Young Post Boys In First of Battles Now Raging

A report is being given on the Post and Garza county boys in the midst of battles in the European theatre. Bill Wood with the 44th Infantry Division of the 7th Army is now in Germany. This Infantry Division fought against the German 17th S. S. Panzer Grenadier Division of Germany. Bill is in the Tactical Reserve and was killed at Brest, France. Letters from Bill are not coming through as readily to his mother, Mrs. W. H. Scarborough, and his wife, Mrs. Leath Woods as they did when the action became so intense. He was in good spirits, however, in all letters he writes home. Eugene O. Hays of the 52nd Infantry Group is in Germany with the 1st Army. He is in the 1st Army, and Mrs. J. M. Hays can be, he writes his parents, and Mrs. J. M. Hays, an inspector and went to the European front in 1944.

Bill Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Edwards is also in the 1st Army. He has been overseas since January 4 and is somewhere in Germany, according to letters. He is attached to the 1st Service Battery of the Field Artillery and has been on the line since he reported in one of letters. The break through into Germany, his letters, too, have been in the air for some time. He wrote, however, that he had received the package from the Rotary Club also those from the family.

Weldon Huff, son of Mrs. Lydia Huff, was wounded in France in 1944. He is now in a hospital in England recovering from leg and hand wounds. He went into action after D-Day. He took his wounds in California and was before going overseas. Weldon Sutor, husband of the late Johnnie Huff, is with the 1st Army. He is a former employee of the Post Cotton Mills. Another First Army soldier is Paul Davis, son of "Pokey" Davis. It is understood that he has also been wounded and is in a hospital in France or England.

Vern Priddy, is another Post boy who is with the First Army in the Jubler, Haws. James is with the 4th Mechanized Cavalry Division and was a member of a scouting group when he first went into Belgium in Germany. He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Haws, that he was doing a new kind of job, but he couldn't give them information concerning it.

Bryan Mathis, first pilot of the 9th Air Force, is attached to the 9th Air Force, one of the air units that is the very heart of the air battles being fought over Germany. Bryan received the Air Medal with oak leaf clusters. Bryan flies a "Tom-Conscious."

David "Buddy" Williams is in the 9th Air Force with the famous 9th Air Force and is now somewhere in Belgium. Buddy is an Intelligence officer with the Air Force. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Williams.

Hester is attached to the 9th Air Force. It is understood that he was shot down over Holland and we were not able to get this information.

News of boys in battle, that they are in the European theatre, the Italian theatre, or the Pacific theatre would be appreciated by the Dispatch.

Our readers are eager for news of these boys and they also are reading about their buddies in the town paper.

A. Gray opens a furniture store and used furniture store. Gray, a resident of this town for 18 years has opened a furniture store in the building formerly occupied by Morse & Company. He will deal in used furniture and will repair and upholster furniture.

SOLDIER OF THE WEEK

Flight Officer James W. "Tom" Cook of the Army Air Corps, who has been missing in action since November 26th, is proudly presented as the Soldier of the Week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Cook and has five brothers in service. They are: Capt. V. J. Cook in England; Lt. A. Clinton Cook of the U. S. Navy, now stationed in New Orleans; Capt. Adrian O. Cook in Africa; and O. R. Cook, Jr., at Camp Roberts, California; and Sgt. Paul E. Cook who is in the Army Air Corps and who has also been listed as missing in action since April 1944. "Tom" will have been in the Army Air Corps three years in July and has been overseas since August of 1944. He received his wings at Deming, New Mexico, but also took training at Victorville, California.

Real Winter Weather Comes To County and South Plains Area

Overcast skies at noon Wednesday indicate that the spell of belated winter weather is here to stay for another few days. A variety of weather hit the county and the Plains area this week ranging from snow to sleet and rain.

Precipitation from the rain which fell long before daylight Monday amounted to .41 of an inch, according to the gauge at the Double U building. Moisture from the snow amounted to .38 of an inch bringing the total of moisture to .79.

Freezing rain and sleet began falling shortly after midnight Monday giving this area its first real winter.

Temperatures dropped to a low of 21 degrees at six o'clock Monday morning and remained at that point for several hours. The icy blast blew in about 6:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon changing the temperature readings from 70 degrees to about 35 degrees in a very short period.

Snow still blankets the county even though it started melting Tuesday afternoon when temperatures started to rise.

Benefit from the moisture is pleasing to all farmers and stockmen.

Weldon Pantar, TC 1c, of the U. S. Navy returned to the East Coast after a twenty day leave. He spent most of his leave with his sister, Mrs. Cecil Osborne, and family with whom he made his home before joining the Navy almost five years ago.

Two brothers, S. C. and A. P. Pantar, of Mineola, Texas, a sister, Mrs. Arull Gray of Hereford met him here and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne. He returned with the brothers and visited another sister, Mrs. Johnnie McAree of Alba, Texas, also another brother, Grady, of Dallas.

Weldon didn't like to talk about the war even though he has seen plenty of action and has been in theatres of war where there was plenty to talk about. He hadn't set foot off his ship in twelve months until he hit the West Coast. He really thought the United States looked good, his sister reported.

Real Estate Deals Continue To Hold Spotlight In Post

Again deeds are being transferred to new owners and real estate in these parts is fast changing hands.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Presson bought the Bryan Williams house near the Grade school building that was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arch Turner.

