Sharp Rise In Cotton Price Is Welcomed Here

Farmers of the Post trade area were considerably encouraged over the sharp advance in cotton prices announced just recently even though they are being faced with an acute labor problem.

The War Food Administration thru the Commodity Credit Corporation has announced that it will buy this year's crop in the move to assure full parity return to the grower.

The purchase program on the 1944 crop of 15/16 flat cotton was set for 21.58, according to a release sent to Rex Everett, local cotton broker.

Crop harvest is being retarded due to a shortage of pickers. Many fields are full of open cotton but have not as yet been touched.

HAVE YOU GIVEN TO THE WAR FUND?

Have you given to the War Fund? Have you given to the War Fund? Have you given to the War Fund?

If you have given maybe you have because someone you know is in a prison camp, either Japanese or German, and you hoped somehow to better his condition.

But if you have not given to the War Fund had you thought it might be Good Business to give?

Yes, it is good business! The sooner the war is over the sooner our sons, brothers, husbands, and friends will return.

It is good business to give because only when the war is over can we return to normal trade and normal living.

It is good business because only in a peaceful land can living costs be lowered and taxes reduced.

With Ernie Pyle at the Front:

Wounded Soldier Disgusted When Ordered to Hospital 'Shoot Them,' Says Commander When Asked What to Do About Advancing Foes

By Ernie Pyle

Editor's note: Ernie Pyle is now back at his home in Albuquerque for his long promised rest camp. This column was written by the author while he was still at the front.

ON THE WESTERN FRONT.—The soldier had a white bandage around the calf of his left leg. He had loosely laced his legging back over the bandage.

He said the wound "didn't amount to a damn" and he wished they hadn't sent him back from the lines. He said he had gone through Africa and Sicily without getting wounded, and now he'd got nicked. He was disgusted.

You could sense that this guy was a fine soldier. He looked old, but probably wasn't.

I took him to be a farmer. He talked like a hill-billy, and beneath his whiskers you could tell he had a big, drool face.

He had found some long and crooked, raggedy French cigars, and he kept lighting these funny-looking things and putting them about three inches into his mouth.

He wasn't nervous in the least. Capt. Lucien Strawn, the battalion sergeant, started to put him in a jeep to go back to the aid station, but the soldier said:

"Now wait, I know where there's two more men wounded pretty bad. One of them is a lieutenant who just got back from the hospital this morning from his other wound."

The soldier said they were right up where the bullets were flying, but that if the aidmen would go he could walk well enough to guide them up there.

The doctor also told the unwounded German to go along and help carry. But one of the aidmen said:

"We better not have him with us. Our own men are liable to start shooting at us."

"That's right," the doctor said, "leave him here." And he named off one other American to go. After they had left the doctor said, "That's the truth, and I never even thought of it."

The doctor and I sat a while on the stairway inside the farmhouse, for shells had started hitting just outside again.

As we picked our way among the craters I thought I heard, very faintly, somebody call "Help!"

So we listened again, and this time we could hear it plainly. It seemed to come from a far corner of the field, so we picked our way over in that direction.

Finally we saw him, a soldier lying on his back near a hedgehog, still yelling "Help!" as we approached.

The wounded soldier was making an awful fuss. He was twisting and squealing, and moaning, "Oh, my God! Oh, my God!"

The doctor took his scissors and cut the legging off, then cut the laces on the shoe, and then poked off a bloody sock and cut the pants leg up as he could see the wound.

When the doctor would try to talk to him he would just groan and say, "Oh, my God!"

Finally the doctor got out of him that he had had a small wound in his hand, and his sergeant had bandaged it and laid him to start to the rear.

The doctor looked him over thoroughly. There were two small holes just above the armpit. The doctor said they hadn't touched the bone. I think the doctor was disgusted.

He said, "He's making a hell of a fuss over nothing." Then to one of the aidmen he said, "Better give him a shot of morphine to quiet him."

