Registering Of Men Will Begin Soon

L. W. Dalby this week accepted the Garza County chairmanship in Local Selective Service Board No. 88, which includes Lubbock, Garza, Crosby and Lynn Counties. He accepted the responsibility after Will Barton, who had been appointed previously, declined to serve.

No information was available by press time as to where the registration, which begins next Tuesday, will take place. It was presumed that the registration will take place in the court house, as it did in 1940.

August 30 through September 18 are the registration dates. Those registering next week will be:

Men born in 1922 after August 30 will register on August 30.

Men born in 1923 will register August 31 and September 1.

Men born in 1924 will register on September 2 and 3.

Men born in 1925 will register on September 4 or 7. This means there will be no registration on Labor Day.

Registration hours are from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The Millers played the Lubbock Army Air Base in the local park last Thursday night, winning 15-2.

At the time of the accident, Mrs. Ownbey and her husband and their 15-month-old son, Kenneth Warren, had just concluded a three-day visit here and were leaving for their home. Not being familiar with the streets, Ownbey thought he was a block west of the highway when he entered Broadway from the west. His car was hit by a large car driven by S. C. Bryant of Colorado City, who was traveling south through Post at a slow speed.

Four Wells Hold Oil Interest In Area At Present

After a comparatively inactive season, brought on by a shortage of pipe, the oil business in Garza County appears to be picking up. Most of the drilling in recent months has been done by the Comanche and Postex Companies.

The Comanche Oil Company completed the drilling of the Montgomery-Davies 9-B well southeast of Post yesterday. It was acidized and the test should be made by Monday or Tuesday. It was drilled 2,968 feet.

The same company yesterday had drilled to 2,570 feet on the Montgomery-Davies 11-B, also southeast of Post. The operator expects to go to around 2,860 feet with rotary tools, then to 2,970 with cable tools.

The Postex Drilling Company yesterday set the casing for the L. F. Long well on the K. Stoker lease, after drilling to about 2800 feet. The operator was to start with cable tools today.

The only other drilling company in Garza County at present is the Honolulu Oil Company project, east of Southland, which was to start drilling either yesterday or today.

Eleven Bids Received On Sewer Plant

Eleven bids on the city's sanitary improvements project were opened and reviewed by the City Commission Tuesday. The lowest bidder was the Sherman Machine and Iron Works of Oklahoma City.

The bids ranged from $90,736.35 to $129,240.75.

The Sherman bid provides for an adequate sewerage disposal plant, the City Commission announced yesterday. Work on the sewer improvements will get under way as soon as necessary materials can be obtained, the Sherman representatives said.

Apartments Needed

Garza parents are busy this week buying school clothes and supplies for their children who start to school September 6.

Election To Consolidate Fails Here

The 14 residents of the Hartford Community, who voted in the school consolidation election Saturday, voted against the issue thus causing a failure in the proposal to consolidate the Hartford, Barnum Springs and Cross Roads Common School Districts with the Post Independent School District.

Petitions are now being circulated in the Post, Cross Roads and Barnum Springs Districts requesting another election, this time omitting the Hartford District from the proposal.

Saturday's ballots were canvassed yesterday by the County Commissioners Court, with the following results:

Post 43, votes cast, all for consolidation; Cross Roads, 8 votes cast, all for consolidation; Barnum Springs, 18 votes cast, 12 for and 6 against consolidation, and Hartford, 14 votes cast, all against consolidation. A total of 83 votes were cast.

All - Star Cowhand Roping Team Sees Victory Saturday

If the Garza County Calf Ropers can rope as well as O. D. Cardwell's All-Star Cowhands can talk, there'll be a good show for the public at 8 o'clock Saturday night in the Post Stampede and Rodeo Arena.

Roping for the Cowhands will be three stars from the Ek Wallace Ranch, Don Cox, Franklin Miller and Frank Miller; Roy Rodgers of the Double U; Floyd Lamond of Post, and Jake Weston, a 16-year-old from the south edge of Garza County.

The Garza County Calf Roping Club announced this week that its ropers will be Jimmy Bird, Nathan Mears, Novis Rodgers, Dub Gray, and Lewis Nance.