George Dodson who recently sold his home bought the Hancock house in North Post. His family are living in Lubbock this winter.

W. O. Thaxton bought the brick business building next door to the First National bank. It was not learned where the Buffalo club would move or what sort of business would occupy the building.

Mrs. Della Justice has completed the transaction with Mel Richards concerning her home. Mr. and Mrs. Richards will receive possession this week of the Justice house. Mrs. Justice will move temporarily to the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Williams. She plans sometime in the near future to build on lots she owns between the Methodist church and the Bob Warren residence.

W. A. Gray bought a business building recently from F. I. Bailey. It is located across the street from the Post Feed & Fuel store.

The Bowen tourist courts in South Post have been purchased by Andy King. He and Mrs. King received possession of the property last week.

Arthur Nelson bought a house in North Post belonging to a Mr. Tannerhill, it was learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewel bought the house just east of Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Bailey from the Double U company and are making quite a few repairs before moving into the house.

Other deals are being rumored but confirmation on them has not been checked by a Dispatch reporter to date.

Rotary Club Observes 40th Anniversary

The Post Rotary club of Post, Texas, Tuesday observed the 40th anniversary of the International Rotary organization at the club's regular meeting in the Algeria hotel.

It was 40 years ago that the first Rotary club in the world was organized. The first club was organized in Chicago on February 23, 1905, by Paul P. Harris. Harris was a young lawyer who suggested the idea to a group of his friends and with them organized a club which they called the Rotary club because their first meetings were held in rotation in the offices of the various members.

During the past 40 years, the ideas of Paul Harris and his friends—of friendship, fellowship, and service to others—have been accepted by men of practically all nationalities, of all political and religious beliefs. Rotary has grown in amazing fashion. The general objectives of Rotary clubs in every country are the same—the development of fellowship and understanding among business and professional men in the community, the promotion of community betterment endeavors and of high ethical standards in business and professional practices, and the advancement of international understandings, good will and peace.

The local Rotary was organized in 1925 and now has 34 members. The first president of the club was T. R. Greenfield.

Weldon Crider volunteered into Marine Corps Feb. 12.

Weldon Crider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crider, volunteered his services to Uncle Sam and is now a member of the U. S. Marines. He was sworn in on Feb. 12 and is now at Parris Island, S. C.

Weldon is a graduate of Post High school and before joining the Marines was market manager of Piggly Wiggly store.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller who have been renting the Walter Clark residence for the past several months, moved Saturday to an apartment in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Scarborough.

KEEP YOUR RED CROSS AT HIS SIDE

Give!

Garza's Red Cross chapter, in its annual membership drive beginning here today, March 1, will need your help this year more than at any time since we entered the war. We should recognize the needs and should give without sales talk from workers. Give generously and quickly when contacted by these loyal Americans who help in conducting the drives each year.

The Red Cross, sending clothing and food to our prisoners in all parts of the world, providing the life-saving blood plasma to so many, getting messages to boys in combat and to folks at home, providing motor units to follow the boys in battle and the many other services for the benefit of these servicemen, is asking for only a nominal donation, and if pre-campaign reports are indication of success, Garza county is gladly going to contribute its part.

When all other organizations of mercy fail, the Red Cross can be depended upon to fill the gap between suffering and relief, and those who have returned from the battlefields testify to the Red Cross as the "greatest mother of mercy on earth."

Go make your contribution today!

REUNION ENJOYED BY TWO POST SOLDIERS

Sgt. Dan Altman enjoyed a visit on February 12 from Capt. Wayne Veach who came down and spent the night and most of the next day. Sgt. Altman is stationed now at Pisa, Italy and Capt. Veach is stationed further up the line with the Field Artillery.

These two boys went overseas in the same convoy two years ago this month.

NEW ARRIVALS

Cpl. and Mrs. Robert Dodson are announcing the arrival of a baby boy on February 23rd at the home of Mrs. Annie Dodson. The new baby weighed 6 pounds and was named Robert Wagner. Cpl. Dodson is in France with Patch's Seventh Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sullivan are announcing the arrival of a son on February 22nd. The new arrival weighed 9 3/4 pounds and was named Boyd Pat.

Cpl. and Mrs. Elvius Davis are announcing the arrival of a son weighing 8 pounds, 7 3/4 ounces on February 7 at Vallejo, California. The new baby was named Kyle Lee. Mrs. Davis is the former Alma Ingram and has been making her home with her parents in California for the past few months.

Pvt. James Altman Is Home On Leave After Overseas Service

Pvt. James Altman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Altman of the Pleasant Valley community, is enjoying a much needed visit with home folks and friends.

Pvt. Altman, who has been serving with the 36th Division in France, was wounded in the foot after five months overseas service. He spent some time in a hospital in France and received the award of the Purple Heart while there.

This young soldier in talking about wounded soldiers paid a tribute to the Red Cross, saying the Field Workers were really on the job removing wounded.

Some time after March 15 Pvt. Altman will report to the Army Hospital at Longview for operative treatment. A bone will be replaced in the arch of his foot and skin grafted.

