

State approves WR water loan

One million down; three million to go.

That's the way things stand right now for the White River Municipal Water District following notification that the Texas Water Development board by unanimous vote has found the four-town district eligible for $1,000,000 in state funds.

Tom Bouchier, chairman of the White River board of directors, received the notification Sunday from Joe D. Carter, executive secretary of the Texas Water Development board.

The state action was in the form of a resolution, a copy of which was forwarded by Carter to Bouchier.

Meanwhile, Bouchier and other White River directors were waiting for word from Washington, D. C., on the district's $3,000,000 federal loan application to finance the remainder of the $4,000,000 White River dam and water supply project.

That decision is expected virtually any day.

The state water board's action came swiftly in comparison with the long months of detailed work necessary on the federal loan application.

Preliminary application for the $1,000,000 state loan was made only after the White River board's August session here Aug. 21. The Texas Water Development Board took its action Aug. 29 in citing the White River district as eligible for the money.

The Texas Water Development board's resolution did not authorize the $1,000,000 for the White River district, because the district's actual loan request won't be filed until after federal action on its $3,000,000 loan.

The district filed what is called an intention to apply for financial assistance.

The state board's action found them eligible for this assistance. So the way is cleared for quick loan approval.

This is believed to be the first such eligibility for loan ruling by the new state water development board.

The state board found in its resolution that "a doubt exists as to the eligibility of the treatment or filtration plant portion of the project for state financial assistance" as the state law setting up the loaning agency is not clear on the filtration part of a water project. But the board pointed out that "the same is inconsequential since, if the treatment plant be eliminated, the balance of the project is clearly eligible for assistance" and that the balance of the project being over $3,000,000 in cost state assistance of $1,000,000 would be within the state statutes. The law provides state borrowing up to one third the total cost of the project.

White River directors in a special meeting at Crosbyton last Thursday night met with the Crosbyton city council in a joint session over the White River water rights.

At that meeting, the Crosbyton council voted to transfer its water permit application for White River water to the White River Municipal Water district and the district directors took necessary action to then apply to the state for this permit for White River water.

No hitches are expected on approval for the $3,000,000 federal loan.

Post man fined for no license after accident

Milo McNairy, whose automobile struck and killed a six-year-old school girl here on Sept. 2, the first day of school, has paid a fine and costs of $16.50 on a charge of no operator's license.

The complaint against McNairy was filed by Highway Patrolman Bo Melton in the court of Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts.

Melton, along with other officers, investigated the accident, in which Sara Jane Sprayberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sprayberry, was killed within a block of her home a few minutes after returning from her first day at school.

Six others have pleaded guilty before Judge Roberts during the past ten days on a variety of traffic offenses and one drunkenness charge.

Sammy Martin, local youth who was the driver of a car which crashed into a parked car on West Main late at night several weeks ago, pleaded guilty Friday to charges of "operating a vehicle on

C. of C. requirements are set for first bales

First cotton bales rules were set, preliminary plans for Christmas decorations made, and employment of an office secretary discussed at a Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The directors voted to set a minimum of 450 pounds on each of the two first bales — plains and breaks cotton — on which the organization will pay premiums in the future.

They also voted that to qualify as "first bales," each bale has to be delivered to the front of the Chamber of Commerce office.

THE CHAMBER will pay 50 cents a pound for the first bales up to 500 pounds and poundage over that figure will be bought at market price. If the 50 cents a pound does not bring the premium up to $250 for each bale, the Chamber will add the difference to come up to the $250 the organization agreed last year to pay for each first bale, beginning in 1958.

For instance, if a bale weighs 460 pounds, the cotton will bring the owner $230 (at 50 cents a pound) from the Chamber and an additional $20 to bring the figure up to $250.

For a first bale weighing, say 520 pounds, the organization will pay $250, which will be at the rate of 50 cents a pound for the first 500 pounds, and market price for the additional 20 pounds the bale weighs.

Last rites are held Sunday for pioneer citizen

Funeral services for Ben E. Williams, who came here 50 years ago at Post's first barber, were conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Williams, who was 76, died at 5:45 p. m. Friday in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, where he had been admitted the day before.

Mr. Williams was a barber in Big Spring when the town of Post was founded and came here in February of 1908 after being told by C. W. Post, the town's founder, that "Post City is badly in need of a barber."

He established his first barber shop in a tent, but before long he personally hauled lumber here from Big Spring with which to construct a building to house his shop.

Mr. Williams had been retired for some time, but up until about a year and a half ago he occasionally "helped out" when his services as a barber were needed.

Mrs. Williams, to whom he had been married since 1910, died in February of 1955.

Mr. Williams was born May 22, 1882, in Brown County, the son of W. L. and Sarah Sarena Williams.

He is survived by one brother, Henry Williams, of Mullin, and by a number of nieces and nephews.

The Rev. Clinton Edwards, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiated at the funeral services. Masonic graveside rites were held at Terrace Cemetery, where burial was under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Moore rites are held in Missouri

Funeral services for Mrs. Matilda Caroline Moore, 85, who died at 12:15 a. m. Friday at the home of her son, R. A. Moore of 606 West 11th St., were conducted at 10 a. m. Monday in the First Methodist Methodist Church of Osceola, Mo., with burial in the Pierce City Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Moore died while on a visit here with her son and family. Her home was in Osceola, but for the last several years she had spent the summers visiting her son here and sons in Tyler, Tex., and Pueblo, Colo.

She arrived here Aug. 17 after visiting the son at Tyler. She was taken ill while in Tyler, but became seriously ill only about a week before her death.

The body was shipped overland to Osceola by Hudman Funeral Home.

Mrs. Moore was born Jan. 22, 1873, in Missouri. Her husband, A. J. Moore, died in 1945, and a

Subscription campaign will benefit 4-H clubs

Garza County 4-Hers have launched a new benefit drive to raise funds to equip the new county 4-H building south of the lake. They are selling Dispatch subscriptions in all rural areas of the county.

The 4-H youngsters will receive as their project bonus half of the total money they collect in new subscriptions plus a $25 special bonus if they can sell 100 of them.

In other words $1.50 of each $3 subscription will go to the 4-Hers to help purchase chairs for the new 4-H building.

The county 4-H council Monday night voted enthusiastically to undertake the project and put all its 4-H clubs to work selling subscriptions in their own rural areas. The bonus is paid on new subscriptions only, not renewals.

Some of the clubs already have made their sales campaign plans. One of the biggest subscription drives will come in the Southland area, which is closer to Slaton than Post.

The 4-Hers need the money too. They're out of money now and need all the help they can get to buy equipment for the new building.

Miss Jessie Pearce said undoubtedly the subscription money would go to buy some chairs—the biggest need at the moment.

Subscriptions sold will be turned in each week to The Dispatch so new subscribers can begin receiving their paper regularly by mail from the first Thursday.

33 criminal cases wiped off docket

Thirty-three cases filed in county court—some dating back three years—have been dismissed in order to clean up a topheavy docket.

County Attorney Carleton P. Webb said that in most of the cases dismissed no arrests had been made following the filing of complaints. The others were dismissed with the notation "state does not wish to prosecute further."

Nineteen of the cases dismissed were defrauding by worthless check. In these cases, no arrests had been made, the county attorney said.

Other cases dismissed included operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, wife desertion, selling insurance without a license and one of aggravated assault.

Three other cases of aggravated assault were dismissed because the state did not wish to prosecute further, and dismissed for the same reason was one case of theft and receiving stolen property and another of unlawful sale of beer.

