Petitions circulating for city annexations

Petitions calling for the annexation by the city of Post of property up to a half mile beyond Post's present city limits in all four directions are reported being circulated among eligible voters living in the proposed area for annexation.

What success the four men living in the area who are passing the petitions are having hasn't been reported.

By law, a majority of eligible voters in the area for annexation would have to sign the petitions before they could be considered by the city council.

Extending the city a half mile in the four directions would bring into the municipality "the flats" area, the Postex Mill area, and land containing an estimated 150 oil wells.

Property owners in the proposed area of annexation of course would pay city taxes if the area is taken into the city but they also would receive a number of advantages which in many cases would more than offset the cost of increased taxes.

A substantial savings in insurance rates, a considerable savings in water rates, as well as the addition of garbage pickup and sewer connections all would be benefits property owners would receive if the area is brought into the city. Extending the city limits a half mile in all four directions would bring in an additional two square miles and would make the city triple its present area size.

Mayor James Minor said the city would consider the petitions when, and if, they are presented to the council with a majority of eligible voters listing their signatures.

Should the petitions be presented to the council, annexation could be carried out by a vote of the council.

The law provides for such annexation either by petitions signed by a majority of eligible voters or by a favorable vote in an election open to the eligible voters of the area involved.

First '58 load of maize reaches elevator here

What is expected to be Garza County's best maize crop began to move slowly over the weekend, with the peak of harvest not expected until after Sept. 1.

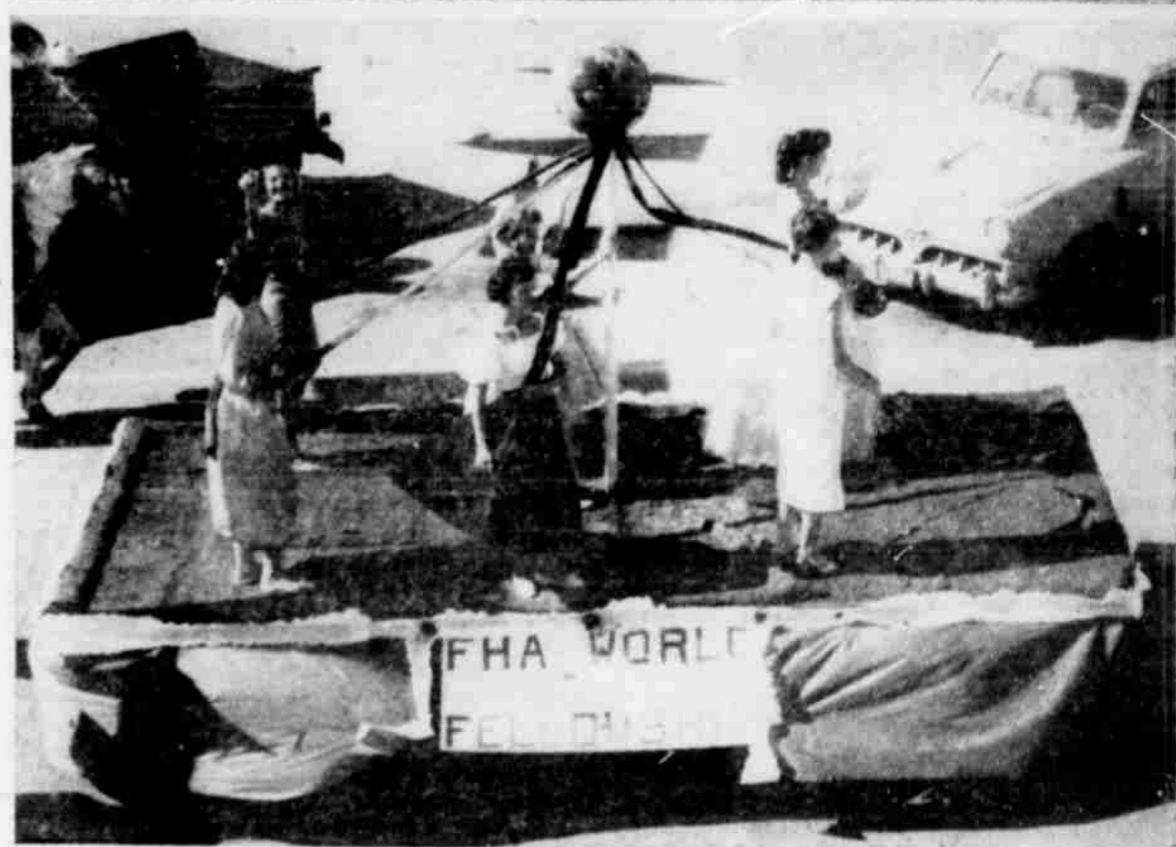

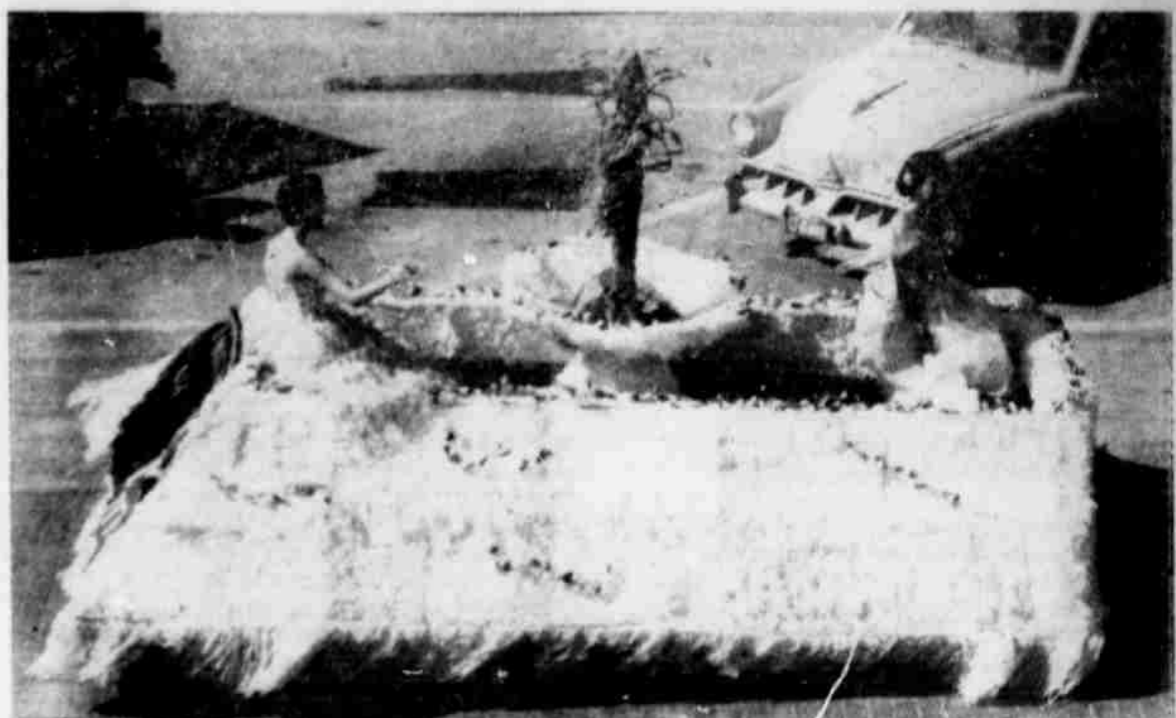

The first load of maize was brought to T. L. Jones Grain Company Friday by Joe Williams off the M. J. Malouf farm just east of town.

Another load, this one from on top of the cap, was brought in Saturday by D. C. Morris of the Close City community, also to T. L. Jones Grain Company.

Jones paid $1.65 per 100 pounds for the two loads of maize, which he said was of good grade and tested about 16 on moisture test.

County Agent Lewis C. Herron said an above average yield is expected from the approximately 60,000 acres of maize in Garza County, much of it being of the new hybrid types.

The county agent also said that the cotton crop is holding up well, but that bollworm infestations are showing up in many fields.

County to pay city $3,000 for fire protection this year

The county commissioners' court and the city council have worked out an agreement whereby the county will pay $3,000 for fire protection for the city's volunteer fire department for 1958.

The decision came at the end of a joint meeting of the commissioners' court and the city council Tuesday afternoon.

County's budget total about same

Garza County's 1958-59 budget will total about the same as this year's, which means no change of consequence in tax rates, County Judge Pat Walker said yesterday. The commissioners' court Monday set the budget hearing for 10 a. m. Monday, August 21.

COUNTY BUDGET—See Page 8

County Judge Pat Walker and Mayor James Minor announced the settlement in a joint statement Wednesday morning.

The Dispatch was not notified of the Tuesday meeting and consequently did not have a reporter present to cover proceedings.

Judge Walker said that the commissioners' court now at work on its budget had the opportunity to sit down with the council, the fire marshal and the fire chief and go into the fire department's complete operation including cost figures. Mayor Minor said the council was satisfied with the agreement and the fire department was pleased.

The discussion brought out the fact that while the fire department answered only 44 fire calls in 1957, it already had answered 62 to date this year with the "grass fire season" still to come.

The county in the past has paid $1,000 toward the operating costs of the city's fire department in return for rural protection by the firemen.

This year the city asked $3,000 as the county's fair share.

The agreement this week on the $3,000 figure is for this year only. The city and county will have to renegotiate the matter next year.

Fire protection to be afforded in city project

With the summer street paving and repair program out of the way, the city of Post will be able to turn its attention to its next major project—laying of water lines and setting of fire hydrants in the extreme southwest and northwest parts of town.

City Supt. Henry Tate said today that a little over 6,000 feet of eight-inch pipe and eight new fire hydrants will be put in, affording fire protection to new residential sections of the city.

Tate said the city plans to contract for the excavation work and laying of pipe, but that it will do the filling-in and cleaning up on the job.

