SPACE SHIPS OVER POST—The above picture was brought to the Dispatch Tuesday afternoon by a local man who said he had made it earlier in the morning in Post. According to the photographer, he snapped the picture as two strange craft from "space" buzzed this South Plains town at low altitude and high speed. The Dispatch respectfully points out that Tuesday, when the photo was made, was April 1.

Post High School Students To Observe Ranch Day Thursday

Post High School Ranch Day has been set for Thursday, April 10, according to Miss Mary Cooney, Pep Squad leader. Sponsored by the Pep Squad the celebration will feature a queen and sheriff, parade, assembly program and special lunch. Several students have been nominated for these honors, and will be elected by popular vote Monday.

For queen the following girls have been nominated: Mary Ann

Rose, Juanella McClellan, Maudie Fay Ray, "Dot" Jones, Janie Gossett and Eva Lou Key. For sheriff Jack Kirkpatrick, W. O. Fluitt, "Topper" Ellberry, Billy Meeks, V. A. Lobban and Irvin Johnson have been nominated.

A full day's activities have been planned for the occasion according to Miss Cooney. These range from a parade early Thursday morning to a Western assembly program that afternoon.

Led by the high school band, the students will parade through town to school Thursday morning. At noon they will enjoy a Chuck Wagon lunch at the lunchroom. This will be a special menu worked up by the cafeteria staff.

Highlighting the day will be the assembly program that afternoon. The queen and sheriff are to be presented to the student body and then these two are to be given small token awards.

Order of the day will be Western dress. And the sheriff will see to it that the orders are carried out. A "calaboose" will be built on the grounds and anyone caught in "city" clothes will be "jugged."

Theme of the assembly program is to be in keeping with the celebration. Although no definite acts were announced by Miss Cooney it is to be presented by the Pep Squad.

BABY BURIED

Graveside funeral services for Thomas Delgado, 10-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Delgado, were conducted in Terrace cemetery at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Rev. Almon Martin officiated. Hudman Funeral home was in charge.

"Cancer Strikes One In Five" Slogan To Spearhead Cancer Drive This Month

In the near future Post and Garza county residents will be seeing signs bearing the following slogan around town:

"Cancer strikes one in five. Strike back!"

"Latest statistics show that one person in every five now living will develop cancer," says Emil C. Rassman, Midland attorney and civic leader who has been named a lay director for District 2 of the American Cancer Society.

"But if the public learns the facts and acts quickly when a symptom occurs, many of those struck can be saved," he added.

Present medical knowledge, combined with the tools available to educate the public to the danger signals of the disease, can save one-third to one-half of those stricken from untimely death. The secret is to catch the disease in time so that treatment can be begun in time, doctors say.

Although the state wide drive began the first of this month, the Post Crusade will not begin until the last week in the month, according to Burnis Lawrence, County Chairman for the Cancer Drive. The goal for the county has been set at approximately $553. Workers who will aid Lawrence in the drive will be named later.

Previously Garza county has always gone over their allotted goal in the Cancer drive. Last year the drive was headed by James Minor and more than $1,000 was raised in the county.

Doctors insist that work must go on. They say there has never been sufficient backing for worthwhile cancer research projects. That is why they say cancer research must be supported this year more than ever.

"More clinics, more volunteer services to cancer patients, are needed in Texas," Rassman said. "Education can save lives. More funds are needed for films, leaflets, posters and the other materials used in cancer education."

The Texas Cancer Crusade goal in Texas is $600,000 this year.

One fourth of every dollar raised in Garza county will be spent to finance the scientific search for a solution to the deadly mystery that killed 215,000 American men, women and children last year.

The Texas organization retains 60 cents of each dollar for its broad program of providing the citizens of this area with educational materials such as films, literature and exhibits; services to the cancer patient, support of tumor clinics, cancer information centers and other essential aspects of the state fight against cancer.

Although the actual drive will not begin here until the last week in April, anyone wishing to send contributions to the drive before then may do so by mailing them to the American Cancer Crusade, Dispatch Publishing company, Post.

Rates Given On Rooms In Garza Hospital

Prices for equipping one and two bed rooms at the Garza Memorial hospital have been announced by Jack Rex, equipment consultant.

One bed room will cost $355 to furnish and two bed rooms will cost $559. All the furniture will be Simmons, Rex said. He made the announcement because several county residents have been asking the price so they might furnish a room at the hospital.

Persons who furnish the rooms pay for all the furniture and the hospital pays for the plaque that goes over the door.

"Inquiries about the cost of rooms have been numerous," Rex said. "Since I have been here two or three persons have called me. Anyone else wishing information on the possibility of furnishing a room in memory of someone should call me at the courthouse. I also have pictures of the furniture which will go in the rooms."

Rex said that the new hospital should be completed by May 1, according to the latest word from the contractor. It will not open then, however. This event will have to await the arrival of all the equipment.

Garnolia Wins One Act Play Contest

Garnolia elementary students displayed winning talent Thursday night when they presented their one-act play, "The Griefed Brat," in the Garza County Rural School play competition at the Post Grade school auditorium.

About 250 persons attended the show to see the Garnolia students take first place honors.