Whereupon the soldier squirmed and moaned, "Oh, no, no, no! Oh, my God!"

The aidman, trying to be sympathetic, said to the soldier, "It's the same old needle, ain't it?"

Our hillbilly soldier lit another skinny cigar, as though he were at a national convention instead of a battlefield.

That's partly because he flatters me by calling me "General," partly because just looking at him makes me chuckle to myself, and partly because I think he's a very fine soldier.

Security forbids my giving his name. He is a regular army colonel and he was overseas in the last war.

He is rather unusual looking. There is something almost Mongolian about his face.

He has a facility for direct thought that is unusual. He is impatient of the thinking that gets off onto by-ways.

He has a little habit of good-naturedly reprimanding people by cocking his head over to one side, getting his face below yours and saying something sharp, and then looking up at you with a quizzical smirk like a laughing cat.

One day I heard him ask a battalion commander what his position was. The battalion commander started going into details of why his troops hadn't got as far as he had hoped.

"I didn't ask you that. I asked you where you were."

The colonel goes constantly from one battalion to another during battle, from early light till darkness.

He wears a new-type field jacket that fits him like a sack, and he carries a long stick that Teddy Roosevelt gave him.

He is impatient with commanders who lose the main point of the war by getting involved in details—the main point, of course, being to kill.

Another of my favorites is a sergeant who runs the colonel's regimental mess. He cooks some himself, but mostly he bosses the cooking.

His name is Charles J. Murphy and his home is at Trenton, N. J. Murphy is redheaded, but has had his head nearly shaved like practically all the Western Front soldiers—oficers as well as men.

When I asked him what he did in civilian life, he thought a moment and then said, "Well, I was a slusher. Guess you'd call me a kind of promoter. I always had the kind of job where you made $30 a week salary and $1.00 on the side."

How's that for an honest man? Murphy and I got to talking about newspaper men one day. Murphy said his grandfather was a newspaper man. He retired in old age and lived in Murphy's house.

Sergeant Murphy Talks About Newspapers

"My grandfather went into reading newspapers," Murphy said. "I was a phobic with him. Every day he'd buy $1.50 worth of 1-cent newspapers and then read them all night. He wouldn't read the ads. He would just read the stories, looking for something to criticize. He'd get tiring real fast."

THE ART OF COOPERATION

The wise person does not try to get by by himself. He knows that life is a struggle and that there are many things he cannot do alone.

Don't take the other person's credit too seriously—maybe he had burnt toast for breakfast—everybody does now and then. The wise person learns too that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit as long as the job gets done and is satisfactory to all concerned.

Getting along with people is an art in itself and the wise person learns the lesson well and the writer in life the better.

Retinal Images
 These tiny pictures on the retina of the eye, by which we obtain most of our knowledge and information about the outside world, are incredibly small. Experiments have proven that in the central part of the retina known as the fovea, which is the area of sharpest vision, retinal images may be less than one thousandth of an inch in size. Images brought to a focus outside the central area would be several times as large to give diffused vision. Because of this difference in acuity in the retinal areas in tasks involving some focus, as in reading, the eyes are turned so that the images are brought to a focus in the retina's central area of sharpest vision.

The Texan's Share In The War

Like their grandmothers, who fought side-by-side with their men during pioneer days, modern Texas women are doing their part in this war.

Sixteen Texas girls were among the first WACS to arrive in Paris for duty with American forces pushing toward Berlin. They were Sgt. Dorothy Roberto, Corp. Christy Pfc. Helen Lehmann, Crosbyton; Corp. Mary Higginbotham, Gorman; S/Sgt. Ludora Jones, Mount Pleasant; Sgt. Ruby O'Neal, Faretton; Pfc. Ellen F. Jordan, Robert Lee; Sgt. Bobby Taylor, San Antonio; Corp. Evelyn Daniel, Temple; Lt. Lillian Courtney, Tiggs; Corp. Gladys Self, Taylor; Sgt. Ella Wernli, Zapata, and Corp. Norman Hunter, whose home town was not listed.

