No injuries, minor damage in worst windstorm in six years

Tornado funnel sends hundreds into cellars

Post escaped Monday night from its worst windstorm in six years with no injuries and relatively minor property damage after a tornado funnel which apparently did not hit ground was sighted from the city to the north and sent hundreds crowding into storm cellars. The ugly thunderheads, filled with wind and large hail, hung low to the north for two hours before moving down upon the town from the northeast shortly before 9 p. m. with sudden buffeting winds variously estimated up to 70 miles an hour, or better. Whether the windstorm which struck Post was a twister or just hard straight wind has been a matter of argument since. Most seem to think it was only straight wind, although it did have its twisting aspects. But several reported hear-

FARM HOUSE HARD HIT BY STORM

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Edwards, off the Spur Road, northeast of Post, was virtually wrecked by Monday night's windstorm. This is a view of the rear of the farm house, showing how the bedroom wall and interior was demolished. The roof and front porch were also blown off. The Edwards couple and their two young daughters were in a neighbor's storm cellar when the wind hit.—(Staff Photo.)

HEADS LIONS

Robert E. Meisch, band director in the Post schools, will be installed as president of the Post Lions Club at the club's first meeting in July. Meisch will succeed Travis Thomas as Lion Club president.

New pastor due in Post today

The Rev. Oscar G. Bruce of Haskell is to arrive here today as new pastor of the First Methodist Church, succeeding the Rev. Eugene Matthews. Rev. Matthews, who has been assigned to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Amarillo, has served here for three years. Rev. Bruce and wife have three children—two sons who are attending McMurry College in Abilene and a daughter, who will be entering college for the first time in September. Rev. Bruce was pastor of Falls before being assigned to Haskell. Rev. Matthews and family have moved to Earth, in Lamb county. Their children are Michael, Larry, Rory and Marta.

Six are indicted by grand jurors

A 19th District Court grand jury returned six indictments and four arrests and passed six other resolutions in an all-day session here today. Two of the indictments were for burglary, one for felony theft and one for driving while intoxicated, and three for assault on a peace officer. Bruce McDougle and Doyle Williams were indicted on a charge of burglarizing the Parrish Grocery & Market May 15. Pleaded guilty before District Judge Trust Smith today afternoon and each was

Rigid dog ordinance passes city council

The Post city council Monday night passed a dog ordinance that, if enforced, will take care of the city's stray dog problem, which for several months has plagued townpeople, city officials and law enforcement officers. The new ordinance, adopted by the city council on its first reading Monday night, leaves few, if any, loopholes in a move to rid the city of the stray dog problem. The ordinance, which appears in its entirety on page 3 of this issue of The Dispatch, provides for anti-rabies vaccination of dogs, dog licensing, and control by the dog's owner. It provides heavy penalties for violation of the ordinance and also provides for the operation of a city dog pound.

Also discussed at the meeting was Fire Marshal Ralph Cockrell's request that a number of old houses and other buildings be condemned by the city as fire hazards. City Attorney Carlton P. Webb said an ordinance would be necessary to force condemnation of these buildings. He was instructed by the council to start working toward drawing up of such an ordinance. The council, at the Post Volunteer Fire Department's request, considered defraying of expenses of three firemen to the Firemen's School at Texas A&M College. Shytle said that in the past this expense, amounting to about $420, had been borne by the city and the Chamber of Commerce. This year, he said, he would approach the county to ask that they help defray the expenses on a 50-50 basis and not ask the Chamber of Commerce for any help.

Average attendance in Post schools up

Average daily attendance in the Post Public Schools during the 1960-61 school year was 1,253, Supt. R. T. Smith announced yesterday. This is an increase of 60 in average daily attendance over the school year of 1959-60, Supt. Smith said. The average daily attendance is up enough to qualify the Post schools for two additional teachers, if needed, the superintendent said.

While Monday night's storm was the worst for our community in six years, sire-wise it wasn't much of a storm as compared to what many other West Texas towns and cities have been receiving lately. We admit when the wind "puffed" across our home about 9 p. m. we made our first trip ever into a storm cellar, spending ten minutes in Gordon Corbell's cellar next door.

It's not how damaging the storm was. It's what it could have been that makes one wonder. Had the heavy hail come with those high winds the damage would have been tremendous. And if that was a "wrong way twister" going over—it was headed southwest instead of northeast, the direction it is about 85 per cent customary for twisters to travel—it could have been a whole lot worse if it had "let down" on the town.

We're one of those who thinks it was only hard winds, but it did have some twist. For example, it twisted a basketball goal set in concrete, in David Newby's backyard. County Agent Lewis Herron reports that the good rains which accompanied the storm, although very spotty, now gives most cotton areas of the county enough moisture to plant. The farmers are going to be mighty busy for a while, first with the cotton and then planting maize. Both the Grassburr and Barnum (See POSTINGS, page 5)

DWI guilty plea brings one year

Probably the stiffest penalty ever handed down here on a driving while intoxicated charge was assessed R. W. Musick, about 30, of Taboka in county court yesterday. Musick, who was said to have had three subsequent convictions on DWI charges, was sentenced to one year in jail by County Judge J. E. Parker. Heretofore, DWI sentences have ranged from three to 30 days in jail. Musick's plea of guilty to the DWI charge followed an automobile collision Friday near the Parrish Grocery & Market.

Wednesday night rain measures .15 of inch

Wednesday night's rainfall amounted to .15 of an inch, County Agent Lewis C. Herron's rain gauge showed this morning. The .15 of an inch brought the 1961 total to date to 6.17 inches, still below normal for this time of year.

HARDEST HIT IN Post itself

The wind blew the roof off the house with part of it slamming into the home of Mrs. Elmer Pettigrew next door at 912 West Eleventh. Mrs. Pettigrew had gone for a ride and was not in the city when the storm hit but returned shortly afterwards. Five persons were in the Crowley home when the roof blew away. They were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crowley, a son, Lonnie, 18, a married daughter, Mrs. Patricia Williams, and her son, Aubrey Williams Jr., 21 months. Crowley said he heard a roar and told everybody to get under the table. The lights went off and then the roof, according to Lonnie. Some of the 2 by 4s from the blown off roof pierced the walls of Mrs. Pettigrew's home next door and one was driven through the foundation. A large hole was smashed into the east side of the Pettigrew house by the roof.