Second place was won by Justiceburg with the play "The Dear Departed." Close City's presentation of "A Small Town Girl" won third and fourth place was awarded to Graham for "The Opening of a Door."

Best performance awarded to a boy actor went to Jimmy Redman of Close City. Frances Craig of Garnolia won the girls division. Runners-up in the boys' division were Jack Carpenter of Garnolia and Auvy McBride of Graham, Jackie Mason of Graham and Anita Stone were runners-up in the girls' competition.

Oil Activity Very Light During Week

Staking of two new locations and the placing of two wells on production highlighted the oil activity for the week in the county.

R. S. Anderson staked the I-C Henderson 4 1/2 west of Justiceburg in the Rocker A field. In the Garza field, 1/2 mile east of Post the Prairie Dog Oil Co., of Lubbock staked the 1 Nazeera Coury.

The R. S. and P. W. Anderson Spalding-Stroker pumped 105 barrels of 37-gravity oil plus 21 percent water daily and the C. W. Guthrie 5 K Stoker pumped 99 barrels of 38-gravity oil daily.

Johnson Elected As V. F. W. Head

In last Thursday night's meeting, W. W. Johnson was elected as commander of the Post V.F.W. club for the coming year. He will replace Bob Poole who has held the position for the past two years.

RED CROSS DRIVE

Garza county's Red Cross fund drive for 1952 almost hit the nail on the head as far as the goal was concerned, according to Rev. J. C. Holman, drive chairman. The goal was set at $1250 for this year and late Wednesday he had $1237.33 on his books. Rev. Holman indicated that some more is due to be deposited at the bank to run this total past the goal.

Garza County Joins Weather Improvement District Friday

Garza county has joined eleven other drought stricken West Texas counties in the West Texas Weather Improvement District.

This decision was made at a meeting held in the county courthouse last Friday night and attended by approximately 50 county farmers and ranchers.

In keeping with the laws of the district, John Lott and Charlie Bird were elected directors for Garza county and will serve on the District board and help control operations of the district.

The two directors appointed Buck Gossett, Willard Kirkpatrick and Hinton Fluitt as members of a committee to help them get the project underway in Garza county.

Participation in the Water District is strictly voluntary, the directors pointed out. No taxes or assessments will be made, but each farmer or rancher is welcome to subscribe to the project.

In a meeting Saturday afternoon, the directors and committee members decided on the way to solicit the $6340 needed for Garza county to join. The contract is with Dr. Irving P. Krick's Water Resources Development Corporation of Denver, Colo. It is for a one year period beginning April 1 and the organization attempts to increase the precipitation in this area by methods which have apparently proven successful in other areas.

The members decided to solicit participation in the project by mail. They have mailed each farmer and rancher in the county a letter explaining the project and the cost to him in joining with the other farmers in trying to get more moisture. The following excerpt from the letter gives a good explanation to these men:

"The cost to Garza county will be $6340 for the contract period mentioned above. In order to raise that amount it is suggested that each farm or ranch owner or operator who wishes to participate, subscribe 4 1/2 cents per acre of farm land and 1 1/2 cents per acre for grassland. Public announcement is being made of this plan and businessmen who may be interested in "more rain" are invited to subscribe for as many acres as they care to. This money will be put in escrow by the Treasurer, Ira L. Duckworth, in the First National Bank in Post until the contract is signed by the directors, at which time necessary funds will be withdrawn to pay Garza county's share in the fulfillment of the contract. In the event more than enough funds are contributed to cover the contract, such surplus will be refunded to the cooperators in the ratio of their acreage interest in the venture. The First National Bank and the Post Chamber of Commerce have consented to serve as collection agencies, where payments may be made by those wishing to cooperate in this venture."

The Post Chamber of Commerce also donated $100 toward helping the county get organized in the project.

City Has Money For 25 More Blocks Of Paving; 45 Blocks Now Signed

It becomes more apparent each day that some property owners in Post are losing out on a grand opportunity in not getting streets.

Some 45 blocks are to be paved and the city has funds to help with 25 more, but no one else is taking advantage of the opportunity.

At present the total cost to property owners is $3.65 per foot. But once this company leaves, it would cost more than $4 per foot to get another in here to pick up the remaining blocks.

Once the streets are paved those property owners who did not pave are going to feel a twinge of regret. For the 45 blocks of paving will add 100 percent to the beauty of the town, to say nothing of relieving some of the dust.

Variety Show Curtain To Raise At 8 P. M. Tuesday

Fun, Music and Girls! Entertainment galore! See and enjoy them all at the Variety Show to be staged at the Grade school auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday night.

Under the sponsorship of the Band Booster's club the Variety show will feature acts from various clubs and organizations around town. Proceeds of the show are slated to clean the slate on the approximately $150 still owed by the club on the band uniforms.

"The turnout and ticket response to the Fashion Parade was terrific," Mrs. Walter Boren, committee member, said, "and if the response is as good to our Variety Show we will be through with the band uniform payments."

Admission prices for the show have been set at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. At the present time some 11 acts are lined up for the program, which features entertainment ranging from tap dancing to Barber Shop quartet warbling.

Included on the program are a play by the Eastern Stars; tap dance by Luncheon club, Mrs. Stallings' Personality Singing group, pantomime by the Amity club, Rotary quartet.

