AN EYEFUL OF MAJORETTES — These four young ladies will march and twirl in front of the Post Antelope Band, once that flu-stricken organization gets back in marching shape. Neither of the four majorettes had "come down" with the flu when the picture was made, but the drum major, Frances Dietrich, was unable to be present because of having undergone an appendectomy. Before we forget, the majorettes are, from left: Marca Dean Holland, Doris Eilenburger, Judy Gossett and Minnie Lee Mathis.—(Dispatch Photo)

Decision Looms On Tax Values Survey

City, School Told Cost

In Three-Year-Old Phone Rate Hassle

City Submits Compromise

The City of Post's compromise adjustment schedule on rate increases asked by General Telephone Company of the Southwest was presented Monday night to division manager Dusty Kemper, but he told the mayor and councilmen that he felt it would be unacceptable to his company in the form submitted by the city body. Kemper's principal objection was to a clause setting forth that in the event a dial system is not installed within 30 months from the date "of this rate raise," then the rates shall revert to the present status.

The division manager pointed out to the council that in their compromise they presented a schedule of interim rates, but made no mention of dial rates. "Interim rates, in this case, cannot be listed as such unless you also include dial rates," Kemper said.

City Attorney Carleton P. Webb agreed that the compromise proposal should have read "proposed rates" instead of "interim rates," adding that dial rates proposed by the company in their rate increase request last May were not considered in drawing up the city's proposed compromise adjustment.

The city's proposal submitted Monday night was to increase one-party business rates from $7.75 to $8.25; two-party from $6.25 to $6.75; one-party residence from $4.50 to

A decision will be made Monday night whether or not the city and school district jointly will employ a Fort Worth firm of evaluation engineers to reevaluate all residential and business properties in the two overlapping tax areas for tax purposes.

The Post Independent School district trustees will vote on the matter at their regular October meeting that night.

The city council unanimously approved city participation in such a joint venture Tuesday night at a joint session of the school trustees and council members with two representatives of the firm of Pritchard and Abbott, evaluation engineers.

The cost of the revaluation would be $9,000 with the city paying $4,000 of the cost and the school district, which has the larger taxing area, $5,000.

School trustees decided Tuesday night to think it over and make a final decision Monday night when the full board could be present. Robert Cato was absent from the joint meeting Tuesday night.

Fundamental purpose of the revaluation of taxable property in city and school district would be to equalize the property values.

Both school trustees and city councilmen feel that many inequalities now exist in local valuations and the only way to remove them is to make a thorough revaluation of all property by professionally trained engineers.

Councilmen point out that it is impossible to secure local citizens to sit on a board of equalization which would undertake any wholesale effort at equalization without first employing an engineering firm to establish a new base for such efforts.

Edward S. Pritchard, Jr., and Kenneth Clark of the engineering evaluation firm met with city and school officials Tuesday night on the revaluation problem.

Pritchard explained that his firm has had 31 years of experience in the field and recently completed a revaluation program for the Levelland school district, which Mayor James Minor reported worked out very well there and pleased Levelland school trustees.

Pritchard said 85 to 90 per cent of the business of his firm is the evaluation of oil properties, but that in more recent years the firm has been called upon more and more to evaluate both residential and commercial properties.

Pritchard handed out detailed printed card forms to school and city board members, explaining that his firm's appraisers fill out

Outbreak Of Flu Is Tapering Off

The influenza outbreak definitely was subsiding in the city's schools Wednesday, and Dr. D. C. Williams, county health officer, said indications today are that it is letting up among the adult and pre-school age population.

Dr. Williams said, however, that Wednesday was the first day the outbreak had shown signs of falling off since it hit here week before last.

Seventy-five pupils were absent from the elementary school Wednesday, as compared with 113 Friday, 95 Monday and 82 Tuesday, Principal Jack Lancaster said. The decrease in the number of cases was not as much in junior high. Mrs. Willie Cross, secretary, said 62 were out Wednesday—three more than the 59 who missed class Tuesday. Friday's and Monday's absences each totaled 79.

In the high school, 25 students were absent Wednesday, as compared with 54 on Friday, Principal Glenn Whittenberg said. One high school teacher, Ray C. Bishop, was ill Monday and Tuesday.

A peculiarity in the elementary school absenteeism is that the flu seems to be hitting the first graders hardest this week. The principal said that during the first few days of the outbreak it was more prevalent among the fourth and fifth graders, but that this week those two grades' percentage of absences is considerably lower than among the beginners.

Lumber Firm Loses Tools To Burglars

Carpentry tools consisting of four saws, three sets of tin-snips and three planes were stolen Saturday night in a break-in at Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., the sheriff's office reports.

The burglars broke the glass and unatched an office window on the south side to get into the building, Sheriff Carl Rains said. The burglary was reported Sunday morning by Tom W. Bouchler, manager.

'57 County Budget Calls For $206,000

The $206,063.50 budget adopted by the Garza County commissioners' court is $9,366.50 less than expenditures for the current year and $35,734.55 less than expenditures in 1956, according to figures released today by County Judge Pat N. Walker.

"We just about have the county budget to its irreducible minimum," Judge Walker said.

The judge explained that for the first time since 1929 the county has no outstanding operating indebtedness, and that it is employing less people than it has for the last three years.

Although this year's valuation is $14,000,000, the county based its operating budget on $1,900,000 less than that figure in order to have a surplus for purchase of equipment, Judge Walker explained.

Last year's budget was based on a valuation of $13,500,000 and the one of two years ago on $13,000,000.

The county judge said that one-half the county's road equipment is new, one-fourth is in good shape, and one-fourth is in bad shape.

Present plans," he said, "are to replace the bad equipment with new machinery next year." This year's budget figures are as follows: General fund, $31,750; road and bridge, $83,240; permanent improvement, $5,600; jury, $3,128.50; salary, $53,545; interest, $11,250; hospital operating fund, $17,500. The county's bonded indebtedness at the end of the year will be $401,600.10, as compared with $454,000 at the end of 1956 and $488,500 at the end of 1955. Bonds paid off this year total $33,000, as compared with $34,000 last year and $35,000 in 1955. Operating money as of Oct. 1 of this year totaled $58,685.70. At the same date last year, it was $55,014.16, and in 1955 it was $53,946.67. The county tax rate of 95 cents is apportioned as follows: Jury fund, 3 cents; road and bridge fund, 19 cents; permanent improvement fund, 20 cents; general fund, 53 cents. The state tax rate is 42 cents, making the total county-state rate $1.37 per $100 property valuation.

Approximately 50 Parents On Hand

HS Teacher Resigns At Special Board Meeting

Miss Frances Hyde, a veteran teacher with over 35 years in Texas classrooms, resigned as the high school English instructor here Monday night at a special meeting of the Post Independent School District trustees.

Her action came after a group of some 50 parents of high school students presented a petition to the trustees signed by 83 parents asking for Miss Hyde's "immediate replacement."

The special board meeting however was called at Miss Hyde's request to permit her to appear before the trustees and explain her qualifications and course plans.

In submitting her resignation, Miss Hyde told the trustees that "I don't want one nickel more than I have earned," but the board suggested that she be paid for the remainder of the month of October and so voted.

She has been a teacher in the local system for only five weeks. The parents who came to the board meeting waited in the high school auditorium. The board conferred briefly with its attorney, Pat Walker, before going from the board room to the auditorium where Graydon Howell, as spokesman for the parents, presented the signed petition to Clint Herwig, president of the trustees.

Herrington then called Miss Hyde into the auditorium and asked her what she wanted to say.

The teacher said she would "start at the beginning" and for the next 40 minutes reviewed her teaching career and her philosophy of teaching.

The board then adjourned back to its meeting room and Miss Hyde was given another 20 minutes to explain the problem as she saw it.

She said she knew nothing of all "the hullabaloo" until "Superintendent Green told me last Wednesday night."

She then went into some detail on what she was teaching and why.

No reason for requesting her removal was stated in the petition. Miss Hyde said only one mother had come to see her about it and asked why the complaints hadn't been made to her instead of to the trustees and the administrators.

Superintendent Green and Principal Glenn Whittenberg reported to the board they had sat "in on her classes and everything went well" when they were there, but the complaints came on times they were not present.

The parents waited in the auditorium to learn of the outcome of the meeting. They left when told Miss Hyde had resigned.

The trustees after their special meeting with the city council Tuesday evening, interviewed one out-of-town applicant for the teaching vacancy left by Miss Hyde's resignation, but took no final action.

Water Bonds Deserve Voters' Support

One of three proposals to amend the Constitution of Texas to be voted on Nov. 5 is a $200 million bonds issue amendment submitted by the last Legislature for the development and conservation of the state's water resources.

There is not a man, woman or child in Garza County—nor elsewhere in Texas—but who has been adversely affected in some degree or other by the protracted drought conditions of the last eight years.

The underground water table, which supplies many sources of community water systems, including our own, and is depended on by a large population rural area for their water needs has been deeply affected by the impact of the long-time drought and failure of needed replenishment.

The story of the drought, broken for a time by this spring's record rains, is a story of many millions of loss to the Texas economy on which every Texan depends. It has been tragic for farmers and raisers of livestock. It has cost inconvenience and hardship to many hundreds of thousands in cities and smaller communities which have had to resort to water rationing, or have had to have water hauled in from other places to meet the simplest wants.

Many Texans long have been deeply concerned over water, which they well know is the number one problem of this, the nation's largest state.