The city superintendent said the improvements will give the city a circulated water system, with more equal pressure. The project has been approved by the State Fire Insurance Commission.

A number of residences in the southwest part of town are 1,000 feet or more from fire protection.

School budget is slashed $12,000

The Post Independent School District's proposed budget of $412,680.40 for the 1958-59 school year was reviewed item by item by Supt. R. T. Smith and five of the seven trustees at Monday night's board meeting.

Smith explained to the board that the proposed budget as it now stands had been scaled down some $12,000 from the first proposed budget drawn up several weeks ago.

The superintendent explained that the reduction became necessary upon the release of the school's per capita figures and the economical index set for Garza County by the state. These figures, he said, had not been announced when the first budget was drawn up.

THIS YEAR'S economical index of $97.44 for the county means an increase of some $10,000 for the Post district — from about $52,000 to $63,002.

The biggest cut, $7,000, was for transportation equipment, with the $10,000 set up in the original budget being lopped to $3,000 in the present one.

The figure first set up for teaching supplies was reduced from $7,000 to $5,000, and the $4,000 originally budgeted for the band was cut to $3,500. There was also a reduction in the amount first set for supplies and expenses in maintenance of the school plant.

AT $412,680.40, the proposed budget — on which a public hearing is being held today — is $9,087.78 more than were 1957-58 expenditures, which are anticipated at $403,592.62.

Grain warehouse permit issued

A city building permit for construction of a $28,241 grain warehouse has been issued by T. L. Jones Grain Company on South Avenue H.

The permit specifies a 40x80x14 steel building, including an elevator leg and grain dryer.

T. L. Jones, owner of the company, said the new building will increase his grain storage capacity by about 50,000 bushels.

Other building permits were issued as follows:

Donald Windham, remodeling garage; $150

Mrs. A. W. Bartlett, concrete drives and sidewalks; $200

W. H. Ellis, reshingling house; $125.15.

Mill employee is accidentally shot

Allen Nichols, who was accidentally shot at his home on West Sixth Street about noon Friday, has been returned to Garza Memorial Hospital after undergoing surgery in Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

Nichols, who is employed in the bleaching department at Postex Mills, Inc., was shot in the right side when a single-shot .22 caliber rifle was accidentally discharged while he was getting fishing tackle out of a closet.

Sheriff Carl Rains, who investigated the accident, said Nichols and his wife told him the gun apparently was discharged when the hammer struck against something as he groped in the closet for the fishing tackle.

The impact of the bullet, which penetrated Nichols' side, knocked him down, but he was able to walk into the hospital after being taken there by his wife.

After emergency treatment here, Nichols was taken by Hudman Funeral Home ambulance to Lubbock, where surgery was performed soon after he was admitted to the hospital. His condition was reported improved yesterday at the hospital here.

Housing authority hires architects

Post's new five-man Housing Authority in a short meeting Tuesday afternoon voted unanimously to employ the Fort Worth architectural firm of Hedrick and Stanley in applying for federal approval on a Public Housing Project for Post.

Will Holdredge, a representative of the firm, appeared before the Housing Authority last Wednesday to explain procedure for applying for a government project.

Irby Metcalf, chairman of the authority, said Wednesday Holdredge had advised the Post Authority to increase their application for a preliminary planning loan from $7,500 to $12,000.

Methodist minister is Rotary speaker

The Rev. Ross Welch of San Antonio, Methodist minister who is here for a visit with his two brothers, Ralph and Rex Welch, was the speaker Tuesday noon at the Rotary club.

Study of school needs continues

With another school term approaching and this community, like many another, faced with a variety of problems as far as school plant facilities are concerned, now is a good time to take stock of the grassroots reports from 251 of the state's 254 counties on school programs, teachers and finances.

A comprehensive Garza County report was included among those 251, and the things we need are about the same as those needed in other counties.

The grassroots reports, now undergoing a full-scale study by the Hale-Aikin Committee of 24, predict an extra half billion dollars will be needed for the efficient operation of Texas public schools through 1963.

Here's what the summaries from the counties showed:

1. To keep up current operation of schools through the school year 1962-63 will require $70,089,220 over present expenditures. Increased state funds are necessary to pay for the costs, said 113 counties, or 44 per cent of those reporting.

2. Another $376,009,338 will be needed to construct 20,657 classrooms over the next five years. Increased enrollment is the cause for most of the needed construction. Texas now is short 3,373 classrooms in 138 counties.

3. As to the adequacy of the number of teachers, 114 counties said they had enough and 112 counties said they needed more instructors. Schools now need 4,343 teachers to relieve overcrowded conditions and vacancies. During the next five years, an additional 46,165 will be needed, and higher salaries is the most important recruitment factor.

The Hale-Aikin Committee of 24 will make its report and recommendations to the Legislature some time in November. A six-week study has been under way by subcommittees to prepare the final report, analyzing the cut-and-dried statistics from county committees.

Although 44 per cent of the counties asked for state funds to finance the $70,000,000 increase in current operations the next five years, 25 per cent of the counties said it should be done on the local level. They favored raising rates or valuations on property taxes. Nine counties favored federal aid. Others mentioned tapping the permanent school fund. Only the interest of the fund is used now.

High school programs were reported inadequate in 108 counties, but 46 said additional funds would solve their problems.

In 136 reports, counties said their high school program was adequate except in 22 cases where small schools could not provide needed instruction.

That's it in a nutshell. If wide-scale improvement in the operation of the public schools can be brought about by these studies—first on a county, then on a state basis—then it will have been well worth the time put in on it by the citizens named to the various committees.—CD

Polio foundation expands activity

When you give your dimes and dollars to the traditional March of Dimes next January, you'll be getting even more returns than you have in the past. The reason: The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has announced that it is turning its attention to other dread killers and cripples of mankind.

Foundation President Basil O'Connor said the organization would be known in the future simply as the National Foundation and would expand its activities to take in all the virus diseases, arthritis, diseases of the central nervous system and the congenital diseases known as "birth defects." O'Connor said the foundation also would continue its war against polio until every American was protected by the Salk vaccine and there no longer were any polio victims to treat.

But he said the vaccine perfected by Dr. Jonas E. Salk after years of research by foundation-backed teams had brought total victory over polio in sight, leaving the vast 3,100-member foundation with the problem of either disbanding or expanding its horizons.

The chairman said the foundation's new work would not "duplicate the work of other voluntary agencies."

In view of its expanded program, it is even more regrettable than before that the National Foundation does not see fit to work with the Community Chest or the United Funds. Perhaps that will be the next big change announced by the foundation.—CD

Good news on Yule decorations

More good news coming from the Chamber of Commerce office is the announcement that the organization's civic activities committee will meet with directors at the next meeting to lay groundwork for Christmas decorations.

Some may think it's a little early to be planning such things, but it isn't when you consider that this year's Christmas decorations program bids fair to be the most elaborate in the town's history.

The Chamber budget calls for $750 for Christmas decorations, and that's considerably more money than ever has been set aside before for the program. It appears that with that amount of money and some early planning Post should be able to graduate from the "don't care" class in the matter of its Yuletide decorations.

We won't know, of course, until after the committee members and directors have held their meeting just what is being planned for the decorations program, but we're reasonably sure that in addition to a vastly improved downtown display, there'll be stepped-up prizes for decorators of homes and business places.—CD

Crosbyton celebration coming up

Many Post and Garza County residents are following plans for Crosbyton's Golden Jubilee celebration with a great deal more interest than they would be showing if we hadn't held our own 50th anniversary celebration just a little over a year ago.

In fact, qualified through having helped plan and carry out our celebration, a few local citizens already have lent or will lend assistance to our neighboring town in its birthday observance. Since the John B. Rodgers Production Co. of Fostoria, Ohio, which staged the Post Cent is also putting on the Crosbyton celebration, the latter's event will be carried out along the same lines as the one here. Our mayor, James L. Minor, who was general chairman of the Post celebration, already has been called on a number of times since the Crosby County seat town began laying the groundwork for its celebration.

Also making the upcoming Crosbyton event a little closer to Post and Garza County folks is the fact that Crosbyton, along with Post, Spur and Ralls, is a member city of the White River Municipal Water District.

Then, too, the Crosbyton Golden Jubilee is being staged at about the same time of the year as the Post celebration—Sept. 7-10. Last year, the Crosbyton football team played here the Friday night Post's Golden Jubilee was in progress and their band saluted the celebration in a between-halves ceremony. So, in a way, it's too bad that the Post Antelopes won't be able to do the same for Crosbyton. They'll be there for a football game, but it'll be two nights after the Crosbyton event has closed.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Independent electric power companies and their association are being penalized by the Internal Revenue Service because some of their advertising has attempted to explain the issues in the private versus public power fight. . . . Doesn't private industry have the right—possibly the duty—to inform the public about issues that might affect the survival or economic well-being of that industry? —London (Ohio) The Madison Press.

If Elfrida Von Nardoff, record quiz show "winner" of $220,500, thought she was going to have a big bank account from her once-in-a-lifetime accomplishment, she had a sad awakening. After the tax collectors skimmed the cream from her earnings she had left about 50,000 forty-eight cent dollars. That's the price of big wars, big centralized government and piecemeal acceptance of the socialistic philosophy which saddles us with the "welfare state."—Industrial News Review.

Teachers are going to get a break through a new Treasury Department ruling which will give them refunds retroactive to and including 1954 for sums they spent for advanced training courses each summer. This action should serve to make teachers more eager to increase their proficiency in future years, and will be a benefit to pupils throughout the country as well as to the nation itself.—El Dorado (Kans.) Times.

Ghost writing and ghost thinking are producing an ersatz American culture which can only signify decline in the quality of literature and of thought. . . . Apparently the great majority of speeches given by eminent men in politics, business and other fields are ghost written. . . . How can we expect to deepen American culture, to lift the level of American education, to impress the world with the spiritual values in American life, when this form of patent insincerity is rampant? —Terre Haute (Ind.) Tribune.

