Mothers March On Polio Slated Tonight

Workers To Begin House-To-House Canvass At 7:30 P. M.

Plans for the Mothers March on Polio have been laid and promptly at 7:30 o'clock this evening the corps of workers, under supervision of Mrs. Jack Ballentine, chairman, will swing into action to make a house-to-house canvass of the city to climax the Garza County March of Dimes, which continues through the remainder of this month.

Voluntary workers will call at every home in Post tonight where a porch light has been left on. Other signals may be used in the event that the house does not have a porch light. A white cloth in the screen door handle or tied to the door knob, or a light in the window, may be used. There will be a worker to every few blocks so that the entire town can be covered in an hour.

Last year's mothers march proved to be the greatest achievement of the Dimes Drive. The march brought in sufficient money to put the County quota well over the top. "The need is greater than ever before," said Mrs. Ballentine, "therefore, we are hoping the response to tonight's march will be in keeping with the situation."

Mrs. Ballentine reminds residents who are planning to attend Mrs. J. A. Stallings' music recital at the grade school tonight, that they will be given an opportunity to donate to the MOD as they enter the school building if they have been missed in the "Mothers March."

A street solicitation campaign was slated to get underway in Post this morning with members of the Post Rotary club conducting a "teapot parade." Rotarians plan to work in shifts and will mill through the streets with teapots used as containers to receive coin donations. Two large barrels were to be set up to serve as collecting centers for the Rotarians. Funds collected with the teapots were to be pooled in the barrels. Last Saturday, following the Antelope band concert on Main Street, a barrel was used successfully in raising funds for the drive. The barrel, unattended during the afternoon, received more than twenty-five dollars in small donations. Most every person who passed by it and read the signs on it contributed something to the cause, said Pat Henderson, MOD chairman.

Saturday Is Final Day To Pay City, County Taxes

Garza County's tax collector's office will remain open all day Saturday instead of closing at noon, Carl Cederholm, deputy tax collector, has announced. Saturday is the final deadline for paying poll taxes and also the last day before a one and one-half per cent penalty will be added to the unpaid tax bills.

Payment of poll taxes in Garza County is still less than half of those paid up to January 26. In 1952, Cederholm said Monday afternoon that only 512 poll tax receipts had been issued. This is 655 short of the 1167 total on January 26, last year.

Number of poll taxes paid Monday was 128 more than the report in the Dispatch on January 15. In 1952, 349 individuals paid their poll tax during the two weeks period from January 12 to 26.

Poll tax assures the citizen of voting privileges during 1953 and it must be paid by or on Saturday, Cederholm said.

City taxes must also be paid by Saturday, Mrs. Gertrude Ward, city secretary, said. Mrs. Ward stated that the tax receipts were not quite as good as they were last year. Assessed value of Post city property is $2,361,480.70. The city tax rate is $1.50 per $100 valuation and a sum of $35,422.22 is expected to be collected.

Monday afternoon, Mrs. Ward reported that $29,661.47 of this amount had been collected. At this same time last year, $27,678.62 had been collected but See TAX DEADLINE, Page 8

Flu Epidemic Is Believed Waning

Garza County's severe influenza epidemic, which has touched most every family in the County within the past three weeks, is gradually subsiding, reported County Health Officer Dr. D. C. Williams this morning.

The Post physician, who last week declared the epidemic to be almost as severe as the deadly one during World War I years, said that Saturday he reported 75 new cases to the State Health Department in Austin. He expects this week's report on new cases to show considerable decline in number, as spread of the disease is believed waning.

Absenteeism in Post High school this week has dropped with no more than 10 students being out of school because of illness. The Grade School has also noted an increase in daily enrollment with the daily absenteeism ranging from 50 to 60 pupils. Last week the average ran from 50 to 120.

No deaths have been attributed to the disease here.

Businessmen Plan To Send Man to Hospital

A called meeting of businessmen has been scheduled at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the grade school cafeteria for the purpose of discussing a charity case which was brought to the attention of several businessmen and city organizations the first of the week.

Purpose of the meeting will be to provide hospital funds and expenses of sending a patient to a hospital for medical attention and treatment. Everyone interested is urged to attend.

Cloud Seeding Will Be Aired At Meetings

West Texas Weather Improvement district officials are sponsoring two meetings in Garza county this week for the purpose of creating interest in cloud seeding work. First of these meetings will be held tonight at Southland high school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. The other meeting will be held at Graham tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the school building.

Lee Cox, of Denver, Colo., representative of the Water Resources Development Corporation, will be the principal speaker at these meetings and will show films and slides on cloud seeding.

John Lott, member, said that the latest developments of cloud seeding will be explained to all members and visitors at the meetings.

Cloud seeding is the scientific process of increasing rainfall and has been proven successful in various areas of the United States. The western half of Garza county is considered a part of the West Texas Weather Improvement district and has paid dues until March 1.

Control and research commissions must be set up to make this program a success and all seeders must obtain licenses to operate. Cloud seeders must show evidence of ability and honesty and must file with the commission daily reports of all generators in service, and the exact times they are lighted, etc. If this program is to prove a success, the work must be continued.

Cox will explain all the functions of the cloud seeder and give members a report on how successful the work was in this area last year.

Lott and other members of the organization urge everyone to be present at these meetings and to see how cloud seeding is accomplished.

Shooting Out Signal Lights Is Dangerous

If the practice of "shooting out signal lights" along the Santa Fe railway isn't stopped immediately, trouble is brewing for Post youngsters who are guilty of destroying the property, warned E. A. Nelson, special agent, who was here Tuesday investigating the vandalism.

Mr. Nelson pointed out that the practice could result in serious damage to the operation of trains passing through Post. The signal lights serve as a major factor in clearing trains through sidings and actually control most of their operations. "Four or five times in the past two or three months, from one to three of the lights have been shot out with 22-rifles and bb-guns," said the agent.

In most instances the damage is traced to small bullets fired at close range, and the lights most frequently put out of operation are the ones located one-half mile south of the Santa Fe station and the ones one mile north of the station.

Felony offenses could result in the event of a major train disaster, warned the officer.

Bird Show To Be Presented For Children

Post grade school pupils, as well as parents of many of the children, are looking forward with eagerness to the presentation of Valentine's Pet Parade, a special assembly program which has been arranged for next Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 9 a. m., in the school auditorium.

The entertainment will feature an array of beautiful birds, each a trained performer capable of doing exciting and unusual tricks and specialty numbers. Most of the birds are foreign to this land. They include Australian white cockatoos, beautiful snow-white parrot-like birds that stand 20-inches high and have a sulphur-colored 5-inch crest. These birds are claimed to be long-lived, some reaching the age of one hundred years. The cockatoos play musical instruments.

The featured performer is Grandpa Joe, the veteran of the troop, that is said to be over ninety years old. The peppy and clever performer answers a toy telephone, shoots a cannon and does acrobatic tricks.

