Christ Child Is Born In Town Of Bethlehem Wise Men Tell King Herod Of Event

All wise men in the East have been summoned unto King Herod who has sought diligently to learn at what time the star of the east appeared and where the Christ Child should be born.

This information was said to have made Herod furious because he did not want competition for his throne nor anyone to cause an uprising among his people.

him to bring him word so that he could go and worship him also. The wise men later advised this reporter that they doubted the king's good intent because of a warning in a dream and were therefore returning to their own land by a devious way without reporting back to King Herod.

CHRISTMAS CANDLES

Candles have long had their place in legends and in the observance of the holiday of Christmas. The first use of candles for Christmas is not recorded in the annals of any nation but according to an old legend the "Christ Child Candle" is burned in the window to light His way if He makes an earthly visitation and in atonement for the night of His birth when there was no room for Him.

Some Christmas Thoughts

Don't take Christ out of Christmas.

That is an old complaint basically aimed at the broad commercialism which surrounds America's family holiday.

On this Christmas eve, let us think about this for a moment and ask ourselves—are we taking the Christ out of our own Christmas? Has this family holiday of gift giving grown in such proportions that the birthday of Jesus is all but forgotten?

We have only to look at our churches for our answer.

How many churches today hold services on Christmas morn—to observe the birth in Bethlehem long ago of the Son of God who came to change the thinking and the feelings of the world?

The answer is—very few indeed.

The change has come because we have been too busy with our family holiday to take time to go to church to meditate upon what this day means and to sing Christmas carols of praise to His name.

Such services went poorly attended and under the pressure of everything else at Christmas time were finally dropped, quietly—but significantly.

Santa is a fine old fellow. But let him crowd Jesus out.

In many countries of the Christian world, the gift-givings and the family gatherings still today remain secondary to the prime purpose of Christmas—to honor Jesus and sing his praise.

The front page of this Christmas Eve Dispatch tells the story of the birth of Christ as The Dispatch staff would write it today if it had happened only last night in that manger in Bethlehem.

The news of the day has been moved to the back page of the first section, where Editor Charlie Didway has created a second front page for this week.

The story of Jesus is much more important here in Post today than the regular news of the community—even though the event actually happened 1,957 years ago.

Let us remember tonight that Christmas is the birthday of Jesus and everything else which means so much to us about this holiday is but secondary to that fact.

Let's put Christ back in Christmas tomorrow—both around our Christmas trees and around our heaping dinner tables—JC

A second Christmas thought The Dispatch wishes to leave with its readers is simply what a wonderful world this would be if we could extend our Christmas season clear around the calendar.

Christmas in America today is a holiday of goodwill to not only relatives and friends, but to all our fellow men.

Why must Christmas stop at midnight on Dec. 25? Why can't the Spirit of Christmas be extended to the other 364 days each year?

We all love to see the Christmas season come with its gay gift giving, its family gatherings, its parties for young and old, and best of all for the joy we get out of doing nice things for other people. We always find at Christmas that it really is "better to give than to receive."

Why then must the Christmas season go so quickly?

It needn't—it is but a pattern of life which can be changed.

When we can have Christmas 365 days each year, then we and our nation will be truly Christian.

The Dispatch staff takes this opportunity in wishing you and yours the happiest of Christmases.—JC

What Will Develop In Dynamiting Case?

Law-abiding citizens, alarmed at the disclosure that more than a dozen youths have been prowling the countryside with explosives the past few weeks, no doubt are wondering just what will be done in the case of these boys who have admitted blowing up a county bridge and setting off other dynamite blasts.

Such an offense shouldn't be soft-pedaled. Most of the youths involved are above juvenile age; all of them are old enough to know better. One reason it occurred in the first place probably is because there has been entirely too much soft-pedaling of such offenses involving restless youths—not only hereabouts, but everywhere else in the nation.

The dynamitings, because of their danger to life, limb and property, go beyond the range of most teen-age offenses. This danger involves the youngsters themselves, as well as other people.

It'd be much better to have one of these boys firmly straightened out by due process of law than to have him horribly mangled by one of the dynamite blasts he sets off.

We've been told that all the boys involved in the dynamiting are "good" boys and come from "nice" families. That such is true, we have no doubt. But that is all the more reason they should be dealt with in such a way as to impress on them the enormity of such offenses as stealing high-powered explosives and setting them off to destroy public and private property and endanger human lives, including their own.

In awaiting developments in the case, along with the rest of the public, we are wondering in this specific instance if it isn't a good time to draw once and for all a line of distinction between mere wrist-tapping offenses and those which merit sterner measures.—CD

Best Way To Know Is To Be Present

Have you ever attended a city council meeting? A school board meeting?

The chances are that you never have, although our "right to know" laws unlock the doors of such meetings.

After attending more than our share of such meetings, we're convinced that few folks attend unless they have axes to grind.

Most folks are well content to let the newspapers supply all the information about such meetings.

While this is a service newspapers are happy to provide, the fact remains that we'd undoubtedly get better local government if more people showed more interest in their elected officials.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THIS WEEK, for the first time since we've been editor of the Post Dispatch—dating back to March 1953—we're turning our "Thursday to Thursday" column over to a guest columnist. She is a young lady who will be 22 years old on the last day of the year, and who will graduate next spring from North Texas State College with a degree in journalism.

As you probably already have guessed, our guest columnist is our daughter, Mrs. Charline Feris who has shown an inclination for the newspaper profession from the time when as a youngster of three or four, she would stand at her dad's desk and watch him pound on a typewriter.

As amusements and activities editor of The Campus Chat, NTSC student newspaper, Charline is a regular contributor to the paper's editorial and news pages. This week, we are using her column, "This 'n' That," which appeared in the Dec. 11 issue of The Chat. Charline hasn't decided yet whether she will enter the newspaper field or become a high school journalism or English teacher. We're hoping, of course, that she decides on the head-banging newspaper game, but if she decides to teach, then we're sure she'll do the newspaper profession a world of good in that field.

Here is our guest's guest column:

One thing I used to ask Santa Claus in my childhood letters to the wonderful gentleman was "Does it really snow every year at Christmas?"

I long ago gave up the hope of ever seeing a white Christmas. All my Christmases have either been rain-blown or sand-blasted.

As every West Texan knows, sand is something one gradually comes to accept but never quite disliking. And it is especially unwelcome around Dec. 25. But, as children will, we had a merry time pretending that our snow was just a different color and threw sandballs at each other.

Santa was always very generous in answering every request except the one for a white Christmas. But he was always a pretty busy fellow around that time of year and as Linus says, it's amazing how a person of his age can appreciate so well the problems of young people!

Santa may run into a little traffic on his trip around the globe this year. He might even bump his eight tiny reindeer for a hitch on a streamlined satellite. Or maybe he'll slip a cherry Christmas message into one of the satellites: "Yes, Nikita, there is a Santa Claus."

If you are planning to do your shopping in one of our neighboring cities, take a few precautions. First of all, leave your car at home. Drivers have less good will for other drivers at Christmas time than at any other time during the year.

Wear two or three coats to protect yourself against the bodily jabs you'll get at the tie-counter scrimmage. And, girls, don't forget to wear your spiked heels. They're indispensable for getting into or out of a crowded elevator.

There is one offer being heralded on a nearby television station which will undoubtedly solve the most difficult gift problem. For only $2.98 I can get a million dollars in authentic, reproduced Confederate money. Now who wouldn't appreciate a gift like that? Everyone wants to be a millionaire, especially a Confederate millionaire.

And, as true Southerners, it's our duty to buy up all this precious money before the darn Yankees get their hands on it! Think what this could mean to Texas. With all that money, we not only could secede from the Union, but we could hire our own federal troops as well.

Whichever way you plan to shop, from your armchair or fighting the crowds, there are only 11 short days in which to do it.

Merry Christmas—and be thankful it comes but once a year.

Tax-Man Sam Sez

Now is the time for a good old New Year's resolution. First resolution—I will keep good tax records this year to enable me to pay less income tax. Second resolution—I will carefully read the tax instructions this year to avoid mistakes that will cost me. Third resolution—I will file my 1957 return as soon as possible since 60 per cent of North Texas taxpayers receive a refund, my chances of a refund are good. Fourth resolution—I will avoid tax penalties by filing my tax as required by the instructions. Taxpayers making and keeping these resolutions will be happier and wealthier taxpayers next year.

The Chinese Method
Two Chinese coolies in a street in Shanghai were shouting at each other, their noses but two inches apart. They were surrounded by a great crowd of spectators. "What is the matter?" asked an American bystander of a Chinaman next to him.

"But I've been standing here five minutes," continued the American, "and nobody has hit anybody yet."

"You don't understand," explained the Chinaman. "In a Chinese fight, the man who strikes first shows that he has run out of ideas."—The Hamlin Herald.

