Important Water Contract Vote Set

The third and last election step necessary for the White River dam will be taken by the four towns of Post, Spur, Rails and Crosbyton on Saturday, June 21, when each will hold a municipal water contract election.

Water rationing is now staring this community in the face. The big booster pump was turned on last week. Although the weather has been cool and relatively wet, record consumption totals have been run up in March and April and another one looms for May.

There are more air conditioners to cool local homes this year and more yards, shrubs, and flowers to water as more and more homeowners have turned to brightening their neighborhoods and their hometown with beauty.

Rationing of water could come now at almost any time.

There is no question about Post's need for the White River dam for which a dedicated group of local citizens have worked so long and so hard to coordinate efforts with similar farsighted community leaders from the other three towns.

The water contract election in each town is necessary to give each city council the authority to enter into water contracts with a White River project to purchase so much water each year at a rate not to exceed 30 cents per thousand gallons. Such contracts are necessary to insure enough income from water sales to finance the construction of the White River dam.

The water contract elections is the next essential step toward completion of financing of the dam. A solution to the financing is at hand after months of work by White River directors to meet all the many necessary legal requirements.

Prospects are bright to get an early start on construction as soon as the voters approve the water contracts.

The White River dam project has been and remains the No. 1 community project for Post. Although water rationing is at hand—so through the White River project is the final solution to this community's perplexing water problem.

With almost unlimited water supplies, as the White River project would guarantee, Post's prospects for future growth are tremendous. It will be water which will enable Post Mills to continue their expansions to the point where the present greatly enlarged plant capacity is again doubled.

Water may attract other business and industrial interests here.

All of which makes the June 21 water contract election so important to all of us. That is one election in which every qualified voter should go to the polls and vote YES for the water contract, the White River dam, and Post's future.—JC

War Declared On Hub Cap Thefts

A statewide drive to halt the theft of automobile hub caps has been inaugurated by the authorized new car dealers of Texas.

County Sheriff Carl Rains, whose department has been plagued for years by promiscuous hub cap thefts, says he thinks the car dealers' program of inscribing the serial number of new automobiles on each of its hub caps will go a long way toward solving the problem.

"One of our biggest problems in battling hub cap thefts has been in identification of the caps, most of which are going out of town after being stolen," the sheriff said.

This public service effort, done by the new car dealer without cost to the new car purchaser, will help assure the buyer that his hub caps will not be stolen and should save motorists thousands of dollars a year by drastically reducing the number of automobile accessory thefts.

"This plan to remove a primary temptation to steal will be a real help to the automobile owner and to law enforcement officers in eliminating automobile accessory theft," Sheriff Rains said.

Cotton Week Promotion A Success

Post's and Garza County's National Cotton Week promotion—everything considered—was an outstanding success.

Over 500 persons took advantage of the open house at Postex Mills last Thursday to tour the big local industry and everyone who hadn't seen the plant before came away expressing amazement at the size and the machinery in the big plant.

Last Thursday night, the cotton style show was a standout success and Miss Jessie Pearce and the HDC ladies deserve a real thanks for that.

Some merchants decorated their windows or organized cotton displays in their stores.

City Sets Date For Clean-up Drive

Thursday, June 12, has been made a red letter date on the City of Post's calendar by its designation as the "big day" in the city's annual week-long clean-up drive. It's the day on which trash will be hauled away and burned following three days of what is hoped will be an all-out effort on the part of Post citizens to clean up about their premises.

Since the clean-up drive is only about two weeks in the offing, it might be a good idea for all citizens to take a red pencil and circle that June 12 date on their own calendar. It can be a big day in a successful clean-up campaign or an ordinary day in a fizzled-out drive—depending on how much cooperation the city gets from the citizenry in its one-week program of making Post a more attractive and beautiful place in which to live.

There's already a good start toward making the clean up drive a success by the appointment of E. R. (Buster) Moreland as general chairman. Buster has devoted his time and efforts and has made hauling equipment available on every clean-up campaign held here in the last several years.

Last year's clean-up drive was considered moderately successful, but not anywhere near 100 per cent, because not enough volunteer workers showed up and not enough Post residents took the trouble to clean up about their premises during the early stages of the campaign. We can, and should, do better in this year's clean-up drive.—CD

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying

Local Democrats (unhyphenated breed) may have a chance to hear Henry Gonzalez Friday night when he appears at the luncheon. He is the candidate in the governor's race voted by newsmen the one man most likely to knock together the heads of P. Daniel and G. Daniel. We understand he's coming here with a full head of steam, and if you've got a friend who's a Jaycee, you may be able to get a ticket to hear him remove some political skin.—The Rails Banner.

If a child does not learn religion at its mother's knee, it will never learn it at any other joint.—West Texas Register.

While children may tear up a house once in a while, they rarely break up a home.—The Andrews County News.

If a man wanted to lay a pretty good wager, he might go two to one that on that future day when some man-made rocket lands on the moon the French will be without a government.—New Philadelphia, Ohio, Daily Times.

Since its establishment in the United States in 1910 the Boy Scouts of America have touched the lives of 28,000,000 American boys and their adult leaders. Chartered by the Congress of the United States, the organization seeks to promote the ability of boys "to do things for themselves and others," to teach them patriotism, courage, self reliance and kindred virtues.—Norwalk, Conn. Hour.

By the time a man is fixed for life he has about worried himself to death.—Winnemucca, Nev., Humboldt Star.

Some five hundred people will be killed in the next ten days by automobiles in this country. Maybe, if some people knew the victims, they would advocate safe and sane driving.—Tompkinsville, Ky., News.

The city's move to get municipality's tax rolls into better condition must be approved by most everybody. These delinquents who can be made to pay should be made so to do, and tax collections which cannot be made, on account of lapsed time, should be cleaned off the slate. Also there are delinquencies in light and water collections which, in our thinking, should be looked upon as intolerable. It is the kind and fair thing to do, for those who cannot help themselves, to furnish light and water to them without cost. It is a most happy fact that the city can do this for its unfortunate citizens. Light and water are essentials along with food and shelter. Those who cannot fend for themselves should be lent a helping hand. They should not be on the same list with those who take advantage of the city to ride the rest of us for their water and/or light bills. Riding the city has become chronic with some who have found out they can do it.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THIS IS RODEO week and three nights of the big show remain—if you are reading this on Thursday.

Last Thursday's National Cotton Week observance was a whopping success by any standard of measurement. The two major events—Postex Mills' open house and the Cotton Carnival—were enjoyable affairs and would have attracted even larger crowds if the weather hadn't been so ideal for cotton planting. Which, after all, was the best thing about Cotton Week.

THE SUCCESS of this year's Cotton Week promotion by the Chamber of Commerce certainly indicates that it will become an annual affair worth looking forward to. Such things make a good town better.