An act directed by Herbert Additude for the P-TA, tap dance by Culture club, act by Lions club members, and performances by the Dinner Bell, Rainbow girls and the Harmonettes.

Mrs. Charley Bird is president of the Band Booster's club and committee members in charge of the Variety Show include Mrs. Boren, Mrs. Marvin Hudman and Mrs. Al Norris.

Cowdrey Rites To Be Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Joe R. Cowdrey, 68, formerly of Garza county but lately of Abilene, will be conducted at the Hudman Funeral home chapel at 3:00 p.m. today.

Cowdrey died at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Hendrix Memorial hospital in Abilene. He had made his home with a son there for many years. He moved to Garza county in 1916 and lived here many years.

Survivors include three children, Dale of Abilene, Noble of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Ernestine Hayes of Levelland; one brother, Bob Cowdrey of Enid, Okla., and two sisters, Mrs. Esther Cartmill, of Corona, Calif., and Mrs. Fannie Cartmill, Tulsa, Okla.; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

By EDDIE the editor

Grownups are always commenting on "these reckless" teen-age drivers. And they have a right to, statistics prove beyond a doubt.

Problems are always arising over the way the youngsters drive the cars—their or their parents. Accidents are caused, injuries sustained and in some cases homes are saddened prematurely by the highway fatality which could have been avoided.

Right here in Post a week or so ago, an accident occurred which could have brought death to the young man involved. As it was he is still in the hospital with serious and complex injuries.

Why?

Because straight reasoning and common sense was not used in the using of a car. The blame cannot be placed on one person's shoulders. It must go on all concerned. The boy should have not been on the fender of the car, and the driver of the car should have told him to get inside where he belonged. In other words it was an "unnecessary" accident—one that could have been avoided.

Figures on teen-agers involved in accidents in 1950 are appalling—650,000. Of those accidents 1,800 were fatal. Sixteen year old drivers are nine times as poor risks as the 45-to-50-year-olds.

And in the majority of the cases whose fault is it that the kids drive the way they do? An article in the April issue of the Rotarian entitled "What to Do About Your Son and Your Car" places a lot of the blame on the shoulders of the parents.

A survey was conducted among 5,000 representative American families and one question asked concerned the father-son relationship as far as the car was concerned.

Some youngsters explained the reaction of their fathers:

"I drove a car without a license. My father talked to me and explained to me the trouble I could have caused for both him and me. I now understand better and do not drive unless someone else with a license is with me."

Another explained: "I trimmed up my car with snide signs and paraded the town with a carfull of boys and girls yelling and hanging out of the windows. We had no mufflers and used wolf whistles and the horn all over town. A cop stopped us and lectured us and called my father. Father laughed and Mother got mad. What effect? Seeing father laughed, I'll do it again. In other words, none."

One boy said, "I got a parking ticket. Paid for the ticket. Cost me the car for two weeks. Never again."

How do you handle the car situation in your family?

"Good discipline is of no avail if your son is not a good driver. How good he is depends to a great extent upon two things: the example you set and how he is taught to drive," states the article.

"Years before your son can drive he is learning by watching you. If you are good about making stop signs, yielding the right of way, not passing on hills or curves, and not speeding, he is likely to be a good driver. . . . If you sometimes take a chance, if you may escape because you are an experienced driver. But your son, when he begins, may imitate your errors, meet danger, and be fatally panic-struck."

"Regardless of how good a driver you may be, you are not the best person to teach your son to drive. This is not just opinion."

"The professional instructor has many advantages. He teaches not one or two youngsters in a lifetime, but many every day. He knows what to expect. He can prevent the formation of bad habits. He has laboratory devices to test vision, reaction time, and coordination. He uses a dual-control car which can be stopped instantly."

"Finally, if you can afford it, or if he can save the money necessary, it is a good idea to promise your son that when he has proved himself he can have a car of his own. This gives him a strong urge to drive safely and responsibly. And having his own car is the best way to keep him from riding in the unsafe jalopies and "hot rods" of his friends."

"First, help him pick it out. Second, be sure that he and you are amply insured."

"Third, have it thoroughly understood that, except maybe for licenses and insurance, he is to pay all expenses, including all fines and all repairs due to poor driving, or else go without any car, his or yours."

Some good advice for parents in Post and any town in the U. S. A.

When Will The Bureaucrats Relax The Policy Of SPEND And TAX?

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Crosbyton Booms

Contract for the construction of a $100,000 plus building to house the Citizens National Bank of Crosbyton, M & M Food Store, and two office suites to be occupied by Judge W. P. Walker and West Texas Gas Company, was awarded last weekend to Haynes-Soash, general contractors, of Lubbock. Work on the first unit of the new building is scheduled to begin this week-end or soon after, Russell McCurdy, executive vice-president of the bank, said Tuesday. Under consideration for the past four years, the construction had been postponed because of rising costs and government regulations. New steel allocations have made immediate construction of the building possible, he said.

Businesses Close Up, Clean Up

As is now generally known, this week is City Clean Up Week for the community. Many of the residents began work Monday and have been continuing the job. The climax of the week will be Thursday when a half holiday will be declared for business firms to help in cleaning the business area. At Thursday noon, weather permitting, the alarm will sound at short intervals so as to not be confused with a fire alarm. Most firms will then close, not to reopen until 5 or 6 p.m. Overall, rakes and shovels will be the order of the day. There will be ample facilities for the hauling of trash FREE. For those wishing to hire extra labor, they may contact Mr. Reed at the school for VA boys.

