First Rain Here Since October Ranges From 3 To 5 Inches

Skies were clearing Wednesday afternoon after pouring down rains measuring from three to five inches throughout Garza County, but weather forecasts were for more precipitation. With the exception of .001 of an inch recorded here early in the year, the 3.46 inches which fell in Post from late Saturday afternoon through Wednesday morning was the first precipitation since October of 1953 when 4.99 inches were measured. The rains, which began with

.16 of an inch late Saturday afternoon and reached a peak of 2.96 inches Sunday night, are looked upon as a real drought-breaker. Crop prospects are the brightest they have been since 1949. Following Saturday's .16 of an inch, Sunday morning's rain brought 14 of an inch and smiles to the faces of the county's people as the skies remained overcast. Then, Sunday night, came the rain everyone had been waiting for—described as one of the best ever to fall here, Sunday morning, County Agent Lewis C. Herron's rain gauge showed a total of 2.96 inches for the night, which added to the .30 of an inch which fell Saturday evening and Sunday morning gave Post a total of 3.26 inches. Tuesday morning's shower brought 12 of an inch for a 3.38 inch total, which was boosted to 3.46 inches by a .08 of an inch fall early Wednesday morning. The rainfall is reported to have varied from less than three inches to as much as five inches in other parts of the county. Up to Tuesday afternoon, 4.50 inches had been measured in spots north of Post. The county agent said Tuesday that he figured the average for the county was three inches Wednesday morning's rain, however, which deposited only .08 of an inch in Post, was said to have been heavier in other sections of the county, notably southwest of town.

The 3.46 inches measured up to Wednesday afternoon is more than fell here during the entire first half of 1953, when the year's total was 11.27 inches. Last year's best rainfall month was October, and the 4.99 inches which fell then left moisture which is still in the ground at depths of from eight to 18 inches. Already, this month has brought more rainfall than any April since 1942 when 3.84 inches were measured.

The rains have put the land into shape for planting. While further rainfall will be needed to assure a crop, for the time being farmer, throughout the South Plains have what they need to get started.

DOWE H. MAYFIELD RESIGNS

Farmer Named To Fill Board Post

Meeting Monday night for the first time since the April 3 trustee election, the board of the Post Independent School District re-elected Robert E. Cox, president, accepted the resignation of Dowe H. Mayfield, appointed Ira Farmer to replace him, and transacted other business.

In the reorganization of the board, Henry Wheatley was elected vice president to succeed Paul Jones and Leo Acker was re-elected secretary.

Mayfield, a member of the school board for the past six years, gave as his reason for resigning the fact that he is serving on "too many boards" and can't do justice to all of them. After serving out one year of an unexpired term, he was elected to the board for a three-year term and then re-elected for another three-year term, two years of which he has served.

Farmer, appointed to replace him, is service manager at Dowe H. Mayfield Co., Inc.

Sworn in as a new board member at the meeting was S. E. (Shelley) Camp. The other member of the seven-man board is George Tillman.

The board voted to re-roof the dressing rooms at the football stadium and the gymnasium. Leaks in the roofs at both places became evident following the weekend's heavy rains.

Also discussed was completion of the school facility for the 1954-55 year. Only two teaching positions are yet to be filled, according to D. C. Arthur, superintendent of schools.

The superintendent said the board plans to hire one teacher as music instructor in both the high school and the grade school. Recent resignations have included those of John E. Christopher, high school choral instructor, and Miss Wanda Rogers, grade school music teacher who also directs the grade school choir.

Wood Bees, Hubbers Play Here Monday

The Post Wood Bee baseball team will pry the lid off the 1954 season here Monday afternoon in a game with the Lubbock Hubbers of the West Texas-New Mexico League. The game will be played on the Post-Tex Mill diamond, beginning at 2:15 o'clock.

For the Hubbers, who have just returned from their spring training camp at Huntsville, it will be the final exhibition game before they open league play on April 21.

Oscar Garner, Wood Bee business manager, said admission charges will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for school children over 12. All children under 12 will be admitted free.

With at least two more workouts to go before the opening game, Team Manager Paul (Polly) Duren was uncertain Tuesday just who would start the game for the Post nine.

Tractor Contest Is Reset For Tuesday

It was "too wet to plow" Tuesday, forcing postponement of the second annual Garza County FFA Tractor Operator's Contest to Tuesday afternoon, April 20.

The contest will be held at the Earl Rogers' farm, just west of the city, with four members of the Post High School FFA chapter competing.

Following written classroom tests, Noel White, Bowen Stephens, Keith Germer and Don Long were named by E. F. Schmidt, FFA chapter adviser, as the four competitors.

The contest is sponsored by the Ford tractor dealers of Texas, with Earl Rogers' Garza Tractor and Implement Co. as local sponsor. The county winner will qualify for the district contest, and the winner there will be eligible for the state contest, where first prize is a new Ford tractor.

Rogers invites the public to attend Tuesday afternoon's contest.

Last year's Garza County winner was Mack Terry. Others competing were Moody Graham, Larry Waldrip and Mack Kemp.

Contributions Help Free Lunch Fund

Five Post organizations contributed a total of $336.97 to help put the school cafeteria's free lunch fund "over the top," E. E. Pierce, supervisor, reported Tuesday.

The supervisor reported that 1,905 free lunches had been served up to April 1 at a cost of $371.50. The contributions of $336.97 leaves a balance of $234.33, which the present lunchroom fund can absorb, Pierce said.

The contributors were: John F. Miller Post 67.97; Veterans of Foreign Wars, $149.25; Parent-Teacher Association, $100; Personality Group, $62.72; Priscilla Club, $10; Post Bridge Club, $15. An average of 17 free lunches are being served daily at this time, the supervisor reported.

Vacation Matinees To Be Shown Here

Members of Mu Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will begin ticket sales within the next few days for 12 children's vacation matinees to be held this summer at the Tower Theatre.

One of the shows will be presented each week throughout the summer vacation, opening on May 19 with "Challenge to Lassie."

Each of the shows in the special vacation series is suitable for children, according to John N. Hopkins, Tower manager.

Dallas Firm Gets Bridge Contract

Worrell and Watkins, Dallas, were awarded the contract Tuesday for widening of bridges on U. S. Highway 84 from Post to the Seary County line.

The contract was let by the Texas Highway Commission in Austin on the Dallas firm's bid of $77,538.

Major structures to be widened are the overpass just south of Post, a bridge at Justiceburg and a bridge over Sand Creek. The overpass, now 24 feet, is to be widened to 40 feet, the Justiceburg bridge from 20 to 28 feet and the Sand Creek bridge from 24 to 28 feet. The project also calls for widening of three minor structures.

Preliminary work is under way on two other major road projects in the county. One is completion of FM 651 from seven miles northeast of Post to the Crosby County line and the other calls for improvements to U. S. Highway 280 from Post 11 miles east.

Youths Held Here For Dallas Police

Two Dallas youths, one 15 years old and the other 14, were being held here Thursday for Dallas authorities after admitting they had stolen a car there.

The pair were arrested by Sheriff Carl Rains and Deputy J. W. (Red) Floyd Wednesday night after they were found sleeping in an automobile parked near Terrace Cemetery.