Most of the damage here came to plate glass windows in the business district, roof damages to sheds and homes, blown down or twisted TV antennas, blown down sections of fences, and many broken tree limbs. RADIO STATION KUKO, authorized for normal daytime only operation, stayed on the air when the storm threatened near closing time and kept people informed here of all storm news as received.

The station received more than 100 phone calls on damage and such and put about half of them on the air between musical recordings before signing off about 11:30 p. m. Two front porch roofs on residences in the 600 block on West Third street were broken off and dropped on the porch floors.

Plate glass windows were broken out at Piggly Wiggly, Caprock Chevrolet, Garza Auto Parts, Eddie Shaw Upholstering, Western Auto, R. J. Furniture, and Mac's Drive-In. Between $300 and $400 worth of damage was done by the wind to the marquee of the Tower Theatre. ONE OF THE most unusual storm mishaps wasn't discovered until the next morning when crude oil was found running down some of the city's gutters by a Shell oil man on his way to work.

Tracing the source of the trouble, Brown Brothers, Et Al found that a vent pipe had been blown down off one of the oil heaters behind the Westgate Terrace addition in the northwest corner of the city. The vent pipe hit a valve and caused the heater to fill up with oil. When the heater was full the oil started running out the vent. E. R. (Buster) Moreland, who had an 18-man Brown Brothers crew out trying to clean the oil out of the street gutters, estimated about 18 barrels of crude oil had washed down the street on top of the flowing water from the rains which fell during the storm.

The oil was caught at Judy's Cafe on South Broadway. As much of the oil as possible was gathered up by pump trucks. Then truckloads of sand were poured onto the gutters to soak up the oil. The crew went back and (See WINDSTORM, page 5)

Brownfield and Taboka law enforcement officers, receiving an early report that "Post had been blown off the map", promptly sent help after Monday night's storm. Two deputy sheriffs, two city policemen and the fire chief and two firemen came from Brownfield, the latter bring disaster equipment with them. Two city policemen from Taboka were also on hand to help. Garza County Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr. said that on behalf of the citizens of Post, he wishes to express his thanks to the Brownfield and Taboka officers for their proffered assistance.

The sheriff's department, state highway patrol, and members of the highway department stood guard around the city during the storm on the lookout for twisters. All were in radio-equipped cars or trucks and information was relayed quickly into the sheriff's office. Dillard Morris brought back a hatful of hail as large as hen's eggs from a point eight miles northeast of Post by the river on the Spur road.

J. E. Birdwell, Garza rancher who lives seven miles east of Post on the Clairmont highway, reported winds of 70 to 90 miles per hour when the storm struck that area. Hail between golf ball and baseball size, knocked out all the windows on the north side of the house and after the storm was over he and his wife discovered that slivers of broken window glass had been driven into the south walls of the north rooms. New deep test in 3-way field

Continental Oil Company will drill its second deep test in the Three Way field, four miles west and one and one-half miles north of Post. Gordon Corbell, production superintendent for Continental, told The Dispatch yesterday that rigging up is now under way for an 8,500 foot Strawn test to be known as the L. G. Thuest No. 6. It is located 1720 feet from the south line and 1067 feet from the west line of Section 3. The only other Strawn producer in the field is the L. G. Thuest No. 5, which is producing approximately 100 barrels daily. Other production in the field is from the Glorietta and San Andres.

JUNIOR RODEO MEETING

The Post Junior Rodeo Association will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the district courtroom to make further plans for this year's Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo the last week in July. All senior and junior directors are urged to attend.

All 57 signatures certified

Second liquor petition 'in'

After having one petition turned down in May, the "dry" forces of Precinct 3 have come back stronger in their efforts to dry up the precinct, which has been wet since April of 1960.

County Clerk Carl Cederholm last Friday certified all 57 signatures on a petition asking that a local option liquor election be called in the precinct. The certified petition will be submitted to the Garza County commissioners' court when it opens its June session Monday.

The law requires that if an election is called, it be called not sooner than 20 days and not later than 30 days after the petition is approved by the commissioners' court. That would mean an early July election.

Forty signatures, based on the number of precinct voters casting ballots in the governor's race in the last general election, were required on the petition.

The petition was issued May 23 and it was back in the clerk's office May 31 bearing the required 40 signatures and 17 more for good measure.

This time, 11 affidavits were attached by voters over 65, who are not required to pay a poll tax in counties of less than 10,000 population.

The oversight of attaching these affidavits to the first petition resulted in its failure. That petition bore 43 signatures, but only 27 of the 43 were certified by the county clerk.

The petition certified Friday was issued upon the application of 18 qualified voters. Ten signatures are all that are required in taking out such a petition. The one issued earlier in May — the one that failed of certification — bore 12 signatures on the application petition.

The new petition, as did the first one, calls for an election on: "For the sale of all alcoholic beverages."

"Against the sale of all alcoholic beverages."

Window peeper is arrested, fined

Wayland Hood, 28, paid fine and costs of $29.65 in Justice of the Peace court last Friday after pleading guilty to a charge of window peeping. Hood was arrested by Deputy City Marshal Sam Price after Jackie Hays called officers and told them he recognized Hood as a man he had seen peeping into a window at the Hays home at 114 East Sixth Street. Others booked in Justice of the Peace court, the offense, date, and amount of fine and costs, where paid, were as follows: M. T. Florence, state of intoxication, June 5; $24.50. Roberto Trevino, failure to stop at stop sign, June 4. Lee Land, speeding, June 4. Modesto Garcia, failure to stop for stop sign, June 4; $16.50. A. Z. Tinoco, state of intoxication, June 4; $29.50. V. R. Gonzales, state of intoxication, June 4; $29.65. J. C. McNeely, drunkenness, June 4; $29.50. (See WINDOW PEEPER, page 5)

He's asked us... let's tell him

The tax fiasco down at the state capital in Austin is being prolonged into the summer. Plain facts are Texas today is broke. In fact we've been broke for quite a spell.

