Marvin Hudman is improving satisfactorily after an emergency appendectomy performed last Saturday at 3 p. m. He had been ill for two days but continued at his job. Saturday morning he felt so much worse that he was taken by ambulance shortly after 12 o'clock to the West Texas hospital.

Mrs. Hudman is back on the job at Mason's today. She remained with her husband until late yesterday. He was feeling so good, she said, that the doctor thought, barring complications, he could be brought home this next Saturday.

Anyone who has been inconvenienced by the fogging up of eyeglasses when coming indoors, to say nothing of the same trouble with windshields, camera lenses, or other glass surfaces on which fog gathers because of temperature changes, will be interested in a new anti-fog chemical said to be nontoxic and noninflammable. When wiped on the glass, it forms an invisible film which prevents fog.

Anti-Aircraft Gun Trailer

It seems like a far cry from the Fruehauf cargo trailers which transport essential products over America's highways to equipment used to fight the Japs. However, the same basic advantage of the trailer has been realized by the Army for transporting these 50-mm guns to help keep the Japs away from a newly captured beach head in the Pacific. The Army has found over 300 uses for trailers since the war began.

Killed by Jap Bomb

LAKEVIEW, ORE.—Soundphoto—Mrs. Elyse Mitchell, above, and five children were killed by a high explosive bomb which was part of the equipment of a fallen Jap balloon in southern Oregon woods during an outing. The tragedy, cause of which first was kept a strict military secret, was disclosed as a warning to the public not to approach strange objects in the forests. The woman's husband, Archie, a clergyman, was the only survivor. They were escorting a group of children on an outing when one of the youngsters spotted the balloon and an explosion occurred when he tugged at it.

Quiet Holiday Observed Here

The Fourth of July was observed in Post by the closing of stores, most of them for the entire day. Some of the drug stores opened for afternoon trade. Filling stations remained open and attendants realized it was a holiday because of increased business.

However, in Stamford it was the colorful panorama of people, horses, and noise which is the Cowboy Reunion, a celebration of many year's standing. A good many people attended the show from this county.

Lubbock observed the day with planned programs at various neighborhood parks.

Levelland observed the holiday with its own particular style of Western rodeo. A parade was held Tuesday morning with the matinee performance at 3 that afternoon.

Performances of typical events continued through last night.

Sgt. "Bunk" Floyd With One of World's Busiest Airlines

ATC Air Base, Marrakech—Sgt. Burnice Floyd, son of Mrs. Lula V. Floyd of Lubbock, formerly of Post, is performing duties with the fuel control department at this base unit, commanded by Lt. Col. Rollen H. Anthis, of the North African Division of the Air Transport Command. The department to which Sgt. Floyd is assigned has the responsibility of refueling aircraft which stop at this base unit en route to war fronts scattered around the globe. The division operates one of the most traveled airlines in the world and all aircraft that is halted here is refueled, repairs are made, if necessary in order that the journey may be continued. Sgt. Floyd, a native of O'Donnell, Texas, resides in Post. He was educated in Post schools, graduating from high school in 1933. Prior to enlisting in the army on January 29, 1943, he had been associated with the Dalby Motor Lines of Lubbock and later with the Magnolia Petroleum Co. of Amarillo. He is married to the former Zelma N. Criswell of Jayton and they have one daughter, Patricia June.

New Air Cleaner Will Affect Living In The Future

The fruits of research, study, and experience are not only helping to win the war now, but will definitely affect the living conditions and habits of people in peacetime. Before the war, for example, there was little demand for electrically cleaned air. Cleaning which could be done with ordinary filters was thought to be adequate. Now postwar homeowners are promised an electrical air cleaner which will greatly reduce the drudgery of dusting, cleaning, and wall washing.

CLEAN IT UP! IS ADVICE ON SEWING MACHINE EFFICIENCY

If you use your sewing machine only a few hours a day, oiling and cleaning should be done twice a week; if you keep your machine stitching continuously, both oiling and cleaning should be done daily. If your machine does not work smoothly or has not been used for a long time, an inexpensive tune-up treatment usually is needed to put the machine in efficient service. Most sewing machines occasionally need a complete bath for the machine head bearings followed by thorough lubrication and a stitching check-up by a skilled mechanic. But even sewing machines that are cobwebby attic veterans of grandmother's day often can be salvaged inexpensively to do an efficient part in wartime emergency sewing projects.

