Millers Open Home Season Here Sunday Against Levelland Refiners at 2 O'Clock

First home game of the season unrolls at 2:30 o'clock Sunday in Post-Tex Ball park when the Millers meet Levelland. The local nine will be trying for their second win of the season. The game will be broadcast, play by play over KLVU, a Levelland radio station. Pee Wee Gentry, a smooth performer, will be on the mound for Post. Last Sunday the Millers out-scored the Seagraves Oilers in an extra-inning melee, 9-8, in Seagraves. The locals used three hurlers to eke out the victory, making their standing thus far 5-0. Pee-wee Gentry pitched the first three innings, allowing four runs on only two hits before he was relieved early in the fourth. Windall Greer was credited with the win, although he was lifted in favor of Charlie Willis during the last inning when Seagraves got to the Millers for three runs. Lefty Faulkner, last year's mainstay for the Oilers, started for Seagraves and gave up six hits and five runs before he was relieved in the third inning. Orville Bullington held the Millers scoreless for seven frames when he weakened in the top of the 10th to allow two walks, two hits and committed a balk which figured in the local's scoring spree of four runs.

Retail, wholesale and service establishments in the county showed a substantial increase in dollar volume during this period. During 1948 retail sales aggregated $4.9 million against $1.6 million in 1939. Wholesale sales in the county reached a total of $607,000 in 1948 almost doubling the 1939 figure of $321,000.

Garza Oil Activity Is Quiet While Kent Picture Cloudy

Garza drilling is rather quiet this week while the oil picture in Kent county is being clouded by a lawsuit contesting title to several sections of land.

Mrs. Nellie Kuteman, former resident of Kent county now living in California, filed suit against Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mays of Amarillo and four oil companies, the Associated Press reported yesterday. Mrs. Kuteman alleges that Mays bought the 20 sections of land after she was adjudged of unsound mind and the court had taken over the property. On Oct. 4, 1948, the court declared Mrs. Kuteman legally sound of mind. She is asking that the land sale be held void.

Post-Tex Drilling company is drilling at 2300 feet on Dr. Sam G. Dunn's Martinez No. 2, located in the flats. The other Post-Tex rig is stacked.

Acidization of Well No. 1 in Unit 25, the first well being drilled by Comanche Oil corporation in the townsite, is expected early next week. Depth is 2425 feet.

Rig repairs are impeding drilling on the No. 1 Emery Trust wildcat in northeastern Garza county. A drillstem test of the Canyon Reef lime, topped at 6, 170 feet and drilled and cored to 6,204 feet is planned. Some shows were in the core. The wildcat is 1 1/4 miles south of the Ted Weiner and Sohio Petroleum company No. 1 S. M. Swenson which is drilling below 6,860 feet in lime. Both are 12 miles west of the nearest Canyon producer in Kent county, 7 1/2 miles west of Clairemont.

Clark and Cowden of Dallas abandoned the No. 1 Hattie Connell, six miles southeast of Post, at 2917 feet in the San Andres. Salt water was developed on tests from 2864 to 2886 feet and from 2784 to 2820.

Second Mortgage Loan Law In VA Set-Up Ends in July

Veterans Administration has set Oct. 20, 1950, as the effective date of the provisions of Public Law 475 terminating combination, or second mortgage loans, as provided under Section 505 of the Servicemans Readjustment Act of 1944.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the VA regional office in Lubbock, said this is to carry out the provisions of law requiring that this type of loan be discontinued not later than Dec. 31, 1950.

To effect this transition in an orderly manner, and giving full consideration to the interests of veterans and existing plans of veterans and the home building industry, four dates have been established for four successive steps.

Combination loans are of two classes. One class requires that the loan have prior approval of the Veterans Administration before a guaranty will be issued. In the other class, known as supervised loans, no prior approval is required. Two of the steps in cutting out combination loans apply to prior approval and two of them apply to supervised loans.

After July 20, 1950, prior approval of second mortgage loans will generally be withheld unless the first mortgage loan is at a rate of 4 1/2 per cent or less. After Aug. 20, 1950, guaranty will generally be refused on supervised loans except where the first mortgage loan is at 4 1/2 per cent or less. After Sept. 20, 1950, certificates of approval will not be issued on new applications for prior approval on combination loans. After Oct. 20, 1950, combination loans will not be guaranteed. All loans already in process prior to this date will be completed.

GETTING OUT On the LIMB by EDDIE the EDITOR

Spring has come. I keep thinking, in spite of having to light the fire every morning before I can stay up. Seeing all these roses climbing around, makes me feel like passing out bouquets.

As Walter Winchell says, orchids to the city for all these recent improvements. I doubt if anyone will pay too much attention to them but everyone will appreciate them because they add to the general convenience and appearance of Post.

For $20 and $10-a-month men, the city commissioners and may or are doing a pretty good job, it seems to me. As long as they are working in quiet ways to improve Post, you don't hear much about them but let them step on a few out-of-town toes and paid lackeys here can really stir up a stink.

I just want those responsible to know how much we citizens of Post really do appreciate these improvements. I feel like it's getting to be more of a city and less of a hamlet everyday.

One of the minor improvements that really strikes me as a good deal is the remodeling of the sidewalks all down the south side of Main street, excepting in front of a couple stores. For years, I've been scraping my car bumpers and old people have been walking half a block just to get on the sidewalk.

So besides helping the bumper situation, it really is easier now that the 16-inch curb has been built between the street and the sidewalk for people to get on the sidewalk in the first place.

The mercury vapor lights are another thing that Post can be proud of. Nothing much happens here after 8 o'clock at night, but what does is certainly well-lighted along the main drag now.

When the city gets rich on all these oil taxes, I am hoping they will install some more of these lights. They are just on the ends of alternate blocks on one side of the street and in the middle of the blocks on the other. I'd like even more light on the subject, say lights in the middle of ALL the blocks.

Also, another thing I'd like to see is the lights extended all the way from the Court house to the Algeria hotel, and one block each way off the main drag in the business district. When all these wells that are being located get underway, I feel sure we will have plenty of money for the city to do this.

The new stop light on the Tahoka highway is another welcome addition. One of the peace officers said that perhaps a red and green light will be installed there instead of the blinker as soon as the state makes a traffic check that justifies it. He also said that John Herd is working on getting a three-way light on Main and Broadway.

