

Welcome Home Discharged War II Veterans

This column is dedicated to the men and women who wear the discharge papers. As the Discharge has followed them from civilian life through their experiences, it records their lives from the day they receive their discharge until they become rehabilitated and re-established in civilian life.

Wylie Fortenberry received his discharge from the Army on September 21, 1945. He entered the service August 4, 1942.

Willis Childers received his discharge from the Army on November 19, 1945. He entered the service on January 19, 1945.

Garza county boy who received his honorable discharge from the Army is James Burt. He entered the service on December 16, 1941 and received his discharge September 15, 1945.

Alton Mize entered the service on July 18, 1940 and received his discharge from the Army on September 21, 1945.

King, husband of the late Miss Vera Parsons, was discharged from the Army several days ago. He was released from an army hospital in Oklahoma where he had been hospitalized for several weeks. Prior to being sent back to his home, he was stationed in England.

Garza county boys who recently received an honorable discharge from the Army are: Self who entered the service June 8, 1942 and was discharged on September 29, 1945; Wright who entered the service on March 17, 1942 and was discharged from the Army on July 14, 1945; and Salomon Hernandez who entered the service on July 14, 1942 and received his discharge on September 21, 1945.

Warren arrived home from thirty-five months of overseas service. He will report to Tyler on the thirteenth of October. He served as a clerk in the discharge papers, Alton Mize in the army four and a half years. He was recently transferred from the Ordnance Department to the 89th Division.

Oran Campbell of the Army, arrived in the states on October 19, after nine months overseas. Sgt. Campbell flew from New York to San Francisco, home of his parents. After receiving his discharge, Campbell went to work as a clerk in Watsonville, Calif. Campbell is a brother of Russell Wilka, jr. and former member of the county.

Allen, who recently was discharged from the Army, has returned to Post to make his home. He is with the photographic section of the Army and is attending photo school at Lubbock when he was released from service. Mr. Allen has announced business plans for Lubbock but has decided to stay in his home here. Before entering the service he owned and operated a produce house here.

Sergeant Calvin Klaus, home is at Southland, received his honorable discharge from the Army at the Camp Funston point on October 2, 1945. He entered the service November 17, 1941 and took his basic training at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, and served at Chanute Field and Camp Funston, Conn. He served overseas three months with the 8th Fighter Group, 8th Air Force in the European theatre. His assignments include the Presidential Guard with the 1st Cavalry. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Klaus.

Post boy who is due to be home is Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brown, former-ly of Vandal. Vandal received his discharge from the Army on September 15, 1945. He served five years in the service from 1940 to 1945. He is a member of the Post and is on Page 6, Col. 3.

VOLUME XIX POST, TEXAS "OUT WHERE THE WEST IS THE WEST" THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1945 "THE GATEWAY TO THE PLAINS" NUMBER 42

RURAL boys and girls are taking every opportunity to learn how to prevent accidents on farms. As one example, a group of participants in the 1945 National 4-H Safety Program (shown above) recently visited plants of an automobile manufacturing concern in Detroit to study safety measures taken to protect workers against injury.

To comply with the organization's safety regulations, the group was equipped with nonshatter eye-glasses, and the girls were clad in slacks and provided with hair nets or other head covering. Other safety measures throughout the plants were pointed out and the reason for their use explained to the 4-H'ers.

The tour will be credited to each member's 4-H safety program record. Participants in the program who achieve outstanding records in safety work this year will receive merit awards donated by General Motors. The awards are based on county, state, sectional and national levels.

SIXTH ANNUAL NEWSPAPER WEEK BEING OBSERVED

The sixth annual observance of National Newspaper Week comes at a time when all efforts are concentrated on making the post-war year fulfill all the hopes of those sacrificed in World War II. Never before in history has the newspaper played such a leading role in world affairs.

The American free press has withstood subversive and open attack during those years and its mightiest victory of all is the unblemished record of service to the people under a voluntary code of censorship through the most horrible of all wars.

Rev. Guy Ament Accepts Full-Time Snyder Pastorate

Rev. Guy Ament has announced that he has accepted full-time pastorate of the Snyder Christian church. He has been serving Snyder and Post churches as part-time pastor for several months.

News Reports Must Be Sent In Early

Readers of The Post Dispatch who have items they wish to be published are asked to send them in by mail, or bring them to the Dispatch office by not later than Tuesday noon. With the vast amount and variety of work that must be done in preparing a newspaper for printing, and with an unprecedented labor shortage, it is inevitable that some items will be overlooked and omitted for lack of time to set. Therefore, we request that persons having news, parties, clubs, churches, schools, etc., reports, send them in at the earliest possible moment.

