RODEO PLANS BEING MAPPED — The three men pictured above are going over plans for the third annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo which will be staged here Aug. 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18. Such planning "sessions" as the one above plus a high interest throughout the town have placed the rodeo on a level where "nothing can keep it from being a good one." Shown from left to right in this group are Jack Kirkpatrick, manager of the show; Phil Bouchier, manager of the Stampede; and Walter Duckworth, advisory manager for the Junior Rodeo. Horse Show Is Expected To Be Post's Largest

With more than 250 entry blanks mailed out to Quarterhorse breeders in four states, officials of the Southwestern Championship Quarterhorse show feel the August 14th show here will be the biggest produced in Post.

Entry blanks have been mailed to showmen in New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas. Several phone calls have been received from these states by George Samson regarding the show.

In a meeting held at Samson's earlier this week, Bill Long was appointed chairman of the Quarterhorse show and Earl Hodges was selected arena director and Alvin Davis publicity director and show announcer.

Don Long will present winning owners with trophies and Samson will present the ribbons. No show judge has been selected yet, but officials are talking with several prospects at the present time.

Letters pouring into the Chamber of Commerce office and show officials' offices indicate that the show will go way over last year's total entry. Some 200 horses were entered in the 1950 show.

Several local owners plan to enter their horses in the show. These include Samson, Hodges, Long, Floy Richardson, Carter White, Add Jones and Boy Hart. Other persons here may be planning to enter horses but they have not announced their intentions yet.

Entry fees of $5 per horse in the halter class and $7 per horse in the performance class have been set. No charges will be made for stalls but they will be issued on a first-come first-served basis. The stalls will also have to be vacated by the night of the 14th so rodeo horses can be placed in them.

Show officials are asking Grand and Reserve Champion winners in each class to keep their horses over for the parade at 6 p. m. Tuesday.

Baptist Vacation School To Start

A one-week vacation Bible school will begin at the Calvary Baptist church Monday with Mrs. F. M. Wiley as superintendent of the school. Classes are to be held from 8 until 11 o'clock each morning. It has been announced.

All children between 4 and 16 years of age are given a cordial invitation to attend. Mrs. W. C. Kiker, a worker in the school said.

Others who will help in conducting the church school are Mrs. E. T. Meek, Mrs. Jim Hays, Mrs. G. W. Norris, Mrs. Floy Hodges, Mrs. O. W. Goode and Mrs. L. C. Johnson.

Miss Twila Welch will serve as pianist and Miss Joy Faye Parker has been named secretary for the week. Mrs. J. T. Peddy heads the refreshment committee.

Out Of Date Saying Given The Heave-Ho

"It's harder to give anything away than it is to sell it." So goes the old saying.

Old is the correct way to describe such a saying. For whoever coined the phrase had never used a Dispatch classified ad. If they had it would have been utterly ridiculous to make such a statement.

The fallacy of this statement was brought out last week when Mrs. Edward Neff inserted a classified ad to give away some puppies.

On Friday afternoon, only one day after the Dispatch hit mails, she called and said all had been given away. Such fast action was not expected by Mrs. Neff when she inserted the ad for two weeks.

But action she got. And when you use a Dispatch classified fast action is always forthcoming whether you are selling, renting or giving away.

Increase Is Indicated In County School Enrollment

A decided increase in county school enrollment is indicated by scholastic population figures gathered in the school census and released by County Superintendent Dean A. Robinson. The number of six-year olds this year showed an 18-percent increase over the 1950 figure. Before the 1950-51 school term only 117 six-year old children were reported in the county compared to the 135 in the county this year. This year's six-year-old total broken down into school districts would read: Common district, 22; Close City 7; Post 84; and Southland 22.

Total scholastic population in the county shows an increase of 113 over last year's total. The state approved 1,520 scholastics in Garza county for the 1950-51 school term. This year 1,633 scholastics have been sent in for state approval. "Some of these will more than likely be cut off by state officials for one reason or another," Superintendent Robinson said. "But even then we should show a decided increase in our county scholastic population."

The total scholastic population for this coming school year is comprised of 36 Negroes and 1,597 Whites. Last year the total showed 1,486 Whites and 34 Negroes.

Only Light Rains Fall Despite Heavy Clouds

Despite the threatening clouds which have hung over Garza county during the past week very little rain has been reported falling on the majority of the county.

Heaviest reported rainfall was on the Clyde Miller farm near Justiceburg, where an estimated 1.25 inches fell early this week.

Other parts there had light showers. Harrison Davis, of the Garnolia community, reported from .75 to 1 inch fell there Monday afternoon. About .50 inch was reported at Close City. No report came in from Pleasant Valley. Post had .24 inch.

Grader Work Is Begun On Clean Alleys

Work was begun this week by the City on grading the alleys of the town in preparation for the proposed spraying and fogging project. R. H. Tate, superintendent of the city water department, announced.

"All alleys must be graded and leveled before we can bring a fogging or spraying machine in," Tate explained. Grader crews began Monday on either side of Main street and began working out toward the city limits. No time was given when the machine will be brought in.

A preliminary inspection last week by Tate and a state health representative showed the need of a good clean-up campaign in the town.

Bill Hineman, the district health engineer for the state, advised the people of Post through Tate to perform a good clean-up job before thinking about spraying.

He also pointed out such spots as the 61 outhouses, 41 combined cow lots, horse lots and chicken houses found in eight alleys in the city would require a spraying job instead of fogging.

Considered as "hot spots" by the state health department, these places have to be sprayed with a concentrated solution since fogging will do them no good.

"Such spots are breeding grounds for flies," Hineman pointed out, "and need the heaviest doses since they are the source."

Since the inspection of the eight alleys, during which no garbage cans were found with

Officers Make Second Big Raid

For the second week running, raids on beer, wine and whiskey caches by members of the Sheriff's office dominated the Court-house activity.

A three a. m. Sunday raid on a "stash" in the house of Jake Storm near Graham Chapel netted 30 cases of beer and 108 fifths of wine.

No charges could be filed in connection with the raid by Sheriff Carl Rains and Deputy Fay Claborn.