If those girls can stick to their tough jobs until victory, certainly their sacrifice should be an inspiration to all on the home front. Working day and night for small pay, they are helping win the war as much as any soldier in the line. They deserve the support of those at home... support that can best be given by generous contributions to the National War Fund, which serves our own fighting men and women, our allies, and war victims throughout the world.

Incidentally, a member of the staff of the United War Chest of Texas this week received news that her husband has been awarded the coveted Distinguished Flying Cross. She is Mrs. M. C. Quillen of Taylor, who now works in the state chest office at Austin. Since her husband, Major Quillen, was shot down over Europe and is now a prisoner of war in Germany, the medal will be presented to his wife, according to advices from the war department.

Mrs. Quillen joined the staff of the war chest because she knows the value of War Prisoners Aid, which serves our men in the hands of the enemy, and other National War Fund agencies.

Other Texans recently decorated include: Sgt. Paul S. Coleman, Santa Anna, Bronze Star; T/Sgt. Ed Kuzatic, Breckenridge, Bronze Star; S/Sgt. James Peacock, Breckenridge, (now in German prison camp), Soldiers Medal; Ernest Leopold, Shepherd, Bronze Star; Capt. Tom McDowell, Bonham, Bronze Star; Pfc. Sam Moore, Electra, Bronze Star; and Brig. Gen. Aubrey Moore, Hubbard, Distinguished Flying Cross.

And, while Texans continued to roll up honors for bravery and gallantry in every part of the world, home-front campaigners also were going "over-the-top." Sixteen Texas counties surpassed their National War Fund goals last Tuesday, on the spending day of the state-wide drive "for our own and our allies," while all other drive groups rolled up high scores.

Texans everywhere are asked to speed the completion of the drive by living up to the campaign slogan:

"Sure, I'll Give a Texan's share!"

PLANE TALK
 BY Revised Edition

Small communities cannot ignore the Air Age because they are not washed by the airlines. The ghost towns of the future will have died because they had no landing strip. Indicative of the future in providing landing strips for their towns are the many requests for airport information received from town officials, chambers of commerce, boys, and oil companies with gas stations to re-plant.

An advantage to the average little town in carrying out landing strip plans now, is prestige for progressiveness in stimulating the growth of new industry; there will be new jobs around the airport, more transient trade will come to the town; other industries will like the location if tax incentives and parts are accessible by air and town merchants can fly in special merchandise for their customers. But, warning these points is the theory that once there are landing facilities in an area, people's interest in buying or renting planes and flying will snowball rapidly.

All that is needed is a straight sod strip at least 1500' by 100', running into the prevailing winds, a wind sock, a direction pointer, air-marking materials and corner markers. This is the minimum. It should be near the town and highway, allowing for expansion into a regular airport complete with hangars, servicing facilities, parking space, shops, etc. Even though planning along this line is greatly encouraged, care should be taken to insure that large expenditures are not made for improvements which may become obsolete within a few years.

Although Thomas Jefferson is generally credited with the first architectural plan for a college in America, when he built the university of Charlottesville, Va., the plan of Union College at Schenectady, N. Y., is actually six years older. It was designed by a Frenchman, Joseph Jacques Ramee.

It is not always best to say what you think unless thinking properly.

Ah... a neat knack had Ivan, that hushed back-seat drivin'

Driving that's easy on passengers and cars is one far-reaching good outcome of War!

Handling the wheel and pedals like a professional became a wartime necessity. It favored the car—and quit scaring the rear-seat riders. Now it's a great point of pride. Yet an even more envied proof of fine car-sense is to own an engine that isn't showing its age. That demands sparing your engine from acids; from fiercely corrosive acids inside. You can do it by having your engine OIL-PLATED. All you need is a change to Conoco Nth motor oil... oil that OIL-PLATES.

