Post Firemen Will Sponsor Box Supper Oct. 4 To Raise Funds For Iron Lung

A community-owned portable iron lung, which can be used by persons of any color or creed for polio, respiratory diseases, gas poisoning, drowning, heart disease and other ailments, is being sponsored by the Post Voluntary Fire Department.

The artificial respirator will be bought from the Mulliken Southwest Company of Dallas and kept at the fire station for use whenever needed, if the necessary $1,215 can be raised through public contributions, Fire Chief Homer McCrary said this week.

The iron lung is on display in the Tom Power Ford Agency show room and will be demonstrated there all day Saturday. After the first public demonstration in the Power building last week, firemen received $72 in contributions. Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund can do so by putting the money in jars provided for the purpose in the Power building or give their money or checks to any member of the fire department, McCrary said.

All parts of the iron lung are guaranteed and will be replaced, free of charge by the Mulliken Company, if ever needed. In event of an epidemic, additional iron lungs will be provided without charge, McCrary has been informed.

Residents of the entire community are invited to participate in a box supper which the firemen will sponsor at 8 o'clock Saturday night, October 4, on the court house lawn. No campaign will be sponsored to get various groups to prepare boxes, McCrary said. "The affair is open to the public, and we want everybody who is in favor of the project to participate," he explained.

The boxes, which will be auctioned off by Kenneth Bozeman, may contain anything from sandwiches, to fried chicken to cakes or pies. "The idea is for the ladies to prepare the boxes and the men to buy them," McCrary said. A special program is being arranged for the supper.

The artificial respirator is a compact unit which can be taken anywhere on a moment's notice. It is made of cast aluminum in three sizes of sheet shields which will accommodate a new born baby up to a 300-pound person. It can be operated by electricity, a six-volt battery or by hand, and it is supplied with an oxygen attachment which automatically supplies oxygen as the patient breathes.

Weighing only 85 pounds, the lung can be arranged in two cases and handled by one man. Once a patient is in the lung, he can be transported by automobile or other conveyance without being taken from the lung.

City, County Tax Discount Is Explained

For the convenience of taxpayers wishing to take advantage of the 3 per cent discount provided for in Senate Bill 402 passed by the 42nd Texas Legislature, city tax notices were mailed this week and county and state tax notices will be mailed next week.

The law provides for 3 per cent discount on taxes paid in October, 2 per cent discount on taxes paid in November and 1 per cent discount on taxes paid in December.

City taxes, which are not due until October 1, may be paid at any time at the City Hall, Sherrill Boyd, secretary, said yesterday. State and county tax payments, which should be made at the court house, cannot be accepted before October 1. T. H. Tipton, deputy tax assessor-collector, has announced.

Cotton Pulling Wages Are Set

Delegates elected by 50 Garza County farmers at a meeting last Saturday night in the district court room met with similarly elected Lynn County farmer delegates Monday night in Tahoka to agree on wages for cotton pulling in the two counties.

It was agreed that $1.75 per 100 lb. will be paid for cotton pulled and left in the field and $2.00 per 100 lb. will be paid for cotton delivered to the gin, Garza Agricultural Agent D. F. Eaton said yesterday.

The Garza farmers had been paying $1.50 and $1.75, but raised the rates in a compromise with the Lynn delegates.

Garza's Top Ropers To Be Matched Saturday Night

A large crowd is expected in the Post Rodeo and Stampede Association grandstands Saturday night to see the final and most exciting matched roping of the season.

Beginning at 8 o'clock, some of Garza County's top-ranking cowhands will challenge members of the Post Roping Club.

The non-club ropers will include one or two men who have been roping calves since the day that the average club roper was big enough to ride a stick horse.

The challengers, to be known as "O. D. Cardwell's Cowhands" will be Hinton Fluitt, Ott Nance, Shorty Bland, Raymond Blue, Bill Richardson, Harold Childs, Eldon Walker and Boy Hart.

The roping club team will consist of Martin Reynolds, Jack Meeks, Ed Sims, Novis Rodgers, Lewis Nance, Ben Porter, Dub Gray and Earl Hodges.

A jackpot roping will follow. Admission prices will be 25 and 50 cents.

The club team took a beating last Sunday in Crosbyton in a return match with five Crosby ropers. The local ropers were Ben Porter, Ed Sims, Dub Gray, Jack Meeks and Lewis Nance. The best showing made was by Nance, who took third in the ribbon jackpot which followed the match. "Crosbyton won the contest by a comfortable margin," Nance said.

Gray, Porter, Nance and Harold Childs entered the roping events at the Clairmont rodeo which began Wednesday of last week and lasted through Saturday. Nance made the best average on two calves, one first place in the first go-round and second place in the second.

Childs took second place in the wild cow milking.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING COMMITTEE DOES ITS SHOPPING VERY EARLY

It's only 13 weeks until Christmas, and so the Post Chamber of Commerce decorating committee is already at work trying to figure out a Yuletide downtown decoration scheme worthy of the city's rapidly expanding business area.

Lots of new Christmas lights have been ordered and indications are that the order will be filled well in advance of the decoration date. Last year, only small strings of Christmas lights were available for stringing across Main Street and they didn't burn throughout the holiday season because of the scarcity of light bulbs.

"We'll have lights all over the place this Christmas, and some other decorations to go with them," Sherrill Boyd, secretary, said this week.

