Public Is Asked To Decide On Proposed Two Draw Lake

Parents Urged To Attend Meeting Of Cubs Tonight

It is extremely important that parents, as well as Cubs, attend the Cub Pack meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the City Hall. It is necessary that the parents see the demonstration of the Cub theme for each month, in order for the Cubs to accomplish their aims. For instance, if the Cub theme for May is to "fix up the house" the parents should know in what respects the Cubs can be helpful in repairing the home. Or, if the Cub theme for the month is Indian lore, the understanding parents "can help Junior be an Indian." Indian ceremonies have been completed for the induction tonight of new Cub members. The program also will include presentation of the Webber Award, the (Continued On Back Page, Col. 3)

Three-Act Comedy To Be Presented By Southland Srs.

The Southland High School Seniors will present a three-act farce comedy at the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The title of the play is "His Name Was Aunt Nellie." The setting is in a small town in Connecticut and the cast includes 11 characters. They are Archie Baldwin, Terrel Wheeler; Bertha, his wife, Joy Scott; Sheila, his daughter, aged 19, Margie Payton; Fred, his son, aged 17, Bobby Trimble; Joyce, another daughter, aged 15, Helen Barton; Cleo, the colored maid, Jean Edmunds; Ed Saunders, a neighbor, Richard Becker; Mabel, his wife, Betty Jackson; Jerry Parkham, a young actor, Arlen Weaver; and Mr. Van Ebling, president of the bank, J. Martin Basinger. The public is invited to attend.

Precinct, County Democratic Meets To Be Held Soon

The precinct conventions to elect delegates to the county Democratic conventions, which in turn elect delegates to the Brownwood Democratic convention, will be held May 1 and the county convention will be held May 4 over the state. The precinct and county conventions here will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the court house with T. R. Greenfield acting as temporary chairman. They are open to all qualified voters, Greenfield said Monday. The Brownwood Democratic Convention, which will be held May 25, will elect delegates to the National Democratic Convention. The National Convention will write the Democratic Party platform and nominate a candidate for President and for vice-president.

Stores To Close At 6 P.M. During Summer Months

An incomplete survey made this week by the Post Chamber of Commerce revealed that the following business firms will cooperate with the movement to close their stores at 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, during the months of May, June, July and August: Thaxton Cleaners, Wacker's, Short Hardware, Herring's, Haws Department Store, Ludman Furniture Company, Dodson Jewelry, Bryant-Link, Texas Company, Mason and Company, Tom Power, Hundley's Cleaners, White Auto Store and McCrory Appliance Company. The Community Public Service Company, the Southwestern Public Company and the West Texas Gas Company will close at 5 p.m.

The proposed project to re-do Two Draw Lake has reached the money-raising stage, and the amount of money raised in the next few weeks will determine whether or not the lake can become a reality.

Enough money to build the dam and a bath house must be in the bank before the Double U Company, which owns the property, will give favorable consideration to one of four propositions submitted by the lake committee, of which Jim Hundley is president. The amount of money raised to date is described in an advertisement elsewhere in the paper. All persons wishing to have a part in re-doing Two Draw are urged to give a cash contribution to Hundley or deposit to the Two Draw fund at the bank as soon as possible. The money will be returned to the donors if an insufficient sum is raised.

All other requirements of the Double U Company have been met. They included having the land surveyed, the project blue-printed, the watershed determined and the total cost estimated. J. W. McCullen, Jr., and Mike Custer of the Triple A Office donated their services to making the survey.

The above materials and information, along with four propositions for acquiring the lake, are now in the New York office of the Double U Company awaiting action which will be taken after the money is raised.

The four propositions include: Receiving the land as a gift from the company, taking a free lease, taking a paid lease and buying the property outright with the Double U Company retaining the mineral rights.

It is now up to the citizens of (Continued On Back Page, Col. 3)

Bouchier Is New Manager Of Stampede

The dates of the 1948 Post Stampede and Rodeo have been set up to May 20-23 inclusive to avoid the conflict which developed last week when the Lubbock American Business Club broke its promise and again set the date of Lubbock's professional rodeo on the dates selected for the Post rodeo.

The decision to change the local rodeo dates was made at a meeting of the Post Stampede and Rodeo Association directors Monday night at the City Hall, at which time a committee was appointed to determine when the rodeo stock, clown announcer, etc., would be available and set the date.

The committee had the choice of having the rodeo the third week of May or postponing it until August. Last year's experience of trying to stage a rodeo here during Lubbock's professional show convinced the directors that it was bad business to allow the conflict.

Every effort was made by the local association to avoid the conflict this year. An agreement was made with the Lubbock A.B.C. Club that the first dates set should stand and that the other organization would set a different date for the conflicting rodeo. The A.B.C. (Continued On Back Page, Col. 1)

Equipment Coming In To Construct New Power Circuit

At least 90 per cent of the materials necessary for building the Southwestern Public Service Company's new 69KV line from Post through Tahoka to Brownfield has been received and the company is reasonably sure that the line will be in use soon after July 1.

A carload of insulators was received here last week and another carload of the wire is due Saturday. All of the poles have been received, Ted Hibbs, local manager, said this morning. The materials were ordered in November, 1946.

Materials ordered in 1946 include a 3,000 KVA transformer and other sub-station equipment which should be received by the time the line is completed.

The right-of-way for the new line is almost completed, Hibbs said.

Plans are now under way to replace the present line between Post and Slaton which has been in use since 1927. The replacement, which will be started after the new Post-Tahoka-Brownfield line is in use, will connect with a replaced line between Lubbock and Slaton. This will insure Post of electric service from two circuits.

Local Educators Go To Model Library

Four Post educators enjoyed a library school held last Friday at the Seagraves High School, which was one of 11 school libraries in the state selected for use as a model library.

The library was rearranged and re-equipped by the state and brought up to state educational standards.

The school was attended by Supt. G. R. Day, Principal E. E. Pierce, Mrs. Nola Briester and Mrs. Lillie McRee.

Judy McCampbell, bright-eyed six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCampbell, is typical of the healthy babies whose pictures are gracing the nation's newspapers and magazines during National Baby Week, which began Sunday. Rodeo Banners Go Up Here On May 1

Since the dates for the Post Stampede and Rodeo have been set up to May 20-23, Post merchants are asked to begin displaying their new rodeo banners on Saturday, May 1, and keep them up until after the rodeo.

The last shipment of banners arrived here this week and are being delivered by Sherrill Boyd, secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce, to the merchants who ordered them.

Water, Sewerage Projects Can Be Bought By City

Luther Raley, representative of the Community Public Service Company, flew here from Fort Worth last Friday to confer with the City Commission in regard to the city's proposed water and sewerage project.

He said his company is now prepared to give the city an opportunity to buy the local water works and brought word from the owners of the sewer system that it also can be bought by the city.

He said the president of the Community Public Service Company will submit a formal proposition to the city in the near future.

