

Movement Started To 'Re-Do' Two Draw Lake

Better Than Ever Is Aim Of Officers

In a public meeting of "Two Draw Lake enthusiasts" Monday night in the American Legion Hall, a movement to "re-do" the lake got underway.

The overall plan, designed "to make Two Draw a better recreation center than it has ever been," includes dredging and cleaning of the lake, complete rebuilding of the dam for permanent use, building of modern bathhouses, all types of playground equipment, including a merry-go-round, swings, slides, etc., barbecue pits, picnic tables and fishing facilities.

The lake, if the plan is carried through, will be stocked with fish and an effort will be made to put it under the jurisdiction of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Additional shade trees will be planted.

Jim Hundley was elected president and Joe Moss was elected secretary of the group of enthusiasts. D. F. Eaton and George Samsom were named as a committee to make a survey determining the cost of the project, as described above, and to ascertain the cost of putting a golf course near or around the lake, if possible.

The officers have begun negotiations with the Double U Company to ascertain the possibilities of a long-term lease on the lake property.

After the cost has been estimated and a commitment has been received from the Double U Company, the project will be financed by private stock subscriptions.

Deadline Named For Tickets On Tahoka Buses

Antelope fans wishing to go by chartered bus to the Post-Tahoka football game, the last out-of-town game of the season, Friday night, October 24, must buy their bus tickets by Wednesday of next week.

The Antelope Booster Club, which sponsors the chartered buses, must engage the buses by Wednesday and the number of tickets bought will determine the number of buses to be chartered. It is believed that enough tickets will be bought for three buses, which will leave from the local bus station at 7 o'clock the evening of October 24.

Round-trip tickets at $1.10 each may be bought at any time between now and Wednesday, from (Continued On Back Page, Col. 4)

Post Is Like The Nation, Survey Shows

Post's somewhat negative reaction to the President's request for conservation of meat and poultry products compares favorably with reactions reported by New York Times correspondents in other parts of the United States. A few quotations follow:

Boston—"If people are going to eat poultry Tuesdays and meat Thursdays, it is difficult to see how any great saving is effected."

Memphis—"The people are willing to do something . . . but this eggless and meatless plan will be just plain talk, and the people are confused by conflicting reports about Europe's needs."

Atlanta—"Atlantians went about food conservation this week minus any great enthusiasm, with poultryless, Thursday proving the most economical."

New Orleans—"The first Tuesday of the President's aid-to-Europe program found a cross-section of meat dealers here reporting sales decreases of 25 to 50 per cent."

Chicago—"The Chicago Restaurant Association . . . announced that its members 'do not want the job of forcing the public to comply' with the President's program."

Portland, Ore—"Stokesmen for the region's booming turkey industry claim people should eat 'extra' birds, not less."

PRESIDENT'S REQUEST NOT WIDELY OBSERVED—

Is Meat From Sunday Roast Permitted In Rotarian's Tuesday Sandwich?

Fifteen people, one after the other, were asked by a Post Dispatch reporter Monday if they are observing Meatless Tuesdays and Poultryless Thursdays as President Truman has requested.

Three said they didn't eat meat more than twice a week and they had no intention of taking their diet farther off balance.

Three gave a quick YES as their answer.

Four gave a quick NO.

Three said they would observe it if the boarding house where they ate observed it. The boarding house manager said YES.

Two said they hadn't given it a thought.

Then three grocers were questioned. None had observed a decrease of meat or poultry sales on Tuesday, Thursday or any other day of the week.

One cafe was questioned. The manager had thought it over and decided it would be too difficult to observe to the letter.

What They Think

Some of the individual remarks:

"Yes we will observe meatless Tuesdays because we'd be embarrassed if my husband were the only man at Rotary eating a meat sandwich; but we will not observe poultryless Thursdays because we buy our poultry products every week from a woman who would accumulate so much she would have to feed them to the hogs if her customers let up and this wouldn't help Europe." "We will observe meatless Tuesday in the home, but I expect to take a meat sandwich to the Rotary club because I can't bear any other kind of a sandwich. You can quote me as saying, however, that the meat will be left over from a Sunday roast."

Afraid Of Prices "We're liable to observe a meatless and poultryless day every day if the price of the stuff keeps going up."

"I'd think Europe will get along a lot better if the people over there would start working six days a week."

"Oh, I suppose I will if everybody else does."

"I think they ought to quit paying these farmers not to raise stuff and go ahead and raise it and ship it to 'em."

"I doubt if the people who need my meat and poultry will be able to pay the black market price that will be asked for them."

New Texas Law Effects Vendors

Because of the increased traffic in Post resulting from the harvest season, the City Commission is calling attention to Section 1 of Senate Bill No. 125 passed by the Texas Legislature in 1947, which reads as follows:

"Incorporated cities and towns in the State of Texas shall have the power and authority to grant the use of a portion of the streets and sidewalks of such cities and towns for private purposes, for such consideration and upon such terms as they may prescribe; provided such use shall not interfere with the public use of such streets and sidewalks, or create any hazardous or dangerous condition thereon."

Under this law, it would be illegal for vendors of fruit and other items to sell their wares from vehicles parked in the mid-section of Main Street in instances where sales would interfere with traffic and result in a hazardous condition.

It is almost impossible, the commissioners believe, for vendors to transact business from the mid-section parkways of Main Street without causing a traffic hazard. Therefore, all vendors are asked to arrange to park vehicles, from which merchandise is to be sold, on the vacant lots (Continued On Back Page, Col. 4)

VFW Auxiliary Plans Another Rummage Sale

The Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars made $31 from the rummage sale sponsored in downtown Post last Saturday. Mrs. A. W. Owen, a member reported.

The organization will sponsor another sale Saturday, October 25, in the same location, next door to the Short Hardware Store. Donations will be accepted and called for, if donors of used clothing articles will telephone 296-W or 274-J, Mrs. Owen said.

