Antelope Football Squad Is Honored At Booster Club Banquet Thursday Night

Post's most valuable football player for 1952 was honored at the Booster Club's annual banquet Thursday night in the school cafeteria. Pete Hays, 130 pound guard and linebacker, was chosen by the Booster Club members and coaches to receive the award. Dave Willis, Lubbock lawyer and insurance man, presented the award to Hays. Willis is the originator of this idea, which was put in motion this year and will become an annual event. Hays was presented a miniature trophy to keep and a large trophy which is to be left in the school trophy case. The permanent trophy will have each year's most valuable player's name engraved on it. The awards are on display in Greenfield's Hardware and will be there until Monday. C. R. Pattison, head of the Lubbock High School coaching staff, was the principal speaker for the banquet held in honor of Post High School's 1952 football squad. James Minor, Booster Club member, served as master of ceremonies. Bing Bingham, Antelopes' head coach, Vernon Ray, line coach, and Pattison were given gift certificates for new hats by the Booster Club. Bingham was the first of the coaches to make a short speech. He commented on the past season and introduced each member of the squad. After the squad had been introduced, the five all-district players were singled out by Bingham. Squad members who made the all-district teams were Nolan Williams, Bobby Cowdrey, L. W. Evans, offensive players; Hays and Darrell Stone, defensive players. Ray and Herman Raphael, grade school coach, made short talks commenting on the past football season and the basketball season, which is in progress now. In his speech, Pattison praised the coaching staff of Post schools and told the Booster Club members that they were fortunate to have men like Bingham and Ray as heads of the athletic systems of Post High School. "The thing the boys will remember most about their coaches will be the moral values they taught," Pattison said. "A coach can't survive in the coaching profession if he's interested only in a win and lose record." Pattison told the group that there are things more important than football. One of these things is education. He went on to say that he believes that a football player learns things that will last him through life. "A man should have a good mind, but I believe that a strong body physically as well as a strong body mentally is important," he added. The Lubbock coach emphasized the large part environment plays in a man's life and how friendships an individual forms can influence his entire life. "We must direct our thinking the right way and friendships can help us do that. Friendships are formed because of mutual likes and feelings, we must make certain these friendships are the right influence on us," he said. "Football is more parallel to life than anything I can think of," Pattison said. He pointed out that a boy learns to meet

Speech Play To Be Presented Friday Night

"Magnificent Obsession," a three-act drama will be presented by Post High School speech class tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the grade school auditorium. The play is adapted from a book by the late Lloyd C. Douglas, author of such outstanding books as "The Robe" and "The Big Fisherman." "Magnificent Obsession" is a unique type of story and remained on the Best Seller list for seven years. It has been translated into many languages and has thrilled over two million readers. Herbert Aduddell, Post High School speech instructor, is director of this play, which tells the trouble encountered by a young man striving to become a brain surgeon. A famous surgeon, Dr. Hudson, is drowned one afternoon because of the carelessness of a thoughtless young millionaire. The millionaire ultimately learns his life has cost the world the life of a great brain surgeon. Someway or somehow he intends to, if he can, fill the doctor's place. This play portrays the conflicting events of young Doctor Bobby Merrick in his struggle to give back to the world a great brain surgeon. Stars are L. W. Evans, who will enact the role of Bobby Merrick; Natalie Tracy will portray Dr. Hudson's wife and Buena Welch will play the role of the secretary during 1953.

Cotton Ginnings To Date Up To 13,234

Total ginnings for Garza County, which are almost finished for the current season, had reached 13,234 bales, a check-up made Wednesday afternoon at the six operating plants revealed. Not more than 75 bales are expected to be gathered over the entire county, which should boost the final total to 14,300 bales. Two of the plants, Planters Gin Company of Post and the Southland plant are "winding-up" operations this weekend and will close down for the season. The remaining four plants will operate on set days until all the "scrapping up" is finished, plant managers said. The report showed that the plant at Close City had the highest total, with 3,466 bales processed to date. Graham gin plant follows a close second with 3,345 bales. Ginnings at the Graham gin estimate their total will climb to 3,375 before the season ends. Southland plant had a total of 1,948. The Storie plant at Garnolia had 1,405 bales and expects to receive 20 to 25 more before closing down for the season. Planter's Gin Company had a (See GINNINGS Page 8)

Poll Tax Payments Are Falling Short

Poll tax payments, which assure you voting privileges in 1953, are running less than half those of last year. Deputy Tax Collector Carl Cederholm said Monday afternoon that 384 poll tax receipts had been issued up to that time, as compared to 818 at that date last year. This year's receipts have brought in $672, while last year's poll tax pocketbook contained $1,431.50. Cederholm attributed the decline in payment of poll taxes to the fact that 1953 is an "off-election" year, but pointed out that residents of the County should secure poll taxes to participate in special elections. "There will probably be amendments to the state constitution passed by the Legislature upon which the public will be given a chance to vote, and there is always the probability of a special local election," he reminded. The first poll tax of the season was issued to Jake Webb on October 8. The tax collector also warned taxpayers that one and one half per cent penalty will be added to their unpaid tax bills on and after February 1.

Shytles To Head Red Cross Drive

Power Shytles, Post farm implement dealer, has been appointed and has accepted the Red Cross campaign fund chairmanship. It was announced the first of the week by County Chairman J. Lee Bowen. The annual campaign to raise Garza County's $1,341 quota for 1953 will be conducted during March, Bowen said. A Post group of Red Cross workers, including both Bowen and Shytles, Dean Amador, former County chairman, Mrs. Mable Lawrence, chairman of commerce secretary, Friday noon will attend an area "kick-off" luncheon at the Caprock Hotel in Lubbock. Plans for conducting the campaign will be presented to the workers by Red Cross officials and literature and materials for the drive will be distributed.

Dimes March Will Swing Into High Gear Saturday

Final plans for the 1953 March of Dimes fund raising campaign will be mapped out tomorrow and the drive will get underway Saturday with a personal appeal in some form to every county resident. This year's dimes march is getting off to a slow start, explained County Chairman Walter Crider yesterday, but he emphasized the fact that the most active phase of the 1953 campaign lies in the two weeks ahead before the January 31 deadline. Late arrival of supplies and the limited amount received, has hindered in mapping out the program, Crider said. "Another hindering factor is our lateness in selecting a drive chairman and sufficient number of helpers. These appointments will be made Friday and the drive will swing into operation Saturday morning." "No set goal has been announced," continued Crider, but he explained that on the nationwide basis each county is expected to raise 40c per capita, which would mean that some $2,400 is expected by the National Polio Foundation. Last year Garza County contributed approximately $2,900 to the movement, some $500 over the per capita based total. The need for polio funds is greater this year than ever before, declared the chairman. "There were several cases of polio in Garza County last year and the March of Dimes must help in paying a part of the expenses. We are down to the bottom of our funds and must raise a large amount to cover last year's expenses and prepare for the new year," he emphasized. The drive is on a county-wide basis and contacts will be made throughout the County. Campaigns will get underway in each rural community by next week and a sweeping drive will be conducted before the deadline. Collection aids, featuring coin containers, and appropriate March of Dimes posters will be placed in the stores and all public places Saturday morning. Other solicitation literature will be distributed to the workers who will volunteer their services to the effort. The "Mothers' March" will climax the campaign when it is staged on January 29, from 7 until 9 p. m. A chairman for this phase of the drive will be selected rural chairmen and co-workers Friday. Bouchier Gets Water Board Appointment Appointment of Tom W. Bouchier of this city as a member of the Governor's Water Conservation Committee was announced here the first of the week after a letter was received by Joe S. Moss from State Senator Harley Sadler, who recommended the Post man to Governor Allan Shivers. The appointment was made January 8. Governor Shivers' letter to Bouchier, read in part, as follows: "Mr. Tom W. Bouchier, Post, Texas. Dear Mr. Bouchier: "I hereby appoint you a member of the Governor's Water Conservation Committee. I hope that you can serve on this Committee as this is a very important project. "The Committee has been a most active one under the leadership of Mr. J. B. Thomas, chairman, of Fort Worth. Chairman Thomas will get in touch with you regarding the past work and future plans. "With very best wishes, I am Sincerely yours, Allan Shivers." Mr. Bouchier took the announcement with complete surprise (See BOUCHIER Page 8)

Poka-Lambro Telephones To Begin Operating Soon

Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., hopes to have its first lines in operation within the next sixty days. W. D. Harmon, manager, stated this week. Section I-A, including most of Lynn County and a part of Garza County, is nearing completion. Actual operation awaits installation of equipment in the five unattended automatic central exchange stations and the installation of the six hundred (600) handsets in the homes of members. One contractor is now completing the work of building the more than 400 miles of lines on the initial project. Another has just recently completed the erection of the five exchange buildings. Most of the equipment is on hand for these exchanges, and the contractor on this expects to require about three weeks for this installation, which is expected to start soon. Poka-Lambro is nearly ready to let contracts of Section I-B, known as the Lamesa unit, which will also have about four hundred (400) miles of lines and exchange plants at East O'Donnell, West O'Donnell, Patricia, Hatch, Gall, and Punkin Center. Then work will start laying plans for the west half of the area projected by rural telephone service in Terry, Gaines, Yoakum, and Hockley Counties. Most of Northern Lynn County rural telephones will have direct connection with Tahoka, while many of the members in the second project, especially Wells, T. (See POLA-LAMBRO Page 8)