The Sunday raid was the second one in a week that netted large hauls. On Tuesday of last week Claborn raided a garage in the Flats and picked up 29 cases of beer, 36 pints of whiskey, 23 fifths of whiskey and 24 fifths of wine.

Total figures on the two raids in the one week ran to 59 cases of beer, 36 pints of whiskey, 23 fifths of whiskey and 132 fifths of wine.

No charges were filed during the week on county docket.

Post Korean Veteran Says Weather Proved To Be Troops Worst Enemy

The toughest enemy faced by the United Nations troops in Korea's year-long battle has been weather conditions, says M-Sgt. David C. Sims, Post rifle platoon sergeant with seven months Korean fighting experience.

"We spent more time fighting weather conditions than we did fighting Chinese or North Koreans," he explained. "It was either too hot or too cold, never an in-between."

A veteran of World War II with 10 years service behind him, Sgt. Sims fought seven months as a platoon sergeant from one end of Korea to the other. He only this month returned home on a rotation furlough. Coming by ship to Seattle, Wash., he caught a train to El Paso and flew from there to Lubbock to arrive home last Thursday to visit his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sims. Sims, who fought all over the South Pacific against the Japanese in World War II, harbors no real respect for the fighting ability of the Chinese.

"They are not half as good soldiers as the Japanese," he said. "It is their great manpower that makes them good. They just have so many soldiers they use them in place of supporting weapons. During the seven months I was there they never used supporting artillery extensively and I never saw a Communist plane supporting the ground forces like ours did."

The veteran fighter had only praise for the close cooperation between the United States Air Force and Army ground forces. According to Sims the Air Force usually had a man on the ground with the infantry to direct the front-line support by the planes. They also had observers in small planes constantly flying over the lines spotting for artillery and attack planes.

Sgt. Sims said his outfit left Fort Benning, Ga., in August of 1950. They had to remain in Japan for about eight weeks while they trained South Korean troops to bring their outfit up to strength. He landed in Korea or November 11.

The company, in which Sgt. Sims was a rifle platoon leader and sergeant most of the time, served as a delaying force for the withdrawal of United Nations troops after the Chinese entered the picture. They were among the last to be evacuated at Hamhung.

In speaking of his platoon, Sgt. Sims said, "I suppose you could say I had an international platoon. Comprising my platoon were Chinamen, Japanese, Koreans, Puerto Ricans, Negroes and

Rites Held For Mrs. Ainsworth Garza Pioneer

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Ainsworth, who came to Post four years after the town was founded in 1908, died here Tuesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. I. D. Poole, after suffering a stroke two days before.

Funeral services for the 96-year-old, native Texan were conducted at 10 o'clock this morning in Mason Funeral chapel. Quenten Fanning, Church of Christ minister, was officiant. A choir sang "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Rock Of Ages." Interment was in Terrace cemetery with Mason's in charge.

Born Mary Elizabeth Humphreys, November 14, 1854, in Yorktown, the Garza county pioneer was reared in Yorktown and married James Monroe Ainsworth there, in 1873. Fourteen children were born to the couple and eight survive. Mr. Ainsworth died in (Continued on Page 8, Col. 5)

P. Hughes Dies At His Home Saturday

Last rites for Henry Allen Pharris Hughes were conducted in the First Methodist church Monday afternoon.

The Rev. A. N. Motes, Grassland Methodist pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. R. I. Hart, Methodist pastor at Ropesville, and the Rev. D. W. Reed.

Mrs. J. A. Stallings was organist. Choir selections included "In The Sweet By and By," "What A Friend," "Jesus Lover Of My Soul," "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Rock of Ages."

Burial was in Terrace cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral home.

Mr. Hughes, a retired farmer and resident of Garza county for more than 20 years, died at his home in the Garnolia community Saturday night.

He was born January 20, 1873. On March 15, 1894 he was married to Miss Mary Gossett. To (Continued on Page 8, Col. 5)

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Parents planning on transferring their children from one school district to another district this year are reminded by County Superintendent Dean A. Robinson that the deadline is August 1.

Transfers should be made through the county superintendent's office. "Pupils who are in rural schools and whose grades are not taught in their home district should transfer," Robinson explained.

Titles And Ribbons Are Taken At Lubbock Show By Post Men

Post Quarterhorse owners entered the Lubbock Quarterhorse show held Saturday and issued fair warning to entries in the local show on Aug. 14 that local horses are going to be hard to beat.

This warning was accomplished by the winning of Grand Champion trophy, one first, one fourth, and one third in the filly classes in a field of 122 horses from four states and Cuba. And also one second and one fourth in combined classes.

Shenanigan, two-year-old filly owned by Bill Long, copped first place in her class and went on to be named the Grand Champion of the show. In winning the title, she beat Jole Blon, one of the finest horses in the nation and winner of numerous Grand Champion titles, including the one at the Southwestern Championship Quarterhorse show here last year.

George Samson's "Georgia Brown," shown Saturday for the first time under Samson's banners, won third place in the 1950 filly class. She also took second with mother in the Produce and Dam class and fourth in the Get-Of-Sire class.

"My Choice," a filly showed by Earl Hodges, took fourth place in the Lubbock show in the 1949 filly class. "My Choice" has been named Reserve Champion in several shows and has won ribbons, including four firsts, in the approximately 31 shows in which she has been entered.

Long's filly maintained her winning reputation by copping the Lubbock show title. She has been entered in about 30 shows and has only failed to place in one of these. She has won four firsts and been named Reserve Champion once.

Before Samson bought "Georgia Brown," she won ribbons in several shows including the Albuquerque show. Saturday was the first time George had showed her.

These three horses will be among the top contenders in the local show on Aug. 14. Long also plans to enter "The Man," a young stallion that has never been shown and "Frosty B." He said he might also enter one or two more but has not decided yet.

Boy Hart will enter his stallion "Whimpy Traveler" in the show. Other local entries will probably include horses of Add Jones, Carter White and Floy Richardson.

Also attending the Lubbock show were Alvin Davis, Don Long, Guy Samples and Jackie Meeks. George Harlan, of Elston, judged the horses.