Stage Is All Set For 4-H Club's Calf-Hog Show Slated Today

Everything was in readiness for the opening this afternoon of the 4-H Club Calf and Hog Show when a Dispatch reporter contacted managers George "Scottman" Samson and Alvin Davis early this morning.

Mahon Declares U.S. Should Rid Self Of Surplus Cotton

The U. S. should take advantage of its world position right now and get rid of some 5,600,000 bales of surplus cotton, Rep. Mahon suggested to President Truman.

In a letter to Foreign Economics Administrator, Leo T. Crowley, Mahon also stated, "The free countries of the world should be encouraged to buy or bargain for this cotton, and in areas where we are extending direct aid, the use of this surplus cotton should be fully explored."

"Defeated Germany and Japan must not be permitted to revive war industries, but they undoubtedly will be encouraged to produce their own food and provide their own clothing. It would be a great shame if we should fail to take advantage of the opportunity which we now have for the disposition of our large stocks of surplus cotton."

"We have the ships to carry the cotton," he said later in an interview. "We have control of the ports and warehouses in many parts of the world and there is an urgent need in those countries for cotton, so why shouldn't we do something about it. Six months from now might be too late."

Prolonged Rainfall Will Cause Delay In Grain Crop Harvest

The cold rains which came last week end, and again Wednesday morning broke thru heavily-laden skies which hung over the county for three days, will cause delay in the combine maize harvest and retard cotton, but will offset damage by benefitting late feed and grazing land.

The week-end fall over most of the county left moisture ranging from one to two inches. Post's precipitation totaled 1.24 inches, as reported by employees of the Double U Company, where an official rain gauge is kept. Precipitation Wednesday in Post and over most of the county averaged about 1.25 inches.

The couple lived in Post before going to Pampa.

New Producer Makes Good Show, Another Out-Post Is Staked

Proven pay on an extension of the Garza field, and the staking of another out-post to the field kept Garza county on top of the area's oil activity last week.

The new producer, Stanforth Post estate No. 1, reported last week as a three-quarter mile extension northeast of the field, after given acid treatment made a 24-hour pumping potential of 168 barrels.

Graham-Hunter corporation, Abilene, have staked their Post estate No. 1 and expect to start drilling at once. The new test, an out-post to the Garza field, 990 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of the concern's A-lease in section 5, block 5, K. Aycock survey, is to drill to 2,900 feet to test the Permian line. The exploration is on the northeast side of the proven area.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1 Altman, in northwest Garza county, (Pleasant Valley community) last week was drilling below 8,776 feet in lime and shale with drilling progressing satisfactorily.

Union Oil company of California No. 1-C Post estate, in section 29, block 4, K. Aycock survey, encountered difficulty at 830 feet and plugged back to 550 feet to try to straighten out hole. Drilling had resumed the latter part of the week and the hole was put back in line.

Stanford Oil company, with a 20,000-acre lease on the G. W. Conell ranch in eastern Garza, completed one of four tests to be drilled, and last week end cemented and abandoned the test. The

Information Needed For Files To Be Used In Employing Vets

With more and more Garza men returning from the armed forces with discharges each week, the local Re-employment Committee of the Selective Service board is faced with new problems in getting the GI's "squared away" with jobs, and fitting them into the types of work they desire. Many of the problems of the committee can be solved through the assistance of local business and professional men.

The committee requests that businessmen, oil companies, farmers and ranches of the county, who are planning on employing war veterans, furnish their names or business firms, kind of work to be offered, salaries and wages to be paid, and qualifications to be expected of veterans.

The information will be kept on file at the Selective Service office and will be used by the committee when returning service men apply for employment. By having this information the committee can fit a veteran into the kind of work he wants, and at the same time will be assisting the employer in finding the right man for his job.

Dee Hodges Visiting Here On Furlough

War Chest Drive Gets Underway Over County

The war is over! Yes, you know that but for many men it is not over until they can return to their homes. This is a reminder that you can make a vital contribution to the men of the occupation forces and to men in government war hospitals by giving to the County War Chest drive.

The USO, which receives 63.9 per cent of funds contributed to the War Chest drive, furnishes an entertainment program for men overseas and a recreational program for hospitalized veterans in this county.

General Eisenhower Makes Plea For Entertainment Program

General Eisenhower, realizing the need of a lift from dejection, has asked the USO to quadruple its entertainment program for our men overseas. There are now 1500 entertainers overseas who play to two million men every week but it takes money to continue this work.

There are USO lounge clubs just outside the grounds of 500 U. S. hospitals. Here war-shattered veterans escape the hospital routine, from the smell of ether and disinfectants. Here they enjoy their favorite phonograph record, today's newspaper, the checkerboard you gave them when you gave to your County War Chest.