Another thing that is really a good deal as far as I'm concerned is the new parking stalls the city has laid out.

It may not be known, but someone did a lot of work and study, testing the right angles at which to put those stripes. Everyone remembers the way the stalls were laid out before.

If it was possible and you were a real good driver in a particularly sharp mood, you could get your car into one of those old stalls. If there was a car on each side of you, your mother-in-law was stuck. Not even a blowtorch could open the back doors the way those stalls were laid out.

Another thing, anytime you tried to park between two cars in the old stalls, you dented the rear fender

Midwesterners Feel Present Good Business Conditions To End

ST. LOUIS, Mo., As soon as I talk business conditions with anyone out here—banker, manufacturer, merchant, farmer or wage worker—he asks: "How long do you think do you think present good conditions can last?" They all seem to realize that the country—and especially wages and prices—are on an artificially high basis.

What Would Cause Collapse? It will not be our banking system, nor in fact any of the things which have brought on previous depressions. The most prevalent belief is that the next business collapse will be brought about by competing labor leaders and unreasonable high taxes. Throughout the Central West, a severe crop failure, lasting two or three years, is most feared. Of course, an attack by Russia could make an awful dent in the stock market.

Personally I do not look for a "bust," or even a panic during the next year or two. My fear is of a slow "erosion," caused by increasing competition, reduced profits and declining sales. There is a limit to the number of houses, autos, televisions, refrigerators, etc. which families can buy either for cash or on installments. We fear fast approaching this limit.

When retail sales fall off, employers must lay off workers. This increasing unemployment results in still fewer sales, more unemployment, and finally we will be confronted by 15 million unemployed and a dead stock market. An excess of new labor-saving machinery could also hasten this "business erosion" until unemployment gets adjusted thereto.

What Charts Show According to the Babsonchart which covers all sections of the country a business depression could be expected anytime. For over ten years business has been above the normal line. When this Babsonchart is broken down, it is found that it is made up of four cycles. Each of these are of different duration. These have been worked out in detail by two famous economists—Edward R. Dewey and Edwin F. Dakin. The longest of these cycles runs for 54 years; the second longest for 18 years; the third longest for 9 years; and the shortest for 41 months. Ordinarily, throughout the past century these cycles often reach their high and low points at different times and hence neutralize one another. This is the reason I depend upon my composite chart. But a study of these four independent charts of Dewey and Dakin indicates that they all may reach their low points about 1952. If so, those who are saving up to buy a home or stocks or other things, for lower than present prices, have only about two more years to wait. A discussion of when the next business depression is due, must consider the Cold War in which we are now engaged. In fact, it almost looks as if we are still fighting World War II. Certainly as a war measure, our Government cannot afford to let this country suffer from serious unemployment, failures and a collapsed stock market until we have attained peace. This might come through Stalin's death, a Russian revolution, or through compromise due to mutual fear of the H-Bomb.

Until the present Cold War ends, our country MUST keep sending billions to Europe; MUST speed up production of armaments; MUST support farm prices and MUST help small business. In short, I see no serious business or stock market collapse so long as the Cold War continues.

I say this irrespective of what economists or political leaders have to say. Hence, I believe that Joe Stalin is the only one who can answer correctly our question: "When will it be time to buy houses, commodities and stocks cheap?" In fact, even he does not now know! I, however, do not believe that 1950 will offer this opportunity.

Farmers Are Optimistic The farmers out here are fairly optimistic. Most of them are out of debt and many have good bank accounts. During the past few years they have been buying equipment, repairing buildings and improving the soil. They feel that even a decline—which they expect Congress will treat fairly.

Only two things these farmers fear: one is another drought which may come any time; the other thing which worries them is whether Truman has any right advisors. I find out from very strong hope that General Eisenhower will be their President.

Annual spring training for Michigan State baseball teams have been made since 1947 except for the war years.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY Associated Press Washington Service.

WASHINGTON, P.—Historians and political candidates alike turn to the pages of the Congressional Record to see how members of the Senate and House have voted on various pieces of legislation.

When the summer Democratic primary elections get going good in Texas, voters in some congressional districts undoubtedly will hear that their congressman took such and such a stand on various issues.

The Congressional Record, the daily journal of proceedings in both the House and Senate, will be offered as proof. It lists how the legislators stood on all "roll call" votes.

That's standard and acceptable campaign procedure is congressional races not only in Texas, but all over the country. The record may be cited by either the incumbent lawmaker or the foe who is trying to unseat him.

But what can't be so well brought out in political campaigns, or in the history books if the historian falls back only on the recorded vote, is how the representative or senator may have voted where no roll call was taken.

It happens not infrequently that the lawmakers pass on an issue but don't want a record vote which may be held up against them later by an opponent.

Of course, too, simply in order to save time, there are numerous unrecorded roll call votes.

Usually, if there is a sharp division of opinion, there is a roll call. It takes one-fifth of those present to force the "yeas" and "nays" to be put down in black and white. And, at any time a member can demand a quorum be present before a vote is taken.

A quorum is a bare majority, 218 members in the House and 49 in the Senate.

Complicating the situation still more is the legislative procedure in the House, whereby that body resolves itself into what is called "the committee of the whole house" in order to debate bills and tentatively vote upon them.

Senate Procedure The Senate has no such procedure. When a measure comes on the senate floor, it is actually being considered and acted upon by the Senate.

Only in the "committee of the whole" in the house is there general debate on the pending bill and on amendments which may be offered to it. Three kinds of votes may be taken while the House is in the "committee of the whole," but none is a recorded vote.

Minute Editorial

Tonight is the night set by the chamber of commerce board of directors for a report to the town on the chamber's accomplishments. Each day we learn more of the good work and intelligent effort being put out by the board. We hope they will give a rather specific report, because some of the things they have found out are particularly interesting. They have laid a foundation but it is going to be necessary for every citizen of Post to cooperate actively for the chamber of commerce to accomplish anything worthwhile. We are especially interested in the housing situation. According to a report we had, a Lubbock firm has offered to match any amount of money to start a housing project here. It is our feeling that here is a place for the individual to cooperate with the chamber. Perhaps there is no one person here with sufficient matching capital himself, but we feel that a number of citizens could pool their money, match the Lubbock firm's offer and do a service for Post while making a profit. Individual members of the chamber of commerce are building offices and residences, but as one said, what an individual does by himself is just a drop in the bucket. The best way to find out what the true picture is, is to attend the meeting tonight. If the directors give a comprehensive report you will then know what you can do. Your presence there will show these men that you really want to do your part. Let's all work themselves. This reversal may come because a roll call vote has been forced on an issue; it may come because pressure has been put on them and they don't want their changed position recorded.