Proceeds from the sales will be added to the auxiliary's relief fund for needy veterans and families in Post.

Mrs. John Rogers, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Lefty Davies and Mrs. Owen mended and pressed all articles before last Saturday's sale. The sale was conducted by Mesdames Rogers, Miller, Owen, Pat Henderson, Jack Henderson, Clovis Tucker and Jessie Julian.

An 8 pound son was born on October 11 at 3:00 a. m. to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rogers.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard are announcing the arrival of an 8 pound daughter, born October 3.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Lindsey are parents of an eight pound girl born on Tuesday night, October 14.

Swimming Pool Is Promised For Camp Post

"There will be water well and swimming pool in the near future at Camp Post, or else."

The promise was made in the above definite words by W. R. (Bill) Postma, South Plains Boy Scout Council executive, at a meeting of Llano District Boy Scout leaders Tuesday night at the American Legion Hall.

Postma, who was assigned to the South Plains Council only a few months ago, said that minutes of council meetings since 1941 showed that the swimming pool project for Camp Post had been voted on and passed 14 times.

Something definite, regarding the starting of the project, will be decided on at a council meeting in Lubbock, October 27, Postma promised.

Postma was accompanied to the district meeting by Jack Johnson, Boy Scout field representative, of Lubbock. They discussed with James Minor, Llano District chairman, and other leaders present a district reorganization which would set up an eight or nine-man Boy Scout Board for each town. The boards, which will be elected, will be responsible for keeping a lively Boy Scout movement going throughout the district.

Financial drives for the various counties of the district also were discussed. Minor said a meeting would be called in the near future to plan details of the Garza County drive. Key towns of the district are Tahoka, Post, Slaton, Wilson, Grassland and Southland.

His parents, Supt. and Mrs. C. S. Lindsey of Southland, left Sunday for Quitman.

HARLEY SADLER'S TENT SHOW HERE FOR 3 DAYS

Representatives of the Harley Sadler Tent Theatre arrived here Wednesday afternoon and began setting up equipment on lots near the county court house for the show, which opens tonight and runs through Saturday.

The opening play, with Mr. Sadler playing the Tobey role, will be "The Girl Next Door." Doors will open at 7:15 tonight, and the curtain for the first act will rise at 8:15 o'clock.

The show is here under auspices of the Post Volunteer Fire Department.

Rogene Wall and Bud Short Win First Places In Contest

The response to the Fire Prevention Poster Contest, sponsored by the Post Volunteer Fire Department in the high and grade schools, was overwhelming, according to Fire Chief Homer McCrary.

Picking the six winning posters for cash prizes was extremely difficult because of the large number of entries and the good ideas cleverly expressed in each. Winners of cash awards ranged from Richard Williams, a first grader who won $3 for second place in the grade school competition, to Bud Short, a senior who won $5 for first place in the high school division.

Other winners were: Grade school—First, Rogene Wall, fifth grade, $5; third, Lester Purry, sixth grade, $2; high school—

Second, Billie Parrish, Junior, $3, and third, Robert Baker, Junior, $2.

The winning posters and many of the runnersup in both divisions have been on display since Monday in the Bryant-Link Company window.

"As far as we know, this is the first time such a contest has been sponsored here. We will repeat it next year, and have uniform size posters," McCrary said.

Some Wrote Themes All school students were assigned to make a poster or write a theme with fire prevention as the subject.

Jean Cato, a seventh grader and daughter of Mrs. W. F. Cato, wrote what was considered the best theme written in the grade

PTA Announces Annual Carnival

The Post schools are abuzz with plans for the annual Halloween Carnival to be sponsored by the Post Elementary-High Parent-Teacher Association on the football field the night of October 31. In event of inclement weather, the affair will be held in the high school gymnasium.

Each class is electing a queen candidate for the coronation, which is always a highlight of the carnival. The names of the candidates probably will be announced next week, Mrs. Bill J. Davis, reporter for the association, said yesterday.

Details of the carnival were decided upon at a meeting of the association at the high school October 9 after Mrs. Raymond Reidman, finance chairman, reported the plans. Class booths were planned as follows:

Cake walk, first grades; grab bag, second grade; coronation, third grade; darts and confetti, fourth grade; fishing, Grade 5-1; "Ride a Pony," Grade 5-2; shooting gallery, Grade 6-1; "house of horrors," Grade 6-2; "Seven Wonders of the World," Grade 7-1, and "Men Only," Grade 7-2.

Proceeds from the school carnival finance parent-teacher projects throughout the year. A portion of the money goes for books for the school library, among other things, and a portion of it is used by each grade for special projects. Mrs. Tom Bouchier, president, said this week.

The association also launched a membership drive which coincided with Parent-Teacher Membership (Continued On Back Page, Col. 4)

Five Are Injured In Lubbock Blast

At least five persons were reported injured, three of them seriously, shortly after 8 p. m. yesterday (Wednesday) in a terrific explosion which destroyed a produce house in the southeast business section of Lubbock. Late last night rescue crews were still digging for others feared trapped in the rubble.

The building was destroyed, reports reaching here said, and some of the victims suffered severe burns.

Four men and a small girl were carried to hospitals and ambulances were standing by.

The blast was believed caused by stored butane gas.

Palbearers were Clay Johnston, George Bahlman, Ross Doolsey, John East and Albert Smallwood.

WATER COMPANY IS ROBBED OF SAFE

A safe containing an undetermined amount of cash and checks was stolen from the Community Public Service Company building last Friday night. Sheriff Nathan Mears is being assisted by officers from Lubbock in investigating the case. By press time, no clues had been reported.

Allen R. Carr, local manager of the company, said the building apparently was entered through a back window and the safe was removed through a back door that had been prized open from the inside and loaded onto a vehicle in the alley. A company auditor is here this week helping to determine the amount of the loss.