Doctors in municipally operated Vienna hospitals went on a strike for higher pay—but patients had to stay on the job.—Brighton (Pa.) The News-Tribune.

Volumes have been written about the litterbug—and everyone is against him, of course. The thing that most of us don't realize, though, is that we all have a little of the litterbug in us. Most of us, without thinking, will drop a small piece of trash, like an empty cigarette package or ice cream bar wrapper, on the ground and walk away from it. It's not intentional, it's just being done.—Ontario (Ore.) Argus-Observer.

Churches, the homes and the schools appear to be fighting not much better than a holding action for the minds of the populace. In many a city or hamlet, no matter its size, there is an underworld organized and effective in striving to take over. The larger the locality, the richer the material rewards, and against these elements the conscientious citizen must always do battle, at the ballot box and in the public forum. —Virginia (Minn.) Mesabi Daily News.

That now famous secret meeting of top national gangsters last fall in Apalachin, N. Y., must have been the biggest mass gathering of criminal leaders in world history. . . . The fellow who didn't make the Apalachin guest list probably doesn't have much of a future in crookdom. He'd better look around for another game. He might even try going straight.—Olympia (Wash.) ## THURSDAY THURSDAY to

By CHARLES DIDWAY

POST REALLY went western last week with the annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo and Garza County Quarter Horse Show. For four nights and one afternoon, the Stampede Rodeo arena was easily the busiest place in the community.

Now that it's all over, we can set our sights for the second Democratic primary election, opening of the 1958-59 school year and first kickoff of the football season.

THE MYSTERIOUS "explosion" which "rocked" the town Thursday morning turned out to be a jet plane breaking the sound barrier as it streaked over the city. One woman wanted to know, as she shaded her eyes for a look at the disappearing plane, why didn't they take down the sound barrier if those jets were going to keep on breaking it.

Since slogans seem to be taking over in the advertising business, numerous possibilities present themselves. Here is a list appearing in the current issue of "The Texas Outlook," official publication of the Texas State Teachers Association:

Printer: "Have Press — Will Print."
Lobby: "Congressional Meddle."
Piston Rings: "Keep Your Car from Smoking Behind Your Back."
Dog: "The Only Love Money Can Buy."
Genius: "Crackpot Who Hit Jackpot."
Fast Drivers: "The Quick and the Dead."
Baldness: "Crisis Coming to a Head."
Hospital: "All-House."
Young Lumberman: "Timber Wolf."

AGAIN THIS year, Post is on the itinerary of the Good Neighbor trips designed to help cement better relationship between Lubbock and other South Plains cities and towns. Trip No. 1, on Sept. 17, will take in Post.

Down here, where most of us already are on pretty fair terms with the Hub City, we usually think only of the Good Neighbor trips as a means of boosting the annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair — which, in fact, is one of its purposes. Souvenirs calling attention to the fair will be distributed by the trippers. We always come up with a desk drawer full of souvenir pencils after one of the trips, and during the last few years have managed to time it to where we misplace our last pencil just before the trippers arrive to hand out more.

TWO AMERICANS were cast away on a desert island in the middle of the Pacific for nearly three years. One day while they stood on the beach gazing out onto the horizon, one spotted a bottle being washed ashore. He raced out into the surf and pulled it in. It was one of those new king-sized Coca-Cola bottles. He looked at it, then a frightening realization crossed his mind. "Jim," he shrieked, "we've shrunk!"

The biggest piece of equipment we've seen go down Main Street in many a moon rumbled past The Dispatch office Saturday morning. It was a huge tank on a flatbed truck — so huge, in fact, that one of the men in the truck had to get off every few hundred feet and raise the rodeo bunting with a long pole before the truck could pass under the wire on which the bunting was stretched. We'll bet both the truck driver and his helper were glad when they got out from under that last line of bunting down near the tracks. On East Main.

SINCE WE'VE been guilty of the same thing a time or two, our sympathy goes out to Editor Leonard Gregory of the Macon County Times of Lafayette, Tenn.

At the top of his front page "Column Two" last week, he bravely faced his public and said: "Last week we carried a correction stating that Freely Flippin, circuit and general sessions court clerk, was seeking a second term instead of a third term as stated the week before."

"It has been called to our attention since (don't you love that phrase?) that both the original story and the correction were wrong."

"Just to clear the record, I might point out that Flippin has served one full term. He also served two years to fill out the unexpired term of a former clerk. So, actually, he has been in office for one-and-a-half terms and is seeking a second FULL term in the August 7th election."

"It's a little embarrassing to correct a correction, but there you have it."

We can understand there would be those unimaginative characters in most any community who might consider Mr. Gregory's first statement in error. But we certainly think he was technically right the second time. Where Mr. Flippin now faces the second 'FULL' term, it remains the only second term he sought at the polls, since his original two years of service was by interim appointment and not by election!

Would you say this corrects Editor Gregory's correction of his correction?

Instead, it may start the next two-year fiscal period $100,000,000 short of enough money just to maintain the present level of spending.

THAT LEAVES a potential gap of some $468,000,000 between the two-horns — money requested and money in sight. For the next Legislature it's a half-billion-dollar headache.

As far as can be seen, closing the gap would involve either (1) sharp cuts in state spending, (2) enactment of a fair-sized new tax or (3) letting the state government go into debt.

None of these courses likely would be either painless or popular. Third possibility is virtually prohibited by the Constitution which says no appropriation in excess of revenue in sight can be passed "Save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and from "extra" food made possible with my food freezer!

says Mrs. Marvin Shurbet, PETERSBURG, TEXAS

What housewife can always measure exactly how much of each food her family will eat? Even the most exacting woman will occasionally have vegetables, meats and desserts "leftover." It's a shame to throw good food away and no one really likes to do that. Well, Mrs. Shurbet has solved that problem. Here's what she says, "When I cook more than my family eats at a meal, I put remaining servings on foil, double them, seal in SARAN WRAP, and store in my food freezer. If additional portions are needed to make complete dinners, I simply add them from various meals."

with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each house.

In the past the Budget Board has limited its spending recommendations to foreseeable revenue under existing tax laws. Making up the board are the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and eight other legislators.

HOW DID new money requests get up to $368,000,000 when the present state budget is at an all-time high of more than $2,000,000,000?

Big figure results from a lot of requests from a lot of state departments and institutions. Examples: State colleges, faced with increasing enrollments, want $49,000,000 more.

State Water Board, charged with a stepped-up water conservation planning program, asked for a nearly doubled appropriation of $3,596,180.

Hospitals and special schools asked for a 31.5 per cent increase, up to $114,000,000.

State Youth Council asked substantial increases for the facilities it operates including a 99.5 per cent increase to $4,745,925 for the School for Boys.

BUDGET BOARD has proposed enactment of a "price tag" procedure to help lawmakers keep track of just how much each measure they consider would cost.

Suggested bill would require that each spending bill be accompanied by an itemized list (with prices) of the expenditures it would involve.

It was seen as a means of keeping a tighter check on the tax dollar.

GIVING TEACHERS fewer extra chores and more time to teach, has been suggested as a means to relieve the shortage of qualified instructors.

Resulting report noted the many miscellaneous tasks that fall to teachers — keeping up with lunch money, football tickets and charity drives; sponsoring athletic events and special programs; keeping extensive records. Use of teaching aides and secretaries was suggested to free teachers to concentrate on class work.

In regard to building use, the report suggested consideration of a school day and greater use of special purpose rooms such as departments, etc.

AFTER MONTHS of upheaval and dissension, the State Insurance Liquidator's office is reorganized and off to a new start.

C. H. Langdeau, newly appointed liquidator, has announced the names of nine attorneys who will make up his legal staff.

They are Cecil C. Rotsch, general counsel, John R. Grace, Clay Cotten, V. F. Taylor, Horace Wimberly, Art M. Le Croix, J. C. Thomas, William Colburn and Hoyt Cole.

Missing from the scene will be Renne Alfred Jr. who had been appointed by Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts as receiver for all insurance liquidation cases in his court. Betts has refused to accept Langdeau as receiver. Langdeau was appointed by Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison.

Situation was resolved when the State Supreme Court ruled that Betts must accept Langdeau.

Langdeau said his staff would have to do extensive investigating before deciding whether to pursue a $15,000,000 damage suit Alfred had filed in connection with the some 34 different corporations, including some famed names in the financial world, with having some responsibility for the building up of a fraudulent enterprise.

AN OVERALL increase of 3 per cent in Texas farm prices is reported by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Principal gain came in higher prices for new-season cotton, hogs, beef cattle and calves. Slight gains were shown for corn, oats, barley, hay and potatoes. Dairy products, poultry and eggs registered a seasonal increase.

On the minus side, lower prices were reported for cottonseed, vegetables, food grains, lambs and sheep.

Texas 1958 calf crop is expected to total 3,919,000 head, a 5 per cent increase from last year.

PART OF NATIONWIDE CAMPAIGN

'Share the road, arrive alive,' urges Texas safety official

"Share the Road — Arrive Alive!" In those words J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, today urged all motorists to support the Share the Road program of the Texas Safety Association and the National Safety Council. This program is a part of the nationwide Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents campaign.

"To stay safe in traffic, the driver must be keenly aware that he's not the only one on the road," Musick said. "He's just one of many drivers, so he must keep in step with the others and share the road with them."

The safety expert said this involves, first of all, a willingness to share, and then the skill and judgement to do the right thing at the right time.

He gave the following rules as a guide to drivers to help them fit their driving to the pattern of traffic around them.

