THE CHURCH'S ONE FOUNDATION

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

In 1920 a small group of Christian Church members met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stoker for the purpose of organizing a Sunday School. There is no record of that meeting, but there is splendid evidence of the results, for out of it grew the First Christian Church of today. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stoker, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Warren, Sr., and the late Ramsay family are some who attended this first meeting. Mr. Warren was the first Sunday School Superintendent, Mrs. Winnie Ramsay Tuffing the first Secretary. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stoker taught classes and worked valiantly. Through the efforts of these and many other Christian workers the Sunday School grew rapidly. Various meetings and programs were used thru the years when the church had no building. A church was organized in June 1923 by P. R. Huckleberry, Evangelist.

Some of the charter members still actively engaged in the church are: Mrs. F. I. Bailey, Mrs. Jno. H. Ramsay, Mrs. Jack Burress, Mrs. Hal Haire, Mrs. Gladys Hyde, Miss Nora Stevens, Mrs. Winnie Tuffing, Mrs. T. A. Pierce. Officers appointed when the church was organized in June 1923 were: Elder, D. R. Adamson; Deacons, Jno. H. Ramsay, A. D. Stevens, Roy Holland; Trustees, Dr. M. E. Corbin, P. Z. Stevens, Frank Tuffing; Clerk, Dr. M. E. Corbin.

The First Christian Church could not have come into being had it not been for the women. Their long hours of work, their untiring efforts in all church projects, no matter how large or how small, in order to start a building fund is graphically told by Mrs. H. R. Swain in a letter to Mrs. Jno. H. Ramsay several years ago. The letter is given here in part for it describes the struggle this loyal group made in order that they might accomplish their goal.

"On Monday afternoon July 13, 1925, ladies of the First Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. M. E. Corbin and organized a Ladies Aid with ten persons present. They were: Mesdames J. H. Ramsay, Corbin, E. A. Warren, Dale Atchley, B. F. Dye, W. H. Benton, A. D. Stevens, H. R. Swain, Bess Thompson, and Miss Nora Stevens.

"Following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Swain; vice-president, Mrs. Dye; secretary-treasurer and devotional leader, Mrs. Warren; teacher, Mrs. Benton.

"Our aim was to make our aid both profitable and beneficial. We provided our meetings with Bible Study, Mission Programs and Social Meetings. Our first business and social meeting was held with Mrs. Dale Atchley. Our first bake sale was planned at this meeting and it was on July 23 at Davis-Mason store. We had cakes, pies, chickens and other articles of food and we did so well that it gave us courage to take another step. So all through the summer we did baking for the Two Dime Lake stand.

"In the fall we gave a chicken dinner and at Christmas we held a bazaar that brought in $75.00.

"In the spring we began to make plans and at a meeting at the president's home we pledged ourselves to raise $1,000.00 for a building fund for a church. We were sure we could accomplish our goal if we would work together."

And together they have always worked—this group of women and men. The proverb, "From little acorns great oaks grow" can certainly be applied to the works, aims and ambitions of members of this church who though so few in number have accomplished so much.

The building fund grew as the result of bake sales, rummage sales, quilting bees and through donations, one of which is deserving of mention here. Girls of Mrs. Bess Thompson's Sunday School Class, Shreveport, La., sent $10.00 a year to the building fund to share in the work.

In 1926 Mrs. K. Stoker, Mrs. W. S. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. E. J. Robinson, Mrs. E. R. Wright, Mrs. Lee Davis and Mrs. Bob Davis joined the aid.

In February 1934, Rev. Patrick Henry, State Secretary of the Christian Churches came to Post and helped lay plans for the building of the church. Lots for the church had already been given to the group by Mr. Stoker's aunt of Abilene, Texas, and as additional monies continued to be placed in the fund it was felt that with the $2,000.00 in the building fund, concrete plans could begin. At this meeting an additional $1,300.00 was raised.

Just a few months later, on June 10, 1934, dedication services were held in the beautiful little church that now is one of Post's most attractive spots.

The most recent projects of the church group was the acquisition of the parsonage. An old house was purchased in the fall of 1945, moved into Post on lots already acquired and was remodeled into a very modern house at a cost of $2,500.00. All church property is free of debt.

Sunday School officers at the present are: Willard Kirkpatrick, superintendent; Mrs. Jack Burress, assistant superintendent; W. E. Dent, secretary; Mrs. Winnie Tuffing, pianist; song leader, Mrs. K. Stoker; Mrs. Lee Davis, Victor Hudman, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Nathan Mears, teachers.

Trustees are: W. E. Dent and Willard Kirkpatrick.

Elders are: K. Stoker, Lee Mason and Kirkpatrick.

Deacons are: Dent, Hub Haire, Sol Davis, B. C. Manis, T. A. Post, Hudman and Earl Hodges.

Pastors who have served the church are the Reverends: J. J. Spivey, E. D. Hageman, Harrell Bea, William E. Wright, James Mundy, Frank Crow, and F. B. Nickerson.

Whether judged from the beauty of her steeple or the far reaching influence she exerts upon society, the church is accepted as the most influential institution on earth save maybe the home.