The Ben L. Thomases, en route to what was to be their home in Anchorage, Alaska, were visiting Ben L.'s brother-in-law and sister, the Red Floyds, in Los Angeles, Calif., when they received information by telegram that Mrs. Thomas' parents had sold their home in Anchorage and were returning to their former home in South Dakota. The Floyds were preparing to return to West Texas to live, so the Thomases came home with them. The two couples arrived at the Tol Thomas home Sunday and Ben L. has already gone to work in the local oil field. The Floyds were undecided as to whether they would live here or in Lubbock by press time.

Mrs. R. E. Dorn of House, N. is visiting in the home of her brother, Cecil Osborne, where her mother, Mrs. J. T. Sybert, is seriously ill. Other children who have visited Mrs. Sybert recently were her sons, W. O. Anderson of Temple, Okla., and W. W. Anderson of Plainview and a stepson, Earl Sybert, and family of Earth. She also was visited recently by several grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Burrow, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Caves, all of Muleshoe. The Rev. M. E. Robinson and wife of Muleshoe also were guests in the Osborne home.

HERE'S HOW TO AVOID THAT 'LETDOWN' LOOK

Mrs. Jewell H. Strasner, Garza County home demonstration agent, has some good ideas as to how to lengthen a skirt without "that telltale, letdown look." She says:

"If it's a wool skirt with shiny fabric on the underside of the hem, rip the hem and steam press it on the wrong side of the fabric; that is, if the wool is light weight or has a raised pattern in the weave. If it is thick wool, press on the right side.

In steam pressing, cover the fabric with a dry wool press cloth, then with a cotton cloth dampened in warm water. Use a warm iron, but set it down, then lift it. Never slide it back and forth.

If the shine still shows, take a clean brush or a rubber sponge and try raising the nap of the wool with it.

Stubborn creases can often be erased by wetting the crease on the wrong side, then turning the goods on the right side and rolling the crease back and forth with one's finger, then pressing on the wrong side.

Dunlap's

LUBBOCK, TEXAS

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Business Cycles Go Back To Pharaoh's OPA Days

Eureka, Kans.—Yes, farmers are now making big profits. The farmers net income skyrocketed from 15 billion dollars in 1945 to 18 billion dollars last year. It will be over 20 billion dollars this year despite a poor corn crop. This compares with a prewar income of 12 billion dollars or less.

But farmers are not bidding up land values and borrowing money as they did during World War I. Instead, they are using their profits to pay off mortgages, improve the farm and its buildings and build up bank accounts. Farmers' bank deposits and government bond purchases last year are said to have been about 20 million dollars. Moreover, the installation of electricity, telephones and bathrooms has increased 100 per cent since World War I.

This makes farming one of the "over 100 billion dollar" industries when the land, livestock, machinery, crops and other investments are considered. This prosperity is most evident when one travels through the country—as I have the past three weeks—and sees how well the houses are painted; the fine automobiles being driven and the farmers' ability to send their boys and girls to college.

Should Prices Be Criticized?

Farmers are entitled to every cent they are making today. The farmers' profits should be judged by an annual average over a business cycle of 20 years. When their profits are figured in this way, farming is the poorest paid industry in the world. Over a term of years the farmer works harder for a dollar than any other class of people. For city people to complain about present "high" food prices is a crime. This especially applies to white-collar and union labor which works only 40 hours a week in air-cooled plants in summer, and well-heated rooms in winter, all with modern lighting and conveniences.

Business Cycles

Food prices are high today compared with prewar prices although not as high as wages; but again I say they should be judged by their twenty year average. They will soon enough be low again.

Regular readers of my column know how I urged the purchase of a farm in the 1930's. I told you almost every month that a small farm is the best hedge against inflation along with Religion, Health and Children. Now that farms are double in value and farmers are having the best of steaks, eggs, milk and vegetables "free"—you wish you then had taken my advice!

But if you then did not do this, it is better now to wait until the next slump comes. Now is the time to store up money with which to buy a farm later. Keep in mind the business cycle which has always operated since the days of Pharaoh in Egypt when Joseph was in charge of their OPA.

Inflation And Deflation

It is true that farmers profit from inflation because their costs are pretty much fixed. Although they need to pay more for help and machinery during good times yet if the farm is paid for, their chief interest is in the rain, sun and weather which treats everyone alike at all times. Hence, any increase in the price of farm products during inflation is largely profit.

When, however, deflation comes, the farmer suffers most because he can do very little to lower his costs. As unemployment hits the cities, the workers there have less to spend upon meat; then the price of livestock quickly falls; less grain is fed to cattle, hogs, chickens, etc.; and this also knocks down the price of corn, hogs and everything else.

In the meantime the only solution is for all of us to re-examine our buying and living habits to see where we can reduce waste, especially in the case of food. Those who have been consuming carelessly should set an example for a wiser use of our scarce resources and goods during this period, when many people find it increasingly difficult to purchase what they really need.

GETTING OUT

On The LIMB

By

EDDIE the EDITOR

My operative up in the Panhandle tells me that Kenneth Hogue, who writes a column named "My Akin' Back" for the Dalhart Texan is almost as good as Gene Howe at getting his readers to bring him cakes, pies, etc.

He made an open bid to the pie bakers of Dalhart to bring him samples. Here is what he says:

"Last week proved to be a vary profitable week for "My Akin' Back." Profitable in that I received a piping hot apple pie and a loaf of honest to goodness home baked bread. Josephine Montova touched a very vital spot with her delicious apple pie. . . ."

All I got, after bragging on a couple of young culinary experts and giving out with my famous fudge recipe, was a challenge from my good neighbor, Raymond Redman, who offered to match me any day on candy making. He gave me some recipes for coffee black walnut fudge drops, maple fudge and caramel fudge and I think he expects me to print them in this column.

Well, he is wrong; that is, unless he makes some coffee black walnut fudge drops, etc., and brings me some samples.