Triplets Born To Former Postites

Three tiny babies—who almost missed a date with the hospital, were thriving Thursday in an incubator. The identical triplets born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Don Soles of Colorado City, were reported in good condition Thursday in the Sterling City hospital. An ambulance breakdown near the Spade ranch delayed Mrs. Soles in her trip to the hospital. Sand from the recent storms stopped up the automatic choke on the ambulance, causing it to flood out. W. G. Lieb, ambulance driver, walked to a nearby farm house in the early dawn. The farmer took him to the Spade ranch where he phoned Sterling City for an ambulance, as he was nearer the hospital there than Colorado City. After a 45-minute wait in the ambulance on the roadside, Mrs. Soles was rushed to Sterling City in 27 minutes. She arrived 28 minutes before "zero hour." The family moved here from Post several months ago.

Added Attraction

An "added attraction" in the Olney municipal election Tuesday will be an opinion vote on a hot political question that has been prominent in the news here for nearly three years. Legal voters will be given opportunity to state whether or not they would like to have parking meters installed here. Although not legally binding, since it is the City Council that must finally take action, the election will be carried out under the strict rules of all official municipal elections, city officials state. Only those who are eligible to vote in the election of two councilmen and mayor can cast ballots on the meter issue. That means both city and state poll taxes must be paid, or the person must be legally exempt.

UNDERPAID ALDERMEN

TORONTO P — Toronto's 18 aldermen are "the most exploited group of workers in the city," says Ford Brand, member of the Board of Control. He said in a recent speech that on an hourly basis, the $1,200 paid annually to the aldermen averages 37 cents an hour.

C OF C DRIVE . . .

Recently the Post Chamber of Commerce began a new membership drive to take in many more businesses and individuals on their rolls. The response to this appeal and drive has been such that special mention should be made. Although work, illness and jury duty has hampered some of the committee members in the drive, excellent results have followed the efforts of the others. At the present time a total of 24 new members have been added to the list as a result of the drive. The majority of these new members were contacted by committee members, but several places have realized the service they can do for the community by being a member and have voluntarily joined. Due to some of the above listed obstacles which befell some committee members the drive will continue. However no one needs to wait until he is contacted if he wants to join the organization. All that is necessary is to call 551 and the secretary will take care of the rest. Many of the new members are business concerns, but several are individuals. As has been stated before the Chamber of Commerce is for the entire town and any individual that is interested in seeing the town continue to progress is more than welcome to join the organization. The membership committee is comprised of Lee Bowen, Jesse Ward, Lee Ward, Ralph Kirkpatrick, Monta Moore, Buster Moreland, Pat Walker and Hugh Blevins.

CLEANUP . . .

Springtime naturally brings out the cleansing nature of humans. The men want to clean out the garage, the attic and the basement to find all that fishing tackle for that trip. The women want to clean out the clothes closet and stock it with new fashions. And the kids want to clean out the cookie jar as usual. Put on a more serious plane the desire to beautify one's surroundings begins budding in the spring and men and women can be seen every day doing clean-up jobs around the house. Sometimes the desire spreads to take in the town and the residents want to give their city a face lifting. With spring already here that would be a plausible and logical desire to have in Post. City officials are planning an extensive survey by Bill Hine-man, State Health department representative, in the near future and have urged all persons in town to clean up their alleys, streets, lots, garbage cans and what have you, before the man gets here. They also cautioned that now is the time to begin spraying any outdoor lots, outhouses and other fly breeding places that might be owned by residents. Continued spraying is sufficient to keep these places from becoming dangerous. Although the paving project has the city swamped and the residents at a disadvantage, Let's make a determined effort to clean up our town.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON P — The foot and mouth cattle disease problem should be left to experts, says Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco. The Texan got his dander up at a radio network commentary by Robert Montgomery, Hollywood actor turned commentator, in which the latter criticized the U.S.—Mexican program for stamping out the dreaded scourge in the neighboring republic.

"I got hold of a script of the radio talk," Poage said, "and found that Mr. Montgomery suggested there never was actually any foot and mouth infestation in Mexico."

"He inferred that the whole eradication program was dreamed up to create jobs and to boost the price of meat to the American housewife. That's exactly contrary to the statements and position of experts and responsible men in the Agriculture Department and the livestock industry."

Poage said he and Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee discussed the matter and think Montgomery ought to tell Congress in more detail about his sources of information. Poage is next to the chairman of the committee.

"We've spent many millions of dollars on a program that has drawn praise from the cattle industry," Poage continued.

"Charges such as these by Mr. Montgomery tend to undermine the confidence of the American public in all such government programs. Research efforts that have made American agriculture foremost in the world suffer if we don't disprove such accusations."

Congress is particularly conscious of foot and mouth disease for other reasons.

The Agricultural Department recently announced that if there are no other outbreaks in Mexico in the next few months, the six-year old ban against entry of livestock into the U.S. from Mexico will be lifted Sept. 1.