The church's one foundation is Jesus. She has in the past and is still serving the nations of the earth to the maximum. In her pews gather congregations of many tongues and tribes seeking an outlet for religious expression. She is a mighty bulwark in defense of all that is good.

It makes no difference whether her architectural lines be simple and her pews cheap, she is still a place where people may go and worship in a free and unrestrained manner.

Be sure to serve your church with both your time and means. Attend regularly. Your minister expects you.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

Steak Hawaiian

Here's an idea for a late summer backyard supper:

Chop a clove of garlic very fine and put it in a large shallow glass baking dish or platter. Add about one half to one cup of soya sauce and mix.

Marinate steak in this for 15 minutes, turning it thoroughly to flavor the meat with the seasoning and soak up the sauce.

Then barbecue, fry or broil the steak as preferred.

Redistricting Amendment Would Give West Texas New Advantage

The proposed, long-overdue re-districting of Texas for governmental representation would vitally effect Garza County in giving West Texas generally more representation at the expense of East Texas. In view of this, the following Associated Press release should be interesting to Post Dispatch readers:

Are there any bugs hidden in the proposed constitutional amendment intended to make certain that future legislatures keep representation in proportion to population?

If there are, a layman's close study of the proposal to be submitted to the electorate in Nov., 1948, does not show them. What a lawyer might find, especially a legislative lawyer trying to find a loophole in the proposition, remains to be seen.

The proposed amendment, by Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, provides for apportioning the state into senatorial and representative districts by a board if the Legislature fails to follow the plainly-stated constitutional mandate to redistrict after each federal census.

If the board fails in its duty—as the legislature has far more than 26 years—specific provision is made giving the Supreme Court authority to complete it by writ of mandamus "or other extraordinary writs conformable to the usages of law."

Proposition Seems Ironclad

This has all the appearance of an ironclad proposition.

In legislative discussions of the proposed amendment, this question had been raised:

"Suppose a future Legislature should merely go through the motions of redistricting, reapportioning only a few districts and leaving others badly out of balance in proportion to their populations?"

It appears the answer to that is inherent in the proposed amendment. It says:

"The Legislature shall, at its first regular session after the publication of each United States decennial census, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, agreeable to the provisions of Section 25, 26 and 26-A of this article."

To Consider Population

The reference is to Article III of the Constitution, and Section 26 says:

"The members of the House of Representatives shall be apportioned among the several counties, according to the population in each, as nearly as may be, on a ratio obtained by dividing the population of the state, as ascertained by the most recent United States census, by the number of members of which the House is composed."

Section 25 provides that "The state shall be divided into senatorial districts of contiguous territory according to the number of qualified electors, as nearly as may be, and each district shall be entitled to elect one senator; and no single county shall be entitled to more than one senator."

In other words, this and other wording in Sections 25, 26 and 26-A sets up a specific formula for re-districting. The new Section 28, if adopted, includes in its wording the direction that re-districting must follow this formula, and if it does not, the board is empowered to act. If there is any way to sidestep that, it is not apparent.

Board Must Act

Members of the board would be the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the House, the attorney general, the comptroller and the land commissioner. It would meet in Austin 90 days after adjournment of any regular session that failed to redistrict, and must complete its work 60 days after that.

Another safeguard seems to have been written in at this point to forestall any token redistricting, or a piece-meal job. Here is the wording:

"The board shall, within 60 days after assembling apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, a failure of action of such Legislature may make necessary."

It appears the number of the amendment, wise to the wags of Legislature, wanted to make certain no halfway job could be offered up in an effort to give redistricting the oil treatment.

ing last Sunday, 12-3, when the local club crossed-bats with the Refiners at Patt Carter field at Levelland. Next Sunday's game will leave only two games on the Miller's schedule.

The following Sunday the locals will journey to Slaton to play the first of a two-game series with the Tigers, and the following Sunday the Tigers come here to end the season.

Locals, 12-3 In Sunday's Game

The league-leading Levelland Refiners took a firmer grip on their standing when they walloped the Post Millers, 12-3, last Sunday at Patt Carter field at Levelland. The Refiners after pace setting the loop for the greater part of the season, dropped to second place when Sundown fell into a winning streak, but regained first place in percentage standing about three weeks ago.

The Millers got off to a well enough start by scoring two runs in the first inning, and another in the fifth. The Refiners trailed for the first four frames with only two runs scored in the second inning. They added three runs in the sixth to lead the Millers, and ran wild in the eighth to score seven runs.

Ed Altman twirled for the Millers and was replaced in the eighth by Duren. Estes went the full nine for the Refiners and gave up only 6 hits. The Refiners garnered 12 hits off Post's two pitchers.

The winner in each division will receive $200 which must be used as expense money to the state meet. The state meet will be held in San Angelo August 28, 29 and 30. Two $200 prizes will be given. The tournament will be reeled off single elimination.

FRIED CHICKEN CAN BE YEAR AROUND DELICACY IF FREEZERS ARE USED

Fried chicken can be a year around food for the family table, if some of them are saved for the freezer locker. Miss Jewell Hipp, Garza County home demonstration agent, suggests.

