War Chest $500 Shy Goal With Only Five Days To Go

Contributions Total Well Over $2,000

Although only five more days remain before the Community War Chest drive is officially closed, County Chairman Homer McCrary was hopeful this morning that the remaining, approximately $500 of the quota, would be subscribed when the campaign ends November 1.

The campaign the past week has lagged, but a few contributions made each day have brought the grand total to well over $2,000, said McCrary. Three rural communities, Graham, Pleasant Valley, and Grassburr have not reported their campaign results, and it is expected that these reports will add considerably to the county's total.

Last week, with approximately $1,700.00 subscribed, Garza county was leading region 17 in the United War Chest drive. Eighteen counties comprise the district, and all were falling short of their set quotas. This county had reached a percentage of 63 of its $2,700.00 quota at that time.

Campaign officials this morning were studying the situation which sees Garza county falling in its first financial drive of the war emergency, and were setting plans to launch a second push.

The remainder of the drive will be a voluntary plan, and those who wish to add to their earlier contributions, and those who have been overlooked by a solicitation committee, are asked to make their donations with Ira Lee Duckworth at the First National bank or to McCrary, at his appliance store.

Lubbock Army Air Field To Fold

The Lubbock Army Air Field at Lubbock will be placed on the temporary inactivation list on or before November 15, it was announced from offices of the central flying command in San Antonio Monday.

The Lubbock field at present is an instrument training school. It was activated on August 1, 1941, and trained hundreds of cadets in twin engine advanced instruction until Jan. 10, 1945 when the program was changed to instrument work.

The fact that LAAF has been placed on "temporary inactive" status gave rise to some feeling that it is possible that LAAF may later be restored to active status. A group of Lubbock citizens recently made a trip to Washington in the interest of keeping the air field at Lubbock.

Nation To Honor Navy Saturday

Saturday, October 27, a grateful nation will pay tribute to the gallant fighting craft of a mighty land and to those who sailed them—the valiant men who wear the Navy blue.

Without the Navy the war could not have been won. Beginning with convoy duty in transporting supplies to Europe, the Navy progressed through the war by transporting men and landing them on invasion beaches as well as running the supply line for these men.

Some of the most heroic episodes of the war were naval battles and some of these battles definitely turned the tide in our favor. Off shore batteries in support of land fighting have won many victories. On and on could go the saga.

The crowning glory for the Navy was the signing of the Japanese surrender terms on board the USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay.

We in Garza county are proud of our boys in Navy blue. We extend our sympathy to the families of the sailors who will not return; we are happy with those whose sailors have been discharged; and for those who get remain in service "May your return be safe and soon."

A Grand Old Lady Retires

The retirement of Mrs. Eva Warren Bailey as active business manager of the Dispatch Publishing Company became effective this month. She has felt for some time that she would like a rest after her many years in the business world.

We feel that her friends are indeed glad that Mrs. Bailey can now have the leisure time to enjoy things which formerly were denied her by her work. As she was privileged to work at a job she liked, now she is privileged to enjoy the fruits of her labors. At present she is devoting herself to housewifely duties, saying she "didn't know there were so many things to do at home."

We want to pay especial tribute to her for her fine job of carrying on her part of the publishing work while her son, the editor-publisher, was making his contribution to our country's war effort by serving three years with the Navy.

Associated with her husband, the late E. A. Warren, Sr. in publishing the old Post City Post, in the days before typesetting machines were a part of small town newspaper plants, she set practically all the type for the paper by hand. She has seen the newspaper business progress from the horse and buggy days to the machine age and has had a vital part in work related to the business. After her husband's death in 1925, a partnership was formed by her and E. A. Warren, Jr., which has continued through the years.

During these years she performed numerous duties of the newspaper composing room, assisted with the advertising and handled the circulation department of the newspaper.

Mrs. Bailey is a person of many talents and her career in the newspaper field is marked by her untiring and energetic efforts on behalf of the paper and its readers. While associated with the paper she was a veritable who's who—a constant first aider to the staff and to her many friends in the county.

We wish her much happiness in her retirement, and want her to know that she is missed by "all hands" down at the plant.

District Rotary Governor Makes Official Visit To Post Club Tuesday

Charles Peyton, governor of the 127th District of Rotary International, paid his official visit to the Post club Tuesday. The governor met with the Rotary directorate and committee chairmen Monday night and discussed club problems. Tuesday at the regular luncheon hour he gave a very fine talk on "Service Above Self," the slogan of Rotary clubs.

Mr. Peyton will visit the sixty clubs of the district. He has already visited thirty-two of them since becoming governor of the district last July. Among clubs visited in this area in the past few weeks were those of Sweetwater, Big Spring, O'Donnell, Midland, Odessa and Seagraves. He visited the Lubbock club Wednesday, the Tahoka and Seminole clubs today and will go to Brownfield Friday.

A feature of the luncheon Tuesday was the musical portion of the program presented by the pupils of Mrs. J. A. Stallings novelty singing class. Mrs. Peyton accompanied the governor to Post and at the luncheon the group sang "Beautiful Lady" in her honor. The governor was also singled out as the chorus sang "You Made Me Love You." The group is comprised of Edwanda Davies, Leque Stevens, Faye Ruth Hamilton, Anita Kennedy, Sue Bell Brister and Robert Smith.

Mr. Peyton is well known in this area. He was associated with Bell Telephone Company for 35 years and has served as president of the Temple and Cleburne Rotary clubs.

His home is in Cleburne, where he serves as manager of the chamber of commerce.

Mid-Night Show Is Planned At Theatre On Halloween

On the screen a weird picture, M-G-M's "Bewitched" starring Phyllis Baxter will be shown. Co-starring with Miss Baxter will be Edmond Green, Henry H. Daniels, Jr., and Horace McNally. Edwards says—"Make up a party and come to the show—it will be a fitting climax to your night of fun."

The James C. Cole American Legion Post of this city will have a get-together the night of November 11, according to an announcement this morning by T. L. Jones, commander of the post.

The get-together will be strictly a social and no business will be conducted. The commander urges that all Legionnaires attend the monthly meeting November 6, to help with plans for the entertainment and to discuss an important issue that will come before the meeting.

Killing Frost Covers County Monday Morning

Following in the wake of a sand storm which struck early Sunday morning and developed into a norther before mid-afternoon, a heavy frost, the first of the season, blanketed the county Monday morning.

Examination of cotton and grain sorghum leaves, several hours after the sun made its appearance Monday, revealed that the frost was definitely a "killing" one. "Cotton and the biggest percent of grain leaves were killed," reported one Garza county farmer who called at the Dispatch office Tuesday morning.

Effect of the frost will, in most cases, be beneficial to farmers as it will stop growth of cotton and cause the leaves to shed, thereby making the cotton open earlier for harvesting. Some late feed may be seriously damaged, but the bulk of grains may go on a few days before the killing process is completed, and may go far enough along to mature. Considerable damage was reported to feed in some areas caused by the high wind of Sunday which caused the stalks to topple over.

The frost, accompanied by a low temperature of 29 degrees, came about two weeks earlier than the average killing frost date.

