White River Issue Is Up To Voters Saturday

To Ballot In Four Cities

On the eve of the $4,000,000 White River district bond election Saturday, Spur is reported to be the only one of the four towns in the district where the bonds appear in danger of going down to defeat.

White River district backers in Post, Crosbyton, and Ralls are confident that the proposition to vote bonds to build a 5,000 acre reservoir will be given strong majorities in each of those three communities.

Several weeks ago Ralls was believed to be a questionmark zone as well but Ralls board members reported here Tuesday night that they expected the bonds to carry there by a 2 to 1 majority.

Crosbyton's majority is predicted at 3 to 1 and Post's even greater.

The situation is vastly different at Spur, however. There White River backers rate it as "only a tossup" as to which way the decision will go.

There is active opposition to the White River bonds in Spur based mainly on the feeling that properties in the four towns won't be equalized and Spur, now with high valuations in its school district, will pay more than its share of the tax burden.

Foes of the bonds are reported working hard against the proposition in Spur.

Spur backers of the water project were hoping Tuesday night to convince Hobart Lewis, president of the Spur Security bank, to change his mind and support the bonds before the Saturday vote.

Lewis is reported to have taken the position that he fears the town of Spur won't be able to pay its See BOND VOTE, Page 8

Cavalcade Rehearsals To Begin Next Week

Rehearsals will begin next week on the Caprock Calvacade, the three-night feature production of Post's Golden Jubilee and the word from Director Paul Haagen is that none of the 350 men, women, and children who will be in the cast "have to act."

50 Girls Nominated For Jubilee Queen Contest

Approximately 50 candidates had been entered in the "Miss Post Jubilee" queen contest up to noon Wednesday, with the 5 p.m. Thursday deadline still more than 24 hours away, Paul Haagen, producing company representative, said.

Various committee chairmen also have announced dates for wearing of pioneer costumes, establishment of a kangaroo court and other plans for the Golden Jubilee celebration Sept. 14-17.

Mrs. John F. Lott, chairman of the queen contest committee, said candidates are invited to a meeting Friday night, at which the contest rules and regulations will be explained to them.

A queen, a duchess and six attendants are to be chosen to act as official hostesses during the four-day celebration of the city's 50th birthday. The queen will be crowned opening night.

Melon Party Slated For Football Boys The city park will be the scene at 7 p.m. Friday of a watermelon party for boys who plan to play high school football, this season, Coach Frank Kfut announced today.

The coach also asks boys planning to play football to report at the Medical & Professional Building at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning for physical examinations.

Tops In Editorial Writing, Advertising Composition

Dispatch Wins Two Firsts

First place trophies in the editorial writing and advertising composition contest were won by The Post Dispatch at the annual convention of the West Texas Press Assn. held Friday and Saturday in Lubbock.

The two trophies, which have been added to the already-imposing display of winnings in The Dispatch's front office, were accepted by Publisher Jim Cornish at an awards ceremony Saturday morning in the Caprock Hotel, convention headquarters.

The Dispatch's entries were from issues of the newspaper printed in 1956. One of the winning editorials was written following a Saturday night gang fight on the city's main street and called attention to the fact that the city and county law enforcement agencies did not have enough officers to properly police the town.

rehearsals get under way next week in the high school gym on a scene by scene basis. The rehearsals aren't going to be either difficult or time-consuming, the way Director Haagen has it planned.

There will be no more than three rehearsals plus the final dress rehearsal for any scene and some of them won't require but one or two rehearsals.

Each rehearsal will last no more than 45 minutes according to Haagen's busy schedule. All of them will be held in the high school gym.

The cast for the Calvacade will total some 350 persons, 250 of them adults and 100 of them children. Anyone wishing to volunteer for parts in the production and who aren't contacted by those assigned to find actors and actresses for particular scenes are asked to telephone Golden Jubilee headquarters — phone 632 — and leave their names.

The Calvacade, as already written, will require 90 minutes of playing time not counting the fireworks finale.

There will be 15 episodes plus the prologue and the finale. The Calvacades will be put on at the Post Stadium rodeo grounds with the entire rodeo arena—200 feet long—to be used as the stage.

The audience will be seated on the north side of the arena only with the footlights placed along the north arena fence.

Chairman Named For '58 March Of Dimes Mrs. Pat N. Walker has been appointed chairman of Garza county's 1958 March of Dimes campaign, it was announced today by J. Lee Bowen, county chairman for the National Foundation for infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. Walker succeeds the Rev. Almon Martin.

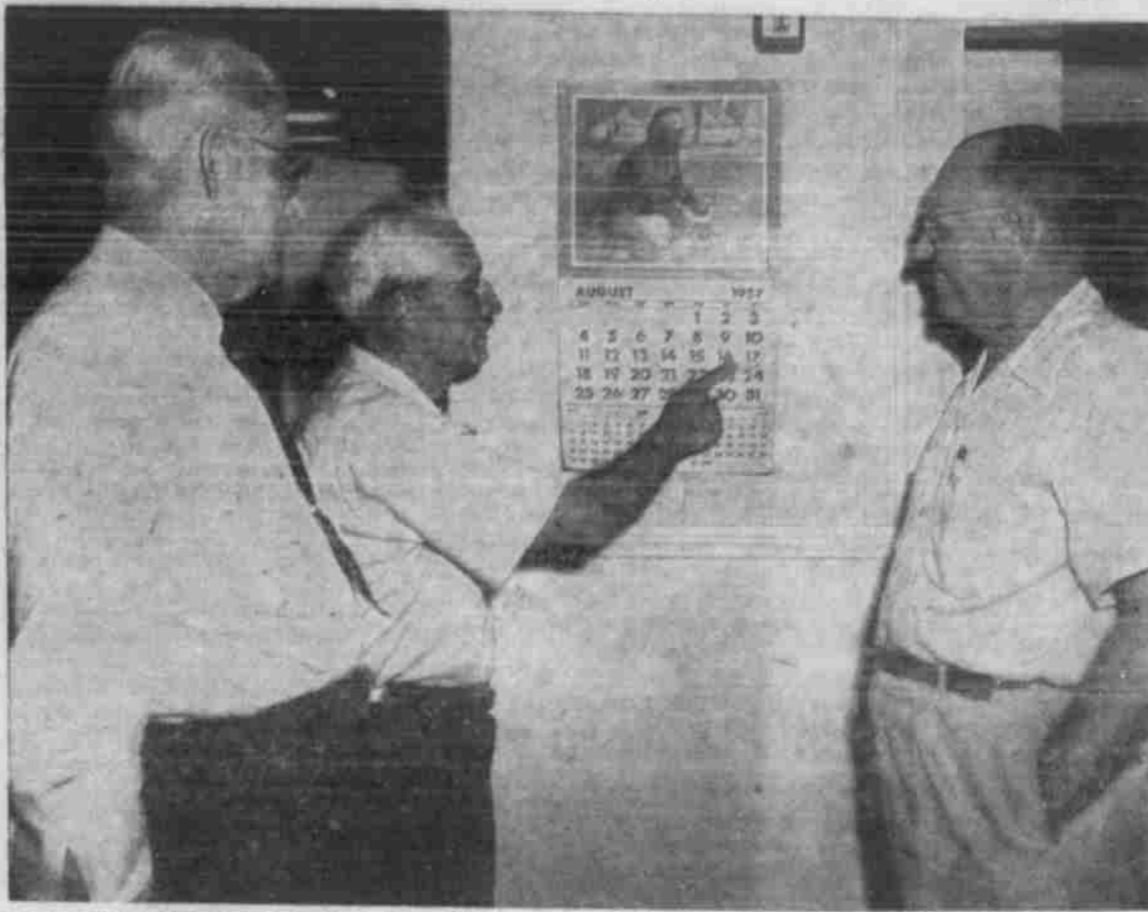

The other editorial was one urging voters to go to the polls and vote for confirmation of the newly-created White River Municipal Water District.