Then, reports indicate that the fresh occurrence of the disease in Canada has been

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Panic Buying Serves To Aid Inflation More Than Anything Else Financial Expert Claims

BABSON PARK, Mass. — All through 1950-51 I hammered away at inflation, urging readers against panic buying which was one of the immediate causes of inflation. If any medals are to be awarded to the men of the year who helped curb inflation, they don't go to Truman or DiSalle.

During 1951, manufacturers were urging the public to buy or else be sorry! Television was an especially good example. What happened? Many manufacturers, unable to find dynamic leadership in Washington with an intelligent plan for Korea, planned for the worst, — a long war and critical shortages. They made so much at such a pace and at such high prices that shelves and warehouses became loaded.

At first, the gullible were panicked into buying. Again, televisions are a good example. The more thoughtful waited. Shortages failed to materialize. Buyer psychology changed. Consumers stopped listening to advertisements and stopped buying. Consumers did what the president and DiSalle and all the rest of the governmental hierarchy couldn't do, — halted the price rise and the inflationary spiral!

Consumption Rates

One of the greatest periods in our production history was 1950-51. We made annually over $3 billions worth of goods and services. Even when taking into account inflated prices, this figure represents the greatest physical volume ever produced by our country, topping even the war years of 1942-43. But people failed to buy these goods, although they were financially able to do so. Sales resistance developed sharply in textiles and most consumer durables, in radio and television, major appliances, furniture, carpets, household goods, and automobiles.

Because of this sales resistance, for example, 50 percent fewer radio and television sets were produced in the last half of '51 as in the same period in '50; less than 40 percent as for no more panicky buying ahead. The urge to save will increase and the urge to buy will many major appliances; 20 percent less furniture; and 50 percent fewer carpets, even although the carpet industry is not primarily affected by limitations of material. Here, then, is a simple lesson of action and reaction which I have been preaching for years.

A review of the 1951 price trends will help to make clear the trends for 1952. The Bureau of Labor Statistics "Composite Wholesale Index" at the end of 1951 was but a fraction higher than at the end of 1950. The first quarter of 1951 saw an advance in prices of 4.1 percent to an all-time high in March. This was followed by a 3.9 percent decline. This pattern has thus far continued through 1952.

No doubt the Korean truce talks have encouraged conservative buying. The administration must, however, because of the coming elections, continue to stimulate business—even if artificially. The Democrats cannot afford any letdown in the demand for materials, merchandise, or labor; so don't be frightened by any nonsense out of Washington. I look for no more panicky buying ahead. The urge to save will increase and the urge to buy will decrease. This should help make your 53-cent dollar go a little further. When shopping in 1952, shop for value. In areas of oversupply, bargain!

Patronize Local Merchants

The stability of the past few months is undoubtedly due to many causes, primarily to the fact that the people have at last developed intelligent buying habits. Don't let anybody panic you into buying because they say the article they sell will soon come into short supply. The chances are this will not be so. Buy from reputable local merchants whom you know and trust. Any sales organization which resorts to scare selling is encouraging inflation, and inflation may become a more deadly enemy than Soviet Russia. Also, remember that wholesale prices have declined considerably the past few weeks and this should ultimately help consumers.

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!

Nothing is quite as stiff as a line full of frozen clothes. There's nothing soft or fluffy about clothes dried in a freezing March wind. But there's no need for this old-fashioned drying method any longer. Automatic electric clothes dryers dry the clothes the way you want them — soft and fluffy — ready to put away or damp-dry for ironing, whatever your choice.

Editor Sums Up The Idea On Advertising

Al Hinds, editor of the Paducah Post, summed up the attitude of the average business man on advertising quite well in his Paducah Prattle column recently.

He noted, "that isn't it funny a lot of business men will get up in the morning, refresh themselves with a dose of advertised fruit salt, clean their teeth with an advertised brush and advertised toothpaste, shave with an advertised razor, wash and shave with advertised soaps, put on advertised underwear, advertised socks, shirt collar and shoes. Seat themselves at the table and eat advertised breakfast food and bread, drink advertised tea, coffee or coca, put on an advertised hat and gloves, light an advertised cigarette, with an advertised match, go to the station in an advertised motor car, give letters to a typist who types on an advertised machine, use advertised carbons, sign their letters with an advertised pen containing advertised ink, and turn down a proposal to advertise on the ground that advertising doesn't pay."

Post Man Constructs Man Size Fleet Of Model Ships Over Period Of Years

Once a sailor, always a sailor—even if only in heart and mind.

This paraphrasing of an old saying adequately describes one Post man whose yen for the "open sea" took him on an adventurous six year tour of duty with the United States Navy. Five of those years fell into the Naval terminology of "sea duty."

The inevitable separation from a sailor's life filled Bill Carter with a void, empty feeling—a feeling of being unsteady on a landlubber's terrain. Yet the call of the sea was not so strong that he follow the lines of the poem by John Masfield, "I must down to the sea again . . ."

But it was strong enough that he couldn't forget. So he became involved in a hobby which would satisfy his nautical longings.

He began the tedious task of making model ships. Ships of all kinds, carriers, destroyers, battleships, liners, tankers.