1. Keep alert. Develop defensive driving. Study the road ahead for accident situations. The higher the speed, the farther ahead your attention must be fixed.
2. Think ahead. Plan emergency measures. Know your own and your car's capabilities. If the car ahead should suddenly block your lane, could you stop? Could you swerve to avoid an accident?
3. Be adaptable. Get the "feel" of changing traffic, road and weather conditions. Adjust your speed immediately.
4. Pace yourself by the traffic around you. This includes noting traffic behind through constant use of your rear-view mirrors. Don't race. Don't lag. Don't ride the bumper of the car ahead.

5. Take only your share of the road — in the proper place. Keep in the proper lane. Pass only when you see you have ample time and space to avoid cutting out and in too sharply. Signal all turns and lane changes.

6. Obey to the letter all traffic laws, signs signals and the dictates of common sense and courtesy. If you make a mistake, don't lose your head. Don't jeopardize yourself and others by hasty, foolishly sudden moves.

Musick had a special word to say about safety on superhighways, pointing out that the higher speeds permissible on such roads make the above rules doubly important and vital. In addition, he said, this rule should be added: Watch signs carefully for rules governing the particular road you're traveling — such things as directions for entering or leaving the highway.

Bible Thoughts

"CALLED OUT"

By RONNIE PARKER

The Church of the Lord is composed of those who have been called out. The very meaning of the word church is the "called out." The Christian has been called out of one thing into another.

Paul states in Colossians 1:13 "Who hath delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of the son of his love." He again said to the Thessalonians that they had been called unto salvation "through our gospel." (Thess. 2:14).

People are called unto God through the gospel. When this call is heard and they respond to it, they are called out of Satan's kingdom into the kingdom of God, which is the Church of Jesus Christ.

Absentee vote in runoff is light

Garza County's "slim" ballot for the second, or runoff, primary election Aug. 23 is being reflected in the light absentee vote cast since absentee voting began Aug. 3.

With Tuesday, Aug. 19, the final day for absentee voting, only four votes had been cast at the county clerk's office and only six absentee mail ballots requested.

Only two runoff races will appear on the Garza County ballot for the Aug. 23 election. One is between E. E. (Elva) Peel and R. A. (Roy) Ethridge for Precinct 2 county commissioner.

Peel, seeking re-election, nudged Ethridge by six votes — 126 to 120 — in the first primary election. There were three other candidates in the race.

Only voters in the South Post and Graham Chapel election precincts are eligible to vote in the race between Peel and Ethridge.

The other race on this county's ballot for the runoff election is between Sarah T. Hughes and Joe Greenhill for State Supreme Court Place 4. Greenhill received 565 Garza County votes and Hughes 478 in the first primary election.

Extensive fogging routs mosquitoes

Post's new spraying equipment has dealt area mosquitoes another serious blow this past week and another complete "fogging of the city" is planned as soon as the weather is right.

City Supt. Henry Tate said one "fogging" of the city was completed Tuesday morning with a thorough spraying of the lake area.

Tate said that a 3 per cent BHC dust, the most effective killer of mosquitoes found in tests at Lubbock, is being used.

He commented that the dust won't hurt anything, even if it blows into open windows of homes. It won't hurt livestock either, Tate added.

Heavy humidity and a light wind is the ideal weather for dust spraying, Tate explained. The city will spray again as soon as that weather comes along again.

A free barbecue will be served at noon.

Fortenberry explained that this year's annual meeting had been postponed until this month, a time when farmers and others might have more free time. Also this year's meeting is being held in the air conditioned Municipal Auditorium and plenty of free parking space is available. All cotton producers, ginners, businessmen and members of their families are invited to attend.

The PCG's annual meeting will be held Aug. 29 and on Aug. 30 the Plains Ginners Association will hold its annual meeting here. Ginners are being urged to attend both meetings.

About your health

If you are the parent of a youngster who will start school for the first time this fall, you can help yourself and the State Department of Health by requesting a copy of his birth record now.

Most school systems require a birth certificate to prove the child was six years old on Sept. 1. By making early requests for birth records, parents can save themselves needless anxiety, their children some missed classwork, and the Department a great deal of time.

Several hundred parents have already requested and received records of their children's birth, but tens of thousands of additional records will have to be processed between now and the time school doors swing open for the new term. If too many people delay until August — as they usually do — the resulting bottleneck could very well mean your youngster will be barred when that first school bell rings.

The reason is obvious: The limited staff of the Division of Vital Statistics — despite long hours of night and week end work without overtime pay — can search just so many files, extract just so many records, and photostat just so many copies in time for school's opening.

Birth record keepers shudder when they think of the 247,500 children — an estimate supplied by the Texas Education Agency — who will be eligible to enter school for the first time this September.

Many of them have copies of birth records and will create no problem. Others live in areas where school officials do not require proof of age before admitting the child to classes.

But the majority do not have certified proof of age, despite the fact that they live in areas where school authorities insist on such proof. This is the category that means sleepless nights for health department statisticians and clerks.

The Department is prepared to give immediate service to requests coming in between now and mid-July. All parents have to do is give the child's name and date and place of birth, the mother's maiden name and the name of the father. That information, plus the legal fee of one dollar will buy anyone a copy of their birth record, providing the original is on file.

It's a good bet the original will be filed, since the Department keeps track of some 10 million birth and death records, some dating back to 1902.

There is just one more thing: If you don't care to write to the State Department of Health in Austin, check with your local registrar or county clerk. Changes are he can supply the record.

In either case do it soon. That fall bird can get mighty light.

Santa Fe ups 4-H scholarship prizes

Texas 4-H Club members will share in the $2,300 increase in college scholarship awards provided by the Santa Fe Railway system. The additional funds will raise the scholarships from $250 to $350.

This year four such scholarships will be awarded to qualifying Lone Star State 4-H Club members according to the State Extension Service.

The railway also provides funds for 12 other educational awards.

The winners will be selected on the basis of all-around 4-H achievement, and will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 30-Dec. 4. They will be guests of honor at the annual Santa Fe banquet held during the Congress.

The 1957 scholarship winners were:

Lorine Dreed, Ennis; Betty Lou Vogel, Otto; Robert L. Pfleger, Pflugerville; Kinan Burk, Tulla.

The other award winners were: Anson Butch Brundage, Grand Prairie; Joan Barton, Monahan; Mary Beth Schooler, Robert Lee; John Thomas Terrell, Jr., Plainview; Logic Tobola, El Campo; Melvin C. Kruisler, New Braunfels; Wells Robert Mote, II, Greenwood; Janice Perkins, Brownwood.

Crosbyton petitions for no road change

CROSBYTON — Crosbyton will petition the State Highway Department asking that Highway 82, when rebuilt as a four-lane highway, follow the same right-of-way through the city as the present route, Chamber of Commerce directors have announced.

Although rebuilding of the highway is probably three or four years in the future, Chamber of Commerce officials feel that present action is necessary before definite plans are made by the highway department.

CHURCH TO BUILD

TABOKA — The Taboka Church of Christ is completing plans for its new $70,000 church building, which will be erected on the Brownfield highway at the western outskirts of Taboka.

Windows of God

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	8	12
Monday	John	1	1-5
Tuesday	Matthew	5	14-16
Wednesday	Ephesians	5	3
Thursday	1 Thessalonians	5	5
Friday	Daniel	6	10-13
Saturday	Malachi	3	10

Over the altar of a church in Philadelphia this huge window tells the story of the life of Christ. But it speaks only to those who gaze upon it reverently.

Through the centuries the Holy Bible has revealed to men the Light of the World . . . but only to those who will read it and hear it preached.

Every day a wondrous light seems to shine in the faces of those whose hearts have been touched by God. And amid the turmoil of our worldly confusion we are transfixed again and again by the warm glow of someone's Christian countenance.

These too are windows of God.

This light could shine from our faces as well. That's why the Church seeks us all.

Lifetime game passes to be issued trustees

The board of trustees of Post Independent School District voted Monday night to issue lifetime passes to all past and present school board members for Post High School athletic contests.

Postings—

has two more office buildings going up with another 14-story office building announced in Sunday's paper.

You can't drop in tomorrow and see the two new trophies The Dispatch won at the press convention—because the trophies haven't arrived as yet. The chairman of the contest committee wanted to be sure he got good trophies so by the time he ordered out a sample, there wasn't time enough to get the trophies back in time for the convention. So representatives of all the winning papers had their pictures made with the one sample.

You can't get into a conversation anymore without running head-on into some of the optimistic talk about the area's milo and cotton crops. Milo is developing into a big money crop here, even if Cotton still is king. You'll notice a lot more attention here now to milo storage, with T. L. Jones making a major addition to his elevator.

In our hurry to get our desk cleaned up last week for the Alpine trip, we overlooked calling to your attention our expanded and freshly dressed church page. It's gone to a full seven columns now with 13 more local advertisers adding their support to the series to encourage a deeper religious life in this community. We're sure the churches appreciate the expenditure of this advertising money in their behalf.

School budget—

Per capita payments, $96,337.40; foundation aid, $46,382.30; transportation aid (state), $15,000; vocational travel, $1,150; county available fund, $4,185.30; local maintenance taxes, $194,741.94; tuition, rent, fees, $4,878.24; oil royalty, $800; other districts, $4,000; interest and sinking taxes, $44,205.22; delinquent taxes, $1,000.

Following is a breakdown of the proposed budget:

Annexation—

The position of the Postex Mills on the annexation hasn't been made public. R. J. (Rube) Jennings, Postex president, is out of the city on his vacation.

The Navy's first electrically propelled ship, USS Jupiter, was launched Aug. 24, 1912, at Mare Island, Calif.

The Marine Corps reached a maximum strength of 75,191 during World War I. World War II peak strength, reached Aug. 31, 1945, was 483,113.

Andrews County is the top Texas oil-producing county: 66,926,349 barrels in 1956.

merely authorized that the passes be issued to names on a list compiled in the superintendent's office.