Boosters Plan Thrilling Film

"Football Thrills of 1946" will be subject of a movie shown at the weekly meeting of the Antelope Booster Club, beginning at 7 o'clock tonight in the high school auditorium.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

During a business session, the club will discuss the advisability of sponsoring a special train to Snyder for the football game on October 3.

Garza Booth To Be Arranged In Lubbock Sunday

All Garza County products needed for the county booth at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair, which opens Monday in Lubbock, have been found, the Post Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the booth, announced yesterday.

Garza County Agricultural Agent D. F. Eaton and others have worked out an attractive background for the products consisting of a clump of weeping love grass as the centerpiece and a fan of alfalfa on either side. The background arrangement will be 10 by 7 feet, and the booth will be 10 feet long and nine feet deep, Eaton said.

The booth will be set up at the fairgrounds in Lubbock Sunday by Eaton and Sherrill Boyd, Post Chamber of Commerce secretary. They were assisted in gathering the products and in planning the arrangement by Robert Gibson, GI Vocational Agriculture teacher, and several of his students (Continued On Back Page, Col. 4)

FOUR-H MEAT ON SALE AT LOCAL STORE TODAY

The local Piggly Wiggly store bought four baby beeves exhibited at the Garza County 4-H Products Show Saturday from Bobby Cowdrey, Moody Graham, Elsie Jean Peel, all of Graham, and E. P. Wicker, Jr., of Southland.

The beeves, which were butchered at the Garza Cooperative Locker Association plant, yielded 60 to 63 per cent, which is considered very good, according to Dick Allen, head of the Piggly Wiggly market department. The meat is on sale today and tomorrow, Allen said.

The beeves brought from $132 to $200 each, Allen said.

TUESDAY IS FINAL DAY TO SUBSCRIBE AT OLD NEWS RATE

Tuesday is the last day to subscribe or renew subscriptions to the Post Dispatch at the old rate.

Because of increased production expenses, it has become necessary to increase the subscription rate by 50 cents, effective October 1.

The new rate will be $2.50 a year for subscribers in Post and Garza County, a rate which amounts to less than five cents a paper, and $3.00 for out-of-county subscribers.

Each subscription renewed at the old rate, between now and Tuesday, will become effective upon expiration of the subscription now in force.

Last week forty-nine new and renewal subscriptions were received from subscribers who chose to take advantage of the present rates.

New Budget Approved By School Men

The Post Independent School District Board of Trustees Monday night approved a $104,444.48 budget—the biggest in local history—for the 1947-48 school year.

The budget for last year was $82,997.63 and for two years ago it was $62,950.10, said Superintendent G. R. Day yesterday.

A major factor necessitating an increased budget was the increased teacher salaries specified in a new Texas law. In order to meet the salary requirement, the budget for teacher in the high, grade and negro schools here had to be increased from a total of $47,064.24 of last year to $72,000 for the 1947-48 year, Day explained.

The additional income needed for the new budget will come from increased oil revenues, an increased state per capita apportionment, a raise in the rate of high school tuition from $9 to $12 per month per student transferring from districts where there are state-aid schools, a raise in the rate of grade school tuition of $1 per student a month per transfer and a raise in state-paid transportation aid, the superintendent explained.

The board also elected another teacher, Mrs. H. Stotts of Southland, for the primary department which, beginning Monday, will have three sections.

ADDITIONAL HOSE PUTS LOCAL FIRE TRUCK IN SHAPE FOR WORST FIRE

Six hundred feet of two and a half inch hose have been added to the Post Voluntary Fire Department's No. 2 truck to make a total of 1,500 ft. of hose on the vehicle.

"This is quite a bit more hose than we need in many fires," says Fire Chief Homer McCrary, "but we believe in being prepared for the worst fires."

Membership Drive Still Emphasized

The James C. Cole Post of the American Legion, which now has 120 members, missed by one day being the first post in the state to reach its membership quota for this year, Commander James Minor said yesterday. The local report that the assigned quota of 91 members had been surpassed reached the Texas Department headquarters one day behind similar reports from Leon Springs and Somerville.

Although the state assignment has been filled, the Garza membership drive has just begun with a locally set goal of at least 200 members.

At a meeting of the post Monday night the membership and other committees for the year were appointed and plans were made for "a free barbecue with all the trimmings" to be held at the next regular meeting, Oct. 7. All members and all ex-service men are invited to attend, Minor said. Guests will include some outstanding state Legionnaires and post commanders from neighboring towns.

Redecoration of the Legion Hall should be finished by the next meeting, the commander said. The following committees have been appointed:

The public is invited to attend, the pastor announced.

EVERYTHING FROM FIELD MICE TO RABBITS EXHIBITED— Boys and Girls Four-H Show May Develop Into County Fair

Everything from field mice to jackrabbits in the way of special exhibits and all types of competitive exhibits were displayed last Saturday in the Post Truck and Tractor Company's new building. The occasion was the annual Garza County 4-H Boys and Girls Products Show.

The response from the merchants and other Post residents, from the 4-H boys and girls of the county and, especially from their parents without whose help the show could not have succeeded, exceeded all expectations," said Sherrill Boyd, secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the show.

Approximately $400 worth of cash and merchandise prizes were awarded to place winners in a wide variety of divisions and classes. The money was donated by the Post Chamber of Commerce, the Graham and Close City Co-op Gins and various Post business firms.