These are little things, but they are good medicine! The nearby USO lounge is theater, club—almost home—to the shocked and hurt boys whose present home is a hospital room. Your dollars keep these lounches going—the dollars you give to your County War Chest drive.

County Chairman and Workers Hope To Reach Goal By Saturday

Garza county's drive is in progress now. Chairman Homer McCrary has set Saturday as the goal to realize the quota of $2,700.00. Community workers and a group of war wives and business men of Post are soliciting funds for the cause. Before saying "No" to these willing workers, read the informative advertisement displayed by McCrary's Appliance company in this week's issue of the paper. A group of progressive business men, too, are expressing their belief in the drive by signaturing the large ad captioned "Sure, I'll Give a Texan's Share." Other business firms of Post are stressing importance of the drive not only by advertising but by window cards and literature displayed in their stores.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK
OCTOBER 7-13

One of the fastest and most destructive forces is fire. In no time at all fire can destroy your home and belongings—your business and your future security.

Precaution on the part of each individual can prevent overwhelming loss of life and property caused by fire.

During Fire Prevention Week, October 7 through 13, be sure to inspect your home and business premises—and remove all fire hazards. A very wise move, too, is to check your insurance policies.

An ounce of prevention will be worth much to you. Make a resolution today to take all precautions against the destructive forces of fire.

Their cars having collided, Jock and Pat were surveying the situation. Jock offered Pat a drink from his bottle. Pat drank and Jock returned the bottle to his pocket.

"Thank ye," said Pat. "But aren't ye going to have a bit of a nip yourself?"

"Aye," replied Jock, "but not until the police have been here."

YES THE WAR IS OVER—BUT

Not for the hundreds of boys still stationed on the loneliest outposts where a USO show is the only form of diversion.

Not for our thousands of fighting heroes who need medical aid and hospitalization before they can return to civilian life.

Not for the millions of our loyal allies who were left homeless, in rags, bone-gaunt from starvation and sick in mind and body.

Not for the children who have no parents, or unthinking ones—children who take to waywardness because mother love and guidance is absent.

Not for the thousands of honorably discharged veterans who need counsel, personal adjustment and legal guidance to help them return to a normal life.

The war chest campaign which is now in progress in this county is one of the most important of its kind staged since the days of Pear Harbor.

We still have millions of ser-vemen overseas, and with the guns of war silenced and some leisure time on hand these servicemen will have to have some type of entertainment. This will be the responsibility of the USO and related agencies and without financial backing the entertainment cannot be provided. Of course, 16 other agencies are sharing in the United War Chest, including relief agencies for most of the invaded countries of the war.

Whatever your financial plans for the immediate future, support the United War Chest drive with all your might. We have gone this far toward winning peace, and cannot afford at that stage of occupation to break faith with those who will have to stay overseas for some time.

LETTERS ...
Make The World Go 'Round!

Letters are wonderful things.
They can be as informal as a newspaper or as funny as Durante. They can make one's spirits tumble or send them flying into the clouds. They are the greatest morsels boosters ever devised.
Why not write more often.

And especially write now to that serviceman who is still overseas but who longs to be at home.
He needs your letters—Write!

The boys who went to war gave their country first consideration. Their return calls for the same from their country.

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

John Steinbeck has achieved such fame with "Grapes of Wrath," "Of Mice and Men" and "The Moon Is Down," that we tend to overlook some of his very fine earlier books.

JOHN STEINBECK

His stories about Jody, for instance, are real American classics. Jody is a boy living on a ranch far in the California mountains. In his portrayal of the heartbreak, the yearning, the moments of unaccountable savagery of this rather shy, quiet youngster, Steinbeck has done a masterful job.

"The Red Pony" and three other Jody stories have now been collected in one volume and are being distributed by the Book-of-the-Month Club as a book-dividend. It's an unusually handsome book, with color illustrations by the artist, Wesley Dennis.

The title story tells of the bond between Jody and a spirited, fiery-tempered colt, and how, through this bond, Jody experienced his first responsibilities as a man, and his first tragedy. Another remarkable story is "The Leader of the People"—about Grandpa who bored everyone but Jody with his accounts of Indian exploits. "It was a job for men," he says bitterly on one occasion, "but only little boys like to hear about it."

The leisurely progress of short-run trains has always been the subject of witticisms. Archie Robertson reminds us of some of them in "Slow Train to Yesterday." The slowest train of all was alleged to be in Arkansas. It stopped once at every house, and when it came to a double house it stopped twice. Once, there being no houses in sight, a passenger asked why the train had paused. The reply was that there were some cattle on the track. A little later it stopped again, and the passenger again asked what the matter was.
The conductor said that the train had caught up with the same cattle again.