Additional Gas Line Installed

One thousand seven hundred sixty-one feet of two-inch high pressure line were installed by the West Texas Gas Company last week in north, west and south Post to accommodate 24 new consumers, Dick Woods, manager, said Monday. The George R. Tucker Construction Company of Odessa was employed for the installation job.

Many more feet of new line will be installed during the summer, Woods said.

Retires From Office

Mrs. Doyle Justice of Lubbock daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Furman, this week retired as an officer of the Women's Auxiliary to the Lubbock County Bar Association. New officers were elected for a year at a meeting of the auxiliary Tuesday.

A group of Post citizens, interested in promoting a new motion picture theatre for Post, yesterday wired Congressman George Mahon for information as to whether or not it is possible to construct a new theatre without a permit.

The Congressman wired back: "Restrictions on theatre buildings ended March 31, and such project may now be started without a permit."

Owners of the local theatre for some time have had plans for constructing a new building as soon as restrictions were lifted. Until Congressman Mahon's answer was received here yesterday, it was not known locally that the restrictions had been lifted.

The citizens making inquiry indicated yesterday that a movement will be started here to build a locally owned theatre if the owners of the present theatre for any reason should decide not to build here.

May 8 And 15 Are Dates For Dances Advertising Rodeo

The Post Stampede and Rodeo Association this morning started breaking and leveling the ground for the construction of a dance pavilion near the rodeo grounds.

The pavilion will be completed in time to be initiated the night of May 8 with "one of the biggest open air free-to-everybody dances ever staged in West Texas," according to a statement made yesterday by Homer McCrory, association secretary.

"The purpose of the dance is to advertise the rodeo and we want everybody for miles around to come and bring the kids," the secretary said.

A good rodeo dance band has been engaged, and other plans are being made by the dance committee. James Minor, chairman, Sheldon Land and Marshall Gibson.

Another free dance will be given at the pavilion the following Saturday night, May 15, and a third dance will be given Wednesday night May 18, the night before the four-day rodeo opens.

Dances will follow the rodeo performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights during the rodeo.

Annual Dress Revue Set For Saturday

The annual Garza County 4-H Girls' Dress Revue will be held Saturday at the First Methodist Church, beginning at 2 p.m.

Transportation Of School Kids Is Big Business

Public school buses travel Texas roads a distance equal to 2,160 trips around the world every nine months. The 6,074 busses which transported 346,051 pupils a distance of 54,000,000 miles during the 1946-47 school year.

That transportation of school children is a big business was pointed out recently by Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director of the Texas State Teachers Association.

During the 1946-47 school year there were 6,074 busses driven by 5,750 men and women. They were paid approximately $3,000,000 for their services.

While 238,821 of the pupils are attending schools receiving supplemental support from the state in the form of equalization funds, 10,230 are in districts which receive no additional help from the state. The state supplemented transportation aid last year in the amount of $9,702,040, Tennyson said.

Persons seeing an occasional yellow bus on the highway, or even parents of children transported to and from school, can hardly realize the magnitude of the public schools' transportation system, Tennyson pointed out.

A total of 230 of the state's 254 counties have school districts which own and operate their own school busses, he said.

"The development of the public school transportation system is the result of the public's demand for better educational facilities for their children," Tennyson emphasized. "Should Texas ever get a good rural road system, our schools will improve proportionately. Many of our schools with their present inadequate teaching and physical facilities will then have modern efficient school systems for the youngsters of the state. An increase in the school bus transportation system in Texas is, therefore, inevitable, for each year a great many more schools consolidate and the development of county-wide districts is becoming more common in Texas. The cost of our transportation system will be of necessity increased accordingly. Hundreds of our present school busses are both inadequate and unsafe, a condition which we hope to see remedied as soon as possible."

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

It's a fact! Sam's brood of hens are wearing spectacles which he bought from a peddler house in Capitol City. He says it works (and big game rangers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft lenses, and instead of pecking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight and lay more eggs. He almost wish we could have colored glasses for humans, too. So that instead of being and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues... whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Frozen Foods Are Easy To Cook And Most Appealing

Frozen foods are becoming very popular with homemakers because they are time saving, table ready, and little preparation is necessary, according to Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent.

They are so simple to prepare they appeal to beginning cooks and business women who have a limited time for cooking. If the following simple rules in preparing frozen foods are followed, good products will result.

Do not re-freeze frozen fruits or vegetables. If partial packages of frozen fruits or vegetables are to be used, divide the package, rewrap unused portion, and keep frozen until it can be used.

Add frozen vegetables to briskly boiling, salted water. Do not defrost (except corn on cob). Begin counting time when boiling begins again after frozen vegetables have been added.

Cooking time varies with variety and maturity of vegetable, size of pieces and method of preparation. Less water may be needed if heavy utensils and controlled heat are used.

Finally, watch cooking time carefully. Freezing weakens the cell walls, and it is easy to over-cook vegetables.

Mrs. Strasner says the 10 to 14-ounce package of frozen vegetables will usually serve four people.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Babb and son, James, accompanied by Mrs. R. W. Babb, returned last night from Corpus Christi where they attended the funeral of a friend, Gerald Spencer, 16-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Spencer, former Garza County residents. His death occurred 10 months after he broke his neck while in swimming.

Texas PMA Director Finds Communism In Greece Related To Sin Of Soil Neglect

B. F. Vance, who has been the State Director of Texas PMA for several years is now on leave for one year, and is serving with the American Mission for Aid to Greece. He writes a weekly letter to the PMA Branch at College Station, giving information that should be of interest to every farm and ranch operator. The following is a part of a recent letter:

"I know that you and your committeemen realize the importance of conservation, but I believe you could better understand the importance of this work if you could see what I see here almost every day. As you know this country has been in cultivation for several thousand years. A large part of the acreage which was cultivated several hundred years ago is not being cultivated today simply because there is no soil to cultivate. It has all washed away. In many places in this country six to eight feet of soil has been removed through erosion. Many of the hillsides that once produced good crops are washed down to rock. Many thousands of acres of land have been completely ruined by erosion.

"I am sure Greece would have no trouble producing ample supplies of food to support the population today if the fertility of the soil had been maintained to a reasonable extent. People are suffering in this part of the world because of the neglect of the past generations in the proper care of the soil. It is not too much to say that people are starving in these parts because of erosion. On many occasions I have seen places where farmers go five miles to find a little patch of land not over 1-16 of an acre in order to grow a little wheat for bread. Good soil is scarce and very valuable here.

Dollar Saves Life

"I was interested in the statement of Secretary Anderson, that is, for every 10c spent on conservation we receive $1 in return. I believe we might go further than this and say that for every dollar spent on conservation we may save one person from starving. This statement may seem strange to you and your farmers but if you had seen what I have you would agree with me.

"I have been watching with much interest a place near here where a fellow built a farm with a shovel on the side of a gully. He did the work soon after I came here and he has a beautiful wheat crop growing now, about ready to head. He doesn't have over 1-10 of an acre but it looks as if he may make two bushels of wheat. Two bushels of wheat here is lots or food for one family.