Frame Garden Is To Be Demonstrated On Court House Lawn

By Mrs. Wilma Keeney

Everyone interested in frame gardens is invited to come to the Court House Friday, March 9 to see a demonstration beginning at 1 p. m. The plans have been made to make a frame garden at the Court House. The will be made to use in subdividing the garden.

In this part of the state where wind, sand, a shortage of moisture and winter cold are limiting factors to successful home gardening, a frame garden can provide a continuous supply of fresh vegetables of the quick growing, hardy type.

Farmers Meeting Re-Set For March 6; Information Needed

At a meeting February 24, Mr. Tilson, District Director for the Farm Bureau Federation asked for the anticipated number of mechanical cotton pickers needed by Garza county in 1945, and also how much defoliating chemicals would be needed. Since there were only two communities represented he did not feel justified in sending in the information he was able to get from this group. He felt that it was not a fair representation of the needs of the county.

The WPB has asked the Farm Bureau Federation to gather this information before they will allocate any materials for the building of mechanical pickers. This information has been given by several agricultural agencies but the WPB would not accept it because it did not come directly through a farm organization; therefore, they ask the Farm Bureau for the information.

All interested farmers are urged to attend another meeting called for Tuesday night, March 6 at the County Home Demonstration and Agricultural Agents Office. The meeting will be opened at 8:30, and Mr. Tilson will be there to get this much needed information directly from the farmers.

Magician To Stage Show At High School Tonight; 8:30 P. M.

Prince Zogi, proclaimed by many as one of the greatest magicians, will appear at the High School Auditorium tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The famous magician has been entertaining soldiers in army camps, and in hospitals and has been appearing on Red Cross shows to very appreciative audiences the last few months. He has also appeared as an entertainer in every state in the union and in several foreign countries.

Admission prices will be 30 and 60 cents.

Zogi and the members of his company are pleasing people as well as gifted ones. Just enough comedy enters into the business and patter of the magician to relieve the monotony. While the productions are fantastic and stupendous, they are at the same time pleasing and intellectual. He began his career 22 years ago as helper to the King of Magic, Houdini.

Twenty-One Garza Men Report To Fort Bliss On Feb. 27th

Twenty-one Garza men were ordered for physicals on February 27. Four of this number were transferred to this board for examination.

Those reporting to the induction station Tuesday were:

Transferred here for examination: Clyde Harold Palmer, Paul Cardenas, Louis Coving Snow, John Blair Guthrie.

James Paffy and wife returned to Fort Worth after spending ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Paffy, Billy, and Mrs. June Collier.

Red Cross War Fund Chairmen Enlist Support of County

Urging each Garza county citizen to consider the Red Cross as his personal emissary to a particular serviceman, Dean A. Robinson, county roll call chairman, and T. L. Jones, county Red Cross chairman, are asking all Garza folks to give to their fullest ability in support of the 1945 drive that opens in the county today.

The quota for Garza county has been set at $5,300.00. The National goal is $200,000,000.00.

"Those of us who must stay at home and fight by doing our daily tasks as efficiently as possible," Jones said, "like to feel that though we are not beside John or Jim or Bob on the battlefield, we do have a personal ambassador in each of the ten thousand Red Cross workers now serving with the troops overseas."

The third Red Cross War Fund will not only fill intensified needs on advancing war fronts, but will provide needed services to those who have returned from action, their families, their buddies awaiting transportation overseas, and their friends and neighbors at home in time of natural or war-caused emergency.

More than fifty volunteer workers of Garza county stand ready to aid in local collection. They are a part of the 3 million workers who give their time and efforts each year without thought of remuneration to help in this great cause. Each will devote his time and effort toward reaching the goal so that men and women in military service will know the Red Cross is staying with them right up to and beyond the day of peace and victory.

Post Boys Win Top Honors In Tourney Held At Wellman

The boys basketball team from Post and the girls team from Union, Terry county, carried away top honors in the Wellman Invitational Tournament last week. Such top teams as Wellman, Meadow, Post, Union, Dawson, Loop and New Home were entered in the tourney.

Opening the tournament play Wednesday night the Dawson boys team rolled over the Meadow club with a decisive victory. The Union girls then downed the Meadow girls. In the following game the Post boys downed Wellman 41-32. Shepherd paced the winners.

Saturday afternoon the Post boys moved into the finals with a 49-27 victory over Dawson. Mills paced the winners with 13 points. In the following game the Post girls also moved into the finals with a very close 32-30 victory over Wellman. Cowdrey led the attack for Post.

In the consolation finals Meadow downed Loop for third place honors in the boys' division. Dawson's girls then defeated Loop in the consolation finals for girls.

In the tournament final Union nipped the Post girls 30-24. The Post boys then clinched the boys championship with a rousing 48-38 victory over New Home. Shepherd paced Post with 28 points.

Following play, awards were presented and all-tournament teams were selected. Marian Edwards and Billie Cowdrey of Post made the girls all-tournament team and Billy Shepherd and Don Shirley were selected on the boys team.

Miss Melba Meeks and Miss Annetta Fay McGee of Santa Fe, N. M., visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Ben McGee last week end. On their way home they attended the funeral of their roommate, Miss Louella McCain, in Plainview.

READERSHIP GETS ADS

"If you are not getting into the home with what you have to say, you will never get in with what you have to sell."