One Santa Claus
It's a far cry from the Christmas time when we were a boy. Then, we had one Santa Claus. He visited our little farm settlement only one time and that was on Christmas Eve night. He made his initial appearance at a Christmas program held at the schoolhouse or church. How Santa would get back to his Toyland home at the North Pole from appearing at the schoolhouse, load up his sleigh and get back the same night and put our presents into our stocking hanging under the Christmas tree before we got up at 5 o'clock Christmas morning didn't worry us.—"Shoot-a Knows" in The Stanton Reporter.

He Could Nail It On
A pointed head is a distinct disadvantage in wearing a broad-brimmed hat during a West Texas sand storm. A contemporary has suggested that I could master the problem by nailing mine on.—"Trail Dust" in Matador Tribune.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I want to ask VA to deduct my GI insurance premiums from my disability compensation payments. Where do I send my request—to the VA regional office that handles my compensation or the VA district office that handles my insurance?

A. Send your request to the VA regional office handling your compensation.

Q. I understand that in order to change my course under the Korean GI Bill, my school must certify that my conduct and progress have been satisfactory. I was absent from class much more often than I should have been. Would that stand in the way of my school certifying satisfactory conduct and progress?

A. An unsatisfactory attendance record could result in a denial of further GI training benefits, unless you can show that your record was due to reasons beyond your control.

Q. If I can get a release from liability, I plan to let the buyer of my house take over my GI loan. Is there any cost involved in getting this release?

A. Either you or the prospective buyer must pay the cost of a credit report on the buyer. Also, either of you must pay the cost of recording the Assumption Agreement and Release, if recording is necessary.

Q. I was discharged from the Armed Forces with a 20 per cent disability, and received a lump-sum disability severance payment. Will that payment have any effect on VA disability compensation, if VA approves my claim?

A. Yes, if VA grants you compensation, it will withhold your payments until the amount recovered equals the amount of severance pay you received. After that, VA will send you your regular compensation checks each month.

When he stops being cute

This is his very first New Year. He's celebrating it in his own talented fashion, just being cute. Last year thousands of boys and girls were arrested as juvenile delinquents. They had all been cute—once!

But did they have the priceless example of active Christian parents? Were they given moral and spiritual training in the Church? Did they grow up in a Christian atmosphere?

This young fellow can't be absolutely sure that the New Year is worth celebrating. His future is in the hands of his parents. But he's smiling because of his confidence in them.

During this New Year their faith in God, and the sincerity of their relationship with the Church will begin to determine just what their son is going to be when he stops being cute.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How We Can Improve Our Facilities For Handling Juvenile Delinquents

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES
(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored throughout the United States and in Europe, and whose name was put in nomination for vice president of the U. S. in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear every other week.)

Texans like to brag and we have reason to be proud of our history, our vast ranches and cattle, our natural resources, and, most of all, our people. But one thing we can't brag about — our facilities for handling juvenile delinquents are very insufficient. What we have is good, but it is far from enough.

Many counties have no probation or parole officers. In these counties if a youngster is put on probation there is no official to keep him in line. A boy released from the state institution to a county without a parole officer has no one trained to assist him in finding a place in the community. Effective supervision after release is just as necessary for rehabilitation as training in the school; and without it, money and effort expended are a loss to the state as well as to the child.

In some instances small boys 10 to 13 are sent to Gatesville because the county has no facilities for handling them and doesn't know what else to do with them. They may have committed only minor offenses and have no home. This is not good. There are 40 to 50 boys this age at Gatesville. They sleep in a separate cottage, but otherwise — at meals, in school, and at play — they mix with older boys who have longer criminal careers and are good instructors in the ways of crime.

The community which allows a 10-year-old to be committed to Gatesville is failing in its responsibility to youngsters. Gatesville, in addition to not being able to do the right kind of job for boys between 10 and 13, is heavily overcrowded. The result is that boys usually stay only about seven months, not long enough to complete training.

The result of a too-short stay and no state parole officers is a high rate of return. Last year, 34 per cent of the boys released from Gatesville returned.

The last regular session of the Legislature provided for new buildings at both Gatesville and the girls' school at Gainesville. But it was far too little. The buildings will take the place of those that are already unsafe for occupancy and will permit less crowding. The increased juvenile population of the state is not taken into account, and unless something is done immediately, the present situation will be back at us.

There is, however, something that can be done. AND IT IS UP TO THE PEOPLE TO DO IT.

Public officials respond to what the voters want. After all, they have to be elected, and if the people feel their responsibility strongly enough and vigorously urge their officials to provide necessary facilities for delinquent youngsters, it will be done.

On the county level it is the commissioners court which must provide for probation officers, foster homes, and county institutions for dependent and delinquent children. If your county is very small a volunteer probation and parole system might be set up, or perhaps two or more counties could cooperate in providing a paid officer.

The Legislature has the responsibility for the state institutions and parole officers for such institutions. If there is a strong enough public opinion favoring adequate facilities for training and rehabilitating delinquent children the Legislature will provide.

Public opinion is something you can be a force in developing — by conversations with friends, by talks to clubs, by letters to editors. And then the commissioners court and the Legislature should be made aware of your opinions.

Until we have done whatever is necessary to provide proper facilities for juvenile delinquents, let's not blame the youngsters. Put the blame where it belongs — on the communities and the state.

Says City Ordinance Will Be Enforced

Sheriff Issues Warning On Setting Off Of Fireworks

Promiscuous shooting of fireworks during the last few days brought a warning from Sheriff Carl Rains that his office will enforce the city ordinance against sale or setting off of fireworks within the city limits.

"What started off as a minor trouble has 'snowballed' until something will have to be done about it," the sheriff said Monday in warning those who have been setting off fireworks.

Garza Prospect Running String

The J. M. Evans No. 1 Slaughter Estate, dual discovery prospect 20 miles south of Post, was running five and one-half inch oil string for a completion attempt, at last reports.

Top of the former was called at 7,776 feet; top of the latter at 8,097 feet. Shows of oil and gas, apparently not considered commercial, also were logged in the Ellenburger.

Location is 990 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of Section 30, Block 2, T&NO Survey. The venture is two and one-half miles south of production in the Teas field.

Wilson Gin Fire Causes Estimated $35,000 Loss

High winds, which accompanied last Thursday's "change of weather" dust storm, set off a bad gin yard fire at the Gatzki gin at Wilson in neighboring Lynn County.

Flaming burrs, blown by the high winds, touched off the gin yard "torch" which in a matter of minutes totally destroyed 52 cotton trailers and approximately 100 bales of cotton.

The loss was tentatively estimated at $35,000. It was covered by insurance. This was the first time this harvest year that the Gatzki gin has had a gin yard fire.

A few of the cotton trailers were pulled to safety, but so swiftly did the flames spread that not many of them could be saved.

The fire started at 10:20 a.m. "It didn't last long," was the way one gin employe put it. "In that wind it only took a few minutes."

Gin Totals Hit 15,515 Bale Mark

Ginnings from Garza County's 1957 cotton crop zoomed past the 15,000-bale mark this week, with harvest of the late crop rapidly drawing to a close.

The county's six gins reported total ginnings of 15,515 bales shortly before noon Monday. The count by gins was: Planters Gin, Post, 2,123; Storie Gin, 1,820; Graham Co-op Gin, 2,780; Close City Co-op Gin, 2,745; Pleasant Valley Gin, 2,527, and Basinger Gin, Southland, 3,720.

The four gins in the central part of the county reported yards still full of cotton to be processed. There were 150 bales on the Graham gin yard Monday morning and 136 on the Close City yard. The gins at Southland and Pleasant Valley apparently are nearer the winding-up stage. The gin manager at Southland said they were the nearest caught-up they had been this month.

With the exception of small blazes in a bale here and a bale there, county gins have escaped fires during the high winds, which presented a real threat last Thursday.

This year's 15,515-bale total to date compares with 10,450 bales last year when the crop was virtually out.

Woman, Grandson Injured In Collision

Mrs. Charlie Rogers and her 11-year-old grandson, Fred Leiby, were treated and released at Garza Memorial Hospital Sunday evening for injuries received when their automobile collided with one driven by Dr. L. E. Andrews, who was not injured.

Officers who investigated the accident said the automobile collided at the intersection of U. S. Highway 380 and Avenue P. The car occupied by Mrs. Rogers and her grandson was traveling west on the highway and the one driven by Dr. Andrews was crossing the highway from the south, the officers' report disclosed.

During last Thursday's sandstorm, a cattle truck ran into the rear of a bakery truck on top of the caprock northwest of Post. No injuries were reported by officers who investigated.

Highway Grocery Here Burglarized

Young's Highway Grocery at 415 South Broadway was burglarized "between 3:30 and 3:45" by intruders who broke in either last Thursday night or early Friday morning.