Four Scouts Are Making Plans To Attend National Jamboree

An interesting educational and extremely exciting sight-seeing trip has been planned by South Plains Council officials for Boy Scouts who will attend the Third National Scout Jamboree at Santa Anna, Calif. July 17-23. In the area group 180 Scouts and at least 15 staff members are already making plans for the trip. The Scouts will be formed into five Council troops of 36 boys each, and among the trippers will be four Post boys who have already made reservations. Three of the boys, Jack Lott, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lott; Leonard Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Short; and V. A. Dodson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dodson; have sent in their reservations. A check for the fourth Scout, who will be selected by a troop committee early in March to make the trip with all expenses paid by the John Miller VFW Post No. 6797, was sent to the Council headquarters Tuesday. The Scout, to be eligible for consideration for the VFW trip, must be of second class rank and must be one whose parents can not afford to finance his trip. He will be chosen on the merits of advancement, attendance and Scouting spirit. Too, he must present evidence of physical fitness. The committee making the selection will also closely observe the way the individual has lived up to Scout laws. Accompanying the Scouts will be John Lott, former scoutmaster of Troop 16, member of the Council executive board and member of the regional staff. Mr. Lott attended the last Jamboree at Valley Forge, Penn., in 1949. Members of the VFW post some weeks ago decided to sponsor a Scout to the Jamboree. A vote was taken by the organization and it was agreed that the post would finance the trip "all-the-way" so that some boy, who otherwise could not possibly make the journey, would be able to attend this wonderful occasion. The trip will be made in air-conditioned chartered buses. The itinerary has been planned as follows: From Lubbock the delegation will go to Raton, N. M., where they will make an overnight stop at the famous Philmont Scout Ranch. A tour will be made through Royal Gorge, Colo., en route to Salt Lake City, Utah. From Salt City the buses will head for Sequoia National Park, Calif., and after visiting there the trippers will be off to Los Angeles and to Long Beach, where they will cross over the Pacific for a day on Catalina Island. The forward end of the journey will be at the Irvine Ranch near Santa Anna, Calif., where the Jamboree will take place. In addition to the requirement of the regulation Jamboree, the Scouts will be required to own. The Jamboree site itself is a historical attraction. The Irvine Ranch having originally been a 90,000-acre land grant from a Spanish king. Two thousand acres of the property has been set aside for the Scout festival. The area is shadowed by Mount Palomar and Scouts will be provided side-trips to visit the two observatories on the mountain. The Third National Jamboree will be attended by Scouts and their leaders from every state in the Union and at least fifteen foreign countries, are sending boys to attend the great event. The round trip and Jamboree expense will cost each boy $189. Reservation to the requirement of the regulation Jamboree, the Scouts will be required to own.

Words To Live By Today and Everyday...

"Anyone can carry his burden, however hard, until nightfall. Anyone can do his work, however hard, for one day," said Robert Louis Stevenson years ago.

One of the most appalling commentaries on our present way of life is that half of our hospitals are occupied by patients with nervous and mental troubles. A principal cause is that too many people allow themselves to collapse under crushing burdens of accumulated yesterdays and fearful tomorrows.

The answer, according to the philosophy of Stevenson, is to live for today. It probably will work out that a part of today's work calls for reviewing the past or planning for the future but there is no excuse for doing so with panic or regret. In fact, we should assemble the facts and push on from there.

Today is the only time we can possibly live. Let us not turn it into a mental or physical hell by aimless worry about the future or by fretting over the blunders we made yesterday.

If we can remember how a walking trip seems shorter if we concentrate not on the total distance to our destination but just the distance to the next milepost our journey will be easier. In the same way we can concentrate on living just for today, making every minute of every hour the best we can possibly make it. If we can do this, better tomorrows will follow and by gone yesterdays with their mistakes and regrets will fade away.

If we will just follow Stevenson's philosophy, our tomorrows will be beautiful yesterdays and our tomorrows will be inevitably be brighter.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, (AP)—So far as Texas is concerned, the election of Lyndon B. Johnson as Senate Democratic floor leader probably was the most important aspect of the opening of the 83rd Congress.

Not in the 52 years that records have been kept regarding the senate leadership of the two major political parties has anyone so young been elevated to that position.

Johnson now is 44. The average age of the Democratic floor leaders in the past upon assuming office has been 67, that of the Republican floor leaders 69 plus, almost 70.

Heretofore, the youngest among Democrats to take over the job was the late Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, who started in 51 in 1923. The youngest Republican assuming the leadership of that party was Styles Bridges of New Hampshire who took the post last year at 54.

Aside from age, Johnson's becoming a party floor leader is noteworthy because only one other man in the recorded period had fewer years of service in the Senate. Johnson has just completed four years. John W. Kern of Indiana became Democratic floor leader in 1913 after only two years in the Senate; he was 64 at the time.

Only four Senate Democrats heretofore have become floor leaders when under 60, and only three Republicans when under that age.

Johnson's present position of influence in the Senate is much like that of Bonham's Congressman Sam Rayburn.

He, after, who was 71 on Jan. 6, stepped down from the House speakership on Jan. 3 and turned his gavel over to Rep. Joe Martin (R-Mass). The veteran Texas lawmaker, who had served as speaker longer than any other man in the history of the nation, then became the House minority party floor leader.

In brief remarks made as he stepped down from the speaker's rostrum, Rayburn lauded Martin, then smilingly expressed the hope that the switchover would be only temporary.

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week...

Future Transportation Of People And Freight Will Be Controlled By The Power Of Gravity

Babson Park, Mass.—Going back millions of years, the Evolutionists claim that our earliest ancestors transported themselves by wiggling their tails in the water; and finally developed legs from their fins so as to walk on dry land. Assuming these Scientists are right—although they may not be—then these lizards finally developed into human beings. Hence, we will start our essay on Transportation of beginning it with WALKING.

Changes Always Occur

As our ancestors became tired of always walking, they used SLEDS hauled by various tamed animals—from oxen to horses. At the same time, they made CANOES out of hollowed logs, which they finally developed into SAILING VESSELS. This was the state of the art when North America was settled, although CARTS with WHEELS were soon used to take the place of sleds.

When I was a boy the only means of transportation was HORSES and buggies, wagons, barges and "hacks" which took people to weddings and funerals. RAILROAD lines were rapidly being constructed and STEAM-BOATS performed an important function. Fares were cheap and freight rates low on all these modes of transportation. Although changes and improvements were very gradual, yet they were continually taking place.

Streetcars And Busses

I saw the first horse CAR LINE constructed in Gloucester, and later one of my first jobs was to work on changing that horse car line into an electric line. I remember being gaily thrilled by taking my wedding trip on electric street cars with various changes. Fifty years ago the entire country was honeycombed by ELECTRIC CAR lines, most of which have been discarded. The early promoters of these electric lines made a lot of money; but when automobiles came most of them lost their money.

This change brought about the development of BUS TRANSPORTATION both within the cities and between the cities. The only way most electric car lines could compete with automobiles was ripping up their rails and operating on rubber tires. As a result, the public is now getting better service from these busses than they ever had from streetcars or horse-drawn hacks which developed into motor-driven taxis. In the meantime, RAILROADS were forced to greatly improve their service with faster and air-conditioned trains.

Transportation Conditions Today

Transportation is no longer a luxury. I cannot understand why the Interest Commerce and various State Regulatory Commissions are kept alive, except to give political jobs. Not only are all the means above competing with themselves, but the TRUCKS and PRIVATE AUTOMOBILES are competing with all of these other different branches of transportation. Furthermore, the airplane is constantly carrying more passengers and more freight. The next step will be to the helicopter. In fact, I have recently bought a high, flat-roofed building in Boston, with direct subway connections, to serve as a landing place for helicopters.

Have we reached an end of radical changes in the transportation of persons and goods? I say "No." What the next step will be none of us can now tell. Some think it will come through a new engine using atomic power in some form. Others believe that we will return to running our busses and motorcars by electric storage batteries instead of gasoline. The electricity might be made very cheaply from the rays of the sun shining on the roofs of our garages. (In Miami the hot water used in homes is heated by the sun on the roofs of the houses.)

Remember Power Of Gravity

I believe that the power of Gravity will be used to transport people and freight. The Gravity Research Foundation, with headquarters at New Boston, New Hampshire, already each year offers rewards or essays on "HOW TO HARNESS GRAVITY." The 1952 awards were just made. They are very suggestive of great changes ahead. Surely the future is very bright for all of us, if other industries are developing as rapidly as the Transportation Industry.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

THE WOMEN. God Love 'Em—Cop to woman driver. "Didn't you see that stop sign?" "Sure I saw it, I hit it didn't."

Who was that Post woman who told her husband that there was "too much month left over after the end of the money?"

About the most popular labor-saving device for women is still a husband with money.

Now that we are into the third week of our new year I might recall that the year 1952 was the second worst in history, so far as labor relations were concerned.

According to someone, who probably is unemployed by now, and who found time to check up on watching the other fellows, there were 4950 strikes, only 35 fewer than in the record-breaking, post war year of 1946. The strikers lost 55 million man-days of wages, not nearly as much as the 116 million man-days in 1946, but more than any other year.