She says the young birds are best for fried chicken and getting them ready for freezing is the same as for eating. But, it is easy to pick the chicken if it's dipped into semi-sealing water for half a minute. This means the water should be about 28 degrees.

Suggestions on freezing include cutting up the chicken into pieces exactly as you would cut them for frying. The next step is to cool the pieces and pack into moisture-vapor-proof containers or wrapping paper. Put the amount needed for each meal into a package. Make the package as airtight as possible.

Freeze quickly, and store at zero degrees or lower. If the home freezer is used, the chicken may be killed in the afternoon and frozen that night. If a commercial freezer locker is used, the chicken may be killed in the morning, and

Being Planned For Post Antelopes

Plans are underway, and funds are being provided this week to send the Post Antelope football squad and Coach "Bing" Bingham on a two week's outing and vacation before they are settled down to the serious business of grid training the first week in September.

The trip, according to fans who are soliciting funds from Post merchants and individuals to finance the outing, will be two-fold in purpose. It will enable last season's gridmen to get acquainted with the new boys, and will provide swimming, camping, hiking, calisthenics and other means of conditioning before training begins.

The boys will not indulge in grid-training during the outing, as interscholastic league rules provide that actual football training is not to begin before September 1.

If present plans are carried out the boys and their coach will leave here August 18 for Boaring Springs, Texas. Along with them will go a cook, plenty of grub, and camping paraphernalia.

Bathing trunks will be worn at the camp in lieu of football uniforms which are not to be issued until school begins.

TEXAS RANKS SECOND IN CHICKEN RAISING

There are now over 742,047,000 chickens on farms in the United States, according to a report released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The estimate, based on reports from rural mail carriers, crop and stock reporters and hatcheries, shows chicken population to be about the same as a year ago, but three per cent less than the 1936-35 average.

Texas is listed as having 42,459,000 chickens, more than any other state except Iowa, with 54,169,000.

taken to the locker early in the afternoon.

Pickles Are Easy To Make

Here are some favorite recipes of Garza County home demonstration clubwomen. The first is a timely recipe for making delicious bread and butter pickles, from the files of Mrs. W. M. Henderson:

Select 24 medium-size cucumbers, soak overnight in clear water, scrub with a brush and drain. Cut across and add eight medium-size sliced onions and one half cup of salt. Let stand one hour (do not drain). Add one quart of vinegar, two cups of sugar, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of mustard (seed or powder), one teaspoonful of celery seed, one teaspoonful of tumeric, one teaspoonful of black pepper. Boil three minutes and seal hot.

Mrs. George Evans of Justiceburg, home demonstration council chairman, has this excellent recipe for bakeless fruit cake:

Two lb. graham crackers
One lb. pecans
One package of marshmallows
One bottle of cherries, drained
One lb. of dates
One pint of cream

Roll crackers, set up other ingredients. Mix together well (with hands). Form into a loaf and chill until firm.

This is a good party dessert, according to Miss Jewell Hipp, Garza County home demonstration agent.

Four Cases Tried

Four cases were tried in county court Monday with the following results:

One liquor case, plea of guilty, $100 and cost fined; one reckless driving case, $25 and cost fined; one pistol carrying case, acquittal; one damaging of public property case, mistrial.

Apple growing has become an intensive and specialized industry, and one third of the U. S. crop each year is canned, frozen, dried, made into apple butter and other products.

MRS. HOMER KENT PRESSON

Durrett-Presson Vows Solemnized At Methodist Church On Saturday

In a formal double ring ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Miss Maxine Durrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Durrett, became the bride of Homer Kent Presson of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Presson, at 8 o'clock last Saturday evening. The Rev. A. B. Cockrell, pastor, officiated.

Pink tapers marked the bridal aisles which led to the altar of pink gladioli and carnations and greenery. White cathedral tapers in candelabra lined the chancel rail.

"Ave Maria" was offered by Miss Zora Ann Outlaw, organist, as Miss Johnnie Cook and Mrs. Lloyd Croslin of Lubbock lighted candles and "Liebstraum" was offered during the ceremony. A vested choir composed of Misses Mary Margaret Duckworth, Peggy Robinson, Ganell Babb, Melba Jo Miller, Norma Joy Hudman, Hazel Cash, and Mesdames Sam L. West, B. M. Shepherd and W. E. Pierce sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin." A musical benediction, "The Lord's Prayer," was sung by Miss Mary Evelyn Nease of Plainview.

Wears Bridal Pink Gown

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal pink Skinner's satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, shirred bodice, long sleeves tapering into points over the wrists and a full skirt tapering into a long train. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a poke bonnet adorned with pearlized orange blossoms and her bouquet was of Amazon lilies showered with white maline ribbon. The bride's only piece of jewelry was a pair of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. John Aikens of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride and matron of honor, was dressed in green and wore a headdress of pink flowers, velvet and a shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, pink maline and taffeta. Miss Eloise Clark of Amherst, maid of honor, wore yellow with a headdress and bouquet of blue iris. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Don Olson of Houston, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ernest Griffith of Lubbock and Miss Lucille Collier, wore pastel gowns and carried bouquets of blue iris, yellow roses and pink snapdragons with yellow maline streamers.