Cardwell, on seeing the above list, said "there must be some mistake. Phil Bouchier is going to rope our 16-year-old boy, so add his name to the list."

So added to the list of Garza County Calf Ropers somewhat unofficially is the name of Phil Bouchier.

The five or six ropers on each team will rope a total of 40 calves.

A jackpot roping will follow. The entertainment will be the last contest of the season for the Garza Roping Club and the first and last contest of the season for the Cowhands. The Garza boys, who have been roping every week this summer, with neighboring West Texas clubs, have lost only one match.

Admission price Saturday night will be 50 and 25 cents. The public is invited.

Sanchez's Bale Is First Cotton From Dry Land

Garza County's first 1948 bale of cotton, which was ginned last Thursday by the Planters' Gin here, turned out to be the first dry land bale to be reported this year in the South Plains area. It was gathered approximately at the same time as the Terry County farmer's irrigated cotton bale, which was ginned Wednesday of last week and proclaimed the first South Plains bale.

The Garza bale, which was raised by A. Sanchez on E. W. Williams' farm north of Post, was brought to the gin Monday of last week. From 1510 pounds of seed cotton, a bale weighing 420 pounds and 620 pounds of seed were produced. The cotton was of the Northern Star variety. Sanchez received $3114 per pound for the cotton and $75 per ton for the seed, the prevailing price for Monday of last week. His check totaled $154.03.

Public Must Help With Inspection Of Eating Places

"The Texas State Department of Health cannot maintain daily inspection of all eating places and the public is urged by Dr. Geo. W. Cox of Austin, state health officer to insist on the proper sanitation of the establishments where they eat. If the public is careless in this respect the incentive to maintain clean food service will be lessened and operators will only maintain the level the public is willing to accept. He urged that the public patronize "eating establishments which measure up to a high standard of cleanliness."

The State Department is making every effort to improve sanitation of eating places. Dr. Cox said, and there is "no excuse for cafe owners not taking advantage of the food handlers schools which are being offered all over the state." He added that there are laws, rules and regulations which require the use of approved equipment and methods in such establishments. "The public should be aware of these sanitary rules and regulations and insist that restaurants observe them. Patrons should realize that tables and counters will be many times cleaner than the kitchen and other places out of sight," he warned.

He urged milk appraisal by the patrons also. Texas law requires that a milk bottle cap state the grade of milk, and whether it is raw or pasteurized. "Insist on having the milk served in its original container, with a covered cap and a legal label," Dr. Cox advised. "Obviously," he said, "the best in sanitation can be had only by close co-operation between the public and the investigators of the State Health Department."

Prolonged Drouth Is Resulting In More Interest In Irrigation Program In Area

Lack of soil moisture to make a crop and the prolonged drouth is causing an increased interest among Duck Creek Soil Conservation District cooperators in irrigation wells.

Wells completed this year include one each for Ernest Henderson, O. E. Franklin, J. W. Stotts, F. W. Hall and H. J. Edwards.

J. R. Woods dug two wells but abandoned one because of lack of water. Jack Meeks and S. M. Smallwood plan to have wells dug soon.

Generally the wells are small producers, ranging from 200 to 500 gallons per minute. In most of the wells, 16-inch casing is used and is set about 130 feet deep. The log for J. R. Wood's producing well, as given to him by the driller, was 0-3 Topsoil, 3-48 Clay Caliche, 48-51 Red Rock, 51-75 Dry Sand, 75-92 Sand Gravel and water, 92-93 Red Rock, 93-131 Sand Clay, with possible streaks of gravel, 131-148 Red Clay. Perforation was made at 75 feet.

The use of irrigation water to increase crop yields presents a problem in maintaining soil fertility. By taking heavy crops from the soil each year soil nutrients are soon depleted. Soil is much like a bank and is soon depreciated when nothing is put back in it.

One farmer north of Lubbock has stated his average cotton yield after 10 years under irrigation and without soil conservation was down to about where it was before the irrigation system was started.

The soil conservation Service, assigned to assist the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District this week, made a topographic survey of the J. W. Stotts and J. R. Woods farms. From this survey a contour map will be made to show the lay of the land. With this map the district cooperators will be able to see the high and low spots on his whole farm. From it technicians can study out the best irrigation system.