Entries in the advertising composition contest were judged on the basis of attractiveness, typography, layout, etc.

It was the first time The Dispatch ever won a first place in these two divisions, although it had garnered first place prizes in all other divisions. The newspaper's editorials won second place in June in the Texas Press Assn. contests.

In the editorial contest, the Farwell State Line Tribune placed second; the Tulla Herald, third, and the Comfort News, fourth.

Second place in the advertising composition contest was won by the Hamilton Herald-News, with the Farwell State Line Tribune placing third and the Stanton Reporter fourth.

Six Teachers Are Hired By Trustees

Employment of seven teachers at Monday night's meeting of the board of trustees of Post Consolidated Independent School District leaves only four faculty positions to be filled, Supt. R. K. Green said today.

Teachers employed at Monday night's board session were Mrs. Evah Chambliss, Edward O. Tackett, Miss Leta Branscum, Ray C. Bishop, Albert Duane Parsons, Mrs. Ella Mae Hudman and L. A. Garner.

Faculty vacancies yet to be filled include a head of the high school English department, a fifth grade teacher and two junior high school teachers, the superintendent said.

Mrs. Chambliss, who will teach English in junior high school, is from Denton and has a bachelor's degree from North Texas State College. She has had six years' teaching experience.

Tackett, who will teach at the Graham School, is from Hobbs, N. M., and has a bachelor's degree from John Brown University in Arkansas. He has taught five years.

Bishop, with a bachelor's degree from Texas Tech and four years' teaching experience, will teach high school English. He is from Brownfield.

Miss Branscum, who will move here from Spur to teach in junior high school, has a bachelor's degree from Texas Tech and one year's teaching experience.

Employment of Parsons as head basketball and track coach, assistant football coach and high school classroom teacher, was announced earlier by Supt. Green, subject to Monday's action by the school board.

Department Store Loses To Rooftop Burglar

Post's rooftop burglar struck again Saturday night, this time making off with approximately $185 after breaking into Dunlap's Department Store, 221 East Main, through a skylight.

The break-in was similar to a number of others pulled here the last few weeks, except that this time the intruder did not leave empty-handed as has been the case in most of the other burglaries.

The burglar apparently made his way to the rooftop by scaling a telephone pole at the rear of the store. After tearing the roofing off the skylight and breaking out the glass, he swung from a pipe to a ledge in the store's shoe department and jumped from there to the floor.

The intruder used a heavy ticket file to force open the cash register which was heavily damaged. He took most of the money from the register and some change from a checking counter drawer. He also took two checks.

L. E. (Everett) Webb, manager, discovered the burglary Sunday morning when he found the rear door open after going to the back of the store to turn off a light. He reported the break-in to sheriff's officers, whose investigation turned up a footprint in the store. The investigators said the footprint appeared to have been made by "someone in their sock-foot."

Three Reappointed To Hospital Board Three members whose terms had expired were reappointed Tuesday to the board of directors of Garza Memorial Hospital by the county commissioners' court.

Reappointed to two-year terms on the board were Walter Duckworth, Henry Wheatley and Ott Nance.

Community Committeemen To Be Elected Sept. 3-9

Nominations of Garza County farmers for community ASC committeemen have been released by Emmarhe I. Hartel, county ASC office manager.

The office manager said community election boards nominated 10 candidates for community committeemen from each of the three ASC communities in the county.

Transportation To Polls Available

Post voters will go to the polls at the city hall here Saturday to vote on the $4,000,000 White River water bond issue and backers of the plan are confident that they will give a thumping "go ahead" on the project.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. The Lions club is furnishing rides to any voters who need them to reach the polls Saturday. Any wanting rides are asked to call either Ralph Welch at 616, Weaver Morman at 444, or the Rev. Cecil Stowe at 161W.

White River backers are urging a big turnout at the polls, pointing out that Post's water future is at stake and is nothing to be complacent about. Only ten absentee ballots have been cast in advance here.

Results of the bond election from all the four towns in the district will be available at The Dispatch office from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday night.

It will take about an hour after the polls close in the four towns, it is estimated, to get a complete tabulation from all over the district.

Persons interested in the voting outcome are asked not to call before 8 p.m. The newspaper office also will be open for those who want to stop in and take a look at the returns.

Name 30 ASC Candidates

Mrs. Hartel said ballots for election of community committeemen will be mailed eligible voters in each ASC community. The voting period will be Sept. 3-9, with the tabulation board meeting on Sept. 12 to count the votes.

Three regular and two alternate committeemen are to be elected for each of the three communities. The nominees are: Community "A"—Earl C. Lancaster, Robert Mock, Herman R. Dabbs, Hershel D. Beavers, Weldon R. McGehee, Ed Cummings, Jack Burkett, Ted Shultz, Chris Gindorf, James S. Sims. Community "B"—Gerald Nor-

Community "C"—J. G. Sievert, Donald McLendon, R. W. Self, Walter Boren, emer addition, Edgar Witt, Cliff York, Billy Blacklock, Jimmy Bird, Rex Welch.

Present community committeemen are: Neil Crosby, Ed Cummings and Weldon R. McGehee, Community "A"; John E. Nelson, Fred Babb and Aubrey A. Ritchie, Community "B"; and Tom A. Gilmore, Bruce Tyler and Jack Taylor, Community "C".

TWO MORE TROPHIES—Shown admiring The Post Dispatch's newest trophies are the two most photogenic members of The Dispatch staff, Claudine Michael (left), woman's page editor, and Barbara Whetley, staff writer and Teletypewriter operator. White River Project Now Up To Voter

What the towns of Post, Spur, Crosbyton and Ralls will be like twenty years from now may depend on the outcome of Saturday's election on a $4,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of the White River dam. It's a lead-pipe cinch that without adequate water supplies they can't amount to much twenty years hence.

Perhaps no other section of these United States holds as much promise of future expansion as our own West Texas area. If the water problem is solved. Since the underground supply for the entire High Plains area is dwindling at an alarming rate, the solution of the problem lies in surface water supplies—man-made lakes behind river dams—something we can see and feast our eyes upon.

With adequate water supplies, the area is sure to attract more people, more industry and more of everything. The smaller towns of this economic area must fight for their lives. It will be difficult, next to impossible, for them to solve their water problems on a lone wolf basis because they do not have the resources to finance surface water supplies.

But Post, Spur, Crosbyton and Ralls are fortunate. Among the four of them they have an ideal water supply site in the proposed White River dam. Competent engineers have found the project feasible at a cost we can well afford to pay. These engineers have drawn plans which will assure all four towns not only an adequate water supply for tomorrow, but one which will easily meet all future expansion needs for the rest of the 20th century.

Voters in each city must approve the $4,000,000 water bond issue at the polls in their respective communities this Saturday. If one city fails to approve, we all will fail because we must stand together if we are to succeed in solving our water problem. None of us is big enough to stand alone and find our own water answer.

Leaders from each of these four towns have worked together for the last 18 months to find the answer to the common water problem. The results of their labors is the White River project proposal. It is a big plan, a realistic plan, and one large enough to solve the problem for most of our lifetimes. These civic leaders have surmounted many obstacles. They will face others ahead, including Saturday's bond election, before the White River project can become a dream come true.

If the bonds are voted Saturday, the water district can seek oil contracts, a governmental loan, and then water contracts in the four towns. If these can be secured, the rest of the bonds can be sold to private investors and the dam built.

