

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: A dollar goes far these days. It goes all the way to Washington.

It offends shows a fine command of language to say nothing.

There's a new coffee on the market called psychopathic coffee. It's reputed to be weak in the bean.

I'VE KNOWN PAT Bullock of Colorado City for forty years and I've never heard anything bad about him. On that basis, I am going to support him in his candidacy for election as 24th District senator to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of Sen. Harley Sadler.

Six other men besides Pat Bullock are in the race, which is to be decided in a special election on Dec. 11. Two or three of these other candidates I know only casually; the others I've never met. As far as I know, they're all good men and capable of making the 13-county 24th District a good senator. But my long friendship with Pat Bullock and my knowledge of his outstanding record in public and private affairs has made it easy for me to make up my mind about who I'm going to support in this particular race.

PAT WAS IN town Thursday afternoon and dropped by my office for a brief visit. I told him then that I was going to support him—which didn't seem to surprise Pat. He expressed confidence in winning the election, but added, "you never can tell," which shows that he is an astute politician.

My friendship with Pat Bullock dates back to around 1912 when he lived in Scurry County. A few years later, tail, gangling Pat had developed into one of the best right-handed baseball pitchers in these parts. Along about, 1918, Post and Snyder were in the midst of a heated baseball rivalry and chances for a Post victory usually hinged on whether or not Pat would take the mound for the Scurry County team.

Pat's most formidable mound rival when Post and Snyder met usually was Charlie Quails, who at the time was associated with Collier's Drug here. He later served as postmaster and is now in the insurance business in Amarillo. Most of the pitching duels between Pat and Charlie were of the type that makes a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan's hair stand on end.

MY FATHER, E. A. Warren, early-day newspaper publisher here, was one of those dyed-in-the-wool baseball fans, and often expressed the opinion that Pat Bullock had a most promising future if he chose to follow a professional baseball career. After he got up too old to play, Dad was in great demand as an umpire at semi-pro games in this area, and on numerous occasions served as arbiter in games in which Pat pitched. I've often heard him refer to Pat as one of the finest sportsmen and most effective hurriers he'd ever seen in action.

The number of promising young athletes, however, who chose other careers are legion, and Pat Bullock was one of them. In later years, he served as Scurry County superintendent of education, and then was with the State Department of Education for several years. While employed in this work, he moved to San Antonio, later making the race for State Superintendent of Public Instruction and almost beating L. A. Woods.

If Pat is elected to the position he seeks in the Dec. 11 special election, he'll feel "right at home" in the Senate chambers. He is a former State Senator, having served the unexpired two years of John Lee Smith's term. He entered the Senate in November, 1942, when Smith was elected lieutenant-governor.

Pat then served two full terms, retiring without making the race in 1952. He was president pro tem of the Senate during the last term.

Pat has a sister, Mrs. Bert Cash, who is a longtime resident of Garza County, now making her home in the Garza Community.

Voters of the 24th Senatorial District will not be making a mistake in electing Pat Bullock as their Senator. He not only is qualified by experience, but is a clean-cut Christian gentleman of the typical West Texas type.

I WAS AMUSED and intrigued by a recent gem of thought handed to The Dispatch. It was entitled "Thirteen Easy and Sure Ways to Kill the Old Home Town." It listed these typical methods:

- 1. Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay taxes. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because the streets are not paved.
2. Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. Find fault with everything.
3. Get all the city will give—don't give anything in return.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST . . .

Garza County's first Community Chest fund campaign gets under way Monday, with drive officials hoping to reach the $9,739.40 goal not later than Saturday, Dec. 4. Although off to a rather late start in comparison with other Community Chest fund campaigns throughout the nation, local officials have expressed confidence in winding up the drive here in short order.

While this is the first effort of its kind in Garza County, most of us are familiar with the operations of Community Chest programs and are fully aware of the multiple benefits to be derived from consolidating many fund-raising campaigns into one.

It takes only a glance at the list of eight fund-raising agencies participating in the program for one to realize that as each of these projects are worthwhile, the Community Chest program is eight times more so.