Now we're heading into a special session to solve what the lawmakers couldn't do in five months of a regular session—pass a tax bill.

Governor Price Daniel in a remarkable and ringing declaration at a press conference last week called for a mandate from the people on the sales tax issue.

He indicated he was at long last ready to back down — but only if the people insisted on it.

Straight thinking legislator, Wesley Roberts, proposed giving the people their say at the spring election. That was pigeon-holed.

Governor Daniel, unable to find a solution himself, or permit one the legislature favors, is ready to hand the hot potato to the people.

He has asked us. So let's tell him. The state is in such a deep financial hole the sales tax is the only one with a big enough bite to put us back on a paying basis again.

Everybody knows this — even Governor Daniel.

The problem though is to find another name for the sales tax so Governor Daniel won't have to go down in Texas history as the governor who gave us the sales tax.

All right, we can solve that.

Let's run a tax naming contest for the sales tax. We bet the politicians could get a whole raft of pretty names for it—and get off the big hook.

But it's time to cut out the foolishness—yep, long past time. Why not send Governor Daniel off on a vacation tour of Timbuctoo this summer when the legislature reconvenes? Our lawmakers are elected to make the laws. Let's let them.

We'd be happy to try our hand at raising funds for the governor's Timbuctoo jaunt—if that will help—or sponsor a "Name the Sales Tax Contest."

In the meantime, remember, he's asked for your opinion. Give it to him. Write him a letter. Tell him what you think.—JC.

Brother Gene goes to Amarillo

The Rev. Eugene Matthews—Brother Gene as he was known to a host of friends both inside and outside his church—left Post today for a new and more challenging assignment after three busy years as pastor of the First Methodist Church here.

He goes to the Trinity Methodist Church in Amarillo which is almost three times as large in membership, with 1,200 members, as the local church. We assume that gives it about three times the number of problems for its pastor. His new Amarillo church has a church plant worth $750,000.

How does one measure a pastor's accomplishments?

If membership is a measuring stick, Brother Gene did right well in his three-year ministry here. The membership of the First Methodist Church showed a net gain of approximately 100 members, or about a 30 per cent increase in those three years. The church today has 432 members.

If church facilities expansion is a measuring stick, it can be said that the Methodists' dream and need of a new educational building was transformed into reality in that three years with lots of time to spare.

These prove only that Brother Gene had the ability to attract and lead.

Brother Gene entered into community life and affairs with real Christian zeal and vigor. He spoke out staunchly for what he believed to be right. He worked tirelessly and enthusiastically both inside and outside his church for practical progress in this community.

And there, too, he scored major gains.

He has that wonderful gift for "getting close" to all kinds of people by taking a real personal interest in them. Brother Gene has a host of friends all over town who are going to miss his cheerful friendliness and his eagerness and forthright courage to get on with the Lord's business wherever he finds it.

His three years with us has made not only his own church community, but the town itself, a better place in which to live.—JC.

Little Leagues not Big Leagues

The recent death of the diamond of a nine-year-old Little Leaguer from a pitched ball that struck him over the heart, struck a tragic blow also at every one of the 3,400 Little Leagues around the world and the million youngsters playing in them.

But the very fact that this has been the first fatality we have heard of in all the years of Little League play, is in itself a splendid tribute to excellent coaching and effective supervision of this vast adventure in sport and recreation. It would only compound the tragedy if this incident were to deny this carefully supervised play to our youngsters, leaving them to the more perilous alternative of undirected play.

There is one area of Little League play, however as pointed out by Coach Donald R. McNeil in the June Reader's Digest, in which there is serious need of reform. This lies not with the eager young players or the hundreds of public-spirited fathers who donate 10 to 15 hours a week as umpires, coaches and managers, but with all too many Little League parents.

The oldsters, Mr. McNeil charges, are losing sight of the fact—in their demands of professional expertise—that this is a sport designed for children eight to twelve years old. All too many parents, he says, are applying the pressure to win—through their behavior in the stands and in harping on errors and failures after the game—so as to obscure the basic facts of sportsmanship, teamwork and fair play. Mr. McNeil is scathing in his criticism of fathers and mothers who abuse their sons before their teammates, officials and other parents for not playing like professionals.

"My blood still boils," he writes, "as I recall the mother screaming epithets at her eager little boy of ten who unluckily got caught off base for the third out. And the log-horn voiced father who dictated from the stands, by shouts and hand signals, what pitches his boy should make when in trouble out on the mound."

The McNeil article, "Little Leagues Aren't Big Leagues," is most reading for all Little League parents—and uncles and aunts, brothers and sisters, too.—CD

Slaton celebrating birthday

Starting with a chuck wagon barbecue Thursday evening and concluding with a rodeo and dance Saturday night, Post's neighbor to the northwest — the City of Slaton — will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

In between that chuck wagon barbecue and rodeo dance is about as attractive a program of entertainment as any West Texas town ever lined up for such a celebration. It includes a pioneer get-together, ex-students' association banquet, street parade, go-kart races, speaking, monument dedication, and numerous other attractions.

Wouldn't like to lose George

If the proposal to redistrict Texas for Congressional purposes works out, Garza County will "lose" a mighty good congressman, and the congressman will "lose" what we think is a mighty good county.

Under the plan, Rep. George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District would give up the counties of Garza, Gaines, Andrews, Dawson, Martin, Howard, Borden and Dickens.

That would be trimming George's growing South Plains district pretty sharply.

The redistricting would put Garza County in Rep. Omar Bursleson's 17th Congressional District.

Statewide, the redistricting would change a lot of congressman's districts to fit the move of population, and leave some with only two of their present districts.

Redistricting is coming, of course, while the plan proposing the above changes—among others—may not be what we finally come up with.