One lady asked if the train couldn't do any better than it was doing. The conductor answered that if she wasn't satisfied she could get out and walk.
She couldn't do this, she said, because her folks didn't expect her until the train got in. . . . Another lady gave the conductor a half-fare ticket for her son. The conductor looked at him and said he was not a boy but a man, and that only persons under twelve could ride on half fare.
"Well, he was under twelve when we started," the woman told him.

Two colored soldiers were on a transport going overseas.
"Dat's de mos' water I've ever seen in all my life," remarked one.
"Yo' ain't seen nothin' yet, brudder," answered his companion, "dat is jus' the top ob it."

Scientists seem agreed that the atomic age means "one world or none." Personally, we'll take this one.

THE AVERAGE MAN

The most interesting person in the world is the average man. The average man is 39 around the chest, 40 around the waist, 95 around the golf course and a nuisance around the house.

He gets up first in the morning, second at the morning paper, third in the bathroom, and practically misses the bus to town. He wears a conventional gray or brown suit with a white shirt but always thought he'd look best in a checkered suit with a dark flannel shirt and bright red tie.

He can hit two quail out of five tries, catches an occasional fish, plays poker once a month, opens with a large pair, bluffs when he is winner and doesn't like conversation when he is loser. He complains about taxes, shortages of labor, rationing and politics.
He has a favorite football team but will take the other team and fourteen points.

He drinks three cups of coffee per day, likes his toast hot and is always going to clean out the garage some Saturday afternoon.
He has three false teeth, five fillings, a small cavity and needs a hair cut. He shaves once a day with an extra throw in on appropriate occasions.

He contributes regularly to the support of his pastor, congressmen, poker friends and many others who are not mentioned on his income tax return. He takes reducing exercises regularly three days in a row sometimes and holds his stomach in when people look like they are about to tell him he is getting fat.

He wears the ties people give him for Christmas and knows some stories about the same color. He can't remember much about the Lady of the Lake or Julius Caesar but can do a complete rendition of the Face on The Barroom Floor.

He reads mystery stories and doesn't peek into the back of the book to see how they come out.
He likes certain pictures no matter who painted them and couldn't tell you for the life of him what Mrs. Soandso wore at the dance.
He needs a new suit of dinner clothes and there is a rip in his hunting coat. He is supposed to live to be 74, had pains at 22, should have been shot at 30 and feels fine at 48. He has sparrows in the attic, termies in the flooring and mice in the pantry.

He's going to buy a small farm someday, just outside of town, and live there—and do part of the farm work personally. He's too old to join the army, and too young to enjoy social security and too lazy to exercise down to the correct weight. You meet him every day at the bank, in the store, the office, on the street and in front of the mirror.

P. S. He's a regular guy. You really ought to know him better.

Japan is now a country whose recent history began with Port Arthur and ended with MacArthur.

Lady Jane Grey was Queen of England for nine days.

AN ENLIGHTENED POSTWAR POLICY

American business knows that it's success after the war will depend more than ever on its ability to well serve and please the public. Many industries are spending a great deal of time and money in providing facilities to teach their employees how to meet and treat customers. Courtesy and interest in the "buyers' problems" are essential to the success of business, and they are equally important to the future of every employee. Without successful business, there can be no permanent jobs, and the attitude of workers toward the public can make or break any business.

Examination of a program outlined for employes by the Railway Express Agency is enlightening. It reads almost like a college catalogue.

Training 67,000 company workers would be a big task for our largest colleges. In the express plan it becomes part of the day's work. It is a never-ending process.
Mr. A. F. Hall, Superintendent of Training, says: "An organized program is successful to the extent to which top management and all concerned make it successful. We seek to accomplish the following objectives from which both the worker and the company benefit: Reduce loss and damage claims; reduce personnel injuries and vehicle accidents; correct procedure errors; develop leadership and help employes fit themselves for advancement; make service more acceptable to the public."

If all business would follow a comprehensive service program, a large part of the laws and regulations now passed to protect the public, would be unnecessary.
Voluntary action always produces better results than compulsion.

IT GETS RESULTS

The Office of War Information has warned that the coal famine in Europe and the Mediterranean area this coming winter will be so severe as to "destroy all semblance of law and order," unless "immediate and drastic steps are taken." Such a situation, if permitted to occur, "may also affect the rest of the world, the OWI added, "for with the world economy interrelated as it is today, Europe cannot enter economic and political chaos and leave the rest of the world untouched."