Besides the cockatoos there are Arabian birds and the Sacred doves of India. These birds do circus numbers, ride merry-go-rounds and ferris wheels, and roll miniature barrels.

Billed as top performers are Blondie, the bird that eats with a fork and works on a set of parallel bars; Red, the performer who does capers on a small ladder and climbs a cross; Queenie, the acrobatic star that does backflips on parallel bars; and Clifford, the musician, that plays chimes with his beak.

The act has been booked as one of the most entertaining and novel of its kind. School officials have set a very nominal admission fee so that every child in the school system may enjoy the entertainment. Admission will be 15c for all pupils and will be the same to pre-school age children who are being invited to attend. Parents, too, may see the show, but are promised only standing room as the auditorium is expected to be packed with children.

All proceeds above actual expense of the entertainment will go to the Girl Scout fund drive which is slated to get underway early next week.

School Kids' Bikes To Get 'Scotch Lite'

Final preparations were being made yesterday to begin the Post Lions club sponsored "A Scotch Lite for Every Bike" project and by this time next week every bicycle, motor scooter and motorcycle in Garza County should be trimmed with the illuminating tape.

The tape will be put on the school children's cycles at no cost to the owners. Members of the Lions club will tape up the machines at the schools during school hours. Provisions were also being made to supply the tape to schools of the rural areas.

In addition to trimming the small vehicles with "Scotch Lite" the Lions hope to interest every motorist in purchasing tape to put on the bumpers of their cars and trucks. The tape sells for $1 for three feet which is ample amount to properly light the rear bumper of a car. The illuminous tape can be seen further and better than most rear lights on cars.

A number of local firms are co-operating with the club, which in turn is sponsoring the project in the interest of the Garza County Citizens' Traffic Commission safety program.

The Traffic Commission has endorsed the reflector tape project as a safety measure to assist in cutting down auto accidents in Garza county.

Scout Fund Drive To Start Monday

Post and Garza county's Girl Scout organization and fund drive will receive its initial "kick-off" at a meeting scheduled in the City Hall at 7:30 p. m. Monday. Final plans and assignments for the drive will be explained to those attending.

The actual drive will begin Tuesday morning and will end Saturday, Feb. 7. Chairman Burnice Lawrence announced. Goal for this initial drive has been set at $500.

At Monday night's meeting the local Girl Scout organization will be reorganized and committees will be enlarged to operate on a larger scale. "This meeting should be of vital interest to every parent in the county who has a daughter," Lawrence pointed out. "For this movement is to increase the interest in Girl Scouting in the county so that girls can have something concrete to do."

Lubbock Blood Bank To Supply Hospital

Garza Memorial hospital is now associated with Southwest Blood Bank of Lubbock and will keep a fresh blood supply on hand here at all times, Jack Rex, administrator, said yesterday.

"It simplifies our giving transfusions as you do not have to get out and find somebody who has the type blood your sick relative needs. You can get the blood here and have 15 days in which to go to Lubbock and replace the supply. This method does not increase the cost of transfusions," Rex said.

Fifty Per Cent More Land Will Be Irrigated In 1953

Post Soil Conservation Service technicians estimate that 50 per cent more land will be irrigated in Garza County during 1953 than was irrigated last year.

The technicians base their estimate on the number of cooperators of the Duck Creek district who are requesting assistance and those who have already received help from the SCS in locating irrigation ditches and row diagraph irrigation.

Jess Ward, technician, points out that conservation of rain water is the most important point to consider in laying out an irrigation system. It is also important to keep the length of rows such that excessive loss of water from deep penetration into claiche is kept to a minimum. He further points out that long rows make it necessary to stand water on part of the land too long, allowing the water to soak below the roots zone.

Cooperators, who have in recent weeks requested assistance from the SCS, are: Richard Lewis, Close City; C. E. Spence, Pleasant Valley; and G. N. Leggett and W. N. Williams, Close City.

plant and putting it into first class shape before this season's rodeo. Committees were appointed at that time to check over the needs and requirements of the project, and after reporting their findings, funds were made available to do the work.

Plans call for a two-coat paint job of the grandstands, fences and chutes. The two sections of stands on the west side of the arena are to be rebuilt. Damaged material is to be replaced with new lumber and all salvage material is to be used in reinforcing and erecting new stock pens.

Three committees were named Friday night to assist with the project. They include: Paint purchasing, Monta Moore, Earl Hodges and Lee Byrd; paint contracting, McCrary, Ira Greenfield and Bill Long; material and labor for grandstands, W. S. Duckworth, Ed Warren and Jack Meeks.

All bids will be opened and considered by the directorate at the Feb. 6 meeting and contracts will be awarded to successful bidders. The work will be planned to begin as soon as possible after the contracts are placed.

County Ginnings Will Total 13,320 Bales For '52 Season

Final ginning of Garza County's '52 cotton crop will be completed Saturday when the last of unginned cotton is processed by the two plants which have remained open to complete "clean-up operations."

Both the plant at Close City and Graham will make their last run Saturday, managers said Wednesday. The Graham plant closed down last Saturday, but several farmers of the community "scrapped up" a few more bales and arrangements have been made by plant operators to finish the crop. The plant at Close City has continued to maintain a crew and has run on days when cotton arrived to be processed.

When the final figures are compiled at the close of Saturdays business, it is likely that the six gin plants of the County will have processed near 13,320 bales. Wednesday figure stood at 13,308 and not more than a half dozen bales are expected from the two communities.

The Close City plant, which has held a steady margin over the other five gins on the total number of bales ginned throughout the season, still leads with 3,493 bales. The Graham plant follows second with 3,360 bales.

Stampede Rodeo Plant To Get New 'Face Lifting' Job

Bids are being asked and will be accepted at any time between now and next Friday night, Feb. 6, for a complete "paint-up job" of the Post Stampede rodeo plant, it was announced this week by Homer McCrary, secretary of the association.

A $5,000 improvement program was authorized by Stampede directors last Friday night at a meeting held for that purpose at the city hall. The directorate some weeks ago discussed the advisability of repairing the

Rural Phone Service About Ready To Begin

The Southland Exchange will serve Southland, Pleasant Valley, Hackberry, Morgan and Gordon with extended area service into Slaton, but connecting also with other exchanges of the co-operative.

A number of rural residents of the County have subscribed to the service.

Shivers Charts New Term With Courage And Candor . . .

The familiar political "T" was notably absent from Governor Allan Shivers' speech during the inaugural address on last Tuesday. He projected forward thoughts instead of backward ones. Some harsh things were said about the governor during the presidential campaign as he chose to back Eisenhower against the regular Democratic nominee. So he had plenty of reason to look backward. No personal element was expressed at all. His independent, courageous action of last July did not damage him too much, however, as a great majority of voters of this state agreed with him.

