Cubbing Movement Praised By Postma, Area Scout Executive

"Cubbing is the healthiest move we have in our country today," Bill Postma told approximately 85 persons who attended the annual Blue and Gold banquet in honor of Pact 16 of the Post Cub Scouts last Thursday night.

The executive officer of the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America warned the people that "if our way of life was ever on trial, it is on trial today."

"Scouting is a movement designed to counteract the lack of family relationship which began to be so glaringly apparent around 1925," he said. "The family relationship of boys and girls and their parents, their school and their churches upon which this great country was founded."

Garza Field Is Extended By Well

Completion of the No. 1-B Kuykendall by the Alamo Corp. of Lubbock this past week extended the Garza field northward one mile.

The well had a daily pumping potential of 64.34 barrels of 37.1 gravity oil plus 35 percent water from open hole at 3,251-3,274.

Operations have also begun at the Husky Oil Co. No. 1 Nance, wildcat 5 miles southwest of Justiceburg with drilling going more than 3,000 feet the latter part of the week.

Band Parents Plan Fashion Show March 25

The Fashion Show of the year will take place in the Grade School auditorium at 8 p.m. March 25 under the sponsorship of the Band Parents in Post.

Proceeds from the Show, which will show the latest fashions from the clothing stores in Post, will go toward the band uniform debt which still amounts to more than $300.

Stores which will have models exhibiting their latest fashions include Dunlap's, Herring's, Maxine's, Parson's, Stevens' Style Shop, Lavelle's, Hundley's and Fenton and Thompson.

Jack Rex Signs Contract For Hospital Head

Jack R. Rex, laboratory and x-ray technician at the Overall Memorial hospital in Coleman, has accepted the position of equipment consultant for the Garza Memorial hospital, Judge H. M. Snowden announced.

Rex signed a 14 month contract for the job last week. He will hold that position until the hospital is opened and ready for patients. Then he will be appointed hospital administrator.

Lowell Short, president of the board of managers, said that Rex is recommended highly and has had more than 11 years experience in his job.

Rex will assume duties here on March 13. He is planning on moving his family here in the near future.

Newbury Rites Held Sunday In Graham Church

Last rites for William Hillery Newbury were conducted at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, in the Graham Church of Christ. Cline B. Drake, of Lorenzo, and S. D. Lofton officiated.

Music included "How Beautiful Heaven Must Be", "In The Sweet By and By", "Shall We Gather At The River" and a solo by Glen Davis.

Burial was in Terrace cemetery with Mason Funeral home in charge.

Mr. Newbury, a retired farmer, died at his home in the Graham community at 9 o'clock Thursday night after several weeks illness. He was born Nov. 17, 1860, in Livingston, Tenn.

On August 7, 1880, he was married to Miss Rinda Sells at Alpine, Tenn. They came to Texas, arriving at Weatherford Oct. 14, 1888. They moved to Missouri, Decatur and Chillicothe, Tex., and Sulphur, Okla. before coming to Garza county in the fall of 1914.

Grand Jury Hands Down Indictment

Garza county Grand Jury met this week and handed down one indictment on swindling by worthless check. Name of the person indicted was not given Wednesday because the arrest had not been made at that time.

District Judge Louis B. Reed, who presided over the new term of the 106th Judicial District court as it began this week, will begin the criminal cases of this term next Monday morning.

Two criminal cases are docketed for trial during this term. They are Earl Smith, charged with murder with malice in connection with the shooting of Marshall "Monk" Gibson last October and Oliver DeLion, charged with statutory rape. Both cases have had one continuance.

Tom Miller, of Graham, is defense lawyer for Smith and Frank Sentell is defending DeLion.

Monday a probated sentence on Marlin Hawkins was revoked and he was sentenced to not less than two and not more than four years in the state pen. He was convicted of theft Oct. 2, 1951 and was given a probated sentence.

A special venire of 110 men will report to the Judge Monday morning for jury duty.

Dates For Annual Stampede Rodeo Set At Monday Meet

Dates of the 1952 Post Stampede Rodeo were set for May 28, 29, 30 and 31 by the directors and officers of the Stampede Rodeo Association in their Monday night meeting.

School District Census To Be Taken During March

Scholastic census for the Post Independent School District is to be taken this month Superintendent D. C. Arthur reminded parents.

This year the census will include two different forms, Arthur pointed out. The regular census will be taken on children who will be six years old on or before September 1, 1952 up through children who will not be 18 on or before September 1, 1952.

City Issues Warning On Paving Project

Post citizens interested in getting street paving in their own blocks have been given an ultimatum by the city.

Mrs. Lorene Benson, city secretary, said that no one else will be contacted by City personnel. Those persons who want the block in which they live paved can go by the City Hall and Mrs. Benson will give them forms to get the other block properly owners to sign. When these are completed they can be brought back, and the City will take the next steps.

Red Cross Drive Collects $721.04

Rev. J. C. Holman, fund chairman for the 1952 Red Cross fund drive in Garza county, released incomplete reports on his drive Wednesday to show that $721.04 was donated by interested persons Tuesday.

This report covered only portions of the town. Some persons and businesses have not had the opportunity to contribute to the drive yet.

Nor have the rural communities been worked yet, Rev. Holman said. Some of the large contributors have not been contacted yet.

Garza County 4-H Boys And Girls Are Joining Nation In Annual Observance

Two hundred-fifty-six Garza county 4-H Club boys and girls are joining hands with two million club members across the nation this week, March 1-9, to observe National 4-H Club Week.

Among the nation's total membership are 116,979 Texas members including Garza county.

The state 4-H leaders of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say the objectives of the week are to provide 4-H members a special occasion for checking their efforts in relation to the needs of the community and country.

To acquaint the public with the 1952 4-H theme "Serving as Loyal Citizens Through 4-H"; to inform all parents of the objectives of the 4-H clubs; to encourage members to interest other young people in enrolling and assisting new members to get started in their work; and to enlist more public-spirited citizens to serve as voluntary leaders or sponsors of 4-H clubs.