A big majority of Garza countians would regret seeing the county go out from under the legislative wing of the veteran George Mahon, one of the best-known, best-liked and most influential of U. S. representatives. At the same time, we are sure that George would regret losing Garza County.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

A reader has advised the columnist that we accomplished a purpose intended last week when we suggested that the time might be right for some mothers to rededicate their lives. One lady shed tears when she told us personally that she was going to try to spend more time with her offspring. That's fine! Surrendering children to the custody of baby sitters, and thrusting them off on neighbors, especially in the summertime, is a poor policy for parents. Take the kids along or stay at home with them. Remember—the family that plays together also stays together.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

THROUGH THE courtesy of the First National Bank — "Small Enough to Be Friendly, Large Enough to Serve Your Every Banking Need"—I am now the proud owner of a rain gauge, which, by the way, is the first one I've ever owned.

So, now when the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal gets me out of bed at midnight or later to ask how much it rained, I won't have to offer the lame excuse that I have no rain gauge, and suggest that they call County Agent Lewis Herron and get him out of bed. All I'll have to do is find my robe and shoes, sash out through the mud and rain—if any—check my rain gauge, track mud back into the house, tell the Avalanche-Journal how much it has rained, and then go back to bed. In fact, now that I have one, I don't see how I've managed all these years without a rain gauge.

I WASN'T A Blakley man in the U. S. Senate election, but I voted for him in preference to Republican John G. Tower. And, the way I voted is the reason I have a warm spot in my heart for the Graham community, where 31 votes were cast for Blakley and one vote for Tower. That was probably as lopsided a majority as was given either candidate in any voting box in the state. Incidentally there was only one other county in the state besides Garza where the two candidates finished in a dead heat. That was in Oldham County (Vega is the county seat), where each candidate polled 144 votes.

One of the fellows who works here at The Dispatch office was talking baseball with some Snyder men the other day and they wanted to know why Post claims Detroit first baseman Norm Cash when Justiceburg is his home town. They had our man cornered, but he came out of it with flying colors. "Well," he said, "wait until Cash has a batting slump and we'll give him back to Justiceburg."

BETWEEN 1,000 and 2,000 Lions Club members of District 2T-2 and their wives "roared" around Levelland two days last week at the annual district convention. President of the Levelland Lions Club and official convention host was Monta J. Moore, formerly of Post and still a frequent visitor here on business for the Post Estates.

My friend up the street says there is a lot more begging done on expensive letterheads than with tin cups.

TWO POST PEOPLE, Mrs. John Cook and her brother, Jerry Kotrola, who lives out on Route 1, were more interested than the average sports fan hereabouts in reading about Texan A. J. Foyt winning the 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis on Memorial Day. Mrs. Cook and her brother are cousins of Foyt, whose home is in Houston. Mrs. Cook says they haven't seen their auto racing cousin since he was just a little tyke—about five or six years old—but that they knew he was in the race and followed it in the papers with interest. "Naturally, we're very happy that he was the winner," Mrs. Cook said.

A man was reading his newspaper (The Post Dispatch, more than likely) when his wife interrupted him to exclaim, "Tom, don't you love to watch the sunset?"

Tom didn't even look up from his paper as he growled back, "Why? What is it doing now?"

AND, SPEAKING of newspapers, they're like women. They both have forms; back numbers are not in demand; they always have the last word; they are all worth looking over; they have a good deal of influence; you can't believe all they say; there's a small demand for the bold-faced type, and every man should have one of his own and not borrow his neighbor's.

COWS AND GOVERNMENT
What do cows have to do with government? Just this:

A peasant had six cows and the government took all of them from him. That's COMMUNISM.

A peasant had six cows and the government took three of them. That's SOCIALISM.

A peasant had six cows and the government let him keep all six of them and let him feed and otherwise care for them, but took all of the milk and all of the calves. That's FASCISM.

A peasant had six cows and the government let him keep all six of them, but made him pay the personal property tax, sales tax, poll tax, ad valorem tax, excess profits tax, old age pension tax, social security tax, federal tax, state tax, county tax, excise tax, city tax, school tax, luxury tax, income tax, outgo tax, war tax, peace tax, auto license tax, gasoline tax, inheritance tax, carpet tax, dog tax, syntax and various other taxes until the peasant wondered whether or not he would be better off without the cows. That's DEMOCRACY.

Linda Payton and Danny Richardson will compete in electrical demonstration, in which they were the runner-up team in the district contest.

The chartered bus left Lubbock Tuesday morning and was boarded here by the Garza County delegation at 7 a. m. Roundup activities were held Tuesday night and yesterday, with the South Plains delegation scheduled to return today.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	13	9-13
Monday	James	1	22-27
Tuesday	Matthew	19	13-22
Wednesday	Ephesians	6	1-4
Thursday	Psalm	118	19-29
Friday	Luke	1	76-80
Saturday	Philippians	3	12-16

She's frightened. She's seeing the world for the first time through dark glasses.

It's no wonder you and I are frightened. Ever since we were old enough to reason, we have been seeing the world through dark glasses. It's just as Paul said:

"Now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face."
We spend our years wondering why things happen as they do... why hatred flourishes and love withers... why sorrow seems inevitable and joy so rare. Apparently, we were not meant to understand... not here!

Some truths God has revealed to us; these our Churches teach. Other truths God will not reveal until another day; to prepare us for that day our Churches strive.

Until at length we gain that complete vision, we are happiest and strongest when we live faithfully in the truth already revealed. Even with dark glasses a man can see as long as he walks toward the Light.

Week of preaching begins
Overflow crowd at church dedication

An overflow gathering turned out Sunday afternoon for the dedication service of the new First Christian Church with many friends from other local churches on hand for the impressive service, reception, and open house.

The overflow of those unable to find seats in the beautiful 200-capacity sanctuary were seated across the open courtyard in the fellowship hall where the reception was held following the service.

Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, the organist, opened the service with an organ prelude. Following the singing of the hymn, "The Church's One Foundation", Willard Kirkpatrick, church trustee, gave the call to worship and invocation.

A double sextet sang the first of two selections arranged by George Willison. Members of the sextet were Carolyn Walker, Faye Crawford, Carolyn Carlisle, Vicki Wilks, Meredith Newby, Carolyn Matsler, Dee Ann Walker, Gayle Tittle, Cheryl Martin, Linda Gist, Linda McMahon, and Susie Jo Schmidt.