The Post Dispatch is hobbling along with both arms and one leg in a cast, since the Girl Friday, Ganell Babb, went to the Lubbock Memorial Hospital for an operation last week.

We can do without any department better than the one Ganell takes care of: Subscriptions, addressing and mailing the papers, stenographic work, book-keeping, collections, personal shopping for me, writing the church and "Guys and Gals" columns and odd jobs too numerous to list.

It would take at least two ordinary employes working overtime to take her place, and so please be patient with us if we get your subscriptions, bills, etc., all fowled up during the next few weeks.

Through a lot of effort on the part of several Post folk, two little boys, 11 and 12 years old respectively, have gone to the Boys Ranch in Amarillo instead of the alternative, the state training school at Gatesville.

Boys Ranch is financed by people of the Texas Panhandle for orphans, children from broken homes and certain other little boys who prove to be misfits in their communities to the extent of being trouble-makers.

They have a long waiting list of boys from the area served by the ranch, and it wasn't easy to get the Post boys in.

They were accepted on the condition—and this is as it should be—that Garza County folk kick in a total of $30 a month for their tuition.

If 60 people will contribute 50 cents a month, this sum can be met. Fifty cents a month would amount to $6 a year, which could be paid in a single check for convenience both to the donors and the committee for collections.

Some group in Post will be selected to attend to this matter; that is, collecting the money and sending the check each month to Boys Ranch, but it may be several weeks before this group is selected.

In fact, the first group—either church, civic, social or whatever—offering to take on the job will get it, if they provide proof of their sincerity.

Meanwhile, the collection must get under way. If those wishing to contribute 50 cents

By EVELYN BOYD

Some guy named Amos wrote letter to his dead war buddy in the Pasadena Times last month. It was reprinted in the Liberty Vindicator, and I have picked it up for reproduction here, because Amos really had something to say, for times like these. Here he goes:

Dear Joe: Some people will say it's crazy, writing a letter to a dead man. Maybe so. But these are things that concern you alone, because you are the fellow who got killed.

Here it is September again. That's the month you got it in the raid on that little electric power station in Belgium. Sitting here in 1947, five years and 3,000 miles away, that seems like an insignificant target, and I wonder how much it helped to win the war; but I know that on that day it was the most important target of the whole war as far as you were concerned. And that's why you kept going on one engine so you could drop your bombs. You know, of course, that one-engine business got you. You were a sitting duck for the fighter that came in and blew you to bits.

But, if it's any consolation, your bombs hit right where the old man told you to drop them in the briefing. You did your job.

I always have remembered what you said the night before when we were talking in the barracks. If you were here you probably would cuss me out for saying this, but you were noble. "Some of us are going to have to die in this business," you said "but it will be worth it if it will help straighten out the mess the world has gotten itself into. If I get mine, that's what I'll be thinking about as I go, if I have time."

As I read the papers this morning I was thinking about what you said that night. Things are not very much like what we thought they'd be. It's a race. Countless thousands of people still can't find a decent place or more a month will mail their checks (for the year, preferably) to P. O. Box 944, the money will be banked in a local Boys Ranch account and the first $30 check can be sent immediately to Boys Ranch.

P. O. Box 944 belongs to the Post Chamber of Commerce, which has consented to handle the mail collections until a sponsoring organization takes over.

I know there will be no delay in raising the money, because everybody who is human knows that 50 cents a month is a worthy, painless investment in clean, healthy, noble boyhood—eventual manhood and good citizenship.

THE WOMEN: God love 'em—you never realize how the human voice can change until a woman quits scolding her husband and answers her phone.

to live. There is a lot of unrest and bickering. The communists are working like beavers—and, I suspect, making some headway—and prices of the things you have to buy every day have gone out of sight. Some of them are twice as high as they were when we went into the Army back in 1941.

There is lots of talk of another big depression, already people are speaking about "the next war" just as if it was scheduled like a football game. The Russians, this time. There's been a lot of fighting in Greece and Palestine and India, and Europe generally is in a mess and still living off old Uncle Sugar. So you will see that the beautiful world we talked about, and you died for—with peace and plenty for everybody—hasn't come to pass.

This isn't a very intelligible letter, because things keep popping in my mind. Patriotism, for instance. I remember standing retreat one day with you soon after we went into training, with the bugle's clear notes sounding over the field and the flag coming down against a sunset background, and a thousand men standing reverently without a movement among them. And when it was over you said to me, "I love my country and my flag so much it makes me want to cry."

Last week I went to a luncheon that started off with the Star Spangled Banner. You never saw anything like it, Joe. People kept right on talking and some of them were walking around the room. There wasn't much reverence there. Nothing like what you felt, anyhow.

That's where I saw your old man. He was smoking a cigar and he puffed right on through the National Anthem. He had been on a committee on veterans housing but he resigned. "Too busy," he said. "I got to make my dough while I can."

There was a lot of talk at that table about making money and some of that depression talk, too, about things getting tougher. And right in the middle of it some bright joker said: "Maybe what we need is another good war." And then everybody laughed, like it was funny.

I couldn't help but wonder what you would have said if you had been there. I wish you could rise up from that miserable little grave of yours in Belgium and come on over. I would like to know what you would think of things now. I've got a pretty good idea.

Well, as the saying goes, I'll be seeing you. Amos.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

HELP A SCOUT—An official of Hockley county—one who is in position to observe delinquencies of both the older and younger generations—stated at a public meeting that if youths were trained in the right direction the population of State correctional institutions would be much less than it is now.

The Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs are designed to meet the need ascribed by the county official. We believe—as we have stated before—that a boy or girl instilled with the traditions of Scouting will never be an inmate of a jail.

Too, instructions in arts and handicrafts given by the Scout organizations will be helpful when our youths grow up and must earn their way. The teachings of Scoutcraft are supplementary to teachings of our schools.