It Could Happen

"I hope that we Americans will not practice the sin of neglect in conservation as has been done here. We have a large amount of good soil yet in our country. It will support many more people than we have in the U. S., but if neglected we will soon reach the point where it will be difficult to grow sufficient food for our people. Being one, along with the rest of you, responsible for the proper administration of the conservation program provided by our Congress, I want to make sure that I fulfill my responsibility in getting the maximum conservation for the funds provided. I do not want Saint Peter to call me up a few hundred years from now and point to a situation such as I see here and find me guilty of the Sin of Neglect. I do not want people to starve to death because we failed to carry out a responsibility that is so important.

"Good soil is Life. Without it man will die. We must protect our soils at all cost. If our nation is to remain strong we must maintain a fertile soil. Poor soil breeds communism. Human beings hungry and ill-clothed will follow most anyone who offers a promise of more food and clothes. I do not believe over 5 per cent of the guerrillas here are communist. Most of them have been poorly clothed and fed during the past few years and they are easily led by the 5 per cent who are communist. The best weapon a country has is good soil on which plenty of food and fiber can be produced. Without it we will perish."

Denver City Dubs Millers In Second Game Of Season

Denver City's ace-twirler Lancaster threw a six hitter at the Post Millers last Sunday to crowd them out, 3-1, in the second game of the Oil Belt League schedule. The flashy Lancaster pitched only seventy-two balls during the nine innings when he faced 35 batsmen. The Denver City crew added up 13 hits to score their three runs, while the locals gathered six to score their lone tallie. Manager George Sartain used big Ed Altman on the mound for the first six innings and then ran in Bobby Winters to complete the game.

Wolverines And Senators Coming Here On Saturday

Post folks will be privileged to see an exhibition baseball game between the Detroit Senators and Houston Wolverines, colored teams, at the Postex Park Saturday night. Oscar Garner, president of the local Millers club, said this morning that all the necessary arrangements have been made and a good game is expected to take place at the field Saturday night. Both teams are members of the Negro American League. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Post Millers Will Journey Sunday To Sundown For Game

Sunday the Post Millers will move in on Sundown for their second league tilt of the season. Other games scheduled in the loop are Slaton at Littlefield, Brownfield at Seagraves, and Denver City at Levelland. The Millers have played two games of their schedule, evening the count by winning over Littlefield Sunday before last, and dropping a game to Denver City last Sunday.

Sunday week Seagraves comes here. Mrs. Mamie Lott of Mineral Wells is here for a few days with her grandchildren, Linda, Patricia and Jack, while Mr. and Mrs. John Lott are in Fort Worth on business. Coming to Post with her were Mrs. John H. Deen of Mineral Wells and Mrs. Nancy Ranson of Dallas. The three women had been on a tour of the southern portion of Texas and had just returned from the Carlsbad Caverns. Mrs. Ranson, who is gar-

You Don't Have To Be A "Yard Woman," Either

"Yarb Women," medicine men and scientists used to look for herbs growing wild. Herbs have been popular garden plants for centuries. But you don't have to be a "Yarb Woman" to be able to grow them. Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent, says many people grow them for the appetizing dishes they make possible. Some use herbs as an interesting sideline to the home landscape. In landscaping, herbs may be used for border plantings, or in flower gardens. Or they can be grouped in a small herb garden convenient to the kitchen, in keeping with an old colonial custom. Near the kitchen is a handy place so the housewife doesn't have to trudge way out to the garden just to get flavors for her cooking. Mrs. Strasner says that only a short row of each of the herbs, such as mint, sweet basil, lemon balm, rosemary and lavender, will be enough to supply the needs of the average family. Many of the herbs are high in vitamin content. For example, a small sprig of parsley has all the vitamin A needed for one day. Herbs will grow on almost any soil, and under any conditions where vegetables grow. Full details can be obtained from the county home demonstration agent. She can give some good ideas on how to use them to spice up the family meals.

Some People Fare Better By Eating More Frequently

Three square meals a day is a good idea, but everybody can't hold to this. Some people do better by eating frequently, rather than sticking to the three-meal-a-day business. Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent, says that research by the USDA home economists show that eating between meals is not always a bad habit. There are three things involved, says Mrs. Strasner, the food, the time, and the person doing the eating. Between-meal snacks may be used to supplement the regular meals and to help provide an adequate diet. Growing children, underweights and active workers often need more food than they can eat comfortably at a meal so they turn to snacks. For them a light fill-in at the mid-point between meals keeps them from getting tired and too hungry before the next meal. A glass of milk, a sandwich, a hard-cooked egg or fruit after school is recommended for giving children plenty of energy for active play without spoiling their appetite for the supper meal. However, candy, cake, or sweet drinks shortly before a meal usually spoil the child's appetite for such essential things as vegetables. Eating the right food at the right time is a good, healthy habit, but constant nibbling on everything between meals is something else again, and may mean spoiling the enjoyment of the main meals, overweight and bad health.

Saucepan Canning With Pressure Is Explained Here

If the pressure saucepan meets certain requirements, and if correct processing times, which have been scientifically tested, are used, then the pressure saucepan can become a valuable addition to your canning, according to Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent. The question of using the pressure saucepan for canning has been brought up by many homemakers and two specialists of the USDA's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics in Washington have been working on the answer. Their report has been published recently. Be sure that the saucepan is tall enough to hold pint jars on a rack with the cover locked in place, and that there is a gauge which allows pressure to be controlled accurately at 10 pounds, Mrs. Strasner says. The experimental canning report shows that the processing time in the saucepan at 10 pounds pressure must be 20 minutes longer than the time recommended for a pressure canner; less time will not sterilize the vegetables safely. The pressure saucepan heats quickly, takes only one minute to exhaust its air content, and cools rapidly after the jars of food are processed. As a result, the heat necessary for the safe sterilization of the food must be obtained during the processing time. A pressure canner requires a longer time to heat, exhausts and cools slowly and consequently, the necessary heat for sterilization is provided even though the processing time is shorter. When canning with a pressure saucepan, use the following processing times for pints at 10 pounds pressure: Asparagus, 45 minutes; lima beans, 55 minutes; snapbeans, 40 minutes; beets, 45 minutes; carrots, 40 minutes; cream-style corn, 105 minutes; whole kernel corn, 75 minutes; okra, 45 minutes; peas, 60 minutes; cubed pumpkin, 75 minutes; strained pumpkin, 80 minutes; spinach, 65 minutes; summer squash, 50 minutes; dry-pack sweetpotatoes, 85 minutes; wet pack sweetpotatoes, 75 minutes. Mrs. Strasner emphasizes that

Tongs, Magnets And Wet Cotton Prevent Many Home Injuries

There is much picking up for the housewife to do around the house, and some of it is difficult or dangerous if done by hand. Because burns and cuts are among the most frequent home accidents suffered by women, more care should be taken with hot and sharp articles. There are ways to handle these dangerous articles without getting cut or burned, says Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent. Tongs to pick up hot articles at the stove, outdoor fireplace or kitchen sink will save many burned fingers, she says. Use tongs to lift jars from hot water in canning, large vegetables from cooking water, baked potatoes from the oven or hot grates or lids from the fire. Use tongs to lift the silverware from hot rinse water. A small magnet will easily pick up pins and needles that have been dropped on the floor, and to save fingers and hands when a glass falls off a shelf or out of a cabinet, use damp cotton. The cotton will pick up the small splinters of glass and will offer the housewife protection from cuts, says Mrs. Strasner. these process times are for use when the canning directions issued by the Texas Extension Service are followed throughout. These times might not be adequate for food preserved by other directions.

