Real freedom holiday no more

From 1776 when the Declaration of Independence was signed came America's most significant holiday—Independence Day, or as it has since become "The Fourth of July."

It also might be called "America's forgotten holiday."

Not that the holiday isn't observed. Most businesses close. It's a day off for almost everybody in mid-summer and when it comes on a weekend as it does this year, it provides one of those long and comfortable weekends from care—almost tailor-made for a quick trip to "away from it all."

Fourth of July is forgotten, not as a legal holiday, but in meaning.

The Fourth of July celebrations of the last generation are gone today. So are the fireworks which made America's freedom holiday in other years sound like its Revolutionary War beginning. Most towns and cities forbid fireworks now. Too dangerous in this modern world.

The Fourth of July used to mean huge community picnics with the "best political speaker obtainable" to deliver an oration on America's hard-won freedom and what it means to all of us.

We doubt if there will be even a single television program on Monday which sounds a rallying cry for freedom—on freedom's own holiday. Yes sir, times have changed.

But in this case—not to the good. America well needs a real freedom holiday again. We need to find again that stern national purpose which banded the colonists together to win the War of Independence.

We badly need to be reminded each year—on this freedom holiday—of what American freedom means to us and how we can help to preserve it and guard it.

Freedom is the highest priced commodity today on the world markets. Two-thirds of the world can't afford it and live without it. And the masters of that two-thirds of the world threaten to engulf the rest.

It's easy in wartime to be patriotic. But most of us Americans find it pretty hard in peacetime. Between conflicts we turn our full attentions to the Jones Derby—keeping up with them and even trying to get a nose out in front.

Our leaders tell us we—the masses—are losing our sense of national purpose. We're growing soft and fat.

Worst of all, Freedom's Holiday—the Fourth of July—is now the "forgotten holiday."—J.C.

Let's drive to arrive alive

"The Fourth of July is Independence Day, but the driver who gets too independent while on the road may do his celebrating in jail."

The above warning is given motorists of this Highway Patrol district by Capt. E. L. Posey, who is making an all-out effort to see that traffic accidents will not mar this year's Independence Day celebration.

The Texas Highway Patrol and other agencies are sponsoring a safe vacation driving program during this July 4 weekend. This program deserves the support of all citizens, and we can show our intentions to cooperate, right off, by observing the rules of safe driving over the Fourth.

An independent attitude on the part of drivers is bound to lead to accidents, the Highway Patrol captain said. He pointed out that drivers must share the road with all other drivers, and if they are too insistent on their rights, or carry a chip on their shoulders most of the time, they are asking for trouble.

Make courtesy your code of the road, whether you are traveling near or far. You will find that you will be more relaxed when your trip is over, and you will have a much better visit. And it may surprise you to know that other drivers return your courtesy almost every time.

The Highway Patrol warns against trying to cover too many miles in too short a time and driving at speeds too fast for conditions. They give the following tips for a safe visit: (1) Don't try to cover too many miles; (2) Be prepared for heavy weekend traffic; (3) Leave early, and pause for rest occasionally; (4) Drive within speed limits; (5) Leave your drinking off; (6) Remember that the application of common courtesy to traffic situations does prevent many accidents.

It would be a good idea for drivers to paste the slogan, "Drive to Arrive Alive," on their dashboards.—CD

'Bad Luck' Scott's birthday party

They gathered at Justiceburg last Thursday from the forks of the creek to pay tribute to cowboy Ed Scott on his 87th birthday.

Not only has Ed Scott lived in what is now Garza County longer than any other person alive—some 75 years—but he is also one of the few remaining members of a fast-vanishing breed of men that has had no equal.

The high esteem in which this old-time cowpoke is held was attested to by the large number of persons who gathered at the Justiceburg Baptist Church to honor him on his 87th birthday. Ed is a faithful attendant at the church, whose congregation started the ball rolling on the big birthday party and then saw it picked up and carried on by other residents of the community, most of whom have known Ed Scott all their lives.

The unassuming old-timer, still spry despite his advanced age, moved among the large crowd shaking hands and showing himself to be just as much at home among friends and well-wishers as he ever was on the lonely range.

Ed retired from cowboying several years ago, but not before he had piled up a record for broken bones and other mishaps in some 70 years of riding and roping that earned him the nickname of "Bad Luck" Scott.

Indians were still actively engaged in stealing horses and other depredations, and buffalo herds were drifting north and westward when Ed Scott was a boy. The rolling years have changed the scene and quickened the pace, but they haven't changed this old-time cowboy's outlook on life and his fellow man.