Over at the courthouse the other day, we were talking to custodian Tom Blacklock about the large number of beer bottles which had been broken about the base of the C. W. Post statue—apparently thrown from moving automobiles. Tom said considering some of the acts of vandalism which have occurred here in the past, he was surprised that no serious damage had been done to the statue.

ONE MORNING, Tom said, he found an old hat on the statue's head and a morning or two later, a dead rabbit in its lap. It's too bad such things have to be reported, and, considering the spirit in which the statue of the town's founder was donated to the community, perhaps they'd be better left unreported. But facts are facts, and one reason vandalism runs rampant in so many places is because it has been treated with too much "hush-hush."

This weekend, we've fallen under the spell of "spring housecleaning" and finally gotten around to doing something about the top of our desk, as well as the desk drawers, which have been threatening to explode for some months now. What got us in the groove was seeing the others in the front office go about cleaning off other desks and table tops—each of them casting a wishful eye at our desk as if maybe they'd like to reduce the rubble by accidentally flipping a lighted match in the right direction.

YOU'D BE SURPRISED at some of the things we found when we started digging through the debris. There were two Little League scorebooks left over from last season, an 8x10 picture of the high school choir, a 1955 Santa Fe calendar, a Chesterfield package with one cigarette still in it, a couple of letters we thought we'd mailed, a half-full box of paper clips we gave up looking for long ago, two publicity folders on Danny Thomas and Spring Byington, a March 4 issue of the Avalanche-Journal, a March 20 issue of the Star-Telegram, a two-year-old copy of the World Almanac, a couple of paperweights which were down too deep to do any good, an empty peanut sack, a season pass to the Longhorn Tavern at Burnet, four stubby pencils, an invitation to subscribe to the Wall Street Journal, a two-year-old copy of Southwest Crop and Stock magazine, and an assortment of odds and ends.

Since that'll give you an idea of what a job we had getting our desk in tiptop shape, we won't go into what we found in the drawers!

MAYOR JAMES MINOR just passed and stuck his head in long enough to ask us to go out and help in the cemetery clean-up, but he cancelled the invitation when he saw what a clean-up job we already had on our hands.

Since we'll be gone this weekend and most of next week to attend our daughter's graduation from North Texas State College, we invite you to drop by the office during the next few days and take a look at our desk. This time you'll be able to see whoever is sitting behind it! But don't wait too long; we'll be gone only a few days.

We've finished wading through the Levelland Daily Sun News' big 156-page South Plains College and City Progress Edition, and it undoubtedly is one of the best special editions ever put out by any newspaper anywhere. Publisher Forrest Weimhold, Editor Orlin Brewer and other staff members did an A-1 job on the special edition.

WE WERE EDITOR of the Levelland paper when it changed from semi-weekly to daily in 1952, and at that time we helped put out a 60-page-plus edition, which we thought was a pretty fair effort in itself, but it was only a straw in the wind compared to the big 'un published last week.

The Sun News' special edition not only is a credit to its own staff, but to South Plains and West Texas newspaperdom in general. It proves beyond a doubt that weekly and daily newspapers in this part of the country are head and shoulders—taken as a whole—above those in most other areas of the nation. And, the newspapers don't do it all themselves. Much of the credit goes to the progressive-minded

Southland Woman Writes Of Trip To Europe, Holy Land

Wife. Mrs. G. W. Bascom of Southland has written an account of a trip to Europe and Holy Land. She and 22 other persons made the trip from New Mexico to Europe and Holy Land. On Tuesday, April 8, we left New York for Paris, France, the beginning of our air tour of Europe and the Middle East. We were flying at 21,000 feet at 350 miles per hour in a Super Starliner Constellation. It was very modern and comfortable. We had supper and breakfast on the plane before we landed in Paris. The flight took nine hours over the Atlantic. Surely every Christian longs to walk where Jesus Christ walked and visit the actual site of his birth and where he spent his earthly life. I had never dared dream of such an opportunity—a tour of the Bible lands—until a few months ago.

On April 9, we landed in Paris and by the first of the week planned to be in Egypt. Our tour covered some timely spots on the European continent, and the land of the Bible, including the area of St. Paul's missionary work.

Saturday, April 12, we flew to Athens, Greece, where Paul did missionary work on Mar's Hill. Paul preached his great sermon on the unknown God in this exact spot. Monday, we drove to Corinth where Paul preached extensively and established the church at Corinth.

The Rev. Wayland Boyd of Crosbyton preached on Mar's Hill. We all sat on the side of the hill and were deeply impressed with the wonderful message he brought. Monday evening, we flew to Cairo, Egypt, and visited the Land of Goshen, where the Hebrews were in bondage for 400 years.

At the First Baptist Church there, we found a wonderful welcome and the message was dedicated to our group. They had us sing some of our songs for them and we enjoyed this very much. Our stay in Beirut, Lebanon, was restful and good. After Egypt, it was paradise. Coming from Cairo, we flew east and south to the Suez Canal, across the Gulf of Suez, which is a branch of the Red Sea, and flew over the wilderness to Mt. Sinai, where Moses received the law. We went to the Gulf of Aquaba and turned north to Jordan, then to Israel.

Arabia and Jordan are on the gulf from Jordan to Lebanon. We landed at Ammon, the capitol of Jordan, then flew north from Ammon to Damascus and west to Beirut to avoid touching or flying over Israel. While there, an incident occurred near Tyre which kept us from visiting in the area.

Beirut is on the lovely blue Mediterranean Sea. We stayed three nights and drove into the hills overlooking the city and were thrilled at the beautiful city by the sea. From the hill, we saw several snow-capped peaks far away in the hills. The groves of the Cedars of Lebanon were beautiful and the streets were filled with the new American cars. We went to Jerusalem and spent one week there sight-seeing. On Sunday, we went to worship at Calvary and the Empty Tomb.

Rome and Orey Airport in Paris: In Paris, we went first to the Grande Hotel de Louvre, near the world-famous Louvre Museum. There are 4,000,000 busy people in Paris. They are little people and seem to be in an awful hurry. We found them friendly and helpful in lightening our load, especially in the exchange of tourist money.

The hotel was fine, but it rained all the time we were there. The food was on the dreary side—tough roast beef and hard bread—but it was exciting. There was much to see. It was awfully cold while we were there, and little cars raced up and down narrow, twisted streets. We saw the Eiffel Tower and saw Paris from the tower, which is more than 550 feet high.

The next day we went to St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, where we saw the Pope bless the people. We saw the statue of Peter that has been venerated by kissing and touching until his bronze toe has been kissed away. The church is huge, monstrous and cavernous.

We saw the ruins of Rome, but all the pomp and glory is gone. Broken columns mark the grave of lost glory. The Mamertine Prison in which the mighty Paul was kept and from which he evangelized Rome was a cold, dark cell, but it produced some gems.