One reason the governor made a definite appeal to many people of Texas was his clarity of thought and speech. He made no effort to step over into the Legislature's field. He suggested what ought to be done, as is the right of every administrative officer, but he

Governor Shivers is regarded as a conservative, yet he takes the progressive attitude on many issues of the day, notably the enlargement of the prison system and the enlargement of the eleemosynary program. He is not timid about proposing new taxes when needed and he is equally alert to guard an indiscriminate encroachment on the state treasury.

He is a middle-of-the-road governor and we feel that he is popular because most Texans like that. They want progress without radicalism. They want conservatism without reaction. The man in the middle-of-the-road usually gets brickbats from the extremists of both sides but in Shivers we have a governor who can "take it." He has courage and candor and is serving the people well.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

This is the time of the year when you can't take it with you because you haven't enough left to take you there.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Now that they have made cigarettes less irritating, wish they'd start in on the commercials."

The other day I was reading a survey which was made by the National Chamber of Commerce boys on the top question of the day. "How much should Uncle Sam cut expenses next year and where should the cuts be made?" and the more I read the more confused I became because really we have a problem here.

The organization had received replies from 2,300 of its members, and of that number 97 per cent said they want a pay-as-we-go federal budget with spending held to $70 billion or less.

On the second part of the query, (where do you think the cuts should be made) replies favored reducing waste in military expenses and foreign aid. Other federal operations which should be cut are such projects as the Tennessee Valley Authority, farm price supports and related programs, and grants-in-aid to the States for social welfare programs, answers to the query said.

The $78.6 billion budget President Truman sent to Congress would cost the average American family $1,757 in fiscal 1954.

Figures compiled from the survey show that cost of the budget would range from $963 per family in Mississippi to $3,145 per family in the District of Columbia, based on average incomes in each State. Delaware was second highest with $2,331, then Connecticut with $2,216 and New York ranked fourth with $2,201. We Texans would have to dig up $1,594.

But if the budget is cut to the $70 billion recommended by the business men, the national burden per family would be reduced by $192. And according to my way of figuring, $192 still buys quite a bit of food, clothing and medical care.

THE WOMEN, God Love 'Em—Who is that Post gal who said she planned to economize this year by first giving up the Income Tax.

Someone down here at the office the other day asked Wendell Huddleston, our cub reporter, how to punctuate this sentence: "Mary went swimming and lost her bathing suit." "I'd make a dash after Mary," was the unerring reply.

A contractor stationed his foreman on the other side of a wall in a newly finished dwelling and then called out, "Can you hear me?" "Yes, I can," rejoined the foreman. "Can you see me?" the contractor called out. "No," replied the foreman. "That," commented the contractor, "is what I call a good wall!"

Even the very young know that there are changes, to be made in Washington. A young miss asked her grandmother, "Did you know that Mr. Eisenhower is going to make the White House over?"

"No," said the surprised grandmother. "Is he?"

"The man on the radio said he was going to build a new cabinet."

Those who may feel there is no necessity to spend $1.75 for a poll tax receipt on an "off political year" might be willing to pay ten times the cost should some special election pop-up before the year ends and they find they have lost their voting right. The wise citizen will not quibble about the $1.75 and will show up with a tax receipt before the deadline Saturday.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY,
Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The new Texans in Congress fared well with their committee assignments, especially in view of the fact they are minority party freshmen.

There were only two changes in assignments among the older Texas members—Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa went from Veterans Affairs to Interior and Insular Affairs, and Rep. Frank Kard of Wichita Falls went from Merchant Marine and Fisheries to the committee on Government Operations.

Sen. Price Daniel went on the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee—where he wanted to go, since the group handles tidelands legislation. No little credit for his getting the assignment goes to Texas senior Lyndon B. Johnson. As Democratic floor leader in the Senate Johnson has much say-so in such matters. When the selection was announced Daniel publicly expressed his thanks to Johnson for his support.

This situation, incidentally, pretty clearly demonstrated that the two Texas senators probably will get along well together even though Johnson stayed loyal to the Democratic party in November and Daniel bolted to support Eisenhower. Other small occurrences, such as the use by Daniel of Johnson's office suite as his own headquarters while awaiting to be assigned rooms, point to a close working relationship.

Back to the House of Representatives, these committee assignments were made for the four new members of the Texas 22-man delegation.

John Dowdy, Athens, Post Office and Civil Service; Jack Brooks, Beaumont, Government Operations; Brady Gentry, Tyler, Veterans Affairs; Martin Dies, Lufkin, Merchant Marine and Fisheries.

What few people realize until they come here and watch proceedings closely is the importance of committee assignments, and of the standing of the individual on the committee. He moves up the ladder toward chairmanship with seniority in service on the group, and if he is the oldest in point of years of service and of the political party controlling his side of the Capital he is chairman.

Unless he is overwhelmingly opposed by the others on the committee, the chairman personally can exercise great influence in "reporting out" a bill—sending it along toward the House chamber with a favorable recommendation, or in pigeon holing it. Normally a bill goes through the House with little trouble if it has strong committee backing, for most members respect the fact that in committee hearings the subject supposedly has been gone into thoroughly and he relies on the judgement of his colleagues. He expects them to feel the same way about legislation reported out of the committee on which he serves.

In line for high spots on several committees should the Democrats get back in control of things in Congress are several of the Texans. Rep. Mahon of Colorado City and Lubbock is second among Democrats only to Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) on the powerful House Appropriations Committee, and the same situation holds for Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco on the House Agriculture Committee. Rep. Cooley (D-NC) is top Democrat on that group. Rep. Olin E. Teague of College Station will head the Veterans Affairs Committee in event of a change in control.

Texas will be well represented on the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in this 83rd Congress. Already on that group, to which Rogers has been assigned, are Reps. Ken Regan of El Paso and Lloyd Bentsen of McAllen. Reclamation projects and matters affecting the public domain and the submerged lands of the continental shelf out beyond state seaward boundaries, go to this committee. It also handles affairs of the territories.

1953 Dilemmas Are Budget Balancing, Korea, Reducing Taxes, Foreign Imports, Communism

Washington, D. C.—Another inauguration is over. Dwight Eisenhower is now President of the world's most powerful nation. He is a man of sterling character, tremendous energy and marvelous contacts. So far as it is possible in a Democracy, he will be a great President. But "Democracy" is a synonym for "Dilemma". Hence, before rushing to expand plants or buy stocks, it is well to consider at least five Dilemmas which we must face in 1953.

Korea—Dilemma No. 1
The American people want their sons back from Korea and, at the same time, don't want Korea to fall into Communist hands. This is a Dilemma with which Mr. Truman and his military aids have honestly struggled. The promise of like to visit Korea and try to accomplish the impossible was a great factor in electing him. Will people turn against him when he reports that 1953 will see no solution to this Dilemma, notwithstanding his hopefulness?