Both the County Agent, Lewis Herron, and Home Demonstration agent, Miss Dorothy Harbin, have high praise for the assistance and sponsorship of the businessmen of the county. Through the Chamber of Commerce and other outlets they have contributed much toward the organization. Cattle breeders have been more than helpful to the boys; and buildings are always available for shows.

Beginning with the Spring Livestock show Garza county 4-H members are observing the National Week. Individual clubs have and will hold meetings during the week at which time they will plan an observance theme. Many persons in the county devote time and effort to the organization, but the men and women who help most are those in close contact. Mrs. Hardie Smith is the Garza county 4-H chairman and is helping the club work to become stronger. Other parents are doing much to encourage good 4-H club work although they are not taking an active part.

Some of the women who are closely connected with the work are: Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Southland; Mrs. Barrie Jones, Close City; Mrs. Theibert McBride and Mrs. Harlan Morris, Graham; Mrs. Sid Cross and Mrs. C. L. Brown, Justiceburg; Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Henry W. White, Post Junior; and Mrs. W. W. Stephens, Post senior.

Four-H members learn to do by doing and as they gain experience, each becomes better equipped to serve as a loyal citizen. Present day 4-H programs are not limited to the production of better crops and livestock nor to better ways of doing the jobs in the home but includes actual participation in studies and programs with international significance. Their International Farm Youth Exchange program is an example.

In addition to their regular demonstration, Garza county 4-H members last year received training in fire and accident prevention.

Getting Out On the LIMB . . .

By EDDIE the editor

Since no one was speaking of gifts in the first place, I'll bring up the subject.

The gift on which I am about to spend some time is one which is available to every citizen of the mammoth state of Texas.

Small? Yes. Valuable? Not especially. Helpful? Yes. Worthwhile? Yes. Insignificant? No. Educational? Definitely yes.

A map. Yes, an Official Highway Map of Texas published and distributed by the Texas Highway Department.

However, it is not just an ordinary map by a long shot. In the first place it is not a map of an ordinary state. No sir-ee-bob. It's a TEXAS map.

And every Texar should be proud and eager to own one. For the 1952 Official Highway Map is veritably a pictorial and verbal history of the Lone Star State.

No less than 33 beautifully colored pictures of Texas history, past and present, adorn the map. This section of the map also has a title — "Historical Texas" — a dynamic Past provides inspiration for the future.

It is actually inconceivable that such a tremendous amount of information could be so attractively arranged and displayed on a piece of paper 28 inches by 36 inches. For instance, the foreword relates:

"Texas history is a dramatic story of the great Southwest and a part of that great western movement for freedom against tyrannical governments. It reflects the hardships and struggles of brave men and women of many races, who defied the forces of man and nature in exploring and settling the country. The early-day inhabitants of the territory which is now Texas came for various reasons. Some had a lust for adventure and to explore, others were seeking freedom or wealth, while a few came for the sole purpose of ministering to their fellow men."

Educationally the map can not be beat by any other document its size. Pictures of WASHINGTON - ON - THE - BROZOS—the first state capital of Texas where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed on March 2, 1836; MONUMENT TO STEPHEN F. AUSTIN — the "Father of Texas" who brought up and established the first Anglo-American colony in Texas; and the EPITAPH OF GENERAL SAM HOUSTON — Houston who needs no introduction to Texas history. He was to Texas what General Washington was to the United States. In the words of Andrew Jackson, "The world will take care of Houston's fame."

These pictures, along with those of the SAN JACINTO MONUMENT, FORT DAVIS, FORT PARKER, THE ALAMO, FORT WORTH, and the CAPITOL BUILDING.

Mingle these historical pictures with a sprinkling of scenic view taken throughout the state, like PALO DURO CANYON, BLUEBONNETS, OLD TASCOSA (or the present day Boys Ranch), the JERSEY LILLY, saloon of Judge Roy Bean, beautiful highway shots in Southwest, East and South Texas and you have an instrument to be proud of.

Yet, even with all this you have only covered one side. On the other, despite your fears to the contrary now that you know what all is shown, is a map. A regular map that is showing all the things a map shows and more too. Your mileage chart, index to cities and towns, Texas Highway signs, map information, legend, the small inset maps of the leading cities of the state, Travel information, Texas Highway information bureau, Texas Highway district offices and driver's license and Highway patrol offices.

And that's not all! On this side is an insert titled, "Facts About Texas"—land of diversity. This includes the history, the size, the designations (such as state song, bird, flower, etc), climate, recreation, natural resources, agriculture and manufacturing.

And to top all that you are shown a complete geographical map of Texas (including the United States, Mexico and portions of Canada), this gives the time zones and their divisions.

So you see, fellow Texans, this is indeed a gift that we should be proud of. And it is ours for the asking. (Never mind saying you have already paid for it, because it still comes to you without any COD charges.) Write the Highway department for one or mail the card you will be given when you register your car and this concise history of Texas is yours.

And when you decide to take a trip why not follow the advice of Governor Allan Shivers in his Welcome To Texas portion of the map described above: "If you want to see spectacular scenery at its best, fused with colorful history and romantic legends, why not "See Texas First"?"

THE AMERICAN WAY

Exposure

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

"Driving" Time

Although we have questioned several recognized authorities, and a few of the self appointed varities, we have not been able to figure why most of the big money drives and campaigns are staged from late January through March—just when Uncle Sam has his omnivorous hand the deepest in our respective pockets.

Ballo is followed by Heart; then Boy Scouts, Red Cross and several other very worthy drives that benefit locally and throughout the land.

Since the campaigns occur during this period, however, it behooves all of us to adjust our budgets accordingly. Surely no one in Liberty County would refuse to support a worth-while appeal simply because it follows closely on the heels of some other appeal that has demanded a few cents or a few dollars.

Most business and professional men include these drives in their budgets, caring little whether they all come at one time or whether they are widely separated.

This is certainly a wise course for individuals, too. If we had a Community Chest in the various communities of Liberty County, one single giving opportunity would hurt much worse than several smaller ones spread over a period of weeks or months.

The purpose for which the funds are used—and all of the local organized drives are worthy—is the chief object to keep in view, it seems to us.