We join Ed Scott's multitude of friends and acquaintances in wishing him many more happy birthdays.—CD

New post office authorized

Ranking as one of the most welcome news items received by this newspaper in the last few years is the announcement this week from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield that a new post office building has been authorized for Post.

The Postmaster General's announcement includes the observation that the new post office here "will be a major link in our newly-revitalized and modern postal service, aimed at an ultimate goal of next-day delivery of mail anywhere in the nation."

Asked his and other post office personnel's reactions to the good news, Postmaster Harold Voss said, "We're tickled pink... we've wanted and needed a new post office building for several years."

Lack of space and obsolescence are the chief reasons for the need of a new post office here. The location of the present one, on a narrow street over which traffic moves both ways and angle parks, also has left much to be desired.

The inauguration of city mail delivery here last November was a big step toward putting postal service on a par with the city's growth. The new post office building will be another big step in the same direction.—CD

Empty can, bottle hazard grows

What the Crosbyton Review editor refers to as "Garza's beer bonanza" is adding to the highway litterbugging in this area.

The Review editor quotes a Crosby County commissioner as saying that since beer and liquor became legal across the county line, empty bottles have been piling up on Crosby County roads and in narrow ditches—many of the bottles broken.

"Four tires on my precinct equipment have been cut by these bottles," the commissioner said. He is also quoted as saying, "You can tell the public I'm going to file on anyone I see pitching them out of a car."

This is bad business, whether it's done in Crosby County, Garza County, or any other county. We doubt that it would do much good to appeal to the people who clutter up the highways with these empty containers. We rather feel that it will take a whole lot of what the Crosby County commissioner threatens—filing charges against those seen pitching them from cars.—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

In the office the other day was a fellow who runs one of the package stores in the oasis just south of here. He said business continues brisk but is leveling off a little. However, he was concerned about the number of beardless youths turning up there with false identification papers. It is quite a problem to figure out just who is over 21 and who isn't. It seems odd that our laws make package store clerks the custodians of our children's morals. It looks like parents would have some sense enough to know where the son is driving the car. But then, of course, little Johnny wouldn't folklore down through the ages has had granny midwives and nurse maids saying that before every war the percentage of boys among new babies is higher than that of girls. Currently, the gossip is that the boys are outnumbering the girls considerably.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

My talent for worrying is remarkable, but my memory is poor. In many instances I forget to worry about half of the subjects on the agenda, and long after each crisis has passed, I feel, somehow, that each is a neglected opportunity.—

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

UNLESS I SEE it with my own eyes, I've told my last "snake story." Seeing it on TV, as I did the big snake killed in the New Mexico lava beds, won't count. That's how my troubles started... when I began telling a few people who hadn't seen it on TV about the big snake.

The only person who believed me when I told about seeing the huge reptile on television was Atty. Carleton P. Webb's secretary, Jo Scott, and it wasn't long after I told her about it that she stuck her head in the office door and informed me she wasn't going to believe anything else I told her. She said my big snake story, which she had repeated to a dozen or so persons, had made her out as the biggest story-teller in town.

WHAT ACTUALLY happened was that the newspapers let me down on the snake story. If it had appeared in the papers the day after it was on TV, it wouldn't have been so hard to believe, but no one read about it until two or three days later and by that time the tale was already known throughout Post as "Didway's big snake story."

It could be that the way I told it is what made it so hard to believe, but when I said the snake's head was as big as a steering wheel and that it had rattles as large as a man's fist, I was only repeating what the man on TV had said.

AS SNAKE STORIES go, though, you'll have to admit it was a whopper. The State of New Mexico is still buzzing with it.

Speaking of stories, here is one to go with the weather:

One blistering hot day when they had guests for dinner, a mother asked her four-year-old son to say grace before the meal.

"But I don't know what to say," the boy exclaimed.

"Oh, just say what you've heard me say," the mother replied.

Obediently, the boy bowed his head and murmured, "Oh, Lord, why did I invite those people here on a hot day like this?"

I GOT UP at 6 o'clock Sunday morning to take pictures of members of Boy Scout Troop 16 loading up for a trip to the mountains of New Mexico. The bus was late, not arriving until shortly before 9 o'clock, which made it a rather long Sunday morning. While waiting on the bus, I looked the boys over and noted that many of them are Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball players. Which caused me to wonder what some of the teams are going to do for players this week. But if any of the boys were wondering about it, they didn't show it. They were real eager for that trip to the mountains.

