Acre Allotment Up In County

Garza is one of nine South Plains counties in which cotton acreage allotments were increased for 1958, it was announced today at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, where preparations are being made for next Tuesday's referendum on cotton marketing quotas.

Council Puts Off Action On Measure

The Post city council Monday night postponed action on the proposed wiring code and building permit ordinances until its next regular meeting in January.

The postponement on the ordinances was due to the absence of the city attorney, whom the mayor said they wanted "to ask a few more questions before acting on the proposed measures."

The council discussed proposed leasing of additional land near the present water field in order to build up the dwindling underground water supply before next summer.

Councilman Powell Shyles, who with City Supt. Henry Tate has been investigating the possibilities of extending the water field, said "we ought to be doing something about it now instead of waiting until next summer when it might be too late."

Mayor James L. Minor and the councilmen agreed that had it not been for this year's rains, Post would have been in dire straits for water last summer.

"Even at that," said the mayor, "we were pumping 1,100,000 gallons a day at times, and that is right at our maximum."

The council ended the discussion by deciding to go out in a group within the next few weeks and looking over the present water field and sites available for its extension.

The council re-appointed Dr. D. C. Williams as city health officer. In other action they:

- 1. Voted to contribute $100 to the volunteer fire department for the firemen's Christmas promotion.
- 2. Voted to award a $50 Savings Bond to the Post winner of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's essay contest on "What My Town Can Do to Have More Industry."
- 3. Voted to give city employees the customary $50 bonus at the City of Post's annual Christmas party on Dec. 19.

Colored Schools In New Building

Sixty-one students and three teachers of the Post Colored School moved into their new building Monday morning.

The new school, which is on the same street and northeast of the old school, is the former Garnolia Rural School building. The structure has been remodeled to include three classrooms, a homemaker room and a gymnasium. The building has been equipped with new furniture and has modern rest room facilities.

R. K. Green, superintendent of the Post Public Schools, said 89 students are on the school's rolls, but that attendance has dwindled to 61 during the cotton harvest season. He said the board of trustees has authorized employment of another teacher when daily attendance gets back up near the number enrolled.

The superintendent said the new building is a big improvement over the old one, which did not have enough classroom space, no gymnasium and no modern rest room facilities.

Television Set And Rifle Taken From Tyler Home

Sheriff's officers this week were continuing an investigation into the theft of a television set and a rifle from the home of David Tyler, about 15 miles east of Post. Sheriff Carl Raina said the theft occurred one day last week while the Tyler family was away from home. The house was not locked, he said.

Garza County's acreage allotment for 1958 has been set at 41,548 acres, which is an increase of 49 acres over the 1957 allotment of 41,499 acres.

The county office is scheduled to begin mailing notices this week on the individual farm allotments. All cotton growers must be notified of their farm allotments before the national cotton marketing quota referendum is held.

Voting places in Garza County will be: Community "A", Southland Hardware; Community "B", Graham Co-op Gin office; Community "C", county ASC office. Voting will be from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Tuesday's referendum will mark the 12th time cotton growers have registered their choice on the question. The first referendum was held in 1938.

Marketing quotas have been in effect the last four crop years, including this year. The 1957 crop quota was approved last December when 82.4 per cent of the nation's farmers voted for them. The vote in Garza County was 110 to 5 in favor of the quotas.

Under legislative provisions, the Secretary of Agriculture must proclaim a national marketing quota and a national acreage allotment for upland cotton whenever he finds that the total supply exceeds the normal supply. The total supply of upland cotton for the 1957-58 marketing year is estimated at 23.6 million running bales and the normal supply, that needed for domestic uses, for exports

Three Are Injured In Auto Accident

Mrs. Betty Moseley, 23, of Route 2, Post, and her two daughters, three-year-old Nedra and nine-month-old Ronda, were injured about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when the automobile Mrs. Moseley was driving collided with one driven by Fritz Steinhauer, also of Route 2.

Both children received brain concussions and Mrs. Moseley suffered a cut on her lower lip which required eight stitches to close. They were brought to a physician's office here for treatment.

Deputy Sheriff J. W. (Red) Floyd, who investigated the accident along with City Marshal O. G. Shepherd Jr., said the accident occurred at a left turn off U. S. Highway 84 about four miles northwest of Post. Both automobiles were traveling toward Post.

Floyd said a ticket was issued Steinhauer in connection with the accident.

Mrs. Moseley is the wife of Ed Moseley and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Hagood of Post. Relatives here said Nedra, the oldest child, underwent surgery just two weeks ago.

Mrs. Moseley and her daughters were still under treatment and observation late Tuesday.

"AND THAT'S ALL WE WANT"—Patti Peel, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. "Punk" Peel of 923 West 7th Street, is writing her letter to Santa Claus. Her two-year-old brother, Randy, is looking through a toy catalogue trying to decide what he wants most before his sister writes his Santa Claus letter. The letters from Patti and Randy will be forwarded to the North Pole after copies are made for publication in The Post Dispatch's Christmas edition. Other youngsters are urged to do like Patti and Randy and write their Santa letters early. — (Staff Photo).

Company Withdraws Dial Service Offer

General Telephone Company of the Southwest has withdrawn its proposal to establish dial service here, Mayor James L. Minor disclosed at Monday night's city council meeting.

At the same time, the mayor announced that the company had also turned down the city's compromise rate offer, which was submitted Oct. 7.

In a letter dated Nov. 1, J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, division manager, wrote the mayor that the city's proposed rates could result in a rate of return of only 4.51 per cent "which is far from adequate."

The letter continued: "The Council's position regarding setting dial rates is rather difficult to understand as they are in effect setting rates 30 months hence when they provide for cancellation of the proposed increase if dial is not established by that time. In view of your refusal to grant dial rates, this letter will confirm my statement at your meeting of Oct. 7 withdrawing our proposal to establish dial service in Post."

"As the rates you offer are wholly inadequate for continued manual operation, we have no alternative but to furnish the City more up-to-date operating data and request that you approve rates that will produce a fair return on the fair value of the plant used in rendering local service in the Post exchange. This information will be as of Sept. 30, 1957, levels and will be submitted before the end of the year."

In a discussion of this latest development in the telephone company's request for rate increases, Mayor Minor told the council he had been informed by a number of Post residents, including one business man, that the company had answered their requests for telephone installations by telling them that no additional telephones would be installed here until the council granted the rate increases asked by the company.

"These people told me that representatives of the company told them that if they wanted telephones installed, the thing for them to do was see the mayor and city council," Minor said.

Kemper told The Dispatch by telephone Wednesday from his office in Brownfield that the company would not refuse a telephone to any individual or business place as long as it did not require a capital expenditure for its installation.

"As long as a drop wire or other inexpensive operations are all that is necessary to install a telephone, See DIAL SERVICE, Page 8

Annual C. Of C. Event Set For Feb. 4

Radio's 'Lum' Will Be Banquet Guest

Chester Lauch, the "Lum" of the famous "Lum and Abner" will be held Tuesday, Feb. 4, in the school cafeteria.

Lauch is vice president and personnel manager of Continental Oil Co. Also on the banquet program will be presentation of the Chamber's annual awards for outstanding citizenship, and installation of officers.

Moreland's announcement of the speaker came shortly after Bryan J. Williams, Chamber president, had announced that the banquet will be held Tuesday, Feb. 4, in the school cafeteria.

City, County Near Agreement On Park Development Plan

The city council and county commissioners' court came close to agreeing on a plan for joint development of the city park Wednesday night—so close, in fact, that they decided to leave it up to County Judge Pat N. Walker, Mayor James L. Minor and Carleton P. Webb, city attorney, to work out an agreement Monday.

The city's proposal for joint development of the park was presented at a steak dinner at Judy's Cafe, at which the county was host.

The commissioners' court was receptive to all the provisions submitted by the city except the one in which the city said it thought the title to the park should remain in its possession.