Shame on any one of us who would dare criticize a solicitor, giving his or her time without hope of reward, simply because we have been visited by other solicitors within the past few days or weeks!

It Sex Here

Everybody wants to know when television will become available in this area. Frankly we hope it never arrives. But since it's supposed to represent another milestone in progress and civilization, we don't hold out except to the last ditch. Recently eight mothers in San Francisco ganged up to report what children saw on television from 3:30 p. m. until 7:30 p. m. the time most children choose for ruining their eyes and their minds. During this period they clocked the following evidences of progress and civilization: 14 sluggings, 13 murders and other killings, 6 kidnappings, 5 holdups, 3 explosions and dynamitings, 3 blackmails and extortions, 3 thieveries, 2 armed robberies, 2 arson cases, 1 lynching and 1 torture scene. During the four hours of "modern American Culture" there were 104 gunshots heard and 14 fatalities described in one 20 minute serial. This makes Ralls a very backward town, not having all these cultural advantages. Yesterday we saw a 10-year-old boy who didn't even know how to thrust a bayonet! No doubt we can catch up with our privileged neighbors when television finally arrives in a cacophony of exploding dynamite, gurgling fresh-let blood, the wheezing of cut throats, thud of falling bodies and fiendish screams from the torture room. At least radio leaves something to the imagination.

City Mail Delivery

Postmaster Guy Karr announced this week that city delivery of mail will start in Spur on April 1, 1952. This information was received by Karr from the Post Office Department. Karr states that all who intend DEPLORABLE ACTION . . .

The actions of a few persons during a recent show at the TOWER theatre moves us to wonder seriously and contemptively on the future of our country providing the youth and younger people continue to maintain their present attitude of "what difference does that silly stuff make to us?" This action occurred during the showing of a short picture concerning Abraham Lincoln last week. All through the picture, ably portrayed I might add, peals of amused laughter occasionally rang from the section occupied by school students. And some of the older people emitted a few titters also. Perhaps the emotions were provoked by the acting, but it seems to us that the sincerity of the portrayal plus the great historical significance of the situation would have been enough to repress such outbursts. To America, young and old alike, Abraham Lincoln has ever been, and should always be, the symbol of honesty, integrity and justice. Certainly his memory should not be considered a good source of amusement and ridicule such as was demonstrated last week. His speech at Gettysburg should not only be memorized by every school student in this country, but should be adopted as a guiding rule for every American citizen, whether he be in the service of his country in any manner or not. Yet, what greeted this speech at the show last week? Laughter. Laughter from people who are content to live in the helter-skelter, "let's have fun" attitude of today and forget the actions and words of those who made it possible for them to live in a free country. Such attitudes have led to the present racial breakdown of many Americans as evidenced by the corruption and graft in the government and throughout the country. And unless these attitudes are changed, we wonder . . . ?

CUBBING . . .

The brief speech made by Bill Postma, executive officer of the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America, at the annual Blue and Gold banquet for Cub Scout Pack 16 brought home some pertinent facts. Postma pointed out that "Scouting and Cubbing are two of the healthiest moves in our country today. These movements are designed to help the home, school and church instill in our youth of today the basic principles upon which this great country was founded." But the most deplorable situation which exists in America today, Postma continued, is the fact that scouts confide in their scoutmasters more than they do in their own fathers. This situation tends to tear down the close family relationship which is essential to maintain our American way of life. That is why the cubbing project is so important. It helps to bring the cub and his dad into closer relationship, thereby benefitting them both. Yet, as essential as this may seem, figures reveal that 68 percent of the men running scout troops have no boys at all. This does not mean these men are unworthy to run the troops. It means that the valuable experience of raising boys is not being put to use by the men most qualified to do so—the fathers of the nation. Those are the men who should be vitally interested in seeing their boys are soundly founded in the basic principles of democracy and Christian living. Cubbing and scouting are accomplishing these goals in an excellent and commendable manner, but if they are to be able to continue they need the wholehearted support of not only the mothers and fathers of America, but the entire populace.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, P — Several Texas congressional wives, Mrs. Tom Connally among them, will be in the thick of the campaigning with their husbands this year.

Mrs. Connally, a congressional wife since the early 1900's, has seen a lot of campaigning. And she expects to help her husband, veteran Texas senator, all she can this summer in what is shaping up as a heated contest.

Mrs. Connally's first husband was the late Morris Sheppard of Texarkana, who served in the House from 1902 to 1913 and then in the Senate until his death in 1941. She and Connally, then a widower, were married in 1942.

"Campaigns were different back in those days," she recalls in telling about pre-World War One days.

"When politicians came to town to campaign it stirred up a lot more excitement than it does now. The streets were plastered with banners and practically everybody in town turned out to hear the speeches."

There is no less interest in politics now, she adds, but the radio and television have changed things.

Recalling campaigns of old when big crowds gathered for debates between candidates, she told a reporter:

"There were yells, calls and heckling. I remember once Morris was debating a man named Jake Walter in Athens. Everytime Morris started to make a point, a man up in the tree would yell 'Hurray for Jake Walter!'"

"Once, just as the man started to yell again a donkey in the next yard began to bray. Morris turned to the man in the tree and said: 'I'm glad you've gotten together at last!'"

That stopped the heckling, she said.

Six-years ago Connally had no fight for re-election, so his wife didn't need to take a hand. She says she doesn't know exactly what she will do in this year's campaign but may address some women's organizations.

She says her campaigning has "consisted mainly of standing up to be introduced, then sitting right down again."

Mrs. Connally keeps a diary, or a series of them. She has 15 "little black books" which she hopes will someday be of interest to her nine grandchildren.

Social life in Washington isn't nearly as formal now as it was when she first came here, she says, recalling that in her early days here congressional wives customarily spent a day or two each week, between 3 p. m. and 6 p. m., in calling on people and leaving their cards if no one was at home.

"It was all pretty silly," she adds.

Many of the Texas congressmen have families with small children, so their wives do not have time to do much campaigning.