Ten Mexicans Injured Near Justiceburg

All 10 Mexican passengers of a 1938 model truck were injured, one fatally, in a collision with a 1945 model truck and trailer loaded with baled alfalfa hay on highway 84, 4 miles southeast of Justiceburg, Friday morning.

The fatal casualty was 13-month-old Guadalupe Segura, son of Thomas C. Segura and wife of San Antonio. The baby, who with his parents and a passenger named Sina Montez, was brought to the Post Clinic for treatment, died soon after arrival here. His head was badly bruised. The father was treated for head and face lacerations and a fractured right wrist and the mother was treated for bruises and shock. Montez was treated for a serious neck injury.

The baby was buried Saturday in Terrace Cemetery, with Mason and Company in charge.

Ambulances from Post, Snyder and Slaton went to the scene of the mishap and assisted with the injured Mexicans. The Mexican truck driver, Cleto Oballe, Jr., his wife and Pablo Oballe, all of Mathis, were taken to the Snyder General Hospital. Three other passengers were driven in a Mason Company ambulance to the Mercy Hospital for treatment. The passengers were a woman, about 70 years old, a man about 25 and a girl about 19, all suffering with cuts and bruises and possible fractures.

The Mexican truck was en route to Slaton, where the passengers hoped to pick cotton. State Highway Patrolman Sam Fort of Lubbock who, with Patrolman Jack Reeves of Lubbock, investigated the accident, said that the truck left the highway at right, then swung back on, over to the left and hit the Snyder-bound hay truck broadside.

The only passengers in the hay truck, Blanton Swails and his wife of San Angelo, were uninjured. His truck was badly damaged and the hay was scattered. Oballe's truck was completely demolished. Post said.

The Mexican truck was trailing another truckload of Slaton-bound Mexicans. The first truck which did not figure in the accident, was driven by Francisco M. Oballe of Mathis.

Farm implement manufacturers have announced through dealers they would show 1948 models at the Memphis Cotton Carnival, Oct. 2-4.

Post Oldtimer Dies Sunday In Colorado City

Oldtimers of Post were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. W. H. Clark, an early day resident of this county, at her home Sunday in Colorado City. She died at the age of 72 after a long illness.

Funeral services were held at her home Monday, with the Rev. Mr. Shubert, Methodist minister of Colorado City, officiating. Attending from Post were Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Greenfield, Mrs. Carl Clark and Mrs. W. R. Graber.

Mrs. Clark, who was affectionately known by her many Post friends as "Auntie" Clark, is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Flo Doss of Colorado City; a son, Ernest Clark of Big Spring, and a granddaughter who makes her home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Several early day Post residents attended Mr. and Mrs. Clark's golden wedding anniversary celebration in Colorado City five years ago. Mr. Clark, who now is in ill health, attended his wife's funeral in a wheel chair.

The Clark family, oldtimers recall, were active in the original Methodist Church organization and various civic projects in Post.

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us?... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors... children sharing in the chores... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and

Schools Get War Surplus Commodities

G. R. Day, superintendent of the Post Public Schools, and Dean Robinson, Garza County School superintendent, recently went to Austin on school business. While there, they arranged for 200 war surplus lunch trays for the Post school cafeteria and an adequate supply of the trays for the independent schools of the county. An ample supply of the trays were allocated to the rural schools last spring, Robinson said, through the Lunch Room Division of the State Department of Education.

Although the prices of school lunches probably will not be effected by the federal government's taking over the supervision of the state program, the schools already are receiving allotments of federal war surplus foods. Five thousand potatoes recently were received by the Garza County schools and a shipment of powdered eggs is expected, Robinson said.

The Associated Press announced recently that the Texas school lunch program will go under federal supervision this year, because the 50th Legislature's $27,000 appropriation for supervision of the program was $73,000 short of what federal officials consider necessary, according to Governor Beauford Jester.

The federal government is contributing $2,960,000 to the Texas program this year, in addition to which Texas schools will receive $550,000 worth of commodities through the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Rose of Huron, in Hill County, and their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, of Stamford left Saturday for their respective homes after spending several days here in the home of their granddaughter and daughter, Mrs. Marvin Hudman, and family and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hudman.

Mr. Rose, who is 95 years old, and his wife, who is 93, will observe their 75th wedding anniversary at their home on January 16. Their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren are making plans for a big celebration, complete with diamonds.

Guests in the home of Mrs. H. G. Smith over the weekend were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hostler, of Philadelphia; another daughter, Mrs. C. E. Wood, and husband and daughter, Marilyn, of Lubbock and Miss Mary Lela Woodward of Santa Anna.

Miss Woodward was accompanied here by Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Kemp of Santa Anna, former Post residents who visited here awhile Saturday, then went to Tahoka to visit through Sunday.

Mrs. Smith met the Hostlers in Dallas on Tuesday of last week and brought them to Post. Last Thursday they went to Carlsbad, and on Friday they visited in Lubbock. The Hostlers left Sunday with plans to visit in San Antonio, Houston and New Orleans before returning to Philadelphia.

Among the new signs visible from Main Street is the Storie Motor Company's Dodge and Plymouth Truck Headquarters.

Mrs. W. E. Dent and daughter, Mrs. Carl Hughes, and Mrs. Hughes' daughter, Drura Ann, visited in Lubbock last Friday and Saturday morning with Mrs. Dent's daughter, Mrs. Gordon Sanders, and family. TURNING SOUR GAS INTO A Mighty INDUSTRY

Carbon black produced in the area we serve dominates the industrial scene. Only in this area—with its vast resources of natural gas—is the mass production of this vital material possible. "Sour" gas, once considered worthless (on account of its high sulphur content), has become the basis of a great industrial operation. The automotive, rubber, paint and ink industries are but a few of those dependent on carbon black.