Public Invited To Antelope-Crosbyton Scrimmage On Local Grid Friday Night

Coach Bing Bingham is still withholding comment as to how good the Post Antelope football prospects are.

"I'd rather have the public judge for themselves," he told a Post Dispatch reporter yesterday.

The public is invited to watch the Antelopes scrimmage with Crosbyton on the Antelope field tomorrow night, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Antelopes went to Lubbock Tuesday for a scrimmage with the Lubbock High School Cowhands. The workout gave Coaches Bingham and Vernon Ray a chance to observe some weaknesses, change some positions and in other ways strengthen the Antelope line.

"We looked fair defensively," the coach said, "but offensively we didn't look so hot." The line-men showed up "pretty good," Bingham said. He commented particularly on the work of Calvin Storie, as guard, Roy Davis and Delbert Shedd, as ends; Mack McCullough, as tackle.

He also complimented the Antelope backfield work of Charlie McGuire and Jack Kirkpatrick, quarterbacks and R. E. Josey and Bobby Pennington as half backs. Most of the above boys are new to the Antelope first team.

Mrs. E. A. Warren, Mrs. F. I. Bailey and Mrs. W. E. Dent went to Rotan yesterday to attend a surprise birthday party given by Mrs. Warren's sister, Mrs. Bob Strayhorn, in honor of their mother, Mrs. A. R. Tyson.

Open Season On Doves And Quail Starts This Fall

Nimrods from all over West Texas are watching Garza County and so are the game wardens.

After a three-year closed season on quail and mourning doves, the birds are being released to the hunters during their respective seasons this fall.

In releasing this information this week, District Clerk Ray N. Smith sounded a double-barreled warning for would be hunters: (1) Don't mistake a dove for a quail. The season for shooting doves is the month of September and first 15 days of October, no more and no less. There is a Federal penalty for shooting doves out of season.

(2) The game wardens of the district are watching Garza with an eagle eye to make sure its abundance of quail is not molested before the season opens, December 1.

The 1948 open seasons on mourning doves and white-winged doves have been announced as follows by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission:

Mourning Doves

North Zone, September 1 to October 15 inclusive; shooting hours, one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

South Zone, October 20 to December 3 inclusive, except in Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Webb, Maverick, Dimmit, LaSalle, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kennedy, and Willacy Counties where mourning doves may be hunted only on September 17, 19 and 21, from 4 p.m. to sunset, and from October 20 to November 30, from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The bag limit is not more than 10 per day and not more than 10 in possession.

The North Zone is bordered on the West by Reeves and Pecos Counties and on the South by Crockett, Sutton, Edwards, Uvalde, Medina, Kendall, Comal, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Milam, Robertson, Leon, Houston, Nacogoches and Shelby Counties.

White-Winged Doves

Open season, September 17, 19 and 21 inclusive; from 4 p.m. until sunset each day.

The bag limit is not more than 10 per day and not more than 10 in possession.

It is unlawful to take white-wings or Chachalaca South of U.S. Highway 83, formerly State Highway 4, in the southern tip of Texas which has been designated as a game sanctuary.

The white-wing zone includes El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Terrell, Valverde, Kinney, Maverick, Dimmit, LaSalle, Webb, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kennedy, Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy Counties.

A hunter may not have more than 10 a day of either or both species in the aggregate. No hunting is permitted in the game refuges and game preserves.

Shotguns must be permanently plugged to three shell capacity, and shotguns may not be larger than 10 gauge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch and children returned Tuesday night from an interesting 10-day vacation. Part of the time was spent at a lake resort near Westlaco, as guests of Mr. Welch's brother, R. J. Welch. From there they went to Brownsville and into Mexico. They returned by way of Brownwood where they attended a Welch family reunion at Lake Brownwood. While fishing from a boat on the lake at Westlaco, one of the Welch children, Gary, had an accident which landed him in the hospital for four days. A boy who was casting from the boat got his artificial bait caught in Gary's head, and the hook had to be removed at the hospital.

Defense Against Erosion Gains In U.S. Each Year

Each year sees the defense against erosion and depletion built a little stronger, states Howard T. Kingsbery, member of the Texas PMA Agricultural Conservation Program.