That leaves it squarely up to you in Saturday's election. Go to the polls and vote FOR the bonds. Your good intentions will be wasted unless you make them count by going to the polls and casting your ballot. Let's look our future in the face and vote YES for water.—CD.

An Open Letter To the Weather Bureau

Dear Weatherman:

You are a fine bunch of fellows who have done a whole lot for the general public with your scientific know-how, in the past few years. You are making weather forecasting into a real science and certainly are earning your keep. We are not one of those who blasts the weatherman when a forecast goes to pot or a storm sneaks in and belts us where it hurts. We know your field isn't that scientific.

In our relationship with weather bureau personnel we've found you to be well-trained, top caliber public servants.

We've got a local gripe, to pass along though and we think, if you try, you can handle it in stride.

This radar-tracking equipment you've developed for thunderstorms is wonderful stuff. It makes us feel a whole lot safer out here on the High Plains when the boiling, black thunderheads bear down upon us from the west or southwest to know that your people up in Lubbock are keeping "track" of those thunderheads via radar.

The only trouble is Post is "blacked-out" from your radar tracking equipment. Your radar can't "see" Post because it is put up on the wrong side of the roof on the weather station there at Lubbock. We say it is on the wrong side because it is on the wrong side as far as we are concerned. A pole to the southeast blocks off part of the "view" for the radar eye. Post is hidden in this pie-slice area.

Consequently the radar can't see what is bearing down on Post from the southwest. Naturally that makes us plenty uneasy. Here you have a weather marvel but it can't help us.

The remedy of course is to put the radar up on a tower of its own where it doesn't have any blacked-out areas.

That tower will cost some money, true. But we here in Post pay our taxes to support the weather bureau and the congressmen. We're entitled to consideration of our needs.

That's our story. We're addressing this open letter to you because we know you have it in your power to do something about it. So we figured we'd start by asking you.

We're tornado conscious down here in Post. Any TV area is mighty storm leary these days the way the announcers keep those weather warnings flying in spring storm season. In fact a man with a tornado-nervous wife—and praise be, ours isn't—can expect little sleep with all this dashing for cover or chasing up on top the Cap.

We've just completed a real Garza County disaster organization. It is all geared to go—to help ourselves, and to help our neighbors. But we won't need so much help if you'll build that radar tower and get us out of the blacked-out area for your radar tracking equipment.

Please advise what you will do to help.—JC.

Good Slogan For 'Oil Progress Week'

Early reports reaching Garza County are that when the petroleum industry presents that annual, nationwide whinging known as "Oil Progress Week" from Oct. 13th to 19th, its slogan will be: "With today's gasolines, you're driving a bargain."

How about that? Is there such a thing as a "bargain" any more? Has the great American motorist any substantial reason to congratulate himself?

Looking ahead, here's what we find: In France, the government recently boosted regular gasolines 13.9 cents, so the price is now $4.5 cents a gallon. An increase of 17.8 cents on "high octane" gasolines brings the price to $1.01 a gallon. And that high octane rating is about 91 octane, or approximately the U. S. average for ordinary gasolines. In other words, France's dollar gasoline is the equivalent of our 30 cent gasoline! Our own premium gasoline (98 octane) sells at about 32 cents, and our super-gasolines, of 100 octane and upward, are around 35 to 37 cents a gallon.

In Italy, regular gasoline is 53 cents a gallon and premium 62 cents. In the United Kingdom, regular is 52.8 cents and premium 62 cents.

Clipped Quips From Other Newspapers

Statistics are working in favor of older employees. The premise that they are less productive is being continually disproved. The Industrial Bulletin, published by motoring in most of the world is obviously still a luxury, and gasoline a luxury product. Our every day, casual use of our 65 million motor vehicles is still far beyond the comprehension of the most advanced foreign countries. But now let's take a look and see whether today's gasoline is any bargain by our own standards.

In 1920 a dollar would buy over 8 pounds of bread; two pounds of pork chops; two pounds of coffee, and over 20 pounds of gasoline. Today, 37 years later, a dollar buys less than six pounds of bread; one one-third pounds of pork chops; 1 1/2 ounces of coffee. But your gasoline dollar will buy 28 1/2 pounds (nearly five gallons) of top quality fuel—or 69 miles of driving power. However, you will have to add to that gasoline dollar about 40 cents more for direct taxes. But even though these have soared 39 per cent since 1948, gasoline-plus-taxes still costs less than most items in the family budget.

And we will be reminded too during that Oil Progress Week of the millions of dollars worth of free services we have come to expect at the gas station, such as maps, windshield washing, tire-checking, advice and modern plumbing.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

WHEW, WHAT a week! It isn't completely gone as this is written, since there are still two performances and two horse shows to go. On top of that, there's the annual West Texas Press Association convention at Lubbock, which some of us here at The Dispatch are trying to attend in between times. We went up for Thursday night's get-acquainted session, then left the rest of it up to Jim and Helen Cornish while we finish covering the rodeo and horse shows.

But, you're probably asking along here... why tell me your troubles—I've got plenty of my own. Most of us do have now-days.

WE'RE MORE convinced than ever that an "I Can't Go" Club wouldn't have any trouble getting members in Post.

We hope, however, that such a club isn't organized until after all the eligible voters go to the polls Saturday in the White River bond election.

COME TO THINK of it, even falling off a log isn't easy for some people, as they have such a difficult time making up their minds which side to fall on.

Out at Wednesday night's opening rodeo performance we almost filled a notebook with jottings on some of the more interesting side-lights. After two days, our jottings are notoriously hard to figure out, but here are some we did manage to decipher:

Again this year, there were two foreign visitors at the Junior Rodeo. One was John Reichart of Austria and the other was Hans Iringer of Switzerland. They are guests of the Slaton and Tahoka Rotary clubs, respectively, and were introduced to the crowd from their seats in the west stands. Last year, a couple of young Frenchmen who were in this country as Rotary guests attended the rodeo.

Little Linda Ward of Lorenzo, formerly of Post, competed in the cowgirl's barrel race and made a good showing for a rider of her tender years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hopkins, her mother being the former Gertrude Ward who was city secretary here for a number of years.

Three two-boy teams of Mexican youngsters showed up all the other contestants by winning first, second and third in the goat sacking contest for 12-year-olds and under. Herman DelLeon and Pete Asebedo were the first to sack and deliver their goat, with four young members of the Collazo family coming in second and third.

This year's time events are being clocked by means of an electric eye, which eliminates the human element in time-keeping and measures time to the hundredth of a second, thereby virtually eliminating any possibility of a tie. The gadget sits in front of the gate through which the rider comes and when he and his mount cross the time stripe, the automatic eye begins operating the clock in the judges' stand. It didn't work too well Wednesday night on the barrel race, but they had most of the "bugs" out of the operation at the second night's show.

WHO, MORE THAN a man named Hopkins, is eligible to partake of the world-famous Hopkins County stew? And when the county which made the stew famous was named after the man's grandfather, that makes him more eligible than ever. They held the annual Hopkins County Reunion at Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock Sunday and among the many people attending were Johnny Hopkins of Post and his brother, J. D. Hopkins, of Spur. Hopkins County was named for their grandfather, who was its first settler.

We thought we'd heard of every kind of collector there is until the other day when a waitress here yanked out one of our Jubilee beard whiskers with a pair of tweezers. She said she was collecting them—whiskers, not tweezers.

IT IS SUGGESTED that psychiatrists, psychologists, physicians, and other in related fields stop worrying so much about people worrying so much.

Half the lies you hear nowadays are not true.

PARTING THOUGHT: Don't forget to vote in Saturday's White River bond election.

