height of the vacation season, many members were out of town and others were working. The drum major is Frances Benson. A complete list of the band members will be published after opening of school. The band was organized last spring under the

Steel For New Theatre Is Now On Building Site

Construction of the New Texas theatre which is to be built here on property purchased several years ago by Theatre Enterprises, Inc., owners of the Garza theatre, is expected to get under way within a short time.

The new theatre, which will seat approximately 900 persons, has been drafted on paper for more than a year but circumstances have prevented its erection. After several applications to erect the structure were turned down by the Civilian Production Administration, the owners of the property decided to wait until all building restrictions were lifted, and since that time have been purchasing materials for its construction. The reinforcement steel for construction of the walls and foundation arrived here last weekend and has been placed on a lot adjoining the site.

Jack M. Corgan, architect, who will oversee construction of the building, informed John Hopkins, manager of the Garza Theatre, by telephone last Saturday that excavation work would get underway within a short time.

When completed this theatre will give the people of Post and Garza County the very latest in theatre construction and facilities.

Consolidation Of Schools Is Asked In New Petitions

Having received properly signed and submitted petitions from the Cross Roads and Barnum Springs Common School Districts and the Post Independent School Districts asking for an election on the proposed consolidation of the three districts, County Judge J. Lee Bowen yesterday ordered the elections for September 25.

Elections were held in the three above mentioned districts and the Hartford Common School District August 21 on the proposed consolidation of the three common school districts with the Post District. It failed because Hartford voters were unanimously against the consolidation.

Details of the September 25 election are contained in the Legal Notice concerning the proposed consolidation published elsewhere in today's paper.

Post Supt. G. R. Day said yesterday that it is not known as yet what arrangements, if any, have been made by the trustees in the Hartford Common School District to school their students. Day was quoted as saying that Post and Garza County schools are beehives of activity this week as final preparations are made for the 1948-49 school year which officially opens Monday.

Registration of high school students in Post began this week. Football boys and basketball girls registered Monday. Seniors and Juniors registered yesterday and Sophomores, Freshmen and Eighth Graders were registering today.

Students from the Cross Roads and Barnum Springs Communities, from which areas petitions have been submitted to the county judge asking for another consolidation election, also are being registered this week.

In the Post grade school, fifth, sixth and seventh grade children were registered yesterday and other grades were registered this morning.

All teachers in the Post Independent School System will meet at the high school at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to organize their activities for the year.

The Post Independent School Board, meeting Monday night, authorized Superintendent Day to open a kindergarten in the grade school building after the completion of the school cafeteria.

The kindergarten, for children whose sixth birthdays come after the legal deadline for the first grade and for five-year-olds, will be held in one of the two rooms now being used as a school lunch headquarters, if enough children are available.

As the school budget does not provide for a kindergarten teacher, tuition will be charged for the purpose of paying the teacher's salary.

The other room, now being used in the lunch headquarters, will be used for a grade school class.

Superintendent Day yesterday announced an incomplete list of local teachers, as follows:

Superintendent, G. R. Day; high school principal, S. D. Strasner; grade school principal, E. E. Pierce; coach, V. F. Bingham; assistant coach, Vernon Ray; bandmaster, Merle Jenkins; high school, Mrs. Pearl Storie, Mrs. Ray N. Smith, Mrs. H. T. Carr, Miss Maud Alice Zorns, Mrs. Lillie McRee, N. E. Big Time Contest Is Scheduled For Roper Jimmy Bird

Jimmy Bird, who is fast becoming a celebrated performer in calf roping circles, will vie for a $4,000 cash prize in a match with Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Frontier Round-Up Arena in Colorado City. The performers will rope 12 calves each.

Jimmy has appeared in a rodeo almost every week this summer and has almost always won the calf roping honors. After Monday, his next big match will be with Scooter Fries of Bandera, 1948 champion Texas high school calf roper, as a feature of the Southwestern Junior Championship Rodeo here September 18.

Ladies Night To Be Held By Lions Club

John Lott demonstrated a voice recording machine as the program feature at the regular Lions Club meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall. Bill Baker presided for the business session.

It was announced that next Tuesday night will be the annual Ladies' Night at the City Hall, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. S. D. Strasner will be in charge of the program.

Uncle Wasn't Quite In Shape To Register Men

Registration of draft-age men in Garza County got under way Monday afternoon amid near-chaotic confusion and without benefit of a permanent Garza County representative on the four-county Selective Service Board No. 88.

No advance information regarding the place and registration personnel was sent to Post, other than the information that L. W. Dalby would serve as the county's representative on the board.