The big jolt to the employee pocketbooks was provided by the steel strike of last summer. Steelworkers will never recover what they lost. The strike was not only the biggest single walkout, but it was unnecessary, because of the absurdities which it brought on. It could have been avoided by a good honest job of meditation, with a little good faith pitched in on both sides.

Industry leaders thought it about time they set their feet in concrete before the wage dispute began, and the union's leaders started the "bargaining" with a strike threat and followed up with extreme demands they had no hope of attaining. The real villain in the piece was the government. That man, whose name has been forever dropped from this column, took the case away from the federal mediators and handed it over to a Wage Stabilization Board which aggravated the dispute almost beyond repair. The little man took every possible illegal and improper action, and no legal steps, as a result with his election fix with the union.

Laws are useless in an administration which won't use them. But in any circumstances, the only sound formula for averting strikes is good faith on both sides of the bargaining table.

It's when a man loses a $10,000 a-year job that he realizes he's worth about half that amount.

And speaking of salaries, you've probably read about the big salary cuts most of Ike's boys will take when they move into Washington.

Charles E. Wilson's yearly pay from General Motors was $626,000. He'll get $22,500 a year from Uncle Sam.

The new Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, has been getting about $200,000 a year from his law firm. George M. Humphrey, Ohio industrialist who will head the treasury. Herbert Brownell, the new attorney general, and Sinclair Weeks who moves into commerce, have all been in the $100,000 a year class. Arthur Summerfield, new postmaster general, has been getting about $75,000 a year as an auto dealer. Each will take salary cuts, but presumably all will have income from investments, as well as federal salaries, on which to live.

So far as I've been able to learn the only one who will benefit himself financially by taking a cabinet post is Martin Durkin, who now draws $20,000 a year as head of a plumber's union. His appointment as secretary of labor will mean a payraise.

And, commenting on the appointment of the ex-plumber, Ed Erand in his column, "Kicking the News Around," in the Kingsville Record says: "Maybe they need some plumbers in the State and Justice departments, since there is where most of the 'leaks' have occurred."

HERE'S GOOD NEWS, GIRLS! Texas may have enough men to go around by 1960.

I picked up this bit of glad tidings from Texas Business Review, the monthly publication of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Robert H. Ryan, writing in the Review, put it this way:

"Perhaps a marked insurge of men workers seeking jobs in Texas industry during the present census period will be found to have balanced Texas' male-female ratio in 1960." Ryan further pointed out that "males are slightly more mobile than females, but, on the other hand, the female population of Texas now outnumbers the male, and for the first time in Texas history."

Cheer up girls, and await your turn.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "It is better to understand a little than to misunderstand a lot."

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

Say Thanks
This being "Elected Official Appreciation Month," we suggest you pat your official friends on the back and commend them for a job well done rather than call them names for a change. It will surprise said officials to the extent that you will probably make lifelong friends with just a little effort on your part. It could even be that all elected officials are not "crooked politicians" as we have been led to believe. Strange as it seems, today a public office is still a public trust. All politicians are not crooks. Almost every public servant is doing a sincere and honest job for you. We're not asking you to make a 12 month job of it, but during January take time out to say "Thanks" to your public servants. You will still have eleven months left in which to "cuss" them.—The Crosbyton Review.

We thought 1953 was going to get a nice, quiet and progressive start in Ralls. Which shows to you that it doesn't pay to think. Everything was fine the morning of Dec. 25. We wouldn't even have walked across the street to boot old goody Joe McCarthy in the seat of the pants. Then along came the enlightened public and voted down the water issue! That did it. We thought the guy was extinct who clung desperately to grandpaw's sulphur, kerosene and molasses, open-pit toilets and the philosophy of the sanctity of non-bathing. But we found he is survived by 44 aggressive voters who fight back here in Ralls with all the viciousness of a cat over a clothesline. Not only do these 44 people demand that their own necks go unwashed, they made it legal that we've got to let ours get caked up, too. This crusading spirit may be a virtue in some fields, but when it starts knocking the chaser out of our hands, that's dirty aggression. Camp Post Takes On New Look As Improvements Continue

A building and improvement project has been in motion at the C. W. Post Memorial Boy Scout camp during the past four years. This project has amounted to $128,300 and was made possible by friends and supporters.

Exteriors of the buildings are painted in the light brown color that is used on all other camp houses, with the exception of the mess hall, which is white brick. Two new shower buildings have recently been completed. These are made of masonry stone and are painted white. Equipment in each includes four showers, three lavatories and four commodes. Completion of the two shower houses makes a total of four such buildings at Camp Post, the new ones will be used by the Scouts, one is used by the cooks and the other by members of the staff.

The mess hall was completed early last summer. It is made of white brick with enough tables and chairs for patrols of eight to sit together. Approximately 100 Scouts can be fed at one time in the mess hall. The large kitchen is arranged to give the cooks ample working room and storage space. It is a custom for the troops and patrols to have a boy to serve on K. P. duty. He must set the table of his patrol and wash the dishes afterward. To keep boys on K. P. from being in the way of the cooks the designer of the mess hall fixed special counters and dish washing facilities for the boys. Included in the kitchen is a room for the cooks to sleep in.

A new trading post and equipment storage room is a part of the recent development work. The trading post is used to sell candy, soft drinks and handicrafts supplies to the boys. The storage room is used for all movable equipment during the time the camp is not open. This is also finished on the inside with knotty pine paneling and the exterior is painted in the light brown color.

The modern swimming pool and ranger home were the first projects completed when the development movement was started. The ranger's home is built in the style specified by the Post when they donated the money for its erection. The swimming pool is complete with shower house and latest safety equipment. Runkles said that this is one project that has added more interest to the camp for boys on the South Plains. "Most of these boys don't know how to swim when they come to camp and we have capable instructors to teach them. Of course, swimming is one of the major requirements for Scouting."

Only one original building is left standing at the camp since the improvement plan began. This building is called the headquarters and is used in signing the boys in when they report for camp. Another original fixture is the old water tower. It is used for reserve purposes and in case of fire. Runkles said "If something should happen to the new reservoir, we can switch over to the old tower," he added.

Camp Post is one of two camps used by the 20 counties South Plains Council of Boy Scouts of America. The recent development work has made it acquire a new fame among Scouting camp throughout Texas. Runkles and Postma both stated that the number of boys attending the camp session each summer has almost doubled since the improvement work was begun.

"This camp can and should mean a lot to Post. We are proud of the progress that has been made there and feel that every friend of Scouting in this area should feel the same way," Runkles said.

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL COACH OF YEAR—J. W. Blaine (above) assistant coach at Sundown, Texas, has been voted the Texas School Coach of 1952 in a poll taken by the Texas Sports Writers Association. It was while he was coach at Dimmitt, Texas, a Class A school, that Blaine gained his fame, coaching the state champions in both boys and girls basketball in Class A. He also coached football and track at the school. He resigned his job at Dimmitt because of overwork.

January Is Designated As Hand Signal Month Of Motorists By Texas Governor

A message of life and death to automobile drivers.

If you are one of those who continues to defy courtesy while at the wheel, you are destined—by the law of averages—to be killed or maimed in a car wreck.

Of course, you could come out whole in the smash, but the dead or crippled body of an innocent victim of your discourtesy might lie beside you.

These words of warning came from W. Carl Morris, Jr., of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., which is sponsoring Governor Allan Shivers' hand signal campaign in behalf of traffic safety education.

Governor Shivers on December 31 issued an official memorandum designating January as Hand Signal Month in Texas, urging all drivers to heed the theme: "Right turn—hand up. Left turn—hand out. Slow or stop—hand down."

"Hand signals are the signs of life," said Morris. "They reflect the courteous and thoughtful driver on the alert to prevent accidents and death on our highways. The driver who gives hand signals is automatically reminded of other aspects of traffic safety—the consideration of pedestrian, the danger of weaving in traffic, the death-dealing results of speed, the folly of hogging the road, the importance of yielding the right-of-way."

"Traffic safety education is a splendid element but we must have the cooperation of all motorists if needless slaughter is to be averted. More drivers must practice the preaching of traffic safety education. Hand signals lend that opportunity. Statistics show that many accidents could have been averted if hand signals had been applied by the offending driver."

The Governor's campaign which is being promoted by press and radio facilities throughout Texas is directed by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, and Weldon Hart of the Governor's executive staff, both of Austin, and Bruce Cunningham of Dallas representing the Dallas Civitan Club and the Citizens Traffic Commission of Dallas.

in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

INCOME TAX PAYMENTS DUE THIS MONTH FOR MANY

Some Texans who settle back comfortably and wait for March 15th to roll around before doing anything about their Federal income tax may be in for a rude surprise, lawyers say. For, although the instruction and forms recently mailed to each taxpayer do not mention the fact, for practical purpose January 15th, rather than the March deadline, is the last day of grace for many individuals.

This is due to the Federal laws requiring certain persons to file Declarations of Estimated Income Tax—or the pay-as-you-go plan. Under those laws several million people are required each year to estimate their total annual income in advance, making quarterly tax payments based upon such estimates. The final quarterly payment for 1952 is due on or before January 15th, 1953.

A declaration must be filed by every citizen or resident who receives wages (subject to withholding) in excess of $4500, plus $6000 for each exemption claimed.

For example, a single person with no dependents who received wages in excess of $3100 is required to file a declaration. If he has one additional exemption, he need not file unless his wages exceed $5700 during 1952. This latter figure would also apply to a married couple without dependents filing a joint return.