Adequate Water
The Seagraves city water supply seems to be adequate for the present, it is reported. City commissioners were worried recently when the largest water well in operation seemed to be faltering. By re-wiring the automatic cut-system, pumping of the well was reduced and it seems to be responding favorably to the treatment. The city drilled a fine well last spring in the caged layer house tract south of town, but the commission hopes to delay tying it into the system until the winter months, when the change-over can be made at a time when water demand is smaller and will cause less stoppage of service.—"For Your Information" in The Gaines County News.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I am an older World War II veteran, and before long I expect to retire from my job. I plan to sell my GI house and move to the South. Would it be possible to have my GI loan rights restored so I could buy another home?

A. Yes. Retirement is considered in the same category as transfer of employment, and would warrant restoration of GI loan entitlement. However, the VA would have to be relieved of liability on the old guaranty.

Q. I have made arrangements to be admitted to a VA hospital for treatment of a service-connected injury. I have no way of getting to the hospital, which is almost 100 miles from my home. Could the VA help me?

A. Yes. Government transportation to the hospital may be authorized. Also, when you are ready for discharge, you may obtain Government transportation home again.

Q. I am a Korea veteran just out of service. I have a service-connected dental condition that isn't severe enough to warrant compensation payments. Would I be eligible for VA outpatient dental care?

A. Yes, provided you apply within one year after your discharge. If your condition did not result

Soil Building Week Is Being Observed Over South Plains

The Duck Creek Soil Conservation District is joining other South Plains districts this week in observance of "South Plains Soil Building Week."

Joining in the observance besides the soil conservation districts are business men, personnel of the Soil Conservation Service, Texas Extension Service, Texas Technological College, Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Experiment Station, Agricultural Experiment Station and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

"The purpose of the campaign," said Alex Ringhoffer, conservationist for the Post Work Unit of the Duck Creek SCD, "is to promote the plantings of legumes and other cover crops for the protection from wind erosion through next winter and spring."

The conservationist points out that cover crops also improve the soil fertility and water intake rate by the addition of organic matter to the soil.

"Cover crops used in a crop rotation," he said, "not only protect the soil from erosion, but also increase the crop yields which follow."

All landowners are urged to plant cover crops on land that will not be protected from wind erosion.

Lions Hear Report On Jubilee Plans

A progress report on Post's Golden Jubilee celebration was made by Paul Haagen at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting.

Haagen, who represents the John B. Rogers Producing Co., brought the club members up to date on committee functions and other phases of the planning. He also described the method being used to finance the four-day celebration.

Al Norris, club president, announced that contracts have been signed for a carnival, tents, lights and grounds for the annual Garza County Fair Sept. 13-14.

Robert Meisch was in charge of the program.

Transfer Petitions Rejected By Board

The Garza County board of education voted Saturday to reject petitions asking transfer of territory in the former Garmolia school district to Tahoka and Wilson.

In a petition filed earlier in the year, residents of an area of about seven sections of land asked that the territory be transferred to Tahoka following the March 1 election in which the Garmolia district was consolidated with the Post district.

In another petition, circulated a few weeks ago, some of the residents in the northwest part of the territory asked that it be transferred to the Wilson school district.

It has also been learned here that the Lynn County board of education recently rejected a petition for transfer of an area of about three sections of land from the former Grassland district to the Post district. The Grassland district was consolidated with Tahoka in an election March 12.

Three Are Charged In Liquor Raids

Three persons, L. C. Frazier, Bessie James and Amado Fuentes, have been released under bonds of $500 each on charges of illegal possession following raids in the "flats" last week by sheriff's officers and liquor board agents from Lubbock.

Sheriff Carl Rains said approximately $750 worth of intoxicants were seized in three raids.

Another raid Saturday by Sheriff Rains and special Deputy Sheriff Marion Reep Jr. resulted in one arrest, but no charge had been filed late Wednesday. About 200 quarts of beer were confiscated by the officers.

Pour half of your chocolate fudge into a pan, top with a layer of tiny marshmallows, then add the rest of the fudge.

Trailer Wrecked In U. S. 84 Accident

A combination of two women drivers and three house trailers resulted early Wednesday morning in a wreck five miles southeast of Justiceburg on U. S. Highway 84.

No one was injured in the accident, but one of the house trailers was demolished, according to Sheriff Carl Rains, who investigated.

The sheriff said his investigation disclosed that a house trailer attached to an automobile driven by Mrs. Billie Chestnut of Salt Lake City turned over after being passed by an automobile towing two house trailers. Driver of the second automobile was Mrs. Harold Gustafson of Caldwell, Idaho.

Rains said Mrs. Chestnut told him she lost control of her automobile after the car towing the two trailers crowded her too close in passing. The vehicles were traveling northwest.

The sheriff said the two trailers being towed by Mrs. Gustafson's automobile escaped damage. They were new trailers being delivered to purchasers, the officer said.

School Election Is Called For Aug. 24

Setting of a new tax rate and assumption of bonded indebtedness will be voted on in the Post Consolidated Independent School District on Saturday, Aug. 24, as a result of annexation of the Grassburrr Common School District.

The election will be held at the Post High School building, with Mrs. Irene Rodgers as election judge.

The election date was set at Monday night's meeting of the Post school board.

The outcome of the election will not affect the present tax rate of $1.46 set by the board at its meeting Monday night. Neither will it increase the district's bonded indebtedness, since there is none charged to the Grassburrr district.

Solon Makes Point For Water Bonds

State Sen. Preston Smith told Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that "you'd better look twice" before the White River water project is defeated.

The legislator from Lubbock declared that "water is the biggest single problem in Texas today."

In a pictorial review of the recent legislative session, Senator Smith emphasized the "tremendous importance of water in Texas" by pointing out that 70 water bills were passed during the session.

"He told Rotarians that Texas voters will vote in November on a $200,000,000 water development fund. He said one senator via the filibuster route in the closing hours of the session was able to kill a $100,000,000 water storage program for Texas which was badly needed. Every other senator was in favor of the program, he declared.

Senator Smith's other major point in the legislative review concerned "scandals and bribery." He predicted the voters will vote to "clean the mess up."

Large Kitchens With Variety Of Functions Now the Vogue

By JESSIE PEARCE
Home Demonstration Agent

Home modernization is always a subject dear to the heart of a woman, and especially if it has to do with the kitchen and laundry areas where she spends so much of her time.

Large kitchens are in style again. Because this room must perform a variety of functions, it is important to carefully plan arrangement of appliances and cabinets.

Most designers agree that a good kitchen should be planned around "work centers". The number of work centers in a kitchen depends upon the amount of available space and, of course, the amount of money available.

The eight "most frequently mentioned" work centers are: 1) cooking-serving, 2) food storage and preparation, 3) clean-up, 4) dining, 5) family, 6) laundry, 7) sewing, 8) business.

The first three "centers" are the basic ones and should always be included in the main work area. For the sake of compactness and to cut kitchen mileage, they should be placed at the points of a triangle. The distance between any two of these should be as short as possible. At the same time allow enough work surface and storage space for each area.

The "cooking center" revolves around the range. At least 24 inches should be allowed next to the range for serving space. All utensils used first in this area should be stored here. A ventilating fan over the range will draw odors out of the house.

The "food storage and preparation" center has as its focal point, the refrigerator. The door of the refrigerator should open on the side next to the work counter. The "mixing center" in this area should be 30 to 36 inches long. Counters here will serve adjacent work centers, also.

The "clean-up center" revolves around the sink. There should be at least 18 inches of counter space on each side of the sink for stacking and draining dishes.

The "dining center" may be anything from a snack bar to a full dinette table and chairs, depending upon the space available. The important thing to remember is that it should be easily reached from the serving counters and should be out of the "line of fire" so to speak.