Agricultural field trip set for Friday

Cotton and grain crops, stock raising and other phases of Garza County's farming and ranching activities will be viewed Friday on an agricultural field day tour sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone interested is invited to make the tour, which is to begin at 9 a. m. The group will leave from the county courthouse and is scheduled to arrive back in Post early in the afternoon.

Chamber Manager John N. Hopkins said today that the Post schools have agreed to furnish a school bus for the tour, but that those who wish to do so may drive their own automobiles.

"Everyone making the tour is asked to be at the courthouse by 8:30 o'clock," Hopkins said.

Lunch, in the form of sandwiches and cold drinks will be served the group through the courtesy of the Chamber, Hopkins said.

The itinerary, as announced by George (Scotty) Samson and County Agent Lewis C. Herron of the Chamber's agriculture committee, will be as follows:

Graham Co-operative Gin; L. G. Thuet Farms; Douglas Tipton farm; Chester Morris farm; Richard Lewis farm; Neil Crosby farm; Clarence Basinger farm; Finy Richardson farm.

Agricultural developments to be viewed at the places on the itinerary are: Thuet Farms, blue panic grass; Tipton's, commercial hog feeding; Morris', lamb feeding; Lewis', cotton; Crosby's, hybrid grain sorghum; Basinger's, club calves and cotton; and Richardson's, club calves and grain sorghums.

Porter applies for patent on stock tank heater

Harry Porter, who has applied for a government patent on his invention of a water stock tank heater, now has real cause for hope that one day his brainchild will convert plentiful salt water into drinking water for thirsty West Texas towns and cities.

Poster contest is to publicize fair

To help boost interest in the annual Garza County Fair Sept. 29-Oct. 4, the Post Lions Club has announced a poster contest for junior high and elementary school children in Garza County schools.

The Lions, sponsors of the annual event, have specified that the posters be on the theme of inviting people to attend the fair. They are to be made on white poster paper of standard size.

The best poster in the opinion of the judges will be awarded a $25 savings bond, with $15, $10 and $5 in cash going for the second, third and fourth best posters, respectively.

The posters are to be turned in at the studio of radio station KPOS beginning Saturday, Sept. 20 and not later than Monday, Sept. 22.

The winners will be announced at the fairgrounds on Saturday night, Oct. 4, the final night of the fair.

Other plans for the annual event were discussed at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting at Tom's Place.

The fair is to be held this year on the south side of South Lake, with the new 4-H Club building being used for exhibits and livestock. There will not be a swine division this year, since pens for hogs have not yet been constructed at the new building.

Judging of exhibits is to be on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 3 and 4, but all week will be fair week, with the S. B. Rhodes Rides from Amarillo on the midway. The Lions will be in charge of all concessions and ticket sales for all rides.

The Post Antelope Band will stage an informal parade downtown each day to advertise the fair, and will play at the fairgrounds from 8 until 8:30 p. m. on the final night, according to Lions President Lynn W. Duncan.

Jenkins infant buried Monday

Funeral services were held at Hudman Funeral Home Chapel at 2 p. m. Monday for Tony Ray Jenkins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Raymond Jenkins, who died in Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

The child was born at 7:15 p. m. Saturday.

The services were in charge of Mrs. O. V. McMahon. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery.

Besides his parents, the baby is survived by two brothers and a grandmother, Mrs. Betty Pierce of Lamesa, formerly of Post.

The child's mother is the former Miss Virgie Ammons.

FATHER CRITICALLY ILL

Let's don't just sit and wait

A good many Post business men often say, "Just wait until we get that White River water and then watch us grow." The community, they point out, then can aggressively go out after new industry.

This implies that the new dawn of community progress must await the first flood of White River water into local mains.

That's wrong. Many preparations for that growth better could be made right now.

We can do two very important things today to get ready for White River water.

First, business men along Main Street need to put their heads together more for common good and promote business here on a bigger and more cooperative scale. There are many ways to improve business volume without periodic cash giveaways to attract customer traffic into the business district.

Good solid promotion, backed up by energetic sales techniques, real merchandising, and customer service, will mean real growth in retail dollar volume here. Too many local trade dollars today go 39 miles down the road to Lubbock. Too many merchants accept the fact with the feeling nothing can be done about it.

But a whole lot can—and retail cooperation is one major field which needs thorough exploration. More dollars spent at home will greatly benefit all of Post, not just the merchants involved. But to get those dollars merchants are going to have to do better merchandising and selling.

The other field in which something needs to be done right now is housing.

It isn't that Post is at a standstill. Home construction now is moving at a fairly good clip and promises to move even faster in the year ahead.

The public housing authority program, now being explored, can help in part.

But rental housing still remains the unsolved problem.

Post at present is going through its "fall housing shortage." Several persons each day for the last two weeks have been stopping here at The Dispatch inquiring for rentals. The rush has really been on at real estate offices and the Chamber of Commerce.

One real estate man shook his head the other day and wondered out loud if Post was going to let another real growing opportunity pass it by. "If I had the houses I could rent 25 tomorrow," he explained.

There are serious problems to consider in the "rent house field" of course. Transient labor moving in and out and the cost of construction would mean real risks for venturesome landlords. Consequently little money has gone into "rent houses" here in the last couple of years.

But Post needs to examine that problem carefully at the community leadership level and try to solve it. It won't, we doubt, simply solve itself.

Post needs to organize its leadership, its resources, and its manpower now for tomorrow—don't wait first for "White River water."—JC

Band program beginning to roll

The Post Antelope Band, along with the football team, showed a great deal of improvement at Friday night's game, but the fact that Director Bob Meisch is still building his organization proves that the band program in general still has a long way to go before he is satisfied.

Prospects for a first class band are brighter than ever at the school, with only one member to be lost by graduation this year. Add to that the fact that the elementary band is also growing, and that the director is mapping an ambitious beginners' program and you can see that things are looking up, bandwise, in the Post schools.

Next Monday and Tuesday nights there'll be meetings for parents who wish to enroll their youngsters in the beginners' program, and the band director is hopeful of a good turnout. Present at the meeting will be representatives of a band instrument firm to explain the all-important procedure of obtaining instruments for the young beginners.

With more than fifty students in the Antelope Band, with an elementary band coming along in fine shape, and with a new group of beginners to be enrolled in the program, it appears that after several years of "hit and miss" operations our band program is really coming along. Whether it continues to progress in the years ahead depends a whole lot on the interest of parents in enrolling their youngsters in the beginners' program. That is why Director Meisch is hopeful of a good turnout at next Monday and Tuesday night's meetings.—CD

Let's stop for school buses

Several hundred Garza County children are back in school and many of them are being transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, going back to the final five months of the 1957-58 term, there have already been some very bad accidents in Texas this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding 10 miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many people do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

It just isn't possible for us to take too many "pains" to safeguard our children.—CD

What about the other 51?

Since it seems that litterbugs, like death and taxes, are something no town can do anything about, the next best thing is to take steps to keep streets, alleys and vacant lots as tidy and attractive as possible in spite of the litterbugs.

With the windy season near at hand, downtown streets are going to be more cluttered than ever with blowing bits of paper and other trash unless containers can be set up here and there, and such a project seems too far in the future to offer any immediate solution.

The city's garbage and trash department is doing a good job of sweeping the streets, but they can't get up on the sidewalks with their sweeper and they can't be on the job around the clock. The best way for the average citizen to help keep the streets clean would be to refrain, as much as possible, from littering up the streets with empty cigarette packages, candy wrappers, etc. It is never very far to an inside waste basket, even when trash containers are conspicuous by their absence.

The cleaning up and keeping clean of vacant lots will help prevent grass fires, which are always dangerous, now that the windy time of year is close at hand. In addition, cleaned-up lots will add to the town's general appearance of neatness—if any.