GRAND CHAMPION HORSE — Pictured above is "Shenanigan," owned by Bill Long, the Grand Champion Quarterhorse filly of the Lubbock Quarterhorse show last Saturday. Holding proudly onto the filly is Don Long. The horse has been entered in nearly 30 shows and has failed to place only once. In the shows she won four first places, three reserve champion titles and the one Grand Champion title. In winning this she beat Jole Blon, one of the nation's outstanding showhorses. Shenanigan will be one of the local horses to be entered in the Southwestern Championship Quarterhorse show to be held here on Aug. 14, the first day of the Junior Rodeo. Other entries will be pictured later. (Photo By Dispatch Photographer)

POST CLEANUP NEEDED... SCRAP METAL DRIVE...

With the completion of a preliminary inspection of the city last week by city officials and a state health department representative, the fact became glaringly apparent that what Post needs most of all in its attempt to combat polio and other sickness is a strong organized cleanup program.

The nation-wide drive for scrap iron to feed steel mills and foundries could prove extremely beneficial to Garza county farmers. Mills and foundries need more scrap metal than ever—and farmers of the nation are being asked to sell their scrap to dealers without delay.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P. — Texas' freshman congressman Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, isn't shy when it comes to talking about the Texas Panhandle.

He got in some real plugs for his wind-swept district when speaking during House debate on the bill to extend the Defense Production act.

Rep. Morano (R-Conn.) referring to the shifting of an aircraft plant from Stratford, Conn., to Grand Prairie, Tex., said:

"It is true that all skilled workers who left Stratford, Conn., which is the district that I have the honor to represent, came back from Texas, and went back to their own jobs and families because they did not like the food, they did not like the climate, and they did not have adequate housing in Texas."

Half an hour later Rogers got to speak. After reminding his colleagues that the purpose of the amendment was to disperse industries as a protection against atomic bombing, Rogers added:

"We are not asking for a government plant, but we are offering the Panhandle of Texas if you need it for that purpose.

"And I want to say to you that we will cooperate fully. We will even have the weather cooperate fully with you. I would not be a true Texan if I did not stand up to answer the remarks of the gentleman from Connecticut when he told you that those people that worked in those plants came back to Connecticut because they did not like the people of Texas."

Morano interrupted here to say: "If the gentleman will yield, I did not say that they did not like the people of Texas."

Rogers offered his pardon for the misinterpretation. Then he continued:

"I am sorry that those people in New England have such jaded appetites that they cannot appreciate good Texas food. If they would stay out there just a few months they would have an appetite and get rid of their ulcers and be able to eat anything that did not bite them first."

Repeating that the Panhandle is not asking for industries but would welcome them never the less, he said:

"No Russian plane is going to come near the Panhandle of Texas and ever get home again."

A little later, Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont got up to oppose the Rains amendment, which he contended would give the federal government the power to determine where a private company was to build its plant.

He argued that concerns usually picked sites in the basis of economy—as to closeness of raw materials, availability of power and other factors.

Then, he continued, there were two sides to this matter of getting defense industries in a community.

"When peace returns to the world," he said, "which we devoutly hope it will in a few years at most, such plants will immediately close down."

"They will leave thousands of workers unemployed, housed in temporary housing. Many of them will remain there indefinitely because they have no place to go and nothing to do when they get there. This creates a tremendous problem for the communities where such industries cease to operate."

The amendment was defeated by a 134 to 79 unrecorded vote.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Increased Cost Of Living Hardest On The Moderate Income, Middle-Class Families

BABSON PARK, Mass. — The housewife complains that food prices are too high. Her budget is showing — in the red. No wonder! Only during the last twelve months, consumer prices for moderate income families have risen approximately 8.3 per cent. Food prices have climbed 11 per cent, clothing 10 per cent, and rents three per cent.

Living Standards Endangered

Higher and higher prices are endangering the living standards of millions of moderate income, middle-class families. The record shows that their food prices have increased 105 per cent in the last decade; apparel, 95 per cent; rents, 30 per cent; house furnishings, 100 per cent; and such miscellaneous items as recreation, toilet articles dry cleaning, and doctors' bills, 60 per cent. The earnings of this group just haven't kept pace with prices.

This unfortunate situation especially hurts that large segment of professional and white-collar workers. These feel the squeeze most—doctors, lawyers, teachers, clergy, civic leaders, accountants, office workers—and others with fixed incomes and pensions. In a very real sense many of these workers of our communities are the people who create ideas, those most interested in moral and spiritual values. These men and their wives are the forgotten people of today. For the good of our country, they need to be remembered.

Inflation And Simple Economics

Ever since the depression of the thirties we have been scared to death of Deflation. Everyone has wanted economic security. For the farmers this has meant price support and subsidies. Labor leaders have encouraged price rises in order to give the unions good ammunition for wage rises. Business, in turn, has sanctioned wage increases and then encouraged inflation to pay the worker.

The unjust part of high prices is that they suck the life from the public for the benefit of the privileged few. The manufacturer anticipates enjoying inflation because he can get more for his products. Sooner or later his employees want more and more of his profits to pay the grocer's bill, and either he pays or their standard of living goes down. The worker, at the outset, enjoys inflation because of his hopes of higher wages, but both employer and employee lose in the long run. They find the price of the new car they want or the supper steak has gone up.

What We Need To Do

In short, we have been kidding ourselves into thinking that we can gain more in an inflated seller's market than we can lose in a deflated buyer's market. The history of Germany, Italy, France, Great Britain, and Russia clearly indicates that unbridled inflation undermines private enterprise, causes industries to shut down and throws people out of work.

I may be old-fashioned, but years of experience tell me that you won't ever remove the housewife's burden by rationing or allocations or price or wage controls. These current stop-gap measures, in the long run, will deprive you of your economic liberties. The way to lower prices is to balance the national budget, raise interest rates, increase legal reserve ratios, curb installment buying, and especially increase production with lower costs.

Up To The Women

If a large enough group of determined housewives decide to bring prices down, they can! My suggestion to the housewives is to band together and work together. Bring your group influence to bear day in and day out, not only on your congressman but also upon manufacturers and labor leaders. I, for one, do not want to contest the power of a woman!

Getting Out On the LIMB . . . .

By EDDIE the editor

If a rat terrier two feet long, with a tail an inch and a half high, can dig a hole three feet deep in 10 minutes, to dig the Panama Canal in a single year would require only one fox terrier 15 miles long, with a tail a mile and a half high . . . mathematically I'm a wizard.