Mrs. Jerry Lucas of Grapevine usually manages to help distribute some campaign literature and put in some good words for her husband, even though their five small children otherwise keep her very busy. Incidentally, the cost of domestic help is so great she has a maid only one day a week.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Readjustment Of Pacific Northwest After The War Cited As Example To Businessmen

BAESON PARK, Fla., — A few years ago, the Pacific Northwest was suffering a most difficult readjustment. Unprecedented wartime expansion seemed likely to end in complete collapse. Unemployment had reached serious proportions, active shipyards, giant aircraft factories and war fabricating plants shut down.

In these weekly articles I seldom single out any one section for specific mention. Our American economy is interrelated to so great an extent, that every section is largely dependent on other sections. However, I think that there is a lesson for all sections to learn based upon the recent statistics and experiences of the Pacific Northwest.

Prior to 1940, the region was almost entirely dependent for its prosperity on selling its raw materials. Its products were mostly shipped eastward in a raw state for processing and distribution to more profitable mass markets.

Here was an important lumber district, but all its lumber was shipped East in the raw state. Rich northwest farm lands supplied a large part of America's fruit and grain, but often at a loss. Copper, zinc, lead, silver, Gold and antimony were scooped from its mines and shipped elsewhere for refining and fabricating. Fishing, especially for salmon, was big business. BUT, MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES WERE BADLY NEEDED FOR LASTING STRENGTH.

Expansion for war needs stimulated manufacturing industries temporarily. Aircraft factories mushroomed overnight. A full-blown aluminum industry sprang up, and there was a new plutonium plant at Hanford. Ferroalloy and other electro-process war industries were started. Huge power requirements pushed ahead hydro-utility construction. Population growth kept pace with industrial expansion. People rushed in from adjoining sections to get employment. There could have been a very bad slump when the war ended.

There were no established peacetime products or markets to which the industries and workers could return. However, instead of a slump, the area has forged ahead to new heights, due to the enterprise and courage of its business leaders. Labor today is even scarce in some lines and net migration into the area has continued high.

Aided by extensive research and these few businessmen, their raw materials are now going into finished goods. Prewar, no aluminum was produced in the Pacific Northwest; today nearly half of all our aluminum comes from this area. Food processing has been emphasized to take advantage of the area's growing output of agricultural products. Its bustling businessmen are making it the center of the new frozen foods industry. They are starting new flour mills, new canning plants, and other industries to employ nearly twice as many workers as in prewar 1939. This proves again that every community depends upon the ability and courage of about 5 percent of its people.

Furniture production has become a big industry utilizing the region's lumber resources. Paper and pulp industries have expanded 50 percent since 1940, while the chemical industry is being doubled. Other industries have been induced to move into the region to decentralize operations, and be closer to raw material supplies. Electric power output, despite tremendous growth, is being further increased.

Important Lesson

New stores, laundries, filling stations and restaurants have been financed by forward looking citizens before they were really needed. This has all occurred in an area which seemed on the brink of a depression only some five year ago. Don't let any community, where this column is printed, get discouraged under any conditions.

No one examining the situation in 1947 would have been willing to forecast such a rate of growth. Today, similarly, there are other regions, as well as inventions and ideas, which stand on the threshold of most rapid growth. Our frontiers never really pass; the experience of the Pacific Northwest shows that the brightest opportunities often lie where the prospects seem least promising.

Sterling Williams Announces For State Senator Of 24th District

(Editor's Note: Sterling Williams has authorized the Dispatch to announce he is a candidate for State Senator of the newly created 24th District. Mr. Williams' statement is given below.)

In announcing my candidacy for State Senator of the newly created 24th District, I have in mind but one motive and one desire, and that is to serve the people of my district and my state in the capacity wherein I feel that I can render the greatest service.

I have lived my life in this district. I am familiar with the problems confronting the people in each of these thirteen counties. I have served one of these counties as County Attorney for two years and as County Judge for six years. I have served six of these counties as Representative in the Legislature for eight years.

No one has contributed to the expense of any campaign that I have ever been in. I have accepted no fee or favor of any kind for any service I have performed as a member of the Legislature. I am not on the retainer of any individual firm or corporation, and I have never been. I have had no trades, deals or business transactions of any kind with any one which were brought about or influenced by virtue of my being a member of the Legislature. The full record of all personal revenue and income that I have derived from every source is available to anyone who may desire to inspect it.

As a Representative in the Legislature, I have represented no special group. I have been open minded on all matters and I have listened to the proponents and opponents of all measures. I have given honest, careful, sober consideration to all measures that have come before the Legislature and I have cast my vote solely on what seemed to me to be to the best interest of the people of my district and my state.

All issues will be thoroughly discussed hereafter in this campaign, but I say here that during my tenure in the Legislature, I have worked consistently for good roads. It is my belief that we could have no prosperity, rural or urban, if the streets of our cities were paved with gold and the rural people could not get to them. I deem it important that the units of local government, city and county, be maintained, and that their fields of revenue be not infringed upon by the State and Federal Government and that no more of their powers be usurped to Austin and Washington. The State has surrendered to the counties additional sources of revenue. I think that a study should be made to see what sources of State revenue could be spared to the incorporated towns and cities to help them meet the additional requirements for expenditures which progress has placed upon them. I have supported measures for higher salaries for school teachers and for revision and reform in school laws. I did not favor the Gilmer - Aikin Bill as such, because, I believed that it would place such a tax burden on the resources of the property tax payers of the State as to bring about Federal participation in and control over our school system. I supported vigorously the bill permitting the creation of rural telephone companies based on the R. E. A. plan. I have supported measures for additional tax on natural gas, but I opposed setting a minimum price on gas. I do not believe that the producers of gas are any more entitled to a price guaranteed by law, than the producers of cotton are. I am opposed to taxing non-highway used gasoline. I have seen many years in this country when the amount of the proposed tax would have meant the difference between a small profit and a loss on a short crop. I think that a reasonable inspection of the safety devices on an automobile would promote safer driving on our highways, but I could not and did not support the inspection law passed by the last Legislature because it contained requirements impossible for the average motorist to meet and because it placed legislative power in the Department of Public Safety to make requirements and change requirements. I am against divorcing from the State control any department and allowing them legislative power to make their own laws. I think that the Legislature should make the laws and the departments should administer them. I have supported all measures for equitable redistricting, but worked to bring about changes in some of the bills that would have worked a hardship on some sections of our country.

