COUNTY'S CROPS FACE DAMAGE BY CONTINUED RAIN

Cotton And Grain Grades May Be Lowered, Rainfall Measures From 4 to 6 Inches

Unfavorable weather conditions of the past two weeks have caused little, if any damage to Garza county's crops, but if the spell does not give way to sunshine before many more days, considerable damage may result. Heavily laden skies this morning gave little promise of relief, following a full day of sunshine Wednesday.

The rains, which have averaged from 4 to 6 inches over the county since the wet-spell began September 26, may have lowered the grade on the small amount of cotton which had opened, and will delay maturity date of the remainder of the crop. Precipitation in Post has totaled 3.91 inches.

Little concern is being felt over damage to the small grain crops. There has been no head damage reported, especially among the hard "berry" grains, like Martin maize and heari, which will stand straight and are capable of shedding moisture better than some of the other crops. Most farmers feel that the Martin maize, which comprises the greater portion of Garza's crop, can stand several more weeks of rainfall before any "appreciable" damage is noted.

Grains which had ripened before the rains started will not be able to withstand much more moisture before staining, which would cause its value as seed to deteriorate in the grain markets. More rainfall may cause the feed to fall over and sprout in the head. However, it has been pointed out that the bulk of the crop will withstand unfavorable conditions for some time inasmuch as only a small percent has matured. The immature grain, while it could be damaged by too much moisture, is not likely to sprout.

The heavy rains the first of the week raised ranchers' water supplies in earthen tanks in this area, and most ranch owners report sufficient water to run them through the spring and summer. The moisture is also expected to be beneficial to range land, and will cause the grass to toughen for winter grazing.

Low-Cost Houses To Be Built By Local Loan Association

A home building loan association to sponsor building a number of low-cost houses in south Post for Postex Mill employees was formed Tuesday night when the Garza Board of Development met at the city hall.

The association, with capital stock of $15,000, is being formed by Post business and professional men who see the need for improving housing facilities for mill employees. Stock is being sold this week by two committees named by T. R. Greenfield, chairman of the board. Seventeen businessmen attended Tuesday night's meeting and subscribed $6,000 in stock. The committee expect to have the full amount subscribed before the week ends, and will then call stockholders together to elect officers and apply for a charter.

The Board decided to pass up the National Housing agency's approval of a 25-house project, under the H-2 program, because the cost of construction ran too much under the FHA building plan.

Construction of the units, 28 by 30 feet in size, including four rooms and bath will approximate $3,000 each, by being financed with local money and contractors.

Real estate for the project has been purchased and construction of the first of several houses to be built immediately, is expected to begin by the 15th of this month.

Funeral Rites For George D. Doughty Held Today

George D. Doughty, prominent hardware merchant of Post for more than thirty years, died at his home Wednesday, October 10. He suffered a stroke and died at 9:30 a. m. His death came as a surprise to his friends even though they knew that he was in failing health.

Mr. Doughty and his family came to Post from England. He established the first hardware store in the town and has operated through the years a very progressive and successful business. He retired about a year ago due to his failing health. His wife, Mrs. Annie Doughty, has been operating the business since that time.

Mr. Doughty was born in Ipswich, England, on April 8, 1876. Burial will be this afternoon, Thursday, October 11, in Terrace Cemetery.

Funeral services are to be held at the First Baptist church at 1:30 p. m. Rev. Huron Polnac, pastor, will officiate and read appropriate scriptures.

Full bearers are to be Phil Bouchier, Ira Lee Duckworth, O. L. Wesley, Ross Edwards of Lubbock, Embury Williams and Tom Bouchier.

Mr. Doughty was a member of the Masonic lodge. He had won a wide reputation for his contributions to natural history. His knowledge of this section of the west was unlimited. Many prominent representatives from America's leading museums sought information from Doughty. He contributed much to the field of research and gave many valuable specimens to various museums of American museums. His collection of rare pre-historic bones has created wide interest among paleontologists.

Surviving Mr. Doughty is his wife, Mrs. Annie Doughty. A daughter, Dorothy, preceded him in death several years ago.

Members of Mrs. Doughty's Sunday school class will serve as flower attendants.

NEW PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO OPENS IN POST FRIDAY

Tomorrow, Friday, has been set as opening date by D. B. Billings for his photographic studio, to be styled Billings Art Studio. The new business is situated in the building formerly occupied by Inogene Jewell's dining room in the Rodger's hotel building.

Mr. Billings is new in Post having recently been discharged from the Army Air Force after serving in the European theater as a glider pilot. He is married to a Post girl, the former Miss Dixie Nell Stevens.

He has his studio equipped to do both portraiture and Kodak finishing.