The "family center" is usually included in a kitchen plan when a family room is not practical. This area is usually an extension of the dining area.

The "laundry center" should be separate from the cooking-serving-clean-up areas. Dryers should be located on an outside wall so that venting will be easier. It is good to locate the washer next to the water heater as the automatic washer is the biggest user of hot water in the average family.

The "sewing center" (if included in the kitchen plans) probably will be in the laundry area.

The "business center" may be in the kitchen or family area, but should be out of the main line of traffic for quietness. Color is much the choice of the individual as all major appliance companies are now making their wares in several colors.

That Day He Should Have Stayed In Bed

DALLAS—The old saying, "things could be worse," proved true for Harold Wynn, Dallas auto parts clerk. As he tells it, his misfortunes began when he got off work and fell into a mud puddle walking to his car, then ran into a steel window, ripping his shirt. While driving home a bus hit his car and, as he waited for police, a second bus clipped the car, and a third bus bumped it minutes later. Total damages were $700—partly covered by insurance. What finished him off, however, was being two hours late getting to a dinner at his mother-in-law's.

SUCCESSFUL EVACUATION of a large city would leave the downtown area a ghost town, as in this view of Portland, Ore., taken during Operation Greenlight—the largest civil defense evacuation exercise to date. The vast Interstate Highway System under construction would not only facilitate evacuation of large cities, but also would provide roads needed to supply the huge evacuee camps in outlying areas. Younger Employees Contribute In Part To Workers Being Retired present system of retiring faithful and efficient workers is probably good for the junior employees. It gives them a better chance for promotion. But the younger ones must indirectly contribute to the support of those being retired through paying one half of their Social Security and other benefits. Some one must pay the bills.

In many cases compulsory retirement is a blessing to all concerned. Many workers are physically unable to continue at their usual manual labor or even at office work. This, however, does not justify children putting such parents into nursing homes. This procedure is becoming too common. There is money in nursing homes for the operators; but they are sad places to visit. When I see children ruthlessly put a parent into a nursing home, it makes me feel very sad.

It seems as if some semi-retirement, or half-time plan could often be used instead of full retirement. When I discuss this with employers they state that such an arrangement would upset their "stream lined" production system and their efficient office systems. This may be true in a few cases; but if this half-time arrangement were applied to all competitors, no one concerned would be handicapped.

Another suggestion is that retirement systems be based upon longer vacations, in both summer and winter. Instead of a worker going on half-time by working half a day every day, he could work all day when going to the plant or office but take two months off in summer and two months or more off in winter.

With some businesses this would be a less disrupting method of adjustment; but with other industries it would be more of a handicap. Therefore, why not amend the retirement regulations to give corporations their choice? Undoubtedly, labor unions would want to be a party to such decisions; but that, too, could be worked out.

The most valuable advice which I can give to readers who are approaching retirement is to avoid the temptation of going into business for themselves. If you want to take a salaried job with some other concern this is OK, provided it is not a company competing with the one from which you are retiring. Certainly it is bad ethics to retire from one company on a pension and then work for a competitor or start in business yourself as a competitor. In my opinion, this comes close to plain dishonesty.

I issue a special warning against starting or putting any money into a new business of any kind. I have seen thousands of cases where able retired persons have lost, after retirement, the money which they had earned and saved before retirement. This applies equally as well to successful businessmen as to employees. They have thought that because they made a success of one business, they could make a success of some other business. This has often proved a costly mistake.

Although these men had business ability when operating the business from which they had retired, their success was not due entirely to business skill. Other factors contributed to that success. A man may have entered his former business when the industry was young. The times, political atmosphere, or tax system, may now be very different. They may have operated at a different period in the business cycle, but styles and demand for the product may by now have completely changed. The person himself may be less vigorous or progressive due to advanced age; while competition is now such that more vigor and capital are needed.

I especially warn retired persons not to go to California or Florida or to some other booming state unless they can count on a check of at least $200, besides Social Security benefits, coming from home each month as a pension or as interest or dividends. Also, before you take any job anywhere after retirement, ascertain how it will affect your Social Security and other benefits. In most cases, if you earn more than $1,200 per year you will lose your Social Security.

COUNTY SHERIFF TELLS MOTORISTS

Today's Two-Way Traffic No Place For The Driver With One-Way Mind

"The fellow with a one-way mind should stay out of today's two-way traffic!"

In those words, County Sheriff Carl Rains today pointed up the need for driver adaptability to cope with changing traffic patterns.

The sheriff spoke in support of the Texas Safety Assn.'s summer Slow Down and Live campaign. "At this time of year, adaptable driving assumes special importance," Rains said. "Many people take vacation and weekend motor trips, and on such trips they are likely to encounter a variety of roads and traffic situations."

He pointed out that in a single trip a driver may travel over congested city streets, quiet rural roads, superhighways, mountainous roads and narrow winding roads. Sometimes the change from one to the other will be abrupt and a driver will have to shift mental gears to adapt swiftly to the new condition.

"First of all," he said, "the vacationer should find out what types of road he will have to travel. Then he should learn the characteristics, hazards and patterns of the road. He can generally get this type of information from service stations, restaurants or other stopping places as he travels along. He will then be prepared, at least mentally, for the change in driving pace."

The sheriff's advice was to stay alert on all roads and be especially careful when making changeovers. He said the driver should get the "feel" of the new conditions as soon as possible, then get in step with the flow of traffic immediately. He reminded motorists that, at

Epidemic Asian Flu Threatens State

An epidemic of influenza will almost certainly sweep across Texas this fall, according to health officials here. The State Health Laboratory has already identified the specific virus and has isolated several specimens from several patients who have been hospitalized. It is believed that the virus was introduced into Texas from the Orient and into India.

It entered the United States through a West Coast port. The first case in Texas was diagnosed in a Boy Scout who had attended the Jamboree in Valley Forge last month. Since then sporadic cases have cropped up at various points throughout the state.

Like all influenza, this is a highly communicable strain. Symptoms include a sudden fever lasting from one to six days, chills, aches and pains in the back and joint, sore throat and a cough. In the Far East the attack rate has been extremely high—about one of every five persons being affected. The death rate so far has been comparatively low—two deaths per 1000 cases.

Cases experienced in Texas thus far have been relatively mild. But there is no assurance that the virus will not become increasingly virulent as it spreads from person to person.

Military experience indicates that the vaccine is 70 per cent effective. Therefore, thoughtful people will get themselves immunized as soon as possible after vaccine is available.

The State Department of Health will be unable to offer influenza vaccine for general distribution. Physicians will be able to purchase the material directly from commercial drug outlets.

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people: Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.

Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Well Logs Increased

In the future it is expected that the petroleum engineer will be able to quickly and accurately prescribe the best method and procedure with the use of well logs. Well logs are being used in drilling operations on a large scale. The use of well logs and the relative permeability of the rock is still a problem. The well log has been used, although high cost, he explains. The use of logs is limited by the water saturation of the rock. To get a relative permeability (the relative amount of water to flow through the rock), the formation must be tested. A relatively slow method is to derive the permeability simply and directly from the well log, then the relative permeability can be applied at the well.

A significant aid to production will be made if the engineer can make accurate spot predictions of the performance and completion method to use at the well.

Dr. Pirson is one of the professors retained by the American Petroleum Corporation to make informal studies of the firm's operations in Tulsa, Okla. He is a member of the University of Texas faculty, after serving as a geologist for Pan American Petroleum Corporation and Pennsylvania State University.

School Opening Is Set For Tuesday Sept. 3

The 1957-58 school term will begin Tuesday, Sept. 3, following faculty planning and pre-registration from Aug. 29 through Sept. 2. Supt. R. K. Green announced at Monday night's school board meeting.