Industrial development has been affected by dearth of water, and several large industries of the state have faced an emergency which meant, last year, that for a time they were threatened by having to close down when supplies were reduced to weeks, even days. Only the arrival of long-delayed, but dependable rains, enabled them to keep going, and keep an unestimated number of personnel on the job instead of being forced out of work.

Water scarcity has a direct effect on many kinds of jobs and the continued employment of those holding them.

The amendment to be voted on Nov. 5 involves a plan to assist communities and districts otherwise unable to finance a program of their own. Its passage might well mean that the White River Municipal Water District will seek assistance from it in case other plans of financing the White River dam fall through.

The bond issue will be painless. The money will be repaid in easy stages as the work of constructing projects proceeds, the last 10 per cent of these jurisdictional obligations to be paid back on certification by the State Board of Water Engineers that the work is completed and is satisfactory.

Every safeguard has been provided to insure that none of the money will be misused.

We think every qualified voter should support this measure which, after more than a score of years of talking about it and agreeing that the problem ranks as the number one Texas problem, now is being submitted in a form that deserves the support of everyone aware that unless the opportunity is seized it is possible that a drought, dredging even deeper than the one we have gone through and may continue to go through, to create havoc with the state's economy.

Gov. Price Daniel, keenly aware of the emergency character of the problem and of the need for the amendment, has called upon the citizens of Texas to be diligent, to be foresighted, to be practical and determined that this opportunity shall not pass Texas by because of the failure of voters to see the handwriting on the wall.—CD

Dispatch Editorials Eaten Up

Maybe it is too much to claim that everybody reads The Dispatch editorials. But we can prove for a fact that they were literally eaten up last week.

The termites get credit for that.

The Dispatch had a supply of newsprint stored in a nearby backroom on Main Street. It was purchased back in the days not so long ago when newsprint was awfully hard to get.

A few weeks ago, we decided to use up this supply of paper before ordering more. After we worked our way down to the bottom of one of the two stacks we were amazed to find termites busily eating that paper right in the cartons.

If you were quiet you could hear them eating.

The bottom three cartons on that pile had to be thrown away. The newsprint in the second stack was carefully sprayed and moved into The Dispatch press room. The bottom five cartons on this pile had been eaten up by the termites.

tons on this pile had been eaten up by the termites.

A bug man came down from Lubbock and treated the building. He told us that there was nothing to worry about as the termites die when moved from their "home." They can't stand air or sunlight he said.

Now all this may be true.

But last Thursday morning, Pressman Corky Ammons found at the bottom of a pile of Dispatch sections he had printed on one side on Monday, a small group of termites busily digesting the week's editorials.

How they got there no one knows. Maybe they hadn't been away from "home" long enough to die—like the man said. Maybe they just liked our editorials.

Anyway, if your copy of The Dispatch had a little round hole toward the bottom of the editorial column, you will now know that a termite had been busy eating that editorial before your paper was delivered.—JC

October Is P-TA Enrollment Month

The Post Parent-Teacher Association, which welcomes new members throughout the year, extends a special invitation in October, which, by tradition and proclamation of Gov. Price Daniel, has been designated as Parent-Teacher Membership Enrollment Month.

Throughout the state, local units, with a present membership of 607,354, will seek to recruit others to a program of concern for all that affects the happiness of the child in home, school and community.

Patrons of the Post school district not now members of the P-TA might do well to investigate the possibilities of serving the youth of the community by enrolling in the organization. The P-TA works for the welfare of the school, the faculty, the patrons and, most of all, the children themselves. More men are needed as members; locally, women are doing just about the entire job of keeping the organization going.

Figuratively knocking on every door with an invitation to membership, the Post P-TA and other P-TA units throughout the state will respond to the following proclamation by Governor Daniel:

"On Oct. 19, 1909, a distinguished organization, now known as the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, was founded in this state; its aim was, and is, 'to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community.'"

"Since the call of that first memorable meeting, hundreds of thousands of men and women over the state have joined hands each year to carry on the Congress program. More than 600,000 were enrolled in Texas last year.

"Few, if any, other organized groups have enjoyed such a marvelous growth. No doubt this is due to the organization's challenging program which appeals alike to men and women of all occupations and professions.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, in recognition of the outstanding accomplishments of the Texas Congress in its 48-year history, do hereby designate October 1957 as Parent-Teacher Membership Enrollment month and call upon the citizens of our state to assist in its important program."

Move To Collect Back Taxes Good One

Thinking citizens will applaud the move by the county, city, and school district in employing a legal firm to collect delinquent taxes.

This is the first such legal effort ever made to make those who haven't paid their taxes ante up for their fair share of local government.

It is estimated some $150,000 in delinquent taxes are owed to the three local units of government.

Collection of a fair share of such back debts would considerably ease the load of the paying taxpayer and give him a bit of a breathing spell, or it would give the governmental units a badly needed cushion in these times of soaring inflation.

It is obvious that everybody should pay his fair share of the local tax burden. That in itself will help to ease the tax burden a bit.—JC

THURSDAY to THURSDAY—

By CHARLES DIDWAY

GOODNESS KNOWS, we've got enough trouble with the Asian flu without stirring up anything else, but we want to pass on to you the warning that a number of imported toys coated with a death-dealing paint are on the market.

These toys, health officials say, carry a potential danger of death or lifetime mental effects because of the high content of lead in the paint. The ones which have showed a high lead content in laboratory tests were made in Japan.

IT MORE THAN likely would be a good idea for parents to get rid of any made-in-Japan toys before they reach the mouths of youngsters. The report on the high lead content of the toys was made and sent out to health departments the nation over by the Toy Guidance Council.

Getting back to the outbreak of Asian flu—and Post seems to be having its share—Eloise Gordon, public schools health nurse, has literally been on the run since the first cases started showing up. Two of the five school days, she spends at rural schools, and the outbreak started hitting here at about the time of week for her rural schedule.

WITH THE assistance, however, of Jack Lancaster, elementary school principal, and others of the three schools' staffs, she succeeded in getting all the stricken children home, with the parents coming after them in many instances.

The flu epidemic cut into our picture-making schedule over the weekend. On account of being temporarily out of photographic supplies due to a misplaced order at a Lubbock supply house, we had to miss getting a picture of Fire Chief Robert Cato awarding checks to the high school fire prevention essay winners.

OUR SUPPLIES WERE on hand Friday morning, and we got pictures of Robert awarding the prizes to the junior high and elementary school winners—but not all of them. Not present for the picture because of flu attacks were Christine Cornish, third place winner in the junior high poster contest, and Bobbie Nell Compton, first place winner in the elementary school poster contest.

Speaking of pictures, The Dispatch still has a number of old-time ones turned in for the Golden Jubilee edition and not yet picked up by their owners. If you're one of these owners, please come by and claim your picture.

THE DISPATCH did the school board and Supt. R. K. Green an injustice in a recent editorial by leaving the impression that the schools are operating in the "red." They definitely are not and haven't been for some time. Where we got off on the wrong foot—and we weren't the only one—was by inferring that the more-than-expected cost of fixing up the building moved in from Garnolia for the Negro students would throw the budget "in the red."

This isn't the case, however, and our schools are being operated on a financially sound basis—of which we are glad—and for which R. K. and members of the board are to be commended.

WE'VE RECEIVED word that the statue of C. W. Post is being cast in Chicago and will be erected in the memorial circle on the courthouse lawn "within the next few months." Many people have been asking about it, but that's as close an answer as we can give them on when it will be erected.

You may already have seen this, since it's making the rounds of area newspapers, but just in case you haven't, here 'tis:

A Sweetwater editor offers this solution to the Little Rock integration crisis: Arkansas should secede from the Union and set up a Republic of Arkansas. With federal troops already in the state and the National Guard of Arkansas already federalized, Arkansas could put up little resistance against the might of the United States and would quickly be defeated. Then, as a defeated nation, they could apply to Uncle Sam for foreign aid, thus becoming a lot better off as a defeated nation than as an occupied state.

JUST TO MAKE sure that crime doesn't pay, the government should take it over and try to run it.

Parting Thought: Medical reports don't make you quit smoking cigarettes—but they may cut down on the enjoyment.

The railroads' share of every dollar spent by American people for food products is less than 4 cents. Railroads of the Nation spent $476,955,000 for fuel in 1956, of which $22,632,911 went into the Texas bill.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I am a disabled Korean veteran and I hold a routine job that doesn't interfere with my handicap. I would like to take vocational rehabilitation training to prepare for a better job with a future. Does the fact that I'm working mean I have given up my right to train?

A. Not necessarily. If your disability is service-connected and if you have a need for training, you may receive vocational training despite the fact that you now hold a job. However, your training would have to be full-time; once you start the law wouldn't permit you to hold your job.

Q. I am drawing compensation payments from VA for a service-connected disability. What is the limit that I can earn before my compensation payments will be reduced?

A. There is no limit. No matter how much you earn, your compensation payments for service-connected disabilities will not be reduced. The ceiling on income applies only to pensions, paid living veterans for total and permanent nonservice-connected disabilities.

Q. I am a Korea veteran with a dental condition for which I have a zero percent disability rating for purposes of dental treatment. Would that entitle me to the special Korean GI insurance available to service-disabled Korea veterans?

A. No. The insurance may not be granted if the disability is a dental condition for which a rating was made only for purposes of dental treatment.

Q. I expect to retire from my job soon. If I sell my GI house and move to another city, could I get my entitlement restored for another GI loan?