News of interest in Garza county friends of Lloyd Croslin is that Croslin, former Lubbock county attorney and partner in a law firm and former teacher in the Post High school, is in Lubbock now on leave from duty with the U. S. Navy. Lt. (j. g.) Croslin was recently assigned to ship duty after serving as an instructor in amphibious training on the West Coast. His most recent station was San Francisco. He is visiting his wife and two small sons.

4-H'ers Urged To Go Limit In Checking Accident Hazards

Four-H club boys and girls are urged to go the limit in checking accident hazards on farms this year. Authorities emphasized that due to labor shortage, farm families must work longer hours and the resulting fatigue makes them less alert. Also, farmers must employ as helpers young people with no previous experience in farm work, who may fail to recognize hazards.

Preventable accidents on farms result in the death of 17,000 members of farm households and the injury of 1,500,000 annually. This toll seriously affects production of farm food. In time lost due to farm accidents last year, seven bushels of wheat could have been produced for each of the 137,000,000 persons in the United States.

It is estimated that fully a half million farm boys and girls will take part in the 1945 National 4-H Farm Safety Activity. As incentives to achieve outstanding 4-H safety records, General Motors offers merit awards. They include silver medals to five winners in each county and $25 War Bonds to the ten top ranking county champions in each state. National 4-H Club Congress honors will be awarded to the three highest rating state champions in each of the four extension sections and four at large. Twelve of the sectional winners will be selected to receive $200 college scholarships.

In addition, the county in each state reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program in 1945 will receive a special plaque designating the honor. Full information concerning the activity, which is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service, may be obtained from county extension agents.

Last year's state winner in Texas was Jackie G. Brock of Floydada.

County winners were named in Callahan, Camp, Comanche, Dallas, Dickens, Eastland, Floyd, Fort Bend, Frio, Grimes, Hall, Parker, Rusk, Sabine, Stephens, Wood, Young, Armstrong, Wichita, Colke, Foard, and Clay counties.

They Did It Before— They Can Do It Again With Farmall Tractor Power from dark to dark, and longer. Many planted around the clock, working in two or three shifts. They made one of the greatest crops in history.

In today's war-torn world—with hunger and disease already stalking many peoples—even one major crop failure could bring famine. This is why the sound of tractors and planting machinery was heard, day and night, from the Plains states to the Eastern seaboard—wavy headlights stabbed the darkness over the fields.

America's farmers are doing it again, in spite of an unprecedented combination of adverse circumstances—bad weather, shortages of machines and shortages of manpower. For the second year in three years, they are relying upon their tractor-powered machines to help rescue large areas of the world from catastrophe. More of these tractors are products of International Harvester than of any other company.

Night Shift ON THE FOOD FRONT

Tomorrow the Spring, from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard, worried farmers searched the skies for signs of clear weather, but the cold rains fell relentlessly.

For more than a month the seed should have been germinating in the warm soil. Millions of acres lay unplanted because the ground was too wet for preparation of the seed bed and too cold for germination of the seed.

Only a generation ago there could have been but one outcome—crop shortage and food scarcity. Nature allows scant time for planting when the warm sun waits till late May or June before drying the soggy soil. Horses are too slow and tire too quickly to get the job done then.

But the farmers remember May of 1943—only two years ago—when their fast, untiring tractors averted crop failure. Then, too, rains flooded the fields and the month was all but spent before they could go in on the land and plant.

In 1943, most farmers drove their tractors

MAN'S FAILURES AND GOD'S PROMISES

LEPSON TEXT—Genesis 6:5-7; 8:1, 4, 18, 20-22
GOLDEN TEXT—While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease.—Genesis 8:22

The beginnings of all things in the book of Genesis include, we are sorry to note, the beginning of sin in the fall of Adam. Soon we read of the first murder, Cain slaying his godly brother, Abel, because his acceptance with God exposed the wrong heart-attitude of Cain.

The godly line was renewed in Seth, but before long sin again lifted its ugly head. Now the wickedness of man had become so widespread that God was driven to a drastic judgment.

I. Judgment for the Wicked (6:5-7)

The Lord sees the wickedness of men—let us not forget that! At times it seems as though the un-godly flourish in their sin and that there is no judgment upon them.

God knows what goes on in the world. He is long-suffering and merciful, but there is a boundary line to His patience, and when that limit is reached, there can be no nothing but judgment.