By last weekend, Mr. Dalby saw that he would be unable to serve and by Monday, the first registration day, a representative had not been obtained.

Postmaster Harpid Voss, on Monday morning, referred all prospective registrants who inquired at the postoffice to the court house, where the 1940 registration took place with County Superintendent Dean Robinson as Selective Service chairman.

Nobody at the courthouse had any instructions, and County Judge J. Lee Bowen referred the prospective registrants back to the postmaster who, at least, had received a telegram from Austin in regard to obtaining a Selective Service Representative for Garza County.

Meanwhile the instructions arrived at the postoffice, which could not spare the personnel to handle the registration. Voss talked Dean Robinson into taking the job "just for Monday" and Robinson consented, even though he was snowed under with trying to hire unobtainable school teachers so that the schools can open on schedule next week.

While Voss was at the height of his "sales talk," Judge Bowen received a telephone call from the headquarters of the Selective Service Board in Austin. Robinson was called to the telephone and he heard himself agreeing to help until an official representative could be named.

Outside the office the gloomy prospective registrants were lined up and mumbling something about having to get back to their jobs.

By noon, Robinson had received and read the instructions and 20 25-year-olds were registered that afternoon. Others had gone to other counties or given up until they could find a place to register.

Registration clerks were not to be had on short notice. The (Continued On Back Page Col. 2)

TO THE GARZA COUNTY PEOPLE
 Dear Folks:
 I can find no words that could express the deep appreciation I feel for the confidence you placed in me in nominating me for sheriff, tax assessor-collector or in our second Democratic primary election of Saturday, August 28, 1948, and in return I hold the same confidence in our Garza County people. When elected and the time comes to take over the duties of the office I will not stand alone for I know you will stand by me.
 To realize the depth of my gratitude for your friendship and the confidence you have placed in me you would have to have lived these near 50 years in Garza County and watched the development of our beloved county as I have. It makes me very happy to know that after all these years you can feel that I merit such confidence and it makes me very humble indeed to realize we do not live this life in vain and that what we put into it comes back to us in double measure.
 With my heartfelt thanks, I wish to express also deep appreciation of my wife and our children, Anna, Josephine, Bill, Charlie, Fred and Homer and each member of their families.
 I also wish to state here that I do appreciate the courtesy shown me all through the race by our present sheriff.
 I shall strive hard to prove myself worthy of the confidence placed in me, and may God bless you all.
 Your humble servant and friend,
 Will Cravy.

Fifteen Thousand Cotton Bale Loss Is Seen In County
 A drop of 295,000 bales in South Plains cotton prospects since August 1 was estimated in Lubbock last Saturday by K. N. Clapp, area manager of Anderson, Clayton and Company, Houston cotton merchants. His new forecast of an 807,000-bale crop compared with an August 1 prediction of 1,102,000 bales, the Sunday Avalanche-Journal reported.
 The decline, attributed to heat and lack of moisture, was one of the biggest for any period of comparable length in South Plains cotton history.
 Practically all of the reported damage, Clapp said, has been done to the dryland crops, which comprise about four-fifths of more than 2,000,000 acres in cotton this year. The more than 40,000 acres of irrigated cotton in the 19-county South Plains area is in good condition, he said, and probably will produce about half of the area's total crop.

 The August drought has been so heavily damaging, he explained, because of the light moisture last fall, winter and spring. The dryland crops have had practically no subsoil moisture to carry them through any prolonged period of dry weather. Clapp estimated a 15,000-bale drop in Garza County from his August 1 prediction. According to the Lubbock paper, his earlier prediction estimated a 25,000-bale yield for this county and his August 26 prediction estimated 10,000 bales.
 According to Greek mythology the 100 eyes of Argus were, after her death, put into the tail of the peacock.

No Profits Made From Operation Of Lubbock Fair
 The fact that the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock is strictly a non-profit enterprise was emphasized this week by Charles A. Guy, Lubbock publisher and president of the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association.
 The charter under which the fair operates specifically forbids anyone connected with it to earn a profit, he explained. Every cent of surplus that may be earned over actual operating expenses goes back into improvements for future fairs, he said. Practically all the improvements now on the grounds, including the cattle and livestock this year, have been made possible by receipts from previous fairs.
 The capital stock of the Fair Association, he said, was subscribed by civic-minded business men of Lubbock with full knowledge that they never would get their money back. But they were investing in something which they felt was needed and would be helpful to the whole of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico by encouraging better livestock, improved agriculture and agricultural methods, and for other constructive purposes.
 The budgeting for the 31st annual fair to be held in Lubbock Sept. 27 through Oct. 2 was not figured with the thought of earning any surplus above a reasonable sum for maintenance and for improvements in the fairs of next and succeeding years. The desire constantly is, Guy emphasized, to put just as much of the receipts into premiums and entertainment for visitors as sound financing will permit.