Judge Walker said, "Maybe it's just the lawyer in me, but I don't understand the city's reluctance to joint ownership of the park site."

"If we contribute $2,500 a year to the City of Post for development of its park, we may have to do the same for other communities in the county," the judge said. He pointed out, however, that if the county owns part of the park it can say to residents of other communities, "this is your park the same as it is Post's."

"The ideal arrangement," said Judge Walker, "would be to deed the site to a park board to hold in trust for all the people of Garza County."

Earlier, Mayor Minor had expressed his opposition. See PARK PLAN, Page 8

Extra Prizes Are Offered For Essays

Rules and regulations for entering the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's fourth annual regional essay contest on the subject "What My Town Can Do to Have More Industry" have been made available to Post High School seniors.

The contest is being made more attractive to Post seniors with the City of Post having voted Monday night to award a $50 Savings Bond to the local winner. Also, the new budget of the Post Chamber of Commerce provides for a $50 prize to the Post winner. The Chamber of Commerce gave $25 to a previous winner, David King, whose essay was also adjudged the winner on the regional level.

Again this year, the WTCC is offering a $250 college scholarship to the first place winner. Besides Post, Tulsa and Wichita Falls have furnished winners of the past three contests.

The contest is sponsored by the WTCC's Industrial Development Committee with co-sponsorship at the local level by local Chambers of Commerce.

Accident Victim Is Buried At Lubbock

Funeral services for Howard L. Tierney, 37, of Lubbock, who was killed in a car-truck collision 25 miles east of Post Sunday night, were conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Lubbock, with burial in Tech Memorial Park Cemetery.

Tierney's father, James H. Tierney, 62, and his brother, James M. Tierney, 42, were dismissed from Garza Memorial Hospital Monday morning.

Still under treatment at the hospital Tuesday was Pedro A. Flores, one of three occupants of the truck which collided with the Tierneys' automobile on U. S. Highway 380, 14 miles west of Clairemont.

Howard L. Tierney's daughter, Jo Ann, 11, and his mother, Mrs. James H. Tierney, 62, escaped serious injury in the accident.

The Tierneys were returning from a weekend fishing trip to Stamford when their car and the eastbound truck, driven by Frank Soliz, sideswiped. The impact ripped the left side from the Tierney car and knocked the rear

School To Sponsor Yule Decorations

Post High School class members began work this week on the annual Christmas decorations contest sponsored by the Student Council.

As in past years, each class will have a Christmas scene at the front of the high school building, with cash prizes to be paid the winning classes to help defray costs of construction.

Meanwhile, no definite announcement has as yet come from the Chamber of Commerce as to whether or not the organization will sponsor a home decorations contest again this Christmas season. Bryan J. Williams, Chamber president, said Wednesday a decision would be made within the next few days.

The joint project of the Chamber of Commerce and City of Post on downtown Christmas lights got under way Wednesday. Again this year, strings of lights will be across Main Street from west of the railroad tracks to a point east of the courthouse, and for several blocks on North and South Broadway.

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS
The Christmas holidays for the Post Public Schools will begin at 2:30 p. m. Friday, Dec. 20, and continue until Thursday, Jan. 2, Supt. R. K. Green announced today.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY — Not all the activity on construction of the two-lane divided highway between here and Justiceburg is on the road itself. Shown here are operations at a pit and rock crusher southwest of Post near the Boy Scout camp. Rock is being crushed for the road's flexible base, with 16 trucks engaged in hauling operations. The rock is blown loose in the pit shown at the right, loaded onto pit trucks and then hauled to the rock crusher at the left for processing. It then pours from the hopper into 12-cubic-yard trucks for hauling to the roadway. The pit and crusher will be in operation until the segment of the road between here and Justiceburg is completed. On the segment between Justiceburg and the Scurry County line, a rock pit near Fluvanna will be used.—(Staff Photos).

Put Your Dollars To Work In Post

With the Christmas season beginning, Post merchants are looking forward hopefully to busy cash registers after a "long fall" in which delayed cotton and grain harvests slowed the customary brisk autumn retail buying in the area to only a trickle.

Strangely enough, we have been sort of "wet stricken."

One of the merchants' problems for December, just as it is for the other 11 months of the year, is "the big town competition" 39 miles up the road.

The changing face of America today is a confusing and conflicting one. On the other hand, small towns are growing steadily bigger. The big cities, in other words, are gobbling up the smaller communities within their reach. That is one trend backed by sound economic fighting to escape them. The downtown business areas of most big cities are literally fighting for their lives against the changing ways of living of most Americans.

The shopping centers springing up in the cities' suburbs are now siphoning off a major share of the retail business which permits the "big stores" downtown to operate despite their tremendous overheads. People are moving away from the heart of the cities into the more quiet and easy life of the suburbs. Small business to a large extent is doing the same thing. They are finding the high cost of operation in the big city too rich for their blood.

Consequently today we see two conflicting struggles—of big cities to gobble up small towns, and of city dwellers changing their buying habits and their living habits away from the bustle of the city.

The small towns are dying. But the medium-sized communities which have a trade area of their own are successfully "bucking" the big city competition, and not only surviving but growing. That is true across the face of the nation.

Post well can find its future in the medium-sized community category which successfully "bucks" the city competition. All that needs to be done is for the people of Post to understand the problem and face it.

For merchants, it means fighting the city competition. It means balanced stocks of goods so shoppers can find what they want in the local stores. It means fast, courteous service at the buying counter, and even more—that same service to the homes for appliances and other items which will require repair. It means banding together and promoting Post and staging promotions which will attract buyers to Main Street. That can be done better by cooperative promotion, than by individual store promotions. It means, for example, a real Christmas promotion—something Post regrettably doesn't have this year—but we hope will next year.

For Post residents, it means realizing the economic values of shopping at home where your dollars spent will stay to help build new schools and operate them, build parks, and pay salaries to friends and neighbors. It means understanding that getting service in Post on items purchased 39 miles up the road is an expensive and time consuming procedure and that service can best be obtained just a few blocks away. Trekking down the road to shop is an expense in itself which shouldn't be discounted in figuring up the "bargains" obtained.

Buying at home is going to mean much to the economic future of Post. It will have a lot to do with the value of your home ten years or 20 years from now. That value can go up—or it can go down, depending upon how many dollars that should be working here at home for all of us are spent elsewhere.—JC

Texas Beef Council Getting Results

"What's good for the cattle industry is good for Texas" is perhaps a forgivable paraphrase of a famous quote—and it has the advantage of being true.

Texas' cattle industry, in its 417-year history, has survived drought, flood, war and pestilence. It has not always prospered—but its prosperous years have benefited every phase of Texas economy.

Three years ago Texas cattlemen organized the Texas Beef Council to fight the latest threat to their industry—under-consumption of beef which was causing a surplus. This, in turn, pushed the industry toward price supports and federal buying programs. During the first two years of this program, the cattlemen proved they were not over-producing their product—the public was just suffering from under-consumption. By educating Texas housewives in the proper preparation of the less-expensive cuts of beef, they increased beef consumption in the state by 33 per cent.

This week the cattle industry is observing "Beef Week in Texas," and Post and Garza County is happy to join in the observance. Even long before 1907, the year in which Garza County and the City of Post came into being, the cattle industry was playing a big part—the biggest part in fact—in the development of this area. Ever since, the cattle industry has helped stabilize our economy and no doubt will continue to do so for many years to come.

This week's observance marks the end of the third year of the Beef Council's program, during which beef-eating in Texas again hit a new high.

The Texas Beef Council has been good for the cattle industry—and increased consumption of beef, our most complete protein food, has been good for Texans.—CD

We Have Head Start On This Plan

It's a little untimely, but we ran across something the other day that made us feel that Post High School has had the right idea for the past several years in having commencement exercises planned and participated in by members of the graduating classes.