Cairo: This is where we had a camel ride. My driver was very thoughtful especially, begging for a tip. I tipped him, and they sang "The Campbells Are Coming" and shouted "Hi-ho, Silver!" The Muslims are fasting. For a month they eat before sun-up and after the sun goes down. We were all on a sail boat on the Nile River when the gun sounded at dusk. They grabbed their lunch, ate a few bites, and began to sing again.

We visited the mission fields of old Asia Minor and then flew to Vienna, Austria, where we went sight-seeing. From there we went to Brussels, Belgium, to the World's Fair, where Mrs. Collier from Crosbyton and I took in the fair. It rained all day, but we kept going—didn't want to miss anything. The nights are beautiful, with lights of all colors.

The Atomium at the fair is a beautiful sight. Mrs. Collier, Mrs. Owens and I visited it. You reach the top by elevator and the sides by escalator. There is a restaurant in the top and displays throughout of appliances from different U. S. and European manufacturers. It is very interesting.

After visiting the fair, we left May 9 for New York. We were 14 hours crossing the Atlantic Ocean. We had a storm with winds of 100 miles an hour and had to fly around it, is why it took us 14 hours coming home.

We arrived in Lubbock at 4:17

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN—A fresh task force is being organized by Gov. Price Daniel to attack the state's monetary problems.

With oil production still hovering at a historic low and a prime source of state revenue partially throttled Texas government is, for the time being, at least, "living beyond its means."

Governor Daniel named a six-man committee of executive department officials to study ways of bridging the gap between income and outgo. Members are Sec'y of State Zolle Steasley, Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Auditor C. H. Cayness, Budget Officer Jess Irwin and Col. J. T. Ellis Jr. of the governor's administrative staff.

They are expected to work cooperatively with the State Tax Study Commission a group of legislators and outside experts who have been surveying the state's fiscal position for some months.

Under the present spending pattern, it is estimated the next legislature would have to scratch up upwards of $100,000,000 in new revenue to balance the books.

As in a family that comes up short at the end of the month, the state's advisors, both official and unofficial, are divided between those advocating getting more money and those favoring less spending.

Governor Daniel urged his executives to try both angles. Specifically, he suggested exploring:

1. Every possible economy in use of state funds.
2. Possible elimination or combination of duplicating services among state agencies.
3. Compilation of a list of non-recurring expenses in the present appropriation.
4. Every possible source of additional state revenues which may be available without the levy of additional taxes.

Open Season
Most major candidates have held their opening rallies and will be campaigning with little let-up between now and the July 26 primary.

But in many areas of the state an even more intensive struggle is going on at the grass roots for control of the precinct conventions. They'll be held right after the primary, on the evening of July 26.

It's a small-time battle with big-time stakes. Whichever group of the Democratic party gets out the "mostest" to the precinct conventions will control the state convention in the fall. This means taking over the official machinery of the party for the next two years—leading up to 1960 and presidential nominating time.

Governor Daniel has said he will personally lead "conservatives, moderates and all other Texas Democrats who believe in majority decisions." He's been assured of vigorous opposition from the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston, Texas' national committeewoman.

DOT will have a statewide rally in Austin May 31 to draw attention to its efforts to oust the governor from official party leadership.

For the average citizens the precinct convention poses a more ticklish problem than primary voting. It may mean voting, publicly, against a neighbor who's running for precinct chairman.

"Wars" Watched
Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says his office is keeping close check on the gasoline and milk price wars that have broken out in major cities.

In some areas gasoline prices dropped as much as 10 cents per gallon below normal, and milk has been sold at a fraction of the usual charge.

"Texas anti-trust laws do not prevent price wars which are the free working of competition," Wilson commented, "but they do prohibit agreement or conspiracy to fix or cut prices and selling below cost to eliminate competition."

More Building
Effect of the drought's end is being seen in more building in smaller towns dependent on agriculture for prosperity.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports a 10 per cent rise in the January-April building volume for towns with less than 10,000 population.

BBR's report reflected a fairly general brightening of the building picture. Construction authorizations for April were up 3 per cent from March and 22 per cent from a year ago.

Home builders were found to be cautiously optimistic. Most, BBR reported, hadn't actually experienced much of an increase in home sales. But they were busier than they'd been in months building up a supply for an expected pick-up in buying by fall and next year.

Easier credit and, in some cases, lower costs of materials are expected to make house-buying more alluring.

More Salvage
Sale of some municipal bonds owned by the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co. has brought another $144,000 for the company's creditors.

An earlier distribution of $2,181,000 represented about 31 per cent of the amount owed some 9,000 persons.

Meanwhile, Insurance Department employees are working against a May 31 deadline to complete an operation designed to prevent such fiascos in the future. They check the annual statement of each company doing business in Texas. If any questionable transactions are uncovered, the company is required to straighten them out before being re-licensed.

During the past year, a period of tightened regulation, there has been no large-scale crack-up in the industry. Many younger companies have merged to strengthen their positions by combining assets.

Gun Selling Law
Whether Texas law regulating sale of pistols is constitutional is being considered by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Case in point involves a Houstonite who was sentenced for sale of a pistol to a minor. Attorney for the defendant contends the law is too vague and confusing to be valid.

Texas penal code has two separate and sometimes conflicting sections on sale of firearms, forbidding their sale to minors, persons "under heat of passion" and persons convicted of felonies.

Short Shorts
Texas Employment Commission has announced the first substantial drop in unemployment claims this year. After weeks of tabulating steady increases in joblessness, TEC reports claims had slid from 90,913 to 86,328. Total benefits paid dropped $143,070 for the week.

Accompanying this good news, TEC announced 1,127 new jobs created in the state by the opening of new businesses. Largest was a garment factory in Temple employing 200.

WEEKEND VISITORS
James Williams, a student at San Angelo Junior College, was accompanied home over the weekend by Jack Grey of Robert Lee, "Rock" Hudson of Littlefield and Max Hood of Lubbock. Max went on to Lubbock Saturday night.

STUDENT IS HOME
Miss Barbara Wheatley was here over the weekend visiting her brother, Paul, who is in the Garza Memorial Hospital. Barbara is attending West Texas State College in Canyon.

The cotton fiber is a single cell.

RETURNED HOME
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dye have returned home from a two-weeks vacation trip to New Mexico. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. V. A. Lobban, Jr. of Midland. They stopped in Saturday to visit their sons, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Turney.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PULL HARD!

All's fair in a tug of war! At least, that's what the children think. And, as I watch them playing, I realize how relatively simple life is when you're a child. Then, a tug of war is something purely physical. Later, it is more apt to be mental—a matter of personal decision.

Some of the most important moments of our life present us with mental tugs of war. Then, we need a lot more than a rope to hang onto. We need courage and faith, a high sense of moral values, and the ability to distinguish between right and wrong.

These are the kind of things the Church teaches. That is why my children attend church regularly. One day, I know, they will be facing another kind of a tug of war. Their church training will help them make the proper choice.