Boys . . . and girls . . . who learn to be "Physically Strong, Mentally Awake and Morally Straight" will make better citizens . . . of that there is no doubt because of the thousands of ex-Scouts now carrying their share of the load in every walk of life. —The Hockley County Herald.

GOOD HANDICAPS—the Veterans Administration is trying to place as many physically handicapped veterans on jobs as possible. These men, who are trained by VA for jobs they can do, have proven beyond question that they can do that particular job equally as well as the non-handicapped, and on an average, there is much less absenteeism and accidents. Some large firms in Dallas have as high as 5 per cent or more of these men on the job, and they declare that they are more than pleased with them. These men certainly deserve a job. They don't want charity or even sympathy. They want jobs they can do, and they'll earn their own way.—Terry County Herald.

YOUTH CENTER CLOSES—Due to lack of interest shown by the citizens of Tahoka, the Youth Center was closed several weeks ago and it has been decided that the center will be closed permanently.

The parents and citizens as a whole have not shown enough interest in their children's welfare and amusements outside of the home to keep the best thing that has ever been done for the youth of Tahoka going, according to the expressed opinion of some, so no other alternative than to close the Youth Center could be made, and now it will be closed for ever. Peanut Quotas To Be Voted On In Referendum

Peanut growers will vote on peanut marketing quotas for the 1948, 1949 and 1950 crops at a referendum to be held Tuesday, December 9, 1947. This date has just been officially announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Will Wright, chairman of the Garza County ACA Committee.

Persons eligible to vote in the referendum will be those who share in a 1947 peanut crop that was picked or threshed, if the crop amounted to more than one acre of peanuts. Lists of eligible voters are being prepared from information furnished by peanut growers to the County Committee.

Acres allotments will be established for all farms in Garza County on which more than one acre of peanuts were picked or threshed during the years 1945, 1946 and 1947. These allotments will be based on the average acreage produced on each farm and will serve as a guide in securing a reduction of approximately 25 per cent in the peanut acreage produced annually in this country.

Marketing quotas for peanuts of the 1948 crop were officially proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture last July. Peanut growers themselves will decide by their votes whether the quotas will be in effect. If two-thirds or more of the peanut growers favor marketing quotas, they will be in effect for the next three years unless the Secretary of Agriculture determines later that the supply situation will justify termination of the quotas. The results of the referendum also will determine whether there will be a price-support program for edible peanuts in operation for next year's crop.

All peanut producers of the county are urged to take part in this referendum, as the price-support question is one that affects every peanut grower. The A.C.A. Committee will furnish as complete information as it can get to peanut growers on the peanut supply and price situation. The committee also will make public announcement of the voting places and hours before the referendum. The cooperation of all peanut growers in getting out a large vote on the day of the referendum will be helpful to the growers, Wright believes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Dye and their little daughter, Delores, left Tuesday night for Dallas where Delores was to enter a hospital.

H. B. Guilford, state migratory labor assistant from the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, was here Tuesday conferring with County Agricultural Agent D. F. Eaton. He will remain in West Texas until the end of the cotton picking season.

Five new pupils were enrolled in the Post Grade School Monday. Six were enrolled the preceding Monday, and five pupils withdrew from the school on Friday, Principal E. E. Pierce said.

Across the Tracks

As readers of this column (if any) will recall, we have long deplored the fact that Post is without public recreational facilities of any kind. Therefore the rumor that plans were being made to resurrect old Two Draw Lake came as tidings of great joy to us. Having practically grown from the tadpole stage in and around the lake, we have a particularly soft spot in our heart for the old place where we learned to swim (matter of fact, we learned a lot of things at Two Draw.)

As we understand it tentative plans are for a crackerjack layout, including a clubhouse, golf course, and picnic grounds. How such a project is to be financed, we have yet to learn, but we feel that, whatever the cost will be, Post will be more than repaid in having a public park that we can be justly proud of. Bear in mind also that such a place will be a source of revenue that can be expected to eventually pay itself out, besides bringing additional business to the town. (Being on the corner nearest Two Draw, we could be accused of being a wee bit selfish in this respect.)

Anyhow, Orchids to Dr. Kahler, Sherrill Boyd, Paul Jones, et al, for instigating this project. We hope they will receive the support of the entire County.

Sincerely,

Post Antelopes Clip Wings Of O'Donnell Eagles By 26 Points

By HANSFORD HUDMAN
Booster Club Sports Writer

After suffering a minor setback at the hands of the Snyder Tigers two weeks ago, Coach Bing Bingham's hard-running Antelopes headed back up victory trail Friday night by clipping the wings of the O'Donnell Eagles, 26-0.

After a brief show of power in the first and second periods, the Eagles fell before the running and passing attack of the Bingham men, who scored in the second, third and fourth stanzas.

After a scoreless first period, the Eagles drove to the Antelope 10, but were unable to count and the locals took over with their backs to the wall. Scatback Stanley Bengie circled the O'Donnell right end and rambled rapidly up-field for 38 yards to bring the Antelopes out of danger and set the stage for a scoring drive. Three plays later Co-Capt. Hester heaved a long aerial to Bob Johnson for 40 yards and a touchdown. Hugh Ingram kicked the extra point. Early in the third period Post drove downfield to the O'Donnell two-yard line where Kay Kirkpatrick plunged through for a counter. On the try for point, Ingram picked up a bad pass from center and attempted to run the ball but was nailed.

Minutes later in the third, the Antelopes recovered an Eagle fumble and Hester again tossed to Johnson for 35 yards and a score. Ingram's try for point as blocked.

O'Donnell came back fighting, with Eagle's Larrin Davis socking the Antelope line for some nice yardage, but their drive bogged down and once more the locals took over and headed for pay dirt.

The fourth quarter saw some beautiful broken field running when Hester faded to pass and, unable to find a receiver, sacked the pigskin and stormed downfield for 25 yards, shaking off tackler after Eagle tackler to reach the O'Donnell eight. Quarterback Pleasant Hill cracked the O'Donnell line for eight yards and the final touchdown. Ingram kicked the extra point.