Burleson's Bill A specific instance of this occurred recently in the voting on an amendment by West Texas Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson.

Under consideration was the big foreign-aid bill (ECA). While the legislators were in the "committee of the whole" Burleson offered an amendment requiring that $1 billion of the amount should be spent on surplus American farm commodities.

The amendment was adopted by 119 to 107 "teller" vote. Later, when the proposal came up for final action in the House, it was defeated by a 198 to 70 standing vote.

Burleson asked for a "roll call" vote on his proposition, but one-fifth of those present wouldn't agree to have their position set down in black and white.

Where were some of those who had originally supported the Burleson amendment, when it received 198 votes? No one can answer that definitely because there was no record vote to check back on.

Between the two votes, word got around that the President didn't like the Burleson amendment because it would give less freedom in the administration of the ECA program.

Cotton Allotment Deal It just so happened that on the president's desk at that moment was the all-important cotton acreage allotment bill, giving cotton farmers 1,200,000 additional acres for planting this year.

The bill also contained a big provision to help out peanut growers. It was one of those nebulous things, but word got around that the president would sign the cotton-peanut bill if the Burleson bill was rejected. There had been speculation that he was

Talk of a new Class AAA division for the Interscholastic league high school sports program is being heard again.

The latest on the proposed new division was at a meeting of the athletic directors of the four City Conference members.

Fort Worth is definitely in favor of abolishing the City Conference.

Dallas would kinda like to see it go by the boards.

Houston and San Antonio are satisfied with the four-city league, but would go along on whatever plan is worked out.

Herman Clark, the athletic director for Fort Worth high schools is woefully unhappy with the City Conference.

"It's ruined us here," said Herman. He was talking about fan interest in high school sports which sagged badly in Fort Worth since the City Conference was created.

Clark was host for the City Conference basketball tournament recently. He did an excellent job of presenting the tournament. The brand of basketball was—in the opinion of many Southwest Conference coaches—better than at the three-division state tournament at Austin.

But less than 5,000 persons attended the two day tournament. A total of 42,000 turned out at Austin in three days.

Clark would like to see the basketball tournament held in Austin each year—if the City Conference continues.

"There's no tradition behind it when you hold it in one town every four years," he said.

Why not, he suggested, hold the Class B and Class A tournaments at a certain time at Austin

NEW YORK May 3. P.—Greyhound, holder of the world trotting record at 1:55-1/4, won 55 of 65 heats during a five-year racing career (1934-38), and was out of the purse money only one time in all his starts.

He was unbeaten in his last two seasons, and was selected as the "Horse of the Year" in 1938, over thoroughbred contemporaries. The "Grey Ghost," a gelding, was purchased for $900 as a yearling. He is still living in luxurious fashion at the farm of owner E. J. Baker in St. Charles, Ill.

and the Class AA and City Conference at another?

The idea for the Class AAA division would be to limit it to schools with 750 enrollment or more.

That would include practically all of the members of the City Conference, plus such schools as Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Austin, Waco, Odessa and others.

Noxious Plants Cause Range Loss

Is your range being robbed by noxious plants and reducing its productive value?

It is estimated that in Texas alone the annual loss from mesquite and juniper is 20 million dollars. L. C. Herron, county agent reveals. Besides sapping the soil of vital water and nutrients needed to produce forage, these plants like cheat grass increase the fire hazard to the danger stage. Still other plants cause such serious death losses that animals have to be removed from these pastures.

The removal of these plants would increase production to such an extent as to pay for the operation in a matter of only a few years. The type of operation for this removal would depend upon the type of plants.

The common theory that these noxious plants crowd out the grass is false, Herron says. It has been proven that the desired grasses will inhibit the noxious plant growth. Careful and sound pasture management after removal will prevent the weeds from coming back.

Mrs. George Samson Is Still Homesick Here After Nearly 40 Years Spent in West Texas

Mrs. George Samson has one thing in common with the Santa Fe—they brought the first train into Post.

The train went on through and Mrs. Samson had to stay. So far, it's been 39 years. Twenty-three years ago she went back to Scotland—her home—for a visit. She plans to go again, but something has happened the past two years to change her plans.

Mrs. Samson landed in New York on Sunday morning and before she could get out of customs, two-year-old Jack ran away. She had to run down the dock to rescue him. She was traveling with her two children, Jean and Jack, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jim Samson.

They spent the day in Brooklyn with relatives of Mrs. Jim Samson, then entrained Sunday night for Amarillo. When they arrived in Amarillo, they registered at a hotel kept by an Englishwoman.

"I had never seen Post. Toasties," recalls Mrs. Samson. "I was sitting on the table when we sat down to eat. There was a big bowl full. All else they had to eat was liver and eggs. I knew I couldn't eat liver and eggs, so I ran the Post Toasties through my fingers and asked the woman what that was."

"Breakfast food," she said. "Breakfast food or not I can't eat that," said Mrs. Samson. The hotel-keeper finally fixed her some hot cakes for breakfast and insisted on packing a lunch, in spite of Mrs. Samson's protests.

"It was the hottest day I ever saw," said Mrs. Samson, recalling the train ride from Amarillo to Lubbock on June 15, 1911. "Jack opened the lunch and started teasing it out the window. My sister-in-law told me I shouldn't let him do that, but it was too hot and the lunch was no good, anyway."

When the travelers got to Lubbock, neither George nor Jim Samson was in sight. Mrs. Samson nevertheless picked up her children and belongings and marched off the train. She saw her husband coming, waving her back on the train. She went right on to meet him.

"Get back on the train," he said. "We're going on to Post." Soon Jim Samson came with the tickets and the families embarked on the last leg of their journey.

"Everybody in town had come down to meet the train," Mrs. Samson remembers. "I'll never forget how I felt when I got off the train and saw Post," she says. "Before she knew what happened, the train pulled out."