Rains Cut Short Initial Operation Of Booster Pump

The booster pump in the city's waterworks system was turned on Saturday for the first time this year, but was cut off again Wednesday morning following Tuesday's rain.

In the 24 hours from Monday morning until Tuesday morning, the booster pump pumped 1,033,000 gallons, which is only a little more than 200,000 gallons under its pumping potential of 1,250,000 gallons.

Shutting off of air-conditioning units and cessation of lawn watering following Tuesday's rain made it possible for the city to cut off the booster pump, City Supt. R. H. Tate said.

The booster pump sends about 900 gallons a minute into the city's water distribution system, whereas the intake from the wells when the pump is not operating is about 650 gallons a minute.

When the rains came Tuesday, city waterworks employees were in the process of finishing tying in new wells to the system. The tying in will be resumed as soon as possible, the city superintendent said.

3,987 Cotton Acres Go Into Soil Bank

Garza County farmers have put only about 9.5 per cent of their 1958 cotton allotment in the soil bank, according to figures from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

From a total allotment of 41,545 acres, farmers in this county have put 3,987 acres in the soil bank. That leaves 37,558 acres planted or to be planted.

The 33 member counties of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., have put 6.4 per cent of this year's acreage allotments in the soil bank. From a total allotment of 2,379,438 acres, farmers in the 23 counties put only 145,778 acres in the soil bank.

Acres by county ranged from a low of 742 acres put in by Yoakum County farmers to a high of 20,894 acres put in by farmers in Dickens County. The majority of the land in both these counties is dry land acreage.

In the irrigated belt, Lamb County farmers put in 17,933 and Hale County farmers put in 12,746 acres, Lubbock county, which has the largest county allotment — 229,634 acres — saw farmers put 9,592 acres in the soil bank.

Farmers in the 23 counties received slightly more than $5,000,000 compensation for this acreage being put in the 1958 soil bank.

Open House Success At Colored Center

The Colored Community Center opened Sunday afternoon with a very successful open house at 3 o'clock.

Refreshments were served to the approximately 40 people who attended. Punch, coffee and cake was served by Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Gardner.

The visitors enjoyed games and danced during the afternoon.

Among those making contributions were Mrs. Ryla T. Lott, Mrs. B. E. Young, and Carl Cederholm.

Dennis Guichard, one of the directors of the center, has announced that they are now making plans for a June 19 celebration. Plans are to have a barbecue dinner for the members of the center.

The directors want to thank everyone who helped make the open house a success and for the donations.

Tax Tangle

The vote on this motion was 5 to 1 in favor with Clint Herring absent from the meeting at the time of the final vote and J. E. Birdwell voting against it.

Included in the motion was the firm's recommendation for the following scale for farm land values, which include surface rights only, no oil royalties, or improvements figured:

- $100 an acre on irrigated land.
- $40 to $60 an acre for dry land farmland.
- $18 an acre under Cap to $30 an acre on top of Cap for grassland or rangeland.

Pritchard told the board that equipment, oil royalties, etc is added to the land value in figuring each farmer's 100 per cent valuation.

The engineering firm delegation pointed out that in checking county records back to 1950 only a few land sales were found on which sale values could be accurately determined. These sales ranged from $6 to $169 an acre.

Bobby Pierce asked Pritchard how it was possible that total land values in the district would drop slightly in the revaluation as indicated earlier by Clayton. Pritchard said he figured it probably was due to the fact that the farm properties were being carried on the tax rolls at higher than a 33 per cent of real value.

The discussion with the tax engineers ranged over a wide field as trustees asked questions on various phases of the revaluation process.

Pritchard said that there was no way yet devised to figure mineral values on unproducing land so these are not included on taxable property valuations by his firm. "It's all speculative until proven up," he emphasized.

Pritchard told the trustees and board of equalization members that every property owner will get a notice on the valuation placed on his property, regardless of whether it is the same, or higher, or lower.

Representatives of the engineering firm will be on hand for the board of equalization board hearings to go over the card on each piece of property with the inquiring property owner to explain exactly how the valuation was arrived at, and the standards and scales used.

"If the property owners aren't satisfied with our explanations they have every right to lay their cases before the board of equalization," Pritchard said. "When we find we've made an error we will be glad to correct it."

Trustees were told that oil property valuations for the district have not yet been completed.

"We're trying to figure out what allowances will do," Earl Dean of Midland, one of the representatives of Pritchard and Abbott, told the local group.

"If we go ahead and use an average of 12 producing days, as it was at the first of the year, it will mean a reduction of 5 to 8 per cent reduction in oil property values."

Dean said figures weren't complete yet to show whether new production in the last year will offset this loss or not. Most of the Slaughter ranch development has come since the first of the year and won't go on the tax rolls until next year, it was pointed out.

Oil income to oil firms in the county is down 50 per cent due to the cut in allowances, Buster Moreland, board chairman, said.

Trustees discussed at some length whether or not to raise the land scale for farm land proposed by the engineering firm a little. In the end, the group voted to accept the firm's land scale proposal.

In answer to a question by one of the trustees, Clayton said that the 100 per cent valuation for the Postbox Mills should be received in the next few days. He reported that the firm's industrial appraiser was given a complete tour of the mill property and received excellent cooperation in making the appraisal.

Asked about how valuations were arrived at on vacant lots in Post, Clayton explained that they varied on the west side of town for example from $6 per frontage foot on unimproved lots (no paving, curb or gutter, or sidewalks) to $25 per frontage foot on West Main street. This would be a range of $240 to $1,000 per 40 foot lot for 100 per cent value.

Once the 100 per cent values are determined, the trustees will set a percentage of the 100 per cent value to be used in determining actual taxable property values of each property.

Trustees hope to keep this percentage to about 33 per cent of 100 per cent value, but may have to go higher. That won't be known until the budget is drawn up for the new tax year.

Clean-Up Campaign Scheduled June 12

The Post city council has set the week of June 9-14 as annual Clean-Up Week, with Thursday, June 12, designated as the day for the "big push."

Dates of the clean-up drive were set at a special meeting of the council Saturday morning.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland has accepted the chairmanship of the clean-up campaign, Mayor James L. Minor announced today.

"This year," said Mayor Minor, "we are asking the citizens not only to match the efforts put forth in last year's clean-up campaign, but to double them."

The mayor said all city equipment will be available on Thursday, June 12, for hauling away and burning of trash collected in the clean-up beginning the first of the week.

At least 100 volunteer workers will be needed to make the drive a success, the mayor estimated. As is his custom, the City of Post will serve lunch at noon to all volunteer workers. Business firm owners are requested to let at least one of their employees off to assist in the collection and disposal of trash.

Also welcomed, the mayor said, will be trucks for trash hauling from oil companies and other firms. "We'll be able to use as many trucks as we can get," he said.

All business firm and home owners are asked to make sure their premises are cleaned up and the accumulations placed on the alleys prior to the trash pick-up day.