GARZA FIELD IS WIDENED BY TWO MORE PRODUCERS

Extensions to the proven limits of the Garza field were completed last week and are being put on pumps, according to information released the first of the week. The two wells extend the field to the northeast and southeast.

Herman and George R. Brown, and Comanche corporation No. 4 Post estate, formerly carried as No. 2-A Post estate, located 330 feet from south and east lines of lease in section 7, block 5, K. Aycock survey, made a 24-hour pumping potential of 186 barrels of 35.8 gravity oil, from pay at 2,860-2,978 feet after given 5,000 gallon acid treatment.

The second producer, M. Stanforth No. 1 Post estate, which extends the field three-quarters of a mile northeast, after being treated with 5,000 gallons of acid, made a 24-hour pumping potential of 195 barrels of 36 gravity oil, at (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

Cowhands Edge Out Antelopes, Team To Meet O'Donnell

Post High Antelopes were edged out, 18-6, Friday afternoon at Lubbock when they tackled the Gold Cowhands on Chapman field in a non-conference tilt. The game was a return match with the Cowhands, who defeated the Antelopes the season with the Antelopes September 14.

The Cowhands did all their scoring in the first half off a complicated "huddle shift" formation. The Antelopes scored in the final quarter when a pass was completed for 45-yards. Mills, Heister and Fumagalli played "heads-up" ball throughout the game and were a constant threat to the Cowhands.

This Friday night the locals will go to O'Donnell for a conference game with the strong Eagles. The O'Donnell team last week won a 6-0 decision over Seagraves. The locals bowed to Seagraves, 6-0, week before last when they tangled on the rain-soaked Antelope field.

Time of Friday night's game has been moved up to 7:15 o'clock.

Honorary pall bearers will be C. L. Roper, Gus Gatzki, C. Carey, Lewis Manly, J. O. Reed, Dan Carpenter and Bill Lester.

Seven officials of the West Texas Gas Company from the Lubbock and Amarillo offices were in Post last Thursday inspecting the local plant.

Returning GI's Are Urged To Join Local American Legion

A campaign to enlist new members in the James C. Cole American Legion Post, No. 270, of Post has been started with the addition of a number of returning servicemen the past two weeks.

With avowed intention of bringing into the ranks every possible discharged War II veteran, local legionnaires declare the veteran can derive many benefits through membership in the Legion, and the post has given notice that it will shape its policies so as to be of service to the veterans.

With the addition of veterans of the late war, size of the local post can expand several times its present membership of about sixty. There have been between six and seven hundred men from Garza county to serve the armed forces in World War II, all of these men will be eligible to membership in the post as Post is the only town in the county with a legion post.

A newly appointed membership committee, comprised of Dan Altman, Ira Greenfield, Ray Smith, John Nichols, Cleo Ferguson and W. S. Duckworth, was named at the last monthly meeting of the post by Commander T. L. Jones. This committee has already begun work in soliciting members.

The local post meets on the first Tuesday of each month at the legion hut.

Last Rites For Miss Lizzie Robinson Held October 8

Funeral rites for Miss Lizzie Robinson, 82, were held on Oct. 8 at 2:00 o'clock at the First Baptist church with Rev. Huron Polnac, pastor, giving fitting obituary remarks.

Miss Robinson died on October 7 at 8:15 a. m. at the home she shared with her sister, Miss Alice Robinson, after a lingering illness of many months.

She was born on March 2, 1863, in Jackson county, Missouri, and came to Garza county more than thirty-five years ago.

Miss Lizzie was instrumental in fostering the county's early educational affairs as she was one of Garza's first school teachers. She taught school in many sections of the county and was quite active in organizing community affairs with the school as the nucleus.

She was a member of the Baptist church and was a very faithful member until her health prevented her from taking part in any activities.

After her retirement from the teaching profession she represented merchandising agencies in her home and had many friends over this section of the county. She continued this form of work until a few years ago when her health forced her to retire.

Surviving her are her sister, Miss Alice Robinson; a nephew, Fred Robinson; three nieces, Mrs. Tom Ashley of Post, Mrs. Ethel Stine of Altus, Oklahoma, and Miss Norma Robinson of Louisville, Kentucky; and a sister-in-law, Mrs. E. J. Robinson of this city.

Full bearers were Ernest Henderson, Elmer Cass, Cleo Ferguson and Wesley Stephens. Honorary pall bearers were close friends of the family.

Interment was made in Terrace cemetery by Mason and company.

Half Of War Chest Quota Subscribed

Reports received on the United War Chest drive is that more than fifty percent of the $2,500.00 quota has been raised. Bad roads, due to heavy rains of the past week, have delayed reports in arriving and only one rural community had reported up until Wednesday noon. The reporting community was Verbena with a 100 percent contribution. Post citizens contributed liberally to the campaign.