The U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station in Lubbock has sent me something I can make good use of—a couple of attractive hook markers. The hook markers, of course, advertise the advantages of an Air Force career, but they're welcome just the same. I've needed a couple of book markers ever since I started reading Tolstoy's "War and Peace" along in April. I need one of the markers to mark the page to which I've progressed in the book and another to mark the portion I've skipped, but intend to go back to. If you've read "War and Peace," you'll know what I mean.

THE NEWLYWED groom filled out his income tax form, listing a deduction of $600 for his wife, and in the section marked exemption for the children wrote, "KEEP WATCHING THIS SPACE."

My friend up the street says the people who look to the Government to bring them security and prosperity ought to remember what happened to the American Indian.

PARTING THOUGHT: One way to live to be 100 years old is to drink a quart of milk a day for 1,200 months.

A prime advantage of polypropylene—the versatile new plastic—is that it retains its basic shape up to 290 degrees F. and will not melt until the temperature reaches 335 degrees.

Butyl rubber production at Humble Oil & Refining Company's Baytown Refinery will be increased from 125 million pounds per year to more than 170 million pounds by the second quarter of 1961.

Wheat referendum is slated for July 21

COLLEGE STATION — In line with the currently controlling legislation, Secretary of Agriculture Benson has proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1961 wheat crop and set July 21 as the date for a referendum to determine producer approval or disapproval of quotas.

The Secretary also proclaimed a national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law and announced State shares of the allotment. Texas' share of the allotment was set at 4,047,136 acres. This compares with 4,092,251 acres in 1960. An announcement was also made that the minimum national average support price for 1961 production will be determined before the wheat referendum on the basis of the latest available supply information.

If producers approve marketing quotas, under the proclamation announced, the national average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area will be not less than the minimum support to be announced before the referendum. On the basis of the present supply of wheat and present legislation, the legal minimum wheat support price for the 1961 crop would be at 75 per cent of parity.

Individual farm marketing quotas will be the normal production or the actual production from the farm acreage allotment, whichever is larger. Growers in the commercial area who stay within their allotments will be eligible for price support on their entire production. Growers who exceed their acreage allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest.

Growers who sign applications for exemption under the feed wheat provision permitting 30 acres or less to be used exclusively for feed on the farm will not be subject to marketing quota penalties.

If marketing quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the voting producers in the July 21 referendum, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketing. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support at 50 per cent of parity as required by law.

An attempt in New Delhi to re-name the Andaman and Nicobar Islands to Swadish Dwip and Swaraj Dwip has failed, not having government support.

Roaming through Arkansas:
In Hot Springs, there is a small cafe which offers a steak dinner for only 50 cents! It's a 1-a-m-b steak . . . A clever name for a motor court: King Arthur's Court . . . Talking about playing a sure thing, in a window are two signs, "Blank Cemetery Association" and "Income Tax Service." Evidently, here is a believer in the old saying, "Only two things are certain—death and taxes."

Odd name: A lawyer in Arkadelphia is G. W. Lookadoo.

In Prescott, one hotel has two names. A sign in front says, "Lawson Hotel"; a big sign on the roof says, "Lee Hotel."

In Benton, a sign reads, "The Friendly Butchers."

If you have a copy of "Tall Talk from Texas", you may, eventually, own a "collector's item." After 16 years, the book is out of print. What with loss through fire, flood and friends who borrow, but never return books, "Tall Talk" should ultimately be in short supply. This probably will take some time as close to 100,000 copies were published.

Rock-and-roll came into vogue four or five years ago. Long-suffering folks hailed with delight the announcement that it was dying. The prediction that it was on the way out was first made two years ago—but rock-and-roll is still with us.

I have given the matter considerable thought and I have figured the situation out. Rock-and-roll indeed was slipping out of favor with the teen-agers who were its devotees — but as they outgrow rock-and-roll, a new army of teen-agers comes along to take their places.

So, friends, Romans, countrymen, I think we are stuck with it. Rock-and-roll has become a permanent part of our way of life.

SLATON — Plans for the proposed addition to the Slaton High School building are completed and have been approved by the school board, according to Dr. Lee Vardy, school superintendent.

The new addition will provide a gymnasium, a science department with two laboratories, a classroom, a modern shop area and conversion of part of the building into a high school cafeteria.

SPUR — The City of Spur's proposed zoning ordinance is being received with mixed feelings, according to the town's newspaper, The Texas Spur.