What we ran across was the view of State High School Supervisor H. Maine Shoun of Idaho, who thinks that strictly formalized exercises have little effect on the lives of the graduates and that they quickly forget, or do not understand, the ponderous words of the Very Important Orator. Shoun believes that commencement exercises planned and participated in by members of the graduating classes are best for them, for the school and for the community.

Making it look even more as if graduating from high school—that is, the matter of surviving the actual commencement exercises—is going to be a lot easier than it used to be is a recently completed nationwide survey of state Boards of Education. The results of this survey indicate a definite and growing trend against big-wigs and in favor of graduates as speakers—a general tendency, in fact, to permit the wearers of the caps and gowns to run their own show with a minimum of official guidance. That is something they have been doing at Post High School for a long, long time. So, it appears that our high school is one of the pace-setters in what is described as a "growing trend."—CD

If The School Is To Keep Pace . . .

Delay in the start of the Post Antelopes' basketball season has, among other things, put off for a couple of weeks or so the use of a gymnasium which is a discredit to the school. While the gym is good enough to get by with, it has the reputation of being one of the poorest among District 2-AA schools.

A new gymnasium is included in plans for expanded building at the high school, and well it should be if we are going to continue participating in interscholastic sports. In as bad, or even worse, condition is the football stadium with its inadequate bleachers, press box and score board. It'll take a lot of doing to bring the gymnasium and football stadium up to where they should be, to say nothing of coming up with some sort of a track if the high school athletes are to continue taking part in that sport. We'd be one of the last to argue that athletic facilities should be given preference over such things as science and homemaking departments, but that doesn't make them any less needed if the program is to be continued at the local high school.

The best way to put it is that there is room for building improvements, both academic and athletic, at Post High School if the school is to keep pace in the parade of progress.—CD

The possibility of using disguised highway patrol cars is currently being considered in many areas. . . . Such an idea has often been discussed, always with a wave of public indignation that the use of unmarked cars is unfair. THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

HERE IT IS Dec. 5, with Christmas less than 20 shopping days away. As of this column's writing—Dec. 2—there are no Christmas lights up, but we're still hoping.

The brunt of the Asian flu has come and gone, thank goodness, but you still hear talk about it. For instance, it is reported to us that one fellow ailing a bit with the flu was heard to say, "I'm so full of penicillin that if I sneezed I would cure three people."

IT'S WAY TOO early to vote, but the homecoming queen candidates have been selected for next year. They are: Louise Simpson, Lois Childs, Maxine Durrett, Gwendolyn Boren and Jennie Lou Cowdrey. They were members of the 1938, 1943, 1936, 1926 and 1956 graduating classes—in that order.

This is one time of the year Post isn't bothered by a water shortage, but it won't be many months until we are. That is the reason we are filing for future reference a note from the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau of Chicago that a pinhole leak in a faucet can waste about 95,000 gallons of water in a year.

DURING SUMMER'S peak usage months, 95,000 gallons is a lot of water, and multiplied by several dozen leaky faucets it is even more. The Bureau says that in New York City alone, some 200,000,000 gallons of water a day are wasted by leaking faucets and valves.

On the same subject, two college students were discussing the fact that the human body was 92 per cent water. A pretty young lady came by about that time and one said, "Boy, she sure did a lot with her 8 per cent."

A few months ago, our City Council listed adoption of the city-manager form of government as one of its long-range projects. SINCE FIRST trying the city-manager system, 53 communities have dropped it after trials ranging from one to 32 years. In the same period, 200 communities abandoned the administrative-commission plan, and about 800 dropped the mayor-and-council plan.

We don't know whether it was "old age," defective materials, the wind or a combination of all three, but something has caused the big Junior Rodeo sign at the rodeo grounds entrance to collapse on one side.

DECEMBER ISN'T noted for its elections, but there'll be two this month. One is next Tuesday when cotton producers will vote to determine whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect on their 1958 crop. The other election will be for seven members of the board of directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce, with the 110 members to ballot by mail.

Should Be Interesting

It now looks like Texas will be split wide open over the integration question. The AFL and CIO leaders are nearly all in favor of the integration of Texas schools. On the other hand, East Texas and South Texas Liberals which include a large segment of labor are unalterably opposed to integration. This dilemma has the ambitious state-wide politician out on a limb. Labor and Texas Liberals will have a hard time composing this difference or we miss our guess. At any rate, 1958 promises to be a very interesting year politically speaking.—"Drifting Sands" in The Andrews County News.

I guess there's no one that has more reason to be upset about the weather than the bankers. But they tell me it isn't the weather that's causing Clyde Hilburn to lose sleep these days. The Other Side

Many exes on visits to their former schools on homecoming remark, "the students look much younger than they did when we were in school." To give the other side to the comment, may we point out that it used to be first grade students were sent home with notes announcing that they would have their pictures taken on the next day. Speaking of Sputniks, Egniks, Whatniks, and so forth, I had one all lined up the other night, temporarily at least. The thing turned out to be the planet Venus, however, all of which disappointed me no end. With every other place in Texas and half of Georgia reporting unexplained lights, strange aerial activities and such, it looks to me like the least the chamber of commerce could do is get busy and whip up something for Fort Stockton to look at. On-The-Ball' Retailers Need Have No Worries About Christmas Trade

ROGER BABSON'S AUTHENTIC STATEMENT

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Most readers are anxious to know whether we are now in a Bear Market. This applies to retail stores, real estate and commodity prices, as well as to stocks and bonds. Let me first say that everything points to good Christmas business. Retailers who are at their stores from opening to closing and who attend to business have nothing to worry about, at least this year.

During my fifty years of watching Wall Street, a part of which time I spent on Wall Street, I have witnessed five Bear Markets. Naturally they all follow Bull Markets such as we have seen in the past decade. In fact, there has been no other Bull Market during these fifty years as long and as profitable as the one we have experienced since 1942.

When Bull Markets increase and become overextended, that is the first indication of a Bear Market. Furthermore, such Bear Markets ultimately include commodity price and real estate activity, as well as stocks and bonds. One type of activity, however, may anticipate or extend beyond another. The bond market may now be at the low point of its cycle, while the stock market is still high. Stocks are usually the first to collapse and the first to come back, whereas real estate is the last.

When we were on a Gold Standard, the best sign of the approach of a Bear Market was very high interest rates. Today, however, we are no longer on the Gold Standard, but on a Political Standard. The government in Washington cannot forever extend prosperity; but they can certainly stretch it out.

Another system which has worked fairly well in forecasting markets is the Dow Theory. This was originated many years ago by one of the former owners of the Wall Street Journal. I presume any reader can secure an explanation of it by writing the Wall Street Journal in New York City. Just now, however, this Dow Theory is out of style.

I personally have been guided by the Area Theory, so-called. Briefly, this means that as long as business remains near its normal line of growth we have nothing to fear, except for some very unexpected eventuality. When, however, business begins to form an Area of Prosperity above the normal line larger than previous areas, we must be on our guard. When the area becomes too large, an Area of Depression below the normal line begins to develop. Stocks and retail profits usually begin to decline in the last part of the Prosperity Area, and begin to come back in the early part of the Depression Area. The word AREA is used rather than high or low because if the area above or below the normal line is deep, then it will last a much shorter length of time than if it is shallow. Contrariwise, a shallow area will tend to last longer. Thus, under the Area Theory, you cannot make a forecast as to the length of a period of prosperity or of depression until you know its height or depth.

During previous periods of prosperity, a very small percentage of the people owned securities, or even real estate. Today, however, markets can be very much influenced by the thinking of small investors scattered throughout the country,—that is, "John Q. Public". Furthermore, owing to the strict supervision of the Securities & Exchange Commission, the bankers, investment dealers, and large investors cannot form pools to influence the market as they did before the Roosevelt regime.