The Rev. J. T. Crawford, vice president of the Post Ministerial Alliance, brought greetings from the other Post churches, and the Rev. Kenneth E. Jones, president of the District 2 Christian Churches of Texas, brought greetings from the district.

Tom Gambin, chairman of the official board of the First Christian Church, gave the offertory prayer and then the double sextet sang a second arrangement by Mr. Willison.

Four new songs are introduced in the picture, which was filmed in Technicolor.

The Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, the new pastor of the church, delivered the dedication message, entitled "A Cathedral Beautiful."

The Rev. Almon Martin, former Christian pastor under whose leadership the new church project was planned and begun, led the congregation in the Act of Dedication. Rev. Martin is now pastor of the First Christian Church of Cisco.

The Rev. Dudley Strain, pastor of the First Christian Church of Lubbock, offered the dedication prayer. Miss Janeene Haynie sang a solo, "Bless This House."

Lee Mason, church trustee, gave the benediction closing the service, following a fellowship hymn, "Bless Be the Tie That Binds."

Visitors were conducted on a tour of the modern new and all air-conditioned church plant prior to the reception in fellowship hall in which punch and cookies were served by ladies of the church.

As a part of the dedication observances, Rev. Ramsey is conducting a week of preaching this week with services at 7 p. m. nightly through Friday night. The public is invited to these services.

Storm stuff--

gauge broke out but 3 1/4 inches of moisture was left in the broken gauge. "I don't know how much it rained" he said early the next morning. When the storm circled and the hail started to come back in from the southeast, Birdwell bundled up his family and drove them into Post where they stayed until the storm subsided before returning to their home.

A bus was reported hard-hit by hail on U.S. 84 southeast of Justiceburg Monday night with several windows battered out by the big stones.

Local golfers still were unlucky rain-wise. The big new tank at Caprock golf course northwest of town got only a little water as less than a half inch of rain fell in what was to be the greens project for the course to be finished.

City Supt. Henry Tate advises local residents that the trash department is hauling off the tree limb debris as fast as possible and "not to get impatient." Some 11 truckloads of debris were hauled out of the city Tuesday, but Tate called that "only getting started good."

Monday night's storm was the worst to strike the city since the Flag Day windstorm which hit about 4 p. m. June 14, 1955. Eddie Warren, former Dispatch publisher, recalled this storm as one of the worst, if not the worst, ever to hit Post. Property damage ran into the thousands of dollars as the wind struck during a blinding hail storm six years ago next Wednesday, unroofing houses, flattening a barrack building, blowing structures off foundations, wrecking nearly half the TV antennas in town, and knocking almost all telephones out of service. There were injuries that time, as this, although several narrow escapes were reported, the storm story in the Dispatch's files indicates. Warren also recalled another bad windstorm in the early 30's which wrecked several homes in the Pleasant Valley and Close City communities but missed Post. The only fatality to a windstorm in Post, Warren recalls, came in 1917 when a small tornado hit town during a "light performance" of the Roy E. Tent Show. It blew the tent down on the crowd and an infant was killed.

The Post Volunteer Fire Department was called out Monday night after the high winds had passed to render any necessary aid to citizens and homes. Fire Chief Robert Cato reported yesterday the firemen stayed on duty until about midnight. They used the fire department searchlights to take a look over town to find downed power lines, or exposed furniture which might have gone unnoticed.

Monday was an exciting night for some 240 Boy Scouts camping at Camp Post, south of here, in the first big camp of the summer camp season. The boys were from some 78 counties of the South Plains area. Chief Runkles at the camp reported that the storm was watched carefully by Scout leaders.

A big four-motored plane which flew over Post, just around the west edge of the dangerous black storm clouds, about 8:30 p. m. was believed to have been one of the "tornado tracking planes" of the U. S. Weather Bureau. Residents both here and east of Post reported "hearing a big plane go over town" at around 9 p. m. during the height of the wind and rain. First, it was believed to be a plane in trouble, but later most folks figured it was a weather plane loaded with instruments trying to measure wind velocities and study the storm. An article on the storm tracking planes appeared in the Post a few weeks ago.

Postings--

Swings area got heavy and drenching hail, but good rains too. Lots of the hail fell in ranch country without too much damage. Southland got a good rain, so did Justiceburg. None was received west of Post in the Graham area which got plenty the week before.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. (Rube) Jennings, now of Atlanta, will be happy to hear that Rube and his wife are now proud grandparents. Their daughter, Sally (Mrs. J. G. Crouch of Tucker, Ga.), gave birth this week to a 7-pound, 3 ounce daughter, Elizabeth Haden, in an Atlanta hospital. Congratulations, Rube.

Five Baptist youths are to work in VBS

Five young people have been designated to represent the First Baptist Church of Post in Espanola, N. M., in a Vacation Bible School.

The school is to be in the Templo Bautista, a church pastored by the Rev. John Abbott, area missionary to the Spanish speaking people of a valley consisting of more than 40,000 of Spanish descent.

The young people are Jerry Thuet, Beth Kemp, Sammy Caffey, Judy Clary, and Kenneth Barnes. They will leave Friday morning at 6:30 and will return June 24.

The length of the Bible School will be two weeks.

Each year, some church in the Panhandle is asked to send young people to serve in this capacity. Through the youth program in the First Baptist Church, these young people were selected.

Ages of the pupils to attend the school are from four years through 16 years. Jerry Thuet will lead the Intermediates, Beth Kemp the Juniors, Kenneth Barnes the Primaries, and Sammy Caffey the Beginners. Judy Clary will work in all departments and assist in handling.

It's the Law in TEXAS

YOU CAN'T ENFORCE A BET
Is a bet with a friend, with witnesses present, a valid contract upon which you can collect in court? Can you force a person to pay off a bet that he made with you?

Jim was the town's most loyal supporter of the Marysville baseball team, even though the team was having a disappointing season. Tom, a supporter of Johnstown, a rival team, offered to bet Jim a sizable sum of money that Johnstown would beat Marysville.

Jim was quick to accept and asked several bystanders if they would be witnesses to the bet.