One-half acre of garden space is recommended for the average family. Something should be planted in the garden every week in the year and something should be taken out of the garden to eat every day. A garden is profitable if good soil, good seed and good fertilizer are used, and insects controlled. Milk should be kept in a cool part of the refrigerator, and should never be left on the table for long periods of time while cooking or eating. Half of the annual egg crop in the U. S. is produced from March to June, and the lowest production occurs from September to December.

One way to insure the life of electric appliances is to place them in a clean, dry place where they will be protected from falls.

Soil exploitation in this country began as long as three centuries ago. Today our accounts Nature's bank is overdrawn. The longer the nation does something about soil conservation, the more there will be and at a much higher price, the top-soil of a farm gets into the Gulf of Mexico, it comes back.

Scripture—Luke 17:26-31

And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away; and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Profitable Farm Markets Are Forecast For 1948

Eureka, Kans.—American farmers last year grossed some thirty billion dollars—the peak in a series of phenomenally prosperous years. Will their good luck hold out in 1948?

This year's to-boggan in farm prices, which later managed a good recovery, failed to uproot the confidence of farmers in the soundness of current economic conditions in this country. They are getting set to reap another golden harvest, if their March planting intentions may be taken as a criterion. According to the official government report, farmers expect to plant a larger total acreage of principal crops this year than in any of the past three seasons.

What will be the final results of these good intentions, I do not profess to know. Much depends upon climatic conditions in the weeks ahead. They have been generally favorable thus far, although the South has had a little too much rain. Since about as many persons were at work on farms on March 1, this year as last, the labor problem should not prove too difficult. Supplies of farm machinery and fertilizer are more plentiful, and any other factors should not seriously interfere with farm operators.

Planting intentions are one thing; final yields another. The promised far-flung fields of waving wheat and ripening corn are not yet garnered into elevators and cribs. Nevertheless, on the basis of average yields, some interesting results are possible. Production of all wheat, for instance, could reach 1,110,000,000 bushels, compared with last year's record of 1,364,019,000 bushels and the ten-year average of 890,306,000 bushels. That would be a lot of wheat by any standard. Corn could chalk up a total of around 3,000,000,000 bushels—well above the ten-year average and last year's short crop of 2,400,952,000 bushels. The cats outturn could ring the bell at 1,376,000,000 bushels, which would be 13 per cent above the 1947 crop and 11 per cent above the 10-year average.

The major uncertain factor in the over-all crop production outlook this year, as always, is weather. Since I am no weather prophet, I cannot speak authoritatively on that subject. I do know, however, that the wrong kind of weather during the critical growing periods can quickly change a bright crop picture into an extremely dismal affair. I believe it is more important this year than usual for all buyers and sellers of farm commodities to keep a watchful eye on weather conditions from now on. They may well be the clue to profitable timing of purchases or sales of farm products in the months ahead.

Can farmers this year reasonably expect to get good prices for their wheat, corn and other crops?

Here, again, uncertainty enters the picture. It does seem to me, however, if present crop indications are borne out, especially as regards wheat, that agricultural prices in general are likely to move still lower, despite any intermediate upturns that may result from crop scares or other temporary factors.

Do not forget that European crops are reported to be making general favorable progress. Good crops in Europe this year would materially lessen dependence upon imports of American grain and other food-stuffs. Should some untoward event precipitate war with Russia next year, exports of grains and food products to Europe could largely cease. Lessened foreign demand would put some downward pressure on U. S. farm prices. Nevertheless, I do not expect bottom to fall out, whatever happens. Domestic demand will continue unusually large, since employment and wages should be at high levels. In any event, government is committed to support agricultural prices at 90 per cent of parity—a level that assures farmers a fair return for their work and products. All in all, the odds, in my opinion, favor another good year for American farmers in 1948, though they are tightening purse strings a bit at present. It could prove good but price supports when 1948 crops are in, merchants should prepare to make the most of profitable markets.

GETTING OUT On The LIMB
By EDDIE the EDITOR

Now it can be told, because Molly Latrille Davies has overcome the poor start she got in life the night of April 12, and is about to catch up with her brother, Wendell Lenwood, in matters of weight, appetite, etc.

When all the Rubys in town had a bunch of babies on the same day it created quite a problem for some of us; particularly me and my neighbor, Lefty Davies.

It was the first experience for him, as he was overseas when his first and only other child, Jerilyn, was born and so he looked to me for sympathy and whatever help I could be.

Now that I've lived over it, I know one thing for sure: I'm never going to do like Mrs. Tol Thomas and promise more than one person named Ruby that I will help with the new babies.

Without knowing that all the babies would be born the same day, Mrs. Thomas promised some time ago to help Ruby (Mrs. Fay) Claborn and also to help Ruby Davies.

About the time she was bathing and dressing little Peggy Fern Claborn and had instructed Fay as to how to carry on, the telephone rang and someone (it was I think) said "Hurry, we need you at Ruby's." "I'm at Ruby's now," Mrs. Thomas answered. The voice on the telephone (I still think it was mine) argued, and it was some time before we got it across that it was over at Ruby Davies' that she was urgently needed.

Mrs. Thomas got over there somehow and, after all she had already been through, she seemed better prepared for the emergency than Lefty and me.

Lefty claims he wasn't excited, but when he called the fire department to bring out the iron lung, he told the operator that his little girl was born first and doing fine but they needed the iron lung for the little boy. He was all mixed up, of course. It was Molly who wasn't faring so well.

But as nervous as Lefty was, he noticed after my arrival on the scene that I was trembling. He thought I needed fresh air and assigned me to shooing away the crowd that always follows the fire truck, so that Dad Greenfield and some other fire boys would have room to unload the respirators, etc.

With the help of two or three firemen, I got rid of the crowd and got back into the house just in time to pat Lefty on the back and be asked to hold Molly Latrille's little head while Dr. Kohler made some sort of test. About that time, she started sneezing and I could feel the veins expanding in the back of her head.

I had calmed down a bit and could see the drama of it all. I wished for all those people I had shooed away. I wanted everybody to know what a wonderful thing the iron lung is. One has to witness something like that to realize what a truly fine thing we have here in Garza County in the name of the iron lung and the fire boys who promoted it.

Lefty and I got real nervous again after they were putting the iron lung away and Mollie started whimpering. He and I both jumped up and started petting her and begging her not to cry. "Leave her alone," said Dr. Kah-

By EVELYN BOYD

I promised last week to write my interpretation of why our Democracy, in the original American sense of the word, is a thing of the past.