The sheriff's office here checked on the car license and learned the automobile had been stolen in Dallas. They said the two boys then admitted the theft.

The youths told the officers the automobile had run out of gas.

TO BE HELD AT 6 O'CLOCK AT FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Easter Sunrise Service Set

The Post Ministerial Alliance's annual Union Easter Sunrise Service will be held at 6 o'clock Sunday at the First Christian Church.

Simultaneous Holy Week services, which are being held daily in seven of the city's churches, are to be concluded the evening of Good Friday, with the sunrise service coming as a crowning effort to the ministerial alliance's Easter season.

Sunday's sunrise service will be opened by an organ prelude played by Mrs. Eos Olson. Following will be the invocation by the Rev. Roy Shahan, and a song, "Christ Arose," led by the Rev. Cecil Stowe.

An Easter meditation will be by the Rev. Gerald Blackburn, followed by the song, "Christ, the Lord Is Risen Today," and a prayer led by the Rev. Charles R. Gates. A vocal solo, "Angel of Hope," will be by Mrs. Tom Power, and scripture reading by the Rev. Jesse Chatham.

The session will be presided by the Rev. Shelby Bishop, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, with the benediction by the Rev. J. E. Hentzfield following.

Good attendance is reported at the simultaneous revival meetings which opened Sunday. Post business and professional firms are cooperating almost 100 per cent in the revival effort, with most of the firms closing from 9:45 to 11 a. m. each day. Services are being held daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Except at the First Presbyterian Church, where the meeting is to end with a Maundy Thursday service tonight, the revivals will continue through Friday night.

Preachers in the revival and pastors of the churches are as follows: Church of the Nazarene—The Rev. O. W. Jenkins of Lubbock, preacher; the Rev. Cecil Stowe, pastor.

A total of $25 poll tax receipts were issued residents of voting precinct 1, which includes the area of Post on the north side of the courthouse.

The second largest number, 218, was issued voters in precinct 2, which takes in the area of the city south of the courthouse.

Court Canvass Made Here Of Trustee Votes

Results of the April 3 school trustee elections were canvassed Monday at a meeting of the Garza County commissioners' court.

The vote check showed that H. P. Wheatley, Sam Ellis and Mrs. Doyle Justice were re-elected to the county Board of Education—Wheatley as trustee-at-large, Ellis as Precinct 1 trustee and Mrs. Justice as Precinct 4 trustee. Wheatley received 270 votes to 118 for Lee Ward, the other trustee-at-large candidate.

Other members of the county board are E. E. Peel, Precinct 2, and J. C. Fumagalli, Precinct 3. At Grassburg, where only 13 votes were cast, A. L. Cross was re-elected to the board. Other members are Russell Wilks, Jr., and Hollis Drake.

Melvin Stewart was re-elected to the board at Graham, and Leo Cobb and Bryan Maxey were elected as new members. Other candidates were James Doggett and Joe B. Taylor. Holdover board members are Albert Stone, Mack Ledbetter, A. O. Parrish and Dillard Thompson.

Garnolia voters re-elected Thurman Francis to the board. See TRUSTEE VOTES, Page 8

Southland Youth Is Home From Hospital

Jack Haire, Southland youth, who suffered a ruptured intestine when kicked by a bull March 27, was returned to his home Friday from Slaton Mercy Hospital.

Haire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howton Haire, underwent major surgery at the Slaton hospital the day following the accident, which occurred while he and other youths were riding bulls at Slaton.

He is reported to be getting along nicely, but will be confined to his bed for some time.

NINE PIECES TO BE INSTALLED AT CITY PARK

The new playground equipment to be installed at the City Park consists of nine items, suitable for children of all ages. Shelley Camp, park board member, said this week.

The equipment includes a swing set eight feet tall, a swing set 10 feet tall, a junior horizontal ladder, a master combination ladder, a master combination of see-saw, swings and slide, a wave chute slide, a straight chute slide, a six-board see-saw, a merry-go-round and a senior castle tower, which has already been assembled.

The equipment is to be installed within the next few days on the park's playground site, which has been cleaned off and leveled. City of Post employees, who will erect the equipment, are expected to get around to the job as soon as they complete work they are now doing on the swimming pool project.

The playground equipment cost approximately $1,300 and its purchase was made possible through contribution of funds by Post business firms and individuals.

Other newly completed improvements at the park include four picnic tables, two on each side of the barbecue pit which was completed last October.

The three and a half inches of rain which have fallen since Saturday have filled the park lake to capacity.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: With our population growing at the rate of 2,000,000 a year how long will it be before we run out of parking space?

A happy weekend is one you can spend 100 miles from home and get back alive.

Don't know why they call 'em slacks when there's never any slack in them.

THAT MAN-MADE depressions are the result of man's thinking is borne out by the following parable:

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing, so he had no radio.

He had trouble with his eyes, so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs.

He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."

And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?"

"There's a depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son has been to college. He reads the papers and listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders. Took down his advertising signs.

And no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right, son," the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Someone has said that the only reason a great many Americans don't own an elephant is that they have never been offered one at $1 down and $1 a week.

WE'RE ALWAYS GLAD to hear from our far-away subscribers, especially when they add some interesting comment. The following letter is from Carolyn (Mrs. W. F.) West, a former Postite now living in Pointe a la Hache, La.

"The Post Dispatch is one of our favorite links with home. And, yes, Post is still home to us."

"May I relate an incident? Earlier this spring, one morning the sky was quite hazy (in an unusual way); it's either clear, foggy or pouring down rain."

The natives were all out speculating on what the cause was. I said, "They have had a dust storm west of here."

The next morning, the Times-Picayune carried these headlines: "City Enveloped in Pall of Texas Dust." I wanted to tell them it wasn't necessarily "Texas" dust, but it's no use. What these people don't blame on Joseph McCarthy, they blame on Texas!

EVERY DAY I read of a new kind of bomb, and the names of these death-dealing contraptions are getting almost as numerous as ice cream flavors. First, it was the atomic bomb, which seemed hideous enough, just as good old vanilla used to be detectable enough that no other ice cream flavors seemed necessary.

Then along came the hydrogen bomb, followed, a few days ago by a description of a cobalt bomb, 500 of which scientists say can wipe out the world's population.

Friday's newspapers went even farther by describing a nitrogen bomb, supposedly in the hands of the Russians, 30 of which would be ample to put a sudden quietus to life on this plagued planet.

With the A-bomb, the H-bomb, the C-bomb and the N-bomb, they've used up only four of the 26 letters of the alphabet. On the supposition that scientists are as smart as the New Dealers were, they can take the 22 remaining letters of the alphabet and cook up no telling what—just as the New Dealers did with the WPA, NRA, RFC, etc.

If one N-bomb can wipe out one-thirtieth of the world's population, think what a WPA-bomb could do!