"I wish I had stayed on the train," Mrs. Samson said to her husband. "If it had stopped long enough, I would have got right back on and gone back home."

"Sh—" said Mr. Samson. "Everyone is looking at you."

"I'm looking at them, too," replied Mrs. Samson, "and they don't look any better than I."

He had just built the house where he and Mrs. Samson now live. At that time, as Mrs. Samson recalls, there were only about four houses up in that end of town. She was ready to go back home.

Mrs. H. Hume lived across the street from the Samsons. He had been boarding there. She was sitting on her porch when she saw the family coming up the street, she ran to meet them, hugging and kissing Mrs. Samson.

"I have fixed supper for you," she said.

"I can't eat this food," said Mrs. Samson, busily going through her new house.

"Now Mrs. Samson, you just go to bed and rest, and I will bring you a tray," said Mrs. Hume.

After examining her new home, Mrs. Samson reluctantly went to bed and her neighbor brought her supper over on a tray.

"It's a lovely tray," said Mrs. Samson, "but I can't eat a thing on it."

The friendliness and custom of visiting here was very strange to her at first, Mrs. Samson reports, and she could not get used to it. She remembers being very lonely and homesick. She and the children often sat on the back porch because she felt if she looked hard enough in a southeasterly direction, she could see home.

Main street as she remembers it was quite different from the way it is now. "There was a plumbing shop across the street from where Lanotte's is now, and a dry goods store, a hardware store and Collier's drug store was where Haws' store is now," is the way Mrs. Samson recalls it.

She did not care to go out much but her husband took up golf. There was a golf course near town. She remembers fussing and fussing at him for spending so much time there.

Then she went to see Dr. A. C. Surman, who told her she must take more exercise. "Learn to swim," he suggested. This idea horrified Mrs. Samson, who never went near the lake. "Take up golf," was Dr. Surman's next suggestion.

So she became an ardent golfer—"although I never really learned to play," she confesses. She and a friend went to the golf course morning noon and night, says Mrs. Samson.

"George would say, 'I don't see my wife now; she'll get here before I leave,'" Mrs. Samson recalls. "And I always did," she adds.

After playing their rounds of golf, Mrs. Samson and her friends always stopped at the drug store for a cup of hot chocolate, regardless of the weather.

North Scotland, which is Mrs. Samson's home has a calm, even climate, never very hot. She remembers walking down town one day to buy a dress. It had sprinkled that day and all the conversation on the street was about the "sprinkling." All the

SCRIPTURE:
In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe. He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light. That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. St. John 1: 1-13

Thurman Morgan, director of ministerial students at TCU in Fort Worth, relates that Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas are being served by 80 student ministers from TCU. Post is represented in this group by having Roomer Hudler as pastor of the local First Christian church.

Forrest Moyer and wife were in Earth last evening where he preached at the Church of Christ. He spoke in Lubbock earlier in the week.

The Leader's Sunday School Class of the First Baptist church met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Dan Cookrum for a monthly business and social meeting. Mrs. N. A. Lusby presided over the business session in the absence of the president. The class voted to continue to support a missionary who is in school in South America. Mrs. Arthur Talley gave the devotional before Mrs. I. B. Clary reviewed the book "The Feast." Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting to Mrs. Lusby, Mrs. Talley, Mrs. Clary, Mrs. Walter Keener, Mrs. Charlie Baker, Mrs. E. R. Moreland, Mrs. Cloyd Curb, Mrs. L. R. McFaddin, Mrs. G. W. Pennington, Mrs. Dick Allen, Mrs. Joe DeArmond, Mrs. Lester Nichols and Mrs. T. M. Gillham.

The Methodist Men's club will meet at the church at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

The Adult Training union of the First Baptist church met Monday evening at the church for a covered dish supper and a program planning meeting. There were 14 members and a visitor present.

The singing school which has been in progress at the Church of Christ the past two weeks closed Sunday with a singing that afternoon. Approximately 200 people at-

The Eastern Star was organized here in 1912 and Mrs. Samson joined in 1913. Later, she dropped out because she had no one to go with, but now she is considering reinstatement.

A stonecutter in the old country, Samson worked in New York, Pittsburg and Allegheny. He then came to Georgetown, Texas, and helped build Southwestern University. Then he went to Dallas and worked on the post office. He had met Jimmy Napier who came on to Post to size things up. They had seen Post advertised when they worked in Georgetown.

Soon after he came to Post, his mother died and he went home to Scotland. Mrs. Samson asked him how long he planned to stay in America when he returned. Three years, he said.

"Well," said Mrs. Samson, "the children and I will come out there and spend the last year and a half."

"But he sent for us in a year," Mrs. Samson recalls. Memories of Scotland are kept alive by the treasures diminutive Mrs. Samson keeps. She has some willow ware belonging to her mother, as well as several other china pieces. She has antique cruets, silver toast racks, crystal butter and jelly dishes, linens and figurines, all souvenirs of her trip to Europe or mementoes from friends and relatives at home.

"I like Post and I'm used to everything now. The people are so friendly and nice to me. But it still isn't home," says Mrs. Samson. And she's still homesick after 39 years.

Gossip about Garza Guys And Gals

—by gay nellie

GUESS WHAT? Paul Duren is living in Post again!

Among the nicest graduation gifts that we have heard about is the record player-radio that Sue Bell Brister received last week from Charles. (Propst of course.)

Jim Bird really started the roping season off with a bang. He roped in a jackpot Sunday at Muleshoe against some of the "Big RCA boys" and beat the whole bunch as he turned in time of 10.6. To name a few of the RCA boys, Troy Fort, Buddy Fort, James Kenny, Earl Moore and Fred Daugherty.

Am Floyd of WTSC in Canyon spent the weekend here.

When Jimmy Hundley recently returned home from Florida he brought along a fella, Joe Angel, who was en route to California. Jimmy received a letter this week saying that Joe was a baseball pitcher for the Pittsburgh, Calif., Pirates. And speaking of Jimmy Hundley reminds us that he is about to get himself married. The lucky miss, Shirley Ann Smith, of Fort Myers, Fla., is visiting here this week.

Barbara Northcutt is having a big time these days chauffeuring her friend, Joyce Short, around in her dad's new Pontiac.