The superintendent told the trustees that because of work going on at the Negro school building, that school will not be able to open early as it has in past years.

"In fact," the superintendent said, "we may have to start classes Sept. 3 in the old building while waiting on completion of such work as plumbing, wiring, and so forth, at the new building."

During the last several years, the Negro school has been opened early in August in order for students to be turned out to assist in the cotton harvest and still get in the required number of school days.

The superintendent said that if the school is turned out for the harvest after classes get under way Sept. 3, then it will be necessary for it to operate on Saturdays or for a longer period in the spring in order for it to meet the 175-day requirement.

In all schools, the first term of 29 days will end Oct. 11; the second term of 30 days on Nov. 22; the third term of 30 days on

Jan. 17; the fourth term of 30 days on Feb. 28; the fifth term of 27 days on April 11, and the sixth term of 29 days on May 22. School holidays will be as follows:

Thanksgiving, two days, Nov. 28-29; Christmas and New Year's, eight days, Dec. 21-Jan. 1; West Texas Education Assn. convention, one day, March 7; and Easter, two days, April 4-7.

City Building Code Is Recommended

Adoption of a uniform building code by the City of Post was recommended by directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. Motion that the group recommend adoption of the code was made by George Samson and seconded by Lowell Short.

Other items on the agenda included a discussion of additional law enforcement, a decision to sponsor a Chamber of Commerce float in the Golden Jubilee parade, and discussion of the possibility of a wiring code.

No action was taken toward recommendation of additional law enforcement pending installation of two-way radio equipment by county and city law enforcement departments.

Bond Vote-

At the request of Spur members of the White River Municipal Water District board of directors, the board met here at the Mason Funeral Home Tuesday night with members of the district's equalization board.

At that meeting, the directors went on record again their intentions to equalize the property valuations of the four towns before any water bond taxes would be levied.

The board has taken this stand from the beginning, but those opposing the water bond in Spur are saying present assessment figures will be used for purposes of making up the district's tax rolls.

Members of the equalization board of the district at the Tuesday night session gave their estimated property valuations in the four towns as totaling $27,794,654.

This was broken down as follows for the four towns:

Crosbyton	$6,745,834.
Ralls	$5,384,713.
Spur	$6,613,087.
Post	$9,051,000.

The district intends to levy its water bonds tax at 80 per cent of this valuation.

The directors' resolution declared that "Be it resolved, that it is agreed by the directors that these figures shall constitute said valuations of said four cities only until a district tax assessor and collector shall have been appointed and said district taxes have been assessed and officially equalized" under the provisions of the White River Water District law.

The Spur delegation asked the board to go on record as to its intent to proceed with tax equalization in the four towns in the district. They contended such an action should prove very helpful in the water bond campaign at Spur.

The board held a special session a week ago at Spur after which a public meeting was held in the grade school auditorium to discuss the water bonds. But few Spur citizens turned out for the meeting.

Directors here Tuesday night pointed out that the White River district law specifically requires the equalization of property in the four towns and that this has been the intentions of the directors from the very start some 18 months ago.

Spur now has such hard water that it does not meet state inspection, but is not in an immediate danger of a shortage.

Spur Mayor Reese McNeil said Tuesday night that he figured out that all his water taxes for a year wouldn't cost him the price of the bill he had to pay the other day to replace just one water faucet which had been ruined by the hard water.

Spur women said at one of the first meetings on the project that they would save enough in soap alone in a year's time to pay all the taxes—and then some.

Wage Raises Voted Lunch Room Help

Wage increases amounting to $245 for the 1957-58 school year were voted lunch room employees at Monday night's regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Post Independent School District.

The wage increases amounted to 35 cents per day for each employee. Mrs. Beulah White, head cook, was raised from $7.71 to $8.06 a day, and the wages of three helpers were raised from $5.65 to $6 a day.

Supt. R. K. Green's lunch room report to the school board disclosed that average daily participation was 325 during the 1956-57 school year. An average of 32 free meals daily was served, making the daily average of paid meals 293.

Total wages for the four employees last year was $4,309, and student help cost $517.90.

Charges for the meals were 30 cents, grades 1 through 8; 25 cents for high school students and faculty members, and 50 cents for outside adults.

The superintendent told the trustees that the average daily participation figure of 325 was considered low in proportion to the enrollment of approximately 1,000.

Cavalcade-

Director Haagen explained that almost the entire production will be pantomime with the story being told by four narrators over the public address system. All costumes will be furnished by the John B. Rogers Producing Co.

"Cast members don't have to be actors," Haagen told organization representatives Tuesday night. "And they don't have to give all those three nights to the Cavalcades. Just so they're there when their three to five minute episode is scheduled, that is the only requirement."

He emphasized that it all would be a lot of fun if members of the cast could only be gotten out for that first rehearsal. He pointed out that in pageantry it is essential to have the entire cast for each episode present for rehearsals.

Music will be used to create the pageant's mood.

Haagen went through the Cavalcades, scene by scene, Tuesday night detailing the number of cast members needed for each episode.

Some 53 high school girls, besides, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Cub Scouts will be needed for the prologue, for example.

The first episode shows an Apache Indian village being driven out by Comanche Indians. That calls for 31 men, 16 women, eight boys, and eight girls.

Haagen said entire families could be used in the cast and thus eliminate the baby sitting problem.

Other episodes in the Cavalcades include the Comanches being driven out by the cowboys, Wagons west, which will include a square dancing set, stage coach scene, early church scene, surveyor scene, early school scene, barbecue given by ranchers for C. W. Post, ranching scene, coming of Santa Fe railroad, Fourth of July picnic, World War I, Roaring Twenties, World War II, an oil scene, and the atomic era scene which will include a simulated atomic blast with fireworks.

Mrs. Ruth Lee Is Named Treasurer

Mrs. Ruth Lee, deputy in the county treasurer's office, was appointed Tuesday by the commissioners' court to succeed the late Miss Vera Gollehon as treasurer. Mrs. Lee's application for the office was one of 11 received by the commissioners' court, according to County Judge Pat N. Walker. Other applicants were Mrs. Charlie Kiker, Mrs. Bobby Harrell, Gordon Flowers, Mrs. Excel Smith, Mrs. Mary Fumagalli, I. A. Tamehill, Mrs. Thurman Francis, Mrs. V. B. Sims, Mrs. Carrie Bell Scoggin and W. L. Crider.

Mrs. Lee had been employed in the treasurer's office for a few months before being appointed deputy treasurer by the commissioners' court several months ago. The treasurer's salary is $4,500 a year. The new treasurer's appointment is effective immediately, Judge Walker said.

Siren, Whistle Tests 'Halfway' Carried Out

The city's fire siren made its scheduled "test run" Friday, but through a mix-up in who was supposed to notify Postex Mill officials, there was no test of the mill whistle.

The disaster signal test was planned by the Garza County Disaster Organization to determine how far the siren and whistle blown together could be heard.

It was established that on still days the sound of the fire siren has ample carrying power for residents of all sections of the city, but that during high winds it is not heard by everyone.

Radio Equipment To Arrive Soon

Two-way radio equipment for use by local law enforcement agencies and for two ambulances is scheduled to arrive this weekend, County Judge Pat N. Walker said today.

The equipment, purchased from General Electric Corp., includes eight mobile units, tower, base station and remote control unit. The total cost is $5,100, with the federal government footing half the bill.

Four of the mobile units will be used by the county, two by the city and one each by Mason Funeral Home for their ambulances, the judge said.