Too many of us are prone never to think of clean-up time about our premises until that time of year when the city stages its annual clean-up campaign. That's for only one week in a year. What about the other 51?—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

We read the other day where the Army has done away with the old C rations of World War II and have substituted what they call assault rations. These new rations come in cans six ounces in size, containing beans and pork, beef and corn, beefsteak, chicken and noodles, etc. Each package has four cigarettes, two pieces of chewing gum, matches, a candy bar and a small wad of toilet paper. Sounds suspiciously like C rations to us. Maybe a different outside box. We'll bet the inside is the same.—"From the Sideline" in The Ochiltree County Herald.

The housing situation in Floydada of late is always bad and it becomes really aggravated in the last two weeks of August when people begin to make their fall and winter plans. This year is no exception. Private enterprise seems to be lagging in this respect. Makes one wonder if some kind of a public housing plan is not needed. A good many houses in Floydada could be made not only livable but desirable with this kind of a plan. Also houses which have deteriorated beyond re-doing could be replaced. Is it feasible? It is being done all over the country.—"Views and Comment" in The Floyd County Hesperian.

A smile costs nothing, but gives much. It enriches those who receive without making poorer those who give it. It takes but a moment, but the memory of it sometimes lives forever. None is so rich or mighty that he can get along without it, and none is so poor but that he can be made rich by it. A smile creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in business and is the counter-sign of friendship. It brings rest to the weary, cheer to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad and it is nature's best antidote for trouble. It cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen, for it is something that is of no value to anyone until it is given away. Some people are too tired to give a smile. Give them one of yours, as none needs a smile so much as he who has no more to give. Keep smiling!—The Hamlin Herald.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY
OUT HERE, where frequent rains are the exception rather than the rule, we rarely write this column while it is raining, but this time there is an accompaniment of raindrops to the clatter of the typewriter keys and of the two, the rain is doing the most good.

After a rather dry start — no rain the first five days — September has broken into the moisture scoring column, and it appears this is going to be one of those welcome years in which we have no bone-dry months.

JANUARY STARTED it off with 1.22 inches of moisture, and February followed with .92 of an inch—the year's lightest up to now. In March, there was a 1.55 measurement; April, 2.30; May, 3.71; June, 1.23; July, 1.20, and August, 1.13.

That all adds up to 13.26 inches for the first eight months—considerably under the 1957 rainfall total, but there is the rest of September and three more months to go.

THE LIONS ARE meeting now at Tom's Place, across the street from the high school, having moved their Tuesday night meetings there from the school cafeteria, where they'd met for the last several years.

When we came to Post five and a half years ago, the Lions were meeting in the lunchroom, and we don't know how long before that. Victor Hudman was president at that time, and one of the members was a fellow we'd known in Brownfield—Les Short—who'd preceded as here by about five years, and who has since moved away. Ernest Pierce was also a member and one of the most dependable publicity chairmen any Lions Club ever had. We could always count on Ernest either to bring a report of the meeting by the office every Wednesday morning or call it in.

INCIDENTALLY, the Lions will be busy the next couple of weeks completing plans for the annual Garza County Fair, which they are sponsoring. If everything works out like they're planning it, this year's fair will be the biggest and the best.

Pity the poor cotton farmer! You'd think he had enough cotton insect pests to look out for with thrips, fleahoppers, bollworms, boll weevils and leafworms, but the information card sent out for the Weekly Cotton Insect Pest Report not only lists the above bugs, but also has a couple of blank lines for "Other Insects or Remarks."

OH, for the good old days when Lehmann was a sausage, Morocco was a leather and the summit was the top of a mountain.

The Southwest Daily Times in Liberal, Kans., recently published a list of questions for Liberal residents to test their knowledge of their town and were surprised to learn how many were deficient in one or more answers. Moving it closer home and making a few changes, let's see how much you know about Post and Garza County:

How did Post get its name? How did Garza County get its name?

What industry employs the greatest number of people here?

Where is the Chamber of Commerce office located?

Where is Western Union located?

Where is the post office?

Where is an attractive place for a picnic?

What is the altitude of Post? What is the population?

We can only stay here two days; what do you recommend we try to see?

Do you have any service clubs here? Which ones?

Are there any detours or road hazards on the highway leaving here?

Where can we go to play golf while we're here?

What churches do you have here?

Where can I find a doctor? A hospital?

What can I buy that is typical of this community?

Where can I get some food in a good, clean restaurant?

What is the average temperature here? How much annual rainfall?

What are the local activities, events, shows, fairs and outstanding attractions?

If you are a filling station operator, motel or cafe owner, or just a general town booster, you should be able to answer most of these without any hesitation.

County which boomed from 1,300 in 1940 to 5,000 in 1950 and an estimated 14,000 in 1958. Other counties which increased by an estimated 60 per cent or more in the last 8-year period are: Casiro, Crane, Culberson, Hale, Moore, Farmer, Reagan, Reeves, Upton and Yoakum.

West Texas population in 1940 was 1,926,093; in 1950, the population was 2,364,088 (an increase of 22.7 per cent over 1940); and the region's population in 1958 is estimated at 3,438,064 (an increase of 45.4 per cent over 1950).

West Texas' population shows whopping gains

ABILENE — West Texas' population has increased a whopping 45.4 per cent since 1950, a survey by one of the Southwest's leading population analysts reveals.

The survey, made by Dr. R. L. Skrabanek, a sociologist on the staff of Texas A&M College and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, was published in the current issue of "West Texas Today," monthly magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Skrabanek's survey, which covers the entire 132-county region served by the West Texas Chamber, shows that West Texas now has a population of nearly three and one-half million people compared with less than two million in 1940 and slightly more than two and one-third million in 1950.

Heaviest gain in population since 1950 was scored in the Permian Basin area of the region. The Midland-Odessa-Big Spring area has increased its population by 104 per cent since the last U. S. Census, Dr. Skrabanek states.

Although, as Dr. Skrabanek points out, "not all areas of West Texas have shared equally in this growth," each of the WTCC's 10 administrative districts has gained population since 1950 . . . ranging from 12.9 per cent for the district with least gain to the Permian Basin district's tremendous 104 per cent.

"Naturally the question arises as to why certain areas are being drained of people while others are increasing their numbers so rapidly. There are dozens of minor reasons but it relatively easy to determine a few that get to the heart of the matter quickly," Dr. Skrabanek stated.

"With but few exceptions, factors that have caused rapid population increases in certain areas of West Texas are oil and gas developments, irrigation and the presence of large population centers with job opportunities that attract a lot of people. On the other hand, those areas that are heavily dependent on farming and ranching without any industry to take up the slack have been and will be losing population," the analyst declares.

Population estimates for 1958 indicate that 54 counties in the 132-county WTCC area now have fewer people than they did in 1950. Thus, about two out of five counties in West Texas are declining in population.

"With such a large number losing people," Dr. Skrabanek says, "the counties that gained had to have a large increase, since they not only had to offset the losses of others but in addition permit the West Texas area to register an increase of over one million as a whole."

The largest population increases since 1950 have been centered in

New enrollment figure forecast at WTS College

CANYON — West Texas State College will open its 49th session here Sept. 15, and like most colleges throughout the nation, will expect a new record enrollment. Well over 2,000 students are expected to enroll for the fall semester.

Activity around the campus will get underway Sept. 12, when Student Senate will open conferences to plan student affairs for the year. The 12 class senators and representatives of campus organizations will meet with Dewayne Neel of Friona, student body president, to arrange activities for the first, or "Get Acquainted" week.

The student conferences will be held at 2 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the student union building. A faculty breakfast and business session will be held at 8 a. m. Sept. 13, and dormitories will be opened for students to move in on Sunday, Sept. 14.