P-TA Sets Final Meeting of Year

Birthday Picnic Fetes Mrs. V. L. Peel Here

"Cowgirl Capers" Will Be Theme Tuesday Night for 4-H Girls and HD Club Banquet

The annual "Cowgirl Capers" Banquet honoring members of the Garza 4-H and Home Demonstration clubs will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church here. Competitors in the HD and 4-H dress revues will model their garments and the winners will be announced at this time. Mrs. Jewell Strasner, county HD agent, said. Dresses in the competition must be in the agents' office for judging not later than 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, she stated.

Menu committee for the banquet includes Mrs. J. C. Fumagalli, Mrs. Sid Cross, and Mrs. Wayne Pennington. Mrs. Fumagalli is in charge of tickets, also. Each HD club is preparing some of the food which is to be paid for by the purchase of tickets at 25 cents each. The ranch-style banquet will be served as a buffet dinner.

Mrs. Wesley Scott and Sue Stephens are in charge of the program. Each HD club and each 4-H club will present two numbers on the program. The western theme will be emphasized.

Mrs. Wilburn Morris is chairman of the decoration committee. She will be assisted by Mrs. Hardie Smith, Mrs. Henry Wheatley, Mrs. Durwood Bartlett, Mrs. A. A. Ritchie, Mrs. J. C. Steel, Mrs. Bernie Jones, Mrs. Thelbert McBride and Miss Henrietta Nichols.

Sybil Smith of Southland is in charge of the invitations. Place cards are being made by the Post senior 4-H club under the direction of Lenona Stone, Sue Stephens, Lois Ritchie and Jan-ye Lobb. In charge of getting the tables ready will be Mrs. W. W. Stephens, chairman. Mrs. Phil Trammell and Mrs. Jim Williams.

Mrs. R. E. McLaurin, council chairman, will be mistress of ceremonies and the commissioner's court will be guests. Annual winners of various trips and contests for girls will be announced, as well as the dress revue winners.

Winners in the dress revue contest for HD women will be the first ones eligible for the tailoring course to be held next fall, Mrs. Strasner said.

The banquet will be the Garza county observance of national home demonstration week, which was set for April 30 to May 6. Theme for the week is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

The home demonstration program has grown from a small beginning in 1913 to the point that three million women are now participating, Mrs. Strasner said. Some 43,000 were enrolled in Texas last year. Mrs. Strasner estimates that she has 120 members in Garza county.

Home demonstration clubmembers helped the trained agent spread information on nutrition, food production and preservation, home management, use of equipment, family relations, clothing for the family, community activities, consumer buying and many other interests of rural families.

In Texas, rural homemakers are working to improve their own homes and keep their families in good condition while improving their communities. This program is in effect all over the United States, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska.

Garza county women are carrying on several demonstrations including bread and cereal as well as clothing. Major demonstrations include landscaping.

Home demonstration clubs in Garza more or less sponsor the girls' 4-H clubs. Mrs. Strasner estimates that there are 120 4-H girls in the county. Winners in the dress revue will model at the 4-H Roundup in College Station next month and HD winners will model at the Texas Home Demonstration association convention this summer.

Garza HD Council Meets Wednesday

Garza county Home Demonstration council will meet Wednesday in the district court room to vote on a long-term program for the next three years, Mrs. Jewell Strasner, agent, announced.

The rural roads program will also be discussed, Mrs. Strasner said. She urged every member to attend.

A meeting of the county-wide 4-H council will be held during the last week in May, sometime after school closes, Mrs. Strasner said.

S. M. Puckett was honored by his children Sunday with a dinner marking his 74th birthday. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Puckett and family and Mr. and Mrs. Brode Puckett and daughter, all of Lubbock.

Mrs. Donnie Middleton accompanied Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Barnett of Lubbock on a trip to South Texas and Mexico last week.

Mrs. F. I. Bailey returned home Sunday from LaJunta, Colo., where she spent three weeks with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Orville West.

Desserts Top List in Post Menus for May with Salads Second

Summer desserts take precedence with Post housewives again this week with dishes requested by husbands and children in the forefront.

Mrs. James Minor prepares a sort of meat loaf dish for which she has no name. She serves it with rice as a main dish or on buns for sandwiches. She finds that children eat ground beef more readily than roast or steaks. Her recipe follows:

2 1/2 lbs. ground beef (round steak is good)

 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1-3 cup prepared mustard
 1/2 cup catsup
 1/2 clove garlic, minced
 1-3 medium onion, minced
 Cook in double boiler for half an hour, stirring occasionally. Spread on buns or serve on rice for a main dish.

Mrs. St. Thaxton recommends Orange Pudding for a summertime sweet. Ingredients include:

3 large or medium oranges

1/2 cup sugar
 1 recipe vanilla pudding or 1 package prepared mix
 2 eggs, separated
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Remove membrane from orange sections. Cover with sugar, using more if oranges are tart. Make pudding according to directions on package, adding egg yolk to milk called for in pudding. Beat whites until firm, then add tablespoon sugar and vanilla. Place a layer of pudding alternately with a layer of oranges in a pyrex dish until all is used. Top with beaten whites and brown a delicate brown.

Store in refrigerator, but do not freeze.

Bolled Cake is one of Mrs. G. R. Day's family's favorite recipes. Ingredients include:

1/2 cup sweetmilk
 4 tablespoons butter
 2 eggs
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder

Heat milk and butter to boiling then pour over a mixture of the remaining ingredients. Bake in a large cake pan in a moderate oven. Mrs. Day's filling recipe calls for:

7 tablespoons brown sugar
 3 tablespoons butter
 2 tablespoons cream
 1 cup shredded coconut

Mix first three ingredients and let come to a boil. Then add coconut. Spread on cake and put in the oven to brown.

Mrs. Arthur Talley has an exotic name for a delicious dessert. Her family really goes for Egyptian Cake. The recipe includes:

2 cups flour
 1 1/4 cup sugar
 4 eggs, stiffly beaten
 1/2 cup sweet milk
 3/4 cup butter
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 ounce chocolate or
 2 heaping tablespoons cocoa
 5 tablespoons hot water

Mix ingredients in the order listed and bake in layers in a 350 degree oven. For filling, Mrs. Talley suggests mixing coconut, ground nuts and whipped cream. Ice just before serving and keep in refrigerator.