One consolation is that if civilization is blasted from the face of the earth within the next few months it'll wipe out only 2,500,000,000 of us. That's the present population, according to the Population Reference Bureau. In

THE AMERICAN WAY

Our Contemporaries Are Saying

Every Drop Precious Floyd County irrigation farmers are reminded that every drop of the water they are using is precious. A folder issued recently by Southwestern Public Service Company, points up this fact. Relatively, irrigation on the high plains is new. It is quite new to many users of underground water. This fact calls for thoughtful use of the water. Everyone concerned admits there is much to be learned for efficiency and profit from this expensive source of water supply.

Can't Get Together It seems that the weather and the weather man are having a hard time of getting together. When the weather man says wind and sand lately, it seems like that is our best chance to have some really nice weather. Even modern science can't produce instruments that will make weather predictions accurate here.

On Loading Hogs A new way (to me at least) to load hogs into a trailer was demonstrated at the Livestock Show here Saturday. It involves a principle I now recall from my childhood days. Earl Sargent, vocational teacher at Jonesboro, showed us the trick as his boys prepared to load out at the close of the show. They just backed the hog up to the loading chute, slapped an empty bucket over his head and he immediately scooted backward into the trailer, trying to bark out of the bucket. Then, I remembered how the pigs used to run backward to get out of a stall which they got fastened on their heads. I thought it funny as a kid. The plan worked mighty well Saturday and the trailers were loaded in a hurry.

Must Slow Down Just in case you haven't been out on the highways recently, our advice to you is to reduce your speed. We give this advice from (i. e. $11.50) experience. Whoever said Texas is short of highway patrolmen just hasn't been around much lately—there seems to be one on every corner these days with a few in between. The accepted speed of 70 miles an hour (that's what my ticket read) is no longer acceptable. We are advised, Texans must slow down or pay the penalty, we are told. So don't say we didn't warn you. The Texas Highway Patrol really means business in their attempt to cut down accidents on Texas highways.

Wanted No Noise! And then there was the fellow who lived in the hills up above Aspermont who put a silencer on his shotgun. He said his daughter wanted a quiet wedding.

Coffee Cut-Down What with the price of coffee continuing its upward spiral, concerted action in a negative manner is coming into evidence. The Dublin Development Club, a civic group, has ordered no coffee served at its luncheons. Members drink milk and perform a two-fold purpose—they curtail coffee consumption and encourage milk drinking and thus help themselves. Much milk is produced in Erath County.

Just In Case Party Line and Roy Copeland were discussing the tornado situation recently and learned that the Copelands built their new storm cellar before even starting on their house after the 1951 tornado. We may find ourselves borrowing it this spring—but we hope not.

Wrong Way! An inebriated man walked in to an elevator shaft, fell four floors to the bottom, stood up, brushed himself off and shouted, "I said UP!"

Enters Race For Representative

Robert R. Patterson, Snyder lawyer, announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for Representative of the 90th Legislative District at the Democratic primary. The district composed of Scurry, Borden, Kent Garza and Crosby counties was established by the Legislature in 1951, and polls approximately 10,000 votes from a population in excess of 40,000.
 Patterson who is 42, is presently serving as Judge of the Corporation Court of the City of Snyder. The son of a pioneer West Texas family, he was born and raised in Rotan in Fisher County, and received his education at Schreiner Institute, the University of Texas, and Cumberland University. Admitted to the State Bar of Texas in 1939, he practiced law in Snyder until 1941. During World War II he served aboard a destroyer in the Navy, participating in four invasions. His ship the USS Hobson (DD 364) was awarded the Presidential Unit Citation for anti-submarine duty in the North Atlantic.
 During 1951 Patterson was elected special county judge of Scurry County, by the lawyers of the Bar Association, to assist the county judge in handling of oil boom rush of business in the Court.
 "Legislative matters applicable to the problems of the entire district which I represent will be my primary consideration, if elected," the candidate said. Formal platform will be announced immediately after May 3, last filing date for the Democratic Primary.

Artist And Cartoonist Is To Present Assembly Programs Here On April 22

Bob Wood, artist and cartoonist, will present a Southern School Assemblies program Thursday, April 22, at Post High School and grade school.

Pleasant Valley

Please Send News Not Later Than Monday to MRS. R. V. BURNES Pleasant Valley Correspondent

Jerry Hitt and Teddy Scott appeared on the Community Crossroads TV program in Lubbock last Tuesday.

Wood is an ex-Marine and veteran of World War II. His unique serio-comic entertainment sparkles with humor, wit and originality.

Wood reads as he sketches, things of humor, pathos, and romance. For children he draws cartoon sketches of boys in comic postures; he often draws some one well known in the audience.

One of the most interesting features on his program is his exhibition of double mindedness—visualization and concentration—writing backwards and upside down, and reading quotations on a different subject.

Nor does Wood neglect the literary side of his program. His big feature sketches in brilliant color made still more beautiful by spectacular lighting effects.

For a number of years Bob Wood has been a student in the Art Institute of Chicago. His youth, pleasing personality, and effective speaking add greatly to the success of his entertainment.

"Adopted Grandmother" Major Project Of Brownie Troop No. 5

In Scottish superstition, a brownie was a good-natured sprite, who was supposed to perform important services about the house. And that is where the group of seven to ten-year-old girls who are Brownies got their name.

Post's Brownie Troop 5 is one of the many in the nation's Girl Scouting program which are proving that the name Brownie fits them like a glove. Six months ago, members of the troop decided to do good deeds daily—just like Brownies are supposed to do—by "adopting" an elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bright of West 13th Street.

Since that time, the Brownies have called at the Bright home every day to see if there are letters to mail, household chores to be done, or other errands. Every Thursday they have delivered the Brights' copy of The Post Dispatch.

A few weeks ago, Mr. Bright passed away, and now the Brownies are doing an additional good deed every time they call on Mrs. Bright. They are helping make her days less lonely.

Members of the Brownie troop are Janice Moreman, Glenda Hurt, Janie Carradine, Janith Short, Linda Ward, Gwen Humble, Mary Ann Williams, Marianne Jones, Ann Pennington, Pam McCrary, Jan Herring and Alyn Cox.

Mrs. Clint Herring is the troop leader and Mrs. Robert E. Cox is assistant leader.

Seven Scout and Brownie Troops, composed of about 75 members, are participating in the annual cookie sale this week. They are conducting house-to-house campaigns and will close the drive Saturday with booths set up in downtown stores. The cookies sell at 50 cents per box.

The girls will have window displays in several stores Saturday explaining the different phases of Girl Scouting. Troop 1 will have an exhibit at Maxine's; troop 3, Dodson's; troop 4, chamber of commerce office; troop 5, Herring's, and troop 7, Mason and Co.

According to leaders, much has been done to improve the recently acquired Girl Scout hut, but there are many things yet to be accomplished. The girls recently held bake sales to raise money for linoleum for the house.

Anyone having curtains, scrap linoleum that could be used for table tops, window shades, screen doors, bathroom fixtures or any other usable items stored that they care to donate to the scouts are urged to contact officials.

Tenderfoot Girl Scout Gives Account Of First Camping Trip

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are details of a recent camping trip enjoyed by members of Girl Scout Troop 1. The report is a tenderfoot's impression of her first camp:

"We were so thrilled to receive Lucy Trammell's invitation for a camping party, that we began to make plans several days ahead of time. One of the experienced campers helped me fix my bed roll, which looked warm enough to sleep in at the North Pole.