In past years, we've all been called upon to assist, in separate drives, these fund-raising campaigns: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, United Defense Fund, Salvation Army, American Red Cross, American Heart Fund, and American Cancer Society. In addition, the Chest program has added a Garza County Emergency Fund with which to take care of local emergencies.

Within the next few days, Community Chest campaign chairmen and their assistants will be calling upon each of us to give and give generously. Our response not only will determine the time required by the organization to meet its goal, but will also determine the success of the Community Chest in its first year of operation in Post and Garza County.

Courtesy costs nothing. It makes living easier and more pleasant. The employee, or the self-employed, no matter how hard he works, is giving less than his best if he forgets the need for courtesy in dealing with people. —Beaver Falls, Pa., News-Tribune.

Claus letters, and are hoping to get a whole lot more within the next few weeks. The earlier the better! A copy of each letter forwarded to the North Pole will be kept here for publication in The Dispatch's Christmas edition.

YOU CAN'T EVER TELL who's coming through. For the past several years, we'd heard a great deal about Floyd D. Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico University, but never thought we'd meet him at a Post Rotary Club luncheon. He and A. E. Hunt, the college's business manager, happened to be in Post at noon Tuesday of last week and, being Rotarians, stopped off to attend the luncheon. Golden told us he and Hunt were en route to Fort Worth to see about getting federal funds for a huge building program at ENMU.

AFTER A RATHER disappointing season, the Post Antelopes have checked in gridiron regalia. We'll admit that bright spots in the Antelopes' 1954 football season have been few, but they're there if you'll just look for them. The brightest one, in our opinion, was the local eleven's penetration win over Tahoka, the district's co-champion and representative in bi-district play. Another bright spot was the fact that Post wasn't held scoreless in a single game.

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week: Necessity Of More Advertising Is One Of Reasons For Present Epidemic Of Mergers

BARBON PARK, Mass.—There are several reasons for the present epidemic of mergers. In some cases, taxes are the chief consideration; in other cases they are to reduce costs; and often the cause is to secure additional financing.

Importance Of Advertising But one very potent cause is to be able to afford more advertising, which—in this very competitive era—is the life of trade. To understand what I mean, let me remind readers that a full-page advertisement in television sets in this or any other newspaper would be the same price to the great Radio Corporation of America as to some new small company which might be manufacturing a better TV set. In the case of a 2-page color spread in LIFE MAGAZINE the price would be approximately $30,000 for one week! This is a drop in the bucket to R. C. A., but it is a cost which small companies cannot meet.

This is a problem not only to the small company, but also to a medium-sized company with several products to advertise. Successful advertising depends upon continuous advertising. With one product this is far more practical, more efficient, and much less expensive. Let me illustrate by referring to two good but competitive candy products.

Life Savers Vs. Necco The Life Savers Corporation has practically only one product, with which every reader is acquainted and for which the company appropriates annually about $1,000,000 for advertising. The New England Confectionery Company (trade name Necco) has 20 different products. This means that if Necco should appropriate $1,000,000 for advertising, this would need to be divided by products. No one of the 20 products might get enough advertising to enable it to be profitable. In fact, by one law of advertising, each product would get only 1/20th of the result instead of 1/20th. This can be remedied only by a reduction in the number of items, or by a consolidation with other candy manufacturers.

Of course, Life Savers would not consider such a consolidation. A merger would have to be with a candy company having similar competitive difficulties but duplicate manufacturing facilities. Then, two competitive products could be marketed under a joint name—without any loss of good will. The machines which were the most efficient would be used for manufacturing the products,—working on two or three shifts of labor. Operating expenses would be greatly reduced, while each product would get double the present advertising allotment.

What About Stock Market Prices? I am continually asked why the stocks of some companies — like General Electric, for instance—sell so much higher than stocks of some smaller electric companies which are not well known but may perhaps make a better product. I do not know all the answers to this question, but this I do know: The price of the stock of almost all companies (Hershey is an exception) parallels closely the amount spent upon advertising.

Not only do large advertising appropriations create more business and more profits, but investors like to buy the stocks of companies which they see advertising each week. This not only applies to the prosperity of individual companies; but also to the prosperity of the nation as a whole. When national advertising falls off, business falls off and unemployment increases. I forecast that the day may come when the government will subsidize advertising during a business depression.