In other words, the amount goes up $600 for each exemption the taxpayer is entitled to claim, including any exemptions for age or blindness.

A Declaration of Estimated Income Tax must also be filed by any person with annual income from sources other than wages (subject to withholding) in excess of $100. Of course, individuals whose incomes did not exceed $600 during 1952 need not file, even though no tax has been withheld.

Those falling into the required category who have failed to file declarations at quarterly during 1952 may make amends by filing either a final declaration or an income tax return by January 15th. At the same time they should pay any balance of tax owed the government on their entire 1952 income.

Now, if paying the entire balance of your tax prior to January 15th is going to be a difficult matter, due to a quirk in the tax laws you may be able to avoid penalties by paying at least 80% of your total tax at that time and the remaining balance by March 15th. This would involve filing both a declaration (by January 15) and a tax return by March 15).

The first quarterly declaration on 1953 income is due on or before March 15th.

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

New Ford Miracle Ride

Here's new freedom from bounce, pitch and sway . . . an entirely new standard of riding comfort!

If you've thought it takes gas-eating weight and hard-to-park length to give real riding comfort you ought to try this '53 Ford. For Ford's new Miracle Ride actually seems to lay a carpet of smoothness even over the roughest roads. There's no bounce, pitch and sway to bother you, no uncomfortable roll on curves. Ford's new Miracle Ride marks a new era of riding comfort and quiet. It's another big reason why Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

White sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

The New Standard of the American Road

80% less road shock! By increasing front wheel travel and redesigning the rubber compression bumpers, front end road shock is reduced as much as 80%. Springs are tailored-to-weight of each model, for best riding comfort, whichever model you buy.

Automatic Ride Control! Ford's Variable-Rate rear spring suspension actually makes the effective spring "stiffness" vary automatically as road and load conditions change. You get a smooth, level, comfortable ride on boulevard or roughest back road.

All day comfort! Scientifically designed contour seats, both front and rear, have thick foam rubber cushions. Non-sag spring construction is firm yet resilient. Automatic Posture Control provides the most convenient seating position for all drivers.

You've got to Value Check this new Ford's 41 "Worth More" features to know why Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

In this new '53 Ford you'll find not only a new concept of riding and driving comfort . . . you'll find more of the things you want and need than in any other car in the low-price field.

You'll find the "Go" you need, in Ford's high-compression V-8 and Six engines (and both thrive on regular gas). You'll find the great, all-round visibility . . . the easy handling, braking and parking you need for today's traffic. And you'll appreciate beauty that "belongs," wherever you may drive. No wonder Ford is the New Standard of the American Road.

Scout Leaders And Rotarians Revise Troop 16 Charter

Boy Scouts of America troop 16 had the charter review meeting last Friday night with sponsors. Post Rotary club members attending. Charter for troop 16 expires the last of January and a new one had to be prepared.

Jess Ward, scoutmaster, said that the purpose of meeting was to review last year's progress and activities and to set goals for 1953.

The new charter application was completed and it will be presented to the South Plains Scout council for approval before the old one expires, Ward said.

Members of the troop committee present were: Bryan J. Williams, R. B. Dodson, Ed Dye, Nolan Clary and Ward.

Rotarians attending were Monty Moore, president; Leo Acker, institutional representative for the Rotary Club; Bill DeWalt, Lester Nichols, Powell Shytles and Chant Lee, directors.

Post Cage Teams In Need Of More Support From Fans

Post schools have eight different basketball teams and these squads have been playing games since the latter part of November and without proper spectator support from adult boosters as well as school fans, according to officials of the school.

Because of the lack of interest in the mid-winter sport the coaching staff and officers of the Antelope Booster Club have worked out a plan to increase the number of spectators at the home games. This plan is for 20 members of the Booster Club to promise to attend at least one or all of the home games and bring someone with them. Bing Bingham, head of Post coaching staff, said that this would assure the coaches and players that at least 40 adults would be at each home game.

To increase interest among the school students, the faculty has worked on a system of allowing each class to pay $5 to a basketball fund before each game. This five dollars will allow every member of the class admission to the game for approximately seven or eight cents instead of the regular 20 cents. The class with the most members present at the game will win a prize of $5 which then allows all the class members to attend the game free and adds five dollars to the class fund.

Post cagers will start the important phase of basketball January 30 when the conference games begin. The Antelopes will journey to Tahoka for their first game toward District 5-AA championship. First conference game to be played at home will be on February 3 with Slaton.

One non-conference game will be played at home before the conference season starts. That will be on January 27 with New Deal.

"A large part of the team's success is the support given the players by their parents and adult friends. We urge you to attend every home basketball game," Bingham said.

Sewing

By JESSIE PEARCE

We all know that spring is just around the corner, and this means that the entire family will need to give attention to their spring clothes. Whether you are making a new garment, letting the hem out in Susie's last summer's dress or lengthening Junior's pants, pressing is very important. The manner in which a garment is pressed is one of the distinguishing factors between the work of an amateur and an expert.

A good dressmaker knows that pressing is just as important as the way in which a dart or seam is stitched. In fact, the most meticulously handled dart or seam can look "home made" if not properly pressed. To get a really professional look, an excellent rule to follow is "press as you go."

Start out in the beginning by pressing the creases out of your fabric before you cut into it, and carefully press after each step. If you are making over a garment, rip it up and press carefully before recutting. The time and care spent will be well worthwhile.

In general, work on the wrong side of the fabric. Occasionally this is impossible and you may have to press such things as pocket welts on the right side. Always be sure the surface is smooth under the iron, as a wrinkle pressed in is very hard to get out. Press on the straight grain of the fabric whenever possible.

If you are sewing cotton or linen press when well dampened or use a steam iron with high heat. Press woollens with a damp cloth between iron and dry woolens or use a steam iron. If you must press on the right side, use a press cloth even with a steam iron. Use high heat but don't press too dry. To shrink out ease pat with hand to hold steam in the wool fibres.

Press silk or rayon with steam iron or use a pressing cloth, dampening cloth as you work. Use medium heat and press with a light touch. Open seams with point of iron lightly before using press cloth. Use low heat and be careful not to water-spot the fabric.

Press velveteen, corduroy or velvet with a turkish towel over the ironing board or stand an iron on end, cover it with a damp press cloth and draw the wrong side of fabric back and forth over the steaming cloth. Remember to let the steam do the work, not the iron. Brush lightly while steaming to remove stubborn marks.

Mrs. Leake Is Complimented With Party In Ed Sims Home Tuesday

Fifteen hostesses entertained Tuesday afternoon with a tea-shower honoring Mrs. Tommy Leake, who was Miss Anne Mathis before her January 1 marriage, in the home of Mrs. Ed Kelly Sims.

Mrs. Sims received guests and presented them to the bride, her mother, Mrs. Preston Mathis; and her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. C. Leake of Southland.

The honor guest wore a white strapless ballerina length dress fashioned with a shirred bodice of lace and a lace and pleated net skirt. She wore white brocade satin pumps.

Miss Maxine Durrett played appropriate piano selections throughout the afternoon and accompanied Miss Joyce Short, vocalist.

Miss Jeanette Storie directed guests to the gift displays in the master bedroom, where Mrs. Hub Haire, Mrs. Marvin Hudman and Mrs. Jack Burress presided.

Miss Maxine Baylis registered guests. The registry table was decorated with a miniature bride and white tapers in silver candelabra.

The serving table was covered with a white imported Madeira cutwork cloth. A red carnation centerpiece with white tapers in silver holders, silver and crystal appointments and silver and white napkins completed the table decorations. Punch, white cake squares trimmed with red flowers, and nuts were served by Mrs. Pat Taylor.

Silver double wedding rings, joined by a nosegay of red carnations and white satin streamers, graced the piano. Bouquets of red carnations were used elsewhere in the living-dining area.

The honoree's chosen color of white was emphasized throughout the party and members of the houseparty wore white faille dresses with rhinestone trim and white opera pumps.

Sixty guests called during the afternoon.

Hostesses for the tea included

Mrs. Guy Floyd, Mrs. Giles W. Dalby of Lubbock, Mrs. Marvin Hudman, Mrs. Jack Burress, Mrs. Claudine Tipton, Mrs. Hub Haire, Mrs. Jack Myers, Mrs. Tom Sims, Mrs. L. K. Anderson, Mrs. Jack Hargrave, Mrs. L. B. Hambricht, Mrs. Ahlene Bivens, Mrs. Kelly Sims, Mrs. Irvin Scarbrough and Mrs. Sims.

Movies Of The Week

Comedy and drama will be themes of the movies this week. Comedy will prevail Friday and Saturday, when Judy Canova appears in "THE WAC FROM WALLA WALLA". In this wacky movie, the hillbilly gal is inducted into Uncle Sam's army for women. Her life with the WAC's proves to be hectic for Judy as well as her commanding officers.

An interesting twist to this movie is the sequel where Judy's seven year old daughter appears as her mother when she was young.

Don't miss "THE WAC FROM WALLA WALLA" Friday and Saturday at the Tower theatre.

Sunday and Monday "JUST FOR YOU" will be featured movie in Post. Roll call of the stars will prove what a great movie this is. Stars are Bing Crosby, Jane Wyman, Ethel Barrymore, Bob Arthur and Natalie Wood.

