

Know Your Churches...

SOWING and REAPING

After every sowing there must some day be a reaping. In whatever church you may attend you'll be taught that "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." These men sowed wheat, good wheat, and as you can well see they are reaping a bountiful harvest.

Stop, my brother—what of the seed you are sowing, as along life's way you go? Do you choose them with carefulness, knowing you're going to reap just what you sow? It may be thoughts and words you're sowing which into deeds will surely grow; bringing blessings or curses but—you're going to reap just what you sow.

If you sow of the flesh do not expect to reap of the spirit, for you may be sure that by and by when your harvest you garner—you're going to reap just what you sow. Attend the church of your choice regularly and your sowing will be for glory and honor.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Traveling by way of horse and buggy was the mode of transportation the Rev. J. W. Word used to get to Post from his home in Lubbock when he was assisting a very small group of Presbyterians get a church organization started here in the year 1908. He served as the first pastor.

This small group of persons used the old rock court house, which was later torn down, as headquarters for their meetings. Among the first persons to meet and to work toward the organization of a church with Rev. Word were Jimmie Napier who now lives in Lubbock and W. T. Mann who now lives in Monahans. These two also served as deacons as did Mr. J. W. McCoach. Among the first families who joined the group and who were instrumental in getting plans started for a church building were the V. A. Robinson and the George Samson families.

Rev. Word suggested that the Gothic style be followed in the architecture and Robinson, an elder, and also a draftsman of exceptional ability, drew up the blue print for the building which was constructed a few years later. Samson, a brick mason, who is still actively engaged in his profession, laid the foundation.

When the church was dedicated Rev. Word invited twenty-two members from the Lubbock church to form the choir. This dedication program proved to be one of the happiest occasions for the group of loyal church workers and their friends.

Mrs. Robinson crocheted the first altar linens. She dedicated one of the windows in the beautiful little church to her mother, Mrs. J. E. Bean.

Another active member during those early days was Post's first trained nurse, Mrs. Hartford, who before joining the Presbyterian Church was a member of the Episcopal Church. She also dedicated one of the windows in the church to her mother.

Soon after the small group was organized another most energetic and capable person moved to Post and joined in the activities. That person was none other than Mrs. Ben Williams who is still one of the most loyal and active members on the church roll.

Sunday school hours were shared with the members of the Baptist church in the building now occupied by the Nazarene Church until a sufficient number were assembled in order to make it practical to have an individual organization.

When the choir was organized Mrs. Sam Bardwell served as the first choir leader.

Among the superintendents who have served over the Sunday School Department were Messrs. Stacey, McElroy, Pankey, James Samson, J. A. Stallings, Jim Power and Mrs. Guy Speck.

The first missionary society was organized at the home of Mrs. Mann who lived at that time in the house now occupied by Mrs. J. M. Boren. Mrs. Mann served as the first president. Pledges for the society were made by holding bake sales and this small group through their untiring efforts accomplished many fine things for the building of the various phases of the church program. Even in more recent years when the church was without a pastor and other departments of the church were not meeting in a scheduled manner, the Missionary Society never ceased to function. It has always been one of the most active church organizations in Post.

The church has now on roll many young men and women who are following in the footsteps of their fathers and mothers who laid a firm foundation in matters of religion. Though the membership is small, the Presbyterian Church is possibly one of the few churches that can say that its members are all active.

Dr. David Templeton is now serving the church as pastor. Other pastors who have served the church were Reverend Hall, Parker, Fitzgerald, Markey, Zemze, Dorsett, Croup, Nunn and Ramsey.

(The above information may not be completely accurate and in chronological order but records on the first organization were not available. Information was furnished by Mrs. Ben Williams and other members of the church as they remembered it.)

Littlefield Will Stage Big Rodeo July 25, 26, 27

One of the most colorful rodeos to be staged in West Texas this summer will be the annual big-time Littlefield Jaycee western show, set for July 25-26-27, according to information received by the Post Dispatch this morning.