Communism—Dilemma No. 2
The new President this week reiterated his determination to stop Russia's spread of Communism. But he knows that Communism is not confined to Russia. It is the name for a world revolutionary movement of billions of unhappy people. Russia has seized and capitalized this great social tidal wave; while the United States has taken the side of the conservative "owners of property and tried to check it. Eisenhower must be sympathetic with these downtrodden races, but he knows also if he changes our present policy he would be cursed as sympathetic to Communism. This is Dilemma No. 2 which he must face in 1953.

Foreign Imports—Dilemma No. 3
Voters are demanding a reduction in our aid to Europe and Japan. Our new President knows that this can be done only by lowering tariffs and admitting more foreign goods into our market. But he also knows that such a program would make the U. S. business interests who elected him very angry. Such a move might also cause unemployment here at home, which would be welcomed by the Democrats.

Hence, this third Dilemma. Competition during 1953 will be very severe, even among U. S. manufacturers, without being handicapped by greater imports.

Balancing The Budget—Dilemma No. 4
Our new President will operate a more honest and economical Federal Government. There will be less money spent by all departments, including the military. More efficient operations may be expected. But this deflationary program may cause unemployment and lower profits. As most Federal income is derived from taxing profits, this would mean lower tax receipts. This is a Dilemma which Eisenhower must face in 1953.

Reducing Taxes—Dilemma No. 5
The Excess-Profits Tax will end during 1953. The Capital-Gains Tax could be much reduced, and investors would benefit from the reduction. It exists only as a political sop to radical labor. Perhaps a token reduction of 5% in income taxes and 50% in certain excise taxes will be granted in 1953. But if we have declining profits and dividends, as a result of Eisenhower fulfilling all his other promises, can he reduce taxes much more in 1953? Never before has any new President inherited such abnormally high taxes, upon the Government's spending of which our prosperity is largely dependent. Hence, this is Dilemma No. 5.

Needed—A Spiritual Awakening
I am thankful that Dwight G. Eisenhower is now President of our country. Unless World War III comes (and if it comes Eisenhower would be needed more than ever). Inflation can be reduced. Hence, we have Confidence. This is a great step forward. But the American people—except in emergencies—are basically business and employment minded. Our marvelous growth has been due largely to this fact. We do not like to sacrifice. Eisenhower believes that what is best for the world as a whole will ultimately be best for America. But only a great spiritual awakening, brought about by some adversity, will make our voters believe and act likewise.

Federal Aid Is Fourth Source of Revenue For Texas' Roads

Editor's Note—This is another series of articles presenting information gathered by Highway Policy Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Reviewed in preceding articles are series were three of the sources of revenue for financing construction and maintenance of highways by the State of Texas. They were the motor fuel (gasoline) tax, motor vehicle registration fees, and the state's general fund.

This article deals with the fourth source—Federal aid.

The Federal funds for state road aid come from a 2-cent per gallon motor fuel tax.

Paid in Texas in Federal gasoline taxes during the last fiscal year was a total of $196 million. During that year Texas actually received a little less than $30 million in Federal highway aid.

Thus, the state received slightly more than one-fourth as much as it paid into the Federal treasury in Federal gasoline taxes. The state contributed $96 million more than it received in aid.

All Federal funds must be matched by state funds, dollar for dollar. Projects to receive aid are selected on basis of merit and need.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads allots money to the states for the primary highway program, the city primary program and secondary or Farm-to-Market roads.

The allocations to the respective states are made on basis of their area, population and road mileage. One-third credit is allowed for each.

In fiscal 1951 Texas received $29,681,979 Federal aid. Of that sum, $14,305,046 went to the primary system, $5,799,612 to the urban system and $9,577,321 to the secondary of Farm road system.

Texas will receive approximately $34.2 million in Federal aid under provisions of the Highway Act now in effect.

Of that amount, approximately $1,580,000 has been allotted for inter-state highways, which is a new category.

The allocation to Texas for this year will be approximately 10 per cent higher in each of the other classifications of roads than that of last year.

EVANS ELECTED SWEETHEART

L. W. Evans, senior in Post high school, was recently elected sweetheart of the 1952-53 girls' basketball team. This is his second year to win that honor.

TEXAS EDITOR IN KOREA—Miss Lillian Womack, city editor of the Sherman, Texas, Democrat, arrives at Seoul City Airport, Korea, where she is greeted by AP Correspondent Forrest Edwards. Shortly after her arrival Miss Womack slipped and fell on a patch of ice and fractured a wrist-bone. She is on an extensive tour for her paper.

Haliburton Receives Reserve Training

Among the 53 reservists from the Eighth Naval District on a two-week training cruise to Miami, Fla., aboard the escort vessel USS 870 is Robert L. Haliburton, fireman, USNR.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds L. Haliburton of Southland and husband of the former Miss Betty Winterrowd of Slaton.

The reservists spent the weekend of January 17-18 in Miami and returned to New Orleans, La., the 23rd for release to inactive duty.

While aboard ship they received training in anti-aircraft and anti-submarine warfare in addition to safety drills.

Constitution Of Turkey Changed

INSTANBUL (AP)—Turkey's Parliament recently wiped out one of Kemal Ataturk's pet language reforms.

Ataturk, Turkey's great dictator-reformer, changed the constitution in 1937 to eliminate hundreds of words of foreign origin, chiefly Arabic or Persian. It was a nationalistic move. "Turkish" words were put in their place. A language committee named by Ataturk chose the substitutes.

Now the Parliament, dominated by the Democratic Party, has voted to undo this job and go back to the wording of the 1924 constitution.

Changing the constitution back to its old wording will bring problems. For example, names of most official bureaus and departments had been changed. Official forms and letterheads with the old names are now incorrect.

President McKinley was the first U. S. President to ride in a motor car when he was rushed to the hospital in a motor ambulance after being fatally wounded by an assassin.

Competition

gives you the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices

The U. S. oil business is one of the most highly competitive industries in this country and, for that matter, in the world. Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline or a quart of motor oil, there are at least 100 companies that would like you to buy from them.

Your purchase stimulates competition far beyond the service station driveway where you make it. It stimulates scientists to find more oil for your use. It urges production men to produce oil more efficiently and economically and with less waste. It extends through low-cost transportation pipe lines to refineries that seek better ways to make more and better petroleum products to compete for your business.

Is this competition a good thing?

It certainly is. It's a good thing for you because you get the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices. It's a good thing for the country because it stimulates the continuous development and conservation of a vital natural resource. And it's a good thing for the business: competition keeps the industry strong, vigorous, progressive.