HAVING HEARD Cedric Foster quote the editorial, "The American Age," from a tabloid size weekly newspaper published at Wellsville, Ohio, I am willing to give my week's contribution to "Out On A Limb" to its reprinting.

The editorial, given national attention by Mr. Foster on his program over Mutual several weeks ago, was published in the Wellsville Press and written by publisher L. J. Zwieg. Here goes: "If we were in our teens today and were choosing a profession, there would be no doubt in our minds as to the profession. We would choose the 'Foreign Service.'"

"Why? "Because with the termination of the Korean war, the United States will gradually enter the stage of 'World Empire.' Our country will openly assume the role of protector and stabilizer of the world.

"In a limited sense this 'American Age' or 'World Empire' was inaugurated in 1946. However, neither our government nor our people were prepared to accept the change which history, or destiny had wrought so unexpectedly. We therefore improvised as time went by. It took the Korean war to awaken us to the danger to which our international planlessness was placing us and the world. Today it is a case of 'take over the world responsibilities which are ours due to our power and wealth or go down to destruction and let the Russians take over.' There is no alternative because no other or combinations of countries can enforce the peace and preserve the values of Western civilization.

"Unfortunately, we are only partly prepared for this role which destiny has assigned us. We have the technical know-how, the industrial capacity and the military power to undertake the task. But we lack trained men to implement American policy abroad. Unlike the Romans or the British who were once cast in a similar role, Americans have not been given the chance to prepare themselves for world rule.

"Do the words 'World Rule' surprise you? Are you one of those who still thinks that the United States can do anything else but lead and protect the free world? Are you one of those who still thinks the world is divided into free countries—each able to protect itself? Or have you awakened to the fact that the world is now divided into two political units, with the United States leading the greater unit?"

"If you have awakened to this revolutionary change in which our country now finds itself, you should not be ashamed, but proud; not afraid, but encouraged. The United States is about to step into its grandest days. This is the 'American Age' coming up. The power and wealth which our nation has accumulated will now be used to maintain world peace and to raise living standards throughout the world, including our own. There will be no world war in this generation as a result. The American empire has arrived.

"This American Empire will be different from the Roman or British Empire. We will not directly rule the countries we protect. We will not send colonial governors nor administrators to these lands. But rule the free world we will—indirectly, economically, diplomatically, and, gradually, in a social way, too.

"For this type of rule we need a revolutionary change in our State Department. We need a revolutionary change in our military department, a revolutionary change in our educational system, and a revolutionary change in the mental thinking of all our citizens.

"Most Americans, for example know less than nothing about Korea or Iran before these countries became trouble spots. They had no idea why our State Department considered them important enough to risk world war in order to protect them. As a people we are like children in the realm of world politics. Geography is a lost art with us, as is world history. Do you wonder that some countries consider even our college graduates to be illiterate?"

"In order to assume our role of world leadership, American students must become experts in world affairs. The mention of the world, Estramadura, must immediately bring to a province in Spain—a particular province with particular problems. In other words, Americans must become educated in the true, cosmopolitan sense of the world. The world and its peoples and their problems, their customs and their languages must be studied as our students now study their own

Expect Good Ginning

The Farmers Gin Co. is preparing to gin a share of a 10,000-bale cotton crop the coming season. J. C. (Cecil) Edwards, who was recently made manager of the gin, estimates that Rotan has a chance to gin 10,000 bales of cotton, though he, along with all others, agree that the cotton production will depend on the weather from here on out. Mr. Edwards says there was a much greater acreage planted to cotton this year than last, but that much of the acreage has been abandoned for cotton due to dry weather, hail, washing rains and worms. Still he thinks there is a larger acreage in the Rotan area than the total acreage of last year.

A Nice Gesture

At the opening performance of the rodeo Thursday evening, John Biggs, president of the Santa Rosa Riding Club of Vernon, presented Mayor E. C. Hallman a check for $500. It was a gift from the riding club to the Olney Disaster Relief Committee, which is collecting and distributing donations to victims of the May 18 tornado. Mayor Hallman had ridden into the arena to be introduced to rodeo visitors, and as a surprise to him, Biggs rode to his side to present the check. When Announcer Bud Townsend described what was taking place, roaring cheers went up from the crowd. Mayor Hallman later expressed deep appreciation to the Vernon group and all others who have donated to the fund.

Courthouse Is Rebuilt

With the possibility that a few minor details may be lacking the contractors on the new $350,000 Floyd county court house believe it is ready to turn over to the owners and have asked a final inspection by the architect Friday, said J. B. Brown, superintendent for Dolph Construction company, the prime contractors, yesterday. When the architects arrive for the inspection they will be joined by the Commissioner's court of Floyd county. The Commissioners will formally get together at 2:30 o'clock. The new building which takes the place of the structure destroyed by fire in March of 1948 is built along modern, plain lines but it is not strictly of the stream-lined or modernistic trend. It is built around the structural foundations and walls which withstood the ravages of the fire.

Slaton Business Holds Steady

Various sources over the radio and through the press have left the impression with a good many people in this area, that business has not been thriving so far in 1951 as it was in 1950. Reports from business men over town do not bear out this report. Vice-President of the Citizens State Bank, Howard Swanner, says that deposits in the bank on the last of June '50 were $3,862,277.95, while on the last of June 1951 the deposits were $3,891,995.33. There was $29,215.80 more on deposit at the end of the second quarter of 1951 than at the end of the second quarter of 1950. There are more loans out now than there were at the same period in 1950 although not as much in proportion as the gains in deposits. Postmaster Scudder says that last quarter shows a ten per cent increase in traffic through the office here and an eight per cent increase over 1950 in the first six months of 1951. The Slaton Post Office has been showing a steady increase in traffic for the past four years and the town seems to be showing a steady, healthy growth, says the postmaster.

Nothing can be accomplished without the efforts of all concerned, and since we are ALL concerned, let's show that we are doing our utmost. By combining our efforts and ALL pulling together, we know our Chamber of Commerce can be bigger and more forceful. To prosper and progress a city needs an active Chamber of Commerce. And we all know every person in Post wants the town to prosper and progress.