Crosby enacts the role of a wealthy widower, who is trying to marry the lovely Miss Wyman, who is a widow. Her two teen-ager children, Miss Wood and Arthur, have different ideas which add up to a truly great musical motion picture.

We failed to mention Miss Barrymore, but you are assured of an outstanding performance from the acting queen of Hollywood. Time-Sunday and Monday, what "JUST FOR YOU" Where-Tower theatre, don't miss it!

The movie of the week is Tuesday's feature, "STOLEN FACE", starring Elizabeth Scott and Paul Hendred. This one of the best mystery films that was made during 1952. For spine-tingling adventure and outstanding entertainment. See "STOLEN FACE" Tuesday.

The two free tickets, given by the management each week, go to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis and are good for any performance. "Stolen Face."

Sources Of Revenue For Texas Highways Recently Presented

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another of a series of articles containing information gathered by the Highway Policy Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.)

Sources of revenue to the Texas highway department for road construction and maintenance will be presented in this article. The first of the series set out the total estimated cost of construction of all types of roads that now are needed—a figure that topped one and one-half billions of dollars.

One third of the total of $1,224,312,247 received in 1951 by the Texas highway department was spent for maintenance of the more than 46,000 miles of roads in the total system, according to information given the West Texas Chamber of Commerce highway policy committee by the highway department.

It was pointed out in the first of this series of articles that the department's planning survey of December, 1951 showed that roads of all types needed by the state would cost slightly more than one and one-half billion dollars.

The funds devoted to construction and maintenance of the system—federal aid primary, state and farm-to-market roads—come from four sources: the state motor fuel tax, motor vehicle registration fees, the general fund for farm roads, and Federal aid.

The motor fuel (gasoline) tax provided $45,187,511 in 1951. This is the principal source of revenue.

Contrary to the opinion of many people, all of the 4-cent per gallon gasoline tax does not go into the highway fund. Actually only 26 cents is allocated for highway purposes.

One cent of the 4-cent levy goes into the school fund.

One cent of the tax has been diverted since 1932 to retire road bonds issued by counties and road districts. In 1950, approximately four-tenths of this one-cent levy was needed to retire bonds maturing in that year. As the law now is written, the remaining six-tenths of this cent is divided between counties for road purposes, and the highway department. The last Legislature froze at $7,300,000 the total to counties out of the one-cent so-called "bond assumption" fund, the remainder going to the state.

Thus, from the 4-cent gasoline tax, a cent is deducted for schools, and approximately four-tenths cent to retire county bonds, leaving approximately 2.6 cents for construction and maintenance by the state.

The state department received $32,561,796 in 1951 from motor vehicle registration fees. A total of $53 million was collected in such fees. The counties received the balance of approximately $20 million.

Each county keeps the first $50,000 it collects in registration fees. After that it divides the remainder with the state on a 50-50 basis until the county receives $175,000. All fees collected in a county in excess at $175,000 goes to the State.

Funds for Farm-to-Market roads came primarily from two sources. The Briscoe-Colson bill provides for the diversion of $1,250,000 per month from the state general fund for this type of roads.

Farm-to-Market road funds come primarily from two sources. They are $1,250,000 per month from the state general fund and $7,300,000 per year from the bond assumption fund.

Receipts to the State for Farm-to-Market roads totaled $20,949,328 in the year, ended August 31, 1951.

Federal funds allocated for Texas construction in 1951 totaled $29,681,979. The Federal government collects this money in the form of a tax of two cents per gallon of gasoline. Federal aid money must be matched by state money.

Motor Vehicle Meeting To Be Held In Lubbock

Annual meeting of the personnel of South Plains area Motor Vehicle dealers, Finance Companies, Banks, Wrecking Yards, etc., will be held January 14, at 8 p. m. in the O. L. Slaton Junior High School auditorium in Lubbock.

This meeting is for the purpose of discussing procedure used in obtaining registration and Certificates of Title on motor vehicles and attendant problems, according to E. J. Amey, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway department.

Amey said the number of vehicles registered annually in Texas has now reached 3,385,000 and is expected to increase.

"It is the desire of my department to co-ordinate the work of these business firms, the County Tax collectors and motor vehicle division in order to render the best possible service to the public," he said.

Amey extended a cordial invitation for all Post citizens interested in this work to attend the meeting.

Mechanic Goes Back To Work At Age Of 81

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Elmer Phelps, 81, says he will never again try to retire. He tried it twice and it didn't work. He went back to a job as a skilled mechanic in the manufacture of organs.

The Austin Co. here says Phelps was hired on sight. His reputation as a skilled mechanic was known and skilled men in organ manufacture are hard to find.

Phelps has a long commuting trip to his home in Springfield, Mass. But he likes his job and insists he will stick to it.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD*

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Get tough with traffic violators. That's Senator Carlo Ashley's suggestion for reducing the number of highway deaths.

The State Senator from Llano asks repeal of the motor vehicle registration law, passed at the last session of the legislature.
In its place he would add $1 to motor vehicle registration, thus to provide enough income to more than double the number of highway patrolmen.

At present Texas has 460 highway patrolmen. This would be increased to 1,000, under the Senator's proposal.

"It is my contention that only a get-tough policy of law enforcement, coupled with a stepped-up program of driver education, will bring traffic under control," Senator Ashley stated.

Further along the line of law enforcement, the House crime investigating committee probably will recommend* that the legislature pass a law to speed up criminal trials.

Rep. Horace B. Houston Jr. of Dallas, a member of the committee, said the probers "found

Children's Reading Is Not Hurt By TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Television is no more a threat to good reading habits in children, says librarian Dorothy Leland, than radio was a generation ago. She asserts that book publishers, newspaper editors, schools, teachers and parents are teaming up to meet the challenge of TV for the mind and personality of the youngster.
She urged parents to build up good home libraries.

most kills of all types of planes, the most MIGs destroyed, and the most kills of propeller-driven planes.

in many cases that a man commits a murder and isn't tried for two years or more."

The representative cited that by contrast a man who commits a murder in England is tried immediately, and there are very few murders in England.

"Courts and judges are not to blame for delays in trying criminal cases," Houston added. "It is changes in the law that are necessary."

The state board of education is anticipating trouble as a result of the U. S. supreme court's decision on racial segregation.

Construction of more schools and the employment of more teachers will be necessary. The financial worry is no greater than the problem of where to get the teachers. They are in short supply.

Thomas B. Ramey of Tyler has taken over as chairman of the board, succeeding R. B. Anderson of Vernon, who accepted appointment as Secretary of the Navy in the Eisenhower administration.

As a result of recent developments in the state hospital and special school set-up, the legislature will be asked for authority to appoint a medical man as director of the institutions.

As the system is now organized, the executive director receives $10,000 a year while the medical director, who is subordinate to the administrator, is paid $15,000 plus certain living and other allowances.

If the new plan is approved by the legislature, the board will seek to employ a top flight medical man with administrative experience. It is anticipated that such action would alleviate organizational conflicts between administrative and medical personnel.

Some changing around among the state departments sees Jack Ross, secretary of state, moving in Feb. 1 as a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. He takes the position of R. A. Smott Schmid, who has served out a six-year term.

Ross became secretary of state upon the retirement of John Ben Shepherd, who is now attorney general. The new secretary of state will be Howard Carney of Cass County, a former state senator who did not run for re-election.

Missing from the Austin scene is Price Daniel, whom Shepherd replaced as attorney general.
Daniel is now in Washington in the role of U. S. Senator, where he will take an active part in the campaign to restore the Texas tidelands to Texas.

In his most recent expression on the subject Daniel scored a reported plan of President Truman to set aside the continental shelf as a naval petroleum reserve.

Such a move, says the Senator, would be a flagrant violation of the law.

As of now the tidelands belong to the federal government under a decision of the supreme court. President-elect Eisenhower has indicated that he will support legislation to surrender the federal government's claim to the states.

The legislative committee of the Texas Press Association met Saturday in Austin to plan legislation calling for more detail in the reporting of public expenditures. A long-range legislative program of public interest was thoroughly discussed and outlined.

The association takes the position that making public the record of tax money—how it comes in and how it goes out—makes for honesty in government and helps the people understand more fully how the public agencies operate.

Another TPA committee—one on ethics—will meet next Saturday to formulate a code for the association's 500 member newspapers. Malpractices of various kinds will be banned, the penalty being loss of membership in the association.

To wind up this column, here's a dramatic story and a true one.

The other night 22-year-old Robert Ernest Miers was ready to go to the electric chair at Gunnville. His head was shaved.
He was due to die at midnight because he was convicted of murdering A. J. Sendemer of San Antonio.
It was 25 minutes to midnight.

Miers was talking to Father Francis Duffy, prison chaplain.
A call came from Austin. Governor Allan Shivers had granted Miers a three-day stay of execution because a defense attorney said he could produce a new witness in the slaying case.
Miers jumped up and kissed the chaplain on the cheek. He said he was "expecting something like this."

Later Governor Shivers commuted the sentence to life imprisonment on the condition that Miers shall never become eligible for clemency.
The case received considerable attention the past week when Linda Clark, his professed sweetheart, who is serving a five-year sentence at Gore Prison Farm, said that she hoped to marry Miers "if everything turns out all right," . . . which it did.
Paging Noah Webster: To expedite—to confound confusion with commotion.
A clarification—To fill in the background with so much detail that the foreground must go underground.