"Right after school Friday we met at Lucy's house and headed for the Novis Rodgers ranch south of Justiceburg. We selected our site near a windmill several miles inside the ranch.

"Mr. Trammell and Joe Bob, who had carried our equipment down in a pickup, showed us how to set up the pup tents before we prepared supper of coffee can casserole, boiled eggs, pickles, sour dough biscuits and cake. The hostess' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Galis who live on the ranch, ate supper with us.

"After our guests had gone we gathered around the campfire and sang and talked. We went to bed early and the only noise we noticed was that several airplanes flew over during the night.

"About sunrise Saturday morning we got up and gathered wood for a fire to cook breakfast, which consisted of delicious pancakes and bacon, prepared by Mrs. Trammell.

"After breakfast we hiked down the river and saw where a wolf had crossed the river bed and where a raccoon had been catching minnows from a pond. We waded in a pond and gathered shells and then completed our 10 mile hike. By the time we got back to camp it was time to eat again. We all helped to bake potatoes, make salad and fry chicken. Our meal was topped off with cake and tea.

"At 2 o'clock we broke camp and left for home. We had such a good time we are looking forward to another camp soon. The song we sing so often remains true for all Girl Scouts. It goes 'I'm happy when I'm camping' and we really are."

Including in the camping trip were Lucy Trammell, Mary Bowen, Sharon Brooks, Frances Dietrich, Patricia Crowley, Marquetta Williams, Barbara Hargan, Linda Lott, Mrs. Trammell and Mrs. James Dietrich.

Post Student Wins Third Place In Regional Spelling Bee At Lubbock

Victor E. (Sonny) Hudman, Post seventh grade student, won third place Saturday in the second annual Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee, held in the O. L. Slaton Junior High School auditorium.

Sonny went out after he began spelling "chromium" with the letters "c-h-r-o-m" and then quickly corrected them. Under the rules, a contestant may not start over on a word.

Sheila Cline, eighth grade student at Carroll Thompson Junior High School, repeated as Bee champion. Second place was won by Russell McCurdy, Jr., of Crosbyton, who also won second last year.

It was also a Post speller who won third place last year. Howard Jones, now a Post High School freshman, misspelled "scholar" to finish behind Sheila and Russell in the 1953 Bee.

Increased spelling ability was shown in this year's contest. Last year, the Bee ended after 480 words had been called. This year between 900 and 1,000 were called before the championship was decided.

Thirteen county champions took part in Saturday's contest. One of the judges in the student Bee was Mrs. T. L. Jones of Post, who was the pronouncer in the Garza County Bee, held last month.

Sonny received a $15 cash prize for winning third place.

Civil Defense Organization Set Up In Garza County; VFW Member Director

Bob Poole of Post has been appointed director of Civil Defense for Post and Garza County and during the next few weeks expects to complete the civil defense organization for the city and county.

Poole said this week that John Miller Post 6797, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which he is a member, will direct the civil defense program in the city and county, but that it will expect help from other community groups, such as civic and service clubs, women's organizations, etc.

Poole's appointment as Civil Defense chairman was made by Mayor T. L. Jones and County Judge Oscar Graham.

Gov. Allan Shivers has requested the mayors of Texas municipalities to assume the Civil Defense chairmanships for their respective communities, and has also suggested that the county judges invite the mayors to join in forming a County Defense Council for the coordination of defense activity, and that this council designate a county defense director as the chief defense officer for the entire county.

The State of Texas has had an extensive plan in operation for some years under which assistance is given areas suffering from the effects of natural disaster.

Now, in the light of recent developments, the homeland is faced with a very real danger of a sudden and devastating attack. The only realistic way of prevailing against the enemies of this country is to keep in active production the industrial establishments which provide essential equipment and supplies for our armed forces.

This requires the maintenance of a high level of efficiency on the part of these plants, the industrial population which operates them, and the public services which support the entire social structure.

Thus, civil defense becomes an essential element in our system of national security.

Upon each level of government, and upon the people in every section of the land, rests the obligation to give the type of patriotic support which can assure the adequacy of our total effort in the defense of our nation and its people.

How smart can machines be?

Back in the twenties there was a stage play about mechanical men who repaid their creators by trying to wreck civilization. "Robots" have made people uneasy ever since.

How smart can a machine be? At General Electric we're beginning to find out. For some years now we've been working with things that come startlingly close to thinking like men.

Can they outsmart men? Just the opposite: they make men smarter by taking over routine mental chores and freeing men for the creative thinking only human minds can encompass.

A jet engine used to be designed by trial and error. You had to build it first, or a costly model, to find out how it would work. Now, an electronic computer helps solve long and complex jet development problems in advance. In 15 minutes it goes through 8 million mathematical calculations and comes up with an answer that would take a mathematician 7 years.

In management, "hunch" is giving way to fact. Electronic data-processing machines zip through head-spinning statistics on market changes, product design and income trends to come up with the answers General Electric managers need to make sound decisions, not hopeful guesses.

Their ability to digest tons of data in a hurry may one day help the farmer by making weather predictions more accurate. They may shed new light on the reasons for boom and bust.

Machines that can read, write, do arithmetic, measure, feel, remember, now take the load off men's minds, just as machines have eased the burden on our backs.

But these fantastic machines still depend on people to design and build and guide and use them. What they replace is drudgery — not people.

Don't worry; smart though they are, machines will never be as smart as people. Not while people are smart enough to think them up, smart enough to let them do a man's drudging work.

Progress is our most important product

Snyder Pastor Is Rotary Speaker

The Rev. Ronald Hubbard of Snyder, who is conducting a revival this week at the First Presbyterian Church, was guest speaker at Tuesday's Post Rotary Club luncheon.

Rev. Hubbard compared the instability of many of the new economic, political and social theories which have arisen in recent years with those of Christ, which have stood up for 2,000 years.

Among the new theories mentioned by the speaker as not having stood the test of time were those of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin.

One hundred per cent attendance was reported at the luncheon.

Mrs. Zeta Pennie is principal of the Post school.

Chicks, Parakeets Destroyed In Fire

The charter authorized the Lubbock association to make loans in the following counties: Cochran, Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum.

Damage estimated at $500 resulted early Sunday from a fire which destroyed two small buildings at the home of Leo Cobb, four and one-half miles west of Post on the Tahoka Highway.

Fifty registered bantam baby chicks and four parakeets were lost in the flames, which caught in a homemade brooder and spread to a nearby store house, destroying both buildings.

Cobb, who is employed here by Brown Bros., oil operators, said the fire caught from electric light bulbs being used to heat the brooder. The chickens were on one side of the partitioned building and the parakeets on the other.

The burned structures were only about 40 feet behind the Cobb residence, but no breeze was blowing and the fire did not spread. The Post Volunteer Fire Department answered the alarm, and doused the smoldering fires until a downpour of rain finished the job.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Cobb shortly before 7 o'clock.

Watering alone is $6 for full lots and $3 for half lots.

Lot owners who have not already done so are urged to contact Mrs. Irene Rodgers, cemetery association treasurer, and make arrangements to have the work done by the cemetery caretaker.