This was very clearly illustrated during the second election of President Eisenhower. Most stock and business analysts felt that the "bloom was off the rose" in 1955 and believed a Bear Market had started. The tremendous victory of Mr. Eisenhower in 1956 entirely changed the attitude of John Q. Public. This caused another uplift to the market and an extension of the Period of Prosperity. Therefore, the real criterion now of whether or not we are in a Bear Market is how you and your neighbors feel. If most of you have faith in the present Administration, then a real Bear Market has not yet started. But, if you are fearful and unhappy, my guess is that the Bear Market has started in earnest.

The only 1958 car that offers more of everything you want... yet is priced lower than in '57

Here's great news! While prices of 1958 cars of other manufacturers are up, the price of Ford's exciting new Custom 300 Series is down. A brand-new '58 Ford Custom 300 with all of its exciting new styling and engineering advances is priced lower than a '57 model, similarly equipped!

World approved styling. A Custom 300 brings you styling that is dramatically new. With its Honeycombed grille, Slipstream roof, Deep-Sculptured rear deck, and Safety-Twin headlights and taillights, Ford styling drew admiring glances from Paris to Saigon... yet it's yours now in any '58 Ford Custom 300 without extra cost!

New handling ease. Slide behind the wheel of a Custom 300 and you'll soon discover just how much fun driving can be. Notice how smoothly it handles. That's Ford's new feather-touch Magic-Circle steering, the next best thing to power steering.

New riding comfort. Notice, too, the solid comfort of your ride. That's Ford's easier acting front and rear suspensions. They soak up the bumps before they reach you.

Thrifty, new engines. You have a wonderful choice of new, more efficient power plants... designed for real gas-saving economy plus greater performance. Six or V-8, they give you more power, smoother power, from less gas!

Priced as much as $50 lower. A comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail delivered prices shows that a '58 Ford Custom 300 is priced as much as $50 less than the same model for '57! You'll wonder how Ford can offer so many of the things you want in a car priced so low. One big reason: Ford gives you more car for less money because Fords sell more! See and drive a Custom 300 and we believe you'll agree that these Fords give you more real value for your car-buying dollars than any car on the American road today.

Sixth Grade Visits Post Office Here

By MARILYN WILLIAMS And LINDA PENNELL

The sixth grade of Post Junior High School went to the post office by bus Thursday.

We were taken to the back and shown how the letter is cancelled we were shown the bags that the letters were put in to be taken to other areas.

We were shown how the mail is put into the boxes. The boxes are slanted so the mail cannot fall out. These boxes are in alphabetical order. People who do not have boxes get their mail through General Delivery.

We were also shown the four classes of mail. Firstclass is letters and post cards; second class is magazines and newspapers; third class is circulars and advertisements; and fourth is packages and parcels.

In our post office we have stamps ranging from one half cent to one dollar.

One cannot send packages weighing more than seventy pounds.

We especially want to thank Mr. Voss and the other personnel for their kind interest that they showed us.

Miss-Ammons Vows Repeated Methodist Church Friday

Norris and Donald were united in marriage at 7 o'clock ceremony at the Methodist Church. The couple are Mr. Norris and Mrs. Bettie

MRS. DONALD RAY AMMONS
Miss Allane Norris

L. Porterfield, pastor of the church, officiated at the wedding ceremony. The bride wore a white gown with a long veil and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom wore a dark suit and a white shirt with a dark tie. The ceremony was held in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church, which was filled with guests.

BE CAREFUL WITH TREE DECORATIONS

Texas Safety Official Issues Warning On Christmas Hazards

AUSTIN—"Today is the day to prevent an accident—not tomorrow."

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Assn., issued these words of caution today to Texans, regarding Christmas tree decorating safety.

"Most of us make special efforts to see that our homes are filled with pleasure during the Christmas season."

"Why, then," Musick asked, "can't we go a step further and make sure our holiday spirit isn't accidentally marred through carelessness in decorating our homes?"

Musick pointed out that it takes less than 60 seconds for the average Christmas tree to burn completely.

"You have probably seen a Christmas tree burned outdoors," he said. "The roar and power of that fire are awesome, even when under control. It can bring death and terror into a home unless a few common sense precautions are taken."

To reduce the possibilities of such an accident to minimum, Musick listed the following "musts" for safe decorating.

1. Keep tree outside until ready to set it up; then erect it away from heating units. Never place it so that it will block an exit.
2. Make a fresh cut diagonally in the trunk, at least one inch above the original cut, and keep the base in a water-filled contain-

3. Anchor your tree firmly at both the top and bottom. Don't try to fire-proof your tree with chemicals. Use non-flammable decorations.
4. Keep lighted candles away from tree or other decorations. Use only Underwriter approved lighting — checking to make certain all sockets and wires are in good condition.
5. Turn off decorations at time or when away.
6. Clean up after decorations — scattered are an invitation to fire.
7. Dispose of tree and decorations in the proper manner. "Remember," Musick said, "keep your Christmas one, with happiness and safety."

THE QUEST FOR NEW TRAILS

The history of man is a story of progress. Each of its thousands of volumes could bear one common title: The Quest for New Trails.

Even in childhood we display this strange genius which has brought us from primeval forests to this atomic age. We love to penetrate the untouched spaces . . . to open trails where none have ever been.

But this quest could destroy us more rapidly than it has profited us. History recounts the fall of many a civilization too busy with its search for new trails to understand its deeper needs.

For man can truly progress only when his spiritual growth keeps pace with his cultural and scientific advancement.

Or, bluntly, the future of this young Arctic explorer and of his world depends on the Church. The truths of God are unchanging—and ever more essential—as we seek new trails into the Unknown.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CROP ROTATIONS PLAY IMPORTANT ROLE

Good Soil Management Practices Basis For Prosperous Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION—Good soil management practices and well adapted cropping systems are the basis for a long continued and prosperous agriculture. Those who depend on the soil for livelihood are likely to become too careless with this main resource, and this can prove costly, warns Jack Barton, extension soil conservation specialist.

The physical condition of soil is of much importance in crop promotion, says Barton. Physical properties can be controlled by good use of crop residues, crop rotations, green manure and cover crops and barnyard manure. A deep, moderately porous soil should be maintained, rather than one that is too tight and hard to work or the other extreme, too porous.

Organic matter is of prime importance in keeping soil in good physical condition, points out the specialist. It insures a good population of beneficial soil bacteria, aids in water penetration, increases the water-holding capacity of the soil, improves soil structure and adds nitrogen and humus.

Texas soils are likely to be deficient in nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and lime, so in many instances fertilization is necessary to insure maximum yields. The addition of these essential plant nutrients can result in much higher production. A soil test is helpful in determining the proper amounts that are needed, says Barton.

Crop rotations can play an important role in improving soil productivity, and legume or grass should be included in the rotation program, he says. The legume will add nitrogen to the soil and both the legume and grass can be a good source of organic matter and grazing. Naturally, grazing would take away some of the organic matter, he adds.

Almost every farm operator follows a plan, though sometimes unconscious of the fact, points out Barton. The choice of a good or poor plan is up to the operator. His choice can mean the difference between a profit or loss.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I am drawing monthly compensation checks from VA, and I also hold a GI term insurance policy on which I pay monthly premiums. Could I arrange for VA to deduct the amount of the premiums from my compensation check, so I wouldn't have the bother of making my own payments every month?

A. Yes, provided your compensation payments are at least as large as the amount of your GI insurance premium payments.

Q. I was not able to start Korean GI training within three years from my discharge, since I was out of the country on a Government job. Could an exception be made in my case, allowing me to begin my schooling now?

A. No. The law requires veterans to begin Korean GI training within three years from the date of their discharge or separation. It allows for no exceptions.

Q. May my daughter get War Orphans educational allowances while attending public high school? She meets eligibility requirements for the allowances.

A. No. The law prohibits young men and women from taking regular high school training under the War Orphans Education program. The only below-college courses permitted are those leading to a definite vocational goal.