World's newest V8 with a million miles behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6. It is also the first designed with new "T" type intake manifold to replace the "Y" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 188 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert, mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power.

They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.

Moore To Receive World Champion Junior Cowboy Award In Fort Worth

Jimmy Moore of Post will receive the World Champion All-Around Junior Cowboy award at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth on Junior Rodeo Association day, Sunday, February 1.

Moore was named winner of the all-around championship title after the points of all junior rodeos of last summer were tabulated. Moore is also winner of the World Champion bare back and bronc riding divisions.

The American Junior Rodeo Association was established only six months ago, but already has members in 10 states, according to Alvin G. Davis, secretary-manager of the association.

Other winners of the World Champion awards are Becky Jo Smith, World Champion All-Around Cowgirl from Jal. N. M.; J. L. Stewardson, calf roper from San Saba; optional roper is Lowie Rice, Big Spring.

Florence Youree, Addington, Okla., barrel racer; Don McDonald, Fluvanna, bull rider; Rice, bulldogger; and Carey Crutcher from Houston is the World Champion cutting horse contestant.

Presentation of awards will be made immediately after the night rodeo on February 1 in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Other activities of the AJRA day will be a luncheon and supper for association directors. Lowie Rice of Big Spring is president of the organization.

The association's cowgirl sweetheart, Miss Smith, will ride in the rodeo grand entry during the matinee and night performances of the rodeo February 1.

Garza County residents planning to attend the presentation program are: Mr. and Mrs. Avery

Moore, Jackie Haire, Gene Anderson, Ned Myers, J. H. Trimble, Edward Mosely and Donald Basinger.

Cotton Ginnings...

An accurate account of ginnings at Pleasant Valley could not be made Wednesday as the plant was closed down, but it was estimated that the gin had processed some 1800 bales.

The final report will be made in the January 29 edition of the Post Dispatch.

Class Play...

Slight Spending Increase Looms With New Budget

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Moderate increases in general state spending were recommended by Gov. Shivers today as the 53rd Legislature slid slick as a whistle through its opening formalities.

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt gave the new born session a lively shove by naming vital standing committees to permit a quick start on the business of lawmaking.

The fast stepping 53rd biennial session indicated in many ways it wants to work hard and harmoniously at issues of "appalling magnitude" during the next four months.

Asks $165,804,664

The Shivers budget calls for general state spending of $165,804,664 during the next two fiscal years for state departments, the courts, colleges, hospitals and special schools. Every cent and about $6 million more are covered by assured revenue. The budget was about $55 million under requests.

The bulky two-volume budget will be laid on the desks of members when they come to work Wednesday.

Secretary of State Jack Ross emphasized the big and tough job that lies ahead—chiefly involving taxes and spending—when he gavelled the House to order at noon on the dot.

Organization Is Brief

Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey was equally prompt across the capitol in the Senate chamber. His gavel fell sharply at noon.

The Senate ripped through its essential organizing business in one hour flat, chiefly naming Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg as president pro tem.

The House wheeled smoothly through swearing in ceremonies and re-elected Rep. Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba as speaker. It was forced into an afternoon session to name a long list of clerks and other functionaries.

Wednesday a joint meeting of House and Senate will hear Gov. Allan Shivers outline his program for the session in a 22-minute personal appearance.

Shivers has already said he will call on the Legislature to hold out against any program of wild spending and taxing for general state services, and to adopt a realistic financing program for any extra highway expenditures it may approve.

Money was not the only issue. The Legislature also must tackle such problems as water saving and control; election law changes; the auto inspection law; pleas from the cities for more local tax sources; hospital board troubles.

The session's first bill was passed by the Senate and sent to the House for action. It wasn't expected to cause much trouble; it called for $750,000 to pay legislative salaries and other expenses. Until it is passed, there will be no pay.

The session's opening was brisk, businesslike and efficient.

Senators Take Oath

Ramsey administered the oath of office to the 31 senators in a body. Kelley's election swiftly followed his nomination by Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe. There were nine seconding speeches.

All members of the Senate were elected for new terms this session because of redistricting. Wednesday, they will draw lots to determine which will serve four year terms, who must take two year terms.

With no opposition, Senterfitt moved into the speakership for his second term. It was the second time in its history that the house has named the same man to serve.

Senterfitt's election was assured when Rep. Bill Daniel of Liberty withdrew. Daniel today moved to make his former rival's election by acclamation as a mark of harmony. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen, who tried for the job two sessions ago, nominated Senterfitt.

Galleries were moderately crowded with lobbyists and friends of legislators. Flowers made brilliant islands of color at some desks. Generally the 53rd got off to a quiet and orderly start.

Motorists Given Weather Warning

PRINCE GEORGE, Canada (AP)—Officials have warned that an empty gas tank means a dead motorist on the John Hart Highway.

They have issued "daylight driving only" warnings during the cold interior nights.

The new 275-mile highway runs through the interior wilderness from Prince George to Dawson Creek, where it links with the Alaska Highway.

Poko-Lambro...

Buildings are now complete for five of the exchange stations in the Lynn-Garza project.

These are:

Southland Exchange area will serve Southland, Pleasant Valley, Hackberry, Morgan, and Gordon, with extended area service going into Slaton but connecting also with other exchanges of the Cooperative. The old Southland Telephone Exchange was bought by the Cooperative and is now being operated by Poko-Lambro over the old system. The new exchange building is in Southland.

New Lynn Exchange will serve that community and Garnolia and all the area between the Southland Exchange area and the Tahoka-Post Highway. The exchange, located two miles north of Redwine, will serve Grassland, Edith, and Midway communities and for a short distance west of the Tahoka O'Donnell highway.

West Lakes exchange, located eight miles west of Tahoka, will serve West Point, Three Lakes, and parts of the Wells and T-Bar communities.

New Home Exchange, located in New Home will serve that community, Lakeview, Petty, Dixie, Wayside, Crossroads, and Joe Stokes communities.

At a meeting of Poko-Lambro Board of Directors, held at the cooperative general offices in Tahoka, January 8, James T. Dunn, Lamesa, Rt. B, a farmer and seed breeder, was elected the new president. Mr. Dunn succeeds V. R. Osburn of Brownfield, Route 4, who has moved to the Dallas area.

T. B. Mason of Tahoka, Route 1, was elected a director of Poko-Lambro a few months ago to replace the late Mr. Claud Wells.

Other officers and directors are: Loyd R. McCormick, Tahoka, Rt. 1, vice president; V. H. Wheatley, Brownfield, Rt. 2, secretary-treasurer; Claude Thomas, Post, Rt. 3 (Grassland); and George W. Teague, Lamesa, Route A; and Lee Bartlett, Meadow, Route 1.

Tom Garrard of Tahoka is the cooperative attorney. Cecil M. Hawk & Associates of Lubbock are the consulting engineers, and W. D. Harmon is the manager.

Mr. Harmon came here five months ago from Espanola, N. M., to assume the management duties.

Since that time, work has progressed rapidly, although there have been necessary and disappointing delays. Officers and members are proud that actual operation of the first section of the system is now in prospect for an early date.

British Authorities Sued For Lost Art

BONN, Germany (AP)—Alfried Krupp, former German munitions magnate, is suing the British authorities in Germany for compensation for the loss of art treasures from the family mansion.

British officials say the claim has been lodged in the Control Commission Claims Court at Herford in the British Zone. They declined to say what sum was involved, but unofficial estimates put it at over $560,000.

It is alleged that valuable paintings, Dresden china, Ming vases, rare books and Oriental carpets were looted from the gloomy, old-fashioned Villa Huegel at Essen, family mansion of the armaments dynasty.

Thieves in the Cooler

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Safe crackers who burglarized a market here went to the cooler, but they haven't been caught yet. They wheeled the 1,000-pound safe into the refrigerator and closed the door to deaden the noise they made while opening it. They got $807 from the safe and also made off with $109 worth of meat.

Custer Newberry is recuperating from a broken knee, which he received recently while at work.

Annual Golden Gloves Tournament To Held In Amarillo On January 27

Boys who box, boys who would like to know more about boxing, fans who like boxing are invited to the Golden Gloves tournament again!

The making of the preparatory period which involves individual boxing and district tournaments at Lubbock, Plainview and Pampa will be the 17th annual Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves tournament at the Sports Area, on Fair Grounds, starting a five day program January 27.

Tournament officials predict the biggest and best Regional tournament in the history of paper-sponsored Golden Gloves activities in the panhandle. Reasons: For the first time, a novice class is being added; this is for boys who have had ring experience but desire to learn more about boxing, at least three former regional champions, such as Pat Carthy, Eugene Cooper and James Wortham, will not be present, thus encouraging boys of those weight divisions to try for new honors. Practically all champions this year will be up from the ranks; no former champion is defending his title in the open class.

The high school division is due to attract many teams and individuals with limited experience. This group will contest for the high school trophy as well as individual awards. (A total of 36 individual awards will be made.)

Golden Gloves does not encourage boys to become professional boxers; the institution does encourage young men to become familiar with the art of self defense.

District qualifying tournaments at Lubbock, Pampa and Plainview will provide complete teams in the Regional tournament, but this does not mean

Officials And Coaches Banquet Is Postponed

Annual banquet of the South Plains Officials and Coaches Association has been postponed for two weeks from Jan. 15 until 29.