Raymond Young, owner, said the money was taken from a metal container which the burglars hammered open. He said Monday he still was checking his merchandise stock to determine if the intruders carried away anything except the money.

The burglars entered the store after breaking the glass in the front door and throwing the night lock.

The break-in was investigated by Sheriff Carl Rains.

Levi's Burglarized; $120 In Cash Taken

A burglar or burglars broke into Levi's Cafe here sometime last night looted the cash register of approximately $120 and took what money was in the cigaret machine. Levi Noble, owner of the cafe, discovered the break-in about 7 a.m.

Sheriff Carl Rains, who investigated the burglary, said entry was made by breaking in the back door of the cafe.

Nothing else apparently was taken but the money.

Probe Nears End In Dynamitings

Investigation of a series of dynamitings in which a county bridge east of Southland was destroyed is nearing an end, Sheriff Carl Rains said Monday.

A number of Slaton and Southland youths are implicated in the dynamitings, the sheriff said. More than 100 pounds of stolen dynamite and a number of caps have been recovered by officers.

The sheriff said that he will present his findings in the case to County Attorney Carleton P. Webb. The county attorney told The Dispatch Monday, before conferring with the sheriff, that the proper procedure would be to present the facts in the case to the grand jury when it convenes next month.

One development reported by the sheriff was that he had talked to Elliott Taylor, who formerly operated a gravel washing works in northern Garza County from where some of the dynamite was stolen. The sheriff said Taylor told him he did not know any dynamite was left at the site when the works were abandoned and that he had no idea how much was taken from there.

The Dispatch has been informed that a Slaton area youth home on lease from the Navy was not involved in the case, as was reported in last week's story of the dynamitings.

Flores was selected to receive the car at 9:30 p. m. Saturday night on the Tower theater stage with a full house on hand for the event.

Flores wasn't in the theater at the time but arrived within three minutes in an elated mood.

205 Violent Deaths In Texas Are Predicted For Holidays

The violent deaths of 205 persons in Texas during the 12-day Christmas-New Years holiday period was predicted today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas DPS, announced the prediction of all forms of violent deaths compiled by N. K. Woerner, management of Statistical Services. The estimate includes 113 motorcides, 48 suicides and homicides and 44 other accidental deaths for the 12-day period extending from 12:01 a.m. Dec. 21 through 11:59 p.m. Jan. 1.

During the same 12-day period last year 108 persons were killed in 89 fatal traffic accidents, seven below the 115 predicted motorcides.

The state police director said the same "all-out" effort of traffic law enforcement employed in holding down last year's count of traffic deaths will be used again during the forthcoming holiday.

"Our estimated 115 motorcides (traffic deaths) for last year could have been exceeded except for the cooperative around-the-clock effort of all law enforcement agencies throughout the state. Traffic law enforcement will again be strengthened in an effort to prevent traffic accidents and accident prone situations.

"From all indications, the two week-ends during the forthcoming holiday period will be high accident periods. With Christmas and New Years falling on Wednesday, both days plus the day preceding each will also be high accident days. This means that we will have the equivalent of four week-ends within the 12-day period.

As a means of cutting down the number of traffic accidents and motorcides Garrison urged motorists to employ the following driving suggestions:

1. Leave in time to get where you are going without speeding.
2. Reduce speed according to weather, road, traffic and daylight conditions.
3. Pay strict attention to driving and do not let passengers distract your attention from the road.
4. Obey traffic regulations and traffic signs.
5. Always be courteous to other drivers and to pedestrians, especially at Christmas time.

Suicides and homicides taken into account in the DPS prediction usually run high during the Christmas season. In regard to suicides, Garrison said that it is easy when away from home, to become despondent "at a time when everyone is exchanging gifts and having fun." Increased tensions and social activity result in greater personal conflict.

Colder temperatures and holiday activities in general was given in explanation for the increased number of accidental deaths this time of year. House fires increase in cold weather; people suffocate when they sleep in improperly ventilated rooms; falls and hunting accidents increase during bad weather and holiday periods.

Garrison said that although the holidays bring tragedy and sorrow to many, "we can prevent much of it if everyone will be especially careful at home, when walking or driving, and at social gatherings.

NEED NOT BE DISCARDED WHEN HOLIDAY IS OVER

Poinsettia Can Be Saved To Bloom Again Next Year If Care Is Used

That popular Christmas plant, the poinsettia, need not be discarded when the holiday is over. The right care can keep it in condition for blooming again next year.

Horticulture specialists say you need not be alarmed about dropping leaves. Leaf dropping simply means the plant is going into its normal rest period, which lasts until about May 1.

After the leaves fall, put the plant in a cool place—40 to 50 degrees—and water sparingly. About May 1, cut the plant back quite heavily, to remove excess wood and make it more shapely.

Shake off the old soil and repot in a mixture of three parts garden loam, one part well-rotted manure and one part leafmold. Use a pot large enough to hold the mass of roots without crowding and still provide good drainage. Water enough to keep the soil from drying out.

In about another month, when the weather is warm, set the potted plant outdoors, submerging the pot in the soil at ground level or a little below. Put it in full sunshine unless the weather is very hot. In that case, give it light shade. When nights cool in the fall, put it in a window where there is good light and air and where temperature is about 60 to 68 degrees, but with no draft. Water regularly so the soil never dries out and use a little liquid fertilizer every week.

WHEN SANTA LEAVES
While American children always find their Christmas presents in the stockings or under the tree, children of other nations must search for theirs. Norwegian children seek them out in hiding places which may be anywhere in the house. In Italy, they seek them in "Urns of Fate" and in France children usually find them in wooden shoes.

Charles Wesley, a Methodist minister in England, wrote "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" on a Christmas morning. The brother of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, was inspired by the pealing of church bells when he penned the famous carol.

Mistletoe, the most popular New Year's and Christmas green, has been an emblem of purity, friendship and goodwill since ancient Greek times. Ancient Britons revered it as a symbol of protection from evil spirits.

Burning of trees on "Twelfth Night" is an outgrowth of the special observances by early Christians on the last day of a 12-day celebration of the Feast of the Nativity of Christ.

THE Christmas Story

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

THOUSANDS WILL FILL CHURCHES

Many Languages Will Join Together In Holy Praise In Tiny Bethlehem

As the angels sang on that first Christmas night, so will there be singing in the village of Bethlehem in this year of 1957.

Bethlehem caroling is in many languages. An Arab choir will join with the voices of tourists and pilgrims in a simple outdoor service. In a grotto which might have been the sheepfold for the watching shepherd, the Christmas

Medieval Dinner Once Was Poplar Custom For Coeds

Eating peas with a knife is contrary to Emily Post and doesn't seem to have much qualification for observance as a Christmas tradition, but for more than 25 years coeds at Pennsylvania State University partook of a fork-less meal each Yule season.

The traditional medieval dinner, complete with everything from costumed lords and ladies to the legendary boar's head, dated back to 1919. It finally had to be cancelled when coed ranks swelled to almost 1,000.

The affair, sponsored by the Women's Student Government Assn., began with a formal procession through the dining hall. Lord and Lady McAllister — the dinner was held in McAllister Hall — led the throng, which included noble lords and ladies, heralds, a poet, a cardinal, pages, and two jesters bearing the boar's head.

All these girls were appropriately costumed and sat upon a raised dais in the center of the holly-bedecked room, which was illuminated by candlelight.

A choir furnished Christmas music, and the poet entertained the guests by reading Old English poetry from a scroll. In accordance with medieval custom, no forks or napkins were allowed, although guests sometimes secreted them in their pockets. The menu consisted of roast pork, mashed potatoes, peas, and a very rich plum pudding.

Today's students eat a special Christmas dinner before going home for vacation — but it's served "sissy" style. They're allowed a full complement of table utensils.

story will be read from the Gospel of St. Luke.

The stone buildings and churches of Bethlehem will be filled with thousands of pilgrims who have journeyed here for a pontifical mass at midnight in St. Catherine's Chapel and the procession which later leads down a flight of stone stairs to the grotto beneath the Church of the Nativity.

According to tradition, nearly 2,000 years old, the grotto is the site of the stable where Jesus was born when Joseph and Mary could find no room at the inn.

During the ceremony an infant figure of Christ is placed first on a silver star, then in a manger in a wooden crib where it will remain until the feast of Epiphany.

On both sides of the Israel-Jordan border, a short distance from Bethlehem, tent cities are set up to facilitate border crossing formalities for almost 2,000 Christians living in Israel and temporary Christian residents of Israel traveling to Bethlehem for Christmas. The formalities do not take much time. In one tent, pilgrims get stamps for their permits; in another their luggage is checked; finally their money is changed.

They they cross the border, Bethlehem - bound, just as was Mary and Joseph on a similar night long ago, and just as are fervent travelers from all parts of the world in this year of 1957.

Novel Decorations Add Color, Beauty To Yuletide Gifts

With so many gifts to wrap this time of the year, paper, cards, ribbons, seals and other package decorations can add up to quite a sum.