The answer is contained in one simple sentence: It costs too much to run for office.

This is election year, and it is extremely important that we understand who—and what financial interests—are backing our political candidates.

In a recent issue of Life magazine, a Mr. John A. Duntze of East Norwalk, Conn., wrote this significant letter to the editor:

"Sirs: There was a time in this country when red-blooded men dumped tea in Boston harbor, not because they disliked tea but because a tax was unjust. Until more such men as these can be found the public will have to be content with white margarine and yellow congressmen."

Disagreeing only slightly with Mr. Duntze, I would say we have plenty of red-blooded men in this country—men who would give their lives to bring back our old idea of Democracy. But these men can't afford to run for office. The only men and women who can afford to run successfully for top state and national offices are those who will represent some special interests—concerns who will swap several million dollars worth of campaign money for the protection that these statesmen will be honor-bound to give their companies.

This is how the butter interests have kept the margarine interests in the gutter. The butter interests had more Government bigwigs obligated to them than did the margarine interests.

John L. Lewis won't ever go to jail and I doubt if he will pay more than half the fine that was levied recently, because both the Democrats and Republicans are indebted to him. The erstwhile John L. provided campaign funds for Roosevelt years ago, and this was the beginning of Lewis' unprecedented rise to power and dictatorship. He traded Roosevelt campaign money for power.

Now he is doing a little swapping with the Republicans, in an effort to retain that power. In recent years it has taken a quarter of a million dollars for a candidate to campaign for the governorship of Texas, a job which pays $10,000 a year. This is startling when you think of the significance of a situation which calls for spending more than $250,000 for a job which pays only $40,000 in two years.

It's the same with candidates for the U. S. Senate or Congress. Who can afford it, except a person who is willing to play ball with the selfish interests? Why does it take so much money to run for office? In times like these the first thing a candidate for a major office has to do is hire a public relations man, whose job it is to figure out stunts to fool the people. This man figures out what the people will fall for, then presents it to them in speeches which the candidate don't write, in radio broadcasts which cost $6,000 an hour on a statewide hook-up and a proportionately more exorbitant amount on a nationwide hook-up.

Today's candidate must campaign personally in every locality. Like a circus, a candidate touring the state or nation is preceded by

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

TOO MANY STRAY DOGS—City Marshall Carl Rogers says the town has too many, far too many, stray dogs, and he is going to do something about them.

The marshal looked on with interest Saturday as Veterinarian George W. Moreland vaccinated dog after dog against rabies in front of the Court House.

Mr. Rogers, like most citizens, likes good dogs, and would do nothing to harm useful canines so vaccinated against rabies and tagged, within the law in other words.

There was nothing unfair about the marshal's ultimatum to the city's dog owners. Those who went and had their pets "shot" and tagged need have no worry.

But those dog owners who didn't should. Because Marshal Carl Rogers is going to kill out the city's trouble-making, stray dogs.

Lovers of pretty yards can't plant flowers in some parts of the an advance man with a generous expense account. The cost of lapel buttons, matchbook covers and nail files alone would cost $5,000 or more for a state no larger than Oregon. The photographers' bill would cost an additional $2,000. This, of course, includes snapshots of the candidate drying dishes, gaffing a salmon, pitching hay and picking apples.

Then there is the cost of special trains, paid expenses for a gallery of newspaper reporters, photographers, etc., to add glamour to the candidate's appearance each place. Then there is the cost of maintaining campaign headquarters, secretaries' salaries, printing bills, stationery, thousands of dollars worth of postage stamps, etc.

I have an idea Harold Stassen, who is doing his publicity up the prettiest of all the Presidential candidates, already has spent several million dollars . . . and his investment is beginning to pay off. He probably will be elected President and will spend four years doing favors for the companies who put up the money.

Until the man with the modest campaign funds receives an equal chance under the law to run with anyone else for public office, our Democracy will struggle under a serious handicap.

city because of these mischievous stray dogs.

Dog owners should bear in mind that warm weather brings on the danger of rabies.

Hockley County had one case of a rabid dog biting two people last year.

Marshal Rogers is justified in making war on stray dogs.

These stray running mongrels are not only unsightly nuisances, but they are dangerous to the city's health.—Hockley County Herald.

FARMERS ARE MODERNIZING—Farmers of West Texas are becoming among the most prosperous and best equipped of any in the South. It is a healthy thing for the state, too.

Several years of good crops, good prices for farm products and practices of good business principles have gone a long way toward lifting the average farmer out of the class of the hard-riden, share-cropping stage to one of near independence, enjoying many of the better things that life has to offer. We are plenty glad that period of prosperity has been reached. If ever there were a class of hard working folks who deserved a better lot they are the farmers.

With the exception of rural electrification to the rural sections, many homes have installed electricity that permits the use of labor saving and convenient appliances to make farm homes more cheery and less of a drudgery. Modern farm machinery and other devices are making the business of farming in West Texas a truly uplifting and money making business.—Scurry County Times.

Diphtheria Death Can Be Prevented By Immunization

It is a tragedy that Texas parents continue to allow their babies to suffer and die from that painful and killing disease diphtheria. This is the opinion of Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, who says "It is up to the parents. If they protect their children with immunization, they need not have diphtheria." Dr. Cox said that it is amazing that this disease should be allowed to take its toll of young lives when it can be entirely stamped out by proper immunization. Yet in a single week, 33 cases were reported in this state this month. "Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months, and sometimes as early as six months. A second dose is usually given later. To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose of toxoid is advised when a child is old enough to enter school if a Schick test reveals the need of one. Children who have never been immunized certainly should be protected without any further delay, the State Health Officer declared, and added that it is the responsibility of the parents to save the lives of their children.

VFW And Auxiliary Install Officers, Observe Birthday

Approximately 75 men and women attended the public installation of officers of the John Miller Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary at the American Legion Hall last Thursday night.

The occasion was the first anniversary of the Ladies' Auxiliary. In celebration, the refreshment table was centered with a large bouquet of flowers sent by the V.F.W. and set with two large birthday cakes made by Mohoto Allen. Each cake was decorated with the V.F.W. Auxiliary emblem, a spray of roses and one candle. Coffee was served with the cake, which was sliced by Mrs. Carl Webb.

Henry Aten, past commander, was installing officer for the V.F.W. and Mrs. Bennie Jackson of Lubbock, district president, was the auxiliary installing officer. Out of town guests included several men and women from Lubbock; the commander of the Brown field V.F.W. post and Mrs. Olive Henderson of Washington, who served as a color bearer during the auxiliary installation. Mrs. Henderson is the mother of J. W. Henderson, who was installed as V.F.W. commander.

Alvin Davis Named Alternate To Camp In Washington, DC

Five Texas 4-H club boys and girls—the cream of the crop—were named as 1948 winners of the awards presented each year for outstanding achievements in club work.