We have so much confidence in the carbon black industry—and other industries we serve, that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to industry and better living—electrically—to everyone!

New Starting Line Gets In Shape For Abernathy

Both Teams Will Be Playing First Conference Tilt

When Coach Bing Bingham sends his Post Antelopes against the Abernathy Antelopes here tomorrow night, the local spectators will not readily recognize some of the players.
A brand new starting line has been worked into shape for a debut. The boys will be more or less of a second string bunch, but this doesn't mean that Abernathy has a weak team.

Bingham is using these new starters for the purpose of giving them an opportunity to experience this important business of starting a game. If the new starters do all right, they may play for some time, but don't be surprised if they are removed soon after the kick-off, because the Abernathy Antelopes may upset the apple-cart on the go and reinforcements may be needed. The coach indicated Wednesday afternoon that the starters would be: J. G. Cash, center; Calvin Storie and Carter White, guards; George Pierce and W. J. Goss, tackles; Billy Ramage and Bob Johnson, ends; Lonnie Wall, quarterback; Chas. King, left half; Kay Kirkpatrick, right half and Ronnie Bouchier, fullback.

The Abernathy club is a passing team with a reputation for good receiving as well as good passing. They have been tops in aerial attacks, so far this season in their first game, they beat New Deal 19-0, but took a 25-6 setback from Lockney the following week.

Like the Post Antelopes, the Abernathy boys will be playing their first conference game tomorrow night and will be out to do their best.

The Abernathy herd is reported as a good match for the Post bunch in weight and experience. It is understood they lost only two of last year's lettermen.

During the past week, Bingham has dished out five new plays to the locals and added two hours to their daily practice session. He has been drilling them on blocking and tackling and giving them plenty of running for conditioning, in the hopes of offsetting the unsatisfactory showing made in last Friday's game at Spur.

A group of members of the Post Rotary Club attended an annual Inter-City barbecue sponsored by the Lubbock Rotary Club in Lubbock last night. District Rotary Governor Jim McCulloch was speaker.

Nineteen students are enrolled in the negro school here, Superintendent G. R. Day reported this week. Minnie Sales Scott is the teacher.

Antelopes And Bulldogs Battle To Deadlock At Spur On Friday

By HANK HUDMAN
Booster Club Sports Writer

After a seemingly slow start, the Post High School Antelopes buckled down to business and battled the favored Spur Bulldogs to a 6-6 deadlock last Friday night at the Spur stadium.

A large crowd of Antelope rooters went with the Bingham men, who were outgained and apparently outclassed throughout the first half, roared back with a second half passing attack that left the Bulldogs bewildered, and twice set up scoring possibilities that were lost on bad breaks.

The Bulldogs chalked up the first score in the second quarter when Bingham of Spur snagged a blocked Antelope punt and raced 45-yards for a touchdown. Minutes later the locals evened the score when Malouf faded to pass and, unable to find a receiver, tucked the ball under his arm and swivel-kipped 50-yards through a broken field to cross the pay stripe unscratched.

Although the second half produced no scoring, the spectators witnessed a brand of football seldom seen in class A high school games. The Antelopes, unable to make yardage through a rock-ribbed Bulldog line, took to the air, with Hester and Malouf tossing passes all over the place to break the back of the Spur defense, and more than even the bad showing of the first period.

Commenting on the game Coach Bingham said, "I was not entirely satisfied—we should have won. We made some mistakes and they cost us the victory, but you may be certain those mistakes will not be repeated in the next game."

This Friday night's game will get underway at 8 o'clock when the Post Antelopes meet the Abernathy Antelopes on the local field in the first conference tilt of the season.

Biblical Personality

There is much controversy among Bible experts as to God's name. The term, God, is the definition of the supreme being, either real or imaginary. It is applied to the gods, whom the Christians define as imaginary. The Bible recognized that God himself when, in the Commandments, he said: Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

How the Lord is defined: person having supreme power. Many people think that the name of God is the name of the Being. Others believe that the name of God is Jehovah and or God Almighty. Many people believe that God's name is I AM (Exodus 3:13-15 and 6:2-3). There is a religious sect that there is a religious sect that God's name is I AM.

How the King James version of the Bible is defined: a marginal notation on the original Hebrew manuscript, which is the name of the Hebrew version of the Bible, in a chapter omitted in the King James version of the Bible, said that God's real name was unpronounceable and, therefore, lost to the world.

GETTING OUT

I'm ashamed of the Ralls editor for his lack of sportsmanship. Here's the last paragraph of the account in the Post-Ralls football game in last week's Ralls Banner: "Post scored in all quarters but the third. The game was characterized by unnecessary roughness that got three Post players removed from the game. Page Keith and Ernest Gilbert suffered injuries that may prevent their appearance in the Levelland game here tonight."

Honestly, that's the propaganda that the Ralls Banner is scattering around. If you don't believe it, come down here and I'll show you the clipping.

It seems I'm not the only one who has observed that 98 out of 100 callers to one's place of business asks if the person he wishes to see is busy.

We've discussed this up and down Main Street and everyone seems agreed that the caller doesn't mean anything by the question. He asks it sort of subconsciously, just like we ask "How are you?" then change the subject without waiting for an answer to see how the person really feels.