Children Assist

The flower girls, Jan Justice of Lubbock, Jan Thomas, Katherine Kahler and Carolyn Moore, were dressed in pastel colored floor-length dresses of organza. Jimmy Minor, ring bearer, and Roger Camp, train bearer, wore white satin suits.

Glendon Presson of Kingsville, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and Lloyd Croslin, Doyle Justice and Buck McNeil of Lubbock, and Steve Ford of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Wedding guests were entertained at a reception given in the church parlor following the ceremony. Those assisting with hospitalities were parents of the bride and bridegroom, members of the wedding party, Mrs. W. R. Graeber and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Presson.

The bride's table was laid with a white net and organza cloth and decorated with candelabra, festoons of white satin ribbon and pink gladioli and a three-tiered wedding cake topped with flowers and a miniature bride and bridegroom.

In General Accounting Office

After a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple returned here early this week for two days before leaving for their home, 3616 Connecticut Avenue in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Presson is an auditor at the General Accounting office. For travel, the bride wore a white wool crepe suit with blue and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Presson is a graduate of Post High School and the University of Texas and attended Texas State College for Women in Denton, Texas Technological College and Soil Ross College in Alpine. She is a member of the Post Junior Culture Club and Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, and taught formerly in Post and Lovington and Clovis, N. M. Mr. Presson is a graduate of Post High School and Tech and is now a senior law student at Georgetown University in Washington. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity.

Out-of-town wedding guests were from Lubbock, Clovis, Wichita Falls, Amherst, Plainview, Spur, Tahoka, Lovington, Houston, Kingsville and El Paso.

Lyntegar Co-Op Given Go-Ahead To Erect Building

Construction is expected to begin within a short time on a new office building for the Lyntegar Electric Co-Op in Tahoka, according to a news-story in last week's Lynn County News.

Plans were drawn for the building about a year ago, and the site was secured, but complications developed at the time which prevented going ahead with the structure, the story revealed. Permission to erect the building was secured from Claude Wickard, administrator of Rural Electrification, Department of Agriculture, last week when John Heck of Wilson, president of Lyntegar, and Tom Garrard, Tahoka, attorney for the cooperative, went to Washington by plane.

The news further revealed that plans have been completed for the annual meeting of Lyntegar members to be held at Tahoka on August 12. Preparations are being made to entertain the largest crowd since establishment of the Co-op.

Of all copper mined annually, the electrical industry uses more than half each year.

Forty-Six Million Meals Served To School Children Last Season

Uncle Sam helped Texas schools dish up more than 46,000,000 hot meals—nearly four million of them free and the rest below cost—for Texas school children during the past school year.

State Department of Education records show that the check totaled $11,469,307. Uncle Sam paid $4,152,948. Local funds paid the rest.

In addition, the state threw in approximately $42,000 to see that the national school lunch program in Texas, under which the meals were served and the bills paid, was administered properly.

At school year's end, June 30, Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, viewed the program as "one of the most worthwhile of the present U. S. government sponsored educational programs."

Half Price Offered
From his statistics he plucked these specific figures: 291,297 school children in 2,475 participating public schools had been served 46,138,266 hot meals, 3,716,472 of them free and the others at an average cost to the pupil of 25 cents, half the amount it would have cost elsewhere.

Texas had used all the money the federal government had allotted it for the purpose, had matched every federal dollar with approximately $1.70, although only dollar-for-dollar matching is required by the federal-state plan.

The federal contribution had included $592,893 toward the cost of lunch room equipment purchased by the schools of the state. "This enables a great many schools to set up lunch rooms which, without this aid, would find great difficulty in purchasing the necessary stoves and equipment necessary for the serving of food," Dr. Woods noted.

Legislature Was Willing
The 50th Legislature, seeking to perpetuate the state's participation in the program, allocated $27,380 per year for the next two years to administer the plan in Texas, well in advance of any congressional decision on how much the federal government would put into the plan next year.

The hot lunch plan, as now written, provides a federal-state matching plan past 1955. Until 1950 it will be a 50-50 proposition. From 1951 to 1955 the state must spend $1.50 to each federal $1. After 1955 the state must chip in $3 for each federal $1. Congressional appropriations are divided among participating states on a year to year basis.

"The program has been credited with promoting regular attendance at school in addition to the nutrition and health benefits which will accrue to growing children from a well balanced complete meal at noon time during the busy school days," Wood said.

Civic Groups Help
Parent-teacher groups, civic clubs and patrons have banded together in many communities to insure a rich school lunch program by sponsoring school gardens, canning and preserving fruits and vegetables during the summer months and in many cases help with the cooking and serving of the food during the school terms.

"Such groups and individuals are to be commended for their sponsorship and in improving the health of school children," he said.

Garza County has six lunch rooms, which will be continued during the 1947-48 school year, County Superintendent Dean Robinson said.

The cotton insect has started getting the one bale out of every seven that he usually gets in Texas. Insect control is necessary if Texas farmers get that extra bale to the gin.

NEWS NOTES FROM...