Such a task is difficult even when accomplished the easy way. But Carter took the hard way around and made the job just that much more difficult. He had no special tools, no special workshop nor no blue prints and specifications. He just built ships.

And they are excellent ships. Ships that are complete down to the most minute detail. Displayed in a fleet they pose a pretty picture. Carter has them displayed at the K and K Grocery in East Post where they may be seen any day.

Beginning his hobby in 1946, just after coming to Post, Carter started construction on the combination tanker-transport. Using the kitchen table as a workshop and a pocketknife, hammer, coping saw as tools, he patiently and skillfully added piece after piece until 10 months later the ship was complete.

On down the line he constructed an aircraft carrier, battleship, destroyer and an ocean liner. In all except the liner and destroyer, he used scrap material, nails, window shade brackets, mouse trap bases, shaving mugs (wooden), cardboard and tin.

For those two exceptions, however, he ordered some parts and also some balsa wood and simplified the construction immensely.

The ships will surprise you by their size. They are not small, tiny replicas you can place in a bottle or on your hand. They are several feet long and some are extremely heavy.

Especially the aircraft carrier. Measuring six feet in length, it weighs approximately 100 pounds and carries all the necessary equipment including a full complement of fighter planes—some 25 in all.

The battleship, with all its armaments and other paraphernalia measures about five and a half feet. Next largest is the liner which covers some six feet of space. Since it is constructed from balsa wood this ship does not weigh over 20 pounds.

Both the transport and destroyer run about three feet and weigh around 10 pounds.

Carter even has a carved reminder of the terrible toll which the enemy guns took on American shipping. He built a half ship which gives the illusion it is sinking.

Construction on the models has slackened off considerably in the past year, Carter says. But he definitely intends to increase his fleet.

However, his wife said that

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—are not what they used to be. But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Covers standard on ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. *Standard on ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on other Series.

U. S. Air Force Wings Are Easier To Obtain Now Than Ever Before

REESE AIR FORCE BASE — Silver wings — the symbol of the Air Force — are easier to obtain now than at any time since the end of the war.

Relaxing of age and educational requirements has opened aviation cadet training to many persons formerly denied the opportunity to learn to fly.

Examining procedures for both airmen and civilian applicants have been streamlined. The waiting period between completion of entrance tests and appointments to a class has been lessened considerably. Now it's even possible to go straight from basic into cadet training.

And certain applicants who failed the cadet qualifications tests may re-apply immediately. Lowering of requirements for entry into cadet training is in line with an intensive drive to secure more applicants, both airmen and civilians, for instruction as pilots and observers. If you're interested in becoming a cadet, you should apply as soon as possible. The present requirements will remain in effect only long enough to build up a sufficient backlog of applicants to fill future aviation cadet class requirements.

You are eligible to apply if you are: a male unmarried United States citizen, between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, with 2 years college training.

You must meet high physical qualifications. Applicants interested in one of the 11 aircraft observer specialties should have an aptness for mathematics in addition to the physical, mental and moral qualifications required of all cadets. Visual requirements for observers are not as high as for pilots.

Airmen with less than two years of college may satisfy the educational requirement for application by producing any document indicating successful completion of high school, such as a diploma, certificate of equivalency of high school granted by an educational institution or a state board of education.

Civilian applicants interested in applying for Aviation Cadet training should contact local recruiting officials at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, Room 203, Post Office, Lubbock.

Brenda has a hobby of collecting stamps from all over the world. She likes to swim, play tennis and ride horses.

Movie of the Week

Question of the week!!!

WHAT ACTOR AND ACTRESS WERE NAMED ACADEMY AWARD WINNERS FOR THE YEAR 1951?

(At the time this column was written no correct answers had been given on last week's question.)

Comedy lovers are in for a lalapalosa this week and we don't mean perhaps. For that hilarious hill billy comedy team of Ma (Marjorie Main) and Pa (Percy Kilbride) Kettle are descending upon the movie goes with their special brand of humor.

"MA AND PA KETTLE AT THE FAIR" will undoubtedly be the top crowd attraction this week in our opinion. And now let's see what other people think of it. According to the Boxoffice magazine this picture is rated as good by the Parent's Magazine.

It is a picture for the entire family. No morbid ideas, sordid thoughts and actions, nor unpleasant aftertaste... just plain fun you, and you and you will enjoy.

Naturally it's the same Ma and Pa Kettle picture without too much of a story, plot, or anything except laughter. "MA AND PA KETTLE AT THE FAIR" shows Sunday and Monday at the TOWER.

Mr. and Mrs. Jock McClellan, would you like to spend an enjoyable time at the movies? Two tickets are yours for the asking at the boxoffice, courtesy of the management.

Highest rated picture showing next week according to the Boxoffice summary (taken from reviews given by Boxoffice, Harrison's Report, Variety, Film Daily, Hollywood Reporter, Parent's Magazine and New York Daily News) is the Tuesday presentation of "COME FILL THE CUP." It received a 9 plus 1 minus rating from these sources.

"COME FILL THE CUP" is a powerful drama starring James Cagney and Phyllis Thaxter. It portrays the story of a guy who some people thought a hero and others considered a heel. Lew Marsh, a man of raw nerve, rough hide and a thirst for trouble. The back alleys knew him and so did the high places—all sorts of people.

