

Thursday to Thursday

By CHARLES DIDWAY

This year's 1,382 poll tax total is the lowest with 1,668 votes being cast in the July primary.

In 1952, poll tax payments totaled 1,449, with 1,668 votes being cast in the July primary.

Voting in the August runoff election two years ago took a big drop from the July primary figures, with only 960 ballots being cast.

Four years ago, in 1950, a total of 1,442 poll taxes were paid and 1,654 votes cast in the first primary.

This year's poll tax payments are the lowest of any election year since 1946, when 1,302 receipts were issued.

This week's big event is the Post Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet, set for Friday night at the City Hall.

En route to the Post Grade School Friday afternoon to "wrap up" a Valentine pictorial feature, we were sorely tempted to unlimber the camera on the small office building of Sampson Bros. Construction Company.

In writing up the story on plans for the Rotary Club's annual Independent Basketball Tournament, we reminded ourselves "this is about where we came in."

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

Merchants All Over Country Are Offering Good Markdowns On Winter Merchandise

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Day by day, in buying power, your dollar is getting to be worth more.

Thanks to this country's tremendous productive capacity, which has been greatly increased in recent years, all kinds of consumer goods have been coming on the market in almost unprecedented volume.

Semi-annual stocktaking clearance sales are under way from one end of the land to the other.

For those of the fair sex whose fancy turns to furs, now is the time to indulge it. Furs definitely are on the bargain counter.

IT BEGINS AT HOME ...

The fact that charity begins at home has been emphasized here the past few weeks in connection with the school cafeteria's free lunch program for needy children.

Following a recent appeal for financial aid, made only after the number of these free lunches began to climb steadily, local groups have contributed to the fund and more contributions are coming.

It became evident even before the school term opened last September, that there would be more needy children to feed this school year than ever before.

It's true that charity begins at home and, while we agree that it shouldn't end there, local needs should be taken care of first.

About the most asinine appeal we've ever heard of is the one made by Irene Castle, ex-dancing star, that dogs and cats not be inoculated against rabies.

Not only is there never a dull moment in a newspaper office, but neither can you tell what's coming next.

We told Mrs. Key that there was a horse-shoe shaped magnet in the shop, which we'd be glad to let her borrow, but she said it wouldn't fill the bill.

SCRATCHPAD SCRAPS: Boy Scouts will wind up their 44th birthday observance Monday night with a father and son banquet.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

THE WOMEN, GOD LOVE 'EM: One who is smart enough to ask a man's advice seldom is dumb enough to take it.

A sign in front of a shoe repair shop pictured several styles of rubber heels and a beautiful girl was saying, "I'm in love with America's No. 1 heel."

The man who spends today bragging about what he's going to do tomorrow did the same thing yesterday.

CHARLIE DIDWAY tells me that on a recent visit to Stillwater, Okla., he introduced himself at the newspaper office there as "editor of The Post Dispatch."

In most Texas communities, the newspaper is "one of the family," and its name has become a by-word among the citizenry.

Did you ever stop to think about their names and where they originated?

Some take their titles from their localities; others have a name indicating a past or present political inclination; a few names point toward a goal or purpose.

Another of the one-of-a-kind names is the Cedar Hill Merry-Go-Round, which its publisher, Mrs. A. L. Childress, thought up while recuperating in a hospital.

Out in the west where the cattle roam and the cowboys sing, one can read the Ozona Stockman, the Hereford Brand, the Fort Stockton Pioneer, the Ropesville Plainsman and the Anson Western Observer.

Traveling down coastal way, one finds the Richmond Texas Coaster and the Port Lavaca Wave; and up in the red-clayed, pine-covered country of East Texas are the Nacogdoches Redland Herald and the Omaha Breeze.

According to recent statistics, the most popular name for Texas newspapers is the News, under which title 122 publications are printed.

There are 14 Journals and 14 Suns. A Review may be found 13 times in the state and a Leader 10 times.

There are six Posts and six Americans in Texas, and five each of the following: Sentinel, News-Herald, Standard, Observer and Bulletin.

There are two of the following: Free Press, Telegram, Facts, Citizen-Journal, Register, Rustler, Express, Success, Favorite, Inquirer, New Era, Advance, Newsboy, Times-Review, News-Record, Gazette-Ness, Times-Herald and News-Tribune.

Among the many unusual names for newspapers are the Liberty Vindicator, Panola Watchman, Eagle Lake Headlight, Pampa Spokesman, Goliad Advance Guard, Bando Anvil-Herald, Karnes City Citation, Madisonville Meteor, Schulerburg Sticker, Rockport Pilot, Longview Lens, Rusk Cherokee and Carrizo Springs Javelin.

Perhaps bring to your city the stock of some out-of-town firm that is liquidating. Be not afraid to cut your own prices for a short period.

A Word To Merchants: Perhaps bring to your city the stock of some out-of-town firm that is liquidating. Be not afraid to cut your own prices for a short period.