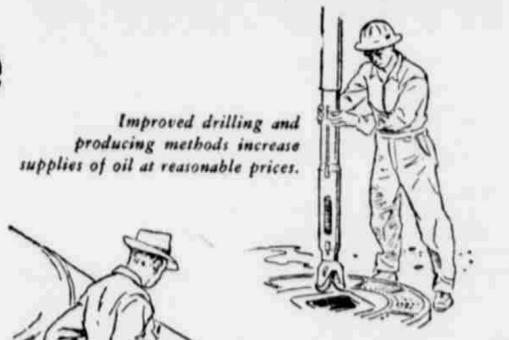

HUMBLE

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.
HUMBLE PIPE LINE CO.

Competition begins with the search for oil.

Improved drilling and producing methods increase supplies of oil at reasonable prices.

Pipe line companies seek to improve their service and to reduce the transportation cost of oil and finished products. Their success is a major factor in keeping prices of petroleum products low.

Competitive refineries never let a day pass without trying to find a better way to make more and better petroleum products for your use.

Your service station dealer competes in product quality and service with all the other dealers in your neighborhood.

Post Choir Adds 11 Members At Rehearsal Friday

Post Community Choir has had only two meetings and the membership has already increased to 36, according to the secretary-treasurer of the group, Mrs. Lee Davis.

A mistake was printed in last week's Dispatch concerning the dues and membership fees. The article should have read $1 membership fee and 50 cents monthly dues, Mrs. Davis said.

Organization of the choir was completed at the first meeting on January 16 with 25 charter members present. At the first rehearsal will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in the new members joined the choral group. There were several visitors present at the rehearsal who did not officially become members. Mrs. Davis expressed a hope that these people would return to rehearsals and become regular members. Mrs. Davis said.

TIPS FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By JESSIE PEARCE

What parents do the first five years to nurture the personality growth of their child is basic to his total growth as an individual. These first five years, according to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are very important.

The new life just starting out needs the tender, loving care of parents just as a tiny sapling needs to plant its roots firmly in the rich soil, she says. The first branch of personality growth is trust in other people. If a baby is fed when he's hungry, kept warm, comfortable and reasonably dry, lives in an atmosphere of sameness and gentle loving—then he learns that people are dependable and good to him.

Out of this trust in others springs the second branch of the "personality tree"—a child's trust in himself. You might call this the "me-do-it" stage, for he is now about two or three, ready to experiment with people and things, to find out how much he can do under his own steam.

By the time he's four or five, he's all set to go on a little fling of his own to find out what kind of a person he is. He pretends to be everything from the garbage man to his parents; he thinks up projects to carry out; his imagination works overtime.

Mrs. Johnson says these three personality traits—trust, independence and initiative—grow and develop all through life.

However, she says, these few years of life are the crucial time for their beginnings, if they are not well nurtured and encouraged by wise, loving parents, a youngster's total personality growth may be slowed up or warped to some degree.

Feminine Auctioneer Adds Grace And Crowds To Sales

Texico, N. M., (P)—Norma Sanders, a pretty 20-year-old, has invaded the almost exclusively male field of auctioneering and is drawing standing-room-only crowds at horse auctions in the West.

The slim, brown-haired, girl gives an impression of shyness, but says she is at ease behind the microphone once she has sold the first horse at a sale.

In school in this town on the Texas-New Mexico border, Norma was known as a "kid who is crazy about horses."

Her present employer, Harvey "Red" Foster, operated a horse auction near here. She wrote tickets for his sales and learned to be a good horse trader.

After she finished high school, she attended Eastern New Mexico University where she majored in music. She played in the school orchestra and band, but the notes that rang in her ears were those of the auction ring.

When Red Foster suggested she become an auctioneer she was quick to adopt the plan.

At the Missouri Auction School in Kansas City, Miss Sanders learned the fine points of the business. She adopted a professional costume of riding pants, western shirt, big-brimmed hat and fancy boots. It was all part of the showmanship that helped her finish first in a class of 30 student auctioneers.

She has conducted sales at Hays, Kan., Rushville, Neb., Concordia, Kan., and Torrington, Wyo. Early this year she will begin a tour that will take her from Florida to California.

So far, Norma has officiated only at quarterhorse sales. But she plans to specialize in registered horse and cattle sales.

Apparently people like the idea of a girl auctioneer. Some of them seem to show up just to watch the entertainment and listen to the soprano chant. The crowds sometimes make it a little difficult to complete the business at hand—selling horses.

One customer appeared at a sales barn the day after the sale. He wanted to get a look at the horse he bought.

"I couldn't see anything but the head," he complained. But that hadn't prevented him from paying $250 for the animal.

Norma fixed one man who winked at the auctioneer. She sold him a horse.

Norma explained that some buyers indicate their bids by closing one eye or making some other secretive sign.

Sticking strictly to business, she assumed the man who winked was making a bid. It happened to be the last bid, so she called the sale to him.

The man protested loudly that he had not bid on the horse. So the good-natured Norma sold the horse again, the second time without winks.

Gerald Mann Explains "Profit From Losing" At SMU Banquet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

This is the time of the year when you hear two kinds of speeches. They are made at the football banquets being held everywhere.

If the speaker starts out like this: "You can learn many lessons from losing—" You know the team didn't do very well.

If it's like this: "I pay tribute to a great football team; it had the spirit and the fight when the chips were on the line" you know the local team really went to town.

It's amazing how much benefit a football team can get from being defeated. It would appear that since the rewards are so great, every team would try to lose.

But there was a new angle given to this "profit from losing" situation at the banquet for Southern Methodist University's football team which failed by a long shot of having a fine season. It is doubtful if this angle ever was used before.

Gerald Mann, star quarterback and passer of Southern Methodist in the late twenties, was the speaker. Mann attained a high position in law, is a leading attorney of Dallas these days. He attacked his subject from the commercial angle—except that the way he told it, the commercial angle was removed.

Mann reminded the Southern Methodist players that while they hadn't won a championship, they had played in some great games and before many thousands of people and that the profits from the gate receipts had gone into making SMU greater.

The athletic fund at Southern Methodist, which was swollen by $650,000 in a single football season, contributed a large amount to the university press, handed over the funds to help build a student union building and is contributing to the erection of a big gymnasium.

But Mann was fortunate in being able to talk to a losing team that made money despite its record. Most teams that lost don't come out on the winning side financially.

However, the example Southern Methodist has set with its football team could, if followed by other colleges, remove the cry of overemphasis of sports and remove the taint that has clouded intercollegiate athletics.

SMU has managed to build a fandom that likes to see football for football's sake and doesn't worry too much about the local team losing.

The Texas Intercollegiate League used pressure to remove the Oil Bowl at Wichita Falls, Midwestern University, you know, sued the league and got an injunction forbidding the league from penalizing Wichita Falls High school for allowing use of its field for the Oil Bowl game in violation of a league rule against all-star games.

The case now is in the Supreme Court. But it was settled by the league itself without having to wait on the courts. The league merely removed from any activity that be sponsored at Midwestern University in which school would participate. The attitude of the league was that since Midwestern wasn't agreeable to the way it couldn't see its way to help Midwestern build a student body. That was the reason that removed Midwestern contention.