Students will come back to WT's campus again this year as they have for the past few years, to see continued construction on major buildings. A new fine arts building, a capacity-doubling addition to the science building, and a new stadium are under construction and are expected to be completed in the fall of 1959.

WT's freshmen will start orientation at 8:30 a. m. on Sept. 15, continuing through the day with freshman tests, and will be given counseling Sept. 16 before beginning registration, along with sophomores on the morning of Sept. 17, while juniors, seniors, and graduates register in the afternoon. Classes start after upperclassmen complete registration Sept. 18.

When he went inside he found many little children busy doing all kinds of work.

The director-man talked first with Mrs. Green, the teacher. Then he asked the children, "What do you children think is the most important part of school?"

The children cried out eagerly, "Reading and writing and arithmetic — and especially reading."

The director-man clapped his hands together and said, "Very true! The most important thing about school is reading and writing and arithmetic . . . and especially reading!"

So that is how the director-man finally found the right group of school children to star in his movie. And to this day, you can hear those children say . . .

children out on the playground. The director-man drove up-clatter-rattle-banged-e-bang — and parked his car.

The director-man got out of his car and went over onto the playground. As the children gathered around, he asked, "What do you children think is the most important part of school?"

The children cried out eagerly, "Learning how to play together—and how to play fairly!"

With that the children ran in all directions, running and skipping, throwing and catching balls, jumping ropes and playing tag. Indeed, the children did know how to play many games!

The director-man said, "Learning how to play games together—and learning how to play fairly is very important, that is true; but I am afraid that is not the most important part of school."

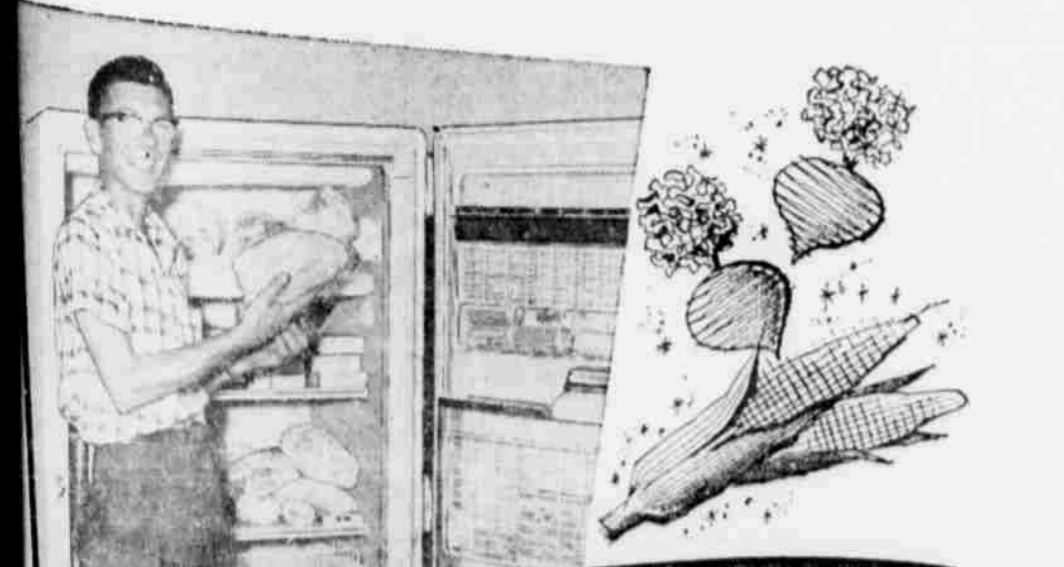

Then the director-man told the children 'good-bye' — got into his car — and drove off down the street clatter-rattle-banged-e-bang.

MARSHALL - BROWN

Western motif used at surprise party Thursday evening

A western motif was carried out in decorations when Mr. and Mrs. Boy Hart entertained at their home on the Double U Ranch with a surprise party honoring Sonny Hart on his 18th birthday Thursday evening.

Early in the evening, guests enjoyed an outdoor supper of grilled hamburgers, potato chips and iced tea, before attending the pep rally and football scrimmage at Post High School football field.

Following the scrimmage, the group returned to the Hart home where they were served birthday cake and a freezer of ice cream.

Table decorations were centered around the birthday cake, which carried out the western theme. A miniature cowboy with his lariat, miniature calf and cow topped the cake which was surrounded with a cedar-like post fence. Surrounding the outside of the cake were ranch brands of this area.

The plates and cups were also western.

Guests included: Pat Gattison and Donnie Carrigan, Leta Stone and John T. Brown, Kay Martin and Jimmy K. Hart, Sharon Wood and Charles Morris, Janet Stephens and Sonny Hart, and the hosts.

Postites completing plans for college fall semester

41 young people from the County area are enrolling in college, or entering it, for the beginning fall semester. Most of the Postites are in their final preparations being for the school of their choice, some already on the list of Postites entering college, or entering it, to see how the boys and girls are doing back for their second year.

The fall fashions leaning to brighter and more cheerful colors will be able this year to add color to the campus sweaters of red, charcoal, and green.

Popular with the Postites are the colorful suede and bright plaids in sport pants in black and khaki and cotton.

They are also making their own, although having the latest styles for some of the girls having purchased the "barrel-sweater" with red being the most popular. Turtleneck and styles in the bulky knit are popular too, with the sweaters remaining high on the list.

Popular with the Postites are the casual colored suede and straight skirts in wool, this year in bright colors.

Forward the footwear for the casual colored suede shoes, increasing in popularity, the fitted hosiery being the special dress-up occasion.

About your health

A man in La Pryor in Southwest Texas reports finding 64 dead cotton rats in a single night on the lawn of his home, apparently killed by his dogs. In Crystal City the cantaloupe crop has been severely damaged by rats.

From Austin comes reports of rats in back yards where none have been seen before, and of mice in suburban homes. In Abilene and Wichita Falls increases in rat and mice populations have been noted. Farmers southwest of San Antonio have experienced serious losses to small grains, peanuts and tomatoes due to rodent depredations.

What's behind these unusually high rodent populations? It is impossible to give a definite answer, but State Health Department and Fish and Wildlife Service investigators feel increased rainfall had a lot to do with it.

Rains caused dense vegetation growth where rats and mice could take cover and raise young, safely hidden from natural enemies. Also, farm crops have been good, providing a ready source of food.

State and local health departments have made intensive field investigations, and laboratory tests have been made on live and dead specimens of rats and mice. This conclusion has been reached:

There is no evidence at this time of a specific threat to public health. At present the problem seems to be more of an economic and nuisance nature.

While this conclusion is reassuring, it does not mean rodent-borne disease outbreaks are impossible. Rodents can serve as reservoirs for various diseases transmissible to humans, and are hosts to a variety of disease-carrying parasites such as fleas.

Here are some things homeowners can do to control rats and mice around their property:

Search for and close up all portals of entry. One Austin man looked for days for an opening into his house large enough to admit mice. He finally found it — a half-inch space around the pilot control on the floor furnace. A piece of hardware cloth or steel wool make good blocks for places like this.

Set traps and practice scrupulous home and premise sanitation. Get rid of tall grass, stacked lumber or anything else that might harbor rodents. Bites of rodents or their fleas should be reported to local health authorities.

These are strictly preventive measures and do not imply the existence of rodent-borne diseases in epidemic proportions.

State Health Department field investigations and laboratory studies will continue wherever indicated.