I feel deeply the need for economy in government. If I may represent you in the next Texas Senate, I will support all measures for economy that are consistent with progress in a humane and enlightened State. I will not be obligated to any special interest group, and in casting my vote, the vote of this district, I will recognize allegiance only to God and to the people.

Movie of the Week

STEREOTYPED—"formed in a fixed, unchangeable manner"—according to Webster.

A word and situation which graphically explains the present moving picture industry's dilemma

With thousands of moving pictures being produced annually, the task becomes difficult indeed for a studio to complete a picture with an original plot and theme.

They fall into the categories of: rich boy meets poor girl, rich girl meets poor boy, a hero breaks up a rustling gang, and on down the line until the pictures are stereotyped.

Of course the producers have discovered unique places for the hero to have his final conquestral fight with the "bad man", baseball parks, locomotive round houses, lumber mills and what have you.

So it is truthfully astounding that the industry can come out with movies that continue to be high entertainment for the fans.

This week the TOWER has booked pictures that will provide such entertainment for the entire family.

Actually it's a toss up this week on the outstanding show of the schedule. The almost tie goes to "THE MODEL AND THE MARRIAGE BROKER", starring Jeanne Crain and Thelma Ritter, and "JUST THIS ONCE", starring Jane Leigh and Peter Lawford.

However we will give the nod to Sunday and Monday's presentation of "THE MODEL AND THE MARRIAGE BROKER." One contributing factor to this nod is the fact that Thelma Ritter plays in it.

As a marriage broker (I didn't know they had any except mothers who were trying to get rid of their daughters) Thelma reassures her own loneliness by making matches for the shy and timid individuals in this world who want to get married but can't find a mate.

Backing up the keen wit of Thelma in the picture are Jeanne Crain and Scott Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott of Pleasant Valley might enjoy "THE MODEL AND THE MARRIAGE BROKER". So thinks the management. For two tickets await them at the boxoffice. They are good for any performance.

"JUST THIS ONCE", the "nearby" picture this week, tells the hilarious story of a playboy who spends his money like it was water. A female lawyer is hired to see that he stops throwing money away. And as is always the case, she is engaged to some poor boy who gets left out in the cold in the end because she falls in "love" with the man who con-

HD Leaders Plan Poultry Meeting

Poultry leaders and demonstrators for the various Garza county Home Demonstration clubs will attend a training meeting on Poultry Diseases and Poultry Care, Friday, March 7, in the county courthouse, Home Demonstration Agent Dorothy Harbin announced.

W. J. Moore, extension poultry husbandman from College Station, will conduct the meeting.

The theory and lecture portion of the program will be heard in the courtroom. Later in the afternoon the group will visit one or two flocks in the area.

Those who are to attend the meeting are Mrs. Roy Collins and Mrs. Elmer Hitt, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. George Evans and Mrs. Henry Key, Justiceburg; Mrs. W. A.

veniently has millions of dollars. So just this once if you want to see a picture that boy meets girl routine then see "JUST THIS ONCE" Wednesday or Thursday at the TOWER.

Movie Facts

Most movie fans don't like a "heavy" picture. But in 1948 they and the critics agreed that the outstanding picture of the year was that type. "Hamlet" won the award over many other good shows. The male star of "Hamlet", Sir Laurence Olivier, was chosen as the best actor for his portrayal of Shakespeare's immortal character. Jane Wyman received the accolades as best actress for her acting in "Johnny Belinda."

Scripture

These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee: As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: Thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word. Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee. For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine. And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them. St. John 17: 1-10

The Junior GA's of the Calvary Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon with 19 members present. After mission study, the group went to South Lake for a wiener roast. Games were directed by Mrs. F. M. Wiley and Mrs. W. C. Kiker.

Notes from the desk of the Rev. Joe E. Boyd, Methodist pastor: "The revival meeting is gaining in attendance and interest from service to service. The early morning service is very fine and you are cordially invited to join this service at 7 o'clock. This service is about 45 minutes in length. The night service is at 7:30 o'clock nightly throughout the week. Sunday services will be at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The Rev. T. W. Guthrie is bringing some searching gospel messages and you will greatly enjoy hearing him. It is hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend these services. The purposes of these services is to lead Christian people to a higher level of Christian living, to help those who are in doubt to a life of certainty, to help the lost to know Christ, and to build a stronger Christian fellowship in the community."

Garza 4-H Club Members Ready To Begin Garden And Home Projects

With spring not too far around the corner, Texas has renewed two 4-H programs which are important factors in the development of wholesome family relationships and purposeful, healthful living, the National Committee on boys and girls club work has announced.

They are the Garden and Home Improvement awards programs designed for boys and girls. And Miss Dorothy Harbin, Home Demonstration agent, says that it's a cinch that when the programs open Garza county will be well represented by interested members.

For they always have been interested. In 1951 twenty-one county 4-H club girls raised garden vegetables and small fruits and five girls took part in the Home Improvement program performing many tasks around the house and also making many household articles.

Sue Stephens received the county medal for Garden records and Beverly Bartlett, Onelta Jones, Barbara Wheatley and Wynonne Morris received county medals for Home Improvement achievements.

The five girls who worked with the Home Improvement Program were not eligible for state competition because of their ages, Miss Harbin said. And Sue Stephens chose to enter her records in another state contest rather than in the one for garden award.

In 1951, more than 350,000 club members raised 120,000 acres of garden vegetables and small fruits, thereby providing essential and nutritious foods for use throughout the year, and increasing individual and family incomes by reducing the amount of food purchased.

About 200,000 members taking part in the 4-H Home Improvement program performed 550,000 tasks, such as making slipcovers and curtains, upholstering and refinishing furniture, and painting or papering rooms to make their homes more comfortable and attractive.

Incentives for outstanding records of achievement in both programs remain the same as last year. Every club member taking part in either program has opportunity to win one of four county medals of honor. Also a state award of all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November, and a chance to become a candidate for one of the eight national awards—a $300 college scholarship.