Mrs. L. C. Herron was looking through her recipes when her husband asked what she was doing. On being told, he said, "Give them that Apricot Upside down Cake."

"Evidently, he thinks that is good," Mrs. Herron laughed. Her recipe includes:

2 tablespoons creamed butter or oleomargarine
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 several halved apricots
 2-3 cup white sugar
 1/4 cup shortening
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 egg
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1/2 cup milk
 2 teaspoons baking powder

Place creamed butter and brown sugar in bottom of greased loaf. Place apricots over this. Place a layer of the halved apricots. Cover with a batter made of the remaining ingredients, made by creaming shortening and sugar.

Add unbeaten egg and flavoring, then beat thoroughly. Sift flour, measure and sift with salt and baking powder. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Pour over apricots and bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Mrs. Boy Hart has served Pineapple Pie often at socials and other parties and someone is always asking her for the recipe. She serves it with whipped cream or ice cream. Ingredients include:

1 cup sugar
 1 cup white sirup
 1 cup drained, crushed pineapple
 pinch salt
 3 whole eggs
 2 tablespoons vanilla
 2 tablespoons melted butter
 1/2 cup nuts, optional

Combine ingredients, adding butter last, and mix well with an egg whisk beater. Put in unbaked pie shell and cook at a high temperature until the pie rises—about 15 minutes. Cut oven down to 300 degrees F and bake until solid. Although the pie is very rich without it, Mrs. Hart usually uses whipped cream or ice cream as a topping.

Mrs. Fay Claborn has a recipe for Coconut Pie that her family really enjoys. It calls for:

2 eggs
 2-3 cup sugar
 2-3 cup white sirup
 2-3 cup coconut
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 lump butter
 pinch salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix all ingredients together and stir well. Pour in a 9-inch unbaked pie shell and bake at 350 degrees F, until firm.

Mrs. H. J. Dietrich recommends Sponge Cake for those who are unable to eat rich desserts. She sometimes serves it with whipped cream or a fruit topping. Her recipe includes:

6 eggs
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons water
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup sifted cake flour

Mrs. Dietrich warns that success in making sponge cake depends on carefully following the mixing method given with the recipe. For hers she recommends placing eggs, 2-3 cup sugar, cream of tartar, salt, water, lemon juice and vanilla in a large bowl. Beat until the volume has increased four times and large bubbles cease to form. This is about 11 minutes by hand or 5 minutes with an automatic mixer.

The batter will then be light and glossy. Turn mixer onto low speed and sift remaining flour and sugar together, adding to egg mixture gradually. Scrape bottom and sides of pan and beat for another 15 seconds.

Pour into ungreased pan and bake at 325 degrees F for one hour and 15 minutes. Mrs. Dietrich uses a tube pan and her cake always comes out extra large and light.

One of the Curtis Davies' favorite dishes is Pecan Pie. "This is the wrong time of year for pecan pie," Mrs. Davies remarked, "but I'll give you this recipe, anyway." It calls for:

1 cup sugar
 1 cup corn or cane sirup
 3 tablespoons butter
 3 eggs
 1 cup unbroken pecans

Mix sugar and sirup, then bring to boil. Add butter and pour hot mixture over beaten eggs. Add pecans and pour into unbaked shell sprinkled with a mixture of one tablespoon sugar and one tablespoon flour. Bake in a slow oven.

Mrs. Max Tucker finds that the caramel fudge she makes is very popular. It is another recipe where the method is important. Ingredients are:

3 cups white sugar
 1 cup cream
 1-8 teaspoon baking powder
 1/4 cup butter
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1/2 to 1 lb. pecans

Put one cup sugar into small sauce pan. Put remaining sugar and cream in large kettle. Put both on at same time, over low heat. Stir sugar constantly until it makes a light brown sirup. Stir cream and sugar mixture occasionally but do not let boil until other mixtures is thoroughly dissolved. When a sirup is formed, add slowly to boiling cream and sugar. Continue cooking without stirring until a firm ball can be formed in cold water.

Take off stove and mix in soda. Add butter then cool for 20 or 30 minutes. Add vanilla and beat until thick, then add pecans. Pour into buttered platter or pan and set.

The recipe submitted this week by Mrs. Bob Warren is her own recipe. It is for Chicken Loaf. Ingredients are:

meat from 1 boiled chicken
 3 teaspoons mayonnaise
 1 can small English peas
 6 boiled eggs
 1 fresh onion
 small can pimiento
 salt and pepper
 2 packages lemon gelatin
 3 cups hot water
 2 or 3 small sweet pickles, chopped

1 tablespoon vinegar
 1 teaspoon sugar, added to gelatin

Cut up ingredients. Pour vinegar and sugar together, then stir all into cooled gelatin mixture. Put in refrigerator to congeal.

Mrs. Roy Stevens uses her mother's recipe for Red Devil's Food Cake. Ingredients include:

1 cup lard
 2 cups sugar
 2 1/2 cups flour
 1/2 cup cocoa
 2 eggs
 1 cup sour milk, curdled
 2 teaspoons soda
 pinch salt
 vanilla flavoring
 1 cup hot water

Sift dry ingredients together five times. Cream lard and sugar, add beaten egg and milk. Gradually add dry ingredients, then boiling water. Cook in layer pans in moderate oven.

 1 cup sweet milk

Boil sugar, cocoa, salt, butter, pecans and milk, then add sirup. Do not stir until done. Test by forming soft ball in cold water. Set aside to cool. Then add vanilla. When lukewarm, beat and pour into a buttered platter.

Ford does it again

Ford's the first car ever to receive the coveted New York Fashion Academy medal in two consecutive years

Named "Fashion Car of the Year" second year in a row

And handsome is as handsome does. A "Test Drive" will show you the quality that makes the '50 Ford the one fine car in its field. You'll feel the smooth, quiet getaway power of Ford's new V-8 engine (or advanced "Six" if you prefer). You'll feel the 35% easier acting King Size Brakes. You'll feel the "Mid Ship" comfort of Ford's 13-way stronger "Life-guard" Body... now "sound-conditioned." Yes, here's quality you'll see, hear and feel when you "Test Drive" the '50 Ford.