A. Yes, provided VA is relieved of liability on the old guarantee.

ROGER BABSON'S AUTHENTIC STATEMENT

Makes Hobbies His Hobby! Lists 30 Alphabetically During Vacation

BABSON PARK, Mass. — During my recent summer vacation, I studied hobbies:—in other words, my hobby was hobbies! I now list thirty of these. As "food for one is poison for another," I will list these in alphabetical order without showing any preference. However, my choice would be Antique Furniture, about which I will write one or two weeks hence.

(1) Art and Painting. The most expensive of all hobbies is the buying of valuable paintings and other art collections. Furthermore, many prominent men, such as President Eisenhower and Winston Churchill, adopt amateur painting as their hobbies.

(2) Bicycling And Roller Skating. In Europe, the bicycle is as important a means of transportation as the motor car is here; but in this country the bicycle is used mostly as a hobby for taking trips. Roller skating is no longer popular on our streets and sidewalks; but the rinks are becoming more crowded every year.

(3) Boating. The outboard motor and the congested highways have brought boating back as an important hobby. Sailboats are again being revived.

(4) Ceramics. The making of plates, tiles, and other household utilities have always been popular. The person making them usually sends them out to have them baked.

(5) Collections. Stamps, Small Relics, Rocks, Shells, and Butterflies. Collecting is an old hobby.

(6) Cooking. Some men enjoy cooking, both indoors and outdoors, as a hobby.

(7) Enameling. This is usually done on copper, and some amateurs do very beautiful enameling of dishes, plaques, and other mementos.

(8) Etching On Glassware. This is being done by some parents to pass down valuable items to their children. It is a pleasant and permanent hobby.

(9) Fly-Tying. Most fishermen purchase flies; but some fishermen believe they get the best results from flies of their own making, in competition with those of friends.

(10) Glass Painting. This is sometimes practiced by those who cannot enamel well. There, however, is a trick to painting on the reverse side of glass. The results are very permanent.

(11) Hooked And Braided Rugs And Patchwork Quilts. This is a very popular hobby with invalids and older people. Children appreciate such products made by their grandmothers.

(12) Leathercraft. The carving and burning of leather is a most interesting hobby for those who wish to make their own wedding presents or Christmas gifts.

(13) Manuscript And Autograph Collecting. Both of these are interesting and profitable hobbies.

(14) Miniatures. These are very small "models" made to represent animals, soldiers, and dolls, etc. Such work requires both skill and patience.

(15) Model Building. Fathers interest their children by making ships, airplanes, and even doll houses.

(16) Musical Instruments. Many busy executives have kept from having a nervous breakdown by learning to play some musical instrument and perhaps joining some local band. The collection of phonograph records and tapes are hobbies for some, as well as the collecting of books.

(17) Nature Study. The raising and appreciation of flowers and birds, and even enjoyment of scenery is a hobby. I feel, however, that one must inherit this love and be "born" with it.

(18) Paper Work. Many women secure most excellent results by making paper flowers, paper favors, and paper table pieces. These can be used, or given to friends, or sold.

(19) Photography. The taking of pictures, developing and printing of films, and enlarging of prints is very popular.

(20) Radio Electronics. This is a hobby which often secures excellent positions for both men and women.

(21) Radio Hams. Transmitting and receiving messages by the shortwaves reserved for amateurs is a popular hobby for boys mechanically minded; it often leads to good jobs.

(22) Sewing, Knitting, and Embroidering. These are very old hobbies.

(23) Shell Painting and Designing. This is a marvelous hobby for many women by the seaside. A remarkable example is Mary Wetherell of Rockport, Mass.

(24) Silver Working. This includes the making of jewelry, hammered trays, and even table ware. It can become a profitable prolar

(25) Sports. The enjoyment of sports and reading of the results is an excellent hobby for busy executives. One should avoid betting, however.

(26) Sports Tournaments. This is a hobby for some; but it soon becomes a business.

(27) Toys — (Radio-Controlled) — such as cars, planes, ships, balloons, etc.

(28) Weaving. The weaving of baskets and other household trays is a useful hobby for those who are convalescing from an illness, either physical or mental.

(29) Wood Burning. This hobby involves the making of plaques and is usually done with an electric point.

(30) Woodworking. This involves carving, which may develop into a profession.

CONCLUSION: You may be surprised that I am writing on hobbies as I am supposed to confine myself to business, real estate, and investment; but I believe that in this rushing age hobbies can be a real investment toward better health and better judgment, and physical or mental health helps our business judgment and promotions, and contributes to success.

Rediscover America

COLUMBUS DAY · 1957

Yes, it's time to rediscover America — the land of freedom, opportunity and progress. Time, too, to discover that freedom, opportunity and progress have many enemies — right here in our own country. Enemies who say the government should be in business, should provide our medical care, should control the education of our children. Rediscover America — and the American Way of Life — before socialism traps you and your children.

Former Post Resident Tells Of Memorable Weekend Tour Of Fez

NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles written by Mrs. J. G. Evans Duncan, nee her husband, Capt. William Duncan, U. S. Army, who is living overseas. This is the first of two articles, Mrs. Duncan's first trip overseas was a short stay in England going to North Africa.

Most interesting thing about Morocco was going on a weekend tour of Fez. This was the first American allowed in Fez since 1926. Fez is a city of 200,000 people. It had been transplanted in the middle ages.

Fez is a center of learning for over 1,000 years. It is a religious capital of Islam. It is a living museum where you see fabulous palaces at one time or another. The rulers lived. The palaces were usually a large room with low cushions and tables with the tea service.

Competitive Pricing Is Aid To Cotton Exports

LUBBOCK — Competitive pricing has been advanced as one of the main stimulants for United States cotton exports climbing to a 23-year high of more than 7.9 million bales in 1956-57, the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. reported this week on receipt of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agriculture Circular giving statistical data on cotton exports.

Low foreign stocks were replenished, mostly with U. S. cotton while foreign consumption rose by 1.5 million bales and world production leveled off, George W. Pfeifferberger Executive Vice President of the Plains Cotton Growers, commented in an analysis of the bulletin.

"The outlook for 1957-58 exports is favorable and it looks like exports will total about 5 to 5.5 million running bales. In fact U. S. cotton exports should remain at a high level as long as prices are competitive in world markets," Pfeifferberger said.

U. S. cotton exports actually totaled 7,912,466 bales (7,592,959 running bales) in 1956-57. This compares with average exports of 5.3 million bales in 1934-38 and 4.1 million bales during 1950-54. Exports last season were more than three times the 2.3 million bales exported in 1955-56, which was the lowest peacetime exports in 85 years with the exception of 1947-48.

In addition to competitive pricing, reasons advanced for the sharp rebound in U. S. exports include reduced supplies for export from most foreign exporting countries, rising consumption abroad, replenishment of low supplies of cotton and cotton products in nearly all foreign importing countries, and some additional buying of cotton, especially in Europe, because of the Middle East crisis.

Principal foreign customers of U. S. cotton last year were Japan, West Germany, the United Kingdom, Italy and France. These five countries took 60 per cent of total exports. The balance went to over fifty other countries. The U. S. accounted for almost one-half of total world trade of about 16.1 million bales in 1956-57, the highest level of world trade in 30 years. Prior to last season, the U. S. share of world trade had declined from an average of 41 per cent in 1934-38 to 37 per cent in 1955-56.

Under the program, cost sharing of conservation practices is tied to a complete conservation plan on an entire operating unit. The minimum contract period is three years and the maximum is ten years. For further information, farmers and ranchers are asked to contact Soil Conservation Service personnel.

Post Man Appointed To State Committee

R. H. Tate, city superintendent of Post, has been appointed to fill a vacancy on the water certification committee of the State Health Department.

Tate's duties on the committee will include reviewing about 700 water certificate applications a year. The Post man is a former president of the state Water and Sewage Works Operators Assn.

Rotarians Tour Dispatch Plant

Rotarians were given a complete tour of The Dispatch's printing plant Tuesday noon by Publisher Jim Cornish in observation of National Newspaper Week. Cornish brought his newspaper staff of seven to the civic club luncheon as his guests and introduced them to the club members. The staff then returned to the newspaper office and had all the printing equipment in operation when the Rotarians arrived a few minutes later after hearing a few brief remarks by Cornish.

All the equipment was shown in operation, including the newspaper press as the staff had rushed the second four pages of the week into forms that morning so the club could observe the press in operation.

Dispatch staff members who were guests at the luncheon were Editor Charles Didway, Women's Editor Ruby Montgomery, Receptionist Loretta Puckett, Shop Foreman James Hill, Printer Martin Shepherd, Printer Ernest Haynes, and Pressman Donald (Corky) Ammons.

State Sanitarian To Speak In Post

The Permian Basin Water and Sewage Works Operators Assn. will meet in Post at 6 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 22, with V. M. Ehlers of the Texas Health Department as speaker.

Ehlers, who is director of sanitary engineering for the health department, will explain House Bills 70 and 434, recently passed by the Legislature, which open the gate for urban planning activity and urban renewal for municipalities.

City Supt. R. H. Tate said Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health commissioner, also has been invited to attend the meeting. Dr. Holle will be in Lubbock on Oct. 21 for dedication of the new Lubbock County Health Department building.

The Permian Basin group, which meets once a month, is made up of members from a large number of counties in this section of the state.

IS RECUPERATING Mrs. Nora Willingham, who has been quite ill with the Asian flu, is reported improving.

Influenza Outbreak Force Cancellations Of Youth Congress

DALLAS — Widespread influenza outbreaks in Texas have forced the cancellation in Dallas of four Baptist youth congresses expected to attract nearly 9,000 boys to Texas Baptist colleges in October and November.