Mrs. Nell Compton, the superintendent's secretary, who met briefly with the board, estimated that "60 or 70" persons are eligible for the passes. Each pass will admit two persons. Records from which the list of eligible school board members was compiled went as far back as 1916, the secretary said.

The board also voted Monday night to adopt a payment schedule of $8 for "long" trips and $5 for "short" trips for drivers of school buses to out-of-town athletic events and other school sponsored activities.

The trustees set a library appropriation of $1,500 a year for the three schools here. In doing so, the board changed the previous policy of appropriating $1.50 per library membership.

The change was made at the suggestion of Supt. R. T. Smith, who said the $1.50 per membership appropriation could become a "growing thing." He said he believes the $1,500 appropriation will take care of the libraries' present needs, and that the figure can be increased at any time it is justified.

The board voted to accept the offer of Caprock Chevrolet Company to furnish a car for driver training during the 1958-59 school year. Use of the car will be limited to driver training and Scouting trips, with the school paying the insurance on the automobile and for its upkeep.

The trustees set a flat rate of $5 a night for use of the school lunchroom by outside groups. The motion included the provision that when a meal is prepared and served the group include at least one regular lunchroom cook in the cooks they hire.

Health program in schools outlined

The 1958-59 health program for the Post Public Schools was outlined this week by Supt. R. T. Smith and Mrs. Max Gordon, school health nurse.

The superintendent's and nurse's message to the patrons on the health program for the new term of school is as follows:

"Those entering the first grade will consult their physician for smallpox vaccine, booster injections for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

"Those who will enter the Post schools for the first time at any grade level who have not had smallpox vaccination have sufficient time to be vaccinated.

"Parents will be asked on the opening day of school to fill out health cards on enrollment of student.

"It will be necessary to ask co-operation of the parents in taking necessary steps in caring for their children during any illness that they might have during the school year.

"We wish to thank in advance each parent for their cooperation in the school health program."

Contests—

Cornish headed the association's resolutions committee which wrote resolutions strongly endorsing four "public right to know" bills which will come before the 1959 Texas legislature, and inviting New Mexico, which recently proposed adding three southwest Texas counties to its state, to become a territory of Texas.

The 1959 convention will be held at Big Spring. Joe Pickle, editor of The Big Spring Herald, was elected as president of the association for the coming year. Francis Perry, Slaton publisher, was named first vice president.

Accident—

(Continued From Front Page) gradually been improving the last few days. Members of the family said it might be possible for him to be transferred to Garza Memorial Hospital the first of next week.

Buddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. (Buster) Moreland, was thrown from the scooter when it collided at Avenue M and 14th Street with an automobile being driven by Miss Ruth Miller.

Ken Rankin, one of three other boys on the scooter, was slightly injured. The other two riders, Royce Chance and Gary Brewer, were not injured.

On Aug. 13, 1918, Private Opha M. Johnson became the first woman to be sworn into the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

About 4.8 trillion cubic feet of gas were marketed in Texas in 1957.

WILLIAM ST. JOHN

Completion near on Post faculty

William St. John and James J. Galloway are the two newest additions to the Post High School faculty.

Galloway was hired to teach high school English at Monday night's school board meeting. St. John had been hired earlier as a general science teacher.

Galloway, who taught commercial subjects in Crosbyton High School year before last, has recently received his master's degree from Howard Payne College. He is 29, married and the father of two pre-school children.

St. John, a graduate of East Texas State College, taught last year at Sumner, near Paris, Tex. He is married and has one child.

Supt. R. T. Smith told the school board members Monday night that employment of Galloway leaves him needing only a fifth grade teacher to complete the faculty.

Ray Bishop, a member of the high school faculty, was re-employed by the board to drive the oil field school bus, completing the bus driver list for the coming term. (Ed. Note: The name of Mrs. Basil Puckett was inadvertently omitted as one of the bus drivers re-employed in last week's story on a special school board meeting.)

In other action concerning personnel, the board voted to pay Mrs. Max Gordon, school health nurse, $1,679 during the coming term, which is the Post schools' half of the nurse's salary under the state schedule. The board's action provides that the nurse spend two days a week in the Post schools.

Paving project completed here

C&C Asphalt Paving Company has completed a 3 1/2 - block city street paving and seal coating project costing $31,939.36.

The new paving program, consisting of 20 1/2 blocks, cost $48,144.48, with the property owners paying $41,597.05 and the city paying $6,517.43.

Seal coating of 19 blocks of old paving was done at a cost of $3,824.88.

County budget—

(Continued From Front Page) Judge Walker said the budget is not yet completed, but estimated it will total approximately $204,000 as compared to about $203,000 for the current year.

Some items will be increased and some lowered, the judge said, but the total planned expenditure will be practically the same.

CAR, COW COLLIDE
R. M. Young of Post reported to Sheriff Carl Rains today that his car hit a cow on US-380 west of Tahoka about midnight last night. Young wasn't injured. The impact crumpled the right front fender of the car.

Sheriff reports unusually quiet rodeo activities

From a law enforcement standpoint, last weekend's junior rodeo was one of the quietest ever held here. Sheriff Carl Rains said this week.

There was only one bad traffic accident, and it occurred about two hours before the first night's performance got under way when Buddy Moreland, 13, was seriously injured in a motor scooter-car collision while en route to the rodeo grounds.

The sheriff said there were very few cases of drunkenness, and that as far as he knew only one fight had to be broken up at the rodeo grounds, that coming on the final night, with no charges filed against either fighter.

The sheriff also said that no thefts were reported at the rodeo grounds while the four-night show was in progress.

"At some of the previous rodeos," he said, "we've had a number of cases of theft of equipment and rigging belonging to the performers. This year, I warned them to keep a close eye on their possessions, and I don't believe there was a single loss from theft."

Assisting the sheriff and Deputy J. W. (Red) Floyd during the rodeo were special deputies Bill Hall and Vernon Lobban. The police radio station at the courthouse was named by Byron Haynie during the four nights of the rodeo.

On Aug. 22, 1945, the Japanese garrison at Mili Atoll, Marshall Islands, surrendered aboard the Navy's USS Levy.

New methods listed for control of Johnsongrass

COLLEGE STATION — Johnsongrass is an aggressive perennial which infests over five million acres of cropland in Texas. It is difficult to control with normal cultivation methods and is quite a "pain-in-the-neck" to many farmers.

Farmers long have used grazing, mowing, tillage, cultivation, rotary weeding and hoeing for the mass control of Johnsongrass. Some have used, but usually have not accepted, pre-emergence chemical treatments, lateral application of chemicals and flaming for this purpose. These methods are effective for reducing stands when they are used persistently.

But the newest, cheapest and most effective method for Johnsongrass control is spot-spraying. This practice was introduced by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in 1954 and was immediately popular as a supplement to cultural practices, particularly for scattered infestations in cotton.

Spot-spraying was used on 89,491 acres of infested cotton land in 133 Texas counties in 1956. Subsequent progress by the Texas Station has increased the efficiency of the practice and extended its use.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service recently released a bulletin entitled "Spot-spraying Johnsongrass". The author is H. E. Rea, associate professor, Department of Agronomy, Texas A&M College.

This 14-page publication is loaded with information on Johnsongrass, effect of farming practices, chemicals for spot-spraying, spot-sprayers and cost of spot-spraying.

The bulletin can be very helpful to anyone confronted with Johnsongrass. It can be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for Bulletin 902.

C. of C. takes no action on protest outside laundries

A petition protesting out-of-town laundry competition was read at last week's Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting, but the directors' answer was that there was nothing the board could do about it.

In other action, the directors agreed to lend their support to the Golden Age Club after hearing an appeal from Mrs. G. D. Ellis, president of the club.

The directors also voted a $75 contribution to the Post Volunteer Fire Department, and asked that members of the civic activities committee meet with directors at the next board meeting to discuss Christmas decorations.

Johnny Hopkins, acting Chamber manager, was authorized to hire an office secretary to replace Miss Kay Gene Jones, who will return to school in September.

The acting manager reported that July expenses totaled $937.98 and that August income is anticipated at $451. He said three member firms have cut their Chamber dues.

Directors present at the meeting were Lee Ward, Paul Jones, Harold Lucas, Jess Michael and Keith Kemp.

PS in... SPORTS

For the second year in a row, a team in this area has been "put on the spot" at the high school coaches' school. This time it's Abernathy; last year it was Lockney.

A poll of coaches at the annual clinic had Abernathy right up at the top among the teams favored as contenders for the state AA championship. We knew they hadn't been hit too heavy by graduation, but had no idea that Coach Royal James' grid-ers were considered good enough to be in contention for the state title.

We'll admit, however, that we were one of those who felt the same way about Lockney last year after they were picked as the "team to beat" for the AA marbles. Some figured Lockney wouldn't win its own district championship, and we confess to being one of those. But they did, and slipped by Dimmitt in the bi-district playoff before losing to Seymour.

Neither Abernathy nor Lockney, thank goodness, are in Post's district for the upcoming season. But the four teams that are in our district — Spur, Tahoka, Floydada and Slaton — probably all look like championship contenders to a Post Antelope team that has only one way to go — up.

We haven't seen Coach Frank Krhut yet to find out if he had any luck booking a game at the coaching school for the Antelopes' open date. We hope he did, since three home games isn't a very attractive grid menu for the hometown fans this season.

We checked The Sporting News this week to see what Norman Cash was doing after being shipped by the Chicago White Sox to Indianapolis of the American Association. He seems to have clinched a left field berth on the AAA club, with Allie Clark, who had been playing left field before Cash's arrival, being sent to San Antonio.

According to the Indianapolis box scores, Cash isn't setting the woods on fire with his hitting yet, but is playing every day, and his many friends here are confident that he'll come through.