Gates Fourth in 440-Yard Dash In District Meet

Don Gates won fourth in the 440-yard dash to pick up a point for Post Saturday in the District 4A track and field meet at Lubbock.

The Levelland Lobos won the meet with 40 5/7 points. Muleshoe had 38 4/35; Slaton, 20; Morton, 16 32/35; Tahoka, 13 5/7; Brownfield, 12 4/35, and Littlefield, 10 5/7.

Gates finished behind Holt of Muleshoe, Barnes of Levelland and Tate of Muleshoe. The winner's time was 51.1, breaking the old record of 53 seconds, set by Baker of Seminole in 1948.

Jerry Reynolds of Slaton was first in the 100-yard dash, running the distance in 10.2 seconds, which tied the old record set by Buhman of Muleshoe in 1952. In the preliminaries, Reynolds ran the distance in 10.1 seconds.

Reynolds also won the 220-yard dash, setting a new record with his time of 22.3. The old record was 22.8, set by Buhman in 1952.

INSTRUCTOR — Marty Karow, baseball coach at Ohio State University, will be chief instructor at Tarleton State College's baseball school for boys 15-18 here this summer. He will instruct at two three-week sessions, June 20-July 10 and July 11-31. Karow's professional career includes playing with the Boston Red Sox and with teams at Waterbury, Conn., Des Moines, Ia., Pueblo, Colo., and Waco and Fort Worth.

SPORTS FLASHES

Careers Shortened By Fancy Pitching

So-called "new fangled" pitching now displayed in the major leagues does not compare with the power hurling of the earlier era of the game, according to Bobby Wallace, old-time pitcher and shortstop, in the first of a two-part story appearing in The Sporting News.

He calls the slider "a disappointed curve," and insists that the screwball, employing arm muscles in reverse twists, takes more out of a modern pitcher's arm than do the conventional fast ball, curve and change-up.

"For my dough," says Bobby, "in the big pinch I'd rather have a pitcher out there with the old fireball and dizzy twisters than all your modern knucklers and dippy do artists."

Still, an ex-pitcher himself, he doesn't want to be too dogmatic about it. "It could be this rabbit ball is bringing in a new theory of pitching," Wallace says in The Sporting News story. "As pitchers know they cannot throw this rabbit ball by the batters for nine full innings, maybe, the strategy now is based on the hope of fooling the batter by a mere eighth or quarter of an inch. Such a scant margin is enough to result in a high fly on a ball hit above the bat center or a grounder below bat center. It is by such tiny fractions of inches that batters become heroes or bums."

"If there is a slow evolution in the theory of pitching, I'm sure today's variety is playing havoc with a lot of salary soupers. I think it was the late Dr. Robert Hyland of St. Louis who claimed that these stuff pitchers were putting such unnatural strain on their pitching muscles that some careers were being shortened by years."

According to The Sporting News, it is reassuring to Bobby's personal outlook that the great pitchers of today, such as Robin Roberts and Alie Reynolds, are still in the classic Johnsonian mold.

The youngest player in the Pirates camp is the hottest catch-up, says The Sporting News. He's 18-year-old Leonard Lindborg, a promising outfielder from Compton, Calif., who recently graduated from high school. Leonard consumes four eggs, 12 pieces of toast and a quart of milk for breakfast. One night recently at dinner he went through eight lamb chops, four pieces of toast and a quart of milk. Lindborg came to camp weighing 182 pounds but the groceries he has been putting away hiked his pounds to 200. However, he's big 6-2, strong and young and says he is just naturally hungry.

Many an American League manager is amazed that the Big League Orioles are playing Gil Coan in center field, where the demands on a strong throwing arm are important.

Connie Mack foresees the White Sox and Indians fighting for the 1954 American League pennant, with the Yankees finishing third.

Brissie was appointed by Art Connell of Middletown, Conn., national commander of the American Legion. A greatly expanded junior baseball program under Brissie's leadership is planned, National Commander Connell stated.

A Legionnaire and veteran of World War II, Brissie, native of Greenville, S. C., was badly wounded in fighting in Italy. He underwent 23 operations on his left leg, but by sheer pluck overcame this handicap and achieved his ambition of playing organized baseball.

"The appointment of a man who has made a name in organized baseball will be a great boon to our junior baseball program," Texas Chairman McClain stated. "We expect Texas to field more junior baseball teams this season than any time in its history."

Post Girls' Volleyball Team Wins Second Place In District Tourney

The Post High School girls' volleyball team won second place Monday in the District 4A tournament at Levelland, losing to the Levelland Lobettes in a hard fought match.

After dropping the first game, 15-10, Coach N. R. Giggles King's Post team came back to win the second, 15-4, but dropped the next two, 15-9 and 15-10.

Post advanced to the finals against Levelland by winning easily over Morton, 15-10 and 15-4. Levelland disposed of Tahoka to go into the finals.

Coach King said his entire team played an outstanding brand of volleyball in the tournament, sparked by the overhand serving of De Elva Lofton and the spiking of Woodena Stewart.

Post was the south half champions of the district, while Levelland had won the title in the north half.

In the south half playoffs here last Thursday afternoon, Post defeated Slaton by scores of 15-9, 15-9 and 15-7, then won over Tahoka, 15-4, 15-6 and 15-10.

Only four members of this year's squad will graduate, virtually assuring Post one of the best teams in its history next season. The four seniors are Joy Martin, Tommie Williams, Doris Robinson and Velta Carpenter.

Other members of the squad are: Glenda Askins, Joyce Josey, Joyce Josey, Lofton, Betty Sue Norman, Arleta Gary, Reba Hays, Wynonne Morris, Frances Craig, Marie Howard and Stewart.

The district tournament ends volleyball activities for this season, King said. The girls will begin spring basketball practice next week.

Children Playing In Streets Are Thrown Right Into Danger's Path

"Have you ever seen a car jump the curb, run up into somebody's back yard and knock down a child who was playing there?"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, and services advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation asked this strange question today and then quickly supplied the answer.

"You probably haven't," he said, "and the chances are you never will. But every day many people see automobiles kill youngsters who are playing in the street."

Col. Tilley used this illustration to stress the importance of keeping children out of the street, a point that is being emphasized in the current Child Pedestrian and Bicycle Safety program of the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety.

"When we allow our children to play in the street, we're throwing them right into danger's path," he told parents. "Twenty-three thousand children under 15 years old were injured or killed while playing in the roadway in 1952."

"Youngsters themselves don't realize the danger," he said. "They must be warned repeatedly until staying out of the street has become a habit. Even then," he reminded, "in the excitement of play they sometimes forget."

According to Col. Tilley, crossing the street in mid-block, darting out from behind parked cars, and crossing at intersections against signals are other practices that cost many youngsters their lives.

Pointing out that children are more likely to learn by example than by precept, Col. Tilley appealed to parents to teach traffic safety to their youngsters by their own safe behavior in traffic. He listed the following as rules that parents might well adopt.

1. Walking or driving, always get a good example for children by obeying all traffic signs and signals and observing safety rules.
2. Cooperate with schools and traffic officials in teaching children safe traffic attitudes and habits.
3. See that children play only in approved play areas.
4. Teach children safe use of bicycles and outdoor toys.