What About Merchandising? Not only will we see many more mergers amongst manufacturing concerns, but the epidemic will spread to retail stores. Drive down the business street of any city and—with a critical eye—notice the vast number of small retailers. Eighty per cent are barely making a living. When depression comes, the mortality amongst retailers could be great.

Therefore, I urge retailers to consider mergers. This especially applies to shops which carry the same items and are near one another. Retailers who have no free parking space nearby will be the first to merge. Bankers reading this column could be very helpful in bringing these needed mergers about. One closing thought: Read your Bible—Proverbs, Chapter 16, Verse 18. This gives the cause of most business failures.

TWENTY-FIVE SHOPPING DAYS until Christmas!

IN PROCLAIMING THURSDAY as Thanksgiving Day, President Eisenhower called on all citizens to observe the day with prayer. "Let us demonstrate in our lives," he said, "our humble thanks to God for his beneficence in the year which is past, and let us ask His guidance in the years to come."

THE PROCLAMATION EXPRESSED gratitude that "our beloved country, settled by those forebears (the Pilgrim Fathers) in their quest for religious freedom remains free and strong, and that each of us can worship God in his own way, according to the dictates of his conscience."

WE DIDN'T KNOW IT until our oldest son reached his 17th birthday last Thursday, but Post High School has a custom this year of sending birthday greeting cards to students. The cards, which express a nice thought, are signed by Capt. D. C. Arthur.

AFTER QUITE A DELAY, little Polly O'Neal left Friday afternoon on the first lap of her journey to Hollywood, where she will make a movie short with Greer Garson for use in the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation's annual fund campaign. Polly and her mother, Mrs. Oscar O'Neal, visited in El Paso until Sunday afternoon when they boarded a plane for Hollywood, where the movie cameras were scheduled to start grinding Tuesday on the short. Work on the picture was delayed several days while Miss Garson recovered from an appendectomy.

MRS. MARY LEE WRISTEN'S seventh graders are having quite a time studying Texas history and are trying in some of the Post area's history with their studies. Three of the seventh graders, Curtis Didway, Forrest Claborn and Kenny Poole, were at The Dispatch office Friday morning to interview the publisher on Post's newspaper history, from which they will make a class report.

PLANS ARE TO HAVE a number of local people appear before the class for talks on the history of this and other areas of the Lone Star State. One of the highlights will be Tuesday, Dec. 7, when Maxine Durrett will review the book, "Post City, Texas," for the class. Principal Ellis M. Mills said parents of the students, and other patrons, are invited to attend the book review, as well as other activities connected with the class's study.

WERE STILL GETTING parakeet stories. One of the latest tells about a new lady's plastic handbag featuring a special ventilated compartment for taking a pet bird on a shopping tour. It's called a "Para-Tote."

ANOTHER SURE SIGN that Christmas is nearing the turn around which it will head into the home stretch is the announcement that the Post Volunteer Fire Department on Dec. 18 will distribute 18 free turkeys among townspeople, and then call in Santa Claus to hand out candy to the kiddos.

Our Contemporaries Are Saying

Christmas Is Coming

What about some unusual lighting for the Christmas season for the business district of Lockney? We usually string up a few strings of lights and call it enough. How about doing something unusual this year? Most businesses have had a good fall and expect to have a good Christmas business. Let's make the old town look like Christmas—"Minute Editorials" in The Lockney Beacon.

An Interesting Trip

We had an interesting trip last Friday with the good will plane that covered the Seagraves trade territory with copies of the Gaines County News and welcome circulars for the cotton workers. The flight we made covered the area northwest of town. The boll pullers gave us friendly hand waves as we passed over them at low altitudes. We could see them dropping their cotton sacks and running to get the papers and circulars we dropped.—"For Your Information" in Gaines County News.