"There just won't be any sense in having a whole slough of trucks and workers on hand if there is nothing for them to pick up," said the mayor.

He said the city would also like to see all weed-choked vacant lots cleaned off before or during clean-up week.

It's one of those rare pictures which every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy. Check Bob Collier's coupons on page 7 and seeing "Old Yeller" won't be very expensive either.

The city is going through the legal requirements for starting on 14 1/2 blocks of additional paving, as you'll notice on page 10 with a big paving ordinance and a notice to property owners involved setting forth the paving costs for each piece of property. That is one election we want to see unanimous — because we like to think that everybody who lives here wants to see his or her hometown progress.

Also with Mrs. Hitt were her other two children, Judy, six years old, and Bobby, 15 months old. Neither was injured seriously enough to be hospitalized.

Mrs. Hitt is suffering from head injuries, two broken ribs, a broken collarbone and a fractured backbone. Debbie received face lacerations in the crash.

Young Wheatley received cuts, bruises and other injuries, including one to his left knee.

After being brought to the hospital here, Mrs. Hitt, Debbie and Bobby were transferred to the Lubbock hospital, while Judy was put under the care of a local physician.

Both automobiles were badly wrecked in the collision. Wheatley's 1953 Chevrolet overturned and rolled into the yard of a home just off the intersection. Mrs. Hitt's automobile is reported to have turned over at least twice and also rolled into the yard of the home.

Ambulances were called by telephone from a nearby store by an unidentified motorist who drove up just after the accident occurred. Others who arrived on the scene soon after the crash said some of the victims had extricated themselves from the wreckage and were trying to reach the house.

One passerby said young Wheatley's automobile flamed up for an instant after rolling to a stop, but there was no fire.

Other details of the accident were meager late Wednesday, since highway patrolmen still had not filed a full report pending completion of their investigation.

Peel Leads Team To Championship In Golf Tourney

Punk Peel shot a blistering five-under-par 65 Sunday to lead his foursome to victory in the annual Am-Am golf tournament at the Caprock Golf course here.

Peel, who had a two stroke handicap, shot a 32 on the par 35 first nine and a 33 on the second.

Other members of the winning team were Jim Hundley, 8 handicap, W. H. Childs, 12 stroke handicap, and Guy Floyd with an 18 stroke handicap.

Using the best ball by any member of the foursome on each hole, and counting off handicap strokes where they applied, the winners carded a best ball of 54 strokes—16 under par for 18 holes, getting a 27 for each nine.

Each member of the winning team won $7.20 in golf merchandise prizes.

Second place with a 57 stroke total—three behind the winners—was the team of James Brewer, 6 handicap, Fred Cockrell, 16 handicap, Jim Cornish, 17, and Ray Rinker, 18.

Each member of the runnerup team won $4.80 in merchandise prizes.

A total of 24 players, forming six foursomes, competed in the Am-Am affair which was postponed from last Sunday when showers interrupted play.

SIGHTS TO SEE IN TEXAS

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD
Once in a while someone catches a gasper gou on an artificial lure. Usually such catches are within the range of a pound or two.

But there are exceptions! For instance: A few days ago Billy Disch Jr., of Austin and his wife were fishing for white bass on Lake Buchanan in Central Texas. They had a pretty good string of whites, taken while trolling and jigging.

They were using Dixie Jet lures with two hooks snipped off, just to make the fishing more interesting. Mrs. Disch was using a Mitchell 300 with 6-pound test line. Suddenly she thought she snagged a log. But, it started up and she began yelling for help.

Billy was manning the motor and their daughter was sitting in the middle of the boat. So the Mrs. Just had to land the fish. After a 10-minute play she boated a big old gasper. It weighed 14 pounds after it was gutted! Some catch.

He Tells How
Recently a friend of mine spent a half-day fishing with Dave Hawk, maker of the famous Rico perch. Hawk has just published a book about bass fishing. The guy has some very definite ideas on the subject. Some of them you are inclined to argue about. However, when a man is good you've got to admit he may also be right.

Hawk takes very positive positions about certain things. For instance, he says that using a beaded chain snap swivel on a lure is like tying a log chain to it. Also he likes to fish with a black line. He thinks it is about the only thing that will catch a fish. As to rods, Hawk announces just as strongly against a rod longer than 5 feet. He says they are like buggy whips.

All this reminds me of the story about the mule trainer who was called in to "move" a balky mule. First thing he did was to pick up a 2x4 and give the mule a powerful whack on the head. He said the first thing you had to do was to get the mule's attention. He did. And it moved.

Well, after Hawk gets you a little riled up and you are paying full attention to what he says he gives some sound advice for catching bass.

For instance what he says about using a leader from 15 to 20 feet long makes a lot of sense. By using the long leader, when you get a fighting fish close to the boat the connection between line and leader already has been wound on the reel. If anything breaks it's the leader, not the knot. And that is less likely to happen.

Book of Mammals
Anyone interested in wildlife will appreciate the Palmer's Fieldbook of Mammals, just released by E. P. Dutton. This book has illustrations of more than 300 mammals of the world, both wild and domestic.

The author is Dr. E. Laurence Palmer, professor emeritus of Nature, Science and Conservation Education of Cornell University. This is a concise, popularly priced, pocket size field book of the mammals of America. It has been arranged for practical use on field trips. It contains diagrams of tracks, teeth, skulls and other aids to identification. It is an especially valuable book for Boy and Girl Scouts, and teachers who take classes afield. Dr. Palmer has been a member of the Boy Scout national council for 36 years.

It's Tarpon Time
Look to the salt water now for some of the big fish stories of the year. The migration of bill fish is under way. Tarpon and sail fish will be caught almost daily along the Texas coast. They have moved up from the warm waters of Mexico.

This year it looks like they will be plentiful. Last year at the Tampico rodeo only a dozen tarpon were landed. This year 200 were brought in. A good indication that there'll be a big crop reaching Texas shores.

Better make arrangements to enter one of the coastal rodeos this summer. If you don't get a tarpon or sail fish you'll get enough king mackerel to fill the ice chest.

Legal Limits
There is a mild argument going on along the Texas coast about creel limits on salt water fish. Some people, mostly business men, are afraid fishermen may deplete the supply.

On the other hand biologists say that normal fishing never will clean out the fish supply of either the bays or the Gulf. They say pollution can, however. Unscrupulous netters also can play havoc with the fish population.

Night fishing also has come in for considerable discussion. There seems to be no complaint about the man who takes a Coleman lantern onto the water and catches a nice mess of trout. However, there is criticism of the man who takes a portable light plant down the lagoon, fills a coupe of boats with trout and then peddles them.

Anyway the matter now is under study by the Valley Sportsmen's Club and in time perhaps some recommendation will be made.

Novel Lure
Ever talk to a fisherman who couldn't tell you something you'd never heard before?