The announcement, made by J. W. Potts and Lorenz Stevens, state 4-H club leaders of Texas A. & M. College, lists Novis Allison, Haskell County, as winner of the Maggie W. Barry Scholarship, and Howard Altenhof, Guadalupe County, Patsy Jo Delevan, Medina County, Reta Nell Baldwin, Wilbarger County and Edward Hill, Dallas County, as delegates to the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington, D. C., June 16-23.

Alternates for the trip to Washington are Harold Rampy, Hall County, first boys' alternate; Jesse Lou Boyer, Farrant County, first girls' alternate; Alvin Glenn Davis, Garza County, second boys' alternate, and Jeanette Thompson, Hale County, second girls' alternate.

The delegates to the National 4-H Club camp will spend a week

Eggs Graded For Quality And Size

Eggs are graded according to quality and size, not food value. Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent, reminds housewives and others who are making the most of the plentiful supplies now on the market. Regardless of its grade or quality, an egg is one of nature's best packages of food value. Inside that shell is found high quality protein, iron, vitamin A, two vitamins and some vitamin D.

An egg in one of the top quality grades—AA or A—has a large amount of firm white and a round, upstanding yolk. Eggs of these grades are preferred for poaching, frying and boiling in the shell. Grade B eggs have thinner whites and somewhat flatter yolks, but are just as good for scrambling, baking and other cooking purposes.

Many families find it pays to buy grade B eggs for general cooking because they offer the same food value, yet may cost 10 to 12 cents a dozen less than grade A quality eggs of the same weight.

At any rate, Mrs. Strasner says, it pays to read the label on the carton of eggs and figure the cost in relation to the grade, which means the quality and size. The purpose for which eggs are to be used will have an influence on the grade to be bought.

Pruning Of Trees And Shrubs May Be Done At Any Time

"Some kinds of pruning may be done at any time," Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent, said recently. "Remove dead limbs, diseased limbs and limbs that injure each other regardless of season."

Some plants need pruning all during the growing season. Among these shrubs are abelia and Florida jasmine which have a tendency to send out long awkward shoots. If the buds at the tips of branches are cut off the plant will grow into a compact form which generally is liked better than a shrub with a few long sprouts. Hardy shrubs which grow fast such as amur river privet or Japanese ligustrum, may be pruned safely during the growing season.

Mrs. Strasner says: "Prune shrubs which bloom in the spring or early summer just as soon as the blooming season is over for it is then they begin forming bloom buds for the next year. Among these are such plants as bridal wreath and flowering peach. If you wait until late summer or winter, pruning lessens the amount of blooms as it destroys bloom buds."

Among flowering shrubs to be pruned as soon as they have bloomed and before they bloom buds for the next year's flowers are azaleas, butterfly-bush, philadelphus (English dogwood, mock orange), photina, flowering plums, spiraea, viburnums (haws and snowballs), primrose, jasmine, winter blooming jasmine and wisteria.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Soil And Souls Sunday

May 2 is Soil and Souls Sunday. Friends of the land and Farm and Ranch Magazine are sponsoring this Sunday to arouse the interest and participation of American citizens in the nation's program of soil and water conservation.

"No Man Layeth It To Heart"
"The land, which we passed through to spy it out, is an exceedingly good land, a land which floweth with milk and honey." This was the minority report submitted by Joshua, the son of Nun, and Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, to Moses who had sent these two and ten other men, each a prince in his own tribe, to spy out the land of Canaan. These 12 men were instructed, among other things, to "go up into the hill-country; and see the land, what it is; whether it is good or bad."

The 12 were unanimous in their praise of the fruitfulness of the soil. To prove that point they brought back "one cluster of grapes" which was borne "on a staff between the two." They brought also pomegranates and figs (Nu. Chaps. 13 and 14).

The time that these observations were made is usually estimated as approximately 1500, B. C. The place was the wilderness of the Arabian Peninsula. The people were the "Children of Israel" in exodus from a four or five century sojourn in Egypt.

Forty years later, when these wanderers were on the verge of crossing the Jordan River into the "Promised Land," Moses reiterated that they were going to possess "A good land of wheat and barley, and vines and fig trees and pomegranates; a land of olive trees and honey; a land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness" (Deut. 8:7-9). "Not as the land of Egypt from whence ye came out, where thou sowedst thy seed, and wateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs; but the land, whither ye go over to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys and drinketh water of the rain heaven, a land which Jehovah thy God careth for; the eyes of Jehovah thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year" (Deut. 11:10-12).

To keep this good land good, Moses issued one of the oldest land use regulations on record. To quote: "Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruits thereof; but in the seventh year neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard. That which groweth of itself of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, and the grapes of thy undressed vine thou shalt not gather; it will be a year of solemn rest for the land." "Then I will command my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and it shall bring forth fruit for three years" (Lev. 25:3-5, 21).

That the fertility of the soil in Palestine was maintained for a long time under the Hebrews is evidenced by the food products required to supply the ostentatious display of Solomon's regime. "And Solomon's provision for one day was measuring (240 bushels) of fine flour, and threescore measures of meal, 10 fat oxen, and 20 oxen out of the pastures, and a hundred sheep, besides harts, and gazelles, and roebucks, and fatted fowl. And Solomon had, 40,000 stalls of horses for his chariots and 12,000 horsemen. And those officers provided victuals for King Solomon and for all that came unto King Solomon's table, every man in his mouth; they let nothing be lacking. Barley also and straw for the horses and swift steeds brought they unto the place where the officers were, every man according to his charge" (Kings 4:22-28).

Moses, while using lavish terms in describing the Promised Land, did not fail to warn his people that these blessings could be lost by misconduct on their part. To quote: "The fruit of thy ground, and all thy labors, shall a nation which thou knowest not eat up."

"Jehovah will bring a nation against thee from afar, from the end of the earth, as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand; a nation of fierce countenance, that shalt not regard the person of the old, nor show favor to the young, and shall eat the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy ground, until thou be destroyed; that also shall not leave thee grain, new wine, or oil, the increase of thy cattle, or the young of thy flock, until they have caused thee to perish" (Deut. 28:33, 49-51).

With remarkable exactness, Jehovah pictured with forceful words what finally happened. "Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion underfoot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. They have made it a desolation; it mourneth unto me, being desolate; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart" (Jer. 12:10-11).

Isaiah also saw in his visions "Your country is desolate; your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers" (Isaiah 1:7).

At the time of Christ's earthly ministry there appeared to be no alarming shortage of food. There was still good soil left in Palestine which was producing abundantly, "some a hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty" (Mat. 13:23).

The greatest disaster of all overtook the Holy Land in the Eighth Century A. D. when the Saracen hordes overran Asia Minor and much of the southern part of Europe. These nomadic people fired with a fanatical zeal to displace Christianity with the Moslem faith, had no love for the land. Their herds of goats, sheep, horses, and camels devoured all green vegetation. Without this natural protection, the fertile soil washed away. The beautiful Jordan became clogged with clay. All visitors to Palestine now came back with the same gloomy picture of barren, rocky hills, and scanty vegetation. The soil, which produced the wealth to build the Temple and Solomon's Palace, no longer clothes the Jordan Hills.