Q. I am a World War II veteran, out of service for 10 years. I have a disability which I believe to be service-connected. If I file a claim with VA and it is approved, would I be entitled to retroactive compensation payments all the way back to my first day in civilian life?

A. No. Compensation may be made retroactive to a veteran's first day in civilian life only if he applies within one year from his discharge and VA finds the disability was compensable at that time. Otherwise, the payments may date back only to your date of application.

Assemblies Of God Ranks 10th In Sunday School Enrollment In U. S.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Statistics released in the 1958 Yearbook of American Churches indicate the Assemblies of God is the 10th ranking denomination in Sunday School enrollment in the United States.

The revised church ranks also placed the denomination eighth in number of ministers, ninth in church, 28th in church membership, seventh in Sunday School workers and teachers, and eighth in number of Sunday Schools. The Assemblies of God is the fifth largest missionary denomination in the world and stands first in number of foreign Bible Schools.

Included in the national release of statistics was the First Assembly of God Church of Post, 316 North Avenue I, the local congregation of the denomination. According to the Rev. J. R. Brincefield, local pastor, the church has a current Sunday School enrollment of 82.

Growth of the Assemblies of God can be credited to an active home missions and Sunday School program, according to Rev. Brincefield. The denomination has averaged opening one church a day for the past six years.

Churches of the Assemblies of God number 7,929 in the U. S. and some 8,747 abroad. Membership of the American Assemblies of God is approximately 471,115.

Although the number of churches placed the denomination ninth, membership-wise it is 28th. However, many of the churches have no roll and others place little emphasis on membership, Brincefield stated.

The Sunday School enrollment of the Assemblies of God is more representative of the size of the denomination, Rev. Brincefield indicated. As of 1956 Sunday Schools had 878,080 members and 88,296 workers and teachers. A drive is underway to boost enrollment to one million by 1960.

Statistics released by the 1958 Yearbook of American Churches were compiled by the National Council of Churches in Christ. The publication includes all denominations of the U. S., including those not a member of the National Council.

The Assemblies of God is a member of the National Association of Evangelicals, and does not hold membership in the National Council of Churches.

The term, ballot, meaning "little ball," stems from classical Greek jury practice. White balls meant acquittal, black balls, banishment.

ment is included in the Chamber of Commerce's new Program of Progress budget for 1958.

And speaking of the Chamber's budget drive, officials of the organization hope to wind it up this week. It doesn't look like the $14,000 plus goal will be realized but it is in the field of probability that enough additional money will be pledged for 1958 in dues to make a real expansion program possible. The new Chamber board, now in the process of being elected, will have a big job and a big responsibility on its hands. On the Chamber front, real progress is being made. Let's all give the Chamber our full support — financially.

The head butting between the city council and General Telephone over rate boosts and dial phones here has reached another regrettable impasse. There is no denying that the failure of phone facilities to be developed here to the maximum extent has hurt this community. One thing General Telephone could well do and that would be to sell phone service to more local residents. A telephone's value can be measured by the people one can reach at the other end of the phone line. In Post you can't reach enough of them. Count the total number of families in your Post phone directory and you'll be surprised at the small total. The company wants to boost the rates before extending phone service because it feels such capital outlays will necessitate higher returns here. It's another egg and chicken story—which comes first. We doubt if boosting the rates will produce more customers—or very many of them anyway.

The cotton picking is coming along this week at about the same pace as last week with some cotton "strippers" now busy in the Southland and Graham communities. Strippers won't really be spread out all over the county for three or four weeks.

Post's progress is busy on the building front too. A little checking around reveals that Nolan Miller is adding a 20 by 30 feet addition for living quarters to the Highway Cafe. W. C. Caffey is having Forrest Lumber build him a new home with attached garage at 903 West 11th, and work is starting on the new brick home of J. B. Potts, First National bank official, in the 100 block North Avenue R. Horace Henley of Lubbock is the contractor for the Potts home with the R. E. Cox Lumber Co. furnishing the materials. Forrest Lumber is handling the cafe addition in addition to the Caffey home.

A picture of the C. W. Post statue in Battle Creek, Mich., a bronze replica of which has been ordered for the courthouse lawn here in Post, has been hung in the city hall. The picture was sent to the city by Mrs. Merriweather Post.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hibbs Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Daniels and daughters, Donna and Jeannie of Enid, Okla. Saturday the group met Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Driver and Betty, also of Enid, in Lubbock. The Drivers and Daniels are known to TV fans as "The Serenaders". They formerly lived in Lubbock and had a TV program under that name. They now appear regularly on the KGEO station in Enid. In the past they have given several performances in Post for various occasions.

The Dispatch today is stuffed with a goodly number of Christmas ads by Post merchants, who spend their money right here in Post. This is Christmas buying season and The Dispatch urges its readers to "shop at home." You'll be surprised the bargains you can find here on Main street and the savings you can actually effect on items by buying at home and not 39 miles down the road.

wheels loose from the truck frame, according to Deputy Sheriff J. W. (Red) Floyd and City Marshal O. G. Shepherd Jr., who investigated the accident, along with Frank Smith, highway patrolman from Spur.

The Tierney family said Howard Tierney had just taken over as driver of the car, a 1957 Oldsmobile "88", at Clairmont. He was crushed against the steering wheel in the collision, which threw his father and brother from the car. He apparently died instantly. Mrs. Tierney and her granddaughter were riding in the back seat.

Neither vehicle overturned, but the truck skidded sideways in the road following the crash. Ambulances from the Hudman and Mason funeral homes brought the injured persons to the hospital here.

The Kent County attorney at Jayton told The Dispatch Tuesday that the accident was still being investigated, but that no charges had been filed.

Tierney was a bookkeeper for the E. & R. Lumber Co. in Lubbock. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Winnie Tierney; one daughter, Jo Ann; his parents and his brother.

Cotton Acreage—

and a 30 per cent carryover reserve, is estimated at 17.6 million bales. Thus, the prospective total supply exceeds the normal supply by about 5.6 million bales, and quotas for the 1958 crop of upland cotton had to be proclaimed.

Marketing quotas operate through acreage allotments. A grower who exceeds the cotton acreage allotment for his farm, under a cotton marketing quota program will be subject to a marketing quota penalty of 50 per cent of parity on the farm's excess production. Growers who do not exceed their cotton allotments may market free of penalty all of the 1958 cotton production from their farms.

Legislative provisions require a two-thirds approval by growers before quotas can be applied.

Counties besides Garza receiving acreage allotment invoices were Briscoe, Castro, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Farmer, Swisher and Yoakum. Decreases were marked for the counties of Bailey, Cochran, Dawson, Dickens, Gaines, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley and Terry.

Ed Judd Speaker At Lions Meeting

Ed Judd, a special representative of Lions International, was the speaker at Tuesday night's meeting of the Post Lions Club. Judd, whose home is in Denison, but who is now working out of Lubbock, described the nature of his work—organization of new Lions clubs and reorganization of old ones which have become inactive. Guests at the meeting were J. P. Parnell, Henry Ernest, J. D. McCampbell and Claude Carter.

Claude Collier was transferred in as a member from the Atoka, Okla., Lions Club. It was announced at the meeting that a luncheon will be held in Lubbock next Tuesday honoring R. Roy Keeton of Chicago, director-general of Lions International. President Al Norris, Secretary Weaver Moreman, and three or four other Lions will represent the Post club at the luncheon.

Prospector Yields Salt Water On Test

Drilling operations have been resumed by Lone Star Producing Co. at its No. 1 George Beggs, 18 miles east of Post, following the recovery of salt water on a drill-test test.

The test tool remained open two hours to evaluate the interval from 6,543 to 6,587 feet. Recovery was 3,780 feet of salt water. No previous reports of pay indication have been received.

The site is 810 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of Section 60, Block 2, T&NO Survey. Pure Oil Co. No. 1 Welch, 10 miles northeast of Post, pumped 10 barrels of oil and 244 barrels of salt water in 24 hours and was continuing to test.