No nation in the world other than the United States can provide a substantial scale the only "immediate and drastic steps" that will do any good—coal and more coal. Great Britain, according to OWI, will just about be able to supply her own rationed needs. It is expected that eight million tons of coal will be shipped to Europe from this country in the last five months of this year. And so, once again, private American industry, the product of our capitalistic society, must help to rescue nations that vociferously proclaim a complete lack of faith in private profit and individual effort.

During recent years, coal experts from this country visited England in an effort to introduce modern coal mining methods in Britain. They found the job of stepping up coal production over there on a comparable basis with this country, to be nearly hopeless and not the least of the obstacles is the lethargic effect of government domination.

For the sake of supplying the rest of the world, this country had better stick to its much abused capitalistic system. It has proved it can get results.

MORE CORNED BEEF AND . . .

That strong man's dish, corned beef and cabbage, should be increasingly plentiful soon. This forecast by the Production and Marketing Administration, USDA, received by the A and M College Extension Service, says that more meat should be available now that slaughterers have unlimited slaughtering privileges. Moreover, cabbage, the champion ingredient, will be abundant. PMA suggests it's a good time to put up the winter's supply of kraut. For home canning, glass jars are satisfactory.

J. D. McCampbell Accepts Position Local Post Office

J. D. McCampbell, who was recently discharged from the Army and who several years before entering the service lived in Lubbock, has returned to Post and is now associated with the local post office as postal clerk. McCampbell replaced Harold Davies who moved last week to Cisco to accept a position with the postal

Soil Conservation District News

(Notes From the Local Office) The Supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District met in Spur on Thursday, September 30. Applications for assistance were approved for the farms of M. K. Bingham and Joe Frank Hopper. Conservation plans were approved for farms belonging to M. K. Bingham and M. H. Dooley.

Recent rains were quite general throughout the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District. For the period from September 25th to 29th inclusive, Bud Stevens of Graham reported 1.69 inches, Lee Reed of Justiceburg 1.89 inches, Sam Lewis of Pleasant Valley 2.49 inches, R. L. Cummings near Post 1.86 inches. Most district cooperators feel that even though the rain is a little late to be of great benefit to this year's crops, if the moisture is held in the ground through proper management of crop residue it will help provide a "bottom season" for next year.

J. D. Brown of Conservation Group 42 between Pleasant Valley and Southland is prepared to start building his terraces now, even though his crop is not fully harvested. He had his lines run last spring and farmed by them. Now he plans to harvest the strips where the terraces are to be built and start construction immediately.

Mrs. Wilma Keeney is expecting her husband's brother, Cpl. L. T. Keeney, to arrive here Thursday for a visit. Cpl. Keeney is an aerial gunner on a B-17. He is enroute to Keesler Field, Miss. where he will be stationed.

The Katy Railroad was 73 years old May 23, 1945.

McCampbell and his wife, the former Miss Vada Satterwhite were both reared and attended school in Post. Mrs. McCampbell and their small son, Jerry Don, will move to Post when Mr. McCampbell locates a residence.

Food From Home Is The Gift The Servicemen Want

The war's end has not solved the problem of sending food to servicemen overseas and "food from home" is the first thought most of the boys have when they are asked what they would like to find in their Christmas packages.

Mrs. Wilma Keeney, county home demonstration agent, says, "Experience last year taught us to use foods canned in tin cans if at all possible. At least it is essential to pack foods in tight metal containers."

Reports from servicemen indicate that food not sealed in cans was usually molded, soaked in oil or water, or it was dried out and old.

Climate and distance of travel this year will make proper canning more important than ever Mrs. Keeney asserted. With only a few days left one should get those foods prepared today in order to meet the deadline date of October 15.

"When sending food to the servicemen, it is best to send a variety of things unless he has asked for one specific food," says Mrs. Keeney. "Some women planned a menu on this order: 1 can turkey, 1 can cranberry sauce, 1 can nuts, 1 can plum pudding. Another sent 1 can cheese, 1 can pickles, and 1 can crackers at one time. A meat, a vegetable, a fruit, a relish and a sweet which go together well might make a whole meal," recommends Mrs. Keeney.

Fruit cakes were among the most popular items sent last year. It is one of the most desirable products; therefore, Mrs. Keeney advises that we continue to send fruit cakes even if sugar substitutes have to be used.

Other items which have been canned and sent overseas successfully are: cookies, candies, baked or fried fruit pies, breads, preserves and jellies, well cured meats, fritos and potato chips, pickled boiled eggs and many other types of cake in addition to fruit cake. For details on packing and canning these items see your county home demonstration agent.