Antelope herds show big gain in Trans-Pecos

AUSTIN — Outlook for a good prong-horned antelope season in the Trans-Pecos area this year is very promising, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

Aerial surveys indicate an exceptional fawn crop. Many ranches over the area have had 100 to 125 per cent reproduction of prong-horn herds, well over recent 50 to 60 per cent reproduction rates. Persons desiring to hunt should immediately send their request for applications to the chief clerk of the commission in Austin.

"Range land is in the best shape in several years," Pierce Uzzell, wildlife biologist for the commission, said. He explained that

7 winners named in Junior Rodeo

Seven championship buckle winners in the 11th annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo were decided Saturday night following the rodeo's final performance.

The championship buckles were awarded by Miss Leslie Nichols, queen contest chairman, to the following:

- Sonny Harrell of Snyder, bareback bronc riding.
- Becky Summerlin of Roby, barrel race.
- Leroy Bollinger of Dimmitt, calf roping.
- Steve Cone of Lubbock, ribbon roping.
- Billy Roberson of Snyder, bull riding.
- Jerry Harlan of Slaton, flag race.
- Ronnie Flenniken of Floydada, kids' pony race.

First and final night crowds were good at this year's rodeo.

SPEAKER

Bobby Morrow, world-famed sprint champion at Abilene Christian College, will be a featured speaker at the 4 p. m. youth rally at Lubbock Christian College on Saturday, Aug. 16. Since winning three gold medals in the Olympic Games in Australia, Morrow has added to his laurels as a dash man and as a speaker.

Post girl scores points in Slaton swim meet

Yvonne Moreland won third in the backstroke for girls 12 and under to score Post's only points in the Slaton Invitational Swim Meet held Saturday.

The Slaton swimming team, paced by high point winners Glenna Payne, Marily McSween and David Cross, won the meet with a total of 280½ points. Lubbock was runner-up with 139½ points. Portales, N. M., finished third with 112 points, followed by Clovis, N. M., with 29. Lubbock Boys Club with 7, and Post with 3.

winter snows and spring rains have improved vegetation which have enabled doe to rear more young.

There should be several trophy bucks also. Uzzell said some well developed horns have been observed. All conditions point to a good season and a better hunt, he added.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

This is the time of the year when snakes begin crawling again. Not all snakes are poisonous, but it is well to watch out for them. Most of the snakes you'll find around the yard probably are grass or garter snakes. In your fishing trips, however, you are likely to encounter poisonous snakes.

In Texas we have four poisonous snakes. Most frequently mentioned is the rattler. There are several different brands of rattlers, and all are dangerous. They don't always warn, either, before they strike.

RATTLERS WILL be found around brush and rock piles, under leaves and around old lumber piles. Frequently they get out into the open and especially during that period of the day when it is not too hot. Watch out for them!

If you spend a great deal of time in snake country it would be a good idea to take along a snake bite kit and know how to use it.

One of the most practical kits is made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. You can buy one at any drug or sporting-goods store. Ask for the Cutter Compak Suction Snake Bite Kit. It's pocket size, only about 3-inches long and 1-inch in diameter. It is tubular in shape and its soft rubber case makes into three suction cups.

THIS IS one item that should be a must in every fisherman's tackle box and in every hunter's pocket.

If you are bitten by a snake, use your kit immediately. Then get to a doctor as quickly as you can. But don't run. Don't take a drink of liquor, either. Remain as calm as possible. Don't do anything that will increase blood circulation.

Contrary to the belief of many, rattlesnake bites are not always fatal. They'll make you sick enough to wish that you could die, but actually the mortality from snake bite, properly treated, is less than 1 per cent. It is only 10-15 per cent without any treatment. So don't get excited. Be calm and treat yourself with your kit — carefully and properly.

NOW, ABOUT some of our other Texas snakes. One of these days, while you are out fishing, you are bound to encounter a water moccasin. There are several varieties of moccasins. Let me warn you here and now — all are dangerous!

Copperheads and coral snakes are the other two poisonous snakes to be found in Texas. There are fewer of them, but they are just as dangerous.

A final word of caution. Don't get smart with snakes. Once in awhile some fellow thinks he knows it all and tries to impress his friends. It's bad business monkeying with snakes. Snakes are not playthings.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject — a word of warning about spiders and scorpions also is in line. They can make you very sick. Smash them every time you get a chance.

It is well to remember that most snake bite kits, such as the Cutter, may be used to counteract bee stings, spider and insect bites also. To the Whitehouse Boat Co. of Fort Worth goes the honor of producing the first fiberglass boat made especially for fishermen.

And Jack Ziller of the Billy Disch Marine Service in Austin had the distinct pleasure of being the first to launch one in the Highland Lakes area of Central Texas. Jack slid a blue and white beauty off a Little Dude trailer onto the smooth surface of Lake Travis the other day and gave it a good workout. It planed easily with a 5½ hp Buccaneer motor.

THE 14-FOOT "scout" has a 59-inch beam and weighs just under 200 pounds. It has built-in, air-tank floatation and will safely handle motors up to 40-hp.

Whitehouse also makes a 13-foot "Ranger" for fishermen. It is the same width as the "Scout" but weighs about 25 pounds lighter. Its hp capacity is 15.

These two models bring Whitehouse's 1958 line of boats to nine different kinds. With nine colors to choose from, the boating enthusiast now has 81 choices. Who said boats weren't competing with automobiles?

PRICES RANGE from the little Ranger at slightly less than $300 to the Guletta, a 21-foot inboard job with a 430 hp motor, at $7,500. That's getting up into the automobile class too, eh?

Anyway, if you don't think these Texans are in the boating business, just drop in for a look-see at their huge factory just south of Fort Worth. The growth of this company has been phenomenal — and they still are growing. Now that they have entered the fishing-boat field their growth is sure to expand even more rapidly.

Red Raiders to play four games at home

LUBBOCK — Two Southwest Conference teams and a pair of Border Conference rivals make up Texas Tech's home football schedule this fall.

In Jones Stadium, Coach DeWitt Weaver's Red Raiders will meet West Texas State Sept. 27, Baylor Oct. 18, Arizona Nov. 8, and Arkansas Nov. 22. All except the opener with West Texas State will be played at 2 p. m. The Buffalo engagement is set for 8 p. m.

Special days have been designated for the games with Baylor (Dads' Day), Arizona (Band Day), and Arkansas (Homecoming). The 1958 schedule will mark the first time since 1949 for Tech to meet a Southwest Conference opponent at Homecoming.

To make a total of five Southwest Conference opponents — most in history — on the Red Raider schedule, Texas Tech will also play Texas A&M in Dallas Sept. 20, University of Texas in Austin Oct. 4, and Texas Christian in Fort Worth Oct. 11, all at night. The Red Raiders will meet five SWC opponents next year, also, before launching official title play in 1960.

A more experienced team than last year's will face the schedule, toughest in Tech history. Compared with only nine returning lettermen in '57, a 2-8 season, Tech will sport 20 returnees this fall besides two letter winners from previous seasons.

All of Tech's statistical leaders of last year return, including half-

VAST ACREAGE IN TEXAS

Fall seeding best for alfalfa, says A&M College pasture specialist

COLLEGE STATION — Alfalfa is now grown on approximately a third of a million acres in Texas. Hay and seed are the most important products harvested from this acreage, but according to E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, alfalfa is also an excellent pasture crop; is one of the best soil improvement crops; is used for dehydration and its flowers provide bees with the pollen for making honey.

Trew believes that many other farmers could use alfalfa in their farming plans especially in areas where the crop is adapted. The perennial legume does best on fertile, well-drained soils of medium texture and which are neutral to alkaline. It is being grown, points out Trew, on some acid and sandy soils in east Texas but heavy applications of lime and fertilizer are required. A soil test is recommended by the specialist as the first step in establishing alfalfa.

The most widely grown and adapted are the "Common" varieties —Southwestern and Barstow. They are best, says Trew, for all of Texas except that part of the State south of a line running from Houston westward through San Antonio. Hairy Peruvian, Indian or African varieties are recommended for the area south of the line. Ranger and Buffalo are grown in the Rolling and High Plains areas for seed production but have no advantage over the "Common" varieties for forage production.

Fall is the best time for seeding, says Trew, mainly because the weed problem is much easier to handle and moisture and temperature are usually more favorable. The seedbed should be well-prepared, firm and moist, or the seed, adds Trew, may be planted in dead stubble in areas where wind or blowing sand is likely to damage the seedlings. From 15-20 pounds of good seed should be used per acre if it is drilled in, while from 2 to 3 pounds should be planted per acre when the alfalfa is planted in 36 to 42 inch rows.

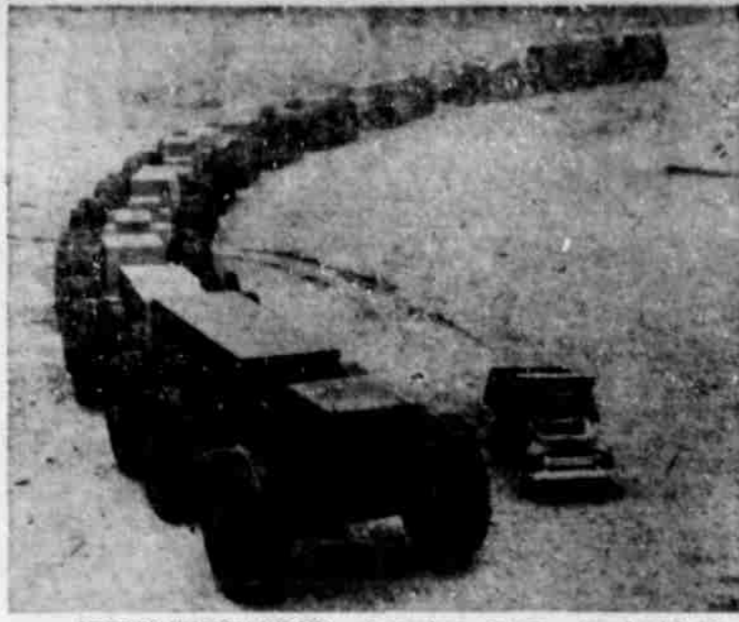

Planting seed should be certified and inoculated just prior to planting. Too, says Trew, alfalfa needs plenty of phosphorus and potash and an adequate amount of calcium and a soil test is best for making this determination.