In the extra-limited seasonal driving that's now the rule, your engine "boards" a surplus of acids. Every explosion adds to these acids. You don't drive enough for engine heat to eject them safely. But they won't go biting right through OIL-PLATED! This highly corrosion-resistant surfacing is attached all over your engine's fine inner finish as if by magnetism—an effect you must credit to costly pioneer research, responsible for the special ingredient in popular-priced Conoco Nth oil, patented.

You can't apply keener intelligence to the car that must last you, than to equip it with an OIL-PLATED engine—simply by changing to Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Your Mears Merchant's Conoco station knows your correct grade. Go now, Continental Oil Co.

NAVY DAY PROCLAIMED
Austin, Oct. 17.— Governor Stevenson, Tuesday proclaimed Oct. 21 as Navy Day in Texas, to be observed in conjunction with the nationwide celebration. For more than 22 years, said Stevenson, recognition has been given the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, first vice president of the Navy League, and known as the father of the modern American Navy. Capt. Charles Louis Pickett arrived in Post Tuesday night to visit his wife and two children who are making their home here while he is serving in the Armed Forces.

Your BABY

By Edith E. Stevens

Not so very many years ago, they used to be a quite common ailment called Spring Fever. Grandmothers had a remedy, usually sulfur and molasses, which contained some of the food values which had been lacking in the family diet during the long winter. The fruits and vegetables available to our grandmothers were much more limited than ours, and what did not last throughout the winter they could not find a wide variety of vegetables on a grocer's shelves; as we can, almost regardless of the season. We may not use our advantages as we should, at least for most of the family. But there is one member of the family we realize should have the "right food in the right amount at the right time," and that person is the baby. The ingenuity of some young parents has brought to your baby a wide variety of strained foods, of high quality. No longer does a busy young mother need to go to the grocery store every day to find what vegetable is available, and then take whatever she can find. This problem has been solved for her and daily saves her valuable time. Your baby has a choice of evaporated milk, sealed in sterile cans, or pasteurized milk; either one of them are much safer than the milk our grandmothers could buy. There are special baby cereals, thoroughly cooked, flaked, or dried, ready to serve simply by adding milk or formula. No more long cooking in the home and then straining to render the cereal or the vegetables suitable for a young baby. The little cans of baby's vegetables and fruits bring a variety for your baby, all year around, which grandmothers didn't have.

Cotton Harvesting Situation

By Wallace Kimbrough, County Agent of Texas A & M College Extension Service

At the request of the local county agent, T. F. White, Migratory Field Assistant, has been sent here to aid in directing migratory labor in those counties where they are most needed and to urge the labor to stay in the areas where they are working until the cotton crop is pulled.

Mr. White has been working with Mexicans all season starting down in the Valley and working across the state and then up-state with them and he states there are just not as many of the Mexicans coming up as there has been in past years. Too, the counties of Central Texas did not plant their cotton crop until about the time we did and are also in the middle of their harvest now. So when fewer hands are scattered over Texas when normally most of the hands are in West Texas at this time the West Texas cotton harvest is moving slowly not only here but everywhere. It is suggested that farmers pool their acreage to be able to secure large crews as the harvest is traveling mainly in trucks due to the tire and gasoline shortages. Help your neighbor get your crew when you have been pulled over. We must hold all crews we can as too many may not come up this time.

According to the best information I have been able to get the price being paid mainly is $1.25 per 100 lbs. and 25 cents for weighing and hauling. Some producers in this and other counties are paying $1.50 per 100 lbs. and as high as 35 cents per 100 lbs. for hauling. Mr. White and I will do all we can to get migrant labor in the county, help hold what is here and try to stop those passing through that have not made arrangements to go to some farmer.

McCluskey General Hospital, Temple, Texas, Oct. 16.—Pvt. William E. Carey of Post, now a patient at McCluskey General Hospital, Temple, Texas, ever goes back to home after the war, he's going on a sight-seeing tour of the city—but not on foot!