The drive will continue through this week and besides the community workers and war wives who are soliciting funds for the cause, there will be young ladies placed in the First National bank and post office to take contributions Saturday.

Post Listed Among Towns To Get New Postoffice Buildings

Post is listed among the eighteen towns of the South Plains which may get new postoffice buildings, at a cost totaling between $1,350,000 and $1,710,000 through a new building program which has already been given the go signal by Congress.

No information has been received by the local office from the Washington department, said Postmaster Phil Bouchier this morning, but he did indicate the lease on the present site would expire soon.

The new postoffices are included in a $775,000,000 request $195,000,000 of which is sought immediately. Texas is slated for 340 individual public buildings, including courthouses, federal office buildings, immigration stations, and custom houses, in addition to postoffices.

The Federal Works agency and Postoffice department are requesting authorization to construct postoffice buildings at Post, Crosbyton, Denver City, Floydada, Levelland, Lockney, Matador, Muleshoe, O'Donnell, Halla, Senarves, Seminole, Slaton, Snyder Spur, Sudan and Tahoka.

Farmers Reminded Of AAA Payments On Various Practices

Farm operators are reminded by James A. Boyd, Agriculture Adjustment Agency administrative officer for Garza county, that the AAA will pay up to 1.5 cents per linear foot of terraces constructed in 1945 according to AAA specifications, with request and approval presented before the work begins.

Boyd said that his office has money for a large number of terraces, tanks and wells. Those wanting terraces, tanks or wells are asked to call at the AAA office for details of the program and for approval.

The AAA official also reminded that milk and cream producers should make their application for July, August and September production payments of 55 cents per 100 pounds of whole milk and 13 cents per pound of butterfat. The program is being changed and drafts are not available for making payment at the present time, Boyd added. All applications are needed at once so drafts can be typed immediately upon receipt.

Recent rains may promote a large number of producers planting small grain for pasture this winter and during the spring, Boyd said, in reminding that Triple A will pay $1.50 for small grain.

READING & WRITING
 BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKoun

When it comes to telling a good sea story, C. S. Forester has very few rivals. His latest is "Commodore Hornblower," the book-of-the-month club selection for June. This continues the adventures of Mr. Forester's doughty sea-dog hero, which he related previously in his trilogy, "Captain Horatio Hornblower," also a Club selection.

C. S. FORESTER

Horatio Hornblower is on the verge of retirement, as squire of a fine country estate, when this new book commences. He has a beautiful wife, a child, wealth and fame. But that is not enough. He has never been so miserable as when, dressed in his new tight-fitting civilian clothes, he has to greet the tenants who have come to welcome him. Then a letter from the Admiralty, offering him immediate employment as a Commodore, abruptly rescues him from a landlubber's fate.

At this period of history Napoleon had reached his climax, but no one as yet recognized that. Prussia had been overrun, the status of Russia and Sweden was uncertain; Riga was about to be attacked. And in the midst of all of this, it is Hornblower's assignment to take a small task fleet into the Baltic.

Every act of that fleet is as important in Diplomacy as a battle. It is England's prestige in the North; it is visible pressure upon Russia and Sweden to take sides. If Napoleon does not invade Russia, it may be caught in a trap. If he does, this English fleet must show by its deeds the power that will keep the Czar from making a negotiated peace.
 Well, it did; and what those deeds were makes up the story of this exciting book.

Like two other English authors (Somerset Maugham and A. J.
 Cronin), C. S. Forester studied to be a doctor in his youth. . . . He abandoned medicine to write poetry. . . . His first big success in America was "Payment Deferred," a novel about the disintegro-ration of the mind of a murderer, which was made into both a play and a movie.
 . . . Another of his books, "The General," an acid portrait of a brass hat, sold widely in Germany because Hitler, who missed the satire, regarded it as a supreme dedication of the militaristic spirit. . . . Forester lives now in Berkeley, California. In recent months he has sailed several times with the U. S. Navy and has written several articles on the war in the Pacific.
 . . . It was on one of these voyages that

"Commodore Hornblower" was begun.

teachings of the bible, found in it under the most try-conditions of war. Resort to bible must become more general.
 More and more people come to read the bible as a habit, the tendency toward injustice, strife and violence will decline. The Laymen's National Committee founder of National Bible Week which will be observed this year
 October 15 to 21, invites the support of all people in this movement which is non-secular in nature but all-inclusive in character and meaning.
 With a sound peace yet to be built, we should all seek a universal stabilizing influence for guidance. This year should be outstanding for National Bible Week.