County Taxes Set At $82,577, Schools Getting $19,368

Garza County tax valuation for 1945 tax assessments amount to $4,313,467, Percy Printz, assessor-collector, reports. The figures show a slight decrease over renditions of last year when the amount totaled $4,363,634.

State and county taxation of property amounts to $60,372.46 with school assessments of $19,368. The 1945 total assessments amount to $82,577.24, as compared to $83,692.30 last year.

The report covering livestock shows that 25,000 head of cattle have been rendered, 1,200 horses and mules, 1000 sheep, 100 goats, and 1100 hogs.

The number assessed poll taxes is 1,205.

MEXICAN STABBED TO DEATH SUNDAY OVER IN 'FLATS'

A sixteen-year-old Slaton Mexican youth is being held in the county jail as outgrowth of the fatal stabbing early Sunday morning of Santos Garcia, Mexican of this city, in the Mexican section of Post.

Garcia was "knifed" about 1 o'clock Sunday morning at a Mexican dance over in the "flats." He was stabbed in the left chest and died almost instantly, according to information given the Dispatch. His body was shipped Sunday night to Rockdale for burial.

Sheriff Percy Printz said he found the boy Sunday afternoon near Slaton and returned him to Post for questioning. The youth, according to the sheriff, said he was in Post Saturday night and that he was over in the Mexican section. Five or six other Mexicans were picked up for questioning, but were later released, asserted the official.

Wednesday a petition was filed in juvenile court charging the youth as being a delinquent child. The case was set for hearing November 5 in county court.

New 1946 Ford To Be Viewed By Public Friday

Friday will be V-8 day in Post. Residents of Garza county, who have not seen a new car since 1942, will get their first opportunity to view the 1946 Ford on that day.

The Outlaw Motor Company of this city is presenting the new deluxe model V-8 Ford, which has already arrived in Post, along with Ford Motor Company dealers the nation over.

"Some highlight surprises are in the new Ford," said N. C. Outlaw, manager of the local firm. The new Ford is more streamlined than ever, with a wider hood and massive, bright, horizontal grilles, asserted Mr. Outlaw. Two great engines are offered in the 1946 models—100-horsepower V-8, the most efficient ever used in a Ford car, and the lively, improved 90-horsepower Six.

Colorful new fabrics, rich plastics, simulated leather trim, are offered in two-tone interiors, and the dealer.

"There are many new advantages shown in the 46s, you'll just have to come down to see them for yourself," Outlaw concluded.

Mrs. O. R. Cook Presented Award On Parents Day

Mrs. O. R. Cook of this city was awarded a prize Saturday night as the parent with the record of most children attending Texas Technological college. The award was made by Troy Caldwell, president of the student body, in a colorful between-halves ceremony at the Tech-Baylin football game which climaxed Tech Parents Day. Mrs. Cook has a daughter, Polly, now in Tech and nine other children who have previously enrolled. The Cooks have won this honor several times before.

Another award was presented at that time to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Schenberger of Galveston as the parents traveling the greatest distance of 585 miles to attend this celebration.

Approximately 300 families registered for the annual event this year and approximately 75 were served dinner at 5:15 p. m.

The parents of Red Raider players were honored at the football game and reserved seats were provided them. The Tech band played for the presentation ceremony and formation of Double T while parents stood for the Mad-dog song.

Campaign To Be Launched October 29

"All-Out" Effort Will Be Made To Meet Garza Quota

"Our servicemen have finished their job—let's finish ours," is the expression of T. R. Greenfield, war bond chairman of the county, who is making final plans for the opening of the Eighth Victory Loan drive here on Monday, Oct. 29.

Quota set for Garza county is $235,000.00; for the nation fifteen billion dollars.

The expressed opinion of business men the world over is that even though the war is won, the cost goes on. It will cost millions to bring our armies back and its just as expensive an operation as it was in taking them over. Meanwhile, thousands of our men who stay behind in occupied territory must receive their pay, be clothed, housed and fed at Uncle Sam's expense.

Too, this group of businessmen believe firmly and sincerely that we owe our wounded men a return ticket to health. Today, the rehabilitation and care of over 300,000 wounded are among America's gravest peacetime problems.

This obligation is one which every American can now proudly share in by investing in Victory Bonds during this last drive.

It's too much to expect that the cost of a war which lasted many years can just stop overnight. Although the fighting is over the paying has to go on for some time to come. So once more everybody in America can go "all-out" for a cause that will benefit our men in uniform, our nation and ourselves.

With this thought in mind a large group of business men in Post are indicating through the advertising columns of the Dispatch that they intend to support the Eighth War Loan drive. Turn to the advertising space in the paper and read the ads—these men have faith in America's future.

Former Dispatch Employee Writes To Paper "Gang"

An interesting letter has been received from Curtis Neal, SK1c, of the Navy. Curtis, a former employee of the Dispatch, is assigned to the USS Biloxi. Assignments now are confined mostly to transporting recovered allied military personnel to Okinawa from Nagasaki, Kyushu and other parts of Japan.

Curtis sent the Dispatch several Japanese type characters as a compliment from the Nipponese press. (Any erroneous reflection upon the character of any person or firm appearing on the right will be gladly and promptly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editors. Provided he or she will select the proper characters of type required.)

"The building housing the printing material was completely demolished along with almost everything else in Nagasaki. Beneath walls that are frightfully leaning and the collapsed roof, are scattered heaps of type and the remains of a small hand-press and various type of crude printing equipment, along with a few reams of paper."

"The Army moved in today and augmented by a few Marines officially occupy the city tomorrow. As for us, we are proceeding to Wakayama, Honshu tomorrow afternoon."

"As yet the disbursing officer has been unable to procure our supply of yen, therefore what money we have must be obtained by other means. So far I have accumulated thirty three yen and sixty yensen ($33.60 Japanese-evaluated at 15 yen per dollar in U. S. currency.)

"I might say that for a pack of cigarettes or a bar of soap you can practically buy the entire city, although prices are rising rapidly."

"The combined respect and fear of the Marines is quite comical, but self explanatory in the propaganda which Japs have been fed about the prerequisites of a Marine, definite proof that he has murdered at least one of his parents."

"I spoke with a RAMP from East Texas who was interned with Jack Turner of Slaton for over three years. They were captured in Java in '42. The fellow weighed 98 pounds August 15, prior to leaving the Biloxi in Okinawa we went to sick bay the

Sailor Karr Writes Interesting Letter

Archie B. Karr, RM2c, husband of the former Miss Helen Kenley of Brownfield and former resident of Post, wrote her recently that he is expecting to be back in the states before long. Karr is a member of the famous battleship USS Mississippi and has been in the service twenty-eight months, all of which have been spent aboard the Mississippi.

The ship was hit by Japanese suicide planes twice, the first time in Lingayan Gulf off Luzon and the second time during the landing of troops off Okinawa. The loss of life in both instances was great.

The present Mississippi, one of the oldest ships in the U. S. Navy, was commissioned in 1917. This is the third ship to bear the name Mississippi. On the fateful day of December 7, the ship was one of the few undamaged battleships and was operating in the North Atlantic with her sister ships of the battle fleet three, the New Mexico and Idaho. Already an old lady, virtually untried in war, the Mississippi became the bulwark of defense against the rapidly approaching Nips.