The private is certainly justified in wanting to ride the next time he visits the Eternal City, for the last time he saw the Italian capital he was walking, and walking, and kept right on walking through the city, and for two whole days afterward. "We were on a 10 mile sustained march the first time we entered Rome," the Texas 85th Division infantryman, declares, "and went right on through. We were still marching two days later—only to turn around and come back to the city—in trucks," he smiles.

The battle of Italy was a short but rugged one for this 19-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Carey of Post. He saw his first action at the Arno River, near Florence and not far from Pisa, on August 19—and was wounded two days later when hit by fragments from an artillery shell, resulting in the loss of his left leg.

Ironically enough, he was hit while still in the same trench he had entered on his first day of action, while the Yanks were in a defensive position; so about all that Carey got of the fighting was a "foxtrot's-eye" view. Carey, who has been in the Army 12 months, spent six months overseas, going into Italy April 18, 1944, at Naples.

The District of Columbia originally comprised sixty square miles on one side of the Potomac and to the government by the State of Maryland, and forty square miles on the other side of the river ceded to the government by the State of Virginia. The 100-square mile area was later reduced to 64 square miles by retrocession to Virginia of the section previously included within the bounds of that State.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for October 22

RELIGION IN EDUCATION

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:1-12 Luke 9:38-40

GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32

Education without religion will make America a pagan nation in a generation or two. Even worldly-minded educators are concerned about the neglect of and opposition to Christianity in many branches of our country's educational system.

Christians will want to be informed and to act as they have opportunity to bring Christian influence to bear on the education of children. They will want to give their hearty support to real Christian education.

I. Seek Wisdom from God (Matt. 7:1-11)

We have made great progress in the improvement of educational equipment, in the construction of the school buildings, and in the provision of trained teachers. There have been earnest efforts to develop the most effective courses of study adapted to the needs of our day.

All this is commendable—except for one thing, and that is really a foundational error. We have given little, if any, attention to the development of character, without which the skills of hand and of head may be actually dangerous. Theodore Roosevelt is said to have observed that "to educate a man's mind without educating his conscience is to make him not a social asset, but a social liability" (Douglas).

The teaching in our schools of the evolutionary theory as though it were fact when it has never been proved has provided a foundation for all manner of denial of God and of the truth of His Word.

What shall we do? Surrender? Not at all. Let us look to God for His wisdom and grace. The promise is that the one who asks, receives, when he asks in faith and for God's glory (cf. James 1:5-8 and 4:3). Prayer is vital in real education.

II. Use Wisdom with Men (Matt. 7:12)

Education has as one of its important goals the ability to get along with our fellow men. As the Lord enables us to grow in wisdom and knowledge, it should show in our treatment of those who look to us for guidance and help.

This so-called Golden Rule is a high standard of conduct which many profess, but which only the grace of God can accomplish in a man's life. To always be positively doing for and to others what we would have them do for us is far more than the negative thing which most people assume it to be. They reverse it and are trying to avoid doing things to others that they would not have done to themselves.

Note again that this is on the positive and the active side. We are to go about doing good, such as we would desire for ourselves.

III. Follow Wisdom in Humility (Luke 9:38-43)

If the teacher is spiritually blind he will lead his equally blind pupil into the ditch. That is exactly what is happening in many schools and colleges. No pupil will rise higher than his teacher (v. 40).

Real education makes a man humble. He is not ready to destroy his brother's eye because it has a speck in it, for he recognizes his own weakness and sin. He needs the grace of God in his own life first; then he is ready to give help to others.

There is something fine about the genuine sweet humility of a man who is really educated. He is not pompous and proud, parading his learning so that the populace may be impressed. He is humble and teachable. Real scholarship calls for genuine faith in God.

IV. Find Wisdom in Godliness (Luke 9:43-45)

Every tree brings forth its own kind of fruit. Christian character is a fruit which grows only on the tree of Christian doctrine. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom (Prov. 9:10). That means that to be truly educated a man must be a Christian.