That weekend Marysville won, but Tom refused to pay. Jim claimed that the bet amounted to a valid and binding contract. He wanted to bring a lawsuit against Tom to collect the money that he felt Tom legally owed him. However, he was advised that he did not have a case.

THE BET that they made was a gambling contract, and as such was illegal. Where both parties assert rights founded on a contract which is illegal and void, the court will refuse to enforce it, leaving the parties just where they placed themselves, and as they were before coming into court. The court has said that they owe it to public justice and in their own integrity to refuse to enforce contracts essentially violating morality or public policy. It is a judicial duty always to turn a claimant upon such a contract out of court regardless of how the character of the contract is made to appear.

In this case, even though Jim could prove that he had made a contract with Tom, and regardless of the number of witnesses Jim could call into court to swear to the terms of the contract, the contract itself was an illegal one, made for an illegal purpose, gambling, and as such the courts will refuse to enforce it.

The courts will allow great freedom to people in the making of agreements between themselves, but they draw the line when the agreement made is illegal. The courts will not aid people in breaking the law.

(This newfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

SERMON TOPIC TOLD

Rev. Bernard Ramsey of the First Christian Church announces that his sermon topic for Sunday morning's service at 11 o'clock will be "When Failure Is Beautiful". Topic for the evening service, at 7 o'clock, will be entitled "Quit Your Fretting!"

Postex head tells textile's story

Louie Burks, new head of the Postex Cotton Mills, proved himself at the Rotary Club luncheon in City Hall Tuesday to be a man who can make a good talk on a moment's notice.

When the club was caught without a program, Louie agreed to say a few words and thereupon made a highly interesting talk about Burlington Industries and the many fantastic fields of the textile industry.

He explained how originally most textile plants in the South were family owned and controlled enterprises which now are passing to the larger corporations because of the intense competition.

Burks said Burlington is completing a new $8,000,000 textile plant in the Carolinas for glass weaving and explained a fantastic new market is developing for motel and hotel draperies of the new glass fabric.

He told of the development of synthetics in textiles but said cotton still remains the most wearable for many types of garments.

A Burlington cotton buyer will be coming to the Texas High Plains next week, he said, to purchase "many a bale" of area cotton for other Burlington plants, but pointed out that High Plains cotton is not suitable for the Postex operations here.

WEEKEND GUESTS
Weekend guests in the C. R. Wilson home were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hipps and Charlene of Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Askins and family of Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Howard and W. E. Jr. of Odessa and Mrs. Norman Evans and daughters of Graham.

picked up and hauled off the oily sand.

A little of the oil was expected to get to the South Lake, but not enough to do any damage. City and county both pitched in to help clean up the oil mess.

Had the valve been broken, Moreland said, up to 50 to 100 barrels might have flowed through the town with the storm water.

The oil slick intersections caused no accidents and the fire danger was avoided through quick action by Brown Brothers.

A TOTAL OF 1.49 inches of rain were received here during the night with a trace falling on Tuesday.

This brought Post's moisture total for 1961 to date to 6.02 inches, as compared to a 6.93 inches which is the average rainfall for the first four months.

Post received 1.83 inches in January (.55 inch is normal), .70 in February (1.00 normal), 1.21 for March (.78 normal), only .01 in April (2.03 normal), and .78 in May (2.57 normal).

TED HIBBS, MANAGER of the Southwestern Public Service Co., reported electrical service was fully restored here by late Tuesday.

Broken tree limbs caused an estimated 30 breaks in service lines from alleys to homes and three power lines went down. The financial loss was not great.

Travis Thomas and Richard Dudley, Southwestern Public Service repairmen here, worked throughout Monday night and to 9 a. m. Tuesday before taking a rest. They were aided by a three-man Slaton repair crew which worked until 4 a. m. Tuesday and then returned, along with a Lubbock repair crew, Tuesday to help finish the job of restoring service.

Hibbs said the utility firm appreciated the consideration given them by electrical users.

DON OSBORN, central office repairman for the General Telephone Co. here, reported most local telephones knocked out by the storm were back in service by late yesterday.

He said wind damage wetted three aerial cables knocking out 125 phones and that an estimated 100 other drops from alleys to homes had been knocked down by broken tree limbs.

Sixty of this 100 were back in service by noon Wednesday, but full service was expected before today.

Six repairmen were busy making the repairs, a local 3-man crew and another from Lamesa.

Osborn urged everybody with a phone out to report it as that was the only way to run down the trouble.

Rural phones were out because of one troublesome cable break which was difficult to check. Some business lines knocked down along the Clairemont highway were restored Tuesday.

Dear Sir:
Each year about this time we try to pause long enough to say thanks to a few of the many people who are helping us do a better job. We want to say thanks to you and your staff for your continuing support of our Taxpayer Education Program. Your news stories have helped our district taxpayers to a better understanding of our tax laws.

Southland youth Duke graduate

DURHAM, N. C.—Ross Irwin Dunn (B. D.), son of Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Dunn of Route 1, Post, was among more than 1,100 students from 38 states and 18 foreign countries who received degrees from Duke University here Monday morning.

During the 109th commencement exercises, 21 different kinds of degrees were awarded by Duke President Dr. Deryl Hart.

The commencement speaker was Dr. William S. Middleton of Washington, D. C., chief medical director for the Veterans Administration, who discussed "Man's Fulfillment."

Dr. Middleton's address came the day after a noted theologian, Dr. Julian N. Hartt of Yale University, had given the 11 a. m. baccalaureate sermon in Duke Chapel. Dr. Hartt is chairman of the Yale Department of Religion.

port of our Taxpayer Education Program. Your news stories have helped our district taxpayers to a better understanding of our tax laws.

Tax education is one of the most important functions of the Internal Revenue Service. Since we depend on voluntary compliance we must have well informed taxpayers. Your news stories have helped our employees reach a better understanding with taxpayers in discussing tax problems. We sincerely appreciate your support of our efforts to keep the administration of our federal tax laws fair and just.