Another stock question like that around here is "workin' hard?" Frequently I hear "no, hardly workin'" as the answer and this seems to satisfy the person who asks the question.

I can't help getting excited over the new fall clothes for women, but dogged if I can take all this talk about the "draped shape" for men that some busybody is trying to put across to the clothing retailers.

THE WOMEN. God love 'em: I didn't say this (it was James Branch Cabell): Marrying a woman because you happen to be in love with her is about as logical a proceeding as throwing the cat out of the window because the rhododendrons are in bloom.

While I've tramped around around quite a bit over the world, it isn't my custom—when away from home—to engage in a social life and so there is a lot about etiquette and social customs that I don't know about, in other places besides Post.

If I ever get away from here again on a trip, I'm going to ask a few questions of the people that I meet and try to satisfy my curiosity about something.

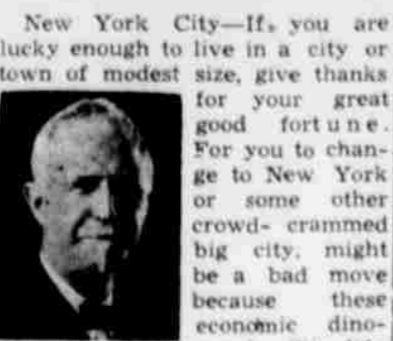

The older I get, the more it worries me. Pretty soon I will just have to find out the answer.

The question is this: Is the way we say goodbye here just a local custom, or is it an agonizing trait peculiar to mankind—mostly women—wherever you find them?

Whenever I go anywhere with the Mrs. I wear my most comfortable shoes because I know that after we tell the hosts we have to go home that we will stand up in the middle of the floor, near the door, and talk for an hour or an hour and a half.

Usually when we go calling, we announce that we can't stay but a minute. I have learned the hard way that this means we can only sit down for a minute, but that we have an hour and a half in which to stand up and say goodbye.

A minute, generally, is longer than the time defined in Webster's dictionary, but that's beside the point. After the kind of a minute we were referring to passes, we get on our feet—and so do our hosts—and say goodbye, then we go over to the door and spend an hour or more talking, while our hosts stand there fidgeting, wishing we'd

New York City—If you are lucky enough to live in a city or town of modest size, give thanks for your great good fortune. For you to change to New York or some other crowd-crammed big city, might be a bad move because these economic dinosaurs may be doomed. City life for the average mortal is a drab and sorry affair. With prices high and supplies low, most big cities offer only poor sleeping quarters and tiresome meals. Someday, you will understand that health is life's priceless asset—especially for the woman.

Those who have trekked cityward and lost out, remind me of another bitter truth. Life never can be so lonely as in a great city swarming with strangers. The abysmal lonesomeness of the newcomer and outsider often leads to taking up with bad companions. Broken church ties are not renewed. Spiritual relations are neglected. The abnormality of life in a big city too often undermines moral standards that originally were firm.

Small Town Outlook Best

Due to these jam-packed cities, I would caution those of all ages, particularly young people with youthful families. Youth has the longest time to regret an error. Certainly, congested cities are not fit places to raise children—the one highest goal of a happy married life. Thoughtful parents will think twice before sentencing their loved ones to such physical unwholesomeness and spiritual squalor.

Having been brought up in a farming and seafaring area, I cherish no delusions that the small-town or rural hamlet is all sweetness and light. Yet I can promise readers that, for all its faults, it is free from much of the degradation and ills of the overgrown and under-privileged metropolis. Furthermore, the ever-faster advance of science is adding to the advantage of country life. Think how rural life is being constantly enriched by better transportation, better communication, better education and better facilities of all kinds.

Atoms In Your Future

Look too at the other side. Just as science has bettered the smaller communities, it has created new horizons for big cities. If

World War III ever explodes, some of our monsters of mass living will be made-to-order targets for the enemy's atom bombs and bacterial assaults. Mankind will be less eager to lift skyscrapers to heaven, understanding full well what grim harvest of destruction may be reaped from those distant skies. The Atomic Age has put a new premium on spacious sites—both for industry and residence. Intelligent nations will prefer to expand horizontally rather than vertically.

In the years to come, inbound, cityward migration will peter out and dry up. The outbound, countryward movement will rise to a mighty tide. Watch the workings of the Law of Action and Reaction! The building of too-big cities has been overdue.

Reversal is overdue. Young people, then, face a plain choice. They can follow an outdated and out-moded tradition, seeking the big city in forlorn hope of making big money, or can live in small communities as God intended. Bigtown now is better equipped to deal out misfortunes than fortunes. Wise young people will ride the rising trend toward the countryside.

College Towns Choice Spots

If you can live near a college, count that an added asset for your life's career. The nearby presence of a humble institution of learning or culture, may yield more far-reaching influence than all the lumber, brick, steel and cement which big-city builders can pile together. The college of broad ideals is a part of the community where it is located and deals in inspiration as instruction. Industrial leaders are keenly interested in spreading their wings more widely everywhere. This opens economic setting aside in such considerations as family? The future holds promise for the best opportunities for health, security and community. The man which is built for goodness is more than bigness, will long after Grand Avenue is paved with glass!

Garza and the World

Editor's Note—Opinions expressed here are those of the author, and they do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Post Dispatch. The column is carried in the interest of applying world news to the situation here at home.