It just goes to show you the Intercollegiate League has been operating 40 years for one angle. It has learned all the angles.

One Garza County Marriage License Issued In January

Every four years, the female of the species has the opportunity of "popping the question" to the man of her dreams without being frowned upon by her cultured neighbors and friends. This year is called "Leap Year" by legend and we have just finished one leap year, 1952.

Whether the old legend holds true or not, last leap year got off to a good start in Garza County with five marriage licenses being issued during the month of January at the County clerk's office. A total of 44 licenses was issued for the entire year. One thing would suggest that maybe the leap year belief is really practiced is the fact that only one license has been issued this year since January 1.

Although Cupid has been slow about his job this month, another bird has been quite busy, that is of course, the stork. According to the County clerk's files, six births have been recorded for 1953 and only half that amount were recorded in January of '52. Last year's birth record totaled 64.

Movies Of The Week

en movies still hold their hearts of movie-Goers. Western pictures fall to be enjoyed on screen fans.

and Saturday, one of adventure and western will appear at the Tower. It is Randolph Scott and Edward G. Robinson in "HANGMAN'S CO-STARRING Donna Reed. This film is at the end of the war. Scott is a member of the Confederate army and of a band of soldiers capture gold from Union then discover that the gold is in the South. Scott's way rescues Miss and Monday. Hollywood mermaid will make her appearance in Post as the MILLION DOLLAR MERMAID. Esther Williams is the in question and she will be enacting the role of the first woman to wear a one-piece bathing suit. The lady was a swimming racer and could not manage the many skirts and other garments women wore in the early 1900's, while swimming. Some of our forefathers had the young lady arrested for indecent exposure when she wore a one-piece bathing suit. One funny thing about this suit was that it had a high collar and covered her legs and feet.

Walter Pidgeon and Victor Mature are the male stars for "MILLION DOLLAR MERMAID," which will prove to be one of the most entertaining shows of the year.

The movie of the week will be showing Tuesday. It is "TLL GET YOU," starring George Raft and Sally Gray. Raft's movies are always packed with action, gangsters and spine-tingling suspense.

By clipping this column and presenting at the boxoffice, John A. Nelson will receive two free tickets for any performance of "TLL GET YOU," Tuesday.

Boren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boren, is vice-president of the senior class.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

STATE MAY WIN ESTATE WHEN DECEASED LACKS WILL

Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estates of persons having no heirs who die intestate revert, or "escheat," to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or state), having been the original owner of all lands before they were parceled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands when the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also applies in the case of a person absent for a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State by default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of a catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your property would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality.

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your wishes.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And, even ings, all escheated lands are set apart to the Permanent Free School Fund of the State, and may be leased and sold by the local sheriff under a court writ and the money received therefrom paid into the State Treasury.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Giles McCrary Elected Secretary Of Soil Conservation District

At a recent meeting of district supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district in Spur, Giles McCrary, Garza County supervisor, was elected secretary of the organization.

The board was re-organized and a new member was installed. E. F. Shugart was welcomed to the board replacing the late O. M. McGinty. Officers for 1953 will be C. P. Witt, chairman; Shugart, vice-chairman and McCrary, secretary. Other members of the board are Joe Hunnicutt and Clark Forbis.

One of the conservation practices discussed at the meeting was the level border irrigation of D. R. Hale, district cooperater near Afton. Hale doubled his cotton yields in 1952 with level border irrigation as compared to the row irrigation.

Level borders is a soil and water conservation measure that especially pays off in the Afton area because of the soil and slope conditions. Soil Conservation officials said.

SCS technicians are also giving engineering assistance to all cooperators interested in terrace construction, which is in full swing in the Duck Creek District.

Most of the cooperators in the terracing project are in the Spur area, but technicians expect Garza farmers to become interested in this program.

TWO TURBINES are quicker than One

WE raised our eyebrows the first time the engineers told us about it.

A new Dynaflo Drive? Better than the one that over a million and a third people are so happy with?

That's right, the engineers assured us. A new Dynaflo that's just as smooth, just as simple to operate—but far faster and quieter on getaway, and a great deal more efficient.

This, we told ourselves, we have to see. And we did.

IN 50 GREAT YEARS

Enter GENERAL MOTORS $194,000 BETTER HIGHWAYS CONTEST
See Your Buick Dealer for contest blanks and full information

We tried the new Golden Anniversary Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive*—and mister, it's spectacular! As before, no gears ever shift in this wonder drive.

As before, you have infinite smoothness through every speed range—feel wonderfully fresh and relaxed even after a long day's drive.

But on getaways you can soar to cruising speed in less than a half dozen seconds—and with lullaby quiet.

At every speed range you have more efficient power transfer. Acceleration is increased 20%, but with fewer engine revolutions—which means you get going quicker, with less engine speed, less getaway sound.

What works these wonders is a new kind of engineering which places two turbines instead of one in the Dynaflo transmission. At the same time, fewer parts—four elements instead of five—simplify the unit even more.

But there's more than just this sensational Twin-Turbine Dynaflo to be had in the 1953 Buicks.

There's new power—including the world's most advanced V8 Engine in SUPERS and ROADMASTERS. There's a still finer Million Dollar Ride. There's superb new comfort and handling ease, and a host of other advances—87 in all.

Why not come in this week and try one of the greatest Buicks in fifty great years?

Garza Commission Will Meet Monday

Garza County Citizens' Traffic Commission will hold its monthly meeting Monday night in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. Les Short, chairman of the organization, said that it is important for all members of the commission to be present.

"Since the holidays, interest in the traffic commission has almost completely died. At the meeting in January, only eight were present and at the executive committee meeting there were even less," Short said.

The chairman went on to explain that during recent weeks, Garza County residents have seen the need of more safety and traffic work. "All the commission members that have heard members of other commissions and Clay Bednar, Texas Highway official, talk, know what can be accomplished and what we accomplished before Christmas. To me it seems a shame to let such a promising organization as the one we had, completely dissolve because of lack of interest," Short said.

The signs ordered by the commission for the four entrances to Post have arrived and are being erected. These signs are one of the commission's attempts next Monday by workers and the final report of the drive will be announced in next week's Post Dispatch.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Maybe you don't realize it, but as a taxpayer you have 40,000 employees.

These people are state workers. And it looks like you are going to increase their salaries. All depends on the legislature.

A bill to hike the pay of state workers has been introduced by the Austin delegation: Representatives Obie Jones, Pearce Johnson and C. L. Sandahl Jr. and Senator Johnnie B. Rogers.

If it passes, the measure will give "temporary emergency" wage boosts of 15 per cent on all state salaries up to $3,600 per year and 15 per cent on the first $3,600 of higher salaries.

