Senior Gab!
The stores are selling out of striped material, pins, needles, darning, thread, and scissors this week because the housemaking girls have started to sew! The third year girls hope that they can learn to at least make a straight seam because this is their last try.

The Seniors were very pleased today when a class meeting was called to order about our invitations and cards for graduation. Better start thinking of gifts because we ordered lots of cards. We were very proud of the nice little "Senior Memory Books" we received. It has a place for everything you want to remember and forget.

The third year housemaking girls are making an inventory of their clothes. It isn't hard for Bobbie and Iris because they only have three things anyway!

In a class meeting of the Seniors last Monday they gave 200 percent to the March of Dimes. Some gave more because they talked. Of course we know that L. P. Kennedy is not a miser but we sincerely believe Betty, his daughter, is a gold-digger, because when she sees a dime for talking, you should see the boys jump up and run it hot hot.

Wonderful day for Mr. Pitts to-day! He had to wait for the third year housemaking girls to bring him some of their work, a picture of them. He also took pictures of the annual staff, Addax staff, basketball team and office girls.

Last week's personality was Hugh Ingram.

Junior Report . . .
The Junior class met on January 20, and the reporter and the secretary tendered their resignations. Wanda Rogers and Andrew Sweetser were elected as secretary and reporter. Mrs. N. W. Stone was elected as a new room mother.

The American History classes went to the theatre to see the new reel, which showed the main events of the last twenty years.

During the class elections there was much arguing and heckling.

over the fact that the boys outnumbered more than two to one and the girls always voting for their nominees, so that the boys hardly have a chance.

The Juniors and Seniors sold refreshments in the tournament held from Thursday through Saturday and were well pleased with the proceeds.

He is tall, dark, and has black hair and had a role in "Ready Made Family." Who is he?

Sophomore Soup!

Finally, the sophomores had that long-awaited party, but it happened to be a picnic at the road-side park. This happened Wednesday, Jan. 22. We want to thank Bobbie Jo, Janet, Alice, and Marjorie for getting the food for us, and all the boys who got wood for us. We want to especially thank our room mothers for their help. A wonderful time was reported and it was considered a successful picnic. Thank you Mr. King and Miss Cook.

We have a new member in the Sophomore class. She is Carolyn Eoren. We are happy to have you Carolyn and we hope you like it here.

Class meetings were held Monday morning and we discussed the raising of funds for the Junior's Pharyngitis Drive. We of the sophomore class hope to put this drive over in a big way, as it is desperately needed by hospitals all over Texas.

Freshman Frolics . . .

The Freshmen got busy at the last class meeting and planned a party. It was decided that it should be held at the canteen next Thursday night. After a hot argument the colors, flowers, etc., were decided upon. There was also some serious talk about the March of Dimes and it was decided that the class would give about 300%.

We hope that nothing prevents Mr. King's girls team from entering the tournament at Southland this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, as something has at all other basketball tournaments previously scheduled. These girls are playing on the Senior team and yet are still eligible to play on the other.

The English classes seem more pleased with their new literature books than they were with the grammar, however, the thought of poetry isn't very encouraging. Mrs. Bingham is supplying her Junior business classes with so-called relaxation in a class of questions and answers in the "Dr. I. Q." manner.

Eighth Grade Echo!

A class meeting was held Monday to decide on the amount to give to the March of Dimes Fund. Afterward we decided to have a class party St. Valentine's Day. Very surprised faces were seen on five of the eighth grade boys when they learned Monday morning that they were to be transferred to the girls class.

The eighth grade has had an addition of three new pupils. They are Mildred Boren, Lola Johnson and J. B. Grisham. We are very glad to have these new friends, and we sincerely hope they enjoy going to good old PHS.

Mrs. R. J. Key, Local President

Miss Sidney Lee McLaurin was honored with a party on her seventh birthday in the home of her mother, Mrs. Bud McLaurin, last Sunday night. Several games were played including a contest won by James Brice. Refreshments of cake and jello were served to twelve guests.

Mrs. Jimmie Bunker of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Smith and Yvonne of Lubbock were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, and Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Suttlinger and family were in Snyder Friday. Mrs. W. T. Porehman, Jr., was in Slaton Friday.

Canteen Capers . . .

Mrs. Guy Floyd opened the canteen Saturday night but members were unable to attend due to the hall game.

Monday night a meeting of the Parents was held. There was a nice program in store, thanks to the program chairman, Ivis Floyd. The parents discussed the affairs of the canteen and received some nice donations. The canteen will be open Saturday night to all members, so let's really have a crowd and have fun.

Child Injured

The small child of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. (Spec) Ballava is reported to be much improved at this time.