Dallas public health director J. W. Bass advised state Royal Ambassador secretary Robert Chapman to cancel the meetings to prevent possible infection among the 9-15-year-old boys.

The first congress was scheduled for Oct. 12 at Baylor University, Waco.

Others were to have been held at the University of Corpus Christi, Oct. 26; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Nov. 2; and Howard Payne College, Brownwood, Nov. 9.

"Such meetings are certainly to be advised against," Dr. Bass said, "where there is the possibility of students from all over the state mingling and carrying the infections back into their home towns."

He said inclement weather at this time of year could force the students into close contact and increase the danger of infection. More than 7,000 Royal Ambassadors attended the regional conferences last year.

Chapman said the conferences are planned annually to bring boys from different areas of the state together on a Texas Baptist college campus. At the meetings, the youngsters hear talks on mission work and become personally acquainted with the work of the college. Following the sessions, the boys and their counselors are guests of the school at a traditional football game.

Family's Loss Heavy In Saturday Blaze

Fire which broke out while the family was away destroyed nearly the possessions of the Weldon Horton family Saturday afternoon at their residence on South Avenue H.

Fire Marshal Ralph Cockrell said most of the fire damage was in the living room, where the blaze apparently started. Smoke and water damage was heavy throughout the four-room house.

The fire marshal said the blaze is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion from partially filled buckets of paint in the freshly-painted living room.

Horton is employed as a mechanic at Wilson Brothers garage.

Masons Attend Formal Opening Larger Store

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Mason were in Levelland Sunday and Monday to attend the formal opening of their newly renovated and enlarged store. On Tuesday, they went to Dallas to attend the State Fair of Texas.

The Stacy-Mason, Inc., home furnishings store at Levelland has been enlarged and remodeled, with 14,000 square feet of floor space, making it one of the largest in West Texas.

The firm has been in Levelland since 1929, being first known as the Davis-Mason Company. The manager of the store is J. G. Stacy, a nephew of Marshall Mason.

Chapman on the advisability of holding the congresses this year, Dr. Bass said the Boy Scout jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., possibly caused the flu outbreak to appear in Texas "at least two weeks to one month before it would have occurred otherwise."

CIRCUS ACT — Margaret Smith, lovely aerial ballerina, will be one of the featured acts with Ringling Bros. Circus appearing at the Lubbock Coliseum Nov. 11-13.

Mail Orders Now Being Accepted For Big Circus

LUBBOCK — Mail orders are now being accepted at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum for Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus performances on Nov. 11, 12 and 13. "The Greatest Show on Earth" will play five performances, showing on Nov. 11 and 12 at 3:30 and 8 p. m. and on Nov. 13 at 4 p. m.

The big show no longer plays under tents, but instead in major large arenas and outdoor grandstands. This will be first time that a circus has played the gigantic 7,500 seat Coliseum, and it promises to be a real treat for South Plains audiences. In place of sawdust the huge new show will play on a foam rubber surface, but the entertainment is very much the same as in tents. The herds of elephants will be there, all the wonderful clowns will be intermingling with the crowds, the aerial acts will still be swinging from unbelievable heights and the spectacular "Grand March" will still open the world's greatest entertainment value.

There are four marvelous, costumed spectacular production numbers this year, and they are "The Coronation of Mother Goose," "Cherry Blossom Time," "Saratoga Racing Ball of 1913" and "Carnival in Venezuela." In all there are 25 displays and acts.

The show to be seen in Lubbock is the same one that earlier this year played New York's Madison Square Garden. In New York the top price was $6.50, but the Coliseum has announced that the top price for Lubbock will be $3.60. Other prices are $3, $2.40 and $1.80. Children will be admitted at half price to any section at afternoon shows only. Night prices are the same for adults and children.

Mail orders are filled in the order they are received at the Lubbock Coliseum, care of City Hall, Lubbock. Patrons sending orders should enclose a self-addressed

Irrigation Continues To Expand In Farm Areas

A contributing factor and a mighty important one to the overall agricultural production of Texas' farms and ranches is irrigation.

R. V. Thurmond, extension agricultural engineer - irrigation, has just released a statewide summary which points up the great economic importance that supplemental water plays in the state's economy. Figures were collected from each county in the state relative to the total number of acres irrigated; number of irrigated farms; acres irrigated by gravity; number of sprinkler systems; number of irrigation wells; acres irrigated from ground water and the acreages of the principal crops irrigated in each of the counties.

County agricultural agents supplied the information and Thurmond made the final compilation.

The total land under irrigation in Texas now stands at 6,962,234 acres. This compares with a total of 6,208,023 acres in 1955 (figures are from a similar survey.) In June 1957 when the figures were taken, 39,706 farms were listed as being irrigated. Only 10 counties in the state reported no irrigation. The number of irrigation wells rose from 42,674 in 1955 to 54,994 in 1957. The number of sprinkler systems in use almost doubled during this same period with a 200,000 acre increase in the land thus irrigated.

Grain sorghums on almost 2.3 millions of acres were the principal crop irrigated. Cotton was a close second with almost 2.2 millions of acres under irrigation. Other major crops included wheat, rice, vegetables, pastures, alfalfa, field corn, oats and barley, forage sorghums, orchards and others.

Hale County with 500,000 acres under irrigation leads all counties in this respect but is closely followed by Swisher with 480,000 acres. Many other counties in this same general area have in excess of 300,000 acres under irrigation. Counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the rice belt are also among the leading counties.

Distress Loan On Milo Gets Praise Of George Mahon

LUBBOCK — Rep. George Mahon of the 19th District this week commended officials of the Department of Agriculture for announcing a special distress loan on milo. The loan had been urged by farmers and farm groups, and Mahon had presented the request to the grain branch of the Department of Agriculture early in September.

The distress loan will provide milo producers with a special loan equal to 80 per cent of the regular loan. It is designed to aid producers who are unable to take advantage of the regular loan by reason of the lack of storage facilities. The producer would have 90 days or not later than March 31 of next year to locate storage and convert his distress loan into a regular loan. Details of the program are available through County ASC Offices.

The distress loan is necessary by reason of the very heavy milo production, limitation of elevator capacity and the critical shortage of boxcars to transport the milo to available storage.

Mahon said that it was his hope that the distress loan would tend to stabilize the marketing of the milo crop. He said that he hoped the new program would not have to be used in a very big way as it had certain disadvantages and was primarily meant as an aid to a more orderly disposition of the crop.

At the same time the distress loan was announced, a 3 cents per hundred weight increase in the loan was announced. The previous rate was an interim rate. The new rate is the final rate for the 1957 milo crop.

Development Of Insecticides And Pesticides Aid Farm Operations

JOHN C. WHITE, member of Agriculture, has been greatly benefited through the development of insecticides and pesticides which lessen the farm crop destruction. It may be asking for trouble when he invades a field today; but, so farmer is asking for the high cause in selecting these farm poisons. It is valuable in holding them when properly used. Insecticides and pesticides are harmful if mishandled.

SAN ANTONIO — A 79-year-old man was given ten days to pay a $100 fine for causing a nuisance by playing his radio at a loud volume and barking back at neighborhood dogs. Five neighbors testified the man had his radio so loud they had to close their windows and put cotton in their ears before they could sleep. They complained that the man went to his front porch and imitated dogs when they barked early in the morning. The accused man conceded the dogs had kept him awake so he retaliated.

NEARLY A HALF BILLION PAID IN Railroad Expenditures Contribute Heavily To The State's Economy

AUSTIN — Texas railroad expenditures contribute nearly a half billion dollars a year to the state's economy. A total of $445,197,441 was paid in salaries, state taxes and for fuel and the purchase of thousands of other items needed to run Texas trains in 1956. In announcing the total expenditure in Texas, Quin Baker, chairman of the executive committee of the Texas Railroad Association, pointed out that salaries of railroad men are spread over all but a handful of the 254 counties in the state. He added that purchases of material, equipment and supplies are also made in all sections of Texas. Supplies and equipment which the various companies were unable to purchase in Texas amounted to an additional $187,186,035, Baker said. Salaries accounted for more than half of the total railroad expenditure in Texas, the total being $236,754,729. It was paid 51,314 employees. They averaged, from porters on up, $4,609 a year. Rapidly increasing operating costs of railroads is shown by the hike in salaries the last several years. In 1949, employees were paid $182,293,000. The 1956 total is an increase in eight years of more than $54,000,000 to Texas employees. "Strict regulation of rates charged by the railroads, the only type of carrier which is not subsidized by city, state or national governments, has prevented the rails from earning profits anywhere near comparable to other large businesses," Baker pointed out. "Yet," he said, "the railroad industry is making improvements of its facilities throughout the Nation at a rate of one billion, one hundred million dollars a year and has done so annually for the last eleven years." Texas expenditures included the huge sum of $22,632,911 in $96 for fuel and diesel oil with which to operate trains over the state's 13,000 miles of main tracks and nearly 7,000 miles of switch, yard and terminal tracks.

THE WORK BENCHES OF GOD

Christians are not turned out on assembly lines. The skill and patience of many a human soul, the blueprint of Christ's own example, and the unseen but mighty craftsmanship of the Creator Himself—these over the decades bring forth a noble Christian life.

There must be understanding, guidance, faith. There must be a Christian home with sincere, loving parents. There must be prayer, the Bible, worship, thought, study. And at length practice and persistence must win many a victory over self before the world begins to recognize the hand of God in the life of a man.