In fulfilling our new "let's get re-acquainted" program, we urge you to drop into the Commerce office in the Garza theater building at anytime and bring along any suggestions or recommendations you might have. Mrs. Burnis Lawrence, your new Chamber of Commerce secretary, will see that any suggestions made by you are brought to the attention of the directors.

Without your suggestions it will be hard for us to know what you need or want done. So start suggesting, for after all, we are working for you. Your wholehearted cooperation is direly needed in helping us fulfill our future plans.

Next month, of course, is our Junior Rodeo. There is a great deal still to be done but the young people are so enthusiastic and interested in the program, that it can only be a success. And the help from the older people has been very good.

In September, we have the Garza County Fair. And in October, there will be the county agriculture exhibit at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair. We also hope to assist 4-H and FFA boys with their state fair exhibits. The December Christmas program which is an annual affair is also getting much attention right now. We have been offered the remainder show for either Dec. 15 or 22.

On this score we would appreciate you calling into the office—the number is 551 — and letting us know if you want this show or another one. If parents do not have time the youngsters can call.

Back to the Junior Rodeo. We need some flags. Perhaps you may have one at home which you use on special occasions. And this is a special occasion in Post. And we also need other decorations which you might let us

Gigantic Preparedness Bill To Be Sent To House Of Representatives In August

By GEORGE MAHON
Member of the House of Representatives

For the past 11 weeks I have been conducting committee hearings in Washington on the appropriation bill for the Army, Navy and Air Force for the current fiscal year. I expect to present the bill to the House of Representatives for passage during the second week in August.

I think some facts about the bill may be of interest. Because of the confidential nature of much of the testimony, the hearings were not open to the press. However, about two-thirds of the testimony has been printed and is available to Members of Congress, the press and the public. Four volumes containing 3,500 pages, totaling nearly three million words, were required to print the testimony of the 500 witnesses who testified.

A lot of words and witnesses were involved in the hearings. The issue before us, however, was the 56 billion dollar appropriation bill for the Army, Navy and Air Force, one of the largest appropriation bills in the history of the nation. Generally speaking, one-fifth of the money would be required to pay, feed and clothe the men in service. An additional one-fifth would be required to maintain the installations, aircraft, ships, etc. One-half of the sum would be used to pay for tanks, air planes, ships and weapons of war. Remaining funds would be used for research and development and many other purposes. We will make savings and reductions wherever reasonably possible. It appears that a minimum reduction of at least one billion dollars can be made safely.

Our civilian and military experts are by no means infallible, but it was interesting to note that most of them who appeared before the committee were of the opinion that there would not be a global war involving the United States and Russia in 1951. Some of them expressed the idea that the danger of war with Russia would be greater in 1952 and 1953 as the Russian atomic stockpile increases. Many of our military people feel that war between the United States and Russia is inevitable, but our top military leaders do not agree with this conclusion.

The world situation is confusing, complex and explosive. My own view is that some incident or unforeseen development might precipitate a shooting war between the United States and Russia at any time. I think the best hope for peace lies in our military preparedness effort and in the over-all strengthening of our nation and the other free nations of the world. We do not know the Russian timetable, but we know they seem to understand the language of strength.

What may happen in the Korean war is still not clear, but in my opinion it would be dangerous and inexcusable for us to let down our guard or disband our military forces by reason of the cease-fire in Korea. The truth is we are not now prepared for war. Our military build-up is just getting in high gear. We must be strong over a long period of years if there is to be any real hope for stability and peace. On the other hand, we cannot afford to bankrupt ourselves in reckless and wasteful spending.

During the progress of the hearings I was invited to go to the Pacific for the atomic bomb tests and also to Europe to confer with Eisenhower, but my work here was such that I could not leave Washington at the time.

Oil Activity In County Hits Higher Peak Than Is Apparent

On an overall view, the oil picture in Garza county covers a much wider scope of activity than anyone might think, according to information furnished the Dispatch this week by Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, commissioner of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

At the present time, there are eight separate and distinct oil fields in Garza county. These fields have in them a total of 527 producing wells.

But all the activity is not limited to just pumping the oil out of the wells already drilled. For since January 1, 1951, the Railroad commission has granted 83 regular permits for the county.

Fields listed on the books of the Railroad Commission as separate and distinct fields in Garza county include Buenos field, Dorward field, Garza field, Justiceburg field, P. H. D. field, Rocker A field, Post field and Tobe-Strawn field.

Largest producing field in the county of course is the Garza with 421 producers. The field has a total allowable of 17,129 barrels per day. Depth of the field is approximately 2,900 feet.

Highest potential in the field is 221 barrels with the lowest hitting only 14 barrels. The heaviest allowable for an individual well is 62 barrels, and lowest allowable in the field is two barrels.

Second largest producing field is the Dorward, with 61 producers pumping 2,002 allowable barrels per day. Gravity of the oil is 38.5 and the depth of the field is approximately 2,456 feet.

Highest potential in the field is 179 barrels and the lowest 7 barrels. Heaviest allowable is 55 barrels and the lowest set at 7 barrels.

The 22 wells in the Rocker A field produce the third heaviest allowable in the county with 643 barrels per day. Producing 37 gravity oil the field is at an approximate depth of 2,422 feet. Highest potential is 201 barrels and lowest 15. Top allowable per well is 55 barrels with the lowest falling down to five.

Thirteen wells in the Buenos filed daily pump 311 barrels of 36.3 gravity oil from approximately 3,397 feet. Highest potential is 115 and lowest 35. Top well allowable is 40 barrels with lowest running 11 barrels.

Only seven wells are producing in the P. H. D. field from an approximate depth of 3,565 feet. They pump 177 barrels of oil each day under the present allowable. Highest potential is 167 barrels and the lowest 18. Top allowable per well is 36 and lowest is 18 barrels.

The three remaining fields in the county have one producing well each and pump a total of 138 barrels of oil per day. The strongest is in the Tobe-Strawn field and produces an allowable 125 barrels of 155 potential.

All told the 527 producing wells in the county pump an allowable 20,400 barrels of oil per day. Possibility of adding more to the production of the county is very likely with new wells in the process of being drilled in proven fields.