The fate that befell Canaan has been repeated over and over by many civilizations of the past. Babylon, Carthage, Syria, and Rome, neglected to protect their natural inheritance of fertile soil. It can be stated as an axiom that no great civilization can be created or maintained without a good fertile soil to support it.

Two and a quarter times as many Americans died of cancer during World War II as were killed in action in the armed forces.

NEW RODEO DATES—

(Continued From Front Page) Club, on being officially informed of the 1948 Post rodeo dates, said in a letter to the local association that there would be no conflict and this statement was published in both the Lubbock-Avalanche-Journal and the Post Dispatch.

Last week, the A.B.C. Club informed the Post rodeo association that it had broken the promise. In view of the earlier dates, all directors and committee members started to work yesterday planning all details of the 1948 show.

The directors, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, elected Phil Bouchier rodeo manager to succeed Emory Williams, manager for the past several years who recently resigned. Bouchier, who was the association's first rodeo manager, has always been closely associated with the association as a director and promoter.

The committee which set the new rodeo dates, yesterday determined that the Bill Lyons rodeo stock will be available, that Lewis Blair, well-known rodeo clown is still engaged for this year's show and that Red Wedgeworth of Pampa can serve as rodeo announcer.

The advertising committee is planning to charter two buses for booster trips. Each business man will be asked to send both a manager and an employee on a booster trip.

King Bingham, Garza Tractor and Implement man, is expecting one of the new combines within the near future. The streamlined design is powered with a 20 horsepower engine. It includes bar cylinder, straw walker type separator and a number of other "gizmos" that the Irving reporter doesn't understand, so we would advise all you farmers who are interested in learning about the new features to visit King's place.

Do you like waffles? Mr. and Mrs. Giles who own and operate the Giles Dining Room are now serving short order breakfasts and waffles are a specialty of the house. "Service While You Wait" is the slogan for the Yandell Shoe Shop, which is now under new management. Wesley Yandell, twin brother of the former manager, arrived here several weeks ago to take over the shop. He has had many years experience in shoe repair and boot making. He worked in Globe, Ariz., before coming to Post and prior to that was associated with Zinke's in San Francisco for a number of years. Since coming here he has remodeled the building housing the shop and has been re-arranging and increasing the stock of merchandise. Garza county folks are invited to visit the shop and discuss shoe services with Yandell.

Dollar Day is here again. The Dispatch force has been busy as that Beaver getting advertisements arranged for merchants. In the Ads you will find many outstanding bargains for the occasion. As Mother's Day and Graduation, Day are just around the corner it will be the wise reader who will shop through the columns of the paper for gift items as well as practical items. We have spotted many an item that we want to put away for the gift list.

The only automatic water sprinkler we ever saw is on display at T R's Hardware store. The directions on the card attached say you can "set it, and forget it." It will cover an area from 5 to 50 feet. What next, we wonder?

Baby Days are in full swing. New ideas in toys, clothes and fancy baby gadgets can be found in almost every store in Post. At Hamilton Drug we saw an item that is a vacation "must." It is the new Nata-Pants. It is a wet-proof pantie specially designed to hold Nata-Pax Flushaway diaper pads. Get a supply of these if you are taking Junior or Jane with you on your vacation this summer. Haws Department Store has a new item that is most versatile. When not in use the gadget can be deflated, rolled away in a compact cylinder and carried over the arm or can be stored away in a small space in the car or house. It is on display in the center window of the store.

Local Red Cross Chapter Receives Three Year Old Letter Of Thanks From France

The Garza County Chapter of the American Red Cross, which sent 8,000 garments to various parts of the world during three years of the war, long ago was recognized for having done more per capita in this respect than any other Red Cross chapter in the nation.

Now, three years later, the chapter has received thanks from recipients abroad. A letter of thanks dated May 10 1945, on the letterhead of the Minister of Finance Department of Montsauche, Orleans, France, from Monsieur Boman, auditor, was received by the American Red Cross and forwarded recently to the Garza County Chapter. The cause of the three-year delay was not indicated on the postmarks.

The beautifully hand-written French of Monsieur Boman was translated by Mrs. Marshall Mason and Mrs. James Minor, as follows: "To Monsieur the President of the County of Garza of the American Red Cross:

"Monsieur, I have the honor of addressing you with the greatest appreciation for the supplies which you have delivered to us so generously.

"I send you our good wishes and gratitude, to you the members of the American Red Cross.

"Wishing you happiness, Monsieur the president, with distinguished salutations,

"Boman, auditor."

Mrs. T. L. Jones, production chairman of the Garza County Chapter, said this week: "I feel that the thanks expressed by Mr. Boman is deserved by the women of all parts of Garza County who worked tirelessly during 3 years to make the 8,000 garments which were sent to the world's needy people."

Although the production department still exists, it is at present inactive. Should an emergency arise, however, the women will be ready to resume their work at a moment's notice, Mrs. Jones said.

Spiritual Life Crusade To Open In Post Sunday

The Rev. A. B. Cockrell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, announced today that his congregation would begin a Spiritual Life Crusade Sunday morning and continue it through Sunday, May 9 with services each morning at 10 o'clock and evening at 8 o'clock. He has secured the services of Dr. Frank L. Turner of Fort Worth who will bring the messages and direct the work of personal evangelism.

Dr. Turner was a pastor in Texas Methodism for 15 years before going to McMurry College as president in 1938. He served in this capacity for almost four years during which time he entirely freed the institution from indebtedness and added more than $50,000 worth of improvements to the plant and property.

He resigned his position in 1942 to enter the field of evangelism and, since that time, has held 100 meetings in five states. These meetings have resulted in more than 1,500 conversions and additions with other thousands reconsecrating their lives to Christ. Dr. Turner conducted a meeting at the local church last October and so successfully was the meeting the congregation requested the return engagement. He comes to Post from Henderson where he concluded a meeting last Sunday night.

Awards Offered Boys And Girls For Leadership

Rural boys and girls in Texas now have an exceptional opportunity to get special recognition for outstanding junior leadership records in 4-H Club work. Both the highest ranking boy and girl will receive similar awards in the 1948 National 4-H Leadership program.

The top ranking boy and girl in this extension section—who will be selected from state winners—will each receive a trip to the 1948 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, provided by Edward Foss Wilson, Chicago meat packer. National awards remain the same as in previous years—$200 college scholarships and Moses silver trophies for the first place boy and girl, and $100 scholarships for the second place winners.

Last year's state winners in Texas were Jackie Brock, Floydada, and Eloise Woodruff, Shallowater. Jackie went on to win sectional and second place national

Eighteen Thousand Families Assisted By Extension Work

More than 18,000 rural families in Texas received assistance with family problems from the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service in 1947.

Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent, said the extension service also reports that 156 training meetings, 1059 discussion groups and 1353 conferences were conducted during the year in solving family problems in Texas. More than 24,250 families were helped in improving family relations, and parents representing nearly 12,000 children took part in child development and parent education programs conducted by the Extension Service.