The four-show rodeo will be directed by the veteran Howard Brown of Dublin, for five years superintendent of the Gene Autry World's Championship Rodeo Association. The stock will be furnished by the famous Autry & Colbert ranch at Dublin.

Added attractions of the big western show this year will be a mammoth street parade on the opening day of the rodeo, street dances each night and the cow-girl sponsor contest.

Some of the specialty acts will feature Don and Virginia Wilcox of Tulsa, Okla., performing trick and fancy roping; Gene McLaughlin of Fort Worth, a veteran trick roper who has appeared at such shows as Madison Square Garden, the Boston Garden and others; Ruth Miriam, one of the leading trick riders of the country; Roy Seward, who will stage his famous Calgary rope act and Alec Alexander, clever and resourceful colored bull fighter and clown.

The Littlefield Jaycee Rodeo, approved by the Rodeo Cowboys Association of America, is posting prize money totaling $2,000.

DISHWASHING FATIGUE IS ATTRIBUTABLE TO IMPROPER SINK HEIGHT

That ever-present task of washing dishes can be a simple, last operation, according to Miss Jewell Hipp, Garza County home demonstration agent. She offers a few short cuts along this line.

Wide dishes are drying, wipe the glasses and silverware that have been rinsed in hot water, preferably boiling. A spray attached to the faucet is an easy method of rinsing, or if a pan of boiling water is used, vegetable tongs can be used to take the dishes out to drain. A cupboard placed just above the drain board is handy to put the dishes away after they have drained.

Baking dishes, Miss Hipp says, cut down on the amount of dirty utensils; in these containers, food can be cooked, served, and put away in the refrigerator without the use of other dishes.

"This probably will shock most grandmothers," Miss Hipp says, "but there might be just one dishwashing period a day. Of course the supply of dishes, size of kitchen, and the kind of draining surface used will determine this."

Miss Hipp believes that a great amount of fatigue from dishwashing is due to improper heights of sinks. A sink too high makes it necessary for the housewife to stretch her muscles to the point of tiring and a sink placed too low, causes her to stoop. A wooden rack can be placed under the dishpan if a sink is too low. If the sink is too high, a platform to stand upon should be used.

PRESENT MAIL RATES TO REMAIN THE SAME

Acting Postmaster Harold Voss was informed by the postmaster at Lamesa this week that the present mail rates will remain the same for an indefinite period.

The announcement was based on a statement to that effect signed recently by President Truman, putting an end to Congressional and other hints that a change in rates would be forthcoming.

There are an estimated 32,000 pool halls in the United States.

Aphids and Hot Weather Fight Post Elm Trees

Hot weather and aphids have formed a conspiracy to do away with Post's meager supply of elm trees and certain other trees and shrubs. With the Garza County Agricultural agent, D. F. Eaton, who keeps up with the latest insect chasers, out of town, the problem of research has fallen upon the shoulders of Miss Jewell Hipp, home demonstration agent.

After much experimenting with sprays recommended in the A. and M. Extension Service, Miss Hipp is reasonably certain that nicotine sulphate, if applied properly, will save the trees and shrubs.

The nicotine sulphate must be sprayed generously over the entire tree or shrub, however, if it is to be completely effective.

"A good, soaking rain will do more than anything else, however, to get rid of the aphids," the agent said.

NEED FOR COMBINES CENTERS IN 3-COUNTY AREA THIS WEEK

Need for combines in the Texas wheat harvest area was centered the first of the week in a three-county area.

The report, released by J. E. Kidd, Texas extension service wheat harvest and combine officer, declared that the demand for combines was now centered in Sherman, Dallam and Hartley counties.

But these counties, he said, may have sufficient number of combines by tonight to wind up their harvest.

That doesn't mean, he said, the harvest is complete in the Texas Panhandle, but there are enough combines currently in all counties to finish the job in a "very short time."