For the United States, conservation practices were carried out on 2,690,000 farms. On these farms were 297 million acres of cropland and 561 million acres of non-crop pasture and range. Farmers cooperating in the ACP program spread more than 29 million tons of lime and almost 3 million tons of phosphate to help in growing soil conserving crops. More than 18½ million acres of farmland were protected and improved by green manure and cover crops. To improve range and pasture land, approximately five million acres were seeded to adapted grasses and legumes. To provide for better distribution of livestock in pastures and on the range, around 68,500 livestock reservoirs, or ponds, were built. Field strip-cropping to control wind and water erosion was carried out on more than six million acres of land. Over six million acres of row crops and two and a half million acres of close-drilled crops were farmed on the contour. More than 1,600,000 acres of land were terraced and trees were planted on nearly 46 thousand acres.

Kingsbery explains that there are only a few of the practices which were carried out under the 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program but they are enough to indicate that farmers cooperating in the program are moving ahead making more secure the nation's food and fiber supplies.

Four Home Games Booked By Texas Tech This Year

Reservations for the Texas Technological College football games in Lubbock this fall are being taken at the stadium offices. Indications are that capacity crowds will witness each game. Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, has observed.

Fans holding season tickets for the games last year have until Sept. 1 to reserve the same seats, he said, and seats not reserved by that date will be assigned others. A sizeable waiting list already has been started.

Tech will play four home games this year: The night of Sept. 18 against West Texas State; afternoon of Oct. 30 in the Homecoming encounter against Rice; Nov. 6 with Texas Mines; and Nov. 20 with the New Mexico Lobos, coached by Berl Huffman, former Texas Tech coach.

Erection of semi-portable steel frame bleachers in the new Clifford B. and Audrey Jones Stadium at Texas Technological College has been started and a new electric scoreboard will be ready by fall.

Jennings said the bleachers are part of the sections that will increase seating capacity by about 2,500, giving a total capacity of well over 20,000. They are being placed at the north end of the playing field.

The scoreboard, which will be erected at the south end of the field, will be 12 feet high on a base of equal height. Operated from the expansive new press box, it will show time, score for both teams, downs, quarters and yards to go.

Scripture: St. Matthew 18:1-4

At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them. And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

White Collar Worker Is Forgotten Man Of Industry

Gloucester, Mass. — I have been concerned recently, while vacationing here on Cape Ann, about the plight of the white collar worker. Of course, I sometimes wear a white collar myself, but the man for whom I am concerned is the man who is neither labor nor management. He works for somebody and he wears a white collar. That is expected of him. —he has to maintain the dignity of his position and besides, working in an office, he can wear it.

Lately, it begins to look as if wearing a white collar, like virtue, would have to be its own reward. While labor's wages have been mounting hand over fist and while costs of living have been going up as fast or faster, salaries have remained stationary or inched up by imperceptible degrees.

It is true that the poorest paid office worker at present gets a weekly stipend which would have looked like a mountain of wealth to his grandfather. This means nothing however, except that there has been a slow, persistent inflation for the past 50 years. The $40 per week which this year's college graduates hope to get will not go much further than the $10 per week which I got when graduating from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1898. Moreover, this generation wants a good deal more than I ever dreamed of.

But should we cut back our standard of living to that of my youth? It would be fantastic to think of taking away from the white collar families their automobiles, their washing machines, or their children's chance to finish school. But a reduction of the living standard will follow unless salaries and prices are brought into line one way or the other.

We cannot afford to let down the standards of any group of people in this country. For our own good, for our country's good, and for the good of the world, we need to keep moving forward. The white collar group is comparatively small. When I say "white collar," you probably think of a mild little man who looks like a cartoonist's idea of John Q. Public and who works in an office, turning over papers, dictating an occasional letter, or entering figures in a big ledger.

You're right; he's the man I have in mind. But he is important. In the first place, business couldn't run without him any more than a steel mill could be run without coal. An express company doesn't get very big before it needs a bookkeeper as well as some truck drivers. A railroad needs cost accountants as well as engineers.