The change in date was necessitated because of illness in the family of Pete Cawthon, University of Alabama athletic director. Cawthon, who used to coach at Texas Tech, will also bring a movie of an Alabama game to the banquet, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the Lubbock High School cafeteria.

George Philbrick, president of the association, said that tickets may still be obtained by mail from Jim Joe Rieger, SPOCA secretary, at the Recreation Department, Lubbock City Hall, for $3.25.

Post Community Choir Will Hold Meeting Friday

First meeting of Post's Community Choir will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in Post High School auditorium. Mrs. Lee Davis, one of the organizers, said that all persons interested in this public project are requested to be at the meeting tomorrow night.

"Our first meeting will be only a short organization session and we will finish in time for everyone to attend the Speech class play in the grade school auditorium," Mrs. Davis said.

The choir will be patterned after Lubbock's Community Choir and John Christopher, director of the Lubbock group and Post High School A Cappella has volunteered to serve as director.

Christopher said that Post can have a better and more precise singing group than Lubbock. "There are several good singers in Post and we are looking forward to working with them," he said.

"You don't have to be an outstanding singer to be a member. You just have to be interested and know how to sing with a group. Anyone can do that," Mrs. Davis said.

Again, Mrs. Davis urges all interested persons to be present tomorrow for the first meeting of Post Community Choir.

Band Booster Club To Meet Thursday Night

Meeting of Post School Band's Booster Club will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the band hall, according to Dr. B. E. Young, president of the organization.

Purpose of this meeting is to discuss regular business matters which have come before the club.

Dr. Young said that everyone interested in the school band is invited to attend the meeting, whether they have children in the band or not.

That entry is closed to boys who do not compete in preliminary tournaments. Any amateur boxer 16 years of age or older who desires may apply for entry in the District or Regional tournament, nearest his home. Winners in the open class at Amarillo will represent the area in the State tournament at Fort Worth, all expenses paid, in February. Winners there, of course, go to Chicago for the Tournament of Champions.

Entries for the Amarillo tournament should be mailed immediately to Duke Nally, tournament director, at the Amarillo Globe-News.

WINS BIGGEST TURKEY CONTEST—Tom Bingham of Aubrey, Texas, had to sit down in order to hold his dressed turkey that won the biggest turkey contest sponsored by the National Turkey Federation during its convention in Dallas. The big bird weighed in at a whopping 68 and one-half pounds to far outweigh the others entered. The runner up was one from Kansas City, Mo., that weighed 57 pounds. Dressed turkeys from 12 states were represented in the contest.

Post Boys' And Girls' Teams Win In Meadow's Basketball Tournament

Post boys' and girls' basketball teams entered the Meadow Invitational Basketball tournament and both teams copped first place consolation trophies.

The tournament started last Monday and was completed Saturday night with the awarding of trophies and awards.

Post boys played their first game Monday night and were defeated 67-51 by Plains. The tournament was on a double elimination basis and the boys met New Home Friday, for the second game. The Antelopes were victorious in this game by a 48-40 score.

Ropesville girls defeated the Post girls 47-29 Tuesday afternoon. Postites won over New Home Thursday, 27-24. N. R. King, girls' coach said that this was the "thriller" of the tournament. New Home's team was one point ahead with only 45 seconds left to play. Post girls made a field goal. These two points put the Post squad one point in the lead. The ball was given to New Home and Post recovered it and racked up another two points before the final whistle was blown. Joy Martin and Pearl Craig shared scoring honors in the game with nine points each. Sue Cowan racked up 11 scores for highpoint honor for New Home.

Saturday afternoon Post girls met Plains for the consolation finals, and Post won by a 29-26 score. This game was also won during the last three minutes of playing time. Deanie Hill had 14 points in her favor for the highpoint honors for Post. Hood and Overton tied with 13 each for Plains.

Both boys' and girls' teams will be resting this week and part of next because of mid-term examinations. January 22, 23 and 24 the boys will enter the Floyd tournament. The next home game for the boys' quintet will be on January 27 when the Antelopes will play host to New Deal. A return match with the New Deal Lions will be played February 2 in New Deal.

Conference games will start on January 30 when Post's two teams journey to Tahoka. First home conference game will be February 3 when Slaton's boys and girls meet the local teams.

Enrollment of Post Grade School has increased to such an extent that a new teacher will be added to the faculty at mid-term, which is next week. E. M. Mills said.

Latest addition to the faculty is Miss Patsy Poss from Plainview. Miss Poss will be a mid-term graduate of Wayland College and will teach one section of the third grade here.

Burns Lawrence, present third grade teacher, will move into the upper elementary department, Mills said. "There is a possibility that Mr. Lawrence will work with language arts, social studies and P. E.," he said.

Upper three grades or junior high school division of Post schools are operated on a departmentalized basis, Mills said. "The fifth, sixth and seventh grades have become so large that we are forced to increase our faculty, in order to provide the proper educational background for high school work," he added.

For a couple at the same age, the chance is 3 in 5 that the wife will outlive her husband.

Cotton Bowl System Is Near Perfect Compared To Others

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

AP—If there's anything wrong with the Cotton Bowl it'll take a detective to find it.

Those who oppose bowl games might look over this one and see where their arguments stand.

Nobody makes any money of consequence out of it and those who do end up with a profit find the amount so small as to preclude taking the trouble to do it if they are interested only in the money.

Each Southwest Conference member gets almost as much as the champion, which plays the game. As the Cotton Bowl came out this year, Texas drew a few thousand dollars more than the other members of the league and they didn't do anything except watch.

The Cotton Bowl offers an opportunity for the conference people to get together—pay a social visit. It brings in many people from Tennessee or Georgia or wherever the visiting team comes from. They have a good time, visiting people in another area, exchange problems, find out how other folks live.

Texas played Tennessee in this year's Cotton Bowl game. The Tennesseans found out considerable about human relations. All of the other people of the Southwest Conference were backing Texas to win the game. "Why," said a Tennessean, "in our conference—the Southeastern—nobody would want the representative to win anything."

The Southwest Conference appears to be ideal and if all the other conferences operate as it does, there would be no cries of over-emphasis of college athletics and charges of unethical practices in athletic subsidization.

The new rule in basketball that gives a second chance on free throws is presenting this situation: There are almost as many free throws as field goals.

Take the recent Southwest Conference tournament in Dallas. There were 12 games played. In those games there were 472 field goals and 427 free throws.

This means scoring but, officials say, it also is meaning fewer fouls, thus a reduction of rough play. The foul costs twice as much now. So the players are being coached more thoroughly.

Plans Completed For The Opening Of "Teen Town"

A business meeting of the officers and adult advisors of the Post teenagers' "Teen Town" met Thursday night to make plans for opening the youth center.

Mrs. Anne Leake, student secretary of the group, said that the old Garner building on the corner of Main and Washington streets has been chosen for the meeting place of Post teenagers.

Mrs. Leake stated that the group decided upon $1 membership fees and $1 monthly dues. These charges are made to pay the printing of membership cards and other expenditures which will be paid by the organization.

Dates for the meetings of "Teen Town" have been set on Friday nights from 7:30 until 11:30 and Saturdays from 8 until 12 p. m.

At present the members are helping to remodel the interior of the building. Painting and sanding the floors are the principal touches being added now, Mrs. Leake said.

Plans are to open "Teen Town" in about two weeks. Three mothers each night will volunteer to supervise the activities for a while, but in the near future the members hope to have paid supervisors.

Student officers attending the meeting were Bobby Cowdrey, president; Velta Carpenter, vice-president and Mrs. Leake. Adult advisors at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. John Lott, Mrs. Jess Cornell, Victor Hudman, Burns Lawrence and Bobby Robbins.

Rats Serve As Movie Tickets In Alaska

NOME, Alaska (AP)—A rat expert wanted rats for experiments. So he advertised a special matinee show. Admission: One rat. Result: full house.

The expert, a parasitologist for the Arctic Health Research Center, has found in his studies so far that many Nome rats are infected with trichinosis, which could come from eating infected pork. They also are flea carriers.

Danger to humans increases as cold weather chases the rats indoors.

MOST ADVANCED HYDRAULIC SYSTEM IN ANY TRACTOR

NEW FORD TRACTOR

Now, in the new Golden Jubilee Model, Ford Tractor engineers have carried a time-proved hydraulic system to a new high in speed of response, lifting power, dependability and wide usefulness.

This Live-Action hydraulic system gives almost instant action at all times when the tractor engine is running. It handles larger implements and heavier loads. And, with Hy-Trol, it acts even faster when desired. Also possible is an almost unlimited variety of remote cylinder* operations. In addition to all the time-proved advantages of the Ford Tractor's built-in hydraulic system, you get a choice of hydraulic speeds, quick hook-up, smooth operation of remote cylinders* and the ability to handle bigger loads.

The more you learn about the new Ford Tractor the more you will find that it can bring new ease and speed to your farming—new economy, too. Come in—look it over!

Galveston's Little Man, Know As The "Legend Of 59th Street" Passes On

GALVESTON, (AP)—Down where the city trash is burned, they're still wondering about the man they called the George Bernard Shaw of the incinerator.

Who was he? Where did he learn so much? What brought him to Galveston to live in a shanty?

His body was found on New Year's Day by a negro woman who wanted to share her family's feast with him.