A public hearing on the proposed ordinance has been set for July 5.

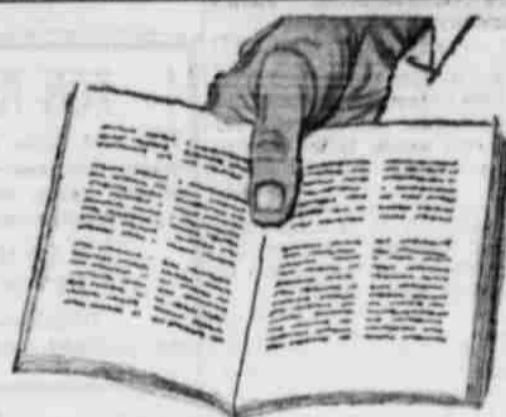

The ordinance provides for a board of adjustment, which would have authority to rule on zoning questions. The board would be composed of five men.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The new class of American expatriates is readily being composed of the big American firms who have opened up production facilities abroad in order to take advantage of lower priced labor to make their products, and then ship into United States under practically negligible tariffs schedules.

For example, in Holland and Belgium alone, some 54 huge American concerns are in full operation. The situation is alarming.

In fact, this is one of the reasons Sen. Kenneth Keating has a bill before Congress that would predicate tariff rates on the labor differentials between U. S. and foreign nations.

The huge corporations able to take advantage of cheap foreign labor are opposed so far to raising American protective tariffs. Their cry is greater efficiency in production will let the U. S. compete.

Yet it is interesting that while they say this as a practical solution, they are more practically from their standpoint, setting up plants abroad.

In major lines of manufactured goods, between 1958 and 1959 American exports to the world took a big decline. Yet at the same time, imports in this country hit new highs.

While exports of American made autos dropped 14%, imports of foreign made cars increased some 60%.

There are now more than six times as many cars being shipped into this country as are being sold by Detroit abroad, and the volume climbs. Some experts claim by next midyear foreign car importations will hit around the million mark, or about 3 and one half times as heavy as in 1958.

Last year, Japan made 30% of all radios, and 40% of all portable radios sold in U. S.

While American exports of iron and steel declined 48%, imports jumped 160%.

It has long been noted that imports of cotton goods have driven many American mills to the wall, but it was felt in some quarters the tariff shouldn't be raised so U. S. producers could enjoy a strong lead in the weaving of synthetic fibers.

This is turning out to be a pious dream, too. While imports of cotton goods in 1959 ran 28% higher than 1958 with exports taking an 8% drop, the imports of foreign made goods of synthetic fibers jumped a whopping 291%, while exports in this category dropped 5%.

Perhaps the U. S. State Dept. is the only place in the world where can be found people who can believe with $2 per hour labor, equal competition with 17c per hour labor is possible.

And while 17 cent per hour labor may look fine to huge U. S. corporations who can move plants into these areas, the independent businessman who has all his eggs on American soil cannot take such a Pollyanna viewpoint.

TEXAS TECH Clinic and Deans who have speech, hearing impediments

LUBBOCK — Learning to communicate is a new and exciting experience for adults who have had difficulty in understanding others or in expressing themselves. Aiding adults with speech and hearing impediments is a significant function of Texas Tech's Speech and Hearing Clinic.

Miss Helen Lindell, acting clinic director, says, "With adults there is a problem of self-consciousness as a result of speech difficulties. They have an emotional and psychological involvement with their deficiency. With children, our work is more on the preventive level. We help them to develop a confident personality before they become too disturbed about their problem."

At present four adults are receiving aid for stuttering, inadequate articulation, and hearing difficulties. "On the whole, we probably help adults more with stuttering and articulation problems than any others," she says.

"However, one of the cases we're working with this summer is a young man who has not been able to hear well enough to learn to speak. With the use of a hearing aid, he is able to distinguish sounds now. We're giving him training in a combination of lip reading and language training as well as auditory training so that what he hears will have meaning."

"He comes in every day for 30 minutes. If he is able to learn to speak, the Vocational Rehabilitation Center will train him for some job," said Miss Lindell.

Most of the clinic's work is done with children. This summer approximately 75 persons are receiving aid from the clinic's eight therapists. Some are scheduled for daily conferences; others come from one to three times weekly, depending on their needs. Each conference lasts 30 minutes. The clinic closes in July and will re-open next fall.

"Anyone who would like assistance with a speech or hearing difficulty is welcome to make an appointment to discuss his problem," the clinic director states.