From the icy waters of the North Atlantic to the sweltering Solomons; from the foggy Aleutians to the typhoon-filled waters of the China Sea, the Mississippi has been fighting in this war. She has supported practically every major amphibious landing in the Pacific, firing more than 12 million pounds of steel at the enemy, probably more than any other ship in all history. She has participated in the operations of Kiska, Kwajalein, Makin, Tarawa, Wotje, Kaveing, Peleliu, Leyte, Luzon, Cebu, and was flagship of Rear Admiral Oldendorf's Task group, crossing the famous Navy "T" formation, in relating the above events Karr said: "This was one of the most exciting moments of my whole life."

Karr gave a vivid description of things he saw while in Tokyo bay. "The first thing of importance one sees 'Mount Fujiyama. It is 12,384 feet high and is very beautiful. Usually some entered the peak of it is in the clouds most of the time late in the evening and early in the morning it can be seen very clearly from where we were anchored. It was this way from where we were located and was clearly visible even though we were fifteen or twenty miles away. There were lots of trees and everything seemed to be very beautiful and peaceful. From where we were anchored there were several large factories visible and we were able to see people on the beach."

Karr wears the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with seven stars on it and also the Philippine bar with two stars.

Slaton Holds Jinx

Over Antelopes, Edged Out 2-0

Honoring fathers of players and playing before packed stands, the Antelopes were noised-out 2-0, by Slaton-Tigers Friday night on the home grid when the two rivals mixed before a crowd of between 3,000 and 3,500 spectators. A fizzle on a "quick-kick" in the second quarter, while the Antelopes had their backs to their own goal posts, gave the visitors the lone counter, after the Antelopes had out-played them from the starting whistle. The locals threatened several times to score over the heavy Tiger team, and several times were inside Slaton's 10-yard marker, but never being able to count. Had the Antelopes been playing any other team of the district, other than Slaton, they would have been the victor. Slaton has held a 17-year old jinx over the Antelopes and locals simply can not break it. They always play "heads-up" ball when they tangle with the Tigers, but a last-minute touchdown, safety, or a bad break always fouls them up... the score is always close, but in Slaton's favor. Fathers of the Antelope players, wearing their son's jersey number, were honored and given side-line seats at the game. This Friday afternoon the Antelopes will go to Andrews for a conference game. A garden keeper who has better luck with growing things than others is said to have a green thumb. It is a mark of honor, a tribute to an inner knowledge.