This quotation, credited to Benjamin Franklin, in an advertisement on a recent front cover of "Editor and Publisher", may well be pondered by all publishers of newspapers. It is another way of saying that reader-confidence in the text of a newspaper begets and assures reader-confidence in the advertising it carries.

Therefore, the publishing of a paper that contains "good readin'" is one of the surest ways of attracting and keeping good advertisers.

TOTAL FOOD RATIONING
IN JAPAN

All food and clothing in Japan is rationed, as well as matches, medicines, gasoline and fuel, the Office of War Information states in a comprehensive report on conditions within Japan. Food is distributed to Japanese consumers through neighborhood associations, which issue the rations.
Each association serves 10 families. A local chairman is appointed by the police. Local food corporations deliver food rations to the consumers at their doors.

NO IMMUNITY

For some reason there is an inclination to view private concerns which happen to be known as "public utilities," in a different light than other private industries. The electric industry is a public utility, but it is also a private industry. In its current struggle to defeat encroaching government ownership of electric power production, it is fighting a battle in which the welfare of every private enterprise is closely involved.
If tax-exempt government competition can be used to destroy a private electric company, it can be used to destroy the business of a shirt manufacturer. The fact that the former may be classed as a public utility, while the latter is not, makes little difference in the basic issue. It is easy enough to declare an industry a public utility—Argentina recently declared gambling a public utility.

When government launches a campaign against private industry, no company, no individual, is immune. If this had been better understood during the past few years, the government power planners in the "utility" field would have made little headway.

FIVE LITTLE WORDS

Getting off to a pleasant start each day pays big dividends and certainly creates an atmosphere of courtesy. One wise man said, "If you can stay in a good humor 'til ten o'clock in the morning, the day will end well for you."

Added to the simple formula of one business firm that we know that insists on clerks using the five little words below have something that all of us can copy. These words engender a spirit of cheerfulness and good will. Using the five little words below will certainly pay big dividends, indeed, if used with sincerity:

"Pardon Me," "Thank You" and
"Please."

Use them wherever you go;
there are few words more useful than these. They are filled with a power that money and fame cannot give—So commit them to memory and use as long as you live.

The mileage allowance for members of Congress was 30c per mile in 1791. It was increased to 35c in 1795 and 40c in 1818. This was cut in half in 1866 and reduced to 15c per mile in 1952.

A FITTING ANSWER

Some idea of what it takes to discover a new oil field and bring it into production is told in news accounts of eight American Oil companies in Columbia, South America.

One company spent $457,000
just in aerial mapping, gravity meter, seismograph and other geophysical and surface geology before putting in a test well. Another company estimates its cost of testing at $800,000. After the oil had been discovered and brought to the surface it must be transported to market. In the case of the Columbia explorations, most of the search for oil is being conducted in remote sections, requiring the construction of costly roads through hundreds of miles of trackless jungle, to move in drilling machinery, and the construction of hundreds of miles of pipeline to get the oil out. In one area a 625-mile pipeline may be needed which would cross the foothills of the Andes at an elevation of 8,500 feet. Its cost would probably be in the neighborhood of $75,000,000.

And yet when the oil reaches the consumer, it retails for a few cents a gallon! If anyone questions the value to the nation of efficiently operated, competitive private industry, these figures provide a fitting answer.

PREVENT FIRES!

The fire insurance industry is doing everything within its power to prevent fire, through various organizations designed for that purpose. Chief of these is the National Board of Fire Underwriters; its engineering staff, operating in every state, has brought about standardization of fire-fighting equipment, better fire resistive construction of buildings, and other advancements. It cooperates with public authorities in curbing mischievous incendiaries, and arsonists who set fires for profit.
Model legislation for local supervision of fire hazards and for other means of control also are constantly studied and recommended by the Board's experts.
It also initiated fire prevention week.

All of these things the fire insurance industry is doing on behalf of fire prevention. The least that property owners can do in return is to observe caution individually.

Never before was it so essential to prevent fire and never before was it so necessary to check values periodically and insure accordingly. Regardless of adequacy of insurance protection, there is a good chance that much property destroyed by fire at the present time cannot be replaced at any price.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN
THAT LETTER?

Have you written to that service man or woman lately?

They have said many times that the one thing that gives their morale a boost in camps and foxholes thousands of miles away are letters from home.

When letters rate No. 1 as the greatest morale builder, and when they take so little time to produce, fighting men ought not to have to ask those at home to write.

Why not sit down NOW, and write to that service man or woman, or both.

Visits to Old Friends and Places
Keep War Correspondent on Go

By Ernie Pyle

Ernie Pyle is with the navy in the Pacific. Pending receipt of his dispatches from that war theater this newspaper is publishing a few articles he wrote before his taking off from San Francisco, of which the following is one.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Some of you oldtime readers who've hung on faithfully to this column for years, might like to know how some of my personal affairs are getting along, since I've always worn all the family intimacies on my sleeve.

Take "That Girl," whom you used to read so much about before the war, and who, for all those long
years of peace-
time traveling,
rode beside me.

Ernie Pyle

I haven't written much about her in recent years, because I haven't seen much of her. The war has done the same thing to us
that it has to millions of others. In the last four years, we have been together only on these little excursion trips to America.