Nearby in the church you will choose, there are busy hands at the work benches of God. And room for more—your child's and your own!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fire Marshals Are Having Big Week

The Junior Fire Marshal program, sponsored locally by the Post Insurance Agency this week enlisted more than 600 boys and girls in the local schools. The fall issue of the Junior Fire Marshal magazines and a bright red fireman's helmet were given to each member.

With the home report as its basic activity, the Junior Fire Marshal program is directed to the home—toward correcting the many hazards found there. By enlisting the boundless enthusiasm of these boys and girls in a city-wide fire inspection program in which the child and his parents inspect their own home for common household fire hazards, the city has been made safer from fire. By completing the simple inspection of his home, and returning the report, signed by a parent, to his teacher, the child qualifies as a Junior Fire Marshal and his name is placed on the honor roll. The Post Insurance Agency will present each honor roll member with a Junior Fire Marshal ring. Two film strips, "Fire: Friend or Foe" and "Story of Fire Fighting in America" were shown in the schools this week, by the Post Insurance Agency. These popular films are devoted to man's association with fire through the ages and offer fire prevention "do's" and "don'ts". The Junior Fire Marshals received fire prevention and fire safety instruction in their class rooms, too. Junior Fire Marshal activities will not stop with Fire Prevention Week. At Christmas and throughout the school year, Junior Fire Marshals will be taking part in seasonal campaigns directed to making the community a safer place in which to live.

Phone Rates—

(Continued From Front Page) enue of approximately $3,000, "which should raise your earnings to a point where you are receiving an adequate return on your investment under the statute." Kemper said the new rates proposed by the city would raise the company's return on its operations here to less than 5 per cent, which he said still would not be a fair return. The return figure here as of Sept. 30, 1956, was 3.38 per cent.

In their request last May, in which they promised dial service and improved rural service in return for a rate increase ordinance, the telephone company had asked that one-party rates be boosted from their present $7.75 to $9.50; two-party from $8.25 to $10; one-party residence from $4.50 to $5; and two-party from $3.75 to $4.25.

Then, at the September council meeting, Kemper said the company was willing to compromise for a raise to $9 on one-party business service, $7.50 on two-party, $4.75 on one-party residence service, and $4 on two-party. "The compromise rates you've come up with tonight are even lower than the ones we offered at your last meeting," Kemper said. He pointed out to the council that the rates they offered in their compromise were 75 cents lower in each instance than the reductions the company offered at the last council meeting. "You did leave the residence service rates at the same level," he added.

"The reason we came back and offered the reductions at your last meeting was that we wanted to get this thing off dead center," Kemper continued. "We've wrestled it around for over three years, and I was confident we would be able to get somewhere tonight." The division manager said he thought the city and company might be able to get together on the rates proposed by the council, but not on the dial installation clause contained in the city's compromise proposal. Mayor James L. Minor told Kemper that the reason the city did not consider dial rates in its compromise proposal was because they did not want to obligate any future council to "paying for something they might not want and might not get."

Minimum Rate Gas Is Increased

The city council has granted Pioneer Natural Gas an increase in minimum natural gas and water rates. The increase in gas rates is from $1.25 to $1.50 in the city. The minimum rate for gas consumed up to 2,000 cubic feet is $1.50. The application was made by C. I. (Stony) Wells to the City Council. The application contained information that in 1956 Pioneer obtained a 14 per cent increase in rates as a result of a rate increase. "Since 1951," said the application, "the cost of gas has increased and labor has increased. This has resulted only in an increase in costs but also in the expanding our distribution and main transmission lines to keep pace with the growth of the city and towns we serve. The 23-cent increase in minimum rate has been in all towns in the company's Texas division. The new minimum rate made effective for the month of October and after October 1, 1957. The council also granted Pioneer a 10 per cent increase in the service rate for commercial and industrial users. What this is to become effective is to become effective in the month of January, 1958. Five unsuccessful attempts were made at before a gusher was struck in January, 1901.

Tax Values—

(Continued From Front Page) these forms in detail and base their valuations upon a square footage basis with age, type of construction, flooring, interior, baths, kitchens, cooling, utilities, and extras all figured in. The cards are kept on file and are available for study and comparison by property owners, Pritchard said. The evaluation expert said his firm sets out to determine "today's market value" of each piece of such property and then the taxing district can determine for themselves what percentage of that value to use as the tax valuation. "Such a program," Pritchard said, "isn't cheap. But it is the only evaluation program we would recommend to give desired results." He said his firm charges $6 for evaluation of each improved unit of property and $1 for each vacant lot. He went on to explain that his firm would meet with and help "your board of equalization." "We take the pressure off them," Pritchard said. "We won't make out these cards and leave town, but we will stay with you and work out all the problems to everybody's satisfaction." The Fort Worth man said his firm's appraisers take a card and check and measure each individual piece of property. "We will ring every door," he said, "but if nobody is home we usually can get the necessary information from the lady next door." "Where we evaluate the property we also will be selling this program," he declared. Pritchard added his firm will go before local civic clubs and the PTA to explain the property revaluation program in detail and establish public confidence in "what we are doing." "There will be no secrets about it," Pritchard said. "The public will be kept informed of all developments."

He estimated there are 1,200 homes, 1,500 vacant lots, and some 125 businesses in the two taxing districts.

Pritchard said $9,000 was his firm's "bottom price."

The Fort Worth man declared he didn't think the school district "would need help" in evaluation of farm land. He urged however that the price "land sells for" should not be taken as what it is worth. He suggested determining the land value by what the land will produce.

He suggested that his firm be employed to evaluate the homes and business properties and that land valuations "be left to your assessor."

Pritchard said his firm would want to work with a citizens committee to secure information on "local property values." He discussed depreciation methods used by his firm to some length and said that the valuations could be "kept up" by an "adjustment" about every five years. But he emphasized it would not be necessary to have such a survey each five years.

Pritchard said his firm's manuals would be left with the tax assessor so that valuations of newly built homes could be set "on the same basis."

He told school board and city councilmen that "usually a taxing district will pick up enough value in such a revaluation to pay our fee in the first year."

He said of course the taxing districts could determine for themselves whether they wanted "more money or equalization."

Both the city and schools have indicated they want the revaluation to equalize property valuations.

Pritchard told the school trustees his firm also would want to do the school district's oil valuations if it undertook to evaluate the business and residential property here.

The firm has been handling the county's oil evaluations for the last three years and the city's for the last year. Pritchard pointed out, "We've raised oil and gas valuations in both instances."

He said "it is only fair for us to assume that the oil and gas interests haven't been paying on the same percentage of value as other property owners."

Clint Herring, school trustee head, told Pritchard that "we haven't enough money in this year's budget to revalue."

Pritchard told Herring and the trustees that "we'll do the oil and gas evaluation for what the firm you have hired has been doing it for."

Later discussion brought out that this was $1,200. Pritchard's offer on this was "for the first year in which time you can find out if you like the way we do the work for you."

Pritchard said under the Texas budget law, the local governmental units are required to budget for reasonable and foreseeable contingencies, but that such budgets can be "amended" to take care of such an evaluation project. He said the state wouldn't hold the governmental units "too strictly accountable" and his firm would be willing to be paid next year if receipts this year would not be large enough that the city and school district could afford payment.

Pritchard said the oil companies will accept this survey and like to see all property assessed on such a basis.

He estimated it would take three or four months to complete such a survey. Pritchard said "we've got good men available in all departments."

The city council in unanimously voting to enter such a joint evaluation project with the school district pointed out that "we can't afford to go it alone" if the school board turns it down.

That leaves the proposition up to the school trustees Monday night for a final decision.

Antelopes Have Open Date; Play Lockney Here Oct. 18

The Post Antelopes have an open date this week while the other six District 2-AA teams see action—Slaton at Lockney, Abernathy at Spur and Tahoka at Floydada.

The off-week is expected to give the gridders of Coaches Frank Krhut and Al Parsons time to get in shape for their game here Friday week with the Lockney Longhorns. Many of the Antelopes have been ill with colds and influenza, while others have been hampered by injuries. Among these are end Charles Morris, who hasn't seen action since the Denver City game, and fullback-tackle Sammy Martin, who received a knee injury against O'Donnell. He played against Slaton, but was unable to handle his usual punting duties, and was slowed down on offense because of the injury.

With the season half gone, the Antelopes have yet to win a game, but have shown more scrap and spirit than that usually displayed by a winless ball club.

Completion of the first half of the season finds the other district teams with the following records:

Lockney 33, Hale Center 7
Lockney 32, Dimmitt 0
Lockney 39, Tulia 13
Lockney 13, Ralls 0
Lockney 42, Abernathy 13

By CHARLES DIDWAY

The winless, but still scrapping, Post Antelopes take a rest this week before tackling the sensational Lockney Longhorns here Friday week. The Longhorns are being touted in some circles as the state's No. 1 Class AA team. We don't see it that way, but they're bound to be good to have stacked up the record they now boast through the first half of the grid campaign.

The Post squad, bruised, battered and beset by influenza, will be able to use all the rest they can get before taking on the Longhorns—which doesn't mean however, that they won't be put through their practice paces by Coaches Krhut and Parsons. Last year's game between Post and Lockney was a humdrum—described by more than one fan as the best high school game they'd ever seen. Lockney, you'll remember, left the field with a 6-0 victory, but had to fight off a constant Post goal line threat throughout the second half.

Taking everything into consideration, we don't think the Antelopes did so badly at Slaton Friday night. The Tigers have a much better team than they've been given credit for having. The linemen and backs are big and fast, and the team has given a good account of itself against strong opposition all season long (That's more than we ever meant to say for a Slaton football team!)