"Surplus combines are now being sent into the Oklahoma Panhandle, Kansas and Colorado to assist with the wheat harvest," Kidd said.

Polio Cases Reported To Be Showing Decline

Poliomyelitis appears to be definitely on the decline this summer in Texas, the State Department of Health informed the Dispatch Monday.

For the week ending June 28, only three cases were officially reported. This compared with the seven year average of four for the corresponding week.

Typhoid fever cases totalled 34, compared with the median of 15, and typhus cases totalled 34 compared with the median 27. Chick-enpox and mumps were both above the median, but scarlet fever, diphtheria, malaria and measles were all below average.

Indians of America's western plains are believed to have eaten crickets and grasshoppers with relish.

Cato, Hill And Riddle Remain In Ford Agency

Tom Power, having completed negotiations with the Outlaw Motor Company, is now the local Ford dealer and doing business in the white rock building on Main Street formerly occupied by the Outlaw Company. The new agency will be known as Tom Power, "Your Friendly Ford Dealer."

Several members of the Outlaw Company staff will remain with the new agency. Robert Cato will remain as parts manager and Wiley Hill and Truman Riddle, both expert mechanics, will remain in the service department, Power announced yesterday.

Miss Lucille Meador, who served most efficiently as Garza County Selective Service Board clerk during the board's six years of existence, has taken the job as bookkeeper and secretary for the agency.

The agency's telephone number has been changed from 10 to 292. The old number appears erroneously in a Ford advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Post Dispatch. The advertisement, which carried the Outlaw Motor Company signature, is the last in a national advertising series contracted for before the agency was sold.

SHIPMENTS OF POULTRY AND EGGS FAR BELOW 1946 LEVELS IN STATE

Rail shipments of poultry and eggs from Texas stations showed gains in May to recover some of April's losses, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research in Austin.

All shipments, however, remained far below their 1946 levels. Shipments of chickens rose 13 per cent during the month to total 9 carloads in May for a 73 per cent dip below the May, 1946, mark. Turkey shipments more than doubled their April loadings to total 19 cars for a 47 per cent drop in the May-to-May comparison. Egg shipments felt a 33 per cent hike but slid 55 per cent below the May, 1946, figure.

Interstate receipts of eggs by rail at Texas stations soared upward, almost doubled April receipts but falling 73 per cent below the May, 1946, level.

UT Rooms Available

Rooms for couples are still available for the second term of summer school at the University of Texas in Austin.

Andrews Dormitory, located on the University campus, has been made available for couples, but has not yet been filled, Miss Helen Flinn, social director, said.

Miss Flinn suggested that couples who do not have housing for the winter semester could stay in the dormitory this summer, and have several weeks in which to look for permanent housing.

Sundown Grabs Top Spot In Oil Belt League By Dropping Post 1-0 Sunday

An error in the first of the fifth inning of last Sunday's Post-Sundown game proved costly to the local Millers and sent the Oilers into first place in the Oil Belt League race. The 1 to 0 thriller, and fastest game played here this season, drew the largest fan crowd of any performance of the season.

The game was a pitcher's battle all the way with Joe Ater toting the hill for the visitors and Ed Altman twirling for the Millers. Ater gave up only five hits, but was almost matched by Altman who allowed six. The Oilers gave Ater errorless backing while the Millers chalked up two errors behind Altman, and Altman took credit for 1 error on a throw to first base.

Ater scored the lone counter when he singled, advanced to second on Herman Brown's walk, moved to third on Stone's hit, and scored when the relay to third was wild and bounded into the cars to give the runner a base on ground rules.

Millers To Meet Oilers At Sundown Next Sunday

Locals Have Two Away-From-Home Games Coming Up

Post Millers will journey to Sundown next Sunday to complete a two-series game with Manager Haidy Joiner's Oilers, and to finish their season's scheduled play with the Sundown crew. The locals have tangled three times with the Oilers this season and have lost all three performances.