By EVELYN BOYD

The other day I saw a picture in the Nolan County News of huge stacks of fruits and vegetables being dumped and plowed under in England because of the glutted market. The caption said: "Food is being dumped in hungry Britain. Wholesalers charge retailers with refusing to buy large quantities in order to maintain 'scarcity' prices. Retailers say wholesalers prefer to waste food to selling it at low prices."

I saw so much waste while I was in Europe. The waste was on my right and pot-bellied, undernourished, ragged youngsters were slowly dying of pellagra for want of proper food on my left.

This is the only thing I know of that's wrong with the Marshall Plan. If there were a way of controlling the waste and getting the provisions to the people who need them, the plan would accomplish its purpose and the United States would be the Grand Angel of the world.

Already we are beginning to hear about possible rationing, meatless days, gray bread, etc., that Americans will be asked to impose voluntarily upon themselves in order that the Marshall Plan can be carried out to the point of saving Europe (and ourselves) from Communism.

The hitch to this "peacetime" rationing will come from the GI's and others who were in a position to see how the wartime rationed items were handled on the other side of the ocean. The cigars that the men and women of Garza County couldn't buy during the war were sold in the New York night clubs, theatres and bars for 25 cents a pack up. I was in New York during several months of the shortage. Everyone I knew who could afford cigars at that price bought all they wanted. And, of course, every GI who put a foot in Europe knows what a racket both Americans and Europeans pulled—and are still pulling—with our cigars.

And I saw UNRRA and U. S. British and Russian all sit down again.

Now this isn't a habit peculiar to the Missus (and me). I have one good friend, however, who refuses to participate in such a custom because he has corns and bunions, or something. He goes to the car, while his wife stands in the doorway saying goodbye for an hour and a half. Every once in a while, he honks the horn.

I don't mind the long farewells by guests in my own home as much as I mind them when the Missus makes me stand at somebody's door for an hour or more. At home, I generally have on my bedroom slippers and can take it better, standing up.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

PREVENTION IS BETTER—

Prevention is always better than taking action after damage to property, injury and loss of life. After a bad automobile smash-up very little useful material as a rule, can be salvaged for further use—broken bones take weeks to mend... the dead cannot be restored to life. Those who are grief-stricken cannot be comforted by steps taken to prevent accidents after they occur—Hockley County Herald.

DON'T KILL A CHILD—

Throughout the land children are back in school. Many of them are not as traffic-wise as when school turned out last spring. Lots of them are in school for the first time.

Not only the towns and cities, but the rural areas, now have school children in them, along the streets and highways, getting in and out of school buses, playing to and from school.

It behooves each and every one of us to be careful. None would like to kill or injure a child.

Particularly dangerous are the schools which are nearest highways.

Why children walk diagonally across intersections, and cross streets in the middle of the block is not understandable to those who are extremely cautious, but they do nevertheless, and likely will continue to do so—Levelland Sun-News.

AESOP'S FABLES NEEDED—

Today I will expound on "young folks." They are in a bad spot, and it is mostly due to what they pick up at school and don't pick up at home. They're told that our Govt. has not been such a hot success—it needs a valve grind. They've been told that grandma and grandpa were all wet in figuring you should build your own security via perspiration and self-denial.

Who do you blame, says Henry, if you are so alert and smart. It is the mamas and papas, I says. They don't stay home nights and teach their off-shoots the rules on how to grow up a green gosling. And they don't see to it that the folks at the school house sign a pledge of loyalty and non-socialistic, non-communistic leaning.

And to give our young folks a break and save 'em from learning the truth from their own experience after they get out of school, I have a proposal as a preliminary starter, to-wit: require by law that all school libraries have on their shelf, an Aesop's Fables. We have skipped fundamentals. No wonder some of our younger citizens know plenty about Social Uplift, left handed economics and Karl Marx, but don't know on election day a fox or a wolf, if he is in a borrowed sheep's raiment.—Lorenzo Tribune.

BETTER OUTLOOK—

The current belief of financial and industrial forecasters say that general production in the United States, for the remainder of 1947 will stay up with, or near, the peak reached in the spring appears to be a reliable indication that the sharp letdown (or recession) so long predicted has been delayed en route.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

THE HEN AND YOU—

"Hard times mean nothing to a hen. She keeps digging worms and laying eggs regardless of what the papers say about business conditions. If the ground is hard, she scratches harder. If it's dry, she digs deeper. If she strikes a rock, she works around it. But she always digs the worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits. She doesn't starve to death waiting for worms to come to the surface nor cackle was that the lower class Greeks were not used to such luxuries, so "why spoil them?" We never could make him understand that his reasoning was unsound by American standards. He was so persistent in this matter, we finally had to fire him.

because of hard times. She saves her breath for digging and her cackles for results."

Might be well if we would pattern after the lowly hen.—Hamlin Herald.

POST IS NOT ALONE—No kiddin'... The situation is rough. Every week hundreds of people inquire at the Herald office and at the Hockley County Board of Development for places to live—just anything with a roof. The condition is retarding the growth of Levelland and will continue to do so until dwellings are constructed. Many fine people who are employed by oil companies would settle here if they could find living quarters. Well?—The Hockley County Herald.

CHECK UP FOR WINTER—

With a hint that fall is in the air, now is a mighty fine time for all Snyder people to have waterlines checked to make sure cut-off valves are working; gas connections and stoves thoroughly inspected and made ready for the cold months ahead, and in cases where coal stoves are used inspection should be made of the fines and pipe to make sure no chance remains for fire to break out. Rural families should check their coal and distillate heaters before firing up.—Scurry County Times.