DOUBLE PORTION

A double portion is good anytime, but it is especially good when it is a portion serving one's spiritual needs. It is exactly this which Sunday Church School will do for your child; give him the double portion of spiritual nurture and wholesome Christian fellowship. These two items are the basic building blocks for the proper growth of personality. The Christian boy or girl needs to grow in the understanding of religion as he grows physically and mentally. It is a great, but common, tragedy to see grown-ups with an infantile religion. The context of Christian fellowship is vital because here we share in a common cause and a common conviction about life. Outside the fellowship the world will be calling people to its way of life every day in every way. Every individual needs the added strength which fellowship in the Church alone can give.

Go with your children this week to the Sunday Church School.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

'Holiday' cover and lead article devoted to Lone Star State

Many Texans fear their state is "developing too fast, outrunning itself, losing touch more and more every year with its own traditional values."

So writes the famed Irish novelist Sean O'Faolain in the October issue of Holiday, which devotes its cover and lead article to the Lone Star State.

O'Faolain says long - memorized Texans claim that the old frontier way of life bred a "stubborn individualism" in men, who dared to be different, who "did not have to be buttons out of a button mold."

The main enemy of the old ways is urbanization and industrialization, the author continues.

"But Texas isn't just an old clock crunching away on a log-cabin wall," he writes. "It is a living organism. It has to grow and develop and adapt itself."

A classic, full-color photo of a working cowboy on the huge 6666 ranch at Guthrie serves as the cover, while the article is illustrated with a portfolio of color and living past that "glow with beauty and nostalgia."

A motorcycle is a traffic fatality. Texas had 2,539 motorcycles in 1957.

Letters to the Editor...

AN APPEAL TO CITIZENSHIP, SAFETY

Dear Editor:

Now that a new school term has begun, I feel sure that every citizen of Post wants to take time to give serious consideration to the safety of our children on the highways and streets of our City.

As Chairman of the Highway Safety Commission of the City of Post, I wish to make a personal appeal to each and every citizen for the safety of our children. There is nothing I can do personally, or any other individual in Post can do alone, but it must be the combined efforts of every citizen. We hear on the news broadcasts every day, and read in the newspapers about the wanton slaughter on our highways throughout the State of Texas, and other states, and we cannot of course help this, but we can do something about the immediate vicinity of Post. We can all work together and make our own town a safer place for all of us to live.

The most common cause of death by automobiles is excessive high rates of speed, careless and thoughtless driving. The guilty parties know themselves who they are, consequently no name calling is necessary and it is almost useless to criticize the law enforcement officers that we do have, because we do not have enough of these good men for the size of the town.

The truth of the matter is, if people would only stop and think, use more common sense and judgment in driving, it would not be necessary to even have as many law enforcement officers as we already have, as far as traffic violations are concerned. Unfortunately, we have some citizens who have no respect for the law, and I am inclined to believe this is thoughtlessness on their parts, but when these particular people are reprimanded, and in some cases fined for speeding or other traffic violations, they have no one to blame except themselves.

Why can't we all band together, discuss these problems at home, at our place of business, at the schools, and even in Church, offering only constructive criticism and suggestions, and make our town a safer and consequently a much happier place in which to live?

This is a direct appeal from the Citizens Traffic Commission as organized a few months ago, and we will have certain information transmitted through the schools, and to each citizen from time to time in the future.

Q. Before I can get a Certificate of Eligibility for a GI home loan I understand I will need to show my discharge from the Army, which I can't seem to find. Will a certified true copy I had made do just as well?

A. Yes. A certified true copy of your discharge is acceptable to VA as evidence of your military service. Send or bring it, with your application, to the VA Regional Office in the area where the house you are planning to buy is located.

Q. How soon after I start school this fall, under the Korean GI Bill, will I get my first VA school allowance?

A. The waiting period is approximately two months. By law, VA is not permitted to mail you a check until it has received proof that you have completed the month of school for which you are to be paid. In addition, VA is allowed 20 days after that to get your first check in the mail. So count on approximately two months wait for your first VA allowance check. After that checks will arrive regularly for each month of certified school attendance.

Q. I'm a disabled veteran of the Korea fighting, taking Vocational Rehabilitation Training, and I have a dental condition that has been bothering me lately. My disability is service-connected, but I don't know whether my dental condition is or not. Can I get outpatient dental treatment from the VA?

A. You would be eligible for outpatient dental treatment in the circumstances you describe. The law states that disabled veterans of World War II and the Korea conflict receiving training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, and who need dental treatments in order to prevent interruption of their training, may apply for the treatment as needed.

Q. I want to change the beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I inform the present beneficiary of my decision?

A. No. You have the right to change beneficiaries at any time, without their consent or knowledge.

Q. The other evening I was discussing GI insurance with a friend who has a boy going into the Army soon. I told him I thought no GI insurance was now being sold to fellows entering service. Is that right?

A. That is correct. No new GI insurance policies have been sold to servicemen since April 25, 1951. However, if a man entering service today should have a service-connected disability at the time of his discharge or when released from active duty, he may apply for a special type of GI insurance for the service-disabled.

"$7.34 invested in ammonia netted $40.56 in wheat"

W. H. Jackson, successful High Plains farmer, says: "Phillips 66 ammonia proved to me it can help me make more money. The irrigated wheat I fertilized with Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gave me a 25 bushel-per-acre increase over an unfertilized check plot. This netted me $40.56 per acre."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

MEETING SET FOR SEPT. 15-17

Tech dean to speak on watershed management at A&M conference

LUBBOCK—How farmers and ranchers may influence the amount of water that stays on their land will be related by Dr. Gerald W. Thomas, Texas Tech agricultural dean, at the fourth annual Water for Texas Conference Sept. 15-17, at Texas A&M.

"Theme of this year's conference will be "Watershed Management and Our Water Supply," Thomas said. "We know that through good watershed management we may increase crop yields with less water and build underground water supplies."

The Tech dean's subject will be "Vegetation and Runoff." A specialist in range and forestry management, Thomas has held a number of conservation, teaching and research posts. For two years, he was research coordinator for West Texas as for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station before becoming agricultural dean at Tech.

In his talk Sept. 16, Thomas will discuss the relationships between vegetation and runoff and describe results of research done by himself and others in recent years.

He considers vegetation the most important factor in runoff control because mechanical devices like terraces, dams, contour farming and cultivation are still influenced by vegetative cover.

"We on the High Plains are probably more concerned with water — particularly irrigation water — than any other section of the state," Thomas commented. "That is one reason I am happy to be able to represent Texas Tech at the conference."

Dr. Thomas will be making his first official appearance as Tech's dean of agriculture in speaking at the conference. On Sept. 1 he succeeded Dr. W. L. Stangel who retired after three decades at Tech.

Also attending the Water for Texas conference from Lubbock will be W. L. Broadhurst, chief hydrologist for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. His topic will be "Conservation Measures by Texas Ground Water Users."

Among the other speakers at the conference will be Gov. Price Daniel and Gov. George D. Clyde of Utah. Gov. Clyde, who is a national authority on water resources and was with the Bureau of Reclamation before going into politics, will discuss "Water — A National Problem." Gov. Daniel will tell how "Texas Attacks Its Water Problem." Gov. Daniel will tell how blems" at the first morning session.

WESTERN DRAMA AT ITS BEST

'Ride a Crooked Trail,' starring Murphy, Scala. to show at Tower

Western drama at its vigorous best unfolds in Universal-International's impressive Color-CinemaScope production, "Ride a Crooked Trail," starring Audie Murphy and Gia Scala which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Tower Theatre.

Teaming of Murphy, an established outdoor star, with the warmly provocative Miss Scala, a green-eyed Irish-Italian charmer, was an inspired move — one we can only hope will soon be repeated.