J. B. Evans Visits Family

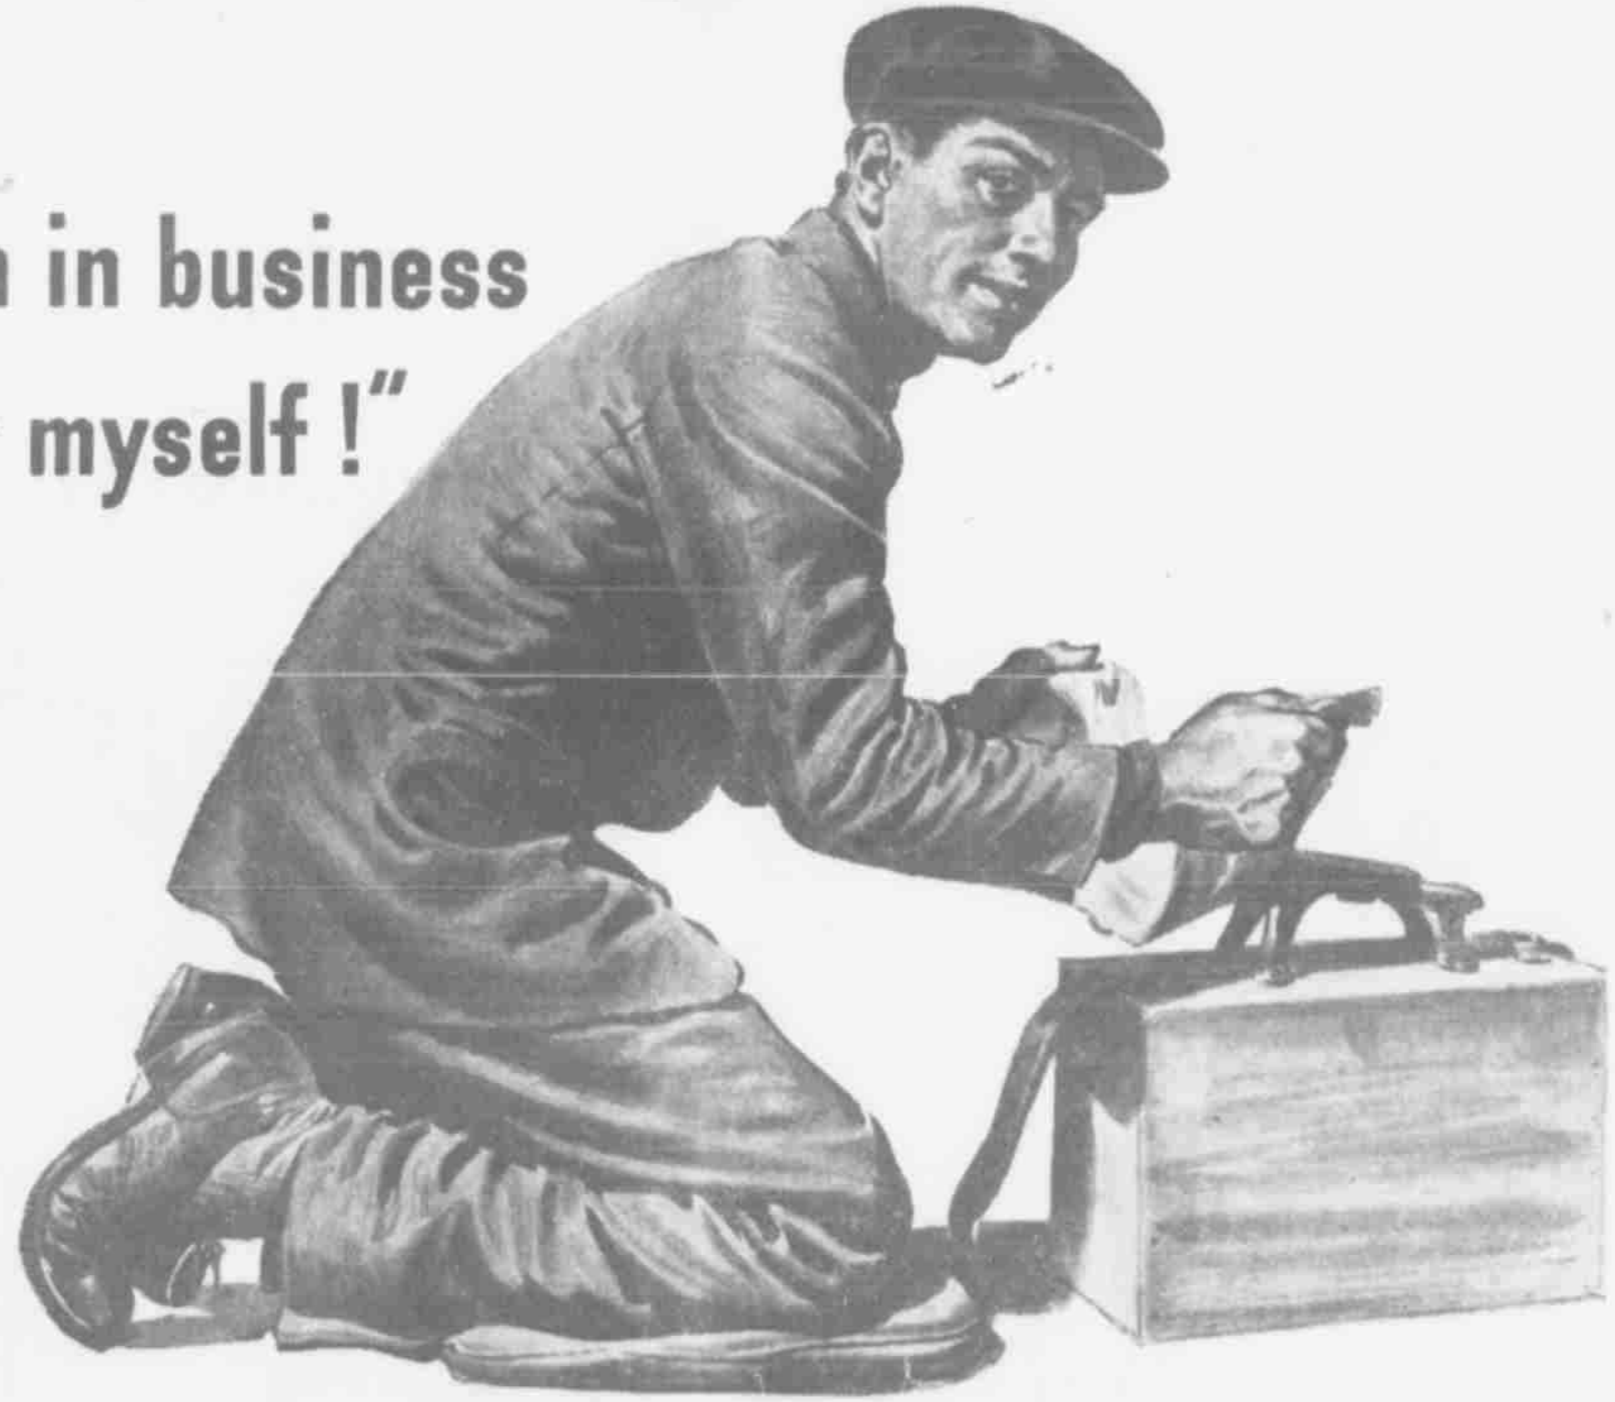

Pfc. J. B. Evans spent a five-day pass here last week visiting his wife and children. The Post soldier is now at Camp Fannin. He was sent several weeks ago to an embarkation port in California. "They literally jerked me off the gang-plank" and sent me back to Texas, saying they didn't need me overseas," he told a Dispatch reporter. J. B. said he was just marking time now just like millions of other fellows. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stoker visited here Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Stoker. They were en route to O'Donnell where they are transacting business for Mrs. Hallie Day, Mrs. Stoker's sister.

Mrs. Maud Thomas is leaving this week for Center, Texas, to be with her sister through an operation. Baltimore, Md., was the first American city to have gas (1816). Buy A Victory Bond Today!

"So I'm in business for myself!"

Shine, mister—? Yep, I'm in business for myself. Not a very good business, I guess. Funny. That used to be an old dream of mine—way back in 1945. A business of my own. Never thought it would work out this way... Shine, mister—? Those were the days. I was making more money than ever in my life. And buying Victory Bonds on the Payroll plan—setting up the nest egg Mabel and I thought would someday go a long way to help me toward independence. Shine, mister—? Yep. We had it figured out. We'd keep on buying bonds; keep on saving. And at the maturity of those bonds, we'd have had it all—and more. Four dollars for every three when our "E" bonds matured! And then—my own radio repair place! Had lots of ideas. It would have been a big success, too... Not quite enough gumption, I suppose, back in 1945. I sloughed off on my bond buying.

Even began to cash in on the ones I had... Shucks, the war was over and I thought 'So what?' Guess I've been a terrible fool... Shine, Mister—? The difference between success and failure can be a small difference—the difference between sticking to a resolution or dropping it. Keep those War Bonds—and buy more and more Victory Bonds! They can mean your own business—your own home—the education of your children. Think of your future—hang on to your bonds!

Charlie Pierce Visits In City, Veteran Of European Campaign

Charlie Pierce visited briefly with Post friends the first of the week. He was enroute to Fort Worth from Fort Bliss, where he received his discharge Sunday, October 21.

Charlie served as a T-5 with Co. A of the 46th Inf. Bn., which spearheaded the Normandy invasion and drove across France to Germany. He saw some of the toughest parts of the European war. His company once was lost in the German forest and suffered many casualties. Luckily, Charlie received no wounds.

He also participated in the drive on the Rhine river where American forces met the Russians. He wore many ribbons, as well as the Expert Rifleman and Combat Infantryman's badges. There were 5 major battle stars on his ETO ribbon.

After a visit with his mother and other relatives Charlie plans to return to Post to make his home.

Ex-Students Witness Post-Slaton Game

The Post-Slaton football game proved to be quite an event as it drew ex-students of Post High from different towns and colleges all over the State back home to cheer for the Antelopes. The names of a few who returned home last week end for the big occasion were: Marion Hodge, Mary Helen Robertson, Betty Jo Stevens, Alene Jones and roommate Martha Beking, all from Tech; Kathryn Childress and Betty Sue Ingram from ACC; Mary Margaret Duckworth and Zora Anne Outlaw from Baylor; Hazel Cash from McMurray and Theda Gilmore.

Though there were many extra rah's heard from the few who were lucky enough to be here, there were probably many more unseen and unheard coming from those who were not quite so fortunate.

WORD RECEIVED FROM ANOTHER POST BOY

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Tucker received word from their son, Sgt. Max Tucker, saying that he is now in Otaru, Hokkaido, a small island at the northern tip of Japan. He expects to be home by February if the point system remains as it now stands. Max has been overseas serving in the Pacific theatre since May of 1944.

Postwar Agriculture

Demands

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes.

Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Sidelights . . .

FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.
By Congressman Geo. Mahon

Figures make dry reading, but I believe the following will be of interest. A few days ago the House, on the recommendation of the Appropriations Committee, rescinded fifty-two billion dollars ($52,000,000,000) in appropriations—money which had heretofore been approved for war spending. The biggest slice was recovered from the Army—thirty billion ($30,000,000,000). From the Navy seventeen billion ($17,000,000,000) was recovered. The remaining amounts were subtracted from other agencies.

In money World War I cost us twenty-six billion dollars (26,000,000,000). Total expenditures for World War II, including the money spent on national defense just prior to the war, will exceed three hundred and forty billion dollars ($340,000,000,000). The amount of money being recovered now as a result of the end of this war is twice as much as the cost of World War I. And these figures do not take into account the greatest cost, the cost of human life.