In the second place, from this group come many of our leaders. These are the men who are qualified, by natural ability and by training in high school and college, to work with their heads instead of their hands. We need more and better executives, men with both wisdom and knowledge. These leaders ordinarily come up from the offices rather than from the pick and shovel jobs. It is imperative that the very best be encouraged to get the necessary training and to make their way through the white collar ranks to the top.

Remember, from the white collar families come the ministers, teachers, scientists, artists, men upon whom we depend for leadership everywhere.

It is vital that there be greater incentive for trained and able men to become important executives. If possible for the men behind desks to compete, as with the men behind the lines, what will be the result for qualified men to spend training? Labor, through unions, has been doing well for its own. It's now for management to give to the men on its team.

GETTING OUT On The LIMB
By EDDIE the EDITOR

The record number of people who turned out to vote in the July primary was a credit to Garza County.

Of course, you and I know that the county judge's race was one thing that brought the big crowd out. We won't have this inducement to get the people to vote in the second primary Saturday of this week.

But I'm sort of in agreement with Ernest Joiner, the spirited editor of the Ralls Banner:

Why should the editor get down on his knees the week before election and beg the people to vote?

It seems to me that the people would WANT to exercise their privilege of having a say as to who represents them in national, state, district and local offices.

There are only six candidates involved in Saturday's election. Somehow, I am expecting the Garza voters to turn out in the same big numbers that voted in July.

Al Bird and some more of the good Verbena folks came in to my house the other night to see the colored movies that I took in the Pacific. Even though Sherrill Boyd, who has shown the pictures for me at least 25 times went sound asleep while running the projector, the rest of us had a big time. The wife whipped up a bite of food, and after the show we all sat around and ate and shot the breeze.

Naturally the subject of Gertrude, the porpoise, came up. Al said he has moved Gertrude from the big tank down under the hill to the small tank that's just a hundred or so feet from his back door.

He did this in order to see her more often and have a chance to tame her. Before he moved her, she had got to surfacing in answer to his call. It was no trick at all to rope her while she was surfacing. He loaded her into the back of his new Chevrolet pick-up and she actually seemed to enjoy the ride.

Al and Katherine have seen Gertrude every day since moving her back to the back-yard tank.

A fellow from San Antonio —which is noted for certain elements pulling apart instead of together—was in the office the other day and he commented on the list of Chamber of Commerce members in good standing that we published last week.

"You know," he said, "the Chamber of Commerce has done more than anything else to keep San Antonio on its feet. People who don't like each other personally work together in Chamber of Commerce and it has done wonders for our city."

Then he went on to say that anywhere you go, you will find people who look upon the government as Santa Claus. They have the same gimme gimme regard for their Federal and State Government as they do for their city government. They think the government ought to give and give, and yet they, as individuals, are asked for their tax money or other contributions to the causes they proclaim they take a violent dislike to the causes.

Fast, fortunately, has a minimum of this sort of people. It has always seemed to me that the people here are generally of a cooperative type and I don't think I'm prejudiced when I say our Garza County residents are generally more intelligent than the people found in many small communities.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

Whether to vote for Coke Stevenson or Lyndon Johnson is still a moot question, in my opinion. I have been devoting lots of thought to the two candidates during the past two or three weeks.

Think I'll just let the rest of the Texas voters choose one of them for me this go-around, and I'll wait until the finals in November. By then, I will have a chance to study the possibilities of the Republican candidate for U.S. Senator. He may be the dark horse that will solve the question for the good of everybody.

Mrs. L. A. Pirtle, who is a staunch Stevenson supporter, hopes I won't back down on him. And I promised her I will give the two candidates even more serious consideration and will vote for Stevenson if I can with a clear conscience.

Then she told me something I didn't know. Stevenson's late wife was a distant relative of her son, Claiborne Pirtle who is a distant relative of my husband. Sherrill and Claiborne had the same grandpa Caleb Pirtle in Kentucky about five generations back.

I forgot to ask Mrs. Pirtle if she happened to know also that Sherrill and Claiborne have a similar long-distance cousin, in Alben Barkley, Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

I've always liked "Cousin Alben" as a politician, but I'M NOT going to vote for him this time because he is running with Truman. This I know whether or not I vote for "Cousin Coke."