Ball Team Cinches Spot In Play-Off

Storie Motor softball team cinched a berth in the play-off series this past week by defeating O'Donnell 12-5 and Southland 7-2, manager Monk Gibson said.

The team had been battling with O'Donnell for the fourth spot on the play-off lineup and the defeat Friday night put O'Donnell out of the race.

Only two games remain on the regular season slate. The Post nine goes to Tahoka Friday night and Grassland invades the local diamond Tuesday night for the final game.

In defeating O'Donnell Friday night Coach Bing Bingham pitched for the local team. Taylor, Ingram, Holland and Bingham divided up the hurling chores in the Southland victory.

At the present time the play-off lineup seems to include Grassland in first place, Southland in second, Tahoka in third and Post in fourth.

PMA Committee Chairman Urges More Conservation

What soil and water conservation practices do you plan to carry out on your farm in 1952?

This question to the farmers of Garza county is raised by Claude E. Spence, chairman of the county PMA committee, as a means of encouraging more effective conservation in connection with meeting defense needs.

According to the chairman, all present indications are that farmers will be asked to continue production at high levels. This means continued heavy drain on the productive capacity of the soil, making conservation all the more essential. It also means that the conservation practices must fit into the pattern of increased production.

More than ever this calls for special planning and good judgment, the chairman said. By checking conservation needs while crops are growing or right after harvest, the farmer has a better opportunity to determine what practices are needed and to fit these practices into the production pattern.

In the chairman's opinion farmers who expect to use the Agricultural Conservation Program in their conservation efforts can make better use of the assistance provided if they plan ahead and set a goal of the improvements they expect to make in the next few years. Most farms have some particular conservation problem that is keeping the farm from producing as it should. Laying out the steps to be taken to meet this problem and then following through, makes for more efficient and effective use of program assistance and of the farmer's own labor and equipment.

IT IS SELDOM THAT THE invitation "Let's go drink a cup of coffee" is turned down, but how many Postites do you see drinking ICED COFFEE?—Hot coffee is supposed to be a good stimulant but we find ICED COFFEE equally as stimulating and much more REFRESHING during this 100 or more degree weather. If you don't like plain iced coffee, try it this way . . .

Combine 1 tablespoon maple-flavored syrup, 2 tablespoons heavy cream, 1-8 teaspoon artificial maple flavoring in a tall glass; add ice cubes and fill glass with freshly made double-strength coffee. (Iced Coffee should always be made extra strong as the ice that melts dilutes it.)

CHERRY FLAKES are a snack treat and taste extra good with iced coffee or other cold drinks.

Sift 1 cup all-purpose flour, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon baking soda, and 1-4 teaspoon salt together. Cream together 1-3 cup butter or margarine and 1-2 cup sugar; beat in well 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 2 tablespoons marischino cherry juice. Mix in sifted dry ingredients thoroughly; then 1-2 cup chopped nuts. Drop from teaspoon into crushed bran, corn or wheat flakes, roll into sheet, coat well, place on greased cookie sheet and top with 1-2 marischino cherry. Bake in 375F oven for 10 minutes.

The housewife's "old standby," the frankfurter, is a popular ready-to-serve meat. Franks can be prepared to serve at any meal whether it's a picnic or banquet. One of the many different ways of serving is

FRANKFURTER WISHBONE WITH HOT POTATO SALAD.
Cover 1 pound frankfurters with hot water. Heat slowly for about seven minutes but do not boil. Drain and cut each frank in half lengthwise to about one inch of the end. Spread the split halves so that the frankfurter resembles a wishbone. Arrange on a hot platter. Fill the "wishbone" with hot potato salad.

CALIFORNIA PRUNE PARFAIT puts the final touch to a light meal of sandwiches and iced tea. Ingredients and method are: cut 2 cups cooked prunes from pits into small pieces. Pare, section and cut 2 medium-sized oranges into very small pieces. (If the orange sections are not cut very small they'll get icy and tart.) Mix prunes, oranges, 12 finely chopped marischino cherries, and 1-4 cup sweetened condensed milk. Whip 1 cup heavy cream and fold in fruit mixture. Pour into refrigerator tray and place in freezing compartment with controls at lowest temperature. Freeze until firm but not solid.

Scripture:
And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple; and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars; and see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows. Matthew 24:1-8.

South Plains Area Social Security Payments Show A Definite Increase

The number of old-age and survivors insurance beneficiaries in the 18 county South Plains area administered by the Lubbock social security office increased 26 per cent in the first six months after amendments to the Social Security Act became effective last September.

Increase in the amounts being paid was even more substantial, jumping 220 per cent from $31,000 to $68,000 monthly, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock office.

Hutton said that as of August 31, 1950, it was estimated that 3,000 persons were receiving $81,000 monthly in these insurance payments in the area. A tabulation recently completed shows that as of February 28, 1951, there were 2,542 men, women, and children in the area receiving $68,291 monthly. The manager pointed out that the reason for the proportionately greater rise in amount of payments was that the new law, effective last September, not only made many additional persons eligible for payments but also very substantially increased the general level of benefits.

Hutton called attention to the fact that this Federal insurance program provides not only old-age insurance but protection for the family in case of the breadwinner's death.

These payments are from the Federal program of insurance, supported by the worker and his employer with payroll taxes, and have no reference to the State-operated public assistance programs, which are also sponsored by the Social Security Act.

While no local breakdowns are available as to the end of June 1951, Hutton reported that the mates that as of June 30 for the first time more than four million persons were receiving monthly benefits, reflecting an increase of more than a million since the amendments went into effect last September 1. June payments amounted to $144 million.

Planned as one of the most modern drugs in the area, the building will have a red brick front, with large plate glass windows flanking the middle door.

Progress on the 30x110 foot building has continued steadily since construction was begun June 18. A majority of the bricks has been laid, ceiling beams and roof have been installed and tar has been poured. Work is now being done on the inside of the building.

"We will move into the new building immediately upon its completion," O. G. Hamilton, owner of the drug, said. "The new building will give us more space than we have in our present location and we have plans for one of the most modern drugs in the area."

Reporter Gets Cowboy Rating In One Lesson

By BURNIS LAWRENCE

You can just call me "Cowboy Lawrence" now.