Frigidaire Ranges Expected Soon By Local Distributor

Homer McCrary, local Frigidaire Appliance Dealer announced upon his return from a Frigidaire Sales Conference in Lubbock that electric ranges and refrigerators are now in mass production at the Frigidaire plants.

Recent War Production Board rulings have rescinded any and all restrictions on the sale of electric ranges to the public and the Frigidaire range will soon be on display in the McCrary Appliance Co. However, the refrigerators, under current WPB regulations, are frozen in a government stockpile. The exact date of their release is not known at present. Mr. McCrary stated that the sample Frigidaire products he saw at the conference, and which were right off the production line, had all the quality, workmanship and eye-appeal of the prewar models.

Meanwhile, Mr. McCrary stated that the rapid reconversion and the availability of facilities at the Frigidaire plants in Dayton indicate housewives will soon be able to purchase most Frigidaire products.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. A. W. Bouchier were Mr. and Mrs. Van Tuij Bouchier of Baltimore.

Captain Tom Power Expected Home Soon

News that Captain Tom Power might be redeployed and sent back to the states is welcome news here as the Post boy has been in service over four years and overseas more than two years. In a letter dated on Sept. 8 to his brother, J. N., Tom said that his squadron was expecting to be redeployed within the next 60 days and that he hoped to be back in Post in the not too distant future.

Tom is now in Japan. He is a member of the famous First Cavalry Division.

Fern Sawyer Roping In Levelland Contest

Levelland, Texas— Miss Fern Sawyer, of Cross Roads, New Mexico, who has competed in the world's largest shows, including the Fat Stock Show in Ft. Worth, in Houston, Cheyenne, Wyoming, Pendleton, Oregon, Boston, and in Madison Square Garden in New York, will match Tom Standefer of Bledsoe, Texas, in a cutting horse contest in the Levelland rodeo arena Sunday afternoon, October 7th, at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Sawyer will be riding "Deben," her famous cutting horse, which is claimed to be the world's champion cutting horse.

Standefer, former sheriff of Cochran county, who is equally known in rodeo circles, has also competed in major rodeos all over the country, including big shows in England.

Other events will include a matched roping contest between Cotton Lee of Fort Sumner and Buddy Fret of Livingston, New Mexico, bronc riding, jackpot roping contests, and other events.

Mrs. Madge Mathis returned the first of the week from California.

Prolonged Rain—

Most of Garza county's cotton, which was planted early, will not be affected by the rain, there is very little acreage in cotton, due to the spring drought, and what few patches were planted are now rapidly opening, but will be retarded in maturity by such weather as that of last week.

Range lands will be benefited by the rains, according to reports from several ranchers. "The moisture will not only help growing grass but will toughen it for better winter grazing," said one prominent rancher.

Covered Dish Supper Enjoyed By Sunday School Class

The social will consist of a covered dish supper to be followed by games and a sing-song. The business meeting which is to follow will be for the purpose of electing new officers and organizing the work for the coming year.

POST GRADE SCHOOL 4-H CLUB MEETING

The Post Grade school 4-H girls club held their regular meeting on October 3. "God Bless America" was sung by the club to open the meeting. Barbara Lewis led the song. Minutes were read by Anita Kennedy.

"Good Grooming" was discussed by Miss Wilma Keeney. The next meeting will be held the first Wednesday in November.

And all this was done despite rationing of newspaper paper! Remember, the Germans thought New York had been bombed out; the Japs thought that San Francisco had been annihilated; but the American people knew the bad news with the good.

Garza Oil News—

(Continued From Front Page) test has been drilled "light" with little information for the public and no account given on shows of oil or gas. One source of information revealed that the test legged about one hundred feet deeper than the proven production in central Garza and that the formation was about the same. The test was completed between 2600 and 3000 feet. The rig is being moved this week to another location about one and one-half miles south of the completed test. Drilling is to be started on the second test soon.

Women Workers Who Marry Should Tell Social Security Board

Women workers should notify the Social Security Board when they marry so their names can be changed on the Board's records at Baltimore.

If they do this they will make it easier for themselves and the Board when the time comes to file claims for old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

For the woman who marries and wants to change her name, the Board has provided a special form, which may be obtained at the local field office of the Board. She should fill it out, attach the social security card bearing her maiden name and send the form to the Board.

The Board does not assign her a new number, but issues a new card bearing her present name and the number that was originally assigned to her. She thus will have only one social security number during her entire lifetime. If she had more than one number or used more than one name, she might stand to lose her benefits.