Its size is illustrated by the dump truck model alongside. The gigantic but nimble train could conceivably be operating within a year. Electric motors would be geared directly to all 52 of the train's 10-foot-high wheels, and a special steering arrangement would insure that the last car would follow in the tracks made by the first one.

Cattle movement braked following sharp breaks

By TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH — The 12 major livestock markets across the nation registered some 25,000 fewer salable cattle and calves on Monday than on the same day last week. This amounted to a better than 20 per cent slash in the cattle supply compared with a week earlier. The result was that heavy pressures on prices were eased, and at most markets the trade showed some strength.

The margin of recovery from the previous week's lows was generally narrow but there was a definite reversal in the downturn due to the slackened receipts. The trade at Fort Worth generally took the view that if stockmen and farmers continue to space their shipments through the week, that serious price impairments such as were suffered in the past two weeks can be avoided.

At Fort Worth most classes of cattle and calves were active and steady to stronger, with instances 25 to 50 cents higher through the list. In a few cases advances were even longer. Fed steers were in small supply and sold in the slowest trade of any class and at about steady prices.

Comparative prices included good and choice steers and yearlings at $22 to $22.50 and common and medium offerings from $18 to $22. Fat cows sold from $17 to $19.50 and canners and cutters cashed at $11 to $17. Bulls cashed at $17 to $21.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $22.50 to $35.50, a few to $26. Common and medium sorts sold from $17 to $22. Stocker steer calves bulked at $25 to $31, and heifer calves sold from $27.75 down. Stocker yearlings sold from $26 down and feeder cattle sold from $20 to $23.50.

Hogs Open 25 Cents Lower, Top $23.50, Sows $21.50.

Butcher hogs were steady to 25 cents lower on Monday at Fort Worth as choice hogs topped at $23.50. The bulk of the shipments were mixed as to grades and weights, and medium to good butchers cashed at $22 to $23.25. Sows cashed at $18 to $19 on heavyweights, and up to $21.50 on light weight sows. Stags sold from $12 to $15. Some feeder hogs sold from $22 down. Light pigs were quoted well above that range.

Sheep and Lambs Steady, Quality Considered.

Good slaughter lambs cashed at $20 to $21 at Fort Worth Monday and all classes of sheep and lambs cleared at steady prices, quality considered. Cull to medium lambs cashed at $14 to $20. Stocker and feeder lambs bulked at $19 to $20.25, some bucks at $16 to $17.

Good yearling muttons sold from $17 to $18 and cull to medium yearlings sold from $12 to $16. Slaugh-

Show time for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings is set for 8 p. m., and following the rodeo each evening a western dance will be held in the City Hall auditorium. KFLD Ranch Hands will play for the dance.

"Was I surprised when the attendant suggested he check the tires, including the spare! Then the battery and radiator. I figured he must have me mixed up with someone important. Wife of the mayor, maybe?

An International Harvester field demonstration to show new tractors and equipment will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 23, seven miles north of Snyder on the Clairmont Highway, it has been announced by Dowe H. Mayfield, local IH dealer.

The field demonstration will be for this district and everyone interested is urged to attend. The route to the place of the demonstration will be marked by signs and arrows.

The new line of International Harvester tractors, just off the production line, were shown in Chicago last week.

In addition to six basic power sizes and many different models of Farmall and International tractors, a number of new McCormick farm implements also were shown.

The new line of tractors is in keeping with the trend towards larger and faster operations, both on the farm and in industry. There are six-cylinder engines on the big tractors; advanced styling; increased power; most models; a host of new operating features; and wider selection of gasoline, LPG, distillate, or distillate engines, and new power steering on more models than ever before.

GRAVE IS IN BLANCO CANYON

Indian fighter's memory to be honored during Crosbyton event

CROSBYTON — Sgt. William Max, little known soldier in the 4th Cavalry of Col. William Mackenzie, will be honored in a memorial and dedicatory service during Crosbyton's Jubilee, Sept. 7-10, Jubilee officials announce.

Max was a member of Company K and served with Mackenzie's cavalry during the historic years of the struggle of the U. S. Government to place all Indians on reservations. He lies buried in Blanco Canyon. At the head of the grave stands a weathered sandstone marker, erected presumably, by an army buddy with Sgt. Max' name and the date, Sept. 7, 1874, inscribed. Tradition has it that Max died of typhoid during a campaign against the great Comanche chief, Quannah Parker.

The humble marker will be replaced with a large granite monument presented by the federal government through the Veterans Administration. Following the formal dedication at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 9, the monument will remain for a time on the grounds of the Pioneer Memorial Building. It will then be removed to the grave site where it will stand as a reminder of the high cost of bringing civilization to the staked plains.

Virtually nothing is known of Max' life, but it is assumed that he served with Mackenzie's forces throughout the Indian uprisings which began in this section in 1870. As the cattlemen moved west, forcing the Indians off their traditional lands, the Indians retaliated with raids and scalplings. The raids became so numerous that the government was forced to make a concerted effort to round up the Indians and place them on reservations.

The Crosby County History, "Through the Years" written and compiled by Nellie Witt Spikes and Temple Ann Ellis, recounts the Battle of Mt. Blanco Canyon in which Max served and the Comanches. A plundering band of Comanches had stolen 125 head of cattle from a ranch west of Fort Griffin. Col. Mackenzie, with about 500 infantry and cavalrymen gave chase. At the mouth of the Blanco Canyon, the Comanches stampeded and stole about 50 of the army horses.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

"Oh, what a shame!"

Jimmy had to put on glasses — and he's so young!"

"Yes, Clara, he did. But you know what... Dr. Roberts said that such an eye problem as his couldn't have been corrected 25 years ago.

"Back in those days youngsters with Jimmy's eye problem grew up unable to do well enough in school to make passing grades. Then, children's chances of achieving much in life were very poor.

"Now, thanks to optometric science, Jimmy is able to learn and to adjust himself. We're SO grateful that optometry could provide him an equal opportunity to live a good normal life."

A professional optometric examination might mean the difference in your child's future.

64 Farmers Home Administration loans approved here for $196,645

Approximately 64 loan applications from Garza County farmers were certified during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, by the Farmers Home Administration County Committee of Garza County, county supervisor Joseph E. Box said this week.

Loans approved total $196,645. Credit has been advanced to equip equipment and livestock needed to place family-type farms on an efficient operating basis, for operating expenses, and family living expenses where needed.

All loan applications must be certified by the Farmers Home Administration County Committee before funds can be advanced. Members of the Garza County committee are Elmer L. Hitt, Rt. 1, Post, Lonnie H. Peel, Post, and Floyd H. Hodges, Star Rt. Post. Hodges is newly appointed this year, succeeding Irby G. Metcalf Jr., whose three-year term expired at the end of the fiscal year.

At a recent committee meeting when the agency's lending policies were reviewed, the chairman, Elmer L. Hitt, pointed out:

1. No loan is made to a farmer who can obtain adequate credit at reasonable rates and terms from other private or cooperative credit institution.

2. Borrowers are expected to finance their loans with other lenders as soon as they are in a position to do so.

He added that the assistance borrowers receive in record keeping, budgeting, and preparing financial statements helps develop their ability to handle and make good use of credit. Also, the equipment, livestock and improved land and buildings farmers acquire through Farmers Home Administration loans improve their position when they apply for private credit.

SCS technicians will give tips on irrigation methods

Conservation irrigation, the use of soils and irrigation water in a way that will insure high production without the waste or either, is each year becoming increasingly more important. Upward trends in population are increasing production needs and will require the most careful use of soil and water resources.

Irrigation, whether it is sprinkler or surface, has rarely been as efficient as it should be, say Soil Conservation Service technicians.

New soil bank procedures are being studied

Farmers have until Sept. 26 to file a request with their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for a maximum rate for their farm under the 1959 soil bank conservation reserve.

The deadline was announced Monday by L. H. Lloyd, who has charge of the soil bank program in the state ASC office at College Station. County payment rates have not been announced.

Lloyd, along with other state ASC officials, are conducting meetings throughout Texas this week to train county ASC personnel on handling the 1959 program.

Lloyd emphasized that under present legislation there will be no acreage reserve program of the soil bank in 1959. He urged farmers to become familiar with the conservation reserve.

The conservation reserve covers all cash crops, including grain sorghums, and contracts must be signed for a minimum of five years. Contracts can cover a 10-year period.

Only allotted crops, such as cotton and wheat, were covered under the acreage reserve, contracts for which were signed only on a one-year basis.

After a maximum farm rate payment is determined, farmers will have until Oct. 17 to apply for a conservation reserve contract, Lloyd said.

Disaster feeding program planned for civil defense

AUSTIN — Local civil defense personnel will participate in a disaster feeding program formulated by the Texas Education Agency, it was announced by William L. McGill, state defense coordinator.

Fact sheets on the feeding will be distributed to approximately 3,000 Texas schools taking part in the federal-state school lunch program. During the school year these lunchrooms daily feed more than 500,000 students.

In time of wartime emergency, the feeding will be under the direction of civil defense personnel, McGill said. Use of the building's lunchrooms will be cleared with the local board of education or school superintendent.

Under the TEA program, lunchroom staffs will assist civil defense workers in the operation. If a particular lunchroom is not being used for emergency feeding, the trained staff will report to the nearest operating center as volunteers.