Houston making ready for annual state FFA convention July 20-22

AUSTIN — Future Farmers by thousands meet in Houston, 30-22, for the biggest state convention of them all, according to Neill Masters, chairman of the 33rd convention committee. Nearly 1,000 chapters in the state are expected to send representatives numbering 5,000 to the huge state meeting. The total membership in the state totals about 40,000.

A warm welcome and an outstanding program is being offered the rural boys by Texas' largest city. In the huge air-conditioned Houston coliseum adaption will be made to convert the huge building into a convention hall.

Strom, editor of Ford A. Lewis, will be a featured speaker. Lewis, mayor of Houston, will issue an official welcome. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education and Jack Binion of the State Board of Education, will be on hand for greetings. Other speakers will include Joe Hughes of Duncan, S. C., national vice-president of the FFA.

There will be fun as well as business. On the evening of July 20 will be the traditional "Fun Night" of the convention. There the talent contest of the state organization will be held as well as professional entertainment arranged by the convention committee. A tour has been arranged for Thursday afternoon, July 21.

Many Houston businessmen are assisting in arranging the convention.

The central convention committee, headed by Masterson, includes Bubba Becker and Stuart Lang. Herb Turner and Howell B. Jones of Houston are members of the State FFA Advisory Committee, which assists with the conventions and many other FFA functions.

Advertising doesn't cost, it pays.

Child found after eight-hour search

McADOO — A three-year-old Negro girl, who had been missing eight hours, was found unharmed in a cotton field near here Thursday after a 100-man search by horseback, plane and jeep had combed the wrong area.

The child, Willie Mae Gilliard, was spotted by a Baptist minister and a mail carrier. She had wandered away from her parents, who were hoeing on a farm.

The child said she was thirsty, but otherwise appeared none the worse for her experience. She was lost from 9 a. m. until about 5 p. m.

CEILING LOWERED

TAHOKA — The ceiling in the district courtroom of the Lynn County courthouse is being lowered in order to improve the acoustics and to make easier heating and cooling of the room. The new ceiling, which will be 11 feet from the floor, will eliminate the seldom-used balcony in the courtroom.

ROLLING OUT THE CARPET

Sixty feet below the surface of the ground in downtown Houston, workers stretch out a Butyl rubber carpet on which the 44-story Humble Oil & Refining Company building will stand in 1962. The Butyl membrane will act as a water barrier for the foundation of the building.

Stockmen to learn of new ideas in beef, pork production at courses

LUBBOCK—New ideas in beef and pork production will be presented for Southwestern stockmen at two short courses on the Texas Tech campus July 3-6 and July 7-8.

Dr. Ralph M. Durham, Tech animal husbandry department head, said the Beef Cattle Short Course will be held July 5-6 in cooperation with the agricultural education department.

A Swine Short Course, with Assoc. Prof. Stanley Anderson in charge, will be conducted July 7-8.

"We're going to emphasize good beef cattle and swine management for feed lot operations in this area," said Durham. "Those participating will also have a chance to grade livestock on the hoof, then compare their grading know-how with that same animal's carcass."

The short courses are open to all livestock men, vocational-agriculture teachers and county agents and farmers interested in attending. Both courses are free.

Durham, assisted by John Baumgardner, associate professor of animal husbandry, will cover basic aspects of cattle breeding and nutrition during the first short course. Participants will grade cattle the first day and then see the freshly slaughtered steers cut up and graded by USDA inspectors the second day. A review of Tech research will cap the beef cattle short course.

Anderson will direct the July 7-8 meeting emphasizing pork production for the Southwest. Grading of live hogs followed by carcass demonstrations the next day is scheduled on the program. Also to be displayed and demonstrated will be two types of hog houses, one designed by Durham and the other by Anderson.

Street entrance to the restaurant. Cliff has leased the Main Street parking lot, put in a sidewalk right out to Main Street and put two more signs out on the Main Street side. Cliff in his short stay in Post to date has proved himself to be a Texas-size hustler. We must apologize to Cliff. He wanted a half page announcement ad, but we were so jammed up at The Dispatch yesterday when he was finally sure he could open this weekend—the most we could offer was a four column ad you'll find on page 8.

What sounded like a rifle shot downtown about 3:30 a. m. yesterday morning awakened a dozer on the bench in front of the City Shoe Shop with a jump, turned out to be the literal disintegration of the glass front door across the street at Hundley's Mens and Boys Wear. Exactly what happened—and why—nobody seems to know. But the glass door was the strangest crazy-quilt pattern you ever saw when folks got down to work later in the morning. A glass crew from Lubbock arrived to take it out without anyone getting cut or hurt. If the door was shot at and hit, nobody knows, or if the glass lost its "temper", nobody knows either. Of course, tempers are pretty short these days in the current heat wave.