She has kept the hearth in Albuquerque—kept it under difficulties.
She has been burdened by recurring illnesses, and has had to revolve between home and hospital. But she has succeeded in keeping the little white house just as it always was, which she knew is what I would want.

She is back there now, trying to cope with the prospect of another year alone. She is still, by remote control, my guiding star. She thinks everything I do is wonderful. She even thinks I'm beautiful, which is the only flaw in her judgment.

She lives only for the day when the war is over and we can have a life together again. And that's what I live for too, for life to a man isn't much good without "his woman," and after 20 years that's what "That Girl" still is to me. I hope we both last through until the sun shines in the world again.

VISITED INDIANA

And my folks in Indiana—I visited them twice on this furlough in America, both visits all too short, but better than none.

My father and my Aunt Mary are still on the farm, three miles outside the little town of Dana. They have repaired the house and rearranged the furniture, and they are very comfortable.

My father still limps from his hip fracture of a year ago. And his eyes are very bad now, and he can't see to read. But he gets around all right, and even drives the car to town now and then. We think he shouldn't be driving, but every time Aunt Mary mentions that, he goes out and gets in the car and drives to town, so she's stopped mentioning it.

My Dad listens a lot to the radio, and helps with the dishes, and Aunt Mary reads to him at night, and last summer he even helped some with the harvesting when the neighbors were hard up for help. He raises a few chickens. Outside of that, life is without duties or energy for him.

Aunt Mary is almost 79, and her spirit is boundless. She goes all day long, like a 16-year-old. She cooks the meals, cleans the house, works in the garden, does the washing for two or three families, goes to her club meetings and to church, does things for the neighbors, and never finds time to sit down.

I was amused at a letter that came from her the other day. One of our neighbors, Mrs. Howard Gornath, came down with a violent rheumatism. So Aunt Mary drove over and put hot cloths on her for several hours, got noontime dinner for the farm hands, did the weekly washing and then got supper ready for them before she came home for her own evening chores.

Next day a blizzard was on. The ice was so slick she didn't dare take the car out of the garage. The snow on the roads was two feet deep and it was bitter cold.

So what did Aunt Mary do? She just bundled up and walked three-quarters of a mile over to Goforths, worked all day, and then walked back in the evening through the snow. Her sure doesn't take after her nephew.

VACATION WITHOUT REST

These four months of furlough in America, away from the war, have gone like the wind. They have been full to overflowing. So full, in fact, that hardly anything has happened that I had hoped would happen.

There has been no rest. There has been no time for composing.

No day has been long enough to finish the things required in that day.

I've had the one magnificent privilege of being away from the war, but aside from that I've had mere duties and worked harder here at home on "vacation" than most of the time at the front.

Normal life for me has disappeared. The bulk of my time is now given to other people. It's almost impossible to count on a single hour alone. To get half a day uninterrupted with my own family I have to plan it days ahead and then bat the gates.

If the intrusions were by mere publicity-seekers, then I could get tough. But the pressure upon me is not from the publicity-seekers or the curious.

Ninety per cent of the people who phone, write, visit or stop me in public places have legitimate reasons for doing so. They are people who have done kind little things for me.
They are people who just want to tell me, in complete sincerity, that they think I've done a good job—and a fellow never gets tired of hearing that.

They are people whose sons I've known overseas; they are people who write to tell me their sons are dead; they are people who want help in something they're doing for the war; people who have a part in this pattern of war that has grown up around me.

Yes, 90 per cent of the destruction of my private life is from pure goodness and sincerity in people, and from unavoidable duties that have become as much a part of my job as the job itself.

I have never aspired to be famous.
If I had, then I could say to myself,
"All right, brother, you made your own bed, now lie in it."

But this thing just happened. It came without planning or aspiration. I guess it comes in the category of an Act of God, like a blizzard or slipping on a banana peel.

You have to adjust yourself to this new condition, or else you're lost.
You can't fight it, you can't ignore it, you can't run away from it.
You've got to accept it. I do accept it as graciously as I can, but I feel sad about it.

I feel sad because it has given me the big things of life, and taken away the precious little things.

It has given me money, yet I dread to hear the telephone ring.

It has brought me a measure of renown, yet made me afraid to go into a restaurant because people whisper and stare, and I feel self-conscious.

It has put my book at the top of the best-seller list, but robbed me of the time to read other people's books.

It has put me on easy terms with the great, but forbidden me the privilege of sitting alone with my old true friends.

It has made my homely face familiar throughout America, but taken away that saving gift of serenity of mind and soul. My life now, day and night, is a frenzy. There is no mental leisure in it; never the freedom to sit down and let your mind go blank.

I like people. I always have and I still do. And so it hurts me to have to shut off phone calls in a hotel. It hurts to turn letters over to a secretary. It hurts to have to hide and cower like a criminal to get just an hour or two to myself.

But that's the way it is. I don't resent it, and I don't blame anybody. I'm grateful for the respect of such a great portion of America.
I'm trying to take the bad things with the good, and get along the best I can.

Sometimes I feel like sitting down and crying because my old life is gone. But most of the time I see what is behind it, and realize that a man is blessed who is publicly obsessed by the goodness of people, instead of the bad.

Out in California we've teamed along with my boss and best friend from Washington, Len Miller, of the Scrapps-Howard newspapers.