Allis Chalmers provides the Garden program awards and Sears-Roebuck Foundation those for Home Improvement.

Garza county girls last year were among 260 Texas 4-H'ers who received medals on their Garden records and 120 who won similar recognition for home improvement achievements.

Dove Bands To Be Distributed Early

AUSTIN—The Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Texas Game and Fish Commission reported plans for an earlier distribution of dove bands this year.

The intention, he said, is to take advantage of what may be an early nesting period by mourning doves.

The Director said field reports indicate an extraordinary condition this year in that doves were observed mating on a large scale in early January, probably because of the mild winter.

The Director explained that Commission records show that, in rare instances, doves have nested in every month of the year in Texas.

He said the first consignment of bands probably will be sent game wardens early in March.

Individuals or groups desiring to help with the banding routine this year were requested to write the Game and Fish Commission, Walton Building, Austin, Texas.

The Director said hopes are for a better banding season this year. Incomplete reports indicate that 3730 doves were banded last year which was a poor dove season.

Completion of the banding cycle when hunters report where and when birds bearing bands are harvested provides vital data as to the feeding, nesting and migration habits of the doves.

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads

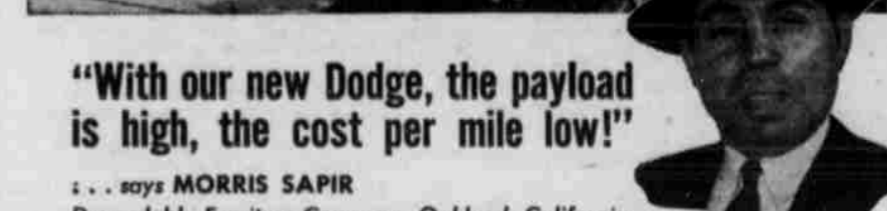

WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks? First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.

Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packing, easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back — for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. The power gives you pull and speed that save time.

Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load conditions — with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up on toughest services.

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"

Survey Reveals That Thousands Of Dollars Are Spent Outside Of Town

Conservatively speaking, approximately $90,000 worth of clothes and groceries are bought outside of Post in a twelve month period.

This was revealed in a survey conducted by the Dispatch Reporter during the past two weeks. The survey consisted of two questions, "How much do you estimate you spend outside of Post each month for clothes and other necessities?" and "Why do you buy them outside Post?"

Except for a very few, all the persons asked said they spent something in Lubbock regularly. The few who did not maintained that they couldn't see buying goods out of town when they depended on the town for a living.

Answers ranged from a spirited "none of your business," to "I'd spend much more out of Post if I did not have to work all the time." Some people were indignant, others were amused and others were sincere in their help and their convictions as to why they spend money out of town.

The survey did not take into consideration the large purchases such as cars, furniture, tractors and appliances. Probably the figure on these items would swell the estimate to nearly $200,000 annually. Naturally there are people who don't spend anything out of town and others who go way over the above average.

Answers to the "Why" part of the question varied, but always tended to lay the blame on the merchants instead of the person who is spending the money. One woman who said her family spent 50 percent of their money outside of town bluntly said, "Can't get what we want here."

According to one man, who spends about $150 annually, "prices are cheaper, have a variety to choose from, and some items we can't get here at all."

Several women insisted, "Merchants stock too much alike. They will buy 15 or 20 dresses just alike. A woman does not like to meet her dress on every corner, so they go to Lubbock where they can get variety."

Shoes, shoes, shoes. This one item cropped up in the survey more than any other thing. Women insist they cannot get the shoes they want here. The reasons are sizes, kinds and brands. Nearly every woman questioned said she bought nearly all her shoes out of town.

Some of those questioned said they checked Post first and if the merchants here could not order what they wanted then they bought in Lubbock. Others never mentioned the fact they even looked around here first. They just take it for granted they cannot find what they want here and go to Lubbock after it.

After questioning these people, however, one fact became apparent. Much of the money they spend in Lubbock and other towns could be spent here as cheaply and easily. They admit that.

The survey revealed that some people in town (in business and depending on the money of the town for a living) buy their groceries weekly in Lubbock. They can save money, they say.

(This reporter would like to say in connection with this phase that he lived in Lubbock for nearly a year, and the grocery bill here is just as cheap as it was in Lubbock, and all groceries there were bought on sale at the big chain stores.)

Complaints from those persons questioned on higher prices, smaller stocks, sordid material caused the reporter to expand his survey to include the merchants in town and obtain the other side to the question.

On a whole the merchants in Post will challenge that "our prices are equal to or below those in Lubbock in 90 percent of the cases."

One store manager said that only last week a woman came into the store and found an item she wanted and exclaimed, "Why I looked all over Lubbock and couldn't find this and came home and here it is." He also can prove that he has customers from Lubbock who insist that items here are lower on a whole. He says he is running a nationally advertised item below the standard rate that prevails in Lubbock.

Store owners were quick to agree with the purchaser that if it proves impossible to obtain an item they want in Post to go someplace else to get it. But they feel that they should be given the first opportunity to please the citizens of the town.

Local stores sell many national brand items. They can show the customer where these items will cost them the same in Lubbock, Dallas, Fort Worth, or any other large town. Many things like cigarette lighters, tie pins, clasps, etc. are pre-ticketed by the manufacturer and sold everywhere at that rate.

Merchants will agree that some goods can be bought cheaper in Lubbock. But they urge the buyers to check the quality. One shoe store owner said that she couldn't sell some of the shoes that people buy in Lubbock because of their grade, but people will not buy them here. Shoe merchants also insisted that any shoe which the people wanted can be ordered within a short length of time at the same price they could buy it elsewhere.

This special service does not apply to shoes alone however. Each merchant in town is glad to make special orders for customers. No extra charges are involved and the time is negligible.

Recently one woman in town needed some special material for curtains. No store in Lubbock could provide it for her and a store here in town ordered it for her.