Writing Of New Water Laws Vigorously Opposed By W-T Commerce Chamber

West Texas will vigorously oppose the writing of new water laws, recently proposed at a meeting in Austin, which stand as a threat against municipal and domestic needs for water, it has been announced following a meeting of the Water Resource Commission of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here.

In a declaration of principles the commission went on record in strenuous opposition to that section of the proposed code which provides that all previous appropriations of water shall now be regarded as "vested right of property."

This, it was pointed out by D. A. Bantzen, general manager of WTCC, is wholly in conflict with present laws, which allow a city, town or municipality to recover from other inferior users all water necessary for domestic purposes.

"The new proposal makes worthless our municipalities' present superior rights, and such West Texas waters as are now being used for big industries and rice growers on the Gulf coast can never be recovered for our own use," it was pointed out in the committee's declaration.

The entire WTCC water commission came to Abilene for the meeting. It is composed of Winfield Holbrook, Plainview, chairman; James N. Allison, Midland; W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock; C. E. Coombs, Stamford; and Charles South of Coleman. Homer Hunter, WTCC consulting engineer, also was present.

Is Making Report
The group is making its report to President C. P. Dodson and the executive board, following the proposals recently offered for a revision of the Texas water code, by the Texas Water Conservation Association.

"That part of the proposed surface water code, which gives the present big dams the right to appropriate the ordinary flow, underflow, storm, flood or rain waters in amounts and quantities equal to the holding capacity of such dams' over and above the right to impound water for domestic purposes," is opposed by the group as "in conflict with Article 7472 which gives our municipalities the unquestioned right to recover the unappropriated for inferior uses."

"On our Brazos and Colorado watersheds where appropriations are now nine times as large for hydro-electric power purposes as for domestic and industrial purposes combined, it means that hydro-electric activities must first be carried on before our West Texas communities and cities can have their drinking water."

Proposed Law Attached

The proposed law treating ground water as property of the state also was attacked. "In line with our previously adopted declaration of principles, we recommend opposition to this proposed groundwater code until more facts are available on sources, depletion and replenishment of ground water, and until ground water can be treated from the fundamental principles of the doctrine of correlative rights rather than on a state ownership basis," the group said.

Opposition also was expressed against rewriting the entire water laws of Texas, which would void the WTCC — Wagstaff — Woodward measure which now gives full protection to domestic users. It was pointed out that such revision would mean unnecessary litigation because these provisions already have been construed.

While opposing these several actions, the group went on record as favoring a reorganization of the State Board of Water Engineers, but pointed out that any newly created board should represent the public interest "and be wholly divorced from water use authorities."

Soil Samples Of County Indicate Fertilizer Need

Truett Fry may order a car load of phosphate fertilizer to use under winter legumes. If enough farmers request fertilizer, Fry will place the order in time to use it under a vetch and rye mixture winter cover crops, the Duck Creek Soil Conservation Service announced.

A car load would be from 30 to 50 tons. Soil samples taken on District Soil Conservation cooperators farms and analyzed in the Soil Conservation Service laboratory in Fort Worth indicated a widespread need of phosphate fertilizer on sandy soils.

District cooperators on whose farms soil samples were taken, include W. C. Quisenberry, J. W. McQuien, Giles McCrary and J. C. Eubanks.

The laboratory results showed these soils to be low in phosphate and needing an application of 200 pounds of phosphate fertilizer to meet the requirements of vetch for this plant food.

An application of 350 pounds per acre of 20 per cent superphosphate was recommended as a top dressing on Eubank's alfalfa.

Eubanks made a heavy application of fertilizer last spring after the soil samples were taken. Even under this summer's extreme drouth it could be seen that alfalfa was benefitted from the fertilizer.

Hairy vetch is well adapted to sandy soils when well supplied with phosphate cover crop. A rye-vetch crop that is left on the land improves soil fertility, and increases the water holding ability of the soil.

District cooperators who want to take a step forward in their soil management will do well to place their orders for phosphate fertilizer, the Conservation Service advises.

Airport Is Busy Place These Days

There's something doing at the local airport almost every day now.

Five locally owned airplanes use the hangars and landing field regularly. They belong to Jim Hundley, Clint Herring, John Lott, Jess Wright and Spencer Kirkendoll.

Kirkendoll, who recently bought a new Taylorcraft, has a private pilot's license and is working for a commercial license under the GI Bill at Lubbock.