This writer had one of those embarrassing moments Monday night when he hustled down to the bank's Community Room—one of the finest additions to Post in many a year—to cover a meeting of the Junior Rodeo Association. There was a nice turnout of oldsters, but no youngsters. And we were a bit surprised at some of those in the crowd. We didn't think they were the rodeo type. Then the meeting started and we were introduced amid applause. After a couple of items on the agenda we began to seriously doubt if we were at the right meeting. A whispered inquiry proved our doubt correct. It wasn't the Junior Rodeo Association, but the Dale Carnegie Alumni group. So we had to confess we were out to cover the rodeo meeting and made a sort of confused exit—after the best introduction we've had in years.

Johnny Hopkins' weekend movie, "Operation Petticoat" is going to bring to the Tower Theatre screen here an actress with whom many Post folks have had the opportunity to meet right here in Post—Dina Merrill. She's the daughter of Mrs. Merriweather P. May and the granddaughter of C. W. Post, town founder. Her husband is industrialist, Stanley Rumbough, Jr., an heir to the Colgate soap fortune. Mr. and Mrs. Rumbough were both in Post a couple of years back when Mrs. Post unveiled the statue of her father on the courthouse lawn. Her role in "Operation Petticoat" is her fifth film lead, according to Johnny's publicity book.

When Phil Crenshaw, the new owner of KUKO radio, moved his wife and four boys here ten days ago he tried to do so much—two roundtrips from Post to Arlington without rest—that he knocked out the transmission on his car—it's still 300 miles away—and his own transmission as well. He had to spend a couple of days recovering in Garza Memorial Hospital before getting back to radiating. He sent his two daughters, 13 and 11, by plane off to visit the grandparents.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Williams of Florien, La., announce the birth of a son, Michael Dwain, born June 16, and weighing eight pounds and nine ounces. Mrs. Fleta Williams of Florien, La., is paternal grandparent and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Johnston of Post are maternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Josey announce the birth of a son, born June 28 in Garza Memorial Hospital. He weighed seven pounds and six ounces and has been named Rodney Lynn. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Taylor of Southland and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Josey are paternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Amado Fuentes announce the birth of a daughter weighing eight pounds and 11 ounces. She was born June 22 in Garza Memorial Hospital and has been named Demita.

Ed Scott--

Wilson Connell and her two daughters, Betty and Connie, since the death of Mr. Connell a few years ago.

Scott is a regular attendant at the Justiceburg Baptist Church, and it was the Rev. Mr. Nixon and wife and members of their congregation who accepted plans for the big birthday party.

"The rest of the community joined in, and you can see the results," said Mrs. Nixon as she indicated the large crowd that had gathered to honor the old cowboy.

PARTY CALLED OFF

The regular monthly "42" party at the Verbena community building will not be held this Saturday night. Harold Lucas announced this morning. The party will be held at the regular time next month.

in Missouri before moving the wife and four sons here. But, there are not just six youngsters in the family. Ask any of the boys and they'll tell you there are really seven. The seventh is Myung Ju Kim, a 10-year-old Korean orphan still in Korea, which the Crenshaw family is now sponsoring. Phil served on occupational duty in Korea at the end of World War II and as a chaplain's assistant saw firsthand the plight of some 14,000 Korean orphans. He told his family about it when he got home and got to accumulating that family. When the opportunity came through World Vision to sponsor a Korean orphan, the Crenshaw family adopted Myung. They have been supporting her with a monthly allotment and are checking to see if it is now possible through immigration laws to bring the youngster to this country—and to Post—to live with them.

Just about ten years ago, Eddie Warren conducted a "Know Your Merchant" campaign which turned out to be the most successful promotion ever run in the 34-year history of this paper. The man who drew those 29 sketches of local business men—Paul Lodgren of Lovelland—arrived back in Post this week to draw another "Know Your Merchant" series for The Dispatch. It will take him two or three weeks to do all the selling—and all the drawing.

Permits issued for new homes

Two new homes are included in three building permits issued at the city hall, one to cost $19,750 and the other $16,000.

These permits and a small one for $149 totaled $35,890 and brought the 1960 construction total through June 28 to $557,065.