"I was well satisfied," said Coach Bingham. "Our blocking was a little ragged, but the boys did a good defensive job. I was especially pleased with Stanley Bengie in the backfield and Bob Johnson at end. Buddy Hays looked good at center and Maurice Stelzer did a bang-up good job at the tackle slot."

Since returning, she learned that Cora Gables, Fla., where her daughter, Mrs. Ike Macy, and family live, was in the path of last week's hurricane and that none of her relatives nor their home were injured or badly damaged. Game Warden Force Doubled

Breaking the game laws during this deer season is going to be hard if the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission's wishes are carried out. The Associated Press reported yesterday that the commission voted Tuesday to double the number of special wardens hired during deer season—jumping it from last year's 15 to 30.

Executive Secretary Howard Dodgen told the commission that hunting law violations increased in direct proportion to the number of hunters, and record numbers of hunters were expected this year.

JAMES MINOR HELPS TO PLAN NATIONAL GUARD RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

Lt. Col. James Minor, commanding officer of the Second Battalion, 142nd Infantry, 36th Division, of the Texas National Guard met at the Lubbock Army Air Field Monday with three regular army officers to discuss a recruiting campaign for the companies in Colonel Minor's Battalion.

The campaign is part of a statewide drive to bring the National Guard to full strength. It will include publicity designed to familiarize civilians with the need for and advantages of the National Guard and show the advantages of having a National Guard unit in a city.

Three of Colonel Minor's five companies are full organized and have been recognized for federal subsistence, he said yesterday. All five companies are in the Panhandle Area.

Lt. Col. Pete Green, regular army officer stationed in Abilene to instruct National Guard officers of this area, arrived here yesterday and spent the night in the home of Col. and Mrs. Minor. He and Minor were the two 36th Division officers selected to fly home from Europe in a plane with General Patton for a celebration honoring heroes in San Antonio.

UNDEFEATED BAYLOR TO MEET T FORMATION FOR FIRST TIME SATURDAY

Baylor's undefeated, untied, and unpredictable Bears are traveling to Lubbock today where they will face the Texas Tech Red Raiders, fresh from a 14-7 victory over the Tulsa Hurricanes, on Saturday.

The Bears came out of the Arkansas contest in good physical condition. Some members of the squad are bruised up and have pulled muscles, but all are expected to be ready by game time.

The contest will mark the first time this year that the Bears have played against the T formation, whereas the Raiders have played three games against the formation. This may be a decided difference in the defensive performance which the Bruins have stacked up to date.

Approximately 40 men and the coaching staff left Waco by train today, and will workout on the Tech field Friday afternoon.

Antelope B's To Meet B's From Lubbock

Tomorrow night's football game will begin here at 8:15 o'clock, later than usual, because of the First Methodist revival service which will be over at 8 o'clock.

The Post Antelopes second string will go in as starters against the Lubbock B team which has chalked up five wins in as many encounters. The local first stringers will observe most of the game from the benches, as far as is practical, saving their strength for the decisive conference match with Tahoka the following week. Coach Bing Bingham says he doesn't want to risk any unnecessary injuries before the Tahoka game.

The Antelopes had hard workouts Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and are in excellent shape to meet the Lubbock team, despite several cases of influenza that have been dogging the Antelopes. George Hester, Stanley Bengie, Harold Reno and Billy Holly have been on the sick list. Holly will be in condition to play tomorrow night.

A halfback named Young has been the high scoring hero of Lubbock's five winning games to date.

Bingham indicated that tomorrow night's starters will be:

Billy Holly, center; Buddy Hays and Carter White, guards; George Pierce and Bobby Maxey, tackles; Maurice Fluitt and Charles McGuire, ends; R. E. Josey, quarterback; Charles King and Kay Kirkpatrick, halfbacks, and Ronnie Bouchier, fullback.

SOUTHLAND WINS FROM PETTIT, 25-6, FRIDAY

Coach Green's Southland six-man football team rolled to a 25-6 triumph over Pettit at Southland Friday afternoon in a conference game. It was Southland's third game and second victory of the season.

J. Martin Basinger and Harold Hampton scored two touchdowns each and Gene Anderson converted after one touchdown to add the extra point.

Pettit's lone tally was made by J. T. McIntruree.

Southland will meet Whiteface at Whiteface tomorrow.

Don Skinner Married In Abilene, Oct. 1

Ruth Brittain Pauley and Don Skinner were married on Oct. 1, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. W. Brittain, Abilene.

Skinner is well known in the city as principal of elementary and high school since 1938 until he joined the Air Corps in 1942. He was discharged from the service in 1945, and returned to Abilene as principal of the school until August, 1946. He is associated with the city administration and is a member of the Hardin-Simmons Club.

Skinner and her three and one-half year old son, David, were at home with her mother after their recent marriage.

Skinner came to Lubbock on a business trip. Mr. Skinner visited his mother while in Lubbock.

Mansel Richardson, Jr., and his daughter, Hilda Elaine, were married Sunday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Wesley W. Stephens, Abilene. Her sister, Mrs. Lucille and her daughter, Sonja Sue.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the review.

And be ye kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Ephesians 4:32.

Minute Prayer
Our most merciful Father, we have wandered away from the path of righteousness. We have followed, to our sorrow our sinful desires. We have sinned against Thy Holy Laws. We have left undone many things which we should have done. Have mercy upon us, O'God, according to Thy loving kindness have mercy upon us. Amen.

National Bible Week begins Monday and runs through October 26.

A free lecture on Christian Science will be given by John S. Sammons, C. S., of Chicago at 1910 Twenty-Fourth Street in Snyder at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, October 21. The subject will be "Christian Science: A Religion of Works."

Mr. Sammons is a member of the board of lecturership of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The public is invited to attend.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church has been enjoying immensely the study book, "Portrait of a Pilgrim," which is a search for the Christian way in race relations. The course, which is almost finished, is being taught by Mrs. T. L. Jones.