Oil companies have been using the landing field for some time in bringing personnel to and from Post. On Monday a twin engine Beachcraft landed here and left a geologist and assistant from the Fulwiler Oil Company in San Antonio.

Fertilizers may be bought today for just 30 percent more than before World War I. The farmer gets more for his money, too, as the average plant food per sack ran 21 pounds in 1947 compared to 91.1 pounds for pre-war years.

Prairie Dog Town And Suburbs Lose Fight With Ranch

Many won't remember the afternoon of August 30 as Red Letter Day in town. That is, many prairie dogs won't. The town, with all its suburbs, was about 500 acres of prairie dog town in the corners where the McCrary, Edwards and Beggs Ranches meet.

William Haynes, rodent control specialist with the U. S. Wild Life Service, came from Lubbock at the request of County Agricultural Agent Robert H. Gibson to declare war on the prairie dogs.

Gibson arranged for V. R. Redding, Edwards Ranch foreman, to help. Mike Custer from the PMA Office, and Pete Ottinger and Merle Britton from the Soil Conservation Service went along to learn how to do the job.

Oats treated with a new poison called 10-80 was spread near each prairie dog mound over the entire 500 acres.

The prairie dogs had done severe damage to the pastures. Some of the land was completely bare of vegetation. In these places it looked like the prairie dogs had starved themselves out. Eradication of them were

Antelopes Groom For Ralls Opener Friday, Sept. 10

A large crowd boosted the Antelope morale by attending last Friday night's scrimmage with Crosbyton on the local field. A return scrimmage between the Antelope and Crosbyton boys was held Tuesday night at Crosbyton.

The chief advantage of the inter-school pre-season scrimmages is to condition the new boys for competition before the public and to give the coaches a chance to adjust positions.

There is still quite a bit of changing of positions in progress among the Antelopes and, for this reason, it is too early to announce the starting line-up for the season opener with Ralls Friday night of next week in Ralls. There is quite a bit of good competition for the starting positions, Coach V. F. Bingham said this week.

Forty-eight boys are participating in the morning and evening football work-outs. Beginning September 6, the boys will work out only from 2 until 5 p.m., the coach said.

Mrs. Holly Asks $85,000 In Suit

A suit asking damages of $85,170 was filed in the 51st District Court at San Angelo last week by Mrs. Lee Holly, whose husband was killed in an accident near there March 28.

In a suit styled Betty Joyce Holly, as next friend of a minor child, vs. A. E. Skinner, a Good-fellow Field (San Angelo) army lieutenant, Mrs. Holly alleges that the car in which her husband was riding struck a concrete abutment and then was struck by the car driven by Skinner. The child was unborn at the time.

The plaintiff is represented by Ratliff and Conner of Spur and Scarborough, Yates, Scarborough and Black of Abilene.

Queried by a Post Dispatch reporter regarding the case, Mrs.

Wheeler as presiding Judge.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of this State and of this County and who are resident voters in said Districts shall be entitled to vote at said election, and all voters who favor the proposition to consolidate the said Districts for school purposes shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words:

"FOR CONSOLIDATION"

And those opposed to the proposition to consolidate the said Districts for school purposes shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words:

"AGAINST CONSOLIDATION"

Notice of said Election shall be given by posting three notices thereof in three public places within the boundaries of said District for twenty days prior to the date of said election, or by publishing in some newspaper published in the county for at least 20 days prior to the date on which such elections are ordered.

Dated this first day of September 1948.

Harley Sadler Tent Destroyed By Fire

Longtime Garza County friends of veteran tent showmen, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Sadler of Sweetwater, regretted to hear that fire destroyed their tent and all stage equipment in Littlefield Tuesday.

The blaze was believed to have started from a cigaret dropped by a patron at the opening performance Monday night.

It took only 20 minutes for the "big top" to go up in a puff of smoke, the Associated Press reported. Several hundred chairs were saved by the Littlefield Fire Department.

An official of the show unofficially estimated the loss to be more than $20,000.

Holly showed a letter written by L. D. Ratliff, one of her attorneys, on August 28 to the four men who were riding with her husband at the time of the accident and to her. It said, in part:

"Mr. Scarborough has already filed suit in behalf of Betty Joyce and her daughter, Glenna Lee, and in behalf of (Thomas) Ammons, and he will file the other suits just as soon as he can get the necessary papers prepared."

The other suits mentioned were those to be filed on behalf of Roy Holly, Oles Odum and R. H. Sappington, all of whom, along with Ammons, were seriously injured in the accident. Details of their suits were not available by press time.

GET-ACQUAINTED PARTY

A get-acquainted party will be held at the Graham School Saturday night in the form of an ice cream supper sponsored by the principal and teachers.