Drastic Measures

They take some pretty drastic measures down Miami, Fla., way, it seems. Will Swain of that city was informed by the police that his rooster had attacked a three-year-old child and spurred its forehead, requiring surgical attention. Swain told the gardener that he'd already heard about it. They asked him where the rooster was. Swain directed the officers to the kitchen, lifted the lid on a boiling pot. There was Mr. Rooster stewing away.—"Java Jottings" in The Olney Enterprise.

Feeling Effects

The full impact of the Constitutional amendments as approved by Texans last week is:

- 4. Talk cooperation, but don't do anything unless you are paid for it.
5. Never run for or accept an office or other responsibility.
6. Don't do any more than you have to. Always complain about the town being run by a clique.
7. Don't back your police or fire department. Demand special treatment when you get a traffic ticket.
8. Look at every proposition in a selfish way.
9. Don't do anything for the youth of your town.
10. If you have any good leaders, don't believe it—get jealous.
11. Don't work on a committee—tell them you're too busy.
12. Don't say anything good about your town—be the first to point out its shortcomings.
13. Don't support your local merchants. Expect them to support you, but don't back them.

just beginning to make itself known. There more than likely will be a lot of discussion and perhaps some court action before all of these changes can go into effect. Some of them will call for laws to be passed by the Legislature. Already the question of what to do with woman jurors is of concern to many counties. Not many courthouses have facilities to care for women jurors overnight and some arrangement must be made. One court in Texas already is faced with deciding whether to throw out a case set for after Nov. 17, effective date of the amendment, because there were no women on the jury panel.—"Sights, Sounds and Signs" in Stamford American.

Mother Goose In Texas

By RAY WOOD

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief; Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief.

Though this rhyme has not been in any of the Mother Goose books I have examined, it is one of the earliest rhymes taught to young children and is used to count the buttons down the front of a child's waist or coat, or to count out for a game.

Lines quoted above were supposed to tell what the child would become upon growing up, but there were other verses to indicate how the child would dress.

Silk, satin, calico, lace.

Or the stanza which indicated where the child would live which began with the line:

Big house, little house, pigpen, barn.

Only the first stanza seems well remembered in its full four lines, but the others must have had the same poetical completeness. What reader can recall them?

The complete first stanza, Texas style, is almost as recent as yesterday:

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief; Doctor, lawyer, Indian chief, Tinker, tailor, cowboy, sailor, Farmer on relief.

Next Week: "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep"

Variants of these or similar rhymes will be recorded in the permanent collection of Mother Goose in Texas, if sent to Ray Wood, Raywood, Texas. Copyright 1954, by Ray Wood.

District's New Representative Invites Letters On Special, Local Legislation

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter is from Rep. Robert R. Patterson of Snyder, newly-elected State Representative from the 90th Legislative District, which includes Garza County.)

Mr. E. A. Warren, Publisher, The Post Dispatch, Post, Texas.

Dear Mr. Warren: The next session of the Legislature, which now is just around the corner, promises to be one of the most important and interesting in recent years, according to information which I have received in the mail, and read in the daily newspapers. Mrs. Patterson will attend the session with me, and we will be in Austin when the Legislature convenes the second week in January. We have taken an apartment at the Guadalupe Apartment Hotel.

I had hoped to be able to spend some time contacting the people of the district before going to Austin, but up to now it has been impossible for me to get away from my business. I especially would like to hear from any persons or groups who are interested in special or local legislation affecting this district.

Financial problems of the State Government are almost certain to be of the foremost importance in this session. Information I have at hand indicates that requests for appropriations by State agencies presented to the Legislative Budget Board already total far more than was allocated two years ago. However, I am told by experienced members that this Legislature is not likely to be stamped into a spending spree.

Predictions are being made that more legislation having to do with the general question of water resources in the State will be introduced in this session, than ever before. The Texas Water Resources Committee, organized and set up the last Legislature has submitted drafts of several proposals relating to water conservation, and have proposed a constitutional amendment which would create a Water Development Fund, to be available to certain political subdivisions, and which would be supported by a 3-cent ad valorem tax. The fund would cover the control and storage of surface waters.

Expansion and development of the system of highways throughout the State will no doubt be one of the big questions at this session, and the State Highway Department is asking for an increase of gasoline tax by 1 cent to cover this item.