Dial Service—

"We'll install it," the division manager said. "But if such an installation requires poles or an excessive amount of wire, it just isn't good business for us to make it on our present rate of return in Post."

Kemper said extension of telephone service to Post's new Westgate Addition had been engineered, and materials set aside, but that the work order had been cancelled in view of the city council's action on the company's request for rates that would give them a satisfactory return on their investment here.

"We're just not investing any additional capital in the Post exchange until we are granted rates that will give us a fair rate of return on our present investment," Kemper said.

Park Plan—

plained that the reason the city wished to retain the title to the park was because a sizeable sum of city money had been spent in construction of a swimming pool and other facilities at the park site.

"I don't think the people of the county will be as concerned with who owns the park as they will be with what we are going to do with it," the mayor said.

Another reason the city wishes to retain the title, he said, is because "the people up and down Main Street purchased the park land and donated it to the city."

Judge Walker said the county mainly is interested in development of the site south of the lake as an agricultural project, including construction there of the proposed 4-H Club building.

"We'd like to see the eight acres on the south side of the lake dedicated to agricultural development," he said. "That would leave 12 acres on the north side for development of recreational areas and other park facilities."

The judge said part of the site south of the lake could be made into demonstration plots for use by the county agricultural agent in tests of new types of grasses, cotton and grain sorghums. He said the Soil Conservation Service is also interested in sites for test plots.

Walker said that the county is going to have to develop an agricultural area somewhere for the 4-H building and test plots. "I don't see any use of us having to do this at some other place while you're developing the park for recreational facilities alone. That would just be a duplication of efforts."

The judge said it would also be necessary to bring the park site into the city limits in order for ordinances to be passed to enforce traffic regulations and laws protecting park property.

The procedure suggested by the city includes:

1. That a park board be appointed consisting of four members named by the city and four members by the commissioners' court, with the eight members to select a ninth member to serve as chairman of the board. (The city has already appointed its four members).

2. That the city and county each contribute annually for a period of 10 years the sum of $2,500 to be used in developing the park.

3. That prior to appropriating any money that the park board secure plans drawn by competent park engineers setting forth a plan for development of the park as a whole and that the park board be required to follow this plan in its expenditures of the money jointly appropriated.

4. That the county take care of the roads in the park both as to construction and maintenance, and that the city take care of the utilities necessary to be used in the park.

Directors whose terms are expiring are: Lowell Short, Ted R. Hibbs, Bryan J. Williams, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, Harold Voss, John N. Hopkins and E. R. (Buster) Moreland.

Holdover directors on the ten-member board are: W. M. Kirkpatrick, Chant D. Lee and Lee Ward.

The Chamber secretary asks members to vote for their seven choices from among the 20 nominees and return the ballots to the Chamber office.

25 Deer Bagged On Public Hunt

AUSTIN — Twenty-five deer were taken this year from the Kerr Wildlife Management Area in Kerr County, on the fourth public hunt to be staged there. There were 132 hunters who went to the area from Nov. 16 to 20, inclusive, according to the director of Wildlife Management of the Game and Fish Commission.

On the first day of the hunt 30 men got seven deer, the second day 29 hunters got six deer; third day 25 hunters, three deer; fourth day 26 hunters, five deer, and the fifth day 22 hunters got four deer.

The largest deer weighed 111 pounds dressed. It had eight points. On the Black Gap area in Brewster County 23 deer were killed on the first six days of hunting by 118 hunters. All were fat and in excellent condition, according to reports from the area.

On the Red River arsenal area 189 deer were killed for that hunt. Three were does with antlers. One had four points and was in full velvet. The other two came up with four points and six points each, fully polished horns.

There were 26 bucks and 20 does killed on the Gus Engeling Wildlife Management Area in Anderson County. Of the 241 permits issued, 200 hunters showed up.

No report has been received as yet from the Panhandle area, except that the deer this year are unusually large.

Antelopes Play Seagraves In Opening Cage Tilt Tonight

The untested Post Antelope basketball team opens its season here at 8 o'clock tonight against the Seagraves Eagles, with a game between the school's B teams preceding the varsity match.

Red Raider Cagers To Play Hamline

LUBBOCK — Three times National Inter-Collegiate champion Hamline University brings another strong basketball team to play Texas Tech's Red Raiders in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Hamline, Minnesota Collegiate title last year, compiled a 22-4 record under Coach Joe Hutton, who led the Pipers to national championships in 1942, 1949, and 1951. Tech was a loser in the 1949 quarter-finals to Hamline. The Red Raiders beat Hamline at Canyon in 1953, so this week's game is the rubber contest between the two schools.

The 6 p. m. preliminary Tech freshmen will meet the powerful Ince Oilers of Lubbock. West Texas State will play the Red Raiders here Wednesday night, Dec. 11, before Tech leaves for road games against Georgia Tech and Louisiana State.

Coach Polk Robinson will probably start center Leon Hill of Sudan, forwards Wade Wolfe of Lubbock, and Bobby Wilson of Lipan, guards Charlie Lynch of Sudan and Gerald Myers of Borger.

Game tickets, at $2, are being sold all week at the Jones Stadium Athletic Office and will be available at the Coliseum Saturday night.

Sundown, Ralls Meet At Lubbock Saturday In Quarterfinal Tilt

LUBBOCK — Final arrangements for the Sundown - Ralls high school football Class A playoff game, which will be played in the Jones Stadium on Texas Tech campus Friday afternoon at 2:30 have been made.

The City of Lubbock, Texas Tech's Athletic Department, and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce have been cooperating with officials representing the two teams, including Supt. John T. Morris of Ralls, and Supt. Billy Key of Sundown.

Tickets went on sale Wednesday in Lubbock, Ralls and Sundown. The tickets, which will sell for $1.50 and 50 cents will be available at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Tech office, Ralls Pharmacy, Western Auto, and Dismukes Pharmacy, Ralls, and at the school business office at Sundown.

Radio stations KFLD, Floydada; and KLVY, Levelland, will carry the game.

been drilling the Antelope cagers since the close of the football season, but the team hasn't made a start yet because of two cancellations by Ralls, which is still engaged in the football playoffs.

Fans attending tonight's game are expected to see a different type of basketball than that played by Post teams of the past few seasons. Parsons has been stressing a ball control and tight defense type of play over the run-and-shoot tactics employed by most South Plains high school quintets.

Lettermen Wayne Runkles and Jimmy Short are slated to start against Seagraves, along with Charlie Morris, Noel Don Norman and Sidney Hart.

Five sophomores from last year's outstanding freshman team form the Antelopes' second unit. They are Scotty Pierce, Kenny Poole, Dan Rankin, Curtis Didway and Forrest Claborn.

Parsons said a starting five for the B team game would be chosen from among Herbie Hays, Clary Cowdrey, Derwood Mayberry, Craig Graham, Marshall Ticer, Charles Tubbs, Delwin Fluitt and Travis Guy.

Guy also runs with the second unit, and another member of the first unit is senior student Charles Cheshire.

Runkles, at 6:01, is the tallest of the five probable starters. Short

Finals in both the boys' and girls' divisions of the tournament are scheduled for Saturday night. The Post teams are in the tournament's upper bracket along with Dawson, Wellman, New Home, Union and Ackerly. WTSC Choir To Present Program Of Christmas Carols On Tuesday

A program of traditional Christmas carols and modern part songs will be presented by the 65-voice A Cappella Choir of West Texas State College Tuesday, Dec. 10 at 1:30 p. m. in the Post High School auditorium.

The Post concert is one of eight to be given by the WT choral group in South Plains schools on its annual Christmas tour. A second tour is usually made in the spring. Other appearances are scheduled in Tulia, Plainview, Muleshoe, Tahoka, Littlefield, Dimmitt and Canyon.