Quiz Program Is Popular Feature Of Rotary Program

A quiz program was enjoyed by the Rotarians last week when Tom Bouchier conducted the popular type program. Questions based on "European Conditions Today" were fired at the audience by quiz-master Bouchier. The $30 biographical question of famous or rather infamous people caused considerable coaching from the audience before the identity was established. The information on the program, according to The Post Branding Iron, covered everything from clothing for the needy to support of tottering governments.

A guest of the club was Thad Steele, a cement salesman who was recently serving in the physical training department of the U. S. Army in Honolulu. He gave a very interesting talk about his work and gave a graphic description of the damaged ships in and around Pearl Harbor.

Tuesday's program was under the direction of T. L. Jones, Red Cross Chairman of Garza county. He cited the many phases of service of the Red Cross and presented a very fine program.

Another guest was J. J. Calloway of Claco.

Historic Events Of V-J Day Described By Carlos McComb

Excerpts from a letter to Billie McCombs describing the memorable events of V-J day are being reprinted by the Dispatch. The letter was written by Carlos McCombs, radio operator on the USS Deuel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McCombs of Justiceburg. The South Pacific area was the itinerary of the ship on which McCombs served. He has told his parents and brother, Billie, many events leading up to the invasions of Okinawa, Iwo Jima and other spots.

"This was a memorable and historic day, V-J Day. It officially and formally marked the end of the greatest martial conflagration that the stupid wickedness of mankind has yet been able to contrive.

"It marked the beginning of a peaceful invasion of the Japanese homeland which would have meant the loss of unknown thousands of lives if it had been a forceful invasion because of Japanese opposition. This fact was brought home to us very impressively as we steamed up Sagami Bay and into Tokyo Bay this morning. On both shores rugged hills merged into the background of still more rugged mountains. Their natural beauty, enhanced by green cultivated terraces and tiny valleys between, held also a sinister fascination as one could see the mouths of tunnels that were emplacements for retractable guns in the cliffs along the shores. Then there were the unseen fortifications and the hidden minefields under the water and on land. We were conscious of the underwater mines as we threaded our way through.

"From a distance there did not appear to be much destruction from our bombing raids, not even in Yokohama. But when we dropped anchor not far off the Yokohama waterfront one could see that, though most buildings were still standing, they were mere skeletons destroyed partly by demolition but mostly by fire bombs. The great industrial and commercial heart of the Japanese Empire was cold and dead with only here and there a plume of smoke rising from a chimney; a faint promise of the fulfillment of the Japanese hope of national resurgence. The irrepressible spirit of American youth was displayed by the legend, painted in large white letters near the top of one building, "3 Cheers for the U. S. Navy—Army." It must have been a Marine who painted it there.

"Tokyo Bay is a large and wonderful harbor that could probably hold most of the peacetime shipping of the world. There are reported to be numerous well constructed docks and harbor facilities which have been spared the wholesale destruction which has visited the industrial section. We would like very much to go and see for our selves but no one is permitted ashore except for military necessity.

"As we steamed into the mouth of Sagami Bay at daybreak our convoy was in a single column that extended for a distance of about fifteen miles and it took several hours for the whole column to pass a given point. Vice Admiral Wilkinson led on the Mount Olympus. Our surface screen of destroyers, destroyer escorts and control craft either preceded or followed the transports as we entered the narrow channel through the mine fields.

"At about 0945 the Deuel passed the mighty USS Missouri stationed a mile or more off our starboard. We could see the officers and men of the Missouri in whites lined up for inspection parade awaiting the surrender ceremonies. Numerous boats clustered about the mighty Missouri, evidently having ferried the dignitaries of the participating nations to the ship.

"During all this time numerous planes patrolled the waters and shores of the bay. We were at battle stations alert for any eventuality that the Japs might have prepared for us out of their bag of tricks. But everything was orderly and as planned.

"We could hear the broadcast of the surrender proceedings over the ship's radio. Promptly at 1030 the ceremonies began with a brief address by General MacArthur followed by the signing of the surrender terms. Most of the program could not be heard distinctly but we could get portions of it from the shortwave broadcast. It was a very interesting situation. We could look across the waters from the Deuel and see the Missouri where it was all happening but the description of it and the words of the dignitaries travelled all the way across the Pacific to San Francisco and back again before they reached our ears.

"All in all it was a day never to be forgotten. There are thousands of potential grandfathers aboard ship in Tokyo Bay today that will hold their sneezed, canyon-mouthed progeny on their rickety knees and proudly, and with excusable exaggeration, will tell them of the momentous events of

After Five Months At Sea Ed Lawrence Robertson In States

Word was received last week from Ed Robertson, Jr., F2-c, who is now aboard the USS Gansewort; that he is back in the states. With the lifting of the censorship, Ed tells of the many places he has been for the past five months overseas.