If you want one of these delivered-to-your-door routes tell the newsboy so. If you want a mail subscription, he will take your check and give you a receipt. Subscription prices are now $3 by mail in the county and $4 outside the county, where the mailing cost jumps. This includes a 50 cent boost in rates the first in six years here despite numerous hikes in that period in newsprint costs and greatly increased labor costs. The Dispatch hasn't canvassed the town for a few years for subscriptions and wants to get its campaign over before school starts. Later, when the Jubilee is behind us, we hope to organize a newspaper route system for the entire community.

New Fishing Law Is Effective Sept. 1

A new Sports Fishing License Law which increases fishing license fees becomes effective Sept. 1, 1957. The additional revenue will enable the Game and Fish Commission to increase its work program by about 25 per cent and will generally benefit Texans interested in better fishing.

The new law states, in effect, that it shall be unlawful for any person to fish in any waters of this state without first obtaining a fishing license, according to Ed Cooper, wildlife conservation specialist.

The exceptions to this law, says Cooper, are persons under 17 and over 65 years of age; any person, or member of such person's immediate family when fishing upon property he owns or upon which he owns or upon which he resides; and persons fishing with trotline, throw line, or ordinary pole or line having no reel or other winding device when fishing in the county of his residence. No other fishing license shall be required of a person who holds a commercial license issued in this state, adds the specialist.

The new law differs from the old one in ways besides fee charge, points out Cooper. Unlike the old law, the new one is not concerned with the type of bait to be used. Another difference is that the license fee is the same for Texans and out-of-state residents. The new law which requires salt water anglers to be licensed and charges a lower fee to non-residents, paves the way for a reciprocal licensing program with some of our neighboring state, concludes Cooper.

Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, left, in his first official act as Secretary of the Treasury sold a $100 United States series E Savings Bond to outgoing Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, right, who was prohibited by law from acquiring Government securities as long as he was in office. Secretary Anderson is shown accepting a $75.00 check from Mr. Humphrey in exchange for the $100 Savings Bond. Mr. Humphrey said that he was "just delighted as my first act as a private citizen again to buy a Savings Bond and join the forty million other citizens who own these Bonds and prize them highly." The sale was made immediately after the two returned to the Treasury following Secretary Anderson's swearing-in in the presence of President Eisenhower and other top officials at the White House.

LET'S MAKE A DREAM COME TRUE

VOTE FOR THE BOND ISSUE SATURDAY TO BUILD THE WHITE RIVER WATER PROJECT

YOU'VE HEARD THE FACTS...
NOW ALL THAT'S LEFT TO DO IS VOTE!

REMEMBER

1. The best water engineers in the Southwest say this project is feasible.
2. The project is endorsed by the City Councils of all member cities — Ralls, Spur, Post and Crosbyton — and backed unanimously by all directors of the Water District.
3. The cost of this project to the individual property owner will be very reasonable. And we must always remember that the question is not the cost of water, but CAN WE GET WATER?
4. Voting for the bonds does not mean that the White River Dam will be built, but it is an essential step toward its completion. If the bonds are approved, then contracts with Garza County oil companies for the sale of surplus water must be secured, and $1,500,000 of the bonds must be sold to a government agency before the remainder will be purchased by bond investment brokers. These two things are necessary before the project is feasible. But your directors hands are tied unless the bonds are voted. Let's give them a chance to complete this project.

THE PROPOSED
WHITE RIVER
DAM SITE

IT MAY BE NOW OR NEVER

may never be called on again to make as important a decision as you must make Saturday. The future of POST may hinge on the outcome of this election, for a city without good water and an adequate supply soon goes backward instead of forward. Water is always the first and most important factor in building a city. Nature has provided us an ideal place for a dam and reservoir, something that many cities in this area do not have. Let's do what we can to insure our future by voting FOR the bonds Saturday.

GO TO SAN ANGELO
Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dodson, son, Boyd, and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Parnell, met their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Conoly, of Van Horn, in San Angelo Saturday for a long weekend of fishing, camping out and swimming. The Dodsons and Parnells returned home Monday night.

VISIT BROTHER
Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bull and son, Timmons, spent last week in Temple visiting her brother and wife, Dr. and Mrs. N. W. Stone.

In the last 150 years, treasure-hunters have spent about 1½ million dollars seeking gold and jewels reputed to have been buried on Oak Island in Mahone Bay, Nova Scotia.

He Didn't Forget The Boys He Left Behind

MIDLAND—A 35-year-old man who has been in and out of the city jail 35 times in the past three years didn't forget the boys he left behind.

Discharged after completing another sentence for drunkenness, he was picked up two days later when officers found him drunk and attempting to steal a can of canned beef stew from a local grocer.

"I figured I'd be going back to jail," he grinned at officers, "so I thought I'd take the other boys something good to eat."

The five largest cities in population in the United States, in the order named, are New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia.

Alfalfa One Of Most Versatile Of Farm Crops

COLLEGE STATION (Sp.)—Alfalfa is one of the most versatile of farm crops. It is important to Texas as a source of hay, seed, pasture and also as a soil improving crop.

Alfalfa does best on fertile, well drained, neutral to alkaline soils of medium texture, according to E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. However, it is being grown on some acid sandy loam soils of East Texas with the addition of lime and plenty of fertilizer. Alfalfa needs plenty of phosphorus and potassium as well as adequate calcium. A soil test is best for determining its needs.

The most widely grown and best adapted varieties for all of Texas except south of a line running east and west through Houston and San Antonio are the "Common" varieties—Southwestern and Barstow. South of this line, Haiyri Peruvian, Indian and African make more winter growth and more total yield than the "Common" varieties. Chilean could also be used in that area, says Trew.

Ranger and Buffalo are grown in the Rolling and High Plains areas for seed, but have no advantage over the "Common" varieties in forage production.

A new variety, Lahontan, is expected to become important because it is about 75 per cent resistant to the spotted alfalfa aphid. Some seed will be available this fall.

Fall seeding is best for alfalfa. The week problem is greater with spring seeding. The seed bed should be firm, clean and moist. Drill 15 to 20 pounds of seed per acre. Use certified seed and inoculate them before planting.

Cotton root rot is one of the worst alfalfa diseases, cautions Trew. Don't plant on land severely infested with this disease. Rust also does some damage. When plants are severely infested with rust, they should be harvested, regardless of the stage of growth.

Trew says that the spotted alfalfa aphid has severely damaged stands in some areas. The insect may be controlled with a malathion or parathion spray. The new variety, Lahontan, will also be helpful in this control.

HE'S BUFFALOED

ALVIN, Tex.—J. B. Choate frequently gives his buffalo a bottle of beer at his country store north of Alvin. Choate is selling buffalo chips to souvenir minded tourists, and since buffalo are relatively scarce in these parts, he figures he has a corner on the market, so he sort of pampers his buffalo.

Teacher Receives Award At Houston

E. F. (Ervin) Schmedt of Post, who has taught vocational agriculture for 15 years, was presented a special tenure award by the Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Assn. at its 17th annual convention this week in Houston.

Schmedt, who is beginning his ninth year as vocational agriculture teacher at Post High School, left Friday for Houston to attend the convention.

He is one of nearly 120 vocational agriculture teachers who received the special awards for 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30 years of service.

Sterling Beckham of Sulphur Springs, president of the association, announces that Gov. Price Daniel has proclaimed the week of Aug. 11-17 as Vocational Agriculture Teachers Week in Texas.

The governor cited the teachers for encouraging the "youth of Texas to devote their lives to agriculture and its improvement" and urged support "and encouragement to these fine educators who do so much to shape the careers of the young men of Texas . . . preparing to carry on the agriculture of Texas tomorrow."

Car In Garage Can Complicate Things

CARTHAGE, Tex.—Having your car in the garage can cause a lot of car trouble, Lewis Pool found out.

Pool, president of the Carthage Savings and Loan Assn., got permission from a friend to borrow his car while Pool's was being repaired.