Recently a visitor from Lubbock told me that he planned to attend the Sunday morning service at a certain Washington church. I cautioned him to arrive at the church by ten-thirty or he probably could not get a seat. He later reported that he followed my instructions, but was only able to get standing room in the rear of the church. The minister of this church began last Sunday a system whereby he will conduct two identical services on Sunday mornings, one at nine o'clock and one at eleven. This practice is already being followed by a few other churches in the city. There are many churches in the city where people have difficulty in getting seats at the eleven o'clock hour.

But unfortunately the people of Washington are not breaking any records for church attendance. Only eighty thousand out of a population of well over one million in metropolitan Washington attend church on Sunday. According to a report recently made, twenty-three percent of the white children of public school age attend religious services on Sunday; the attendance rate for the negro children is thirty percent. There are five hundred churches in Washington, of which one hundred

Mill Iron Ranches To Sell Fine Bulls On November 1

Wellington, Oct. 23—Commercial cattlemen are manifesting greater interest than ever before in the annual sale of registered Hereford bulls of the Mill Iron Ranches. Lafayette M. Hughes has announced that the sale will be held as usual on November 1 at the Cottonwood headquarters two miles south and ten east of Wellington.

Mill Iron's truly original plan of selling registered Hereford bulls at stated and very reasonable prices is rapidly changing the quality of the herds on many ranches in Collingsworth, Hall, Donley, Cottle and adjoining counties. The results already can be seen on many ranches and farms in the southeastern part of the Panhandle. Mill Iron herd sires have produced herds of high quality and remarkable uniformity in a few short years.

To make sure that the quality of the 1945 bulls would be up to or above that of previous years, a 33 per cent cut has been made in this year's crop. No bull that does not measure up to the high standards of Mill Iron will ever be offered for sale for breeding purposes; but several cattlemen expressed a desire to buy some of the cutbacks that went to the feedlots for further proof that Mill Iron breeding is the key to high quality for the commercial cattleman. Mill Iron breeding is based on one of the outstanding bloodlines of the Domino family. Over 95 per cent of Mill Iron herd bulls are direct descendants of Dandy Domino 2nd. Mill Iron's Colorado Domino 697 is the sire of eight of the herd bulls now in use. Colorado Domino E10 is the sire of 19 of the herd bulls used in getting the crop that will be offered for sale near Wellington on November 1.

It has been a long trail that has brought the Mill Iron herd to its present perfection. Careful and painstaking breeding over a period of many years has gone into the building of the present herd. My and sixty-one are colored.

For weeks there has not been an issue of a Washington paper that did not carry some kind of a story in regard to the atomic bomb. Many have been the speculations as to the future of the bomb. One editorial writer had this to say: "The atomic bomb is here to stay—but are we?"

Calvary Baptist Church News

In spite of the blustery weather last Sunday, and the fact that a number of our regular attendants were absent from Sunday school, there was a gain of one in attendance over last Sunday. Those who were absent made a vacancy that was very keenly felt, and the missed a great blessing. The Sunday morning sermon delivered by Rev. Reed was both timely and inspirational. His message was well thought out and delivered.

There has been some confusion in regard to the time of meetings and the following schedule has been adopted by the church:
 Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.;

Football Boys Given Barbecue By Local Fans

An appreciation dinner for the Antelope football team and coach last Wednesday night was held at the American Legion hut. Barbecue and all the trimmings were served after several speeches had been made by a number of the Antelopes' strong supporters, congratulating them on their football spirit and willingness to give all they had against Slaton. Coach Solis made a very fine talk in behalf of the boys, after dinner had been served to the following: Gene Ashley, Jim Bird, Dan Bestie, David Buster, H. J. Carr, Neil Clary, Raymond Dougherty, Paul Duren, Bud Everett, Bobby Graves, Shorty Hester, P. Hill, S. Hill, Wayne Hindley, Hurman Jenkins, Soney McCrary, Junior Malouf, Hubert Masters, Howard Martin, Louis Mills, Billy Odum, Edgar Parr, Bill Patty, Charles Probst, Lynn Ransson, Joe Stokes, A. C. Thomas, Roy Williams, Charley Cooper, Roy Brown and Coach Lefty Solis.

Those sponsoring the feast were all present, and included: Wesley Stevens, James Minor, C. Thaxton, Homer McCrary, Tol Thomas, Allen Bird, Rex Everett, Polly Duren, Bennie Sargee, Ben Howell and Marshall Gibson.

The Legionnaires showed their regards to the football boys by offering use of the Legion hut free of charge.

Industry, nylon, will be well under way.

Shipment of nylon yarn to hosiery manufacturers began this week. There will be enough yarn to provide 11 pairs of hose a year for each woman in America. The first hose will go on sale some time in December. However, a lot more people other than women will be made happier because of the products made of nylon. Sheer nettings made of nylon will soon appear in window curtains, nylon hunting and fishing apparel, nylon shoe laces, fishing lines, tennis strings, toothbrushes, paint brushes and containers for fabrics and electrical wiring.

The Texas plant will manufacture nylon salt, a chemical compound which is made from two very complex chemicals known as adipic acid and hexamethylene diamine, which will then be shipped to other plants to be converted into yarn, bristles, plastic articles, etc.

Officer 1st Cavalry Division Is Veteran Of Pacific Battles

Captain Tom Power, son of the late J. N. Power, and Mrs. C. L. Dickinson of New York, former residents of Post, arrived here last Thursday morning to spend two weeks' leave visiting his brother, J. N. Power, Jr., and grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Babb. Captain Power is with the First Cavalry division and has spent twenty-eight months in the Pacific area.

During his tour of duty in the Pacific, Captain Power spent six months in Australia before being moved up to New Guinea. His Division made the initial landings on the Admiralty Islands, and also took part in the first move on the Philippines when Leyte was invaded. After spending three months on Leyte the Division moved over to Luzon, bypassed the occupied area and moved up to Manila to capture the city and liberate several hundred prisoners at Santa Tomas. The unit fought in the Manila hotel and Rizal stadium, and penetrated the famous "walled city." The unit was then ordered to clean-out the remaining Japs at Antipolo, where they were making a "last stand."

A ten-day rest period was ordered for the Division before it was slated to move back to southern Luzon to open a campaign to clean out the last remnants of Japs from Luzon, asserted Power. Some of the toughest battles of his experience ensued the following weeks when the Division moved in on Iba dam, Calasum, Lucena, Luchan, and Mt. Christobal to finish off the Philippine liberation.

Following three months of "resting up" the Division was sent to Yokohama. The unit escorted General MacArthur into Tokyo, secured the air fields, stripped the Japanese of arms and began garrisoning Tokyo proper.

The Post officer sailed from Tokyo September 27 and arrived at San Francisco ten days later. After five days at Camp Stoneman at Pittsburg, Calif., he reported to Fort Bliss, El Paso where he was granted two-weeks leave. His brother met him at El Paso and accompanied him to Post.

He wears the American defense bar; the Asiatic-Pacific bar with four stars for the New Guinea, Admiralty, Leyte and Luzon campaigns, and also the arrow-head for Leyte; the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantryman's badge, and is slated to get the Victory ribbon, Japanese occupation ribbon and Air Medal. The Air medal will be awarded for reconnaissance work in the Philippines.