The party will be free to all residents of the community. Each family is asked to bring its own ice cream and cake, card table and dominoes.

L. G. Thuett, George Fulton and Lonnie Peel spent Monday and Tuesday in Dallas on business.

Free Food, Drink To Accompany Red River Show Here

Garza County movie fans are eagerly looking forward to seeing "Red River," which is advertised as a western picture for western people, at the Garza Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The box office will open at 1:45 p.m. each day and the show will start at 2 o'clock.

Advance teasers shown here this week and comments from various residents who have seen the picture in Lubbock indicate it is an outstanding film that will be of special interest in West Texas.

GETTING OUT
On The LYMB
By EDDIE the EDITOR

The next time an irate delegation wants me to write about the school system, I'm going to ask how many of them voted in the school consolidation election August 21.

An amazing total of 43 Post residents managed to get over to the City Hall and cast their votes in favor of the consolidation, which would iron out some of our school financial problems. Four of these 43 people, including the Missus and me, don't have any children.

Post has an estimated population of 4,500 residents who will send a record number of children to our overcrowded schools this year and send a steadily increasing number of children to these same schools during the next decade.

It seems to me that since I have been home from the Navy, every parent among these 4,500 people has been to see me wanting me to write something that might result in improved school conditions.

Yet, only 39 of them (not counting us four voters who don't have any children) are willing to do anything about the situation.

Which just goes to show that it's human nature to sit and scream, and we'd rather have something to sit and scream about than to lift a pencil to vote in favor of improvement, in an issue that would result in more income for the schools at no extra cost to the Post people.

This election will be held again, I understand. If the people don't show some interest next time, the Post Independent School Board has every right to quit listening to their squawks and continue to operate the school system as best they can without any assistance to speak of from the parents.

The newspaper can be full of errors, misplaced lines, etc., but the main ones that bring loud-voiced complaints are those in wedding stories.

And wedding stories, in the outlandish archaic manner in which they are written, are the easiest ones to get all fowled up in print.

It's happened to us many times, and so I suffered silently with the Abilene Reporter-News society editor when I read the following paragraphs in a three-column wedding story the other day:

"They were identical best man and Robert Reese, also of Monahans, was groomsmen."

"The dining table dresses of rose pink satin featuring bustle effect, puff sleeves, and rounded necklines with more matching satin mitts and bandage of flowers in their hair."

"John Harlan of Monahans was laid with a Quaker lace cloth over pink satin."

Fancy wedding stories, like children's birthday parties, are submitted to the newspaper chiefly for the purpose of having a clipping to go in the scrapbook. That's why, the editor hears so many squawks in case of a bunch of pi-ed lines such as those that messed up the Abilene wedding story.

The importance of clippings for scrapbooks is illustrated by this yarn which my Girl Friday swears is true.

She says that several years ago a woman from a small Panhandle town sent the Amarillo Globe-News society editor an account of a wedding that had taken place about 10 years previously. With the story was a note saying: "I hate to ask you to publish

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Farmers, Fishermen And Inventors Are Imported

Gloucester, Mass.—The most useful people today are farmers, fishermen and inventors. What about teachers, preachers, writers, etc. you may ask. Well, if they make people useful farmers, more useful inventors, and more useful fishermen, they also are patriotic citizens. If, however, they make people dissatisfied with present conditions and make them greater spenders and wasters, then they are doing more harm than good. Robert M. Hutchings, Chancellor of Chicago University, says:

"Americans have never had to be intelligent. America has grown rich and strong not because of its system of education, but in spite of it. Only a country with great natural resources could survive our educational system so lacking in logic and ultimate aim."

The present increase in population demands a constant increase in food production, or the world will starve. The per capita productivity of the earth is falling rapidly. In fact, my friend H. S. Richland of Maitland, Fla., claims, "so-called scientific agriculture is not solving the problem; in fact its remedies aggravate the illness. There has been a greater loss of productive soil in the last few decades through cultivation than the accumulated loss of all previous time. Chemical farming is not the answer; it does not offset large crop diseases and insect pests. Furthermore, DDT and other sprays are killing off honeybees, lady beetles, mantis, as well as birds, toads, spiders, etc., which have heretofore protected us from insects. It is dangerous enough to depend upon the soil for food but, as it is now being used for raising industrial products, the situation becomes far more serious. We are fast approaching a time when a newsboy and mailman must collect an old paper and magazine in order to leave a new one, and when the sales tax will be assessed on what we waste rather than on what we buy. Hence, we must give every encouragement to the farmer, forester and gardener.