By using a little imagination, these costs can be kept at a minimum.

Ends of wallpaper rolls, whether left over from your own walls or bought as odd stock at your local paint store, are especially pretty for large packages. Even newspapers can be used to wrap large packages and the want-ad section is more attractive than the other pages.

Small pieces of aluminum foil or shell paper from the end of the roll are excellent for wrapping smaller packages. Or if you have a young child who fingerpaints, why not wrap gifts in some of his painting?

White tissue paper can be made quite appealing by spattering it with red or green ink or water with food coloring added.

For seals, cut out colored pictures from magazines, old Christmas cards or even small bits of wrapping paper and paste them on the package. Or you can paste them on a small piece of construction paper to make an enclosure card.

Acorns, pine cones or oak leaves, painted or shellacked and tied on top of the package will catch the eye of both young and old.

GREETINGS

COOPERATIVE EFFORT OF TEXAS TECH, WTCC

Area Bureau Of Business Research Reports Are To Begin In January

LUBBOCK — The newly formed West Texas Bureau of Business Research will publish its first monthly report in January, officials of Texas Tech and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have announced.

The Bureau is a cooperative effort of Tech and the WTCC and has headquarters in Tech's School of Business Administration.

The January report will be the first of a series giving details about the whole West Texas region, according to Jarvis Witt of Tech, acting director of the Bureau.

Up to now, other business resumes have included complete reporting on only four of 132 West Texas counties.

In the latest issue of "West Texas Today," WTCC magazine, Witt said "cooperation necessary for success" of the Bureau has been achieved.

Business groups, chambers of commerce and other agencies throughout the 132 counties have pledged their help in providing information needed for the Bureau's monthly reports on business conditions.

Witt said that he and Bureau Director Harry Walker, who's on leave this year, have studied procedures used by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research and that the Tech Bureau is similarly organized.

The Tech Bureau is attempting to gather information from a tentative list of 313 West Texas communities, including all county seats, and incorporated cities (except those reported as suburbs of larger cities).

Also included are all cities with banks, post offices or chambers of commerce.

The list excludes all towns of 800 or less population except those in the above categories.

Witt pointed out that some of the 313 cities in the tentative list would not be able to provide the necessary data. He added that "a safe estimate" of the final list is at least 275 communities.

WTCC President B. E. Godfrey of Fort Worth said the new Bureau will provide information of inestimable value to West Texas businessmen.

"Presently, West Texas has only four counties submitting complete reports to the University of Texas Bureau," Godfrey said. "In fact, 106 counties do not have any business studies published in the existing state-wide reports."

The Tech Bureau will provide data on sub-regions of West Texas as well as the entire area. The sub-regions were determined through analysis of resources, production techniques and resources as modified by production.

Witt said the categories selected for first reporting are population, banking, construction, postal receipts, and utilities. A series of reports in those categories will be published on a city, sub-regional and regional basis.

New Publication On Alfalfa Available

COLLEGE STATION — Alfalfa is a versatile crop that may be dehydrated, grazed, fed as green-chop, put up as silage and used as a money crop and for soil improvement. But hay and seed are the most important products of over 300,000 acres of alfalfa in Texas.

Alfalfa is one of the most palatable and nutritious forage crops grown when harvested at the proper stage of growth. The forage is high in protein, mineral and vitamins and low in fiber.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has released a bulletin, "Alfalfa for Forage and Seed," that gives much valuable information on the production of this crop. It is based on Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin 855, "Alfalfa Production in Texas."

This helpful publication may be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Gift of Sight Is Being Lost To One American Every 20 Minutes

The irreplaceable gift of sight is being lost to one American every 20 minutes.

If that figure—estimated by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness—holds true for all population segments throughout the United States, it means four Texans are being visited by sightlessness every day.

Even as you read this, some man, woman, or child is standing on the brink of a life of permanent darkness, about to join the 300,000 Americans who are already enduring the bleak enormity of blindness.

More than 14,000 of the 300,000 Americans currently blind are Texans, according to official estimates.

What causes blindness? There are three major factors: disease, accidents, neglect.

Blindness brought on through neglect really is no worse than that caused by an accident or disease. But somehow it seems worse. It's so unnecessary.

If all children were given a thorough eye examination prior to entering school for the first time, and if all visual defects were corrected or placed under treatment at that time, a major step in the prevention of blindness in childhood would be taken.

But a single examination is not enough. A child grows quickly. His eyes, like every other body organ, are constantly changing. Sometimes the change is a defect.

At least half of all cases of blindness occurring from year to year could be prevented through use of the sight-saving knowledge at hand.

For example, some 300,000 industrial accidents occur each year, 1500 of them resulting in permanent blindness. The mere use of goggles would cut these figures to negligible proportions.

As far as disease-caused blindness is concerned, modern surgical methods now restore or improve vision in 19 of 20 cases of cataract, the leading cause of blindness in the United States.

When parents or teachers observe a child reading matter closer than the normal 14 inches from his face, tilting his head while reading, or constantly blinking, all responsible health authorities agree it should be interpreted as a sign of impending eye trouble.

Other conditions which may indicate eye trouble are crossed eyes, frequent styes and headaches, red-rimmed or encrusted eyelids, or persistent watering of either eye.

Observance Has Grown With Christmas

The observance of Christmas as we know it today is one of joy and peace, making it difficult for us to realize that the holiday has not always been universally recognized and observed.

When Pope Gregory sent out missionaries in 601 A. D., he told them to let pagan converts weave the harmless features of their festivals into the spiritual fabric of Christmas observance.

The popularity of the Christmas observance grew with the progress of Christianity, but there were setbacks. Abuses of Christmas reached such a pitch in feudal England

Although his average has dropped to 13 points a game, junior forward Jimmy Short continues well in front of Post Antelope scoring through their first six games, which includes the weekend's tournament games at Crosbyton.

Junior forward Charlie Morris and senior center Wayne Runkles are almost neck-and-neck for second place. Runkles has 39 points on 18 field goals and three charity tosses, and Morris 38 points on 15 buckets from the free-throw line.

Whirlwinds Wallop Antelopes 80-31, In Tournament Game

The Floydada Whirlwinds, whom the Post Antelopes will be seeing more of later in the season, ran roughshod over Coach Al Parsons' cagers Friday evening in taking a semi-finals game in the Crosbyton Invitational Tournament, 80 to 31.

The victory moved Floydada into Saturday night's finals against McAdoo, and eliminated the Antelopes, who had won a first round game from the Crosbyton Chieftains, 43 to 36, Thursday night. Floydada had advanced to the semi-finals by swamping Girard, 90 to 28.

The defeat was the worst of the season for Coach Parsons' cagers, who have only two lettermen back from last season's squad. Their record now stands at 3-3 for the season, with competition at an end until the Ropesville Invitational Tournament, which gets under way on Dec. 31.

With the exception of the first minute or two of play, the Antelopes were hopelessly behind throughout the Floydada game. The veteran Whirlwind quintet held a 23-11 lead at the end of the first quarter, were ahead 40 to 22 at halftime, and had a 59-29 lead when the third quarter came to a close.

Coach Parsons tried a variety of combinations in his attempts to slow the fast-breaking Whirlwind attack, but none of them were able to stem the tide. He hopes, of course, to have his inexperienced Antelope team farther along when they meet the Floydada cagers twice in District 2-AA play.

Rannie Vickers, speedy forward, racked up 30 points on 14 field goals and two charity tosses to lead the blistering attack against the Antelopes. Two other Whirlwind players, Ronnie Downing and Bill Patterson, scored in double figures.

Jimmy Short, with 13 points, led the Post scoring. The Antelopes' only points in the final period came on a field goal by Charlie Morris.

Against Crosbyton Thursday night, the Antelopes chalked up their 43 to 36 victory only after a hard-fought game which saw the Chiefs knot the count at 34-34 in the final period, only to fall behind on accurate outside shooting by the Post cagers.

The Chiefs led, 8-6, at the end of the first quarter, but trailed, 18-14 at halftime, and 25-20 at the end of the third period.

Sidney Hart was high scorer for Post with 12 points, while Charlie Moore of Crosbyton took game honors with 15.

LOCALS BEAT CROSBYTON IN FIRST ROUND GAME Desperation Field Goal Defeats Post Girls In Floydada Contest

A last-second field goal Friday night gave the Floydada girls' basketball team a 38-36 victory over Post in the semi-finals of the Crosbyton Invitational Tournament.

Post had defeated Crosbyton, 44 to 37, and Floydada had won over Girard in games Thursday to advance to second-round play in the tournament.

Janet Stephens rang up a total of 15 points to pace the girls in their two-point loss to the Whirlwindettes.