The State Insurance Board has announced that rates for automobile liability insurance will go up on May 1 throughout Texas.

4-H Public Speaking Program Renewed

The 4-H Public Speaking program, in which thousands of boys and girls throughout the nation have learned how to speak convincingly, has been renewed by the State Extension Service for 1954.

This is the fifth consecutive year that the Pure Oil Company has provided the awards in this program.

County and state awards are offered by the donor in 26 states. County-wide public speaking finals will be arranged by Extension agents, and the outstanding boy and girl in each county will receive a gold-filled medal of honor. The state awards are a 19-jewel watch for the high ranking boy, and a set of silverware for the top rating girl.

In addition, two college scholarships of $300 each, and two all expense trips to the 33rd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November will be awarded to a 4-H boy and girl selected from the state winners. All states are eligible to submit candidates for these national awards.

The two national 4-H Public Speaking achievement winners last year were Rosemary Gladhart of Highland, Kans., and Billy Sam Moore, of Petersburg, Tenn.

The program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service.

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs . . . in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors . . . all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texas is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government . . . In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $50,000.

Entire Nation Will Be Better Off When Shortage Of Trained Nurses Overcome

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Increases in hospital and nursing home beds and a jump in the number of people carrying hospital insurance are the two chief causes of the nursing shortage in Texas and elsewhere, state health officials say. The fact that there are more and more hospital beds for insured persons to take advantage of during brief illnesses indicate that nurses have to spread their time thinner and thinner to meet the demand.

Other factors mentioned in the shortage are increasing numbers of dependent children and oldsters, and a shortage of high school graduates who are psychologically adapted for nursing duties.

Nursing re-registrations in Texas last year totaled 21,880, according to figures kept by the State Board of Nursing Examiners. A board spokesman pointed out that figure did not include new registrations, but did include some out-of-state nurses who wanted to maintain their Texas licenses.

Nursing licenses in Texas are distributed throughout hospitals and schools of nursing, in public health units and school systems, and in industry. While state health leaders were pointing out nursing shortages in Texas, World Health Organization authorities were doing the same thing on a world basis.

World Health Day was observed April 7 with the theme: "The Nurse—Pioneer of Health."

"A loving heart is not enough," she wrote. "The art of caring for the sick, the knowledge of the laws of life and death, are matters of sufficient importance and difficulty to require learning by experience and careful inquiry just as much as any other art."

Today, in state, national and world medical and public health circles, nurses are recognized as friends and counselors of all and welcome health teachers. Doctors and community leaders insist nursing importance in local health work and community life is second to none.

Florence Nightingale gave the world a new conception of the power and place in society of the trained and educated woman. Modern nursing combines the attributes of compassion with the calm ability conferred by the disciplines of education and training.

The entire nation will be better off when the shortage of trained nurses is overcome.

Release Asked On Unused Acreages Cotton, Peanuts

Operators who have received a notice of peanut allotments and do not plan to plant the peanuts on their farm in 1954 should call at the Garza County ASC Office before May 14, 1954, and release all or part of the allotment acreage so that it can be used by operators who will plant the peanuts in 1954. This acreage can be released for one year only or permanently. If the person who has an allotment does not plant the allotment crop it will be of no benefit to the operator with the allotment, and the county will lose the history acreage for 1954. Eventually there will be no history acreage if it is not planted. Any acreage released will be reapportioned to other farms by June 11, 1954.

Operators who do not plan to plant their cotton allotments should call at the ASC office and release all or the part of the acreage that they will not use, for one year or permanently, as they wish, so that the acreage can be used by other farms and will be included in the history acreage for future years for the county. This acreage should be released by June 4, 1954, and it will be reapportioned by June 11, 1954.

May 15 Deadline For Carrying Out Wheat Practices

May 15, 1954 is the final date by which producers must use wheat acreage for green manure, cover crop, hay, pasture, or silage if such acreage is not to be classified as "wheat acreage" under the wheat allotment program.

Julius C. Fumagalli, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, explained that the recent revision in wheat program regulations permits wheat acreage to be used in this way in order to bring the wheat acreage into compliance with the wheat acreage allotment for the farm for 1954.

Producers who have planted an acreage of wheat which they wish to use as green manure, cover crop, hay, pasture, or silage, and whose wheat acreage has not yet been measured, should notify the county ASC office and designate the acreage on which the practice will be carried out. Practice must then be completed by the established deadline, which in Garza County is May 15, 1954.

A producer who has already designated an acreage to be used for this practice may substitute other acreage for the acreage previously designated, by notifying the county office of his intentions, specifying the acreage to be substituted, and carrying out the practice not later than the date set for completion of the practice.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, effective for the 1954 wheat crop, a farmer with an acreage allotment of more than 15 acres who exceeds his farm wheat acreage allotment in 1954 becomes subject to a marketing penalty on his "excess" production. A farmer with an acreage allotment of 15 acres or less may produce as much as 15 acres of wheat without incurring marketing penalties. In addition, any farmer who exceeds his wheat acreage allotment, regardless of size, becomes ineligible for Commodity Credit Corporation price support on his wheat.

However, by not permitting overplanted wheat acreage to reach maturity because it is, while still green, turned under for green manure, pastured off, or cut for hay or silage, a producer has an opportunity to bring his acreage into compliance and thus avoid the quota penalty and loss of eligibility for available price support.

Chairman Fumagalli said that the closing date for completing the "green manure" practice under the wheat program was set far enough ahead of harvest to assure such utilization of the designated acreage before the wheat reached maturity; it was set early enough to enable the county committee to make the final check of performance and to issue marketing cards to eligible producers before harvest.

"I wish you much luck in your important work as a teacher of world history," Mahon wrote the teacher.

Specialist Lists Eight Check Spots To Assure Safer, More Attractive Home

COLLEGE STATION—There's no place like home—for accidents, so before you relax with the evening paper, better check to see if your home is as safe as you think it is.

Eight check-spots to insure a safer, and incidentally more attractive home are these, says Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service:

(1) Is your driveway arranged so that you can head into traffic, rather than to back into it? And does your driveway have a clear view of all passing and approaching cars? Cut your shrubs low enough so that you can see over them, and prune tree limbs off to a height which will enable the driver to have a clear view.

(2) Do you have a safe trash burner? A large percentage of home fires are started by burning trash. A large metal container of almost any kind may be fitted with one-fourth inch mesh covering. This will keep flaming particles inside the burner. Trashburners are easily built of rock, brick, or cement block.

(3) Do you have one-fourth inch wire mesh over the top of all chimneys, flues, outside furnaces, and barbecue pits?

(4) Is your clothesline a sagging line? It should be raised above head level and the sag tightened so that one may walk or run under them without danger.

(5) Are you sure you have no holes in your lawn? Grass growing over the holes will obscure them and may cause someone to stumble or fall.

(6) What about stumbling blocks such as stumps or stumps and humps in the lawn? Walks that are higher than the ground may be filled along the edges with soil so that they will not rise above the ground level.