That which is good and noble and upright can be brought forth only from a mind and heart of which the same things are true (v. 43). As evil men will teach others evil, a good man will teach those that which is good. Hence, the folly of thinking that if a teacher only has a brilliant mind, and is versed in the scholastic learning of his profession, it makes no difference what his morals are, he can be true.

That theory has brought men to the heights of young blood, and it is such that they will grow to be self-indulgent and dissipated people characterized by the lack of respect for the law and the rights of the innocent, and by the disregard of the law of God.

O'Donnell Wallops Post 34-0 In Hard Game Here Friday

Louis Mills, Sport Reporter

The powerful O'Donnell Eagles ran wild over the scrappy Post Antelopes here last Friday night, October 13, to the tune of 34-0. The Eagles won the coin toss and elected to receive. After two wild end runs which netted two first downs, McGalley broke into the clear and galloped 85 yards to pay dirt. The kick for extra point was wide. After receiving the kickoff, the Antelopes were forced to punt. After another exchange of punts, McGalley again went wide around his own left end and ran 40 yards for the second Eagle touchdown. The kick for the extra point was perfect. The first quarter ended with the Antelopes in possession of the ball on their own 30 yard line.

In the second quarter the Antelopes went into Eagle territory for the first time. After regaining the ball the Eagles roared back into Antelope territory. McGalley smashed over tackle and bulled his way 20 yards for a touchdown. The try for extra point was good. The half ended with O'Donnell leading 20-0.

In the third quarter the Antelopes pushed deep into Eagle territory on successive passes from Shirley to Ingram. However, one of Shirley's passes backfired. McGalley intercepted a pass and streaked 70 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick was good.

Late in the fourth quarter, McGalley again broke loose and went 80 yards for a touchdown but the play was called back and the Eagles were penalized for clipping. However, on the following play, McGalley went wide around end and galloped 45 yards to pay dirt. The kick for the point was good.

The game ended with the Antelopes in possession of the ball on their own 35 yard line. Final score was 34-0. The next opponent for the Antelopes will be the powerful, undefeated, untied Littlefield Wildcats. The game will be played here Friday, October 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hundley received a cablegram from their son Jimmie who is stationed in Cairo that he was now a First Lieutenant.

Machinery Picture Unchanged In Spite Of Non-Ration Ban

A special message from machinery manufacturers, as known, the government has banned all farm machinery except pickers from rationing. Does it mean you can now buy any machinery you need? Unfortunately, does not. Manufacture of machinery is still controlled by the government. To increase production, more materials and manpower are needed, but a decrease in allocations of raw manpower or materials have been made. Consequently, it is a matter of your implement dealer's capacity to supply the machine you need. The end of rationing has given him a single selling machine. He faces a difficult situation but will do his best to distribute his quota of machinery fairly. Until the war situation permits manufacture of all the machines you need, call on your dealer for parts and service facilities to keep your present machinery running.

Woman's Culture Club Meets In Manly Home October 11

The Women's Culture club met in regular session last week in the home of Mrs. Manly with Mrs. Cearley as co-hostess.

A short business session was held with Mrs. Jones presiding. It was voted that the club contribute to the War Fund. Members responded to the roll call with some very interesting comments.

Mrs. D. C. Williams, club parliamentarian, was leader for the program on Parliamentary Procedure. Some comments on the type of rules which govern Federated clubs were followed by a question and answer plan of study on Motions. Mrs. Williams made this study most interesting as well as helpful.

Mrs. Jones spoke on The Ideal Presiding Officer. Some qualities which constitute a good presiding officer are a thorough knowledge of rules of procedure and accepted actions of the particular groups, and understanding of the members and impartiality toward them, and something which might be called just good manners.