Janet was also high scorer, with 16, in Post's victory over Crosbyton. Others scoring for Post in that game were Doris Eilenburger, 6; Leta Stone, 4; Kay Martin, 12; Glenda Whitenberg, 3, and Pat Wheatley, 3. Seeing action at the guard positions were Linda Livingston, Gwen Coppel, Patsy Ethridge, Maritta Pennell, Beverly Gilmore and Sandra Veach.

The Post girls led all the way against Crosbyton. They were ahead 15-7 at the end of the first quarter, 25-20 at halftime, and 38-32 at the end of the third period.

White House Hasn't Always Had A Tree

President Theodore Roosevelt, an early conservationist, once disapproved of Christmas trees and for several years forbade any being brought into the White House.

But one year, his sons, Archie and Quentin, smuggled one in and set it up in Archie's room. After the discovery, Gifford Pinchot, a great forester and conservationist who later became Governor of Pennsylvania, soothed T. R. by explaining that supervised and careful harvesting of Christmas trees—as thinings—was good for the forests because it gave other trees room to grow.

Ever since, the White House has had an indoor tree.

Science Incentive Contest Proposed

AUSTIN — A proposed new science incentive contest in the University Interscholastic League's schedule of competitions is under consideration by a sub-committee of the League's rules-making body, the legislative council.

On behalf of the Texas Academy of Science, a three-man committee appeared before the legislative council at its annual meeting and outlined a plan for an objective science test at the district, regional and state levels. The contest would be designed to stimulate independent scientific reading by outstanding students and help develop abilities to read, understand and apply problem-solving techniques.

The proposal was made by Dr. Wayne Taylor, Alan Humphreys and John Wagner of the University of Texas Division of Extension science teaching improvement program.

The League, meanwhile, has published a completely new "Beginners' Slide Rule Manual" to keep pace with increased participation in the slide rule contest, up 116.6 per cent since 1953. The new manual will aid slide rule coaches in preparing contestants for competition.

Nativity Theme Tops In Card Illustrations

The Nativity theme is by far the most popular of all Christmas card illustrations. Many are reproductions from the old masters, but each year others are created especially for the Christmas card industry.

Winter scenes are next in popularity. Some of these scenes date back to the work of early masters but in recent years many new artists, such as Grandma Moses, have achieved fame in this field. For over a century, American artists have aided the industry by painting Christmas themes or by selling reproduction rights to their works.

STUDIES HEREDITY AS CANCER CAUSE

AUSTIN — Dr. Clarence P. Oliver, University of Texas geneticist, is collecting family histories of cancer patients in an effort to determine what part heredity plays in causing cancer.

His studies up to now indicate that a hereditary basis exists for cancer to occur at specific organs in some families. Dr. Oliver has been concentrating on tracing the hereditary line in stomach and breast cancer cases.

Susceptibility to cancer (of specific organs) is inherited in certain families and in branches of families, he said. However, environment may be responsible for variations in age of onset.

Dr. Oliver said geneticists now believe a "wild gene" or possibly hormone imbalance causes cancer.

PS in . . . SPORTS

By CHARLES DIDWAY

Merry Christmas to all the sports fans who read The Post Dispatch! Let's hope Santa Claus is extra good this year to the PHS football coaches and squadmen to sort of help make up for a discouraging grid season.

If you're one of the thousands who entered Humble Oil & Refining Company's football season contest, you might be interested to know who the grand prize winners are. The company announces that they are Mrs. Adie Lou McDonald of Houston, Mrs. Pat Allen of Hobbs, N. M., Max R. Newman of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Sally Dunaway of Fort Worth. Three women and a man—who says the weaker sex don't know their football!

Each grand prize winner gets a free trip for two to Dallas to see the Cotton Bowl football game on New Year's Day, in addition to other prizes.

Football fans able to spend the New Year's holiday at home will have a grand time televising the country's top bowl games. Channel 11 is to present the Sugar Bowl game at 12:45 and the Rose Bowl game at 3:45. Over on Channel 13, it's the Orange Bowl game at 12:30 and the Cotton Bowl game at 3:15.

The Crosbyton Tournament held over the weekend winds up pre-holiday play for the Post Antelope boys' and girls' basketball teams, who are having a so-so season, but are expected to improve steadily once they swing into conference action.

The teams have one more tournament, the Ropesville Invitational, before school re-opens on Jan. 2. The Ropesville meet is scheduled to open Tuesday night, Dec. 31.

The Post girls, being coached by Jimmy Pollard while Coach Jiggs King is recuperating from a recent illness, looked real sharp in their new uniforms at the Crosbyton Tournament. We feel the same way about our girls' basketball team as we do our band majorettes—they're the best looking in the district.

Jackie Hays and Joe Cartmill were in Lubbock one night last week to attend the first District II TAAF meeting of the basketball season. Jackie represented the K&K Food Mart team and Joe the Brown Brothers team.

The district tournament will be held the last of February this year because of the state tournament being held March 7-8—in Fort Worth.

Houston Oil Man, Civic Leader Is Named 1958 Heart Fund Chairman

Douglas B. Marshall, Houston oilman and civic leader, will be chairman of the 1958 Texas Heart Fund, it has been announced by Harold S. Foster, Fort Worth banker and Texas Heart Association chairman.

The annual month-long effort by volunteer workers in all areas of Texas to raise funds with which to combat the nation's leading cause of death — heart diseases — will be conducted again during February, Foster said.

Marshall, now president of the Houston Fat Stock Show, long has been associated with the Texas Heart Association as a layman-worker and has served as chairman of the board of trustees of the Texas Heart Foundation since its establishment several years ago.

"Support of the people of Texas is vital to the continuance of the Texas Heart Association's work in research, public and professional education, and aid in community heart programs," Marshall declared in accepting the 1958 Heart Fund chairmanship. "I am confident that the Heart Association's thousands of friends in all parts of Texas will support the Heart Fund even stronger than they have in the past."

Pointing out that "54 per cent of all deaths in the United States during 1956 were caused by heart diseases," Marshall emphasized that 29 per cent of the total number of victims "were less than 65 years old" and that "some 500,000 school-age children in the nation

Most of the funds contributed annually to the Texas Heart Fund "remain in the local community and in Texas to aid local heart association chapters and the Texas Heart Association in the fields of research, education and community aid, with a lesser portion of the Texas contributions going to the American Heart Association for the same purposes," Marshall said.

January Plentiful Foods List Topped By Citruses

COLLEGE STATION — Citrus fruits rate star billing on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's January plentiful foods list for this area.

Here's why. The orange crop is 3 per cent larger than last year and 26 per cent larger than average at 73.3 million boxes. Add to this supply 43.3 million boxes of grapefruit — a crop as large as last year and only slightly less than average—about 4.5 million boxes of tangerines and 14.7 million boxes of lemons.

Only other plentiful fruits for January are apples and dried prunes.

Broilers and fryers take the spotlight at meat counters with January production running about 11 per cent above last year. Frozen whiting is plentiful, too.

January promises heavy stocks of canned and frozen peas, potatoes, dry blackeye peas and dry pinto beans.

Dairy foods return to USDA's plentiful list for the first time since October as milk production breaks all records for this season.

Other January plentifuls include almonds, dates and filberts.

USDA determines what's plentiful every month by a survey of major food suppliers in this area.

Candidate comes from a Latin word meaning "white-robed". It was first applied to Roman office-seekers who were required to wear white garments.

South Plains Fat Stock Show Will Be Dedicated To Texas Tech Dean

LUBBOCK — The 25th South Plains Fat Stock Show, which will be held in Lubbock, March 17-19, will be dedicated to Dr. W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, Texas Technological College, and O. J. Sexton, manager of the Western Union Telegram Company here.

The annual show is sponsored by the Panhandle South Plains Fair Assn., the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development.

Dixon White, and Roy F. Johnson, both of Lubbock, will serve as general chairman and vice-chairman of the show. Charles Signor, Lubbock, will head the finance committee and Sexton will serve as clerk of sale.

D. W. Sherill will serve as general superintendent. He will be assisted by L. M. Hargrave. Both are from Lubbock.

The 1958 show will include three divisions, fat steer, fat barrow, and fat lamb.

Ollie Linder of Plainview will serve as superintendent of the fat barrow division. He will be assisted by Bill Gregory, Spur, Lee Roy Colgan, Lamesa, and Paul E. Gross, Seminole. Judge will be Stanley Anderson of Texas Tech.

Superintendent for the Fat Lamb Division will be Thomas Neely of Lubbock. He will be aided by Olan Rice of Lubbock and Walter Meyer, Brownfield. Judge will be Ray Mowery of Texas Tech.

W. B. Griffin, Tahoka, will serve as superintendent of the fat steer division. C. L. Montgomerie, Big Spring, will be the assistant superintendent, and Dean Stangel will serve as judge.