Lew is a newspaperman who loses his job and his girl because he hits the bottle too much. His comeback fight is an epic battle climaxed by the trapping and killing of a gangster.

Remaining on the schedule for the week are two light comedies, Friday and Saturday, "THE FIRST TIME" laughingly attempts to tell the story of the arrival of the first blessed event in the life of newly weds. Robert Cummings and Barbara Hale co-star in the picture which has a summary rating of 5 plus 2 minus (which is above average.)

Wednesday and Thursday Elizabeth Taylor and Larry Parks co-star in "LOVE IS BETTER THAN EVER." This light comedy wound up in the reviews with a nice round goose egg. It is rated 5 plus 5 minus.

REMEMBER THE "SUNSET DRIVE IN" OPENS EASTER SUNDAY, APRIL 13!

Gems of Thought

MEEKNESS
Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

Christ Jesus
Selfish men may possess the earth; it is the meek only who inherit it from the Heavenly Father, free from all defilements and perplexities of unrighteousness.

John Woolman
Meekness as Christ used the word is not inert; it is energetic. It is not negative; it is positive. It is not passive; it is active.

Rev. W. A. Cameron
Meekness excludes revenge, irritability, morbid sensitiveness, but not self-defense, or a quiet and steady maintenance of right.

Theophylact
Meekness, moderating human desire, inspires wisdom and procures divine power.

Mary Baker Eddy
Meekness cannot well be counterfeited. It is not insensibility, or unmanliness, or servility; it does not cringe or whine. It is benevolence imitating Christ in patience, forbearance and quietness.

William Swann Flumer
Out of town visitors in the D. W. Reed home, in the Garnolia community, Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Parks of Slaton, Tuesday Frank Williams of Hopewille visited the Reeds. Other Tuesday visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Spears and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davis of Grassland.

Holidays Should Be Spaced A Little Farther Apart To Help The Poor Man

By Burnis Lawrence

Although Easter Sunday is still out of sight around the proverbial corner, it has reached into our already depleted pocketbooks and rang the till with our extra change.

So with malice aforethought (brought on by the little woman's diligence in observance of them) I'll discuss holidays. Not particularly Easter, but since it is the nearest one I can use it for an example.

Holidays are fine. They commemorate religious happenings, spiritual beings, freedom gaining occurrences, birthdays, thanksgiving days and other numerous subjects, objects (both tangible and non tangible).

In fact there are so many holidays that should a business man decide to please everyone and observe them all he could put an "out-of-business" sign on his door even before he opened.

However, that is all beside the point on which I would write. Each holiday has a special meaning to many people while a few have special meaning to all people. Therefore I am in agreement that the major holidays should be observed.

Yet, I contend that were it not for business concerns, firms, manufacturers and newspapers, many worthwhile holidays would pass quietly by unnoticed. For holidays (despite the fact that many places observe them by closing) are the best associates a business place can have. This does not include all businesses, but the main ones like clothing stores, grocery stores, cafes, and "odds" more.

Thus it seems that some of our most sacred holidays are preserved by a selfish motive. They are kept in the mind of the people by advertising. No merchant would let Easter Sunday go by without reminding the people that his shelves are stocked with styles designed solely for that occasion. So with all other holidays. Not that I blame the merchants.

The main thing I wonder is: Should all businesses stop advertising their wares dealing with certain holidays, how many years would pass before the populace would forget these holidays entirely?

Perpetuation of holidays in America is essential. If an American did not have certain days to observe, he could not live. His entire living standards are geared to the fact that sometime during the year he must clean out his pocketbook to buy clothes and other items necessary to observe a holiday, get off work for a full day, break his neck getting to a restful spot where thousands of others are already resting, obtain a good sunburn which will hurt for days, dodge the crazy, mad traffic back home and return to work so dog-goned tired he can't do anything for a week.

County 4-H Boys Get 900 Baby Chickens

Garza county 4-H boys—three of them at least—are ready to raise chickens.

These three county poultry demonstrators received 900 baby chicks each from the Sears Foundation poultry program. Jimmy Redman received 300 New Hampshire Reds; V. A. Lobban, Jr., received 300 English White Leghorns; and Paul Wheatley received 300 English White Leghorns.

Under the rules of the program, the boys will raise the chicks to frying size and then sell them. From this money they will pay $15 back in to a district fund.

However, from this fund the Foundation pays prizes to the demonstrators who win certain contests. They can win prizes on production and marketing, completeness of records; and completeness of flock when it reaches frying size.

County Agent Lewis Herron said that so far every Garza county boy who has raised chicks under the program has won more money in prizes than the chicks cost him.

Madam Curie was the first woman appointed to the French cabinet.

The total coast line of the United States is 4,883 statute miles.

Garza Livestock Brings High Price

Reports released by County Agent Lewis Herron and Vocational Agriculture teacher E. F. Schmiedt reveals that Garza 4-H and FFA boys fared fine in selling their steers, sheep and hogs this year.

Several of them were sold following the South Plains Junior Livestock show in Lubbock. Calves sold for $3,140.04; sheep for $130.45; and hogs for $374.88. That made a total of $3,645.37.

The two also announced that 15 calves are now on feed in the county in both 4-H and FFA work and will be exhibited and sold in the Junior Livestock show at the State Fair in Dallas in October of this year.