One of the most widely known choral organizations in the Southwest, the WT A Cappella Choir is directed by Dr. Houston Bright, a professor of music at West Texas State since 1940. Dr. Bright is composer of dozens of choruses, pieces and piano, with about two dozen selections published within the past two years.

A specialty quartet, made up from members of the choir, will also appear with the group in its programs. The "Hi-Fi Quartet" includes Jim Restine of Amarillo, Bennie Gollehon of Dimmitt, Eugene Campbell of Hereford, and Joe Don Leach of Tulia.

Among the choir's repertoire are two selections by Dr. Bright which were recently published by the Edward B. Marks, Inc., music publishers. One is an Easter anthem, "Now Sing We All His Praise," and the other is a Christmas carol titled "Joyous Christmas Carol."

A new novelty number by Dr. Bright, not yet published, will also be sung by the group. It is called "What Can an Old Man Do but Die."

Included in the program are four Russian carols and church songs, "Lamb of God" by Kallinikof, "Cherubic Hymn" by Gretchaninoff, "If Ye Love the Lord" by Tschesnokoff, and a spectacular Russian chant by Lvovsky.

Part songs include the traditional spirituals, "Motherless Child" arranged by Arthur Ward, and "Spirit of the Lord Done Fell," arranged by Noble Cain.

County Is Falling Behind On Sales Of Savings Bonds

Sales of Series "E" and "H" Savings Bonds in Garza County amounted to $95,234 for the ten-month period ending Oct. 31. This is 69.5 per cent of the county's 1957 goal of $139,032. October sales in the county amounted to $10,236.

Nathan Adams, state chairman, and Ed Gossett, state co-chairman for the U. S. Savings Bonds Committee for Texas, announced that $14,256,015 in Series "E" and "H" Savings Bonds were purchased during October in Texas.

"The total amount of these Savings Bonds purchased during the ten-month period is $141,725,597," said Gossett. "In order to reach the state's goal for the year, $51,374,003 in Savings Bonds must be purchased during November and December."

"We feel confident," Gossett continued, "that Texas will make the 1957 goal, for Christmas shopping traditionally begins the day after Thanksgiving and numerous bonds will be purchased for gifts. We are ready for these Christmas gift shoppers this year with a new and streamlined, if not jet-propelled, Series "E" Savings Bond, and a new gift envelope to fit its smaller size."

"The envelope bears the label that is now traditional for Savings Bonds: 'The Gift That Keeps on Giving.' On the reverse side is a space for an inscription: 'To — From —,' and the slogan: 'A Gift Today for a Bright Tomorrow.' These new envelopes may be secured from local banks at the time the Gift Bonds are purchased."

Crop Stubble Helps Sustain Wildlife

COLLEGE STATION — Game birds such as quail, doves, ducks, geese, and wild turkeys often have a difficult time during the winter season finding food. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife conservation specialist, suggests leaving crop stubble as long as possible after harvest as a food source for our feathered friends.

Cooper points out that crop residues plus the seed of native weeds that are available in harvested fields make one of the best food sources for game birds. But, he adds, some birds, particularly quail, will not utilize food in a field unless there is some cover to protect them from natural enemies. Plant stubble left in the field will give this needed protection, he says.

Rice, corn, grain sorghum and some other crop fields are especially good feeding areas following harvest if left undisturbed for as long as is possible. Native weeds and woody vegetation along field borders serve as natural travel lanes for the birds attempting to feed in a field.

Leaving stubble on the field, Cooper points out, is also recognized in many areas as a good conservation practice. The stubble aids in controlling both wind and water erosion and in holding snow in areas where snows occur.

HIGHEST IN HISTORY OF AUTOMOBILE

Nation's 1957 Traffic Accident Bill Is More Than $7 Billion

NEW YORK—The nation was handed its 1957 traffic bill today by Thomas N. Boate, manager of the Accident Prevention Department of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, and it came to a staggering grand total of $7,255,600,000!

That is the estimated cost of a single year's traffic mayhem based on figures for the first nine months of this year and a projection through Dec. 31. It is the highest figure in the history of the automobile.

"The pro rata share borne by each of the nation's 171,790,000 citizens amounts to $42.23," Mr. Boate said, "while the cost for a family of four is $168.92. Included in the sum are charges for property damage, automobile repair, legal and medical fees, insurance expenses and loss of income through absence from work."

He added that in amassing this bill the nation's traffic losses will reach an estimated total of 28,000 deaths, 1,850,000 injuries and 11,700,000 accidents. An extended period of bad weather during the month of December could reduce this toll some by reducing the number of cars on the highway. Otherwise, he said, the usual annual round of holiday shoppers and seasonal celebrants will make December once again the deadliest month of the year.

While deaths will be below the all-time high set in 1956, accidents and injuries, like the dollars cost, are continuing their steady climb and will reach new high levels. Mr. Boate said that this steady increase in the total traffic casualty experience exposes the error of measuring highway safety progress solely on traffic death figures.

As for the $42.23 'bill' charged up to every man, woman and child in the country, Mr. Boate said that they can be marked paid since the cost of accidents is met on a pay-as-you-go basis. However, he pointed out that this is small consolation since, as matters stand, every citizen can count on his increase each year for the rest of his life.

"These losses will continue," Mr. Boate said, "until we are ready and willing to pay reasonably for safe vehicle and driver control through effective enforcement, engineering and education and until each individual accepts his personal responsibility for complete obedience to the traffic rules."

The safety authority added that until then, motorists will live in a state of constant anxiety, and the cost of avoiding accidents will be high. That is particularly true in the coming holiday season, when motorists are more likely to exceed the speed limit.

IT'S NOT THE SIZE THAT'S MOST IMPORTANT!

And so it is with your credit. It's not the size or the number of purchases you make that counts most, but the way you handle the credit you have been given. Remember that PROMPT PAYMENT is the most important thing in credit. It's just "common sense" to help yourself by paying EXACTLY as agreed.

Egg Law Violators Are Warned By Marketing Advisory Board

By JOHN C. WHITE
 Commissioner of Agriculture

A crackdown on unlicensed egg handlers has been proposed by the Texas Egg Marketing Advisory Board.

The board members, meeting for the November session in Austin, adopted a "get tough" policy against members of the egg trade who are buying, selling and handling eggs without a license from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The new law requires that all dealers, wholesalers, brokers and retailers have a license. Producers selling eggs from their own flocks on an ungraded basis are exempt from licensing provisions.

The deadline for obtaining a license expired on Oct. 20. The board revealed that "quite a number of handlers—especially retailers" had not applied for the permit.

A part of the penalty set by law calls for fines of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000. Those traders who did not obtain their licenses are now in violation of this provision.

The administration and enforcement of the law will be conducted by the Texas Department of Agriculture and its inspectors. Meanwhile, even though the deadline has passed, the department is ed.

Grading and inspection portions of the new Texas Egg Law go into effect on Feb. 17, 1958.

Members of the board present at the meeting included G. F. Siebel of Slaton, Jim W. Whitaker of Paris, Marvin Gilbreath of Weimar, D. W. Reneau of Eguin, Frank Ehrle of Childress, and T. D. Crawford of Hamilton.

Other members include G. H. Bell, Jr., of Robstown, Dewey Stringer of Houston and Tom R. Boothe of San Antonio.

F. Z. Beanblossom of Texas A&M is an ex-officio member.

Proper Mailing Will Insure Against Loss

Postmaster Harold Voss had an important tip today on how many mailers in Post can provide important benefits for themselves this Christmas time, in connection with their mailings.

"The amount of Christmas cards and parcels lost at Christmas time runs into the thousands, many due to improper or inadequate addressing, or use of mailing practices which makes it impossible to return cards or to notify the senders of parcels," Postmaster Voss explained.

Mailers can avoid these losses, he pointed out, by accurate addressing — which includes the all-important postal zone number — and, when sending cards at Christmas, by using 3 cents first class postage, instead of the unsealed 2-cent circular rate.