Captain Power with a total of 102 points, will report back to Fort Bliss October 26 for separation and to begin terminal leave. After his accrued leave expires he will go on inactive duty status. He plans to go to New York to visit his mother for several weeks and will then return to Post to make his home.

Get The Most Out Of Electrical Appliances

Electrical appliances for making home work easier soon will be on the market, and farm women will be buying new cleaners, mixers, irons and other appliances which they have had to do without during the war, reports the A. and M. Extension Service. Electrical appliances, if used in the correct manner, can save a great deal of energy and time, says Mrs. Bernice Claylor, home improvement specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. All too often, however, the housewife starts out using her appliances without checking to see if her methods are best for time and labor-saving.

When the homemaker buys a new appliance, it will save her time and work in the long run if she studies out first the best way of doing the job. Just as an example, here are a few pointers in cleaning a room with a vacuum cleaner. First the housewife should see that there is enough light and ventilation in the room for a good and comfortable job. After she decides on the best method of doing the job, she must eliminate any part of the task she can or combine steps in the cleaning.

If you can use one attachment for several jobs you may be able to do all those steps before the attachment is changed. Keep everything within easy reach so that when you need to change attachments you can do it quickly. Attachments have a specific job. Be sure you are using the right one for the job you are doing.

Proper method of using any electrical appliance will save money too, because the appliance will last longer and need fewer repairs.

Aubrey Nunley Is Discharged After 56 Months In Marines

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Nunley visited relatives and friends in Post and Southland last week. Aubrey was reared in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Howard, who moved in to town last year from the Barnum Springs community.

He was discharged last month from the Marine Corps with a total of 140 points, 110 of which were for months in service.

Aubrey enlisted on his twenty-first birthday, January 2, 1941, while he was working in Amarillo. When war was declared he was on board the USS Honolulu. He was granted his first leave in November of 1942. He was married to a San Francisco girl and they visited his family here.

At the conclusion of his leave he reported back to an Oregon camp where he received a six weeks intensive commando training course. When sent overseas again, the young Marine was placed in charge of a 155 mm gun battalion which was sent first to the Solomon Islands.

Attached to the 3rd Artillery Bn. of the 3rd Amphibious Corps, Aubrey saw action on the islands as they were taken. His last action was landing with the invasion forces on Okinawa on April 1, this year. He remained there until August 22, when he started home after a continuous service of 31 months overseas.

He and his wife left Monday for Amarillo where they will visit briefly before returning to San Francisco.

J. W. Pettigrew Writes Anent Okinawa Typhoon

Word was received last week end from Pfc. J. W. Pettigrew on Okinawa.

He wrote his wife that he had gone through a horrible experience during the recent typhoon. Some parts of the island were hit harder than others and he was one of the luckier ones.

"We spent the night of the storm in trucks and cars to keep from being blown away," he said. "At least eighty-five percent of the buildings, all of the tents, and everything movable were either washed or blown away," he continued.

General Stilwell visited the island the next day and said most of the boys would be moved out as soon as possible.

Pfc. Pettigrew remarked that he wished for a West Texas sand storm several times during the typhoon.

The Post soldier is with the Combat Engineering Corps and has been on Okinawa three months.

North Plains Town Sprays With DDT

Stratford is one of the first cities in America to spray the entire community with a DDT solution aimed at the prevention of polio, according to a press release. Every public building and every private residence has been sprayed with DDT, a five-percent Technical Grade DDT insecticide, and the 887 residents of this North Plains city are agreed it performed miraculous feats in ridding the community of pests, wherever applied.

Recently one of the outstanding athletes of Stratford High School died of polio. The entire community became aroused and wanted to do something before others were stricken with the dreaded disease.

The mayor, county judge, school superintendent and county agent held an emergency meeting with a state sewerage inspector, who went to Stratford to inspect a $100,000, 57-block sewage project. The inspector recommended the use of a good DDT solution spray. The officials made arrangements to purchase the insecticide and everyone in the community began spraying. The whole job was completed within an afternoon.

Gems Of Thought

There never was any heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate. —South

ACCENT THE POSITIVE, DISCARD THE NEGATIVE

You're accenting the negative, a noted psychologist says, if you have the idea people usually will take advantage of you; if you get angry when people disagree with you; if you prefer to work alone rather than with others; if you break relationships with people after a quarrel; if you resent being told to do things.

If you do any or all of these things regularly, you had better revise your "harmony habits" and accent the positive in your personality.

The ruby, emerald, diamond and sapphire are the world's most precious stones.

A FAKE SANTA CLAUS

Almost every day we read some statement from a member in Congress to the effect that taxes must be reduced to encourage production and employment. And then we read where local communities, towns and cities in all parts of the United States are to be advanced funds by some Federal bureau to finance projects all the way from sewers, sewage disposal plants, water and school facilities, to billion-dollar power plants.

Some of these Federal funds are free grants, and some are to be repaid with or without interest at some questionable time in the future. Not only are these funds being provided from the Federal Treasury for purely local community activities, but political pleasure is on for billions more to be spread by the government through every local community. And the men who talk tax reduction in one breath, vote for such costly programs of Federal hand-outs and domination of local political activity in the next breath. Centralized government always sinks its roots into local affairs via the debt obligation route.

Why did the people about any noticeable tax reduction, while the presents from a Federal Santa Claus grow more numerous and costly? If the people stopped to think, they would know he is a fake Santa Claus because for every dollar he hands out, he first collects more than a dollar in taxes to pay for it.

You will be lucky if your taxes are not increased as projects to compete with private enterprise grow bigger and bigger. Only a reversal of this process offers any hope for tax reduction.

SERVICE WILL AGAIN RULE

Chief among postwar changes in retailing will be the increase in competition as we settle back into normal peacetime living. This will offer a challenge to the re-

READING & WRITING
 BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

TYPEWRITERS were a rarity in the days of Leo Tolstoy; the great master wrote all of his extensive works in longhand. His handwriting was almost indecipherable; his wife was the only person who could make it out. It was her lot to copy in her own neat handwriting everything he did. Usually, he would so revise her copy that it had to be re-done. In the case of his major opus, "War and Peace," Countess Tolstoy made no less than seven copies.

LEO TOLSTOY

This remarkable example of wifely devotion is described in Tikhon Polner's biography, "Tolstoy and His Wife," a discerning portrait of one of the most important men of his age.

Tolstoy was a complicated character, whose moods varied from extreme gaiety to moroseness. In his youth, he gambled away most of his family estate. He was celebrated as a writer before he was twenty-seven. Always he was passionately intense about whatever he undertook, whether it was farming, following the rituals of the Orthodox Church, or devoting himself to a simple life. The Countess once remarked, "I have lived with Leo for forty-eight years but I never really learned what kind of man he was."

General Carlos Romulo, who made a two-year speaking tour of the U. S., says in "My Brother Americans" that he received one of his most successful introductions from a chairman in Illinois. The chairman took a full fifteen minutes to heap him with embarrassingly extravagant praise. Then he wound up impressively, "And now, ladies and gentlemen, I have the honor to introduce . . ." He turned to Romulo and his eyes glazed. Swallowing hard, he said in a whisper that could be heard to the highest rows in the gallery, "Say, what the heck is your name?" "By the time we got through laughing," comments Romulo, "the audience and I were old friends."