The Sundown team moved into first place in the Oil Belt League last Sunday when they edged out the Millers, 1 to 0, while the Levelland Refiners at the same time were having trouble with Slaton and lost 7 to 4. Up until last Sunday the Oilers were trailing the Refiners by one-half game. The Sundown crew has played 11 games, won 9 and lost 2, while the Refiners have 8 wins and 3 losses out of 11 tries.

The Millers, suffering another bit of bad luck last Sunday when an error in the fifth cost them a game, remain in third place in percentage point standing. The locals after taking four games in a row, moved from the bottom of the league cellar to third place before being stopped last Sunday by the Sundown boys. The Millers have lost 6 and won 5.

Sunday week the locals will go to Seagraves, and the following Sunday Seagraves comes here to complete their season's play with the locals.

JUNIOR SOFTBALLERS HAVE GAME BOOKED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

A group of teen age Post boys who have been playing some fast softball the past several weeks have arranged a game with a junior team from Fluvanna to be played at Miller's park Friday night.

Paul Duren, Jr., one of the promoters of the team, says the game will be a good one, and that it will get underway at 8:30 o'clock.

The Laton used in conducting orchestras was introduced in England in 1820 by Spahr.

Athletic Jackets Being Distributed To Post Antelopes

Black and gold athletic jackets were being distributed this week to Post High School Antelopes who lettered in football and basketball during the 1946-47 year.

The coat-type jackets are very attractively styled with black body, gold sleeves, and the letter P has a football and basketball interwoven in gold. The jackets ordered before school ended in May were received by Coach Bind Bingham at his home in Lubbock the first of the week and were brought here last night by a group of the boys who went up after them.

The seventeen boys who will be issued the jackets include: Sonny McCrary, Shorty Hester, Gayland Young, R. E. Josey, Junior Malouf, Stahley Benge, Boy Williams, H. T. Carr, Jimmie Smith, Hugh Ingram, Buddy Hays, Bud Everett, Neil Clary, Billy Lofton, Pleasant Hill, and Carter Gene White.

Across the Tracks

By H. H. H.

After remaining more or less static for a decade or so, Post seems suddenly to have contracted a whooping good case of growing pains. Everywhere one wanders about the streets and suburban sections of the city, new construction is in evidence on every hand. All this is good—but—the fact that impresses most newcomers and visitors to Post is not the growth; it's the complete lack of recreational facilities of any sort. Since the demise of Two Draw Lake, (and they still come looking for the place every day) Post has had nothing to offer in the way of recreation. It is one of the few towns of its size left that is without a city park, swimming pool, kiddies playground, municipal auditorium, or any other place for people to while away a little leisure time for free.

Admitting that such a project or projects would cost a lot of money; we still believe they would be worth the consideration of the citizenry. As we understand it, space sufficient enough for a nice park was allotted by the late C. W. Post; but that it has subsequently been cut up into lots and sold. Perhaps this was a good idea—we don't know—but if you don't think a public park here would be a good idea, just go to Lubbock's Mackenzie Park any Sunday and count the number of Post citizens you'll find there.

Perhaps such a project is impossible; but we still think it would be nice to have such a place here in Post to take the kids occasionally—and we believe that it is within the capacity of the town to raise funds for such a place.

Sincerely,
HANS HUDMAN

Arthur Talley was teaching his six-year-old son, Bubber, to chin a bar that he could barely reach recently. After Bubber mastered the trick, Arthur told him he had to do it 12 times. With a great amount of effort, Bubber chinned the bar four times, then said "Wait a minute, Daddy" and ran off to get an apple box. Standing up on the box, he said, "I don't see why I have to do all that work when it's much easier to put my chin over the bar this way."

Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Tipton, Jr., of Austin arrived here the Fourth to spend several days with his parents, the T. H. Tiptons.