The problem of segregation in our schools must be dealt with sensibly, and in my opinion, at the local level.

We must certainly enact such legislation as is necessary to protect the holders of insurance policies in this State in their rights.

Several of the Constitutional Amendments passed this fall will require additional legislation to make them operative in accordance with the wishes of the people.

This is only a very brief outline of the materia. I have already assembled. Of course I will welcome letters, telephone calls and personal visits from the people of the district in connection with any legislation in which they are interested.

Physicians Named To Hospital Staff

Two Post physicians, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs and Dr. John E. Rountree, have been notified of their courtesy appointments to the staff of the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock for the year commencing Nov. 2.

Dr. Tubbs' appointment to the staff is for general practice and limited surgery and Dr. Rountree's is for general practice.

These and other courtesy and associate appointments have changed the hospital staff from a closed to an open status.

Letters to physicians appointed to the courtesy staff read, in part, as follows: "We sincerely appreciate your association with us at Methodist Hospital and look forward to your continued interest in and support of our medical program and service."

THANKSGIVING

For blessings received a time to give thanks

The first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrim Fathers was more than a feast. Above all, it was a day specially-set apart for giving thanks. The first cruel winter had been weathered. The first harvest had been reaped. The foothold in the New World had been made secure. True, this took vision, courage and a great deal of plain hard work. But the Pilgrims knew in their hearts that none of their gallant band could have survived without the gracious intervention of Divine Providence. And so, in all humbleness, they took a day of surcease from their toil to express their deep gratitude to Almighty God.

Let us approach this Thanksgiving Day in the spirit of the Pilgrim Fathers. Let us enjoy the feast, of course; the family reunions, the gatherings with friends... But let us not lose sight of the inspiration and true purpose of the occasion: gratefully to give thanks to God for the blessings we have received. And may we, in turning from the thoughts of the true meaning of Thanksgiving . . . remind you that this firm is offering some outstanding values in quality merchandise during this Thanksgiving weekend. The many fine specials that we offered in our last week's newspaper advertisement will continue in effect this weekend.

So, after your Thanksgiving feast and your day of special thanksgiving, make it a point to come down to our store and see the many special values we are offering in quality furniture and household appliances.

There's fun, song and rip-roaring action in store for you when you see Ken Murray's film production, "The Marshal's Daughter," which is to show Tuesday at the Tower Theater.

The marshal, played by one of the greatest western heroes of all time, Hoot Gibson, disguised as a traveling medicine man with his show-girl daughter, is on the trail of a gang of outlaws.

Others in the cast include Ken Murray, Preston Foster, Buddy Baer, Johnny Mack Brown and Jimmy Wakely.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Floyd, Mrs. Lula Floyd, Mrs. Glenn Redman of Pampa and Mrs. Brice Hendrix of Amarillo attended the funeral of Mrs. Lula Floyd's cousin at Cleburne Thursday.

Two 'Town Boys' Benefiting From Stock, Poultry Projects

Proof that a boy doesn't have to live in the country to successfully carry out livestock and poultry projects is offered by George Byrd, 16, and Ronald Ticer, 17, both Vocational Agriculture II students at Post High School.

Their VA instructor, E. F. Schmedt, reports that the two town youngsters are making excellent headway with their current projects—George's a Rambouillet lamb, and Ronald's, two Ram-bouillet lambs and a flock of broad-breasted bronze turkeys. Ronald, with the holiday seasons at hand, already is showing a profit from his turkey project, which he has had under way since June. Of his original flock of 17 turkeys, he has sold four of the birds to Thanksgiving shoppers and expects to dispose of several more between now and Christmas.

"In addition to feeding knowledge, Ronald is gaining, with his turkey project, valuable experience in preparation for market and marketing," Schmedt pointed out.

Young Ticer has had good luck with his turkeys. Of the original flock of 17, he has lost only three, and none of those to diseases usually besetting turkeys. They became casualties from injuries received when part of their pen fell on them.

Ronald and his instructor agreed that "blackheads" is the most common and dangerous disease among turkeys raised in this section. It is a disease of the fowl's bloodstream, and while not as dangerous to chickens is transmitted by them to turkeys.