THE AMERICAN WAY

This Nation Under God

Our Contemporaries Are Saying

Political Mud-Slinging: Now that election year is here you can expect political mud to come from every direction.

High Salaried Worker: We are indebted to a Tennessee paper for this little story about the young pickaninny, who while munching an ice cream cone, was approached by a stranger and asked if he might be directed to the local bank.

Newspaper Advertising: A good advertiser gets his advertising message to the greatest number of people at the smallest possible cost.

This Is The Day: Every day is the basis for a new chapter of life. What we write on the pages of today cannot be erased by what we did yesterday nor what we plan to do tomorrow.

The World Improves: Of course the world improves. Now apples are bought by the pound and automobiles are parked by the hour.

An Unsung Hero: If we were worth $5,000 we would certainly like to have the honor and privilege of going on the bond of Robert Walkup, charged with stealing $8,000 in nickels from parking meters in Wichita Falls.

Masters Problem: No other profession has so successfully mastered the problem of customer resistance as the undertaker.

God in His wisdom and mercy: at Brownfield, once wrote that he referred in his newspaper to the Ralls Banner as the "Ralls Banana" and made Ernest Joiner, Banner publisher, so mad that Joiner took the Banner off the Herald's exchange list.

I've often wondered why some enterprising fellow in a town where there is a 12th Street does not locate a paper on it and call it the "Twelfth Street Rag."

Remembering Yesteryears ...

Five Years Ago This Week: Mrs. Bruce Shepherd has received word that the body of her brother, Lt. A. F. Reese, is being sent home for burial.

Ten Years Ago This Week: Lt. Gordon Suits and wife of Fort Dix, N. J., are visiting his parents, the A. A. Suits; Sgt. Samuel W. Hawthorne was killed in an airplane crash near Riverside, Calif., Feb. 1 and was buried here Feb. 6.

Fifteen Years Ago This Week: Mrs. E. W. Williams underwent surgery in a Lubbock hospital Monday; Sheriff-Tax Collector Jim Power has announced that 895 Garza County residents paid their poll taxes by the deadline, Feb. 1.

Double U Company Aids Hotel Project

The Double U Company at Levelland has presented $500 to the Levelland Chamber of Commerce for purchase of bonds from the proposed $10,000 bonds to be issued by Hotel Levelland, Inc.

At the time the money was being raised to build the hotel, the Double U Company presented $10,000 to the chamber to purchase 100 shares of stock. The $500 was said to have been added as the company's share of the added $10,000 fixture cost, which was above what hotel planners originally anticipated.

All Price-Supported Commodities On Fair Basis Under New Program

(Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of questions and answers which gives information on the chief provisions of the new farm recommendations covered in a special message to the Congress from President Eisenhower.)

Q. What are the advantages of the modernized parity formula?
 A. It permits parity to reflect changes in farm costs as farming methods are improved. It also takes account of the consequences of changing trends in demand for different farm commodities and products.

Q. What effect would the modernized parity formula have?
 A. First, it would place all price-supported farm commodities on a fair basis, ending the present situation in which some commodities come under the new parity calculation while others are exempt. The basic commodities are exempt until 1956, their computations being based either on the old or new formula, whichever is higher. The old formula is based on the conditions of the 1909-14 period and does not allow for increased production efficiency or changes in consumer demand. The modernized formula is based on a progressive ten-year average.

Second, it would provide support for all commodities at a realistic level, in keeping with present-day conditions. For example, in 1950 it took wheat farmers an average of only 26 hours to produce 100 bushels of wheat as compared with 106 hours in 1910-14. Thus, parity for wheat under the new formula is 15 per cent lower than under the old. For peanuts, parity is 23 per cent lower. For corn it is 10 per cent lower. And for cotton it is 4 per cent lower.

Q. How would the changeover to the new formula be made?
 A. The exemption from the modernized parity formula now granted the basic commodities would be allowed to expire as scheduled on Jan. 1, 1956. Following this, the changeover

Scout Hobby Led To Big Careers In Atomic Science

Two South Dakota school teachers, concerned about keeping their sons and their playmates out of mischief over twenty years ago turned to Boy Scouting as the answer to their problem.

Today their sons, former Scouts, have made big names for themselves in atomic science. Their story is made public during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, because that observance is dedicated to honor the hundreds of thousands of men who share their time and talents with the youth of America in devoted leadership service.

School Superintendent Tuve and School Principal Lawrence knew that their little town did not offer much in the way of recreational facilities. They felt that if their teaching efforts were to be successful they would need to find new interests for the town's boys.

They organized a troop and became its leaders. But getting the boys into Scout uniform was not enough. They had to find something that would capture their fancy and keep them interested. First they tackled the ever-present problem of finances.

Mr. Tuve and Mr. Lawrence helped the Scouts stage a minstrel show. They bought wireless equipment with the proceeds. Few persons understood the mystery of this new device. The boys took it up with a will, became radio "hams" and talked to persons in nearby states as well as far-off countries. The Scout project awakened the interest of the educators' sons in electronics and later physics.