Duck Creek Soil—CONSERVATION DISTRICT OFFICE AT POST

Soil Conservation Pays

A survey of 3,792 farms on which soil conservation programs have been established shows that soil conservation pays. Farmers in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma claim soil and water conservation increased cotton production 31 per cent per acre, forage production on range land 12 per cent; 37 per cent more dairy cows, 46 per cent more wheat, and 49 per cent more grain sorghums.

Feed Crop Saved

Charley Brown, a farmer living 5 miles northwest of Post, said that soil and water conservation by terracing and contour farming meant the difference between a feed crop and a failure last year. Land terraced and contour farmed stored enough water in the soil to mature a feed crop. Without conservation the feed was a failure.

Vetch Acreage Increased

J. W. McQuien, cooperator 17 miles northeast of Post, this week told soil technicians assisting the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District that it takes more than terraces to maintain soil fertility. Terraces do not add fertility to the soil and they do not prevent soil erosion by wind.

McQuien said that soil in the Verbena Community was wearing out. When the land was first broke out, it all produced good crops. Now the sandy soils will hardly produce enough to pay cost of production. McQuien was among the first in his community to terrace his land. He practices contour farming and crop residue management. To complete his coordinated conservation program, he plans to establish 45 acres of a mixture of vetch and hairy vetch in his cropping system. His original plan was for 10 acres of vetch.

Will Use Fertilizer

McQuien plans to sow a mixture of 12 lb. of hairy vetch and 1-2 bushel of rye seed per acre planted in September. The vetch seed will be inoculated at planting time. As a test to determine the need for phosphate fertilizer, he plans to apply 150 lb. of phosphate fertilizer before sowing the vetch and rye mixture on 15 acres.

Barrow Farm Plan

Mrs. L. A. Barrow and T. A. Gilmore this week developed a coordinated conservation plan on their farm, 16 miles northeast of Post, with the assistance of soil technicians assigned to the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District. Their plan includes a three-year rotation of wheat and rye, cotton and feed crops over the cultivated land. Crop residue will be managed to prevent wind and water erosion. All of the cultivated land will be terraced and farmed on the contour.

Steep Land Planting

Gilmore thinks about 10 acres of land is too steep and gullied to continue to cultivate. He plans to establish African weeping lovegrass on this area in the fall.

Terracing Continues

Roy Blair, near Polar, this week started constructing terraces on his farm with a whirlwind terracer. The land was in wheat last spring.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

GETTING OUT

On The LIMB By EDDIE the EDITOR

THE WOMEN—God love 'em! If I ask their advice, I'm sunk. If I don't ask it, I'm really in a jam.

I've been in an awful mess, for some time now.

It started over the final touches in the Post Dispatch redecoration project.

Naturally, I wanted Venetian blinds. And I got several samples but had the poor judgment to ask my employes which they preferred.

Evelyn was out of the office, when I first showed the samples. Pauline wanted the natural color wood ones to match the bamboo frames that we have ordered for my Pacific Island pictures which will decorate the front office.

Ganell wanted white, because it would make the green of the glass look greener. Dan said it didn't make a damn to him if we used bright red ones. I still had another preference, apple green.

We had reached a heated pitch in the argument when Evelyn walked in, and said she didn't want any blinds at all. She thinks they will detract from the windows, which she likes just as they are.

She claims that, without blinds, she can see practically to the court house from her desk and this will save her a lot of leg work.

In frustration, most of us started agreeing on one subject: That what Evelyn wanted was to be seen working in our beautiful front office, and that Venetian blinds would prevent this—to a SLIGHT EXTENT.

In self defense, she started taking a public opinion survey, and asked everybody who entered the office: "If you were decorating this building, you wouldn't put up Venetian blinds, would you?"

Everybody she asked answered "No," emphatically.

Then I started a poll, asking everybody I saw, including some of the same people that Evelyn polled: "Sav, I'm toying with the idea of putting up Venetian blinds, what do you think of the idea?"

The answer I got was unanimous and emphatic: The general public thought it was a swell idea and agreed with me that apple green was the best shade.

Having settled this, I ordered the apple green blinds for one window and half of the door. Employees that don't like 'em can just work on the other side of the office, and all of the people that Evelyn polled can do their visiting on her side of the office, where everybody in town can see them.

But my problem doesn't end here.

Without asking anybody's advice, I chumped off and bought three new olive green, metal desks, with lots of big drawers, that open and close easily with a ball-bearing mechanism, and with keys for locking the desks.

The desks all have inlaid linoleum tops of matching green, but do you know? I had to put GLASS tops on them, because Ganell is used to an old-fashioned marble topped desk and didn't like the new one because I told her not to write on the linoleum.

Then I heard Evelyn complaining because her new desk doesn't have a "breadboard" on it. It seems she can't find a comfortable position for writing notes without this "breadboard" feature, which she also used to lean on while talking on the telephone.

But the greatest shock of all came from Pauline, whose new desk and posture chair

Attitude of Salesclerks Is Barometer of Business

Gloucester, Mass.—Not long ago Boston's famous cartoonist, Dahl, pictured a well-dressed gentleman standing on his head in a well-known department store trying to attract the attention of some sales-girls.