Ronald's two lambs and the one being raised by George have the "run of the place" at their respective owner's homes. George brought his lamb to the Ticer home for the picture accompanying this article, but it took the combined efforts of Ronald, his sister, Schmedt and the photographer to gather in one of the other lambs for the picture.

The turkeys seemed willing enough to have their picture made until Ronald's two lambs started running hither and yon in their attempts to escape the limelight—and flash bulbs. This activity upset the turkeys to the extent that by the time one of the frolicking lambs was hauled into the "focus area" the birds had to be quietly herded into the background so that they, too,

The spring lambs owned by the two youngsters are being raised by showing in next spring's stock show at Lubbock, Schmedt said. In recent years, not many Garza County livestock show and fair exhibitors have shown sheep.

Schmedt said that the main drawback to success with sheep in this area seems to be the dust storms.

Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Ticer, and George's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Byrd. Their fathers are employees of the Postex Cotton Mill.

Neither of the VA students would say for sure whether or not he intended to follow agricultural and/or stock raising careers, but both agreed that they are enjoying their VA studies, including their sheep and turkey projects.

They are only two of the 67 boys taking Vocational Agriculture at Post High School. There are two sections of VA II and one section each of VA I and VA III.

"I'm impressed with these two youngsters' work," Schmedt said, "because they're proving that

Like most other VA students, Ronald and George are members of the Future Farmers of America. Each of these FFA members is required to have at least one project. The state average is about 23 projects for each boy. These projects, Schmedt said, may include livestock, poultry, field crops, conservation, etc.

Post Loses To Abernathy, 32 To 7, In Final Contest

The Post Antelopes, who usually play their best game in the second half, switched the procedure at Abernathy Friday night, holding their opponents to a 13-7 score in the first two quarters, before succumbing to a 19-point second half attack and a final score of 32 to 7.

The game wound up the season for both teams, leaving Post with a season record of three victories, one tie and six losses.

Abernathy opened the scoring Friday night by going 87 yards in four ground plays, with George Willis scoring on a 63-yard gallop around right end, Roy Sons bored through the line for the extra point.

After receiving the ensuing kickoff, Post ground out 82 yards in 16 plays, finally scoring on a one-yard plunge by Ronnie Kennedy. Darrel Ray Norman boot-ed the conversion to knot the score.

Abernathy scored again in the second quarter on a 43-yard lateral from Freddie Apperson to Willis, and left the field at half-time with a 13-7 edge.

Post threatened again during the first half when Homer Cato recovered a fumble on the Abernathy 29, but were held on the 13.

Abernathy's third touchdown came in the third quarter on a 12-yard keeper run by Apperson.

Following a bad pass from center on fourth down, Post took over on the Abernathy 29 in the third quarter, but Jimmy Lewis intercepted one of Tommy Murray's passes and galloped 60

Producing CINEMASCOPE THE MODERN MOVIE MIRACLE

WHAT IS CINEMASCOPE?

CINEMASCOPE is a revolutionary new method of photographing and projecting a motion picture, creating for the spectator the illusion of being engulfed within the action of the scene — and this is accomplished WITHOUT THE USE OF SPECIAL GLASSES.

After years of research, costing millions, optical scientists perfected a highly intricate instrument called the ANAMORPHOSCOPE, which the photographic grandeur of CINEMASCOPE became a start-reality.

HEAVEN'S SAKE, WHAT IS AN ANAMORPHOSCOPE? Don't let the big word befuddle you. The ANAMORPHOSCOPE is a complicated lens system by which the camera can 'reach and capture on film the entire panoramic scope of the human normal expansion of vision. Then the theatre's equally complicated optical equipment reproduces this tremendous expanse of scene on a panoramic screen that extends from wall to wall across the stage. Distractions of the 'frame' of the oldstyle square screen vanishes as the spectator enjoys the pleasurable illusion of actual participation in the film story unfolds.