She found him in his small iron bed—dead, his six dogs lying on the floor beside him.

The man said his name was Jack Bean. That was about all he ever told anybody himself during the 30 years he lived in Galveston.

When he died, he appeared to be about 73 years old. He was about 5 feet, 9 inches tall, and weighed about 170. He had deep hazel eyes and iron-gray hair.

Jack listened more than he talked. He would listen to anybody and give advice when asked.

The Santa Fe workers on 59th street were among his closest friends. Because he seemed to them a man who should have been sitting on a judge's bench or behind an executive's desk, they called him the "Legend of 59th Street."

Some say he was once a reporter for the New York Times. He had a keen memory and astounded his friends with his accounts of history, giving dates and places accurately, and with his ability to remember stock market quotations.

His friends often checked his statements at the library—and never found him in error. That's why they started calling him the George Bernard Shaw of the incinerator.

He loved children and dogs. When his body was found, his only possessions were a one-dollar bill, five sticks of peppermint candy, a couple of magazines and a number of New York and Chicago newspapers.

He didn't buy candy for himself but for children to whom he passed it out—when he had a little spare cash.

Malayan Tin Industry To Sponsor U. S. Film

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—The Malayan tin industry is soon to sponsor the making of a film entitled "The Miner's Wife." Gathering material here for the production is W. Henry Lawrence, former United States Information Service official in Singapore who is now assistant director of the Tin Bureau in Washington. The film will be produced by a Hollywood company, says Lawrence.

He also announced that the Tin Bureau is appointing a public relations officer in Kuala Lumpur. He will serve as liaison between the bureau in Washington and tin producers in Malaya, supplying up-to-date information and material for use in the United States.

Boys Jailed For Stealing Gifts

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—After the recent arrest of four boys who are charged with burglarizing a store just before Christmas, Memphis police say the urge for holiday giving can get out of hand. The boys confessed that they stole from the store to get gifts for their girl friends.

The girls remained loyal to the boys and asked to be locked in jail with their friends so they could comfort them. That, the police would not permit.

The case reminded police of a Christmas night arrest, when they nabbed a man burglarizing a store just after he had played Santa Claus for his three children.

El Paso Beginning To Feel Its Oats

EL PASO, (AP)—El Paso is beginning to feel big enough to drop the "Texas" from its name—on city stationery.

City Attorney White told the city council: "Other large cities leave their state off stationery. Take New Orleans, or Houston, or New York. Those cities do not use a state to identify them because they're large enough and well enough known."

"I think El Paso is known well enough to drop 'Texas' now, too."

Seals Eat Fish Natives Buy Them

SEATTLE (AP)—A clergyman from tiny St. Paul Island in the Bering Sea says there is one special dietary drawback to life in that area where sea life abounds. No fish.

If he wants herring for his table, for example, they must be shipped from outside, explained the Rev. Makarx A. Baranoff of the Russian Orthodox Church.

"The seals catch all the fish for 100 miles around our island," he said. "The seals are much better fishermen than the Aleut natives. So the Aleuts spend their summers sealing and their winters in trapping foxes."

St. Paul is one of the Pribilof Islands, famed as the breeding grounds for the migrant seal herds of the Pacific.

Encyclopedias Are Burned In Malaya

MALACCA, MALAYA (AP)—A Malaya nationalist has issued a call to burn copies of the latest edition of the Oxford Junior Encyclopedia which he alleged contained offensive remarks about the Malay race.

Inche Zulkifli Hashim, secretary-general of the United Malays National Organization, singled out Volume 1 of the work published by the Oxford University Press in his attack. In a chapter on the Malayan Union, the encyclopedia says:

"At the beginning of 1946 a new constitution—a United States of Malaya—was offered to Malaya; but his has met with considerable opposition. It is naturally difficult for a people so backward, indolent, and accustomed to the autocratic rule of their sultans to learn the meaning of a more democratic form of government."

The encyclopedia goes on to refer to the Malays as a "dishonest and a lazy people with considerable charm." Inche Zulkifli said every true Malay should resent such remarks.

In 1950 the proportion of the U. S. population at age 65 and over was 8.2 per cent.

Livestock Production Forecast Is Not Too Bright In Texas For 1953

Livestock producers like mighty well to see an improvement on the profit side of the ledger in 1953. The sharp drop in cattle prices since last year was made more acute by the drought which covered much of the country. Recent prospects for feed and some other crops has been noted in live- prices.

Prospects for 1953 are not bright, says Lewis Herron, county agent. This prediction is based on the forecast for more beef and poultry will be available. The supplies of pork and all meats are expected to be larger than 1952. Prices, says Herron, for live animals and meat are most likely to decline unless unforeseen changes in the favorable side of the picture Herron adds the strong demand for meat is likely to counter through 1953 and too, consumers should have more money which to buy meats and other foods.

The East Texas Saw Mill Town Is Making Comeback With New Industry

Evadale, Tex. (AP)—Evadale saw mill was torn down in 1948 and it was a blow that wiped this little Southeast town off the map.

Today it's making a comeback.

The economic revival got underway mildly about two years ago when a rumor got out that 10,000,000 bleached sulphate and pulp mill would be built here.

The rumor has been confirmed. Partners in the enterprise are the Houston Oil Company, Time, Inc.

Over 250 tons of bleached sulphate and pulp paper board are produced daily. About 100 cords of wood will be used daily.

Residents are sure this means a big increase in home building expected soon because construction workers are expected to be in nearby Silsbee. Vidor

Former Teacher Read Lubbock Friday

Long-time residents of Post saddened last weekend to the death of Mrs. Roy Hagerty, 53, the former Miss Meadow who for many years taught school in Post.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hagerty were held at her home in Pass Christian, Miss., conducted last Friday at 2 p. m. at the First Christian church in Lubbock. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery.

Mrs. Hagerty in the early 1920's was employed in the Post school and taught here for several years. She was affiliated with civic, social and educational societies during her residence in Lubbock and in 1940 married Col. Roy N. Hagerty and moved to Indiana University where he was an ROTC instructor. He later was stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. Fort Bragg, Fort Custer, Battle Creek, Camp Phillips, Abilene, and Camp McClain, Miss. She was transferred to the Grand Theater, Mrs. Hagerty moved to Lubbock and her son entered Texas Tech. After her husband returned from World War II the family moved to Pass Christian.

Virgil Short Is Attending School In Flint, Mich.

Virgil Short of the Les Short Buick Agency is in Flint, Mich., attending the General Motors Institute.

Short is taking an eight weeks course offered by the school for managers and personnel of General Motors product dealers. During the two month period he will study everything from automobile agency management and sales to parts and repairs.

The school is kept in operation by the General Motors Corporation during the entire year and has approximately 1,000 employees enrolled for each eight week course.

Short's wife and son are visiting their parents and grandparents in Roswell, N. M. They plan to join him in Michigan about 10 days before the school ends. After the course is completed the Shorts will drive a new Buick home and do some sightseeing enroute here.

Pretty "Foxy" Terrier

Talking about dogs the other night—and Sandy Johnson topped everything off with a tall story about his fox terrier, "Boscum."

According to Sandy, "Comes bird season and that dog won't stir if I take down my rifle. Same if it's deer season and I go for my shotgun—he won't move, but he's scratching at the door if I so much as look at my rifle!"

One day, Sandy decided to fool him. He took down both his shotgun and his rifle—and swish, Boscum was on his way! So Sandy put the guns back and took out his fishing rod. He went outside and there was Boscum—digging like crazy for worms!

From where I sit, a dog that can outguess humans is as rare as a human that can outguess other humans. For instance, I like a glass of beer with lunch but I wouldn't think of pouring you one without first asking. Everybody has preferences—and it's finding out what they are and respecting them that keeps freedom from "going to the dogs."

Post A Cappella To Sing At Music Teachers' Convention In Lubbock

Post High School A Cappella members have been invited to be the performing choir at the convention of West Texas Music Teachers in Lubbock on March 14. John Christopher said that this meeting will be held in Lubbock High School and Post's choir will sing three selections during the day's program.

Mrs. Elois Elliott, co-ordinator of public school music in Lubbock and music teacher in Carroll Thomas Junior High School, extended the invitation to Post A Cappella and also asked Christopher to make a speech on what methods he used in developing the music in a school the size of Post. The speech is for the benefit of other South Plains music teachers from towns in the category of Post.

Post A Cappella will be used as a demonstration of what can be done with music in schools with the same number of students as Post. Also in schools that have looked upon music as a thing for a select few, rather than the student body as a whole, Christopher said.

"We of the faculty look upon our being selected as a big honor," Christopher said.

Superintendent of Post schools D. C. Arthur and Chant Lee, high school principal, stated that they have given their permission for the best robes possible to be purchased for the choir.

"We hope to have these robes in time for A Cappella members to wear them in Lubbock," Arthur said.

Post's A Cappella members have received public acclaim during the past months for the work and progress they have accomplished in the short time since their organization in September.

First praises given the group were from Postites who heard them at the Halloween coronation ceremonies in October. Later they were recognized by officials of the South Plains choral clinic held in Lubbock during November. Then a special letter from the head of Texas Tech's music department congratulated them on the fine work they did at the clinic.

Another proof of their notable talents and qualities was shown when eight members of the choir were selected for the all-state choir, which is to sing in Gal-