"We were in Mare Island undergoing repairs from a Jap stack diver received off Mindoro. Then we left and started north probably for the Aleutians and one of our main engines went out on us so we came back for repairs. Well we started out again toward the sun for what we hoped might be Pearl Harbor, but we missed that place and went completely around it. This time we were practicing with our five-inch guns. And don't think they don't rock this ship when they go off. We did some pretty good shooting too. We started back for the states, and made port here in San Diego today, Oct. 3. We read in a paper that we had escorted the cruiser San Diego into Tokyo Bay but we didn't get quite there, however, we weren't too far away. In coming back, we weren't far from the battlewagon Washington, and we are going with it and the famous Missouri through the Panama Canal to New York to be with the Third Fleet on Navy day."

Ed is now an "oil king" on the ship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Robertson of Lubbock, formerly of Post.

JOBS FOR HANDICAPPED URGED BY GOVERNOR

The week beginning October 7 was proclaimed Tuesday by Governor Coke Stevenson as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week in Texas.

The Governor urged that Texans give serious thought to employment of disabled veterans who "prefer self-sustaining and useful employment to doles and idly desire to be useful citizens contributing to the betterment of the community."

Ninety per cent of disabled veterans are employable, according to an estimate given by authoritative sources.

T. L. Jones went to the Veteran's hospital in Amarillo last week. His many friends are glad that his trouble was not serious and he was able to return home immediately.

Vernon Giles who spent a 30-day furlough here with his parents, left Thursday for Idaho.

Rains Of Past Few Weeks Have Caused Hike In Prices

Heavy rains of the past few weeks have interrupted harvesting and marketing of southwest farm products and resulted in a strong higher price trend on many items, according to a news release prepared for the Post Dispatch by USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Cattle receipts fell considerably below the heavy runs of recent weeks. The reduced supply sold at strong to higher prices. About the only spot of weakness in the Southwest was on calves at Wichita, with good to choice offerings down to $10.50 to $11.50 as the week closed. Medium and good beef cows sold from $9 to $11 per hundred pounds in Fort Worth and Denver and brought $8.50 to $10.50 in Wichita. Medium grades realized $9.25 to $10.50 in Houston, while common cows sold from $7.50 to $8.50 in San Antonio. Choice steers in Denver reached a new all-time high of $17.55 per hundred pounds early in the week. Odd yearlings sold as high as $17 in Fort Worth but the bulk of offerings graded common and medium and brought $9.50 to $13.50. Messer offerings of hogs continued to sell actively at ceiling prices. Top bulchers in Fort Worth and San Antonio brought $14.35 per hundred pounds, $14.45 in Oklahoma City and Wichita, and $14.75 in Denver.

Southwest poultry markets were rather dull with offerings ample for the moderate demand. New Orleans continued to report weakness on young chickens, while markets in Texas and Colorado had a generally steady to weak tone on all offerings. Fowls sold from 22 to 25 cents a pound in Dallas, 20 to 24 in Fort Worth, 17 1/2 to 20 1/2 in New Orleans, and from 13 to 18 cents in Denver.

Offerings of eggs decreased but were still moderate especially on the lower grades, which remained rather dull and weak, while the light supply of top quality eggs moved readily at strong prices. Straight run current receipts have sold as low as 28 to 30 cents a dozen in the Southwest recently, while large Grade A offerings still bring around 42 to 45 cents a dozen in Dallas, 42 to 48 in Fort Worth and as high as 57 cents in New Orleans. Grains maintained a steady to

New Maytag Has Added Features

Addition of an automatic type washer, an automatic clothes dryer, both gas and electric, a gas range and an electric frozen food locker to the Maytag line of household appliances was revealed this week by Oscar Garner, Maytag dealer.

The announcement followed a series of conferences of Maytag branch managers and distributors held at the home office in Newton at which the new products were previewed.

Samples of postwar models of the conventional type washer have been released to each of the more than 7,000 dealers. The local dealer received his new machine Tuesday.

Strong trend, Fort Worth and Galveston quoted No. 1 hard ordinary wheat on October 5 at $1.78 1/2 to $1.80 per bushel, bulk, in carlots; soft red winter wheat $2.52 to $2.58 per hundred pounds. Increasing quantities of locally produced rice, peanuts and corn continued to sell at the ceiling.

Cotton advanced to a new seventeen year high under increased market activity. Other influential factors included the higher CCC sale price for October, the slow progress in picking and ginning of this year's small crop, and the strong demand for textiles.