A premium list which points out rule changes, and other data on the show is now being distributed by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

A major rule change for the 1958 show is that steers weighing less than 700 pounds, or with teeth will not be shown. Entries

Stock Show Schedules Press-Radio-TV Day

FORT WORTH — Tribute will be paid to representatives of the newspapers, radio, television and the nation's magazines during the 1958 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

The Fort Worth exposition opens Jan. 24 and continues through Feb. 2.

Press-Radio-TV Day has been set for Monday, Jan. 27. At that time, newsmen will be guests of the stock show at the afternoon rodeo performance.

However, for the news representatives who cannot attend on their "day," the show will provide special seats for them at the rodeo matinee on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Important livestock judging events are scheduled for each of those days.

Press-Radio-TV Day is set aside each year by stock show officials to express their appreciation to the newsmen who keep the nation informed on show activities, President W. R. Watt said.

'Don't Ever Go Mechanized,' Writer Pleads Of St. Nicholas In Letter

(EDITORS' NOTE: This letter was first published in The San Antonio Express during the Christmas season of 1952. The writer was Miss Lois Weekes, then society editor, and now an Odessa housewife. It has a universal appeal and is especially fitting in these days when we sometimes tend to forget the real meaning of Christmas.)

C-O Childhood Hearts
North Pole

I'd like when you rein in the reindeer at my house this year.

Could you put the light from the children's faces, pressed against countless frosted window panes, into the hearts of the world? Could you transplant a little of the feeling of holly, the glistening tinsel, the angels atop the Christmas trees, the off-key Noels and the hushed hymns, to those who are spending their first Christmas away from all that? And especially, to those who never noticed it before?

Could you remind us all that it is a Birthday we are celebrating, not just an expense respite from the rest of the year? Could you put in our Christmas cards and our packages, the messages and the warmth we really mean instead of the shopworn sentiment and the same old gifts?

Most of all, Mr. Claus, could you make sure that we'll never outgrow you—that Christmas will always be a way of life and that you'll be staging it always?

I think you will because, though you've seen central heating replace the chimney you've learned that America's front door is left unlocked each Christmas Eve. There is still room for the manger and the sleighbells in this age of automobiles and atoms. So don't ever go mechanized, Mr. Claus.

Sincerely yours,
Lois Weekes

Dear Mr. Claus:

I hope you will remember me, Santa. It's been a long time. You'd have to blow the dust away to look up my name in your files!

The last time I wrote you, I spelled Bicycle with a "k"—and I've been singing "Jingle Bells" an octave lower for several seasons now. My stocking size and my Christmas lists have changed considerably—and I now recognize the value of a little mistletoe in the decor.

It isn't that I've underestimated you through the years, Mr. C., or forgotten our relationship. I've been giving your letters to my father to mail and it's worked out beautifully since the Christmas he inquired as to my knowledge of your identity. My affirmative answer brought a "Well, start being a little nice to ME, then," from him. And we laughed and my mother cried.

I still believe in you, you see. I've followed your activity each Yuletide in the nation's press. I know you don't have time to read all the papers, but December's headlines—lots of them—belong to you. Annually, you crowd out the day-by-day boys who fade from year to year.

Although this is more a delayed "thank you" for the other Christmases than a suggested shopping list, there are a few things

HANDBOOK PUBLISHED

AUSTIN—A new handbook "Interpretation of the Mental Health Code," has been published by the University of Texas Hogg Foundation for Mental Health. Law Prof. Millard H. Ruud is author of the booklet, written for interested citizens, county judges, mental hospital staffs and others concerned with care of the mentally ill.

TANK HELPS IN ITS OWN MOVING JOB — Milton, Pa. — En route from Milton, where it was built by the Advanced Products Division of ACF Industries, to Saranac Lake, N.Y., this 30,000-gallon storage tank for high-pressure gas occupies a special rig in which the tank acts as its own truck bed. The rig has only cables connecting the rear dolly and forward cradle on which the tank rests. Because of all the space it takes up on the highway, the rig and tank move only on prescribed routes in daylight hours and in good weather.

FIRST PLACE TO GO IS POLICE STATION

Blind Student Describes How He Orients Himself In Strange Town

LUBBOCK — What does a blind person do when he enters a strange town alone?

The first place to go is the police station, says Jerry Dunham, blind Texas Tech graduate student.

"I ask about the main streets, location of the railroad tracks, lakes and ponds. I also find out how the streets are named," Dunham said.

"Otherwise I have to ask about a half a dozen persons before I find one who can visualize their town in the way it helps me."

Developing a "sense of knowledge" about their surroundings—whether they are in a room or in a city—is important to the blind.

To aid the ten blind students at Texas Tech, the Vocational Rehabilitation Counseling program has developed a "Braille" map of the campus. Brain-child of William L. Dauterman, assistant professor of psychology, and Jerry Dunham, graduate student, the scale model of the campus (one-inch equals 100-feet) gives a blind person a mental picture of the space relationships of buildings, walkways and streets at Tech. Both Dauterman and Dunham are blind.

String glued to the board outlines every sidewalk, subwalk and street on the campus.

"We are now in process of coding the buildings in Braille," Dr. Robert Anderson, vocational rehabilitation director, said. He pointed out that while a blind student soon knows the area around the rehabilitation offices, Home Economics Building and the Tech Book Store, he has no idea of the size or direction of buildings elsewhere on the campus.

However, most blind persons are not so fortunate as to have a Braille map of their locality. That makes the use of a cane and accurate information about their surroundings important.

Like the majority of states, Texas has a "White Cane" law that is designed to give blind persons protection in traffic. While many Texans are unaware of the law, it's on the statute books that pedestrians and automobile drivers must take precautions to protect and give right-of-way to a blind person. Normally they carry an all white cane or one that is white and red.

A fine of $200 may be assessed drivers failing to yield right-of-way to the blind, District Attorney George Gilkerson said.

According to Dunham, the blind are actually taught how to use a cane. While working for the Kansas Rehabilitation Center for the Blind, Dunham taught an estimated 300 persons how to use a cane so that they may travel unassisted.

What about "seeing-eye" guide dogs?

"Only about five per cent of the blind population should or can use a dog unsuccessfully," Dunham commented. "If a blind person is taught to move about with a cane first, he can use a dog better if he obtains one."

Jerry points out that a blind person with a long cane, say four-foot long, can move much faster since it reaches out further in front.

Using it rhythmically the blind student puts the cane before the foot that isn't forward and touches a path wide enough to protect an area the width of his shoulders. In a grocery store, he carries the cane very lightly in his finger tips to avoid knocking over merchandise or other accidents.

RECEIVES A.E.C. AWARD — Washington, D.C. — Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, (Center), Director of the University of California Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley, Calif., receives the Atomic Energy Commission's Enrico Fermi Award for 1957 for his invention and development of the Cyclotron and other contributions in nuclear physics and atomic energy. The Award, a Medal Citation and $50,000, was presented by A.E.C. Chairman Lewis Strauss, (Left), as James R. Killian, (Right), Special Assistant to the President on Science and Technology, witnessed the ceremony.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Things have been popping under the State Capitol dome throughout 1957.

Tops among the stories that kept the Capitol newsroom teletypes jangling were:
1. WATER PROBLEMS—Floods, tornadoes and hurricanes bought 10 years of drought to a close. Reservoirs then filled to 91 per cent of capacity—a two-years supply. But Lampasas, Dallas, Silverton, and other towns added up damage toll of more than $100,000,000. Pasturage flourished, but many crops washed away or rotted. Water's importance couldn't be ignored. Result: Legislature passed two major measures. People approved $200,000,000 bond - selling amendments for water conservation projects.

2. ICT FAILS — Ben Jack Cage became a household word after the crash of an empire he had built with heavy investments from organized labor. Losses were estimated at $4,500,000. Two legislative committees and two grand juries spent months trying to untangle ICT's fantastic history. Cage was indicted. After his return from South America, he was convicted on embezzlement charges and still faces trial on other indictments.

3. EX-OFFICIALS ENMESHED — Former Insurance Commissioners J. Byron Saunders and Garland Smith, were accused of receiving money from ICT while they were in office. Both were indicted on perjury charges. Trials are pending.

4. INSURANCE REORGANIZATION — Texas insurance regulation must start over with a "clean slate," declared Gov. Price Daniel shortly after taking office. Over strong opposition, he pushed the insurance reorganization bill through the Legislature. It enabled him to appoint new officials to the battle-scarred department. But more static developed in the special sessions. Senate tried to oust the new commissioner. General's opinion said they had no say-so over Harrison's appointment. However, the Insurance Department still faces continued critical surveillance from disgruntled senators.

5. COX CONVICTED — Things talked about for years erupted into the open with the sensational resignation, indictment and conviction of Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe. A tape recording of a conversation between Cox and a Naturopathic Association leader was the prime evidence used to back up a charge that Cox had agreed to accept a $5,000 bribe. This provided extra fuel for the reform drive. A code of ethics and lobby registration laws were passed.