When we are moaning about soil erosion, we should remember that this soil with its minerals and vitamins has been washed down the little streams and larger rivers into the ocean. Hence, while the soils have been getting poorer, the oceans have been getting richer. This means that while grains, vegetables, cattle, poultry, eggs, etc., raised on the soil without special prepared food, are constantly becoming less nutritious, the fish and other ocean products are constantly getting richer in minerals and vitamins.

The washing of the soil can be prevented by contour plowing; and by returning to the soil all of the crop excepting the portion which goes down the sewers of cities. When you consider, however that over 12,000,000 people live in Greater New York, and 25,000,000 live in other large cities and their metropolitan areas, this adds up to over a quarter of our population. Most of their waste goes down sewers ultimately into the ocean. Hence, my appeal that the fishing industry deserves as much protection and government subsidy as the farming industry. In fact, the ocean and its products are the hope and salvation of mankind along with religion and education.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

The President's message to the special session of Congress dwelt at length on rising prices and the high cost of living. But it did not touch at all on one of the basic reasons for inflation—the high cost of government.

Since 1939, according to government figures, the cost of living has risen 73 per cent. But in the same period the cost of the Federal government has risen 337 per cent — from less than $9,000,000,000 in 1939 to nearly $40,000,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1948. To put it another way, the cost of government, Federal, state and local, has increased at a rate nearly 4½ times as fast as the cost of living, and taxes now constitute the largest single item in the budget of the American people—larger than the nation's bill for food.

This underlines the folly of trying to find a scapegoat for high prices. They aren't the fault of manufacturers or retailers or any other group. Industry, taking it as a whole, has raised prices reluctantly and only when no other course was possible, because high prices ultimately reduce sales. Our whole government fiscal policy is of a kind that makes more and more inflation inevitable.

It is a gross deception to argue that the cure for higher prices lies in controls and roll-backs to the level of 1946 or some other year.

this again for us, but our house burned recently and destroyed my scrapbook which contained the only clipping we had of our wedding story."

THE WOMEN, God love 'em:

If I'm not in the dog house at home, I'm in it at the office, and vice versa. Now its my secretary, who recently took a two weeks' vacation. She's madder'n hops at me because I:

- (1) Made only three entries in the ledger and (this is unforgivable) I used blue ink instead of the black ink that she always uses.
 - (2) Didn't save any tear sheets, and this means we won't get some of our accounts paid unless we can find some back issues of the paper.
 - (3) Didn't save any papers for our permanent file, which is bound at the end of each year.
 - (4) Didn't cut any stencils for the new subscriptions and renewals received during her absence.
 - (5) Didn't pay last month's bills, including the one from the telephone company which was nice enough to warn us instead of cutting off the service.
 - (6) Didn't total the subscriptions for the week.
 - (7) Didn't deduct from my own pay checks the money I had drawn the previous week.
 - (8) And a lot of other things, too numerous to mention.
- She's so mad, she hasn't even thanked me for printing the forms for charge sheets that she had been dogging me for two months to print. (That I set up and Butch printed.—J.E.H.)

Nothing would do more to discourage production, and to give this country a taste of what a police state is like. No one, whether he be a manufacturer or a storekeeper, can do business at a loss. And nothing in the proposed controls could reduce by a single penny the cost of operating an enterprise.

We must attack inflation by dealing with the causes, not the symptoms. Economical government, combined with a tax policy that offers incentives to production, is the first step.

The August issue of the well-edited Gas Employees' News carried an editorial on the above subject, written by George S. Benson, president of Hardin College in Searcy, Ark. I am taking the liberty of reproducing it here, in part:

The battle against political encroachments upon the lives of our people still can be won. When the facts are carried straight to the bar of public opinion, I believe informed Americans will repudiate this reign of bureaucrats. For a generation, the scope of government's power has extended outward from the federal center. People are tired of abuses that come in the wake of bureaucracy.

Do you realize that some 1,200 federal bureaus now exist to dominate, control, and restrain every manner of human activity? Back of these bureaus eleven government agencies function as corporations and 44 actually exist as corporations. The majority of these have little constitutional justification. Compliance with constitutional law is not important to these bureaus and agencies. Neither is the spirit of individual enterprise, which is so much a part of the American tradition.

These agencies feel they are beyond the law and the spirit of the constitution. While competing with the private enterprise of citizens, these federal corporations indulge in wasteful, extravagant, and corrupt practices. A screen of bureaucratic confusion, with the help of garbled records and false accounting methods, hides them from full public view. These methods resemble those of the monarchies of old!