When you paper a room, mark the number of rolls of paper it took inconspicuously behind the door for use the next time.

NEWS NOTES FROM... Duck Creek Soil—CONSERVATION DISTRICT OFFICE AT POST

Makes Conservation Plan
 Mrs. L. A. Barrow, whose ranch and farm land is 17 miles northeast of Post, and Tom Gilmore, operator, this week made a conservation plan on their place. Assistance in developing the conservation plan was given by Merle Britton, range conservationist, and Pete Ottinger, in charge of the local office. Both technicians are assigned to the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

Mrs. Barrow said that years ago parts of their pasture had grass nearly waist high, and the mesquite occupied only the sloughs and draws. On a conservation tour over the pasture, the soil technicians found and pointed out isolated plants of tall grasses that were once abundant and furnished large amounts of grazing. Going over the pasture, individual grasses were considered from the standpoint of what part of the total forage each produced.

Range condition sites, which are those areas of pasture land that have similar plant composition and soil characteristics, were delineated.

Decreasers, Increasers, Invaders
 The condition of these sites were determined by recording the percentage of three different groups of plants. "Decreasers," such plants as little bluestem that go out of a pasture under heavy grazing. "Increasers," grasses that increase in percentage under heavy grazing and "Invaders," plants such as needle grass, broom weed and mesquite that invade pastures when high forage grasses are grazed out by livestock.

Mrs. Barrow said, "in the past we have looked at our pasture for what it was worth and have taken the good and bad as it came. From now on as I go over the pasture I will be looking for different kinds of grass."

Sixty Acre Planting
 A fifty acre field no longer fit for cultivation will be established to a mixture of native grasses. This grass planting will be made next spring. Approximately 10 acres of African weeping lovegrass will be established in a gullied portion of the cultivated land.

Three Year Rotation
 The Barrow-Gilmore conservation plan includes completion of the terrace system on the cultivated land, contour farming, maintaining crop residue on the topsoil and the use of a three-year rotation of feed, cotton and small grains. Hairy vetch on a trial basis will be grown with part of the small grain.

Seed For Cooperators
 Five hundred pounds of hairy vetch seed arrived this week at Rodgers Feed Store for cooperators of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

Teachers And Rotary Anns Enjoy Annual Banquet Tuesday Evening

One hundred twenty-five Rotarians, Rotary Anns, Post high and grade school teachers and school board members and their wives attended an annual banquet given by the Post Rotary Club Tuesday night in the First Methodist Church basement.

Pinch-hitting for Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce secretary who had to cancel his engagement to speak because of an emergency operation this week, Roy Bass of Lubbock made a highly entertaining talk as main speaker. He is a young attorney, who also teaches a class in business law at Texas Technological College. Bass was accompanied to the banquet by Rex Webster, president of the Lubbock Rotary Club.

T. R. Greenfield served as master of ceremonies for the program, which opened with group singing of "America." Invocation was by Dr. David H. Templeton. The address of welcome by James Minor, president of the host club, was followed with a response by S. D. Strasner, high school principal.

Teachers were introduced by G. R. Day, superintendent of Post schools and school board members were introduced by Willard Kirkpatrick, president of the board. Minor introduced Rotarians and Rotary Anns.

HURRICAN POSTPONES ADVERTISED VISIT OF DALLAS PLANES A WEEK

A telegram to the Post Dispatch from the Publicity Department of the State Fair of Texas explained that the Atlantic hurricane whose tail was whipping through the Dallas region caused postponement of an air tour of West Texas which had been planned for last Saturday by Dallas aviation enthusiasts. Almost 100 planes were to have left Dallas that day for a visit to Post and 46 other towns to publicize the state fair, which is to open in Dallas October 4. The telegram said, in part: "Howard N. Smith, chairman of the flight, said that the tour would be made next Saturday (this week) if weather permits and that leaflets and keys entitling the finders to free admission to the fair on opening day would be dropped over the towns."

News Briefs:

Mrs. W. R. Graeber left Wednesday for Georgetown and Clinton where she will visit for a week with relatives.

W. L. Davis is still seriously ill in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital. An operation, scheduled for last week, was postponed for a week or two, Mrs. Davis said.

Commissioners Hear Property Tax Assailed

Garza County's four commissioners, W. T. Parchman, Buck Gossett, W. C. Quisenberry and Boone Evans, and Mrs. Parchman and Mrs. Evans attended an annual meeting of West Texas county judges and commissioners in San Angelo Friday and Saturday.

One of the main speakers, Dr. J. H. Coffee, professor of government and economics at West Texas State College in Canyon, told them that state assessment of all taxes, with equitable distribution to local government subdivisions, is a definite possibility in the near future.

He assailed the general property tax as unfair and discriminatory, the Associated Press reported. It is a tax on agriculture and homes, he said, and not a tax on income producing capacity.

Coffee said that the general property tax is inadequate to meet needs of the counties because of a general tendency to under-assess property as it increases in value.

Another speaker Friday was R. E. Blair, superintendent of the State Training School for Boys at Gatesville, who said that 85 per cent of the boys at the Gatesville institution are from homes broken by divorce or other causes.

He asserted that the Gatesville school must have adequate facilities and trained personnel if it is to accomplish what the public expects and cited the need for equipment for vocational training.