Ever imagination of the thoughts of man's heart was evil continually (v. 5). One is reminded of Jeremiah 17:9, and of such a contemporary estimate of man as that of Dr. Mackay, who said, "Psychology has unveiled the dismal and sinister depths in human nature. Man can no longer flee from reality into the romantic refuge of his own heart; for the human heart has become a house of horrors in whose murky recesses man cannot erect for his solace either a shrine or a citadel. Man is bad; he is a sinner."

God did not change His mind (v. 6), but man by his sin moved himself out of the circle of God's love over into the circle of His judgment. God never changes, but we change our relation to Him by our actions. Such is the evident meaning of this verse.

II. Deliverance for the Upright (8:1, 4, 18)

God remembered Noah, and he "found grace in the eyes of the Lord" (Gen. 8:1) because he was "a just man" (6:9). At the Lord's command, he prepared the ark for the saving of himself and his house, and after the Lord had "shut him in" (Gen. 7:16), the great judgment by water came upon the earth.

After 150 days (Gen. 7:24), the Lord remembered Noah (8:1) and caused the earth to dry up once again. The same Lord who shut him in to keep him during the flood brought him out after the flood (8: 15, 16), gave him great power (9: 1-4), assured him of His protection (9:5-7), and gave him the great promise (9:8-10) of which the rainbow became the token.

The God who will in no wise forget the sin of the wicked will never leave nor forsake those who walk uprightly before Him. The story of Noah should stimulate our faith, causing us to obey and trust God. His protecting hand is over His children, and He can bring them through the darkest days of tribulation.

III. Mercy in the Midst of Sin (8:20-22)

"Noah builded an altar," for the first impulse of his heart was to give praise to God for His mighty deliverance. His offering came up to God as "a sweet savor," that is, it was pleasing to God.

To come before God with acceptable worship man must come with clean hands. The question is not whether he is brilliant, learned, or of high position. The one thing that counts is obedience. When such a man offers the worship of his heart before God, it goes up to him like a sweet savor.

God knew man's heart (v. 21).
He had no illusions that even the judgment of the flood would change it. Eagerly His love sought man's obedient response, but He well knew that the awful pestilence of sin would continue until the very end of the age.

So in spite of that sin, and in the very midst of it, God promised that He would never again wipe out humanity as He did in the flood.
There would be individual judgment and collective judgment on certain groups, but never again the smiting of every living thing. Thus, He set men free from the terror which must have now been in their hearts.

The beautiful rainbow in the cloud became a token of God's promise, and the visible assurance to "all flesh" that the judgment of the flood would not be repeated. Never again would seed time and harvest, nor any of the orderly processes of nature, fall throughout the whole world.

What a gracious God we have!
And what a pity that men presume upon His goodness.

JAPAN'S V-WEAPON
 Japan's employment of suicide planes against the American fleet off Okinawa may be the tactics of desperation. But this should not obscure the fact that these planes have proved dangerous. Moreover, there is increasing reason to suspect that the tactics are calculated as much as they are desperate.
 The situation which prompted Secretary of the Navy Forrestal's plea for manpower to repair battle-damaged ships certainly points in this direction. The Japanese cannot hope now for a military victory in this war. They do strive to hold off invasion of the home islands and of vital areas in Manchuria as long as possible on the chance that something may happen to save them from utter defeat. If the "baca" planes can damage enough important American ships, and if repairing these ships takes a long enough time, they will win delay.

So it is not alone a battle between the guns and planes of the American fleet and the Kamikaze pilots. It is likewise a race between Japan's capacity to recruit and train these one-way airmen and America's ability to repair damaged ships and replace those sunk.

Once an amphibious operation has moved ashore, the news spotlight tends to follow the land fighting. Too little is said of the men in ships who must keep the supply lines open for the troops, even though it means remaining week after week in waters close to enemy airfields. The fact that the Navy has suffered over 4,000 casualties off Okinawa alone suggest what it has meant to stay on the job in the face of Japan's V-Weapons.

PUBLIC HAND-OUTS ROAD TO POVERTY
 The question of tax reduction rests entirely in the hands of the people. The National City Bank of New York sums the situation up accurately when it says that the extent of the reduction in the tax rates will depend on how far the people are willing to go in reducing government spending after the war. The Bank says: "The American people need to get out of the habit of trying to solve every economic problem by running to government for some kind of subsidy or financial guarantee, the sum totals of which easily run up to staggering amounts." Taxes will go higher if individuals and communities persist in asking public hand-outs from government, instead of being self supporting.