Miss Jewell Hipp has "lost her right arm." The Garza County home demonstration agent's office was one of many over the state which lost out when the state appropriation was cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Adams and family of Tucumcari, N. M., arrived here Sunday to spend several days with Mr. Adams' aunt, Mrs. H. F. Giles, and husband. Mr. and Mrs. Giles and the Adamsons went to Carlsbad, N. M., Monday to go through the Caverns, then the visitors returned here before going back to Tucumcari.

That tired look on the faces of the Kenny Cashes is the result of their having decided to remodel the kitchen as a fifth wedding anniversary gift to each other.

They did the work themselves and were pretty proud of their accomplishment until it dawned on them that they'd have to re-do the dining room to match.

When they finished the dining room, the clean interior made the bedroom scream for new paper, so they papered it and had to paint the woodwork to keep it quiet.

"And now we can't quit," said tired Lorene. "You ought to see what all this has done to the rest of the house."

Hairy Vetch Makes Seed

Quannah Maxey, cooperator of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District who lives in the Graham Conservation Group, has a trial planting of hairy vetch that has gone to seed. Soil Conservation Service technicians estimate the small planting, if harvested, would make from 75 to 100 pounds of seed per acre. The vetch was planted the latter part of September. Maxey says it did not make much growth last winter, so he plowed part of it up in February. However, Maxey says, it started growing early in the spring and the vines grew three feet long.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the district think that had Maxey inoculated the seed at planting time the vetch would have made more early spring grazing and would have yielded 200 to 300 pounds of seed per acre.

Lovegrass Plantings

Farmers who have been reading about African weeping lovegrass can see it on four different farms of cooperators of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District. Those cooperators include Quannah Maxey and Mrs. D. W. Parsons in the Graham Conservation Group, Earnest Henderson of the Close City Conservation Group, and Bill Long of the Barnum Springs Conservation Group. On the Maxey and Henderson farms the lovegrass is making a seed crop.

Crop Residue Helps

District Cooperator W. C. Quisenberry says, "When I came here 32 years ago there were only small patches of land in cultivation in Canyon Valley." "As long as there were grass roots and organic matter in the sandy soil, crop yields were good," he continued. Quisenberry says he has brought his soil back to its original productivity by working large amounts of crop residue into the soil.

Second Cutting of Alfalfa

J. H. Eubank of the Canyon Valley Conservation Group recently completed the second cutting for this year on his alfalfa and made 530 bales weighing 50 pounds each from approximately 25 acres.

Highway Route Designation Is Expected Soon

Plans have been made by the Broadway to the Big Bend Highway Association to honor the Texas and Oklahoma Highway Commissions at a dinner in Austin July 30 at 7:30 p. m., Judge Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa, president of the association announced Monday.

Judge Corbin stated that the association was planning for an attendance of 150 delegates, composed of commissioners courts, chamber of commerce officials, and business men from counties and cities along the proposed route, in addition to the highway commissions and engineers.

An invitation has been sent to Governor Turner of Oklahoma and Governor Fester of Texas to attend this dinner, Judge Corbin said.

A hearing before the Texas Highway Commission has been scheduled for July 31 at 10:30 a. m. at which time the Oklahoma Commission will appear with the association delegates in behalf of the proposed route.

The Oklahoma Commission has already given the route state designation across the entire State of Oklahoma, and it is thought that the Texas Commission will do likewise at this hearing, Judge Corbin said.

Judge Corbin said that it was highly important that each city and county send representatives to this hearing. Governor Miramantes of the State of Chihuahua has been invited to attend the dinner and hearing. Judge Corbin also requested that Chas. W. Roberts, of Andrews, secretary-manager of the Big Bend Association, be notified as soon as possible the number that will attend the dinner from each county and city.

Enrollment Is Open For Two New GI Groups

Enrollment is still open in the GI Distributive Education Class which was organized here July 1. Garza County Coordinator Lewis Nance announced yesterday.