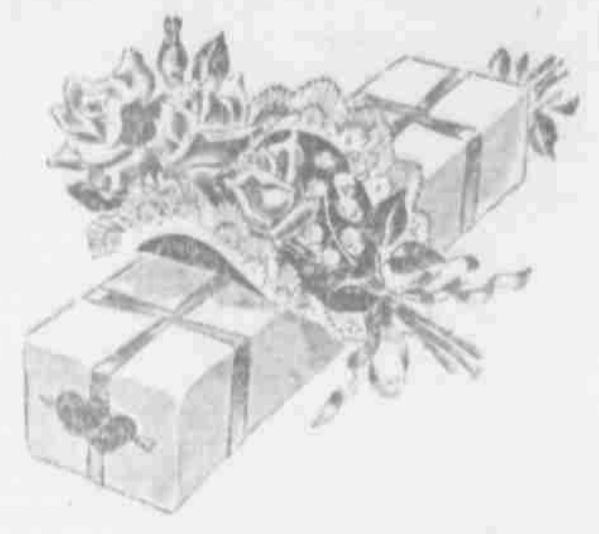

Mrs. Eugene Beld and David Williams of Lubbock were week-end visitors in the D. C. Williams home.

FARMALL Tool Bar

Middlebusters TWO AND FOUR-ROW

Farmall-M with 4-row Middlebuster equipped with rubber-tired gouge wheels.

Farmall tool bar Middlebusters are a good example of the basic idea underlying the Farmall System—namely, to provide the greatest variety of essential Farmall-mounted equipment with the least investment. Tool bar mounting permits easy adjustments of the middlebuster bottoms for different row spacings. It also makes it easy to convert the middlebuster into a lister or planter by merely adding the proper planting attachment to the same tool bar. Nothing could be simpler or assure greater economy. Other tool bar equipment available includes sweep, subsoil, spring-tooth, and cultivating attachments.

Come in and let us tell you more about these dependable, economical Farmall machines.

Williams Thinks Solons Will Not Spend Recklessly

Representative Sterling Williams of the 118th District, which embraces Garza county, before leaving Snyder last week for the opening of the 50th Legislature, informed Snyder newsmen that although the 50th Legislature appears to be a money spending one, he did not believe the spending will be as wild as the daily press has indicated.

The Texas Legislature will have many proposals submitted—proposals for redistricting, better farm-to-market roads, pensions, better health programs, a first class university for negroes and increased pay for school teachers.

Some of Williams' fellow representatives have expressed the opinion that this session of the Legislature will be marked by free spending of accumulated tax funds; widened horizons for health research and major allocation of funds for pulling the farmers out of the mud by a huge farm-to-market road program.

A & M Extension Service To Begin Issuing Monthly Disease Report Service

A service long needed by poultry and livestock producers has been started by the Extension Service of the Texas A and M College.

The service consists of a system of monthly reports, coming from county agricultural agents and veterinarians, giving information on poultry and livestock diseases, where and when the disease occur, and the number of cases occurring.

Dr. E. A. Grist, veterinarian for the Texas A and M College Extension Service, who operates a central clearing point for information, reports that the system of gathering information has been in effect for four months, and the figures gathered to date have afforded excellent opportunity to issue timely disease warnings and suggested control programs.

The livestock disease summary can be of great value in developing future programs and control livestock and poultry disease.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Thomas left Thursday for Bakersfield, California, where they plan to visit for several weeks with the A. D. Brown family.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Connell have returned from Ft. Worth where they spent several days.

Southland News

Mrs. Floy King, Correspondent

Rev. L. L. Troit of Winters will do the preaching for the revival meeting that begins February seventh at the local Baptist church. Bill Bell from Ft. Worth Baptist Seminary will have charge of the song service. A Sunday School study course will be taught each night this week by Rev. Tutor of Pleasant Valley. Our pastor, Rev. Brooks, has been made chairman of evangelism for the Lubbock Association. He will be kept rather busy as there are one-hundred and fifty churches in this territory planning revivals during February. Our church plans to take a religious census this month. Let's all cooperate in this very necessary part of our church work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Turner and their sons of Posey were Sunday visitors of the J. L. Garay. The Turners were Southland residents for many years.

A former resident, Mrs. Mary Jane Gray of Lubbock, visited friends here Tuesday. Mrs. Gray owned and operated the local phone office while here.

B. K. Arthur left Tuesday for Merkel to visit his wife who is staying with her niece. Mrs. Arthur's condition is improved and she hopes to be home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bloxom had as their guests Sunday, their son and family of Posey.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mamaher have bought and taken over the management of the local drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. King and Leslie visited in Hale Center Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fern.