RECIPE FOR CO-OPERATION W. F. MacCoy, director of personnel for the U. S. State department, has a recipe for getting the best out of his workers. It is one which all others will do well to study.
 His recipe:
 "Give two pats on the back for every kick in the pants." That sort of thing should work wonders in any organization.
 Cruisers cost the U. S. Government an average of $12,500,000.

NOTICE
 I have moved my office to the City Hall, to the office formerly occupied by Mr. Hyde, where I will be at all times, and will appreciate your business. I will give special attention to titles, abstracts and leases.
 Very respectfully,

Sidelights

from Washington
 By GEORGE MAHON

The U. S. Senate, after brief hearings and debate, will ratify the United Nations Charter adopted at San Francisco. That is the prevailing view in Washington.
 There is an air of eagerness and optimism which exceeds the early expectations of friends of world organization.

Within two hours after Senator Connally arrived from the conference he gave us Texas members a preliminary report on the new Charter.

Early U. S. ratification would set the pattern for other nations.
 War has become such a terribly destructive thing that there can be no hope for the world unless we can establish an effective organization for peace.

The Charter makes dull reading, but it can and must become the greatest instrument for peace ever created by man. There will be many disappointments ahead, and we must steel ourselves against them, realizing that the Charter is far from perfect and that we must not expect too much or too little of it.

(Anyone wishing a copy of the proposed Charter can secure it by addressing a request to me at the House Office Building, Washington, D. C.)

Those interested in rural electrification in West Texas will be pleased over the action we took in the House last week. I joined other friends of REA in putting through an amendment which provides for an additional one hundred twenty million dollar REA expansion program. This money is provided by Government loans which are repaid by patrons of REA. Applications for REA expansion now average one million dollars per day. The program is being retarded, however, by the scarcity of certain critical material.

Members of the House almost come to blows whenever the merits or demerits of oleomargarine and butter are discussed in Congress. For fourteen years there has been a provision in an appropriation bill prohibiting the purchase of oleo for the Army except for cooking purposes, unless special request to the contrary is made by the soldier. Some of us recently undertook to strike this from the law, arguing that though most of us prefer butter, both foods are wholesome and neither should be discriminated against.
 We argued that in view of food shortages, the Army should be relieved of what we called an unreasonable restriction. After heated debate, however, the motion was defeated and the restriction remains in the law.

LEARNING THE HARD WAY
 Fred H. Sexauer, long a leader in the dairy industry, in a recent statement, said that the Dairymen's League more than three years ago warned that unless agriculture was treated as an essential industry, the nation would have serious food shortages.
 The present food shortage and the frantic government efforts to correct conditions are evidence of the correctness of the farm organization's stand.

Plan Your Summer Canning Program Says H-D Agent

Every household these days should have a definite plan of activity in stocking the pantry shelves with home canned and preserved foods for the winter months, and this plan will not only include planting with a plan, but preserving with a purpose, says Mrs. Wilma Keeney, County Home Demonstration Agent of this county.
 Begin, Mrs. Keeney suggests, by estimating the amount of fruits, vegetables and meats your family will need. Then set that number as your canning goal. A good guide to use in estimating this amount is to consider that about half the necessary consumption of food for your family during the year will be fresh and the other half processed. If fresh foods are available for as much as three-fourths of the year, half the amounts suggested will be sufficient. If the season is shorter, say one-fourth of the year, you must take one and a half times the suggested amounts. Children under ten years of age require about half the suggested amounts.
 Here is the suggested plan: each individual in the family requires 22 quarts of green and yellow vegetables per year, 22 quarts of other vegetables, such as beets, okra and squash, and 22 quarts of tomatoes or citrus fruits. Also include for each member of the family 22 quarts of other fruits, 5 quarts of pickles or relishes, and 7 pints of preserves and jellies. In meats, allow 88 pounds of meat for each person. Usually half this amount is canned, and is equivalent to about 20 quarts of canned meat or chicken.
 It is well to remember also that food may be preserved other ways. In dried food, one quart of food is equivalent to one quart of food canned. 2 pounds frozen equals one quart canned and 4 pounds stored, or 2 quarts brined are equivalent to one quart canned.
 Take into consideration also the likes and dislikes of your family. For example, if tomato juice is a favorite in your household, make your goal high for that product. Strive for variety and avoid overstocking in some fruits and vegetables.