(7) Is your garbage can fly-tight and water-tight? Such a container should be arranged to hold cans, bottles, and other rubbish until these can be carried away. This will discourage insects and insure no broken glass in the yard for the children to cut themselves upon.

(8) Do you have a play area arranged to keep toys and children's play equipment in one place? Scattered playthings may lead to dangerous falls.

Entomologists In Texas And Nation Preparing To Celebrate Centennial

COLLEGE STATION, April 8.—Radioactive materials! Cathode rays and radioactivity! These terms, surprising to the average person, are the staple of entomology—the study of insects.

Complex phrases certainly would have sounded foreign to the first investigators of our insect pests, but they reflect the growth of professional entomology.

The United States today has 4,500 men and women are entomologists. Many are employed by a government—federal, state or local. Others are employed in colleges and industry. A few are business-venturers. A few offer custom pest-control services to the public.

During a 1954 slogan "Enlighten Your Insect Enemies," entomologists in Texas and over the nation are preparing to observe their centennial. Dr. J. C. Gahan, head of the Department of Entomology, Texas A. and M. University, has appointed a 100-member committee to plan a program to better acquaint the public with entomology and its benefits to their daily living.

The first department of entomology in a Texas institution was established at A. and M. in 1854 by a special act of the Texas legislature and was headed by Fred W. Mally. The virtual creation of the Texas fever and extensive work with crop insects and animal diseases headline the major events of Texas entomology.

Other milestones of entomology which can be listed since 1854 are successful fights against ticks and mosquitoes. A "swat-bug" campaign, led by entomologists and health officials urging the destruction of flies and their breeding places, has been in a large measure responsible for a 90 per cent decrease in cases of typhoid, one of the many diseases carried by flies.

No outbreak of yellow fever has been noted in the United States since 1905 as a result of cooperative efforts against mosquitoes.

Potato production per acre has been increased 50 per cent in eight years partly because of insect control with modern insecticides.

And entomology's horizon is bright.

Researchers today are working with toxic chemicals that are absorbed and carried through the circulatory systems of plants. The chemicals, called systemic, do not harm the plants, but kill many insects that feed upon them.

Similar studies are being made with livestock. Chemicals injected into cattle kill grubs and blood sucking insects.

Entomologists also are applying the techniques of atomic science to insect control. In recent experiments, scientists "tagged" insects with radio active phosphorus, released them and later trapped them along with other insects, and determined by means of a Geiger counter, which ones were radio active. Information thus gained about how fast and how far insects can crawl or fly is useful in migration studies.

Poisonous Range Plants Abundant During Drouths

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.) — Range plants which are poisonous to farm animals are proportionally more abundant in times of drouth—when livestock can't be too choosy about what it eats.

A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, warns that livestock should be removed from any area suspected of harboring poisonous vegetation until the danger period passes.

The buds, leaves and tender shoots of all trees in the oak family contain poisonous substances which cause severe illness in cattle, sheep, goats and horses. This condition exists from the time the buds begin to swell until the new leaves become dark green. Walker explains:

Low growing oaks—low enough to be reached by livestock—cause most of the trouble. Death losses from oak poisoning run extremely high, he adds. Cattle are most commonly affected.

A poor grass cover has made many oaks rip, for invasion by bitterweed, a plant especially toxic to sheep. One to two pounds of dry bitterweed is enough to kill a full grown ewe. Deferred and rotation grazing are recommended controls for this plant.

Built-In 'Stabilizers' Seen As Protection Against Depression

WASHINGTON — There are good reasons for believing that whatever kind of economic ailment we are having—recession or dip—will not be transformed into any serious depression, according to Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, Director of Economic Research, Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Our economy today has a number of built-in stabilizers which it did not have in the depression of the early 1930's. These stabilizers have already indicated what they can do. They helped to prevent the dip in 1949 from becoming serious.

Here are some of the stabilizers listed by Dr. Schmidt:

- 1. The farm price support program. A flexible support program would be much more desirable in the opinion of many farmers and most businessmen because it would provide a sensible guide to production and consumption and would spare taxpayers the necessity of having to buy surplus farm products at high levels. Nevertheless the present rigid program can also exert a stabilizing influence by discouraging disorderly marketing, price slashing and under competitive pressures.
- 2. The unemployment compensation system. The system is backed by a trust fund of almost $9 billion, which provides payments (ranging up to 26 weeks in some states) for employees temporarily laid off.
- 3. The numerous private and public pension programs, including the federal government's Social Security system. These will continue to pay money to beneficiaries and thus help to keep up the continuity of sales, regardless of economic conditions.
- 4. The Federal Deposit Insurance System, which makes a bank run inconceivable.
- 5. The tax reductions which went into effect January 1, and others in prospect. These tend to leave more money in the hands of business for investment in new job-making enterprises, and in the hands of consumers for spending.
- 6. The amortized nature of our private debt. While debt has grown too rapidly for good economic health and has helped cause inflation, it is still only about half as much as it was in 1929, relative to the national income.
- 7. The volume of liquid assets held by individuals and busi- nesses. The volume has grown from $65 billion before the war, to an estimated $270 billion today. This means that the rush to get assets in a liquid condition, one of the characteristics of a down-drag, is not likely to be the kind of powerful deflationary force it was in the 1930's.

8. The quick reactions which occur in our tax structure, with its heavy reliance on the income tax. As employment and business drop off, the tax liability of individuals and businesses also quickly drops. Government revenues decline and the government is forced to borrow. The government has a wide range of choices on how to borrow, and can do so in a way that will help maintain the money supply.

Most of these same stabilizers were in operation during the 1949 dip. The index of industrial production (seasonally adjusted) slipped from a 1948 peak of 105 to a low of 94 in 1949. Unemployment rose from the low levels of 1948 to a peak of 4.1 million, or 6.4% of the civilian labor force in the worst month of 1949, and to a peak of 4.7 million in February, 1950. But compensation of employees dipped from 1948 to 1949 by only $3 billion. Disposable income (income after taxes) dropped only 6 of 1%. However, in that inventory recession we were fortunate in still having many persons with cash on hand waiting to spend it on housing and automobiles which had been in short supply.

One thing that perhaps distinguishes the present economic downturn from its predecessors is that its causes have been apparent since early 1953. What happened was that when the Korean war broke out the government adopted a policy of encouraging the expansion of our economic base so that if a third world war came we would have surplus capacities for turning out steel, aluminum and other vital products.

While building up these extra capacities we generated larger incomes on the part of business, employees and almost everybody else and this income was readily spent for houses, goods, services and all the rest. We had "guns" and even more than the normal "butter" at the same time.

It does not seem reasonable to expect, therefore, that all this expanded industrial base should now in peacetime be operated at full capacity. That was not the intention. In fact, the contrary was intended. The government's plan was to have this expanded industrial base standing up, ready in case of an emergency. The theory was that even with these facilities standing by, we could still operate on a prosperous level.

How do you move from this kind of expansion into a period of normal prosperity without cutting back output and employment? That is a delicate, difficult job which we now face. Well timed fiscal and monetary policies on the part of the federal government can smooth the way. Meantime, business will accelerate research and new product development and step up sales and promotion effort.