Speaking of kinkfoks, maybe I better discuss all this with "Cousin Doug." Doug Morrell's ancestors came from the same Kentucky and Tennessee hills that produced the Boyds and Pirtles, and his family tree is full of the same Sherrill and Morrell names that "ours" is.

And this brings up something else: Whether or not a person voting in the Democratic primaries can vote the Republican ticket in the November elections. For the benefit of those who wish to support Dewey and Warren and, perhaps, other Republicans, I quote from the August 4 issue of the Southern Weekly:

GOOD ADVICE is that which Chairman Calvert gives to anti-Truman Democrats about voting the Republican ticket, provided it is understood that they can continue to vote in Democratic primaries for State and county officials if they choose.

That's what J. E. McDonald, Texas State Commissioner of Agriculture, has been doing since 1940. Indeed, he has been doing more than that. He has been voting the Republican ticket in Presidential elections and continuing to run as a candidate in Democratic primaries. He voted for Dewey and Bricker four years ago, just as he voted for Willkie and McNary in 1940. Nevertheless, he won the nomination for State Commissioner of Agriculture in the Democratic primary two years ago, and was subsequently elected, just as he won the Democratic nomination in 1942 and 1944. This year he won the Democratic nomination again with a majority of more than 144,000.

The "brass-collar" zealots have tried to keep him off the ticket, but as the courts have settled the question in Texas long ago, they haven't been able to do anything about it. The same rule applies to voting. A Texan can participate in Democratic primaries for State, County, and other local offices, and vote the Republican national ticket.

For the past several weeks the Post Dispatch has been publishing a page of proposed amendments to be voted on by the people of Texas on November 2. I have been studying these, and discussing them with various folks in the county. A week or two before the general election, I will devote a column to them.

I have a friend. Don't know who it is, but he or she mailed me an anonymous letter with a local postmark the other day.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

LET THEM PRODUCE — Women think the butchers are charging too much for beef cuts. They infer that both the packers and the beef cattle raisers are profiteering at the expense of the consumer.

And for some unknown reason they have picked on beef as the objective of their hate.

Let us look at the facts as to why beef is high. The U.S. Department of Agriculture during the war years asked our beef raisers to rush their young cattle to market a year ahead of normal marketing age. Then they asked the feeders to market their cattle in an unfinished state, rather than to fatten them to a higher weight. The third factor is that feed prices have been excessively high during the past year, and feeders rushed their cattle to market in a thin condition.

All of this made for less beef in weight, and also reduced the quality of choice cuts.

Recently the Department of Agriculture reported that there were less beef cattle coming on the market than for several years. The packers already knew this because they were paying record prices for beef steers in Chicago, Kansas City, Fort Worth, and other major cattle markets.

Since he or she is one of the very few friends I seem to have, at times, I'm quoting the letter:

"Thank God for Evelyn Boyd. If only there were more like her! Stay in there telling them, Evelyn. Don't let the brick throwers get you. You are the straightest thinking person I have had the good fortune of reading in many a day. Your column is the best in the paper and one of the first I read. Keep up the good work and let's all get wise and go vote Republican in November."

I never have been able to find out who the Republicans are in Garza County. I'm not one of them, but perhaps my one deeply-appreciated anonymous friend is. I'm sure with them for awhile until the Democrats clean the reds out of their ranks. And I'll always be with them as long as they have the best man in the race for President. I'm a strict believer in voting for ABILITY rather than party, sentiment or cursed dog-gedness.

Rat Eradication Is Necessary In Fighting Typhus

Statistical information compiled by the State Health Department shows a total of 182 cases of typhus fever so far this year. During one week recently, seven new cases were reported.

The disease reaches its peak in the month of August, Dr. Geo. W. Cox of Austin, state health officer, said.

Over a five year period from 1943 to 1947, typhus fever has been responsible for 273 deaths. The death rate has been reduced from 63 in 1943, to 30 in 1948.

"Typhus fever as we know it in Texas is transmitted by the fleas of infected rats," Dr. Cox said. "It can be controlled by the simple expedient of consistently maintaining a program of rat poisoning, rat trapping, and rat proofing."