You've heard the dancing song about six lessons from Madame Somebody. Well, I am here to tell you that it took only one short lesson and I am a full fledged "cowboy."

And is this "cowhand" life a cinch! You can spell it with a capital C. No, sir, there just ain't nothing but cinema propaganda to these hardships endured by cowhand imitators on the screen. I know that from experience now, despite the many times I have sat through their daring escapades trying to keep my goose - pimples at a minimum. But not anymore.

For one afternoon last week, I received my initiation as a Garza county "cowboy." And it only took a couple of hours to finish the school too.

It all happened just as easy as missing a greased pig at the County Fair. A whole carload of us, including Bill Long, Earl Hodges, George Samson, Don Long, my provider of bread (I take the responsibility of earning the bacon,) and me (naturally this was before I became a real "cowboy" so the name couldn't be applied then) went out to Bill's ranch to take a few pictures.

Well, the pictures completed, Bill wants to know whether we want to go over to the "South pasture" and hunt his horses. I looked around for horses for all of us and could only see a couple of $1,200 nags (only the name Bill gave them was Quarterhorses). Seeing as how I had never been on a horse (we do most of our traveling in East Texas by grapevine) I was somewhat relieved when he said we would go in the car.

So off we go in his Mercury, just as big as you please. And we drove all over that danged pasture dodging cactus (or is it cacti) and Bill's one water hole until we flushed that covey—no, I guess it's found that herd of horses.

And after looking them over for a little while (I never did find out what for unless Bill just wanted to count his money on-the-hoof again) off we go across the pasture lickety-split in that car, never worrying about the next day, because rubber - foam cushions don't cause callouses like saddle leather does.

Oh, yes, I saw a cow or two but the pleasure wasn't as great as it would have been several years ago (say about 40) because all I could actually see was the little mark-up sticker down at the FAR EAST SOUVENIR — Frank H. King, general executive of the Associated Press, shows Mrs. King a souvenir he brought back to Dallas after his three-month survey of the Far East. It is a hand-carved cricket cage. Cricket fighting, it seems, is a Far Eastern sport. King conferred with Associated Press correspondents to prepare them for covering a new phase in the Far East. He said the American armies in Korea are powerful enough to take any military objective there now, yet the Communists seem to think we are suing for peace.

USO Will Begin Drive Next Fall

Many Garza county men who are serving their country in various branches of the Armed Forces will undoubtedly derive some pleasurable benefit from the forthcoming $700,000 fund appeal for the USO in Texas.

Ben Wooten, Dallas banker, has been appointed campaign chairman of the drive, by attorney General Price Daniel, chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund committee.

Garza county residents will get the opportunity to back the drive, which will provide the familiar home - away - from - home services for the millions of Armed Services personnel, during the Community Chest campaign in October and November.

"Each county has a vital interest in maintaining home-ties with the young men and women in military service," Wooten said, "and each should assume its proportionate share of the USO budget to assure that morale in the Armed Forces is maintained on a high level."

butcher shop with the enormous "so-much-per-pound" figure.

So there you have it. I am a bonded, certified, inspected and OPS'ed "cowboy."

And I still don't know which side of a horse to get on.

Nation Car Mileage Reaches High Total

Americans are a car-riding people.

As obvious as this statement seems many facts about the riding habits of Americans are actually amazing.

The nation's passenger cars make 94 million trips on an average winter day, involving 154 million adult rides.

In mileage terms, the cars travel 771 million miles a day, 440 - million miles of which are trips concerned with work or business. Passenger miles total 1,240 - million a day, 575 million of which are for livelihood.

It is estimated that American motorists will use 1,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline this summer on vacation travel. They are also expected to travel 15,000,000,000 miles during June, July and August. And for the whole of 1951 the vacation speedometer will probably roll around to 30-billion miles, an increase of almost 60 per cent since 1940.

To service this at-home and vacation travel load the nation has some 200,000 service stations.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marshall

What's So Funny?

Just finished reading a magazine article that "proves" you and I don't know what's funny.

A bunch of psychologists came to this sad conclusion after telling jokes to college students. Very often they would give out with what they considered a side-splitter—and not get even a chuckle in response. Other times the students would laugh their heads off at stories that weren't considered really funny.

Maybe I'm wrong, but what makes a psychologist such a better judge of humor than the rest of us? If a man gets a kick out of a joke that proves it was funny to him—doesn't it?

From where I sit, when psychologists try to set up a standard for a sense of humor they're getting too serious for me. Stands to reason that different people laugh at different things, just as they have different tastes for most everything. I'm partial to a glass of beer with meals myself—but I promise not to make any "wise-cracks" if you prefer tea.

One New Well Staked In County This Week

Oil activity in Garza county this week was limited to the staking of a wildcat well in the central part of the county and the filing of intentions to drill another one with the City of Post. Frigge, Bailey and Shatto, of Colorado City staked the wildcat in central Garza county, two miles north of the Garza-San Andres pool. Strief and Simmons, operators, filed to drill a well in Block 157 of the Town of Post. Reese Carter, co-owner of Post-tex Drilling company, announced that he and his brother have sold their rotary rig to Cecil Cannon of Abilene. At the present time Cannon is drilling City of Post number one on the water department right of way west of Post. Tuesday, they were at 2,330 feet. Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 Jeff Justice was reported drilling below 7,065 feet on a 7,500 foot contract. D. J. Stone of Lubbock, No. 1 Kuykendall, was reported at 2,895 feet, two miles northwest of Post.