The Board keeps all information it receives from the worker strictly confidential. The worker may obtain further information from the manager of the Social Security Board of Lub-

Short Cuts That Are Worth Sharing

How many times has a friend passed along to you some helpful idea that has appealed to you and you have explained, "why didn't I think of that?" Here are some that have been sent to the woman's editor that we would like to share with our readers:

In the fall when you send growing daughter's summer dress to the cleaner prior to the winter putting away in the closet, let the hems out beforehand. Then, when spring check-ups show a let-down job, the old hem will not show. This holds also for winter dresses put away for summer months.

When buying kitchen cutlery that lies in a drawer, I choose different colors. Ten, on opening the drawer, I know immediately that the green handle is my perforated spoon, the red one my spatula and the small black handles are my two favorite paring knives.

A small orange juice glass fits neatly over my salt shaker when it's not on the table, keeping the salt dry during the summer months of high humidity.

All the odds and ends of soap put in a wire strainer and left standing in the top of a 4-quart bottle of hot water, gives me just as much soap jelly.

On the back of my kitchen closet door is a prewar shoebox. In it keep string, cellophane dish covers, and in the bottom a row of dusting cloths. Other needful things seem to find their way into that bag, too.

QUICKIE QUIZ

In 1905 a trotting horse named Dan Patch ran a mile in 1:58 1/4, setting a new world's record. Experts predicted then that the time would come when a harness horse could bring that figure down around 1:50. But, to the chagrin of the forecasters, Dan Patch's record stood for 33 years.

Walter Kinella, star of Mutual's laugh show, "Leave It To Mike", knows the name of the horse that finally broke this trotting record, and what his running time was. Are you that well up on harness racing?

Mahon Reports On His Overseas Tour Of Pacific Islands

I recently went on an overseas mission in company with members of the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee and a group of officers representing the Army. There was no opportunity to talk personally with large numbers of Texan overseas, but I thought a brief report to the people might be of interest.

On the evening of August 16th we left Hamilton Field, California, and flew overnight to Hickman Field, Hawaii. While in the Pacific Ocean area, we visited Army installations at Tarawa, Kwajalein, Samoa, Fiji, New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, Manus, Siapan, Okinawa, Guam and the Philippines. Our mission also took us to many of our supply bases and Army camps in Australia, China, India, North Africa, and Europe. We had conferences in all the major headquarters of our armed forces, collecting at firsthand a tremendous amount of information which will be of great value in shaping future plans and in reducing war spending. In many of the areas, meetings with the enlisted men were arranged, and they always welcomed the opportunity to give us the lowdown on the situation. Many of them were resentful of War Department policies, and they were anxious for Congress to know the truth as they saw it.

Our people at home cannot realize just how anxious the men of our armed forces are to get home. They could face the bullets of the enemy, but they are in no mood to spend one unnecessary hour overseas. They do not think the Army is getting them home as fast as possible. In our conferences with General Eisenhower and numerous other overseas commanders, we pulled no punches in urging speedier demobilization. We knew the attitude of the soldiers and the sentiments of their families at home.

Shipping is one of the limiting factors, but the shipping situation is rapidly improving. Staff officers complained that they could not walk off and leave the vast quantities of government property and supplies they have on hand. Undoubtedly, the speed of disposition of surplus supplies abroad has a very direct bearing on when the men will come home.

Even in far away Australia, I found that we had four hundred thousand tons of supplies and four thousand troops. In the Philippines, we have nearly a million troops and two and one-half tons of supplies. We have one million tons of supplies in India and one hundred and seventy-two thousand troops. In China we have sixty thousand men and large quantities of supplies. Of course, our greatest concentration of men and supplies is in Europe where we have an estimated seven billion dollars' worth of supplies and nearly two million men.

We are losing a lot of property in certain quarters of the world by reason of theft by the native population. A lot of the property is in open storage and rapidly deteriorating.

Our committee is making a report to the President and to General Marshall of our findings, along with certain recommendations which we hope may prove helpful in disposing of our supplies and getting our men home faster.

On a large map of the world in one of the headquarters overseas, we observed that the United States had been labeled as "Uncle Sugar." America must realize that her resources are not inexhaustible. We have a difficult road ahead if we are to conserve our resources and reap the full benefits of our victory in the war.

One of the repeated complaints which we heard from the officers and men of the Air Transport Command. They complain that many of them are being kept overseas in order that America may keep possession of certain airports pending the time when our commercial airlines may take over. It is thought that if the ATC moves out, our commercial airlines may have a hard time getting in. The big race for post-war commercial aviation is on. We want to see America supreme, but I agree with the men that they should not be kept overseas indefinitely on this basis. Even in Athens, Greece, I found 300 men of our air forces running an airport. The sun never sets on the U. S. Armed forces.

One of the great factors in the unhappiness of our men abroad is the fact that in many areas there is little to do. The men are very busy in the ports and loading zones, but many thousands of our men have practically nothing to do but wait.