Even if the current dip should continue further than is now indicated, we will recover from it. And the population growth, the new technology and new products backed by a sound but flexible monetary and fiscal policy—all clearly indicated for the future—will bring us to new heights of prosperity and human well-being.

COFFEE MILLIONS

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.—Spero Kounoukils is not satisfied with making three million but is working on his fourth million—cups of coffee, that is. For the last 41 years, Kounoukils, a restaurant operator, has made about 10 gallons of coffee each day or about 200 cups. He has worn out 14 coffee urns.

GOOD OLD DAYS!

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich.—Harley Rhodes discovered in a stack of dusty old newspapers one dated April 15, 1865. Top news then was the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln. But Rhodes found an item that would be big news today. A food advertisement offered coffee at 12 cents a pound.

Across The TRACKS

By H. H. H.

Nobody asked me, but I knew all along that it was going to rain in April. Few more days now, and good old Garza County will be bustin' all over. The grass will be green and the hillsides will be covered with flowers. The rabbits will be hopping about; and the frogs croaking; and the birds nesting; and the quails hollering; and the fishes . . . well, I don't know just how fish do act in the springtime . . . but, anyway, West Texas will be good to live in again.

About the only Springtime insect that arises in the warm old bones of this humble correspondent is the urge to write some immortal piece of prose for publication. There are two ways of going about this. One way is to write good enough so that somebody will buy the stuff. The other is to go down to Ed Hudman's halliwick with your pen in your hand and enough cash to pay his exorbitant copy rates, and then you can write all you want, and charge it off your income tax under the guise of advertising. There is, however, one distinct advantage in the latter method. Nobody can edit what you have to say. They may sue you, but they can't censor you.

To dispense with the trivia and get down to the meat of the coconut, my name is Hans Hudman and I operate a TEXACO SERVICE STATION across the railroad tracks (or the side of them—depending on which end of Post you live on) and I plan to use the columns of the Dispatch to give you my idea of just why I think you'll get a better deal at HUDMAN'S TEXACO SERVICE, plus a funny story now and then that maybe you hadn't heard.

I used to beat my brains against Ed's weekly dead-end, but this time I plan to appear weekly, semi-monthly, or occasionally, or just plain random—depending on time and finances (Ed won't create).

I know I'm no W. Winchell, but I am an opinionated cuss and if you disagree with anything I say—come on out CROSS THE TRACKS" and give me out in person—and maybe you'll roll out of place with a tank full of PER CHARGED SKYCHIEF at a Hudman Custom Tailor. Wash and lubrication job under my exterior meanness, when sometimes be plumb stumping!

False Information Spreads Easily About The Nature Of Tornadoes

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two special articles from State Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters on the nature of tornadoes. The second deals with what you can do in case such a disaster ever hits your area.)

AUSTIN—This is the tornado season, a time when disaster can strike with very little warning. It is also a time when false information spreads easily—far too easily, in fact—about the nature of tornadoes.

This week, State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters in Austin prepared some general tornado information in cooperation with the U. S. Weather Bureau for you. It may be that the day will come when that information will save your life.

Here is that information, in question and answer form. Test yourself on just how much you know and don't know about tornadoes.

Where can tornadoes occur?

Any place in the United States at any time of the year. They happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September.

How often do they occur?

The records show that the average number of days with tornadoes varies from 12 per year (Kansas) to one in 36 years (Nevada). The national average is 153 tornadoes a year.

How do you recognize a tornado?

It is usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly, and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. When close by, it sounds like the roar of hundreds of airplanes.

What is tornado "weather"?

Hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky. However, many such days occur without tornadoes.

What about the relation of clouds to tornadoes?

Familiar thunderstorm clouds are present. An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear sometimes bulging down instead of up. The clouds often have a greenish-black color.

Is there precipitation?

Rain, frequently hail, preceding the tornado, with a heavy downpour after it has passed can be counted on.

What time of day do tornadoes occur the most?

Mostly between 3 and 7 p. m., but they have occurred at all times.

What is the usual direction of travel?

In nearly all cases they move from southwest to northeast.

What is the average length of a tornado's path?

It is usually 10 to 40 miles, although they may move forward for 300 miles.

How about the general width?

It's usually 300 to 400 yards, even though they have cut swaths more than a mile in width.

How fast does a tornado travel?

It moves between 25 and 40 miles per hour on the average, although they have varied from 5 to 139 miles per hour.

What about wind speed?

It's been estimated as high as 500 miles per hour within the tornado.

What are the causes of a tornado's destructive force?

(a) Violent winds which uproot trees, destroy buildings, and which create a serious hazard from objects blown through the air.

(b) Differences in air pressure which can lift automobiles and can cause buildings to collapse.

Completion Nearing On First Cottage Of New Children's Home in Lubbock

The new Children's Home for West Texas, in Lubbock, is now a reality. Shown above is the first cottage of the new home nearing completion. It will be shown on April 18 and 19 during open house ceremonies as the work gets underway. The hours on April 18 will be from 2 to 6 and on the 19th from 10 to 6. Friends are urged to visit the new home on these two days to see the splendid facilities being provided for homeless children. The open house will feature the first of a series of 20 cottages being built at Lubbock on a 200-acre irrigated farm given as a homestead by Mrs. Ida S. Collins of Lubbock.

Each cottage will provide facilities for 18 children who will live together as a family group under carefully selected house parents. Requests have been received by the new home to care for a large number of children. Several have already been approved to be received and others are being investigated. Mr. and Mrs. Ben McMillin of Knox City have been selected as the house parents in this first cottage.

A second cottage is under construction and should be ready for 18 additional children about June 1. Minimum plans for 1954 call for the erection of three cottages with total facilities for 54 children. This new home is under the supervision of the elders of the Church of Christ at Broadway and Avenue T in Lubbock. John B. White, formerly of Austin, is the superintendent.

Guests of the Elmer Pettigrews last Sunday were their children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Caffey and daughter, Mrs. Ennis Hill and children of Goldthwaite and J. W. Pettigrew and family of Slaton.

FEATURE ATTRACTION

6 ELECTRIC RANGES GIVEN FREE!

FIND THE FEATURE AND WIN THE ELECTRIC RANGE OF YOUR CHOICE!

FEATURE ATTRACTION is your chance to find all of the electric range features that make it the most desired cooking method. And, at the very same time, it provides you an opportunity to win an electric range free.

Visit your Reddy Kilowatt Electric Appliance Dealer during the next two months, tell him you want to enter FEATURE ATTRACTION. He'll provide you with a complete demonstration of his electric range and your entry blank in the contest. Just describe the feature you like best in 25 words or less and you'll have your chance at winning one of the six free electric ranges.

HERE ARE THE RULES...

Your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer will give you a complete demonstration of his electric range. After the demonstration, you will receive a card on which to submit your entry. Just list the feature you like best, and tell why in 25 words or less.

SIX ELECTRIC RANGES WILL BE GIVEN AWAY

All entries will be judged on originality, clarity and appeal of thought. The names of the judges will be listed, and all entries become the property of Southwestern Public Service Company. Your entry must be in by June 15, 1954.

Prizes, restrictions, Public Service Company and other contest details are set forth in the contest card.