Dr. Merle Tuve and a former classmate from the University of Minnesota, Dr. Lawrence Haffstad, now work together at the Carnegie Institute of Terrestrial Magnetism. Together they perfected the variable timing device—the proximity fuse. They were the first persons to demonstrate atomic fission.

The other former Scout, Ernest Lawrence, is now in charge of atomic research at the University of California. A winner of a Noble prize, it was he who invented the cyclotron.

Over Jordan Scene Is Painted In Calvary Baptist Church Baptistry

The oil painting of the River Jordan in the baptistry of the Calvary Baptist Church here has been completed by Mrs. C. Scott of Lubbock—her third oil painting in recent years.

Lubbock artist's other two oil paintings are in a home at Chowchilla, Calif., and the Trinity Baptist Church at Lubbock. She was invited to paint the baptistry here after members of the local church saw the one she had completed at Lubbock.

"I've been painting since I was a child, but these three baptistry scenes are the first work I've done for my God," said Mrs. Scott.

The River Jordan scene at the church here has a remarkable effect of depth—almost a three-dimensional appearance. Mrs. Scott attributes this effect to the shape of the baptistry. "I painted the two sides and then the back of the baptistry," she said. "It was the first time I ever turned a corner in a painting."

The scene, which shows the river flowing between majestic bluffs, is her conception of the famous biblical stream. She said she studied everything she could find pertaining to the river in which Jesus was baptized. "I learned that the origin of the river is a spring caused by an earthquake," she said.

Mrs. Scott, who paints in five mediums—oil, water colors, charcoal, crayon and china—said she worked on the painting three or four weeks. "But only a few hours at a time," she added, "since an artist must wait for the right mood."

Mrs. Scott said the effect of the painting would be improved by installation of a glass window in the front of the baptistry.

The Lubbock woman's husband is employed by Anderson & Clayton Cotton Co. They have two grown sons, both married. "Incidentally," said Mrs. Scott, "I'm the only one of the family interested in painting."

Games were played and punch and cake were served to the following: Alyn Cox, Ann Pennington, Chapoy Murphy, Pam McCrary, Jan Herring, Butch Cross, Betty Jo Hill, Karen, Bruce, Jr., and Reese Ellen Shepherd of Levelland, Mary Nell Shepherd the honoree, Mrs. Robert Cox and the hostess.

The Parent-Teacher Association will observe Founder's Day with a program and tea in the school cafeteria at 3 p. m. today, Mrs. Lee Davis will give a book review.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wish I'd Said That

You know Miss Perkins, Well, she's been driving her own car around our town for a little more than 30 years.

The other day she had a bit of trouble parking down on Main Street. Didn't quite make it the first try, so she pulled out to start over when a fellow waiting to pass started tooting his horn impatiently.

On the second try, she was still having a little difficulty and so this smart aleck bellowed, "Lady, do you know how to drive?" "Yes, young man," Miss Perkins answered, "I do. But I don't have time to teach you now."

From where I sit, it's not always easy to have a good answer ready when you need it. But when somebody insists that I vote for his candidate, for instance, or choose tea instead of a temperate glass of beer with dinner, I know the answer. It's all a matter of personal preference . . . and none of us like "backseat driving" from anybody.

Sees New Models Of Hoffman TVs

Ten new 1954 models of Hoffman Easy-Vision television sets were seen by Victor Hudman of Hudman Furniture Store at a recent showing of the new models in Lubbock.

Hudman said he was told by Plains Distributing Co. that the first Hoffman Colorcaster receivers would come off the production lines in about two months, priced at $1,200 for a 12 1/2-inch screen.

The new million dollar Hoffman factory in Kansas City is scheduled to begin production on radios in February and these will be the first radios made by the company in three years. Hoffman radios have been well-known in this area for their ability to pick up distant stations.

A feature of the new Hoffman television sets and high fidelity record players is their "trio-phonie" system of using two different sets of all the sounds the human ear can hear. Before this year most of the very high and very low notes were inaudible on most TV sets.

Connell Chevrolet Co. .... Sells Dealership

We wish to thank each and every one of our friends and customers for their patronage during the years that we have been privileged to serve as your Chevrolet Dealer. It has been our pleasure to serve you for the past thirty years in this capacity.

During this time, we know that we have made many friends for ourselves as well as CHEVROLET. We are very remorseful that the time has come when we will no longer be in the Chevrolet business, as we have sold our business to Mr. John Lott and Mr. Wayne Brown, and they will assume management on February 11.

We trust that our friends and customers will continue to give the new company, CAPROCK CHEVROLET, the same consideration and patronage which we have enjoyed these many years.

We will maintain an office in the Joe Moss building for the present time and all future transactions with the CONNELL CHEVROLET COMPANY may be made there.

The owners and employees take this means of expressing to you, our sincere appreciation and thanks.