And also to show the attitude of some of the residents of Post:

JOURNALISTIC OUTFIELDER

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Bob Nieman, the rookie St. Louis Browns' outfielder who made two consecutive homers on his first two trips to the plate in his first game with the Brownsies last season, is a journalistic student at Kent State Teachers College, Kent, O. Nieman's wife is majoring in advertising at the same school.

Several months ago a woman, whose husband is in the service station business, went into a store and practically demanded an explanation as to why the owner did not buy gasoline from them, and gave that as an excuse for not buying more in the store. And only a month or so later she was in bragging to one of the clerks about spending $250 for Christmas presents in a large Lubbock store.

The query of the clerk was a gem: "How much gasoline did they buy from you last year?"

Merchants are constantly on the alert to see if their prices are in keeping with most of the stores. Several of them make regular trips to Lubbock and check in various stores. Some items, they admit, are higher. But they attempt to bring them down. And, surprising as it might seem, they insist that on a whole they are equal and sometimes lower than Lubbock stores.

Take the question of local stores having limited stocks. Can you blame them. Through the years, they know how much people are going to buy. Can you blame them for not stocking up a more varied list of goods when they know the citizens of the town are going out of town to do most of their shopping?

Take the $90,000 which is spent outside of town. If it went into local stores instead of ringing up sales in cash registers in Lubbock, the Post merchants could well have the capital and incentive to increase stocks.

And as far as Post residents saving any appreciable amount of money by buying groceries in Lubbock (unless they occasionally catch a price war), the chances are one in a hundred against it. Sure some of the Lubbock stores will be cheaper on some things, but a check of the entire list will show that on others Post stores are cheaper.

Eddie Stanky has played on three different National League pennant winners in five years. In 1947 he was with the Brooklyn Dodgers, in '49 with the Boston Braves and in '51 with the New York Giants.

Bill Land is attending an annual stockholders and directors meeting of G. F. Wacker Stores, Inc., in Pauls Valley, Okla. this week.

Cpl. James Bobb, of Fort Huachuca, Ariz., arrived home Sunday, to spend 20 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bobb, and Ronald Joe.

Cash On The Barrelhead!

In Pioneer America it took cash to close a business deal. An inconvenient way, of course, but it certainly was safe, for with families trekking from here to yonder credit was an almost impossible thing to check. But now, with our modern banking system, business deals are made easier and more convenient. A check is enough to close the biggest, or even the smallest of deals... and then act as legal proof of payment.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life. A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions. It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these.

But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriftily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Sure is true for '52

Interscholastic League Rules Fair To High School Sportsmen

HAROLD V. RATLIFF, Press Sports Writer, says the Texas Interscholastic League rule that there shall be no protest of an athletic contest on an official's decision regardless of its merit. This has been the policy for 30 years.

Recently, officials in a basketball game allowed a second overtime period to run the full three minutes instead of stopping it when one team had scored two points — the "sudden death" method that is the rule. As a result, the team that was behind went on to win and played another team for the district championship.

There were loud complaints. Under baseball rules, the matter of misinterpretation is the basis for protest. Only on the question of an umpire's judgment of whether it was a ball or strike or the runner was out, the ball fair or foul, is no protest allowed.

Yet the Interscholastic League allows a game to stand even if officials are in conflict with rules of play. The League explains it like this:

This policy was developed because the early administrators soon saw that their time would be devoted to hearings on whether an official gave the correct interpretation or followed league rules.

There are some eleven hundred schools playing basketball in Texas, meaning that there are about 2,500 games each week. As Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director of the league explains it: "It would run into an insurmountable task if the various committees would attempt to sit and hear all protests relative to officials' decision, and interpretation of the various playing rules for basketball or football. As far as we are concerned the officials include the umpire, the referee, the time keeper and the scorer, and any decision they make is final."

He points out that in baseball leagues where there are only a few teams involved "it may be desirable to have a committee evaluate officials' rulings, but experience has proven that in an organization of our type it is not workable."

Several years ago Ballinger was playing Ranger in a bi-district football game. The officials gave Ballinger a fifth down in the final minutes when the ball really should have gone over to Ranger, and on that fifth down Ballinger made a touchdown and won the game. The officials admitted afterward that they had made a mistake. But the result was allowed to stand.

It is to be seen that the league would run into considerable difficulty if it allowed protests on official decisions, but let us ask this one question:

What is the game being played for — the officials and the league or the boys themselves? The kids are the ones who suffer from errors by the officials.

The Interscholastic League needs a supervisor of officials just like the Southwest Conference. Regardless of the number errors in interpretation or rules should be considered and steps taken to rectify such errors. The league itself says the games are played for the boys. Let's give the boys the benefit of it.

Speaking of the Interscholastic League, we note a sharp decline in the number of schoolboy baseball teams. The only reason that can be advanced is spring football training.

There is no reason why the boys shouldn't play baseball. And there is no reason for spring football, especially if it is going to cut out a fine sport like baseball — a sport in which many boys who are unable to play football can participate, with prospects of following it as a profession. Look for another referendum soon on whether spring football is to be continued. There have been two within the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Tucker, of Mineral Wells, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McBee, of Morton, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Odean Cummings and daughters, Margie and Sharon Brooks, who were also guests in the Cummings home Sunday.

Thomas Tinkers Edge Tech 62-59

Thomas' Tinkers, an independent basketball team from Lubbock, edged the Texas Tech freshmen here last Thursday night in a thrilling 62-59 battle.

The game was played for the benefit of the Post P-TA's summer recreational program this year. Mrs. Ralph Welch, president of the group, said Monday the organization netted $109 from the game.

This was a considerable amount over what they would have made had not Lucian Thomas, Lubbock businessman who sponsors the Tinkers, graciously refused any payment for his team coming down here. He said they were glad to donate their time and effort and talent to a worthwhile cause.

In the game, the Tinkers led all the way and were really never bothered by the Techs until the final few minutes of the game. Tech pulled to a one point deficit with one minute left to play. Then just before the final buzzer sounded a Tinker player fired from the center stripe and made the two deciding points.