Federal corporations that compete with the enterprises of private citizens have rare advantages. They pay no rent, and decline to refer to this in their bookkeeping. They are simply "operating government property." They pay no taxes like the corporations with which they compete. They are the "government," and their purpose is to consume taxes. Tax money is grits for their mills.

The capital these federal agencies use is therefore taken from the people in the form of taxes. This tax money is put up by folks like you and me, who think it is being used to defray the right and proper costs of authorized forms of government. Instead, much of our federal revenue is turned into overhead and "capital" for bureaus and corporations that do their best to expand and encompass all about them.

Despite having to pay no rent and no taxes, federal corporations are estimated by one source as having used up $5,500,000,000 more than they earned in the year ending last June. Moreover, they have a free rein on costs. Losses added to well-hidden costs are estimated to make up a full third of the annual federal budget. All this cost is a huge burden on the

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

SHAME ON SOMEBODY — A letter in the mail today addressed to the "Slatonite" from a man in Post with an order for a year's subscription was like a girl wishing to have her name spelled "Edythe," getting a letter addressed plain Edith. The name of Slatonite for the paper has never set too well on my stomach but I believe Mr. Powers of Post has found a name for the paper that is even worse. When I first came to Slaton nearly eight years ago I shivered at the name of the paper but my conscience has become crusted over and I have gradually become used to the name but that letter got me all unnerved again.—Slaton Slatonite.

PRODUCTIVE CONGRESS — In volume of legislative output, if not in quality, the 80th Congress belied the "do nothing" appellation given it by President Truman.

The box score of the session shows the the Congress, during the two years of its existence, enacted a total of 905 new laws. Since the Senate put in 1,460 hours of work and the House 1,223 hours, that is an average of about one new law for each three hours in session.

Perhaps fortunately for the nation, the congressional batting average as regards bills introduced and bills actually passed was comparatively low. In all, 12,069 bills and resolutions were introduced during the session, 3,521 by senators and 8,548 by representatives.

As a show of practicing the economy it preached, the Republican-dominated Congress cut its own budget for the current fiscal year by $290,172, as compared to the previous year. The appropriation for congressional salaries and other legislative expenses for the current fiscal year was $56,140,491.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

ATTENTION ANTI-TRUMAN CRATS — There probably will be a Dixiecrat ticket on the ballot in Texas in November.

There is only one course for Democrats who want to keep the Texas electoral votes out of the Truman column. It is to vote for the Dewey-Warren ticket and to oppose the Dixiecrat ticket quite as vigorously as they oppose the Truman-Barkley ticket. Both must be held down to a minimum if Truman is to be defeated in Texas. Some otherwise well-informed Texans, including some newspaper editors and some Republicans, seem to believe that a big Dixiecrat vote in Texas would help the Dewey-Warren ticket. This is based on the false assumption that every vote cast for the Dixiecrat ticket would be a vote taken from the Truman-Barkley ticket. Quite the opposite is true. The fact is that every anti-Truman vote for the Dixiecrat ticket is a vote that otherwise would be cast for the Republican ticket. We think it is safe to assume that the Truman-Barkley ticket will poll at least 500,000 votes in Texas. The question facing the anti-Truman Texans, therefore, is how the other 700,000 votes shall be divided. Unless more than 500,000 of them are polled by the Dewey-Warren ticket, the Truman-Barkley ticket could not possibly poll 500,000 votes in Texas, and the more votes it polled the less chance would the Dewey-Warren ticket have of polling that number. We must get more of the anti-Truman votes in one column.—The Southern Weekly.

FOOTNOTE FOR DIXIECRATS — Last year in Mississippi two lads, 14 and 15 years of age respectively, were sentenced to death in the electric chair for the panicky murder of a Naatchez merchant.

At the trial no written confession was obtained and no murder weapon was introduced as evidence. The case focused nationwide attention on the horrible sentence given these children. Protests and a plea for mercy were filed with the governor, who had it in his power to commute the death sentence and place the two, who had known nothing but squalor and hardship, in a home for children.

The Governor refused to intervene. The scared and fearful kids were put to death in the state's electric chair.

The Governor issued this scorching reply to those who pleaded for mercy: "I am serving notice on these self-styled 'dogooders' to layoff and attend to the washing of their own linen. We are capable of handling our own affairs and do not need advice."

The Governor who said that was Mississippi's Governor Fielding Wright. He is the Dixiecrat candidate for Vice-President of the United States.

Many Texans will vote Dixiecrat because they do not approve President Truman's Civil

TO RAISE GRASSES
Last week, Wren Cross of Grassburr, made application to the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District for soil and water conservation work. Cross states that he is interested in legumes and grasses. Over 200 Harvester Machines Owned By Farmers In County

The uncertainties and high cost of hand labor gradually are being eliminated in Garza County cotton harvesting circles as more and more farmers make use of the 200 or more mechanical harvesters that are privately owned in this county.