I do not discount the remarkably good job which our military leadership did in winning the war. Moreover, a good job is now being done in some areas in getting the men straggling home. The program will move faster in the coming weeks. In certain areas, especially in Europe, the men who are awaiting passage home are given opportunities for recreation.

District Agricultural Agent Compliments Local Men On Show

District Agricultural Agent Williamson was transacting business with George Samson in the local office here last week end. K. McCoy, Garza agent. The show is being held today. Williamson is attending the event.

schooling, and sightseeing. But it is home and nothing else that is uppermost in the minds of our men overseas. Fortunately, they have many spokesmen here, and there will be a much more rapid demobilization than originally announced by the War and Navy Departments.

Lesson for October 7

LOVE FOR GOD AND LOVE FOR MAN

GOLDEN TEXT—Luke 10:25-37. GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

"What shall I do?" The question of the lawyer in our lesson is a query which is on the lips of the minds of millions of men and women each day. They want to do right and want to be right, but their lives lack the direction which only faith in God can give them.

Never does the question go more deeply than when it concerns man's eternal welfare, as it does in our lesson. Always that question indicates that man is not able to decide for himself, and needs the guidance of someone greater and wiser than he. This should lead us back to God, for only He can fully answer it.

The story of the Good Samaritan tell us what we must do to show our love for God and man, and gives a demonstration of how it is to be done.

I. What to Do (vv. 25-28).

The lawyer (a student of the law of Moses, and hence a theologian rather than an attorney) was posing a question to try to entrap Jesus. He was apparently not much concerned about eternal life and assumed that it could be obtained by doing something.

We know that eternal life is a gift (John 1:12; Rom. 6:23), but if the man wanted to have it by doing, Jesus was ready to meet him. In response to Jesus' question (v. 26), the lawyer gave Him what the Jews regarded as, the summary of the whole law.

The man who can perfectly keep that law will have eternal life, declares Jesus. But note that you must do it, not just talk about it. And you must keep the whole law, "for whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become guilty of all" James 2:10, R.V.; see also Gal. 3:10.

Observe that the commandment, so highly commended by our Lord, concerns a true love for God which shows in an active love for one's fellowman.

Love is the only thing that can save our bruised and bleeding world. How sad it is that in such an hour of need there is so little said in the church about love and it is practiced even less. It is the forgotten fundamental of all the fundamentals of faith! Let us begin to preach it and practice it!

II. How to Do It (vv. 29-37).

It is one thing to realize that one ought to do a thing; it is quite another thing to do it. Here we have what may have been an actual incident given by our Lord as an object lesson of the right and the wrong attitude toward a fellowman in need.

1. The Wrong Attitude (vv. 29-32). The lawyer's effort to justify himself by diverting attention to the word "neighbor," which he felt needed definition, showed that he could not do the thing expected of him.

The reason for man's failure lies primarily in his own weakness and inability to do what God requires, but is also revealed in his pitiable and futile efforts to justify himself.

The one who seeing his sinfulness and his utter inability to keep God's law casts himself on the Lord is ready to receive the gift of eternal life. But the one who tries to defend his position and justify himself has shut the door on God's grace and mercy (see Luke 18:9-14).

The parable of the Good Samaritan answers fully and finally the question, "Who is my neighbor?" by making it clear that anyone who is in need, regardless of race, social position, condition or religion, is our neighbor.

The priest and the Levite doubtless had plenty of excuses for not helping the wounded man, but let us remember that excuses, while they may count with men, mean only our condemnation in the presence of God.

2. The Right Spirit.

It was the spirit of Christ that made the Samaritan show a compassionate and sacrificial interest in the needy man. Only Christ can make you and me like that. His love in the heart is the only "good neighbor program" that will ever work.

Statesmen, philosophers — yes, and the man in the street — of our day are looking hither and yon for an answer to the world's need. They all sense that we must have something great, and tender, and powerful to unite the hearts of men, or we shall soon be in conflict again. The next time we may well write civilization off the globe. What is the answer? Love! First, a real love for God, then love for our fellowmen of all nations. The answer to the world's awful problem is a revival of Christian faith; without it we perish.

Army Food Budget Down 42 Per Cent

Among other things, it expects to purchase 53 per cent less meat, 48 per cent less fats and oils, 51 per cent less sugar and 61 per cent less dairy products.

Among things the Army had expected to buy, but won't now: $812,400 worth of frozen whole eggs; 23,000,000 pounds of other eggs; more than 25,000,000 pounds of soap; more than 1,500,000 pounds of spices; 2,648,000 boxes of water repellent matches and 1,017,000 cartons of safety matches.