Little Carl Ince, all-state player with the Lubbock Westerners in 1951, garnered 17 points to lead the game in scoring. He was followed by his teammate Rand with 16 points. Pittman of Tech scored 14 points. Two Tinkers scored 14 points. They were Braden and Blackman. Tillman of the Tinkers made 13 points.

Post Coaches Bing Bingham and Jiggs King officiated the game as a donation to the organization.

WILLIAMS WINS
Melvin Williams, Post FFA member, won first place with his entry in the barrow division of the San Angelo Livestock show last week. There were approximately 100 entries in the division, according to E. F. Schmedt, vocational agriculture teacher.

Post Choral Groups Will Join In Annual Choral Clinic At Texas Tech

Several choral directors from from high schools of the Southwest met at Texas Tech Feb. 23 and organized the Southwestern Choral Festival association, an organization to promote an annual choral clinic.

Post, represented by James Miller, choral director and high school music teacher, will participate in this association, the Dispatch learned.

Miller said he did not get to make the first meeting because of illness, but he has written a letter expressing his desire to cooperate fully in the undertaking.

Dr. Gene Hemmle, head of the department of music, and Raymond Elliott, associate professor of music, announced jointly that the association had voted to hold a two-day clinic the Monday and Tuesday prior to Thanksgiving. The 1952 clinic will be held Nov. 24-25.

Present plans for the choral festival include the inviting of a well-known clinician to direct the choral groups, and the holding of a regional choral contest under the Texas Interscholastic League program.

Dick Richards, Lubbock, was named president of the association; J. T. Hendren, Fort Davis, was elected vice president; and Imogene Webster, Lubbock, was elected secretary-treasurer. A board of directors will be appointed. The board will select the regional contest music.

No other choral organization exists in the region. Data on the association's progress and plans is being sent to all choral directors of the region. Elliott said.

Elliott explained that the festival association will give the high school choral groups "the joy and thrill of singing with an accomplished group under a great clinician." Prospective clinicians include George Howerton, Northwestern; Lara Hogard, Waring Glee Club director; Harry Wilson, Columbia; and George Lynn, Denver U. director.

Grade School Chorus Entertains Rotarians

Special music by the Grade School Chorus highlighted the regular Tuesday Rotary meeting.

Under the direction of Miss Pat Patterson, the group sang four songs during the program.

Among the visitors at the Tuesday meeting was a man who was present at the first Post Rotary club meeting about 27 years ago. He was Walter Posey, of Lubbock.

Posey said the attendance was a little greater Tuesday than it was then.

Other visitors included Alex McDonald, Temotry Guthrie and David N. Porter.

N. W. Stone, Jr., who is a senior at the Texas University School of Pharmacy in Austin, wrote his parents that he made the honor roll at the school last semester.

Soil Conservation Technicians Explain Planting Of Grass Seed

Several farmers and ranchers have expressed their desire to make some grass seedings this Spring.

Generally, grass seedings can be made from now until June 1. Unlike legume seed, grass seed can be dry planted, but will not germinate until you get some moisture. It is better to have some litter on the ground to help prevent the seed from blowing out until it rains and also to help protect the young plants until they get established.

Several SCD cooperators have asked for information concerning Blue Panic grass. Blue Panic is adapted to nearly all soils with the exception of deep coarse sand; it is a perennial grass that will provide a year long cover to the soil against wind and water erosion. It is high in protein and produces a large amount of forage from April until frost. Blue Panic is a good seeder and can be combined.

Previous results have shown that Blue Panic should not be broadcast, but should be planted in rows and cultivated several times yearly. Planting from one (1) to two (2) pounds per acre, in 38-42 inch rows, from April 15 to June 1 has given satisfactory results. It gives good results on both dry and irrigated land.

The Duck Creek SCD has seeding attachments for regular cotton planters that can be used to plant grasses in rows. The district also has 142 pounds of Blue Panic, 135 pounds of K. R. Blue-stem and 120 pounds of Blue Gamma grass seed available to those who are interested.

Recently we enlarged our store to enable us to set up this department and also to enable us to carry a more complete line of shoes.

We especially invite you to visit us this week end.

During the past several weeks we have been receiving almost daily large shipments of nationally advertised Western Clothing. Now that most of our stock has arrived we are anxious for you to see it. We have endeavored to stock clothing for every member of the family, from the little tots to mama and papa . . . We invite you to come in and visit with us this weekend and see this fine clothing.

Here Are Some Of Our Popular New Brands:

- MILLER'S WESTERN CLOTHING
- TIM-TEX SHIRTS

- BAR H-C WESTERN CLOTHING
- WES-TEX COWBOY BOOTS

- LEVI STRAUSS & CO.—Levis and Jumpers
- HAND MADE MEXICAN BOOTS

We Have Western Suits For Men, Women And Children . . . Ladies' Suede, Buck And Leather Jackets

laws of Texas and the Charter of the City of Post, Texas. Following such hearing assessments will be levied against such abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, whether correctly named or not, and whether known or unknown, in the respective amounts which shall be determined at such hearing to be payable by said respective abutting properties, and the real and true owners thereof; and assessments will be levied against such railway, street railway, and interurban, and the true owners thereof, whether correctly named or not, and whether known or unknown, in the respective amounts which shall be determined at such hearing; provided, however, that no such amount shall be assessed against any such abutting property, or the owner thereof, in excess of the benefits to said property in the enhanced value thereof by reason of said improvements as determined at such hearing.

Said assessments against each respective abutting property, and against such railway, street railway, or interurban, and its and their roadbed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises, shall be a first and prior lien thereon from the date said improvements were ordered, and shall be a personal liability and charge against the true owners of each of said properties at said date, whether named or not; all as provided by the Acts of 1927, 40th Legislature of the State of Texas, Chapter 106, as amended, commonly known as Article 1105-b, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and as adopted by the City of Post, Texas, in and as a part of its Charter, and as set forth in the Ordinances and Resolutions heretofore passed by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Post, Texas, relating to the above mentioned improvements, to all of which reference is hereby made.

All persons, as hereinabove mentioned and referred to, will take notice of all said matters and things.

DONE BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF POST, TEXAS, this 28th day of March, A. D., 1951. (SEAL)