The larger of the two residential permits went to Jess Cornell for a new home in the Westgate Addition. The plans call for 1,820 square feet, brick veneer construction with two bathrooms and three bedrooms, and central heat and air-conditioning.

The other residential permit went to Earl Rogers for a $16,000 home of 1,650 square feet at the corner of 7th Street and Avenue S. The new home is to be of brick and frame construction.

A permit for a new roof on an apartment building at 123 South Avenue N was issued W. A. Gray. The estimated cost is $10.

Red Sox defeat Yanks, 8 to 6; Westerners win

The Red Sox scored two runs in the top of the sixth last Thursday night to break a 6-6 tie and defeat the Yankees, 8-6, in a Little League game.

In the night's opener, the Westerners pushed the Corvairs deeper into the league cellar by taking a 10-5 decision.

Roy Long, Red Sox reliever, singled home the winning run in the sixth and then scored on Nick Pantaja's pinch-hit double to give the Sox the win.

Long, who had relieved Doyle Nichols after three innings, forced J. W. Willis to ground out, fanned Donnie Cole, and then threw out Rabbit Lockhart after Rickey Welch had singled, to end the game and preserve the victory.

Cubs win by forfeit to go into BR lead

The Cubs won by forfeit from Levi's Restaurant Indians Tuesday night to take over first place in the Babe Ruth League.

Manager Pat Franklin's Indians had to forfeit the game when only seven players put in an appearance.

Edwards Appliances' White Sox downed Garza Tire Co.'s Braves, 14 to 7, to stay in a second place tie with the Indians, while the defeat dropped the Braves to the cellar.

Going into last Friday night's games, all four teams were tied with five wins and five losses. That night, the Cubs defeated the White Sox, 8-2, and the Indians edged the Braves, 17-16, to go into a first place tie.

SEASON ENDS JULY 8
The Babe Ruth League season will end with the games of Friday, July 8, which means that each team has three more games to play. All four clubs have a chance at the championship.

Teddy Scott, who relieved Doyle Wells in the third inning, was the winning pitcher in the White Sox' win over the Braves Tuesday night. The losing pitcher was starter Jackie Curb, who was relieved by David Perez after facing six men in the White Sox' four-run third inning.

The winners collected 10 base hits while the losers were getting seven.

The Indians' 17-16 win over the Braves last Friday night was decided on David Nichols' three-run homer in a six-run seventh inning. The Braves had scored six runs in the top of the sixth to go into the lead.

CORNELL IS WINNER
Pat Cornell, who came to start for Danny Pierce's relief in the fifth inning, was the winning pitcher, Jackie Curb, who had relieved

Jackie Burk in the fourth, was tagged with the loss.

Curb homered for the losers in the fifth inning.

J. C. Demming held the White Sox to six hits in the Cubs' 8-2 victory over the White Sox. The Cubs, who are sponsored by Texas Electric Co. and Cockrum Printing Co., got 12 hits off starter Doyle Wells and reliever Teddy Scott.

One of the White Sox' half-dozen hits was a lead-off home run by Scott in the seventh. Scott also had a double and a single to personally account for half of the Sox' safe base blows.

Independence Day

The Fourth of July holiday Monday will be much more than a day to light firecrackers and shoot off roman candles and sky rockets at night for the kids.

It will be much more too than a delightfully lazy summer holiday for family outings, picnics, fishing trips and such.

July 4th is celebrated in America each year because it is our Independence Day—harkening back to the days of the Revolutionary War when the American colonists put their names to the Declaration of Independence.

The Fourth of July—or Independence Day—is a time for us all to stop and think seriously of our American heritage of freedom. And of the dangers in today's rocket world which constantly threaten it.

The lights of freedom have gone out in many nations around the world within a few short years. If we are to preserve ours we must remain strong as a nation, lend our support to freedom's causes, and be a vigilant and working citizenry.

Together we must maintain a strong national purpose and strive constantly to make America an even more blessed land of freedom and opportunity.

On our Fourth of July holiday this year let us resolve to be better Americans and thus make our nation stronger at a time when this country needs all of its strength and great unity of purpose as the leader of the Free World.

Post Nazarenes are home from Quadrennial General Assembly

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. McMahon and Mrs. Earl Rogers have returned from Kansas City, Mo., where they represented the local Church of the Nazarene at the 19th quadrennial general assembly of the denomination held there June 19-24 and which church leaders said set records for attendance and interest.