We have yet to find a fisherman anywhere who couldn't tell us about some new product or some old trick we'd never heard about.

Up here on Lake Travis a few diversionists are having fun with an Alkasetzer lure. Ever hear of it? Neither did we. That is, until an oldtimer told this tale.

Well, here's how it works. You take an old spring-type clothes pin. One of the long, flat kind that looks like a miniature pair of pliers. Only it's made of wood, and a spring provides the grip.

Well, these guys attach a swivel to the short end of the clothes pin, top side. Then they screw triple hooks onto the other end and tie on a bucktail to hide the hooks.

Usually they paint the clothes pins to serve their own tastes—and the fishes' of course — yellow, black, spotted, etc.

Three men are in exile on St. Helena, Atlantic isle to which Napoleon was sent, John Tunstall reported at Johannesburg, South Africa, after a visit to a lonely spot.

Baseball Openers Are Rained Out

Wet grounds from Tuesday afternoon's downpour of rain brought a postponement of opening games in the Pony and Little Leagues here.

Although the rain stopped a couple of hours prior to game time, league officials ruled that the grounds were too wet to play.

The opening day program was to have included pre-game opening ceremonies, with County Judge Pat N. Walker scheduled to throw out the first ball.

Tuesday's schedule was to have seen the Yankees and Dodgers meeting in a Little League game at 6:45, and the White Sox and Orioles playing a Pony League game at 8.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I'm a Korea veteran, and it will be three years this fall since I was discharged from service. If I decide to go to school under the GI Bill, must I be in training within three years from discharge, or is it enough just to get my application in to VA?

A. You must actually be in training within three years from the date of your discharge. It is not enough merely to apply.

Q. I'm moving to another town and I don't want any mix-up in receipt of my VA compensation check. What do I do about my change of address, tell the Post Office, or the VA, or both?

A. Give your old and new address to your local Post Office, using a change-of-address form. This will ensure forwarding of your check. But to keep VA's records straight, and eliminate the need of forwarding, notify the VA also when you move.

Q. My wife and I are both veterans. The house we live in was bought with the aid of my GI loan, and we need a bigger one now, because our family has grown. Can my wife use her GI loan benefit for another house?

A. Yes. Your wife may still use her loan benefit even though you have used yours.

Q. Who can get a grant from the VA for a "wheelchair" home? Is it just disabled veterans of World War II and Korea, or are other veterans eligible?

A. Veterans of all wars, as well as those with peacetime service, may qualify for "wheelchair" housing so long as they meet the requirements set forth in the law.

The Movie Marquee

It's June Jubilee all next month at the Tower Theatre, with several outstanding films — motion picture greats, in fact—scheduled.

Among the super-dupers lined up for the month by Manager Johnny Hopkins are: "Sayonara", "Old Yeller," "The Left Handed Gun" and Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

"Get more out of life—go out to a June movie!" suggests the theatre management.

To end the month of May on a bargain note, there's a double feature booked for Friday and Saturday. "The Badge of Marshal Brennan" and "The Black Scorpion" form the doubleheader.

"The Black Scorpion," starring Richard Denning and Mara Corday, is a new screen terror, with the management reserving the right to turn on the lights any time the audience becomes too emotionally disturbed!

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—the first three days of June—it'll be Walt Disney's most dramatic picture, "Old Yeller." It's described as a new high in motion picture entertainment.

There's also a double feature booked for Wednesday and Thursday nights, June 4-5. Forming the doubleheader are "Battle Strife" and "Armored Attack," both jam-packed with thrills.

County Agent Lists Appetizing Recipes For Summer Snacks

By JESSIE PEARCE

The hot summer days and long working hours, call for snacks and cool drinks. With snacks a national pastime, plan to get part of the day's nutritional needs in these snacks. Plan the snacks just as you plan the family meals and at the same time. Try preparing the snack at the time you prepare the meal and leave it in the refrigerator for use later in the day.

Crisp crunchy fruits and vegetables, or cold meats cut in attractive shapes fill the craving for food and add valuable nutrients to the diet. Calcium can be supplied by milk drinks. Lemon and lime drink besides being cool and refreshing, add vitamin C to the diet.

The farm families have food problems peculiar to their profession now that field work is in full swing. A snack break mid-morning and mid-afternoon will lessen fatigue of the worker. To avoid loss of time, you may plan on taking this snack to the field.

Getting the family members to eat an egg for breakfast may be pretty hard during the hot weather. Don't worry about it as long as they get their egg. Try serving egg as one of the snacks. Beat one egg thoroughly. Mix well with eight ounces of fresh or frozen orange juice and serve immediately in frosted glasses.

Other snack ideas are to use raw vegetables as dips. Use carrot curls celery sticks, radish roses, raw cauliflower or broccoli flowerets, and a zippy sour cream cheese or avocado dip. Let each person dunk his own vegetables. He will love the informal atmosphere, whether it be a party or family snack, and he will also love the crunchy vegetables and the homemaker will know that the extra vitamins added to the diet help insure adequate nutrition for her family or guests.

For other easy snack ideas use ice cream or sherbet often as frozen drinks. Cheese sandwiches on rye or whole wheat bread are a good change. Home made quick breads, such as banana nut, orange nut, or prune bread, make delicious snacks. These breads may be stored in the freezer for several weeks. Slices of cheese and fruit make a good snack. Try your own ideas for combinations of different foods, but remember to use the snacks to supply part of the day's nutritional requirements and plan them just as carefully as you do the meals for the day.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Often in Washington there is talk of lobbyists. Presumably, because he is constantly appearing before Congressional committees to voice the majority opinion of the nation's independent businessmen who have expressed themselves through the National Federation of Independent Business, George Burger, vice president in charge of the Washington office, is also a lobbyist.

But the greatest lobbying in Washington today seems to be behind the scenes on behalf of somewhere in the neighborhood of 2 1/2 million Federal employees. In the past few years Federal employees have come a long way in welding into a cohesive unit. They operate their own credit unions; discount houses. And they seem to work together in many other ways. Thus, a threat to cut any department's budget, is seemingly a threat to all.

It is significant that no sooner had Russia launched a Sputnik, than right out of Washington came big screams about how government would have to spend more and more money.

And State Dept. seeking more billions for its foreign give away programs, claims if U. S. doesn't help needy nations, Russia will. But question comes up... Russia will help with what?

The other day in Congress Rep. Frances Bolton of Ohio took first step in exploding this myth with a report of the National Bureau of Economic Research on Russian industrial progress vs. U. S. progress in the period from 1913 until the present.

Despite all the ballyhoo both from Moscow and the U. S. State Dept. Russia is from 25 to 100 years behind the U. S. in per capita production in basic industries. For example, in rolled steel Russia was 24 years behind the U. S. in 1913, is now 23 years behind. In cotton and wool fabrics she was 43 years behind the U. S. in 1913, is now 58 years behind. In boots and shoes she was behind U. S. by 23 years in 1913, is now 65 years behind.