The First Methodist Revival, which continues to make progress, will continue through Sunday night. The evening services, except for the Memorial Service tomorrow night, begin at 7:30 o'clock. The Memorial Service, which will be dedicated to the veterans of both world wars, will begin at 7 o'clock and be concluded in time for the Post-Lubbock football game, the Rev. A. B. Cockrell pastor, said yesterday.

Dr. Frank L. Turner, Fort Worth evangelist, is conducting the revival services. Tonight's service will be a special Men's Night program, dedicated to the manhood of the community.

The Friday morning service will begin at 10 o'clock.

A Ladies Class is being organized at the Church of Christ this afternoon.

Some people who get to church 15 minutes late, insist on getting out on time.

Laymen's week begins Sunday, October 19, and continues through the 22nd. Post churches are indeed fortunate in having so many active laymen. To list a few would only call to mind that there were many others just as worthy of recognition.

We suggest that you make your own list of laymen in your church and give them encouragement in their work.

Young people of the Church of Christ congregation have been invited to be guests of the Abilene Christian College Church of Christ on Tuesday, November 4.

The program will include dinner at 5 p. m., a religious program at 7:30 o'clock, and a social gathering at the conclusion of the religious hour.

Paul Mayr, pastor of the local church, is planning to take a group of young people to Abilene for the occasion.

Biblical Personality
The story of David is legend and too long and interesting to be summarized in this small space. We refer you to the book of Ruth for his ancestry, the books of Samuel for the story of his life and to the second chapter of First Kings for the story of his death.

The youngest of Jesse's many sons, David was chosen as a king by God when he was a boy shepherd. He—as God knew he would—had the attributes of a successful king and he reigned over Israel for 40 years—for seven in Hebron and 33 years in Jerusalem.

Yet he—like his counterparts in today's Christian world—was susceptible to sin, and to punishment that God metes out to sinners.

After he was forgiven by God, he and his Master had an understanding that is unparalleled in the Bible. For an example of this, read Psalm 139.

New York Meet Is Club Topic

Highlights of the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention and official tours in New York City last summer were cleverly described by Mrs. T. L. Jones at a meeting of the Junior Culture Club the night of October 7 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Ramsey. Hostesses were Mrs. Ramsey's daughter, Mrs. Juanita Burres, and Fern Jones.

Mrs. Jones, a guest of the club, attended the convention as a delegate from the Woman's Culture Club.

After the talk, the hostesses served a delicious salad course. The house was decorated with marigolds, small chrysanthemums and other fall flowers.

Members present included Thelma Clark, Elizabeth Clark, Inez Hartell, Lorene Cash, Jo Tracy, Doris Eaton, Reba Land, Sue Cornell, Skeeter Justice, Wilma Pirtle and the hostesses.

Jo Tracy will be in charge of the program at the next meeting, October 28, in the home of Doris Eaton. Melba Jo Miller will be co-hostess.

Guys And Gals
—by gay nellie

Had Gay Nellie been here instead of in the hospital, this column would not have reported last week that Alma Outlaw is captain of a basketball team at Baylor. It's a volley ball team that she is serving as captain. Gay Nellie may come home from Lubbock today, and she will be reporting on the guys and gals from her bedroom window for a couple of weeks or so.

Here's something her eagle-eye—and ear—overlooked during the summer: Gwendolyn Holland of Muleshoe, daughter of the R. B. Hollands who used to live here, was married on her 18th birthday, July 2, to Vernon Jernigan of Muleshoe and is as busy as can be learning to be a farmer's helpmate.

Roy Williams has been strutting about this week without the cast he has been wearing since receiving a football injury before school started. He is hoping to play against Tahoka and Slaton.

Jane Ann Turner enrolled in only three subjects in high school this year so she would have time "to play around" but she finds those three subjects keep her busier than five subjects kept her last year.

We learned in Lubbock the other day that Ruth McMinn pledged Ko Shari social club at Texas Tech.

No more examinations for Betty Williams—Lucky gal!—of TSCW in Denton comes a news release stating that Betty was placed on the "B" average list on the basis of her grades. Having a B average entitles a student to exemption from all regulations pertaining to class attendance, with exception of attendance at laboratories, student teaching periods, and college assemblies.

Two hundred and sixty-four girls, approximately 12 per cent of the total enrollment, were included on the list.

Betty is a senior organ student, is a member of the Music Club, Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity, and Agallian club.

Ila Faye Bratcher returned home Saturday from the hospital in Lubbock.

AMIGA SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS NAMES OFFICERS AT MEETING THIS WEEK

The following officers were elected at a business and social meeting of the First Baptist Amiga Sunday School Class Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Kelly Sims:

Teacher, Mrs. Jim Williams; president, Mrs. Pete Kennedy; membership vice president and group captain, Mrs. Raymond Redman; ministerial vice president, Mrs. E. E. Cass; fellowship vice president, Mrs. A. B. Haws, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. O. L. Weakley.

A quiz program was enjoyed during the social hour which followed the business session. While refreshments were served, a "radio" program of sacred songs and poems dedicated to the class was presented by Ed Kelly Sims, Faye Math, Melba Jo Miller and Dub Martin.

Twenty-one members were present.

Green Tomato Chow-Chow

With Jack Frost approaching, and Thanksgiving and Christmas in the offing, it's chow-chow-making time. Mrs. Jewell H. Strasser, Garza County home demonstration agent, offers the following tested recipe for delicious chow-chow:

1 peck green tomatoes, 1-2 dozen large onions, 2 medium heads cabbage, 1 dozen green peppers, 3 sweet red peppers, 3 tablespoons pickling spices tied loosely in bag, 1 cup salt, 4 cups sugar, 1-2 cup horse radish, 1 tablespoon black pepper, 1-3 tablespoon cayenne, 1-2 teaspoon white mustard seed, 1-2 teaspoon celery seed.