Mrs. G. W. Basinger is on the sick list this week.

Dickie Martin is in the Slaton Mercy hospital at this time.

The Ladies A'd of the Lutheran church met January 15 in the home of Mrs. Herman Kiesel. The theme of the meeting was "The New Year." An appropriate hymn and scripture were rendered, followed by the first topic on the program, "Forget your past failures." — Pauline Siewert. Mrs. Elmer Gindorf then discussed "Make each failure a new starting point." A poem, "Have Confidence in Yourself," was read by Mrs. Chris Gindorf and the final topic, "Remember the Lord Jesus Christ," was presented by Mrs. Walter Stolle. After an open discussion on the National Lutheran Women's Missionary Federation, the group voted to join the organization. The meeting was adjourned with the singing of a hymn and the closing prayer. The hostess served refreshments of sandwiches and cake to seventeen members and one visitor.

Betty Ann Jackson spent the week end with Dorothy Winterrowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Childers and baby were week end guests of her parents, the W. W. Gilliland.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilke have bought out the Troy Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Paine have moved to Post where he plans to work for D. H. Mayfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Mann of Abilene moved here Friday to make their home temporarily with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tilley.

Dorothy Jones was ill several days last week with tonsillitis.

Last week the house formerly occupied by the H. Woods family was moved here just east of the school. The new occupants are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Woods. Their Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hawthorne and Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Hawthorne of Monroe.

Mrs. Bertha O'Keefe who formerly taught school in Arkansas, has accepted a position with the Big Springs schools and assumed her duties there Monday morning. She spent a few days here last week with her parents the Ed Leukes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haliburton who moved last week into the house vacated by the Oscar Barkleys had as their week end guests, her sister and family of Abilene.

Mrs. J. H. Young left last week for her home in east Texas where she plans to join her husband soon upon his return from Germany. She has been visiting her parents, the E. L. Kings.

Jack Cook received word Monday morning of the death of his brother. He was instantly killed by falling from an oil derrick in East Texas.

Ray W. Morris of Los Angeles, Calif., visited in the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Cash, Monday night.

Week end guests of the Kenny Cash's were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnson of Seminole.

Bits Of News:

Mr. and Mrs. Bake Robinson, Jr. moved the first of the week into an apartment at Mrs. R. B. Tucker's.

Mrs. Bobby Pierce is employed at Hamilton's Drug. She began work Monday.

Walter Boren was a business visitor in Post the first of the week. He also visited in the home of his uncle, John Boren, at Junctionburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Webb moved into the apartment recently vacated by Tom Power. Moving into the apartment the Webb's vacated in the Colonial Apartment house were Mr. and Mrs. Sam West.

Mrs. Lee Bowen and children spent the week end visiting in Seminole. Bonnie Ann enjoyed a visit in the new home of Winifred Anderson who was until recently at home here.

Gayle Bowen spent the week end in Abilene visiting with Carroll Bowen who is a student at Hardin-Simmons University.

L. P. Kennedy, a patient in the West Texas hospital in Lubbock, is reported doing nicely and expects to be home the latter part of the week.

A. B. Haws returned Tuesday night from Ft. Worth and Dallas where he bought new merchandise for the Haws Dry Goods store. Mrs. Haws who has been in Weatherford visiting her brothers returned with him.

Big Bend Highway Backers To Request Oklahoma Help

According to information received here this week, plans are underway to send an area delegation to Oklahoma City within the next month to appear before the Highway Commission to request completion of the proposed route of the "Broadway to the Big Bend" highway.

The delegation will be comprised of county judges and commissioners of counties along the proposed route. The proposed highway would go through county seat towns beginning with Alpine in Brewster, and would connect the following other counties: Reeves, Winkler, Andrews, Dawson, Garza, Dickens, Cottle and Hardeman.

Leaving Texas near Quanah the road would run straight through Snyder, Oklahoma, and on up to Oklahoma City.

The Oklahoma trip would be the fourth group effort in behalf of the road. Last month an area meeting was held in Post, and prior to that meetings were held in San Antonio and Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haliburton who moved last week into the house vacated by the Oscar Barkleys had as their week end guests, her sister and family of Abilene.

Mrs. J. H. Young left last week for her home in east Texas where she plans to join her husband soon upon his return from Germany. She has been visiting her parents, the E. L. Kings.

Jack Cook received word Monday morning of the death of his brother. He was instantly killed by falling from an oil derrick in East Texas.

A MINIMUM OF BUREAUCRACY

Several bills dealing with the problem of public health and medical care will be presented to the next Congress for consideration. And the philosophy underlying them must be given the most careful scrutiny possible by our lawmakers.