Finds Little Time to Read Best Books

Instead of reading 90 books while I was home, and getting caught up in those lost years of literature, I've actually read only five books in these past four months.

They were—(1) "A Walk in the Sun," a wonderful little story about the emotions of men in half-a-day's fighting in Italy; (2) "Lost Island," James Norman Hall's story of what war, which means nothing to them, can do to the people of a little gem island in the Pacific; (3) "Can Do," the story of the Beaches, about whom I hope to write a lot before this trip is over; (4) "Canary Row," and (5) "Daybreak for Out-Coming." I thought all of them were excellent.

I tried to reread "All Quiet on the Western Front" when I first came home.

Negro woman: "Sorry, ma'am, but I've got a new job now and I ain't do no mo' washin' and ironin' for you all."
Mistress: "What sort of job is it, war work?"
"No, ma'am, ain't 'actly war work. In my new job I ain't allowed to work. I've on relief."

Then there was the creature claimed exemption on account poor eyesight and brought his sling as evidence.
If it is in good condition,
corn will expand to as much 20 times its original size popped.

SERVING YOU

We are often surprised at the understanding of our problems, which so many of our customers show. Of course we have tried in our personal contacts with you to make you understand that many materials and services we gave you in the past have ---

"GONE TO WAR"

We have also explained to you that the fabrics you send to us are wartime products which can't always come back to you as well as we would like them to.

We firmly believe that it is through these honest explanations on our part, that we have held our customers in spite of wartime conditions.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LINDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for March 4

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education used by permission.

JESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:21-35. GOLDEN TEXT—If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.—Matthew 6:14, 15.

Forgiveness is the very essence of Christianity. In Christianity only do we find an adequate and proper dealing with sin, leading to forgiveness. In Christ alone do we find that forgiveness, cleansing and regeneration.

Since God has so willingly and wonderfully provided for our forgiveness, it would seem that we would need no urging to make us forgiving in spirit toward one another.

Yet it is indeed "a melancholy fact that there are few Christian duties so little practiced as that of forgiveness. It is sad to see how much bitterness, unmercifulness, spite, harshness and unkindness there is among men" (J. C. Eyle).

I. The Extent of Forgiveness (vv. 21, 22).

"How long do I have to stand it?" is the question of the human heart, especially if untouched by the spirit of Christ. The injustices of life, the offenses of our fellow men against us, all seem to pile up until the burden is about to crush us. What is the answer to man's question?

The Jews had an answer. He said three times is enough. Forgive once, yes. Again, yes. But the third time, no. Peter was bighearted enough to more than double that allowance of mercy. He was willing to forgive not just two or three times, but seven times.

The spirit of Christ swept all of that aside. He said that one should forgive 70 times seven. In other words, Christian forgiveness is to be unending, unlimited, to know no weariness and have no boundaries. If one really forgives, it is because he has a forgiving spirit, and that spirit is not exhausted by use, but rather grows by exercise.

A word of caution is in order at this point. Let no one suppose that our Lord's instruction means that offenses against the law of the land or against the good order of society are to be overlooked and condoned.

It relates rather to the cultivation of a personal spirit of forgiveness, the laying aside of revenge, of malice, of retaliation which do not become the Christian.

II. The Motive of Forgiveness (vv. 23-34).

Two motives are given. The first is that since we ourselves are daily and hourly in need of forgiveness at the merciful hand of God, we should in turn be merciful toward those who sin against us. Compared with our offenses against the law of God, we know that the misdeeds of our neighbors against us are usually mere trifles. Remember what God has done for you, when you are tempted to be hard and ungracious with your brother.

The second motive is the remembrance that a day of judgment is to come. There is always a time of reckoning ahead, even as was the case with these servants. Remember not only what God has done for you and is doing for you, but what you must yet expect Him to do in that day of judgment. It will make you merciful and gracious in your judgment of others.

Forgiveness has a fine quality which commends itself to others. Note the sorrow of the fellow servants (v. 21). There is, then, a social value in true forgiveness.

III. The Importance of Forgiveness (v. 35).

A man dealing with his fellow man is apt to think that it is merely a matter between man and man. We are not dealing with a straight line between ourselves and our brother (that was Peter's error), but with a triangle at whose apex is God Himself.

If I expect God to forgive me, I must let my forgiveness flow out to my brother. If I deal with him as though God had nothing to do with the matter, then I must not try to count God's forgiveness into the picture when I stand indebted before Him.

God does not play favorites. He is no respecter of persons. He is as interested in the other man as He is in me. The Christian should have the same spirit.

Here we need a word of explanation. Let no one suppose that our redemption to Christ is contingent upon what we do toward our brethren. "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9).

Nor does the truth of our lesson mean that we are somehow going to bargain with God, trading a bit of our forgiveness toward others for His forgiveness of us. God is not interested in such transactions. But it does mean that if you cannot or will not forgive, you may well consider whether you are a Christian at all, for it is Christian to forgive.

A miniature ice cream factory, capable of operating in a 120-degree temperature, has been developed by the Army to supply ice cream to troops in the tropics. The machine weighs only 1,200 pounds and can be transported by truck or plane, the War Department said today. It is equipped with a 2 1-2 gallon freezer that produces ice cream in 7 to 14 minutes and with storage cabinets of 40 gallons capacity.