We didn't let a mild onset of what might or might not have been the Asian flu keep us from using up two tickets to Saturday night's game between Louisiana State and Texas Tech. The fact that it was one of the best college games we've ever seen sorta offset the flu aches and pains on the way back home.

The Red Raiders have one of the most interesting teams they've fielded in the last few years and are capable of giving any college team a busy four quarters on any given night—or afternoon. We saw a number of other Post fans at the game and they all seemed to be enjoying the contest.

The state's big college game Saturday—Texas vs. Oklahoma—will be televised on a regional basis, which means, of course, that we'll be able to pick it up here. The Longhorns, although edged by South Carolina are expected to give the Big Red a rough time in Saturday's traditional battle.

The World's Series may or may not be over by the time this appears in print. As it is being written (Tuesday), the Braves are one up on the Yankees. Sunday's game was the only one we've seen in its entirety, and chances are it'll stand up as the best of this year's series.

With the Antelopes' open date coming up Friday night, it'll be a good opportunity for local grid fans to see the county's only other team in action—the six-man football team of Southland High School. Since it's homecoming at Southland, there'll also be other attractions, including crowning of the homecoming queen. Why not drive up and see one of those wide-open six-man games?

Post is the only District 2-AA team with an open date this week. Lockney stays home to play Slaton. Abernathy journeys to Spur and Tahoka goes to Floydada.

Slaton isn't given much of a chance to stop Lockney's on-rush road to 1957 schoolboy gridiron fame, but they're just as good a team as any to pull an upset.

Anything can—and probably will—happen at Spur, since the Bulldogs and Abernathy usually go at it tooth and nail when they meet. Spur has the home field edge, and that may make the difference.

Floydada, which had an open date last week, gets its first taste of conference action at home Friday against Tahoka. The Whirlwinds appear the winners on paper, but that isn't where the games are played—it sez here.

There are some 511 lakes and reservoirs in Texas with a capacity of 100 acre feet or more. Total area of Texas' four National Forests is 1,716,964 acres.

GO AT IT HAMMER AND TONGS — These shots of Friday's Post-game show halfbacks of both teams ripping off gains. Pat Adamek is left end for the Tigers, with Antelope tackle Arlon Ford coming up to the stop. In the other picture, sophomore halfback Forrest Claborn of Post has twisted loose from one tackler and is picking up yards for his team. Alfred Blissard, Slaton tackle, is closing in on Claborn. Slaton won the game, 33-0. (Photo Courtesy Lubbock Avalanche-Journal).

Post Beats Post In Conference Game

Antelopes, weakened by injuries, lost to their rivals, the Slaton Tigers, Friday night in Tiger Stadium.

Fullback Alex Curis, through the line and for the first touch-down was never in the game until he was mercifully worn out by the driving Tiger line.

Antelopes never gave up, trying to get in the game when the final whistle blew. Fullback-tackle Alex Curis, slowed by a leg injury, and other start-up strength, the Post stayed on the field for Slaton team.

Antelopes scored 44 seconds and 44 seconds by the score. Tiger touchdowns.

End of a 53-yard Antelope had failed in their first series of pass added the extra point.

Second touchdown to go in the first end. Scotty Pierce, first varsity punter, straight up. It sailed, and Howard Limerick, snaggled the ball on the ground and lugged for the six-point. It was picked up on Post had gained possible ball when Herbie and a fumble on the A five-yard penalty loss on an attempt to set the ball Post 33, where the attempt occurred.

First be sure both feet are solid on the ground, unimpeded by brush. The left knee should be slightly bent.

Martin returned the kickoff eight yards to the Post 33, and the Antelopes picked up a first down on the 47 on runs by Martin and Greer had picked up short yardage at the line, Norman went 13 yards on a keeper for a first down on the 35. At this point, the Slaton coach withdrew his reserves and put the first team back on the field in a successful attempt to keep the Antelopes from denting the scoring column. A 15-yard penalty helped the Slaton cause, and Norman's punt was whistled dead on the Tiger 5.

Another 15-yard penalty against the Antelopes following the punt set the ball up to the Slaton 20. Long runs produced two first downs to the Antelope 20, but Post held for downs and took over on the 19.

Norman circled right end for six, and Windham got three, which was nullified when Slaton drew a 5-yard penalty. After a pass failed, Norman uncorked another one which Polk snagged on the Tiger 33. Another heave by Norman was intercepted on the 15 and returned to the 27. A crack at the line gained three yards as the game ended.

Longhorns Trample Abernathy 'Lopes

The Lockney Longhorns won their first District 2-AA game of the season Friday night by defeating Abernathy, 42 to 13, at Abernathy.

Not only did the Longhorns get off to a flying start in conference play, but they maintained their undefeated, untied record through the first half of the 1957 campaign. The Lockney eleven is favored to win the district championship.

Abernathy made a game of it the first half, and were behind by only one point—14-13—at the intermission. But the Longhorns bounced back for 14 points in the third period and 14 in the fourth to put the game safely beyond the reach of the Antelopes.

Speedster Jerry Williams scored five touchdowns to pace the potent Lockney offense. He scored on runs of 65, 75, 35, 65 and 70 yards, piling up a total of 318 yards rushing. Gerald Barton scored the other touchdown and ran over six extra points.

Abernathy struck first on a quarter-back pass from quarterback Lane Tannehill to halfback Gerald Watson. Danny Miller added the extra point on a short run. The Antelopes' other touchdown came on a recovery of a Lockney fumble in the end zone.

Spur Wins From Tahoka, 13 To 7

Spur's Bulldogs, defending champions in District 2-AA, opened their conference campaign Friday night with a hard-fought 13 to 7 victory over the Tahoka Bulldogs on the latters' gridiron.

Hernest Wilson, Spur left end, recovered a fumble by Tahoka on the Tahoka 20 to set up a score in the first quarter. In five plays, Spur tallied, with fullback Travis Watson traveling the last two yards. Kenneth Suits kicked the extra point.

Spur added a second touchdown in the third quarter with halfback Alan Kissinger going seven yards. The point try failed.

Tahoka came storming back and went 81 yards for a fourth quarter tally. Fullback Weldon Calloway skirted left end for 19 yards and the touchdown. End Jerry Brown kicked the extra point. A 25-yard pass from quarterback George Adams to end Jay Gurley set up the Tahoka score.

Spur led in first downs, 17 to 8.

Post Teams Split In Contests With Spur

The Post Antelope "B" team won, 7-0, and the junior high team lost, 19-7, in games here Tuesday night with Spur.

The "B" team's victory came on a first half punt return of 75 yards by halfback Craig Graham. The junior high team's touchdown came on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Tommy Boucher to end Clarence Ivey, with Ivey going 20 more yards for the score.

By HUGH WILLIAMSON

Now that the dove season is open in the South Zone, more Texans are brightening their shooting eyes. Hunters know the mourning dove is like a good halfback. He's shifty and he has a deceptive change of pace.

He's not as fast as some birds, but if you can hit a dove you can hit any bird that flies.

Here is a shooting stance recommended by expert shooters.

First be sure both feet are solid on the ground, unimpeded by brush. The left knee should be slightly bent.

Now Do This

When the bird comes along, swing the gun along his line of flight. Shift your weight from right to left foot, and squeeze the trigger as you pass him, leading the bird just enough.

What do I mean by just enough? I mean that you don't zig when he zags. Also that you don't speed up when he slows down, or vice versa.

Seems simple, doesn't it? Why not try it sometime?

But try it with a lighter gun than your father or grandfather used.

There are two big reasons for a lighter gun. One is that you can swing it more easily as you follow the bird in flight. The other is that those old 12-gauges get heavy along about the end of the day.

And nowadays you can do fine shooting with a "20" because of improved loads.

Note On Color

Hunters customarily have worn red to make themselves known to other hunters and thereby avoid being shot.

But now comes a color change because optometrists at two Army posts have discovered that yellow can be distinguished more easily and quickly than any other hue.

Red was one of the worst colors for being readily seen, according to the tests. The ranking was this way: yellow, orange, green, red, blue.

All of which makes me wonder if yellow is a favorite color for fishing lures because the fish see it quickly, the same as we do.

A friend of mine, who had great fishing success on a South Texas lake, not long ago reported that it didn't make any difference what kind of lures he used, so long as they were yellow.

The other day a partner and I were fishing on Lake Austin, and the only bass caught were on a yellow Lucky-13.

Guessing Game

You might follow through on this and speculate that bluegills readily strike golden larvae because of their color. But you would doubtless soon run into complications. For example, I took a fine string of bluegills recently, using those coal black crickets that have been so plentiful.

Talking about bait is a good part of the fun—but there's one conclusion I have drawn: I'll always have a few yellow lures in my tackle box.

Another tip about lures is to use light ones when the day is bright; dark ones at dawn, dusk, or night. Trying to figure that one out (at first thought it seems the reverse ought to be true), I reason that in dark waters the night sky seems bright.

And in daylight the blue sky is darker than the sun-filled, reflection-bright water. In any event you should use a lure that is easily spotted because of contrasting shade.

Fishing Best Now

Fishing is going to be at its best for the next few months. There are several reasons why that is true.

Most of the vacationers have gone back to work. This cooler weather encourages the fish and discourages the water skiers.

All Phases Of Oil Industry Operations Seen In Texas

"Fill 'er up, please."

In Texas, as well as in 47 other states, these four words are repeated more often, every day of the year, than any phase in modern life.