Rounding out the excellent cast are Walter Matthau, of Broadway fame; Henry Silva, remembered for his role of the dope pusher in "Hateful Rain"; Joanna Moore, a blonde eyelet, and Eddie Little.

The setting for this tale of the raucous frontier departs from the customary cattle lands to focus upon a river town which is a mixture of the Old South and the New West.

Here Murphy is mistakenly identified as a United States Marshal and put into a position of enforcing the law when his actual intention is that of defying it.

The situation is fraught with high emotional conflict, with Murphy resolving the matter in a fashion providing absorbing screen fare replete with suspense, fast-paced action and off-beat romance.

At school board meeting Monday

Trustees vote to buy typewriters

The board of trustees of Post Independent School District voted Monday night to replace all old typewriters with new ones in the high school's commercial department, as the first item on an unusually brief agenda for a regular board meeting.

The trustees also discussed the Graham Rural School building, where school is no longer being held, set a policy on use of the high school gymnasium by outside athletic teams and voted to buy two new band uniforms.

Following a discussion of the Graham school building, the trustees decided that the proper procedure would be for residents of the Graham community to form a board of trustees in order for the building to be deeded to them for community use.

The board authorized Supt. R. T. Smith to check on the land deed in connection with disposition of the school. Trustee Quannah Maxey, who lives in the Graham community, said he would inform residents of the community of the necessity of organizing a board before the property can be deeded to them.

Smith explained to the trustees that Royal Typewriter Co. has agreed to trade new machines for the 23 old ones now in use at the school for $2,750 difference. The $2,750 will be payable this time next year. The 23 new typewriters installed for this school year will be picked up by the company next spring and replaced with new ones at no costs, with the company giving the school a three-year contract.

Postings—

(Continued From Front Page) served so well to know that its appreciated. Corresponding is more a love of community and people job, than a paying one. We hope our readers appreciate them like we do.

We have another correspondent writing her bow this week over on page 11. Entitled "Junior Set" it's a column devoted to junior high activities here in Post. It's author is our daughter, Chris. We're sorry to report that we still have an "opening" for a high school columnist because we haven't had any volunteers who want the job. Maybe some of you have been waiting to be asked, which isn't the way it works in the busy newspaper business. If so, just come around and see Editor Charlie about it sometime this weekend. We'd like to get a high school column rolling in the next issue. We offered Principal Glenn the idea of having a whole student page in the paper each week with a high school staff, but the youngsters and sponsor decided they'd rather keep their own mimeographed publication. The offer will stay open if a group of you would like to try.

We'd like to call attention to page 11 again where the Postex Mills have taken a half page "public relations ad" to explain to everybody their expanded new vacation policy. This is going to be of real benefit to the 300 mill employees and to the town as well. Rube Jennings is running a mighty big and progressive operation at the mill and it's great to see that he's working on personal welfare right along with plant expansions. Both are mighty welcome.

Maybe you didn't know it but Mary Nell Hendricks, who as "Miss Texas" was one of the 10 finalists in last Saturday night's "Miss America contest at Atlantic City, is a Post girl. We call her a Post girl because she lived here and went to school here for a year when she was 12. Now at Arlington, where she teaches the second grade, Miss Hendricks is the daughter of Mrs. Erma Hendricks who taught in the Post grade school during the 1947-48 term. Mrs. Hendricks, Mary Nell and Mary Nell's older brother had an apartment with Mrs. Thelma Kuykendall. Mrs. Tillman Jones, ex - Post school teacher, recalls Mary Nell as being in one of her classes. We watched the TV performance from start to finish and thought the judges fouled up in not boosting Mary Nell into the top five—maybe even to Miss America. She's not only beautiful but she had the best smile we've seen in many a year. Wouldn't it be fun to be back in the second grade?

The Bryan J. Williams family is all "shook up" and Bryan J. is really "mean mad" at the Sunday loss of the Williams' two registered Welch terriers, Rusty and Sister. The two-year-old dogs were gone when the family got back to the ranch Sunday afternoon from church and dinner in town. Bryan J. says the two dogs loved to ride and somebody probably just drove into the yard opened the car door—and in they jumped. Bryan is offering a reward for any information on his two lost dogs or any person or persons who might have taken them. So if you've seen a couple of black and tan dogs anywhere since Sunday let Bryan know.

A receipt from the Post Dunlap store got Mrs. C. J. Hunt back her lost billfold. Mrs. Hunt during a vacation stop in McKinney, Tex., had made a phone call and left her billfold in the phone booth. The only slip of identification was a Dunlap receipt from the Post store. When the billfold was found, the local Dunlap store was called. Mrs. Everett Webb left word for Mrs. Hunt, who lives in a trailer beyond the McCampbell rooming house, and when she returned home she got the happy news that the billfold was found. Just another reason for "shopping at home" where the people know and remember you.

Scholarship goes to Post graduate

Miss Ann Scarbrough, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Scarbrough, has been awarded a scholarship to Wayland College, Plainview, as the "highest ranking Baptist" of the 1958 graduating class at Post High School.

Miss Scarbrough's grade average high school work in three years, will major in elementary education with a business minor. She enrolled at Wayland last Thursday.

Miss Scarbrough' grade average of 94 would have qualified her for valedictory honors in this year's graduating class, except for the new ruling at the school that a senior must have attended high school the full four years to be eligible for such scholastic honors. Her grade average was highest among girls of the graduating class.

She completed her high school work in three years by carrying five subjects and taking two correspondence courses during the 1957-58 term.

Miss Scarbrough received the high school's outstanding English student award, and was selected as "Girl of the Month" by the Post Business & Professional Women's Club. In high school, she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America organization, Library Club and pep squad. Since her graduation, she has attended the Baptist Youth World Conference in Toronto, Canada, touring 17 states on the trip, and has modeled in a style show at Reese Air Force Base for a ready-to-wear shop in Lubbock. She is a pianist and a member of the First Baptist Church here.

Baptist missionary drowns in Africa

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harper were in Gorman Sunday afternoon to attend memorial services for his nephew, the Rev. Winfred O. Harper, a Southern Baptist missionary, who drowned Thursday in the Azanian Sea, East Africa.

The Rev. Mr. Gorman, who once preached at the First Baptist Church here a few years ago, was stationed at Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika. He was 37 years old.

Survivors include his wife and three children, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Harper. He is also related to Mrs. Leo Cobb, Mrs. B. K. Bowen and J. Lee Bowen.

Weekend rains benefit to late planted grain

Areas east and west of Post, mainly the Verbena and Graham communities, received good weekend rains, while 42 of an inch was recorded in Post.

County Agent Lewis C. Herron said the rains were a big help to late-planted feed and range lands.

The weekend precipitation here was the first for September and brought Post's 1958 rain total to date up to 13.68 inches.

Meanwhile, early-planted feed is being harvested throughout the county, but the cotton harvest is moving almost too slowly to be noticeable. Only scattered bales are being ginned at the county's six gins.

The cotton harvest, however, is expected to be gathered several weeks earlier than last year's, which means that it should begin gaining momentum within a very few weeks.

The county agent said some of the county's dryland cotton had suffered from insufficient moisture in August, resulting in shedding and some boll worm damage. The insect situation is said to be under control, however, with most of the worms big enough to be easily spotted.

GOOD MORNING SHOWER

An early morning shower today brought .38 of an inch more moisture to Post, according to the official rain gauge at the courthouse. The Wednesday precipitation totaled only .02.

Boosters disband at Monday night meet

Members of the Post Band Boosters Club voted Monday night to disband until further notice.

The vote came at a meeting held at the band hall. Only about six members of the club were in attendance at the meeting, according to the president, Mrs. Edward Neff. Other officers are Edsel Cross, vice president; Mrs. Paul Jones, secretary, and Mrs. C. R. Wilson, treasurer.