The Book-of-the-Month Club selection for October is Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Cas Timberlane."

One of the Maine backwoods characters Helen Hamlin describes in "Nine Mile Bridge" is an old timekeeper for a lumbering camp, whose job it was to keep the books and sell company supplies to the men. He could neither read nor write, but he solved his problem most ingeniously. When he sold two plugs of tobacco or a pair of socks, he drew pictures of these articles in the ledger. Then he only had to remember the name of the man who bought them and what he paid for them.

A WAR STORY

Now that the war is over many unusual stories are being told. We heard this one recently concerning an American plane over neutral territory. Radio Berlin first broadcast the incident, claiming that it took place between a U. S. bomber and a Swiss anti-aircraft battery.

The plane was lost over Switzerland and the Swiss radioed a message—"Look out, you're over Swiss territory." The U. S. pilot replied, "We know."

The Swiss answered, "If you don't turn back we'll open fire on you." There was no answer so the battery began throwing shells up. A few seconds later the American pilot radioed, "Your fire is about 1000 feet too low."

Said the Swiss outfit, "We know."

THE TOWN LIBRARY

A library is one of the things a town can point to with pride. Nearly all respectable towns have some sort of public library where the school boy or girl can get a book for outside reading, where a housewife can get a novel, or a tailor who has enjoyed a 'seller's market."

Only the enterprising, progressive and alert-retailers will survive to enjoy the prosperity which competent operation in peacetime brings.

PEACE TAXES

(The Fort Worth Press)
 "A tax program for a solvent America" is proposed by the committee for postwar taxation, independent group of professors, accountants, tax lawyers and businessmen.

It does not differ greatly from the "tax plan for high employment," proposed a few months ago by the similarly constituted committee for economic development.

Both plans optimistically assume a national income running to $140 billion, which would mean greater prosperity than our country has known in any previous peace years. Both optimistically assume a federal budget of around $18 billion, more than double the rate of any pre-war spending—but much below the total of expenditures which pressure groups are now demanding of Congress. Both stressed the need of reducing the gigantic private debt. Both show how that extraordinary revenue can be obtained with taxes lowered. Both emphasize the need of "re-energizing" private business to provide more jobs and produce more goods. Both would abolish wartime excess profits taxes and the present unfair and unwise double-taxation of the earnings of risk investment, by crediting the stockholder with his share of the corporate tax paid at the source of his dividends.

Many of these and other suggestions for peacetime tax changes have been advocated by responsible congressional leaders and executive department officials.

There is enough basic agreement to take action. Isn't it about time to stop the tax planning, programming and talking—and legislate?

RECONVERSION PROGRESS

America's reconversion from war to peace is being effected with bewildering speed.

Stores not only have cigarettes displayed on counters but are seeking buyers through advertisements.

Nylons are promised by Christmas and shirt manufacturers are promising $1.98 shirts.

America is keeping up its tradition of being three jumps in the lead.

read in between her many household chores, or a stranger can pass away an hour or two reading books or magazines.

The town library like schools and churches, is essential to democratic society. Post needs a library that will be open to the public.

In this day of plans for the future—why don't we get together on plans for a library—it can be done.

A rare Oxford Lectern Bible, one of 40 in America, was presented to S. M. U. by Stanley Marcus of Dallas.

Oh, I admit it, there was a time when you could send cold shivers down my back . . . a few times when I literally didn't eat!

But you can't scare me now, wolfy! And here's why . . .

Ever since I got my war job, I've been buying War Bonds—and holding them.

Furthermore, as soon as my husband went overseas, I started putting his allotment into War Bonds, too! He doesn't know it yet, but he's not going to be afraid of you, either!

Oh sure, the gals make fun of me at times.

Call me a tightwad when I won't loosen up for expensive clothes, or trinkets, or parties. But I don't care.

I like that "I've-got-money-back-of-me" feeling!

So run along, wolfy, and sniff at somebody else's door, 'cause we've got one of the very best nest eggs a family can have—War Bonds.

Yes indeed, buying and holding series "E" Victory Bonds is the easiest and safest way there is to turn every $3 into $4 in 10 years!

1. A funny question? Well, maybe. A Victory Bond looks like a Victory Bond. Like these . . .

2. But wait a minute! Hold these Bonds till maturity, when "E" Bonds will pay back four dollars for every three you've invested—and keep buying more Bonds—and they can look like this! Your home—all yours!

3. Or this. That rolled-up scroll is a college diploma for your boy. His assurance of a good start in life—and the opportunity to make himself into the kind of man you want him to be!

4. How about this? That man, able to take it easy in his maturer years, can be you. Your Victory Bonds can add up to a sizable nest egg. They're the safest investment on earth! Hang on to them!

Our Worthy Matron asks that the members be reminded of the hour of meeting, which is 7:30 p. m.

All present thoroughly enjoyed the delicious angel food cake and ice cream served by Sisters Ite Gatrakis and Lena Gerner.

Home Economics Conference Held

A meeting on Tech campus for a district homemaking conference drew more than 60 high school home economics teachers from Lubbock and 14 surrounding schools. Several pertinent problems facing families in maintaining good living conditions. Miss Ester Sorans, district home economics education supervisor, directed the conference and suggested that many problems could be solved if home making teachers became better acquainted with parents and students. Three panel discussions of current homemaking problems were featured in the conference.

The committee of recommendations reported that teachers present voted to meet again next year for a small district conference, rather than a state meeting. In this way they could devote more time to problems peculiar to their own section of the state.

The couple were married Sept. 1 and spent a week's honeymoon at Brighton, a seaside resort which has only recently been re-opened.

Highest Cotton Prices In 18 Years Revealed in Report

Southwest farm market highlights for the third week of October include the highest cotton price in 18 years and steady to strong trends on most other products with several items at the ceiling, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

About the only exception to the strong price trend was on medium and low grade cows and calves at Texas markets, where cattle receipts continued heavy. Ft. Worth's run on Monday, October 15, was the heaviest on record since 1917 as producers attempted to catch up on selling operations after interruptions as a result of a rain during the previous two weeks. Markets further north reported only moderate receipts and the total at the country's 12 principal markets wound up slightly below the previous week's large volume. Price variations in Oklahoma and Kansas, as well as in the mid-west, were on the upward side, with choice fed steers and heifers pushing ceiling levels at all markets. Tops for the week reached $15 at Fort Worth and $15.50 at San Antonio and Oklahoma City on good grades, $15.25 to $15.65 on good to choice at Wichita, and $17.60 on choice at Denver.

Sheep and lamb markets were steady to strong except for a 25 to 50 cent decline on aged sheep at Fort Worth, where supplies increased sharply and most medium and good ewes sold between $5 and $5.75.

Hog marketings continued very light, but for the country as a whole showed a slight increase over the previous week.

Local offerings of eggs continued to decrease throughout the southwest and the trade was drawing on supplies from the mid-west and from storage to fill current needs. As a result, prices had a very firm tone, with best grades bringing the ceiling. Southwest poultry marketings continue fairly liberal with demand moderate and prices about steady. Volume movement of this year's large turkey crop is expected to get under way within another two weeks.