'Operation Petticoat' opens at Tower Sunday for four-day showing

Take the magnificent comedy starring Cary Grant and Tony Curtis, blend with the talented beauty of a pair of dolls like Joan O'Brien and Dina Merrill, add a dash of two of hilarious performances by Arthur O'Connell and Gene Kelly, then stir the whole thing up in a Navy submarine painted a blushing pink, and you have the perfect ingredients for "Operation Petticoat," a weirdly wild and delightfully delicious laughfest that shows Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Tower Theatre.

"Operation Petticoat" is a classic of revelry and ribaldry as it recalls the howling adventures of a harassed submarine skipper trying to get his disabled boat back into operation. Just the fact that at one time the sub puts to sea painted pink, carrying five women passengers, and is the unsuspecting target of both her allies and her enemies, is enough of a convincer that here is one of the greatest entertainment packages ever to come out of Hollywood.

An estimated total of 25,000 Nazarenes attended the assembly and three world conventions of affiliated groups held June 16-18. The 668 delegates from 76 church districts throughout the U. S. and the world voted to enlarge the Board of General Superintendents from five to six men.

A theme of "Evangelism First" was adopted and goals set for the coming quadrennium as follows: (1) the organization of 800 new churches; (2) a net gain of 70,000 members; (3) enlistment of 100 new missionaries; (4) a net gain of 150,000 in Sunday School enrollment; (5) a total of $18,000,000 for general budget and missionary special.

In a quadrennial message for the board, General Superintendent Young asked Nazarenes to live lives of "deeper devotion to God and his service during 1960-64."

Some of the greatest gains in the denomination's history were achieved during 1956-60. There was a net gain of 500 new churches to a total of 4,696; a net gain of 31,500 members to a total of 311,300; a gain of 94,800 in Sunday School enrollment to a total of 700,500; a total of $159,000,000 raised for all purposes, a gain of nearly 25 per cent over four years ago; and an increase in per capita giving to $135.51.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN by Lewis C. Herron

WHEN TO IRRIGATE?

The problem for irrigated farmers in Garza County at the present is when to irrigate. From the time cotton comes up at the 8-10 day from planting until it starts squaring about 35 to 40 days from emergence, the plant uses less than .10 inch moisture per day. More moisture is lost from evaporation during this period than the plant uses.

From square to white bloom, a period of 20 to 25 days, the rate of moisture used increases from .10 to .25 inches per day. The peak moisture requirement for the cotton plant then is from white bloom at roughly 63 days from emergence to peak bloom at 85 to 90 days. During this period the cotton plant will use from 25 inch to .40 inch moisture per day.

To meet this demand for water during the peak use period an adequate supply of water to wet the soil to a 3-foot depth every 10 to 16 days in a clay soil will be needed. Cotton plants can forecast their need for irrigation. After flowering begins, the plant should grow steadily, but not luxuriantly. The squares at the top of the plant should be rather prominent. A few flowers should be visible among the top leaves. When only the leaves are noticeable too rapid a growth is being made. A flower garden effect, just the opposite to too many leaves, indicates that growth is restricted and irrigation has been delayed too long.

Color of plant leaves and terminal growth may indicate the need for irrigation. A change in the appearance of the plant foliage occurs before signs of wilting appear. The foliage of plants in dry spots will appear somewhat darker with a slightly bluish tinge. When the plant is in thriving condition, there ordinarily will be 3 to 4 inches of tender, light-green stems between the terminal bud and the reddish color of the stalk. A rapid extension of this reddish coloring toward the terminal bud shows a checking of growth and the need for irrigation.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor: Most people nowadays, including me, are complaining about what is being done that shouldn't be or what is not being done that should be... complicated, isn't it?

I am speaking of the adults working with Little League and other ball teams. After working all day, they still find time and energy—and most of all patience—teaching my son and yours the art of living and working together. I believe that's called co-existence—which we need more of. They are preparing these youngsters for the day they will win—or lose. My special thanks, as one of those mothers, to each and every person making this program possible. Coaches, umpires, and hawkers. Speaking of hawkers, if you are afraid to ask Dunc Duncan for a loan, come out and hear him "hawk" some night. You'll find out even he is a human being, as well as Mr. Moneybags. Jo Scott

Putting the Pieces in PLACE

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The jig saw puzzle, an entertaining and educational toy, can teach us observance, and patience. There is only one place for each piece, and if one is lost or missing the picture can not be complete. If God is left out of your life, then your life can not be complete, and you are as the lost piece in the puzzle. Attend church Sunday, find your place in God's will and live a complete and full life.