6. NEW SEGREGATION LAWS plenty of steam behind proposals designed to preserve local authority over school segregation. Futile filibusters caused delays, but five bills were passed. They'll probably be in the news again as opponents bring them to tests in courts.

7. OIL SAGS — Violent fluctuations in Texas oil production gave everyone the jitters. Pressure from the Suez Canal crisis forced production allowable to an all-time high of 18 producing days in March. But Suez reopened and foreign oil came flooding back into the U. S. A. Texas' allowable had tumbled to 13 producing days by July, skidded to an all-time-low of 12 in September. President's order for voluntary import cuts brought some hope.

8. RAIDS — Attorney General Will Wilson padlocked Galveston gambling houses with less repercussion on the Pleasure Isle's economy than expected. Latest Wilson raids rounded up naturopaths on charges of violating the Medical Practices Act.

9. RUN - OFFS DECREED—Almost forgotten now is the furor over the Fool Bill to require a run-off in special elections. Ralph Yarborough became junior U. S. senator in an old-style one-shot election. Then the Legislature passed a bill requiring run-off elections in the future.

10. MONEY SHORTAGE — It didn't make black headlines, but it troubled men in high places. By the end of the second special session, the Legislature had scrapped the bottom of the state treasury. Comptroller predicted the state would be $12,000,000 in the red by 1959. Depressed oil, a prime tax source, and extra sessions contributed to the problem. But most people agreed that Texas was bursting its fiscal seams from inevitable growth. A special Tax Study Commission is studying the issue over-all. Observers say new taxes are unavoidable.

More Insurance Woes
Texas insurance world is "all shook up" again. Fuse was re-lit when the Senate investigating committee announced it had uncovered a $2,000 gift from a company president to an Insurance Department employee. Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, committee chairman, called a new round of hearings.

Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison fired the employee, Examiner J. W. Pierson, who had been with the department 24 years. He demanded removal of the company president, John L. McCarty of Estate Life Ins. Co., Amarillo. McCarty resigned.

Estate officials swung back, threatened to sue the department. They contend the company was riddled in a department-approved reinsurance contract taking over policies of the bankrupt Physicians Life.

Harrison also took aim at another company, United General Life of Dallas. Hearing is set for Dec. 31 in which the company must prove "competence, fitness and reputation" of its officers or lose license.

Largent Parks, who came under Senate committee fire earlier, resigned as president of Preferred Life of Dallas. Insurance Department had made Parks' removal mandatory for company's continued existence.

Giles Parole Denied
Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles faces another year in the State Prison at Huntsville. The Board of Pardons voted 2 to 1 against recommending clemency. More than 100 Austin Citizens, four ministers and Giles' family presented pleas to the board. Giles began serving a six-year term for his part in veterans land program frauds in January, 1956. As a model prisoner and trusty, he can complete the sentence by January, 1959. His case has come up twice for review by the Pardons Board. Each time it has been rejected on grounds a pardon might "depreciate the seriousness of the offense."

Reservoirs Urged
Construction of new reservoirs should have first priority in state water planning, say engineers. Some 25 consulting engineers from over the state met with the Water Board to help get the new planning program rolling. It authorizes the first state effort at topographic mapping since the 1920's. Since there's not enough money to map everywhere, engineers urged mapping areas where reservoirs are needed.

Retiring Board Member H. A. Beckwith will direct the mapping. Beckwith was hired by the board as a $10,000-a-year engineer.

Short Snorts
Back in business is the veterans land program after selling $12,500,000 in bonds at 2.895 per cent interest. Applications are being mailed to the first thousand of the 22,700 veterans on the waiting list.

Harold E. Selke will become chief examiner of the Insurance Department on Jan. 1. Commissioner William A. Harrison said Selke will replace E. B. Kelley who will remain with the department "if he so desires."

Nan Kelly South Plains Entry In National Maid Of Cotton Event

LUBBOCK — Looks of a movie star . . . good singing voice . . . personality plus . . . pre-med major . . . These are some of the characteristics of Miss Nan Kelly, who will represent the South Plains in the National Maid of Cotton Contest in Memphis, Jan. 2-3.

Miss Kelly, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kelly, 1910 31st Street, and who is currently readying for the national contest, is a sophomore pre-med major student at Texas Tech.

Her musical talents were incubated in junior high where she sang with the choir and while attending Tom S. Lubbock high school in 1936, she was chosen to the All-State Chorus.

Although Nan has plans to be a laboratory technician, she is still minor in music.

She sings with the "Keynotes", an 11 piece Tech combo on weekends in the midst of a busy schedule that finds her attending classes at Texas Tech and making fashion and good will tours on behalf of the vast cotton growing and industrial area of the South Plains.

When queried about the type of music she likes best, the brown-eyed 19 year old quickly replies "classical", and adds that Mari Callas is her favorite artist, but in the same breath, she hesitantly admits enjoying rock 'n roll with

HAVE THEIR ROOTS IN MYTHOLOGY

New Year Babe And Father Time Originated In Ancient Greece

The personifications of Father Time and the New Year Babe are as familiar as those of Santa Claus or Uncle Sam. Yet these fitting symbols for the end of one cycle of living and the birth of another have their roots in Greek mythology.

Father Time comes down to us as a descendant of the Greek god Cronus, lord of the universe. Cronus bore the lines of inestimable years on his face and he carried a scythe, but like many of mythology's earthy gods, he was not altogether admirable. Having been warned that one of his children would dispose of him, Cronus decided to give none a chance and got into the habit of swallowing them at birth. His wife Rhea, in an attempt to discourage the practice, hid their son Zeus after his birth and presented Cronus with a stone wrapped in swaddling clothes.

The ruse worked. Cronus disgorged not only the stone, but the previous children he had swallowed. Zeus later dethroned his father, settled on Mount Olympus and ruled as chief god of the Greek pantheon.

Later Cronus' name was confused with the word "cronos," meaning "time." But the hour-glass has found a permanent place in the hand of the white-haired gentleman with the scythe.

The New Year Babe may be as old as Father Time. During ancient Greece's festival of Dionysus, a baby was paraded as a symbol of rebirth. A chief ceremonial in the Eleusinian Mysteries featured the image of a child.

In more recent times, farmers of western Prussia staged the symbolic birth of a child on harvest fields. A German folk song of the 14th century depicts the New Year Babe in its present form.

Texans Are Asked To Stand Behind Safety Campaign

AUSTIN — J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Assn., called on Texans across the state, today, to stand firmly behind both state and local officials in their efforts to reduce the highway death toll.

"If you are shocked by the slaughter on the highways, you have only yourself to blame," Musick said. "For it lies within your power to do something about it. Highway safety, like every other aspect of government, will be just as effective as the people want it to be—it all depends on the public."

"During the past year, public officials have given strong support to the Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents program sponsored by TSA and the National Safety Council," Musick said. "And we believe, that when the final figures are in, the Attack program will have had a measurable effect on the accident toll."

The safety expert listed three important ways in which the individual citizen can help reduce accidents—they are:

1. Demand stricter enforcement of traffic laws and stand behind the efforts of officials who enforce them. Remember, where traffic laws are obeyed—deaths go down!
2. Support your local safety organization. Rally behind those agencies who are working faithfully to reduce accidents.
3. Check up on your own safety habits. Everyone tends to become lax from time to time and it is during these moments that normally safety-minded persons are injured.

Added Yellow Fever Threat Disclosed

AUSTIN — An added possibility that yellow fever may enter the United States exists since discovery two years ago of the Haemagogus "yellow fever" mosquito near Brownsville, a University of Texas zoologist reports.

Dr. Osmond P. Breland is investigating the possible significance of Haemagogus mosquitoes near Brownsville under sponsorship of the Department of the Army's office of the surgeon general.

Presence of the Haemagogus mosquito near Brownsville, added to the fact that the yellow fever virus is moving northward toward the U. S. with jungle animals as carriers, increases chances of re-introduction of the disease, Dr. Breland said.

TO INVITE THOUSANDS—Mardie Jones will be serving as the official hostess for Texas Methodists during the remaining days of December as she enters thousands of homes across the state via radio and television to invite Methodists, the unchurched and the general public to worship at a watch night service in some Methodist church on Tuesday, Dec. 31, at 11 p.m. She will also give her invitation on movie screens in theatres throughout the state. For the first time in history, believe leaders, every Methodist church in Texas is expected to have a watch night service. All services will be designed to launch the "Tell Texas About Christ" evangelistic campaign to be conducted in the state during 1958.

Water Fluoridation To Reduce Tooth Decay Newcomer To Health Program

Three of the greatest health programs in history are generally acknowledged to be immunization against infectious diseases, chlorination of water and pasteurization of milk.

Now, after years of investigation, a fourth has been added—fluoridation of water to reduce tooth decay.