Many Needed Items To Be Much Shorter

Paper sacks, copper wire, safety matches and tin cans will be hit by the War Production board move to save materials for military needs.

Pulp used in production of paper bags and wrapping paper, already cut 40 per cent, has been reduced 10 per cent more because of the increasing pulp shortage.

Demands on the battlefield for copper wire and in ordnance production for copper and brass materials has brought suspension of the WPB relief order which several months ago allowed retail and repair men to get allotments of the wire for civilian use. The emergency suspension, effective now, is set through June 30.

Boosted Army needs for lumber from supplies already short has led to allocations on district quotas for matches. All safety matches will go to the armed forces.

Iron and steel, supplies of which last fall were sufficient enough to send allocations to manufacturers moving into civilian production under the reconversion program, are now back on the urgency list for the nation.

Testing Cows For Bangs Disease Is Under Gov. Plan

By R. K. McCoy, County Agent

The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas Cooperating with the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry for the control and eradication of Bang's Disease by annual test and calfhood vaccination as an aid, have a completely new and revamped plan for the control of this disease in Texas. The substance of the agreement between the cow owner and the government is as follows:

A. Covenants of the Owner:

The owner agrees:
1. To permit his entire herd of cattle to be tested annually by the cooperating authorities or their authorized agents, and to furnish all help and equipment necessary to restrain each animal while the blood sample is being drawn.

2. To permit cooperating authorities to vaccinate all calves between the ages of 4 and 8 months, and to remove from the herd all non-vaccinated calves when they reach the age of 8 months.

3. To permit the cooperating authorities to brand with the letter "B" upon the left jaw, non-vaccinated cattle reacting to the test, and all vaccinated cattle reacting to the test after they pass the age of 2 1-2 years.

4. Not to remove any reacting cattle from his premises without a written permit from the cooperating authorities, or their agents.

5. To keep an accurate birth record of all calves born in or added to the herd.

6. To confine additions to the herd to:

(a) Officially vaccinate cattle under 2 years of age showing negative reaction or satisfactory reclining tier test.

(b) Officially vaccinated cattle over 2 years of age showing negative reaction to the test.

(c) Cattle in herd under supervision showing negative reaction to last test.

(d) Cattle showing negative to test within 30 days of entry.

(e) Cattle added by written permit of cooperating authorities.

7. That herd of cattle on said farm consists of:

(a) Breed.

(b) No females 8 months of age or over.

(c) No males 8 months of age or over.

(d) No calves between 4 and 8 months of age.

8. Qualifications for accredited herd certificate, (supplied upon request).

9. Failure to comply with any of above requirements shall be sufficient cause for cancellation of the agreement.

Covenants of Cooperating Authorities:

That the owners cattle shall be tested and his calves vaccinated by an agent of the cooperating authorities without expense to the owner.

Mrs. Stallings and Mrs. Blanche Dalby are beginning a "Personality Class" at grade school this week. The purpose of the class is to teach singing, dancing and expression.

Students, parents and teachers all seem very well pleased with the fact that these two capable ladies are doing something to keep alive and increase our grade school talent.

About this time last year, Miss Haggard and several of her pupils were working very hard getting shrubs and plants of different kinds set out around the school building so as to improve the appearance of our campus. They did a fine job; only three of the shrubs died, and the others are beginning to bud out and put on tiny leaves.

In assembly Friday afternoon, Mrs. Duncan's fourth grade students gave a very good dramatization of "The Perfect Pearl"—a fairy tale from Topelius.

Here are the parts played by different pupils: King, Charles Osborne; Queen, Billie Marie Williamson; Nurse, Lola Wyche; Red Fairy, Jay Odum; Yellow Fairy, Virgie Ammons; Pages, Bernard Welch, Edd Ray Baker and Huron A. Polnar, jr; Maid Servants, Lula Bess Teal, Wandell Smith; Princess Leona, Allene Murray; Goat Woman, Roberta Cantrell; Prince Gregory, David Pennington.

The second graders are sorry to lose one of their classmates, Glenn Moody, who is moving to Crosbyton.

Soil Conservation District News

Conservation plans have been completed for the following farms: James Stone, Francis Stultz, A. Stone, Wilburn Morris and J. E. Robinson. These cooperators are members of the newly formed conservation Group 71.

At the request of the owners, the terrace system was laid out disregarding ownership boundaries on James Stone, Wilburn Morris, and A. Stone farms. One of the key terraces crosses all three of these farms.

George Perkins, who is farming T. A. Bingham's farm, is building about two miles of terraces using a mold board plow. He has the rest of his farm laid off on the contour.

W. B. Ford of Kalgary has maintained his terraces by plowing to them with a one-way plow.

A Badge Of Honor

Unrecognized by most of us, there is a gold lapel button being worn by those men who have achieved the honor it signifies. It is a badge of courage... possessed only by those veterans who have received, their honorable discharge from some branch of the service. Over 1,000,000 officers and enlisted men have been released from the army alone, and many more are returning to civilian status as each month passes. Readjustment to civil life out of uniform is difficult at its best... and recognition for the sacrifices made by these men is the least we can do in our effort to help.

Remember... any man who wears the gold badge of honor has offered his life for his country.