CHANGE Mobiloil REGULARLY

When moisture from burning gasoline condenses in an automobile engine, most of it goes out the exhaust, but there's still a lot of it left in soap into the motor oil and this it out. And thinned-out oil will not provide the proper lubricating film between moving parts of the motor, causing greater friction and wear. Come in and let us change the oil to pure, fresh Mobiloil today, for better and longer engine performance.

Timely Tips On Care Of Clothes Given By Mrs. Wilma Keeney

More than ever before, there is need for us to be concerned with the question of conservation of clothing, including the hard-to-buy accessories. As war shortages have made good leather and other materials scarce and expensive, there are a number of ideas we should keep in mind concerning care of these articles, according to Mrs. Wilma Keeney, Home Demonstration Agent.
 Good gloves are particularly hard to get, and old ones may be made to last longer if they are laundered frequently, as hard rubbing may injure the finish or roughen the surface. Most cotton and rayon gloves usually wash well, and many varieties of leather gloves likewise are washable, although leather gloves should not be washed unless they are marked "washable" or are acid washable. Gloves which have been dry cleaned should not be washed.
 As for washable gloves, the easiest way to wash them is to have them on your hands when you do it. Use mild, lukewarm soda, squeezing and pressing them, but don't rub or brush. Chamois and doekskin gloves should be washed off the hands, since they soften when wet and may stretch or tear. When these gloves are clean, peel them gently from the wrist. Wash the inside if necessary, then turn them right-side out and rinse well in lukewarm water. Boil in a turkish towel to take up extra moisture. If the gloves are fabric they may be put on metal glove drier, hung evenly on a rod, or laid flat to dry. Leather gloves should be stretched gently lengthwise, and dried flat on a dry turkish towel away from heat or sunlight. When they are almost dry stretch the leather gently in both directions or work them onto the hands to shape and soften them. Remove them carefully and lay out to dry thoroughly.
 Frank Lanotte returned to El Paso Wednesday after visiting here a short time with his father, N. J. Lanotte and other relatives. Mrs. Lanotte and little daughter, Katherine, who accompanied him to Post are visiting with her mother, Mrs. Ira Weakley, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurt of Lubbock but recently of Post have three sons in the service. S/Sgt. Hurt, twin brothers are now stationed in the same town for the first time. Roger received his pilot's wings in November and has been stationed at Del Rio since then. Roland spent a 15-day leave at home following his graduation from Altus Army Air field and while here, his twin brother wired that he is to be stationed at Randolph Field, San Antonio, and Roland was to report to Brooks Field, San Antonio. Shotgun Shells To Be Cut Almost Half Merchants Informed Merchants of Post along with others over the nation have been informed that shotgun shells will be drastically cut this year. From a news bulletin from Washington the following information concerning the nation's supply is released:

America's hunters will have to be content with about 300,000 shotgun shells this year—about half as many as were available in 1944.

Hunting will be tight despite victory in Europe. Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, director of the fish and wildlife service, said last week.

There may be some loosening up on the production end along in July but its effectiveness will not be felt this season except in the Southern states where shooting begins late.

Cletus R. Caswell Helping To Guard German Equipment

With the Fifteenth United States Army in Combat—One of the many combat-trained units which have found themselves in new roles in post-war Germany, Battery C of the 671st Field Artillery Battalion today is filling the job of military police echelon in Major General Hugh J. Gaffey's XXIII Corps. Cpl. Cletus R. Caswell of Route 2 is a member of this highly trained unit.

Handling a part of the huge area which is under the military government of the Fifteenth United States Army, commanded by Lieutenant General Leonard T. Giervou, the Battery C men find their new task an interesting one.

"The assignment was heart-breaking at first," admits one of the veteran non-coms, "because we were hoping for a combat mission. But that was ruled out, of course, by Germany's surrender and I guess we'll have to admit that the new job is really OK. Most of the boys do like it."

With duty in several battle-blasted cities, the men of the battery are handling all types of assignments from traffic control at street intersections to the seizure and guarding of valuable German military equipment.

Activated in March of 1944, Battery C arrived in France with the other elements of the 671st early this year, and in April the battery was moved into Germany for its initial police assignment in the wake of the Third United States Army.

