martha Jean McNally and Ray Charles Garner entertained the group with a number of songs. Mrs. Stallings was accompanist for both groups of singers.

Places were marked at the banquet table for the following firemen, their wives, guests and city officials: Messrs. and Misses W. R. Holland, Dan Cockrum, Hinner McCrary, Dad Greenfield, Bake Robinson, Jr., Ralph Carpenter, R. B. Dodson, Dick Wood, Jess Barnes, Carl Hughes, T. R. Greenfield, J. A. Stallings, W. W. Hyde, W. F. Presson and Misses Odell Safford and Martha Rouch and Messrs. Walter Crider, Marshall Gibson and Smoky Woods.

Members of the fire department who were unable to attend were Mark Owens, Charles Williams, Carl Osborne, Reece Hodges, Ben Briggs and Dan Altman.

Final Tributes Paid To Bill Gowan Sunday Afternoon

Selecting scriptures from First Corinthians, Rev. A. C. Hardin of Tahoka brought comforting words to the family and friends of the late Bill Gowan of El Paso, whose funeral was conducted here Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church.

The former Post pastor chose for his text the fourteenth verse of the fifth chapter—“For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge that one died for all, therefore all died.”

Victory Through Christ was the theme of his sermon. Assisting in the service were Rev. Huron Polnac, who gave obituary remarks and Rev. H. C. Bristow, who served as choir director and also as chaplain of the graveside service of the military funeral under the direction of the James C. Cole American Legion post.

Songs used in the service were: “Sweet Bye and Bye,” “Lily of the Valley,” and “Safe in the Arms of Jesus.” Mrs. Ray N. Smith gave the piano accompaniment as the choir of mixed voices presented the vocal numbers.

The impressive military funeral was under the direction of T. L. Jones, commander of the Legion post. He was assisted by a large group of legionnaires who had been closely associated with Mr. Gowan over a period of many years. Percy Parsons blew taps at the graveside ceremony at Terrace cemetery was concluded.

The beautiful floral offering was arranged by a group of teen age girls, three of whom were nieces of Mrs. Gowan. Mr. Gowan died on November 16 in a Los Angeles hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks. Until 1942 he and his family lived in Post where he was associated with the Santa Fe railroad. He took an active part while living here in all phases of community welfare.

He had an impressive military record from World War I and his many medals and citations attested to the significant part he played in military life. Surviving him are his widow and three children, Loren, Thomas and George William; one brother, Frank Gowan of Phoenix, Arizona; and two sisters, Mrs. Creston Rowlett of Great Bend, Kansas, and Mrs. J. C. Noss of Gila Bend, Arizona.

Other relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. Gowan's sisters, Mrs. Rosa Rudolph of McKinney, Mrs. Lydia Kandle of Whiteface; her brother, Robert Vaskie Pittman of Denton; and fifteen nephews and nieces.

The ladies in the home of Mrs. Durrett with Mrs. Collier and Mrs. Greenfield as assisting hostesses. Twenty-eight were present.

A prayer for Thanksgiving was offered. Mrs. I. A. Smith read the devotional from Psalms. A Thanksgiving Hymn was sung by Mrs. L. A. Pessman. Mrs. Weldon Jobe accompanied her at the piano. The entire group then sang “Praise God from whom all Blessings Flow.”

Lt. Anderson spoke of her service, giving some of the highlights which she thought would be of interest. Her talk was very informing as well as interesting since she told of the type of work she did at well as some of her impressions of foreign lands and people.

She showed many pictures and souvenirs she had collected. Of special interest was her description of an eruption of the volcano Mt. Vesuvius which she saw.

As a result of appreciation for her visit, postcards presented Lt. Anderson a “thank you gift.”

The hostesses served lunch which included cranberry sauce, olives, water, cookies, and coffee.

Next Monday Mrs. I. A. Smith will be hostess in the group at her home.

Local OES Host To Large Crowd For Special Meeting

The Post chapter of the Order of Eastern Star experienced the highlight of this year's work last Tuesday night when its members were hosts to sixty-four guests at a special Friendship Night.

Honoring visitors, a buffet supper was served at 6:30. From two long tables, guests partook of baked chicken and dressing, cranberry sauce, gravy, a variety of salads and vegetables, cakes, and coffee. Plate favors were small pentagon shaped cards, emblematic of the Star, bearing tiny candles in the colors of the order. These clever favors were made by Junior Past Matron Mary Fumigalli.

With Worthy Matron Berniece Shepherd presiding, chapter was opened and business conducted. All chapters present were recognized and the members introduced.

A special guest, Mrs. Fleeta Allen of O'Donnell, Grand Representative from the State of Montana, was recognized and seated in a place of honor. She extended special greetings and gave a short talk relative to her office. Several officers and members made short talks.

A special program entitled "Friendship's Hour" was presented. A song "Knocking at the Door" was rendered by Sisters Berniece Shepherd, Myrtle Honvay, and Consuelo Thuett. The speaking part was most impressively given by Faye Mathis. Officers of the chapter performed the esoteric drill.

It is impossible, because of limited space, to give recognition to the visitors and former members who were present but the guests, representing eight chapters, and forty-eight members of the local chapter, attested to a grand meeting which was enjoyed by all.

Post Masons Hear Grand Master At Lubbock Meeting

A number of Post Masons heard Grand Master Bascom Giles when he spoke to more than three hundred representatives of Masonic lodges of the area Friday night at a meeting in the Lubbock Masonic hall.

Mr. Giles, who is also State land commissioner, discussed aid to the 14,000 Master Masons serving in the armed forces from Texas. In talking about general conditions in Masonry he said the grand jurisdiction now has 145,000 members, largest in all history, the result of an all-time record increase by 15,000 last year. He cited the need for a new million dollar grand headquarters building at Waco, to care for the increased membership and to serve as state headquarters for the grand lodge, officers of the grand secretary and other officers, and house a valuable and rare Masonic library of more than 16,000 volumes.

Giles recommended the building as a memorial to Masonic veterans of the two world wars, and that a hall be included to house the military and Masonic records of the 25,000 Master Masons who fought in both conflicts.

Five district deputies, five representatives of grand jurisdictions, and representatives from 53 lodges, including one from Manila, P. I., were present. Also included were 46 past master lodges.

En route to Colorado City, Mr. Giles stopped in Post Saturday morning for a few hours visit with friends.

THANKSGIVING - - - An American Tradition! An American time to be thankful. And this year, with more than ever to be thankful for, America should celebrate. We at Piggly Wiggly are thankful to be Americans, first of all. Then we are thankful for this great American nation of ours. We are thankful, too, for your wonderful patronage, for your excellent acceptance, for your help in helping us to make Piggly Wiggly an economical, convenient, modern place to buy groceries. For—we are thankful, like the rest of America, for our progress through our years of pioneering self-service, today's modern way of shopping. We are thankful that we can offer you the very finest foods for your Thanksgiving Feast, at the very lowest prices. We are thankful, too, that you do not have to go through the forest searching for food, like our brothers did that first year of Thanksgiving.

Most thankful indeed will be the mothers and fathers of the sons who will be able to join them in the intimacy of the family circle on Thanksgiving Day this year. But there will be many homes in which service flags hang, where vacant chairs will be mute evidence of the fact that sacrifices must continue—sacrifices that are making it possible for us to give thanks now that our cities have not been bombed, that our people have suffered no starvation, that our children are safe. Yes, there is much for which we can give thanks, this year, and especially to those who have given their lives that we may continue free.

Let's All Celebrate!