Mill Iron Ranch To Hold Annual Sale November 1

Wellington, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Mill Iron Ranch will hold its third annual sale of registered bulls at the Cottonwood headquarters on Thursday, November 1, Lafayette M. Hughes announced this week.

In announcing the sale, Mr. Hughes said: "With but few exceptions all of our Mill Iron bull calves since 1937 have been sold to neighbors and friends within a radius of approximately 150 miles. These same neighbors and friends will have the same opportunity to buy this year's bull calf crop, which is the best we have yet produced."

Twice this fall individual cattlemen offered to buy the entire bull calf crop of 1945, but the offers were turned down because Mr. Hughes wanted to stay with his original plan of placing his bulls with commercial cattlemen adjoining the Mill Iron Ranches.

This crop has a 33 1/3 per cent cut, which is going through feed lots to packers for further proof that Mill Iron breeding is a key to high meat quality. Only the top two thirds will be offered for sale this year.

Phenomenal results have been obtained by commercial cattlemen who have been using these bulls as herd sires for the past eight years. Herds of mixed breeds have been improved in a few short years to such an extent that it is difficult to tell them from a pure bred herd. One buyer, who had a herd of Jerseys, reported that the first cross resulted in a crop of white faced, heavy set calves that fed out remarkably well.

However, the majority of the bulls have gone to commercial cattlemen who used them to improve the quality of their Hereford herds. The results can be seen in scores of ranches in the Southeastern part of the Panhandle. The Mill Iron bulls have been used to produce herds of a high quality and remarkable uniformity.

Austin (Polly) O'Neil, manager of the Mill Iron says that for weeks inquiries have been coming from commercial cattlemen and owners of registered herds asking the Wellington office the date of the next sale. The majority of these come from cattlemen who have been using Mill Iron bulls.

NEWS NOTES FROM... Duck Creek Soil—CONSERVATION DISTRICT OFFICE AT POST

The week October 7 to 13 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week by the President.

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District work plan lists the "practicing of fire prevention and suppression for pasture, cropland, and wildlife areas" as one of the important practices for a complete and coordinated soil conservation program. This is listed as one of the practices that can be put into effect without assistance. The District Supervisors have repeatedly urged farmers and ranchers to practice fire prevention and suppression. Last June Chairman Wooten commended farmers for no longer burning their wheat straw. The same can be applied to maize stubble.

Rains during October 3 and 4 were reported as the following: Bud Stevens of the Graham community reported 1.1 inches; Lee Reed of Justiceburg 1.5 inches; Sam Lewis of Pleasant Valley 1.2 inches; R. L. Cummings of near Post 1.25 inches and C. P. Witt of Kalgary 1.33 inches.

Registered herds is a letter from Jack Casement of West Plains, Colorado. In part he says, "I have intended to drop you a line all summer to tell you what a fine calf the one we got from you in June is making, and ask if there is any chance of coming down and getting another one this fall. Our old Colorado Domino E. 1st never got over being stifled last summer. This leaves us using, for our herd bull, one that is not nearly up to the caliber of the cows he is with, which is, of course, slow suicide. And I certainly do not know where I could remedy the situation better than with the help of Mill Iron."

The sale will be held as usual at the Cottonwood headquarters two miles south and 10 east of Wellington.

GET READY FOR WINTER

Better go over your house from roof to basement—and take stock of what has to be done to make it able to face the rigors of cold and wet weather without discomfort to your family—and without deterioration of your structure. Now is the time to see about leaky roof repair, weather stripping, insulation, and fitting of storm windows and doors. Don't delay this important planning for the welfare of your family and the protection of your property. You will be surprised at the difference it will make in your gas bill this winter too.

Of course, you will not overlook making sure your gas heating equipment is in proper working condition. Clean dust and lint from gas heaters, floor furnaces, etc. If repairs are needed, make them at once. Get your equip-ment in working order so you will be ready for winter when it comes.

NOW 4 POINTS FOR USED FATS

Help Increase Supplies of Soap and Other Peacetime Products By Saving More Used Fats

Industrial fats far short of last year! We are almost down to the bottom of the barrel. The nation's industrial fat supply is millions of pounds less than it was in 1944. We need fully as much as last year to help make the soaps and other civilian goods you want and need so badly. So...

If you want more soap and soap flakes... if you're dreaming of nylons, sheets, cotton fabrics and want them to hurry back to the store and counters... you can help by saving those used kitchen fats as you never saved before! Save every drop, every day!

These fats are vitally necessary to help speed greater supplies of soaps and hundreds of other things—like new cars, electric washers, irons, refrigerators and tires. Industry must have these fats... to help get to you more quickly the peacetime products you've been longing to have for years!