All the world of Fashion looks to New York's famed Fashion Academy as an authority on style. So it's no wonder Ford is proud to receive their medal as "Fashion Car of the Year" for the second straight year. Never before was a car honored by two Fashion Academy Awards in a row! Here's proof that Ford has succeeded in bringing style to the low-price field—style even far costlier cars can't match.

Floyd H. Hodges Plans to Rebuild Farm in Cross Roads by Conservation Methods

One of the newest cooperators in the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district, Floyd H. Hodges has a reputation with the SCS boys as being one of the most cooperative.

Hodges moved to Garza county two years ago and bought the old Jasper James farm in the Cross Roads community. He owns 400 acres and only last year, personnel from the Post office unit of the SCS helped him work out a conservation plan for his farm.

"I've always tried to farm that way," Hodges explains when asked what he thinks of the conservation program, "but this is the first time I have signed a contract."

Mrs. Hodges is very interested in the soil conservation program and is very encouraging, her husband relates. The family, which originally lived in Snyder, also boasts two boys, Delwyn, 10, and Jimmy, 6, Delwyn hopes to become a 4-H clubber soon.

Conservation Plan

Hodges' conservation plan includes terracing his 200 acres of cultivated land, farming on the contour with these terraces, planting cover crops on the eroding land and a range improvement program. He is operating each phase of his plan this year.

When Hodges bought his farm, it was badly run down. It had been badly run down and washed, being full of gullies.

"My new terraces helped a great deal in this last rain," Hodges said. "They kept all the water. Very little ran off the land." Hodges has built a diversion in his west field to take care of some of the water gullying.

On one of his two cultivated fields, he has built five and one-half miles of terraces this spring. Terrace lines have been run on the other field and these terraces will be built just as soon as equipment is available, according to SCS workers.

Close City News

Please Send News Not Later Than Monday to MRS. WILL TEAFF, Close City Correspondent

The Will Teaff home was the scene Thursday evening of an annual banquet honoring Close City eighth graders and boys and girls of this community who ride the bus to Post. Guests were seated at three large tables in the living-dining room.

Chicken sandwiches, potato chips, vegetable salad, cake with peaches and cream and punch were served. The program included group singing; a song by Mary Ann Shults and Mrs. A. M. Smith; a reading by Mrs. Jim Barron; Scripture and prayer by the Rev. R. E. Bratton Baptist pastor and an address by the Rev. O. L. Jones, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church in Post. The banquet is sponsored by the WMU.

residue will help provide a mulch for holding water on the range and will keep the soil in good condition.

Technicians recommend leaving half the plant growth to enable the grass to get a good root system and be healthy and vigorous. Deferment will be for the month in which the grasses are producing a seed crop. This is usually from summer until frost. Grass plants must seed for one year in every four to replace dying plants.

"I can already tell quite a difference in the pastures," Hodges reports.

Two tanks were on the place when Hodges bought it. Under his overall conservation program, he is having them stocked with fish.

Hodges is depending on a balanced conservation program to rebuild a once good farm. The results he has had in a year are surprising and encouraging, he believes. He plans to continue his entire program.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. P. Lusk of Lorenzo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Newbury.

Mud Lake Gets "Cleared Up"

County officers got a notice from the government not long ago, asking them to change the name of Mud Lake. Seems it's a pond, not a lake, by government standards.

Because it lies entirely inside our town limits, we asked to do the name-changing ourselves. Figured we'd think up a pond-new name. Mud Lake's really not very muddy—sort of pretty, in fact.

County people said go ahead, so we held a Town Meeting. Everyone suggested something. Windy Taylor thought "Taylor Pond" would be nice, because his place borders it—for about 30 feet! But we finally decided to call it "Turtle Pond" in honor of the real owners.

From where I sit, naming that pond wasn't the most important thing in the world—but the way we did it was. Everyone offered his opinion and then the majority vote decided it. That's the way it should be—whether it concerns naming a pond, or having the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when we choose.

Red Brick Ranch Style Home with Colonial Trim Built Here

The exterior of the red brick ranch-style house with the modified colonial trim is an indication of the happy combination of 18th century furnishings and modern decor within.

The Giles McCrary home on North Tyler street was built three summers ago. The family stayed at the ranch until the house was completed, after he came out of the army.

Of rambling red brick construction the house is trimmed with louvered white colonial shutters. The front door, the house faces west, is a colonial-type panel door with three small panes at the top. All doors are painted mahogany.

Dimensions of the combination living room-dining room are 16 by 36 feet. The McCrary's specified spaciousness when the architect designed their house. The living room, like most of the other rooms, is large in size and decorated to seem even larger.

THE LOST CHORD FOUND—Mary Louise McCrary is surprised by the way she can play but small sister, Pamela, is not impressed. Mr. and Mrs. Giles McCrary, parents of the two, look on. The family is pictured in the living room of the McCrary's spacious red brick ranch style home on North Tyler. Furnishings in the McCrary home blend gracious 18th century pieces with modern conveniences and decor. (Photo by Bob Butcher.)

Spinnet Piano
On the south wall is a spinnet piano in a dark wood. On the piano are a pair of English vases and above it is a painting of a bluebonnet scene. On the east wall, opposite the door is the combination radio-phonograph.

The convertible fireplace is at the front of the house. The mantel is of carved wood, painted white. A large oblong mirror extends from the mantel to the ceiling. Crystal candlesticks and vases adorn the mantel.

On each side of the fireplace is a Victorian "gentleman's chair," upholstered in petit point done by his mother, Mrs. I. N. McCrary. A small dropleaf table is by one chair and a drum table is by the other. Tomato-colored cloisonne lamps are on these.

Chippendale Sofa
Across the room is a pale green Chippendale sofa. The oval coffee table is Sheraton. End tables by the sofa are modified pie crust-type Sheraton. All furniture in here is mahogany. A tomato-colored Queen Anne chair picks up the tones of the cloisonne lamp bases and the faint pattern in the sofa.

Blue-green draw draperies with an off-white and silver floral pattern of satin damask are at the windows. Walls are textured, throughout, and are a soft gray in the living room.

Dining room furniture is also 18th century. The dropleaf dining table is against the west wall. Above it are four rose-colored Wedgwood plates with scenes of Washington and Lee college and on the opposite wall are blue Wedgwood plates with scenes from Annapolis. McCrary went to Washington and Lee and his father was an Annapolis man.