WHAT PICTURES HAVE BEEN MADE IN CINEMASCOPE? The greatest array of movie entertainment ever produced has been made by the CINEMASCOPE method and now that we have acquired the necessary equipment, which until now has been almost impossible to bring, we will be bringing you the finest pictures in our history. You'll find "HOW TO MARRY A MILLIONAIRE," "KNIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE," "ROSE MARIE," "THE ROBE," "RIVER OF NO RETURN," "BROKEN LANCE," "THE HIGH AND THE MIGHTY," "WOMAN OF STRAW," "THREE COINS IN THE FOUNTAIN," "GARDEN OF EVIL," "CAESAR AND THE GLADIATORS," and dozens more equally great.

Postmaster Voss Gives Pointers On Yuletide Mailing

Postmaster Harold Voss today announced a three-point program designed to insure delivery of all Christmas cards and gift packages by Dec. 25.

"I've found," he explained, "it's not enough to slap up posters all over town saying, 'Shop Early, Mail Early.' That's the main idea, of course, but I'd like to be more specific."

Specifically, then, the postmaster first urged business firms to mail their regular correspondence before 4 p. m. throughout the Christmas season. They can help even more, he added, by withholding all circular and catalogue mail until after the critical period, Dec. 15-25.

"This will leave elbow room at the post office to process the tremendous volume of holiday mail we'll be handling."

It looks like a record-breaker this year, Voss said, with piles of Christmas packages and some Christmas cards already pouring in.

Point 2, consequently, requires the public's cooperation. Begin by checking your Christmas card list this week, the postmaster suggests. Each address should include the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

After this, visit the post office to order the stamps you'll need. Lay in a supply of heavy wrapping paper and strong cord as well. Then there will still be a week left for leisurely Christmas shopping—one New Year's resolution you can keep!

Finally, the post office itself has moved into high gear. "So just do your part," says Voss, "and remember all gift packages should be mailed by Dec. 10, all Christmas cards by at least a week before Christmas."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cato and Bob and Johnny visited Sunday in Slaton with his aunt, Mrs. Robert Lee, and family.

'Elephant Walk' Is To Show At Tower

The exotic and mysterious Ceylon jungle is the setting for Paramount's powerful Technicolor romantic drama, "Elephant Walk," which shows Sunday and Monday at the Tower Theater.

Starring Elizabeth Taylor, Dana Andrews and Peter Finch, "Elephant Walk" relates the unusual tale of a beautiful English girl who, after a brief courtship, marries a man and then goes to live with him on his fabulous tea plantation thousands of miles from her native land.

A lavish production, "Elephant Walk" is a unique film accomplishment embodying a beautiful romantic story with a thrilling tale of adventure. The villains in the picture are the huge elephants who live in the jungle surrounding the gigantic plantation. These enormous pachyderms periodically stampede up to the very walls of the palatial home but each time they are beaten back by the native workers.

Speed Checks By Radar Continuing

Location at any given time of the radar "transceiver" being used to help nail speed limit violators is a profound secret shared only by state highway patrolmen, but if the gadget has been operating on highways in Garza County, then motorists have been mighty careful. Not a single one had been "nabbed" by the device up to Monday afternoon.

The system of spotting speeders by radar was inaugurated last week on the South Plains. The patrolmen are using a suitcase-sized transceiver complete with built-in calculator which indicates at a glance the speed of highway travelers.

Two patrol cruisers are being used in radar speed-checking. The first car, a plain, unmarked sedan equipped with the radar set, is parked beside the highway. The second car, displaying a large Highway Patrol sign, stops down the highway several hundred yards.

When a speeder comes into range, the radar operator notes the oncoming car's speed while a second patrolman calls ahead to the second car by radio and orders the violator halted.

Patrolmen point out that using the radar method should be much cheaper and safer than the old method of "tailing" violators.

In addition, patrolmen say that warning signs beside a highway telling motorists that the road may be patrolled by radar has a slowing effect on speeding drivers.

However, the Highway Patrol will continue the old method of following speeders since the one unit assigned to each division will not be able to replace the old speed checking method completely.

Everette Windham, Bobby Pierce and Charles Pierce were deer hunting near Millican last weekend.

Miss Jessie Pearce will spend the holidays in Lometa with her father, J. W. Pearce.