STOVE CERTIFICATES TO BECOME INVALID

All old stove purchase certificates Forms R-901 or R-901 (Rev. 12-43) previously issued by local War Price and Rationing boards will become invalid for consumer use after July 31, 1945, according to rationing officials.

It is necessary to invalidate these certificates because many outstanding certificates are held by persons who no longer need stoves because their circumstances have changed since receiving their certificate. Those persons who have the old certificates and do need stoves will have ample time to spend them before August, at which time the certificates will be taken out of circulation to protect stove supplies for current needs.

Stove dealers will have through August 15, 1945, to surrender their old certificates to their suppliers or exchange them at their local boards. Distributors have through August 22 to dispose of their old certificates in the same manner.

The Favorite War Story of GABRIEL HEATTER

PERHAPS you remember the photograph in your newspaper of a 16-year-old boy in a German uniform—broken-down, crying, a prisoner of war. There were many kinds of captions under the picture which was published all over the world.

One said, "This Nazi youth cries bitterly because Hitler has lost." Another said, "Here is a 16-year-old boy, once arrogant, now crushed. Hitler youth at its worst." Another said, "The Nazi weeps, but at least he has eyes left to weep with."

That was where the old master called "Life" went to work—on a hospital cot in England a wounded man from Poland was reading his newspaper when the picture caught his eye. He jumped up—called to his nurse.

"This boy isn't German," he shouted. "He isn't crying because Germany is defeated. God! No! This boy is my son. I'll tell you why he's crying."

"He was only 11 when Hitler attacked Warsaw, when the Nazis moved in and burned it to ashes. We moved him and hundreds of other children to Russia. He was in Minsk when the Germans stormed in. They carried him off to East Prussia. They beat him night and day, trying to make him say 'I'm not a Pole—I'm a German.' They even put him in uniform."

"When Germany was invaded, they made him defend it, while cowardly Nazis ran and hid. He was captured and when he realized that he was a prisoner in American hands, he broke down and wept. He knew he was safe for the first time in years."

And in that hospital where the father told his story you could hear a pin drop.

DICKSON RITES—

friends.

Arthur James Dickson was born April 19, 1909 and died July 1, 1945, therefore being 36 years, 2 months and 12 days old. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ora Lee Dickson, daughter Bobbie, his mother, Mrs. C. K. Dickson, three brothers, Bill, Joe and George and four sisters, Mmes. C. K. Robinson and Weldon GeGehee of Post, Edna Tipton of Amarillo, and Mrs. Ethel Vandiver of Oklahoma. His father preceded him in death several years as he died soon after the family moved to this county.

Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Keely at 7 p. m. Tuesday, July 3 at the Church of Christ. Bro. Keely spoke to the sorrowing family and friends and offered consolation and help during their trial. A large crowd paid final respect to the young man despite the steady down-pour of rain.

All of his family were present except his brother Bill, in the armed services, who was unable to arrive in time. Others from out of town were Mrs. Dickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chambers from Hamilton, Texas. Mrs. Dickson's twin sister and her family from Willsboro, Texas, attended also.

Palbearers were A. A. Ferguson, Lawrence Harrison, Harvey Howard, Temple Lee, Ralph Lewis and W. A. Long. Serving as flower girls were Miss Mattie Myrl Ferguson, Mmes. Gladys Pennell, Lena Ferguson, Jewell Long, Dorothy Dugger and Charlene Haynes.

Interment was made in the family plot in Terrace Cemetery with Mason and Co. officiating.

Negroes As Soldiers Called Utter Failure

Washington—Senator Eastland (D-Miss), carrying on last week the southern filibuster against the FEPC, injected into the long discussion an assertion that negro troops are "an utter and abysmal failure."

Flailing his arms and jerking his tie askew, the Mississippian declared "high ranking generals" had told him in a recent European trip that the negro troops would neither work nor fight.

In Normandy, he shouted, they criminally assaulted members of the families of French farmers.

"And we're asked here," he said "to set up an unfair preference against a white soldier solely because the negro minority sells its votes to the highest bidder in a political campaign. If it weren't for political considerations, this measure wouldn't get 10 votes in the Senate."

The War department had no immediate comment on Eastland's statements.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Carmichael had as guests last week, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Dale, who is an aunt of Mrs. Carmichael, and Mrs. E. L. Redford of Brownfield.