Nance also said that he is organizing a new Vocational Agriculture Class for 10 students. At present, 65 veterans are enrolled in three agriculture classes in the county and the following 10 students are enrolled in the Distributive Education Class which Bill J. Davis began teaching July 2: Dick Allan, Hugh Bleivins, Jerrold Bowen, Benjamin F. Brewer, A. B. Haws, Jr., Jason Justice, Robert Miller, Girvin W. Norris, Leon Simpson and Dale Stone.

Meets Thrice Weekly
All persons who have spent a minimum of three months in the armed forces and are employed in any type of commercial business are eligible for the Distributive Education Class, which meets at 7:30 o'clock each Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights in the GI School Building on the Tahoka Highway.

Self-employed veterans may enroll in the class, but can draw only half the subsistence allowance. The full allowance is the same as that drawn by veterans attending college.

Nance also explained that veterans employed in farm work or some other manner not related to a specific business trade may join the class to study office management and draw half the subsistence allowance.

Building Is Remodeled
Enrollments in the Distributive Education Class are accepted only once a month. Those who want to join the class on August 1, for instance, must have their papers submitted to the coordinator before July 29.

Bits Of News:

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Crowley, former Post residents, and A. J. Cowart are here from Eastland visiting friends and relatives. Cowart is a cousin of Mrs. J. E. Robinson and Mrs. S. D. Lofton of near Post. The visitors arrived here early last week and Mrs. Crowley remained in Post while the men went to Colorado for several days. They plan to return to their home this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan J. Williams had just finished addressing, sealing and stamping some cleverly worded invitations to a kid party tonight when they discovered they would have to postpone the affair. After much deliberation, they solved their problem by scribbling on the backs of the invitation envelopes: "Friday Instead."

Mrs. H. G. Smith, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Woods, Mr. Woods and their daughter, Marilyn, left Tuesday for Dallas to spend the rest of the week with Mrs. Smith's son, Alex, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Holman of White Salmon, Wash., were having the time of their lives Tuesday visiting old friends during their first visit here in more than two years. Spending two or three weeks in Colorado City, along with their 9-year-old daughter, Jerry Joan, they hitched a one-day round trip to Post with Herbert Jones of Georgetown who was visiting his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alta Jones and two children, formerly of Post, in Colorado City.

Hayes went to Rotary Club while LaVada visited all the friends she could find on short notice.

He is superintendent of the school system at White Salmon, which is a beautiful place populated by retired business people. He has four schools, with a budget of $200 per capita (as compared with $18 per capita when he was superintendent here) and a year-around recreational program. LaVada taught in one of the schools last year, but says she is going to retire now.

After the Holmans left here, they had a glamorous time living and working in Alaska during the war.

Jerry Joan remained in Colorado City, where she is visiting her grandparents, while the Holmans and Jones were in Post.

Herbert was looking forward to taking his grandchildren back to Georgetown for a visit on his return to Colorado City.

Local Man And Wife Slain At Home In Pampa

Funeral services for 29-year-old Leonard C. (Kelly) Bostick, a former Post man, were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Olton. Mr. Bostick and his wife, Bertha L., were shot to death at their home in Pampa Friday allegedly by Jess Crawford, a former husband of Mrs. Bostick. The weapon used was identified as a .32 automatic. Crawford, who was at the scene of the shooting, surrendered when officers arrived. Charges were to have been filed the first of the week.

Bostick was a mechanic and his wife managed a cafe in Pampa. He was employed here in 1943 and 1944 by Greenfield Hardware Company.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Bostick were pending arrival of relatives from California when news of the tragedy was received by her husband's relatives here.

She is survived by a son, Jesse N. Wright, and Mattie Lee Wright, by her first husband, and a son, William Glenn Crawford, son of Jess Crawford.