Thus, go the figures presented by Rep. Bolton. Bearing in mind that despite the higher level of U. S. production, and a lower population than Russia's, if much more than 10% of the American production were shipped out of the country, there would be shortages at home.

Thus, Russian threats to step in and supply the peoples of various nations with goods unless the U. S. supplies them is perhaps the greatest poker bluff of all times, because Russia cannot supply her own needs, let alone taking on anybody else.

Yet, because Russia makes spurious promises which she cannot make good on, the State Dept. wants to grind American small business into the dust with oppressive taxation.

It does not seem possible, according to observers in Washington, that these facts are unknown to officials. Therefore, it must get down to a matter of job protection. Administration of foreign give away has created many jobs... some quite plushy. And with this new found feeling that a threat to any Federal employee is a threat to all, there has been a lot of closing of ranks to fight the good fight for foreign give away to keep more people on the payroll.

Average Earnings Basis For Social Security Benefits

What is the basis for figuring the amount of my social security benefits? This is a significant and important question on the minds of millions of American workers approaching retirement age. The terms of the Social Security Act provide that all benefits are based on the amount of an individual's average earnings. Whether you work as an employee for someone else, are self-employed as the operator of a business or profession, or whether you are the operator of a farm, your benefits are based on your average earnings. Benefits for dependent members of your family are likewise based on your average earnings. The higher your average, the higher your benefit and your dependent's benefits. An individual worker's benefit ranges from a minimum of $30 per month ($24 for women at 62) to a maximum of $108.50. It is important that you understand how your social security benefits are figured in planning your retirement program.

Good Insect Control Program Gives Protection Before Damage Occurs

LUBBOCK — A good cotton insect control program is one that gives protection to the plant and its fruit before damage occurs.

It is also important that injurious insects not be allowed to build up into damaging numbers. Most growers feel that the early crop is their money crop, and go all-out in protecting the early squares from damage by insects.

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. through the Plains Cotton Guide is urging farmers to keep a close watch on their cotton crop this year. Statistics show that early season control is profitable three out of five years.

An early season insect control program insures early fruiting and maturity and results in higher quality cotton. The first fruit or squares of the cotton plant are very attractive to two insect pests—the fleahopper and the boll weevil.

About the time cotton plants first start squaring, fleahoppers leave their host plants and move to the more attractive cotton fields. This tiny insect sucks the juices from the newly set squares, causing them to turn brown, then black and fall off. The loss of this early fruit hurts in several ways. The yield is reduced, maturity is delayed, and the plant is thrown into a vegetative-type growth. When this occurs, the plant requires excessive amounts of water and the extra leaf growth cuts down on the number of squares the plant sets.

It will mean a lot of money to cotton growers to take the necessary steps to see that this year's crop is harvested early in order that they might get the best grades possible. The higher grades will bring much more money and the demand will be stronger than for the lower grades. This is caused by the poor quality of much of last year's crop and the heavy withdrawal of high grades from CCC stocks.

Early protection of cotton plants from insect damage will often allow the grower to harvest the crop two or three weeks earlier than otherwise. Insects such as cutworms, armyworms, careless weed webworms, flea beetles, grasshoppers, etc., sometime destroy stands. This necessitates replanting and a costly delay in getting the crop off to a good start.

Other insects like thrips, aphid, and red spider often attack the plants soon after they come up. These insects feed on the juices of the plants causing them to be stunted and fruiting to be delayed.

The loss in yield and quality caused by a late crop was disastrous in many sections last year. Certainly no grower wants or can afford a repetition, of poor quality crop this year.

The early season insect control program outlined in the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects is designed to insure early fruiting and maturity. Guides are available from all county agents.

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. recommend that every cotton producer on the High Plains keep a close watch on his crop after it comes up and follow the recommendations of his county agent or those in the Guide as they apply to his conditions.

If this is done, perhaps damage will be prevented and an early-maturing, high-yielding crop of good quality will result.

More-Than-Average Rain Doesn't Halt Need For Early Irrigation

LUBBOCK—Just as one tornado doesn't make a spring in West Texas, neither does more-than-average precipitation eliminate the need for early irrigation, says a Texas Tech irrigation specialist.

William F. Schwiesow, assistant professor of agricultural engineering at Tech, reports that investigation between Lubbock and New Deal reveals a lack of soil moisture in the plant root zone.

"Moisture deficiencies up to seven inches were determined from several tests in this area. A four-foot depth was sampled in all tests," he said.

The soil-moisture investigations were made by a Tech irrigation-principles class, with the students doing their own research northwest of Lubbock near Crosbyton and New Deal.

"Deciding whether or not there is sufficient soil moisture stored in the root zone cannot be based on conjecture about how much precipitation has been received," Schwiesow stated.

"Rainfall or snow at any one time, the periods between precipi-tations and climatic conditions of these periods all affect the amount of moisture actually stored in the soil."

The results of these soil moisture tests emphasize the need for irrigation farmers to use a small auger or other soil samplers to check their own soil root zone, Schwiesow asserted.

"Checks should be made to at least four-feet in depth — unless some unusual formation is encountered—to determine if additional moisture is needed. Make several tests on a field to determine the average condition," he urged.

"Your soil is not the same as your neighbors — neither is the supply of moisture stored in that soil."

Music-Education Director Post Baptist Church Is To Graduate

PLAINVIEW — Shelby Baucum, director of music and education at First Baptist Church, Post, is among the 47 candidates for graduation at Wayland Baptist College commencement exercises on June 2.

SHELBY BAUCUM

Commencement ceremonies start June 1 with the baccalaureate services being held at 10:30 at First Baptist Church. Baucum and his family will be honored guests at 4 o'clock at the reception given by President and Mrs. A. Hope Owen at their home on the campus.

The following day members of the class of 1958 will be special guests for the Association of Former Students chapel program and the luncheon at which they will be recognized as members of the Association. Graduation exercises will be held at 7:45 that evening with James C. Cantrell, Dallas, executive secretary of the Baptist Foundation of Texas, as commencement speaker. Both he and Rev. W. Neil Record, Tulla, who will officiate at the baccalaureate service, will have honorary degrees conferred on them.

Baucum, the 1957-58 recipient of the annual religious education department award, is among 47 students from eight states who will be graduated this spring from Wayland, a four year liberal arts college, located on the high plains of west Texas.

Safety Campaign Gets Under Way

AUSTIN — J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, called on Texans, today, to give their full support to the upcoming Slow Down and Live Campaign which will be sponsored throughout the state by TSA between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

"Most traffic accidents are the result of human failure. Drivers simply do not follow traffic regulations as they should," the safety expert said. "If we want to cut traffic deaths and injuries, we must halt speeding and other forms of carelessness, recklessness and thoughtlessness on streets and highways."