(Continued From Front Page) DISCUSSION OF Christmas decorations, for which $750 has been appropriated, had mainly to do with price. The decoration scheme and other details will be left up to a decorations committee headed by Leo M. Acker.

Preliminary plans call for a giant Christmas tree on Main Street and spruce roping, in addition to the customary Christmas lights on which the Chamber and the City of Post have been cooperating in the past.

Chamber President Chant D. Lee said that while in Denver on a recent trip he had priced decorations such as the ones to be used here. He said a Christmas tree the size being planned on—25 or 30 feet tall—would cost approximately $375 delivered in Post.

"THAT AMOUNT alone would be about half our budget," Lee said. He added that it was suggested at the Denver decorations firm that if the Chamber did not want to pay that much for a tree, they use a telephone pole and Christmas tree branches which could be purchased at a much lower cost.

He said a Christmas tree made from a pole and with Christmas branches was used at a civic center in Denver and that it made as attractive a Yuletide decoration as a real tree.

Manager John N. Hopkins was authorized by the president to get the Christmas decorations committee together soon so that they can begin their planning and the materials can be ordered.

"WE SHOULD get started on it right away so that the decorations can go up right after Thanksgiving," Lee said.

Hopkins told the directors that city officials had said they would put up and take down the decorations.

ASC election results given

Results of elections for committeemen in the three Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation communities of Garza County have been announced following Monday's count by the tabulation board.

It was also announced at the ASC office that the annual county convention will be held at the office here Monday for election of a county ASC committee for the coming year.

Those elected in the community committeemen voting were the following:

Community "A": Herman Dabbs, chairman; Earl Lancaster, vice chairman; Walter Stolle, regular member; Carl Payton, first alternate; Christian W. Gindorf, second alternate.

Community "B": W. H. Childs, chairman; Carl Fluit, vice chairman; T. L. Aten, regular member; W. C. Bush, first alternate; Ray McClellan, second alternate.

Community "C": Tom Gilmore, chairman; Bennie Wilks, vice chairman; Dale Cravy, regular member; John T. Ray, first alternate; Douglas Buchanan, second alternate.

Enrollment jumps to 1,175

Enrollment of white students in the Post schools was up Tuesday, according to Superintendent Smith.

The new figure is an increase of 73 over the enrollment reported on Wednesday week—the day after opened.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

You can be SURE...

... that there is a never-ending research into the problems of vision. For instance, research conducted at Purdue University shows that some nearsightedness comes from too much visual tension, in reading and studying, in the early school years. And, that temporary preventive bifocal or training lenses can, in many cases, reduce that tension. Thus, nearsightedness may be halted or even prevented. Cooperate with your professional optometrist if he prescribes preventive bifocals for your child. He is practicing preventive vision care.

Invention—

ing unit is entirely enclosed. Oil men who have studied it call it the safest type of heater for oil field use they have ever seen because the flames are completely enclosed.

THE SALINE water division of the United States Department of Interior is interested in the Post man's invention and has suggested to Porter that he apply for a government grant to help him finance the completion of experimentation and development. Porter says he will seek the grant in the near future.

Porter explains that science now has developed a process for converting salt water into soft water for drinking purposes and all other household uses, but that the cost at present is still prohibitive.

Today it costs $1 per thousand gallons for converting salt water through the distillation process.

"Experts hope through finding methods to increase the heat output in the distillation process to trim the conversion costs down to a practicable 30 to 35 cents per thousand gallons," Porter says.

"My invention with greater heat output than other kinds of water heaters may through development be the answer."

PORTER EXPLAINS that the Space Corporation is planning to market his heater in smaller sizes for stock water tanks at approximately $129.50.

Oil field units, which will be much larger, will cost about $2,000 installed.

Porter and Space Corporation already are planning a water distillation unit for converting salt water of family size. The home unit, selling for $250 or so, would be large enough to produce 25 gallons of distilled water daily, sufficient for all cooking and drinking purposes for a large sized family.

SUCH HOME units will be marketed under Title I FHA provisions, Porter says, with nothing down and several years to pay.

Larger distillation units would range on up to $12,000 to $15,000.

Porter thinks it is even feasible for towns and cities in hard-to-get-water-areas, such as predominate in West Texas, to obtain their water supplies through such distillation processes — providing enough heat can be provided at a cheap enough cost.

AND THAT is what he hopes his invention can someday accomplish.

Porter almost got into production of his submersible gas-fired water heater back in 1950 but then the Korean war came along, aluminum was frozen, and the deal had to be called off.

Porter hopes to get government approval on the patent within the next 60 days and then, he says, Space Corporation will get immediately into production of his invention in all three fields.

MR. AND MRS. Haskell Odom visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood over the weekend.

Cameron Justice entered the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bevers, Jr. and Sonny have returned from a vacation trip to Iowa. They visited her sister there.

Our New VACATION POLICY

Here at Postex Mill we are vitally interested in the personal welfare of our employes even more than in the physical expansion and modernization of our plant.

In keeping with the Company's policy of continued progress along this line, I am happy to announce this new vacation pay policy which will give our more than 500 employes many additional benefits.

The changes include doubling the vacation pay for all employes of the mill who have been with us five years or more, making employes who have been with us only six months eligible for vacation pay instead of the year formerly required, and dividing our vacation pay plan into two six months payments which will mean half of the money will be paid our employes only three weeks or so before Christmas.

Formerly, our vacation plan has been to close down the mill on the week of July 4th for employe vacations and to pay all employes who had at least one year's continuous service two percent of their gross pay for that year as their vacation bonus.

We will continue to close the mill one week each summer for vacations but the rest of our vacation plan has been vastly improved.

First, we have divided the vacation year into two six months vacation pay periods. The first pay period extends from June 1 of this year through Nov. 30. The second begins Dec. 1 and extends through May 31st of next year.

Employes with from six months to five years continuous service as of Nov. 30, 1958, will receive a bonus based upon two percent of their actual earnings for the 26 weeks period ending with the payroll period closing nearest Nov. 30, 1958.

Employes with from six months to five years continuous service as of May 31, 1959, will receive a bonus of two percent of their actual earnings for the 26 weeks period ending with the payroll period nearest May 31, 1959.

EMPLOYES WITH FIVE OR MORE YEARS OF CONTINUOUS SERVICE WILL RECEIVE A VACATION BONUS BASED UPON FOUR PER CENT OF THEIR ACTUAL EARNINGS FOR THE SAME PERIODS AS NOTED ABOVE.

Any employe terminated for lack of work within three months prior to Dec. 1, 1958, or June 1, 1959, will receive a vacation bonus if the person meets all other requirements.

In 1954, the first year after I came to Post, 63 per cent of our mill employes qualified for vacation pay and received $12,211 in vacation pay for an average of $49.44 per employe. This year 65.3 percent of our employes qualified for $18,547 in vacation pay and each employe received on the average of $69.66.

We believe the changes we are now announcing in our vacation pay policy will be of great benefit to our employes who help themselves by continuous employment. We sincerely trust that the change to doubling vacation pay for employes with us five years or more will be an incentive to each worker to give more continuous service to the Company.

SUMMER'S END and the start of another school year is a time of mixed emotions for youngsters. Caught in these photos are two quite different yet typical reactions. An "old hand" at cracking the books (left) frowns dejectedly. To him, school is only a confinement. To the tot receiving last minute instructions from mother (below), however, school is an awesome adventure—their first "away from home."

WHETHER THEY ARE happy about school or not, if you drive you have a responsibility to see children arrive there safely. Watch for signs like this one. Slow down as you approach, ready to stop.