Rural health education received a share of the effort of the Extension Service's family life education program, says Mrs. Johnson. Reports from over the state show that 24,493 families were helped in disease prevention; 10,918 families were assisted with home care of the sick; and over 3,700 families were aided with child feeding problems.

Rotation Pastures Yield More Than Permanent Grasses

Since the war, English farmers have seen a big increase in their pasture land. During the war, they plowed up pasture land and used it for crops. Since the war they have put that land back into pasture, and have got better yields than they had before. They found that a short-lay pasture gives bigger yields than a permanent pasture.

The USDA is trying the same thing on pastures at Beltsville, Md. Side by side with their permanent pastures, they are growing meadow crops as part of a rotation, and find the rotation pastures yield more than the permanent pasture. What's more, the cows are getting more nutritious feed from a better mixture of legumes and grasses through the use of temporary or rotational pastures.

Robert H. Gibson, Garza County agricultural agent, says this might also apply to berseem grass in Texas which is difficult to destroy. After a few years it can be allowed to return to pasture. Rhodes grass seems to weaken after four to six years, and may be profitably replaced by cultivated crops.

Weeping lovegrass also may be changed to a new location after a few years. It will give greater yields if moved on rotation, and is an easy grass to establish.

When a pasture is plowed under, an appropriate fertilizer, especially nitrogen, will be needed, says Gibson.

The need for more wholesome recreation was recognized by the extension program, Mrs. Strasner says, and much improvement was made in that field during the year—42,938 families reported improving recreation in the home, and 1,530 communities built up recreational facilities.

Many Diseases Can Be Traced To Ordinary Fly

The ordinary housefly is an enemy to health, and is one of the agents most commonly responsible for the spread of disease throughout the nation, according to Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. Typhoid fever, dysentery, and many other intestinal diseases can often be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Speaking in this connection, Dr. Cox advised: "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies will not endanger the health of your family. Keep flies away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up by flies and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."

Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods for use in fly control.

Weed Killer 2,4-D Must Be Applied With Precaution

The weed killer 2,4-D will also kill your potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, cotton, sweet potatoes, peas, beans, fruit trees, ornamentals, and some field crops if you're not careful in using it.

Last year cotton in several points along the Gulf Coast was injured when 2,4-D dust drifted in from nearby rice fields. In many cases, cotton has been planted right along side rice. When the rice is sprayed with 2,4-D, the wind carries it on over into the cotton field, badly damaging the cotton plants. Since the esters of this poison evaporate and drift away in the air so easily, they should not be applied close to plants they are likely to kill.

The chemical 2,4-D should not be stored in buildings where seeds, fertilizers or insecticides are handled because there is a very good chance the 2,4-D will ruin it.

A committee of research and extension workers, crop growers and chemical manufacturers appointed by Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas A. & M. College Agricultural Experiment Station, has issued the following warnings on the use of 2,4-D:

1. It is not a good idea to use 2,4-D in the dust form because it may drift several miles onto field crops or gardens.

2. If a good strong wind is blowing, even the spray form is dangerous.

3. Be sure your equipment is in good condition before you start.

4. Use a separate sprayer for 2,4-D; it is hard to thoroughly clean 2,4-D out of a sprayer.

5. Pressures below 75 pounds per square inch for your ground sprayers, and the nozzles producing coarse sprays are the best.

6. When using planes for spraying, don't get closer than half a mile to susceptible crops downwind. Don't spray when wind is blowing more than 3 miles per hour.

7. Employ only pilots who know their business. (See No. 6)

8. Esters evaporate quicker than other forms of 2,4-D. These fumes can cause quite a bit of damage, so it's best not to use them.

9. If you can prevent the drifting of sprays, dust and fumes, you will save many of your crops which would otherwise be damaged.

10. Talk it over with your county agent or other men who know about the best times to use 2,4-D. Don't overdose your crops.

Nine Operettas Are Listed On Starlight Summer Schedule

The "new look" in Starlight Operetta will feature a generous proportion of modern comedies, according to a schedule of productions released this week by William R. Hitzelburger, vice-president and general manager of the State Fair of Texas, which sponsors the popular summertime outdoor entertainment at Dallas.

The Starlight schedule will include:

"The Great Waltz" (two weeks beginning June 14th), the story of the struggle between Johann Strauss and his son, which features the music of both in a story by Moss Hart.

"Anytime Goes" (June 28-July 4), a musical comedy with music and lyrics by Cole Porter, and book by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse.

"One Touch Of Venus" (July 5-11), a musical fantasy. Kurt Weill wrote the music, and the book is by humorist S. J. Perlman and Ogden Nash.

"Rosalie" (July 12-18). Music by George Gershwin. Sigmund Romberg and Cole Porter.

"The New Moon" (July 19-25). Sigmund Romberg's musical treat of the Creole days in Louisiana.

"Bloomer Girl" (July 26-August 1), a musical dramatization of the revolt of the so-called weaker sex.

"Naughty Marietta" (August 2-8). This colorful story of "mail-order brides" in the New World is an all-time favorite thanks to Victor Herbert's immortal score.

"Hit The Deck" (August 9-15), a speedy, robust story of the Navy, which remains one of composer Vincent Youman's outstanding hits.

"The Vagabond King" (August 16-22), the stirring, resounding musical story of Paris in the time of Francois Villon.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wheeler were George Cathey of Abilene; Frank Cathey of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wheeler and children, Mr. and Mrs. Temple Lee and two sons and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee of Roswell, N. M.

CCC Loan Cotton Not Redeemed To Be Pooled, Sold

Cotton Farmers of Garza County who have government loans on their 1947-crop cotton are being reminded that all 1947-crop loan cotton still under loan on August 1, 1948, will be pooled by Commodity Credit Corporation for the producer's accounts. This includes American-Egyptian as well as up-land cotton.

Will Wright, chairman of the Garza County Agricultural Conservation committee, said that 1947-crop cotton under CCC loan that is not redeemed by August 1, 1948, will be placed in pools and sold in an orderly manner by CCC. After July 31, 1948, producers will not be entitled to order the sale of cotton. The loans mature on that date.

He explained that when all the cotton in the pools has been sold the net proceeds, if any, after deduction of all advances, interest and accrued costs, will be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in the pools. No payment will be made to producers at the time the cotton is placed in the pools.

Mr. Wright reminded cotton farmers that they may either sell their "equity" in the loan cotton or redeem the cotton from the loan and then sell on the open market. Producers should give serious thought to marketing the loan cotton before it goes into the pools. At present prices, farmers should be able to sell most of this cotton at a profit over the loan and charges against the cotton.

WHAT'S CHEAPER THAN DIRT?

Pure running water from your city water supply is literally cheaper than dirt.

A ton of water delivered to your home costs less than 10c on the local average year round rate. A ton of earth dumped on your lawn would cost many times as much for hauling alone.

This low cost of water is all the more remarkable when you consider it includes collection, pumping, storage, purification and delivery to your home in any quantity at any time of day or night.

Nothing else you buy means more to your health and comfort than your water service. Yet it remains today, as always, one of the smallest items in the average household budget.