So skim and scrape and scoop just as you did so faithfully before V-J Day. To prove how important it is, your government has in-creased the point bonus. So help meet this nation's need by continuing to save used fats. If you can't find a store that accepts used fats, call Home Demonstration or County Agent.

TWO POST MEN QUALIFY FOR STUDENT'S LICENSE

Student pilot licenses have been issued to two Post men, who several months ago began flying at the Spur municipal airport, under tutelage of A. O. Williams, CAA instructor.

Both men, Clint Herring and John Lett, completed their required hours for solo several weeks ago, but were unable to make their initial lone flight until the first of this week because of weather conditions.

Lett recently purchased a Taylorcraft plane and plans to fly in his required thirty hours for a private license within the next few weeks. Herring plans to complete his time as quickly as possible, but for the time being will fly in rented planes.

Gene Giles, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Giles who has been working in Levelland with the Lyvmore Drilling Company was transferred to Fredrick, Oklahoma, a few days ago.

NO DRIED FOODS, THANK YOU - - SO SAY G. I.'s

A booklet that is probably due for much unpopularity, if overseas men know that it is being perused by wife or mother, is the one entitled "Cooking With Dried Eggs." The booklet has just been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and explains in its pages the advantages of using dried eggs, how to cook with them and it also contains many recipes in which they are used.

Other pamphlets that will go begging for takers, if G.I.'s have their say, are those extolling the advantages of dried milk, dehydrated potatoes, etc.

"Yes sir, the G. I.'s we know like the old fashioned foods."

As one G. I. stated: "Have you ever eaten a dehydrated carrot? You don't know if you are eating a vegetable or a stick of wood."

The servicemen we've heard talk are "fed-up," so to speak, with the new fangled foods.

Improved Uniform International LESSON

By HAROLD I. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 14

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE HOME FOSTERING CHRISTIAN IDEALS

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 6:4-9; Luke 2:1-5. Epistles—Ephesians 6:1-4; Golden Text—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Ephesians 4:32.

"Juvenile delinquency" is an expression often heard in our day. It speaks of the awful way in which our boys and girls have gone astray spiritually and morally in recent years. Fortunately, we are beginning to realize that most of the blame falls on the parents. It is parental delinquency in the matter of proper rearing of the children which needs our earnest attention.

The home is the right place for the fostering of Christian principles of living, but all too often even Christian people have put that whole load on the Sunday school and church. They can help, but they cannot do the job which should be done in the home.

Home should be a place where:

I. God's Word Is Accepted (Deut. 6:4-9). The Bible teaches us the truth about God and that is information of the highest value and usefulness in the home. He is our God, and He is one God. There is no other God, and at the same time this infinite and eternal One is very close to us—our God. How precious!

The acceptance of the truth concerning God draws forth our love toward Him. He is not like the heathen gods who cause only cringing fear. He loves us and we love Him, with all our might (v. 5).

This Word of God and the truth concerning Him should be the normal and natural subject of conversation in the home.

Any time, night or day, and anywhere, in the house or on the street it should be as easy for a boy to talk to his father about God as to discuss his school work, or sports, or any other thing.

Let's make it a natural, normal, accepted thing that God and His Word are talked about in the home.

II. Growth Is Expected (Luke 2: 51, 52). In the well-ordered home the child finds his place as Jesus did, as an obedient, well-mannered, co-operative member.

There, too, is the natural place for normal, well-balanced development. There must first be growth in wisdom. The mind and will must be in control, lest the physical get out of hand. They must develop, even as the body grows. Thus the growth of the body becomes not just an animal development, but one amenable to proper restraints, cultivated and poised for full usefulness.

But the home fails if it does not at the same time give the child a chance to grow "in favor with God and man." The boy Jesus continued to grow in gracious personality, with both God and man as the interested recipients of the fruits of His spiritual development.

Every home should be a Christian home and every Christian home should be a center of normal growth for children. This should give us cultured Christian men and women for the next generation.

III. Love Is Expressed (Eph. 5: 22, 23). Love is not just a warm and tender feeling hidden away in the heart. It shows in the homely details of daily life in the home.

A Christian wife expresses her affection for her husband by giving him his God-appointed place as head of the house. There is a graceful and voluntary submission to God's plan for the home which makes for order and unity. Happy is the woman who seeks that place and lives in it! Her life will be blessed!

A Christian husband will learn to control that natural masculine tendency to dominate. He will study the gentle art of courtesy and kindly affection. He will love his wife as Christ loved the Church, and that means a willingness to both live and die for her.

Christianity really should show forth at its very best in the home but, alas, so often just the contrary is true! Let us get that thing straightened out and keep it right!