Typhus fever is marked by a severe headache, chills and fev-

Courtesy Helps Traffic Safety

You wouldn't rely on another guy to tip your hat when you meet a lady. Neither can you build your reputation as a considerate driver on someone else's courtesy!

That was the statement made recently by George Clarke of Austin, managing director of the Texas Safety Association, in commenting on the "safety through courtesy" sponsored by the National Safety Council and cooperating organizations.

"Make courtesy characterize your driving—then watch your driving record improve," declared Clarke. "Every motorist and every pedestrian should keep constantly in mind the thought that courtesy does prevent accidents. Courtesy saves lives. You never heard of anyone apologizing for being courteous, but you can be sure that many a driver has been sorry for his recklessness."

He listed these courtesy tips for drivers:

1. Use hand signals to inform other motorists of your intention to turn or stop.
2. Know the lane you should be in, then stay in that lane. Don't take your half of the road out of the center.
3. Recognize a situation where others have the right-of-way, and yield to them.
4. Don't insist on the right-of-way even when it's rightfully yours.
5. Give pedestrians a break. They can't walk or run as fast as you can drive.
6. Use your horn to warn, not to bully.
7. Dim lights for other drivers at night.
8. Remember that the other fellow may be in a hurry too.

Housewives that find their biscuits are burning on top and still remain pale on the bottom can usually remedy the situation by using a smaller baking sheet. Too large a baking sheet tends to hold the oven heat from the burner to the bottom of the oven.

Garza Acreage In Grain Is 20,000; Smallest In Area

Garza County, one of only three in 17 South Plains Counties having no irrigated grain acreage, will have the smallest grain crop in the 17-county area, according to estimates made by the Clayton Carter Grain Company of Lubbock, wholesale dealer, and published in the Sunday Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Garza's estimated grain acreage was 20,000. Estimates for Dawson and Gaines, the only other counties having no irrigated grain, were respectively 150,000 and 50,000.

The total estimated acreage in sorghum grains in the 17 counties was 2,075,000. The highest estimates were made as follows:

Terry, 249,500; Dawson, 150,000; Hale, 125,000; Cochran, 115,000; Hockley, 110,000; Lamb, 100,000. Acreage estimates for the remaining counties ranged from Yoakum's 24,200 to Bailey's 97,000.

The Clayton Carter estimate placed the per-acre yield on dry land at 800 lb. Thus Garza County's share, if the weatherman hasn't already interfered too much, would be 8,000 tons which would bring, according to the government support price of $45.60 a ton, an income of $364,800.

Texas Must Spend Money On Schools Or Lower Education Standards In 10 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bird and family have a new Chevrolet. Receiving word that she had company here at home, Mrs. W. E. Graeber quickly put an end to her extended vacation in Carbondale, Ill., and returned here last week. Her guests are Mrs. O. M. Bayer and Miss Gladys Bayer of Georgetown, relatives of the late Mr. Graeber.

Al Bird, whose Verbena Community ranch produces all sorts of strange creatures and creatures' objects, brought the Post Dispatch editor an unidentified egg the other day. It seemed a bit small for a hen egg, and it was light as a feather. Something hard on the inside rattled when the egg was moved. The editor put a clothes pin on Jackie Hays' nose and sent him out to the alley to break the egg. It had no odor nor any albumin, just a yolk that was hard as a rock. While awaiting this operation, Al happened to mention that he has a baby something-or-other at the ranch. It is the progeny of a half-breed buffalo cow and brahma bull.

Electric Appliance Market Opening Up With REA Increase

With the steady increase in rural electrification, a new and very large electrical appliance market has opened. As soon as the farm or ranch house is wired for electricity, the average family starts to buy electrical equipment.

The Rural Electrification Administration says that the rural housewife invests in better lighting equipment, such as floor and table lamps. Then comes an electric iron, a radio or a radio-phonograph. Refrigerators and washing machines come next—these are items that are more expensive and usually take a little budgeting.

The installation of an electric water system in the home is usually planned next. Mrs. Jewell H. Strassner, Garza County home demonstration agent, says the electric water system is one of the greatest time and labor savers for the rural homemaker, even though its installation usually comes after the purchase of other items.