We feel that the Dallas District taxpayers believe that the Internal Revenue Service is a competent organization doing their best to enforce complex tax laws. We believe that the favorable image we enjoy in the Dallas District is due in part to the support of your organization. John Sloan at Lubbock appreciates your support.

We want to solicit any suggestions that you or your staff care to submit again this year to improve our taxpayer education program. We hope to continue to do everything possible to encourage voluntary compliance and to carry out our tax laws in a fair and just manner.

Thanks for your help to Internal Revenue Service and to the taxpayers.
Sincerely yours,

Three weekends of play to begin Saturday

50 teams expected in first annual bowling tournament

Approximately 50 teams (250 bowlers) are expected to participate in the first annual Post Bowling Center tournament which will begin Saturday night. The ABC-sanctioned event will include singles, doubles, team, and all events, plus a ragtime event for man and woman pairs which can be rolled anytime during the tournament event.

Man and umpire fight results in postponed game

A crowd went to Babe Ruth Park to see the kids play last Thursday night, but would be sitting in on a fist-fight between a spectator and the plate umpire.

The Braves had edged the Cubs, 10 to 9, in the first game, but the President Edsel Cross had to get off the other game in the inning after the fight erupted. The league-leading Cubs and the Red Sox were tied 1 to 1, when the game was called.

League President Cross said yesterday that league officials had a brief meeting in regard to the fight, but that no action is to be taken. "It was just one of those things, we certainly hope it doesn't happen again," Cross said. The fight reportedly occurred as a result of the spectator "razzing" the umpire.

In the 19-9 game won by the Indians, the Cubs came close to tying up their first win of the season. The Braves, by winning, had only one game behind the leading Cubs.

The Braves scored one run in the sixth to break a 9-9 tie, and then held the hard-hitting Indians scoreless in the top of the seventh and final frame.

Legion '9' loses at Lubbock; to play here Friday

Post's American Legion baseball team, which is still trying to find its batting eye after losing its first two league games, will play the Lubbock Auto Co. team Friday night on the Babe Ruth League diamond.

After being shut out by Slaton here last Friday night in its first league game, the Post team lost to Lubbock Auto, 2 to 0, at Lubbock Tuesday night.

Allen Johnson, Lubbock pitcher, held the Post team to three hits, with first baseman David Nichols setting two singles and left fielder Nuel Landreth hitting a one-bagger.

The Post team played errorless ball behind pitcher John Valdez, but couldn't muster a batting punch.

Post's only real scoring threat came in the second inning. With two out, second baseman Eddie Valdez walked, with two wild pitches putting the runner on third. Johnson finally struck out center fielder John Sepeda for the third out.

Others playing for Post were Collazo, shortstop; Ruben Valdez, catcher; Dodd, right field, and John Villa, third base. Tommy Bouchier and David Lee were inserted into the line-up as pinch hitters, Bouchier reaching base on an error and Lee popping out.

Sox and Dodgers win LL contests Saturday night

The Red Sox maintained a firm grip on second place in Little League standings Saturday night by defeating Western Construction Co.'s Westerners, 6 to 4, in a well-played game.

In the first game of the evening, the league-leading Dodgers remained undefeated by drubbing Multiple Well Service's Tigers, 19 to 9.

Johnny Jones and Long, each hurling three innings, kept six Westerners hits well scattered in the Red Sox win. Freddie Collazo and Rivera handled the pitching duties for the losers, allowing nine hits.

Long, Kennedy, Heaton and Morales, each with two hits, supplied most of the winners' bat power. The Dodgers scored 11 runs in the first three innings and eight in the fifth in their victory over the Tigers, whose nine runs came in the third, fourth and fifth frames.

Sappington led the Dodger batting attack with four hits—a triple, two doubles and a single. Larry Johnson hit a two-run homer for the losing Tigers in the fourth inning. Losing pitcher Heise got three of the Tigers' hits.

Dodd, who went four innings, was the winning pitcher, with Bartlett and Cash each pitching one inning in relief. Heise went four innings for the Tigers before being relieved by Charles Harper No. 1, and Charles Harper No. 2 finished the game.

Johnson's second homer of the night came in the third inning. Richard Scott hit a two-run four-bagger for the losers in the third inning.

Johnson, the winning pitcher, got relief from Floyd Moreau after three innings. Jackson went the route for the Yankees.

Clint Johnson is hero of first Corvair victory

The Corvairs racked Postex Mills' Yankees, 16 to 7, Monday night for their first win of the Little League season.

The scheduled second game between the Tigers and the Westerners was rained out.

A grand slam home run by starting pitcher Clint Johnson rocketed Coach Bill Cates' Corvairs into a 4-1 lead in the bottom of the first after the Yankees had scored on Michael Horton's double and Richard Scott's single.

The winners raked Yankee pitcher Rabbit Jackson for five hits and three runs in the second, got five more in the third, one in the fourth and three in the fifth.

Clint Johnson's second homer of the night came in the third inning. Richard Scott hit a two-run four-bagger for the losers in the third inning.

Johnson, the winning pitcher, got relief from Floyd Moreau after three innings. Jackson went the route for the Yankees.

Lateral oiling can cut hand hoeing operation by half, says specialist

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton chopping may be going the way of longhorn cattle. At least the extension cotton specialists at Texas A&M say this could happen as more people realize the savings to be gained through the use of lateral oiling.

What makes this lateral oiling so special? The answer is simple—money. By substituting lateral oiling for hand hoeing the producer can cut the cost of that operation by at least half. One Texas producer has reported savings much greater than this.

Franklin Pagel of Tivoli says he oiled his 85 acres of cotton this spring and saved a total of $8 per acre. He estimated his total cost, including materials, labor, etc., at $2 per acre. This is quite a savings over the $10 per acre it would have cost for hand hoeing. Pagel also says the oiling gave a cleaner job.

All this sounds fine but what is lateral oiling? Lateral oiling refers to lateral spraying of seedling grass and weeds in young cotton with herbicidal oils, such as naphtha. This practice is recommended where rainy weather conditions have prevented timely rotary hoe use or where grass is rooted too firmly for a rotary hoe to eradicate.