IV. Rights Are Respected (Eph. 6:1-4). Mutual devotion between husband and wife, and mutual trust between parents and children—there we have the basis of a real God-honoring home.

We must give attention to the matter of a fair and full recognition of the rights of others. The parent who rides roughshod over the wills of his children need not profess to be a true follower of Christ. Likewise, children who are disobedient and insolent to their parents have no real testimony for Christ.

This business of being a Christian is real. It calls for right living everywhere, and that must begin at home. In the home the parent and child must both learn and live the high standards of Christ.

Sidelights FROM WASHINGTON, D. C. By Congressman Geo. Mahon

Last week I joined with five other members of the Military Appropriations Committee in calling at the White House to discuss a number of matters with President Truman. The President was in good spirits and was looking well.

Most of our discussions had to do with Army expenditures, the retention of bases in the Pacific, disposal of surplus Army property abroad, and the atomic bomb.

We pointed out that we had handled the appropriations of funds for, and maintained the secrecy of the atomic bomb project, and we recommended against the release of the atomic bomb secrets.

We told the President that members of our armed forces, particularly those abroad, were impatient with delays in the discharge program—that the War Department was losing prestige among the servicemen. We urged a speedier discharge program.

In the course of our conversation, I brought up the question of our six million bales of surplus cotton and asked the President to place the government behind a program for the earliest possible disposition of this cotton. He said that he was greatly interested and was already giving the matter consideration. The friendly relations of the world need our cotton. Moreover, it will be up defeated Germany and Japan, produce their food and provide their clothing.

In Berlin recently I was told by the military staff that Germany was being permitted to resume certain non-war industries and that the revival of the German rayon and synthetic fibre industry was being considered. I stated that America ought to insist that the cotton textile industry is favored, affording sales opportunity now and later for American cotton.

I think our government has a good opportunity to work out a program for the profitable disposal of cotton surpluses. Members of Congress from cotton producing areas have been requested to join in this effort, and Departments of State and Agriculture have been requested to give immediate consideration to the question.

Large part of this surplus cotton is West Texas cotton, and we have much to gain if the program succeeds. Industrial policies crystallizing all over the world and America must try to prevent the world from slamming the door on American cotton.

President Truman shattered tradition last week by coming to the Supreme Court for the swearing-in of Senator Harold Burton of Ohio as Justice of the Supreme Court. Since 1941, I have only worked with Senator Burton in conferences between the House and Senate Appropriations Committee. He is democratic, modest and friendly, and no doubts but that he will do his best to make good on the Court, and Chief Justice Harlan Stone are the two Republicans on the nine-member Court. Justice Stone was appointed originally by President Coolidge in 1925 and in Chief Justice by President Roosevelt in 1941, succeeding Chief Justice Hughes.

Veterans Enrolling In Texas Colleges

Many Veterans of World War II are taking advantage of educational benefits in the GI Bill of Rights. A great majority of these students were either graduates from high schools or had only started their college careers when the war interrupted their academic education.

Most colleges and universities have about the same ratio percentage of enrollments as the figures released by the University of Texas last week.

The University release said six hundred Veterans of World War II are now enrolled.

Of this number, 213 are vocational rehabilitants. The number of ex-servicemen has increased from approximately 175 in the fall term of 1944 to 225 in the winter term 1944-45, and 296 in the summer term, 1945.

The World Hurries On

Now chemists are reporting that DDT may be obsolete within a year because of better compounds. My goodness, we haven't had time yet to find out all about the famed fly killing stuff in its original form.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Arthur Turner recently was Mrs. May Whitaker of Blackwell, Oklahoma. She left Saturday for Abilene where she will visit her sister for a few days. She plans to return here before returning to her home.

German U-boats sunk 20 ships in the Gulf of Mexico in 1942 and 1943.

FORMER POST TEACHER BUYS DRUG STORE

Lt. Otis Speary, former Post school teacher, who has been stationed at an air field in North Carolina, returned to his home in Lynn county last week with a discharge from the air corps.

He has purchased the Elliott Drug store in Big Spring and has already taken charge.

Lt. Speary was teaching here when he entered service on July 21, 1942. For a time he was a glider pilot, and though he served at many fields in this country he was never allowed to go overseas.

MRS. JUSTICE AND CHILDREN MOVE BACK TO POST

Mrs. Doyle Justice and two daughters, Jan and Paula, moved last week to Post from El Paso. Captain Justice who was stationed at Fort Bliss until mid-summer is now in the Philippine Islands. Mrs. Justice and children were accompanied here by her brother, A. C. Surman, jr., who went to El Paso from Galveston to drive her and the children to Post. A. C. is in the medical corps of the Army and is stationed in