"What was the hope of a generation ago is now a fact of preventive dentistry," says the American Dental Association. "Today, the overwhelming accumulation of evidence on the effectiveness and safety of fluoridation is a matter of record."

Almost 1,500 United States communities, with a combined population of well over 25,000,000, are now drinking artificially fluoridated water. Millions of others are drinking water in which fluorides are naturally present.

So thoroughly has the effect of fluorides on tooth decay been investigated that the American Medical Association has recently given its unequivocal endorsement to the program, thereby joining practically every other reputable health and medical organization in the United States.

The nation's second and third largest cities—Chicago and Philadelphia—are among the cities which have fluoridation programs in operation. Other major cities now giving their children the benefit of the progressive measure are Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington, St. Louis, San Francisco, Milwaukee, and Pittsburgh.

In addition to the ability to reduce dental cavities by as much as 60 per cent among children—most authorities are convinced the benefit extends throughout life—fluoridation of community water supplies is shaping up as one of the best public health bargains of all time.

For less than 15 cents per person per year, the ravages of tooth decay can safely and conveniently be cut by two-thirds. The cost of a single filling would pay for the fluorides for one person for many years.

From an engineering standpoint, according to a water works association, the mechanism of adding fluorides to water supplies is no more involved than adding chlorine. Furthermore, fluoride is not a medicine any more than chlorine. It is not a cure-all. It cannot entirely eliminate tooth decay. It can do nothing about teeth that are already decayed.

In fluoridation we have the weapon against tooth decay that men of all ages have sought. Not a single valid argument can be raised against it. To deny it to children is to deny them the best that preventive dentistry has to offer.

New Educational Program Set By Navy, Marines

Five hundred officers, trained in the field of science, will be added to the ranks of the Navy and Marine Corps annually under a new educational program announced by Secretary of the Navy, Thomas S. Gates. Beginning with the school year 1958-59 that number of enlisted men will be enrolled in civilian institutions of higher learning for four year courses leading to a Bachelor of Science and to commissions in the Navy.

Emphasis in their studies will be placed on mathematics and the physical sciences. During summer vacation periods the students will be assigned to Navy laboratories and other scientific establishments to study application of the science.

The basis of selection of enlisted men for this higher study will be intelligence and aptitude. Students will receive the pay and allowances of their rates while attending college and the Navy Department will pay costs of their education. They will be required to remain on active duty, as officers for a period of time equal to the time they are enrolled in the program.

A selection board consisting of Naval officers and Civilians experienced in the fields of education will be convened to pass upon applicants for the new program. Those selected will be offered for enrollment in colleges and universities subject to the rules of the institutions concerned.

New Extension Service Publication Tells What To Do For Snake Bites

COLLEGE STATION — How to identify the more poisonous snakes in Texas and what to do when bitten by a snake are the main topics discussed in a leaflet just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Poisonous Snakes in Texas."

Poisonous snakes in Texas which are considered dangerous to humans include species from two families, Crotalidae, the pit vipers, and Elapidae, the cobra-like snakes, according to the leaflet. Rattlesnakes, copperheads and water moccasins are included in the vipers and coral snakes are the Texas representatives of the cobra-like snakes.

The venom of pit vipers is called "hemotoxic" because it acts upon the blood system of the victim. This venom breaks down blood cells, blood vessels and affects the heart action. The venom of coral snakes is called "neurotoxic" because it acts upon the nervous system of the victim. When death occurs from this venom it is usually due to respiratory failure.

Coral snakes are rather pretty, but this beauty is rather deceitful — there is nothing beautiful about their nature. Their color pattern consists of yellow, red and black rings encircling the body. The yellow ring always touches the red ring which is not true of similar nonpoisonous snakes. Remember, "Red and yellow, kill a fellow."

Moccasins are normally found near water and can bite under water, contrary to popular belief.

Magazine Names Area Farmer 'Man Of Year'

LUBBOCK — W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock County cotton farmer and former winner, was named "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture in 1957" by the Progressive Farmer magazine, it was announced in Dallas last week.

Fortenberry, who is president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., was cited for his outstanding agricultural leadership in the irrigated High Plains and in cotton affairs in Texas and the United States.

Fortenberry, who is known as "Mr. Bill" by many of his friends, has been a cotton producer on the High Plains for more than 30 years. During that time he has held virtually every office in farming and ginning organizations on community, state and national levels.

New Book Tells Story Of Early-Day Editor

AUSTIN—A new University of Texas Press book, "Brann and the Iconoclast" by Charles Carver, tells the story of William Cowper Brann, who in the 1890's built a world-wide circulation of 130,000 for his one-man paper, the Iconoclast, while spitting Waco into angry gun-toting factions.

Brann was horsewhipped, kidnapped and strung from the limb of a tree by a lynch mob, and four men lost their lives before his career was ended with a bullet in the back "right where the suspenders crossed."

Vegetables related to the cabbage include kale, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts.

Our warmest wishes to you and yours for a house full of love and happiness all through the holiday season.

Time For State To Take Inventory On Water Resources Development

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on the state's water problem, prepared and released by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers' Water Committee.)

It's time for Texas to inventory her position in the field of water resources development, decide where she has been and where she must go.

So concludes the Texas Society of Professional Engineers' Water Committee in the second of a series of articles on the state's water problem.

The state legislature, in the committee's view, apparently intended a realistic, well-developed plan for putting water to use should be a part of state policy governing those who hold water rights from the state.

As an example, the committee series cites the "partial cancellation act" of a recent legislature. That act would allow a reduction in the amount of water held by users under certified filings or permits where no beneficial use had been made within a 10 year period.

Under long-standing Texas law, storm and flood waters belong to the people; but permission to impound more than 200 acre feet of the waters must come through the board of water engineers.

The partial cancellation statute provides that owners of impounding structures will be allowed to retain a water appropriation up to the conservation storage capacity of the reservoir. Cities and municipal water districts may retain for municipal use certified filings which have been put to use during the 10-year period prior to cancellations authorized under the new act.

The cancellations will help clear the record which indicates heavy over-appropriation of the uncontrolled waters of many streams. But paper reduction in permits and appropriations does not develop new water where ordinary flows of streams are over-appropriated.

TSPE's water committee also points to proposed state financial assistance to local agencies on water project development as meritorious legislation. The assistance plan was dependent on passing of a constitutional amendment in an election Nov. 5.

Since the amendment passed, a $200 million fund will be established through which the state can lend a third the total cost of a project up to a $5 million limit, whichever amount is smaller.

In effect, says the committee, this means that the state will provide "insurance on debt retirement" where revenues of a project are reasonably likely to pay off cost of operations, maintenance, and debt retirement.

Art Display Slated At Texas Tech Jan. 5-30

LUBBOCK—Art work by seven outstanding artists from Texas and neighboring states will be on display at the first annual Invitational Exhibition of Arts and Crafts sponsored by the Texas Tech applied arts department Jan. 5-30.

The exhibit will be held in the West Texas Museum on the Tech campus.

Art and craft works that have been exhibited in national and international shows and have won a number of prizes and awards will be in the exhibit. Prof. Arne Randall, Tech applied arts department head, said.

Three of the artist-craftsmen whose work will be exhibited are Eric Gibberd of Taos, N. M., Paul Hatgil of the University of Texas, and Francis Stephen, Phillips University, Enid, Okla.

WEEKEND VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Cabler and children, Charia Jo and Kirk, and Mrs. Stella Cabler of Brownwood spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Max Gordon and family.

Cairo is the largest city in Africa.

For example, the group reports, bond purchasers sometimes require that water projects in which they invest must yield $1.50 a year for each $1 required to service the bonded debt after all operation and maintenance costs have been paid.

On this basis, according to the water committee, the state wouldn't actually pay any money into projects under the water fund amendment. It would merely underwrite the extra 50 cents (of the $1.50 for each $1) revenue required for debt service.

The state water board's responsibilities under the program go to reviewing plans, screening projects as to feasibility, need for water, eligibility, and inability to be financed without state aid.

The board will provide additional safeguards in supervising projects during construction and issuing certificates stating the work has been done in accordance with top standards.

Work under the amendment must be confined to surface water projects unless some technicality permits state loans for storage and distribution of ground waters. The latter was not contemplated by original drafters of the amendment.

Since 1929, the legislature has created numerous river authorities for water resources development—some basinwide in scope, some smaller. These include the Brazos River Authority, the Sabine River Authority, the Neches Conservation and Reclamation District, the Lower Neches Valley Authority, the Trinity River Authority, the Upper Colorado River Authority, the Lower Colorado River Authority, the Upper Colorado River Authority, the Nueces Conservation and Reclamation District, and the San Antonio River Authority.

The intent of the legislature, concludes the TSPE water committee, seems to have been to vest broad powers in local districts and river authorities rather than to create a statewide authority for the development of the water resources of the state.

(Next: Need for a strong central state water agency.)