Sims said. "They were just not physically fit for the rough terrain nor the weather," he explained. "I do not know if the training they received in the states caused it or if the long trip on the ships got them out of shape, but when a tough haul came they were always the first to fall out." During his seven month tour in the Korean battle grounds, Sgt. Sims said he faced only a few small Chinese "banzai" attacks. He explained that one on a large scale might give a man a good case of the jitters but he was spared any large ones. Peace rumors had just begun to circulate among the troops he said when he left Korea. Naturally the men were very hopeful over the outcome, but optimism was not too high. Sims is to receive a discharge in August but with more than 10 years service behind him he

City Clean-Up—

(Continued From Front Page) lida, Tate says he has discovered two closed cans. But he has also had a report of two open cess pools. In planning for a complete spraying project, city officials contacted County Judge H. M. Snowden to see if the county would bear the expense of spraying the Flats which are out of the city limits. Judge Snowden said that although he had not contacted the Commissioners he felt certain the county would go along with the city in the plan. A recent meeting was held by city officials, including Mayor T. L. Jones, City Health officer, Dr. D. C. Williams, Giles McCrary and Tate to discuss plans for the cleanup. Dr. Williams explained that what the town needs to do is "clean up and stay cleaned up." "So long as we are carrying out the instructions of the State Health department, even though they or no one else knows exactly what to do in polio cases, we are at least doing all we can," he explained. Mayor Jones said that despite the seriousness of the situation, "There is actually no need for any scare concerning the three cases of polio." He went on to explain that the city will do anything it can, but needs the help of the people to accomplish a good job. An inspection late Wednesday afternoon by a Dispatch reporter revealed that many people in town are already cleaning up their alleys and back lots so the grader can get through. Yet there are other spots which have not been touched. Some of the business establishments downtown have large air conditioners that lose a lot of water. This has caused the growth of high stands of weeds which should be cut before the fogging begins. "Just as soon as the alleys are all cleaned and graded we will hire a fogging or spraying machine out of Lubbock and cover the entire town," Tate concluded.

I wish to announce that I have purchased CECIL RAMSEY'S BARBER SHOP located on the Lubbock highway next to my grocery store.

B. B. McCOY will continue as barber for the shop and another excellent barber, DICK HIGGINS, will join the business within the next few weeks.

The shop will be known as THE SERVICE BARBER SHOP and will be just that. We will operate it on the same basis as the grocery store, having no certain hours. As long as the customers call, there will be a barber there to serve them.

Temperature In Post Soars To 104

Other parts of Texas were not the only places to suffer from the extreme heat last week. Post had its share of the high temperature readings also. Marshall Reno, of Connell Chevrolet, said that the thermometer there soared to 104 degrees during the early part of the week, either Tuesday or Wednesday. But with the threat of rain for the past few days the temperature has fallen—all the way down to 99 degrees. This was the low reading Wednesday.

Main Street—

(Continued From Front Page) Butterick in 1863 designed, packed and sold the first commercial patterns—not for women, but for men. * Belt-A-Bac is a grand new belting strip that gives that professional look to belts you make yourself. We saw this notion (rubberized on one side) in several popular colors at Herring's. You'll like, too, the elastic corded belting to use inside your skirts, especially if you are one of those gals who vary from day to day in waist measure. * Grippers and the gadget that grips them can be bought at Wacker's notion counter. Many women who sew prefer the grippers to buttons, especially on Junior's shirts. Wacker's have the pearl backed grippers, too. Pinking shears that cut down on the sewing time and make for that professional look can also be found there. * Covered buttons and belts can be custom made at Lavelle's. New fall materials of prints and plaids are arriving at Lavelle's. Butterick patterns are available at this store. * Pop! goes the 5 cent pop! According to the government, we may be seeing the last of the nickle soda-pop. However, bottle drink manufacturers say they may absorb the increase. Guess we'll know come Saturday—the day the government authorizes the manufacturers to change prices. * If we were going to sew, we'd need one of those "middle-age" needles that are on the market. Just slide the thread down a groove at the side of the needle. Haven't seen one but it sounds as if it were just what the doctor ordered. * Get out your platters or trays or even your bread boards for it's cold meat platter time. The wide assortment of cold meat cuts in the meat dealer's display case is ready to brighten many a hot weather menu. Check the ads for tips. * Purchase cold cuts with tray arrangement in mind. Various colors, shapes and sizes in meat make your platter all the more fun to arrange. Select both light and dark cuts, the round, the square and rectangular loaves. * For a wide assortment of flavors include such cuts as summer sausage or Braunschweiger, meat and macaroni loaf, pepper loaf or pimiento loaf, boiled ham, souse and veal loaf. * Also be sure to have plenty of bologna slices handy for clever cornucopias. Roll the meat rings, then fasten with gay colored wooden picks (available at Wacker's). Stuff with potato salad, with pickle relish or with thin carrot sticks to add a cheerful note to your platter arrangements. * That wise woman we know says she is getting so accustomed to being tense that when she's calm she gets nervous.

Condition Given On Polio Victims

Relatives of Roland Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose, said that Tuesday he was resting somewhat better. The doctors had taken him out of the iron lung but still have him on oxygen. Cherry Dodson, daughter of the Weidon Dodsons, was reported in satisfactory condition. She has been removed from both the lung and oxygen and the doctors say she has passed the critical stage.

Water System Now Reaches Miles Outside of City Limits

two new wells, Tate explained, the Post water system now reaches approximately 10 miles west of town. The new pumps were supposed to have been in sometime in August, he added, so the department is nearly 5 weeks ahead of schedule.

Capacity of the main reservoir is 1,400,000 gallons and the people of Post use approximately 500,000 gallons of water per day. So the supply, with the three new wells added to the system, seems to be more than adequate.

The only point keeping Post water supply from being approved by the State Health department is the 600,000 reserve reservoir which is standing by for use in case of an emergency, Tate said that work is constantly being done to bring the system up to state standards and that it won't be long before "the signs are placed on the highways concerning the approval of the water supply."

But with the addition of the new wells and the opening of the new line into town, Tate said he felt like giving the people a bit of advice.

"We like to sell all the water we can, naturally," he said. "But the people were accustomed to the very low pressure in watering lawns, gardens and other objects and if they are not careful this increased pressure is going to run their water bills pretty high."

Garza County Farmers Help To Observe Farm Safety Week

Editor's Note: This story was brought to the Dispatch office last week, but was replaced by a spot news story which developed at the last minute. But despite the fact that National Farm Safety Week began Monday there is still time to observe some of the precautions listed here. And once you start such observations, why designate one short week out of the year to do so—follow these rules every day of the year, make every week National Farm Safety Week.

Enforcement Of Fair Labor Law To Be Strict

If any Garza county farmers plan to employ children under 16 years of age on their farms after school begins this fall, they had better check carefully with the provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards act.

Although the law does not apply to a farmer's own children working on their parent's land, if farmers hire other under-age children during school hours, the farmers themselves are responsible.