One basic danger must be avoided—adoption of legislation that might in any way regiment and bureaucratize medicine, which would mean an abrupt decline in medical progress. This country does not want doctors whose success depends on political favor.

Secondly, there is no reason why all the taxpayers should be assessed to pay the doctor and hospital bills of people whose earning capacity enables them to meet their own obligations. This is a grave defect that is implicit in all proposals for compulsory, universal health insurance of any kind.

Thirdly, a sound health bill must be based solidly on the proposition that the indigent, and the indigent only, are to be given free care and hospitalization. To aid those who for reasons of age, infirmity or mental failings are unable to help themselves, is a necessary and proper function of government.

Lastly, if a public health bill is passed, it is essential that its administration be handled with local units of government where it belongs. Local people know local needs and problems. To build up a new Federal bureau in the name of help for the indigent would not only be financially wasteful, but administratively inefficient. It would give the needy poorer care—even as it would cost the rest of us more money to support it. A minimum of Washington officialdom is one of the goals to be attained.

WHAT OUR CONTEMPORARIES ARE SAYING:

PARENTS MUST DO THEIR JOBS—Almost everyone who ever has given thought to the subject agrees, by and large, with the oft-repeated statement that "wherever one finds a delinquent juvenile there, also, will be found a delinquent parent."

Judge Jacob Faken, of the Domestic Relations court of Manhattan, who is in a position to speak expertly on the subject, says no child is born into the world to be "bad," or "good"; a child is "as bad," or "as good," as his parents and society make it possible for him to be.

Doubtless, Judge Faken is right. If he is right, his words will add weight to a growing feeling in the U. S. that parents should be held more directly responsible than they now are for the misdeeds of minor children; that legislation should force parents of erring youngsters to submit to fine, jail sentences, or other punishment for their failure to bring up their children in a better and more generally acceptable way.

It is difficult for normal people to believe, but it is a fact that many parents of constantly troublesome youngsters refuse to take corrective steps when advised by proper authorities of lawless or disturbing acts upon the part of their young. Right here in Lubbock are parents known by officers and school authorities to actually encourage their children in anti-social activities.

Obviously, this type of adult is unfit for parenthood. Obviously, this type of parent should be forced by law, as well as by public opinion, to live up more closely to the responsibilities of parenthood.

"The parent," says Judge Faken, "makes it possible for a child to be 'bad' or 'good.' If he knows what he's talking about—and he should—then it's time the responsible among the nation's citizenry demands that parents do their job, or be punished—even, in extreme cases, of having their children taken from them.—Lubbock Avalanche

CONTROLS ARE EASING—New that indications point to additional easing of controls in the building industry and possible release from rationing of sugar by April 1, consumers in this trade zone and in other parts of the country are expected to utilize restraint in constructing dwellings or venturing into construction of barns, cow sheds or new residences. If sugar rationing goes by the board, consumers are expected to use some degree of reason in their "free economy" buying.

We needed, as a nation, sugar rationing, rent control and other restrictive measures to let us really know we were at war. In other words, we needed to do without some of the things we have been accustomed to in order to make us appreciate the luxuries and easy conveniences of peace-time life.

If war-time control and restriction has not taught us anything else, it at least has taught us to be thrifty and make supplies of what we have go further. We needed a lesson in thrift to prove that America, like other nations of the world, can tighten its belt and take it right on the chin when necessary.—The Scurry County Times.

THAT "NEXT YEAR"—And we might remind you that 1947 will in all probability be that "next year" which West Texans are always talking about. We have the moisture for a wonderful crop, the law of averages is in our favor as it has been several years since we have had a bumper crop. And surely this will be the year that new cars, refrigerators, and other scarce items will be back on the market in plentiful numbers for most of us. Now if someone can just figure out a way to get the price back to normal so we can enjoy these luxuries, then 1947 should be all we could ask of it.—The Crosbyton Review.

For most of us, life is what we make it—but for the pedestrians around Post it's "if" they make it.

A lot of folks who complain about their horses being dumb might be out of a job if the horses were smart.

The greatest art of life is to improve the golden moment of opportunity and to catch the good that is within our reach.

Wonder if they speak of the moon as silvery because it comes in quarters and halves?

The bee that gets the honey doesn't hang around the hive.

Some men have to look out for a wife and three kids; others just have to look out for the wife.

Most every family would improve if the parents would get back on sparking terms with their children.

He who does only what he is hired to do is a slave.

He who does more than he is hired to do is his own master.

To the optimist it is a rose bush; but to the pessimist it is a bush of thorns.