CRAZY PEOPLE — Chauncey, a crow captured in Mexico by Robert Drawe of Harlingen, is now a pet in the Drawe household and thinks that people have some pretty odd machinations. Drawe caught Chauncey for use in biological experiments but was so captivated by the bird himself he released him. Chauncey preferred to hang around though to study human behavior and here he is about to attempt to imitate Mrs. Drawe's pencil marks. Last summer the crow spent days riding around in the arms of pickers during the cotton harvest.

We found some certified Bermuda grass seed at $1.25 per pound.

This made us think of all the hoes, rakes, forks, shovels and garden hose, sprinklers, nozzles and other items we have to dig and garden with, then we also thought of the pruners and cutters and lawn mowers, etc. Now this all could run into more than we can get in a fifty cent ad so you just come on down when you need any HARDWARE and let's hunt it up.

Some of this stuff needs dusting off. Let's look at it.

Tiny Austin College Is Attempting To Save Football On Amateur Basis

By Harold V. Ratliff
 Associated Press Sports Editor

Austin College now has two of the outstanding big-time coaches of the country. But one of them won't do any coaching and the other is a backer of an "amateur" plan whereby the college would cut out aid to athletes and make it a matter for the "students."

Henry Frnka is going to Austin College as vice-president in charge of promotion, to wit: raising money and endowments, et cetera. Frnka coached at Vanderbilt, Temple, Tulsa and Tulane. He was a better than a fair hand at getting the top athletes and winning bowl games and championships.

Already at Austin College is Ray Morrison, the man who started Southern Methodist to fame in football and who coached at Vanderbilt and Temple before quitting the big-time to coach and direct athletes at the Sherman college. He got tired of the pressure.

Now Morrison is a backer of the Austin college "amateur" plan which consists of getting other colleges interested in a conference that bans athletic scholarships.

Some may be so unkind as to say that Austin College the past few years has been on an amateur basis anyway. If you look over its football record. But that really isn't the point.

Austin College has been losing money on football in gobs. Dr. W. B. Guerrant, president of the college, says other small schools like Austin also are dropping cash on football and he wouldn't be surprised if most of the big colleges aren't doing the same thing.

"Our idea is to save football, not to kill it," Dr. Guerrant emphasizes. "We must go back to the strictly 'amateur' athlete to do it."

He means the kind of football your correspondent knew—eight games in October and November with friends and relatives coming out to see the games but with no red ink necessary on the school budget.

Dr. Guerrant says he has heard from one college that favored the plan. He hasn't named that school. In fact, Austin College doesn't propose to form the "amateur" league until a couple of years from now—if enough colleges come in to make it possible.

He also says he finds many of the athletes favor the plan.

"Under the present system of athletic scholarships, there is no such thing as a basis of need," Dr. Guerrant declares. The rich man's son gets a scholarship if he's a star football player the same as the boy who actually needs the aid to go to school."

And the poor boy who is capable of playing football in an amateur league but isn't good enough for high-pressure football of today doesn't get the aid. And the boys who aren't top gridders don't even get to come out for the team even if they have money.

There would be as many football teams if athletic aid were cut off, and the competition

COURT FINES CONTINUE

Fines and costs in the Garza county court continued to hold steady for the past week according to figures released by Judge H. M. Snowden.

Sunday visitors in the O. R. Coarley home were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and daughter, Barbara, of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stroud of Southland.

A Story of America's Freedom of Religion

IN THE early part of the 18th Century a small group of God-fearing people from western Germany, Switzerland, and Alsace Lorraine, representing many of the finest artisans and craftsmen of the Old World, banded together to follow their own form of worship. In 1842 they sought the freedom of worship and the freedom of opportunity they so devoutly desired, in a new land - America. They settled on a tract of nearly 8,000 acres located near Buffalo, New York. After 12 years at this site, the pressing need for additional land led them to the newly admitted state of Iowa.

They established seven villages in a beautiful section of farm and woodland, 25,000 acres in area, southwest of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The villages formed what is now known as the Amana Colonies. The people were self-sufficient, they established their own woolen mills, wagon and implement factories, furniture factory, meat industries. As the needs changed, so did the industries. The one priceless resource was that each member possessed some particular skill, some devotion to a special trade handed down from father to son in the Old World tradition. The group lived a communal life until 1932, when the members formed a joint stock corporation.

Amana's industries - furniture, woolen textiles, baked goods, hickory-smoked ham and bacon, were originally interded for the supply of home needs but the excellence of their quality attracted many visitors who created an ever-widening demand for Amana products.

Amana wood and metal workers concentrated their skills, and pioneered in the construction of frozen food locker plants all over America. Again the demand of the outside world was heard, and Amana turned to the manufacture of a complete line of food freezers.

In all of America, there is no other community quite like the Amana Colonies. For here are blended the old ways with the new... the time honored, fine craftsmanship and individual pride in workmanship, and the efficiency of 20th century industry. The plant where Amana food freezers are made is modern in machinery and methods. But located in Amana, employing Amana people, the old spirit of fine craftsmanship persists. Every Amana freezer reflects this heritage of technical skill, workmanship, and highest quality standards.