I know how this man felt standing on his head because I have been stood-up myself lately by salespersons—haven't you?

Why Do We Have Such Trouble?

There can be no question but what many of our retail stores have a bad war-time hang-over. During the war years most workers had to do double time. There was a shortage of both goods and services. We became accustomed to waiting in line behind the counter. Most customers were tolerant because they understood well the reasons for the lack of service.

Today, however, the quotas in most sales staffs is reasonably well filled. Hence, there is little excuse for the condescending attitude of the salesperson who feels she or he is doing us a favor to wait on us. I overheard one kindly old woman, whom I watched for some minutes trying to get a salesgirl to wait on her, finally retort: "Look a here, girlie, are you mad or just sultry?"

Salesclerks The Real Bottleneck

The salesclerks and traveling salesmen of the nation are a most important factor in determining future business conditions. You don't need to be undecided about the trend of business, just note how salesclerks act. They'll give you the answer. If they are courteous and anxious to serve, general business will be good for another year or two at least. If they are indifferent and slow to serve, look for a falling off in sales, accompanied by gradually increasing unemployment.

One reason for present indifference is the minimum wage laws of various states. When such minimums are highest, the service is poorest. Because the law prevents penalizing saucy and indifferent clerks with pay cuts, too many clerks don't care what they do or say. I believe in good wages. Every merchant should work for a high wage standard in his city; it helps business. But wages should be adjustable to the service rendered. Fixed wages and hours—either by laws or unions—encourage carelessness and ultimately will bring about general unemployment.

Customers Pay Dividends

Recent statistics indicate that department store sales may soon be lower than a year ago. With output of factories at extremely high levels and a large part of the urgent demand now over, sales departments must become a more important aspect of every industry. This is one reason why I invest my savings in merchandising chains rather than in factories or railroads.

Babson charts also indicate that the increase in business failures has already grown to a new high as compared to previous years. As retail trade becomes more competitive and customers seek bargains and discounts, or refuse to buy, this trend is likely to continue. This increase in failures is largely due to the sloppy attitude of salesclerks.

Advertising

In the light of current trends, customers can no longer be treated with indifference. After spending money on advertising to attract people into your store to buy, pay more attention to them when they do come in. This will greatly help your advertising to "pull" better and show big profits. Good advertising and good salesclerks should go hand-in-hand like a lock and a key or a hatchet and handle.

The hope chest dates back farther than any other piece of furniture.

Editor's Note—The author of this column spent part of the war years as an overseas employee of the U. S. Government. By EVELYN BOYD

From the August Forbes: "The United States is more cursed by featherbedding than any other country. Featherbedding is a cardinal sin. The new Taft-Hartley Law forbids an employer to pay for services not performed." Perhaps the most flagrant featherbedding is perpetrated in operating our railroads. The public should demand abolition of railway featherbedding. It costs the American people many, many millions, utterly unjustly.

"Declares the 'Railway Age'—The Big Five railroad labor organizations have already exacted many millions of dollars from the railroads in back pay to yard engineers and trainmen for work they did not do, but which was done by road trainmen and engineers. They are already exacting huge amounts each month for the payment of more men in the crews of trains and engines than are needed to perform the duties. But such exactions are only small change compared to the new demands these unions are now making.

"For example, one of the new rules demanded by the Big Five unions would forbid the member of a train crew from so much as throwing a switch in a yard—and would require the employment of extra yardmen for this duty, even if it had to be done only once or twice a day.

"Another rule the Big Five are insisting on is one which would require the railroads to pay wages to an engine crew for each unit of a Diesel locomotive. Some of these locomotives are made up of three or four units—and the Big Five want the railroads to pay one crew for operating the locomotive and two or three additional crews for doing nothing whatever.

will be only a part of the furnishings of a first class advertising department as soon as the carpenters get our new horseshoe-style counter finished.

I moved Pauline's old, beat-up, antique desk back to my private cubbyhole and gave her one of the three new desks, and bought her a comfortable, steel swivel chair with soft leather upholstery. And does she use it?

We've had these new desks for several weeks now, but the old-fashioned, comparatively small desk in my office is still the department for cosmetics, mirrors, big purses—much too heavy for her to be lugging around—Coke bottles, handkerchiefs and wearing apparel and other articles of little or no use to me.

Woe is me. I ought to know better than to ask for advice regarding things I want to do. And I know better than to not ask for advice.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

LICENSED PLUMBERS—Now that everyone is anxious to get connections made with the City sewer system in Lorenzo, Mayor Joe Jennings again calls attention to the ordinance that requires all plumbing work be done by a licensed plumber, otherwise it will not be approved by the city plumbing inspector. There are 27 duly licensed plumbers in town now. Both of these gentlemen are busy as bees just at this time but they will get around to everyone as fast as possible.—Lorenzo Tribune.

BESIDES IT'S HIGH—Last Sunday we saw Ruidoso for the first time. We don't know which was our greatest disappointment—seeing Ruidoso for the first time or our first look at the Pecos river. In either case the source of greatest disappointment was the same—no water.