Farmers who used the harvesters last year reported to their local dealers that they saved enough money in three days to pay for their machine, as the mechanical harvester could do the work for $1 per bale.

One local dealer estimates that his two-row cotton harvester will save $30 or more per bale over hand pulling.

Both local and long distance telephone traffic is at a new high in spite of continued shortages of skilled workers and necessary materials. We've talked a lot about our expansion program, too, and this talk has not been idle. During the past few years we have made rapid progress in this program. Effective Ad From Dispatch Reprinted By John Deere Co.

The July-August issue of The Campaigner, house organ of the John Deere Plow Company of Dallas, is replete with news and pictures of Bryant-Link personnel, even to the extent of re-producing in its entirety an advertisement which the local company recently published in the Post Dispatch and calling it an "Effective Ad." It included a picture of Ralph Carpenter beside a John Deere tractor and it pertained to getting farm equipment "tuned up" in preparation for the planting season. It was one of a series of ads which, the house organ said, "brought in the business."

The publication also showed a picture of Ernest Castleberry and one of Duke Travis, Bryant-Link manager, John Nelson and Carpenter, and it carried a news item about the graduation of Travis' daughter, Bettye Jane, from Abilene Christian College.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Connell, who spent most of the summer in Chipita Park, Colo., returned home Saturday night.

Summer motorists are reminded that speed is the greatest killer of the highways. With more vacationing drivers on the road this month than ever before, the need for safe driving is essential. If your vacation is a fast one, it may be your last one.

Labor Day Means No Holiday And More Work Here

Labor Day in Post will have only one significance: School starts, and the children will settle down to laboring over their books for a nine-month period and their parents will settle down to laboring over getting them out of bed in time for breakfast and school, keeping the school clothes ready, the noon lunches hot and the afternoon music lessons going.

The merchants will settle down to a rush of business that will not let up until after Christmas, and the Post Dispatch staff members will settle down to longer hours of labor.

Labor Day in Post means that summer vacation is over. In most places, particularly in cities where there are labor unions, school does not start until September 13. In these places there will be a general exodus of the population this weekend to various resorts for the weekend and Labor Day holiday on Monday.

Labor Day is a legal holiday in all the states and territories of the United States except the Philippines.

The celebration on the first Monday in September with parades and demonstrations in the cause of improved labor leadership of P. J. McGuire of Camden, N. J. The plan was adopted by other organizations.

Since 1887, when the first act making the day a legal holiday was passed in Colorado, Labor Day has been established throughout the United States and in Canada, the first Monday in September being the usual date adopted.

In Europe, since about 1890, May Day has been observed as Labor Day.

Labor Day, whatever date, in recent years has become a day for colorful demonstrations marked by riots in some cities and automobile accidents and deaths wherever possible.

Soils that are open, porous and moist are best for hydrangeas. Rich coast soils or black prairie soils may need the addition of chemicals to make it more acid. Three tablespoons of powdered alum in one gallon of water, sprinkled over a square yard or more of soil, will do the job.

UNCLE SAM WASN'T—

(Continued From Front Page) Post public schools were registering students for the 1948-49 year, but Supt. G. R. Day dismissed enough teachers to help with the Selective Service registration, and also to the cause he contributed the school secretary, Miss Margie Edwards.

It was not until yesterday that a Garza County representative was "drafted" and peace began to descend upon the courthouse.

J. E. Parker consented to be the Selective Service Chairman and was officially approved by the Texas Selective Service Board. Women of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliaries agreed to serve as registration clerks and they began their duties today. Parker and the clerks are volunteering their services, without remuneration, as did the school teachers, Dean Robinson, etc.

Approximately 37 24-year-olds were registered Tuesday. A smaller number of 23-year-olds seemed to be registering yesterday.

Men born in 1924 will register today and tomorrow. Men born in 1925 will register September 4 or 7, and men born in 1926 will register September 8 and 9.

Registration hours are 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the Commissioners Court Room.

By press time, the registration was running smoothly and indications were that men who were unable to find a place to register Monday would be permitted to register at this late date.

A Lubbock representative of the four-county board, who looked in on the situation yesterday seemed pleased. He told Robinson that the registration chaos in Lubbock was much worse.

CONSOLIDATION—

Garza County, the superintendent explained, has a number of rural schools operating good elementary school programs and transporting their high school students into Post. This arrangement, Day said, is very satisfactory to the Post school authorities.