Musick urged citizens to drive within speed limits and to brush up on other traffic laws so they may follow them to the letter. He said that the only solution to the problem of traffic deaths and injuries is voluntary compliance by drivers. The principal aim of this year's stepped up campaign, he said, will be to sell the public on safer traffic conduct, especially in regard to fast driving.

Area Youth Candidate For Degree June 2 At Hardin-Simmons Rites

ABILENE — Gaines Vernon Scott of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Scott of Route 1, Post, is a candidate for the bachelors degree at Hardin-Simmons University. Baccalaureate will be held Sunday June 1 and commencement will be held Monday, June 2, both at the First Baptist Church here.

Scott is a candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree.

Dr. Lee Hemphill, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Littlefield and a prominent denominational leader, will be the speaker for baccalaureate exercises at 10:55 a. m. Sunday. Dr. William R. White, president of Baylor University and amons University, will be commencement speaker at 10 a. m. Monday.

Hardin-Simmons University, a liberal arts college founded in 1891, is well-known for its academic training, music organizations and activities, and its famous athletic teams.

Dr. Evan Allard Reiff, president, has headed the institution since 1953. The university, the oldest institution of higher learning between Fort Worth and El Paso is continually growing to meet the needs of its varied student body. The school is currently conducting a financial campaign for $1.5 million to build a new $500,000 chapel auditorium and a $1 million student center. Construction on both buildings is expected to get underway this year.

Milk, Dairy Products Featured On USDA's June Plentiful List

COLLEGE STATION — Milk and dairy products are featured items for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's June Plentiful Foods List. The Department has designated this feature to support the dairy industry campaign, "June Is Dairy Month," the time when milk supplies are at their height for the year.

Milk production in 1958 is expected to run around a billion pounds over the record production of last year. This would make 1958 the sixth successive year in which milk production has set a new record.

Only other foods considered plentiful enough to rate a spot on the June list are spring vegetables and vegetable fats and oils.

As a result of replanting in the three major vegetable producing areas — Florida, Texas and California — it is likely that there will be more than the usual overlapping of harvesting in June.

The plentiful supply of vegetable fats and oils in June is largely the result of last year's bumper crop of soybeans. The highest acreage on record was accompanied by record yields, resulting in a crop of 480 million bushels. The '58 crop is expected to be 10 per cent larger than last year's record high.

Cotton Carnival Speaker Sees 'Bumper' 1958 Crop

Subtract cotton from the South Plains and you would see sales drop, payrolls disappear and bank deposits fall, Sterling Emmons, a vice president of Lubbock's First National Bank, told a crowd of about 350 last Thursday night at the Cotton Carnival in the grade school auditorium.

The carnival also included an all-cotton style show, presentation of eight plaques, and songs by junior high school groups.

Emmons, who is in charge of the Lubbock bank's cotton department, predicted a crop of 1,760,000 bales of cotton from this year's South Plains acreage allotment of 2,013,000 acres.

"We should have one of the best crop years we've ever had," Emmons said. "It also should be the largest margin crop in the area's history." He explained that by "margin crop" he meant the difference between the cost of production and the amount the crop sells for.

Emmons said South Plains farmers lost $61 million on last year's crop because adverse weather kept it from being harvested before Jan. 1.

"That loss can never be retrieved," he said. "The farmers have only this year's crop to look forward to."

Emmons said the principal task facing West Texas farmers is producing a grade of cotton that will be acceptable to the nation's textile mills.

"Our farmers," he said, "are faced not only with producing a bale of cotton, but also with producing one that is acceptable to the buyer."

Bright spots in the cotton outlook, Emmons said, include the government's new "payment in turn" program, and a growing demand for West Texas cotton in such foreign markets as China and Japan.

Emmons pointed out the value to the community of such an industry as Postex Mills, Inc., and concluded his talk by saying, "Garza County, I think, has a great future in the cotton industry."

The speaker was introduced by J. B. Potts, a vice president of Post's First National Bank.

Winners in the style show, which under the direction of Miss Jessie Pearce, county home demonstration agent, were Kathy Jones, Linda Driver, Joyce Josey and Mrs. Joe Cartmill. Each received a plaque.

Also receiving plaques were Neil Crosby as the county's outstanding cotton farmer, Barbara Mock as the 4-H Club Dress Revue winner, Mason & Co. for the best window display on cotton, and Truett Smith, 4-H Club cotton production winner.

Chant D. Lee, president of the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the Cotton Week celebration, presented the style show and best window plaques. Presentation of the dress revue plaque was made by Miss Pearce, and County Agent Lewis C. Herron presented the best farmer and 4-H cotton production plaques. Young Smith, home with the measles, was not present to receive his award.

Lee announced that runners-up in the window display contest were Herring's, second place, and Dunlap's, third place.

Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick was narrator for the style show. Background music was played by Boyd Dodson.

Songs were sung by the "Tadpoles and the Starlets," accompanied by Georgie M. Willson.

One of the program highlights was the presentation of Miss Nan Kelly, 1957 South Plains Maid of Cotton.

LETTERS To The EDITOR

PUBLIC HOUSING

Lubbock, Texas
Editor, Post Dispatch

Dear Sir:

Your recent editorial in the Dispatch concerning Public Housing was of great interest to me.

For several years I have been following this problem of slum clearance. It seems to be a universal problem for every community. Many are the "answers" that have come forth from time to time for its solution.

Here in Lubbock we have had such a "slum clearance" Public Housing project for many years. Our city manager, mayor, and other public officials can tell you of Lubbock's experience. Many of us interested in the problem have come to the conclusion that P. H. A.'s answer to slum clearance leaves much to be desired. Where one problem seems solved, two other problems arise to take its place.

Attached is a reprint of an article appearing in the Wall Street Journal, touching on some of the experiences P. H. A. is having in some of their larger projects. A bit of true appraisal of the real problem seems to come out in a chance remark by an unnamed mid-western housing man, whose statement I have underscored. (Ed. Note: The underscored statement reads: "It isn't buildings that make slums. It's people. Move those people from a slum to a new housing project and they'll create a new slum.")

In spite of the glowing sales talk of P. H. A.'s Government-paid salesmen, I am certainly hopeful that you and the citizens of Post will look long and carefully at all sides of this proposal before making any decision.

Yours very truly,
Mark Hailey
Vice-President

According to "The Planesman," Dyess AFB newspaper, Huffman "is one of 25 alert and enterprising SAC airmen who will share a jackpot of $1,125 because their ideas were recently studied and felt worthy of further monetary award by the SAC Incentive Awards Committee."

SLATON — The Slaton city council has called an election for June 3 on a $30,000 bond issue to finance repairs to city street paving.

The bond election was called after it was determined that much of the city's network of paved streets is in need of repairs before it is completely ruined.

The council has pointed out that cost of repairing and sealing is $210 per block as compared with $2,000 per block for new paving.