The hostess passed refreshments of delicious pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream and coffee to Meses, Williams, Jones, W. L. Davis, L. A. Presson, Karpe, Kitchen, and a guest, Mrs. T. H. Hibbs. Plate favors were colored ship cut-outs in recognition of Columbus Day.

The next meeting will be Oct. 25 with Meses, Karpe and B. M. Robinson, Sr. as hostesses. A program from Time Magazine will be presented by Meses, Cearley, E. W. Williams and R. R. Hodges. —Reporter

Activities Of P-TA Discussed In October Meeting At P. H. S.

The October meeting of the High School P-TA opened with the repeating of the Parent-Teacher Prayer in union led by Mrs. J. E. Parker, president. This was followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by Mrs. H. C. Galloway on which proper action was taken for the giving of $25 to the Grade School P-TA to help this new organization start their work. The group also voted to donate $25 to the National War Fund. Miss Maxine Durrell is Chairman of War Activities. It was decided to place hot plates in the gymnasium before time for the Halloween carnival this year. A committee is to be appointed to attend to these arrangements. Mrs. Parker announced.

Reports from committee chairmen showed that the High school P-TA now has a paid membership of one hundred and six, and that plans are being made for the Halloween carnival for both local Parent-Teacher organizations to be given on Monday, Oct. 30, at the High school building. Mrs. E. J. Edwards stated that more complete plans would be announced soon for this annual affair.

Mrs. B. M. Robinson, chairman of the High School Service, discussed plans for the Youth Center and announced that a meeting of civic organizations and clubs of the town would hold a conference Monday night in the High school auditorium to discuss further the Youth Center project.

Attention was given to Gov. Coke R. Stevenson's proclamation Oct. 15-21 as P-TA week. All present were asked to continue to contribute a birthday offering upon leaving the meeting and Mrs. Ray Mullins dedicated a splendid program given by her expression pupils to this occasion. This was followed by a most interesting and timely discussion of "What Kind of Discipline Now?" by Mrs. Tom Bouchier.

The group was reminded of the State Convention in Fort Worth on Nov. 8-9 and anyone who can attend is asked to let the president know as soon as possible. At Mr. Bearden's suggestion, the class award was raised to $3 for each regular meeting. The Senior class won this award for the second time this year.

Mrs. T. L. Jones was elected Music Chairman to replace Mrs. R. C. Tension who has recently moved. The next meeting of this group may be changed so that all officers who were chosen as delegates to the Fort Worth convention will be allowed to attend and at the same time not interfere with the local group meeting. This will be announced in the Post Dispatch at a later date. —Reporter

Baby Picture Contest Creates Fun For Merry-makers Club

On Tuesday, October 10, nineteen members of the Merry Makers club met with Mrs. Ida Wheatley with Mrs. Caldwell as co-hostess. There were two visitors, Meses, Conser and Ardell Wheatley.

Mrs. Shultz and Mrs. Bensen directed the games which proved very interesting, with several nice prizes being awarded. The "baby picture contest" turned out to be a lot of fun. There were 11 pictures and it was quite a guessing game. Several just couldn't decide which club member one of the pictures was, and were very much surprised when they found that a baby picture of Mr. Mangum had been put in for a joke. Mrs. McNabb won first prize for guessing the most of the pictures. Three more tied with her but she drew the lucky number. Mrs. Virginia Custer won the prize of the prettiest one and Mrs. Shultz for the funniest.

Nice refreshments consisting of lemonade, sandwiches, potato chips and olives were served. The club adjourned to meet Tuesday, Oct. 14 at the home of Mrs. Shultz. Mrs. Bartlett will be co-hostess, Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Morris will be in charge of the entertainment. —Reporter

At the Air Service Command Station Cpl. YOUR ELECTRIC RATES HAVE BEEN CUT!

What important household item costs less now than before the war? Electricity! While other costs are still going up, your electric rates "took a cut" last month, to new low levels. Bills since the first of October have been figured on the new rates.