To a guy who was born in the Ozarks and who later traveled every foot of the Rockies from the New Mexico line on up through Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and into Canada, a resort without water is like a shirt without a tail—'tain't complete.—The Seminole Sentinel.

FOUR SIGNS FOR HIGHWAYS—New highway signs carrying current population figures will be erected next week by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to Aubrey Arnett, chairman of a committee in charge of planning the new markers.

Four of the signboards will be built. They will be three feet by five feet, with black, luminous letters on a white background. They will bear the words, "Welcome to Levelland," and will display the present population of this city. Outmoded figures on Texas Highway department signs will be painted out. Arnett reported.—The Hookley County Herald.

RAINMAKING—Mr. Taek is planning to sponsor some interesting rain-making experiments, following an example set by The Arizona Republic, a newspaper published at Phoenix.

A plane carrying dry ice flew over some cumulus clouds high above the Roosevelt Dam watershed. It dropped small shreds of the dry ice. Down came the rain in sheets, while clouds which received no dry ice floated on unrelieved.

Dr. Irving Langmuir, Nobel prize winning scientist employed by General Electric, says: "If your clouds are high enough, I see no reason why a concerted cooperative program of flying should not double or treble the amount of annual precipitation on your watershed."

Dr. Langmuir directed the research work at Phoenix. When cloud conditions are right he says that 300,000 tons of water can be precipitated by a dollar's worth of dry ice.

The temperature of dry ice is around 100 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. The top of a high cloud may well be below freezing and yet the cloud may refuse to condense. It remains super-cooled vapor.

But along comes a bit of dry ice. It leaves a train of wet ice crystals as it falls. These generate other crystals—billions of them. Down they go, chilling the whole cloud into a rainstorm.

In the largest of several rain-making flights sponsored by the Phoenix newspaper, 500 pounds of finely separated dry ice was dropped over the Roosevelt Dam area on July 21. Rain squalls followed instantly from clouds treated with dry ice. These pioneer tests are hailed as the start of something that may, in time, double or triple Arizona rainfall.—Amarillo News.

within my financial means, I steered myself away from a lot of bothersome and expensive "featherbedding" and I don't feel at all sorry for the guy who was silly enough to fall into such a trap.

NEW LABOR CAMP—Snyder's campaign for a first class migratory labor camp by harvest time got into "road gear" Wednesday morning when Bill Schiebel, Scurry County Chamber of Commerce manager, began a drive in the Snyder business district to raise $600 for the camp.

The $600 the Chamber of Commerce is soliciting will be the part Snyder business and professional men are asked to contribute toward the labor reception center.

In order to get the labor camp properly set up at the city fairground and let a block north of the square, the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service will contribute $300 and Scurry County will contribute $300.

Each fall more than 2,000 migratory farm laborers come through Snyder and only a first class labor reception center can properly accommodate the harvest hands.

With a labor reception center in operation and a full-time caretaker employed, labor crews can register; farmers of Scurry County can leave word as to how many hands they need, when wanted, etc.—Scurry County Times.

Rot on late peaches, plums, apricots and related fruits can be controlled with a spray consisting of three to five pounds of wettable sulphur in 50 gallons of water.

Large Crowd of Boys and Girls Attends Garza County 4-H Rally

More than 100 persons attended the 4-H boys and girls rally at Camp Post Saturday. The girls studied handicraft during the morning while the boys were engaged in a ball tournament.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at noon. Twenty-two home demonstration clubwomen assisted with the serving. The boys and girls brought their own sandwiches, which were served with potato salad and pickles provided by the Garza County home demonstration clubs.

The luncheon was followed by a program, on which Judge J. Lee Bowen and Dowe Mayfield discussed the value of youth training program and Mrs. Wilburn Morris discussed the scope of 4-H club work.

Ribbons Are Awarded

Miss Jewell Hipp, county home demonstration agent, awarded ribbons earned in a countywide dress revue this summer to the following:

Ten-year-division—first, Luona
Stone of Graham; second, Wyvonne
Morris of Graham; third, Janice Lobban of Justiceburg; fourth, Darrene Howell of Cross Roads;
fifth, Gloria Young of Graham;
sixth, Meiva Jean Oden of Graham; special recognition, Mary Carmen Smith of Justiceburg,
Clara Fay Ferguson of Graham,
Norma Ritchie of Close City,
Beverly Bartlett of Close City,
Glenda Belle Webb of Cross Roads, Willie Faye Graves of Cross Roads and Reba Jean Hays of Post.

Eleven-12-13-year division—first, Charlotte Brown of the Post
Senior Club; second, Glenda Mae Young of Graham; third, Marceline Oden of Graham; fourth, Lois Ritchie of Close City; sixth, Willie Mae Nelson of Southland; special recognition, Lillian Bayer of Close City, Geraldine and Wy-vonne Etheridge of Graham, Sue Stephens of Post and Mollie and Sedalia Washburn of Close City.

Going To A. & M.