The friend gave Pool the keys and described his automobile.

Two hours later Pool was stopped by an officer for driving a stolen car.

The auto Pool had been driving belonged to Mrs. Richard Sharpe. That car and Pool's friend's car were the same make, model and color and the same key fit the switch of both cars. The cars had been parked in the same area and Pool took the wrong one.

PAMP A—Employees of Hom and Gee Grocery and Market had a new item of merchandise when they went to the produce vault in the firm's warehouse.

As the men entered the vault they found a local man sitting in a corner.

Police officers were called and the "cold produce" was taken to the police station where he was thawed out and charged with being intoxicated.

Alternative Plan Is Promised In Lieu Of Free Kindergarten

While it is too late this year to establish a free kindergarten for pre-school Latin-American children, steps are being taken to help the beginners overcome language handicaps during the 1957-58 school year, members of the school board told a three-man delegation at Monday night's board meeting.
The delegation calling on the trustees of the meeting was composed of two local Latin-American citizens and a Lubbock attorney. They presented a petition signed by the parents or guardians of 26 Latin-American pre-school children asking that the board establish a kindergarten as a part of the public schools system during the 1957-58 school year.
The attorney quoted a section of the State School Law providing that such a kindergarten be established upon the petition of parents or guardians of as many as 25 children. He acknowledged however, that since the petition was not presented to the trustees between June 1 and Aug. 1, as provided by the law, the board was not compelled to establish the kindergarten for the coming school year.

Supt. R. K. Green, and other members of the board agreed with the attorney that the language barrier definitely is a handicap, not only to the beginning Latin-American students, but also to the first grade teachers and to the other students when the progress of a class of the inability of some of the pupils to keep pace.
Green explained that during the coming school year all Spanish-speaking pupils will be screened. He said those able to make satisfactory progress will be put in regular classes, but that those retarded because of difficulty in speaking or understanding English will be put in a group to themselves. He said the school's first grade teachers had volunteered to alternate in teaching this class.
The superintendent also pointed out that the language-retarded youngsters need help in the home as well as at school.

Am-Am Tournament Is Scheduled For Sunday

An am-am tournament will be held Sunday, beginning at 4:30 p.m., at the Caprock Golf Course, manager D. H. Bartlett announces.
Each team will be composed of an A, B, C and D player, with the low-ball scoring system being used, Bartlett said. Prizes will be awarded the winners and runners-up.
Bartlett also announced that the annual club tournament will be held in September.

GO TO FORT WORTH

Mrs. Tom Johnson, Dan and Edith accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson on a weekend trip to Fort Worth to see her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Mantooth, and they attended the Mantooth family reunion at Glen Rose Sunday.
Chile stretches for 2,650 miles in length along the Pacific coast of South America, but this nation averages only 110 miles in width.
are only about eight of these teachers available in the whole state of Texas," the superintendent said.
The delegation's attorney said that "under the circumstances, it appears that the school's plan to set up a special class this year for the language-retarded pupils is as much as we can expect."

Rotary Governor Is To Pay Post Official Visit

The Rotary Club of Post will be host Monday and Tuesday to Morris Higley, governor of the 573rd District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 43 clubs in West Texas.

MORRIS HIGLEY

He will address the local club on Tuesday after conferring Monday with President Glenn Whittenberg, Secretary Tom Power, and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Higley is president and publisher of The Childrens Index, a position he has held for 27 years. He is a past-president of the Childrens club in which he has a 22-year perfect attendance record.

He was born at Cummings, Kan., and moved to Amarillo in 1930 after attending school at the University of Missouri and the University of Oklahoma. After moving to Childress in 1935, he became a member of the Childress Rotary Club and has been active in Rotary work since. Besides serving as president of that club, he served as general chairman of the district conference held there in 1954 and golden anniversary chairman in 1955. During the past three years he has served as Rotary Information chairman also.

In Childress, he is a director of the chamber of commerce and has served as president of the Board of City Development three times. At the present time he is a director of the Panhandle Auto Club in Amarillo and a director of the Estate Life Insurance Company of Amarillo. He has been active in Boy Scout work for a number of years and has received the Silver Beaver award. In 1952, he was named Childress' "outstanding citizen."

He was elected district governor of Rotary International in June of this year at Lucerne, Switzerland.

and was one of the few of the 249 district governors of the world to appear on the program at Lucerne while still a governor-nominee.

"Rotary is a vigorous and growing organization that is doing more for peace in the world than any other organization or group, to quote Anthony Eden," said President Whittenberg. "More countries are represented in Rotary than there are in the United Nations and all have the same general objectives as the Post club—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good-will, understanding and peace among all the people of the world."

Service Unit Committee Carries On Salvation Army Work Here

The Salvation Army stands ready to give help and emergency assistance 24 hours a day, according to County Judge Pat N. Walker, chairman of the service unit committee of the Salvation Army in Post and Garza County.

Other members of the committee are: Clint Herring, treasurer; Mrs. Marvin Hudman and George Barker. This committee has the power to act as they see fit on any case they see fit to handle. The local service unit committee is able to make its own decisions without having to consult a distant headquarters so that whatever need arises can be met without delay or red tape.

The four committee members are a part of the more than 2,600 leading citizens of 189 Texas communities who serve on Salvation Army service unit committees and advisory boards in their local areas. These bankers, lawyers, newspapermen, public officials, ministers, housewives, well-to-do workers and business men and women and give of their time and effort without thought of pay or any form of remuneration.

Judge Walker states that the committee has the benefit of the counsel and advice of Salvation Army personnel and can call on the Salvation Army to help with problems that cannot be handled locally. The committee can also use any of the state services of The Army when they are needed. Some of these services are men's social service centers, homes and residences for unmarried mothers, servicemen's center, state-wide camp center for underprivileged boys and girls. The Salvation Army maintains 12 mobile canteens for emergency disaster relief and always stands ready to help with the emergency service of food, clothing, shelter, and other needed supplies.

In addition to the above services The Salvation Army served as parole officer to 1,370 parolees last year and served 676 prisoners' families and discharged prisoners. It also continued its work of locating missing persons, finding 112 of the 145 missing persons inquired about by families and other relatives.

Clint Herring states that it simply would not be possible to list all the services of The Salvation Army in Texas. Neither can a price be placed upon the charitable deeds carried out by the dedicated people who do the work of The Army... for who can say what the value of a warm bed is to a homeless man... or a bottle of milk to a hungry baby? The Salvation Army is a member agency of the Garza County Community Chest.

Tells Advantages Of 'Pig Parlor'

An all-new way to feed hogs—the "pig parlor"—was described by a Ralston Purina Company representative Saturday morning at a breakfast at Judy's Cafe, with Earl Rogers' Garza Farm Store as the host firm.

The company representative, John Shaw, said five years of research has developed the pig parlor, which is one of the company's "Milestones to Market" features.

He told of results obtained by his company at a pig parlor maintained at their Lubbock property, pointing out its advantages over pig lot feeding. He invited dealers and others present to visit the

Tech Grid Ducats Are Selling Fast

LUBBOCK (Spl.)—By the time at least three of Texas Tech's home football games roll around end zone seats may be the only tickets being sold.

Already, Jimmy Wilson, business manager of athletics, estimates that when orders on hand to the Texas A&M contest Sept. 28 are filled, he'll have only end zone tickets remaining. For Louisiana State Oct. 5 and Baylor Oct. 19 he is down to the 10-yard line.

Other home games—West Texas Sept. 21, Tulsa Nov. 9, and Hardin-Simmons Nov. 16—are also selling well.

Tech's student section, nearly half of the east stands last year, has been increased to include a section and a half on the west side.