The program included several other interesting talks.

The commissioners and County Judge J. Lee Bowen and their wives are making tentative plans to attend the state meeting of county judges and commissioners in Laredo, November 2-5, Judge Bowen said.

Marty Reynolds told a Post Dispatch reporter Tuesday that he and his brother, Forest, can tell their twin baby sisters apart. "Sue's hair is just a little bit lighter than Carol's" he said.

NEWS NOTES FROM . . .
Duck Creek Soil—
CONSERVATION DISTRICT OFFICE AT POST

Makes Conservation Plan
Mrs. L. A. Barrow, whose ranch and farm land is 17 miles northeast of Post, and Tom Gilmore, operator, this week made a conservation plan on their place. Assistance in developing the conservation plan was given by Merle Britton, range conservationist, and Pete Ottinger, in charge of the local office. Both technicians are assigned to the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

Mrs. Barrow said that years ago parts of their pasture had grass nearly waist high, and the mesquite occupied only the sloughs and draws. On a conservation tour over the pasture, the soil technicians found and pointed out isolated plants of tall grasses that were once abundant and furnished large amounts of grazing. Going over the pasture, individual grasses were considered from the standpoint of what part of the total forage each produced.

Range condition sites, which are those areas of pasture land that have similar plant composition and soil characteristics, were delineated.

Decreasers, Increases, Invaders
The condition of these sites were determined by recording the percentage of three different groups of plants. "Decreasers," such plants as little bluestem that go out of a pasture under heavy grazing.

"Increases," grasses that increase in percentage under heavy grazing and "Invaders," plants such as needle grass, broom weed and mesquite that invade pastures when high forage grasses are grazed out by livestock.

Mrs. Barrow said, "in the past we have looked at our pasture for what it was worth and have taken the good and bad as it came. From now on as I go over the pasture I will be looking for different kinds of grass."

Sixty Acre Planting
A fifty acre field no longer fit for cultivation will be established to a mixture of native grasses. This grass planting will be made next spring. Approximately 10 acres of African weeping lovegrass will be established in a gullied portion of the cultivated land.

Three Year Rotation
The Barrow-Gilmore conservation plan includes completion of the terrace system on the cultivated land, contour farming, maintaining crop residue on the topsoil and the use of a three-year rotation of feed, cotton and small grains. Hairy vetch on a trial basis will be grown with part of the small grain.

Seed For Cooperators
Five hundred pounds of hairy vetch seed arrived this week at Rodgers Feed Store for cooperators of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

The Egg And I To Show Here On October 5-6

It will not be necessary for Garza County residents to journey to Lubbock to stand in line for admittance to "The Egg and I", Universal-International's pictureization of Betty McDonald's best selling fiction.

John Hopkins, Garza Theatre manager, has announced that the movie will open here at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night, October 4, and run through Sunday and Monday.

Like the celebrated book, the picture is said to be packed with laughs, and it stars two well-known comedienne, Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, in the roles of Betty and Bob.

Some 25 million persons are reputed to have read this hilarious account of a honeymooning couple's struggle to make a living on a mountain-wilderness chicken ranch. Only the most captious could quarrel with the way it has been transferred to the screen. The earthly flavor, the high humor, the weird characters of the book have all been skillfully retained and there has been added ingeniously a story line to give plot and suspense.

The Kettle Family, one of the highlights of the book, is headed in the picture by Marjorie Main, a salty matriarch, and Percy Kilbride, a garrulous sponger. They are priceless, and in scene after scene garner riotous laughter without saying a word.

The music score points up the comedy throughout.

GARZA BOOTH—

and the secretaries in Eaton's and Boyd's offices, Miss Melba Jo Miller and Mrs. L. J. Richardson, Jr.

It was stated erroneously in last week's Post Dispatch that George Samson was helping with the booth arrangement. Although Samson has been Garza County Fair Booth Arranger No. 1 in many past years, he is disqualified for the job this year because he has been named as a judge in the Agricultural Department of the fair.

The Panhandle-South Plains Fair Association has designated Wednesday, October 1, as Post Day at the fair which lasts through October 4.

Across the Tracks

By H. H. H.

As much as poets and song-writers have sung the praises of the romantic month of June, the merry month of May or the show-ers of April, we would still swap the whole shebang for one September.

September—a month of cool nights and warm, sunlit days—with just a haze on the horizon that hints of the impending winter. September—a month of smokes—not a choking, soot laden smoke—but high climbing columns of gray that rise above waste fires, trains, and cotton gins; far into the infinite, windless blue; up to where a hawk, made tiny by distance, rides a September thermal on motionless, outstretched wings.

September—when the community shakes off the lethargy of late summer and begins the bustling, bustling activities of gathering its crop. The restless itinerant workers move northward from the Rio valley; and the white cotton begins to arrive by truck, trailer and wagon to be ginned and shipped.

September—a month of Saturday afternoon crowds—when the rural folk flock to town; the women busy with their shopping and the men gathered in small street corner groups to talk crops and rattle.

September—a month of school-days and football. A month in which we occasionally sneak off from work and go to Antelope Field to watch the team work out. We sit on the sun drenched grass of the gridiron in reminiscent happiness as we listen to the bark of a quarterback's signals, hear the thud of a kicker's toe on leather, and watch a football tumble lazily down through a blue September sky.

Yep—give us September and you can have the rest.

Sincerely,
HANS HUDMAN