Jean Kiker was awarded a ribbon as county winner. It was announced that she will enter the state dress revue at the 4-H Roundup at Texas A. & M. College in College Station September 3-5. Other 4-H girls attending the roundup will be Lillian Bayer and Lois Ritchie, both of Close City. Mrs. R. A. McLaurin, Garza County chairman of 4-H sponsors, or Mrs. Wilburn Morris will accompany the girls to College Station, the agent said. Miss Hipp will leave September 1 to assist with the roundup.

During the handicraft session, leather work was taught by

Charlotte Brown, Lenona Stone and Jean Kiker and shell jewelry making was taught by Mrs. Wilburn Morris of Graham, Mrs. R.
A. McLaurin of Justiceburg, and Mrs. A. A. Ritchie of Post, sponsors of girls' 4-H clubs.

Prizes Are Given

The shell jewelry made in the demonstrations was given as prizes in a contest among the girls to see who could get acquainted with the most people at the rally. The prizes went to Charlotte Brown, first; Anita Kennedy, second, and Wilms
Welch, third. Wilma and Glenda Mae Young tied for third place, but Wilma won out in a draw.

The games and contests were directed by Lillian Bayer and Jean Kiker.

At the conclusion of the program, 50 of the boys and girls attended a theatre party at the Garza Theatre.

During a short business session, the girls discussed their fall exhibits and voted that each club will have an exhibit and that ribbons will be presented to both clubs and individuals.

News Briefs:

In an effort to impress her "Uncle Dick" Dickinson, who had just arrived from New York City, Nancy "Rockefeller" Power was throwing money to the four winds Tuesday evening, and now, her father, J. N. Power, is 30 dollars in the hole.

While J. N. and Dick were rolling up the awning and locking the store, Nancy picked her daddy's pocket, opened his bank book, into the southwest wind and scattered bills and checks in every direction, then attempted a "getaway" onto the highway and into the speeding 6 o'clock traffic.

J. N. chased and caught Nancy while Dick chased and caught checks and bills, all that the wind hadn't carried to Spur.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman and two children are on vacation, but they don't know where. That is, they didn't know just where they were going when they left here Monday but they had a hunch they might see Yellowstone National Park before returning.

Post friends of the Elwood Burdettes of Abilene will be saddened to know that Mr. Burdette has been quite ill since last September. The Burdettes, former Post citizens, moved from here to Abilene. Mr. Burdette is manager of the grocery department at Thornton's and Mrs. Burdette is associated with Minter's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark and son of Plainview spent the weekend here in the Clark home.

Mrs. Imogene Jewell has leased the Rodgers Hotel from O. M.
Beck of Lubbock and began operating it August 1.

The building, which formerly was managed by C. O. Fox, has been entirely redecorated. New wallpaper, refinished woodwork, new rugs and new Venetian blinds have been added to the interior, and the exterior has been repainted.

Across the Tracks

By H. H. H.

Admitting that the Atomic bomb is a pretty horrible piece of machinery, we still maintain that man really outdid himself in the creation of diabolical gadgets when he invented the bicycle. Maybe we're an old fogey—but the sight of youngsters peddling heedlessly up, down, and across main traveled highways and through busy intersections, with little regard for motorized traffic, invariably gives us a good case of jitters.

These kiddoes should be made to realize that—even though they are on wheels—they are still, in effect, a pedestrian, and must govern their antics accordingly. They should be required to ride their bikes on the LEFT side of the road—facing the oncoming traffic and they should understand that at no time do they have right of way over motorized traffic.
Furthermore, they should use a little more discretion in parking their bikes.

It's disconcerting to attempt to enter a store, or drive into a service station through a maze of bicycles parked in the doorway or drive. We may be branded as an old killjoy for setting forth such opinions as these, but we are concerned only by the welfare and safety of the kids in question.
To our certain knowledge, there have been two bicycle-auto mishaps on Post streets within the last several days, and in one case —although the boy escaped with only bruises and scratches—his bike was demolished.

There must be a special Providence that looks after kids on bicycles—at least we hope there is.

Sincerely,
HANS HUDMAN

The Easter eggs were made of gumdrops and attached to one of Garza County's natural fir trees, and the arrangement made an attractive centerpiece for her pale green angelfood cake that had pale green icing.

Corbin said the road would be worth a lot to the counties it would traverse, "even if it is built in segments."

Some Paving Finished

Roberts said one-half of the 400-mile Texas section already is paved or has been set up for construction.

He called attention to the highway department's $1,000,000 investments in scenic highways in the Davis Mountains, and the federal government's investment in the Big Bend International Park.

Corbin said Oklahoma oil field workers have to drive to Amarillo or Wichita Falls to get to Oklahoma, and the new route would cut 150 miles from the trip.

He also stressed the agricultural angle, stating that in Dawson County, one ranch was sold into cotton farms after one unit of the proposed highway was started there.

Corbin also pointed out that the transcontinental tourists who came through Texas would pay gasoline taxes in Texas instead of other states traversed by present routes.

Telephone companies the country over share many problems—one of them is the record number of daily long distance calls now being made. Along with this is the fact that most companies are operating with limited long distance facilities. This naturally slows long distance service sometimes, especially during peak hours. So, if you have a short wait occasionally, it simply means that lines are busy here, or along the route to the city you are calling.