Standing behind the men to whom this request is directed is a fascinating industry made up of 1,650,000 people representing more than 2,000 different trades, crafts, skills and professions.

All phases of oil industry operations are carried on in Texas—transportation and marketing. They supplied Texans with more than seven billion gallons of petroleum products last year, or equal to 806 gallons for every man, woman and child in the state.

How do they do it? Well, let's look at some of the people and the jobs they do to accomplish this modern miracle.

Currently more than 122,000 persons work in various phases of petroleum production here. In 1956, the 166,000 wells in the state produced 1,111,172,000 barrels of crude oil and ranked first among other states in producing oil.

One person that has a lot to do with finding it in the first place is a geologist. He knows rocks and subterranean structures. He can identify those that have the potential of possessing oil.

Before drilling begins, however, other geologists, seismographic crews, paleontologists and assorted professionals look over the country side to determine the likelihood of oil.

Seismograph crews set off miniature earth quakes and record sound waves that bounce through the earth and ricochet back. The recorded vibrations enable them to draw maps of the formations below that may contain oil. But that's only the beginning.

"Drilling is a difficult operation," Texas Oil Information Committee chairman James L. Sewell of Dallas said, "and financially a hazardous one. The only sure way to tell if there is oil in the ground is to drill for it. The odds are long."

Only one in nine wildcat wells finds oil or gas and only one in 44 produces enough for the oilman to get his money back. Many wells run 10,000 feet or more, some go four miles down and can cost more than two million dollars.

Most wells are drilled with "rotary" rigs that bore a hole as you might with a brace and bit in a plank. Some shallow wells use the "cable tool" method that literally hammers a hole into the ground.

A drilling job goes 24 hours a day. In addition to the driller, the crew consists of roughnecks or roustabouts, the laborers in the oil fields; floormen, the helpers; engineers and equipment operators who keep pipe and bit rotating in the hole and derrick-men who work high in the steel rig.

Sewell said the U. S. oil industry will drill approximately 60,000 wells in 1957. Despite great odds, oilmen find more each year than is consumed. Of this country's 30.4 billion-barrel reserve, Texas has an estimated 14,783,139,000 — or nearly half.

"The future is bright," Sewell said, "much exploration and development lies ahead. Oil companies have leased more than sixty million acres of land in Texas. As long as they keep looking and know-how keeps improving, there is always hope that the future may outrank the past."

Leaflet Available On New Sorghum Hybrid

COLLEGE STATION — A white-seed sorghum hybrid, showing a very favorable performance when compared with the other hybrids, has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Seed will be available in limited quantity for the 1958 crop.

This new hybrid, RS 630, is the first white-seeded hybrid released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. In 25 tests in nine states, it yielded 67 bushels per acre—higher than any of the other hybrids tested. It is a medium-early grain sorghum hybrid that matures in 90 to 100 days after planting. The head is well above the upper leaf and dries readily, thereby permitting harvesting soon after the grain is mature.

A recently released leaflet, L-362, gives detailed information on this new hybrid. It contains sections of parentage, yield record, production of certified seed and gives a complete description. This leaflet may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Outlook Is Brighter For Egg Producers

COLLEGE STATION — Decreased production and the purchase of fewer replacements for next year has resulted in a brighter outlook for egg producers.

The number of chickens raised on Texas farms in 1957 is about one-fourth less than in 1956, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. During the first six months of 1957, production of egg-type chicks from commercial hatcheries in Texas was also about one-fourth less than that during the same period last year. Many farmers who raised chickens last year are raising none this year. The decrease is greater among the small flocks.

The laying flock on farms on January 1, 1958 in the U. S. is expected to be 6 to 8 per cent smaller than a year earlier, says the specialist. During the first six months of 1957, egg prices averaged 22 per cent below the same period in 1956 and farmers bought 19 per cent fewer flock replacement chicks.

Recently, egg prices have shown some improvement and will probably continue to do so into 1958, because potential layers (hens and pullets of laying age plus pullets not of laying age) on farms, Aug. 1, 1957, were 7 per cent below a year earlier and 17 per cent below the average.

Egg production during the last three months of this year will probably fall below the same period in 1956, points out McHaney, and we will enter 1958 with fewer layers on farms. Because of these trends, egg prices in the last three months of 1957 will likely be above those of 1956 at the same time; and prices during the first four months of 1958 should be better than for the same period in 1957.

State Dairymen Are Warned To Prepare For Colder Weather

COLLEGE STATION — The summer season is over and the fall session is now underway. Dairymen should now begin checking their management to make sure that they are ready for the colder weather that lies ahead, advise A. M. Meekma and J. W. Davis, extension dairy husbandmen.

Cow comfort is one of the more important points to check for the coming months, say the husbandmen. A dissatisfied, uncomfortable cow is not going to perform at her best. Special attention should be given to good feed and adequate shelter. And remember that contented cows usually make a more contented dairyman.

Determining the best feed to buy is another problem that must be confronted, Meekma and Davis remind. Feed prices often change from season to season and deciding which one to buy is sometimes difficult. For help in solving this problem, they advise seeing local county agents or the publication, MP-167, "Which Feed is the Best Buy?"

The specialists also advise dehorning now that the normal fly and screw worm season is about over. Dehorning will save space at the feed rack and in the shelter barn. It will also prevent painful injuries to cows and heartaches to the owner. There is no place for horns in the modern dairy herd.

Any herd can be improved by culling lowest producers, hard breeders, and least desirable cows. Now is a good time to cull those cows that will not carry their part of the load during the coming winter months. It can be unprofitable to carry any "dead weight" through the winter.

Education Is A Part Of School's Responsibility

Three out of every four children were injured, on route to and from school during the 1955-56 school year, reports J. W. Edgar, director of Education. Of 49,273 children, 49,273 preparing and distributing materials for teaching safety. "The Elementary Teacher and Safety Education," "Safety Education in Secondary Schools," and "Your Pupils: Their Safety Lies in Your Hands," are three teaching aids available from the Agency. These publications suggest procedures for each area of safety for each age group.

Children's attitudes toward safety precautions are developed over a long period of time. These attitudes are begun before the child reaches school age. The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers have prepared a bulletin, "Happy Journey," which contains helpful material on developing safety consciousness in pre-school children.

University Operates Speakers' Bureau

AUSTIN — The University of Texas operates a Speakers' Bureau to serve Texas civic clubs, service organizations and other groups planning informative programs.

Dr. Howard W. Townsend, Bureau director, has a list of faculty and administration members available to speak on their fields of major interest. Interest areas represented include literature, engineering, the sciences, speech, history, education, languages, business training, art, music, travel, health, religion, cooking, design, social work and government.

When a speaker is requested, the Bureau consults one who is trained in the particular field suggested and who can conveniently fill the assignment. His name and address are sent to the group making the request. Details of the arrangement are settled between the organization and the speaker.

Dr. Townsend said requests for a speaker should be made at least two weeks in advance of the date he is needed and should indicate the general subject on which the speaker will be expected to base his talk. No fee is charged by the Bureau, but the speaker's food, lodging and travel expenses must be paid by the group served. Payment is made directly to the speaker.

Requests should be addressed to Speakers' Bureau, Speech Department, University of Texas, Austin 12.

STATE BAR'S JUDICIAL SECTION IS MEETING

TYLER — Improvements in Texas support and custom laws to eliminate present hardships on dependent children and their parents were proposed for the legislative program of the State Bar of Texas' Judicial Section, meeting here today.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes of 14th District Court at Dallas made the recommendation in her programmed speech before the State's judges.

"Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," Judge Hughes said.

"It is likely to work a distinct hardship on a mother who lives in Texarkana with five children if she has to bring a suit for support in El Paso, where the father resides. The result in all probability will be that there will be no support from the father if he has no sense of responsibility. Or the cases may be reversed, since the statute provides that the mother, as well as the father, may be ordered to make periodic payments."

Judge Hughes also expressed her opinion that, among other changes, court decisions should be clarified concerning custody of a child.

"It seems to me that there should be a clear case of changed conditions which would benefit the child before a custody award is changed," she said.

"Too often where there is only the slightest change in conditions a change of custody suit is filed. The parents all too frequently are not concerned with the child as much as wanting to hurt each other. Emotional conflicts are aroused in the child which may result in serious permanent injury."

Even eating a hot dog is fun when it's State Fair time in Texas. The fun grows by leaps and bounds when it's a foot-long hot dog and you can keep it forever when you "Catch" it with a movie camera. Whether you're using a movie or a still camera though, it's planning that will let you get pictures like this one and let you come home from the State Fair of Texas with pictures you'll be proud to show your friends.

Propose Law Changes To Eliminate Hardships On Dependent Children

AUSTIN — Your general state of health can be a first line of defense against illness, particularly now that the season of infectious diseases is here. Resistance to complications of colds, "flu" and other illnesses is influenced by how you eat, sleep, exercise and relax before you get sick.

Food means different things to different people, but the net effect is the same: food not only supplies energy to the human machine but also provides building materials to renew body tissue.

Good nutrition is largely a matter of getting enough of the right foods. And since this is true, it is a good idea to take a look at your eating habits. Your regular diet should be built around:

A daily serving of meat or fish, about four eggs a week, some cheese, at least two glasses of milk daily, two daily servings of raw or slightly cooked green or yellow vegetables, two servings of fruit, and some potatoes, bread or other grain products.

Desserts, candy, and beverages such as soft drinks and coffee are not essentials, but they are sometimes pleasant additions.