Robert B. Baldwin, Shivers' budget director, proposed a job by job, cost-of-living increase, on an equalized basis.

In his opening message to the legislature, Governor Shivers asked that an increase in workers' pay be included in the budget bill, but that can not become effective until September 1 when the fiscal year begins. Hence the emergency legislation.

It is Edward Clark, Austin attorney, who bosses the legislature, says Leslie Velle, writing in the February Reader's Digest. Velle charges that some of the state's most important laws are written in Clark's office and in his capacity as lobbyist for Herman Brown of the firm of Brown & Root.

Velle says Clark has and uses the power to tell potential political candidates "not to bother" to run, and that he can tell the lawmakers "what they should bother with."

In reply to all this, Clark snapped that Velle's story was a "false, foul, and infamous smear." He added that he was "shocked and surprised" that the Digest would print a story so "very definitely off-color and completely untrue."

The source for the story, Clark believes, is a "well known local radio propagandist who has been working very closely with the radical wing of the labor movement."

Another to take the issue with Velle was Reuben Senterfitt, speaker of the house, who said he considered the Texas legislature "the most independent body of people I know."

A number of bills going into the hopper for legislative consideration are familiar—they had been introduced at previous sessions.

One of these is the so-called fair-trade bill. This time its author is Representative Lamar Zively of Temple. The measure would prohibit advertising or selling of goods below cost.

Proponents of this bill argue that it would prevent a big merchant's running a little one out of business by ruinous sales. Opponents contend that the public benefits when such sales permit purchases at bargain prices. This is one bill that will affect the women, who do about 80 per cent of the buying nowadays.

Also familiar was a bill to legalize race track betting in Texas. The author of this one, to make Post and Garza County a safer place to live and drive.

Post Lions Club is now selling "Scotch Lite" for the commission in the interest of safer night driving. Lions members are also placing this "Scotch Lite" reflector bumper tape on bicycles and motor scooters in the County.

In closing the chairman once more urged all citizens of Garza County to be present at the meeting Monday night. "Come help us work out safer driving practices and eliminate some traffic hazards in Post and Garza County," he said.

Scout Drive - - -

(Continued From Front Page) structure to do. That is why we are urging every parent, and non-parent who might be interested, to attend the meeting and voice their opinions."

At present time there are three active Brownie troops, one active Intermediate Scout troop and one inactive troop. There is great need for more troops and there are enough girls in the county to fill those needs.

Prior to the block drive next week the committee will mail out a form letter to the parents of every girl in school up to the seventh grade. The list will include high school students, one member pointed out, but no list of the girls has been obtained, reported the chairman.

The fund drive plan calls for the business section to be divided into five sections. These sections and their workers are: Section A (all of Main street), Mrs. Alton Clary and Mrs. Burnis Lawrence; Section B (Snyder Highway), Mrs. Tom Power; Section C (Lubbock Highway), Mrs. Bryan J. Williams, Jr.; Section D (Claremont Highway), Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. Ed Dye; Section E (not specified), Giles McCrary and Clint Herring.

The residential sections have been divided into four districts. Mrs. Burnis Lawrence and Mrs. Gertrude Ward are captains of District A, northeast corner of town; Mrs. Jack Ballentine and Mrs. Alton Clary, District B, southeast part of town; Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. M. Louise Dietrich, District C, northwest part of town; and Mrs. Robert Cox and Mrs. Billy Blackstock, District D, southwest part of town.

Several special donations have boosted the interest and spirit of those who are working with this movement, declared Lawrence. A house, 18x20 feet, has been donated to the organization and is in the process of being moved into town. Brown Brothers donated a lot, just west of the school building for the Girl Scout site, and the City has leveled the lot in preparation for setting the foundation. When the house is moved to the location Blackstock Electric will donate the wiring.

Swenson Wildcat Is Nearing Completion

Drilling at Sohio Petroleum Company's No. 1 S. M. and S. R. Swenson the first of the week had progressed to 7,196 feet and was continuing to make hole in lime and shale. The wildcat, projected to a depth of 7,500 feet, had encountered no shows of oil.

Location of the wildcat is 1,869 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of Section 60, Block 2, H&GN survey, 5 miles southeast of Kalgary.

The only new activity for the County is a location for a field well in the Garza pool. The well is to be drilled by Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., on the W. A. Cash farm four miles northwest of Post.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of Section 1216, J. R. Galbreath Survey. The prospector will be drilled to 3,300 feet with rotary and is slated to begin at once.

Tax Deadline - - -

(Continued From Front Page) the valuation was only $31,385.36, which made only $3,706.74 to be paid during the last week of January, 1952. Mrs. Ward said that during this week $15,760.75 has to be collected.

After Saturday the unpaid taxes will become delinquent, the secretary stated. City offices will be open from 8 until 12 noon on that day in order for the taxes to be paid. Mrs. Ward said that a five per cent penalty will be placed on the taxes after February 1.

Mrs. Irene Rodgers received a telegram yesterday from her cousin, Col. Blake R. VanLeer, president of Georgia Tech in Atlanta, Ga., that he would be in Big Spring today for the dedication of Col-Tex Refinery. Mrs. Rodgers and her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Griffith, of Lubbock, and sons, Novis and Dan Rodgers, of Snyder and Midland, respectively, are spending the day visiting with Col. Blake in Big Spring.

work project to repair and repaint the building.

In an appeal to the parents of the County, committee members have urged all who are interested in the project to contact Mrs. Lawrence or be in attendance at the Monday night meeting.

Water Conservation Practices Are Being Used In Post Area

The construction of new terraces in the Post work unit area of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district is far ahead of what was the same time last year, according to local Soil Conservation Service technicians. At this time last year the soil was so dry that terrace construction was most impossible. Even though moisture has been limited, there still sufficient moisture to construct terraces at the present time.

Cooperators with the Duck Creek SCS who have constructed terraces are: John T. Sims, Canyon Valley; Waggoner, A. O. Parrish, W. O. St. Melvin Stewart, Dillard, Gibson, Albert McBride and Leubetter of the Graham community and Bill Woods of the City area.

The maintenance of old terraces has received a lot of attention also, say the SCS technicians. Several cooperators with terraces are rebuilding these terraces by either plowing regular farm equipment or using contractors to do the work with terracing machinery. Cooperators who are maintaining old terrace systems are: O. Fluit, Dillard Thompson, McClellan and Albert Mc. of Graham, Ted Aten of Sland and Billy Boren of . Several other cooperators planning to give their terraces a maintenance plowing, SCS technicians said, and need rebuilding about every five years. By keeping terraces at proper height width, the maximum amount water can be held on the . Also, the terraces can with more intensive cultivation, trace lines have been run at raffle for our Volunteer Department went over fine. We are going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really had some wonderful prizes. Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV man, giving that big television set, and the Superior Motors giving up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note. The prize of a year's supply of—donated by Baker Coal—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-burner in the county! What did Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity. But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody—whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't. A really warm-hearted person.