As a matter of fact, electricity really offers you double savings. While general living costs are up about 25 per cent above pre-war levels, the price of electricity has not gone up at all. That's saving No. 1. Now your household electricity has actually gone down in cost—saving No. 2. Anyway you look at it, electricity is the biggest bargain you can find today.

Not only does your electricity cost less, but it furnishes you the most efficient, dependable service that you have become accustomed to. Pre-war quality at less than pre-war prices makes electricity the "bright spot" of your family budget. When appliances again become available, you can enjoy using them freely, at less cost than ever. Meanwhile, lower rates are not just a post-war promise; you are receiving the savings right now!

 Norma Joy Hudman seems to be hard to please these days. Of course we like to think someone might be special in her views, but we also like to see everyone having a good time. Who is it Norma?
 There seem to be some good looking teachers in High school this year. Namely Miss Mabel Ameen, Jo Paaber and Johnnie Cook. Of course there are always some boys who love to torment these teachers. . . . Do you blame them?
 From what we hear, Billie Jane Robinson and "Happy" Deavers aren't getting along so good. What's wrong, you two?

F. H. T. CHAPTER INITIATES NEW MEMBERS
 The F. H. T. received new members Tuesday night, Oct. 16, when they finished their initiation. For two days the new members were old clothes and looked as if they were first class masons. Tuesday night they went through the regular routine of eating unique foods and rolling a pencil from the stairs to the office with their noses.
 The new members were then received and refreshments were served. Immediately after the refreshments there was a basketball game between the girls.
 The chapter met Thursday, Oct. 18 during activity period. The meeting was called to order, the minutes read, and a report was given from the year book committee. A talk was given by Alma Outlaw on "My Trip to Camp."

One Elephant, Issue, O D

Perhaps you didn't know it before but they are issuing elephants in the troops in the China-Burma-India sector. Elephants complete with machine guns are being used by the army. Here you see a Signal Corps man repairing a wire while a "commander" in the big beast's camp gives advice. In the jungle and swamps the elephants are indispensable. Your Army gets the best of everything from them in elephants, and it is all made possible because you buy War Bonds to buy these supplies. From U.S. Treasury.

Jimmie Thomas Received Medical Discharge From Army Recently

Jimmie Thomas received a medical discharge from the Army Air Corps recently. He arrived home the first of the month and is now employed with Parker's Bakery. Jimmie served twenty-six months overseas and was most of that time in Puerto Rico. He spent his twenty-second birthday in a harbor in Cuba. Nylon hose were plentiful there he declared and he could have bought several pairs for the feminine members of his family if he had realized that they could not get them here he said. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thomas.

Junior Handley Is Reunited With Home

Lieutenant Junior Handley was just a bit homesick, we figured after reading his most recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Handley. He was in the air at 8000 feet over Persia and said in his letter that the sand was blowing of such a gale it reminded him of good old West Texas. In going through the sand storm he said in his letter, "I just had a sudden urge to write you to tell you of the co-pilot's fountain pen and tablet." We imagine that a lot of the boys from West Texas get a bit homesick for their kind of climate and weather.
 Jimmie expressed the hope that Post will be able to land a Signal Corps in the near future for he expects to make flying his life's work.

QUICK COOKING

Conserve vitamins and minerals, cook fresh fruits and vegetables quickly and in as little water as possible. Cook until just done with some of the original crispness left. Do not add soda because it destroys the vitamins. Serve as soon as possible after they are cooked and seasoned. Use cooking water in gravies, soups or sauces. Quick-cooking is the modern method of insuring fruits and vegetables of finer flavor and greater food value for your table.

SALADS

Keeping the Fruit Bowl well filled, serving fruit for breakfast and a salad for lunch and dinner, is no longer considered a luxury; for more fresh fruits and vegetables in the daily diet are now known to be a sound nutritional investment. Save labor and be economy-wise, serve some fruits and vegetables raw every day . . . you get full flavor and all their natural vitamins and minerals.