STAY ALERT DRIVING near school buses. Be prepared to stop quickly. More buses like this International are taking to the road now, because more children are attending school than before.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — How best to educate Texas children — and how to pay for it — will be a key issue in the upcoming legislative session. Problems were spotlighted when the Hale-Aikin Committee made its first report. Included were 12 recommendations for improvement or expansion of public education.

Several proposals reflect the concerns of the times. In an age of mounting traffic death tolls and almost universal availability of high-speed cars to teenagers, state-supported driver education was urged. In the face of widespread reports of the superiority of educational systems in other countries, the committee recommended state aid for classes for the "academically gifted." It also proposed increasing the school year from a minimum 175 days to 180 days plus five days for teacher training.

Other proposals were to provide state support for (1) more principals, (2) assistant superintendents in large districts, (3) pre-school teaching of children unable to speak English, (4) larger allowances for maintenance, (5) replacing school buses and paying drivers (6) buses for city children living more than two miles from school, and (7) state and local guidance services.

IT ALSO suggested basing teacher-pupil ratios on current attendance rather than figures for the year before and urged the setting aside of TV channels for future educational use.

Final decision on other recommendations was postponed until Sept. 15. These include raising the minimum pay for teachers $95 a year (from $3205 to $3800) and releasing state property taxes to allow for more local district collections.

Hale-Aikin Committee is a 24-member study group of lawmakers and private citizens set up by the last legislature to study public schools and make recommendations to the 1959 session. Grass-roots discussion has been going on for nearly a year in cities and counties over the state. Proposals being made now result from sifting and weighing of hundreds of ideas urged by educators and interested citizens.

Committee members are not blind to the likelihood of stiff legislative resistance to the additional money — spending called for by most of the proposals. Cost of the state minimum foundation program for the present school year is estimated at $349,416,000. H-A Committee's "enrichment" suggestions could add from $50,000,000 to $130,000,000 to that figure.

Most lawmakers already are feeling financially gloomy because of a predicted $140,000,000 gap between state revenue and cost of present programs — without any kind of improvement anywhere.

One committee member suggested that, while all the proposals might not be put into effect right away, they could serve as "a pattern for years to come."

GREATER EMPHASIS on what to teach, rather than how to teach will be reflected by this year's college graduates entering the education field.

A law passed in 1953 to raise the minimum salary for teachers to $3,000 a year, to be paid in 1954, has been delayed by the legislature. It is now expected to be passed in 1959.

Some of the proposals that are being considered are: (1) to increase the state minimum salary for teachers to $3,000 a year, to be paid in 1954, has been delayed by the legislature. It is now expected to be passed in 1959.

Big business depends on small firms' help

This may come as a surprise to some people, but so-called "big" business and "little" business are so inter-related and interdependent that it is doubtful whether either could prosper economically without the help and cooperation of the other.

A perfect example of this tie-up is the report of an eastern firm, which does an extensive petroleum chemical business. It said it dealt with 30,000 different suppliers in 1957, most of them small concerns, just to keep its own plants operating properly.

It estimated that it purchased more than $860 million worth of materials and services from these "little fellows."

Purchases ranged from carload lots of such things as lined oil and acetic acid to paper cups and slide rules. They involved such odd-ball items as hay knives for special cutting assignments, right-handed golf gloves for material cutters, embroidery hooks and gun-cleaning patches for laboratory tests, and even nylon fishing nets to catch waste material as it was unwound at high speed.

The company said that $710 million of the $860 million it spent on goods and services in 1957 went for raw materials, supplies, and chemicals. The balance went into new and expanded plant facilities, and this phase alone involved more than 10,000 contractors and suppliers.

"One thing that is often overlooked," a company spokesman explained, "is that our company, like most big firms, depends on small suppliers to keep our facilities in operation. Of the 30,000 companies that we buy from, more than 90 per cent have less than 500 employees.

"Even more significant is the fact that a good many of them have increased their own businesses and have grown with us. Not at all unusual is the one-man operation that was started several years ago to make filter cloths for one of our plants. Today, this operator employs a half-dozen workers, and sells his cloths to several other customers, in addition to us.

"This proves one thing very positively: big companies must rely on the flexibility of small suppliers and service establishments to keep their production lines on schedule. Big and small businesses are very, very interdependent.

"On many jobs, for instance, the small local supplier is the only one who is set up to give fast service and at the same time meet exacting requirements. Exemplifying this is the machine shop which makes and reconditions steel parts for one of our plants. Because of its size and ability to work closely with our plant, it is able to adapt quickly and economically to frequent design changes in plant equipment.

"Next time," the official said, "you hear someone say that big business is running the little fellow out of the picture, remind him of facts like these."

HOME AGENT CALLS FOR ENTRIES

New 4-H Building to be scene of annual Garza County fair

By JESSIE PEARCE

County Fair time is almost here again, and it is time we all made preparations to make it a worthwhile event. The show is scheduled for Oct. 3 and 4. The entries in the Women's and Girl's division will be brought in on the morning of Oct. 3 and judged that afternoon.

In past years, we have had very little interest from people in the county as a whole. Most of the entries have been from Home Demonstration, 4-H and FHA club members. This probably springs from the fact that for several years, the only show was a closed one sponsored by these groups. This is the fourth year that the show has been an open one, sponsored by the Lions Club. I would like to see the fair truly a county fair, with lots of entries from all over the county.

We know that paying premiums would stimulate interest in the fair, but until it can grow more, this is economically impossible. Each winning entry will be awarded a ribbon, and the high point contestants will be awarded rosettes.

The Fair catalogues are not out yet, but there will be very few changes from previous years. You can safely gather up the canned products, jams, jelly, sewing, needle work you have done and make a cake or bake some bread to enter. You might be surprised to see that you are the best seamstress, canner, or baker in the county. Now wouldn't you like to have that honor?

Divisions in the Women's Department are as follows: needlework; rugs and quilts; clothing or sewing; ceramics; leather work; canning; frozen foods and baking, including candies. The divisions in the youth department are: art and handicraft; clothing; needlework; canning; frozen foods and baking. You can tell from this list if you have articles to enter.

MR. AND MRS. Bob Proole, and Mrs. Nora Baylis and Mrs. Jesse Lofton were in Plainview over the weekend attending a quad-district VFW Convention.

SATURDAY IN LEVELLAND — Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Putman spent Saturday in Levelland visiting friends and relatives.

The show this year will be in the new 4-H Club building on the south side of the lake in the city park. We at last have a place to hold our fair, and will have room for all of the entries.

Don't wait for someone to ask you to bring your entries in, you have an open invitation to do this. Your participation will help make our County Fair a success.

Tree seedlings to be available for windbreaks

Some 90,000 tree seedlings will be available to landowners in Garza and other West Texas counties for windbreak plantings in early 1959. Don Young, head of the Forest Management Department of the Texas Forest Service has announced.

"The supply for next year's planting is limited, so those desiring seedlings should get their applications in early," Young said.

Application blanks for ordering the trees are now available, upon request, from the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station. In addition, these order forms can be secured from county agents, Soil Conservation Districts, and ASC offices in the West Texas area.

About 50,000 red cedar, 25,000 ponderosa pine, and 15,000 Austrian pine seedlings will be procured for distribution by the Texas Forest Service and will be sold for $1.25 per hundred prepaid.

Landowners in critical areas should establish farmstead or field windbreaks to prevent wind erosion of their valuable top soil," Young reported.

The deadline for ordering seedlings will be March 1, 1959. Seedlings will be shipped about the first week of March, 1959, to locations specified on the application blanks. Information on how to store and plant the seedlings is available upon request.

"The orders will be filled on a 'first come-first served' basis," Young added.