The Sophomore assembly program on Friday, February 23, was one of the most interesting of the year. Rev. Poinco of the First Baptist church was invited to bring two distinguished guests, Mrs. Fite and Mr. Light of Dallas. Mr. Light, a layman of the church in Dallas, gave the pupils a very interesting address on the parable of the good samaritan bringing out the three viewpoints of life; that of the robbers, that of the priest and Levite, and that of samaritan answering the question "Who is my neighbor?"

He spoke for about thirty minutes and held the attention of the entire student body by his interesting manner of address and his words of wisdom. May we have more such visitors.

If by mistake soup is salted too liberally, just grate a raw potato and add it to the soup. This will neutralize the salt flavor.

There are really going places in the library now. We have 83 new books. They have been catalogued and most of them shelacked. With all these new books we feel like we're sitting on top of the world and we are trying to keep the library a little neater than usual.

Senior Personality . . .
 This week's "Senior Personality" is Ben L. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tol Thomas. Ben L. was one of the star football players and also a member of the basketball squad. He has recently been given the honor of being president of the Youth Canteen and is very well liked by all. Ben L. has no plans other than joining the Navy when school is out.

JUSTICEBURG SCHOOL PUTS ON FINE PROGRAM ON FRIDAY NIGHT, FEB. 23

The Justiceburg school put on a fine program on Friday night, February 23, at 8:00 o'clock. Almost all pupils in the school were on the program and made a splendid showing. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the affair. Those pupils putting on the program of songs and speeches were: Eva Lou King, Dickie Beggs, Nancy and Frances Bonilla, Olga Adella, Gloria and Roy Tijerina, Lee Wayne Sullinger, Donald Jones, Norman Cash, Sam Bevers, C. W. Dorman, Haskell Odom, Betty Lou Hagood, Janyce Lobban, Nancy Dorman, Jerry Kay Ray, Bobbie Tidwell, Jack Ainsworth, Evelyn Bevers.

Mrs. V. A. Lobban is the teacher of the school and even though it is a small school, the spirit and cooperation of the pupils and patrons is indeed something to be proud of.

Cpl. Elvus R. Davis returned to Bryan, Texas after spending a 21 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis and also with his wife and son in Vallejo, California.

Visitors Praise Accomplishments Of Youth Canteen

Those who attended the open house held by members of the Youth Canteen last Thursday night have been loud in their praise of the movement since. Even the more reserve and skeptical citizen was wnt to say, "Yes, its working out."

Yes, the canteen is working out to the advantage of the youths of Post who need such a meeting place. The evidence was there in the gay companionship of the teen-agers towards one another and toward the adults who were invited as guests. That reserve that some children wrap around themselves when adults appear on the scene was not present Thursday night. The children went right on with their games, their program and their dancing with the freedom and gaiety that grown-ups like to see in any gathering. It gave every adult there a warm feeling inside to realize that the Canteen is really answering a need for the youths of the town.

Everything was spick and span for the open house. New curtains had been hung, floors waxed, furniture painted and polished, etc.

Guests were greeted by Uncle Sam (Bobby Hodge) and Miss America (Mary Frances Dodson). Official hosts and hostesses were designated by red carnation corsages and boutonnières and all were willing and eager to answer questions and escort the visitors over the canteen. They were proud of the Canteen.

The library, in a room off the main hall, creates restfulness by its color scheme and furnishings even though many, many more books and magazines are needed to fill the demand of the members. Alarah Pierce, librarian, urges all persons who have books or magazines they wish to contribute to the Canteen library to call the Garza theatre. Someone will call for your contributions.

Most of the program presented at the Open House was unrehearsed as adult supervisors wanted patrons to get a clear picture of the type of entertainment that presented there when members are in session. Climaxing the program, however, was the comic skit presented by Mrs. Skeet Slaughter. Her interpretation of Sadie Hopkins brought a tremendous amount of applause. Mrs. M. Robinson, one of the adult counselors, gave a brief talk.

The cake auction by Skeeter Slaughter brought $14.00. This amount and the silver contributions left as guests departed will be used to buy needed games and tables and other appointments for the club rooms.

Quotable Quotes—
 "Organizing the canteen is the finest thing that has ever been done for the young people of Post," said Mrs. Ed Robertson.

"To have a place of their own to enjoy during their leisure hours—to read, to play games, to dance or just talk—is simply fine for the young folks. It would be grand if the canteen could be open every day in the week." —J. A. Stallings.

"Isn't it nice? All children need something like the Canteen—a place they can call their own."—Clyde Hundley.

"The magnificent job the members of the Canteen have done in creating a clean, comfortable club room out of a big, open hall is something very fine. Their enthusiasm and unlimited cooperation in taking the advice of their adult advisors in making over the hall into a fine meeting place speaks well for the youths who are making it a success. The townspeople should give them more encouragement and help in building it into a more permanent organization."—J. E. Parker.

"It is a joy indeed to see how much pride the youths themselves are taking in the Canteen. It behooves us to help them more in their efforts."—Dr. B. E. Young.

"The adult advisors have done a marvelous job under all kinds of handicaps. They are due a vote of thanks for going ahead with their job even under the difficulties of lack of funds, criticism, etc. The members of the canteen with their enthusiasm and splendid cooperation have made the time and effort and work worthwhile."—Walter Crider.