Cotton that has been dirtied up is difficult to oil properly. Have the rows level or flat with no obstructions in the row between the nozzles. Cotton that has been rolled at planting time or rotary hoed is satisfactory for treatment. If the cotton is planted in a water furrow or if the cotton is severely affected by seedling disease it should not be treated. Rain or dew on the grass will reduce the efficiency of the herbicide.

For more information on lateral oiling contact your local county agent. Ask for a copy of MP-504, "Lateral Oiling of Grass and Weeds in Cotton."

Yanks pin first loss on Red Sox nine, 8-2

The First National Bank's Dodgers took over undisputed possession of the Little League lead last Thursday night by edging the Corvairs of Caprock Chevrolet Co., 22-21, and then sitting back while the Red Sox suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Yankees, 8 to 2.

With Ronnie Pierce going the five-inning route for the Yankees, the Red Sox were held scoreless after two runs in the bottom of the first.

The Yankees had taken a three-run lead in the top half of the first, with singles by Jackson, Scott and Villa helping the cause. The Red Sox' two runs came when Collazo's double scored Jimmy Jones and Dick Kennedy, who had walked.

The Yankees increased their lead by three runs in the top of the second, with Horton, Bowen, Villa and Shaw rapping singles off Red Sox starter Johnny Jones.

The Yankees ended their scoring with two runs in the third on a single by Jackson. Johnny Jones, the losing pitcher, was relieved by Long after three innings.

Pierce held the Red Sox to three hits and struck out 11 of the 20 men he faced. He issued three bases on balls, all in the first inning.

Runs were a dime a dozen in the Dodgers' 22 to 21 victory over the winless Corvairs.

The Dodgers scored five in the top of the first and three in the second, but fell behind the Corvairs on their three runs in the first and six in the second.

The Dodgers bounced back ahead with seven runs in the top of the third, but the Corvairs more than matched it with 11 tallies when they came to bat. That made the score 20-15, Corvairs.

The Dodgers scored five in the top of the fourth to tie the game, and with the Corvairs held scoreless in their half of the inning, the teams went into the final frame with the score 20-20.

Four bases on balls and an error gave the Dodgers two runs in

June 1-7, 1861 MAY EVEN SCORE

Yesterday's mail brought files of the New York papers down to the 24th of May. They begin to speak of John Bull in no loving terms. Especially do they take umbrage at the declaration by Lord John Russell that the Confederate States must be regarded as belligerents, and that consequently our privateers will be permitted to take prizes to English ports for condemnation and sale.

This shows but one thing to our mind, and that is that England is preparing to acknowledge the independence of the South, and perhaps as the natural ally of the South in her fight, and thus wipe off some old scores which have long been charged up against the United States.

As for us, while we shall of course be grateful to England and France for any aid they may give us in our present trouble, we desire the North to understand that such aid is not essential to us. We can neither be subdued, wiped out nor very badly hurt by all the armies they can send to us. If however, the North drives England and France into an alliance with us, why—all right! GLANDULAR FEVER
 Infectious Mononucleosis (sometimes called Glandular Fever) is considered this week because of the presence of some cases in the community. This is usually a "nuisance" disease which will get well without after effects in three to six weeks. But serious complications may occur.
 Enlarged lymph nodes ("kernels") are found in all cases; all other signs are extremely variable. Usually the disease is found between the ages of 10 and 35, but may occur at any age, and most frequently begins five to 15 days after exposure to the causative organism. Exactly what that organism is, has not been determined, but it is thought to be a virus or several viruses. The patient feels bad. He may or may not have a sore throat, but does usually have fever. The swollen lymph nodes are more typically in the back part of the neck, but frequently all nodes are involved at the onset.
 The fever ordinarily lasts five to ten days. It may last three weeks, go away and then come back. Other lymphoid tissue swellings within the body may be found by the doctor. Certain blood tests help in making the diagnosis. But the blood findings may vary. Hepatitis may occur with the disease. In the cases that we are now seeing there is evidence of this complication in some cases. It is most important that the parents of the patient realize that this is not a disease which antibiotics will cure in a matter of a few days. This child is going to be sick, perhaps for weeks, and he will act sick.
 If your child has a little fever, kernels in his neck, possibly a sore throat, and is acting weak, tired, cross, and irritable, seek the advice of your family M. D. If he makes the diagnosis of Infectious Mononucleosis, do not expect the miracle drugs to work miracles this time. You are probably in for a long siege.

 This is not a condition in which it is safe to assume the responsibility of making your own diagnosis. It is confusing to the most expert. An accurate diagnosis is essential. Otherwise there is great danger of neglecting a child through a false assumption, with obviously disastrous effects.

Former resident accident victim

William Taylor Cook, a former resident of the Graham community, was killed recently in an automobile accident near Ardmore, Oklahoma.

 Mr. Cook farmed in the Graham community, from where he moved to Oklahoma about eight years ago.

Carlsbad Caverns getting ready for big travel season

Carlsbad Caverns National Park in southeastern New Mexico is readying for a record travel season this summer.

Open every day of the year, the National Park set a new high in visitation last year, ranking fourth in the country's National Parks in travel increases.

The summer season officially opens June 4 when 25 additional tour leaders go on duty. The daily schedule will double with eight complete walk-in tours starting on the hour. In addition, eight partial (Big Room) tours will be offered. The special photography tour for camera fans will increase from one to two daily (11:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Mountain Standard Time).

Tour leaders, who have always maintained a close personal contact with visitors on the guided tour of the unbelievable beautiful limestone caverns, will extend the contact with Park visitors by being on duty in the observation tower, exhibit room, visitor's center and parking lot.

Naturalist lectures on the bat flight spectacle will begin the latter part of May. Millions of persons have watched the harmless bats at evening as they spiral from their own separate cave through the natural entrance for a night of foraging.

Carlsbad Caverns is easily accessible . . . the trails are hard surfaced and gradually sloping. Temperatures inside the world's largest decorated cave is a constant 56 degrees. A light wrap and walking shoes are recommended.

Daytime visitor facilities in the National Park are excellent. Good motel and hotel accommodations are available in Carlsbad or White's City, N. M.