Grind tomatoes, onions, cabbage and peppers. Mix in crock and add salt. Let stand overnight. Make dressing of all other ingredients. Add ground vegetables which have been drained. Cover with pure apple cider vinegar and boil 1½ hours. Remove spice bag. Fill jars, seal and process in the water bath 15 minutes.

Jim Anthony arrived home last Thursday on a 30-day leave from the navy.

NEWS NOTES FROM Duck Creek Soil CONSERVATION DISTRICT OFFICE AT POST

Supervisors to Meet At Spur

Supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District will meet in their regular meeting at Spur on October 17. The District Supervisors at their last meeting approved application for assistance in Soil Conservation work on 27,078 acres of land in this part of the District. Farms and ranches included in those whose applications were approved were C. R. Baldwin, 160 acres, Calgary; J. R. Wood, 272 acres, Post; G. N. Smallwood, 156 acres, Post; Mrs. L. A. Barrow, 2,800 acres, Post; G. C. McCrary, 22,101 acres, Post, and Fred R. Robinson, 205 acres, Post.

Soil Conservation plans of T. R. Greenfield and Ralph and Rex Welch were approved.

Soil Conservation Pays

Fred Robinson says the reason his cotton is going to make nearly one half bale per acre, while his neighbors will only make a quarter, is "because my terraces have been there longer. My terraces stored water in the subsoil two years ago. My neighbors' terraces have been built since the drought started and have not had a chance to store water."

Robinson Plans Conservation

Fred Robinson, whose farm is nine miles north of Post, this week, planned a coordinated conservation plan on his farm. He was assisted by technicians assigned to the Duck Creek Soil District. Where there are now 77 acres of land in cultivation there will only be 67 acres when the plan is completed. Ten acres of land that should never have been broken up, according to Mr. Robinson, will be sown in grass next spring. The 67 acres of cultivated land will be terraced and farmed on the contour. A crop rotation of one fourth hairy vetch, cover crop, each year will be changed over the field with feed crops and cotton.

Farm Pond to be Protected

Robinsons farm pond that catches more than 160 acres of overhead water will have the spillway widened to meet District specifications. Soil Conservation Service Engineers will figure the necessary width of the spillway to carry the amount of water expected from such large drainage area. Siltling in of the pond is also a serious problem. A seven acre field that lies above the pond will be planted in grass. A diversion terrace will be constructed to empty the field water on to a good cover of native grass where the silt will be deposited.

visited his brother, Olin, and family in Littlefield Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gilliland recently spent three nights with their daughters, Mrs. Dave Draper and Mrs. Joe Childress, and families in Slaton.

Miss Wilma Wheeler of Lubbock spent Sunday with her parents, the H. V. Wheelers.

SLAUGHTER WILDCAT TO TEST FOR ELLENBURGER

The Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 J. B. Slaughter Estate, south Garza County wildcat to 9,000 feet, to try to locate and test the Ellenburger, had reached 5,056 in time by last weekend and was going ahead with rotary tools. The prospector is an old dry hole to 4,506 feet, which has recently been re-entered, to drill ahead to the deep horizon.

Pasture to be Properly Stocked

The development of seed heads on the key grass such as Side Out Grama will be used to indicate how heavy to graze the pasture. Because it takes four hundred pounds of water to produce one pound of Buffalo grass, a good cover of grass letter will be left to help hold rainfall, and give it time to soak in the soil.

Records show that a total of 99 enlisted men and 12 officers named John Paul Jones have served in the Navy since 1885.

owes her husband responsibility of maintaining a home, even when taken out of life's...

First Lady

YES, SIR, in Mother's language she's the "first lady." And Mother had her in mind, as well as Dad, that day she took out a Southwestern Life Insurance policy on her own life. Mother calls it "Wife Insurance;" it's her plan to make sure Dad won't be head-over-heels in debt, if she should be taken away.

You see, she knows about wives who suffered lingering illnesses, and incurred big medical, and hospital, and other bills, and then were taken away. She knows what a struggle the husbands had trying to hold the family together and carry on, because they had no ready cash to pay those bills. She knows about them having to go in and how many, many months it took some of them to get "back on their feet" especially. And since Mother wants Dad to be able to carry on, and to give her little "first lady" all the things they've planned together to give her, Mother has a Southwestern Life Insurance policy on her own life that will give Dad the cash he'd need in such an emergency.

How about your wife? Would you have the ready cash to pay the doctor, the hospital, the druggist—to settle all the bills you'd have to settle, if she were called away? Or would you have to "go in debt?" With Southwestern "Wife Insurance," you can avoid the long, tedious, financial set-back that such misfortune brings. You can have the ready cash when you'll need it most. Now, while she is in good health, take the time to put your wife's plan in effect. Let's talk it over.

Jim Was So Young

As Jim went to get the matches he didn't think what would happen, for he was so young. He got the matches out of the box. He had seen his mother strike matches before and he thought that he could, too. It took him several minutes to strike one, and as the paper basket was close he dropped the lighted match in it. As he thought it was pretty, he picked the burning basket up to take and show his sister.

When he got to the living room, the fire burned his hand. He screamed and dropped the basket. As the basket hit the floor, it turned over and all of the paper fell out and started the rug on fire.

Jim knew where his mother had gone. He ran out the back door because he could open it, and ran to his mother. By this time, Kay had smelled smoke and opened the door to see what was the matter.

When she saw the smoke, she knew that she couldn't get out of the house except through the window. Kay ran to the window, crying because she thought that Jim had burned to death. When she got out of the house, she ran to tell her mother about Jim.

When she saw him in her mother's arms, she was so happy she kept on crying for joy. But the house was so near burned it couldn't be saved.

"Oh, Mother," wept Kay, "I'll never be so careless again in my life."

"And have I learned a lesson!" thought the mother, in her own heart.