Czechoslovakian Crystal
Dining chairs are upholstered in pale green and beige stripe. The light fixture in the dining room and at the front door are of Czechoslovakian crystal prisms. On the buffet on the north wall is Mrs. McCrary's silver tea service as well as other silver pieces.

The 12 by 12-foot kitchen is directly behind the dining room. One wall is a sort of butter yellow, a mixed paint which matches the linoleum top on the work counters. The floor is also linoleum in a tan background with a brown, rust and tan stylized pattern.

The kitchen table ingeniously shelves from the wall, revealing shelves for pottery and glassware. The table is a door to the shelf cabinet and a leg is attached, which folds down when the door is up. A radio is on a shelf with some magazines by the table and a built-in bench along the wall opens for more storage space. Adequate storage space was another requirement the McCrary's gave their architect.

An ironing board closet is on the other wall next to the dining room. Walls other than the yellow one, are white. Cabinets are built in on two walls. Facing the back is a sink with a double drain, next to the window. Mrs. McCrary cooks with a gas range.

Utility Room
The utility room, 8 x 12 feet, is north of the kitchen. Here Mrs. McCrary keeps her automatic washer and ironer and a large refrigerator. Above the washer and ironer are built-in wall cabinets for washing powder, bluing, starch and other washing equipment. Linoleum on the floor matches that in the kitchen. On the west wall is a large, 4 x 8 feet, pantry, which contains the water softener and heater.

Shelves extend to the top of the pantry for storing staple foods, laundry hampers and the hundred and one things that really have no place of their own.

The utility room opens on to a 10 x 16-foot breezeway, extending east and west and connecting with the garage. The south wall is all windows and the windows are all removable.

Informal Arrangement
Informally arranged, furnishings on the breezeway include a bleached mahogany table and several pieces finished in a light maple and designed to look like bamboo. A red glider and a maple chest complete the furnishings.

Floor of the breezeway is in brown and tan tile blocks. Doors lead to the garage, the side yard and the back yard. In two and a half years, the McCrary's have been able to get a good thick lawn. They have flowering peach trees and mock orange. Roses and irises are blooming profusely now. Decorated concrete benches add to the charm of the backyard.

The McCrarys plan extra construction on their garage. These plans include building a servant's quarters and a darkroom. One of his hobbies is photography and he has a small camera and an enlarger, already. Storage space for luggage, trunks and such is also located in the

Separated Guest Room
"Separate the guest room completely from our living quarters," Mrs. McCrary told Joseph Pelich of Fort Worth, the architect. So the guest room is north of the dining room.

Dimensions here are 16 x 17 feet. Furnishings are antique and more contemporary. A massive dressing table is walnut. An antique chair, belonging to McCrary's grandmother is trimmed with needlepoint and mother of pearl.

Color scheme is rose and pale green. Two floral prints are on the walls, roses the elder Mrs. McCrary painted from her mother's garden. A French chair is upholstered in blue-green petit point and needlepoint. Textured walls are pale green.

Twin spool beds are separated by a night stand holding a rose shaded lamp with a dark green alabaster base. Handmade green and white quilts are on the bed. Pattern is the "tree of life." Venetian blinds are at the windows throughout the house. White dotted Swiss Priscilla curtains are at the guest room windows.

Hall to Bath
A small hall east of the room leads to the bath. The guest closet is in the hall. When the McCrarys built their house, regular tiling was not available. They plan to replace the white tile board in this bathroom and the main bath with white tile.

Linoleum in the 6 x 8-foot bathroom matches that used in the kitchen. Walls are textured a pale pink except for those around the tub which are tiled.

Panel ray heaters are installed in the walls throughout the house, except for the living room, which is heated by a floor furnace. On the south, across the living room from the guest room is the two girls' room. Dimensions are 13 x 16 feet.

Twin beds in this room are antiqued white painted mahogany. A night stand separates the two beds. A built-in toy cabinet with shelves and doors holds a collection of dolls from all over Europe and the United States.

Two Doll Houses
On the south wall are two doll houses and a small rolltop desk. There is a chest of drawers. A full-length mirror is on the closet door. The two girls have two racks each for their clothes. Numerous shelves are built-in the closet, as well as drawers.

Walls are textured pink and blue chenille spreads are on the beds. A carpet covers the floor.

The 7 x 9-foot master bedroom separates the children's bedroom from that of their parents. Mary Louise is 8 years old and Pamela is 5.

Blue, rose and gray are the colors used in the 16 x 19-foot master bedroom. All furnishings are mahogany. A small desk is at one side of the connecting door. A Chinese Chippendale bookcase holds the McCrary's current favorites.

Chairback Bed
A blue spread with an off-white chintz dust ruffle is on the big chairback bed. The desk chair is upholstered in needlepoint.

Since Mr. and Mrs. McCrary also use their bedroom as a sitting room, a studio couch occupies a prominent position on the north wall. It is upholstered in a rose and gray stripe. The large chest of drawers is another 18th century piece.

The dresser appears to be Victorian and has a large, elaborately framed mirror. Mrs. McCrary keeps her sewing machine here, too. A beige patterned carpet is on the floor. A comfortable platform rocker is upholstered in gray. An occasional chair is upholstered to match the studio couch.

In their closet, the McCrary's have another built-in chest. A small hall connects the bedroom with his study. On one side is a closet for out-of-season clothes and on the other is storage for linens.

Study is Afterthought
McCrary's study is 8 x 16 feet in dimension. It was an afterthought, converted from a porch. Walls are paneled in beveled pine and the east wall is of glass brick. It opens to the living room, the hall and the kitchen.

The whole wall on one side of the hall door contains shelves for books, magazines and his record collection. Over his steel desk is an oil painting of the ranch house on the OS ranch. Business furniture includes a large safe, smaller safes and filing cabinets. A leather chair is in front of the desk and a large red leather couch is by the window.

Dotted Swiss curtains are trimmed in red. A wall bracket holds a "Joseph's coat," and another contains a different type of plant. McCrary was contractor for himself. When he came back from the army, the family had to have a place to live. While they were building, they spent the summer at the ranch.

Much of their furniture and accessories are old family pieces.