Other items in your diet can be as extensive or as limited as you wish, provided you watch for "spoon-in-mouth diseases", leading to overweight.

One fact about food that cannot be overemphasized is the value of a good breakfast. And a coffee break isn't breakfast! Many people find the demands of their job in home or office takes so much out of them they feel all used up at the end of the day. This is apt to be literally true, especially if breakfast has been by-passed.

Many times an "all gone" feeling in the late morning comes about like this: When you get up in the morning you've been without food for a good many hours. Yet, you may not experience a feeling of hunger. You seem to get along for a few hours on a sub-standard breakfast, but around 11 o'clock you can't wait for lunch. Errors in your work are most apt to happen at this time.

To forestall fatigue, to reduce errors, to assure yourself of a steady level of health, fortify yourself with a sure combination—a good night of sleep and a really basic breakfast, such as fruit, toast, eggs, cereal and milk. If you can't eat breakfast through lack of appetite, start now to cultivate the habit of a good morning meal and soon you'll find you can't do without it.

Remember, too, as you review your eating habits to take a look at your ways of eating as well. The relaxed, pleasant meal . . . tempting, colorful dishes . . . quiet conversation are all tools for better health.

Of Shep Wasn't Just A-Wolfin'

ABILENE—Of Shep wasn't just flapping his jaws when he raised a ruckus the other night on Joe Wilde's farm west of here.

Wilde and his son, Raymond, heard Shep and knew he wasn't joking. They went out to see what was wrong. Wilde didn't look long. He ran back for a shot gun and killed the "varmint" that Shep found.

When the shootin' was over, there lay a rattlesnake measuring just five inches short of six feet. It was three inches through the thick part of its body. Wilde, who had killed more than 100 rattlers in his lifetime, said he'd never seen such a snake.

And the people who gathered around figured that the rattler's mama must have been scared by a hot rod with twin smitties. He had dual fangs—four instead of the usual two.

High School Hi-Lites
 By FRANCES DIETRICH

Hi, kids! First, I would like to extend my thanks to everyone for the lovely flowers, cards and good wishes sent to me and your visits in the hospital and at home during my recent illness. Thank you so much! Thanks, also, to the kids who gave me the news for the column this week and last.

The seniors are already preparing for graduation. They selected their invitations this week. They can be ordered from The Dispatch office at any time. For those who are really "on the ball" and get their orders in within the next two weeks, there is a free memory book.

The juniors have been doing some selecting this week, also. They decided on their rings for next year. They are to have the traditional Antelope head on them with the year and initials and an optional blue set.

Mr. Madison has been busy this week, taking pictures for the annual.

Several new members of the pep squad were glad to receive their sweaters in time for the game with Slaton last Friday. They are gold with a black megaphone with PHS on it.

The Future Homemakers of America met Tuesday night in the high school auditorium to install officers for this year. The new officers wore white dresses and were presented a red rose, the club flower, by the installing officer, Charlene Baker. Alice Joy Nichols, Marietta Pennell, Pat Wheatley and Rhea Peel lit candles which represented the purpose of the club and were on a table decorated in the club's colors, red and white.

The black and white Ivy League shoes are really "taking the cake" around PHS. The boys can tell by a glance at the feet of a girl whether to ask her for a date or not. The fad is — if a girl is going "steady," she wears the shoes with the buckles in back buckled up; if she is available for dates, the buckles are left open. Convenient!

Check On Eating Habits Advised

COLLEGE STATION — Poor eating habits can result in many bodily disorders. Nervousness, night blindness, improper growth in children, skin irritations, tooth decay, and loss of weight and energy are just a few symptoms that may result.

Eating habits are something that most people talk about but few do anything to improve.

A leaflet recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, L-352, "Are You a Good Eater?" provides a standard by which we may measure our diet and eating habits. It lists the more important elements needed by the body and then gives good sources for each as well as some of the results of a deficiency in these foods.

Also contained in the leaflet is a Texas Food Standard by which a person's diet may be planned to give proper nutrition.

This leaflet is available from local county home demonstration agents or from the Agricultural Information Office in College Station.

Aztec-Mayan Rituals To Be Performed At State Fair

Colorfully costumed dancers re-create the mysterious rituals of a vanished race in the exciting Aztec-Mayan Spectacular, free show to be presented twice daily on the Magnolia Midway Stage at the 1957 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 5-20. The ceremonial dances are climaxed with the death-defying flight from a 100-foot pole (right) by the amazing "Flying Indians," the Birdmen of Teotihuacan.

Dusk Brings Death On The Highways, Motorists Warned

"Slow down at sundown!" Garza County Sheriff Carl Rains warned motorists today. His appeal came as a part of the safety-after-dark program of the Texas Safety Assn.

"Since nighttime doubles traffic troubles, the driver has to soft pedal the gas pedal—he has to watch out for the lives of others as well as his own."

The sheriff emphasized that a driver must be alert at all times and expect the unexpected. Sometimes children dart out from behind parked cars, or bicycle riders make turns without signaling, or an animal wanders onto the highway. Rains also mentioned that when drivers become drowsy or fatigued, they should stop for a short nap or a brisk walk around the car.

"If a driver must stop at night, it is imperative that he always pull completely off the road and leave on his parking and dome lights," the sheriff said.

He particularly stressed the fact that night driving is different from daytime driving. Motorists must adjust to that difference by putting their guard up when the sun goes down.

"Fourteen per cent of the 2,611 traffic fatalities in Texas last year occurred in the three-hour period from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m.," Rains said. "Thus, emphasizing the slogan that 'Dusk brings death' on the highways."

WEEKEND GUESTS

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hays were Mrs. Roy Gilmore and girls of Lubbock.

Distribution Of Petroleum Products Extensive And Interesting System

Distribution of petroleum products is one of the most extensive and one of the most interesting systems ever devised for marketing liquids.

"Strange as it may seem," says Texas Oil Information Committee Chairman James L. Sewell of Dallas, "people buy and use the two principal petroleum products without ever seeing them."

"In fact," he said, "crude oil can be pumped from the depths of the earth, pipe lined to a refinery, processed into gasoline or fuel oil, moved to the market place, then to the consumer's car or home and actually be consumed without ever having been seen or touched by anyone."

Tank trucks are a familiar sight on roadways. They keep service station tanks filled and, indirectly, keep the customer's tank full. Tank truck drivers deliver gasoline and fuel oil to farms, factories, to railroad and business terminals. Giant trailer trucks haul gasoline and other products from refineries to distribution points particularly in remote areas not served by pipe lines.

The last census shows 1,999 petroleum bulk stations and terminal establishments in Texas with sales amounting to approximately $620,670,000 a year. Bulk storage capacity amounts to more than 530,495,000 gallons for petroleum products and an additional 29,439,000 gallons for liquid petroleum gases. These Texas establishments own and operate 5,203 tank trucks and employ some 13,156 people in wholesale distribution alone.

Most people come in direct contact with the oil industry only through the last ten feet of hose leading from service station pumps to their cars.

There are 11,992 service stations in Texas with annual sales amounting to nearly $643,099,000 annually. These stations employ some 26,275 people.

Some operators own their stations outright, while others lease the properties from supplying companies. In both cases the dealers are in business on their own and it's up to them to make good.

Texas consumes large quantities of petroleum. There are 3,052,093 automobiles, 18,336 buses and 800,553 trucks on the roads. Highway consumption of gasoline is in excess of three billion gallons each year.

Farm vehicles account for another 516,724,500 gallons of gasoline a year as well as thousands of gallons of oil. Industrial consumption in Texas reaches 9,166,000 barrels a year, railroads 7,761,000 and utilities another 91,000 barrels.

"Statistics like these are head-spinning," Sewell said, "but they give a measure of the oil industry's never-ending job of serving and supplying the people of Texas."

The OIC spokesman emphasized that petroleum, both as a product and as an industry, contributed immeasurably to the growth and development of not only this state but the entire country as well.

"Our citizens, thanks to oil, enjoy a degree of comfort, convenience and security unequalled in any other part of the world," he said. "We have luxuries and services our ancestors never dreamed of and we also have more leisure time to enjoy them. They lead to a richer, more pleasant life."

Texas A&M Schedules Agricultural Relations Conference Oct. 28-29

COLLEGE STATION — To give leaders of business and industry a clearer understanding and more appreciation for what is happening in Texas agriculture is a major objective of the Agricultural Relations Conference on Business and Industry scheduled for Texas A. and M. College, Oct. 28-29. Dr. Tyrus R. Timm, head, Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology and conference chairman, said changes are taking place in agriculture at a very rapid rate and the conference will give leaders a chance to get the latest available information on the situation.

"Retailers, brokers, wholesalers, transporters, insurers, processors and manufacturers of food and fiber and of supplies and equipment used by farmers should benefit particularly from the conference," Timm said. "But," he added, "the conference is open to anyone."

Some of the topics on the program are: How Much Is Texas Agriculture Worth to Texas Business and Industry?; Why Are Agricultural Programs Affect Business and Industry?; Why are Agricultural Representatives for Business and Industry so Important?

Timm concluded that "the increasing commercialization of agriculture, the growing use of group effort in agriculture and the continued participation of government in agriculture is making agriculture and other forms of business more interdependent with one another. Furthermore, intelligent discussion of these trends seem to be the best ally for all concerned. We hope and believe the conference will have this kind of discussion."

Details on the program and about registration and reservations may be obtained from local county agents.

Texas' lowest recorded temperature was 23 below zero at Tulia on Feb. 12, 1899.