Postal zone numbers, he noted, designate the specific section of the city in which the postal patron lives. Where his postal zone number is included in his correspondence, it makes it easier and faster to process at the post office. Also, since many streets, avenues and roads have the same or similar names, the postal zone number can prevent delay, resulting from the sending of a letter or parcel to a similar address in another section of the city.

The use of first class 3-cent letter postage on Christmas cards provides many advantages. The 3-cent first class letter is returnable to the sender, while the 2-cent third-class circular is not (unless provisions have been made to guarantee return postage). Also, where the addressee has moved out of town, the 3-cent first class Christmas card will be forwarded to him, whereas the third class 2-cent card can not be forwarded (unless forwarding postage has been guaranteed).

"Thus," the local postmaster of forwarding or return which explained, "the additional penny used to send the Christmas card at the first class postage rate guarantees certain valuable rights may prevent loss of the card and the investment that it represents."

"In addition, there are the human values to be considered, as we in the Postal Service are fully aware. An undeliverable card at Christmas time—sent at the 2-cent third class rate, with the sender never aware it has not been delivered—can in some cases mean a lost friendship."

"So it is good sense and good economy to zone all your mail going to this city, which is zoned, or any of the more than 100 cities which are zoned, and to use first class postage on all Christmas cards."

The junior class sponsors, Mr. Pollard and Mrs. Fleming, have really been working with the cast for a good play. Tickets are now on sale for 35 cents and 50 cents. Reserved seat tickets can be purchased from Clark Cowdrey, Juanella Dunn, Ruth Ann Long or Kay Gene Jones for 75 cents.

The basketball girls played Rotan's "A" string and won by a large margin. So far they have three wins and no losses. Keep it up, girls.

The boys' quartet composed of Don Clary, Jimmy Short, Jerry Hitt, and Clarke Cowdrey, and the girls' sextet sang for the Rotary Club's Thanksgiving dinner Tuesday night. The boys sang "Why" and "That's Your Mistake", and the girls sang "M", "Daddy-O", and "Tammy".

The high school choir sang a pre-Thanksgiving program for the junior high school. Their program consisted of "Old Man Noah", "Great Day", "Sing Praises" and several other new songs.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the two-day holiday they had from school only to find this six-weeks' report cards awaiting them on Monday.

Everyone missed Mr. Schmedt, who was ill last week. Also ill and missed around PHS is Dan E. Cokrum who is in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. We wish you both a very speedy recovery!

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—Both special sessions of the Legislature passed all the bills for which Gov. Price Daniel called them. Mostly, by wide margins.

Even so, final days found everyone at sixes and sevens. House members and Senators wrangled among themselves. Each house sniped at the other. And numerous lawmakers found ways to show they were put out with the governor.

Both houses gave top-sided approval to the two bills requested by the governor to bolster local control of schools. One allows closing of schools threatened with federal occupation. The other empowers the attorney general to assist local districts in fighting anti-segregation suits.

Then, another bill was proposed to allow county judges to require registration of organizations attempting to interfere with public school operations. Sponsors said it was aimed at the NAACP.

Though there seemed to be no large block of opposition to the measure itself, haggling technicalities stretched out the time table.

Some legislators accused others of deliberately prolonging the session to embarrass the governor. Each day (including weekends) made a $11,600 bite into the governor's emergency fund. House members said Senators were sticking around to have the last word in their feud with the Insurance Department.

Whatever the cause, it seemed evident that the Texas Legislature can't be turned on and off like a faucet.

On The Tidelands
Renewal of the contest over tidelands ownership brought criticism of Governor Daniel's role in the federal tidelands law.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo said he felt Daniel should have seen to it the 1953 law recognized specifically Texas' claim to lands 10½ miles out.

Daniel, then a U. S. Senator, sponsored the federal law. At present a federal suit challenges Texas' claim to land beyond three miles.

Daniel retorted that if Hardeman would read the bill he would find it gives each state title to boundaries "as they existed at the time such state entered the union." Texas Congress fixed the coastal boundary at 10½ miles into the Gulf, said the governor.

Hardeman replied Daniel should have attached a map to the bill.

Not Happy
Dissatisfaction of a number of Senators with the Insurance Department seems unlikely to simmer down.

Senate investigating committee indicated it is still not through with its inquiry into the Department's delay in action on an unfavorable report on Preferred Life. It recessed after hearing two assistant state auditors confirm the examiner's finding of irregularities in the company.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood stressed the committee's findings in a speech explaining why the Senate had turned down the Insurance Board's appointment of William A. Harrison as commissioner. He said the Senate felt Harrison had been remiss in not taking immediate action against the company.

Senate finance committee turned critical questions on the three board members for having questioned the Senate's right to pass on Harrison's appointment. Board appeared to ask a bill authorizing the department to reduce the number of examiners and raise salaries.

Land Buy Okayed
Legislature moved forward another step the plan for a consolidated state government center in the heart of Austin.

Both houses passed a bill authorizing purchase of two blocks northeast of the Capitol for a Texas Employment Commission Building.

Overall plan is to ring the Capitol on three sides with five new buildings. Included will be the State Courts Building, state office building, Insurance Building, TEC Building and library and archives building. Cost is estimated at $20,000,000, all to come from various special funds rather than general revenue.

Oil Leasing Held Up
Excessive importing of foreign oil was blamed for the Texas School Land Board's decision not to hold an oil and gas lease sale in February.

Board members said the market is too depressed to make a sale worthwhile. "There's no use putting up our school lands at a cheap price to let the oil companies profit still more because of their excess imports," said Governor Daniel.

At least one large oil company has informed the state it may pay rentals on present leases of submerged land under protest pending outcome of a federal suit contesting state ownership of a position of the tidelands.

A Chance To Speak
Citizens in every county will be given a chance to say what kind of schooling is needed to equip Texas youngsters to live in a space age.

A school study committee set up by the last Legislature plans to ask local county committees to submit ideas. Called the Hale-Aiken Committee, the 24-member panel is made up of legislators and private citizens.

They've promised to heed the wants of interested citizens in the report they're to make to the next session. Already, there's been a large response.

Suggestions range from a "crash" program in science to cutting new building needs by using facilities 12 months a year.

Broad areas being explored in the study are (1) what to teach and for how long, (2) how to get teachers, (3) how to build buildings and (4) how to pay for it all.

Money Ready
State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler repeated an earlier statement that he is ready to start making payments of about 33 cents on the dollar to US Trust and Guaranty Co. creditors.

He's been ready since September, said Wheeler, but a court fight among creditors has blocked action. His statement apparently was prompted by legislative criticism of "too slow" liquidation proceedings.

Short Snorts
Texas' January draft quota will be 493 men, highest call since August, according to State Selective Service Headquarters. This compares with a call of 340 for December. Also in January, local draft boards are to send some 2,000 men for re-induction examinations.

Travis County Judge Tom Johnson is making another try at getting the state to pay cost of returning criminals from other states. Previous Legislature and governor cold-shouldered his pleas. Records show extraditions cost Travis County $1,117 in 1956. A 14-member citizens advisory committee named by Governor Daniel will assist the Texas Employment Commission in sorting out the various jobs of state employees. Last regular legislative session authorized formation of the committee "to

WACKERS

Watched your wife do the wash, lately?

It's an enlightening experience, if she's still bound to the backyard with an old-fashioned clothesline! Better yet, try hanging the clothes yourself! You'll soon see why mechanical science has moved mountains to make the chore easier. And science has succeeded! With a work-saving GAS Clothes Dryer, you just pop in the wet clothes, turn a dial and... that's all there is to it! No lifting, lugging, stooping or stretching. Amazingly enough, it costs approximately $2.60 to dry clothes an entire year for a family of four! Considering all the disadvantages of line drying, it's hardly worthwhile walking out the backdoor for that. See your gas appliance dealer right away. It'll be one of the smartest moves you ever made.