Bright Colors "Dress" Up Western Ten-Gallon Hats

By The Associated Press

Shed a tear, boys for the passing of a relic of the Old West—the dusty, beat-up, sweat-darkened, mud-colored hat.

Or, if you'd rather, rejoice with thousands of rugged Western rebels in showing the ladies a thing or two when it comes to sporting hifalutin', razzle-dazzle head-gear.

The man, by gum, has been drab long enough. And chances are the next cowpuncher who canters past you purty gals will doff a board-brimmed Western chapeau that may be fire-engine red, lime green, metallic-orchid, or even multi-colored.

Sho', that's what hat manufacturers say. What's more, they do declare that the brightly colored hats are outselling all other kinds, including the staid banker's homburg and the salesman's snappy snap-brim.

J. Paul Allen, salesman for a Dallas hat manufacturer, says the arrival—in style—of the gaudy head is just another signpost along the road to man's rightful use of color in clothing.

Men are finally getting the idea through their heads that they don't have to be stick-in-the-muds," said Allen.

"Just look here at the colors we've got this year."

He pointed to an array of big and little Western hats. There were pastels—soft, creamy colors that looked like they should have been in the baby's playroom. There were bold, startling reds, oranges, greens, and blues. There were the plain orchid, the metallic orchid, and beaver with a 5-inch brim mottled in brown and gold.

Real live cowhands are snapping up the new color graze up like Sunday dinner, Allen said. "You just walk down the streets of San Angelo," he said with a confident nod. "Colored hats are mostly what you'll see in that town, and it's a real cattle center."

The big Western resort states—such as California, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, and even Florida—are "going wild" over the vivid lids, according to Allen.

He has a theory that one reason is that women, "forcing a matriarhal society on us," have forced the men's hands on color—and are getting shown how the male peacock can strut.

At any rate, said Allen, hat makers from coast to coast are delighted with joy over the new rage. "We sold millions of 'em last year," he said happily.

Beverly and Charlotte Bland of Pleasant Valley were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Temple Lee and boys of Post visited in the Byron Haynie home Monday night.

We are sorry to lose the Ray Bass family from our community. They have moved to Post.

Barnum Springs Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Byron Haynie for an all day meeting Thursday.

4-H Club Work Was Stared As A Phase Of Extension Work In Texas In 1908

It was not long after the first demonstration was established at the turn of the century that Extension workers realized farm youth was important to extend its values. According to Lewis Herron, Garza County agent. The first boys' club was organized in Jack county in 1908, and the first girls' club in Millam county in 1912. Since that time thousands of club members have completed demonstrations, become leaders and have taken their places in homes and communities.

As a phase of the Extension program, Herron says 4-H club work offers opportunities to all Texas young people between the ages of nine and 21 to "learn to do by doing" and aids their growth and development for abundant living to "help them help themselves."

The 1952 Texas club work in 4-H aimed at four-square development of its 117,000 members through the training and use of the head, heart, hands and health. By the mental, spiritual, physical and social growth of these members, 4-H club work produces useful citizens through the coordinated efforts of the 4-H club team. This team is composed of 4-H parents, local adult leaders, county Extension agents and interested 4-H club members. Donors and sponsors of the 76 4-H awards programs support the team.

Through demonstrations in agriculture, homemaking and related subjects, 4-H club members are learning to become the citizens of tomorrow. Believing, tion and have definite responsibilities in improving their communities.

Increased membership is highly a criteria of work well done. Enrolling more and more members is, of course, desirable but what happens to the club member is more important. More important also, are club members with ideal aspirations.

Organized efforts are important in furthering 4-H club work. The individual club offers a member opportunity to grow a democratic organization; county, district and State Council are demonstrations government.

Increased interest in 4-H work is made possible through voluntary 4-H adult leaders whom there are over 10,000 in Texas.

Another Great Feature of the JOHN DEERE "50" and "60" Tractors...

new "LIVE" Power Shaft

You'll reduce clogging of power-driven machines to the very minimum... cut clutching and shifting time and effort by two-thirds—speed up every PTO job with a John Deere "50" or "60" equipped with the new "live" power shaft.

Operating completely independent of the transmission clutch, this "live" power shaft provides continuous power for operating PTO machines as long as the tractor engine is running. You can stop forward travel at any time, start up again while the power-driven machine continues to operate at full speed without interruption.

An independent clutch completely protects the power shaft and cushions shock loads on equipment. And for extreme conditions, a low gear of 1-1/2 mph lets you creep along taking in heavy crops slowly while the power shaft operates the power-driven machine at maximum capacity.

OTHER OUTSTANDING FEATURES:
Duo-Drive Curbation • "Live" High-Pressure Power-Trol • Quick-Change Wheel Tread • Effortless Steering • Ultra-Modern Engineering • Greater Convenience • Unexcelled View • Unequaled Two-Cylinder Strength and Simplicity.

Oil Conservation Service Is Local Organization For Assisting Farmers

By JESSE WARD
SCS Technician

The Duck Creek Soil Conservation district is the local organization operated by local farmers and ranchers solely for the purpose of assisting them in carrying out a conservation farming program. The Post office of the Soil Conservation Service has the responsibility of assisting the district in carrying out its programs to the cooperators or members and ranchers who plan to cooperate with the district.

Any farmer or livestock man in this area who is interested in carrying out a conservation program on his land may receive assistance by applying to the district. SCS technicians representing the district will discuss conservation problems the farmer might have and explain what it means to be a cooperator with the district and what services are available.

There are several new cooperators with the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district. Three of more recent farmers to join are C. E. Spence of the Pleasant Valley community, A. P. Hedrick and C. N. Chandler of the Graham community. Spence plans to develop an irrigation conservation plan for his farm. As conservation needs of his land are recognized, he plans to install necessary treatment to protect the land and to improve it. Chandler and Hedrick plan to construct terraces as the initial step in developing a conservation plan for their farms.

The supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district, Giles McCrary is the supervisor representing the Post area, encourages farmers and ranchers to become cooperators with the district in order that a uniform and consecrated effort may be made to protect and improve our soil and water resources. They suggest that interested farmers and ranchers contact the SCS technicians assigned to the Post work unit office.

Century Old Clock Saved By Donors

OSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—When the village board recently found it hard-pressed for funds to repair the village clock in the Presbyterian Church tower, out-of-town help saved the day. John W. Richardson of White Plains sent word that he would repair it for $600 of the estimated $1,000 repair cost because as a boy he learned to work on the village clock. Another Goshen native, Dr. C. E. Thompson, offered to contribute the amount as a memorial to a beloved uncle, former pastor at the church. The village board now thinks it may be able to scrape up the other $600 if the gift does not move other individuals to contribute.

It was just 100 years ago that the village decided to give a timepiece to the village.