With cotton markets seasonally active and increased offerings in good demand, total sales at the ten spot markets reached 226,800 bales.

NEWS NOTES FROM . . .
Duck Creek Soil—
CONSERVATION DISTRICT
OFFICE AT POST

The supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District met in Spur, Thursday, October 18, for their regular session. Among other business transacted the supervisors approved farm plans on the following farms of the Post work area:

Joe Frank Hopper in Conservation Group 40 near Graham Chapel, James Hall and Mrs. S. S. Smith in the Pleasant Valley Conservation Group, W. A. Hamilton's 80 acre rent farm and J. L. White's farm in the Southland Conservation Group.

The plan for J. L. White includes a roadside agreement with the county.

Joe Frank Hopper and William H. Smith, son of Mrs. S. S. Smith, have recently been discharged from the Armed Forces. Both are planning to improve their farms by putting into effect a complete and coordinated soil conservation plan.

Johnny Ray has recently turned under 100 acres of sudan as a green manure crop. He leased some more grazing land which allowed him to take his cattle off his sudan. After the sudan reached a good height, Mr. Ray plowed it under. He has done this before and says that the practice improves the soil and a difference can be seen in the next years crop.

Tahoka School
Resumes Classes
Monday Morning

Tahoka High School, which drew comment from all over the state last week end, was reopened Monday morning, with all teachers back in their places.

The school had been closed down three days last week because of a controversy over the athletic situation there, and before it ended most all of the faculty, including the superintendent, and principal, resigned. The controversy grew to such proportions that the board of trustees offered their resignation also.

When classes were resumed Monday morning nineteen members of the football team, who had "quit" school, returned, but were not reinstated because Superintendent E. E. Hancock was in Dallas at the bedside of a relative who is seriously ill.

A petition of more than 600 taxpayers and school patrons of the district evidenced wishes that the board and school heads remain at their posts. When the county board of trustees considered the case Saturday afternoon in called session it declined to accept the resignation of the board. The Tahoka board was called back into business session and reelected the superintendent, principal and all teachers, except Coach H. V. Stewart, who had resigned Oct. 13.

Guests in the John Courley home Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Bradley and Mrs. B-b Willford of San Angelo, and Mrs. Martha Bradley and Mrs. Lorens Alphin of Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Calhoun and children have returned from a visit in East Texas with relatives.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 28

TEMPERANCE BEGINS AT HOME

LESSON TEXT—II Timothy 1:1-6; 3:14-15; Titus 2:1-4, 11, 12.
GOLDEN TEXT—As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.—Joshua 24:15.

The influence of the home on the character of a child is the strongest factor in the development of high and holy standards in the life of the man and woman. "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it" (Prov. 22:6).

Emphasis is placed on temperance in our lesson, and it is clear that in the home real temperance principles may be built into the thinking of boys and girls. It is not easy for a young person who has been brought up right on this matter to go astray, no matter how severe the temptation.

I. Our Family Is God's Gift (II Tim. 1:1-6).

Paul, the apostle of Christ, addressed his son in the faith, Timothy, with affection and appreciation. He knew the good which was in this fine young man and saw the possibilities for service for God.

He knew that as the background of that faith, there was a godly line of ancestors, those with an "unfeigned faith." This young man, so precious to Paul and so successful in the ministry, owed a deep and abiding debt of gratitude to these godly women who had directed his steps aright, who had instructed and encouraged him in the right way.

Let those who are young recognize parents and grandparents who admonish and instruct them as God's gift. Let them not regard them as those who would restrict or restrain them unduly, but who for their own good and the glory of the Lord teach them the way to God.

II. Our Faith in God's Guidance (II Tim. 1:6; 3:14, 15).

The gift of God for preaching which Timothy had was recognized by the church, and he was sent forth to proclaim the gospel. But alas! the burdens of life and the pressure of service cause a man to forget or neglect his calling so there comes often the need of stirring up the gift of the Lord.

God gave it. He will bless us as we use it to its fullest possible extent. He wants us too, to stir it up—this blessed, divine gift and calling.

The admonition (v. 14) is to "continue" in that which was learned, to remain true in the Word of God. We show our faith in His guiding hand, as we resist by His grace, the ever-present temptation to get away from the only true foundation of a life of usefulness and joy.

What we have learned as children we should hold fast in spite of all the devices of Satan and every weakness of the flesh. Stand fast in the faith!

III. Our Fellowship in God's Gospel (Titus 2:1-4).

Old and young are to be united in a great communion of believers proclaiming the gospel of God's grace by a living testimony, by a life devoted to the things of God.

Sound doctrine is the only source of sound living. To be "sound" means to be healthy, vigorous, free from defects, suited to a purpose. That means that everyday Christian living must express the vigorous soundness of the gospel.

Men and women are to be "temperate," not given to excess, and particularly in mind here is the use of intoxicants. To be temperate in such a day and land as ours can mean only one thing, and that is to abstain altogether. Christians ought to keep entirely away from intoxicants, and that includes beer and wine.

There is a positive side to the admonition for soundness of life and faith shows itself in holy living, love, patience, the teaching of God's Word, and in fine fellowship among the people of God. We need to stress that side of the teaching of this passage.

IV. Our Faithfulness by God's Grace (v. 11, 12).

God's grace has brought salvation to man through Jesus Christ and His atoning death on the cross. That grace calls for and calls forth from the believer a renouncing of that which is ungodly and unholy (and you can put intoxicants right in there!) and a determination to live right in faithful devotion to God.

That brings about right relationships to self, to others, and to God. The Christian is sober and self-controlled as to anything which could "intoxicate" him, whether it be liquor, or lust, or pride, or any other such thing. He also shows that grace of God before man in a life of righteousness. Then he finds his true place in a reverent devotion to God which makes him a worshiper "in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him" (John 4:23).

Faithfulness to our Lord will count more than our words in the great battle against intemperance. Let us stand true to Him.

YES... We ALL know what they are

Taxes are as necessary as the things they buy. We all know that. Taxes educate our children, provide police and fire protection; pay for the upkeep of municipal, county and state institutions and many other services we take for granted.

Yes, we all know what taxes are and what they do. Privileges such as we enjoy in the United States must be paid for. Your Public Service Company is one of the largest taxpayers. The taxes which American citizens pay are what keep America, American.

NIGHT & DAY

THE throaty roar of the snarling, two-cylinder engines of the John Deere Tractors goes on and on. Weary operators climb down, others take their places. Through dawn, dusk, and midnight—twenty-four hours a day—three shifts keep the tractors lurching down gullies, clinging to slopes, streaking along level terrain.

The scene is the testing grounds for the famous John Deere two-cylinder tractor. Here that tractor will get such continuous gruelling operation as it would never receive in the farmer's possession.

When that test is finished, engine will be torn down, parts disassembled. Was there excessive wear on this part? Did any weaknesses appear? Could any part be improved? The answer to these questions—and many more that engineers ask—are all revealed by these exhaustive tests.

All John Deere farm equipment is subjected to similar searching tests in the field. It is a part of the over-all policy that guides the entire John Deere organization.