Mr. Bostick's survivors include his mother, Mrs. Perry Lee Bostick of Post; three brothers, Earnest of Post, F. H. of Lubbock and Billy of Pampa; a sister, Mrs.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Fish Bites Woman!

Willie Wells was coming home from Seward's Creek the other evening with a string of trout, when a stern looking lady (visitor at the Boxwood Inn) stops him, and tells him a man his size could be better occupied than catching fish.

anything but trouble. Nobody who knew the facts would ever criticize Willie's right to go fishing on his one day off—any more than they'd deny his right to come home to a mellow glass of beer.

Willie tells her off real good-naturedly by saying: "Perhaps you're right, but if these fish had kept their mouths shut, they wouldn't be here." (At that, says Willie, laughing out loud, she looked just as if a fish had bit her!)

From where I sit, the slower we are to criticize—and the quicker we are to recognize another's tastes, the better we'll get along together—whether those tastes apply to beer or fishing.

Are you AIR-CONDITIONING the great outdoors?

There's a right and wrong way to water your lawn

When you water during the heat of the day, using a spray that throws water high into the air in a fine mist, part of the water is evaporated by the sun and hot wind in the same way that water evaporates in an evaporative cooler. It goes to cool the air instead of going into the ground to refresh your grass.

To prevent this waste, use a canvas soil soaker or a coarse spray, and water in the evening or early morning instead of during the heat of the day. No water is lost through evaporation when a soil soaker is used and the water seeps slowly into the ground. Grass roots grow deeper and the grass is better able to withstand dry weather.

If you use a spray, do not turn it so high that the water falls to the ground faster than it can soak into the soil. Otherwise much of it will simply run off and be wasted.

$100 MILLION BUCK COTTON CROP

 The company's estimate in bales of the prospective 1947 crop for those counties follows:
 Bailey, 35,000; Briscoe, 5,000; Cochran, 37,000; Crosby, 55,000; Dawson, 10,000; Garza, 31,000; Hale, 24,000; Hockley, 121,000; Lamb, 88,000; Lubbock, 171,000; Lynn, 110,000; Terry-Yoakum, 88,000; and Castro-Parmer-Swisher, 5,000. The estimated total of these figures is 902,000.

Clapp explained, however, that the actual total production will be governed by factors impossible to anticipate at this time. If conditions continue favorable, the yield undoubtedly will be well in excess of the estimated total, and almost certainly will exceed the 1937 record of 959,000 bales. If conditions should become unfavorable, production will suffer in proportion.

However, the report terms the present condition of the crop as "excellent" with "starting prospects continuing the best on record." The weather conditions are described as "good," and the progress of the crop as "excellent."

The estimate of the value of the crop is based on an anticipated minimum price of 24 cents a pound.

Vast Sum Involved
 On that basis, a 900,000 bale crop would produce a total revenue of $108,000,000 while 1,000,000 bales would be worth $120,000,000. Both figures are far in excess of any previous record for the Caprock counties, or for any area of approximately equal size in Texas.

GATES MYSTERY MAN HAD BETTER PASS UP CONOCO

It cost the Gates "Mystery Man" a five-dollar bonus the other day when Neal Clary tried to sell him a fan belt at the Conoco Service Station. It is the "Mystery Man's" business to travel over the United States with a worn-out fan belt and give such bonuses to service station employees who notice his need for a new belt. The last time an operator in Post tried to sell him a belt was in 1937 at the same station when Neal's uncle, Iven Clary, told him he needed a new fan belt.

Even a 500,000-bale crop would be worth around $60,000,000 which compares with around $40,000,000 for the record 1937 yield.

Clapp commented that "nothing short of disaster conditions" can reduce the 1947 crop to as little as a half-million bales.

An interesting sidelight of the survey shows that the number of farm irrigation wells in the Caprock counties jumped from 3,715 in December 1945, to 6,411 this year, an increase of 73 per cent.