In the case of a natural disaster which would necessitate activating a mass feeding center, the American Red Cross will be in charge.

Charles M. Hicks, chief consultant of the school lunch service of the Texas Education Agency, is urging lunchroom staffs to become acquainted with the local civil defense director and the Red Cross disaster chairman.

The fact sheet, which is to be posted in school kitchens, will bear the names of civil defense and Red Cross officials and lunchroom staff members who are to be contacted when emergency dictates that the program is to be put into effect.

NEW VARIETY IN TEXAS

Israel sweetclover described in new Extension Service leaflet

COLLEGE STATION — Israel sweetclover is a new variety of annual, white sweetclover that is similar to Hubam sweetclover in general appearance, but grows taller, has larger stems and leaves and takes approximately 60 days longer to mature.

This new variety, seeded in the fall in South Texas, will continue growth until early August, thus providing a good legume for pasture, silage or green manure during most of the summer. The rate of growth during winter and early spring is less than for Hubam or Fioranna sweetclover, but Israel continues to grow for about 60 days after the other annual varieties have matured.

Israel may reach a height of seven to nine feet in row plantings by the end of the season. It is indeterminate in growth habit, which results in both mature and green seed on the same plant. Winter temperatures of 18 degrees F. caused considerable leaf damage on Israel planted in late October, but there was little or no loss of stand.

This variety may be used for soil improvement, pasture or silage. The forage yield during the spring is somewhat less than for Florida or Hubam, but, with a longer growing season, its total production exceeds that of other varieties. With adequate soil fertility and moisture, yields as high as nine tons per acre of air-dry forage have been obtained. The large leaves and stems of Israel are green and succulent for a large portion of the growing season, making it ideally suited for grazing or silage production.

Seed of Israel may be harvested by direct combining. Harvesting should start when early seed begin to shatter and the late seed are still green.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has released a leaflet entitled "Israel Sweetclover". It is full of information on this new variety. The leaflet may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-399.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

Whether or not this observation is true, it would seem that many of the so-called "discount" stores operating in the nation believe in this premise.

Senator Proxmire, with Senator Hubert Humphrey and William Proxmire have introduced a bill which would set up a federal system of fair trade competition.

Senator Proxmire, with Senator Hubert Humphrey and William Proxmire have introduced a bill which would make it illegal for any merchant to sell at less than his delivered cost...

In addition, unbridled vicious competition which seeks only to bankrupt a competitor can only end in victory for the heavily financed aggressor.

And while seemingly, the consumer benefits by the lower prices such ruthless warfare brings about, in the long run the consumer loses.

Because when one heavily financed giant is able to force to the wall all its competition, there is no restraint on the prices the newly-created monopoly can and will charge.

In fact, prices are then loaded up to make up losses incurred while killing competition.

Thus, there is little question that it is proper for Congress to make sure that there is some measure of decency in the market place.

Obviously, a nation that sits by and permits a few heavily financed operations take over all commerce eventually offer its citizens no more than Russia offers its unfortunate citizens.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY EPLEY and daughter of Abilene were weekend guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jesse. They visited other friends and relatives here also.

VISITS GRANDPARENTS

Donna Carol Dye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dye, returned home last Wednesday after several days' visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Byrd and family in Clairemont.

Texas has 182,932 oil wells in 1957.

ALMOST ONE MILLION 4-H CLUB MEMBERS are aiming for safer living on highways and farms, in homes and communities. Their efforts are focused on the national 4-H Safety program directed by the Cooperative Extension Service and arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Farm boys and girls enrolled in the program—and their city cousins as well—can take their share of credit for helping to decrease traffic deaths last year. Proof that they're on the job is the record high enrollment reached in 1957 when 815,000 club members between the ages of 10 and 21 took part in some form of safety activity, according to the National Committee.

And hard work does not go unrewarded. At the national level eight top ranking 4-H'ers will receive $400 college scholarships and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. The state winner also will attend the Congress with all-expenses paid, and it is estimated that nearly 4,000 youngsters will merit the county safety medal. All awards are provided by General Motors which has supported the 4-H Safety program since 1944.

BECAUSE OF INFERIOR QUALITIES

Undesirable wheat varieties to be discounted under support program

COLLEGE STATION — The U. S. Department of Agriculture has named wheat varieties which are undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities and will be discounted 20 cents a bushel in price support rates on the 1959 crop.

Discouraging plantings of the undesirable wheat varieties were included in the price-support program for the first time in 1956.

R. J. Hodges, extension agronomist, says the list includes among the hard red winter class Blue-jacket, Chiefkan, Cimarron, Early Blackhull, Kanking, Kharkof MC 22, New Chief, Pawnee Sel. 33, Prukof, Red Chief, Red-Hull, Red Jacket and Stafford.

Also listed in the soft red winter class is Kan Queen, Kawvale, Nured and Seabreeze. Durum varieties listed are Golden Ball, Peliss and Pentad.

Hodges points out that the list was developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and others. Representatives of crop improvement associations support the program which is aimed at improving the overall quality of U. S. wheat production.

Application of the 20-cents-per-bushel discount to producer support rates will be the same as under the 1958 operation. Because wheat varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples, identification of the variety going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested.

Even though some of the varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium, no protein premiums will apply to the undesirable varieties when 10-a-n rates are determined, said Hodges.

CURRENTLY ON BROADWAY

'The Music Man,' 1958 State Fair attraction to be exact replica

"The Music Man" production to be presented at the Music Hall attraction during the 1958 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4-19, will be an exact replica of the Broadway original.

Currently the hottest musical comedy hit on Broadway, "The Music Man" will have performances nightly during the 16-day State Fair with matinees on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

The national company which will play Dallas after opening Aug. 18 in Los Angeles will star Forrest Tucker and Joan Weldon, both familiar to movie and television fans, in the lead roles of Professor Harold Hill and Miss Marian Paroo.

Meredith Willson wrote the story, music and lyrics for the tale of a fast-talking, likeable confidence man who poses as a musician although he cannot play a note, and who becomes enmeshed romantically with the town librarian. It all takes place in Iowa around 1912. Author-composer Willson called the setting "River City," but it is a thinly disguised Mason City, his own home town.

Prominent in the star-studded cast will be the fabulous "Frisco Four," one of America's foremost barbershop quartets.

Among the song hits in the show are the rousing "Seventy-Six Trombones" and the specialty number about the pool table being installed in the billiard parlor, "Trouble."

Kermit Bloomgarden is producer of "The Music Man," which won the New York Drama Critics'

Award for the season's best musical comedy. The big national production has been staged by Morton Da Costa, who directed the original show. Conductor for the national company will be Michael Pieriere.

Processing of mail orders will begin Monday, Sept. 1, but ticket orders may be sent in at any time to the State Fair Downtown Box Office, 1315 Elm Street, Dallas, and checks should include a twenty-five cent handling charge. Ticket prices are $4.95, $4.40, $3.30, $2.20 and $1.65.

Dimmitt, Tex., Man Reports—

"Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat"

Frank S. Wise, who farms 960 acres near Dimmitt, says: "I know from experience that Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat yields. I figure I'm getting an average of 20 bushels more to the acre by putting down 80 to 100 pounds of Phillips ammonia pre-plant."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Veterans forum . . .

Q. If I go back into service will I be covered by the free $10,000 indemnity, as was the case three years ago when I was in the armed forces? I am currently holding a GI term insurance policy and am wondering if I should drop it.

A. Free insurance coverage for men in the armed forces came to an end in January, 1957. You will not be covered by any free indemnity, if you re-enter military service. Do not drop your GI term insurance in the belief you will be covered by free insurance.

Q. I plan to attend school this fall, under the Korean GI Bill. Who pays the school tuition bills and other fees — the VA or the veteran?

A. You, the veteran. You will receive an allowance each month from the VA. VA will not pay for tuition and fees separately to the school. With the help of the allowance, you must meet all your own training expenses.

Q. I am a peacetime veteran receiving compensation for a service-aggravated disability which now needs treatment. Am I eligible for outpatient medical treatment from the VA?

A. Yes, as long as the disability for which you are receiving compensation is service-connected and requires treatment, you would be eligible. For authorization of treatment apply to any VA office.

Q. I am negotiating with a lender for a GI home loan. How can

I be sure that real estate taxes which have been estimated for me are accurate? If the estimates turn out to be too low I might have difficulty making my payments on the higher taxes.

A. Reputable lenders and builders will of course make every effort to see that tax estimates furnished are reasonably accurate. Where exact amounts of real estate taxes and assessments are not available, accurate estimates may be obtained by checking with local taxing authorities or by comparing nearby properties.

Harold Lucas says "IT'S A FACT"

The OSTRICH DOES NOT BURY ITS HEAD TO HIDE.

Don't hide from the every minute need of insurance. Fire, accident, burglary... every hazard that may descend upon you at any hour of the day, can be covered by insurance. Protect what you have!

And We Can Prove It!

An Ostrich Does Not Bury Its Head in the Sand!

An African explorer states that the ostrich does sometimes thrust its head in the sand, but not for the purpose of hiding, but because it is seeking for water, which it frequently finds beneath the sand of the desert. 1—"Popular Fallacies"—A. ## WHILE SHE READS THE NEWS... YOU CAN BET...

She reads the Ads

According to the U. S. Bureau of Advertising, ADVERTISING ranks first with women, over all other newspaper content, for interest and readership! Women actually read ads in preference to anything else in the newspaper. (For that matter, ads rank third with men for readership!) And reading the newspaper is a favorite habit with American women.

So, if you have a product to sell—display it in an ad in your local newspaper. If it's for the home, write it to the housewife's point of view. For, more than anyone else, she'll read it. And, more than anyone else, she's the one who does the buying for the family!

Mrs. Housewife is your NUMBER 1 Prospective Customer... and she LIKES to read newspaper ads.
